SAY IT LOUD...

BARRY MAYO

Make no mistake about it. What we have been about - and will continue to be about - is promoting a more positive image for black radio. Among ourselves and in the eyes of the industry which black radio has long and faithfully served.

More than nine years ago, when we named this publication, "Black Radio Exclusive," we fully understood that it wasn't a very popular term in those days. Some called it "r&b" or "disco" radio. But whatever the code, it translated second-class/not as good as/or not good enough. And far too many of us had even less self-respect than we got from the industry.

So it was with a special sense of pride, gratification - and yes, I'll admit it, vindication - that I sat in on a seminar recently at the NRBA/NAB-sponsored Radio '85 in Dallas and listened as Barry Mayo responded to an inquiry on how he was winning in urban contemporary radio.

"First of all," he replied, "I am a former programmer who is now a general manager. But I don't manage an 'urban contemporary' station. I manage a black station."

Mayo left no doubt in the minds of all those present that he is a part of the 'new breed' in black radio for whom success has not blurred identity. And who are thereby ushering in a long-overdue era of respect and solidarity in an industry environment in which pockets of hostility still exist.

But we in black radio know who we are. And soon everybody else will, too. See you in Hilton Head!

SO LET'S TALK ABOUT LABELS AND CHOICE

by Ruth A. Robinson

It's an interesting place to be - on the horns of a dilemma. These particular horns are poking into the protection of children on the one hand and creative and First Amendment rights on the other. Both of these concern me. I'm a parent and I'm a writer.

Of course, I'm one of the Musical Majority - the new organization headed by Gold Mountain Records owner, Danny Goldberg. I remember some people wagged their little heads when Ray Charles recorded a song that he and I wrote entitled, "I Can Make it Through the Days, But Oh, the Lonely Nights." It talked a lot about "burn-in' night lights" and related problems of making it alone through the night. Perhaps my lyrics were more implicit than explicit, but that's because I chose to write them that way. Choice is the key word here - irrevocably linked to freedom, as in "freedom of choice." As a people, we are exceptionally good at resisting attempts to fool with that freedom.

On the other hand, I'm certain I'd have problems if a six-year-old daughter came home quoting some of Prince's fancier stuff, if you know what I mean...

Here's the rub. When you start to censor anything, it leads to bigger and bolder and badder moves. In Germany, they burned books. One of the books they burned was a best seller called the Bible. Maybe they thought it was too sexually explicit. After all, everybody was 'begatting' everybody. And we all know where 'sodomy' came from. That's what they were doing in Sodom and Gomorrah.

Goes back again to choice. I will not have anyone tell me what to choose by labeling the contents. But then I've never liked labels. To me, they are the real dirty words, like 'nigger,' 'wop,' 'spic,' 'kike,' etc.

From this word merchant, a word of advice to the PMRC. Look after your own households and all the words your children hear. Including those labels above.

DAVIS BEARS GIFT FOR WHITNEY AT THE GREEK

Arista president Clive Davis surprised Whitney Houston on stage at the Greek Theatre in L.A. when he came out to present her with a platinum album representing over a million sales of her chart-topping debut Arista LP, Whitney Houston, with its back-to-back hit singles "You Give Good Love" and "Saving All My Love For You." Houston will soon begin a series of headlining concert dates, including a performance at NY's Carnegie Hall.

IF DIRECTORS COULD KILL...

No, folks, RCA's Nona Hendryx is not facing the guillotine. She's just being positioned for the final (not really...) shot of the video of her new single, "If Looks Could Kill (D.O.A.)," from her just released RCA album, The Heat. We'll all have to wait and see if fair Nona survived the production.

L.A. MAYOR TOM BRADLEY SUPPORTS RECORDING INDUSTRY EFFORTS TO BLOCK STICKERING

Los Angeles: With the U.S. Constitution First Amendment rights in mind, L.A. Mayor Tom Bradley held a press conference on Monday to announce his stand against those seeking to censor music lyrics.

Bradley was joined at his City Hall press conference by executives and members of the recording industry, all seeking to urge parental control over what music youths listen to.

He said, "Censorship doesn't work, it's un-American."

Sexual or violence-oriented lyrics in music most recently fell into the political limelight when Washington-based activist group the Parents Music Resource Center (PMRC) attempted to engage Congress in their efforts to clean up music lyrics.

