MCI Enters The Music Retailing Arena

Telecommunications Giant Debuts New Phone Music Buying Service

MCI rolled out the heavy promotional artillery last Wednesday, unveiling ambitious plans to enter the music retailing business with the formation of 1-800-MUSIC NOW, a new music purchasing service that will reach out and touch buyers on a national scale via the telephone.

Callers will be able to acoustically browse through MCI's "music mall" 24 hours a day through any touch-tone phone, sampling music from over 5,000 titles (approximately 20,000 songs), which can be purchased by the touch of a button. After selecting a music style such as Alternative, Classic Rock or Top 40, callers are greeted and guided through various ways to sample music—either through specific artist and album title, album catalog number, artist's name, hottest charting records, etc.

"1-800-MUSIC NOW turns every phone in America into a music store and a private listening station," says MCI President of Marketing Angela Dunlap. "Now you can hear before you buy. It's the easiest way to buy music, whether your preference is Frank Sinatra or Smashing Pumpkins."

MCI has teamed up with more than 100 major-market radio stations in 30 cities across the country for the launch of this service. Callers are welcomed by area radio personalities, giving the service a local flavor and cluing callers in to special buys, local events and the latest releases making ripples in their market. Consumers can expect to pay approximately what they would at a record store, with the CD or cassette arriving within days (or overnight).

In addition to its 1-800-MUSIC NOW telephone service, MCI is also targeting Internet surfers with the 1-800-MUSIC NOW on-line service, located at <http://www.1800musicnow.mci.com>. Shoppers will be able to sample from over 20,000 song clips as well as check out the Web's most comprehensive on-line art collection, featuring 5,000 album covers and hundreds of promotional photos of artists and even radio DJs.

Expect the telecommunications giant to blanket the nation with an advertising juggernaut a la its hugely successful 1-800-COLLECT campaign. "MCI is confident that once consumers know the number, they'll call it," says MCI VP Marketing & Advertising John Donahue. "We're not creating a brand; we're establishing a whole new category."

Paul Allen Named Exec. Director Of CRB

Former London Broadcasting VP To Head Country Radio Group

Country Radio Broadcasters Inc. named Paul Allen its new Executive Director. In addition to coordinating the Country Radio Seminar, Allen will report to the CRB Board of Directors and be responsible for the day-to-day business operations.

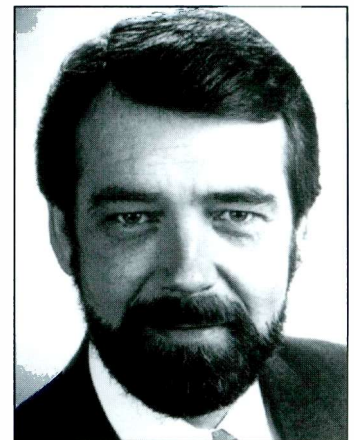

Previously, Allen worked as the Executive Director/CEO of the Tennessee Public Service Commission. His vast broadcast experience includes being VP of London Broadcasting and owner of WAKM Franklin, Tennessee.

The 23-year Nashville resident was chosen from highly specialized and qualified candidates. "Paul is a professional management executive who, as a CEO, demonstrated skills in strategic planning, fiscal responsibility and leadership," says CRB President/Westwood One Radio Networks President/Formats Ed Salamon. "His experience as a radio station owner and programmer, as well as his interest in Country music, will enable him to relate to our constituency within the broadcasting and music industries."

"It is an exciting time for Country music and Country radio," Allen states. "Working with both elements, I will have the unique opportunity to bring them together for continued format success and growth."

Atlantic Records Names Jay Faires VP of A&R

Will Retain Position As President Of Mammoth Records

On top of his current position as President of Mammoth Records, Jay Faires was named VP of A&R for Atlantic Records. The two companies joined together in 1992 and have had success with acts such as Frenel, Seven Mary Three, Victoria Williams and many others.

"I am thrilled to welcome Jay to his new post at Atlantic," says Atlantic Group President Val Azzoli. "Since we entered into a joint venture with Mammoth three years ago, Jay has become an invaluable source of musical insight and creativity. He has a rare ability to recognize fresh talent across a broad spectrum of styles, while maintaining a close connection to grassroots artist development. We are continually reminded just how fortunate we are to be associated with Jay and a company of the integrity of Mammoth Records. I look forward to Mammoth's continued prosperity and growth as Jay expands his role at Atlantic."

The North Carolina-based Mammoth Records has developed from a home-grown independent to an internationally respected company because of its aggressive grassroots approach. Among the bands Mammoth broke are Juliana Hatfield and Machines Of Loving Grace.

"Since Mammoth first started working with Atlantic, I've seen firsthand what can happen when two top-notch companies team up and pool their individual resources and strengths to realize a common goal," Faires says. "The appreciation and respect for the Mammoth mission and ideal, witnessed throughout the Atlantic staff, has been inspirational, and has provided an environment where our artists can achieve their true potential. Across the board, my relationship with Atlantic has been nothing short of excellent, and I look forward to deepening that relationship in the months and years ahead."

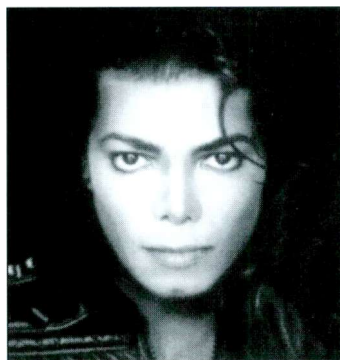

Michael Jackson Brings ATV Music To Sony

Catalog Of Beatles Songs Highlight New Publishing Empire

Michael Jackson and Sony Music Entertainment have formed a music publishing joint venture, Sony/ATV Music Publishing. Jackson is reported to have received upwards of $100 million to bring a catalog that contains the Beatles' greatest hits to Sony. The new venture is reportedly worth up to $500 million, which would make it the third largest publishing empire in the world.

Besides 251 Beatles songs, including "Yesterday," "Let It Be," "Hey Jude" and "She Loves You," the newly merged companies also combine ATV material by Elvis Presley, Little Richard and The Pretenders with Sony's current catalog (featuring Pearl Jam, Toto, Babyface and Mariah Carey) and future music publishing interests. However, Jackson's own compositions aren't part of the new publishing giant.

"This venture represents the extension of a very special relationship that Sony and Michael Jackson have shared for many years," says Sony Corp. President/CEO Michael P. Schulhof. "Michael Jackson is not only the most successful entertainer in history, he is also an astute businessman. Michael understands the importance of copyrights and the role they play in the introduction of new technologies. In joining us for this new venture, Michael recognizes Sony's leadership in developing and realizing new technologies that serve to expand the creative horizons of artists such as himself."

"The merging of ATV with Sony establishes our commitment to create one of the largest music publishing ventures in the world," says Michael Jackson. "We've been working on this for over a year. Now, with the two of us together, the sky is our only limit."

"Today, Sony Music takes its rightful place, once again, as a major force in music publishing," states Sony Music Entertainment President/COO Tommy Mottola. "Copyrights and songs are the foundation of everything in our entire industry. When I spearheaded the acquisition of Tree International in 1989, my vision was to restore music publishing as one of the twin pillars—the other being artist development—that would support Sony Music's growth and expansion in the future. To have Michael Jackson's song catalog joined with ours will enable both Sony Music and Michael Jackson to aggressively build on a publishing portfolio filled with songs that are acknowledged as the cornerstones of popular music today."

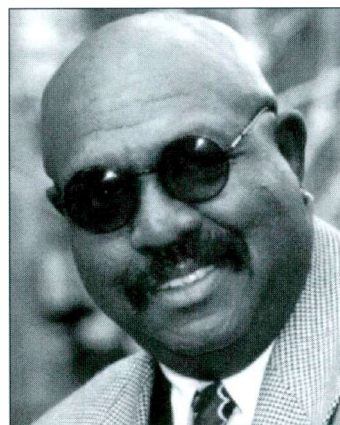

Island Records Bolsters Black Music Dept.

Johnson, Patterson And Duvernay Nab VP Posts

Island Records has added new executives to its just-created Black Music Division. Sr. VP/GM Hiriem Hicks has named Varnell Johnson VP Operations, Tim "Dawg" Patterson VP A&R and Fabian "Fade" Duvernay VP Urban Marketing. Ronnie Johnson will remain VP Black Radio Promotion.

"These talented executives are the best in the business; they are all specialists who are regarded as consummate professionals in their individual areas," Hicks states. "Their collective experience gives us the fuel to build our division into the powerhouse that we envision."

Varnell Johnson, a 20-year veteran in the music industry, has served in various capacities at some of the most successful record labels in the industry and worked with some of the most talented artists in contemporary music.

VARNELL JOHNSON

"I can think of no other record executive with Varnell's vast experience in such a variety of areas," Hicks states. "From Sales and Distribution to Radio Promotion and A&R, Varnell has done it all."

Tim "Dawg" Peterson started his illustrious career with Uptown Records and most recently served as a Sr. A&R Director at Arista Records. "Tim has a real depth of knowledge about the entire spectrum of Black music," Hicks says. "His track record speaks for itself and he will play an integral role in assembling our roster of artists."

Fabian "Fade" Duvernay will create and implement marketing campaigns for all Island releases in the new Black Music Division. An eight-year veteran in the music industry, Duvernay was the Director of Rap Music at Interscope Records, where he was in charge of marketing, promotion and imaging for top-notch artists such as Dr. Dre, Snoop Dogg, Tupac and Thug Life.

"Fade will play a vital role in developing the images of all the artists in our division," Hicks notes. "His intuitive knowledge of musical and cultural trends will keep us in line with what is happening in the streets."

Where's The Beef?

Just 'cuz Network 40 VP/GM Gerry Cagle takes a week off, that's no excuse for all you gossip hounds to take a break from spreading distorted rumors, innuendo and all the other back-stabbing you do in the public interest! So leave it up to me, The Chrome Lizard, to do the dirty work. It's a good thing I'm cold-blooded....

By the way, Cagle wasn't really on vacation. In actuality, he was scouting locations for a new Far East office of the new Network Group publication, Hula Network. He's seen in this week's Page 6 photo, attired in official business garb, with his first client already on board.

