Radio Clutter Up 6% In '99

■ That follows a 13% rise the year before; Alternative format sees the biggest increases

Is radio becoming oversaturated with ad clutter? According to the most recent radio advertising study done by Cincinnati-based Empower MediaMarketing, the answer is yes.

The 16-market study, which tracked the number of radio spots per hour that were 30 seconds or longer rather than the total minutes of spots per hour, showed a 6% increase in paid radio advertisements from 1998 to 1999. Still, that was down from a rise of 13% from 1997-98.

Empower Sr. VP/Knowledge, Information & Invention Julie Pahutski said the increase in radio clutter was not surprising. "It's been an incredibly hot market. Radio has been so in-demand, given all the advertising by dot-coms and the extremely rich technology market, that stations have been adding [commercial] units and decreasing programming."

The combined San Francisco-San Jose market saw the biggest increase with a 20% jump in commercial clutter, followed by

And The Nominees Are ...

■ KIIS tops Industry Achievement Award nominees

Clear Channel's KIIS-FM/Los Angeles received a record seven nominations for R&R's third annual Industry Achievement Awards. The CHR/Pop station, including individual staff members, was nominated in three national categories, including Station of the Year (Markets 1-25), General Manager of the Year and Marketing Director of the Year. The station was also nominated in the CHR/Pop category for Station of the Year, PD of the Year, Music Director of the Year and Personality of the Year. Not included in the seven was a nomination for KIIS morning man Rick Dees in the Syndicated Personality of the Year category.

R&R's Industry Achievement Awards recognize excellence in the radio and record industries. Nominees were suggested by R&R readers last February. The final ballot is included with copies of this week's R&R sent to radio stations, record companies and other eligible subscribers in related industries. The ballots will be returned

House Approves Oxley Bill

■ Republican support pushes LPFM bill through

By JEFFREY YORKE
R&R WASHINGTON BUREAU CHIEF
yorke@rronline.com

Despite a last-minute effort by FCC Chairman Bill Kennard to have the House of Representatives delay its vote on low-power FM radio service, the House overwhelmingly approved the "Radio Broadcasting Preservation Act of 1999" last Thursday night by a margin of 274 to 110, thanks to heavy Republican support. However, the bill's passage fell short — by just 13 votes — of the two-thirds majority needed to override a presidential veto. Fifty-one representatives abstained from voting.

"This bill represents a true compromise," House Telecommunications Subcommittee Chairman Rep. Billy Tauzin explained to fellow House members as the bill was introduced for a floor vote, adding that the FCC has "proceeded full-steam ahead" with LPFM even after hearing all the arguments concerning interference. While Rep. Ed Markey brushed off those concerned about reception problems in such things as shower radios, Rep. Heather Wilson countered, "We should protect all types of listeners — including those who use shower radios."

Radio Stocks Rebound After Riding Wall St. Roller Coaster

The much-beleaguered stock market came roaring back early this week, after another in a series of wild twists and turns that have transformed Wall Street into a financial roller coaster.

At R&R's Tuesday deadline, Nasdaq had soared to its second-largest gain on record, up 254.41 to 3793.57, while the Dow jumped 184.91 to 10,767.42. The broad-based rebound reflected bargain-hunting for beaten-down big-name stocks, particularly high-tech issues such as Microsoft, Sun Microsystems and Cisco Systems. The R&R Composite Index, which fell to its lowest level since April '99 on Monday, bounced up 18.35 Tuesday to close at 299.85.

Radio issues leading the way included McHenry Tichenor Jr.'s Hispanic Broadcasting, which soared $12 per share Tuesday (14.6%) to close at $94.06 on heavy trading. Radio One, led by President/CEO Alfred Liggins, climbed nearly $5 per share (10.2%) to close at $53.50.

XM Satellite Radio, which has experienced significant declines in recent weeks, rocketed up $4.875 to close at $24 per share — still far from its 52-week high

Universal/Motown Ups DeLong To SVP/ Crossover Promotion

Universal/Motown Records Group has elevated Valerie DeLong to Sr. VP/Crossover Promotion. Based in Los Angeles, she reports to Universal Records President Monte Lipman and Motown President/CEO Kedar Massenburg.

In her new post DeLong will oversee crossover promotion for Universal, Motown, Republic Records and Cash Money Records. DeLong was previously VP/Crossover Promotion for Universal Records.

"One look at Valerie's extraordinary track record, and you'll understand why we are so thrilled to expand her duties," Lipman said. "Her promotion reflects not only our appreciation for all that she has accomplished, but our anticipation of even greater things to come."

Massenburg added, "Throughout her remarkable career Valerie has done an incredible job of combining her sensibilities as a music executive with tremendous radio savvy. We are fortunate to have her

Stegall: EVP/A&R, Mercury/Nashville

Mercury/Nashville has elevated Sr. VP/A&R Keith Stegall to Exec. VP/A&R. Stegall will not only continue to oversee all artist signings and recordings, he will also get his own imprint under the Universal Music Group, for which he will scout non-Country artists.

Mercury/Nashville President Luke Lewis commented, "Keith's successes as a producer, songwriter, and artist are testaments to his capabilities in the creative arena. He brings to the label not only a tremendous range of talent, but also integrity, passion and professionalism. He is most deserving of this promotion. I'm proud to have him as my partner."

Stegall joined the label in 1994 as VP/A&R and was upped to Sr. VP/A&R in July '97. During his tenure at the label he has been responsible for signing Terri Clark, Mark Wills and Kim Richey. He's produced albums for Alan Jackson, George Jones, Sammy Kershaw, John Anderson and Billy Ray Cyrus. In addition to Jackson and Kershaw, Stegall's songs have been recorded by Al Jarreau and Dr. Hook.

Interrep Slaps Clear Channel, Katz With $56 Million Lawsuit

By JEREMY SHWEDER
R&R WASHINGTON BUREAU
jshweder@rronline.com

Breaking up is hard to do, particularly when millions of dollars are involved.

The recent breakup of Clear Channel Communications and Interrep National Radio Sales has led to a $56 million lawsuit. Last week Interrep filed the suit in New York State Supreme Court, naming Clear Channel and competing rep firm Katz Communications as defendants.

The seesaw case goes back to 1996, when Clear Channel first left Katz as its national spot ad sales representative to go to Interrep. Since it left Katz in the middle of a contract, Clear Channel was liable for about $23 million in damages to Katz, the lawsuit says. Clear Channel was able to convince Interrep to cover that liability.

Fast-forward three years, to Clear Channel's merger with AMFM in October '99. Terms of the merger include Clear Channel owning AMFM-controlled Katz. In the middle of the contract with Interrep Clear Channel returns to Katz as a sales rep, this time as an in-house partner. But Clear Channel is now refusing to pay any damages to Interrep, even though their contract runs until 2005, according to the lawsuit. Meanwhile, Clear Channel and Katz are insisting that Interrep continue payments on the $23 million in damages it assumed from Clear Channel in 1996.

Katz Files Separate Suit

In an unrelated — but remarkably similar — lawsuit, Katz is seeking up to $8 million from Interrep, stemming from the cancellation of a sales rep contract by Entercom Communications.

Guild

This suit was also filed in New York State Supreme Court and names Entercom as the defendant. Interrep, however, has agreed to cover all liabilities for Entercom, much as it did for Clear Channel in 1996.

All things being relative, both sides agree this is a minor case. The disagreement centers around computing how much Entercom owes to Katz for breaking its national sales rep contract. Entercom canceled its agreement with Katz late last year and signed with Interrep. Katz President Stu Olds said the issue is basically a clarification of a minor point in the contract, and "not like a real lawsuit, where you hate people."

Interrep CFO Bill McEntee said that Interrep has a strong case and that the suit would have "no detrimental effect at all" on Interrep. Interrep, which is led by Chairman Ralph Guild, has been trading near its all-time low of $6.25 per share, more than 50% below its Jan. 24 all-time high of $15 per share.

Ramirez Named Traffic.com Pres./CEO

Veteran media consultant and broadcast executive Richard Ramirez has joined Traffic.com as President/CEO. Traffic.com provides traffic data for the broadcast industry as well as other communications platforms.

"Richard is exactly the type of leader our company requires," stated Traffic.com co-founder/interim President/CEO David Jannetta, who will become Exec. VP and continue to serve on the board of directors. "His ability to rapidly grow organizations corresponds with our national deployment goals. His extensive skills and contacts in new media, cable and electronic broadcast dovetail with Traffic.com's multi-channel approach to the delivery of real-time solutions."

Prior to joining Traffic.com, Ramirez was a principal with RPR Media Consultants. He has also served as Exec. VP/COO of Ethnic-American Broadcasting Co., VP/GM of Prime Ticket Networks' La Cadena Deportiva and Sr. VP of Univision Stations Group.

"Traffic.com is poised for exponential growth and is set to dominate this space," Ramirez added. "It has a business model that will enable it to become the premier player

Muniz To Manage Mega's Boston Trio

Laurindo Muniz has been elevated to GM for Mega Communications' Boston cluster: Tropical simulcast WAMG-AM & WLLH-AM and Spanish AC WBPS-AM. Muniz will oversee the management, sales, programming and finance operations for the trio.

Muniz most recently handled national sales for Mega/Boston. He joined Mega's Philadelphia operations three years ago and before that worked for AMFM.

"Laurindo brings many years of experience to our company, and I know under his leadership Boston will continue to grow in great strides," said Mega President/CEO Alfredo Alonso. "We are delighted with Laurindo's immediate and expert command of our remarkably complex organization."

Meanwhile, David Collins moves from Mega's Philadelphia cluster to the Boston threesome as Director/Sales.

Cumulus Gets Positive Report From Accountants

Company restates earnings after previous miscalculations

By JEREMY SHWEDER
jshweder@rronline.com

Cumulus Media passed a crucial test last week in its drive to regain the confidence of investors and analysts. The beleaguered company received an "unqualified," or positive, audit opinion from an independent accounting firm.

The unqualified opinion from PricewaterhouseCoopers on Cumulus' earnings report meant that the accounting firm was confident that the reported numbers were correct.

Just last month Cumulus replaced President William Bungeerth after suddenly reporting that financials from several quarters in 1999 had to be restated. The inaccurate reporting has led to at least nine class action suits having been filed against Cumulus on behalf of its shareholders.

But last week's vote of confidence from the accounting firm and the subsequent restatement of earnings should buoy the company somewhat. Analysts were concerned that the Clear Channel Spins: Is The Puzzle Complete?

More than six months after Clear Channel announced that it needed to spin off more than 100 stations to complete its merger with AMFM, the divestitures may finally be finished.

WIRA-AM/Ft. Pierce, FL could be the last piece in the spinoff puzzle. It was sold Tuesday to Genesis Communications, an Atlanta-based company that owns five other stations in Florida, for $200,000.

Clear Channel has made no announcement about this deal being the last one required by the DOJ, but recent FCC filings seem to indicate that WIRA will be the last station to be sold. Clear Channel, in a recent FCC document, listed all the stations already under contract and noted that WIRA was going to be sold in the near future. No other stations were listed.

Superadio Exploring A Sale

As the days of consolidation among radio station owners may be winding down, the moment for consolidation among radio networks may have arrived.

Superadio, which calls itself the largest independent radio network, has hired the investment bank BT Alex. Brown to explore a sale of the company. While Superadio President Gary Bernstein said that companies have been inquiring about buying the network for years, this step marked a formalization of the process.

Superadio syndicates such programs as Open House Party and The Russ Parr Show. It lists about 40 affiliate radio stations on its website. Bernstein said that possible buyers include other radio networks as well as groups not currently in the syndication business.

Bernstein said he has no time line for a sale and will only make a move "if the price is right. We might as well see what the market will bear."

It is not uncommon for a company to publicly explore a sale. AMFM, then Chancellor Media, did the same thing last year before pulling out of the process. It was eventually bought by Clear Channel.

There has already been some consolidation within the network programming business. Last year Jones Radio bought competitor Broadcast Programming, and Westwood One network purchased Metro Networks.

BUSINESS BRIEFS

FCC Will Use Point System To Assign Noncommercial Stations

The FCC has decided to use a point system when choosing among competing applications by noncommercial broadcasters. FM and TV applicants for noncommercial educational channels will be able to file for stations during certain filing windows. Competing applicants will then be assigned stations based on a point system. An applicant will receive three points if it is based locally, two points if it owns no other local stations, two points if the applicant is part of a network that provides service to schools and one or two points based on certain technical aspects of the proposed station. The ruling applies only to applicants for stations on channels reserved for noncommercial educational use. Commissioners Gloria Tristani and Harold Furchtgott-Roth dissented, in part, from the decision.

FCC Flags Cumulus Purchases

The FCC last week flagged two stations being bought by Cumulus Media. The acquisition of WWFN-FM/Florence, SC would give Cumulus 10 stations in the market, according to BIA — two stations over the FCC's eight-station limit. But the FCC sometimes defines markets differently than BIA, and this could be a case where the commission expands its definition to allow a deal to go through. In the second deal, the FCC wants a closer look at Cumulus' $425,000 purchase of KTEM-AM/Killeen-Temple, TX. The acquisition would give Cumulus five stations in the market and control of just over 50% of ad revenue, surpassing FCC thresholds.

LPFM Issue Taking Focus Off EEO

The FCC's plan to license low-power FM stations has taken attention off the commission's new EEO rules, which were to go into effect this week. As of Tuesday (4/18) there had been no word from a DC Circuit Court about an appeal by the NAB to stay the rules. Additionally, the Second Circuit Court in New York is expected to rule soon on whether the DC Circuit Court has jurisdiction in the case or whether the Second Circuit Court needs to make the ruling. Meanwhile, the FCC is still reviewing a motion for reconsideration filed by the NAB, and the NAB has also filed a motion at the U.S. Office of Management and Budget to have the EEO forms stricken or modified, claiming that they are too burdensome.

Wisconsin Makes Music Piracy A Felony

Wisconsin has its first felony antipiracy law, with Gov. Tommy Thompson having signed the bill last week. The RIAA says that Wisconsin has seen increased music piracy in recent years because the state had had less stringent laws than others. The new penalties for sound-recording piracy are up to five years in jail and fines of up to hundreds of thousands of dollars. Forty-two other states already have felony antipiracy laws.

EARNINGS

NBG Radio's Revenues Rise; RealNetworks Beats The Street

■ New York Times, Tribune's broadcast divisions improve

NBG Radio Network Inc. (OTCBB: NSBD) saw its revenues increase 768% in the first quarter, jumping from just over $220,000 in the first quarter of 1999 to revenues of more than $1.9 million in the first quarter of 2000. The radio syndicator said that the revenue growth was a direct result of its internal development and acquisition of new long-form programming. Net income for NBG jumped 157% to about $852,000 in the first quarter. Also, operating income before depreciation and amortization jumped 341%.

RealNetworks Inc. (Nasdaq: RNWK) reported a first-quarter profit of $8.75 million, or 5 cents per share, compared to a loss of $526,000 last year, or break-even. Analysts polled by First Call had predicted that RealNetworks would earn 4 cents this quarter. Net revenues for the quarter were $53.5 million, up 120% from the first quarter of 1999.

Tribune Co. (NYSE: TRB), which owns four radio stations, had radio revenues hit $12.9 million in the first quarter of 2000, up 16% from $11.2 million last year. The entire broadcast division had a revenue increase of 18%. Companywide, Tribune matched analysts' expectations, earning 32 cents a share, or $85.6 million, in the first quarter, compared to 27 cents per share, or $72.8 million, a year earlier. Total revenue for the publishing and entertainment company hit $782 million, up 9% from the same period in 1999.

Money from political advertising drove the New York Times Co.'s (NYSE: NYT) broadcast division revenue up to $34.4 million in the first quarter of 2000, compared to $33.1 million last year. Companywide, the publishing company had revenues rise 14% to $843 million in the quarter. Earnings per share hit a record 47 cents, up 38% from last year's 34 cents per share. Analysts polled by First Call had predicted 43 cents. The New York Times broadcast division has eight TV stations and two radio stations.

company could have continued to flounder if it received a "qualified" opinion from accountants. Even better for Cumulus, the restated numbers showed that the company had better earnings than previously reported. Some analysts told R&R that there had been concern that the numbers would be restated lower.

In the end Cumulus reported that net loss in 1999 was actually 5 cents per share less than previously reported, meaning that the company had a total net loss for the year of $1.50 per share. The adjustment reflects a $7.173 million tax benefit that came from the elimination of deferred tax valuation allowances. Overall, Cumulus had a decrease in 1999 net loss of $1.157 million, the company said.

For 1998 Cumulus' restated numbers show that the company had a decrease in net loss of $5.687 million, or 36 cents per share, meaning that total net loss for 1998 was $1.34 per share.

Despite the restated financials, Cumulus executives and Wall Street analysts agreed that the changes were minimal and will have little effect on the company's operations. "These changes have no impact on the principal financial metrics we use to measure the performance of the company," said Executive Chairman Richard Weening.

The changes "mean zero" in terms of analysts' evaluation of the company, one analyst told R&R.

Weening, Dickey Got 1% Raise

While many CEOs of radio groups were getting double-digit raises in 1999, Cumulus' top executives received only a slight raise from 1998. Weening and Cumulus President/

Exec. VP Lew Dickey each pulled in $303,750 in 1999 and $300,000 the year before. Neither executive received a bonus in either year, but Weening and Dickey were each given 530,000 Cumulus stock options last year at an exercise price of $27.88.

Departed President Bungeoth made more than both men in 1999. Bungeoth had a 1999 salary of $350,000 and received a bonus that year worth $100,000.