Many members of the PMRC include the wives of several congressional and Reagan Administration officials.

Several public officials have rallied to support the PMRC's drive in media statements.

Bradley and former Democratic vice presidential candidate Geraldine Ferraro are among the most visible politicians to speak out against a proposed ratings system that would lead to the stickering of all prerecorded music, much the same way as films are now rated.

At the urging of industry executives such as Irv Azoff, head of MCA Records and Gold Mountain Records chief Danny Goldberg, and artists such as Kim Carnes and Michael Des Barres, Bradley held the press conference during which he took a public pro-industry stand.

NABOB CONFAB ADDRESSES OWNERSHIP AND ADVERTISING OPPORTUNITIES

Washington D.C.: "Takeovers, Mergers and Spinoffs--Are Minorities Being Excluded Again?" was the theme of the Ninth Annual National Assn. of Black-Owned Broadcasters (NABOB).

Held Sept. 25-27 at the Sheraton-Washington Hotel here, the confab addressed issues concerning the current economic and political climate and how it will affect the survival and growth of black broadcasting ownership.

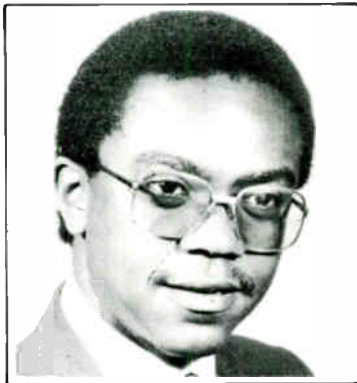

According to NABOB executive director Jim Winston, second-day keynote speaker, Frank Mingo of Mingo/Jones Advertising, discussed areas where black broadcasters and advertisers could work more closely.

"His primary point was that black broadcasters should be aware of the changing political climate and be prepared to develop their businesses accordingly," Winston said.

Mingo also said, according to Winston, that black broadcasters will only be attractive to potential advertisers if they can show that they can deliver the audience that advertisers want.

Winston said that those attending the confab would be working harder to pressure the Reagan administration to appoint a black to the Federal Communications Commission (FCC) seat recently vacated by Henry Rivera.

WBUS-FM SIGNS ON AS NEWEST BLACK FM'ER IN ATLANTA

MIKE ROBERTS

Atlanta: At press time, WBUS-FM, the newest entry in the Georgia capital's FM urban contemporary ratings race, was testing its equipment in preparation to go on the air. As it gears up for operation, the station could give longtime market leader WVEE (V-103) its first real challenge.

The Newnan, GA-based facility is owned by New Systems, a broadcasting consortium headquartered in Philadelphia and headed by Ragan Henry, former owner of the BENI broadcasting chain.

Richard Greener will be at the helm of the WBUS staff as General Manager. Mike Roberts, veteran broadcaster and former Operations Manager and air talent at WIGO, has come on board as Program Director, while filling the morning air slot.

According to Roberts, B. J. Taylor will serve as Music Director and mid-day air personality, reprising her most recent position at WBLX-FM in Mobile.

Other staff appointments announced by Roberts include his former WIGO station mates Carol Blackmon and Roger Henderson; Michael Gamble, who comes over from WAOK; and Ken Tobin from WIBB in Macon. Krista Fordham, formerly with WSB-FM, will be News Director.

CALL HIM "DR. JONES"

Washington: Quincy Jones - renowned composer, producer, arranger, conductor, instrumentalist and record company executive - can now add another accolade to that string of titles.

At Howard University's opening convocation on September 27, Jones was awarded the honorary degree of Doctor of Music. The citation acknowledged his widely acclaimed contributions working in practically every genre of music and in the media of records, live performances, movies, television and the theatre.

Jones has conducted, produced or composed and arranged for many of the top musicians of the recording industry, and written soundtracks for some 33 movies and many television shows. He has won 16 Grammy awards (out of 60 nominations) and received four Oscar nominations.

Jones also heads his own label, Qwest Records, a custom label of Warner Bros., and is currently producing his first movie, "The Color Purple," scheduled for release at the first of the year.

The university also conferred the honorary degree of doctor of laws on convocation keynoter Mayor Tom Bradley of Los Angeles.