Air Traffic

This seems to be the week for radio personnel changes, so if you've picked up your scorecards, we shall begin:

KXTZ (now called KJMZ) Las Vegas has bid adieu to PD Jay Stone. APD MC Scrappy takes the PD reigns in the interim, while Kid Stevens is named MD.

WHHY Montgomery OM Jimmy Steele resigned to do nights at WKBQ St. Louis. His replacement at WHHY is Scott Hamilton, who was PD/afternoon at sister station WAFX.

KLYV Dubuque PD Allan Fee will leave Iowa to program just-flipped Alternative WGRD Grand Rapids. APD Jeff Andrews may get bumped up at KLYV.

Marcie Crescente is the new MD at WEDJ Charlotte, as ex-MD Jammer concentrates on mornings.

WVSR Charleston GM Tom Collins has left the building; his successor will be Robert Thalor.

WRHT Greenville Ryan Walker's days as PD/mornings seem to be numbered. No successor has been named, although WKBC North Wilkesboro PD Joe Martin comes in as APD/MD/afternoons, moving afternoon Rick Six to mornings.

Now taking over the morning duties from the departed Hollywood Hamilton at KGGI Riverside are Bubba the Schizo, Samantha Santiago and Dr. George.

WDDJ Paducah is looking for a GM after Keith Kraus resigns to do sales at WTFX Louisville.

You may remember the sad tale of ex-WKDY Utica PD Wally McCarthy, who was unceremoniously dumped from the station without severance pay—even though he raised the station's ratings from the one's to the seven's. Well, could fortunes finally be smiling on Wally? We may not know what, but we do know when an opening may be available in Syracuse.

Opening Of The Week

Names in the mix for the KGGI Riverside PD gig include contenders from Texas, Missouri, as well as Northern and Southern California. Don't ya just love it when we narrow the focus?

Connect The Dots

Three separate rumors looking for a plot line: Rumors of WLS FM Chicago becoming some sort of Top 40 refuses to die...a particularly fit Jerry Clifton looks like he suddenly has big shoulders...KSFM Sacramento PD Rick Thomas is doing an almost credible impersonation of "Da Bears!"

Flippin' Out

Less than a year after new ownership let PD Greg Williams flip KDLE Wichita from Urban A/C to Crossover, the original owner re-assumed control...and reverted back to the Urban A/C sound.

The buzz at WSPT Stevens Point is that ownership is seriously considering a flip to Country. Regardless of whether that pans out or not, expect to see Group PD Darren Lee move to sister station WBIZ Eau Claire, as current PD Beau Landry concentrates on mornings.

Meanwhile, Back In The Record Biz...

Now that Steve Leeds is settling down in the catbird promo seat at Rising Tide, expect to see him get his game plan in gear real soon. First on his agenda is recruiting some major players for his staff, as well as some new inventions.

Although word has it he's already taking up the game of three-card Monte...so be sure to give him some Lip, man.

The tide is rising...and I am not afraid.

No Jive

Marco Navarra will exit Jive to head up promotion for Roadrunner Records.

New Homes For The Holidays

Some big promo names on the West Coast will have a lot to be thankful for this Thanksgiving...although they may need a Mayflower to find their "new worlds."

The Voting Is On!

The ballots are coming in for this year's Chrome Lizard Awards and although it's quite early in the election, some surprises are already developing. Voters are taking advantage of naming write-in choices. Our early favorite: The ballot that cited Kato Kaelin for The Best Career Move Of The Year. As the voter put it, "On the air in the #2 market with no talent. Seize the day, brutha!" Your ballot's on page 48.

Inside

Next to doing your taxes and going to a dentist with arthritis, no task is more daunting to today's programmer than budgeting for next year. This week's Hotline exacts the insights from KFMB PD Tracy Johnson, KKFR PD Don Parker and KWIN OM/PD Bob Lewis. See page 12.

By the way, be sure to buzz Bob Lewis and congratulate him on his wonderful new coiffure, as pictured on page 14.

This week's expanded issue features two exclusive installations of Programmer's Textbook. Consultant Bill Richards looks into the future of Top 40 on page 44 and marketing consultant Jim Wood delves into direct marketing for radio on page 46.

New this issue is an interview with MCA superstar Meat Loaf...and if beef isn't your bird of preyed, check out our list of Thanksgiving Oh, Wow! songs on page 52.

And don't think we've left out our growing legion of Country reporters. They can vote from an honor roll of Country Chrome Lizard Award nominees on page 74.

Outside

It's sunny, yet cool. What else would you like, a traffic report?

Trends Again

No sooner had the Summer book hit than the latest Arbitrends have come out. Insta-analysis of New York: Hot 97 and Kiss down, yet still #1-2; Z100 off a bit; 'PLJ up a bit.

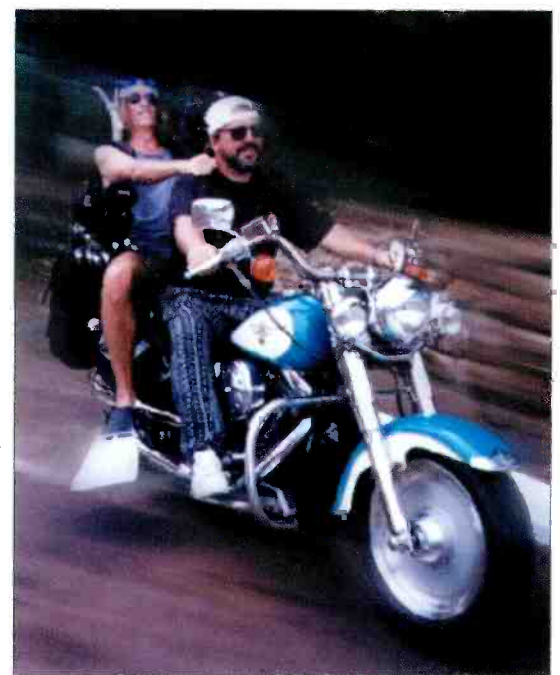

Los Angeles: Power up, but Spanish KLVE zooms to #1; KIIS and KKBT off a bit; KROQ takes a hit.

Timber!

Congratulations to Tom Evans on entering his fifth year as an ace lumberjack.

MAUI WOWIE

Commentary by Gerry Cagle

The night had begun to sour an hour or so before...with the rancid tropical drinks laced with rum, complete with the obligatory orchid and tiny umbrellas. The drinks were served by howlies, pretending to be natives, to the patrons, pretending not to be tourists. Neither managed to pull off the bluff.

My first mistake was eating the orchid. The group that had gathered around me, happy to be led through the streets of Lahiana by a man of my supposed stature, began to cast long, suspicious looks in my direction.

Fair weather fools they were. Without me, they would be perfectly content to see Maui perched atop the stools of one of the tourist traps with a cheap string of shells around their necks.

Nor me. I was searching for the real Hawaii...home of the most beautiful people in the world. I wanted to dig deep into the depths and find the bones of those who lived when Lahaina was just a sleepy little whaling village...and before...when King Kamahamaha ruled the sand and surf.

To get there, sacrifices had to be made. I explained this as quietly as possible to the rookie sitting on my left. He was dressed in a newly purchased authentic Hawaiian shirt that was made, of course, in Hong Kong. His wife, a dainty little waif who clutched his arm and smiled at everything, hung by his side and onto my every word.

I pulled the guy close. "You understand, some of our group must die."

All the blood drained from his face. The waif choked on her Mai Tai. The crushed ice streamed out of her nose.

"How's that drink?" I asked.

"Tolerable," she managed.

Her husband leaned closer. "What did you mean by that statement?"

I waved my hands around. "Yee, Gods," I whispered, "sacrifices, of course. They'll be stripped naked and staked to the sands, eaten by crabs, their bones used to make trinkets."

The waif threw up on her shoes. The husband stood up and backed away cautiously, his eyes never leaving my face.

I took another shot of rum. Thinning out the herd is a process one must go through to get to the true core. And no one is better at turning a large group into a small one than me. I am a professional.

I jumped up and headed for the door. "To the tunes," I shouted.

Half the group thought I said, "tombs," and we lost them. Better still. There wasn't room for all in the karaoke bar.

I ordered another drink and listened half-way through some Japanese businessman trying his hand at Bon Jovi's "Wanted: Dead Or Alive" when I made my move.

"Somebody grab the mike," I yelled as I tackled the would-be singer.

Nobody did. As the businessman's friends came to his defense, my "friends" headed for the exit and the safety of the street. I found myself there shortly, helped by two able-bodied security guards on the look-out for people just like me.

"I want a gold stake in my left ear, just like King Kamahamaha!"

"Perfect," I grinned. "Two survivors."

My compatriots, Burt and Christine, were waiting...for my company or because I had the keys to the car? I couldn't tell, but they had been through much worse with me before.

"Where to now?" Christine wanted to know.

"To the tattoo parlor," I answered.

Burt immediately hailed a cab.

To hell with all of them. I staggered down Front Street to the parlor, fell inside and demanded service.

"What would you like?" the tattooed proprietor questioned.

I pulled myself up to attention, or as close as the rum would allow. "I want," I said indignantly, "a gold stake in my left ear, just like King Kamahamaha."

"No problem, mate," he said. "But you've got to understand that I do body piercing here. We don't use a gun. I want you to feel the total piercing experience."

With eyes gleaming, he pulled out a long, shiny ice pick and waved it in front of my eyes.

I didn't waver. "You're going to stick that in my ear?"

He grinned. "Anywhere you like."

"Does it hurt?"

A bigger grin. "The pain is tolerable."

I asked for the ice pick. He handed it over and leaned on the counter. I hefted it, checked the weight and balance as I checked him out. The dude was pierced all over...holes in each ear, both nostrils, tongue, everywhere except...

I slammed the pick through the back of his hand, nailing him to the counter. His screams followed me out of the door. I surmised that his tolerance of pain wasn't as high as he suspected.

I managed to make it to the beach before my legs finally gave out. Rum has that effect on me. I inhaled sand for a while before passing out completely, waking up hours later in a puddle of slobber and sea water.

"I thought you weren't going to make it," a voice rumbled behind me.

I rolled over on my back and saw King Kamahamaha himself, outfitted only in a thong made of leaves. In one hand he held a crude spear...in the other, what was left of my bottle of rum.

