U.K.Retailers Swinging to Self-Service to Hike Profit

run by a manager, and two assis-

CHELTENHAM, England-The future pattern of record retailing in Britain may see a large-scale switch to self-service methods as a means of combating decreasing profit margins and non-availability of knowledgeable counter staff.

However, it was made evident at the annual conference of the Music Trades Association here, that the changeover is taking place slowly because dealers were concerned about the effect of pilfering on their profits.

EMI's marketing director John Fruin estimated that an efficiently operated self-service store, could produce a turnover of $120,000 a year. He based his figures on EMI's retail experience and added that a transfer from traditional methods in unchanged conditions (the same premises) should increase the annual gross by 30 per cent. He thought that self-service provided the answer to a number of problems facing the retailer, including how to increase turnover, coping with shortage of staff and providing maximum area for display.

As an answer to containing pilfering within a maximum upper level of 3 per cent, Fruin impressed the need for the staff be constantly circulating.

"Once customers see this is not happening, you will be milked heavily until you have made a series of expensive prosecutions-which themselves are not necessarily the answer," he Fruin noted that EMI had suffered heavily in one of its own retail outlets by failing to appreciate this lesson. He added that the company's major Oxford Street store, which unsuccessfully experimented with selfservice about 12 years ago, was now being replanned to revert to this form of trading.

Three dealers, detailing their personal experiences, guardedly came out in favor of the basic

Capitol Riding With LP's as Opener to Acts

By ELIOT TIEGEL

LOS ANGELES-Capitol is emphasizing albums, rather than singles, by new, untested artists. Other labels are going the same route. The move breaks the traditional format of using a single as the initial promotional means of introducing an act.

Capitol has been releasing new LP's by avant-garde pop bands for the past several months,

TAPE CONFAB PLANNING TOURS FOR REGISTRANTS

SAN FRANCISCO—The Billboard-Merchandising Week Tape Cartridge Conference to be held here Aug. 3-5 at the Mark Hopkins Hotel will employ a unique business seminar technique in getting registrants to the heart of industry issues.

A series of field trips will be incorporated into the seminars so that the sessions will combine discussions with on-the-spot visits to various installations and facilities which will be the subject of the respective seminars.

The topic to be treated by the Conference will be announced next week by Coleman Finkel, vice-president of James O. Rice Associates, Inc. This firm, which specializes in producing high level business education meetings and executive training seminars, was responsible for handling the first two Billboard Tape Cartridge Conferences, and conducted the recent Billboard-Record Retail International Music Industry Conference in the Bahamas.

Conference inquiries and registrations should be addressed to the Billboard-Merchandise Week Tape Cartridge Forum in care of James O. Rice Associates, Inc., 300 Madison Avenue, 9th Floor,

New York, N. Y. 10016.

Douglas Repackaging Jazz Albums for Spanish Market

NEW YORK — Alan Douglas, head of Douglas International, has initiated a program to expand the market for his jazz product. The expansion is being geared toward the Spanish market as a followup to Douglas' licensing deal with Gema Records.

Douglas feels that the Spanish market is ripe for the jazz and blues beat but has been shying away from the product because of the language barriers of the titles and the album liner notes. In his tie with Gema, which will distribute the Douglas product here and in Latin America, Douglas will repackage the LP's with Spanish titles and Spanish liner notes. And, in association with Gema, Douglas is lining up a radio spot campaign on Spanish speaking stations.

Douglas' initial tie with Gema covers about 12 albums including "new jazz" product by artists such as Eric Dolphy, Dave Burrell, Elvin Jones, Paul Bley and Rick Colbeck, and "blues" albums by Muddy Waters and Richie Havens.

Ranwood Plays It Loose On Releasing Schedule

LOS ANGELES — Ranwood Records, the 15-month-old company formed by Randy Wood, is operating with a flexible releasing schedule. The company is not locked into any automatic singles or albums release schedule. By the end of May it had released 55 albums by its 20 artists. The majority of its singles have been from albums, with such acts as Ray Anthony and the Exotic Guitars receiving good jukebox acceptance.

Several markets have begun playing the purchased master of "Quentin's Theme" by the Charles Randolph Grean

PERFORMANCE TRUST FUND NAMES ADLER

NEW YORK — Jerome H. Adler, copyright attorney, has been named trustee of the Music Performance Trust Fund. His appointment comes after the retirement of Samuel R. Rosenbaum, Philadelphia lawyer-musicologist, who has served as trustee the past 20 years.

The Record Industry Association of America made the announcement in connection with the new three-year collective agreement between leading record manufacturers and the American Federation of Musicians. The Fund, a charitable trust devoted to promoting public interest and appreciation of life musical performances, was established in 1948. Since that time it has received almost $100 million from record producers, based on sales of records for use in sponsoring live concerts and other activities.

Adler was New York counsel to the AFM.

LOS ANGELES — Ranwood scords, the 15-month-old coming formed by Randy Wood, operating with a flexible reasing schedule. The company not locked into any automatic scords, the 15-month-old coming it's near to its first major single hit. The song is the theme from the ABC-TV afternoon show, "Dark Shadows" which draws both teen and adult viewers.

In the main, Ranwood's product is produced by the company itself, with a few outside production deals. Ranwood received the Inner Dialog, a new soft vocal group, from Pat Curtis.

Wood started his label with two concept groups, Exotic Guitars and the Four Score Pianos. These two groups continue to record, with the Lawrence Welk stable of acts providing additional depth. Nine of Ranwood's 20 acts are from the Teleklew Productions camp which leases the masters to the label for distribution.

Wood spends the majority of his time in the studio and he plans to develop shortly a new male singer. Damita Jo is his prime vocalist not associated with the Lawrence Welk show.

Thirty independent distributors handle Ranwood product, with executive vice-president Chris Hamilton indicating the company plans adding representation in five additional mar-

Ranwood's small staff of executives is scattered in a number of cities. Sales-distribution vice-president Morey Goldman is in Chicago; Eastern operations director Seymour Spiegelman is in New York: national promotion director Vic Frazier is in Nashville; and Polly Reese handles Southern area sales from Miami.

General manager Larry Welks works in the home office with Mrs. Hamilton and Wood. Welk covers the western region in sales and promotion matters and also scouts for new acts.

Erteguns' Station Buy Upheld

By MILDRED HALL

WASHINGTON — The 1968 buy of WAAB, Worcester, Mass., by the Ertegun brothers and Gerald Wexler, which was challenged by another Worcester radio broadcaster, WORC, Inc., has been reaffirmed by the Federal Communications Commission. The challenger had taken the case to court, claiming that the former Atlantic Records owners had "misrepresented" some facts in its statement to the Commission. The court remaned the case to the FCC for further study.

In the original application for the station, Ahmet and Neshui Ertegun and Wexler listed themselves as sole stockholders in

Foundation in $-Raising Drive For Folk Study

NEW YORK - The John Edwards Memorial Foundation, the educational nonprofit corporation with headquarters at the University of California's Folkore & Mythology Center in Los Angeles, is engaged in a fund-raising drive to further the study of American folk music. Norman Cohen, JEMF acting executive secretary, has announced that the National Endowment for the Humanities has granted the Foundation up to $10,000 in matching funds on condition that the money is raised by June 15.

The grant is being made to support the completion of a JEMF project—the compilation of a complete hillbilly discography using computers for storing information. Friends of JEMF are being asked to contribute. Several weeks ago, BMI became the first institutional member ($500 or more). Johnny Cash has also contributed $500 to the Foundation. Others have pledged sums. Regular membership dues are $5, contributing memberships are $25 and sustaining memberships $100 or more. Members receive a oneyear subscription to the JEMF Quarterly as well as other privileges. Gifts and contributions quality as tax deductions.

Atlantic Records, which in turn was the nominal applicant for WAAB. After selling Atlantic to Warner Bros.-Seven Arts they filed amended statements that Atlantic no longer had any connection with WAAB, Inc., and that the three stockholders had "divested themselves of all ownership interest in Atlantic Recording Corp."

However, shortly afterward, the three obtained a number of shares in Warner-Seven Arts, parent firm to Warner Bros. Records, which in turn owned Atlantic Records. Their right to acquire these shares was known and should have been pointed out earlier by the applicants, the Commission said. Also, the right to additional Warner stock under an employee incentive plan "should also have been reported when WAAB filed its amendment of Feb. 15, 1969, informing the Commission of the stock that the Erteguns and Wexler had acquired in Warner Bros." The 29,575 shares of stock each comes to less than I per cent of the outstanding shares of the company, the FCC points out.

The Commission scolded the WAAB owners rather lightly for what they felt a minor dereliction, but found them innocent of any "willful concealment" in failure to point out the minor stock interest in Warner. (FCC Commissioner Nicholas Johnson dissented.)

The Commission majority said the WAAB principals did report that they would continue as officers and directors of Atlantic "which is a more significant relationship than the ownership by each of less than 1 per cent of the stock of a parent company." Also FCC points out that it has granted other broadcast licenses to 100 per cent owners of record companies.

FREE RECORD HOPS FOR POOR

ATLANTA — Radio outlet WAOK and L&F Record Service will sponsor free record hops at 50 recreation areas in disadvantaged sections of Atlanta, for a three-month period starting June 1. According to Jack Geldbart, head of L&F, there will be three one-and-onehalf-hour hops daily, Monday through Friday. WAOK deejays will make regular appearances and promote the hops on the air. L&F will supply current record product. The project, designed to keep Atlanta "cool" this summer, has drawn the cooperation of the Atlanta Police Crime Prevention Department, the EOA and Burke Johnson, WAOK program director.

WAOK and L&F invite interested sponsors in other cities to contact them for details or assistance.

Plumb to Do Capitol Tracks

LOS ANGELES — Capitol will use former RCA producer Neely Plumb as its film soundtrack specialist. Plumb, who works for IMC Productions, will put together film music LP's from "My Side of the Mountain" and "True Grit." The latter LP features co-star Glen Campbell singing the title song.

Plumb is supposed to create four film soundtracks a year for Capitol. Plumb produced two recent albums, "Heidi" and "Romeo and Juliet."

An interesting angle to this deal is that Bob Yorke. Capitol's distribution vice-president, brought Plumb to RCA when he, Yorke, was head of that company's Coast office several years ago.

a recording studio. First release is "Bit by Bit," featuring Anita Henson. Other releases, "Strawberry Snowcone," by an instrumental group called the Seven From Eleven—"Standing All Around," by Ron Price, will follow shortly.

Perry has also signed orchestra leader Oliver Sain as an exclusive producer. Sain will work from his 4-track studios in St. Louis. Wayne Thompson, writer of the hit "The Letter" as well as Miss Henson's new single, will also be producing for Seven International Records. His first production will feature artist Penny Mahan. The production firm of Production Seven, also a wing of Studio Seven, is headed by Ron Price. Bob Sanders is the president of Studio Seven, which has 8-track facilities and is also adding a 4-track for producers of commercials. The firm has also leased another 5,000 square feet in a building next door for possible installation of a 16track studio in the near future.

quarters building and has also assigned new executives to head up operations there.

The new two-story building—part of an expansion drive by the company—is at 8247-55 Beverly Boulevard, and will house all ABC recording operations including the entire Dunhill division as well as allowing for increased representation for the New York-based ABC and Command/Probe labels.

Otis Smith, now ABC's singles sales manager, becomes nation sales manager for the same labels and will move from New York, his current base, to Los Angeles during the summer.

Realignment in the ABC company means that the Dunhill division (including Warlock and Buluu labels) will continue to operate under vice-president and general manager, Jay Lasker, in Los Angeles, moving into the new headquarters in September and still maintaining its own sales and promotion force.

Command/Probe will continue to work out of New York under Joe Carlton, vice-president and general manager. New sales and promotional personnel will be added to the West Coast (Continued on page 70)

Label Formed By Bo Gentry

NEW YORK — Writer-producer Bo Gentry has formed an independent pop label and is negotiating with several record companies for U. S. and international distribution rights. Gentry is currently on the charts with "Special Delivery," by the 1910 Fruitgum Company, following his million-selling "Indian Giver" disk for the Buddah group.

Gentry first hit the charts with the Tommy James & the Shondells' million-seller, "I Think We're Alone Now," which he co-produced with Ritchie Cordell. The team later paired up in Gentry-Cordell Conceptions, Big Kahoona Productions and Kahoona Tunes, writing and producing hits for Tommy James including "Mirage," "I Like the Way," "Out of the Blue" and "Mony Mony."

John Peel, who also hosts the BBC's "Top Gear" and "Night Ride," will handle Dandelion here under a long-term contract negotiated by Jac Holzman, Elektra president. Among acts discovered by Peel before they were recorded were Ten Years After, Jethro Tull, Fleetwood Mac and T. Tyrannousaurus Rex.

Dandelion will be a co-operative venture with income divided equally between the company and artists. Elektra will distribute from six to eight Dandelion albums a year.

Larry Fotine, president of Balboa Records of Sepulveda, Calif.

The budget series—the Continental—consists of 12 titles of orginal material, including a children's LP. Century City Records will distribute the line world-wide, with Balboa Records retaining publishing rights. The line includes "French Scene," "German Concerthall," "London Rhapsody," "Tarpong Springs," "Golden Years," "Openers-Closers," "Yum Yum Trolley," "Continental Music Hall," "Take Five," "California Country" and "Plain Vanilla."

The label will establish a distribution network in the U.S. and overseas, acquire masters and eventually build an artist roster. First product - two LP's and four singles-will be released Aug. 1, with plans to issue 24 albums and the same number of singles during the company's maiden year.

Norman Skolnik, former western regional manager for Panasonic's auto products division, has been appointed president of Century City Music Corp. Jerry Dumas will guide the publishing and management divisions. First acts under the Century City banner are Richard Twice, a folk-rock group, and Brown Sugar, a folk-spiritual act.

The company plans to work independent through ducers in the rock, pop, jazz, country and folk areas.

Doors' 'Live' LP

LOS ANGELES-The Doors will record their first live LP when they play the Aquarius Theatre here July 21. It will represent their fifth LP for Elektra, which is sponsoring the series of Monday night concerts.

April-Blackwood's entry into the Broadway and film fields is part of Anderson's program to involve his company in a threeway thrust: Broadway and films; a production company; and the acquisition and development of new writers.

On the production end, firm's Daylight Productions produces Billy Shields for Harbour Reccords, the Lemon Pipers for Buddah; John Reid, an artistwriter from Memphis, for Capitol; and the team of Dan Dillon & Bobby Prince for Capitol.

Among the writers added to the April-Blackwood combine is Bobby Weinstein, who wrote "Sweet Cream Ladies, Forward March," with John Stroll. The song has been sold to General Foods for commercial use for the next five years. Among the writer-artists recently signed to April-Blackwood are Dorothea Joyce; the Leaves of Grass; Ray Buzzee and Donnie Fritts.

The firm also has been getting a lot of chart action in recent weeks. Among its clicks have been "Hawaii Five-O," recorded by the Ventures on Liberty; "Spinning Wheel," recorded by Blood, Sweat & Tears on Columbia; "The April Fools," recorded by Dionne Warwick on Scepter; "You're All Around Me," recorded by Percy Sledge on Atlantic; and "Breakfast in Bed," recorded by Dusty Springfield on Atlantic.

Songs published by April-Blackwood have recently been recorded by Frank Sinatra, Nancy Wilson, Jerry Vale, Jimmie Rodgers, Frankie Valli and Skeeter Davis.

Tony Orlando is general professional manager for April-Blackwood, and Jack Grady heads its Nashville office. Al Kasha, who headed the firm's Coast office, has resigned to become vice-president of National General Pictures Music. Anderson will name Kasha's successor in the near future.

Beatles' Single Stirs Storm-Anti-Christ?

NEW YORK-The Beatles released a controversial single this week which mentions Christ in a manner considered blasphemous by some critics. The Apple disk, "The Ballad of John and Yoko," has been banned by a flock of radio stations including ABC-owned and operated WLS in Chicago, and WABC in New York. However, WCFL in Chicago, is giving it heavy play, and WNEW-FM in New York, made no objection to the disk.

WMCA in New York banned it. In banning the disk from WABC, Rick Sklar, program director, said that it's not being played "because I'd be talking to more monsignors in two minutes than I've talked to all year."

The new Cowsills, single "The Prophecy of Daniel and John the Divine," on MGM Records, may soon be stirring a controversy, too. It deals with the destruction of the world as predicted in the Bible. On the upbeat side of the religious coin is Frankie Laine's new ABC single, "Dammit Isn't God's Last Name."

The Beatles' and Cowsills' disks were Top 20 picks and Laine's single was a Top 60 choice of Billboard's review panel this week.

Douglas Buys Studio in L. A.

LOS ANGELES — Steve Douglas has purchased Nashville West, a local recording studio, and is refurnishing the facility. He has also changed its name to Dimension Recorders.

Former owner Charlie Underwood remains with the new corporation as its chief engineer, assisted by Dave Moorhouse. The facility will open formally within the next several weeks, Douglas said. The range of recorders will run from 16-track down to 2-track.

Douglas says he bought the studio on Melrose Avenue for his independent production projects. He is co-producing the Sound Foundation, a new act, with Barry Kane of CCS Enterprises.

Memphis, Handy Fests Coupled

By BILL WILLIAMS

MEMPHIS-The Fourth Annual Memphis Country Blues Festival is being coupled this year with the First Annual W. C. Handy Memorial Concert, spread over four days in three locations.

The festival begins officially with an evening of music by Moloch and films about the Blues in the Overton Park Shell on Thursday (5). Three daytime concerts in the Overton Park Shell. Two evening concerts in E. H. Crump stadium will follow culminating with the W. C. Handy Memorial Concert in the Mid-South Coliseum Sunday (8).

The list of performers is impressive. They include Bukka White, Rev. Robert Wilkins, Furry Lewis, Fred McDowell, Canned Heat, Johnny Winter, Albert King, Carla and Rufus Thomas, Booker T, and the MG's, the Bar-Kays, the World's Greatest Jazzband, Nathan Beauregard, John Fahey, the Insect Trust, Robert Pete Williams, Albert Collins, Moloch, Johnny

Woods, Piano Red, Wild Child Butler, Henry Speller, Southern Fife & Drum Corps, Sid Selvidge, Soldiers of the Cross, Five Blue Stars, Pharaoh Sanders, Backwards Sam Firk, Slim Harpo, Jo-Ann Kelly, Taj Mahal and "many more surprise performers."

The festival is sponsored annually by the Memphis Country Blues Society, a nonprofit organization dedicated to the preservation and enjoyment of the blues of the rural South as it was played and sung in the early days of this century.

The W. C. Handy Memorial Concert is being added this year because of the celebration of the Memphis Sesquicentennial, the commemorative stamp issued on behalf of Handy, and the efforts to raise money for W. C. Handy scholarships. Most of the performers this year will donate their services.

The recordings will unfold the history of the moon trek from the first rocket attempts in the 1920's through the Sputnik era and the climax with America's space program. Though the astronauts themselves, and the National Aeronautics and Space Administration have co-operated in providing material for "To the Moon," it is not an "officially released version" of the lunar landing.

The recordings have been produced by Michael Kapp, currently director of business affairs at Capitol Records. Kapp has been interviewing key figures identified with the space program since the early days of of Project Mercury. Closely as-

GOLD TO 3 A&M ALBUMS

LOS ANGELES - Three A&M albums have been certified with gold status by the RIAA. Two are by Sergio Mendes and Brasil '66: "Equinox" and "Fool on the Hill." Wes Montgomery's "A Day in the Life" is the third title. These newest gold records bring Mendes' LP total to four.

by Atlantic Records at the Hilton Plaza Hotel here. The meeting also marked the first time that all three Atlantic labels-Atlantic, Atco and Cotillionwere represented by executives, distributor promotion men and field staffers.

The idea behind the meeting, held in the form of promotional seminars, was to strengthen ties between distributor promotion men and Atlantic's own promotion and sales departments.

Attending were E. Rodney Jones, program director, WVON, Chicago, and president of NATRA, Dick Starr, program director, KYA, San Francisco, and Gary Schaffer, music director, KYA. They spoke on the relationship between promotion men and disk jockeys.

$19 Mil. Loss Seen at MGM

NEW YORK — Losses for the fiscal year ending Aug. 31, 1969, may amount to $19 million, Metro - Goldwyn - Mayer announced last week, Edgar M. Bronfman was elected chairman of the board of directors following the resignation of Robert H. O'Brien. MGM president Louis F. Polk Jr. stated that the board passed a resolution of appreciation of O'Brien's services to MGM over the past 12 years. It was also announced that there would be no quarterly dividend and that there have been write-offs in the record division.

Col.'s 'Greatest Hits' Push Shifts Into 2d Gear (June)

NEW YORK — Columbia Records' "Greatest Hits" promotion, launched in May, continues into this month with more than 100 "Greatest Hits" LP's, current and catalog, featured. The campaign runs through July.

The drive is spearheaded by two specially priced two-record sets, "Country's Greatest Hits" and "Rock's Greatest Hits," which list for $1 more than the single-LP list price. The campaign also includes a new series featuring such composers as Bach, Johann Strauss, Tchaikovsky, Chopin and Mozart.

New albums issued for the drive feature Robert Goulet, Tony Bennett, Ray Conniff, the Buckinghams, Miles Davis, Leonard Bernstein, Andre Kostelanetz, Stonewall Jackson, Thelonius Monk, Carl Smith, Carl Perkins, E. Power Biggs, Billy Walker, Liberace, and the Chuck Wagon Gang.

Included in the promotion are special display racks, mobile display pieces, local ad kits, and a new classical prepak.

Pact to Give Capitol Full Line of Invictus Product

LOS ANGELES — Capitol will receive an unlimited amount of product from newly formed Invictus Records under a threeyear contract with Holland-Dozier-Holland Productions, the new label's parent company.

The Detroit-based Invictus and Holland - Dozier - Holland Productions are being financially underwritten by Capitol, with the Eddie Holland-owned company getting full product control.

Holland has signed four acts under the Capitol production arrangement, including the Glass House, vocalist Freda Payne and Chairmen of the Board, all r&bpop oriented acts, and the New Play, a pop group. Holland also will independently produce acts for other labels and may get involved in producing several groups on Capitol.

Invictus will use Capitol for pressing, distribution and marketing in the U. S., Canada and Mexico of disks and tapes. However, it retains record club, mailorder and foreign (other than Canada and Mexico) rights.

Publishing will be under Gold Forever Music (BMI), a Holland - Dozier - Holland company.

Capitol Going the Album Route To Introduce Its New Artists

To some degree, the success of the Beatles affected Capitol's ability to break other new groups because all the emphasis on the radio level was on Beatle product.

But with the quartet recording for its own Apple label, Capitol has been going full throttle to release a steady stream of albums by new, untested groups.

Bob Yorke, Capitol's distributing corps vice-president, said, "It's very difficult for some of these groups to say what they want on one single. Nobody's that clearly focused anymore. It almost takes an album for some acts to tell who they are, what they do and in what they believe. In that sense only an album serves them well." The album route is generally followed by the release of some single material from the package. Recording albums also allows Capitol to strengthen its hand with larger numbers of independent producers.

Capitol's current outpouring of pop/hippie bands is similar to the intensified campaign initiated by Columbia two years ago when it discovered it was not totally committed to the rock revolution.

A problem in dealing with underground bands is that they have a propensity toward breaking up. Two San Francisco bands, Steve Miller and the Quicksilver Messenger Service, for example, broke up after one LP. Yorke reports these two groups have been reformed and tributed by Fanfare Films. They all join RCA's talent roster under terms of the pact. Sidewalk is responsible for a&ring their sessions, Hatcher said.

These artists appearing as vocalists and actors include Don Epperson, Terry Stafford, Saturday Revue, the Three of August, Ellie and Blue and the Thirteenth Committee.

Hatcher is also placing Epperson and Stafford in another Kendell Associates production, "Justice Caine." The "Wild Wheels" LP will be issued in July to coincide with the picture's release.

Sidewalk will also provide RCA with a single by the Saturday Revue titled "Father Kline."

The production company's deal with Columbia is for artist Jerry Naylor and for the master of "Posters On the Wall." It will provide MGM with the master of "Oh, Susanna" by Bob Summers, and Philips with the soundtrack LP from "African Safari," featuring Harley Hatcher's orchestra.

Terms of Deal

For Imperial, Sidewalk will produce Doug Brooks. Under terms of the RCA and Columbia deals, the labels pay all production costs. Sidewalk pays all costs in its dealings with MGM and Philips.

RCA pays artist's royalties directly; the other companies pay Sidewalk, which in turn pays the act. Each of the companies owns the masters they obtain from Sidewalk.

leased a number of sales-winning American International Pictures-Sidewalk soundtracks, Sidewalk has produced a new soundtrack package, "Devil's Eight," AIP's newest film. Tower is also releasing the single, "Paxton Quigley's Had the Course" by Max Frost and the Troopers from the AIP film, "Three in the Attic."

The theme from "Devil's Eight" is also being released by Tower as a single. The music was composed by Mike Curb, Transcontinental Entertainment Corp.'s president and Jerry Styner. It was with the purchase of Curb's Sidewalk Productions last May, that Transcontinental Investing entered the creative end of the music business, having initially begun purchasing rack jobbing concerns.

A key to Sidewalk's operation is the placement of its musical acts in motion pictures, providing the record company with a major exploitation feature.

Sidewalk has signed two new vocalists, Bob Jackson and Brandi Perry. The company wants to get its people into film and TV writing.

Sidewalk maintains a staff of three a&r men in addition to Hatcher: Eddie Beram, Bob Summers and Curb.

Hatcher's film writing credits include "The Satans," a new Independent Films production; "Glory Stompers" from AIP; "Killers Three" from AIP, plus a number of projects on which he collaborated with Curb, including "Hell Cats" for Crown International.

new LP product will be forth-coming.

The very length of a rock band's music necessitates the album form. One factor which holds back the success of so many of these new groups is their usage of their own material. Unfamiliar songs do not totally generate when offered in an LP by an unknown act.

Despite this, Capitol, like so many other labels allows its new acts to develop the song repertoire for its own LP's.

Artists in Debut

Among the artists debuting in Capitol's LP drive have been singers Bert Sommer, Englishman Don Partridge, Ray Brown and Willie Tee, Jamie Carr, John Stewart and Bobby Engemann.

Instrumentally, albums have introduced Merryweather, SRC, the Ohio Players, an r&b band, the Serfs, a rock septet and the Last Ritual, Pollution, a rock sextet, the Crystal Mansion, a rock septet, John Andrews Tartaglia, a soft pop orchestra arranger and pianist Tom Vaughn, and Quicksilver Messenger Service

This program of releasing albums in a steady torrent and often without any significant promotion behind them, caused UNI Records this year to halt the release of underground band LP's.

One label which has radically altered its program of releasing steadily LP's by underground unknowns is UNI, which has taken a more cautious approach to LP scheduling.