Clear Channel

If WIRA was the last station, it was one of the smallest to be spun off. While purchase prices still aren't available for every deal, it is estimated that Clear Channel raised more than $4.3 billion from all the divestitures. According to R&R's count, the company sold 113 stations to 21 different buyers. Clear Channel also received 19 stations in swaps as parts of deals with Regent Communications, Cumulus Media and Barnstable Broadcasting.

If this is the final deal for Clear Channel, the spinoffs would have to be considered a great success. The company, despite some early fears caused by delays, met everyone's expectations. It surpassed the crucial $4 billion mark and, in many cases, sold its properties to noncompetitors.

Other winners in the process included Infinity, which bought 18 stations, including several in major markets; Cox Radio; Hispanic Broadcasting; and Salem Communications. Minority broadcasters also fared well, landing a significant chunk of the Clear Channel assets.

LET ME INTRODUCE MYSELF

■ Radio has always been my passion

By Pam Baker For as long as I can remember, radio has fascinated me. I was a rock 'n' roll chick, and I listened religiously to my favorite DJs to find out the latest music news. I believed everything they said and considered them the luckiest people in the world to be hanging out with Zeppelin backstage or with Van Halen in the recording studio. In times of joy or despair, the radio was my friend.

When I realized that someone would actually be willing to pay me to work at a radio station, I jumped at the chance. I broke the news to my parents that I wasn't going into dentistry — and moved quickly out of their house.

My passion was radio, and through the years I've been a radio producer and writer, worked in affiliate relations and been a marketing director. I've worked at some of the country's greatest radio stations, including such legendary Los Angeles stations as Top 40 KHJ, top-rated AC KOST, KLOS in its AOR days and News KFVB. I also ran the syndication company for the Mark & Brian Morning Show, and along the way I also spent four years in marketing and promotions at "The Happiest Place on Earth," Disneyland.

A MARKETING DIRECTOR'S ROLE

Last year I questioned the future of my career as a marketing director when a top executive with my company jokingly said, "I couldn't imagine why an all-News station would need a marketing director." Although the executive was genuinely giving me a compliment by acknowledging my efforts and revenue-generating promotions, it still stung. The message was clear: The position of "Marketing Director" was not perceived as a crucial element of the radio station by the corporate office. Even though I worked for a very supportive GM who rewarded my efforts both financially and with recognition, "corporate" had a different impression of marketing directors. Whose fault was that? But the real question is, What role should a marketing director play in today's radio world?

In order to answer that question fairly, let's first look at some facts:

- Budgets are bigger than ever — just ask your GM about EBITDA. Even if a radio station sells every spot, it still might not make its budget! That is why finding nonspot revenue opportunities is imperative. (By the way, EBITDA is the new buzzword. It stands for Earnings Before Interest, Taxes, Depreciation and Amortization.)

- Mergers are creating one-stop shopping for advertisers. With multistations in multimarkets, radio groups now have the advantage of selling advertising, promotions, their websites and their events in a variety of ways. This is particularly attractive to national advertisers and agencies, especially the dot-coms.

- Radio groups as well as individual radio stations are creating nontraditional revenue departments that find, create and develop sales opportunities with retailers, manufacturers and events promoters.

- Marketing budgets are shrinking. Why? Because reducing the marketing budget makes the bottom line look better. In most cases the money spent on marketing the station must be offset by additional sales revenue — more proof that nonspot revenue is key to the success of a radio station.

THE BOTTOM LINE

So, returning to the question of a marketing director's role, the bottom line is: to help the radio station make money! In addition to basic marketing responsibilities, a marketing director should bring together the programming and sales departments by creating promotional sponsorship opportunities without losing the integrity and image of the radio station. Without exception, the marketing director should be a vital part of a radio station's sales success.

Marketing/promotions departments should keep track of — and get credit for — their participation in generating revenue for the station. And the corporate office should be made aware of those achievements. Please don't immediately dismiss this idea and think I've lost my mind. Believe me, this is the future. Give me a chance, and I'll show you how easy it is to become a money-generating marketing machine.

The ultimate goal of the redesigned Management, Marketing & Sales section of R&R is to encourage discussions and the exchange of ideas among all departments of a radio station. Just think, not only can these opportunities benefit your station's ratings, they can generate more revenue. Each week R&R will be giving you ideas, suggestions and even workshops to help your station with everything from creating entitlement packages to producing a station CD, buying billboards on a budget and launching a website.

Joining R&R as the Sales & Marketing Editor is an awesome opportunity. I greatly thank Publisher/CEO Erica Farber and Editor-In-Chief Ron Rodrigues for offering me the challenge of making the Management, Marketing & Sales section a valuable tool for every radio station in the country.

$SALES TIP of the WEEK

JOHN DAVISON

Director/Sales, ABC Radio
San Francisco

KGO-AM, KMKY-AM & KSFO-FM

The words "value-added" are no longer spoken or written at ABC Radio/San Francisco. Unfortunately, the industry has allowed them to become synonymous with "What else can I get for free?"

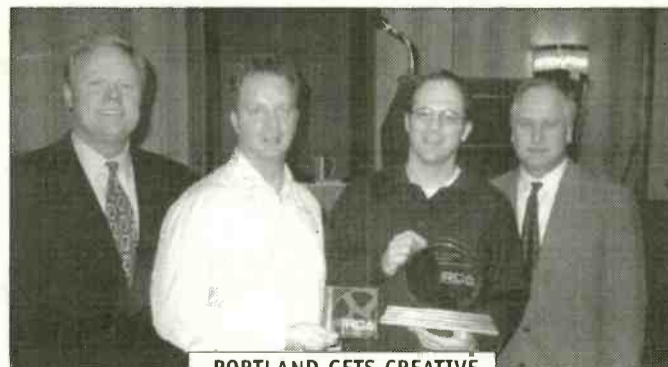

We now form partnerships with the clients who choose to buy into certain available marketing/promotion or web packages to help fulfill their objectives. Because these packages are valued, they have value. Many advertisers are, in fact, drawn to us by this approach when it is presented upfront. Some who have said they have "no budget for this" have gladly found the money by airing slightly fewer on-air announcements to help pay for and take advantage of these opportunities. In that way we have been able to save on-air inventory while driving nonspot revenue.

We've found that this new approach in positioning, as simple as it seems, has generated significant incremental nonspot revenue. It has also resulted in a much more positive and valuable experience for our advertisers.

PORTLAND LAUNCHES RADIO CREATIVE AWARDS

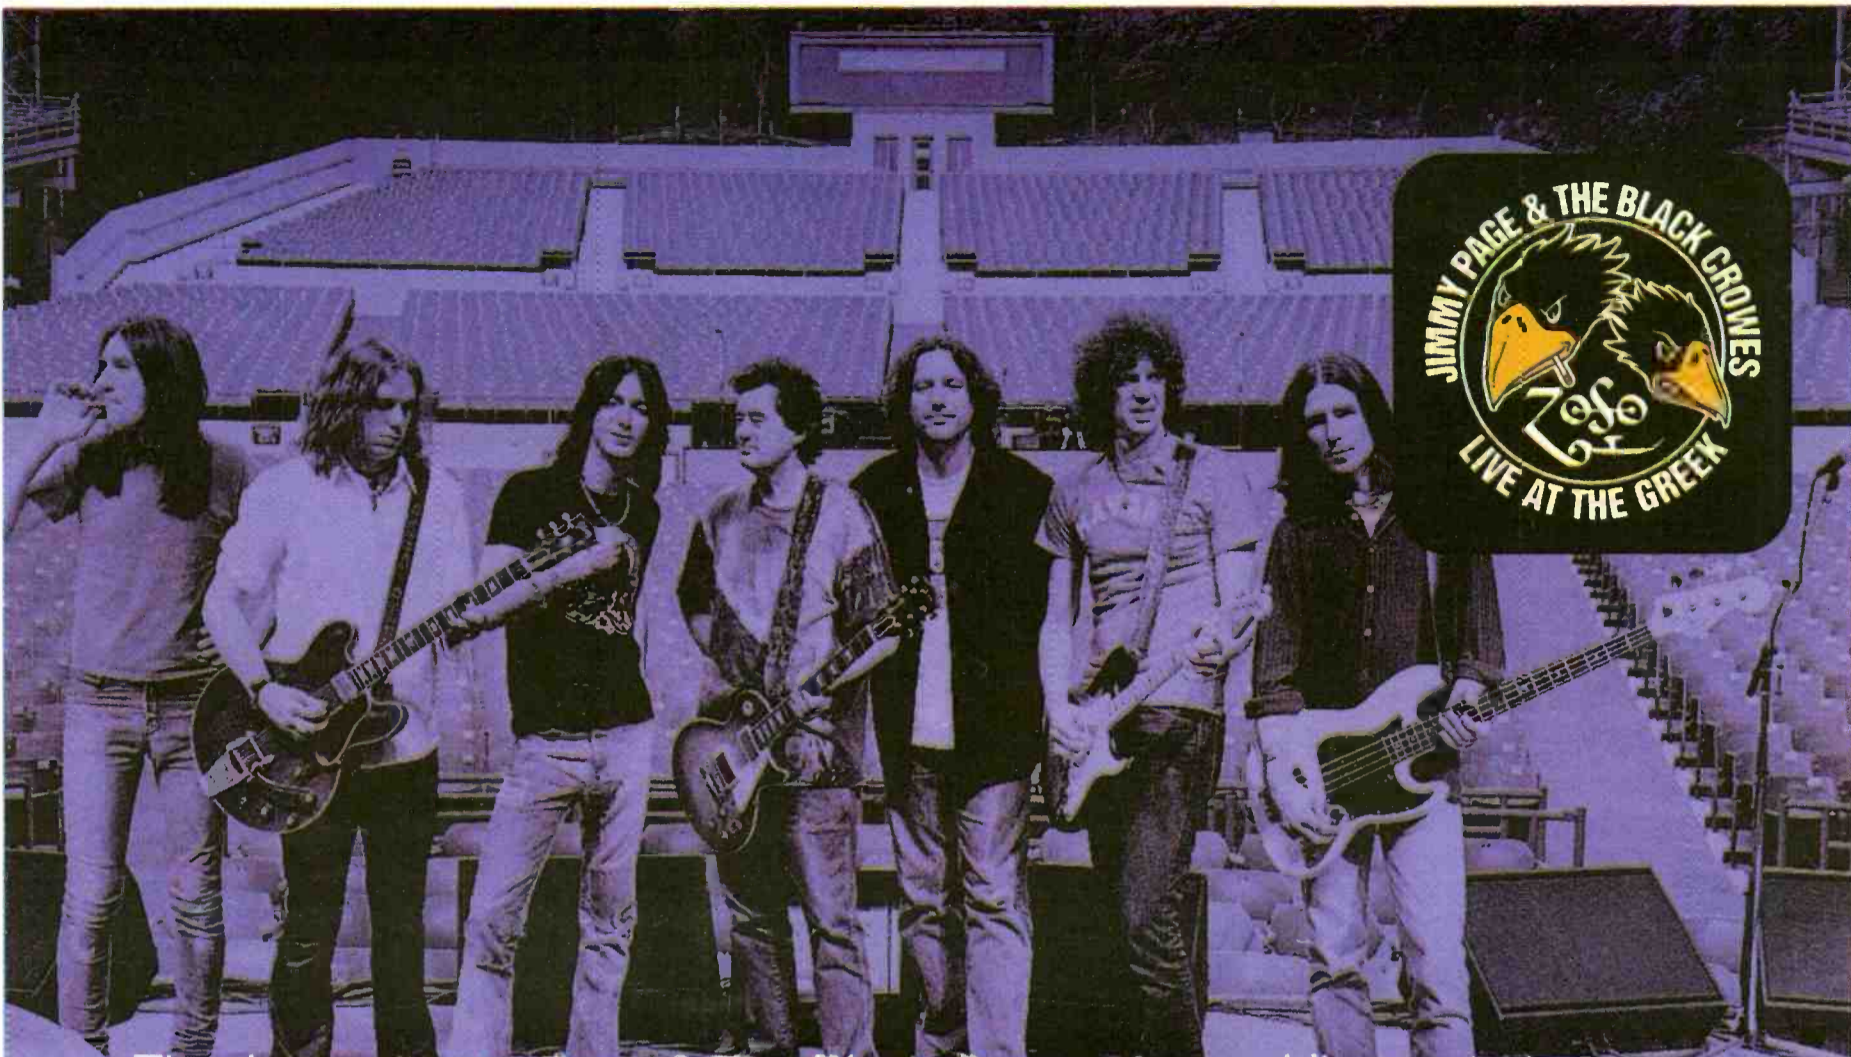

The winners of the inaugural Radio Creative Awards were announced on March 30 before 500-plus members of the Portland advertising community at the annual "Radio Day" luncheon. The event is sponsored by the Portland Area Radio Council and the Portland Advertising Federations.

PARC developed the Radio Creative Awards to recognize the exceptional radio creative that is often overlooked by traditional advertising competitions. The contest features four categories: Humor, Music-Sound Design, Station-Produced and a "What The Heck, We Just Like It Category." One winner from each category was selected and awarded a $1,000 cash prize. From among 18 entries in the Station-Produced category, Creative Services Director John Hugill of Entercom's KKSJ-AM was awarded top honors for "971 Area Code," a catchy spot reminding listeners about a new area code.

R&R GM spotlight

Lee Davis
VP/GM WFAN-AM (Infinity Broadcasting)

■ Honoring the country's exceptional GMs

For the debut of the GM Spotlight, R&R has chosen Lee Davis of WFAN-AM/New York as our first distinguished honoree. In 1999 WFAN was the highest-billing radio station in the country with an astonishing $60.8 million in revenue. Congratulations!

I decided to enter the world of broadcasting because:

"I liked music but couldn't — and still can't — sing or play an instrument. So I figured working in radio would get me involved in the business."

First job in broadcasting:

"Interning for Imus and the Imus in the Morning show at WNBC."

Career highlights:

"Getting my first sales job at WNBC, my first order, being named Sales Manager at WFAN and, of course, being named GM at WFAN."

The most challenging aspect of being a GM:

"Staying out of the occasional battles between programming and sales and letting them try to work things out, which they usually do. When I have to get involved and make a decision, there's always one side that's unhappy. But fortunately, they usually work things out in the way that's best for the station.

"I liked music but couldn't — and still can't — sing or play an instrument."

My most unforgettable moment at a radio station:

"The day I was given the GM job at WFAN."

I'm most proud of:

"The $25 million WFAN has raised in its 11 radiothons since 1990. All of the money has gone to the C.J. Foundation for SIDS, the Tomorrow's Children Fund and the Imus Ranch. That's right — $25 million!"

The best words of advice I've ever received were:

"On his last day at WFAN before becoming CEO of Westwood One, Joel Hollander told me to be sure as GM to sign every order — not to second-guess the Sales Manager, but as a way to always keep my finger on the pulse of the station's business. When I was the Sales Manager for Joel, it made me crazy when he did that, but now I understand why he did it."

You'd be surprised to know that:

"There was a Boy Lee before Boy Gary on The Howard Stern Show at WNBC, and that was me."

Nominate your favorite GM via e-mail to pambaker@rronline.com.

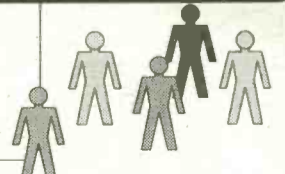

"We've established an E-Mail army- We plan to do stealth contesting and newsletters from the jocks."

SMALL WINEMAKER, BIG PROFITS

By Dick Kazan

Today I'll tell you about a successful little winery, Palos Verdes Estates, CA-based Castle Rock. Why is this company relevant to you? Because of how efficiently it is operated and its ability to land large accounts. The company employs only President Greg Popovich, his wife, his mother, an assistant and winemaker August Briggs, yet last year it had $1.5 million in sales, and it projects $3 million this year. Your company is under enormous pressure to increase its profitability, so creatively cutting expenses directly affects your bottom line, as do the sales you close.

THE ROAD TO SUCCESS

Greg says, "Many people start wineries out of ego more than good business sense, because they think of it as an art form or a glamorous lifestyle rather than a very competitive business. You're competing against a thousand other California wineries as well as wineries from other states and imports. My business is pretty simple in that I strive to keep my overhead as low as possible. I lease space at a winery in Napa Valley, outsource most of my administrative work, such as accounting, and pay my winemaker on a per-case basis."

Greg's key accounts include such upscale restaurants as Spago and such grocers as Trader Joe's, under the Hidden Valley label, and Safeway Stores in Northern California, under the Castle Rock brand. How did he land such major accounts? "Persistence," Greg responds. "With Trader Joe's, it took me five years of monthly meetings and over 300 different wine samples. After being rejected for five years, a new buyer, whom we had dealt with in the past, became head of the wine division, and he was confident that August and I could meet their standards. The lesson I learned is that you have to take rejection gracefully and keep chipping away."

"At the same time we landed Trader Joe's, we landed the Safeway Store chain in Northern California, which has over 360 stores. I'd called on Safeway several times in the last five years without success. Then I hired a broker who had a close relationship with them, and she convinced them to do business with us. In this case, the lesson was to have enough confidence in others to delegate responsibility."

What other advice does Popovich offer? "Persistence, focus and having confidence in yourself and your product are essential. In addition, it's important sometimes to sit still. When living out of a suitcase, I don't manage the company effectively. So I've learned to utilize phones, fax and e-mail to accomplish many things I used to do on the road. Ask yourself, 'For what I spent on travel last year, did my company reap the proportional benefit, or could I have invested my time and money more wisely?'"