"Are you him?" I asked. "Kamahamaha?"

He nodded.

"The King!" I cried.

He laughed and sat down beside me. "No, I'm Ken Kamahamaha."

I frowned. "Any relation?"

He shrugged. "Some."

I contemplated his answer for a while and reached for the bottle. Together, we emptied it.

"What's the matter, brudder?" he asked. "You look sad."

I was. "I wanted to get my ear pierced with a golden spike, just like King Kamahamaha."

"You mean like this?" He held out a huge hand. In his palm was a golden spike. It glistened like a diamond in the light of the full moon.

I lay back on the sand. "Put it in."

He whipped out a large knife with a dull point and went to work. When he was done and the blood had dried, he asked, "How does it feel?"

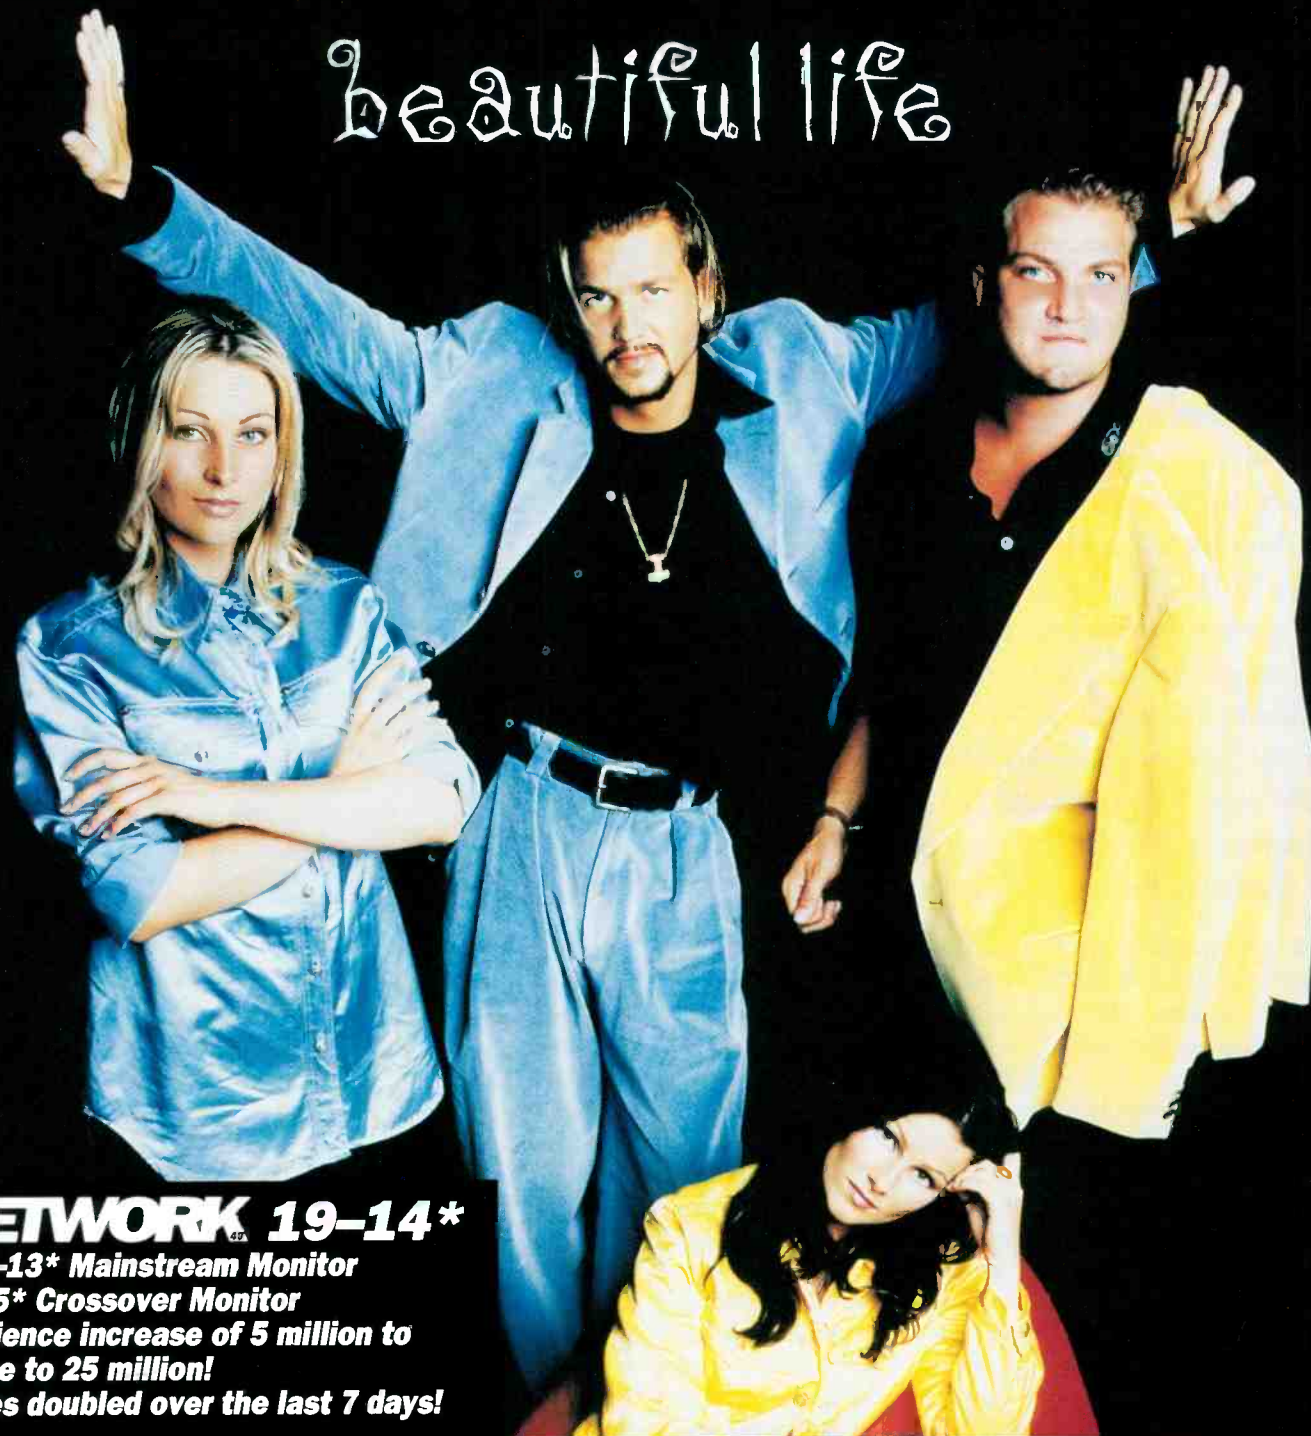

I fingered the golden spike imbedded in my left ear.

"Tolerable." ▾

Meat Loaf

Bellowed, Not Stirred

INTERVIEW BY JIM NELSON

If there ever was an artist who exemplified being “larger than life,” it’s Meat Loaf. From day one of his career, Dallas-born Marvin Aday’s over-the-top vocalistics and the equally overwhelming musical epics of Jim Steinman turned his recordings into what he’s portrayed in his videos—the James Bond of melodramatic Pop/Rock. After all, this is a guy who, when asked how many countries his current promo tour is hitting, replies, “All of ‘em.”

However, after two mega-Platinum Bat Out Of Hell extravaganzas, Meat Loaf does a few things different on his new effort, Welcome To The Neighborhood. His eighth album boasts the work of over a dozen writers, including Steinman, Van Halen singer Sammy Hagar, Tom Waits and hit writer extraordinaire Diane Warren. His new single, “I’d Lie For You (And That’s The Truth),” written by Warren, is already at #16 on Network 40’s PPW chart. With his new video all over MTV, it’s apparent that Welcome To The Neighborhood will react like a bat out of Hell when it hits the stores on November 14.

After selling 12 million copies worldwide of Bat Out Of Hell II, some are wondering why you didn’t come up with Bat Out Of Hell III.

One reason is because [Jim] Steinman is so slow. [Look] at how long it took us to do Bat II—we decided we were going to do it in 1986, we signed to MCA in 1989 and it was released in 1993. I wanted Jimmy to work on this record, but he was doing [something with] Andrew Lloyd Weber.

When the people at MCA said, “Let’s do another album,” I said, “Fine, but when do you plan on releasing it?” This was only a year ago. I said, “If you plan on releasing it within the next two years, we’ve got to jump all over Steinman.” They got Jimmy on the phone and afterwards, came to the conclusion that he was going to “executive-oversee” other people’s writing—to work with this and that—which didn’t turn out to be the truth.

Last May, I said, “This isn’t going to happen.” When the record company and management asked me how it was coming along, I told them, “Eventually you’ll have a record, but I’m not going to put it out until I think every song is a 100.” I make albums; I don’t make singles and then surround them with other songs. I make whole packages, whole worlds, that exist together.

In the middle of June, I still didn’t have all the songs. Jim had [suggested] doing a song called “Martha” by Tom Waits, but it never seemed to fit on anything. When he brought it up again, I said, “You know what? It might fit.” When “Martha” came to fruition, I said, “I think this album’s done.”

How did Ron Nevison come to the party?

I was basically producing the record and Steinman kept saying, “I’m coming in on Monday.” But every Monday would come around and I wouldn’t see him. Eventually, he said, “I don’t know what to do on this record; I just want to do Bat Out Of Hell III.”

So I turned to Allen Kovak, who manages me, and I said, “I really need someone to help finish this thing.” Ron Nevison was available and he did a great job.

I mean, I think these are the best vocals I’ve ever done on a record, and I hold him responsible for that.

At one point, you were going to call the album Escape From Hell: Welcome To The Neighborhood. Why did you drop the “Hell” at the 11th hour?

Because that title wasn’t mine and I didn’t like it. I said I’d retire if they used it, and they believed me because I’ve walked out before when I said I would. It’s not Bat Out Of Hell III. Bat Out Of Hell represents me and Jimmy doing a whole piece together, and just to use that as a marketing tool was too predictable. I thought people would assume it was the same thing, and I didn’t want them to assume anything.