A&M too has begun to seek an affinity with the pop/hippie bands and has been releasing a hard rock product in an attempt to broaden its own image.

Roulette in College Market Pitch; Ties With Coast Co.

NEW YORK—Roulette is mapping extensive expansion plans centered on an in-depth promotion into the college market and a West Coast tie with a new label, Scarab Records, being launched by Red Schwartz. Schwartz, former national promotion director of Roulette, will be based in Los Angeles, producing not only for Scarab but also handling promotion for the Roulette label there.

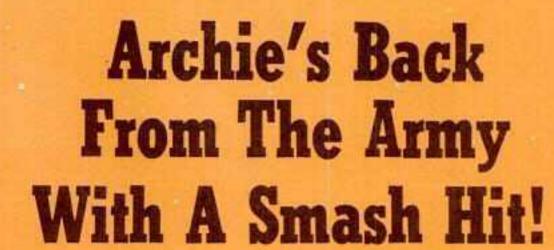

All this action is part of a general expansion program, Roulette President Morris Levy said last week. "Already, we achieved more business the first three months of this year than all of last year . . . and we made money last year."

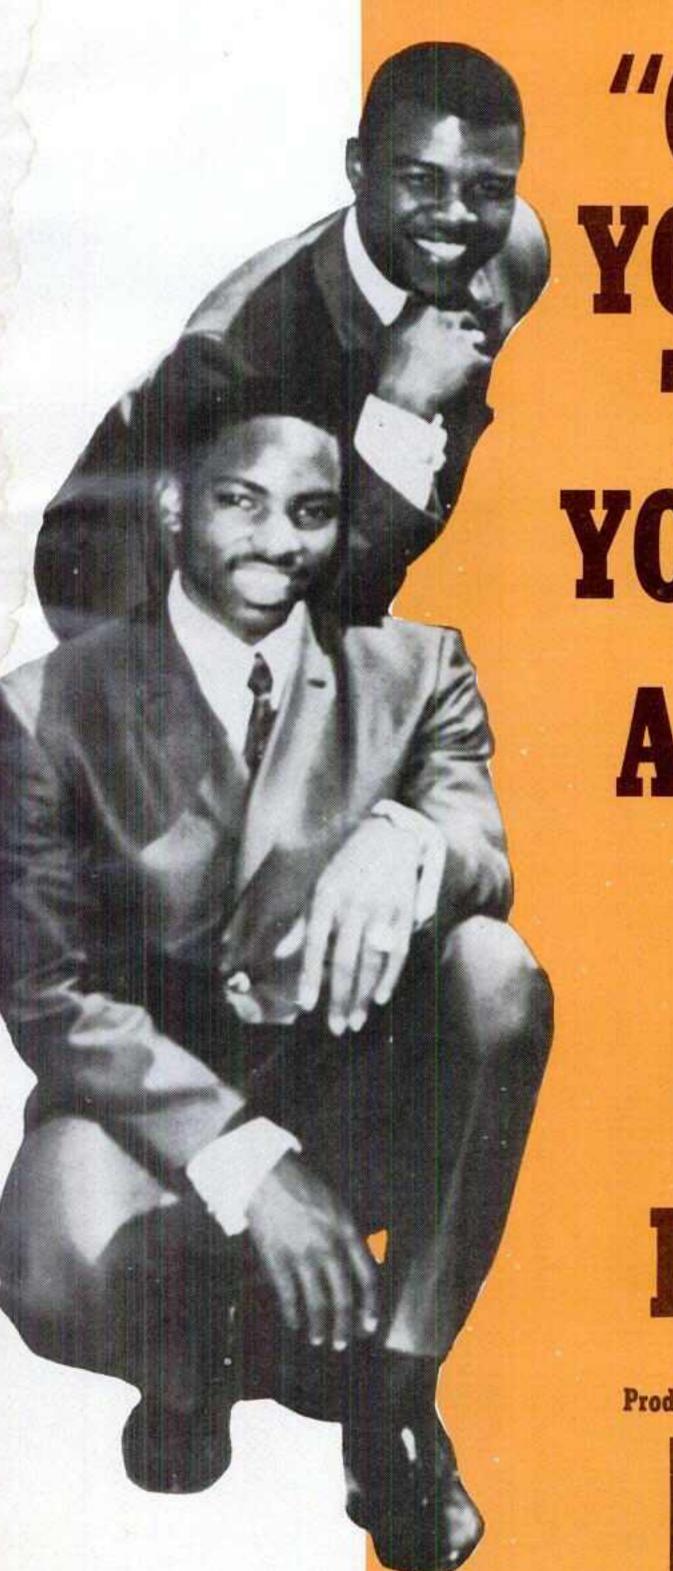

Bowing in the next two weeks will be a major drive at the college market, as well as the major progressive rock radio stations. "We're sending each of the stations two copies of a new album we're releasing and one of the albums has a wrap-around band reading: 'The album speaks for itself: Take it home and groove it.' The move, of course, is to establish ourselves firmly with the college radio stations." Levy said that no advance publicity would be issued on the album or the artist involved because he wanted the college radio program and music directors, as well as the progressive rock broadcasters, to discover the artist for themselves.

Tape CARtridge

CARtridges Spark Sales at Talmadge Co.

LOS ANGELES—Sales at Tape Merchandising, the Sid Talmadge specialty firm, are up 40 per cent since going into the cartridge field last August.

Talmadge's tape involvement also covers his purchase of UTI, formerly owned by Ed Mason and Sam Ricklin. His combined tape company now services around 500 accounts in Southern California with players and music.

A San Diego office manned by Gail Lynch and three others covers the lucrative military installation field which is endemic to lower California.

Players and music are stocked in three locations—two in the local area and in San Diego. Jack McDaniel is Talmadge's sales manager and he oversees the activity of four salesmen.

Talmadge has begun to rack some accounts such as the Advance Muffler chain which has seven stores around Los Angeles and individual stores in Louisiana and Georgia.

For the veteran record distributor (through Record Merchandising) working with automotive and camera stores is a new experience. Talmadge still expends the majority of his time with his record distributorship and he feels it will be three years before tape sales equal those of disks. "Tape will never replace records because of all the phonographs," Talmadge feels.

Still, to keep pace with the growing tape industry, he has four trucks handling merchandise. One specialty music area which stands out in tape is Mexican repertoire. Los Angeles, San Diego and the El Centro Valley are good areas for Latin product.

AMA Honors GRT's Bayley

LOS ANGELES—Alan J. Bayley, GRT president, has been named man-of-the-year by the American Marketing Association, Northern California branch, for "outstanding contributions to marketing."

The AMA award will be presented to Bayley June 11 at the Fairmont Hotel in San Francisco.

The recent AMA winners include Byron Mayo of Sea and Ski, Roger Mendes of Pacific Gas & Electric Co., and Dr. E. T. Grether of the University of California.

Discotape Forms Purchasing Co-Op for Indie Tape Dealer

By ELIOT TIEGEL

LOS ANGELES—A national purchasing co-operative for independent tape cartridge dealers has been formed here by the Discotape Corp.

The new company has opened a pilot store, The Discotape, in West Los Angeles to test and develop marketing programs which will be utilized by stores joining the national network of co-operatives.

The major function of the new operation is to offer central buying and sales and promotion assistance to associate stores, or features previously unattainable by independent dealers.

Financial assistance, store decor materials and management assistance are all facets of the package offered to qualifying stereo tape specialty stores.

New Division

Discotape is a new division of the MultiNational Corp. Stores joining the co-operative are required to put up the Discotape name and adhere to its decor motif. The original owner's name remains a part of the store, points out Ron Gordon, Discotape's president. There is no other binding requirement.

Discotape has established a working relationship with Car Tapes of Chicago and California Expeditors, a local firm, to central purchase tapes for member stores.

Discotape stores will order merchandise through the central headquarters offices here at 2011 Westwood Boulevard. These orders will be transmitted to the two tape rack jobbers who will buy the music. Players will be ordered by Discotape itself, which plans to warehouse machinery here.

A drop shipment arrangement will be utilized from manufacturer to store, with Discotape guaranteeing the credit on all its members.

In addition to the local store, two additional locations have been converted to Discotape stores. One is in Dallas, the other in Norfolk, W. Va.

Initially, Gordon had envisioned setting up a chain of franchise specialty tape stores. But he changed his mind when he discovered there were over 1,000 stereo tape dealers in operation throughout the country, and that chain and department stores were hurting these dealers through volume inventory and low product prices.

This was coupled with national advertising which additionally hurt the small businessman.

TDA Plans Market Tie With Oil Co.

By EARL PAIGE

CHICAGO—An 8-track CARtridge merchandising program for turnpike gas stations that could result in a tie-in with oil company advertising on national TV is one of the summer promotion plans at Tape Distributors of America (TDA)

Other promotions include a special program for 4-track product, a "Baker's Dozen" deal rotated from one brand to another, and the addition of open reel lines, said Mort Ohren, rDA, a division, Allstate Record Distributing Co., has recently opened seven more regional sales offices and now has 16. Product shipments, promotions and advertising is handled from a 90,000-square-foot Chicago warehouse utilizing five Wide Area Telephone Service (WATS) lines manned by nine sales girls.

TDA has been racking 12 Gulf Oil stations on the Pennsylvania Turnpike for a year. Last week the program was expanded to 12 more stations, this time, Humble Oil outlets. The goal is an eventual chain of such outlets, and Ohren would only mention 472 Gulf stations in TDA's target plan.

The tie-in with oil company advertising on television is being negotiated, said Ohren.

Turnpike merchandising involves the use of TDA's glass security cases with an inventory of from 100 to 300 titles. Each station is serviced every two weeks. "We go very light on teen product. Most of the selections are in c&w and easy listening categories." The tapes are sold at full list price.

"We have signs promoting product at gas stations, and in some cases we use billboards (Continued on page 13)

Equipment Sales Lag Overseas: Baptista

By RON TEPPER

LOS ANGELES—While sales of tape equipment in the U. S. continues to grow at a fast rate, the demand for duplicating equipment overseas has changed little in the past few years.

According to Louis R. Baptista, president, Worldex Manufacturing, an exporter of tape equipment, foreign markets are only now "beginning to develop."

The biggest drawback for tape exportation has been—in addition to foreign governments import restrictions—the lack of U. S. dollars available in other countries.

American manufacturers naturally look for payment in U. S. currency, and the case in most European and South American countries is that there just aren't enough dollars to be utilized for such "luxury" items (most foreign governments categorize tape and tape equipment as a luxury and therefore they do not have priority in government spending)

The one exception is Japan. It maintains a virtual balance-of-trade with the U. S. and therefore has the money to spend. In addition, Japan has the added impetus of American servicemen who not only contribute dollars to the economy but they influence Japanese youth, said Baptieta

"Most servicemen, of course, are younger and more musically oriented," he said. "Many come from homes where there was tape equipment or they may have had a car with a tape deck in it. Whereas most countries are only now beginning to get into the cassette market, Japanese interest in cassete rivals that of the U. S." Although no exact production figures are available, Baptista feels that the Japanese are manufacturing more cassettes than any other country next to the U.S.

The Mexican market, according to Baptista, is developing as this country's second biggest customer of tape equipment. However, the gap between Mexico and Japan is significant. For instance, the Mexicans are now manufacturing mostly 4-track, quarter-inch tape—a configuration that Baptista says will be extinct in five years. Cassette is virtually unheard of in the country.

This "progress" gap exists in most markets. "U. S. automobile industry that started the tape craze in this country and now they are making inroads—small ones—in foreign countries."

The foreign market, however, is there and it is growing. Most of the tape equipment manufacturers are backlogged with foreign orders but they won't say to what extent, nor reveal any sales figures, he said. Most of this stems from the fact that record manufacturers regard tape duplicating equipment as an offshoot of the record equipment and a minor part of the market.

Few manufacturers really specialize in the development of tape duplicating equipment.

High-Speed Duplicator Developed by Infonics

LOS ANGELES — Infonics, tape equipment manufacturer, has developed a high-speed, cassette-to-cassette duplicator.

The new CC-2 (two-track) cassette-to-cassette duplicator operates at 15 inches per second and duplicates both tracks at the same time, thus producing four duplicate C-60 cassettes every four minutes.

Slave duplicators are available, each of which produces an additional eight cassettes while the main duplicator produces four, said Peter H. Stanton, Infonics president.

"Industrial, religious organizations and schools can now record a sales training message, sermon or lecture on a portable cassette recorder," said Stanton. The original cassette is then inserted in the Infonics duplicator along with four blank cassettes. Four minutes later, he said, four duplicated one-hour cassettes are ready for playback.

Bayley to Key NARM Meet

DALLAS-Alan J. Bayley, president of General Recorded Tape (GRT) will deliver the keynote address at the 1969 NARM Tape Convention to be held at the Fairmont Hotel from Sept. 5 through 7.

He will survey the current tape and tape cartridge business and will look into its prospects. The keynote address will be delivered at the opening luncheon meeting on Sept. 5 at noon.

Bayley founded GRT in 1965, his selection as convention keynoter was announced following a meeting of the NARM Tape Committee held in Chicago recently.

In addition to the opening luncheon meeting, there will also be dinner meetings on Sept. 5 and 6. The subject of the Sept.

MOTOROLA - DESIGNED 8 - track stereo cartridge, offering same playing time as a standard 8track pack, achieves more than a 40 per cent reduction in size when compared to the conventional 8-track case, and brings dimensions within closer reach of the cassette's size.

5 evening session will be Packaging and Display, while the following day's meeting will feature discussions on various tape industry problems.

The person-to-person conferences will also be held. These pre-arranged appointment schedules will be limited to 60 manufacturers and 60 wholesalers.

playback unit, thus eliminating the usual protrusion of the car-

The advantages of the reduced cartridge are many, according to Oscar Kusisto, president of Motorola Automotive Products: it occupies less car space while in use, the elimination of the protrusion is a greater safety factor, it facilitates storage in both car and home, and enhances the portability of stereo-8 units and cartridges.

According to Kusisto, the Motorola-designed cartridge has a playback capacity of 40 to 60 minutes depending upon whether the tape is standard thickness or Mylar.

Kusisto said the reduced cartridge was designed by Motorola engineers and is being offered to manufacturers at no charge as an industry service. Motorola, a leading manufacturer of cartridge playback equipment, will not be manufacturing the cartridges, but Kusisto hopes that the industry will adopt the features of the streamlined pack.

enable independent dealers to reduce their purchasing costs and operate as a national chain.

Gordon has built a merchandising and art staff at his headquarters which will develop print campaigns for Discotage stores.

Print Campaign

"Financially we can assist our members by providing payment guarantees to help ascertain increased credit terms from suppliers, and to facilitate store expansion programs," Gordon said. Gordon launches his national membership campaign June 2. The co-operative will purchase centrally from such hardware manufacturers as Muntz Stereo-Pak, Automatic Radio, Motorola, Craig, and Panasonic. David Weisser, formerly of Tape Merchandising, a local distributor has joined the company to help set up inventory systems and product programs.

A monthly newsletter will be distributed to all members informing them of new product releases and push items.

"Our formula," continues Gordon, "is simple. Low prices are based on volume. What we are doing is combining the tape and equipment orders of all of our associated stores to obtain the lowest possible prices."

The co-operative will also develop ad programs for its members utilizing negotiated national rates and local co-op campaigns.

The entire operation is based on the concept of developing a local dealer as a stereo tape specialist, with all Discotape merchandising aids geared toward this uniform impression.

TDA Plans Market Tie-In

promoting the stereo 8 concept," he said.

As an illustration of what effective sales promotion can achieve, Ohren told about TDA's recent experience with 4-track product. A special rack holding 100 packages of two 4-track cartridges back-to-back priced at $6.98 for both pieces was test-marketed in a dozen stores in the South and Southwest.

"We thought 4-track was dead," Ohren said, "but 10 out of the 12 stores have reordered." Paul Adams, International Tape Cartridge Co., put the merchandising package together. Music categories featured such varied artists as Herman's Hermits. Hank Williams, Al Martino and Dionne Warwick.

The stores involved were mainly mass merchandising out-

Ohren hopes to expand TDA's current "one-free-with-12 8-track cartridge" promotion and carry it through the summer months. For June, GRT Corp. product is being promoted.

July's program will feature point-of-sale window banners, signs and counter cards, designed by TDA's newly created art department.

The subject of adding open reel to existing configurations now carried by TDA came up during Ohren's outline of market breakdowns. "We feel we need to add open reel because there's a lot of business to be done in this configuration.

"Cassettes sold well in the beginning of 1969, but have now leveled off to around 12 to 15 per cent of the total picture accounted for by cassette, 4 and 8-track. About 80 per cent of this business is still 8-track and 4-track is around 5 per cent."

Sales Lag Overseas

Those that do now have little competition and they are not anxious to change the situation and the industry feeling by revealing sales figures.

Interestingly, while foreign equipment sales continued to move at a slow pace, the sales and merchandising approach of U. S. companies selling to those markets is even slower. Nearly all selling is done through direct mail or in answer to inquiries, said Baptista.

"Aggressive sales and merchandising-common in the record industry-is virtually unheard of when referring to the sale of tape equipment.

"In light of this, it is only natural to ponder the question: What if a sales-oriented manufacturer decided to enter the tape equipment market?" said Baptista.

Sly Romps; Carter Soothes

NEW YORK-"I want to take you higher!" whooped Sly Stone. "Higher!" the crowd repeated like a choir of believers, filling Fillmore East, Saturday (24), with hallelujahs of handclapping, foot-stomping and fingers jammed in the air in the classic "V" of victory for peace. And what Epic's Sly and the Family Stone didn't upset with their booming relentless rhythms, Clarence Carter soothed with his warm and suggestive Southern soul salves. Rotary Connection, Cadet/Con-

DOORS GIVEN GATE BY AIDE

OF HONOLULU

HONOLULU — Jim Morrison and The Doors' July 4 and 5 dates at the Honolulu International Center Arena have been refused by Guido Salmaggi, city auditorium director.

The Doors, who were to make their second H.I.C. appearance in as many years, were given a "no" by Salmaggi because of the group's controversial stage presence.

The local shows were to have been produced by Dick Clark Productions, in co-operation with Radio KKUA. The Elektra act became the first to be banned in Honolulu.

cept group from Chicago, rounded out the weekend bill.

Blind since childhood, Clarence Carter seemed to ease up on his feet and glow with a clear, inside vision as he approached the calming familiarity of the microphone. His six-man soul band, set into motion at the snap of Carter's command. Carter cried, twinkled, sassed and wailed through his million sellers "Too Weak to Fight," "Slip Away" and his latest Atlantic recording, "Snatching It Back," spiking his music with earthy anecdotes and laughter. Discovered by Rick Hall, who through his success as a producer, has made his Muscle Shoals, Ala., recording studio seem like the hub of a thriving metropolis, Carter has quickly risen to the class of soul artists with his power, reminiscent of an early Ray Charles, and a puckishness all his own.

Sly Stone, who in his other life as a West Coast deejay was Sylvester Stewart, has rallied around him a half-dozen relatives and friends completely devoted to rhythm. Without the incredible showmanship of Sly and his herky jerky rhythm gang, the group's music is only incidental, deflated and drab without the fuel of Sly's wild presentation. Still, Sly and the Family Stone are the livest, most riotous rock 'n' roll soul explosion since Jimi Hendrix. Cluttered and delayed by a load of equipment that loomed behind the group like a landscape of dark, uneven buildings, Sly led the romp through "You Can Make It If You Try," "Everyday People," a million seller, and a medley featuring his "Dance to the Music" hit. Their third appearance at Fillmore put a lock on the group's reputation as the most exciting show for the feet, head and soul working the rock

Showmanship, Sexmanship —Jones at His Topmanship

NEW YORK—Not since the days of Frank Sinatra's annual appearances at the Copacabana has there been so much electricity generated by an opening night audience as there was for Tom Jones at the start of his two-week run there May 22. Police barricades were up in front of the club and customers were piled up inside (and will be for the duration of Jones' stay because of advance sellout).

Jones is one of the hottest disk-club acts going today. His Parrot albums and singles (distributed here by London) are hot sellers, his ABC-TV show is top-rated so his club appearances become instant SRO. What's most important, however, is that Jones delivers.

In a highly charged 45-minute turn, Jones satisfies every demand with a style that combines the slickness of Frank Sinatra, the sex of Elvis Presley and the soul of Ray Charles. It's a blending that's hard to beat, and it arouses a passion that's hard to match.

Jones comes on strong with a rousing opening number and never lets up. He works his vocal chords and his tighttuxed frame for all their worth and his act becomes a parlay of showmanship and sexmanship. The repertoire is familiar ("I Can't Stop Loving You," "Danny Boy," "Help Yourself," "Delilah," "It's Not Unusual," "Yesterday," "Hey Jude," "I Want a Woman" are some) but his personal push makes them much more than a carbon of his recording work.

Working with the Copa orchestra, his own conductor, Johnnie Spence; his guitarist, Jim Sullivan; his drummer, Chris Slade; his bassist, John Rostal, Jones, driving hard all the way, opens all stops and leaves the audience fulfilled.

All three of these dates are with the Henry Mancini orchestra.

Engagements with the Back Porch Majority include the Carousel Theater, Framingham, Mass. (Aug. 11-16), the Cleveland Musicarnival, Warrensville Heights, Ohio (Sept. 2-7), and the Oakdale Musical Theater, Wallingford, Conn., with Peter Nero (Aug. 4-9).

Lighthouse Casts Steady Light

NEW YORK—Heavy promotion by RCA for Lighthouse, the label's new multimusic group, paid off in a packed house for group's live debut at Carnegie Hall, Sunday (25). The free concert featured the 13-member rock band in a two-part program spotlighted ex-Pauper Skip Prokop on drums and musical director Paul Hoffert, who sparked the band with his flashes of class on organ, piano and vibes.

Aimed at the middle of the road rock market opened up by Blood, Sweat and Tears, Light-house should step into the profit picture with their pop panacea of soaring psychedelics and brassy choruses, softened by strings and lightweight vocals.

Hoffert's solo dabblings on the vibes showed the group's individual versatility, as the basic rock unit of Prokop, Ralph Cole, Pinky Dauvin, Grant Fullerton and Hoffert proved that rock is a viable mid-market commodity when dressed up for a wider audience. Lighthouse will bring their all-purpose pop to the Village Gate on Saturday

'Ensemble,' Therapy —The Scene Stealers

NEW YORK — Steve Paul's Scene offered a strong one-two punch on May 23 as the New York Rock & Roll Ensemble opened a week's engagement and Group Therapy played on the second night of a four-day stand.

Group Therapy certainly lived up to the promise of its special Fillmore East appearance of more than a year ago, when it was part of an RCA promotion. Now on Philips, the quintet is essentially a hard rock unit with blues and jazz elements. Two strong-voiced vocalists, Tommy Burns and Ray Kennedy, give Group Therapy a solid base. Lead guitarist Art Delgudico, also possessing a strong voice, is being used more on vocals now, a definite plus.

The group's biggest and most significent change was the emphasis on original material. And this material is good! The only selection from Group's Therapy earlier days was the gospel-like "People Get Ready," a mainstay of the act's repertoire. In this, Burns, with a solid bluesy voice, and Kennedy, with a big screamy voice, alternated leads in the middle of phrases. The introduction stressing organist Jerry Guida and drummer Mike Lamont also was effective with its strains of "The Battle Hymn of the Republic."

Several numbers from the new Philips album were included, with Kennedy excelling on "Willie," Delgudico on "I Must Go," Burke on "River Deep, Mountain High," and all three vocalists on "Cheer Up Baby." Actually, all three joined in on all vocals. The turned-up mikes added to the unit's powerful sound.

The New York Rock & Roll Ensemble, who previously played a one-nighter at the Scene, gave a magnetic first set. Appearing in ruffled shirts and in tails, the highly talented musicians drew on the classical, rock and blues strengths of their backgrounds.

Included were the Morley duet for oboe and cello, performed by Martin Fulterman and Dorian Rudnytsky respectively. This led into a Bach trio sonata with Michael Kamen also on oboe. This led into the original Bach source of "A Whiter Shade of Pale" with Kamen on organ, and guitarist Cliff Minson on drums, Fulterman's usual instrument. This easily led into the pop version with Brian Corrigan's strong vocals.

During the latter, couples started for the dance floor, jammed by the time the rock "See You Later Sue" came up as the closing number, although there was a wildly accelerating bit to formally close. "Better Wait 'Til Tomorrow" gave Kamen a good vocal opportunity as well as a strong organ instrumental.

CU Seminar Urges Stepping Up Dialog of Commercial Industry

By RON SCHLACHTER

CHICAGO—Speakers participating here in Chicago Unlimited's recent audio-visual seminar, "CU Overview-Summation and Forecast," generally agreed that there must be more co-operation between the various segments of the commercial industry and more cultivation of local talent. At the same time, the industry association panelists stressed that Chicago has excellent facilities and should not take a back seat to either Hollywood or New York.

"We need more co-operation between studios," said Bill Newton, president of Sarra, Inc. "More good producers should be kept here. Agencies should not cultivate them and then send them to the East and West Coasts. Everyone can do more to cultivate local talent."

Len Levy, a producer with Leo Burnett Co., agreed and added:

"Chicago has to sell. Chicago has a lot of talent. If we lack anything, it's depth of talent compared to New York and Los Angeles. However, we have a great talent pool from which to draw."

Dick Marx, president of Dick Marx & Associates, directed his remarks to the musical side of commercials:

"Commercials are better than ever and music is helping make it so. What once used to be called youth or teen music can no longer be said of contemporary music. Commercial makers are getting more into the pop music field. Contemporary today is anything. It can be old. It can be corny. Anything goes.

"There's a continual search for something new-the new sound. This is fine but I also have some gripes. In search for something new, some people forget what they're selling. They use something different for the sake of being different. As for the Moogue synthesizer, it's big and will be around for a long time. However, not everyone knows what he is doing with it. If you're going to use a Moogue, you must know what it does and means."

A. B. (Bernie) Clapper, president of Universal Recording Services, hailed multi-track recording as the biggest factor in the industry at the present time. Clapper also cited another advancement:

"The cassette has become one of the fastest growing mediums. It is tremendously important to the entire recording and audio industry."

Chicago Unlimited is a membership organization representing the television, radio, film and recording industries in Chicago. Program chairman for the seminar was Jack Karey.

Martin Deal With Edel

Radio Forum Programs' Major Artists for Key Social Whirl

Also attending the June 20 artist appreciation reception will be Adam Wade, Felix Pappalardi, Skitch Henderson, Joel Grey, Hershel Bernardi, Peter Nero, and Angela Lansbury. Many record company executives, such as Frank Campana, manager of artist relations for CBS Records, have indicated they may also bring other art-

KRAV-FM to 'In Touch' Play

TULSA — KRAV-FM, stereo operation here, has changed format to blend Frank Sinatra and Dean Martin with such groups as the Blood, Sweat & Tears and the Neon Philharmonic. General manager Carl C. Smith said the "new KRAV-FM stereo sound is designed for people who want their radio entertainment to move, have life, and to be in touch with what's really happening today and tomorrow."