APARTHEID AND RECORD RATINGS STIR NEW MUSIC SEMINAR

New York: Despite the fury of Gloria, the "gang of 4,000+" assembled at the Marriott Marquis Hotel in New York City last week for New Music Seminar 6, according to attendance figures cited by NMS founder Tom Silverman.

As expected, apartheid and record ratings were the industry issues which dominated the discussions. Keynote speakers Dick Griffey and Frank Zappa made strong cases for grass roots involvement at all levels of the industry to counteract the destructive forces unleashed by both the brutal South African system abroad and censorship here at home. Griffey, chairman of Solar Records, was particularly concerned that the industry use its powerful communicative abilities to create awareness, particularly among young people, about apartheid and other forms of "institutionalized racism." Griffey proposed that the industry support a cultural boycott of South Africa by donating all profits made in that country to anti-apartheid groups and promoting a media-wide awareness and fund-raising campaign on the issue.

For his part, Zappa warned against counter-organizing to combat proponents of record ratings. Instead, he recommended individual contacts with officials to make anti-censorship voices heard.

MCCLAIN UPPED TO VP - AT A&M

Hollywood: According to an announcement made recently by Jordan Harris, Vice President of A&R at A&M Records, John McClain has been promoted to the position of Vice President of Black A&R.

Since McClain joined the company in 1983, he has served as National Director of Black A&R.

MUSICVISION SET TO RELEASE FIVE NEW VIDS ON MUSIC ARTISTS

Videocassette packages by Arista recording artist Jermaine Jackson and a group of reggae artists, including Bob Marley, are slated for release in October.

"Dynamite Videos" is the title of a collection of clips by Jackson. Included in this first home package by the artist are four vids. "Dynamite," "Sweetest Sweetest," "When The Rain Begins to Fall" (which co-stars Pia Zadora) and "Do What You Do" comprise the package along with a special documentary on the making of the "Do What You Do" video.

The compilation "Island Reggae Greats" features clips with Toots and the Maytals, Black Uhuru, Aswad, Third World, Linton Kwesi Johnson and Marley.

Marley's "War/No More Trouble," "Now That We've Found Love" by Third World and Johnson's "The Great Resurrection" highlight this vid.

Clips by Dolly Parton, Ronnie Milsap and "The Best of Judy Garland" are also set for release during October.

The clips by Jackson, Milsap and the reggae artists will be available at a suggested retail price of $19.95 while the Parton and Garland collections will list at $29.95.

All the releases are available in VHS and Beta Hi-Fi.

Of course you remember your 3-D View-Master color slides depicting the story of Pinocchio or some historic geography like Mt. St. Helen's.

The company that produced that software and the binocular like viewer, View-Master International, has joined with Warner Bros. Records video department to produce what it hopes will be the most entertaining and educational children's video clips ever launched on the home market.

Working with Warner Bros. will be Together Again Productions (TAP), a video production company that started making conceptual rock videos back in 1975. In addition to the more than 500 rock videos the company has since produced, TAP also produces special programming for Home Box Office (HBO).

Warner Bros.' relationship with View-Master is one of supplier to distributor.

The record label's press spokesman, Bob Merlis, said that "View-Master has tremendous distribution ability in the kids' markets, and we'll be licensing them to sell product in the same toy and children's stores they sell to now."

Neither Warner Bros. nor View-Master are talking content at this time.

Although a separate event, Saban Productions' "Kids for Kids in Africa" music video project, which has been airing on NBC-TV Saturday mornings, is bound for the home market this Christmas.

Developed to raise funds for the young people of Africa, monies raised through sale of the video and a single of the session, which involved 72 young entertainers, will go directly to UNICEF for distribution to needy African youth.

The video runs approximately 25 minutes and will also include footage of the making of the video (sounds vividly familiar, huh?).

RIAA/VIDEO, the video division of the Recording Industry Assn. of America, recently announced that it will raise video certification levels and the addition of a new music video category, effective Oct. 1.

The new gold level for theatrical home video product has been upped to 75,000 units or a value of at least $3 million suggested retail value. Platinum awards in this category have been raised to 150,000 units or $6 million at suggested retail value.

The new gold level for non-theatrical home video product (non-music) is 30,000 units or a value of $1.2 million. For platinum, the level has been raised to 60,000 units or a value of $2.4 million at suggested retail value.