You've always been successful outside the U.S., but most people in America don't realize you've done four other studio albums besides the two Bats.

Exactly. I'd say a good 75% of the people who own Bat Out Of Hell and Bat Out Of Hell II don't know about the other records.

What's your opinion of the overlooked albums—Dead Ringer, Midnight At The Los And Found, Bat Attitude and Blind Before I Stop?

I've got a mental block against Dead Ringer and Midnight; I don't really count those. It's not that they're horrible or anything; they were done at a time that wasn't very pleasant, so I don't deal with that and I don't listen to them. Whenever I hear something from them, I cringe.

However, Bat Attitude came to when I decided that I really wanted to do this again. Your best work comes when you love what you're doing, not when you're feeling the pressure that you have to make a great album. With Welcome To The Neighborhood, they really wanted me to do something, but they were smart enough to not apply any pressure.

The personal hell you went through as a result of the enormous success of Bat Out Of Hell is pretty well documented. Bat Out Of Hell II didn't equal the numbers of the first Bat, but its success was nonetheless huge. At any time in the last couple of years, did you reflect on what had happened back in 1977 and '78 and pray that it didn't happen again?

Oh, absolutely. Every step of the way. I had to prevent the emotional feeling of being trapped, of being pushed and bullied, and being made to go towards some direction that I wasn't happy with. You get those feelings after every hit record, but this time I knew to speak up and say, "Hang on! I've got this feeling and I don't like it. I don't want to go where we went before." Everybody respected that, which is why we have another record right now.

Since Bat II came out years after the first Bat Out Of Hell, you didn't have to deal with the pressure to follow up a tremendously successful record. Was there that pressure when making Welcome To The Neighborhood?

"I make albums; I don't make singles and then surround them with other songs. I make whole packages, whole worlds, that exist together."

No, I don't play that game. Once you play that game, you've fallen. It's like a fly going into a spider web, and I just don't work like that. The only thing I ever do is go in and make a record that I like. When I'm doing it, I really don't care what anybody thinks. That's kind of a cold attitude, but it's the truth.

I had a vision, so I knew what I was going for; I knew exactly what I wanted to say and how to get the songwriters to say what I wanted.

I'm too lazy to write, plus my mother was an English teacher, so I have this whole mental block against that whole thing. I don't even want to write postcards! Meanwhile, both my daughters and my wife are unbelievable writers. I mean, they really are brilliant. I know good writing when I see it because I've been working with one of the great writers of all time, Jim Steinman. I know how to get it out of a writer, so that's what I do.

Did your attraction to theatrical, dramatic larger-than-life musical and vocal arrangements come before or after you were involved in theater?

The attraction has always been there. I would take songs like The Yardbirds' "Smokestack Lightning" and turn them into theatrical events. I'd always change the arrangements.

who could sing, and I said, "Let's bring her into the band and we can do stuff together, because it really works well for me when I'm doing that." So it all started in the '60s.

Exactly what did you want to do for the video to "I'd Lie For You (And That's The Truth)?"

Originally, I wanted to do a movie of this song, but it's only six-minutes-and-something long. My next idea is to make a trailer for a movie that doesn't exist. Maybe someday they'll let us do the actual movie....

How did you get a Sammy Hagar song, "Amnesty Is Granted," on the album...was it via a demo?

It was the funniest demo I'd ever heard in my life. Sammy was either in his house or in his hotel, and in the middle of him singing, somebody knocked on the door and he cursed, "I can't come now, I'm in the middle of singing this song."

He heard somewhere that I was doing a record, and the next thing you know Sammy calls Allen Kovak. Allen calls me and says, "I'm getting a song from Sammy Hagar. It's supposed to be his great emotional ballad." I said, "Why isn't Van Halen doing it if it's so damn good?" Allen said, "Because Sammy says Van Halen doesn't do these kinds of songs," and I said, "Okay, that's cool."

"I knew Sammy because he opened for us in '78. When I heard the song, I was thinking, "I don't know how to do this type of song." Little Steven produced that track and turned it into a real Rock song. It was supposed to be an emotional ballad...and I had to be the one to tell Sammy. Everybody ran out of the studio when Sammy came in; they just left me there. I said, "Well, Sammy, um...um...(I'm stuttering)...here's your song." ▶

HOTLINE

BUDGET TIME

Conference Conducted By Mike Marino

If the day-to-day operations of running a radio station—writing liners, airchecking jocks and promoting hallway enthusiasm—isn't enough to keep you busy, now is also the time to plan next year's budget. No Program Director in his or her right mind enjoys this process, but it's gotta get done. So how do you lessen the pain and boredom...and come up with something efficient and realistic? This week's Hotline brings together three PDs who know, all too well, what the suits have in store behind closed doors. Take the budget "bull" by the horns and fight for what'll help your radio station win!

As you begin planning a budget for the upcoming year, do you have a ballpark figure you must meet...and how much flexibility do you allow?

JOHNSON: Our budget process is based more on need than any figure. Obviously, our company expects a certain performance out of their stations and hates to spend money needlessly. I submit a fairly detailed and comprehensive plan with an explanation for every item. If it's justified and well-conceived, it's usually approved. Once the budget is set, there is little flexibility in terms of getting more. Our company expects us to deliver what we say we will.

PARKER: At every station I've been at, we've used last year's budget and looked at possible additions for the coming year. There isn't a lot of flexibility; I just figure out what I need and then force myself to stick close to it.

LEWIS: No, there really isn't a ballpark figure. From a flexibility standpoint, it is more predetermined by what I think we really need for growth in the coming year—and the year after. I prioritize six months to a year ahead, which, in turn, sets us up for 1997.

What are the most common pitfalls of the budget planning process?

JOHNSON: The most common pitfall is the nature of our business. As market conditions change and the competitive landscape evolves, it is impossible to predict or budget for everything that will happen even a few months ahead.

PARKER: Some major problems include not covering all the bases, not thinking about everything you're going to need through the course of the year. That's when things pop up and you haven't set aside any money for them. You need to look back and see what kind of unexpected expenditures can come up.

LEWIS: One is the speed of which it takes to get the budget okayed; another problem can be the lack of communication between the corporate office and the General Manager. Yet another problem is them coming back six weeks later asking why a figure is higher than it was last year, and you're forced to go back and remember exactly why. I try to take a lot of notes when I put in for raises, promotional expenditures or new kinds of research.

Do you often find yourself making budget revisions? When does this usually happen?

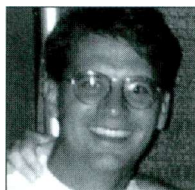

JOHNSON: When changes to our budget are needed, we sometimes shift money from one area to another to allow us the flexibility to take appropriate action.

PARKER: We almost always make some sort of a revision, usually around July or August. We make sure we go over anything that's unexpectedly come up and if we have any extra money, we may use it for the Fall book.

LEWIS: Revisions usually fall every quarter and also after every ratings period. This is when most radio stations should sit down with the budget and re-evaluate sales and programming projections.

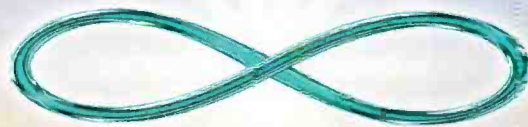

Do you believe in an "emergency fund" and, if so, how much of a budget should be saved in it?

JOHNSON: We don't keep an emergency fund. If something were desperately needed, we would petition the company for increased resources at the time. Emergency funds in a budget are dangerous. If the money is there, it's going to get spent.

PARKER: Absolutely. I go by past experiences and just make sure there is enough money to cover anything that may come up, like a major promotion or extra staff that may need to be hired.

LEWIS: I believe in it, but I don't use one. If you plan for that money, it'll just get used somewhere else. As an Operations Manager, along with my GM, we know where the available funds are, but we don't mark them for emergencies. We can always make the necessary budget revisions.

What radio station priorities rank as the most important during this entire process?

JOHNSON: Our top priority is personnel, especially talent, from DJs to the creative services that produce the sound of the station. Second is marketing and promotion. Third, is research.

PARKER: There is only one priority to me and that's making the station sound incredible. I'm looking for everything that will make the radio station win; it may be personnel, promotions or imaging. I don't necessarily prioritize them because whichever one we need is the most important. Anything that's going to affect the on-air sound is ultimately a priority.

LEWIS: First take care of your people, financially; they are the biggest asset of the station. If you don't have the right people while you're making the budget, you should budget for the right kind of people. Then, you need to take care of the tools that'll make the radio station leap ahead. I ask myself, "What do I absolutely need to make the radio station more successful?" I make that answer into dollars for the GM, for the next six months to a year. These are the two priorities that jump out for me.

In terms of lifelong experiences, where does planning a budget rank?

JOHNSON: It's not quite as much fun as getting my wisdom teeth taken out.

PARKER: Right below spending a week with my family during the holidays. That's not a pleasant experience.

LEWIS: From a career-long experience, it brings your head into the business game. When you start looking at how much it costs to run your business and how much you're making, it forces you to re-analyze your business decisions. I consider this an opportunity to stand up and pitch why the radio station is going to be successful in the next 12 months. This is where I get to go in and beat them up for the things I believe I need.

BEACH BLANKET RADIO

West Palm Beach, Florida
Arbitron Market #49
Population: 829,100

Imagine yourself vacationing in West Palm Beach, Florida. You're lying on the beach without a care in the world, the sun is slowly tanning your skin and you think you couldn't be happier... then you notice what's on the radio. You hear a station that's playing a truly upbeat, surprising diverse mix of music. It can only be WOVV, programmed by the sun-blocked Neil Sullivan, who offers this perspective:

Neil Sullivan

"Star 95.5 is a Pop/Dance Top 40 station. Our target demo is 18-34 women with a bullseye of 22-28-year-old females. We are the only hit radio station in the northern and central part of the metro because of signal strength and heritage, but are continuing to make inroads in the southern portion of the market. Our competitors include Power 96 and Y100 in Miami and WRMF (Hot A/C) and WPBZ (Alternative) in West Palm Beach.

"Joe Mama hosts 'Mama In The Morning.' Joe's co-host, Taylor Morgan, was found on the local comedy club circuit. Service elements are provided from Metro Traffic and The Weather Channel. It's a fast-paced, music-intensive program with features on gossip, such as 'Star Reports' and 'Name The Secret Superstars,' where listeners identify three clips. We also have many in-studio guests including, most recently, Cyndi Lauper and Robin Leach.