The station is being billed as the "Sound of the Seventies." Roger Borden, former production director of WFUN in Miami, is molding the new sound. The reason for playing Andy Williams and Pet Clark, he said, is that their popularity continues to bridge any generation gaps. The station was easy listening in format. The new programming concept is similar to the "Good Life" mood on many radio stations.

WHIL-FM Request Plan

BOSTON-WHIL-FM, once the only country music outlet in this city, has launched a request-line as a method of countering competition from WCOP. "Normally, five records an hour are being taken from the request," said Larry Kaye, director of country music. The station airs the listener's voice making his own request. The late Hank Williams, Glen Campbell, Kitty Wells, Buck Owens, and Sonny James seem to be the favorites. "Almost every song ever recorded by these artists ists to the affair, which is hosted by Billboard Magazine.

Registration June 19
Registration for the Forum gets under way June 19 at noon. A few record artists are also registering for the entire Forum, which is devoted to education in radio programming and covers such topics as "How Contemporary Can Your Sound Be Without Chasing Listeners Away" to sessions on setting record policy at a station.

The Forum is being conducted, under sponsorship and guidance of Billboard, by James O. Rice Associates, one of the world's leading educational consulting firms. Registration fee is $125 and should be addressed to Radio Programming Forum,

WHCN-FM to Hip Rock Play

HARTFORD, Conn. — Following the path blazed by its sister station—WBCN-FM in Boston—WHCN-FM here has changed to a progressive rock format. General manager Randall Mayer said that the station, now on the air 10 a.m.-3 a.m., will soon expand programming to around the clock.

WBCN-FM has been successful with a progressive rock format, according to management. Previously, WHCN-FM broadcast a variety of music ranging from semi classical to show tunes. The station's 20,000 watts serves Hartford, New Haven, and Springfield, Mass., along with parts of Long Island.

has been requested at one time or another," he said. Tied in with the requests, the station is playing four to six oldies an hour. And every weekend, beginning Friday afternoon, the station makes every other record a country oldie.

E. L. Shift For KBIL

KANSAS CITY, Mo.—KBIL, 500-watt daytime station located in the Liberty suburb here, has switched to an easy listening format, according to new station manager Bob Callacotte. Callacotte had been sales manager of the station under its old country music format. New program director is Jim Beaver, formerly with KCCS, the college station at the University of Missouri. The air staff includes Jim Willman, formerly at KLWN in Lawrence, Kan.; Dick Wait, formerly of KEXS in Excelsion Springs, Mo.; and Beaver.

'Vivienne' Canceled

CINCINNATI—Avco Broadcasting is canceling the "Vivienne!" live variety show starring Vivienne Della Chiesa because of low audiences. It drops from Avco's Indianapolis, Dayton, and Columbus stations May 30 and WLWT-TV in Cincinnati on Aug. 29. Ninth Floor, 300 Madison Ave., New York, N. Y. 10036. The fee covers all lunches, cocktail receptions, and work materials.

Several radio men are bringing in tape recorders to tape station promotions with the artists at the reception the evening of June 20. More artists are sending in their notice to attend the event every day. Sid Bernstein, manager, said he intended to have one of his groups attending the reception. Ken Mansfield, national promotion manager of Capitol Records, said he would have artists attending, as did Sol Handwerger, director of publicity for MGM Records; producers Jerry Kasenetz and Jeffery Katz; Bud Prager of Windfall Productions; George Greenberg of United Artists Records; Steve Tyrell, national promotion director of Scepter Records; John Sippel, product manager of Mercury Records; Bill Casady, national promotion manager of Warner Bros./7 Arts Records; Terry Phillips, head of Perceptions Productions; and independent record producer Doc Cavalier.

The opening session of the Forum starts at 9 a.m., June 20, with Miles David, president of the Radio Advertising Bureau, speaking on the future of radio. In all, there will be 38 speakers—all accenting programming. In addition, there will be five workshop general discussion sessions with radio men being able to iron out problems through elbow-to-elbow round-table meetings

JAZZ PERSONALITY ED WILLIAMS PUTS Nancy Wilson, Capitol Records artist, on the air at WLIB-FM, New York jazz station. Miss Wilson was appearing at Harlem's Apollo Theater. The on-the-air interview went over so well that sister station WLIB had to rebroadcast it on AM a few days later.

KGA Quitting Top 40 For Country Format

stab at Top 40 programming, has switched to a country music format. New program director John Novak said that the old Top 40 format had taken the 50,000-watt station from the bottom of the ratings to the top three. "Even with the rapid rise in popularity and increased billings, we didn't achieve the success that KGA warranted. So, after an extensive study of the market, we proceeded to make the switch."

Jack Gardiner, program director of KBOX in Dallas, was consulted on the new format, which is being launched with a flurry of promotion involving billboard, TV, and newspaper advertising.

The most important reason for the change in format, Novak said, is "the current importance of demographics. The agencies and timebuyers are more interested in the audience composition than in just total shares. And, since the best buying audience is the adult population— the age group from 24 to 49 -this would be the ideal audience to program for. And modern country music does attract adults, the most active adults, adults who make more major purchases, as well as more purchases of general nature. Modern country music attracts, entertains, and motivates more adults than any other form of radio programming."

Deejays include Bill Bailey, Jay West, Bill Glen, Novak and Don Lyons. All are uptempo, mature. "We believe good radio programming is basically the same no matter what type of music you adopt to the format. Our deejays are bright, tight and clever," Novak said.

Concert Broadcasters To Issue a Newsletter

CLEVELAND—The Concert Music Broadcasters Association will launch a newsletter designed for those who have expressed interest in the new organization, according to Robert Conrad, vice-president of programming and operations for WCLV-FM here and a leader in the new organization. The association was formed as a sidelight to the annual convention of the National Association of Broadcasters recently in Washington at a reception hosted by the Cleveland Orchestra and the Boston Symphony Orchestra.

Conrad, who doubles as director of the Cleveland Orchestra Syndication Service, said that the CMBA will also publish a directory of stations that broadcast concert music. Although there's the potential broadening of the CMBA to include record labels, concert artists, and other interested parties, Conrad pointed out that the Cleveland Orchestra and the Boston Symphony Orchestra are presently only involved as interested and sympathetic observers.

KIKX Changes to 'Good Life' Concept

TUCSON, Ariz. - KIKX, 5,000-watt station represented by Alan Torbet Associates for national business, has changed formats to the "Good Life" concept. The programming is designed by Charles Whitaker of the programming consulting wing of Dawson Communications, Dallas. Each album cut is slated for the personalities. KIKX general manager Bill Crawford said the new programming-which aims at young adults and adults-hit the air May 26. "Most stations with an easy listening or good music approach generally leave music selection to the individual announcers. This policy produces an inconsistent sound because the music is subject to personal likes and dislikes. The new KIKX format," he said, "is rigidly controlled 24 hours a day. Each half-hour segment is balanced and completely governed by a computer-printed music log."

Whitaker piloted the format on WPIX-FM in New York; it focuses on two choice album cuts back-to-back. His programming concept is now being used on the various FM stations owned-and-operated by Dawson Communications and offered to other stations on a subscription basis. KIKX is the first AM radio station to use the programming. KIKX is also using a new jingle package produced by Dynamic Productions, Dallas.

Producer will be Del Jack, producer of "The King Family Show" for ABC-TV. Tony Charmoli, director of "The King Family Show," will direct. Each of the monthly specials will be designed around the month's zodia sign with hosts and guest stars being selected according to their astrological signs.

WROL Marks Country Yr.

KNOXVILLE—WROL, celebrating its first year of country music programming, is launching a "live" broadcast 8-11 p.m. each Saturday beginning June 7. The series will be headlined by a well-known Nashville personality each week; first show, according to Joe Anderson of WROL, will star Jim Ed Brown of RCA Records. Artists scheduled for future shows include Tompall and the Glaser Brothers, the Hardens, and Stringbean.

Vox Jox

By CLAUDE HALL Radio-TV Editor

Time for another Claudius type of "well-what-do-you-know!" tidbits: Ted Steele has joined WBAL in Baltimore and will evidently do the morning show under program director Jack Lacy (he's telling everybody he's program director, anyway). Funny thing is, Ted Steele was station manager of WINS in New York in the olden days and you-know-who was his afternoon personality. If I were a punster, I'd say this is a fringe benefit. . . . WSDM at Duluth, Minn. 55802, is going all night country music June 3 and needs country music records. Cy Young is program director of the station and he says "no service means, of course, no play." This is your chance, men! Send him records. He says he hasn't had any service to rave about and he may go alltalk if he doesn't get some records.

It's time to rap Rosko. I really like Bill (Rosko) Mercer: I don't think a more-beautiful man (that's New York cliche for "great man") exists. He's warm, friendly, personable and about 100 other adjectives and adverbs-all good. But the other night when he announced on WNEW-FM for New York listeners to get ready to tape something he was going to play, I got disturbed. He was speaking, in this case, about a poem. But a man I know who owns a record distribution firm that also distributes blank cassettes and he says kids are buying a house full of blank cassettes so they can tape records off the air. I fear this will mean the sharp curtailment of the hit single if this trend continues, I would prefer, for the time being, if no deejay pushes this sort of airtaping until some sort of mutual policy between the record and radio industries can be reached, Billboard will probably reach some sort of conclusion on this problem during the second annual Radio Programming Forum June 19-22 at the Waldorf-Astoria. And it is a problem. For example, how will a Top 40 station determine what tunes to play if singles are no longer a criteria-and, to some extent, this situation exists today. What I want to do is have a general session between about 30 of the major pacesetters in programming and a few select record men. This would be strictly off-the-cuff. If I can do it, you'll hear more about it later.

Ron Nelson is the new early morning deejay and the production for WMTS in Murfreesboro, Tenn., a 5,000-watt country music outlet. He'd been with the Armed Forces Radio-TV Services several years. . . General manager Thomas W. Mathis at WTLC-FM, soul stereo station in Indianapolis, has hired some guy he's going to call the Spider. Would Spider please write me his real name. This is a lot of depreciating nonsensethis fake name bit. Sometimes some people must take a professional name while on the air, but Spider isn't it.

Just above, I rapped Rosko (whom I consider a good friend, incidentally, but that doesn't mean a thing where Vox Jox is concerned; last issue if you'll remember, I even rapped myself via a letter from Bob Hamilton). Now 1 want to praise Rosko; He plugged the WBAI-FM fund-raising drive and actually got his listeners to donate money to the non-commercial New York station. Down in Philadelphia, some record people contribute to the fund raising drive of non-commercial WXPN-FM and they deserve a Claudius Seal-of-Approval, even if I don't know who they were. Many deejays also dropped by the station to make pleas. WXPN-FM is in stereo. I wish I could say the same for WBAI-FM and Bob Fass.

Truman Rich is alive and well in Lebanon, Ore., on KGAL, a Stadler Stations operation that uses 1,000-watts; needs Hot 100 records. . . . To whoever lives at 415 Bush St., San Francisco: Unsigned things don't carry any weight with me. Anyway, I do all the rapping in this column. . . . Music director Gordy Rider at KLMR in Lamar Colo., says: "Variety in music pays off, yet we don't stray too far from easy listening. We encompass some of the better easy listening country, easy listening rock, easy listening jazz, and even easy listening soul to augment the usual MOR format. We have a little something for everyone, yet we don't drive anyone away in playing for another. We just take it easy, stay cool, and act natural." Deejay line-up includes Stan Jose, Rider, Paul Widlund, and Mike McClure. This 5,000-watt station serves Eastern Colorado and parts of four other States. . . . Larry Kindle has moved from KVOX in Moorhead, Minn., to Stillwater, Minn., and WAVN, where he's sales manager of the 5,000-watt station. Congratulations, Larry.

Rick Rivkin, Hot 100 personality and newsman for WXPN, Philadelphia, has joined the staff of WEXI in Arlington Heights, Ill. . Can I make an apology here? If anybody calls me and can't get through, don't think ol' Claudius is on some sort of high horse and isn't answering telephone calls. I very seldom have time to return calls, because the phone is always ringing. But I enjoy talking to everybody. So, if you can, please telephone me again later. I'd especially like to hear from that country jock who'd worked on KFOX who's now looking for a job. I lost your address and telephone number (even your name) and about three or four stations are hot to hire you.

Pete Winters has been promoted to program director at WWKE, Ocala, Fla. The air staff there on the ABC contemporary network station consists of Winters, Mark Adams, Steve Curtis and Terry Reaves. Pete also says: "Don't forget an occasional word about Ted Atkins." . . . I'm writing this column this week at home on a Friday night. Ted Atkins called me last Friday night at home and we talked for about half an hour coast-to-coast. Only about four radio men have my home phone number (how they got it, I can't even remember, they've been friends so long). Anyway, Ted may not be able to make it in for the Forum (Bill Drake is some slave driver, I tell you). So there may not be a Purple Toadstool Award this year after all. Shucks. If Ted does make it in with his wife, it'll be a quick in-and-out sort of thing. No boat trip, this year. Last year, Ted, I and Howard Kester (this year, Ted's competition) and a few other radio people spent many hours cruising the Hudson one night of the Radio Programming Forum. Only one record man (sorry, Florence) was along, but the venture was strictly social and we talked radio and more radio and when dawn came up we were still talking radio. But that's all right, for Ted and I had been out the night before talking radio all night long. I can't remember all the men there, but there was Red and me and Dean Tyler and Terrell Methany Jr., now with WMCA,

This month, Tetragrammator There is a reason for every

T-117 - Elyse Weinberg - Elyse
Because Cass Elliot called and asked us to listen.

T-118 - Pat Boone - Departure

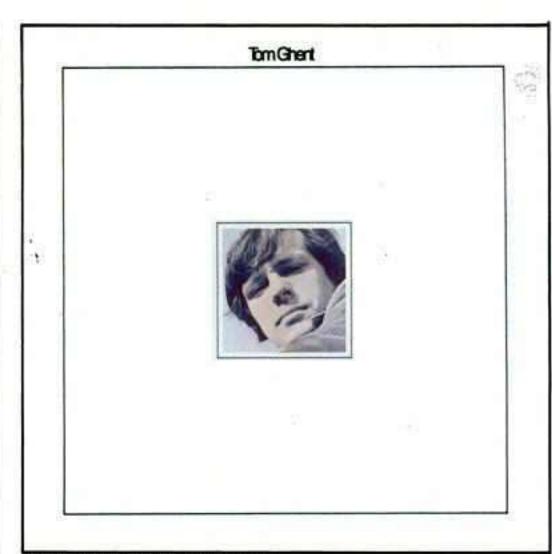

Because producers Zai Yanovsky and Jerry Lester (Lovin' Spoonful people) did some dynamite songs and tracks, and Pat sings his head off.

TD-5101 - The Kingston Trio - Once Upon A Time,
The Kingston Trio
Because they were great, and Frank Werber was saving this live, 2 record, farewell performance package, for someone who would really appreciate it, and treat it right. Somebody like his friend Artie Mogull.

T-106 - Martha Raye/Carol Burnett Together Again For The First Time
Because the album is no joke and the girls sing so well that they totally surprise everyone we play them for. (Vietnam, where we don't have a distributor, ordered 6,000.)

T-113 - Tom Ghent - Tom Ghent

Because people like Cass Elliot are singing his songs, in addition to the fact that his very strong manager is determined to make this singer/writer a star.

The Great White Hope

Because the play has won every award possible, you can't get tickets for it, will soon be a movie, and its author Howard Sackler, who directed many plays for Caedmon, directed this 3 record set for us. (Our Art Director went crazy and created an absolutely beautiful package that includes an illustrated play book).

T-116 - Biff Rose - Children of Light
Because he has a second album, and we love it, and we love
Biff, and he is our pride and joy.

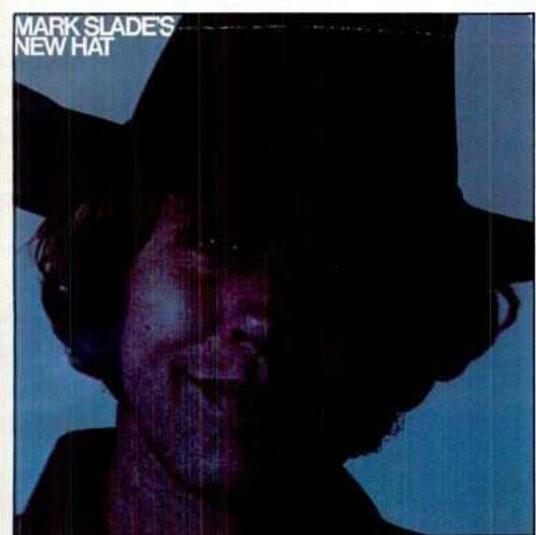

T-119 - Deep Purple - Deep Purple

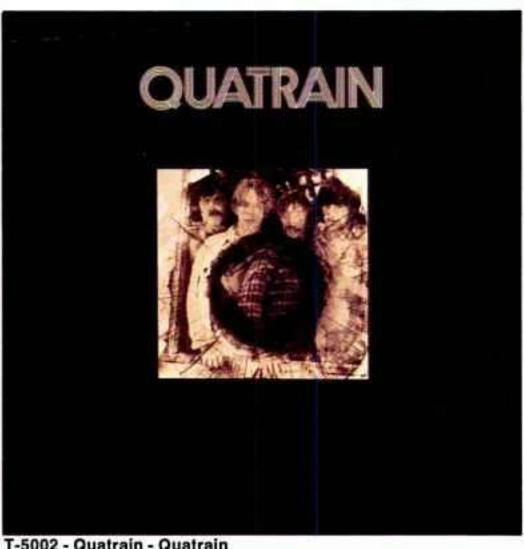

Because they had 2 albums and 4 singles on the charts and this, their third album, is now ready.

n releases 14 albums. one of them.

T-5003 - Mark Slade - Mark Slade's New Hat Because Mark as "Blue" on The High Chaparral TV show, gets more fan mail than anyone else, and the show has been renewed.

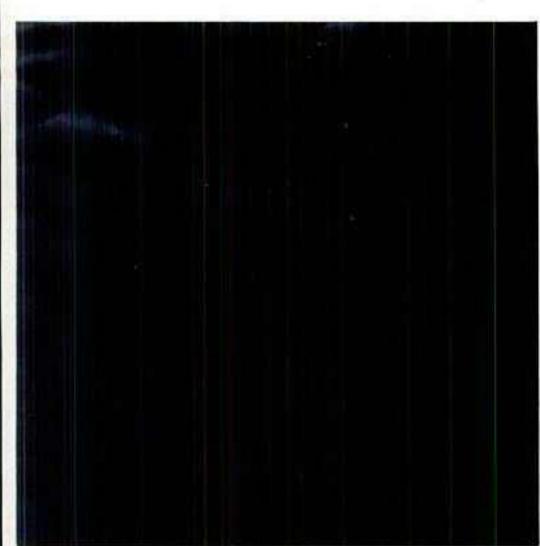

T-5002 - Quatrain - Quatrain

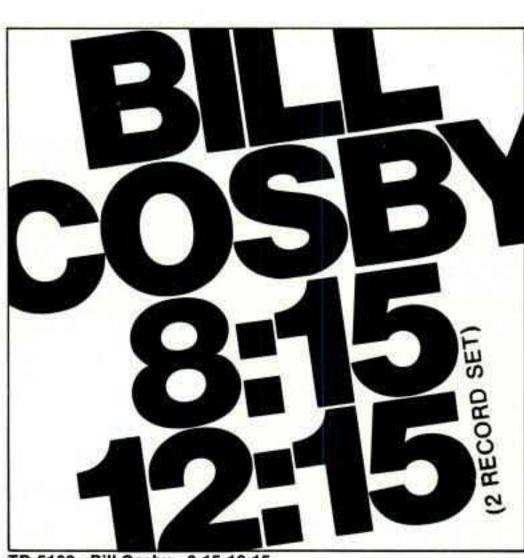

Because David Briggs produced their album with the same brilliant touch that produced Murray Roman's first album, and because the group is definitely swinging with "where it's at."

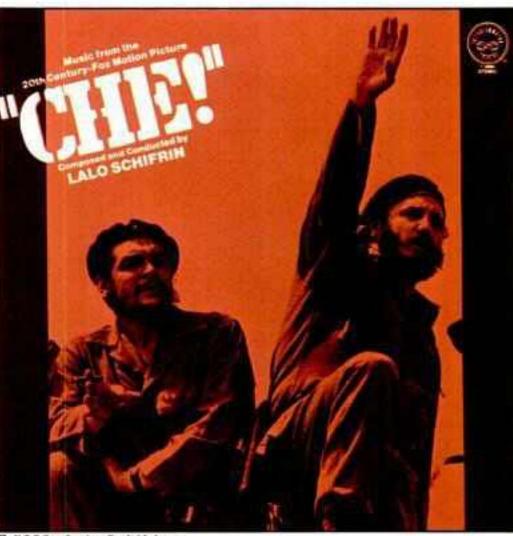

T-114 - Summerhill - Summerhill
Because of their producer David Briggs and their single "Soft Voice" which is beginning to make noise.

T-120 - Murray Roman - A Blind Man's Movie
Because this, his second album, has the same fresh format as his first, which is already a classic . . . (and can be played on the air. Thank Goodness!)

TD-5100 - Bill Cosby - 8:15-12:15 Because he is THE entertainer of our day.

T-5006 - Lalo Schifrin Music from the 20th Century-Fox Film, "Che!"
Because it features Lalo at his Latin-beat-best, writing and conducting music for a movie about one of the most colorful, controversial personalities of our time.

New York, Bill Stewart, program director of WNOE, New Orleans, read to me part of his speech which he plans to give at the Radio Programming Forum at the Waldorf-Astoria. Bill is going to speak on "Is Top 40 Dying" and will, obviously, have to pay its own way. He's going to turn it into a vacation and bring his wife and daughter. Wives, incidentally, are welcome at all cocktail receptions. There are many TV shows they can attend and lots of window shopping they can do while we are studying during the days. (And, I assure you, I will be taking notes just like everybody else.) The accent of the Radio Programming Forum is educational. Shelby Singleton, president of Plantation Records which had the "Harper Valley PTA" multimillion-seller record with Jeannie C. Riley, took six or seven pages of notes at the Billboard IMIC conference recently in Nassau. At the Radio Programming Forum last year. many radio men took volumes of notes. Those stations that could afford to only send one man, had him take notes and report later at a general meeting before all staff members. This will happen this year, and many people are bring-ing tape records to tape the "Sounds of the Times" exhibits of radio stations and some of the speeches. There will be radio chain presidents and advertising presidents in the audience, just as there were last year. The aim of this Forum is to make radio bigger and better through constructive programming.

my entry into management, and have lost contact with a lot of my friends I've made down through the years I was spinning country music at WRZE in Farmington, N. M., and WRHC, in Jacksonville, Fla. "I still have the same great group of DJ's I started with and, even though there hasn't been a survey of any kind taken in this market in over two years, I have reason to believe we are in the top two with country music, and we have five stations in this market. My deejay staff consists of Bob Bickett, Jim Clark; Miss Fay Becker, the only girl type DJ in these parts with a voice as sweet as honey and as sexy as the Miss Monitor who was on NBC a few years ago, then from 4-8 p.m. Dennis Walker takes over 8-midnight, then comes on Garry Gee. still in college, but I believe this boy is destined to become one of the country's greatest deejays through his wit." KRSY is using a "Sound 70" format, running a modern country record on the playlist, but, once an hour, a popcountry record, once an hour a selection from a new LP, and once

I may have already reported this: Jim LaBarbera has shifted to WLW in Cincinnati, for the 7-11 p.m. show and will be doing the music director chores; he'd been a deejay with WIXY, Top 40 station in Cleveland. WLW is bigwattage easy listening, managed by Charlie Murdock. . . . WNBF in Binghamton, N. Y., has added Jim Ashbery to its staff, and the other deejays now include Dave Savage, formerly with WENY in Elmira, N. Y., has joined WMID in Atlantic City, N. J., and will be using the name Dug Savage on the air; he's a summer fill-in personality. . . . Temple University in Philadelphia (you know where that is; Georgie Woods is unofficial mayor) will offer a new graduate program leading to a Ph.D. in communications, according to Dr. Kenneth Harwood, Dean of Temple's School of communications and theater. . . Fred Seiden, former program manager of WRFM-FM in New York, is new program director of Cine-Vox Productions and will supervise the syndicated programming coming out of the multi-faceted firm.

Ship Conover has bowed a series of remotes from Fiesta 200 in Old Town, Art Way and Don Howard are also broadcasting from a permanent KOGO booth at the six-month celebration. Bob White has joined WEEZ, the country music station in Chester, Pa.: he's music director, as well as an air personality. . . . Ralph W. Ricks at WMDN in Midland, Mich., needs country music records, which he plays on his MOR show each night. He'll trade good record service for his country playlist. . . . Bill Mack, production director of KBST in Big Spring, Tex., compliments John Davis, promotion man with Big State Distributors in Dallas: "There are few people, it seems, that have as much going for them as this young man, and we are, of course, indebted to him." By the way, Bill, your old buddy Charlie Russell is on the country station in El Paso-KHEY, I think it is. . . . Bruce (Cousin Brucie) Morrow's five-year-old son will do a part of his dad's show on WABC, New York, June 14-a Father's Day gift. * * *

Howard Karlin, station manager at WLTH-FM, 908 Schneider Hall, Southern Illinois University,, Carbondale, Ill. 62901, would like professional radio stations to contact him if they have equipment they'll be willing to donate to the non-profit, low-power operation. "We are in dire need of broadcasting equipment, Karlin says. WLTH, the commercial station in Gary, Ind., recently donated a jingle package to the college station. Great move. If the nation's station managers want better qualified radio people for the future, they should invest in the crop of college broadcasters coming out today. And what better method than turning over old equipment to college radio stations?

WJW program manager Mark Prichard sends me some airchecks of the major stations in the Cleveland market. A few other people have been doing this sort of favor for me, I really appreciate it. Mark also raps me for an article I ran about WHK, also in Cleveland. Sends in the February/March Hooper that shows WJW No. 2 in Total Rated Time Periods with a 12.2, right behind WIXY's 14.2. WGAR was third, WERE was fourth, WHK fifth, Must admit ahat WJW sounded fine. Anyway, Mark states: "At no time since WHK's format change in Oct. 1967 have they been No. 1 on any survey. On the other hand, WJW has been holding the No. 1, 2 and 3 positions in prime time segments for sometime now. WJW is always No. 1 in the morning 6-10 a.m. in every rating service with Cleveland's leading morning personality Ed Fisher."