RIAA/VIDEO created the new non-theatrical music video certification category to address the expanded importance of music videos to the recording industry.

Gold music vid awards will go to those clips reaching sales levels of 25,000 units or a suggested retail value of $1 million.

Platinum awards will go to those music vid clips that attain sales of 50,000 units or $2 million at suggested retail value.

Any video title released prior to Oct. 1, 1985 will qualify under the new levels.

Titles which were previously certified by RIAA cannot be re-certified under the new criteria.

CHUCK GREEN, P.D., WEBB/BALTIMORE: BROADCASTING IN HIS VEINS

by Michael Martinez

Chuck Green, program director at Baltimore daytime AMer WEBB, has a lengthy career in broadcasting.

His aspirations to this career, as he tells the story, began at the age of three when he received his first record player.

"I've always enjoyed entertaining people," he told BRE recently. "I bought my first record when I was about five or six and was also singing in various gospel groups as a very young person."

By the time he had finished classes in 1965 at the National Academy of Broadcasting in the Baltimore area, Green was ready to take on an assignment at WIKI in the Chester-Richmond market.

"I had a shift from five to six a.m.," he recalls, "and then I returned to the station and handled air chores from four to seven p.m."

"I also mopped floors," he quipped.

But it was clearly the radio related chores that motivated Green.

It was in his blood. "My father (who left home when he was only three) was into broadcasting and operated a chain of record stores in the south," Green explained.

"It wasn't until 1968 at a NATRA convention that I met him following an awards ceremony.

"We talked and it was then I discovered that 'Big Foot' Saul was my father."

Green said that since then much has transpired in his career, but that in the last 10 years, his notoriety has gained ground beyond the mid-Atlantic market.

While in programming at Washington D.C. station WOL, Green said, "I made a lot of noise."

"I was the first in the country to start what is now known as the 'Quiet Storm' format.

"I called it 'For Lovers Only.' We went for ballads and softer soul.

"But we also had what was known as the 'Midday Party,' which was a slot where we played uptempo music, and recorded simulated party sounds to give the feeling of a live party behind the music."

Green continued, saying that so successful was the format that a local club, the Mark IV, began to actually have midday parties.

Green also joined the original KISS station, Washington D.C.'s WKYS, where he stayed until joining WEBB three years ago.

One year ago, he was named program director for the station.

Green calls the station

"unique" because it has been successful as a daytimer in that greater D.C./Baltimore market programming gospel from six to 10 a.m. before shifting gears into an adult contemporary format.

From 10 a.m. to three in the afternoon, WEBB has garnered lofty teen demographic response with its combination of oldies and current A/C hits. "We call that segment our 'Time Machine,'" Green explained.

"We play three oldies at the top of the hour, and then three more at the bottom," he continued.

The station has been successful enough that in the near future, WEBB will become a 24-hour station.

"We get a good response outside Baltimore, and have a strong audience in the Washington D.C. suburbs," Green said.

"It looks like we're about to move in to make a stronger commitment to the market," he said.

THE BAR-KAYS

By Leonard Pitts, Jr.

"As we all know, life is full of ups and downs," James Alexander is saying. "Living a life all one way - I don't think that would be all that interesting. We have a cult following that has existed for a long time. We're one of the few groups that can say proudly that we've had hits in the '60s, in the '70s, and in the '80s. We put a lot back into the community. We involve ourselves in a lot of community projects. Kids around here look at us as role models - not, per se because of the music, but because of our community involvement."

Despite the way it sounds, Alexander, the leader and bassist of the Bar-Kays, isn't a preacher, teacher or social activist. Rather, he's a musician - one who's made a habit of coming back against the odds.

With what can only be described as a quiet ferocity, the 'Kays have built themselves into one of black/urban radio's most durable and dependable units. They might not sell like Michael Jackson and they may not incite the manic, morbid fascination of a Prince, but they get the job done. They make hits. And it hasn't always been easy.

If you want to talk about Bar-Kay comebacks, you have to talk about the first one - December 10, 1967, when most of the original members crashed with Otis Redding into a freezing lake en route to an engagement. There was only one survivor of the crash, a man named Ben Cauley. Alexander missed the flight.