"Middays are handled by our Production Director Jack Blaze. Jack came to us from WEDJ Charlotte. He features the all-request lunch hour. Jack is great on the phones and has a relaxed, friendly and real on-air style. I do afternoon drive; I try to avoid a great deal of dead air. On Fridays I do the '5 O'Clock Blast-Off' which features classic retro and party tunes. Our MD, Scott Davidson, does nights that include the 'Hot 9 At 9.' Scott has a lot of energy and is fun to listen to. Late-night's Richie Z. hosts 'Planet Mix,' featuring live on-air mixing by the hottest club jocks in the Palm Beaches. We also do 'Retro Saturday Night,' playing classic Disco and Pop from the '70s and '80s.

"Star 95.5 recently sent dozens of listeners to Paradise Island. Winners went to party with Joe 'Bahama' Mama, who broadcasted his show live from the Atlantis Resort for two days. A 'Paradise Getaway Song Of The Day' was played each morning at 7:25 and the 95th caller after it played later that day won a trip for two. A couple of weeks ago, we did the 'Star 95.5 Haunted Halloween Patrol' with Scott Davidson, Jack Blaze, some Hooters girls and body builders who visited every hot club in the area to distribute prizes. The ladies were carried into the clubs in actual coffins.

"On November 10th, we hosted a 'Star 95.5 Day.' The event was held at the South of Florida fairgrounds, featuring performances by Coolio and Xscape. You'll be seeing some pictures of it in your Picture Page soon."

FORWARD MOTION

RED HOT CHILI PEPPERS

• Don't give up on the Red Hot Chili Peppers' latest track, "My Friends" (WB). Still moving up Network 40's Commercial Alternative chart at #2, this mellow groover is gaining strength on the Mainstream circuit, too. Airplay and positive research continues to increase as the song builds a solid foundation at Top 40.

• "Blessed," Elton John's latest release from the double-Platinum Made In England (Rocket/Island), is already spinning on over 100 stations and approaching 1,500 Plays Per Week. KKRZ PD Ken Benson says, "This is Elton's best song in years." He also adds, "If you have any moms listening to your station, then you need to be playing this song." WVAQ MD Chris Knight also notes,

EDWIN MCCAIN

"This is a great daytime ballad for us."

• Watch Silk's latest soulful tune, "Hooked On You" (Elektra/EEG). The song is exploding in single sales, jumping nearly 30 positions last week in the SoundScan chart. Stations reporting good early action include KS104, KDON and WGTZ. In fact, WGTZ PD Louis Kaplan says the track is garnering top-5 night phones. WXIS PD Todd Ambrose seconds that comment with a solid dose of phones at the Johnson City outlet.

• KTMT PD R. Charles Snyder says he's found a couple of great album tracks in some new releases. "Bonnie Raitt's remake of the Talking Heads' 'Burning Down The House' (Capitol) is a super song. Also, my new favorite song is Ozzy Osborne and his release 'My Little Man' (Epic)."

• Alanis Morissette's second Top 40 release, "Hand In My Pocket" (Maverick/Reprise) is rapidly becoming the hottest track in the country. Nearly every station rotating the song is reporting phenomenal reaction. Among the long list of names citing favorable research are departing WHHY PD Jimmy Steele, WAPE MD Damon Cox and KISX MD Mick Fulgham. The album, jagged little pill, is still ringing up huge sales numbers as it ranks in the top 5 on Network 40's Sales Chart.

• Jimmy Steele also says Edwin McCain's debut track, "Solitude" (Lava/Atlantic/AG), is one of WHHY's best testing tunes. Approaching 4,000 Plays Per Week, "Solitude" is stacking up heavy female numbers.

• WLAN PD Jordan Walsh checks in with solid growth on the Backstreet Boys first song, "We've Got It Goin' On" (Jive). This cool tune is now spinning on over 100 stations.

BACKSTREET BOYS

• Heating Up Grand Rapids: The radio wars are about to explode in this Michigan metro. Rising programming star Jay Towers begins his first week at just-flipped Top 40 WAKQ. Former KLYV PD Allan Fee accepts the vacant PD gig at Alternative WGRD. What other changes are going down? Check out Page 6 for more details.

BULLETS INDICATE INCREASED AIRPLAY

MOSH PIT

SHARPER EDGE: KIDGE Dallas PD Joel Folger has brought in Mary Ellen Ownes to team up with Alan Smith for mornings. Mary comes to the Dallas Edge from KPNT St. Louis. Also, Cowboy star running back Emmitt Smith is joining "The Morning Edge" for a weekly segment each Thursday.

SMASHING ALBUM: There are hit records and there are bits... of such magnitude that they qualify more as musical events. That's the only way you can adequately describe the reception to The Smashing Pumpkins' Mellon Collie & The Infinite Sadness (Virgin). The sprawling double-CD is impacting Alternative radio (and more importantly, the core listeners) with a wallop not seen in a long, long time. Not only has every station we contacted cited "Bullet With Butterfly Wings" as a request monster, but at least two other tracks are being received with open ears. There's already a clear-cut second favorite; "1979" was cited by KEDJ and WGRD (with airplay also being seen at KROQ and KRBE). Other songs getting calls: "Zero" (KEDJ) and "Tonight, Tonight" (WGRD).

ALSO BURNIN' UP CA: Besides the Pumpkin frenzy, Z100 New York MD Andy Shane says great requests are coming in for The Presidents Of The U.S.A.'s "Lump" (Poplлама/Columbia/CRG), Joan Osborne's "One Of Us" (Mercury), Madonna's "You'll See" (Maverick/WB), Green Day's "Geek Stink Breath" (Reprise) and Garbage's "Queer" (Almo Sounds/Geffen)...KEDJ Phoenix PD John Clay is getting great calls for Chris Isaak's "Go Walking Down There" (Reprise), Toadies' "Possum Kingdom" (Interscope/AG), and Poe's "Trigger Happy Jack" (Atlantic/AG)...At WMMS Cleveland, MD Doug Kubinski notes, "Alice In Chains' 'Grind' (Columbia/CRG) and Everclear's 'Santa Monica' (Capitol) are great!" Other big tunes include The Presidents Of The U.S.A.'s "Kitty" (Poplлама/Columbia/CRG) and Poe's "Trigger Happy Jack" (Atlantic/AG)...WGRD Grand Rapids MD Lee Ann Curtis says that The Rentals' "Friends Of P." (Maverick/Reprise) is burning up the phones along with Folk Implosion's "Natural One" (London/Island) and Collective Soul's "The World I Know (Atlantic/AG)."

RAVES: From the ashes of the Happy Mondays comes Shaun Ryder's current project, Black Grape. A blend of Rap, Funk, Punk and Soul. Their current single, "In The Name Of The Father" (Radioactive) is a brilliant CA Dance track. It's just the tempo and the breath of fresh air you've been searching for. The song is currently picking up airplay on WHYT, KISF, KIDGE, KFDG and KEDJ, among others...Also catching early raves is Cheap Trick's "Cold Turkey" (Hollywood) from the Working Class Hero tribute to John Lennon.

ON THE ROAD...and on your TV: Check out appearances by...take a wild guess...The Smashing Pumpkins on SNL November 11th and The Presidents Of The U.S.A. November 17th on Letterman.

ENTERING THE PIT:

RHYTHMNATION

RADIO NEWS: Jay Stone has left the building as PD of KXTZ Las Vegas. APD MC Scappy picks up PD duties in the interim....With Carmy Ferreri gone from KGGI Riverside, MD Sonia Jimenez has picked up interim PD duties with DJ Lynnwood stepping in for music calls....Andy Taylor is back for mornings at KPSI Palm Springs; he rejoins Barry Donovan after a seven-month hiatus....WJMN Boston throws its first-ever "Jam'n 94.5 Super Jam '95" on Dec. 7 with performances by Salt-N-Pepa, Shai, Brandy, Mo'KenStef, After 7, Brian McKnight, Xscape, Soul For Real, Silk, Coolio and Montell Jordan. The concert will be the first radio event to be held at Boston's "new Garden," The Fleet Center. Proceeds from the show will go to Project Bread, a group devoted to ending hunger....Meanwhile, KUBE Seattle is looking for Dance acts to perform at their Holiday Dance party on December 9. Call Shellie Hart if you've got one.

PARTY MADNESS: New President Andre Harrell threw a huge to-do at Le Dome in EL Lay to usher in "Motown's New Era." Talk about star-studded: ushering in the Andre Years were Mike Tyson, Debbie Allen, Tisha Campbell, Dr. Dre, Carl Martin of Shai, KKBT MD Maurice DeVoe and Urban Network President Miller London, among many others....Earlier in the week, N5 Entertainment's Michael Nixon hosted the Annual Kool DJ Red Alert anniversary Showcase Jam, which feted renowned Hip-Hop DJ Red Alert's 12th Anniversary as an air personality. In the house to celebrate were Kurtis Blow and Whipper Whip, KKBT air men Sway and King EMZ, KPWR air talents Nick V. and Tha Ruffnex, Motown's Jeff Thomas, EMI's Marcus Morton, Jive's Geo Bivins, Arista's JC Ricks, Qwest's Tracy Anderson, WB's Fuzzy, Noo Trybe's Shirlene Head and Kris (who?) Peterson and Wild West's James Lopez, among a gang of others. Red dedicated the bash to the memory of his former DJ and Kiss FM New York air star Prince Messiah, who died earlier this year.

MUSIC WORLD: Hollywood Records is making some major noise at Crossover, first with the L.A.D. "Ridin' Low" record, and now with J'Son's "Take A Look"....On the Gospel tip, call Epic yesterday to get the entire Anointed CD, which is incredible. The first single working at Urban radio is "In God's Hands." Also on the heavenly tip, don't miss the Island Inspirational All Stars featuring Kirk Franklin with "Don't Give Up." SuperRadio's Gary Bernstein was raving about them months ago; call Island's Marthe Reynolds for a copy....MCA just dropped the first single from Immature's new album, "We Got It," which features vocals from Smooth and production from Chris Stokes and Mystro. Keep an eye on Mystro's Rickidy Raw Productions company, which is all over the place these days!...Jodeci's video for "Love U 4 Life" (Uptown/MCA) features Mr. Dalvin as a groom and TLC's T-Boz as his bride, with none other than recently-ordained minister Run of Run-DMC performing the ceremony.