Bob Benson, recently with the easy listening-formated WASH-FM, Washington. . . . Rick Sallinger has been named program director of WPGU-FM, the 3,000watt commercial operation of the University of Illinois, Champaign. He'd been music director. . . (Carolina) Charlie Wiggs, WCMS in Norfolk, personality, will write special lyrics for the U. S. Navy TV documentary "Big John."

Out in Muncie, Ind. at WERK, you'll find Gil Hole, Larry Mc-Cabe, Joe Landon, station manager Bill Shirk, and Steve Michaels. New weekend personalties are Chuck Crane and Dave Letterman. Tom Cochrun took off two months for a European honeymoon. Poor guy-can you imagine him being without Vox Jox two whole months!

'Hee Haw' TV Series to Cite 12 Country Deejays

NASHVILLE — Twelve of the nation's leading country disk jockeys will be given special citations by Buck Owens as part of the summertime CBS television show "Hee Haw."

"If the show goes beyond the summer, as we are beginning to think it will, we will continue this program of honoring country disk jockeys," said Jack Mc-Fadden, talent co-ordinator for the show.

McFadden, manager of Buck Owens and president of Omac Artists, Bakersfield, Calif., brought the nine honorees to the show for videotaping of the awards. Those cited are Ralph Emery, WSM, Nashville; Ray Stingley, WJJD, Chicago; Larry Scott, KBBQ, Burbank; Bobby Wooten, KAYO, Seattle; Bill Bailey, KIKK, Houston; John Fox, WPLO, Atlanta; Biff Collie, KFOX, Long Beach; Chris Lane, WIL, St. Louis (soon to depart for the West Coast); Jack Gardiner, KBOX, Dallas; Mike Hoyer, WHO, Des Moines; Bob Finnegan, WWVA, Wheeling; and Mac Curtis, WHOO, Or-

"These men have been instrumental in making country music what it is today," McFadden said, "and Buck wanted them to have the national recognition. During the program, the 12 men involved each will introduce a guest artist.

"We have strong reason to believe the show will go beyond the scheduled summer time," McFadden said. "We put together a sample of what we've been shooting, sent it to the West Coast, and some of the top CBS officials there flew in here for a better look. Perry Lafferty and others are very enthused."

The show, co-hosted by Buck Owens and Roy Clark, is a comedy and music show, with leading guest artists.

McFadden also predicted that Bakersfield, stymied by lack of a recording studio, will expand at accelerated rate.

"Buck is building a doublestudio complex, with everything from 4 to 16-track equipment, and this will have a great effect on Bakersfield," he said. "It will draw people into Bakersfield, and West Coast extensions of New York or Nashville companies will be setting up there instead of in busy Los Angeles."

McFadden said there are good musicians in Bakersfield now, and that more would be coming. "The field is wide open for expansion and competition," he said. "Bakersfield is where it's happening in the country music field, and this should really kick off the growth."

McFadden has no financial interest in the studio, devoting all his time to the fields of booking, publishing and managing. Among those under his managerial wing are Susan Ray, Kenny Vernon, Freddy Hart, Jean Pellaquin, the Hagers (whose first Capitol release will be out June 6) and Eddy Fukano. The Omac artist stable is a large one, headed by Owens and Merle Haggard.

Final scenes for the "Hee Haw" show were shot Tuesday morning, (27), and the producers, directors and McFadden headed back for the Coast. While here, Owens was scheduled to make an appearance on the "Grand Ole Opry" but could not find the time. He has made several such appearances.

'Opry' Offered for Syndie? Not True

NASHVILLE — WSM, Inc., through its president, Irving Waugh, has denied a published report that the "Grand Ole Opry" is being offered for syndication as a half-hour weekly color series next fall.

A widely circulated news release states that the program would be going into 50 major markets sponsored by Bristol-

"No contract has been signed and no agreement has been reached in regard to this show," Waugh said. He indicated there had been some preliminary negotiation but said there were "strong differences of opinion."

In recent years a videotaped one-hour version of the "Opry" has been sponsored by the National Life and Accident Insurance Co., parent firm of WSM, and shown in 22 selected major markets. The radio show, five hours long on Saturday night, also has been pressed on acetate in the past and distributed on a delayed basis to as many as 300 radio stations in many parts of the world.

Bell, Show Biz Set Label;CooperHead

NASHVILLE — Plans have Records Division of Columbia been disclosed for the launching of a new record label, Show Biz Records, with George Cooper III as its head.

The launching involves a cooperative venture by the Bell

Opryland to Be Activated

NASHVILLE - Opryland Records will be activated this week by WSM, with a live performance by Louie Roberts at the "Grand Ole Opry."

Roberts, the first artist signed by WSM to the label, was the winner of a regional talent contest. The youngster is a native of Kentucky. Irving Waugh, president of WSM, Inc., said the tape would be edited, and probably voices added, at Bradley's Barn. No distribution plans have been announced as yet.

"Our first concern is to get an initial product," Waugh said.

Pictures and Show Biz Music, Inc., which is based here. The records will be produced by Show Biz and distributed by Bell. Major artists now are being signed.

Cooper, former sales manager of Dot Records and son of longtime Nashville's AFM local president George Cooper Jr., moves up to vice-president in charge of the record division. Cooper has been involved in other capacities with Show Biz.

In co-operation with Cooper, Roger Soving, vice-president of Show Biz Music's publishing arm, will supervise creative activities. Sovine, a son of Starday recording artist Red Sovine and himself a Liberty artist, formerly worked for Cedarwood Publishing.

Cooper said the full facilities of the Show Biz entertainment complex of companies will be geared to "take advantage of the new record operation." He said they planned to draw from their own roster of talent, and to develop many new young acts in all fields.

Although involved in virtually all facets of music, Show Biz is best known as a producer and syndicator of Films. Cooper noted that talent in the fold now would get weekly exposure on 291 television stations in this country, Europe and in the Far East where Show Biz syndicated programs run at this time. The firm is the world's biggest producer of musical syndicated programs for TV. The best known of these are "The Porter Wagoner Show," "Billy Walker's Country Carnival," "The Wilburn Brothers Show," "Music City U.S.A," and a new program presently in production which will star Jim Ed Brown and another entertainer to be an-

Sessions' & Lees' Works to Make Disk Debuts on RCA

NEW YORK - Two first recordings are coupled in a June album by Igor Buketoff and the Royal Philharmonic on RCA. The works are Roger Sessions' "Symphony No. 3" and Benjamin Lees' "Concerto for String Quartet and Orchestra."

The June release also includes three albums by Anshol Brusilow and the Chamber Symphony of Philadelphia, which is no longer in existence. The sets include pairings of Richard Strauss and Wolf, and Haydn and Cherubini. The third pressing contains music of Ravel, Ibert and Francaix.

Alexis Wisenberg has an LP of Debussy piano music. Also slated for June are three Mario Lanza albums rechanneled for stereo.

Two monaural-only recital albums being issued on the lowprice Victrola line are tenor Enrico Caruso in Italian and French operatic arias, and bassbaritone Alexander Kipnis in Russian arias and songs.

Hammond Tour

CHICAGO — The X-Plorations, a Hammond Organ Co. group comprised of Shay Torrent, Axel Alexander, John Seng and Tom Thompson, recently completed a 34-state tour involving 105 "Hammond Concert Happenings" appearances.

Victrola also has Hans-Martin Linde in recorder sonatas with harpsichordist Gustav Leonhardft, Antonia Janigro in cello concertos of Boccherini, Vivaldi and Bach, and Alfred Deller, Philip Todd and the Collegium Aureum in Couperin, Lully, Amadis and Purcell.

Nashville Scene

Marty Robbins and Loretta Lynn were named winners of a popularity poll taken by WSM's Ralph Emery. Robbins, who has traveled more this year than in any of the recent years, has spent nearly 80 days on the road so far. So has Bobby Bishop, a popular member of his contingent. . . . Bobby Dyson has done his first release on the Honor Brigade label, and it's an ambitious undertaking. The first session included strings, a nine-man rhythm section and percussion, a total of 36 musicians. Billy Graves is the producer. . . . Shiela Carlisle, daughter of Bill Carlisle, is becoming one of the leading raisers of show horses in the South. A trip to their ranch near Nashville is well worth the effort.

To set the record straight, John Earl, and not Earl Hignite, is the new songwriter with Northland. Earl is Troy Tipton's manager. . . .

That's Johnny Duncan's new single, "When She Touches Me." Johnny gives a gentle country feeling to this R&B hit that is being played by country and western stations from Nashville to Natchez. They're picking up on the sound of a young man with a big voice "swinging" in a country groove.

Ontario Club Visits Nashville in Operation Promotion & Exposure

NASHVILLE — Forty members of the Ontario Country and Western Music Club made an "orientation" trip here last week, watched the "Grand Ole Opry" and visited the Hall of Fame, and made some presentations of its own.

Carl G. Alkerton, president and chairman of the board of directors, said the purpose of the trip was to find new ways of promoting country music in Canada, and to expose Canadian artists to this area.

The group was accompanied by William L. Ellison, executive editor of the Recorder-Reporter Complex, a series of 27 weeklies in Hamilton, Dundas, Ancaster, Toronto and Ottawa in Ontario; Calgary, Saskatchewan, Edmonton, Alberta; Montreal, Quebec, and Vancouver, Bringing along members, artists, entertainers and patrons, the group came by bus from Hamilton, Ont., to observe its first birthday. The club is dedicated to the promotion of country artists and their music in Ontario. The aims are achieved at workshops where untried talent is discovered and assisted by professional association and criticism.

Caravans of variety shows are built from the workshops to expose new talent to sympathetic audiences. These shows also allow professionals to experiment with new ideas in staging.

The club also presents a newsletter and a club paper.

"We plan periodic trips to Nashville, which we recognize as the American country music capital," a spokesman said. "This will allow club members and their patrons to see inexpensively American talent and its presentation."

The club is managed by executives and has a professional membership. The executives and professional members bridge the gap between management and performers. Press, entertainment artists in other fields, and various consultants are associate members. The club is supported financially by the patrons.

During the stay here, the group made a series of presentations to Mayor Beverly Briley, and also to Tom Williams, a college student who donated his time to guide the Canadians on their tours.

BEST NEW RECORD OF THE WEEK 'MRS. ROBINSON'' BOOKER T. & THE

M.G.'S

(Stax)

By ED OCHS

SOUL SLICES: Rev. C. L. Franklin's "Soul Bowl '69," the giant fundraiser planned for the Houston Astrodome, June 13-15, has hit a snag. A lack of advance promotion for the benefit and booking conflicts have ko'd the big ballpark as a site for the three-day affair, forcing Rev. Franklin to negotiate with sites in Dallas to hold what might end up to be a gospel night in a local theater. But Rev. Franklin insists that "Soul Bowl '69" is still feasible, though business woes are day by day making the "Soul Bowl" just a tempest in a teaspoon. Not to be forgotten, whether the concert takes place or not, is Rev. Franklin's plan for a black record company and magazine, a constructive project for black capitalism in the music business. . . . Bill Cosby, who last week signed a seven-year exclusive recording deal with MCA, has released his one and only album for Tetragrammaton. The double LP is titled "8:15 and 12:15." . . . Stax has taken over distribution of Fountain Record Co., owned by Jerry Butler and Calvin Carter. The duo will do the producing. Stax product fresh off the presses includes solo LP's from Mavis Staples, Steve Cropper, Rufus Thomas, Albert King, and the "Memphis Queen"—Carla Thomas. . . . The Fifth Dimension's "Aquarius/Let the Sunshine In" single has passed the two million mark in sales. . . . The Isley Brothers, not content with one million-seller under one name, have confessed to being the Brothers Three, as they bid for even bigger chart action with "Turn On, Tune In, Drop Out." . . . Clarence Carter debuted at Fillmore East last week and scored a soul coup with his "Slip Away" classic. Carter, whose latest disk is "Snatching It Back," featured Candi Staton singing her first Rick Hall single, "I'd Rather Be an Old Man's Sweetheart." . . . Blue Thumb's Ike & Tina Turner disk, "I've Been Loving You Too Long," is outscoring Minit's recording by the duo, though they're now tied to Minit. . . . Dionne Warwick's "April Fools" hit will give way to the flip, "Slaves," the theme song from her new movie. . . . "The best I've ever sounded," says B. B. King about his new ABC album, "Live and Well." The LP is half-live—at New York's Village Gate—and halfstudio recorded, and features "Why I Sing the Blues," his biggest chart hit in a long time. . . . Get set for a gospel million-seller, when Edwin Hawkins' "Oh Happy Day" is awarded a gold disk some time next week.

FILETS OF SOUL: Columbia Records, long a powerhouse in the pop market, is making its bid for r&b supremacy through producers Esmond Edwards and Billy Jackson. "We are in the business for real," say the duo who will not only produce black acts, but white talent as well. Esmond, who produced with Chess and Prestige, is working with Skitch Henderson, in addition to Jackie Thompson ("Daddy Sang Bass") and Joe Lee Wilson. Jackson, a successful independent with the Orlons and the Tymes (remember "So Much in Love") is scoring with the Eddie Jacobs Exchange's "Pull My Coat," repeating his success with the Tymes, again chart regulars with Columbia, and with Mongo Santamaria, a heavyweight with his "Cloud Nine" hit. Columbia will sign major soul talent in their drive to seriously penetrate the r&b market, giving Edwards and Jackson complete creative freedom to develop an r&b division comparable to their pop monopoly. Orders for the r&b assault by Columbia came from the very top—Clive Davis. . . . B.B. King returns to the Village Gate next week. . . . Aretha Franklin, Wilson Pickett and the Atlantic LP, "This Is Soul," have been voted the most outstanding female singer, male singer and "impact" album, respectively, in the first annual poll held by the Rhythm and Blues Association of Great Britain. . . . Brook Benton has been flipped to "Nothing Can Take the Place of You." . . . Timothy Wilson will debut on Blue Rock with the George Kerr-produced single, "Love Is Like an Itching in My Heart."

THE LISTENERS

"Is there anybody there?" said the Traveller, Knocking on the moonlit door; And his horse in the silence champed the grasses Of the forest's ferny floor: And a bird flew up out of the turret, Above the Traveller's head: And he smote upon the door again a second time; "Is there anybody there?" he said. But no one descended to the Traveller; No head from the leaf-fringed sill Leaned over and looked into his gray eyes, Where he stood perplexed and still. But only a host of phantom listeners That dwelt in the lone house then Stood listening in the quiet of the moonlight To that voice from the world of men: Stood thronging the faint moonbeams on the dark stair, That goes down to the empty hall, Hearkening in an air stirred and shaken By the lonely Traveller's call. And he felt in his heart their strangeness, Their stillness answering his cry, While his horse moved, cropping the dark turf, 'Neath the starred and leafy sky; For he suddenly smote on the door, even Louder, and lifted his head:-"Tell them I came, and no one answered, That I kept my word," he said. Never the least stir made the listeners, Though every word he spake Fell echoing through the shadowiness of the still house From the one man left awake: Ay, they heard his foot upon the stirrup, And the sound of iron on stone, And how the silence surged softly backward, When the plunging hoofs were gone.

Remembering and Understanding KEN Fritz

After 10 years of slow, steady growth that has taken them from a $300 a week act at the Purple Onion to one of network TV's highest paid (and most controversial) performers, Tommy and Dick Smothers are entering their second decade in show business with more changes and reorganization taking place during the first few months than they've had in 10 previous years.

They've also been generating more headlines than ever before—especially when CBS-TV abruptly cancelled their weekly variety series April 4. Tommy and the CBS brass had been bumping heads over the subject of the program's creative control for several weeks prior to CBS-TV President Robert Wood's telegram informing them the network was not renewing the program because of alleged "breaches of contract." Smothers denied the charge, but their platform on national television was nevertheless gone.

Gone also was KSFI (Kragen, Smothers, Fritz, Inc.), the budding young conglomerate created by the two brothers in mid-1968 and abandoned with a year when its "growth got out of control and things became too spread out." The principals-Ken Kragen, Ken Fritz and Tommy and Dick Smothers—are still there but the organization has been carved up with each of the members retaining control in certain areas.

Kragen, in late March, signed papers which gave him sole control of the management company which he renamed, "Ken Kragen and Friends." The "friends" whom he manages are Pat Paulsen, Mason Williams, The First Edition, Jennifer Warren, John Hartford, Bob Einstein and baseball's premier pitcher of 1968, Denny McLain. Kragen will operate the company independently but "of course," he says, here is, and always will be, the affiliation with the Smothers." Kragen, who was most instrumental in bringing "Hair" to the West Coast, will also continue to have an interest in the stage show.

Ken Fritz has formed K-T Music (the "T" for Tommy) and will produce the forthcoming 45-minute ABC-TV "Music Scene" (which utilizes Billboard's pop, c&w and r&b charts). His remaining time will be devoted to TV and the various television ventures in which the brothers become involved.

The remaining elements of KSFI will be handled by Tommy. He'll oversee all TV activity, record company (Rubicam) operations, publishing and anything else that may come along.

Unusual as it may seem, it was Tommy who created KSFI and it was also Tommy who decided that it had to go. Originally, the company was organized with eight divisions (merchandising, records, publicity, convention services, management, television production, publishing and legitimate theater) and a dozen employees. It was patterned after several other conglomerates that were sprouting up in the entertainment industry and, like many others, its employees tripled within a few months. The problems developed along with the growth, and within a short time it became obvious that the complex of companies were too spread out. Kragen left in late 1968 to get into film production. Tommy stepped in and decided that the entire operation needed revamping.

Under the new setup, Tommy now heads Rubicam River Records, a company that is nearly a year old but to date has only released two LP's ("Smothers Brothers Comedy Hour" and "Pat Paulsen for President"). David Carroll, the man who has produced all of the Smothers Brothers LP's for Mercury, continues to run the label, however, he now reports to Tommy instead of Kragen. Sales on the two LP's are reported over the 200,000 mark. A successful start "but," Carroll hopes, "they're only the start." At the end of March, the Smothers completed video taping the last of this season's TV shows and Tommy and Carroll were planning to sit down and map out a new and more aggressive role for Rubicam during the next year.

Included in that active role will be the release of a second Pat Paulsen (physical fitness) album before summer. Although Mercury has distribution rights (for approximately one more year) to all Smothers Brothers albums, others produced by Rubicam are not committed and could, conceivably, go to other companies for distribution. In addition, Carroll hopes to begin releasing some singles ("slanted to the contemporary market") and to also pursue the purchase of outside masters.

Carroll has taken a "cautious" approach thus far. "Anyone can go out and spend a half-million dollars on masters and recordings. That wasn't our purpose when we started and I don't think it will ever be. We wanted to grow slowly. The first two LP's we released got us off to a good start and we probably would have had more product out by now if it wasn't for the reorganization problems within KSFI. With Tommy free from TV, we'll be sitting down and discussing our next move which will be the setting of distribution for all of our product."

Plans also call for "Hair," the rock musical in which the Smothers are morally as well as financially involved, to run for another year at the Aquarius Theater in Los Angeles.

The last change involves the Smothers management situation. From now on the pair will manage themselves and they've already made such decisions as to confine all future entertainment activities to recording There were few, if any, who really thought the show would survive the first 13 weeks against "Bonanza" with "oddballs" like Pat Paulsen involved in a medium he had never worked in before. During those first five shows Tommy says "we just used up old material. The people who initially got on the show were my old folk cronies."

Those first shows were mild-mannered variety efforts. There was little message and neither Tommy nor Dick had really become involved with social and political issues. Mason Williams, a talented singer-writer who had known the Smothers since the early '60's, was one of the first new faces to be introduced. Williams had been writing for the "Roger Miller Show" and when it went off the air the Smothers were just getting started. It had been decided that one of the weekly features would be a series of "editorials" delivered by Tommy. Hal Goodman and Al Gordon, two of the writers on the show, put together most of the editorials. However, Kragen recalls, "when Tommy started to deliver them in rehearsal they didn't come off. So we decided to let Pat deliver them." Paulsen's weekly spots were an instant smash. Although Goodman and Gordon did most of the writing, it was Williams who began composing some of the stronger barbs—the political and social ones. More than 15,000 fan letters a week poured in for Paulsen. For Paulsen, it was particularly rewarding. Prior to the introduction on the Smothers' show, Pat's biggest performance was at the Ice House, a small folk club in Glendale, Calif.

Williams' contributions did more to change the character of the show than anything else. He was gifted and far out. He wrote the theme song for the show and, in Kragen's opinion, some of the best comedy ever performed. It was Williams and Tommy who dreamt up the whacky idea "Pat Paulsen For President." "Everyone," Kragen says, "contributed to it. It was the most unique thing ever done on a TV and television. The Smothers concert tour of last summer was probably their farewell to live, on-stage performances.

Change and new faces, however, aren't new to Tommy and Dick. During the three hectic seasons of "The Smothers Brothers Comedy Hour," the two young comics have been responsible for an impressive array of changes and innovations on TV variety shows. Unfortunately much of the new engineering techniques, writers, performers and innovations have been lost in the war with the censors. Forgotten is the fact that three years ago, when the first "Smothers Brothers Comedy Hour" took to the air, it was actually a pioneering effort. Not because it was a new show, but primarily because it brought people into television who had never been there before—and with them came the fresh ideas.

"Most of the people," Tommy recalls, "who were on TV were in a 'box.' They knew television and that was it. They had written or produced or directed for TV but had never really gotten into anything else. The first thing we wanted to do was to bring in people who had never seen a TV set and with them some fresh ideas and new approaches."

With a folk music background, Tommy turned to music for the new faces. "A musical background," he feels, "gives a person more freedom and depth than anything else. People in music are used to expressing themselves; they have more rhythm, better pacing. By the time we completed our staff, we only had two writers who weren't musicians and seven of the writers now have albums in release."

variety show, Pat was perfect for it with his older, more serious look. It not only became a vehicle for us to satirize campaigns in general, but it made Pat a household figure."

The whole approach of the "P.P. for Presidency" campaign was that you were never quite sure whether he was on the level or not. Before the campaign came to a close, virtually every new writer on the Smothers show had contributed to it. "Cecil Tuck and John Barrett," Kragen feels, "were the heaviest writers during the campaign. They were two talented men who had never written for TV before the Smothers signed them."

The Paulsen campaign grew. Plans were made to film a TV special around it and then came the Kennedy assassination. "Everything," Kragen says, "came to a halt. We just kind of sat there for about 30 days trying to decide what to do. It was a great shock and we were all heavily involved with Kennedy. Ultimately we decided to continue and Pat really became the only 'dissent' candidate in the last month of the campaign. The whole thing had gone over so well that we actually had to put spots on the air telling people not to vote for Pat at the election."

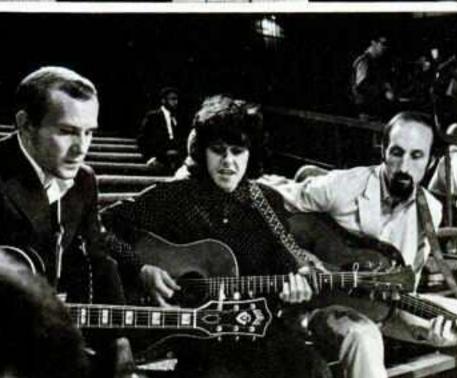

New faces introduced by Tommy wouldn't be complete without the two who have become the most familiar—John Hartford and Glen Campbell. Hartford was actually brought to Tommy's attention shortly after he recorded "Gentle on My Mind." He was living in Nashville and Bill Thompson, who was then manager of KGBS (a Los Angeles

COLLEGE CONCERTS PAVED THE MONEY ROAD

Almost lost in the Smothers Brothers career is the significant part that college concerts played in their rise to success. In the 10 years that they've played the concert circuit they have grossed more than $2.7 million—a figure considerably more than they've garnered from television during the past four years.

The brothers career began at the Purple Onion in 1959, but it wasn't until 1961 that concerts began to grow in importance. Both Dick and Tom credit their entry into the college market to Jack Paar, former host of NBC-TV's "Tonight Show." Paar brought the duo to national attention with an appearance on his show in January 1961. "We exploded," Tom recalls. "People saw what we could do on stage."

Within a few weeks their price was up to $2,000 a concert. In late 1961, Ken Kragen, who lived only a few blocks from the Purple Onion, "bought" Tom and Dick for a 13-city tour and teamed the duo with Peter Nero. The tour was one of the few the brothers made that wasn't successful. "Both acts." Kragen theorizes, "were ahead of their time." Despite the limited success, it did expose the brothers to more college buyers and was a significant aid to their record sales.

By 1963, Kragen had moved to Los Angeles and was involved in the college concert circuit. The Smothers were without management in mid1963 (their manager, Irving Marcus, had died) and when they met Kragen they decided to sign with him. That was August 1963, and in the next 60 days the team made appearances on three national television shows:
Judy Garland, Garry Moore and "Tonight."

The exposure did it. Before the end of the year the brothers had played to capacity houses at 49 straight concerts. In December 1963, Ken Fritz began traveling with the pair and making sure that the dates were properly promoted. From early 1964 until mid-1965, Fritz and the brothers were doing nearly a concert a day. Three hundred out of 365 days (mid-1964 to mid-1965) were spent performing. The price had soared to $7,500 a night against 60-65 per cent of the gate. The Smothers had become the hottest concert attraction in the country. The pace, however, was more than either Tom or Dick wanted, so when the opportunity came to do their first TV show they decided to take it and get off the road. That was late 1965. By April, 1966, they were finished taping and once again Tom and Dick took to the road. Concerts were cut down and more nightclub appearances were scheduled. "1966," Kragen recalls, "was probably their biggest year financially. With the college concerts and club dates they did better than they had ever done."

Emotionally, however, 1966 was a disaster. Their TV show was canceled, Tom developed an ulcer and had personal problems at home. "It was," Kragen recalls, "the closest they ever came to quitting the business."

In August they opened at the Flamingo in Las Vegas to rave reviews and capacity business. Then, in early 1966, came the variety show and a virtual end to nightclubs and the concert circuit.

Summers were occupied with planning for the fall. Concerts became a thing of the past. They did, however, take one more shot at the market in the summer of 1968. The tour, which went through 13 cities, earned the brothers their biggest concert fee to date: $25,000 against 60 per cent of the gate a concert.

Despite the tremendous exposure afforded them on network TV, none of last summer's concerts were sold out. Kragen and Ken Fritz (he also authored a book about the concert circuit, "How to Produce a Successful College Concert") have given a great deal of thought to 1968 and the crowds that attended.

Explains Kragen: "I think that artists can be over-exposed on television and instead of making them more familiar to the concert audience, it makes them too familiar. That may be one of the reasons why last summer wasn't a complete sellout."

Fritz feels that enormous arenas had much to do with it. Promoters needed to book the large arenas in order to have enough seating to cover a gate of $25,000 plus make their own profit and expenses. "Some people don't like to see an act in an arena that seats 18,000. They don't feel there is enough rapport."