He adds, "You work extraordinarily long hours, so if you want to be successful, you must love what you do. You also need balance in your life. I find it important to spend time with my family and friends, maintain my exercise regimen and read to relax. Don't let your health or your personal life suffer."

"Finally, there's a lesson my father taught me: If you do the right thing by others and you're honest, you may not see immediate benefit, but in the long run you'll become successful in all aspects of your life."

Dick Kazan is a successful entrepreneur who founded one of the largest computer leasing corporations in the United States. He created and hosts The Road to Success, the first radio talk show to offer on-air business consulting to business owners and employees. McKay Made PD At WFSJ/Jacksonville WKCI/New Haven, CT APD/MD Brent McKay has been named PD for Clear Channel's co-owned CHR/Pop WFSJ/Jacksonville. McKay's last day at WKCI is set for April 25, and he will join WFSJ the first week of May.

"You couldn't ask for a better opportunity with a better company," McKay told R&R. "This is a start-up with no negative baggage, so there is just upside for the station. Clear Channel is providing all of the necessary resources, including the depth of talent in this company, to make this a great CHR radio station, and that's exactly what we intend to do."

During his radio career, McKay has been an AE, Asst. PD, MD, nighttimer, middayer, afternoon driver and Production Director during stints at WILI-FM/Willimantic, CT and WQGN/New London, CT.

TVT Promo Ups Jay, Perrone & Feldman

TVT Records has promoted Directors/National Radio Promotion Gary Jay and John Perrone to Sr. Directors/National Alternative & Adult Alternative Promotion, and Director/College Radio Promotion Anya Feldman to Director/Rock Promotion. All three are based in New York.

"The promotions of Gary, John and Anya convey our appreciation of their commitment to the artists and the formats they are responsible for," TVT Sr. VP/Promotion Marc Benesch said. "It is these types of individuals and their passion for music that allow us to have the utmost confidence in breaking and developing our upcoming priority projects, including new records from Render, Ignite and Magnified."

Jay began his career at AIM Marketing and has been with TVT since 1995. Perrone joined TVT in 1994 and previously worked in promotion at Caroline Records and Chameleon Records. Feldman began her career at AIM, where she was Director/Loud Rock Promotions, then joined TVT in 1996.

part of R&R each week."

Baker said, "I've always felt that R&R has beneficial information for every person at a radio station... it's not just for GMs, PDs and MDs! My goal is to make the MMS section a compelling and valuable tool for everyone, including the sales and marketing departments. And after they've read that section, they can learn more about their station by reading the format columns.

"In this week's R&R we'll be debuting the "GM Spotlight" and "Sales Tip of the Week." I encourage your participation in these weekly features. In the coming weeks we'll be introducing "R&R Workshops," comprehensive "how-to" guides on a variety of subjects, plus "Hit or Miss," an interactive feature inviting our readers to share their opinions on billboard campaigns, TV spots, direct mail campaigns and promotional items."

Baker can be reached at (310) 788-1654 or at pambaker@rronline.com.

EXECUTIVE ACTION

Gomez Goes One-On-One As VP/Marketing

One-On-One Sports has tapped Alex Gomez as VP/Marketing. He joins the company from Foot Locker Worldwide, where he served as Director/Promotions.

"Alex is an outstanding addition to our company and will play an important role in executing revenue-generating promotions and developing critical strategic alliances," President/CEO Chris Brennan commented. "We're excited to have Alex on our team."

Gomez's other experience includes positions as Manager/National Promotions for Fox Sports and Marketing Manager for CBS/Fox Video.

Stern Named PD At WORD/Greenville, SC

WORD-AM/Greenville-Spartanburg has appointed Phil Stern PD. Stern replaces John Boone, who exited the Entercom News/Talk station to pursue other opportunities. In addition to his programming chores, Stern is hosting a daily show in the 5-8pm time slot formerly occupied by Ralph Bristol, who also recently exited the station.

"Phil is not a run-of-the-mill host," said WORD OM Jim Kirkland, to whom Stern reports. "He has the gift of being able to cut straight to the bone of an issue, especially local matters. He's fearless when it comes to rattling cages and demanding that views and opinions be backed up by those who hold them."

Stern was most recently PD and afternoon host at WIBX-AM/Utica, NY. He has also programmed and hosted shows at WRKL-AM/Spring Valley, NY (suburban N.Y.C.) and WQBK-AM/Albany.

Clutter

In terms of formats, Alternative saw a 13% climb in clutter, which Pahutski attributes to the possibility that "the format's target demographic is highly coveted by dot-com advertisers, who continue to pump new money into advertising." On the other hand, advertising on Classical stations decreased 6%.

According to DDB Worldwide's Media Unit President Page Thompson, "Music stations typically average around 12 minutes of commercial time an hour. News and Talk stations often have as much as 22 minutes of advertising an hour, especially during peak driving times in the morning and evening." RAB President/CEO Gary Fries could not be reached for comment, but Pahutski sees advertising clutter as a serious issue that needs to be handled. "Commercial clutter on radio is an issue that does not appear to be going away," she said. "It is something we as media planners and buyers are very concerned about and would like to see addressed by the radio industry."

Saga CEO Made More Than $1 Million In 1999

Saga Communications CEO Edward Christian had a 1999 base salary of $371,332 and received a bonus of $681,502, according to the company's annual report. His 1999 base salary increased only 3% from the prior year. Additionally, Christian cashed in stock options worth nearly $740,000 in 1999.

Talk America Rolls The Dice On Vegas

Talk America is moving from Canton, MA to Las Vegas in an effort to increase its exposure to top entertainers, the company announced this week. The national talk radio network will have offices just off the famous Las Vegas Strip. The company also said that it planned to purchase radio stations in the top 25 markets and was raising cash to fund those transactions. The stations would carry Talk America programming.

Infinity, Westwood Get Stake In StarGuide

Infinity Broadcasting and Westwood One are both getting equity positions in StarGuide Digital Networks, a maker of satellite and Internet delivery systems for radio content. The deal calls for StarGuide, which already has a 50% stake in Musicam Express, to acquire the remaining 50% from Infinity and Westwood in return for the equity position in StarGuide. Musicam also provides radio supply services. StarGuide is headed by former AMFM executive Scott Ginsburg.

Zinescene

Smells Like 'Rotten' Spirit

Johnny Rotten talks about his mission in Time and the new movie The Filth and the Fury, which tells the real story of the Sex Pistols. Snarls Rotten, "A false premise is a road to ruin. My mission is to correct people when they perceive things wrongly." As for U2's Bono reworking "Anarchy in the U.K." for the soundtrack, Rotten says, "It's horrible." Other targets for Mr. Rotten: Howard Stern ("He's the one joke that's already tired."), Courtney Love ("Courtney loves Kurt's money") and the Rock and Roll Hall of Fame ("I don't need accolades from boring old farts").

The 'zine also touts as "Feud of the Week" the saga of the upcoming Supremes tour. Apparently, Diana Ross won't be supreming with her two original backup singers. Talks with Mary Wilson fell through after she found out Ross would make $15 million from the tour while Wilson was offered only $3 million. Sniffs Ms. Wilson, "I've put too much into this to be treated like some sort of employee of Diana's."

The Globe says that people in Nashville are furious with Faith Hill, whom they feel has gone Hollywood, especially since her appearance on the Oscars. Says an insider, "Many people around here are just sick of her new attitude, which they sum up as being 'Nashville sucks, and Hollywood means big bucks.'" Says another source, "Faith is this little girl from Mississippi who owes her fame and fortune to country music. Now she's betraying her country roots after a phony Hollywood image."

A Cry For Help?

Friends fear Garth Brooks is headed for a breakdown, according to the Star. "Garth isn't the same man," says a close friend of the singer. "He's scattered in a million different directions and seems truly unhappy." Laments another close friend, "Garth has started to remind me of Michael Jackson. For all his success, he can't buy serenity and peace of mind."

Speaking of falling apart, Slipknot, the nine-piece band of newcomers from Iowa, talk about their philosophy in Spin. Their onstage antics have included smashing a goat heart, vomiting and percussionist Shawn Crahan showering blood from his partially severed finger over the masses. Crahan expresses disgust at Korn member and fellow drummer David Silveria, who posed for a Calvin Klein ad. "I hope I get out of the business before that ever happens to me." Says vocalist Corey Taylor, "The only thing we've ever wanted to do is to make the most ruling music. And to kill everybody."

PANTY WHINE! — "When I'm singing a ballad and underwear lands on my head, I hate that. It really kills the mood" — Tom Jones keeps it brief (US Weekly).

Quality Control

"I got, like, seven scripts on my desk right now. Will [Smith] told me to pick and choose my roles. He said, 'You're the hot boy right now, everybody gonna want you in their movie. You can pop up in Whose Booty's Bigger? Or you can wait and set a precedent [for quality]" — Sisqo, who rose to fame with "Thong Song," shares his quest for dignity (Entertainment Weekly).

"I didn't smoke the stuff back then. It was a sin to touch it; it wasn't cool at all. So I used to test it on this guy David" — Kid Rock shares his secret for selling only the finest crack (FHM).

Beauty Knows No Pain!

The Globe says that pop diva Mariah Carey may have been felled by food poisoning recently, but before she was "rushed" to Massachusetts General Hospital, she made time to have a manicure and pedicure at her hotel.

Get A Job!

"There are some people out here, though, that got their full health, able to get a job, who would rather beg a nigger. Grown motherfuckers should not have to ask me for nothin'. Get yours like I got mine. That's what my daddy taught me" — Juvenile discusses the merits of responsibility (Vibe).

Straight Talk

"I hope all her kids turn out gay" — Elton John shares his hopes for Dr. Laura Schlessinger (US Weekly).

Peers Offer R-E-S-P-E-C-T

Recognition is a good thing, especially when it comes from your peers. And while winning an award may be more gratifying, there is some truth in the old saying "It's an honor to be nominated." Especially when you find yourself in some rather esteemed company.

And "esteemed company" is an understatement when you look at the list of Oldies and Classic Rock nominees for R&R's third annual Industry Achievement Awards. It includes some of the very best stations, programmers and personalities the formats have to offer, all selected by R&R readers.

You're encouraged to take an active role in determining the winners by completing the official ballot that eligible voters will receive with this issue of R&R. The winners will be announced at R&R Convention 2000, set for June 14-17 at the Century Plaza Hotel in Los Angeles.

What Are We Going To Do Tomorrow Morning?

WGN/Chicago regroups following the tragic death of Bob Collins

Change in our industry is something we've all learned to accept as inevitable. In fact, learning to better manage change is a favorite topic of discussion at conventions and seminars these days. But sometimes change comes without warning, and no amount of planning can lessen its impact.

Perhaps no station in America is more painfully aware of that than WGN/Chicago. On a seemingly ordinary afternoon in February the station's staff was suddenly confronted with the reality that legendary morning host and mainstay of the WGN family Bob Collins had been killed in a midair collision over a Chicago suburb. There was no warning, no time to make plans and virtually no time even to mourn their loss as the station was suddenly thrust into the media frenzy surrounding the breaking news story.

While everyone at WGN was undoubtedly touched in some personal way by Collins' death, the task of answering the question, "What are we going to do tomorrow morning?" fell to VP/GM Steve Carver, OM/PD Mary June Rose and veteran WGN afternoon personality Spike O'Dell. This week all three share with us their recollections of that sad day. They discuss how the station and staff dealt with a situation for which there was no way to plan ahead and look toward the future of the heritage News/Talk station.

Losing A Legend

As R&R reported following his death (2/11), Collins began his radio career in Lakeland, FL at the tender age of 13 and went on to host his own program just a year later. Prior to joining WGN in 1974, Collins had worked in Milwaukee as Robert L. Collins, where he was PD and afternoon drive host at Top 40 WRIT. His radio career also carried him to jobs in San Diego, Tampa and Los Angeles.

But it will certainly be his 25 years at WGN for which Collins will be remembered most, first as the station's afternoon drive personality, and since 1986 as morning host for Tribune's flagship station. During those 2 1/2 decades he became much more than just a popular Chicago radio host — Collins was a bona fide Windy City celebrity.

Collins had recently signed a new deal that would have kept him in mornings at WGN through at least 2004. He reigned as the undisputed king of Chicago radio, and by all accounts was universally loved and respected by his friends and peers. On the day of the accident Rose told R&R, "When I came to WGN, I knew there was a reason I was supposed to be here, and that reason was, I was supposed to know Bob Collins. To describe his loss as huge just isn't big enough."

After hearing of Collins' death, crosstown WLS talk host Jay Marvin told his listeners, "If you want to talk about radio in this city, you can't

"Listeners certainly wanted to hear about Bob and talk about him, but we still had to be there for all those things that they have come to depend on us to bring them every day. We still had to conduct the business of our radio station."

leave Bob Collins out in any way, shape or form. We'll miss him, and there will be a gigantic absence on the radio landscape." And on the day after the crash no less than venerable ABC News commentator Paul Harvey told his millions of listeners in his eulogy for Collins, "Somebody will take his job, but no one will take his place."

An Eerie Feeling

The fact is, someone did have to move into Collins' chair less than 18 hours after that fatal crash. The guy who got the nod was veteran afternoon host Spike O'Dell. He was on the air on that now infamous afternoon when WGN's regularly scheduled 3:30pm newscast reported the midair collision of two small planes over suburban Chicago. And though no one had any idea at the time that one of the victims was Collins, O'Dell says he had an eerie feeling as he listened to the station's newscaster report the early details of the crash.

"All of us knew how much Bob loved to fly, and I thought to myself, 'Boy, that's where Bob flies out of all the time,'" he recalls. "I asked my producer to try to call him on his cell phone, because Bob was one of those radio guys who, if he was anywhere close to where a story was going on, would call in to give us a play-by-play of what was happening. This was a big breaking story, so I knew he'd call us back with the details."

The tragic reality was that Collins would not be calling back. "When we didn't hear from him right away, in the back of my mind I was saying, 'Dear God, don't let one of those planes be Bob's,'" says O'Dell. "But at just a few minutes before 4:00 a guy who was working through the FAA, I think, called us and unofficially identified the tail number on one of the aircraft involved as being registered to Bob. Up to that point this was just another news story that we had to report, but when that call came in, our worst fears were confirmed."

Facing The Facts

O'Dell recalls that the staff learned that the chances were good that Collins had perished more than an hour before it was officially confirmed. "For that hour and a half or so on the air, I just kept repeating the details we had to that point over and over and explaining why we were so interested in the story," he says. "And all the while I'm saying to myself, 'Doggone it, Bob, pick up the phone and call me and make this thing go away!'"

But at 6:35pm people throughout Chicagoland received the confirmation they didn't want to hear as Coroner Barbara Richardson made the rumors official. "Barbara and Bob were good friends," says O'Dell. "As she confirmed that she had identified Bob, she broke down on the air and just could not get through it. That's when all of us lost it too. I had to take a long break, because I just couldn't say anything."

Rose and Carver both recall the chilling reality that in the midst of the sorrow that affected every single individual in the station, there was no time to stop and mourn right then. There were decisions that had to be made whether anyone wanted to face them or not.

"When we first began to realize that it was likely that Bob was in one of those planes, Mary June and I began to discuss what we would do, both the next morning and beyond," says Carver. "And the answer to both of those questions was Spike O'Dell. He offered a sense of continuity and familiarity for the audience, and it just seemed like the natural move."

Rose calls the decision an easy choice in a difficult situation. "Spike is a known entity, he was hands-down the listeners' choice, and he could handle this situation better than anyone else I know. Doing mornings is a big change for Spike, but there's no question he can do it."

O'Dell himself remembers taking an elevator ride with Carver up to WGN Television, where the talk host was slated for an interview. "As the doors shut," says O'Dell, "Steve said to me, 'Spike, I've got to go with Mary June on this one. You're the guy we have to have in there tomorrow morning.' I didn't feel scared or get any sort of adrenaline rush from what he was saying. It registered as just one more thing we had to do as a result of all this. Just like when we confirmed that Bob had been killed, I really didn't want to open the mike and go on the air, but it was one of those things that you know you just have to do. There's nothing that can ever prepare you for that."

Media Covering Media

Few stations ever get the tables turned on them and find the media spotlight shining their way, but that's just what happened to WGN. With its news heritage, the station is no stranger to covering a breaking story, but what's it like when your station becomes the story? "Covering events, including sometimes tragic events, is something we do every day," says O'Dell. "But it's sure different when it's a member of your own family."

"I kept thinking that I had to stay calm and professional because, after all, this was a news story that we had to report. And while we were all hurting, we had to remember that there were other people and other families who were involved in the accident and who lost people too. But I just kept thinking, 'This can't be

"The people who have moved into new shows are all talents we respect and believe in and who have all earned the right to be there."

Mary June Rose

"When we didn't hear from him right away, in the back of my mind I was saying, 'Dear God, don't let one of those planes be Bob's.'" happening. We're talking about the franchise player here — the Big Kahuna — big, old, lovable Uncle Bobby."

Spike O'Dell

Carver concurs, saying that covering the event put a lot of strain on everyone at the station. "TV reporters were everywhere," he says. "They wanted to film us on the air, get reactions from us and get updates as information unfolded. And remember, through it all we also had to keep the radio station on the air and moving forward. Although we knew the subject better than anyone else, it was really hard for our people. This was one of our family members — our friend — that we were talking about."