FOR THE HOLIDAYS: For the first time in music biz history, four major record labels will join marketing forces with the custom designed Wu-Tang Clan Family Tree. The "tree" will be a life-size cardboard stand up displaying product from Wu-Tangers who've gone solo—Def Jam's Method Man, Elektra's Ol' Dirty Bastard, Loud/RCA's Raekwon and Gelfin's Genius. The Family Tree will be displayed at retail outlets across the country along with, of course, the Wu-Tang Clan's original Platinum Enter The Wu-Tang: 36 Chambers (Loud/RCA) and a re-release of the single which started it all, "Protect Ya Neck."

KEYSTROKES

TONY! TONY! TONY!: What better way to celebrate "Tony Bennett Day" in Los Angeles than to see him perform at the House Of Blues. Many of Columbia's top brass showed their pretty faces, including Gregg Wadley, Bruce Reiner and, basking in the glow of his Penguin Page profile, Greg Phifer. L.A. radio was represented in full force by the likes of KPWR MD Bruce St. James, KROQ GM Trip Reeb, KYSR APD Angela Perelli, and Star's afternoon duo of Leah Brandon and Rick Stacy with their producer Mike Krasner. Tony Bennett displayed timeless energy and put on a fantastic show, including a surprise encore where he sang, sans microphone, a cappella. Truly amazing!

SHINING STARS: Rhythm Safari/Priority artists Boyz Of Paradise had a busy week, performing three different shows in Los Angeles that highlighted their singles, "Shining Star" and "The Run Around." Priority's Magda Summerfield earned the "Host Of The Week Award;" too bad they don't give out frequent driver miles.

MUSICAL CHAIRS & LETTERS: WQLH Green Bay now proclaims it's playing "Continuous Hit Music" with new PD John Thomas, who arrives from Chicago. Heritage WGAY Washington D.C. has changed its call letters to WEBR, "Bright 99.5."

BIG RELEASES: New don't-miss singles this week include "You Put A Move On My Heart" (Qwest/WB) from Quincy Jones protege, Tamia, and the long-awaited Seal single, "Don't Cry" (ZTT/WB)...For the second week in a row, "One Sweet Day" (Columbia) from Mariah Carey and Boyz II Men is #1 most added. Stations on it this week include WALK Long Island, WMXV New York, KIOI San Francisco, KESZ Phoenix and WUSA Tampa...RCA artist Bruce Hornsby enjoys a strong first week with his new single, "Swing Street," with second most added.

GUILTY PLEASURES: The Chrome Lizard's evolutionary cousin, The Pagan Dog, is helping us compile a comprehensive list of everyone's favorite drinks (alcoholic and otherwise), food dishes and guilty pleasures. The info will be published soon as "The Pagan Dog Book Of Vices;" consider it the ultimate gift-giver guide. Be sure to send us your pertinent info (fax or call me at 800-443-4001), so your friends and acquaintances can do the proper shopping! Sounds like fun to us!

THE NEVER-ENDING REMINDER: Please remember your deadline for A/C playlists is Mondays at 5 pm. Fax 'em over to (818) 973-2420. And don't forget to call with station news, promo scoops and, once again, your favorite vices, toll-free (800) 443-4001.

PROMOTIONS

—Compiled by Sara McCaffree

THE PROMO THAT SUCKS

WPLJ New York

Heidi Dagnese/ Al Reinoso

To prevent another boring ticket giveaway, WPLJ decided to give away liposuction instead! In order to be considered for the new procedure that uses only a local anesthetic, listeners had to call in and leave a 60-second message, explaining why they should be considered above everyone else. The one with the most creative message, Rob Di Benedetto, had his love handles removed last Friday live on the air...for four hours!

COST: SURGERY WAS TRADED FOR MENTIONS.

RETURN: THEATRE-OF-THE-PUSHED-ENVELOPE STUNT CREATED PLENTY OF WATER COOLER TALK AND GENERATED TSL. IT PICKED UP PLENTY OF MEDIA COVERAGE, AS WELL.

"FAMILY WEEKEND"

WPGC Washington, D.C.

Karen Blanks

WPGC decided to set up last weekend as a "Family Weekend" to follow up the Million Man March that recently took place. The morning show host, Donnie Simpson, was the honorary chairman of the "Family Weekend." Along with giving away "family packs," he encouraged men to take an active role in their families' lives, including taking them to the movies, out to dinner and, most importantly, to church. Church leaders followed suit and helped to promote the weekend along with the station.

COST: NADA.

RETURN: EXCELLENT COMMUNITY SERVICE ENCOURAGES GOOD WILL. TIES WITH THE CHURCH HELP STRENGTHEN COMMUNITY BONDS.

BLESSID UNION OF GOOD DEEDS

WKRQ Cincinnati

Von Freeman

While being interviewed on Q102's morning show, Blessid Union Of Souls heard about a local family who still owes over $600,000 in medical bills after their daughter, a double-lung transplant recipient, passed away. In order to help them out, the band and co-hosts Linda and Terry of the morning show decided to stay on the air for 24 hours in order to raise money for the family. For a donation, they took requests of any song (including Dolly Parton) and for the big spenders, BUOS sang. The band and Q102 raised over $57,000.

"PEANUT BUTTER AND PHANTOM"

WWDE Norfolk/Virginia Beach

Chris Wilson

WWDE gave away tickets to the eagerly-awaited musical, "Phantom Of The Opera," to the listener willing to execute the "Most Outrageous Stunt." The winner offered to cover her barely clad body with crunchy peanut butter and sing a song that she had written especially for the "Breakfast Bunch" while showering the peanut butter off. In return for her generous stunt, she won "Phantom" tickets, hotel accommodations and meals.

COST: TRADED FOR MENTIONS.

RETURN: STICKY THEATRE-OF-THE-CRUNCHY MADE FOR INTERESTING WATER COOLER TALK.

ROLLERCOASTER WEDDING

KPLZ Seattle

Jennifer Pirak

Engaged couples registered in a local jewelry store to win a wedding complete with rings, a reception (scones and juice for 50), a cake and a trip to Hawaii for the honeymoon. Of course, the actual ceremony was performed on a moving rollercoaster! Kent and Alan hosted the wedding at the remote, giving every listener the chance to know what it's like to have a whirlwind romance (or should we say hurlwind?).

COST: EVERYTHING WAS TRADED FOR MENTIONS.

RETURN: GREAT THEATRE-OF-THE-MIND EVENT ATTRACTED LOCAL MEDIA COVERAGE.

"THE GREAT PUMPKIN DROP"

KEGE Minneapolis

Scott Lief

In order to save listeners from having their Halloween pumpkins rot, KEGE held a Pumpkin Drop. Listeners brought their pumpkins to the dropping site, and the pumpkins that came closest to hitting a target won concert tickets. Everyone who came picked up passes for movie screenings and CDs.

COST: EVERYTHING WAS TRADED OUT.

RETURN: INTERESTING STUNT ATTRACTED MEDIA ATTENTION AND GENERATED WATER COOLER TALK.

"DOH!"

WDBR Springfield, IL

Randal Klapproth

WDBR teamed up with the local Fox affiliate for a "Simpson's Watch." Listeners were encouraged to watch The Simpsons every night and then listen for the show's theme song the next day on WDBR. The first caller who named the number of times Homer said "Doh!" the night before won a CD and qualified for a grand prize drawing of a 27-inch TV and a VCR.

COST: EVERYTHING WAS TRADED FOR MENTIONS.

RETURN: NICE CROSS-PLUG THAT BUILT CUME AND TSL WHILE TIED TO A VERY HIP SHOW.

QUICKIE WEDDING

WTDR Charlotte

Geof Knight

Ten couples were married on Halloween at a local fast-food restaurant, compliments of WTDR. They were encouraged to wear the "appropriate" costumes for the celebration, although white could be worn. Brides were given bouquets with white and orange flowers tied with a black ribbon, and the couples exchanged black plastic spider rings. A reception followed in the restaurant, and the couples then went to their honeymoon in Myrtle Beach.

COST: THE STATION ALSO BOUGHT GOLD WEDDING BANDS FOR THE COUPLES, WHICH CAME OUT OF THE BUDGET. THE TRIP WAS TRADED FOR MENTIONS.

RETURN: NICELY TIES A WARM AND FUZZY EVENT TO A TOPICAL HOLIDAY THAT ATTRACTED MEDIA COVERAGE.

THE OLDEST PHONER

WMGI Terre Haute

Beau Richards and Mike Echols

The duo decided to hunt down the world's oldest documented person on the day after she was inducted into the Guinness Book of Records. Jeanne Calment of Arles, France conducted an interview over the phone through a translator that Beau and Mike found at a paint factory. Ms. Calment wished that Beau and Mike could live as long as she has, and when asked her secret for living so long, she responded "sex, drugs and rock and roll."

COST: JUST THE LONG DISTANCE CALL.

RETURN: UNIQUE SUBJECT MADE STATION TALK OF THE TOWN.

QUICK CASH

KKLI Colorado Springs

Tori Martinez

KKLI is rewarding faithful listeners with $106 every day...and more! Listeners must listen for the songs featured at 9, 2 and 5 and then be the sixth caller the next morning at 7:20. If the three songs and artists are identified correctly, the caller wins $106. If they win on a Monday, Wednesday or Friday, they also receive travel certificates on Western Pacific airlines.

COST: SOME OF IT WAS TRADED FOR MENTIONS.

- Erikson, Marker and Vig recruited Manson after seeing Angelfish's "Suffocate Me" video on 120 Minutes.
- Vig's first major claim to fame was producing Nirvana's classic album, Nevermind.

- In 1993, they were honored as Best Group and Hucknall as Best Male Artist at the BRIT Awards.
- Hucknall wrote every song on Life, their fifth album.
- "Fairground," the first single, is about people getting together for uncomplicated pleasure.

Word Of The Week: "gnamma." The gnswer's below.

Did'ja know...that the sun isn't seen on the North Pole for 186 days a year? So think twice about accepting that overnighter slot in Nome.