And then, in defiance of all common sense and wisdom, he rebuilt the band. And made it work. There have been other occasions over the years when Alexander's single-mindedness has served the band in good stead. When they've been criticized for lack of musical imagination, when records have not sold as well as the band would have hoped, even during Alexander's personal setbacks, they've always made the comeback. They've always been as dependable as the tax man and much more welcome. That, as Alexander sees it, "is the whole challenge of it all."

The latest "challenge" to the Bar-Kays is one they've barely raised a sweat over. Their current album, Banging The Wall (the cover of which makes that title painfully graphic) is one of the first to be slapped with a warning sticker in the wake of the controversy raised by the Parents Music Resource Center (PMRC) over so-called violent and sexually explicit lyrics.

Alexander is blithely unconcerned over the potential for negative sales fallout from the sticker. "It raises a few eyebrows," he admits, "(but) it has really not affected our music as such. Our music continues to grow. The audience continues to get bigger and bigger. The sticker has not affected us at all."

Which is not to say that he's thrilled to pieces to have his music singled out for this kind of attention. "We consider our work an art, so if someone comes along and tells us we have to do it this way or that way, that doesn't sit too well with us. It's almost like communism... (they tell you) when you can get up, when you can go to bed, this type of thing.

"We've talked to PolyGram about it and PolyGram was backed up into a corner. This is something that most of the major record companies, if your lyrics are a little risqué, have agreed to do. Basically, they are finding new ways to promote our music. It kind of worked out in a positive way for us, because it's making the record company promote us more than they normally have, for fear of the sticker."

But does Alexander go along with the implied point of view of that sticker - that Bar-Kay music is too strong for the kids to hear? "No. We didn't say any curse words," he notes. "We may have insinuated some things, but we didn't say any foul language on any of our songs. I think it (PMRC) is a bunch of people that really don't have very much else to do, so now they're going to attack the music world."

As a veteran of many of those "attacks" and adversities, Alexander doesn't seem to spend much time dwelling on them. Rather, he's about the business of recording a next album with his band and planning a small tour - maybe 40 dates as opposed to the group's usual 140. Additionally, he's at work on a project for a Tulsa, Okla.-based group of brothers called Mason. He says their album should be in the bins by the first of the year. Then, there's production work on an album by the band Kwick which, according to Alexander, will be released soon on PolyGram.

"My day starts early and it goes real late," says Alexander. "I work long hours, just working to stay visible and to stay a part of the marketplace and to broaden ourselves in the marketplace for years to come. We feel that we've been around for a long time and we feel that we'll be around for a long time in the future."

After all these years, what keeps Alexander coming back? What keeps him believing in that future?

"I have that drive. I have the urge to succeed. The force is with me - the force being the man upstairs. He has shown me the way. The best is yet to come."

THE REAL ROXANNE SAGA CONTINUES IN COURT

by Michael Martinez

Will the Real Roxanne please stand up! That request may eventually come from a federal judge as Elisee Jack and her mother, Ruth Jack, have filed suit in the U.S. District Court of Manhattan against Select Records, which released UTF0 and Roxanne's huge hit single, "Roxanne, Roxanne" last December.

Jack is alleging that Select has been negligent in administering business with Jack, who claims to be "The Real Roxanne."

Jack and her attorneys are claiming that the singer has had to bill herself in live performance as "The Original Roxanne" since Select replaced her with another singer in the Roxanne role.

Jack left Select to sign with Specific Records, based in Englewood, N.J.

Jack alleges that after she left Select, the label found someone else to record a subsequent 12" single under "The Real Roxanne" moniker while the initial single was still selling.

At issue is the payment of royalties for the singer and the right to continue her trade as Roxanne.

In unrelated legal wrangling, Select Records has filed suit in federal court against some dozen record companies who seized upon the Roxanne phenomenon to release answer records in that mold.

Select, UTF0 and Full Force (namely Full Force's percussionist B-Fine, who helped pioneer the idea) are seeking damages, recovery of legal fees and other expenses from the myriad of defendants named in the suit.

Among the defendants are Compleat Records, which released the compilation LP, "The Complete Story of Roxanne."

Select and the other parties are also seeking to enjoin other companies from continuing to press and sell the disputed titles.

There are an estimated 33 Roxanne titles in circulation at present.