Rose says that while being on the receiving end of all that attention was tough at times, there were no real conflicts with other media. "Since we do this for a living, we're more understanding of those people standing there holding up cameras and showing microphones in your face," she says. "On the one hand, our experience helped us understand that they were just there doing their jobs, but on the other hand, that same experience also helped us to have no problem saying no to them without any guilt."

Starting Over

When asked if he had any advice for other stations that might find themselves the subject of a breaking news event, Carver suggests that getting back to business is paramount. "You really need to get back to business as usual as quickly and as best as you can," he says. "You can't let people sense that the crisis is managing you. I think we were able to do that pretty well, primarily because of the people who work at this radio station."

"Even that first morning, when Spike went on in Bob's place after the accident, we all met before he went on the air to discuss how we were going to handle all the elements of the morning show that still needed to be there — things like traffic, weather and the other news of the day. Listeners certainly wanted to hear about Bob and talk about him, but we still had to be there for all those things that they have come to depend on us to bring them every day. We still had to conduct the business of our radio station."

Rose praised WGN's staff for their ability to cope with a situation that was almost impossible for any of them to comprehend at the time. "When something like this happens, it's the quality of your people that really shines through," she says. "While others from the outside kept telling us they couldn't believe how well everyone at the station was handling the situation, I wasn't at all surprised by the performance of the staff. It is not a cliché to say that this really is a family here. So many of the people who work here have been together for many years, and we all just pulled together."

Looking To The Future

Discussing the changes that were unexpectedly imposed on the station, Rose expresses confidence in WGN's revised lineup. "With stations like WGN, change does not come easily and cannot come quickly," she says. "We knew our audience would forgive us for this one — we didn't have a choice — but we needed to remain familiar to them through those changes. The people who have moved into new shows are all talents we respect and believe in and who have all earned the right to be there."

Asked what it's like to be named the official successor to a show that has had only three hosts — Wally Phillips, Collins and himself — in the past quarter century, O'Dell seems fairly philosophical about inheriting the mantle of mornings at WGN. "For the past 13 years the morning audience has gotten to know me a little from when I filled in for Bob whenever he was on vacation," he says. "So I'm not an unknown commodity to morning listeners."

"They've all been just great so far, and I think they'll cut me a little slack in the beginning. But in the end I have to do what they've come to expect from mornings at WGN, and that is to be all over whatever this city is talking about at the water cooler that day. I have to do it not only well, but consistently well."

Although he speaks with confidence about his own future, O'Dell still talks of his predecessor with obvious admiration. "Now that I've had the opportunity to do the show on my own for several weeks, what strikes me most is that I cannot get over how well Bob did what he did while making it all sound so easy," he says. "I'm managing to get through it every morning and making sure it all gets done, but I cannot yet do it with the ease with which Bob handled it."

"I don't think a lot of people realize just how much of a magician he was in that studio. Every day I get off the air and say, 'Bobby, how did you do all this so well for so long?' But I'm up to the challenge, and while I would have preferred to move into this position under different circumstances, I know that Bob would be the first one to tell me to just get on in there and do it!"

Street Talk

Steve Dahl To Leave 'CKG/Chicago?

WCKG/Chicago listeners expecting to hear Steve Dahl broadcasting live from the NAB in Las Vegas last week unexpectedly heard "best-of" material for the show's first hour. Dahl then returned to the airwaves to explain what had happened: He'd been pulled from the air and reprimanded by the Infinity Talker's management for failing to run his full commercial load on time. Although 'CKG execs refused to respond to a report in the Chicago Sun-Times about the episode, the newspaper reported that Dahl's attitude — coupled with computer glitches — cost the station a good amount of revenue.

On Monday (4/17) Dahl struck back by posting a message on his website saying that he had been suspended for a week without pay for his conduct. The suspension was the result of another on-air incident that happened two weeks ago, in which Dahl discussed on the air a lawsuit concerning two former 'CKG employees. Dahl's response to the suspension: "That's a breach of my contract with WCKG, and I quit!" Dahl's site further states that 'CKG management had changed the lock to his office door and adds, "It was time for my boot heels to be wanderin'." When contacted by ST, WCKG PD Gehrig Peterson would only confirm that Dahl was off this week.

It's also been an interesting week for WABC/New York: Rumors were buzzing that The Rocky Allen Show, featuring Allen and co-host Blaine Ensley, would soon be replaced by nighttimers Curtis & Koby. Allen took to the airwaves the morning of April 10 to let his listeners know that he wasn't the last to know. He then thanked his listeners for supporting him and apologized for the show's change in direction, which was made in an attempt to increase its appeal among older, conservative listeners. The fate of Allen and Ensley is still unknown, and WABC PD Phil Boyce would not comment on the matter.

Meanwhile, stock analyst Adriane Berg — host of WABC's Money Talk — has become embroiled in an SEC investigation of Long Island-based New Age Financial Services. The SEC claims that New Age concocted a scam in which the dividends being paid to unwitting investors didn't actually come from investments, but from incoming funds being invested by others. Berg heavily promoted the company on her radio show and at seminars.

The rumor tornado also spun through Southern California, winding its way through KABC/Los Angeles. Several unnamed tipsters had station OM/PD Drew Hayes exiting the Talk station. Some even expected him to have exited by last Friday. But as KABC GM Bill Sommers told ST, "He's not being terminated, but as any programmer understands when the ratings are down, he is being scrutinized." As of press time Hayes was still on the payroll.

And while we're on the subject of ABC Talk stations, the entire R&R staff offers our prayers and wishes for a speedy recovery to Jane Luckoff, wife of KGO & KSFO/San Francisco President/GM Mickey Luckoff, who suffered a severe head injury after being struck by a bicyclist in downtown San Francisco (4/13). At press time Mrs. Luckoff was in critical but stable condition.

Pregnant Men No-No For KSJO!

KSJO/San Francisco thought an innovative billboard campaign featuring the heads of morning men Lamont & Tonelli on the bodies of pregnant women would be an interesting way to promote the show's slogan, "Morning Sickness." However, neighborhood activists along Interstate 880 in Oakland took offense to the ads and began a petition drive to have the billboards removed. To prevent any problems, KSJO GM Jim Richards agreed to remove the billboards from that area. But that hasn't stopped KSJO from bringing back its "Miss Morning Sickness" Pregnant Bikini Contest. Those at least seven months

quest for matrimonial bliss has led him to make yet another long-term commitment, but this time it's to three partners: KGB/San Diego's morning team of Dave, Shelly and Chainsaw. Rockwell was thrilled following the "nuptials" featured in a current spot for the Classic Rocker and readily admitted, "I just love them all so much, and I have for a long time. I'm just thrilled they feel the same way about me."

MP3.com has purchased a majority stake in its joint-venture partner, Cox Interactive Media's MP3Radio.com. MP3.com will move MP3Radio.com's operations from Atlanta to San Diego, where the former is based. Cox Radio will maintain its 28 MP3Radio.com affiliate sites. MP3Radio.com President/COO Gregg Lindahl is expected to remain with Cox in Atlanta in an as-yet-announced position. However, Stacy Cantrell and Kip Taylor are among those who have been "downsized" as a result of the sale.

ST congratulates Atlantic Records Executive VP Andrea Ganis, Sr. VP Danny Buch and the entire Atlantic promo staff for having the Most Added this week at CHR/Pop, Alternative, Hot AC, Rock and Adult Alternative with matchbox twenty's latest single, "Bent." The final tally is 328 adds overall!

The Radio Hall of Fame has announced its 2000 nominees. Up for "Network or Syndicated/Active" are Dick Bartley, Bob Kingsley, Howard Stern and R&R's own Walt "Baby" Love. Nominated in the "Network or Syndicated/Pioneer" category are veteran actor Mason Adams, The Lone Ranger announcer Fred Foy, late KSL/Salt Lake City talk host Herb Jepko and late actor Elliott Lewis.

Congratulations to Interep Chairman Ralph Guild and his wife, Calla, who recently celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary!

Best wishes also go out to veteran DC sports talk host Ken Beatrice, who is retiring after 34 years in radio. His final show for WTEM-AM was set for yesterday evening.

Records

- Is the long-expected restructuring at Mammoth Records in the works? And what does that mean for one Hollywood A&R exec?
- Those rumbles about The Beastie Boys' record imprint, Grand Royal Records, and DEN Entertainment principals Gary Gersh and John Silva keep getting louder. While DEN won't be buying Grand Royal, expect some kind of alliance to be announced within a few weeks.
- Wind-up Entertainment ups Southwest regional Alan Galbraith to National Director/Promo, Rock Formats and names Finley Slocum to fill Galbraith's old post.
- Nick Bedding is officially in the Mouse house as Sr. Director/Adult Formats at Hollywood Records, reuniting with Capitol colleague and Hollywood Sr. VP/Promo Justin Fontaine.
- RykoPalm taps former Virgin college promo exec Dan Connolly as Director/National Radio Promo and Amit Kumar as Promo Coordinator.

R&R Industry Achievement Award Record Industry Nominees

Congratulations to this year's nominees for the R&R Industry Achievement Awards for record labels and promotion executives. Final ballots will be mailed to eligible voters this week, and winners will be announced at R&R Convention 2000, to be held June 14-17 at the Century Plaza Hotel in Los Angeles.

Four labels (Universal, Squint, TVT and V2) and four local promo vets receiving first-time nominations are on this year's list of finalists, along with a couple of return winners. There's also a new category: This year R&R has changed "Independent Promotion Executive of the Year" to "Independent Promotion Firm of the Year" to recognize the contributions of all of a firm's executives and employees.

CHR/Pop Shakin' To Groove Armada's 'I See You Baby'

There's no doubt Jive Records understands the importance and impact of having a big first week at radio with a new pop single. Just look at the consecutive records it set at CHR/Pop with 'N Sync's "Bye Bye Bye" and, last week, with Britney Spears' "Oops! ... I Did It Again."

The surging pop powerhouse has, however, taken a much slower and more methodical approach in trying to break British pop electronica act Groove Armada, whose Electro/Jive U.S. debut, "I See You Baby," bowed at CHR/Pop at the end of March. Stations supporting the single include WQEN/Birmingham; KZQZ/San Francisco; KFMS/Las Vegas; KUMX/New Orleans; WKFS/Cincinnati; WKSL/Memphis; WFHN/New Bedford, MA; WABB/Mobile; WSNX/Grand Rapids; KHTT/Tulsa; WHYI/Miami; WFLZ/Tampa; and KIIS/Los Angeles. The track has also received support at Alternative from such stations as WLIR/Nassau-Suffolk, WFNX/Boston and KMBY/Monterey.

Groove Armada

Groove Armada is made up of London DJs Tom Findlay and Andy Cato, who whip up a funky and soulful blend of Europop electronica and dance that's increasingly being embraced by mainstream U.S. consumers of pop and alternative alike. But it's the alternative audience that's a top priority for Jive as it tries to expand its roster beyond mainstream pop.

Comments Jive Sr. VP/Promotion Joe Riccitelli, "Groove Armada is part of the Jive-Electro launch, but just as importantly, they're part of our efforts to diversify the company and break into other genres."

Jive began setting up Groove Armada and "I See You Baby" early in the fourth quarter of 1999 by servicing 12-inch discs to select noncommercial stations and Alternative specialty shows. That resulted in a smattering of Alternative airplay and the beginning of a breakout market in Los Angeles, where noncommercial KCRW jumped all over the track and Alternative KROQ gave it some early spins.

While Jive was trying to grow the song's base at Alternative, a number of key CHR/Pop programmers began gravitating toward the single, which forced Jive to accelerate its plans to cross the song over. Riccitelli remembers, "Setupwise, we were in a great position at Alternative. But, for whatever reason, things didn't take off, even though we were getting great press and word-of-mouth."

"At the same time we had major interest from WHTZ/New York, KHKS/Dallas and a few other stations. We've always viewed this as a multiformat record. We know we have to continue growing our base at Alternative, but once we knew we had something going at Pop, we decided to really begin pursuing the record."

Not surprisingly, Jive didn't set a hard-and-fast add date at CHR. Riccitelli continues, "That's what you do with a Britney Spears or 'N Sync record. With Groove Armada, it's a very fluid situation where we grow and nurture airplay each week."

Jive also plans to continue working Alternative. In fact, it recently hired former A&M and Jerry Brenner Promotion vet Lorraine Caruso as Sr. Director/Rock Promotion to bolster its efforts with Groove Armada and future projects.

On the marketing side, Jive has also been straddling the Pop and Alternative fences. Helping matters has been exposure for "I See You Baby" in a national TV ad campaign, its inclusion on a few soundtracks and its use on the Academy Awards broadcast.

Sr. VP/Marketing Randy Miller comments, "From the beginning we've targeted the electronica and dance clubs in major markets. Our street teams have been all over the place for months, giving away samplers, and we've worked with various night-clubs. But we've also worked to broaden our mainstream profile with retailers. So in a market like Los Angeles, where we've received multiformat airplay, we've bought local ads on MTV."

Jive is also busy setting up plans for the group's Toyota-sponsored tour of major cities and key airplay markets in June. Miller continues, "It's a pretty unique tour, in which Toyota's also working with local arts schools in each market. It will also allow us to continue our two-pronged approach of targeting mainstream and alternative markets."

Groove Armada's debut full-length album, Vertigo, was released in late February and has scanned around 30,000 copies, according to Jive. The label also says it's scanning about 3,000-4,000 copies weekly, and two weeks ago Vertigo was among the top 100-selling albums in Los Angeles.

Ready For Takeoff

Fans of mellower alterna-pop should get hold of Star Ghost Dog's latest album, The Great Indoors, on Catapult Records. The disc from the Boston-based quartet contains the track "Knock Down," which has been receiving airplay at hometown Alternative WFNX. In the seven-day period ending April 15, WFNX spun the track seven times, with three of those during middays and one during PM drive. Contact Catapult's Adam Lewis at (617) 451-0444, ext. 232, or Creamer Management's Michael Creamer at (617) 783-6308.

Metallica Sues Napster; Dre Next?

Song-sharing software maker Napster's legal woes escalated last week when it was sued on April 13 in U.S. District Court in Los Angeles for copyright infringement. The suit was filed by Metallica, their music publishing company, Creeping Death Music, and E/M Ventures, the band's partnership with Elektra Entertainment Group.

Metallica

Now comes word that rapper Dr. Dre has given the company until April 22 to remove his music from its file servers and directories, or he will also sue. Metallica were the first recording act to sue Napster.

The two moves follow the RIAA's litigation with Napster. A court date between the RIAA and Napster, which had been slated for April 10, has yet to be rescheduled. Meanwhile, Metallica's $10 million lawsuit against Napster charges the software company with alleged copyright infringement and violations of the Racketeering Influenced & Corrupt Organizations Act and says that Napster has been illegally distributing MP3 songs without compensating the band. The suit also names three universities — the University of Southern California, Indiana University and Yale University — alleging that the institutions "knowingly sanctioned" the distribution of unlicensed repertoire.

In a written response to Metallica's suit, Napster said, "We regret that the band's management saw fit to issue a press release — and to file a lawsuit — without even attempting to contact Napster. We would be happy to speak to the artists or to their management. Many bands who have approached us learned about Napster and how to leverage what we offer and understand the value of what we do. But if these people insist on turning it over to lawyers, we'll defend the case on that turf."

HIGH-TECH IN LITTLE ROCK

Corey Deitz, PD of Equity Broadcasting's Alternative KLEC (Lick965.com)/Little Rock (a Net Music Countdown affiliate), is atop a slightly different horse in his ratings race. Deitz took a second-tier station and repositioned the music, the presentation and even the frequency to align his station with the high-tech lifestyle. It seems to be working, and when we chatted recently, there was a bit of geek satisfaction in Deitz's voice.

David Lawrence

R&R: Tell me about the integration of the air signal with the webcast.

CD: I was reading a survey about online usage by format that showed that people who listened to modern rock were the highest users of the 'Net. It was glaring to me that this was an opportunity to use a fresh presentation, even though when I first said "Lick965.com," it sounded funny. My GM agreed to do it, and we rebranded the station.

R&R: Are listeners challenged by the technology?

CD: Some are, and we take a lot of care to individually reply to people who write and say, "I downloaded Winamp. Now what?" or, "What's a zip file?" — and we're careful not to talk over people's heads. We talk a lot on the air about the 'Net, but we always relate it to their lives.

R&R: What was the thought process that went into your Lick965.com on-air branding?

CD: The "Lick" was there already — the station used to be called "Lick 101." So we took that, combined it with the 'Net approach and fused it with the dot-com feel. When we contacted Arbitron and said we wanted to be referred to as Lick965.com, they had to have some discussions about it. They'd never done it before, but they knew they were going to have more stations in the future asking for it. So our listings now include Lick965.com.

R&R: Do you think that people who are into the 'Net listen despite the intensity of the music?

CD: I know that with the morning show in particular, we have people listening who are outside our demo. I've heard people say, "I used to listen to country, but I'm really getting into the music." I think there are people who are listening for the 'Net angle — and the modern rock audience is more loyal as a whole. Once they relate to the station, they're devoted.

R&R: Has this translated into higher ratings?

CD: We've been on an upward roll and haven't dropped since we repositioned the station. TSL is unbelievable, cume is amazing. In our 18-34 men demo we were in the top three in many dayparts after only five months on the air — from eighth or ninth in the market. We label things completely differently to reinforce that: Traffic is "Road Rage," the concert calendar file is the "AudioFile," and we dropped all old, tired references. I think the persona we created for the station really latched on.