Even if the concerts were complete sellouts it is doubtful if Tom and Dick would ever play the circuit again. "We had a lot of fun," Tom says, "and the crowds were stimulating. More than anything, college concerts taught us to think on stage. You had to act fast. TV is different. It's rehearsed then taped. If you don't like it you can always cut it out. In concert. once something is said, it's said, and nobody can cut it."

GOING LIVE ON RECORDS Key to LP Hits...

The Smothers Brothers association with Mercury Records has been a remarkable one. Unlike many artist and record company relationships, the brothers' dealings with Mercury have been marked by harmony. For 10 years (a duration that few artists, especially comedy teams, can boast of in the industry) there's never been any question about the boys leaving the label or even changing producers. David Carroll, the producer who now runs Rubicam River for the brothers, has a&r'ed each of their LP's during the 10-year span.

The results of this "togetherness" are impressive: 12 LP's, $15 million in sales, three gold records ("Two Sides of the Smothers Brothers," "Think Ethnic" and "Songs and Comedy of The Smothers Brothers at the Purple Or! ").

Interestingly, eight of the Smothers LP's were recorded "live" or in nightclubs. "The crowd reaction has always been something the brothers needed to make an LP successful," says Carroll. (Dick, incidentally, recorded a "solo" vocal LP but he has "almost forgotten it.")

During the past few years there hasn't been much product coming from the duo and Carroll feels that it is primarily due to their preoccupation with television. "They just haven't been getting out to clubs nor have they done many concerts, which are the two places in which their albums usually are developed." The last LP, "Smothers Brothers Comedy Hour," was released by Rubicam and distributed by Mercury, a pattern that all future product will follow. The next would have been an astrological package to coincide with their summer TV show.

Unlike some recording acts, the Smothers have always been regarded by Mercury as "catalogue" sellers. Few of their LP's have ever taken off and roared into the Top 10. Most of the time it has been a slow but steady sales pattern. For instance, their first album, recorded nearly 10 years ago, passed the million-dollar mark last December.

Obviously, there could have been more product than just a dozen LP's during the past 10 years, but to Tom and Dick there never was any sense recording another "if it wasn't fresh material." New material was seldom developed in the studio and neither brother cared for recording in an atmosphere devoid of "feedback and stimulation."

Tommy's change from the stumbling and awkward personality to the social commentator, has become obvious on record, too. Although the brothers usually write all their own material, their last LP also contained some of the background of Mason Williams. Despite this move, Mercury has remained firmly behind them. Irwin H. Steinberg, executive vice-president of Mercury, says that the label is "very much in sympathy with their desire to freely express their ideas through their own unique format. Tom and Dick have a wonderful knack for setting forth their thoughts and for making people aware of the problems of the day."

ASTRO-NOSIS

Astrology has always been one of the brothers' chief interests. For this special study, Miss Irma L. Norman, director and trustee of the First Temple of Astrology, developed the following "astronosis" charts which depict the likely happenings to Tom and Dick during the next year. Miss Norman says that the predictions are, of course, only intended to point out events which are likely to happen based on the position of the stars in relationship to Dick (Scorpio) and Tom (Aquarius).

SCORPIO

AQUARIUS

Dick should be concerned with health matters throughout the summer.

Health-wise, he may undergo areas of time in which he feels depleted or "let down" in the coming year.

October places him in the way of gaining great personal support.

Fall brings the transit of Jupiter to his Mars, expanding work habits, increasing the areas of endeavor; he might invest in some enterprise dealing in sports equipment or increasing holdings he already has.

This year new philosophies and attitudes become more apparent with him in all channels of activity.

Difficulty through a child or a creative matter could be possible in October.

Dick may find it necessary to sit tight in the month of May and outwait an undermining action in the base of operations through the action of a superior. The coming year for Tom indicates additional difficulties and restrictions in the area of career.

A new maturity and seriousness in the professional life gradually imposes itself upon Tom as the year progresses.

June or July promises some new career project.

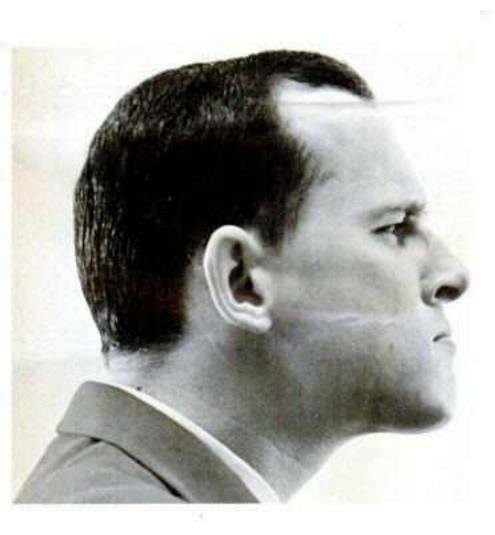

For the next year or more, Tom will operate better as a silent partner or in an area that will ease some of the attention from him.

The month of October finds him in a position to gain great planetary assistance in establishing something very beneficial.

Should be careful of accidents around November, or losing his temper with partners and other people.

Second thoughts are advisable, even essential, this year as whatever is established during that span of time is very apt to become permanent.

INSIDE TWO PERSONALITIES

Tommy is the worrier. He's concerned and has an ulcer to prove it. His average day seldom contains less than 14 hours of work and it easily runs upwards of 70 hours per week. Tommy's greatest asset, however, is not the amount of time he puts in at the grindstone, but his ability to spot talent, know what's right and what an audience will dig.

Experimenting and giving someone a break is Tommy's bag. His philosophy about television is very much the same as his philosophy about life: "Nothing is really accomplished unless you're willing to lose something." That was the way he thought three years ago when CBS decided to give the brothers an hourlong show of their own and introduce it at mid-season against the top-rated show in the country, "Bonanza." Many around Tommy argued against it, but Tommy said, "Look, if we lose and go off the air no one will say anything because at least we lost out to the top-rated show in the country."

Tommy calls the shots today just as he did then. Dick has the same sympathies, and often confers with his brother before any major decisions are made. But, it is Tommy who takes command and gives the orders.

At 32, Tommy sees himself as a bridge between the old and new generation. His generation ("the inbetween") has not quite lost touch with the young and yet has an understanding of the older people as well.

It was Tommy who asked for and put together the audition at The Purple Onion, and it was Tommy who got his brother to quit El Camino College (in Los Angeles) and go up North to San Jose State for college and a $5 a weekend entertaining job at the Kerosene Club, a local hangout.

It was through his extracurricular activities in high school that Tommy developed his famous stumbling, bumbling mannerisms. A friend had asked him to make a nominating speech before a packed school assembly. When Tommy got on stage the crowd threw him for a loss of words and for a few minutes he fumbled with an assortment of "uhs," "ands" and a dozen other confusing statements. The audience roared with laughter and that's when he discovered that being the bumbler on stage could be funny.

Tommy is quite concerned about America. His outspoken resentment of censorship and its application to his TV show is a reflection of his concern. "With all the food and birth problems in the world today, I don't think we have more than 10 years of real peace and tranquility left in this world and I'd like to be part of it. I think we're coming to a very restrictive time in U. S. history where free expression will be limited and it will all be done in the name of 'internal security,' 'world peace' and to help keep the U. S. 'morally strong.'"

The run-ins with TV censors over the past three years have changed him. The on-stage Tommy Smothers of 1966 was the bumbling, dumb little kid. Brother Dickie was the straight man. Today, Dickie is still the straight man but Tommy is no longer the bumbler. Tommy feels that a great deal of the change is due to his "becoming more socially aware" of the issues and the fact that he can no longer separate his "on-stage from his off-stage personality." "I'd feel, hypocritical if I was still the bumbler on stage. It's not like that any more.

"When I was growing up everything was artistically dry. The 50's, my generation, were nothing. We didn't do anything or say anything. We were the same as the late 40's. Movies, books and art were nothing. They had no meaning, substance or purpose. Then came the 60's and everything changed. The turmoil was reflected in music and art. We had never questioned, but suddenly we started to and that's what caused me to change."

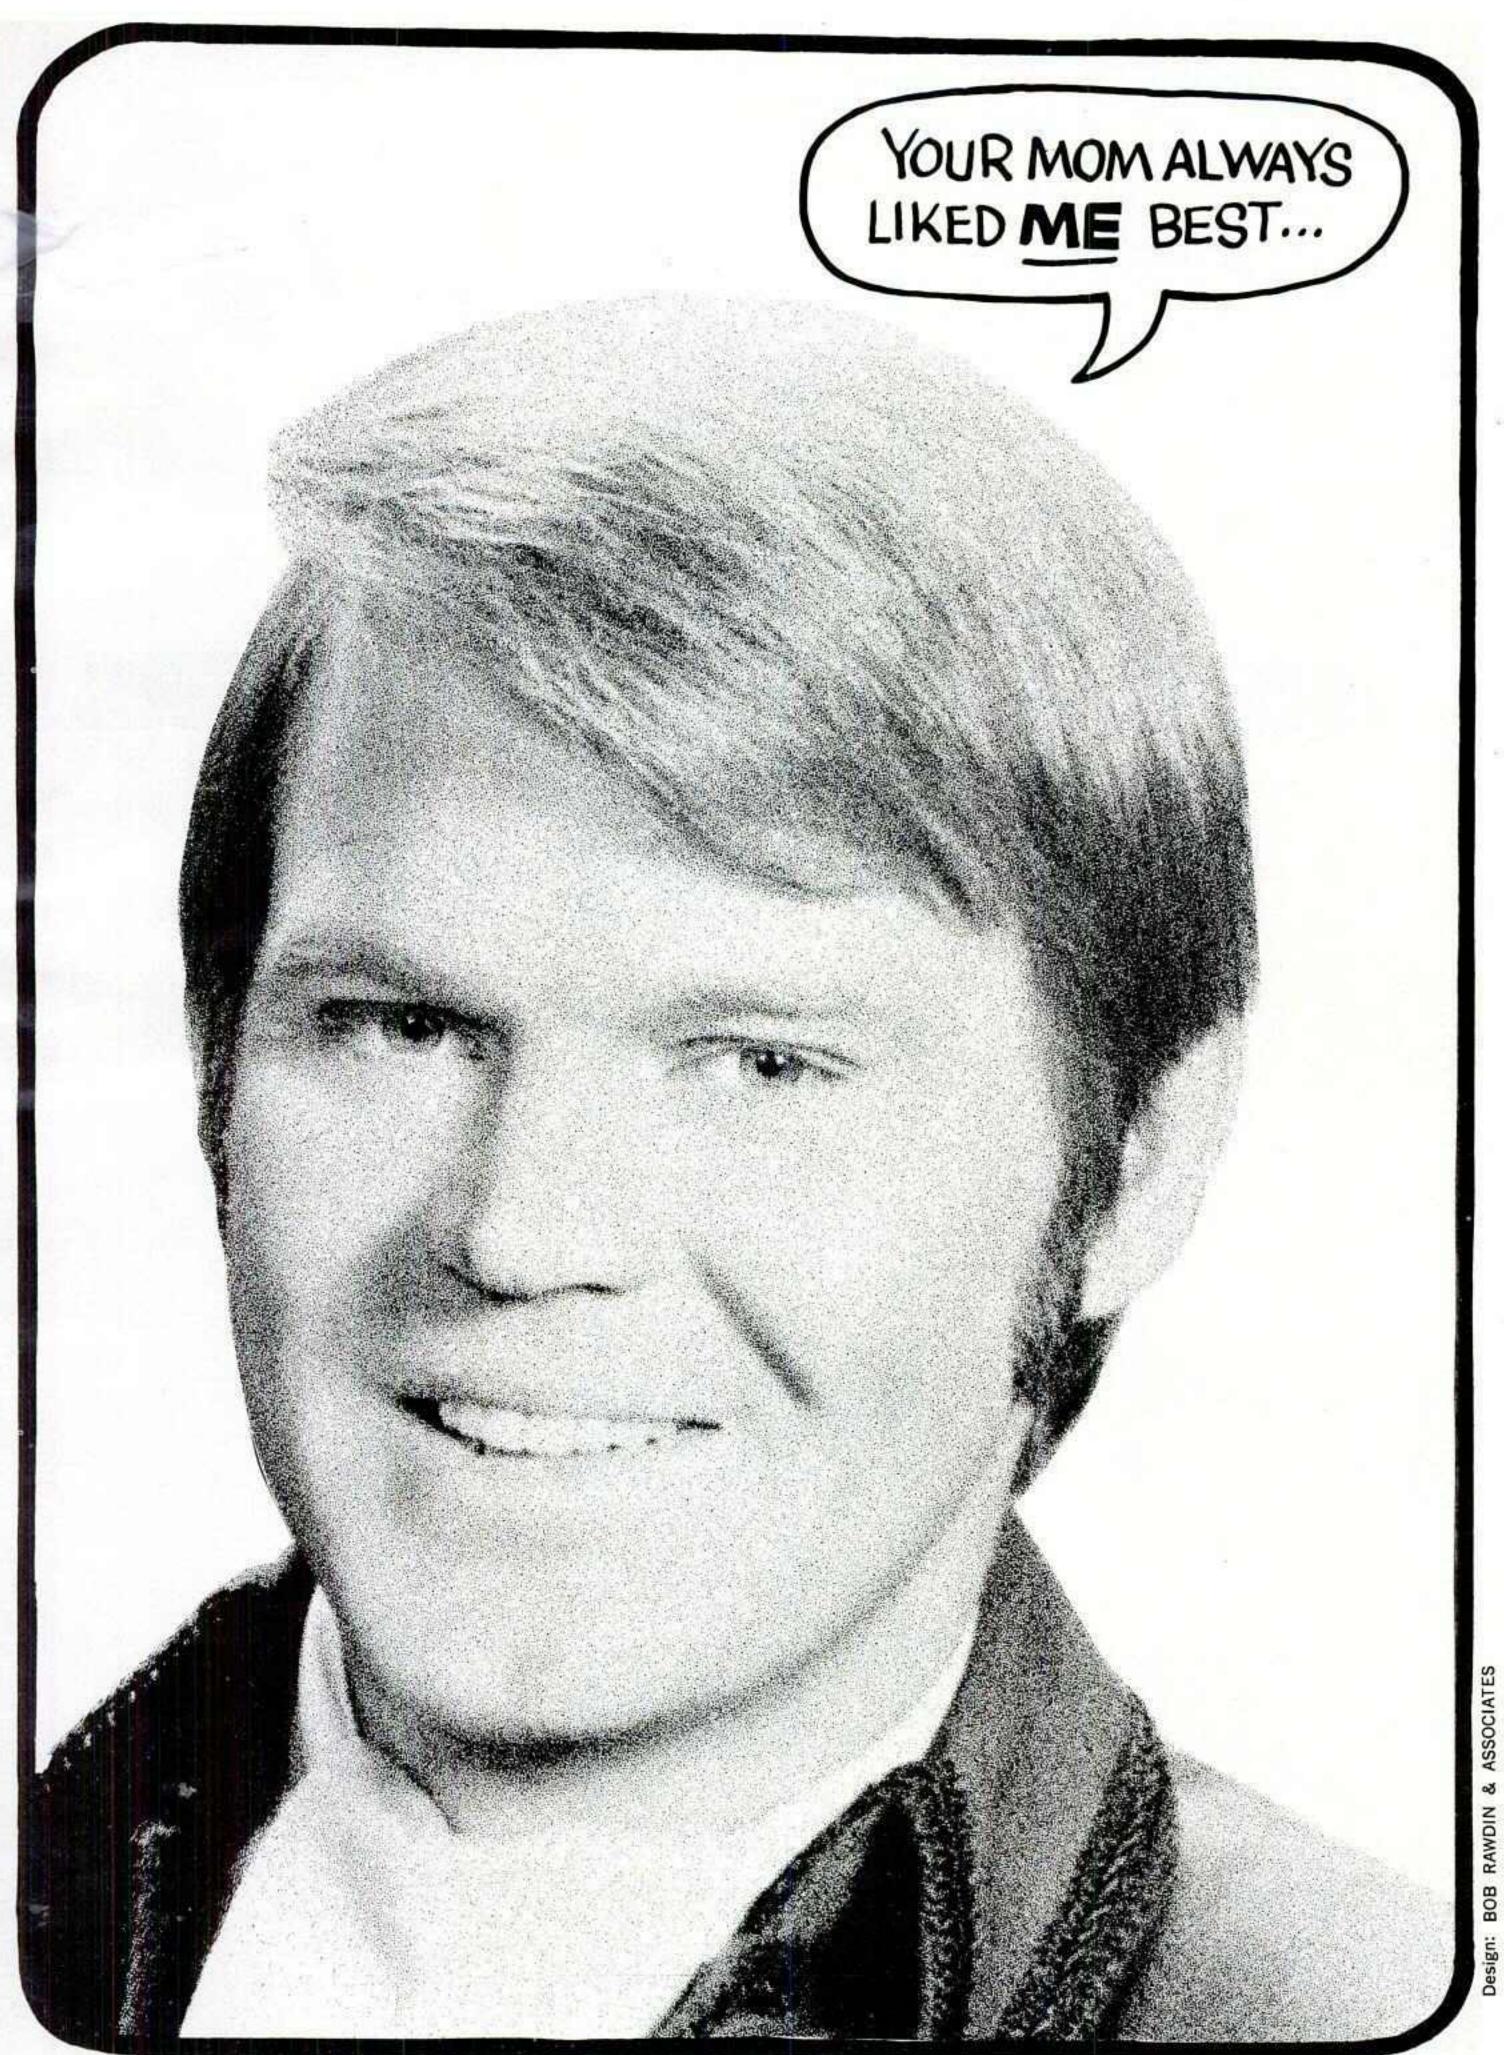

Dick is calm, cool and detached. He's the easygoing member of the team and enjoys living. Television is a 9-5 job to Dick and he is just as candid as possible when he says: "I enjoy performing and getting paid for something that's so easy to do it's almost ridiculous."

His work week consisted of about 30 hours at CBS-TV (when the brothers show was being taped) and the rest of the time was his. When rehearsals are done, Dick was off.

The past 10 years have only made Dick more aware of what's happening and more confident in himself. "We're successful and I dig it, but I haven't become super-Hollywood and I never will. I still take out the garbage."

While Dick's intensity rarely comes through at

THE SMOTHERS BROTHERS IN THEIR LIVING ROOM?

BILL GRAHAM & THE FILLMORE FAMILY EAST & WEST

SAN FRANCISCO'S PURPLE ONION

When the Smothers Brothers opened in San Francisco's Purple Onion in 1959, they were a trio. And far from being the controversial performers of today, they did some tame, if funny, folk material.

The Kingston Trio had passed this way about two years earlier and the Smothers Brothers— Tom, Dick and Bob Blackmore—were putting on a similar show.

"They weren't very controversial. They were more of a singing act, doing folk numbers," recalls Bud Steinhoff, an owner of the Purple Onion. "They would all sing and Bob would play the guitar. They didn't do as much comedy as Tommy and Dickie do now."

Before they opened that April 27, they'd been playing a beer garden in San Jose. A private detective, with a sharp eye for the entertainment business, brought the Smothers to the attention of Steinhoff, who auditioned and then signed them to a 10-week contract.

On the same bill was comedian Ronnie Schell and headliner Phyllis Diller. The press largely ignored the opening; the only mention the Smothers got was in an agate-type list of events in the city. The Smothers worked then for union scale—$319.50 a week for the three of them.

It has been reported that the brothers got their first big exposure at the hungry i, like the Purple Onion, a North Beach basement nightclub. But the hungry i's owner, Enrico Banducci, denies he ever hired them.

"Every night I'd be stumbling over them," Banducci recalls. "They'd say, 'Please, Mr. Banducci, give us a job.' But I never did." Banducci, who was first to showcase such stars as Mort Sahl, Dick Gregory, Shelly Berman, Barbra Streisand and the Kingston Trio, didn't think they were funny.

He doesn't, however, regret his decision. "You can't bat 1,000 all the time," he says. "That's just the way of life."

The Smothers came back to the Purple Onion three times. The last time was 1962 and they got $2,000 a week. But before that, when they returned August 1, 1960, they were a duo and more of a comedy team.

"Dickie was always the straight man," Steinhoff says. "Tommy was the comedian. Same as they are now." And some of the same bits and songs they do now, they also did 10 years ago, Steinhoff continued, such as "I Fell in a Vat of Chocolate," which was written for them by Pat Paulsen. Paulsen got his start at the Onion, too, around 1961 or '62. And Gerald Music, as well as another writer for the "Smothers Brothers Comedy Hour" were also entertaining at the Onion at that time.

Was it obvious 10 years ago that the Smothers Brothers and friends would make it? "You always figure they'll make it," Steinhoff says. "It's just a question of how long it takes."

SMOTHERS of Aguarius arrived one day

The opening lines of "Hair." For the city of Los Angeles, the age of Aquarius arrived one day last December when "Hair," the legitimate theater's leading rock-musical opened at the Smothers' Aquarius Theater in Hollywood. Since that time, it has been doing capacity business ($60,000 per week) in the former Earl Carroll Theater despite objections that Los Angeles would never support a show in that big of a house for any length of time. The success of "Hair" is not only a credit to Dick and Tommy (an old Aquarian himself), but to the Smothers' entire team.

"Hair" was a gamble and the brothers sunk a great deal of money ($15,000 went to renovate the stage alone) into the production as well as in publicity and promotion. The exact dollar investment hasn't been revealed, but chances are that the Los Angeles investment was greater than almost any other previous musical. The finest sound technicians were brought in and the advertising and publicity budgets were far from skimpy.

Michael Butler, the world-wide producer of "Hair" said that his initial inclination, when approached by the Smothers about producing "Hair" in Los Angeles, was "to do nothing about it. Los Angeles has always been treated as a 'tour' situation and I saw no reason to do anything differently."

The play had initially come to the attention of Ken Kragen when he was in New York. He called Tommy, told him about it, and the two discussed the possibilities of bringing it to Los Angeles. Nothing was really decided until Butler and Tommy met. "I felt," Butler says, "that Tommy knew where things were. His head was in the same place as mine and if anyone could put the show on in Los Angeles it was Tommy."

As Tommy has done with everything else, he didn't just take the New York production and bring it to Los Angeles. He innovated.

"The greatest change," Butler feels, "is in the sound. I had given up thinking that in the legitimate theater we could ever get a decent sound. The problem in New York was mainly one of unions. The electrician's union controls the sound and often the electrician knows nothing about it.

"Tommy, however, tackled the problem from the start. He did a number of unusual things including the placement of a mixer with a consul in the back of the theater. Consequently the sound we've gotten out of this theater is tops." Those same sound people were then taken to New York where they installed the same type of system. Sound was only one of the Smothers' involvements. Another was in the re-design of the stage and the publicity campaign. "It was," Butler recalls," such a new scene out here that we decided to get involved in every element—from production to publicity. We wanted this to be a success, not only because of the financial involvement but because of what the play was and what it could do for Los Angeles."

One of the most amazing things about the Los Angeles production is that the majority of the cast lacked formal training for the legitimate theater. Once again, it was Tommy's uncanny ability to spot talent that paid off. The cast was a sensation. So much so, that Butler and Tommy have been trying to work out a way in which the Los Angeles cast might be recorded.

The opening of the show sets the keynote for the evening—involvement. The audience is caught up in the staging and, as Butler puts it: "The players talk with—and not to—the audience. It's unlike any Broadway production. It's theater of involvement, and of the future."

"Hair," of course, was more than just a musical to Tommy. It's doubtful if he would have even thought about getting involved if it wasn't for the fact that "Hair" was the first rock musical to be presented in Los Angeles and, secondly, the play was attempting to do the same thing in the theater that he was trying on TV—"bridge the gap between the old and the new world," as Butler puts it. "It's a put-on, much like the Smothers. It tells people where it's at without putting them down." By bringing "Hair" to Los Angeles, Butler feels that Tommy has paved the way for some revolutionary changes in the theater.

"We'd always thought," Butler explained, "that New York was the only place to get rolling with a play. Now we know that Los Angeles can serve the same purpose."

o topic has garnered more print or publicity for the brothers than their celebrated battles vith CBS Television and the network's corps of censors. To Tommy Smothers, the man who has waged the war on behalf of the brothers, it has been "a frustrating experience" that almost caused him to quit television and look for another way to expose the duo's talents. Inevitably, CBS won. Charging "breach of contract," the network dramatically canceled the brothers renewal pact for the fall season. The viewing public was given a front-row seat in what had been a running feud over the past several months between the brothers and CBS censors. Following the axing, Tom Smothers stated that he felt the "issues raised by the cancellation go far beyond a quarrel between a television network and two performers. They go to the heart of the most critical problem in our society today . . . the generation gap, which is widening, not narrowing. "Television, which reflects the social climate of the older generation but which could serve a tremendously important role in creating and maintaining a dialogue between the generations, has simply turned its back on this challenge. It has dedicated itself instead to the perpetuation of institutions which to very many young people seem increasingly irrelevant. "It is a worthwhile calling to be an entertainer. Dick and I have always tried to be good entertainers. We will not apologize for our feeling that a good entertainer can be informative and, in the best sense of the word, provocative." Among the artists' affected by scissoring were Harry Belafonte, Cass Elliot, Pat Paulsen, Pete Seeger, Joan Baez, Elaine May, Jackie Mason and David Steinberg. Censorship for the boys actually began before their first CBS hour-long variety show aired three years ago. It started with Four Star Television, the production company which filmed the very first Smothers' series, a half-hour comedy in which Tommy played the part of an "angel" during the fall, 1965, TV season. "We had ideas," Ken Fritz recalls, "that we wanted to use on film. They were new techniques that were much along the lines of Richard Lester's 'Hard Days Night.' Four Star said we were crazy. It would never work, so we never got the chance. Those same techniques were used successfully the following year by the Monkees in their TV series." "We were naive, in those days about TV," Kragen notes. "We didn't really understand the lack of creativity in the medium. We wanted to do other things but were always hampered. The show itself was a borderline case. It was in the top 20 a couple of times and below the rest. If we would have worked with the studio I'm sure it would have been picked up for another season. As things went, thank God it wasn't." In 1966, CBS and the Smothers agreed on the hour-long variety format. Ken Kragen, Fritz and the brothers demanded "complete control from the outset" and "we got it," Kragen says. "Only we didn't bank on the censorship problem." The Smothers hour started out as a mild-mannered variety show with little, if anything, to censor. Then came the celebrated Pat Paulsen "editorials." Since that time, it has been one battle after another and today it is probably more a trademark of the brothers show than anything else.