Indie shorts: Paulstarr Enterprises Inc., a national record and tape distribution company, was recently opened by record industry veteran Joe Cerami.

Cerami recently resigned his post of vice president/general manager of K-Tel International subsidiary Dominion Music.

Paulstarr is basing its operations and offices in California, Minnesota and Wisconsin... Visionary Records, a young label based in Pittsburgh, has just released an LP by pop jazzist Max Leake, titled (get this) "Buns In The Sun."

It is a light jazz, heavy pop album which has already gained ground at some urban stations in the Northeast.

"Street Strut" is the single gaining the most attention at radio.

ZAPP

IT REALLY DOESN'T MATTER
WB 7-28879

Wacky, wild, and up-beat, Roger and Zapp Troutman party in thier exclusive style using loose, freaky drum beats and the ubiquitous vocorder sequences. This happy groove makes it impossible to stand still. Demos: Young adults, dancers, teens.

TEDDY PENDERGRASS

NEVER FELT LIKE DANCIN'
ASYLUM 7-69595

Teddy offers a gutsy vocal performance on this mid tempo composition. Relying on the yearning romantic flavorings that this performer has made a classic style of, the tune is backed by adept synth programming and arrangements. Demos: Females, young adults.

BLACK AND WHITE
SUGARHILL 92019

Patto mixes sly street rap advise with a sort of sixties tinged minor key chorus section. Horns and a dance oriented beat add a sense of fullness, with organ solos and the hookish chorus filling in the rest. Demos: Young adults, teens.

NARADA MICHAEL WALDEN

HIGH ABOVE THE CLOUDS
WB 7-28893

Ex fusion jazz drummer walden has picked up considerable production skills, this pop/urban flavored jam has "the sound" and the feel for success. The Police style arrangement and mainstream sound should add another notch to Michael's post! Demos: Expanded young adults.

THE WINANS

LET MY PEOPLE GO
QWEST 7-28874

The main point here seems to be The Winans soulful R&B vocal stylings, here backed by acoustic piano in a rolling mid tempo pace. The message gets across in no uncertain terms...stop apartied now!!! Demos: Young adults.

12"

MEGA-byTE

CHASIN' THE ROCK
STREET PEOPLE 2111

Hope this isn't the story of anyone you know, Mega-byte comes down hard on the elusive rock and it's pathetic devotees. Big beat drums and slithering synth lines back up the Run-D.M.C. style rap, getting to the heart of the problem. Demos: Dancers.

HANCOCK'S V.S.O.P. SWOON, DON'T ROCK, UNIVERSAL AMPHITHEATRE

Although he has gained Grammy accolades for his rock/funk/third world fusion, Herbie Hancock led one of his coveted V.S.O.P. aggregations through an enthralling set of jazz standards.

Joined by Weather Report veteran Wayne Shorter on tenor and soprano sax, Ron Carter on stand up bass, and Tony Williams on drums, Hancock served up some polytonal post-bop music that showed all the players at their best.

The only-half-full Universal Amphitheatre audience responded enthusiastically to some Miles Davis influenced tunes and songs of Hancock, Shorter and Williams.

Tunes such as Shorter's "Footprints," Davis' "Walkin'," and Williams' "Sister Cheryl" paced the set.

Shorter largely relied on his interpretative energies to give dimension to this sophisticated music, while Hancock got the opportunity to soar through pyrotechnic solos with a zeal unmatched by any of his electronic work.

Williams and Garter consistently supplied clean, precise rhythm paces and flowed through the myriad tempo changes while providing melodic colors of their own.

As Hancock said during the set, "I have to do this every now and then 'cause it's fun."

It's also what shows the pianist at his creative best.

Playboy Enterprises, gearing up for its Seventh Annual Playboy Jazz Festival to be held June 14-15, 1986, recently announced that actor/comedian Bill Cosby will return for his sixth appearance as MC.

In related news, Playboy has announced discovery of 16 original tapes containing 19 hours of Playboy's inaugural festival held August 7-9, 1959 at Chicago Stadium.

Transferred and digitally improved, Playboy is now investigating possible classic jazz releases from these recordings.