THE CHANGING EQUATION

With the announcement this past week that Sony will follow the lead of BMG and will be offering digital downloads within the next two weeks at select online retailers, we will, as we told you, be adjusting the charts to account for the new methods of delivery. In the beginning, since not all labels will be participating, we will be doing dry runs of the charts internally to watch the math and see how the results change. Once all the majors are offering downloadable singles and collections, we will revise our equation and the charts for publication.

We will also follow a weighting course similar to the traffic weighting we do now, so that the proportion of digital downloads on the 'Net and the proportion of CD sales from online retailers will be accurate. We will not be including promotional or advance downloads, nor will we track downloads that "time out" or are not available to the listener after a preview period. I welcome your input on this process.

Which reminds me: How do the E-Charts help you? They're the basis for programming the Net Music Countdown every week, but do you look at these charts and watch for indicators that might alter your decision processes or your programming? What else would you like to know about what's going on online that would be of importance to you? Number of plays? Individual charts? For radio programmers in particular (since I hear from the labels all the time), what can we do to make this data more valuable? As we plan for the future of the E-Charts, we'd like your feedback.

as a part of the Universal/Motown family."

Prior to joining Universal, DeLong served as Sr. VP/Promotion for Lava Records. She was also Sr. VP/Promotion for The Enclave.

"This is truly a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity," DeLong noted. "Universal has emerged as one of the hottest young labels in the industry, while Motown continues to take its vast musical legacy to the next level. I am so thankful to Monte and Kedar, and especially to [Universal Music Group Chairman] Doug Morris and [Universal/Motown Records Group Chairman] Mel Lewinter for their confidence in me. I look forward to helping them further cultivate the most dynamic group of artists in the industry."

was offered by Wisconsin Rep. Tom Barrett, but was defeated by a 245-142 vote. If it had passed, it would have placed LPFM on the fast track and given the FCC the ability to award low-power FM licenses immediately upon finishing its testing.

Although the bill was originally introduced in subcommittee in November by Rep. Mike Oxley and is still commonly known as the "Oxley bill," it has undergone significant changes since its introduction. The inclusion of the Wilson-Dingell amendment earlier this month requires the FCC to conduct field-test studies in no more than nine markets. Such tests will further determine if the rates of interference caused by LPFM are acceptable. Furthermore, it restricts LPFM licenses to government, non-profit or educational groups. The Act also affirms the two new categories of noncommercial radio established by the FCC on Jan. 20 (a 3.5-mile signal radius and a 1- to 2-mile radius) and reaffirms a ban keeping existing broadcasters from obtaining LPFM licenses.

A companion bill introduced by Sen. Judd Gregg is circulating in the Senate, where it is picking up support. But even if it passes the Senate, it could be vetoed by President Clinton. In a letter released April 12 by the Office of Management & Budget, the administration said it strongly opposes the Radio Broadcasting Preservation Act and supports efforts to create a new class of microradio licenses. Although the White House is "extremely mindful" of interference concerns, it expressed confidence in the FCC's ability to resolve such problems.

Kennard Scolds NPR

"Special interests triumphed over community interests," Kennard stated the morning after the vote (4/14), adding that he was dismayed that the House chose to eliminate more than 80% of the potential low-power FM stations by approving the bill. Kennard said he was particularly unhappy with National Public Radio's decision to "join with commercial interests to stifle" diversity of the airwaves. Kennard even dismissed the notion that the bill protects existing stations from interference: "Its practical effect is to set roadblocks and hurdles for the FCC and for the development of low-power radio that may never be met and that can only serve to protect incumbent broadcasters from competition."

Meanwhile, NAB President/CEO Eddie Fritts praised the outcome of the House vote. "It's a great day for free, over-the-air radio listeners," he said. "We are pleased not only with the outcome of the House vote, but also with the magnitude of bipartisan support for the legislation."

FCC Accused Of Illegal Lobbying

During discussion of the bill on the House floor, Tauzin alleged that the FCC and its staff had violated the law by lobbying legislators on the LPFM issue. Tauzin claimed the FCC acted illegally by faxing representatives a letter stating 10 reasons why the measure should be defeated. The commission is prohibited from lobbying Congress, since it is an independent government agency.

"This is against the law and something very serious," said Tauzin, who asked the Justice Department to look into the matter. "I don't think I've ever seen a more blatant example of lobbying by a so-called independent agency. It's an absolute outrage."

Later that day Kennard wrote to Tauzin claiming the commission and its staff did nothing wrong or illegal. "Government employees may communicate directly with members of Congress and their staffs in support of Administration or department positions," Kennard wrote. "The Act does not apply to such direct communications."

Stocks

of $50, but moving in the right direction after its 52-week low of $11.62. News that Infinity Broadcasting and Westwood One had agreed to buy an undisclosed stake in Scott Ginsburg's closely held StarGuide Digital Networks in exchange for their combined 50% interest in Musicam Express LLC (see story, Page 18) helped boost Infinity shares more than 9% to close at $31.

Entercom was up $3.25 (8.8%) to close at $40.25, while RealNetworks enjoyed the strongest bump of all issues on the R&R Composite: It leaped $7.31 (21.5%) to close at $41.312.

Wall Street's biggest one-day point loss in history Friday was being blamed on a combination of things. First, it was the last day investors could sell off stocks before paying their 1999 taxes. And second, the latest Consumer Price Index had been released that morning and indicated that inflation was on the rise.

But as Tuesday rolled on, Prudential Securities analysts James Marsh and William Lerner reviewed some Q1 broadcasting results and determined that "radio broadcasters are on track for another record year in ad revenue gains." They gave "strong buy" ratings to AMFM, CBS, Citadel, Clear Channel, Cumulus, Infinity, Regent and Radio One.

Dot-Com Drubbing May Rub Off On Radio

A new Forrester Research study predict that the hard-charging dot-com advertisers of the past may not be the up-and-coming category of the future and boldly states that the majority of online retailers will be extinct by 2001. Furthermore, experts on CNBC predicted earlier this week that many dot-coms will dramatically reduce their advertising expenditures this year, due to the uncertain economy.

Both facts are important, because dot-coms devote half or more of their ad budgets to radio. Financial experts say the short-term future of e-commerce retailers will hang on whatever the American public believes their economic outlook to be. Forrester's research indicates that so-called "clicks and mortar" retailers — such as Barnes & Noble or WalMart — will eventually overtake purely Internet commerce companies.

R&R Readers To Choose CHR's Best

This week the final ballots to select this year's Industry Achievement Award winners were mailed to eligible voters. Winners will be announced at R&R Convention 2000.

The convention begins Wednesday, June 14, with a half-day of must-attend Internet sessions. The confab continues with format and music panels, along with further 'Net and general sessions, through June 17.

The famed (and recently refurbished) Century Plaza Hotel in Los Angeles is very close to being sold out, so call and reserve your room today at (310) 551-3300 or (800) 937-8461 (WESTIN-1). Please mention that you'll be attending the R&R Convention. Those registering before April 28 can save up to $175, so make your plans now to attend. For further details, visit www.rronline.com/convention.

Each of this year's winners will once again receive the prestigious Spirit of St. Louis art deco radio with their name engraved on the front. Listed below are CHR/Pop nominees for 2000, in alphabetical order.

Rhythmic Nominees Shine

This year, for the very first time, R&R will present the Rhythmic Industry Achievement Awards at a private "Rhythmic Jam" during R&R Convention 2000. The Jam is scheduled to take place Friday, June 16, from 5-7pm, in the Westside Room at the Century Plaza Hotel. We'll be tapping into some of the format's best to provide entertainment.

Ballots were mailed to all eligible voters this week. Once again this year R&R will engage the accounting firm Miller, Kaplan, Arase & Co to count all the ballots and tabulate the winners. All results will remain confidential until the envelopes are opened. The Rhythmic nominees are listed below in alphabetical order.

CalloUT AMERICA® Hot Scores

By KEVIN McCABE

With an onslaught of well-deserved media attention, Sisqo's "Thong Song" (Dragon/Def Soul/IDJMG) remains on top of Callout America with a 3.88 total score. Entertainment Weekly and The Los Angeles Times Calendar are two major publications that have recently profiled Sisqo. "Thong" holds a tight grip on teens (No. 2 with a 4.17) and females 18-24 (No. 2 with a 3.87). IDJMG Sr. VP/Promo Ken Lane and staff are taking this all the way.

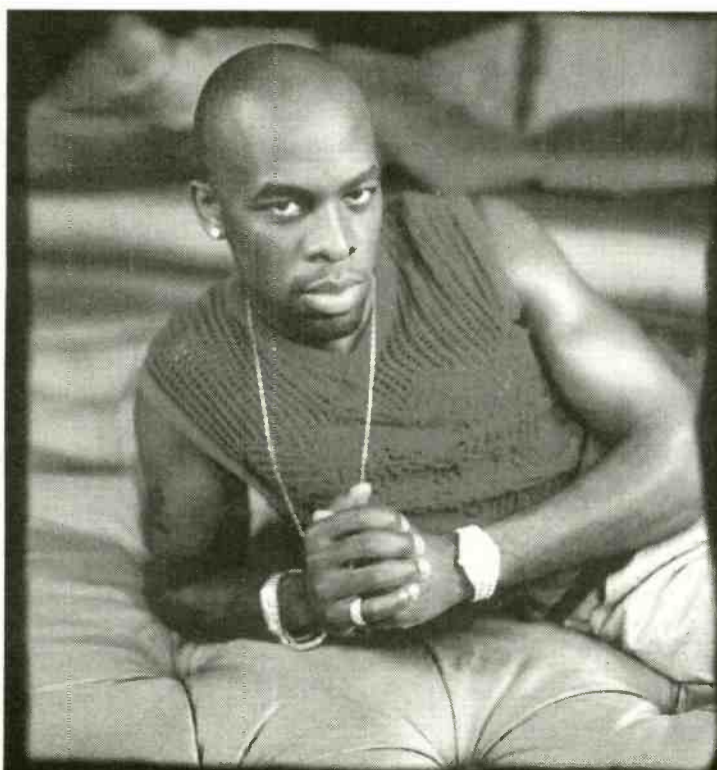

Check out this week's impressive Callout America debuts: "Party Up" by DMX (Def Jam/IDJMG) enters at No. 7 with the Hit Potential tag and a 3.70 total score. Early Pop airplay at WKSE/ Buffalo and WBTT/Dayton help drive familiarity to over 47% in its debut week. "Party" is also the top-testing song among women 18-24 with a 4.00.

Another spring anthem is in the air as "Graduation (Friends Forever)" by Vitamin C (Elektra/EEG) debuts with a 3.66 overall score. Demos are strong right out of the box as "Graduation" posts a 3.89 in the teen cell (eighth) and earns a 3.71 (fifth) among 18-24s.

Two songs that are big hits on the rhythmic side are receiving strong approval rates from the pop audience: "There You Go" by Pink (LaFace/Arista) ranks sixth overall, third with teens and seventh 18-24. "I Wanna Know" by Joe (Jive) ranks fourth overall and third 18-24.

The survey looks a bit different when looking inside the individual demo rankings. In the 25-34 cell, "Breathe" by Faith Hill (Warner Bros.) captures the top spot, followed by "Maria Maria" by Santana / Product G&B (Arista) and Marc Anthony's "You Sang To Me" (Columbia). Anthony continues to prove his appeal to the 25-34 demo, ranking third with a 3.73.

Total sample size is 400 respondents with a +/-5 margin of error. Total average favorability estimates are based on a scale of 1-5 (1 = dislike very much, 5 = like very much). Total familiarity represents the percentage of respondents who recognized the song. Total burn represents the number of respondents who said they are tired of hearing the song. Songs must reach 40% familiarity before they appear in print. Hit Potential (HP) represents songs that have yet to chart in the top 25 on R&R's CHR/Pop chart. Sample composition is based on females aged 12-34, who responded favorably to a CHR/Pop musical montage in the following regions and markets: EAST: Baltimore, Boston, Long Island, New York, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Providence, Washington, DC. SOUTH: Atlanta, Dallas, Houston, Miami, San Antonio, Tampa. MIDWEST: Chicago, Cincinnati, Cleveland, Columbus, Detroit, Kansas City, Milwaukee, Minneapolis, St. Louis. WEST: Los Angeles, Phoenix, Portland, Sacramento, San Diego, San Francisco, Seattle. © 2000, R&R Inc.

Most Increased Plays lists the songs with the greatest week-to-week increases in total plays. Weighted chart appears on R&R ONLINE MUSIC TRACKING.

172 CHR/Pop reporters. Monitored airplay data supplied by Mediabase Research, a division of Premiere Radio Networks. Songs ranked by total plays for the airplay week of Sunday 4/9-Saturday 4/15. Bullets appear on songs gaining plays or remaining flat from previous week. If two songs are tied in total plays, the song being played on more stations is placed first. Breaker status is assigned to songs reaching 2500 plays or more for the first time. Songs below No. 20 are moved to recurrent after 20 weeks. Gross Impressions equals Average Quarter Hour Persons times number of plays (times 100). WHO'S THE MAN!

Final score was The Boys 108 and The Bucs 104. Here is Nick Carter (center) of The Backstreet Boys bragging to reporters about his finest hour, about how he dribbled down the court, knocked down two big guys along the way and slammed dunk on another...then woke up to find he had slept through most of the game.

The Bucs Vs. The Boys

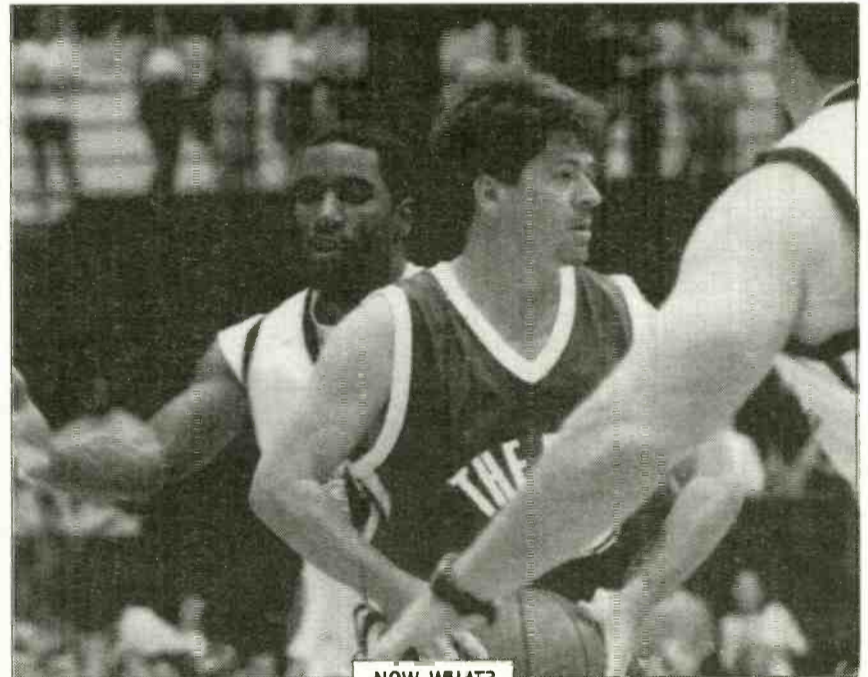

FOWL? COME ON MAN, GIVE ME A BREAK

WFLZ/Tampa staffers and other special guest players hooped it up with Nick Carter and Brian Lattrell of the Backstreet Boys to benefit St. Joseph's Hospital Foundation. The charity basketball game raised over $45,000. Standing on the sideline are (l-r): Carter, Warren Sapp, and Froggy.

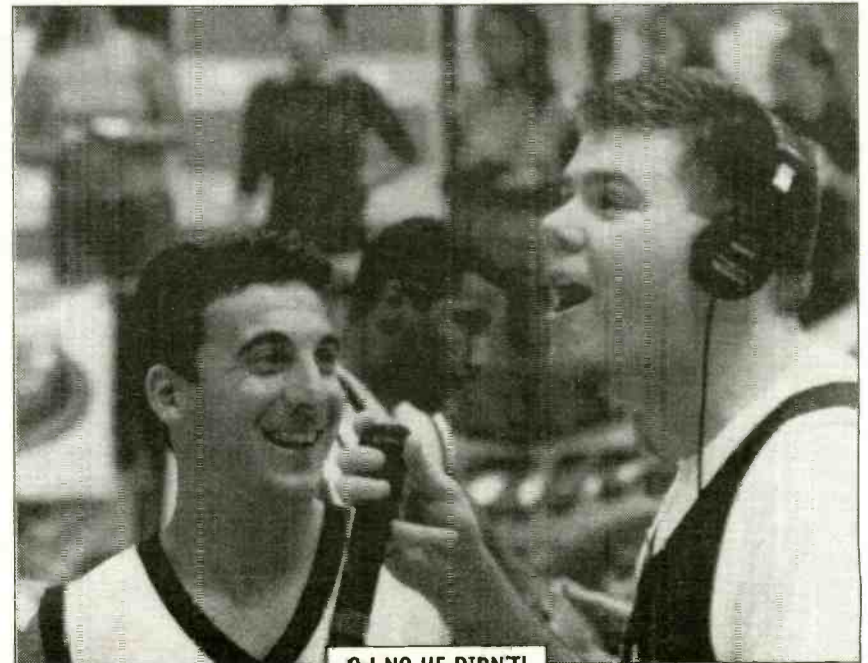

DRIBBLING, DRIBBLING, DRIBBLING...TRAVELING

Brian Lattrell of the Backstreet Boys tried to move like Michael Jordan but he lost his concentration when the other team showed up. Here he is in his brightest moment. Thank God there was a camera near!