TV CENSO

Tommy's Achilles Heel

Tommy is not against censors. "I had no objection to the network using them. What I objected to was the fact that first we were censored locally, then by CBS in New York and then by the affiliates. Once it got to New York, we had no chance for appeal. It was done and whatever was lopped was lopped." Fritz says that on a number of occasions the offer was made to have an impartial board, composed of clergy and network people, or whatever, judge the shows. The network never followed through on this proposal. What irks Tommy is the feeling that their show really offered little controversy. "Maybe five minutes out of every hour we had a message. All we were trying to do was give credence to a generation that nobody had paid any attention to . . . we did it with people like Pete Seeger, Joan Baez and several others. We weren't as controversial as a recording can be. The only reason it seemed that way was because all the other TV programs said nothing." Tommy would have liked to leave censorship to the viewer. "If they like you, they'll watch. If not, they'll turn you off and ultimately ratings will lose the show. That's where I would like to leave it." Tommy believes that television is the most important media in the country. It reaches people quicker and more effectively than anything else but it is also one of the last "holdouts." "It could be," he says, "a great bridge between the young and the old, but it isn't. Television entertainment is the big lie. Life is shown the way it isn't. Only the television news shows, and only a few minutes on each show, really display things the way they really are." The Smothers' philosophy was to try and bridge that gap.

Despite the near-weekly fights over material with censors, Tommy was not discouraged. "If I didn't think it was worthwhile and that ultimately we'd get them to loosen up, I wouldn't have done it." Tommy feels that television has a definite responsibility and that is to give the artist the "freedom to express artistically and entertainingly the issues that people are concerned with in this country. "I'm not a rebel. The Smothers Brothers did not try to use the show to express things that weren't happening. All we were trying to do was express things that were happening. We were a reflection of events; not the cause or leaders. Dickie and I are far from being leaders. In fact, when we were going to school we were one of the last to pick up on the buckles that guys began wearing on the back of their pants. It's always been that way. We just went along with what was happening and tried to use TV to show people just where it is." Probably Tommy's greatest censorship problem was caused by the fact that the Smothers have no representation in New York and that is where a great deal of censorship was conducted. "The local censor." Fritz says, "okay'd something here in Los Angeles and then it was cut in New York, or maybe the local censor cut something just because his boss in New York would cut it anyway. What compounded the problem is that there were no set rules. Censorship is all subjective. There's an NAB (National Association of Broadcasters) code that is full of holes and is sketchy. All this uncertainty changed Tommy and the rest of us. TV wasn't the fun it used to be. It was like walking on eggs." In Washington, Billboard's Mildred Hall queried congressmen about the current censorship problems and their attitudes toward them. A spokesman for Senator Pastore (D., R. I.), chairman of the Senate Subcommittee on Communications, and the man who has launched all the recent sex-and-violence diatribes in his recent hearings, said that the senator believes the "NAB code applies to all programming, across the board, with no distinction between different shows where standards of decency and morality are concerned."

TV CENSORSHIP

This was exactly the type of approach Tommy fears Congress will take. In an effort to try and get various senators and congressmen to see the other side of the censorship wrangle, he flew to Washington and visited with a number of solons. As a result, the next Senate Communications Subcommittee hearings may let talent and TV program producers have their say on the Hill. One of the backers of this type of hearing is Sen. Vance Hartke (D., Ind.), second in rank on the Pastore Communications Subcommittee. At a get-together with about 50 Indiana broadcasters and Tommy, Hartke seemingly was won over to the idea that censorship (they don't use that word-they prefer to use the word "preview" or "clearance") of network programming should be in the hands of individual broadcasters, who are responsible for their own programming, rather than by network edict. Although this is closer to what Tommy wants, it is still not the solution. He feels the audience, and nobody else, should do the censoring. However, Hartke has reportedly won agreement from Pastore to hold more hearings to give talent and TV program producers and perhaps a range of experts from fields of sociology, a chance to talk about the rights (and perhaps needs) of controversy in TV programming in this era of upheaval. Tommy was to round up a list of witnesses, and Senator Hartke would present them to Pastore for a possible hearing. A spokesman for Senator Hartke said the senator had no comment on the individual problem of Tommy Smothers vs. CBS. Rep. John E. Moss (D., Calif.), a member of the Investigations Subcommittee, has been outspoken about the mediocrity and over-commercialism of television. Before it was canceled, Moss felt that the decisions to run the Smothers' show should rest with the individual stations. Further censorship should be in the hands of the public which "shows its pleasure or displeasure" and soon lets a show know via failure to buy the sponsor's product, whether they like it or not. "We're in," Moss said, "a period of social revolution, where there is more rebellion against the established ways than ever before—and it is not unique here, it is world-wide. It reflects the character of a generation that will insist on a right to express itself. That form of expression may take forms repugnant to many of us, but nevertheless, it will come out, it won't be silenced. I don't approve of a lot of it, but there are certain verities in life that can't be denied."

radio station which was country-oriented), ran into Hartford in Nashville. "Nobody was really paying any attention to him. He was just a guy who had written some songs. His own recording of 'Gentle' never got out because of a strike at the pressing plant."

Thompson took some tapes of Hartford to Tommy who immediately saw the potential of the talented singer-writer. Within a few months, Hartford became a regular on the show. The emergence of Glen Campbell was the same kind of story. Tommy was looking for someone to host the Smothers' summer show last year. Glen had just come off of two hits, "Gentle on My Mind" and "By the Time I Get to Phoenix," and was appearing one evening on "The Joey Bishop Show." Tommy saw the show and within a few weeks the deal was made. Today, Campbell has his own show (co-produced by Tommy) and is on the verge of becoming one of the biggest stars in the country.

Interestingly, Campbell's philosophy on life differs greatly from Tommy's. Despite the difference, Glen and Tommy are close friends. "He's an extremely talented guy," Glen says, "and has a rare ability with people."

"The Campbell Show is far removed from dissent, but it is still doing something," Tommy says. "It has become a platform for new, young people to display their talents. It may not have the same message as our show did, but it is giving a chance to the new artist, writer, producer and director." One of the producers Tommy is referring to is Roger Gimbel, a TV "specials" veteran who applied special techniques to the weekly Campbell hour.

There are other new faces: Murray Roman, the writer-comedian; Jennifer Warren and Bob Einstein, the tall "cop with the club" who has probably caused as much protest and indignation as anyone the Smothers have presented.

"Tommy has an uncanny ability to spot talent," says Bill Thompson.

"He's like a magnet. Nearly everyone he's given a chance to has worked out."

Besides the faces, the brothers have pioneered the loosening of language on television. "Before the Smothers came along," says the Troubador's Doug Weston, "it was unthinkable to joke about pot, endorse hippies, bring attention to the youth movement or question things that were happening. Today, everyone is doing it. It has become commonplace and because of that, we tend to forget that two or three years ago when Tommy and Dickie first presented it, people nearly went through the roof."

Through the years, the brothers have appeared in Weston's club about a half dozen times. During that time Weston and Tommy have become close friends. They think alike. Three years ago, shortly after the brothers "Angel" CBS-TV show folded, Tommy dropped by. "We spent hours talking about television and how the 'Angel' show had hung them up. He talked about finding a show that would offer a greater amount of freedom. One in which they could innovate and offer their own ideas."

Three years ago Tommy thought he had found it with the introduction of his CBS variety show. Today, however, he undoubtedly has some second thoughts.

The networks have again provided an example in honest corporate commitment to "decency and good taste". This should act as an example for those individuals within the television industry to re-examine their own personal interpretation of these worthwhile goals.

Most of those who, with justified indignation, created the ads in Billboard this week are at the present time contributing their talents or services to network TV in exchange for large amounts of money.

Using the same standards so eloquently imposed upon CBS by these critics, even a cursory examination will reveal that each of us alone has contributed little if anything of decency and good taste....much of quite the opposite...and surely nothing commensurate with the salaries paid.

Such salaries are hardly justified even as salve to the individual conscience or stimuli for such rationalization as, "You gotta work within the system if you want to improve it".

Since economic concern is more properly the motivating force of the networks themselves than it is for the individual with a conscience, network policy will not be changed through displays of moral indignation by its employees.

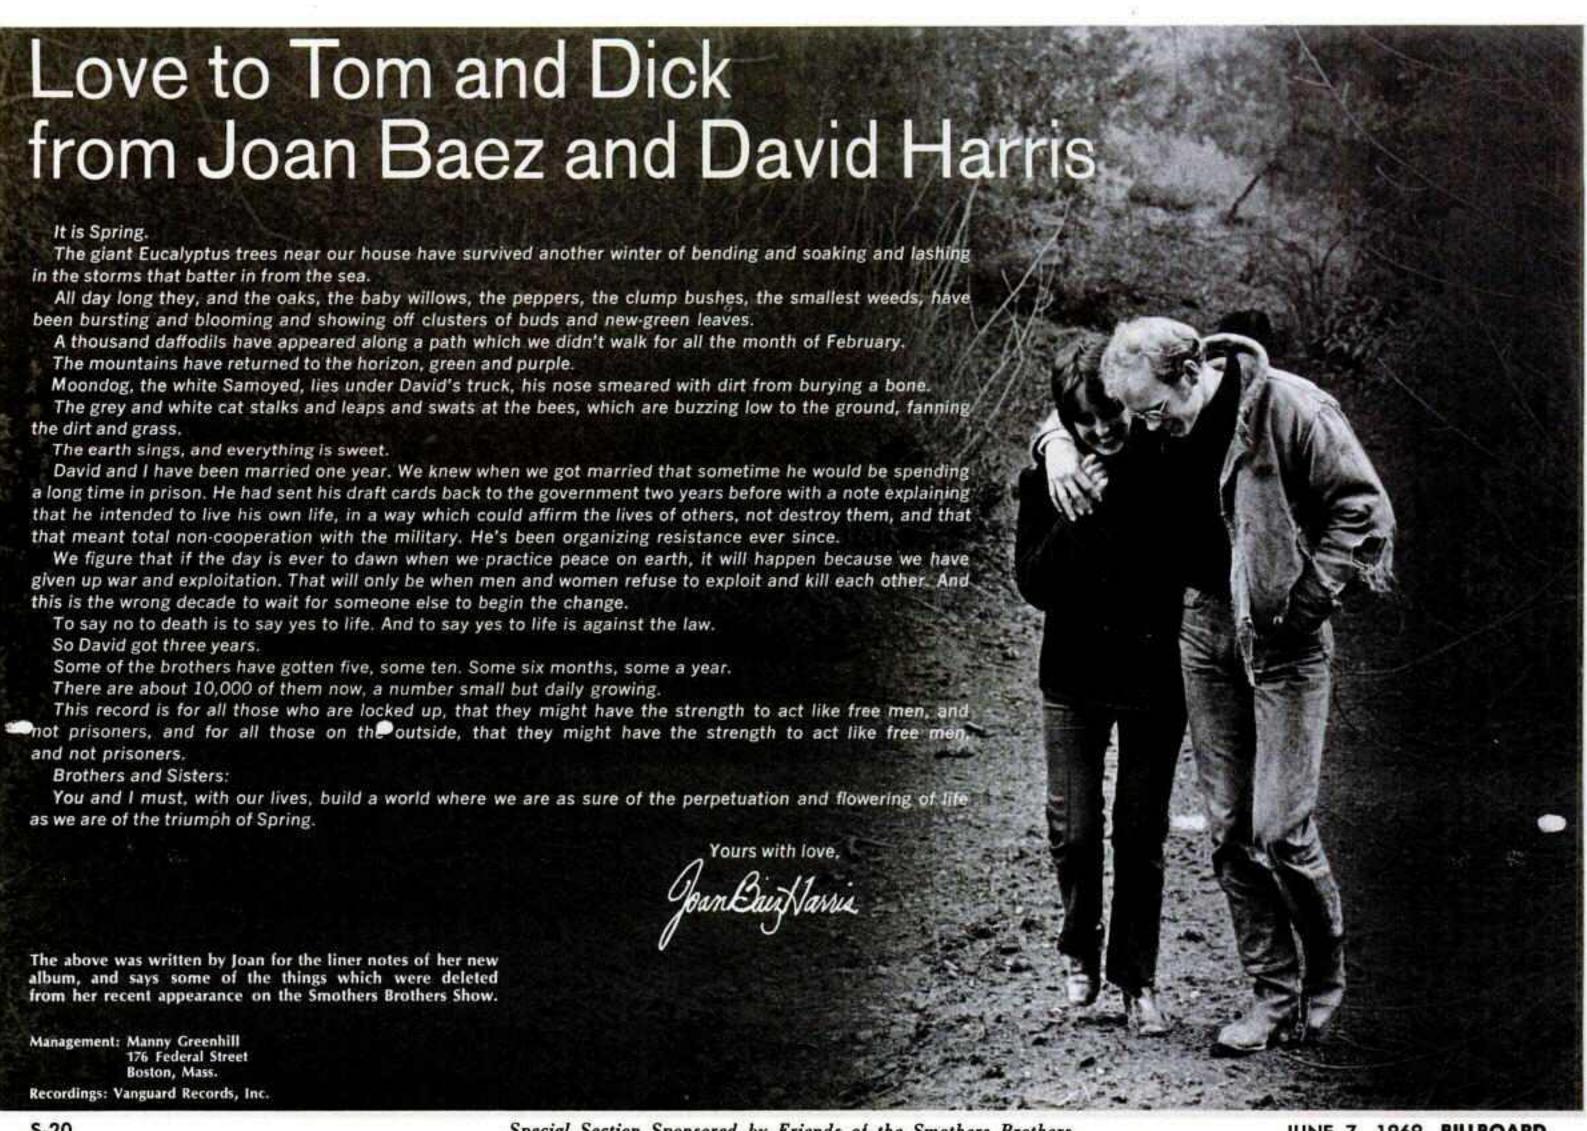

Therefore, let us instead create a truly free TV production company, where top talents work at minimum union scale and in good taste create honest shows revelant to the times in which we live. Let us give these shows at cost to regional or national clients, independent TV stations, or individual network affiliates to pre-empt network shows. Only then will networks re-evaluate their own standards.

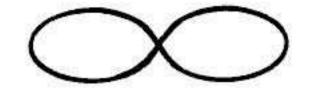

Are there any other alternatives? Sure.... Shut up or you may be next!

the television studio, it does become quite evident when it comes to auto racing, an avocation the entertainer took up two years ago. Talking about television and show business, Dick is almost to the point of being bored, but when it comes to racing, his attitude changes.

To those who deal with the brothers, Dick has the ideal outlook on life. He's able to function as "the best straight man a comedy team ever had," says Ken Fritz, "and yet he has managed to keep a separate life at home and in show business."

"I don't think," Dick says, "I've really found myself. I don't have any definite idea of what I'd like to be. Right now we're performing and it's fun. If it wasn't fun I'd get out."

Dick is a performer almost by accident. He had every intention of becoming a teacher or going into some related profession before his brother convinced him to come to San Jose State. At the beginning of their show business career, Dick went along with everything. It was a joyride and he really didn't feel it would last.

It's unlikely, however, that Dick will ever appear in concert again. Last summer he and Tommy toured more than a dozen cities and Dick found it "too physical, we can't take it any more. It almost killed us."

"Ten years ago, when Tommy and I started, we were average white liberals who sang like any other group. We've changed in 10 years, of course, Tommy has become more serious and he doesn't think he's funny any more. He's become concerned about the moral issues of life and so have I. We still have differences, but we've never had any that couldn't be ironed out, nor have we had any that even made us think about parting."

Spokesmen Reaching Young — Seek Pact to Cut Singles

NASHVILLE — The Spokesmen, a Miami-based contemporary folk gospel group with special appeal to young people, have performed for 110,000 youths, averaging two-to-three concerts daily for the past several months.

Confident they can reach a secular audience through single records, the group now is negotiating with the Impact label. All their material to now has been LP.

Soloist for the group is Dick Hill, who formerly toured with Paul Revere and the Raiders, and appeared with Dickey Jay and the Chancellors on "Where the Action Is." He, like the others, enrolled in the Florida Bible College and became gospel-oriented.

Other members of the group are Dave Shipley, Don Smith, Mike Otto, and Bruce Porter. Their ages range from 21 to 23. Their work is unlike most gospel music in many respects. Although it is sacred in nature, it is done with all high harmonies and no bass. The music has a completely contemporary sound, but still shies away from the secular lyrics.

Accompanying the group on their tours of high schools and colleges is Dr. A. Ray Stanford, president of the Florida Bible College, who speaks to the young people and is able to communicate at their level. The Spokesmen then perform, using their own methods of singing rather than the traditional.

"We are making our own following," said a spokesman for the Spokesmen. "We never play a secular concert, but we stick solely to a contemporary sound. There is nothing with which to compare it. It's a completely new style."

Charles Bird, manager of the group, is pressing hard for the single. "It's good enough to reach the top 10," he insisted, "and the fact that it's gospel won't matter at all."

The group wound up its concerts for this school year at St. Petersburg, and already has been booked for next year in areas of Alabama, Texas, California, Ohio, Pennsylvania and Georgia. Despite the young age, two of the performers already hold executive offices with the college. Bruce Porter is registrar of the school; Mike Otto is director of student activities.

Angel Bows 3-LP Set of Elijah' —Miss Du Pre, Barenboim LP

LOS ANGELES—Angel Records this month is issuing a three-LP package of Mendelssohn's "Elijah." The June release also features cellist Jacqueline du Pre and conductor-pianist Daniel Barenboim.

The "Elijah" principals are soprano Gwyneth Jones, mezzo-soprano Janet Baker, tenor Nicolai Gedda, and baritone Dietrich Fischer-Dieskau. Rafael Fruhbeck de Burgos conducts the New Philharmonia Chorus and Orchestra and the Wandsworth School Boys' Choir.

Barenboim has another volume of Beethoven piano sonatas and appears with Miss Du Pre, his wife, in a coupling of Brahms sonatas for cello and piano. Barenboim also conducts the English Chamber Orchestra in a pairing of Mozart and Haydn. Miss Du Pre is the soloist with Sir John Barbirolli and the London Symphony in an album of concertos by Haydn and Monn. The Georg Monn concerto is a catalog first.

Clarinetist Gervase de Peyer is the soloist with Fruhbeck de Burgos and the New Philharmonia in a coupling of Weber and Rossini. Completing the Angel titles is a Vaughan Williams program by the King's College Choir, Cambridge, and the English Chamber Orchestra under David Willcocks.

HOUSTON — Three conductors for the 1969-1970 season have been named by the Houston Symphony Society to replace Andre Previn. Antonio de Almeida was named principal guest conductor for next season, and may become the orchestra's permanent maestro as successor to Previn. De Almeida will conduct a total of 12 concerts — six pairs — in the fall.

Other guest conductors who will appear next season are Jussi Jalas who will conduct two pairs of concerts in early March and Hans Schweiger who will lead two pairs in late March in preparation for taking the orchestra on its Eastern tour.

Guest conductors previously announced are: Sir John Barbirolli, who will lead four pairs; Hans Schmidt-Isserstedt, one pair; Sixten Ehrling, one pair, and S. Clyde Roller, two pairs.

Previn's jazz combo was featured in an impromptu performance in a series of four concerts which marked Previn's last appearance with the Houston Symphony Orchestra.

The concerts, sponsored by Foley's local department store, were held last month in Jones Hall.

By RON SCHLACHTER

NASHVILLE — A special route service, which could be called long distance programming, has produced good results for Hermitage Music Co.'s onestop operation here.

"Operators give us a list of their locations and what types of records are being played," explained Helen Hall, record department manager. "Every week or two weeks, we then put on five records. So far, this has worked out very well. We've had no complaints. We've gainednot lost business.

"This all started about three or four years ago. One of the reasons we introduced the route service was our price. So many places were cutting their prices. Consequently, we decided to give something extra and decided upon the special programming service at no extra cost to the operator."

Operators Hail Big Okla. Tournament

By BEVERLY BAUMER

OKLAHOMA CITY—Operators involved in last week's huge coin-operated pool table tournament here reported revenue increases as high as "200 per cent." The event involved 22,000 players in the finals, 3,500 spectators and $5,000 in prize money and trophies, according to Leonard Schneller, sales manager, U. S. Billiards, who conducted the event.

Among the dignitaries on hand was Oklahoma State Sen. J. Lee Keels, who retires from Capitol Music Co. in December.

"We think the tournament is a great opportunity to boost the play of pool tables," he said. "While the tournament was going on, business has shown an improvement in our tables.

"I've had some tables entered into this that have had a 100 per cent increase in their business," Senator Keels said.

C. A. Culp of Culp Distributing Co., Oklahoma City, coordinator of the event, reported tournaments as "very successful" for him.

"There has been quite a bit of enthusiasm because they've sold more beer, have increased play on all machines and have created more traffic continu-

"We had an increased play of 10 to 20 per cent in all machines. One location started with one pool table and we now have six. Collections started from $87 on the first table and now is getting close to $300."

Schneller, listening to Culp's comments, said he had heard of some players going into nightclubs at 1 a.m. to practice pool. "They didn't want their competitors to know they needed practice."

Dale Cucalina, Cucalina Western Novelty, Inc., McAllister, Okla., said the tournaments had increased his business 200 per

"The tournaments were always held on slow nights. They increased business 200 per cent on tournaments nights. I'm real satisfied, and so are the locations," Cucalina sid.

Howard Riley of R&M Music, Tulsa, who is rated by many as the most efficient operator in the Sooner State, said he didn't have a location that the tournament didn't increase play of phonographs and beer sales.

Riley and Harold Staples of City Music & Vending, Tulsa, put in 30 locations "just to test the tournament thing.

"The results were really great. We put advertisements in the Tulsa newspaper and got a lot of response from people I never dreamed shot pool. We compared the 10-week period of last year with this and it showed a

Girls Go for Pool Tourney

OKLAHOMA CITY - The girls who showed up here for the largest coin-operated pool table tournament in recent history, dubbed it the "most."

"I think it's great to have something like this where women can compete," said Mrs. Tommye Reese, Tulsa. "There's baseball, football, and everything else for men to compete in, but not very much for women to compete in, and we need this. A pool tournament is something competitive for women. I wish they'd do this every year."

Mrs. Reese is a district sales manager for World Book Encyclopedia and has played pool three years. She won the women's division at Hiko Club in Tulsa. She said the prize money offered in the Oklahoma City tourney also attracted her to the event.

"I just love to play pool," said Mrs. Anna Lou Pardue, Crescent, Okla., who has played some five years. She won the women's division at Six Mile Bar in Crescent.

"There are ten of us women who love to play pool and we decided to go at it. I came out the winner. I've never played in a State tournament before. The trophy attracted me to the contest, and after I won the trophy I decided to come on down here and try for the money. I think the State tournament is just wonderful."

Mrs. Peggine Barrington, Oklahoma City, who has played pool just a year, said it was the trophy that attracted her to the tournament. She won the women's division for Mai Kai Lounge Club.

"I wouldn't have entered the tournament if I hadn't seen the trophy," she said. I like the trophies. A trophy is something to talk about years from now. The money you win would be gone, but the trophy would last for years."

SPRINGFIELD, III. - Members of the Illinois Coin Machine Operators Association (ICMOA) were urged last week to show up en masse here June 11 for a House Judiciary hearing on antipinball legislation. The hearing is scheduled for 8:30 a.m. but ICMOA executive director Fred Gain said he could not predict when during the day the pinball issue would be discussed. themselves, and call the operators every two weeks to find out special orders and requests.

"We have an in-state and an out-of-state wats line," said Mrs. Hall. "We call every one of our customers every week or every two weeks. This has worked out quite well for us.

"The most challenging part of our work is not actually knowing the locations on a personal basis. However, we lean heavy on the trade charts, such as Bill-board's Hot 100, and come out on top. One area in which we do shy away from the charts is country and western. We tend to go heavy on artists who play in the area.

"A difficult location would be someplace with many requests. Often, the requests are for records that go way back. We have cut down on our library of oldies. We found it just wasn't worthwhile or profitable to keep up. Now, we are able to honor about 50 per cent of the requests. We're heavy with country and western oldies because that's what the people around here want.

"Most of the locations are easy to program, such as the service clubs up at Fort Knox, Ky. They're really their own operators up there, so I just call them up and ask what they want. We give them five records every two weeks. Usually, it's two pop two rhythm and blues and a country and western."

Hermitage Music also operates branches in Memphis and Birmingham, Ala. However, the programming service is conducted only from the Nashville headquarters. The Memphis outlets deals mainly with racks, while the Birmingham operation concerns itself with machines and parts.

by large national operating firms can be appreciated by the care and planning that goes into acquistions of music routes. "We do not react to a phone call from some music operator who wishes to sell his route," Fishman said. "We have specific goals and are interested only in markets which offer us a chance to balance out our over-all volume and profit picture."

ARA Services, Inc., which recently changed its corporate name from Automatic Retailers of America to more accurately reflect its direction as a total services company, has 20 separate divisions. These include a Business and Industry Services division, Hospital Food Management, Slater School & College Services and such specialized divisions as ARA Environmental Service, designed to provide hospitals with an infection prevention program.

ARA's public services division, encompassing the operations of cigaret and music routes, has for some years been under the direction of the "B & I" group. Now they are co-ordinated through the Silco Division, headed by its president, Julian Silverstein.

In the past 10 years ARA's sales have risen from $24 million to $477 million and earnings have gone from $864,000 to $12,500,000. The broad services company employs 36,000 people and has operations coast-to-coast and in many foreign countries.

"We believe in decentralized service groups served by a corporate headquarters staff. For example, we do not have a corporate sales organization. Each service division is autonomous and independent and specializes in a different market. Our headquarters staff handles such services as accounting, financing, legal advice, personnel, public relations and many others," Fishman said.

Fishman said his firm does not view a cigaret machine and music operating company in terms of offering only those services. "We see this kind of company as offering all such services that might be required by consumers frequenting public places. Right now this might include a cigaret machine and music machine but who knows what other services might be offered in the future."

In terms of further acquisitions, he said, "We have no national policy of acquiring cigaret and music routes. We're only interested in street operations in certain large metropolitan markets and only then if it fits in with our over-all pattern of operation."

By "fitting in" he said this does not mean an existing plant vending operation would be combined with a public operating firm. "We wouldn't even combine warehousing facilities. We believe each market is different. For example, we do not mix our public cigaret operating and our operation of cigaret machines in plants."

In a recent speech, Fishman spelled out ARA's marketing philosophy: "From the very beginning we have been market oriented, not tool oriented. To us a vended machine is a tool of the trade, not the end in itself. To us, kitchen equipment and dining service facilities are tools. not systems, they're parts of systems.