Albert Einstein was four years old before he could talk. For years after that, he thought he was an orphan—until, of course, he came up with the theory of his relativity.

Brainteaser: The greatest invention took place in 1930. What was it?

Did'ja also know...that every clown is unique? In fact, their faces have to be painted on an eggshell to be registered. When the clown dies, his egg is buried with him...no yolk! They're even sent to a special retirement home when they become a shell of their former self.

No, a "gnamma" isn't your one of your parent's mothers.

Gerald Ford was the only President ever to have been a male model. He had to retire after he kept falling off the runway.

It costs the U.S. Mint .77 cents to make a penny. Naturally, they keep the change.

You use 72 muscles to speak one word. Unfortunately for most people these days, one of them isn't the brain.

Loafing Around: In 1930, Wonder Bread sold the first sliced loaf. At least it wasn't pinched.

Coca-Cola was banned from India in 1977 because its makers refused to disclose its secret formula. Of course, it didn't help matters any that, when asked for the formula, they flippantly replied, "Don't have a cow..."

Chewing gum was originally intended to be a rubber substitute. However, tests discovered that the man using the gum had difficulty withdrawing from his mare.

"Gnamma"—n: a hollow in bare rock where water collects. (...as if you're going to use it in conversation!)

O.J. Simpson cancelled an autograph signing session at a sports memorabilia show.

He complained that the pens he was given to autograph items with were too small.

After setting their sights on pornographic lyrics, Congressional watchdogs are starting to look into the TV talk show phenomenon. Critics are citing the shows' pandering to the lowest common denominator by exploiting the public's fascination with perversion, depravity, racism and greed.

Obviously, they don't want the talk shows to hone in on their turf.

Nine members of the Sanford, Maine marching band were suspended from class for four days and kicked out of the band for taking LSD during a band competition.

Officials first became suspicious when the football team complained about waiting to start the second half while the "affected" members played "In-A-Gadda-Da Vida."

Rotary Club members in New Jersey were shocked to discover that they inadvertently included sleeping pills in goody bags given to children trick-or-treaters.

They couldn't figure out why so many parents were thanking them.

Officials at a New Hampshire elementary school deny some parents' assertions that they now forbid students from touching each other because of the school district's ban on anything that "encourages...ho nose sexuality as a positive lifestyle."

Of course, it's just a coincidence that their new zoology school books cover hetero-sapiens.

Complaints from parents and students of a St. Cloud, Minnesota high school prompted officials to drop a test, written in 1973, that used racial slurs to gauge pupils' grasp of the black experience.

So much for the insightful back-of-the-bus field trips to a local welfare office...

In a Newsweek poll, two of three adults believe in Satan; 85% of born-again evangelicals believe in Beelzebub—and 43% of them blame him for the gay-rights movement.

Maybe they were tipped off to the latter belief by the heathens who called him "Thatan."

A raid on an Asbury Park, NJ no-alcohol nightclub for teens netted heroin, crack, methamphetamines, marijuana, LSD and other drugs.

Good thing no one was drinking and driving!

Big Bird will be the grand marshal for Detroit's 69th annual Thanksgiving parade.

Then, officials will have him for dinner.

Although several female students at a New York high school dressed up for Halloween as men, two boys who dressed in drag were sent home after officials thought they might offend women.

Especially the one who was up for Homecoming Queen.

Future Trends Of Top 40

by Bill Richards

From time to time, it's always a good idea to reflect on the state of radio. Having lived with Top 40 for many years, I've witnessed its successes and its failures. As a fan of the format, I have faith that it can rebound. However, it will take smarter, more strategically-minded programmers than ever to see it through. Here are some of the trends I see:

- Music will be more Mainstream and mass-appeal than it has been in years. The balance of music is better and will continue to be. In simplistic terms, this will allow Top 40 to become the station mom and the kids can listen to...together...again.

- Programmers will pay more attention to Image Flow. With so much competition, the balancing of song-to-song "Image Flow" will be critical.

- Programmers will avoid the "Rubber-Band Syndrome." For too long, programmers have overreacted to the whatever is the latest savior of music instead of sitting in the middle.

- Top 40 will learn to travel the interstates, not the side roads. Stations must pick their interstate (musical focus) and not veer from it, rather than taking side roads. Side roads might be less competitive, but Top 40 can't afford to go off on uncharted routes. Let the niches take the chances.

- With more and more markets having stand-alone Top 40 signals, Top 40 will be able to win—albeit with smaller shares. It's all relative: More competition drives down shares. This will make the format more attractive to companies looking for an identity. The format will rebound nicely and you'll see more coverts back to the format.

- Top 40 will do a better job of not handing over listeners to Hot A/C. A/Cs and Hot A/Cs have continued to adopt Top 40 traits. This will be a "wake-up call" to Top 40 PDs who realize that images such as "Variety, Fun and Upbeat sound," must be battled for as well as music. Old axiom: "You own nothing until you give it away." New axiom: "Stop giving it away."

- Top 40 will feature a less intense, "in-your-face" presentation. The days of "Move over and let the big dog eat" sweepers are over. Top 40 will look for more jocks who sound like real "people" and shy from the hyped jock approach. The "white-noise/MTV" style of sweepers will burn quickly, so Top 40 will move towards a new sound.

- Top 40s will embrace more lyrically meaningful songs. Songs like Blessed Union Of Souls' "I Believe," Martin Page's "House of Stone and Light" and others are cutting through more, as listeners yearn for more meaning in the lyrics. Especially in light of recent terrorist acts in America, listeners are looking for this. This will help Top 40 in its battle for Pop-turned-Country listeners who had grown tired of Top 40's negative baggage.

- Top 40 will finally learn to avoid the dreaded "25-54 disease." With it, we'll see a returned focus to a purer Top 40 sound. Stations will learn that the Oldies they play must have proper Formatic Filtering to achieve their goals. Playing the Oldies, balanced with a tight current/recurrent playlist, will serve Top 40 well.

- Top 40 will win by returning to "Delivering on Expectations." Especially for heritage stations, Top 40s will match listeners' expectations by delivering music they expect to hear on them.

- Radio, in general, will have to realize that Top 40 is different in every market. Quit trying to force Top 40 into a definitive description. Like it or not, in some markets, Rhythm is the Top 40 in that market. Accept it for what it is.

- Top 40 will realize that Alternative isn't the answer.

- A return to tight radio. "Tight is right!" With so many demands for people's time, playing too many songs will become increasingly dangerous.

Top 40 is an exciting format to program. Because its images have been frayed over the past few years, other formats have adopted more and more Top 40 elements in an obvious attempt to add spice to their format. If you're a Top 40 station, don't be afraid to be what you are. If you're not, then use some of Top 40's tactics wisely.

Top 40 will survive if it pays attention to where it has been...and knows where it's going. Good luck on your future!

Direct Marketing In Radio

by Jim Wood

Throughout history, there are examples of successful marketing efforts for products or services facing seemingly impossible challenges. Some of the most compelling stories deal with emotional issues and concepts. Examples of today's hottest marketing idea, Direct Marketing or Databased Marketing, might include the well-documented creation of this country and the crafting of the Constitution. Less lofty would be the success of the AARP or Mary Kay Cosmetics.

Direct or data-based marketing has been around a long time, and regardless of the message or the product, proper use of it can certainly make a significant difference on the long-term viability of any product or service. Marketing is an entire umbrella concept that we often confuse with advertising. Advertising is simply one component of an entire marketing campaign.

If you analyze some of the most incredible marketing success stories, you often find several basic ingredients present in all of them:

- A strong emotional foundation: This is fairly obvious in religions, governments, the AARP and whatever it is that they believe so religiously at Mary Kay.
- High profile personalities: Every long-lasting, group is led by a very powerful personality with tremendous public appeal.
- Strong, well focused leadership: Each organization has a strong set of leaders who really believe in what they were, or are marketing.
- A clear set of rules: The 10 Commandments and the Bill Of Rights or any mission statement, is necessary to succeed.
- Strategic, long-term thinking and planning: Jesus was not proposing the idea of Christianity as an idea that was "good" for the next 12 weeks. Idealistically, the U.S. Constitution was created to last forever.
- An operations manual: A clearly defined set of goals and beliefs that clarify the organization's philosophy.
- A Club with a large number of members: In fact, each great entry had, and still has, lots of clubs, all holding slightly different beliefs, but all centered on certain core values. Members find comfort, security and enjoyment interacting with others.

So what does this have to do with radio? Simple. We are entering a new era of marketing rooted deeply in the past but widely accepted and used today. It's a fact, these concepts have never gone away. They are being used every day by huge organizations like the Catholic Church, AARP, Mary Kay Cosmetics, General Motors and the Hard Rock Cafe (diverse mix, huh?). The realities and implications of "Loyalty/Club Marketing" are being fully recognized and utilized by every major industry in the world today.

The entertainment industries' broadcasting, have been slow to move, but we are picking up momentum quickly. It is fair to say that most radio stations are either participating in, or are considering building, a "Loyal Listeners' Club" of some sort very soon. It's expected that every successful radio station will have such a club in the next two years. Properly orchestrated, this concept can create a strong linkage with listeners, provide substantial revenue and provide efficient ways to market stations in today's noisy and expensive world.

One problem: By nature, Radio people think they can do "anything and everything" themselves. Many well-intentioned broadcasters have jumped into this game just to learn a frustrating, painful and expensive lesson. We have either personally been, or worked for radio executives who tried to cut costs by eliminating "Loyalty/Club Marketing Programs." The same people, I might add, scream when car dealers want to write and produce their own radio commercials. Does this sound familiar? "We are the experts at writing and producing radio commercials. Stick to selling cars....and leave the radio commercials to us!"

If you believe nothing else, please take this one piece of advice to heart: This is one project and concept best left to the experts...the small band of specialists who have learned the lessons and know how it works.

Recently, I have been spending a large amount of my time dealing with "Loyalty" and "Club" marketing projects whose "wheels have fallen off." In most cases, I have to spend a lot of valuable time, and a substantial amount of the client's money, trying to unravel a giant mess before we can move forward. Each year, more and more radio executives are learning the power of "Loyalty/Club Marketing." The smart ones also realize that it is an industry unto itself and is best left to those who understand its nature and unique subtleties. "Loyalty/Club Marketing Programs" can also be powerful research tools and lucrative alternative revenue sources for radio stations. This is truly exciting, and provocative. Done correctly, the investment is worth the results.