NOW WHAT?

The Boys team player B.J. Harris (center) found himself in an awkward position while trying to decide which player to pass the ball to. Here he was probably asking himself, "What am I doing?" Answer: We don't know.

OH NO HE DIDN'T!

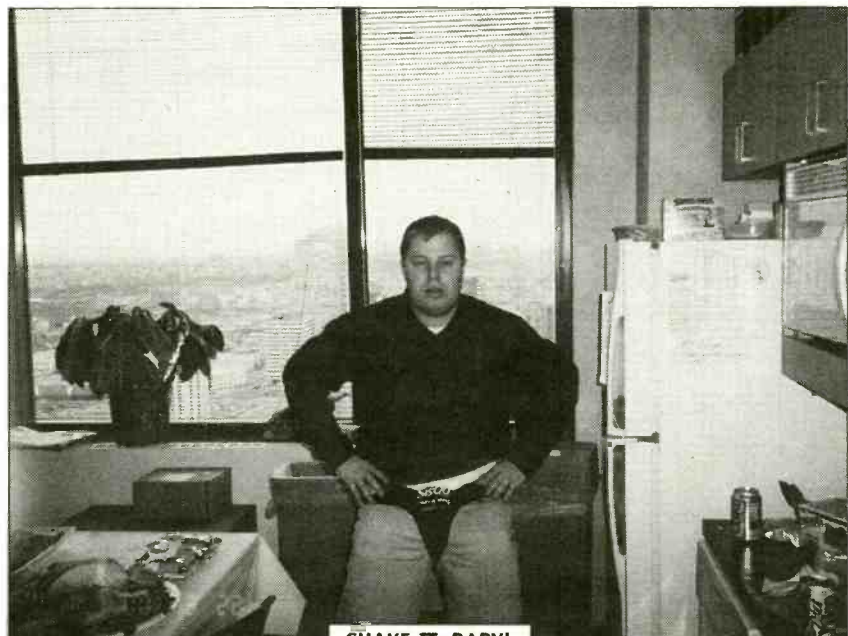

Yes he did just dis' you! Pictured are (l-r): Martin Gramatica and Kane having an interesting conversation on the sideline during the charity basketball game.

Most Added is the total number of new adds officially reported to R&R by each reporting station. Songs unreported as adds do not count toward overall total stations playing a song. Most Increased Plays lists the songs with the greatest week-to-week increases in total plays. Weighted chart appears on R&R ONLINE MUSIC TRACKING.

66 CHR/Rhythmic reporters. Monitored airplay data supplied by Mediabase Research, a division of Premiere Radio Networks. Songs ranked by total plays for the airplay week of Sunday 4/9-Saturday 4/15. Bullets appear on songs gaining plays or remaining flat from previous week. If two songs are tied in total plays, the song being played 21 on more stations is placed first. Breaker status is assigned to songs reaching 1000 plays or more for the first time. Songs below No. 20 are moved to recurrent after 20 weeks. Gross Impressions equals Average Quarter Hour Persons times number of plays (times 100). Average Quarter Hour Persons used herein with permission from The Arbitron Company (Copyright 2000, The Arbitron Company). © 2000, R&R Inc.

ARTIST

TQ

 LP: THE SECOND COMING
 Label: EPIC

Sick of the cell phone ringing off the hook, girlfriend/boyfriend trippin', left your keys in the house and you just locked the door ... damn, it's always something! We can all relate to TQ's latest single, "Daily" (Epic), on which he sings about the times when all the things that can go wrong do go wrong. "Daily/Seem like I just can't get away/As soon as I get out the bed/It's always something going wrong to drive me crazy," vents TQ. ● Singer/songwriter/producer TQ continues to keep it real, singing about real-life experiences as he did on his earlier hit singles, "Westside" and "Bye Bye Baby," from his Epic debut, They Never Saw Me Coming. "Westside" became a certified gold single, top 10 in the U.S., as well as earning TQ immediate "smash single" status in the U.K., Germany and Holland. On "Bye Bye Baby" TQ shared a heart-wrenching true story about a young woman taking a bullet meant for her man in a drive-by. ● TQ co-produced several songs on his most recent project, The Second Coming, with producers Living Proof, Warren G and Damizza. With "Daily" he saw the chance to get some things off his chest after experiencing ... let's just say a challenging day.

INDUSTRY PROFILE

Pretty Boy Dontay
 MD — KXJM/Portland, OR

I knew Carl Thomas was a kind of smooth brotha when I first heard him on the "Been Around the World (Remix)" with Puff Daddy and Mase. But when I heard "I Wish," I was like, "Oh, hell naw!" I was thinking to myself this cat got some mad skills and will help contribute to the many successes of Bad Boy Entertainment. This song is smooth, soulful and very relatable to us guys who have been through some bad relationships. (Yeah, some of us guys have feelings when it comes to relationships.) Carl Thomas' "I Wish" reminds me of some of that good old-fashioned R&B music that I grew up listening to, like Luther Vandross and Freddie Jackson. I expect Carl Thomas to have a bright and successful future. To those programmers who haven't heard "I Wish," check it out. You will not be disappointed.

Cast Your Ballots

Once again I have the pleasure of announcing the Urban nominees for the R&R Industry Achievement Awards.

Three stations nominated for Station of the Year were nominees last year: WEDR/Miami, KPRS/Kansas City and WGCI-FM/Chicago. Two PDs from last year's list also made the list this year: Cedric Hollywood of WEDR/Miami and Skip Dillard of WBLK/Buffalo. Likewise in the Music Director category we have two nominees from last year: Eileen Nathaniel of WHRK/Memphis and Myron Fears of KPRS/Kansas City. And two promotion executives make repeat appearances: Arista's Lionel Ridenour and Priority's Garnett March.

Ballots were mailed this week to eligible voters. Please take the time to vote for these deserving nominees. The Industry Achievement awards will be presented at R&R Convention 2000 in Los Angeles. Good luck to all those nominated!

Most Added is the total number of new adds officially reported to R&R by each reporting station. Songs unreported as adds do not count toward overall total stations playing a song. Most Increased Plays lists the songs with the greatest week-to-week increases in total plays. Weighted chart appears on R&R ONLINE MUSIC TRACKING.

84 Urban reporters. Monitored airplay data supplied by Mediabase Research, a division of Premiere Radio Networks. Songs ranked by total plays for the airplay week of Sunday 4/9-Saturday 4/15. Bullets appear on songs gaining plays or remaining flat from previous week. If two songs are tied in total plays, the song being played on more stations is placed first. Breaker status is assigned to songs reaching 1000 plays or more for the first time. Songs below No. 20 are moved to recurrent after 20 weeks. Gross Impressions equals Average Quarter Hour Persons times number of plays (times 100). Average Quarter Hour Persons used herein with permission from The Arbitron Company (Copyright 2000, The Arbitron Company). © 2000, R&R Inc.

ARTIST BREAKDOWN

ARTIST: SHANDOZIA
 TRACK: "DAMN YOU"
 LABEL: QWEST/WB

Tanya, did I tell you ShanDozia's going for adds next week?" asked Qwest Promotion Asst. Darnell Gamble. "Yes, you did, dear. It's in there," I replied, referring to the New Release schedule. Knowing that Gamble was just doing his job, I wondered if he really had a reason to be a pest, so I searched through my CDs to pull out a single whose cover showed a young man in dark glasses and an I'm Gonna Get You, Sucka afro. As I began to listen to the single, the first few notes reminded me of Marc Dorsey's "Crave." But that is where the similarities between the romantic ballad by Dorsey and the painful frustration of ShanDozia's tune ended.

The VSQ remix of the latest joint by ShanDozia, aptly titled "Damn You," just may be the voice of many men across the country. Singing about a turbulent relationship, this Los Angeles native puts so much passion and anger into his performance that I'd bet a whole year's salary (I'm talking the entire $189.87 — before taxes) that if this were a real-life experience, homegirl would now be his ex.

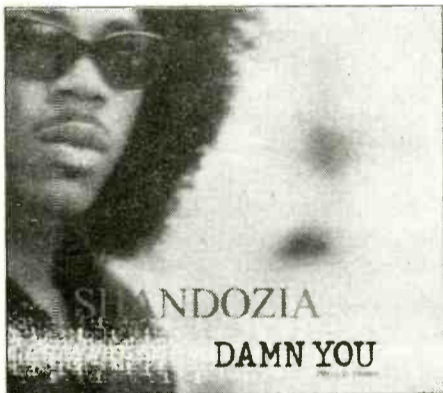

While conversing with a PD — who shall remain nameless, but who's my "idol" — he told me he wasn't feeling this record. "Why not?" I asked. "It has a good beat, ShanDozia's performance is on point, and the lyrics are down-to-earth and can apply to many females in today's society." "Because we like to hear about 'ice' and my 'you know what.' We don't want messages in our songs," he replied sarcastically. I responded, "Maybe those songs are the most requested because they're what you've chosen to stuff your audience with. Why not try giving little bites of something new and allowing them the opportunity to savor the flavor of new music?" His response: "Yeah, you're right." With his comments in mind, I felt compelled to "break down" this song in an effort to spark curiosity about — and express the appeal of — this midtempo musical expression of a man's frustration.

ShanDozia passionately sings of an anguished guy who's fed up with his lady's attitude. "I heard someone say the man is not supposed to cry," exclaims the 20-ish singer/songwriter. She's played him and disrespected him one time too many. It seems the "hobby" they share is fighting and arguing, and he's "sick and tired of being sick and tired." So with his limit having been reached, he tells homegirl: "Damn you! Look at what we're going through/ And I'm through, tired of putting up with you and your attitude." (Sounds like he's talking to me.) Obviously, this scene has been played over and over throughout their relationship, but this time there's no "let's kiss and make up." "We can't work this out, there's no way I will/After all the times we tried, you say that you love me/ But you act so ugly/What the hell is wrong with you?" (They changed my medication.)

"Damn You," the second single from ShanDozia's self-titled album, deserves a chance to be shared with listeners all over the country. In its own way it contains the same display of self-respect and inner strength as Angie Stone's "No More Rain (In This Cloud)." The beats are different, the lyrics are different, but I'm sure the sentiments are the same in both tunes: To the person who has hurt me to such a degree, damn you! Peace.

IN MY OPINION

with Michael James

The Temptations
The Rising Phoenix
 Motown

PD/MD — WFLM/Ft. Pierce, FL

The one piece of music that I ensure is included in our format is from the new CD The Rising Phoenix by The Temptations. Surprisingly, this is their first platinum venture. The recurrent single, "Stay," incorporated elements of signature music from The Temps' old school library. Even having endured multiple personnel changes over 30-plus years has not diminished their style of music nor the rigors of their traditional stage choreography.

The latest single, "I'm Here," has bulleted on the music charts, ensuring that The Temptations continue a tradition started in Detroit — "Mo-Music, Mo-Betta, Mo-Town!"

Giving you fair warning: These are the singles that are going for adds on Tuesday (4/25).

38 Urban AC reporters. Monitored airplay data supplied by Mediabase Research, a division of Premiere Radio Networks. Songs ranked by total plays for the airplay week of Sunday 4/9-Saturday 4/15. Bullets appear on songs gaining plays or remaining flat from previous week. If two songs are tied in total plays, the song being played on more stations is placed first. Breaker status is assigned to songs reaching 350 plays or more for the first time. Songs below No. 20 are moved to recurrent after 20 weeks. Gross Impressions equals Average Quarter Hour Persons times number of plays (times 100). GOTTA LEAVE....

But it seems that WBLK/Buffalo, NY PD Skip Dillard (second from right) has a tight grip on two members of female trio 702, so they might just be hangin' around Buffalo for a while. When Motown rep Dwight Willacy (l) took the lovely ladies by Dillard's station for a visit, Kameelah, Irish and Misha found themselves very welcome.

And The Nominees Are....

What do the Oscars, Emmys, Grammys, AMAs, ACMs and R&R Industry Achievement Awards have in common?

Well, in addition to being handed out in Los Angeles, all these awards honor their industries' stars. The honorees for each award are determined by a polling of their peers, and that, of course, is where you come in. On this page are the final nominees in each of the Country categories. Eligible voters will receive a ballot with this week's issue. Winners will be announced during R&R Convention 2000.

And now, without further ado, the 1999 R&R Industry Achievement Awards finalists in Country are....

Airplay Impact 4/24

When a core artist with an instantly recognizable voice gets a song like this, it is pure magic. We added it early because we felt a need for more core names on our playlist and we simply fell in love with the song. We tested it on our nightly "Catch of the Day" feature and the listeners fell in love with it too. It's cleverly written and richly voiced by one of country music's household names—test it and watch the listeners respond with their hearts!

No Shortage of Big Names

■ Fan Fair concerts to feature more than 40 platinum country acts

Fan Fair 2000 got a big boost last week when the Country Music Association announced that The Dixie Chicks and Vince Gill have been added to an already impressive list of participants.

Star power is an effective drawing card, but the CMA is also undertaking a new campaign to attract potential attendees from Nashville and others who live within easy driving distance of Nashville. Using a combination of newspaper ads and Country radio spots, the campaign targets a total of 16 markets within 250 miles of Nashville. The CMA is also working with Country stations on ticket giveaways and other radio promotions.

New additions to the Fan Fair concert roster include Gary Allan, Chad Brock, Anita Cochran, Craig Morgan, Chalee Tennison and Bryan White. At this point more than 85 acts are confirmed, including such superstars as Tim McGraw, LeAnn Rimes, John Michael Montgomery, Brooks & Dunn and Alan Jackson.

In the past the first day of Fan Fair has been relatively uneventful, with most major artists gearing up for the TNN/Music City News Awards, which took place that night. However, the dynamic has changed with the new awards show — the Country Weekly Presents the TNN Music Awards — moving the nighttime action to Thursday, June 15. As a result, this year's kickoff — Monday, June 12 — includes label showcases for Atlantic/Giant, Warner-Reprise/Asylum and, one of the biggest, Sony/Nashville.

Conspicuously absent this year is Capitol, whose previous concerts have showcased Garth Brooks, Trace Adkins, Steve Wariner, Deana Carter and other artists on its roster. Capitol/Nashville VP/Publicity Karen Byrd says the label plans to present a concert at next year's Fan Fair. "It was a situation where, for years, we had the Wednesday morning slot,"

Byrd says. "Due to some restructuring by the CMA and decisions that were made there, they changed our time. Because our artists and people involved with the show had already made plans around that schedule, we weren't able to accommodate the change. We asked for them to change us back, but they weren't able to do that."

Here's a label-by-label look at Fan Fair's concert offerings.

Arista: BlackHawk, Brooks & Dunn, Diamond Rio, Alan Jackson, Brad Paisley, Pam Tillis, Phil Vassar.

Atlantic/Giant: Tracy Lawrence, John Michael Montgomery, Craig Morgan, Keith Harling, Neal McCoy, Johnny Staats, The Wilkinsons.

Audium Entertainment: Loretta Lynn, Ricky Van Shelton, Daryle Singletary.

Curb: Tim McGraw, Jo Dee Messina, LeAnn Rimes, Sawyer Brown.

DreamWorks: Ray Benson (host), Jessica Andrews, Asleep At The Wheel, Toby Keith, Darryl Worley.

Lyric Street: Chuck Wagon & The Wheels, Sonya Isaacs, Rascal Flatts, SHeDAISY, Aaron Tippin.

MCA: Vince Gill (host), Gary Allan, Mark Chesnutt, Alecia Elliott, Rebecca Lynn Howard, Sons Of The Desert, Lee Ann Womack, Chely Wright.

Mercury: Naomi Judd (host), Terri Clark, Eric Heatherly, Kathy Mattea, Mark Wills.

RCA Label Group: Bill Engvall (host), Tracy Byrd, Kenny Chesney, Jennifer Day, Sara Evans, Andy Griggs, Lonestar, Coley McCabe, John Rich, 3 Of Hearts.

Rounder: Rhonda Vincent,

Wylie & The Wild West.

Sony Music: John Anderson, Tammy Cochran, Billy Ray Cyrus, Joe Diffie, Billy Gilman, Wade Hayes, Ty Herndon, Danni Leigh, Montgomery Gentry, Collin Raye, Ricochet, Yankee Grey.

Step One: The Geezinslaws, Jack Greene.

Virgin: Clay Davidson, Jerry Kilgore, Tom Mabe, Ronnie Milsap, Julie Reeves, River Road.

Warner-Reprise/Asylum: Chad Brock, Anita Cochran, Chalee Tennison, Bryan White.

Additional attention may be drawn to the event in May, when FOX-TV documents a Fan Fair visit by a church group from Arlen, TX. Actually, the episode centers around one couple — Hank and Peggy Hill — who happen to be the stars of the animated series King of the Hill. With the voice tracks already recorded, the episode will feature "appearances" by Clint Black, Brooks & Dunn, Martina McBride, Randy Travis and Wynonna.

The Hill family continues to get its latest Fan Fair updates by logging into the website www.fanfair.com.

Opry Celebrates 75th

Coinciding with Fan Fair, the Grand Ole Opry kicks off its 75th-anniversary celebration with a June 10 outdoor party at the Opry Plaza. The activities continue June 16, when Asleep At The Wheel launches a series of Opry Plaza Parties, which run through Aug. 4 with a diverse array of weekly acts including Grammy-winning Cajun band Beausoleil and alt-country's The Derailers.

The Opry will also be introducing OpryFest, three weekends of music celebrating several of country's traditions. The schedule includes the Gospel Jubilee (July 15-16), the Bluegrass Jamboree (July 22-23) and the Grand Ole Clogging and Square Dance Festival (July 29 & 30).