MC Mort Sahl and artists the late Count Basie, The Four Freshman, Dakota Staton, Dizzy Gillespie, Dave Brubeck, Miles Davis, the late Duke Ellington, Oscar Peterson, Ahmad Jamal, Stan Kenton, Nina Simone, Sonny Rollins, J.J. Johnson, Coleman Hawkins, the late Louis Armstrong, Ella Fitzgerald and others are featured in the recordings.

Midwest Report

by Jerome Simmons

Here's an update on the Midwest Radio & Music Conference to be held here in Chicago on Nov. 7,8,9, 1985. I would first like to thank the many record companies who have agreed to sponsor various affairs. From all indications, it looks as if the Conference will be highly successful.

The latest schedule for the Conference looks like this. On Nov. 7, we will hold an invitation-only record hop featuring music from the 50's, 60's, and 70's. The affair will be used to raise money for the United Way and the United Negro College Fund. Tickets will be ten dollars for invited guests and free to registered guests at the Conference. Everyone will be asked to dress in what they were wearing when they were in high school. For folks the age of Dave Clark, dress will be optional...

Seminars will begin on Friday, Nov. 8. Seminars will cover computers, marketing and management, the new technology, programming (techniques for winning!), and job security.

On Nov. 9, our awards dinner will honor the giants of the industry with over 25 years of service. Our honorees, to date, are Egmont Sonderling, Sonderling Broadcasting; Ernie Leaner, retired entrepreneur; Wally Phillips, WGN Radio; Mary Bell, WJZZ Radio; Marty Faye, WBEE Radio; Herb Kent, WGCJ Radio; Clark Webber, WIND Radio; Smokey Robinson, entertainer.

Our Exhibit Hall will feature the best of company videos and high tech equipment. The Exhibit area will be open to the general public and publicized as such. We expect some 2000 visitors to view the exhibits.

We will conclude our Conference Nov. 10, with a live broadcast that will offer a public forum on "Lyrics in Records." The broadcast will be on WBMX's Sunday Morning Live featuring the Rev. Jesse Jackson. We will expect some 500 persons to participate in the forum.

The Midwest Radio & Music Conference hopes you will make your plans to attend. Registration fees are $75.00 early registration until October 25, 1985. Late registration will be $100.00. Hotel rooms are $65.00 per night. For phone reservation (credit card only), call (312) 488-5703. Hotel reservations (800) 621-6909, in Illinois, (312) 791-1901.

For additional information, call or write MIDWEST RADIO & MUSIC CONFERENCE, 456 E. 79th ST, Chicago, IL 60619, (312) 488-6704.

The three hot places to be in L.A. last weekend were Bruce Springsteen's concert at the Coliseum, the Street Scene and the 'Tops and "Temps show at the Amphitheatre.

Just for old times sake, I chose the T 'n' T show - and certainly was not disappointed. The crowd response reminded me of a time when nothing was more important than how the audiences responded to what a bunch of kids from Detroit were doing up on stage that night. How much love we got from the crowds meant more than air to us.

There was a lot of love in the Amphitheatre last Friday and the terrific Four Tops and Temptations took us all back in time...

Chaka Khan is very busy these days. Not only does she have a single on MCA's "Miami Vice" soundtrack and WB's "Krush Groove" movie soundtrack but will also have a release on the scheduled October release on Atlantic Records of the original motion picture soundtrack of "White Knights." A Columbia Pictures release starring Mikhail Baryshnikov and Gregory Hines, the soundtrack will also include offerings from Roberta Flack, Nile Rodgers, David Foster and the theme song "Separate Lives" from Phil Collins and Marilyn Martin. Motown Records, who is also involved in this deal, has released the Lionel Richie single from the movie entitled "Say You, Say Me" which is also creating in-

It's also interesting that during the same week, a major local publication chose to do a piece on former Temps members, Eddie Kendricks and David Ruffin. To paraphrase what Eddie said in the final paragraph of that interview, there is something magic about being a part of the Temptations and it does follow you for your lifetime.

If you missed the recent Magnum Soul Food Festival at Jackie Robinson Park, you also missed rousing performances by Stevie Wonder and Bill Withers. KJLH, KDAY, KJOY, KACE and other associates initiated the affair whose proceeds went to the fight against sickle cell and the turnout was an inspiration for anyone who says we don't support our own.

Seen in the crowd were the likes of Natalie Cole, George Clinton, Durell Coleman, Pennye Ford, Krystal, The Rose Brothers and Leslie Uggams.