"Our first objective is to determine the need of the marketplace. Consequently, our organization is structured so that our field people, our decentralized service people, are organized not only on a decentralized geographical basis, but on a specialized market basis." days. A new Little LP by Tom Jones, entitled "This Is Tom Jones," is expected to be out in two weeks. Meanwhile, "Cover Girl," a local record by the Gross National Product, is getting good play, according to Prediger. . . . The second Bi-State Area 8-Ball Tournament, under the direction of Atlas Music Co., is set to begin Sept. 1 at locations. According to Bob Vihon of Atlas, finals will be held Nov. 15-16 in the main auditorium of the Masonic Temple in Davenport, Ia. Players will be competing for $5,025 worth of prizes and 16 playing tables and two practice tables will be used during the finals. . . . Larry Flynt, president of Flynt Distributing Co. of Ohio, says he will have a very significant announcement to make in the next few weeks: "The whole trade will be surprised." . . . Letters and floor plans will soon go out to all previous Music Operators of America (MOA) exhibitors, offering them an option on the same space they had last year. The deadline for exercising options is July 1.

American Shuffleboard's Sol Lipkin returned to New York recently while on an extended road trip due to the sudden illness of his father, Joseph Lipkin. The elder Lipkin, who is 84 "and ex-tremely alert," is doing well now. Meanwhile, Lipkin, says he is finding operators enthusiastic about American Shuffleboard's drop coin chute, which eliminates many of the problems associated with the push-in lever type of coin mechanisms on pool tables. There also is an increasingly stronger demand for shuffleboards, according to Lipkin who mentioned the 22-foot Royal American unit and the smaller 12-foot Royal Cushion machine. American Shuffleboard constantly mails out literature on how to conduct tournaments on both shuffleboards and pool tables. Rock-Ola Mfg. Corp. recently

William Findlay, Rock-Ola's field service engineer for phonographs, was the main instructor, while electrical and sound instruction on the phonograph was conducted by Warren Wheatman, sound technician, and the vending line was handled by Edward Lorkowski, field service engineer for vending. Those who attended included Bernard Thompson, Syracuse, N. Y.; Louis Avoglia, North Bergen, N. # Hurvich Lends Proof To Vending Success

By RON SCHLACHTER

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. — Max Hurvich of Birmingham Vending here believes vending is still a business where a person can realize the American dream of success. At the same time, there is a "price" involved.

"A person has to be willing to work hard and understand the business," said Hurvich, who, with his brother, Harry, is celebrating his 38th year in business. "However, a lot of people don't want to work. You have to live frugally at first, but for the fellow who wants to work, there's nothing better than the vending business.

"We should know. We were out of a job in 1931 when we started in the vending business. For the first six to eight months, we operated out of our homes. Since then, we have helped a lot of people get started. Many have gotten into it part time and after doing so well, they are now in business full time. We've started many out this way. One fellow was in life insurance before going into vending."

As for business, Hurvich still values the penny:

"Don't belittle the penny. Times have changed and fads have changed. The kids now have quarters like they used to have pennies, but the penny is still big. A lot of our operators are doing big business, with penny items.

"I would advise operators that they can't fool kids whether they are dealing with penny, nickel or quarter items. You must give them value. You must give them enough charms. The kids are smart shoppers. In fact, they're smarter than the adults. The operator makes a mistake in shortchanging charms and capsules.

"I would also suggest that the aggressive operator never car-(Continued on page 47) real nice increase. On top of that, I liked the public relations benefits that came from the tournament. It creates a lot of good will. If it's a real plush affair, it counteracts the bad public relations that the coin industry has had," Riley said.

Pete Faulkenberry, an employee of Riley, commenting on the tournament, said, "When we started the first one we went into it with enthusiasm, but didn't know what to expect. We had to sell it to our people. We've created a new interest in pool playing—a new avenue of revenue. We are so enthused we feel the interest in Tulsa is so high we could hold a citywide tournament and get as much interest as this one in Oklahoma City is getting today."

Faulkenberry stressed the importance of newspaper advertisement in a tournament. Small ones were avoided. A quarterpage ad was placed on a Friday sports page. On identical ad was run the following day with additional information about cash prizes and a notice that other details would appear in the Sunday edition. On Sunday the ad carried a list of locations and information on where to enter the event and where to get information.

"We collected $20 from all locations to pay for the ads," Faulkenberry said.

"Larry Buckley of Larry's Amusement Co., Enid, said, "If they have another tournament later on in the year, I'd certainly be for that."

Paul Davis of Robbie's

Amusement, Clinton, Okla., said: "My locations enjoyed the tournaments very much and were very enthused. Business went up about 25 per cent.

Lynn Luddington, son of Ralph Luddington of Northwest Amusement, Woodward, Okla., said: "The tournaments have been real good and helped us on our pool tables. We had a 90 per cent turn-out for the State tournament."

York Bulk Vendors Association (NYBVA). The group decided to meet every other month during the summer season hoping for better attendance and a more streamlined meeting.

Dave Mark, Mark Vending, Passaic, N. J., reported on the apprehension of a thief found breaking into some of his machines and told the group he planned to prosecute. The group suggested offering a reward of from $50 to $100 to the location for any information leading to the conviction of the thieves.

Roger Folz, Folz Vending, Oceanside, N. Y., said, "In a number of instances, thieves will come in a store and use various tools to open the machines. We have counteracted this in our own organization by requiring our routemen to wear identification tags with their pictures on them. This way store managers can check to see if the routeman is legitimate.

"In offering a reward we feel that at least we can count on more co-operation from store managers and personnel."

The problem of bingo chips continues to plague New York bulk operators and Folz hopes to move further in efforts to gain the co-operation of the Secret Service.

The group also heard a report that Paterson, N. J., officials are drafting a proposal to include bulk vending machines in new health law legislation. Folz said the New York group will fight the proposal.

EDP Systems Spark Change In Image of 'Rack Jobber'

By EARL PAIGE

SKOKIE, Ill. — The term "rack jobber" is no longer adequate in defining the new, computer-oriented sub-wholesaler of prerecorded music and allied products, according to Harry Losk. But although his firm in suburban Chicago has evolved from a mobile supplier of jukebox operators to a point of utilizing an IBM 360-20 computer for servicing mass merchandisers, he still sees the need for the "human touch." Such a "service-first" philosophy probably accounts for Losk's still having a few jukebox operator customers, a rarity among most firms grouped under the heading of rack jobber.

As vice-president, Lieberman Enterprises, a Minneapolis-based "family conglomerate" and parent firm of Susan Distributing Inc., here, Losk views his company as "somewhere between the rack jobber that believes machines are the total answer and those who think only people can handle the job."

Losk has been involved with Susan Distributing since 1964, when the firm bought out Mobile One Stop. Now headquartered here in a modern complex utilizing a room full of data processing equipment, he thinks the term rack jobber is obsolete.

"I would classify our firm as a merchandising specialist. This is where rack jobbing is today. We're not just sending people around to fill up racks, but rather, we're offering a total merchandising service from supplying fixtures, promotion activity and advertising services to advising stores where the best space exists, what to merchandise in that space and in which racks the merchandise should be displayed."

Although Susan is employing such electronic devices as a Kimball ticket reader, MAI reproducer, MAI 083 card sorter, the MAI 077 collator and the 402 accounting machine and printer, a field force of 19 merchandise representatives call on every account at least once a month, oftener if necessary.

"Since going to electronic data processing (EDP) equipment we have discovered that it's just as easy to service an account in Lexington, Ky., as in nearby Aurora, Ill. The only factor in distance to account is in the time it takes to receive a self-stamped envelope full of tear-off tickets from product sold and the trucking time for the shipment. We can adjust inventory to take care of this slight time delay."

With accounts in such far-off areas as Idaho and Massachusetts, Losk has found it necessary to hire resident representatives in some areas. More will probably be added, he said.

Accounts range from variously sized mass merchandisers to "many independent" record dealers. Of the latter, Losk said, "We love their business and can adapt our merchandising services to fit individual needs, such as a campus record shop or strict r&b retailer. Susan still has some jukebox operator business "because we have taken care of them over the years." He has not actively sought such accounts, though, and has found that the singles business as a whole does not look too promis-

Singles probably account for something like 15 per cent of Susan's total volume, he said. Tape CARtridges, both 8-track and 4-track, and cassettes, account for about 18 per cent and the balance of the volume is from albums. "Tape, however, is growing at a phenomenal rate," Losk said.

The firm also sells playback hardware items such as tape players, radios, phonographs and components and acts as a sales representative division of Steven Distributing, one of the Lieberman firms.

Every piece of tape and album merchandise that leaves Susan is affixed with a ticket that includes a manufacturer's suggested list price and a space for either printing in the retailer's price or allowing for the retailer to do this individually. The tickets are also date coded.

"When tickets spill out of an envelope returned from our account, we can tell when the merchandise was put in the store," Losk explained. "If it's been there longer than 90 to 120 days, depending upon the account, of course, then we won't replace it.

Losk said a six-time-a-year turnover was "ideal." If merchandise is not turned over six times a year he said, "Something is wrong. If the rate is more than six then the store is not utilizing enough space and the need to return tickets after each day's business is concluded is that much greater."

Accounts may return tickets daily, every other day or every three days. Each returned ticket, if it signals current merchandise, constitutes a reorder. "We also add new merchandise. We know the store's buying patterns and which new items to add.

"We also establish what we call 'bellwether' accounts, which provide guidelines for other retailers in the surrounding region. With what our representatives tell us, combined with the expertise of our buyers, we can closely approximate the types of merchandise stores require."

Susan will take delivery on an IBM 360-20 in January, 1970. This further sophistication of EDP programming will allow for running all incoming tickets through the unit, which will automatically "know" if the items are in stock, and if not, will print an automatic back order. This machine will print an order for the Susan stockroom, a detailed invoice and the necessary labels for labeling the shipping cartons.

Lieberman Enterprises, Losk explained, is a family-owned firm headed up by David and Steve Lieberman and Harold Okinow. The "conglomerate" consists of another firm very similar to Susan Distributing, Acme Sales, the latter based in Minneapolis. Also in Minneapolis are a sales company for Seeburg jukeboxes and amusement equipment, another firm for vending equipment and the Harold M. Lieberman Co., a distributor of many labels.

Sylvania Shows '70 Line

MIAMI—Sylvania's 1970 line of stereo phonographs, unveiled here last week, includes five bookshelf speaker systems, a stereo receiver that can accommodate separate speaker systems, turntable or tape components and an automatic turntable accessory.

The output of the new models, measured in peak music power, ranges from 40 to 400 watts and the suggested list prices range from $99.95 for the portable Exponent 4/11 to $995 for the de luxe Maestro model SC395P.

Console models feature SC-25W, a 68-inch vertical, environmental unit designed to serve also as a room divider or accent furniture piece. The model is constructed of aluminum poles and walnut veneer cabinetry and houses an AM/FM tuner/amplifier and control panel in its top portion. Concealed beneath this section are minature spotlights which cast a soft glow through the plate glass shelves which provide an ample display area. The suggested list is $750.

Three stereo Cube models provide console quality in compact enclosures of cubic proportions. Equipped with air suspension speaker systems, the cubes provide 50 watts of peak music power. Two of the cubes have AM/FM and FM stereo turners.

Sylvania's Dynamic America collection offers quality features in small console models. Cabinets are of decorative non-wood substitutes, select solids or genuine veneers. The models pro-

Chicago Company Markets Ever-Disc

CHICAGO—Ever-Disc, a record preservative, is being launched into national distribution here by Hornung-Midwest, a firm headed by engineer-chemist Pierre J. Gladu,

The chemical, which has a suggested retail of $3.65 per four-ounce bottle, has been on sale in several Chicago retail record outlets for some while on a test-market basis, Gladu said. He claims that one coating preserves a record for up to 500 plays and will even improve the sound on an old record:

"Actually, I played a record 1,800 times after coating it with the chemical and finally stopped because I was tired . . . but there was no loss in sound."

WARRANTY: REWRITTEN

MIAMI—Sylvania Entertainment Products is including an easy-to-understand warranty, in question-and-answer form, with its 1970 line of home entertainment products. Marketing vicepresident William Boss explained:

"The new warranty is presented in a single question-andanswer form so consumers should have no difficulty understanding the terms under which Sylvania warrants its television sets, stereophonic instruments, radios and tape recorder-players. We appreciate that prior to this type of presentation consumers may have been confused by sometimes nebulous warranty language. This new Sylvania approach should eliminate the confusion."

POP

THIS IS TOM JONES—Parrot PAS 71208 (S)

With five of his albums currently riding high on the LP chart, this hot new package will prove Jones' biggest ever at the dealer level and take him right to the top of the chart! The material is exceptional with performances to match. Highlights include "Hey Jude," "Fly Me to the Moon" and treatment of the past Sinatra hit, "I'm a (Sittin' On) the Dock of the Bay." His "Fool to Want You," is a gem, as is "Little Green Apples."

PU

THE MERCY AND LOVE (CAN MAKE YOU HAPPY) — Sundy SRLP-803 (S)

The Mercy, is such a hot new vocal group because of the single recorded click of "Love (Can Make You Happy)" that they have two "debut" albums out—one on Warner Bros. and this one. This boasts the original hit recording as well as other nifty songs as "Hey Jude," "Hooked on a Feeling" and "Worst That Could Happen." Both LP's are formidable.

POP

KEEF HARTLEY BAND—Halfbreed. Deram DES 18024 (5)

Keef Hartley, former drummer with British blues ace John Mayall, has surrounded himself with some fine English blues musicians, added sharp vocals by Miller Anderson and debuted with a heady and heavy package of urban blues. Hartley's drumming punctuates "The Halfbreed," Sleepy John Estes' "Leavin' Trunk" and B. B. King's "Think It Over," plus many origional numbers to make the group's debut a chart occasion.

ELVIS PRESLEY—From Elvis in Memphis, RCA Victor LSP 4155

Elvis returns to Memphis, where he began his sensational career, and the return is really an event. He's never sounded better, and the choice of material is perfect. Included is his Top 10 single "In the Ghetto" plus exceptional treatments of "Only the Strong Survive," "Gentle on My Mind" and "Long Black Limousine." Million-dollar album sales are not strange to Elvis, and this will surely achieve that.

POP

ROTARY CONNECTION SONGS— Cadet Concept LPS 322 (5)

The Rotary Connection continues to be fresh and bright in everything they do. With this latest release, they once again treat familiar material as though it had never been heard before. Prime examples are their intriquing treatments of "The Weight" and "Sunshine of Your Love" and most notably "Respect." A great LP outing with unlimited programming and sales notential.

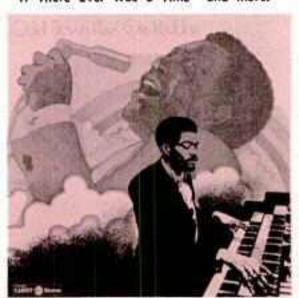

POP

LIGHTHOUSE - RCA Victor LSP 4173 (S)

RCA's answer to Blood, Sweat and Tears is their very own Lighthouse, a 12-man effort of top musicians who play every mood from jazz and pop to soul and strong instrumentals. Led by ex-Pauper Skip Prokop on drums and vocals, the group also features Paul Hoffer on keyboards and vibes, and Freddy Stone on horns. Lighthouse delves into some heavy musical territory with original compositions like "If There Ever Was a Time" and more.

ODELL BROWN PLAYS OTIS REDDING—Cadet LPS 823 (S)

Odell Brown solos without the Organ-izers, who have since gone their separate ways, but keeps that unique vitality and individual energy that characterized the group's recordings. Simplicity is Brown's key, as he recaptures instrumentally Otis Redding's great material, substituting his own original organ voice for Redding's soul wail. Starring are "Respect," "Dock of the Bay" and "Try a Little Tenderness."

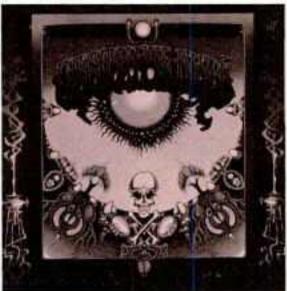

POP

THE DELLS' GREATEST HITS -

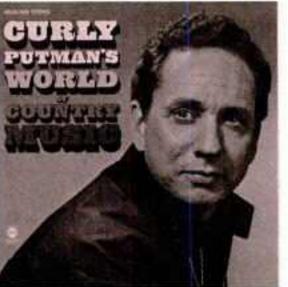

Still on the charts with their "Musical Menu" LP, the Dells offer a prize package of their top hits, highlighted by "Stay in My Corner," "Wear It on Our Faces" and "There Is." The five Dells feature their rock 'n' roll flashbacks, specializing in silky, high harmonics, smooth church choir. "Always Together" also stars on this sparkling tribute to the group's hitmaking.

GRATEFUL DEAD — Aoxomoxoa. Warner Bros.-Seven Arts WS 1790

A pillar of the San Francisco sound and a consistent chart maker, the Grateful Dead here have another drifting rock album with the kind of material that has made them popular, "What's Become of the Baby" is an exceptional extended piece with Eastern musical influences. "Doin' That Rag" is another good cut.

COUNTRY

CURLY PUTMAN'S WORLD OF COUNTRY MUSIC-ABC ABCS 686

Curly Putman is a very moving writer and probably the tune that strikes deepest at the heartstrings in this particular album is "Who Loves Who," which grows on you . . . and grows on you, Putman also packs a lot of emotion into "Big Silver Wings."

PHARAOH SANDERS—Karma. Impulse A-9181 (S)

An extraordinary fold-out package with devastating music to back it up. Pharaoh Sanders proves to be a virtuoso at the tenor sax, and the other musicians, Leon Thomas on percussion and vocals, Lonnie Smith on piano, Julius Watkins on French horn and others, prove an equal to the frenzied pace that he creates. The first side consists of a 19-minute composition called "The Creator Has a Master Plan."

JONI MITCHELL - Clouds. Reprise

The delicate lyric and melodies of Joni Mitchell's songs have enriched the music scene. They have been performed successfully by artists of widely different types; yet in this second LP for Reprise, Miss Mitchell proves to be among the best interpreters of her own material, Highlights include the oft-heard "Both Sides Now" and "Chelsea Morning," and such lovely newcomers as "Tin Angel" and "The Fiddle and the Drum."

-Everybody Knows This Is
Nowhere. Reprise RS 6349 (5)

Neil Young comes into his own as a solo performer in this, his second Reprise album. The former member of Buffalo Springfield has a group of fine compositions here and he sings them richly. "Down by the River" is solid in a gospel vein, while "The Losing End (When You're On)" is more country. The title number and "Cinnamon Girl" are among the other strong cuts.

music that can have appeal even beyond the usual purchasers of this type of material.

COMEDY

TOTIE FIELDS LIVE—Mainstream S/6123 (S)

Comedienne Totie Fields carries a lot of weight in the nightclub circuit and her following should give this LP, a replica of her nightclub act recorded at the Riviera Hotel, Las Vegas, a good sales run. Miss Fields has a bubbling, good-natured style and her friendly, self-kidding manner makes even the corniest of lines easy to take.

LARRY ADLER PLAYS WORKS FOR HARMONICA & ORCH.— Adler/Royal Philharmonic (Gould), RCA Red Seal LSC 3078 (S)

All four of the compositions in this album, by Milhaud, Arnold, Benjamin and Vaughan Williams, were written especially for Larry Adler, whose virtuosity on the harmonica has given the instrument greater stature. His technique is deft and difficult passages, like the legatos, seem effortless. Morton Gould, conducting the Royal Philharmonic, ably assists the soloist in these pieces.

SPOKEN WORD

SACKLER: THE GREAT WHITE HOPE—James Earl Jones/ Various Artists, Tetragrammaton TDL-5200 (S)

This award-winning play enters the disk arena with a sock that should make it a champion in the Spoken Word sales category. The acting, of course, is heavyweight, and carries most of the sting and sharpness in this transfer to records. Direction is fast paced and direct. A winner from the opening bell.

Little Milton's "Grits Ain't Groceries," penned by Titus Turner, penetrated the pop charts with impact, but the tough, gritty Chicago bluesman may be too much just yet for the major market. Powerful guitar work by the "Grits" man could aid in ringing up sales and success for this fine artist in his top numbers "Just a Little Bit," "I Can't Quit You Baby" and
"Steal Away," all capable of bringing Little Milton to the charts in a big way.

ZOMBIES—Early Days. London PS 557 (S) This collection of the Zombies' early hits is a real treat for any lover of rock 'n' roll. It features the best of what was called the "English Sound." Included is the original version of the much recorded "She's Not There" and "You Make Me Feel Good" is another gem. With the Zombies coming off a million seller on another label, this delightful collection might well prove to be a potent sales package as well.

THE BEST OF LAINIE KAZAN-MGM SE 4631

Miss Kazan rings the bell here as she polishes off 11 songs in her coaxing cool voice. Whether belting as in "Sunny," or ballading as in "If You Go Away," her style is infectious and exciting.

BOB WILBER—The Music of Hoagy Carmichael, Monmouth-Evergreen MES/6917 (S) Arranger Bob Wilber has put together an exceptional package of Hoagy Carmichael material, performed by some of the top musicians in the business. An added delight is singer Maxine Sullivan adding a fresh and compelling touch to "Georgia on My Mind," "Skylark" and "Rockin' Chair." Much sales appeal here for collectors and lovers of the Carmichael classics.

STANYAN STRINGS PLAY INSTRUMENTAL MUSIC FROM LISTEN TO THE WARM & LONESOME CITIES — Warner Bros.-Seven Arts WS 1792 (S)

Lush, background concepts designed to set the listener to dreaming. Here, you'll find instrumentals of some of the Rod McKuen poetic images of "A Cat Named Sloopy," "Dandelion Days" and "Listen to the Warm."

MUDDY WATERS—After the Rain, Cadet Concept LPS 320 (S)
Muddy Waters returns to the blues scene

Muddy Waters returns to the blues scene with a fresh batch of his raucous and kraunchy Chicago blues. Waters, on lead quitar and vocals, is joined by label mate Phil Upchurch on guitar, as well as Charles Stepney on organ and the great Otis Spann on piano. Waters' "Rollin' and Tumblin' "stars with Willie Dixon's "I Am the Blues" and Waters' own "Honey Bee." Heavy urban blues spiked with ripping, hard vocals could land Muddy on the charts.

AESOP'S FABLES—In Due Time. Cadet concept LPS 323 (5)

This eight member group has much of the polished musical sound that brought Blood, Sweat and Tears to the top. The driving rhythm on "In the Morning" and "Everybody's Talking" would make either of them a potent single release. The six-minute "And When It's Over," penned by Bert Sommer of "Hair," is ideal progressive rock programming.

THE LAST NIKLE—Mainstream 5/6122 (S) This young blues band has a promising album debut here. The distinctive voice of Lenny McDaniel is but one of the assets as he belts "Got to Be Somebody," swings "Save Your Love for Me," and soul sings "Feeling Blue." The brass section is strong also. "Life Is a Purple Antelope" is an instrumentally solid extended jazz number.

CALIFORNIA POPPY PICKERS — Hair-Aquarius. Alshire S-5153 (S)
This LP is a fantastic bargain and could be a sleeper on the cut. "Clean Up Your Own Back Yard," the California Poppy Pickers have a commercial possibility for both Top 40 and progressive rock radio stations; it could be a big one. The group also offers solid versions of "Hair-Aquarius," "Oh Happy Day" and "Yellow Submarine."

Recorded at the Top of the Village Gate, Jamal is reunited with his famous "Poinciana," and this latest treatment is a gas. His fingers seem to glide across the keyboard as he offers such delicate rendition of "Theme From Valley of the Dolls" and the standard "Have You Met Miss Jones." A sensitive original "Lament" is a welcome addition to the Jamal repertoire and is a programming must.

JOHN KLEMMER—Blowin' Gold. Cadet Concept LPS 321 (S)
Chicago's John Klemmer is a powerful newcomer to the Jazz scene. On this LP he is aided by both an excellent backup band and novel electronic horn effects which are used with discretion and hence to great musical advantage. Two of the most commercial cuts are his interpretations of the Beatles' "Hey Jude" and Jimi Hendrix, "Third Stone From the Sun," but his own compositions which comprise the rest of the album, show his talent for writing is equal to his playing of the tenor sax.

INTERNATIONAL

An exciting, power-packed South American who makes his U. S. debut in a big, rhythmic fashion. His "Cabellos Blancos" and "Tristeza sin Fin" are only superceded by the fascinating "La Banda." Then there's "En un Rincon del Alma" and "Tu Imagen." With exposure, this Latin American could score big in Latin markets in the U. S.

GOSPEL

GENE VIALE—What Color is God? Checker LPS 10054 (S)
This is 22-year-old Gene Viale's first album and it indicates that he's got an impressive gospel career ahead of him. His style is fresh and youthful and gives the age-old reverent themes a new significance and appreciation.

vide 50 watts of peak music power and feature BSR, Garrard Custom Deluxe or Garrard Custom II automatic turntables and de luxe ceramic cartridges.

Nine models are in the Custom Component System collection, headed by the "Mini-Modular." This is a compact unit featuring automatic BSR turntable, 40 watt peak music power and a de luxe ceramic cartridge. With a suggested list of $99.95, model MM10W includes air suspension speakers and dust cover.

In addition to the self-contained component units, which include their own phonographs, the series also boasts a stereo tuner-amplifier-receiver. It pro-

Showcase in Texas Opens

HOUSTON — The Checkmates, Ltd., were the opening performers at Continental Showcase, a new ballroom-concert hall which has been opened here. Attractions will be brought in by Southwest Concerts' producer Art Squires in partnership with longtime impresario Don Robey. Future headliner attractions will include Pigmeat Markham, the Temptations and Mongo Santamaria.

The facility was remodeled from a onetime bowling alley, and can serve 3,000 as a ball-room and 3,500 as a concert hall. There are parking spaces for 4,000 cars; the unit contains a restaurant, private club, barber shop and refreshment concession. Sam Roy is manager.

There is a record center with Dick Oppenjeimer of Radio Station KYOK in charge. Remote broadcast facilities were built in, with plans for live programs twice a week.

Hedge & Donna in Belafonte Tour

LOS ANGELES — Folk artists Hedge and Donna will tour with Harry Belafonte starting June 24. The husband and wife duo, who record for Capitol, will appear on the bill with Belafonte in a number of Canadian cities, at the local Greek Theater, at Ceasars Palace in Las Vegas, and the Masonic Auditorium at the close of the tour in September.

The selection by Belafonte marks the pairs first major national exposure break. They have generally been working in Southern California.

Phinney Looks Ahead To AMDIE in 1970

By RON SCHLACHTER

LAS VEGAS—With his first American Music Dealers Industry Exhibit (AMDIE) show behind him, president Ed Phinney is looking ahead to next year in terms of boosting attendance and exhibitors and eliminating a few "bug." Attendance at last month's show is estimated at 5,000.

"There will definitely be a show next year," said Phinney. "As for the date, it looks like February but I still have to survey the dealers and exhibitors. Nearly half of this year's exhibitors have already approached me concerning next year's show. Most wanted increased space.

"As for new exhibitors, we're going after both the record industry and the hi-fi and components manufacturers. I feel the record industry is a part of our industry in that many dealers sell records. We're also thinking of consumer days, opening the show up to the public for a couple of days. This year, we invite musicians.