PAISLEY STRIKES GOLD

Everything leads up to the Opry Birthday Bash weekend, set for Oct. 13-15. Steve Wariner, Vince Gill, Loretta Lynn and Bill Anderson are already confirmed to participate in the weekend's activities, which include a public promenade of the show's cast members into the Opry House. The Birthday Bash also includes the Bill Monroe Bluegrass Celebration and the revival of the Grand Master Fiddler Championship.

Bits 'N' Pieces

- The Dixie Chicks' album Wide Open Spaces has received RIAA certification for sales of 9 million copies. Additionally, the Chicks' Fly is closing in on sales of 5 million, with the single "Goodbye Earl" recently receiving gold certification.

- A new Garth Brooks song, "When You Come Back to Me Again," is featured in Frequency, a new science fiction film starring Dennis Quaid. Brooks and Jenny Yates co-wrote the song, and Trisha Yearwood provided harmony vocals on the recording.

Brooks' recording will not be featured on a soundtrack CD, and there are no plans to release it as a radio or retail single. Frequency opens nationally April 28.

- When Patty Loveless met Bruce Springsteen backstage following his concert in Nashville last week, she explained that Faith Hill had beaten her to the punch on recording his song "If I Should Fall Behind." Springsteen responded, "Well, I love that song you did with George Jones — 'You Don't Seem to Miss Me.' That was so cool." Loveless was duly impressed that the Boss knew her music.

- Kid Rock isn't embarking on a career in country music, although he did spend quality time with George Jones at the recent Grammy Awards show in Los Angeles. Apparently, Kid Rock later made a comment that he'd like to record with Jones ... but that's probably not going to happen. Jones says, "I met him backstage, and he's a very nice guy. I really enjoyed talking with him. We didn't talk about doing anything together, actually. I doubt that I would, unless it was more like the country way that I do." Referring to his pseudonym for some records in the '50s, Jones jokes, "I doubt that I'll do any rock songs, because I've been embarrassed by Thumper Jones."

Breakers®

No Songs Qualified For Breaker Status This Week

Most Added is the total number of new adds officially reported to R&R by each reporting station. Songs unreported as adds do not count toward overall total stations playing a song. Most Increased Points/Plays lists the songs with the greatest week-to-week increases in total Points/Plays.

150 Country reporters. Monitored airplay data supplied by Mediabase Research, a division of Premiere Radio Networks. Songs ranked by total points for the airplay week of Sunday 4/9-Saturday 4/15. Bullets appear on songs gaining points/plays or remaining flat from previous week. If two songs are tied in total points/plays, the song being played on more stations is placed first. Breaker status is assigned to songs achieving airplay at 60% of reporter base for the first time. Songs that are down in points/plays for three consecutive weeks and below No. 1 are moved to recurrent. Gross Impressions equals Average Quarter Hour Persons times number of plays (times 100). The Brooklyn Cowboys Doin' Time On Planet Earth (Leap)

Whatever happened to country rock? No, not Southern rock or country music with rock overtones, but the kind of music made by the original Flying Burrito Brothers or Commander Cody & The Lost Planet Airmen. Well, meet The Brooklyn Cowboys, a band with impressive credentials and a kicking debut album titled Doin' Time on Planet Earth. The band is fronted by Walter Egan, one of Gram Parsons' musician buddies who also had success at pop radio years ago with the single "Magnet and Steel." Other members include former New Riders Of The Purple Sage pedal steel guitarist Buddy Cage and Ozark Mountain Daredevils founding member Michael "Supe" Granada, along with session keyboardist Michael Webb, vocalist Brian Waldschlager and drummer Fredrough "Fredrico" Perry. The inclusion of another member — singer/guitarist Joy Lynn White — puts yet another spin on the music. Guest appearances are made by master fiddler Vassar Clements and Merle Haggard's lead guitarist, Red Volkaert. Among the highlights are "Hearts on Fire," an Egan song that Parsons recorded with Emmylou Harris, and "Carolina Calypso," a tune written by Egan and Parsons just days before Parsons' untimely death.

Eric Heatherly Swimming In Champagne Mercury

You tend to be a bit wary these days when you see an artist sporting sideburns, hipster clothing and a flashy green electric guitar. Fortunately for Eric Heatherly, he backs up his image with some uncompromising music. Long before the release of his debut single, "Flowers on the Wall," the Chattanooga, TN native had attracted a devoted Nashville following with his live shows at the legendary Tootsie's Orchid Lounge. The rockabilly-fueled shows also attracted several record executives, some of whom had previously told Heatherly to change his image. Heatherly says, "They all wanted me to put on a cowboy hat, a buckle and some boots. I told every single one of them the same thing: 'I'm a guitar slinger.' I was doing Carl Perkins and dreamy Roy Orbison-style ballads. They didn't want anything without a hat and a big acoustic guitar. I didn't practice for 20 years to stand onstage and strum three chords. I wanted to solo on guitar like Ricky Skaggs and Steve Wariner and Vince Gill. I wanted to be the next guy like that." It appears Heatherly is getting his wish with his debut album, Swimming in Champagne. "Flowers on the Wall," the old Statler Brothers hit, is the only cover song on the album. Heatherly co-wrote the remaining 10 tracks, recording everything under the direction of producer Keith Stegall, Mercury/Nashville's Exec. VP. Noting that he was given plenty of creative free rein, Heatherly says, "I asked Keith, 'Do I need to tone my style down a little?' He said, 'No, man, just hit it.'" He adds, "With me, what you see is what you get. When we went in to record this album, we turned on the tape and just let it roll. 'Someone Else's Cadillac' [the opening track] is the first take. It just felt too good to mess with it. The way you hear it is the way it was cut. That's all my guitar. This record is about spontaneity. I just want it to jump out of the speakers — and maybe blow some speakers too."

'UNCONDITIONAL' MOMENT

Virgin recording artist Clay Davidson realized he had some powerful friends when EMI Exec. Chairman Eric Nicoli joined him during a recent visit to New York City to promote Davidson's debut album, Unconditional. Gathering before a media luncheon at the Red-eye Grill are (l-r) EMI's Leslie Kelly, Davidson, Nicoli and Virgin/Nashville Executive VP/GM Van Fletcher.

Gore, Bush And....

Well in advance of the Democratic and Republican conventions, Al Gore and George W. Bush have sewn up their respective parties' nominations for president.

This week our format pays its respects to the people, stations and labels listed here for locking up the Adult Contemporary Industry Achievement Award nominations. Six nominees are competing in each of the seven categories.

Eligible voters will receive a ballot with this week's issue. Winners will be announced in Los Angeles at R&R Convention 2000 (June 14-17). Congratulations and best wishes to all who were nominated.

Next Stop: Los Angeles

The following 42 people, stations and labels have cleared the first hurdle in walking off with a coveted Industry Achievement Award. They've all been selected as Hot AC nominees. The next step is up to you, as R&R asks your help in selecting the winners.

For the third year in a row the list of choices is very impressive and spans mainstream Hot AC and Pop/Alternative. Eligible voters will receive a ballot with this week's issue. Fill it out, return it, then be with us in Los Angeles at the Century Plaza Hotel in less than two months (June 14-17) when we'll announce the winners.

All those providing input have our deep appreciation. R&R congratulates all the nominees, and we hope you'll join us at Convention 2000!

115 AC reporters. Monitored airplay data supplied by Mediabase Research, a division of Premiere Radio Networks. Songs ranked by total plays for the airplay week of Sunday 4/9-Saturday 4/15. Bullets appear on songs gaining plays or remaining flat from previous week. If two songs are tied in total plays, the song being played on more stations is placed first. Breaker status is assigned to songs reaching 875 plays or more for the first time. Songs below No. 20 are moved to recurrent after 20 weeks. Gross Impressions equals Average Quarter Hour Persons times number of plays (times 100). No Songs Qualified For Breaker Status This Week

Most Added is the total number of new adds officially reported to R&R by each reporting station. Songs unreported as adds do not count toward overall total stations playing a song. Most Increased Plays lists the songs with the greatest week-to-week increases in total plays. Weighted chart appears on R&R ONLINE MUSIC TRACKING.

Most Added is the total number of new adds officially reported to R&R by each reporting station. Songs unreported as adds do not count toward overall total stations playing a song. Most Increased Plays lists the songs with the greatest week-to-week increases in total plays. Weighted chart appears on R&R ONLINE MUSIC TRACKING.

98 Hot AC reporters. Monitored airplay data supplied by Mediabase Research, a division of Premiere Radio Networks. Songs ranked by total plays for the airplay week of Sunday 4/9-Saturday 4/15. Bullets appear on songs gaining plays or remaining flat from previous week. If two songs are tied in total plays, the song being played on more stations is placed first. Breaker status is assigned to songs reaching 1300 plays or more for the first time. Songs below No. 20 are moved to recurrent after 20 weeks. Gross Impressions equals Average Quarter Hour Persons times number of plays (times 100). Average Quarter Hour Persons used herein with permission from The Arbitron Company (Copyright 2000, The Arbitron Company). © 2000, R&R Inc.

It's An Honor Just To Be Nominated

Thank you for submitting your nominations for this year's R&R Industry Achievement Awards. While most would agree that winning an award is best, it is an honor just to receive a nomination in such illustrious company.

Eligible voters will receive a ballot with this week's issue, and the awards will be presented at R&R Convention 2000 in Los Angeles, June 14-17. Congratulations and best wishes to all who were nominated.

38 NAC/Smooth Jazz reporters. Songs ranked by total plays for the airplay week of Sunday 4/9-Saturday 4/15. Bullets appear on songs gaining plays or remaining flat from previous week. If two songs are tied in total plays, the song being played on more stations is placed first. Breaker status is assigned to songs reaching 400 plays or more for the first time. Songs below No. 20 are moved to recurrent after 20 weeks. Gross Impressions equals Average Quarter Hour Persons times number of plays (times 100). NAC notes with Carol Archer

File under "We are not worthy": I had the great pleasure of seeing Larry Carlton play in a Hollywood club last Friday night (to an SRO audience) with three sidemen, including Abe Laboriel. They hadn't rehearsed, but just jammed. It was an extraordinary set: jazz, smooth jazz, jump, blues. Apparently, there's nothing outside Carlton's mastery. His stage presence radiates a spirit of joy but is low on pyrotechnics. He simply grooves hard and plays like a monster. "Fingerprints" (Warner Bros.) holds No. 1.

Dave Koz's "Surrender" (Capitol) moves to 2, but it's Bob James' "Raise the Roof" (Warner Bros.) that appears the likely successor to Carlton at No. 1, with a huge gain in plays — +104 — propelling the track 9-3*.

Chris Botti's "Why Not" (GRP/VMG)

notches a 5-4 gain, and Urban Knights' "Sweet Home Chicago" (Narada) gains 8-5*. Marc Antoine's "Palm Strings" (GRP/VMG) moves to 9*. Ronny Jordan's "London Lowdown" (Blue Note) is poised to crack the top 10 with a 13-11* move.

Maysa continues her dramatic climb as "Got to Be Strong" (Rice/N-Coded) vaults 21-17*. Brian Culbertson's "Do You Really Love Me" (Atlantic) makes a most auspicious debut at 18*. This tune is really gaining rotations, as its increase of 120 plays — that's top Most Increased — makes clear. And Club 1600's "Stay" (N-Coded) earns a four-point move to 22*.

David Benoit's "Jump Start" (GRP/VMG) is tied with Steely Dan's "Jack of Speed" (Warner Bros.) for top Most Added honors as seven reporters add each. Benoit counts WJZI/Milwaukee and KKJZ/Portland among his early believers; Steely Dan goes right on KTWW (The Wave)/Los Angeles.

Other notable adds include Garden Party's "FM" (Samson) on WQCD/New York and Euge Groove's "Vinyl" (Warner Bros.) on WJZW/Washington (among four total stations adding the track).

Down To The Bone's "Zodiac" (Internal Bass) continues to impress. It debuts at 26* and is among the Most Added with five new adds, including WNUA/Chicago.

Heads

Maysa
All My Life
(Rice/N-Coded)

Maysa first came to the attention of NAC/Smooth Jazz as the lead singer of Incognito, a forward-thinking soul/acid jazz outfit with a considerable legacy of hits, including "Always There." Now she's collaborated again with Incognito's J.P. "Bluey" Maunick on a solo bow, All My Life (Rice/N-Coded), that demonstrates her growing artistic range. Maysa's in full command of pitch, timbre and dynamics on this sure-handed recording. The lead track, "Got to Be Strong," which bears an uncanny resemblance to Sade, is spreading like wildfire. The union of jazz sensibilities and soul resonates throughout the record as great production and Maysa's supple voice allow both the singer and the songs to shine. Maysa wrote or co-wrote 10 of the album's 13 cuts. Among the outstanding tracks are "Mirrors," with nicely funkified Fender Rhodes fills and a tasty vibes solo by Gary Sanctuary, the elegant and emotional title track and "Earth Child." Maysa's also unafraid to tackle social issues with conviction, and she does so convincingly on a cover of Gil Scott-Heron's "The Bottle." Incidentally, the 17-second track "Aria de la Mia Vita" shows the purity of Maysa's operatic soprano voice. What a goddess!

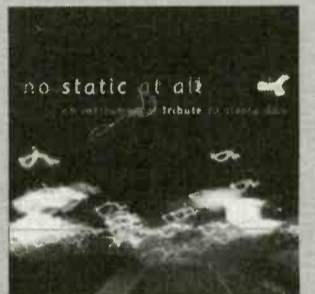

Samson Records President Steve Barri, profiled in last week's column, spoke about his concept for a series of cover projects. That series kicks off with Garden Party's No Static at All, which features all-star instrumental versions of Steely Dan hits. As the guy who signed Steely Dan in the first place, Barri is particularly ardent about Garden Party, and he's communicated that passion to Samson's staff. I spoke with VP/Promotion Mike Klein about the label's plans for marketing the project, the release of the single, "FM," and the label's intention to stay "true to form."

Garden Party is the first in our series of tribute records. From a sales standpoint, we'll roll out listening stations at various retail accounts nationally. Ironically, we'll also be working with the Steely Dan tour itself as they play across the country. One idea is to use a marketing firm to hand out cassettes containing several tunes from our record at the Steely Dan concert venues. As the concertgoers hand over their tickets at the door, they're given our sampler in return. Nothing's finalized yet, but we might include a coupon for a dollar or two off the price of the Garden Party CD at that city's major retailer. Obviously we'll do price and positioning on the CD, which streets Tuesday, May 23.

The add date on the first single, "FM," is April 24. Response on the track has been overwhelmingly positive. In fact — and this reminds me of my rock days, when I'd bring a Scorpions record to a station, and it would fly onto the air! — I played it for Rick LaBoy at WQCD (CD101.9)/New York, and when his PD, John Mullen, heard it, he yelled, "This is a hit!" He took it from the CD player and ran to the studio, telling the jock to play it coming out of his next stopset. We've also gotten a very favorable reaction from Broadcast Architecture, so I hope we'll receive the green light from them soon. We think the timing is just right for this record.

We don't have plans for a tour, which you can imagine would entail some challenges, since so many different artists played on the record and summer is prime time for many of their own tours. But we are considering hosting a single live show, perhaps in conjunction with All That Jazz, at either an NAC/SJ panel or off-site during the R&R Convention in June. Just remember that back in the day Steely Dan never really toured either.

I feel confident about breaking a record that is such a classic tune with built-in familiarity. According to Allen Kepler, the original version of "FM" presents something of a problem for Smooth Jazz airplay because of the vocal and also the intensity of its rock-edged guitar riffs. Our advantage is that the vocal and guitar are taken out and replaced with great players like Jeff Lorber, Warren Hill and members of Jango. Plus, you do justice to the cover with a man like Steve Barri, who's not going to let anything come out that's not true to its form.

Most Added is the total number of new adds officially reported to R&R by each reporting station. Songs unreported as adds do not count toward overall total stations playing a song. Most Increased Plays lists the songs with the greatest week-to-week increases in total plays. Weighted chart appears on R&R ONLINE MUSIC TRACKING.

70 Rock reporters. Monitored airplay data supplied by Mediabase Research, a division of Premiere Radio Networks. Songs ranked by total plays for the airplay week of Sunday 4/9-Saturday 4/15. Bullets appear on songs gaining plays or remaining flat from previous week. If two songs are tied in total plays, the song being played on more stations is placed first. Breaker status is assigned to songs reaching 400 plays or more for the first time. Songs below No. 20 are moved to recurrent after 20 weeks. Gross Impressions equals Average Quarter Hour Persons times number of plays (times 100). Average Quarter Hour Persons used herein with permission from The Arbitron Company (Copyright 2000, The Arbitron Company). © 2000, R&R Inc.

Most Added is the total number of new adds officially reported to R&R by each reporting station. Songs unreported as adds do not count toward overall total stations playing a song. Most Increased Plays lists the songs with the greatest week-to-week increases in total plays. Weighted chart appears on R&R ONLINE MUSIC TRACKING.