We will refrain from naming those who had barbecue sauce running off the ends of their elbows...Other performers munching up were model Teal Marchand and actors Fred Berry ("Rerun" himself), Stack Pierce and Taurean Blacque.

I hope "Hill Street Blues" star Blacque truly enjoyed himself during the festival, since it's certain that nobody at Hill Street was doing much celebrating the next night. Once the absolute king of the Emmys, that show walked away with one lone trophy.

But there was a second Emmy awarded to Motown Productions for "Motown Returns to the Apollo." Hats off for a well deserved honor. But the question then just might be, since Motown went to 25; then to the Apollo, where is it going in search of another Emmy?

While we're asking...Is the real reason music is being bad rapped in Washington because it has become such a strong tool for social justice? There have always been objectionable lyrics in songs, but so have there been on TV and in the movies. No Washington wives are saying much about that...hmmm.

QUESTION OF THE WEEK: Can the music industry do what big business and the government cannot or will not do - make a difference for freedom in South Africa?

terest for the film which will not even premiere until November 15.

ABC-TV's "Loveboat" series is visited by Stephanie Mills this fall in her first prime t.v. dramatic role. She will be bringing her dancing skills as well as her acting and singing and perform Duke Ellington's classic, "It Don't Mean A Thing (If It Ain't Got That Swing)." Her appearance should coincide with her next release - her debut on her new label, MCA.

In Emmy land with "The Bill Cosby Show" receiving top awards again, Geffen Records has landed a coup in signing Cos to a recording contract to include his wife Camille as producer. Release of the comedy album should be around spring of '86 to coincide with release of his new Doubleday book on fatherhood. Geffen, which is distributed by WB, actually marks a homecoming for Cosby who has recorded over 20 albums on various labels.

Cosby will also host the upcoming film fund gala in NYC on October 23 at which Harry Belafonte will receive the "Arts and Justice" award for his contributions to USA For Africa.

Double congratulations to Orchid Public Relations. First, Orchid founder Sheila Eldridge delivered a 6 lb. 12 oz boy on September 16 whom she named Brent Numar Neighbors. Secondly, Milton Allen receives congratulations on his marriage this past weekend to WBLS personality Pat Prescott.

WBLS just finished a "Kiss Busters" contest in NYC and received thanks from arch-rival Barry Mayo at WRKS who stopped by their contest celebration at the Red Parrot to personally thank WBLS for his boost in the advance ratings thanks to their erstwhile promotion.

Has Prelude moved?? Speaking of moving, have you heard of Russell Simmons real estate deal: buy one, get one free.

PolyGram's October promises to be very interesting. Stopping in at Ralph MacDonald's listening party in NYC, one heard their first "Surprise," MacDonald's album title which sounds like a winner. The first single, entitled "Laying In His Arms," features a delightful MacDonald discovery named Yogi Lee who was brought to MacDonald's attention by his son Anthony.

ARIES

In your mid-year you will find that you have to be more cost conscious in business as well as personal finances. Credit cards that seem too ready need to be put aside.

TAURUS

Strong emotions prevail this week as the moon moves in your sign. Communicate with close relations and let them know how you feel.

GEMINI

Tune into the unconscious feelings you have toward those around with you and decide on constructive ways to release these emotions.

CANCER

Your lack of confidence is holding you back; consult with friends and look for opportunities to excel.

LEO

The advancement of those around you should not cause you jealousy and envy. Be proud of their achievements and be patient regarding your own advancement.

VIRGO

The introspective period you've been in needs to be replaced with action.

LIBRA

You're always working for someone else and not forging your own trail. Examine your desires and goals.

SCORPIO

Seeking power merely for the sake of power can be ruinous to your career; look at the whole picture and try to establish the best run TEAM.

SAGITTARIUS

Separation of home and office is a must. Look for new surroundings as well.

CAPRICORN

Stick with your projects and prove that you can do it. Don't let premature criticism stop you, but use the criticism to guide you to completion.

AQUARIUS

Don't let anxieties build up because you haven't been able to finish your projects. You have to move at your pace, not others.

PISCES

Your natural inclination to listen to others always make you valued, but for inner satisfaction, you have to learn to assert your personality as well.