Industry experts agree that only those broadcasters who want, and need to create a long-lasting, powerful and profitable organization should consider "Loyalty" and "Club" marketing. Short-term players should continue to follow the same old worn-out path, spending their resources on the concepts, and ideas that have perpetuated the roller coaster ride that they have ridden for decades.

CONTEST RULES & REGULATIONS

Only Network 40 reporters, advertisers and maintenance personnel are eligible to vote on The Chrome Lizard Awards. Voting will be conducted by phone, fax and morse code. The deadline for voting is irrelevant to the Network 40 staff, who assumes no responsibility for anything. All results are reasonable facsimiles thereof; awards will be given at an unforeseen time and era unbeknownst to civilized man. Any reproduction of this poll without a xerox machine or a verified birth control device is inquisitive. Anyone so anal as to read this fine print is disqualified from voting, but may receive some lovely parting gifts. May God have mercy on your playlist.

BLACKHAWK

"Like There Ain't No Yesterday"

(ARISTA)

When you're in the groove, nothing goes wrong. Execute a deceptively simple strategy—Henry's powerful lead vocals, great songs, terrific production and their patented sound—and you wind up with another strong, mid-tempo smash. The song is already getting huge radio acceptance. Even though this one is written outside the group, tunesmiths Walt Aldridge and Mark Narmore found the perfect BlackHawk niche.

BLACKHAWK

JOHN MICHAEL MONTGOMERY

"Cowboy Love"

(ATLANTIC)

Here's an upbeat, rockin' radio record. All John wants to do is to give her a little "Cowboy Love"—and all we get is hit after hit. John Michael can move from ballad to uptempo without a problem. This song is certain to generate a huge amount of "Hot Picks" this week.

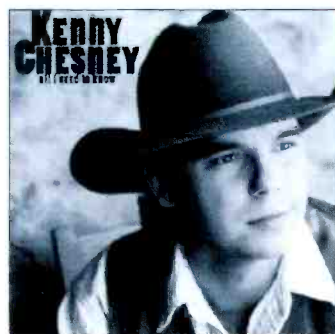

JOHN MICHAEL MONTGOMERY

KENNY CHESNEY

"Grandpa Told Me So"

(BNA)

This song, written by Mark Alan Springer and James Dean Hicks, is about a boy growing up with his Grandpa's wise words and direction. Does that make for a perfect Country song? Add a great performance by Kenny and near-perfect production by Barry Beckett, this is a song that should bring Kenny his first #1 PPW crown.

FAITH HILL

"It Matters To Me"

(WB)

A large number of Network 40 reporters believe this is the strongest and best Faith Hill record so far. WAVC's Tom Bishop and WHEN's Ray Knight are among those who expect it to be a major hit, taking Faith all the way to the top. Female artists have been riding high these last few months; Faith deserves to be at the front of the charge.

COLLIN RAYE

"Not That Different"

(EPIC)

A singer the quality of Collin Raye can bring a songwriter's composition to life as well as anyone. In this case, Karen Taylor-Good has given him the substance to create one of his best singles in his career. If you can't find an immediate spot on your playlist for this one, you're cheating your listeners.

MARK COLLIE

"Steady As She Goes"

(GIANT)

Mark came close with his first Giant release, "Three Words, Two Hearts, One Night..." "Steady As She Goes" has all of the same hit elements to take him all the way. Mark has a lot of friends in Radio and this upbeat effort will make new ones. Bob DiPiero, John Scott Sherrill and Michael Murgage wrote the song. You can't get a much better group of hit makers than this.

MARK COLLIE

LISA BROKOP

"She Can't Save Him"

(CAPITOL)

Do you remember what you thought when you heard Kathy Mattea's "Where've You Been" for the first time? You'll get those kind of chills the first time you hear Brokop's classic performance. Don't be surprised if this is nominated in a "Best Performance By A Female" category next year.

MUSIC CITY

ROW MOVES: The executive shuffle was in full swing in the Country music industry last week. Leading the way was Paul Allen, who danced away with the most sought-after opening in Nashville—Director of the Country Radio Broadcasters. The position had been vacant for many months; see the News section for more....Elsewhere, former Asylum Records staffer Casandra Tynes was named Promotion Coordinator for Larry Pareigis at Almo Sounds....The CMA has just promoted long-time Public Relations Director Teresa George to the position of Sr. Director Communications. Also at the CMA, Tammy Genovese was named Sr. Director Operations.

GET WELL: Superstar Tracy Lawrence has been hospitalized in Nashville for what doctors term "exhaustion." Lawrence is one of the most active artists in Country music. Besides his heavy touring schedule, he also manages his own career and is in the middle of producing two albums—a live effort to go with a new studio release. He will undergo extensive tests to determine his exact condition and recuperation.

WHEN CLINT CALLS.... When Wendi buzzed to say that Clint Black was on the phone, I initially thought BNA's Tom Sgro was pulling another fast one. When I picked up the phone to tell Tom off, lo and behold, it was Clint! "I just called to thank you for all your help and support over these last few months," he said. "Maria [Brunner] keeps me up to speed on what Network 40 has been saying about me and I just wanted you to know that I appreciate it." We certainly appreciated the call.

GOLD DUST ON THE BOTTLE: ASCAP and MCA Records threw a little to-do to honor David Lee Murphy and his #1 PPW smash, "Dust On The Bottle" last week. Celebrating the honor were his new National Promotion Director, Scott Borchetta, David Haley and producer Tony Brown. David performed the song, and since he actually wrote it, ASCAP bestowed upon him gifts such as ASCAP's impressive Writer's #1 Tour Jacket, that goes to every writer of number one songs.

RICOCHET ROMANCE: Columbia's Allen Butler, Debi Fleischer, Bob Mitchell and the rest of the Nashville crew brought a slew of folks to Dallas' Billy Bob's Club last weekend for a tremendous showcase of their new band, Ricochet. Among the 5,000-plus in attendance was superstar Doug Stone, who saw Ricochet perform their new single, "What Do I Know," which hits the streets on November 20th. This tops off a 30-city bus tour headed by Sony chief Allen Butler.

RAYE OF SUNSHINE: Epic's Scott Simon, Jack Lameier, Rob Dalton, Dean Broadhead and Craig Campbell brought what appeared (and felt like) everyone in Nashville to BMI's luxurious new digs last week for an impressive party to celebrate Collin Raye's Platinum achievements. He received a Gold Record award for his fourth album, I Think About You, which was accomplished by the first single, "One Boy, One Girl." Collin also received Platinum awards for his first three albums achieving platinum status, which makes him only the 15th Country artist in history to achieve that milestone.

RICK FEATS RICKY: Atlantic's Rick Blackburn, Bryan Switzer and Larry King hosted a party at Nashville's Country Music Hall of Fame to welcome Ricky Skaggs to Atlantic's strong stable of artists. His latest single, "Solid Ground" has been racking up the adds for the last two weeks and just may be one of the biggest records in his illustrious career.

—Barry Freeman

David Lee Murphy (center), with ASCAP's Eve Abdo and Network 40's Barry Freeman.

STOPSET

MUSICAL CHAIRS: It's been a busy week: KPLX Dallas MD/midday Chris Huff exits. Programming assistant Teresa Whitney will assume MD duties until a permanent replacement is found....KIKF Anaheim names afternooner Bob Harvey as PD; Carrie Dunne continues as APD/MD and middays....WGH Norfolk morning man Dan McClain exits....Former WICO Salisbury MD Marti Ryan has landed at WKSI Greensboro doing middays....Pam Houston exits her midday gig at WESC Greenville....Karen Dalessandro new for middays at WWWW Detroit. She was doing afternoons at crosstown WYCD....WKXB Wilmington doing some shifting, as afternooner Stanley B moves from afternoons to mornings and Tom Burton comes in for afternoons. He was formerly PD at crosstown WWQQ.

HE COULDN'T WAIT: If you've felt conspicuously left out of last week's Chrome Lizard Award nominations, rest assured that we have not forgotten you! Check out page 74 to vote and fax in your ballot. In fact, WYCD Detroit MD Eddie Haskell just couldn't wait, so he wrote in Country selections for the various categories. Well, Eddie, we promise not to tell Ward and Mrs. Cleaver if you decide to choose from the honored nominees and vote again...just stop bugging the Beaver, okay?

BIGGER THAN THIS: Also included in this issue is the new single from Epic's Joe Diffie, "Bigger Than the Beatles," which is from his upcoming album Life's So Funny. The album hits stores on December 5th. We also have an early Christmas present for you next week—Joe's Christmas single, "Leroy The Redneck Reindeer." Like Domino's, we deliver!

TAKE TWO GARTHS AND CALL US IN THE MORNING: The reaction has been hot and heavy to "The Fever," the second single from Garth Brooks' eagerly-awaited album, Fresh Horses (Capitol). Yes, it is a revised version of an Aerosmith song—and it has already incited a raging "Is it Country?" debate that hasn't been heard since Garth put out "Shameless." What does Garth think of the brouhaha? He talks about the song—and the reaction—as well as a variety of topics in an exclusive interview coming very soon!

DON'T FORGET: Just a friendly reminder that we need your playlist every Monday by 5:00 pm PST. If you have any questions regarding faxing procedures, call me at (800) 443-4001. Have a great week. See ya!

—Jamie Matteson

(l-r): KFGO Fargo OM Wayne Hiller, PD Brad Rivers and MD Kydd Ballou invited thousands of listeners to sign "The World's Largest Garth Invitation," which asked the superstar to include a stop on his upcoming tour at the Fargo Dome.

helen darling

This is a great song. Listen to it a couple of times and you will be a real fan. In the year of Shania and Terri, we should have another top new female.”

—Charlie Cook, 105.7ay Media

“I think this record is killer! I don’t know what more you could want out of a single.”

—Tim Wilson, WAXX

“When I first played it, I said WOW! And when I played it again, WOW! If you’ve been looking for that certain ballad by a female to add to your playlist and you haven’t found it yet... trust me, you have found it in Helen Darling.”