72 Active Rock reporters. Monitored airplay data supplied by Mediabase Research, a division of Premiere Radio Networks. Songs ranked by total plays for the airplay week of Sunday 4/9-Saturday 4/15. Bullets appear on songs gaining plays or remaining flat from previous week. If two songs are tied in total plays, the song being played on more stations is placed first. Breaker status is assigned to songs reaching 600 plays or more for the first time. Songs below No. 20 are moved to recurrent after 20 weeks. Gross Impressions equals Average Quarter Hour Persons times number of plays (times 100). The hardest-working man in show business." That's how The Reverend Horton Heat bassist Jimbo Wallace introduces vocalist/guitarist Jim Heath onstage. But it would be just as accurate to call the trio the hardest-working band in show business — and, some say, the most underrated. The Reverend Horton Heat rock harder than any band out there today. They have been blazing a trail of rock 'n' roll, psychobilly and punk-ass country-tinged music for 10 years, and they show no sign of losing steam.

Deep in the heart of Texas is from whence The Reverend come. Heath, Wallace and drummer Scott Churilla are proud of the fact that they're from Texas, and it shows in their music. They say everything in Texas is big, and The Reverend Horton Heat live up to that — just three guys, but one big sound. Wallace is a big part of that sound with his smokin' stand-up bass, which complements Heath's frenzied Gretsch-slinging fingerwork — and Churilla is almost scary on the skins. The Reverend have built a cult following over the last 10 years, and it's quite a phenomenon. With no No. 1 singles and minimal airplay, they've sold out hundreds of shows and released seven albums.

Their latest release is truly rockin' in the holiest of Reverend style. Produced by Butthole Surfers guitarist Paul Leary, Spend a Night in the Box is the band's debut for Time Bomb, and it is chock-full of their classic punkabilly sound.

College radio has embraced the trio for years, and now specialty shows at Rock and Active are catching the bug. Time Bomb sent the CD to specialty hoping the shows would go wild, and they have. The title track from the CD is getting the most attention. It shows off the band's signature rockabilly-on-speed sound — it makes you want to steal an old Thunderbird, put the top down and gun it. "It Hurts Your Daddy Bad" and "Sue Jack Daniels" are the other two tracks getting airplay at specialty. To quote the club owner who actually gave the band their name, their music is "like gospel."

R&R Industry Achievement Award Nominees

I am proud to unveil the final list of nominees for this year's R&R Industry Achievement Awards. Ballots will be mailed to eligible voters this week. Winners will be announced during R&R Convention 2000 in Los Angeles at the Century Plaza Hotel, June 14-17.

There are several newcomers to the ballot this year, with special mention going to WSFM/Wilmington, NC, which ended the year ranked No. 1 in its market 12+, according to Arbitron. It's only the fourth station in the history of the format to achieve that and the only current station at that level. With most nominating individuals based in New York or Los Angeles, it's nice to see a small-market station get a deserving nod.

Also, special congratulations to KROQ/Los Angeles GM Trip Reeb, who was nominated in the General Manager Of The Year national category.

Most Added is the total number of new adds officially reported to R&R by each reporting station. Songs unreported as adds do not count toward overall total stations playing a song. Most Increased Plays lists the songs with the greatest week-to-week increases in total plays. Weighted chart appears on R&R ONLINE MUSIC TRACKING.

80 Alternative reporters. Monitored airplay data supplied by Mediabase Research, a division of Premiere Radio Networks. Songs ranked by total plays for the airplay week of Sunday 4/9-Saturday 4/15. Bullets appear on songs gaining plays or remaining flat from previous week. If two songs are tied in total plays, the song being played on more stations is placed first. Breaker status is assigned to songs reaching 1000 plays or more for the first time. Songs below No. 20 are moved to recurrent after 20 weeks. Gross Impressions equals Average Quarter Hour Persons times number of plays (times 100). SUPERGRASS

Track: "PUMPING ON YOUR STEREO"

LP: SUPERGRASS

Label: ISLAND/IDJMG

By Jeanette Grgurevic

Asst. Alternative Editor

essentials: Since 1995, Supergrass — Gaz Coombes, vocals/guitar; Danny Goffey, drums; and Mick Quinn, bass — have made three albums, all of which have been certified platinum in the U.K. From 1995's U.K. hit single "Alright" to 1997's "Richard III," Supergrass have had their fans coming back for more. Now Supergrass deliver another great song, "Pumping on Your Stereo," from their new, self-titled album.

It all began at Wheatly Park Comprehensive in Oxford, England in February of 1993, when Goffey and Coombes put together a four-piece band called The Jennifers. The Jennifers were signed to Nude Records at about the same time that Suede were signed, but released only one single before they broke up.

It wasn't long after that breakup that Goffey and Coombes met Quinn at a local restaurant, only to find out that he attended the same school. The three formed Theodore Supergrass, but dropped the "Theodore" quicker than they had thought it up.

Supergrass found themselves playing their first live show to a herd of cows, but it wasn't too long after that first show that they were playing to a herd of A&R execs. They were signed to Parlophone in October of '94.

"Pumping on Your Stereo" was released in the U.K. in May of 1999 and quickly climbed the British charts. In conjunction with the release of the single, the band released a hilarious video created by the Jim Henson Creature Shop of Muppets fame. Look for Supergrass shows in the States from April through the end of May.

POV: (A British magazine on Supergrass live) "Supergrass sounded increasingly capable of standing next to classic bands like Pink Floyd and The Who and taking them out."

Joel Habbeshaw ON THE RECORD

There are a handful of cool songs radio is playing right now that I think sound great on the air. A couple of examples are Disturbed's "Stupify," Moby's "Porcelain," Blink-182's "Adam's Song" and "Aliens Exist," Incubus' acoustic version of "Pardon Me" and Limp Bizkit's "Break Stuff." ■ A lot of stations I've talked to lately are telling me that they're really into Catherine Wheel's "Sparks Are Gonna Fly," Dynamite Hack's "Boyz-N-The-Hood" and Metallica's "I Disappear," but I think A Perfect Circle's "Judith" has been mentioned the most to me. Also, many of the programmers I have spoken with are excited about all the big-name acts who are releasing new material. ■ On a personal level, I really like the A and Travis albums. The Hippos' single "Wasting My Life" is another cool track, as well as the William Orbit "Adagio for Strings" remixes, Elwood's "Sundown," Catherine Wheel, the DJ Merritt mix on the Cornerstone sampler and Primal Scream's "Swastika Eyes."

Well, just when I think I've figured out the format, you radio folk go out and surprise me. In the past Alternative has been pretty aggressive in dropping artists who have moved a little too heavily into the Pop/AC arena. Despite cries of protest from some corners of the industry, I kind of assumed that this strategy was written in stone for the format. Well, throw that assumption out the window as matchbox twenty come in with more than two-thirds of the panel in their first week for a total of 48 adds. Perhaps the reason that this band, who are firmly entrenched in the Pop formats, did so well this week is that they put out a great rock song. Whatever the reason, all I know is that the song didn't sound out of place at all on KROQ as I was returning to it in my car the other day... Creed are a band who know how to write hit songs. End of story. "With Arms Wide Open" pulls in 27 adds this week, bringing the total to 59... After a period of sales doldrums, The Offspring pretty much turned things around for the format with the release of their album American. Their latest song keeps their momentum going, as "Totalimmortal" pulls in 17 adds... I was lucky enough to be one of the first in the country to hear two of my favorite new releases. The first was A Perfect Circle, and I'm excited that radio is embracing them. Their song "Judith" pulls in 12 adds and moves 42"-23". I was also lucky enough to hear the new Deftones this past week and it will certainly be one of the biggest songs of the next six months. Keep a lookout for it, you'll be glad you did... Supergrass "Pumping on Your Stereo" is one of the catches songs on the radio right now, and it's getting major exposure through MTV, where it is one of the network's 10 most-played videos...

ON THE RADIO by Jim Kerr

I never thought Phish would do it, but they have released not just a damn good song, but a radio-friendly one in "Heavy Things"... Ben Harper has been releasing killer records for a while now, and I'm happy to see that radio is wholeheartedly embracing "Steal My Kisses"... You gotta love a band who cover "Shout" by Tears For Fears on their album, especially when they are a kick-ass rock band like Disturbed. "Stupify" is officially on 12 stations, including WRAX/Birmingham and KTEG/Albuquerque... Finally, baby bands Dynamite Hack and 3under make the Most Added list behind good buzz. RECORD OF THE WEEK: Moby "Porcelain"

Saluting AA's Best

In just eight weeks the top talents in the record and radio industries will be honored with R&R Industry Achievement Awards. For Adult Alternative, the actual awards are just an aside to the nominations, for the nominations show that stations dedicated to providing original, unique programming tailored to their own markets can still thrive in a world of homogenization.

Here are the nominees for the third annual R&R Industry Achievement Awards. Now it's up to you to decide who takes home that ultracool Blue Bird radio. Eligible voters will receive a ballot with this week's issue. Complete the ballot, return it, and join us at the Century Plaza Hotel in Los Angeles for R&R Convention 2000: On-Air/Online, set for June 14-17, to see who wins.

"...When all is said and done, Glimmer is certain to be a pivotal record in Richey's career. A soaring pop track like "The Way It Never Was" - and several others on the album - scream for the kind of breakout radio play that made Shawn Colvin a household name..."

29 Adult Alternative reporters. Monitored airplay data supplied by Mediabase Research, a division of Premiere Radio Networks. Songs ranked by total plays for the airplay week of Sunday 4/9-Saturday 4/15. Bullets appear on songs gaining plays or remaining flat from previous week. If two songs are tied in total plays, the song being played on more stations is placed first. Breaker status is assigned to songs reaching 250 plays or more for the first time. Songs below No. 20 are moved to recurrent after 20 weeks. Gross Impressions equals Average Quarter Hour Persons times number of plays (times 100). Average Quarter Hour Persons used herein with permission from The Arbitron Company (Copyright 2000, The Arbitron Company). © 2000, R&R Inc.

Publisher's Profile

By Erica Farber

BOB FULLER

Consultant; Former President/CEO Fuller-Jeffrey Broadcasting

Bob Fuller cannot remember a time when he didn't want to be in radio. While other 12-year-olds were out playing ball, Fuller imagined his own radio group and actually prepared P&L and operating statements. Having been a disc jockey and PD and having held various sales and marketing positions, Fuller made his dream of being an owner a reality in his early 30s with his first acquisition. Over the years his company, Fuller-Jeffrey Broadcasting, grew and thrived. Then, when consolidation came about, he, like many independent owners, decided to sell.

In 1999 Fuller sold Fuller-Jeffrey to Citadel for $65 million. In the same year he was inducted into the Maine Association of Broadcasters Hall of Fame and was honored as Broadcaster of the Year by the New Hampshire Association of Broadcasters.

How his fascination with radio began: "Around age 9 or 10 I started watching a lot of TV and listening to Boston radio. I grew up on a farm in Newbury, MA and knew early on it was not what I wanted to do with my life. A guy had applied to build a new station in Newburyport, the town next to me. I wrote him letters a couple of years prior to his getting a grant from the FCC. I started writing when I was 13 or 14. When he got the grant, I said, 'Here I am.' They gave me a job at WNBZ/Newburyport. The day it went on the air, I signed the station on. I was a junior in high school. Radio got in my blood and obviously never left."

Getting into ownership: "I always wanted to get into it. I got in the old-fashioned way, which was saving a little money from working for people. I saved $16,000 over five years working for Ralph Guild, and then for Chuck Blore and Ken Draper in Hollywood as a national sales manager for their syndication company. When I was 33 or 34, I said, 'It's now or never.' I found a virtually bankrupt station in Maine. The owner wanted to sell us a minority interest, but I wanted to be in control. About a year after we first started talking, he said, 'I've had it; you can have it!' I took my 16 grand and borrowed another eight, then J.J. [Jeffery] came up with 24 grand, and we bought WPLM, which was then in a house trailer 36 miles outside of Portland. That was the beginning."

State of the industry: "Radio has survived many technology threats over the past 50 years. I remember when we thought television and automobile cassettes and MTV would kill us. I really don't see why it can't continue to prosper. It does concern me that the same ownership opportunities that were there for me don't really exist in the large and medium markets anymore, but that doesn't mean that social engineering should create LPFMs either."

Deciding to sell his company: "That's a long story.

If I stayed in, I felt I would have to grow the company. If we didn't grow, we could have just paid down debt and had next to none in a few years. But it had become harder to grow within my comfort of a control structure. Being the type of guy who likes to build things, I was frustrated. I agonized over the decision for about two years. I was emotionally attached to those stations because of the way I started and the people. I actually went off twice to retreats to be by myself to try to find the answer.

"One morning in March of '99 I woke up and said, 'It's time.' We had several unsolicited formal offers, and we had had many informal offers over the last few years. Three of the offers I got were for more money than Citadel paid, and one was for a lot more, but I had done a deal with Larry Wilson in the early '90s in Modesto, and he did everything he said he'd do. I wanted to turn the company over to good people. That was more important to me than a few more million dollars. There was no one telling me I had to get the last nickel out of it. We did the whole contract, from a handshake to FCC filing, in 13 days."

The board of Citadel: "When I sold to Larry, the Citadel board seat was not part of my deal. I had a consulting deal with them where I would help now and then with some acquisition stuff or anything else that he might call me and ask me to do. But a few months after we closed, he asked me to be on the board, replacing Patricia Dennis-Diaz. I consider it a great honor. It sounds corny, but I mean that. I hope I can give a viewpoint to Citadel that's helpful for its continued success. Radio is a people biz, and Larry Wilson is not only a great guy, he's a people person. That's why I like being involved with someone like that."

Continued ownership: "I own the station where I started my career. I bought it a year ago — WNBZ. It has three full-time and two part-time staff. I've gone full circle. Part of it was that I lived there and felt I should have the station. I also feel it's a way to give back to the community. We do our own digital format, sort of like the old WQEW, 'American Standards,' and we do a lot of local news. It's great for me to be able to be of service to the community, and it's a lot of fun!"

Challenges facing the industry: "It comes down to the bottom line. In the long run localism will provide the best route. If stations don't get involved in their communities, they're not going to be the leaders. Overcommercialization is already hurting, with the policies of some companies just to satisfy Wall Street. I think you have to have the balls to crank up the rates rather than increase inventory."

Thoughts on the Internet: "First of all, I'm a latecomer. Only in the last year or so have I become computer-literate, so I'm just beginning to learn about this. A lot of this is still too early to have an answer I can feel confident in. I don't think anybody really knows. Even people who are pretty knowledgeable about this don't seem to talk much about it. There's so much there on the horizon, and the future is so complex. I can't honestly say I have an answer."

Most influential individual: "Ralph Guild had a lot of influence on me in many ways. He was always very outwardly optimistic. Even in the worst of times he always found a way to come back bigger than before. If you said, for example, 'You know, Ralph, it's tough to compete in Bakersfield with 15 stations,' his answer would be, 'But somebody's winning.' Ralph also showed me how to buy stations with no money back in the '60s. He set an example that you could start with nothing, as I did, and make it big."

"Also, Ralph's former radio partner, the late George Fritzinger. Academically and athletically, he was everything I wasn't — All-American at Annapolis and Harvard Business School and all that. Ironically, we disagreed on some ways of doing business, but there was a great love and respect for each other about our success. His and Ralph's pictures hang on my office wall."

Career highlight: "I was able to succeed at things that most people didn't see much future in. We took what some might call 'dog' sticks in Sacramento and Portland, ME and Des Moines and Portsmouth, NH and Pueblo, CO and other markets, and in most cases made them No. 1 in their markets. Out of the roughly 30 stations we owned over the years, we only had two markets where we didn't set the world on fire. Another highlight was the satisfaction of seeing our people grow and the great loyalty of these people, especially in times when I needed them more than they needed me. That I will never forget, quite frankly."

Career disappointment: "Like a lot of people, we were overburdened with debt in the early '90s and couldn't make some of the moves I would have liked to. There was a bunch of stuff I would have liked to have done then, but couldn't. I didn't listen to my instincts and gut, and I didn't make format changes in Modesto and Santa Rosa, CA when I should have. It's also a disappointment when I say or do something stupid. I'm an old Yankee, and we're all hard on ourselves. On the other hand, considering that I have a doctorate from the College of Hard Knocks, I guess I can humbly say we did OK. I also believe that we never arrive in life; it keeps going on."

Favorite radio format: "Classic Country and Classic Rock. I also find myself listening to more News and Talk and Sports Talk these days."

Favorite television show: "I mostly watch CNN, CNBC, Red Sox baseball and the Golf Channel."

Favorite song: "Linda' by Buddy Clark and the version by Jan & Dean, for my lovely wife, Linda. And 'I Gotta Be Me' by Sammy Davis Jr."

Favorite movie: "Classics of the '40s and '50s, most Sinatra movies and, of course, all the James Bond stuff."

Favorite book: "The Art of Joyful Living by Swami Rama."

Favorite restaurant: "Fore Street in Portland, ME and Street & Co. They're owned by the same company, not far from the waterfront."

Beverage of choice: "Poland spring water in the daytime and a good cabernet or merlot with dinner."

Hobbies: "Golf. I'm not that good, but it's been great for me, especially to play with my son. I was a railroad buff till I got too busy in radio. Now that I've got more time, I'm getting back into the romance of railroads. I like to travel, especially to London and Europe. And I've been a runner since 1974."

Stock recommendation: "It sounds self-serving, but Citadel. I think it's a great company. That's my own selfish feeling. I am a stockholder, but not a major holder."

E-mail address: "rfdoc@seacoast.com."

Plans for the future: "Helping Larry when he wants me and where I can help is important to me. Also, for the first time in 25 years of ownership, slowing down from 100 miles an hour to 55 and looking at things from a new perspective. When you've sat in a CEO chair for 25 years, it takes a while to find that new perspective. I plan to give back to the community, like I am with this local station, and to try to learn to relax. But I like to build things, so that may not be easy."