SHURE BROTHERS, INC. has introduced a new, professional entertainer unidirectional microphone with a volume control built into its case for instantaneous, on-stage volume adjustments. Called the Shure Unidyne IV Model PE548V, the new microphone has a suggested list price of $126.

"If someone asked me to compare our show with the Chicago show, my answer would be that I can't really compare because this is our first show. I guess I would have to compare with their first show which was before my time. All I can say is that we don't think that progress is our most important problem."

"One of the "bugs" that has to be eliminated is noise. Concerning this, Phinney said:

"Amps will definitely be segregated in the South Hall next year. We have already optioned the hall which contains an additional 90,000 square feet. The Convention Service Co. will build about 80 soundproof booths with lights and air conditioning.

"As for the $5 registration fee, we shouldn't have called it that. It's a tax thing. We're not an association, so without a registration fee of some kind, we are not a convention, according to the IRS. Consequently, the registration fee proves that the dealers and manufacturers were really here. We just didn't do a good enough job explaining it. The fee was not only for registration but it went toward gifts.

"I think attendance can be helped best by the exhibitors themselves. Hohner was very successful, as was Merson which brought out its dealers. I hope more exhibitors follow this trend."

VOX IS now shipping its most elaborate portable organ, the Continental Baroque. The solidstate instrument features two 61note keyboards, 10 pre-set upper keyboard solo voices, knee control for bend and wah effects, built-in 25 watt RMS amplifier and two wide-range six-inch by nine-inch speakers.

Summer Program

ROSLYN HEIGHTS, N.Y. -Friends World College, in association with the Guitar Workshop here, is offering a summer guitar and folk song program open to nursery, kindergarten and elementary school teachers. The program is under direction of Dr. John Scott, visiting professor at Rutgers University and author of "Ballad of America." Kent Sidon, director of the Guitar Workshop, is musical director.

Thomas Set for 'Fair' Series

Vox launches "A Fair to Remember" June 10 when the company begins a series of five city shows for trade and public alike.

show will run two days there and in each of the other cities. Each visit will consist of displays of new products, dealer seminars and a talent show.

The dealer seminars will touch hosted by Dick Clark and showcase Barry Sadler, Robyn Richter of the Young Americans, plus Bill McCoy and Don Duffy.

One of the display highlights will feature the home entertainment center of the future, displaying what keyboard and guitar instruments could look like in the next century.

The fair will appear in Atlanta, July 15-16; Kansas City, August 12-13; Seattle, Sept. 9-10; and Los Angeles, Sept. 23-24.

self-service concept as a means of increasing turnover and partially solving the staff problem, but all expressed concern about the level of pilfering.

Laurie Krieger, chairman of the Gramphone Record Retailers' Committee, who operates three self-service outlets within his retail chain, warned that shoplifting was such a danger that without owner-control, most shops would be rendered uneconomic. Admitting that he still had reservations about the system, Krieger nevertheless conceded, "The time is coming when we will have to do it-but I hope the trade will give us better margins."

Low profit margins are also causing concern among Britain's 600 retailers of sheet music, while publishers, and retailers, too, urge the need for higher and more realistic prices.

Britain's sheet music remains the cheapest in the world as a

Music Forum In for Vienna

VIENNA—Classical and jazz pianist Friedrich Guilda has announced the program of his second international Music Forum to be held in Vienna June 27 to July 5.

The Forum will open with a performance by Hans Haselboeck on June 27 and will be followed on June 28 by a recital by Wilhelm Backhaus. An avant garde concert of electronic music (Dieter Kaufman), aleatoric music (Otto M. Zyklan), free jazz and mixed media will be held on June 29, and on June 30 there will be a pop concert by the British group the Nice, British folk singer Duncan Brown and Austria's Jack Grunsky, July 2 will be a flamenco evening with Lucero Tena, Gabriel Moreno and Seranito and on July 3 Jazz Inter-group of Dexter Gordon. Guilda himself will give a piano recital on July 4. The Forum will conclude July 5 with a round-table discussion.

BUDAPEST — The Hungar-

The new law, in addition to result of lagging behind the cost of living for 30 years, said Jonson Dyer, manager of Chappell's educational music department. In many cases, he claimed, it had become an "economic slum."

Dyer's contention that higher prices are necessary and that the public should be educated to the attitude, "If it's worth having, it's worth paying a fair price for," was well received.

But he was sharply criticized from the floor for suggesting that agitation for discounts to be raised to 40 per cent was "unrealistic" and that there was no surplus percentage available for anybody.

One dealer wanted a 50 per cent discount and music presented as attractively as record sleeves, while another argued that if piano prices had gone up six times since the war, there was a case for the cost of music to be similarly increased.

A third speaker commented: "Some dealers will do a good job, if they have a satisfactory mark-up to allow them to do so. But you have to give us the materials at a fair price and then for a trial period give dealers a chance to show what they can do."

Revamps Price One firm, at least, it was revealed, has taken a step toward revamping its price and discount structure. Terry Moss, sheet music manager of Boosey and Hawke's, gave the conference first hint of the company's plans to announce "enormous" price increases in August, delete slow-selling items from its catalog and launch a two-tier service aimed at giving preferential treatment to the country's top

Both Dyer and Mill's Music chief Cyril Gee echoed similar feelings about lack of promotional activities in connection

ISRAEL SONG FESTIVAL TO A BALLAD SUNG BY GAON

JERUSALEM-The sentimental and dramatic "Ballada Lechovesh" ("Ballad to a Medic") took first prize ($430) in Israel's Seventh Song Festival in the National Buildings here.

The song, written by Dan Almagor and Effy Netzer, was sung by Yehoram Gaon (CBS). Gaon also took second prize ($285) with the song "Etz Ha'alon" (The Oak Tree), written by Yoram Teharlev and Mony Amarilio. Third prize ($220) went to the festival's only beat number, "Baderech chazara" (On the Way Back) sung by Avi Toledano (EMI). The festival was presented by the Israel Broadcasting Committee, which, after rejecting more than 650 submitted songs because of poor quality, invited 12 leading Israeli songwriters to create special songs for the festival with particular artists in mind. Of the 12 songs, 11 were sentimental ballads, written very much with the winning songs of previous festivals in mind. The result of allowing the composers free choice of artist meant that Yehoram Gaon, one of Israel's top singers, sang three of the 12 entries. Other artists taking part were Edna Goren and Kobi Recht (Hed Arzi), Illanit (Illanot), Alexandra (RCA), Arik Einstein (CBS), Yigal Basham (Hed Arzi), the Hparvarim Duo (CBS) and Rivka Zohar.

For the first time the song festival was on Israel TV.

DUKE ELLINGTON, left, at Toronto's Rock Pile Club, with drummer Skip Prokop, center, of the newly formed Lighthouse group, and organist-arranger Paul Hoffert. Lighthouse has just been signed by RCA, which wil release an album by the 13-piece rock group (including a four-piece string section).

Festivalbar, Jukebox Contest, Off & Spinning

MILAN—With 13 new singles sent out to be programmed in Italy's 35,000 jukeboxes, the 1969 Festivalbar, Italy's annual summer jukebox contest, is now under way. The contest will run through Sept. 6, when the winners will be announced during

Dischi Ricordi Qtr. Sales Up

MILAN — Dischi Ricordi's sales for the first quarter of 1969 were 50 per cent up on the figure for the first quarter of 1968, the company reports.

Ricordi attributes the increase largely to heavy sales of Bobby Solo's San Remo winner "Zingara," Barry Ryan's "Eloise," "Zucchero" by I Dik Dik and Rita Pavone, "Un Avventura" by Lucio Battisti, I Ribelli's "Ob La Di, Ob La Da," Milva's "Un Sorriso" and Equipe 84's "Tutta mia la citta."

a televized gala from the North Italian resort of Asiago.

The contest, supported by most of Italy's major record companies, is in its sixth year and is the fourth most important pop music event in Italy, after San Remo, A Record for the Summer and the Cantagiro.

Each of the 13 competing records contains a gold side, with a song performed by an established artist, and a green side, featuring a song by a lesserknown talent. When a customer plays one of the Festivalbar records on a jukebox, he is given a card on which to vote for one of the contest songs. Last year more than one million cards were mailed in, according to organizer Vittorio Salvetti.

This year in addition to postcard votes, final results will be determined by making a crosssection survey of 1,500 jukeboxes to discover the most popular records; there will also be votes from 15 public juries and 15 specialized juries.

Singers and songs competing

this year are:

Gold: "Acqua Azzura, Acqua Chiara" by Lucio Battisti (Ricordi); "Daradan" by Mino Reitano (Fonit-Cetra); "Domenica d'agosto" by Bobby Solo (Ricondi); 'I Want to Live" by (Continued on page 63)

Israel Digs Remo Songs

TEL AVIV — Records from the 1969 San Remo Song Festival are enjoying considerable success in Israel following an Israeli TV screening of the event.

One of the first local records on the market was an album of the Ricordi songs in the festival, released here by CBS-Israel on its Epic International label. This album featured the winning song "Zingara," by Bobby Solo, which has sold 10,000 as a single. CBS also released the CGD festival album with Gigliola Cinquetti's "la Pioggia." Another festival version of this song, sung by France Gall, has been rush released on an EP by Hed Arzi on the La Compagnie label.

Hed Arzi has also released the Fonit Cetra festival album featuring "lontano Dagli Occhi," sung by Sergio Endrigo and the same song recorded by Mary Hopkin (Apple) has been released by EMI on an EP which also includes "Goodbye."

Hataklit has released "Zingara," by Ri-Fi's Iva Zanicchi, an EP of Fausto Leali's "un'Ora Fa" (Ri-Fi), and a Durium EP of Little Tony's "Bada Bambina."

"Ma Che Freddo Fa," by Nada, has been released here by RCA.

U. S. Writers On Nonesuch

LONDON — Polydor is releasing five new Nonesuch albums in the fall, all devoted to U. S. music.

The albums will mark the debut of a new packaging idea, with the sleeve notes beginning on the front of the album and continuing on the reverse with a small illustration on each side.

Spearheading the release is a three-album study of modern American music from 1912 to the present. Called "Spectrum," the set contains works by Fredric Myrow, Roger Reynolds, Stefan Wolpe, George Rochberg, Seymour Shifrin, Jacob Druckman, Joseph Schwantner and John Harbison.

The law only gave protection to the titles of literary and musical works in cases where there were attempts at "passing off" one work as another. The new law gives full protection to the title of any work.

The Hungarian radio and television has the right to use any published work in unchanged form without the author's consent if an "adequate" fee is paid. For any adaptation of a work, the author's consent is obligatory. A scale of "adequate" fees is to be worked out by the Minister of Culture and Education.

Irish Rovers: Quintet Running Wild

By RON TEPPER

Of all the Canadian acts that have come South to find fame and finances in the U. S., the Irish Rovers have been—and will undoubtedly continue to be—among the most successful.

Their tie-in with Decca Records opened the doors for them to Universal Studios and MCA, the giant entertainment complex of which Decca is part, and now they are on the verge of starring in their own television series. The series, which is currently being developed by Universal for the group, would be a comedy (either half-hour or hour), and could air as early as January, 1970, "depending, of course," explains Willie Millar, the Rovers' leader, "on whether the concept for the series is completed on time and if there is an opening for a mid-season replacement."

In the meantime, the Rovers will continue their TV guestings (they're appeared on Universal's "The Virginian" three times in addition to numerous variety shows), recording and concert activities.

Recording plans for the quintet, which first shot to prominence in 1968 on the strength of their fabled "Unicorn," are also being revised. There'll be more emphasis on singles ("Fi Fi O'Toole" will be released shortly) and albums will be more contemporary. "Tales to Warm Your Mind," their next LP (early June) will be a departure for the group. All but two of the songs were written by the Rovers and, for the first time, the musical backing will "be contemporary," says Willie. "We used some of the top studio musicians in the country for it. It isn't an 'Irish' album. It's up-to-date. About the only thing Irish about it is our voices. You might say we sound something like an 'Irish Simon & Garfunkel.'"

Despite the move to a more contemporary sound on their LP's, the Rovers will continue to utilize the same material as in the past-happy, carefree tunes. "We could never," Willie says, "do anything else."

Concerts (they did about 100 in 1968) plus club dates will make up the remainder of their schedule. East Coast concert acceptance of the Rovers has been greater ("there are more Irish and Canadians") than any other part of the country. Usually, 20 per cent of their concert dates are in Canada. "The Canadians built a series of new concert halls for their Centennial celebration and I don't think there is an arena in the world that can top them," Willie says. Called "New Centennial Auditoriums," they seat about 3,000 and are located throughout Canada. To an act like the Rovers, which needs the "intimacy and feedback from the audience," the Centennial arenas and crowds that filled them last year were the finest. During their careers, the Rovers have come to know those Canadian audiences well.

"There's a remarkable quality in Canadians. An old-world flavor. They're not afraid to join in and sing-a-long with entertainers. They're not afraid to clap or show emotion, either. In America it's different. Everyone has become suspicous; self-conscious. They look to see what their neighbor is doing before they do it. I guess Americans are just too sophisticated. Canadians haven't reached that stage yet."

To Willie and the Rovers, Canada is a country that "is still evolving musically. They're searching for a native sound; they don't want to be a subsidiary of the U. S. although American Country music is highly influential there."

The best-known Canadian "product" (to Canadians) is Gordon Lightfoot. "He's a phenomenon," says Willie. "He'll go from town-to-town like the old min-strels and fill auditoriums all across the country. He's about the only Canadian entertainer that will never have to leave Canada for 'greener' pastures." Unfortunately, there aren't many Lightfoots around. "Canada," Willie says thoughtfully, "can't really support entertainers because of one thing—antiquated liquor laws."

Current laws call for a midnight time limit on serving alcoholic beverages. "A nightclub can't possibly hope to bring in name talent and make a profit if they have to stop serving by 12." The top paying room in Canada is the Imperial Room at the Royal York Hotel (Toronto) where entertainers earn from $7,500 to $10,000 weekly. Those figures are a far cry from what Willie and the other Rovers earned before they met their "Unicorn."

"I was Calypso singer and worked Calgary on weekends," Willie recalls. "The pay was $25 and all I could eat. Four of us made $300 for three nights work."

The pay scale in Canada may one day change, however, until it does Willie and the rest of the Rovers view it as a tragedy for the country itself. "People in the Canadian entertainment field are among the most talented in the world. For instance, CBC television has some of the finest documentaries produced anywhere but there is a limit as to how far those producers can go. Once they've hit that limit they come to the U. S. like others before them."

"Perhaps one day things will change and Canadians will no longer have to look at the U. S. to find the pathway to fame."

MANILA — The long-protracted licensing negotiation between the Filipino Society of Composers, Authors and Publishers (FILSCAP) and the Philippine Broadcasters Association (PBA) is expected to be concluded this month, it was announced by FILSCAP executive secretary Simplicio U. Suarez.

This will mean the society will issue a collective license to some 52 radio stations and 12 TV stations in the Philippines, authorizing each broadcasting station to perform any musical composition from FIL-SCAP's repertoire of Philippine, English and native music.

The negotiations between FILSCAP and the PBA started early last year between lawyer Jose Masakayan and Suarez. Prior to this, the society's separate proposals for a licensing agreement to various other radio and television stations was considered an unpractical approach. When the existence of the PBA became known to the society, it was unanimously decided to negotiate through it.

The latest report from the lawyers of the PBA states that a meeting was held among the representatives of the PBA members and that during this meeting, the conferees were agreed to render a complete report to their respective managements. The conferees are to meet again soon to complete the association's decision regarding the matter.

Should the collective licensing materialize, FILSCAP will automatically elevate its status. The licensing is seen as the first major achievement of the society. Membership to the society has been short of what can be tapped. Potential members have been reluctant to join for lack of confidence and faith in the society. To date, there are some 75 composers and authors and five publishers in the society's roll.

TOP POLISH singer Mieczyslaw Fogg, left, on the 25th anniversary marking sales of 25 million records is congratulated by Billboard correspondent in Warsaw, Roman Waschko.

KARAJAN PUSH BY POLYDOR

LONDON—To tie in with the concerts of the Berlin Philharmonic Orchestra, conducted by Herbert von Karajan, at the Royal Festival Hall Wednesday (4) and Friday (6), Polydor is launching a campaign for the orchestra and conductor for this month.

All back catalog on Deutsche Grammophon will be featured in a specially produced 12-page booklet and 12 new releases will be issued. Dealers ordering 50 or more albums will receive 10 free copies of the sampler album "Karajan in Rehearsal," retailing at $1.74.

EMI's New Co. in Norway

OSLO — EMI's Norwegian affiliate, EMI Norsk A/S is now rolling, following the British group's split with Norwegian licensee Carl M. Iversen.

The new EMI company is located at Frysjaveien 33m Oslo 8, Tel. 2-231488. Managing director is Briton John Bush, with Hans Ro as co-director and Rolf Syerson as head of a&r.

The company plans to move to new premises at the same address later this year.

Biggest success for the company has come in the LP sector where, following the personal appearance in Oslo of American country artist Buck Owens, five of Owen's Capitol LP's are now in the Top 10 album chart.

Other top selling EMI artists in Norway include Mary Hop-kin (Apple); Diana Ross and the Supremes (Tamla-Motown); Herman's Hermits (Columbia); and the Hollies (Parlophone). Leading local groups, recorded in the Roger Arnhoff studio, include Gluntan (Odeon) and the country dance quartet Oddvar Nygaard (Columbia).

Fogg Marks 40th Disk Yr. –25 Mil. Sold

WARSAW — Poland's "Bing Crosby," Mieczyslaw Fogg, is celebrating the 40th anniversary of his career, during which 25 million copies of his records have been sold worldwide.

Fogg, who was born in Warsaw May 30, 1901, toured the U. S. for the first time in 1935-1936, appearing with the Dana close harmony group, and returned for further tours in 1938-1939, 1957-1958 and 1963-1964. He will make his fifth tour in the fall.

During his second American tour, Fogg was awarded the title of Honorary Policeman in New Jersey and also became Honorary Red Indian of the Tuscarora Tribe, with the name White Eagle (Poland's national emblem).

Fogg trained as a vocalist at the Frederik Chopin Music College in Warsaw and made his debut at the Qui Pro Quo Variety Theater in 1929.

MIDEM's Film Bows in Cannes

CANNES—The International Record and Music Publishing Market's (MIDEM'S) first venture into full-length feature film production, a 90-minute portrait of concert pianist Artur Rubinstein, had its world premiere at the Cannes Film Festival May 17.

The film, shot during Rubinstein's world tour between August and December last year, was directed by Francois Reichenbach. MIDEM chief Bernard Schevry said the U. S. TV rights had already been sold to NBC for $400,000 and the film would have its first U. S. showing on Sept. 12.

The color film, showing the 82-year-old pianist in concert, in practice and relaxing at home, is being shown hors concours at Cannes.

Chevry said it was doubtful whether a soundtrack album could be issued because Rubinstein was an exclusive RCA artist and the orchestras with which he performs in the film — the Israel Philharmonic and the Orchestre de Paris — are both with EMI.

Capitol artist Jeff Apaka has moved to the Surf Room of the Royal Hawaiian Hotel. Decca artist Ed Kennedy is back in the Monarch Room with his wife, dancer Beverly Noa, co-starring along with Makaha artist Marlene Sai and Sounds of Hawaii musician Sonny Kamahele. . . . Blood, Sweat and Tears (Columbia) are due in Honolulu for a summer date at the Waikiki Shell. . . . The Rascals are expected back at the Honolulu International Center Arena, too.

Jimi Hendrix' two-date visit May 30-31 at the Waikiki Shell had a heavy advance. . . The Aliis, Reprise act, will remain at the Ilikai's Canor House until June 14. Then they have a hectic round of summer shows, including a July 1-20 booking at Latitude 20 in Los Angeles, an Aug. 11-31 date at the Marine Room of the Olympia Hotel in Seattle, Wash., and other pauses at Bimbo's in San Francisco and Harrah's in Reno.

Warren Marley, who Atlantic signed earlier this year, is performing at the piano bar of the Hilton Hawaiian Village's Golden Dragon Lounge. . . . Country music is featured at the Dunes' Lounge, where Stu North and the Mule Skinners have signed an indefinite contract with entrepeneur Jack Cione. . . . Radio KKUA will host an autograph booth at an upcoming Teen-Age Fair Pop Expo at the Honolulu International Center Exhibition Hall. Visiting celebrities will not perform, but give interviews and autographs, beginning June 10. WAYNE HARADA

Sergio Di Gennaro, formerly record sales manager of the Italian distribution company Messagerie Musicali, Milan, has been appointed a director of the company in a managerial reorganization. . . . Rudolf Gassner, head of the record department of the Munich wholesaler, Hans Demmel, leaves the company July 1, to join Deutsche Grammophon. He will be succeeded by Hans Demmel Jr. . . Emilio Jorge appointed Puerto Rico representative of Musart Records of Mexico and Hialeah, Fla. Replacing Eladio Cepero, he will be based in San Juan. . . . Carlos J. (Toti) Julia, executive with J. Martinez Vela, the oldest record distributor in Puerto Rico, has taken over record purchases for the company and also their Bargaintown operation. Juan Jose Cue appointed to take charge of the company's Bargaintown outlets and the firm's two stores in San Juan and Santurce.

Stanko Jerebic named manager of Tolima Records, Buenos Aires. He was previously with the publishing firm of Melograf and also with CBS Columbia Records in the Argentine.

John Cooper, assistant sales manager, Transatlantic Records, London, for the past two years, named sales manager, replacing Paul Ellis who has left the company. New assistant sales manager is David Thomas.

16-TRACKS GAIN IN USE IN LOS ANGELES STUDIOS

LOS ANGELES—Local recording studios are installing 16track recording machines with greater frequency.

Many of the studios are buying the Ampex MM-1000-16 recorder which has the capacity to permit each instrument or group of instruments to be recorded separately. Starting price for the MM-1000 is $17,000.

Pacific Recording outside San Francisco is working with 16track equipment, and engineer Ron Wickersham likens multi-track taping to "making a layer cake."

Wickersham says that recording layers of sound allow for the separation of various instruments. "With multitrack capability you can make decisions to add a drum solo here or a chorus there. This is known as composing with a machine," Wickersham said.

Among the local studios ordering 16-track machines are Columbia, Don Costa Productions, RCA, Soul Recorders, Sound Emporium, Sunset Sounds, Vox Studios and LewRon.

Otis & Wall Streeter Form Disk, Management Firms

Decca's Fuzzy Bunnies open at the Bay Lounge in Queens on Wednesday (4) for two weeks. The group plays the Club 615 in York, Pa., June 23-28. Both groups are managed by Billy Fields of the Sid Bernstein office. both domestic and international markets.

Outlets have already been established in Italy, Britain and the Benelux and Scandinavian territories. Negotiations for domestic distribution are under way.

Artists already signed with Argon are Jean Wells, Memphis Slim, Mikie Harris, Eddie Carlton, Jean Terrell and the Performers. The addition of several other top acts to the roster is expected in the near future.

Miss Wells, Miss Harris and Carlton have singles ready for release. Wells and Carlton are being managed by Cosas.

Argon will follow an opendoor policy regarding both performers and producers. Among the independent producers affiliated with Argon are Norman Harris, Early Young and Ronald Baker of Philadelphia.

Otis, president of the two companies, has functioned in several capacities in the record field. He had been producer, writer, as well as technical director and music advisor for several films.

Argon Records marks Seeman's first venture into the entertainment business.

Offices for both companies are located at 1697 Broadway.

Duff Roman has been appointed program director of CFRW, Win-nipeg, Canada, and Dave Carter has joined the station from CPKR in Port Arthur to do the afternoon drive show. . . . Joe Benson has shifted to WILM in Wilmington, Del., as evening personality on the uptempo easy listening station' he'd been a part-timer at WAMS, a rocker in the same city. . . . Ned Powers, who'd been on WNEW in New York the past four years, is now in the 2-6 p.m. slot at WIOD in Miami. This marks a return to Miami for Powers; he'd once been on WINZ and even worked his way up to program manager of the station back in 1958. The life is good down there. Good luck, Ned.

A note from Paul Drew, consultant, WIBG, Philadelphia, in regards to a recent Vox Jox: "Truth is, I did listen to every tape I got (eventually). Found a 17-year-old news voice I still can't believe (saving him for the future), and a young jock who sounds like he could make it in a medium market. Right now, the staff at WIBG is set, but for the first time in a year, I've got some talent in the wings." Okay, so I was wrong. Some program directors do listen to all of the tapes they receive in regards to job applications. . . . Gary Mitchell, the noon-3 p.m. deejay at WIBG, Philadelphia, has been appointed acting program manager. . . . The guys at WFIL in Philadelphia recently raised more than $30,000 in pledges in a weekend marathon for M. S. The jocks at WIBG donated $100 in cash to the fund. . . . As of July 1, the call letters of KTLN in Denver will be KTLK and John Chapman will be the new general manager; he had been general manager of WOKO in Albany, owned by Welcome
Radio, too. Joe Finan, WIXY, Cleveland, is going to the program director; I think I had already mentioned this.

Ted Lehne has been promoted to manager of KFRB and KTVF-FM, Fairbanks, Alaska; he'd been manager of just the radio since Aug. 1967. . . . Jim Travis has left WINN in Louisville, to head for San Antonio and I don't know what station. . . . Just got a call from Steve Byrd, former St. Louis deejay, who went on the air last week on WHAT, Philadelphia, in a 6-10 p.m. slot. . . . Bill Holiday, former program director of WBAZ in Kingston, N. Y., and WNOE-FM in New Orleans, is now holding down the 9-noon slot at KVOO, the 50,000-watt station in Tulsa. . . . Bob White has been promoted director of 5,000-watt, country-formated KECK in Lincoln, Neb. Joining KECK from WKY in Oklahoma City is Cal Haynes. . . . Pete Winters has been named program director, WWKE, Ocala, Fla., and will continue his shift as morning man. . . . Ran into Steve O'Brien of WPOP, Hartford, and Joey Reynolds about a week ago. As soon as I recover, I'll write more Vox Jox.

record is predicted to reach the TOP 40 EASY LISTENING Chart

25POTEGH 10920

the top 20 of the HOT 100 Chart

BEATLES-THE BATTLE OF JOHN & YOKO

(Writers: Lennon-McCartney) (Maclen, BMI)-Regardless of the controversy over this single, it will undoubtedly follow right in the footsteps of "Get Back" from a sales standpoint, The story of John and Yoko is set to the same driving beat of their current chart topper. Flip featuring George, also offers much potential. Flip: "Old Brown Shoe" (Harrisongs, BMI).

HE GIRL I'LL NEVER KNOW

(Angels Never Fry This Low)

(Prod. Bob Crewe) (Writers: Brown-Bloodworth) (Saturday, BMI)-A ballad beauty with an emotional driving performance that will put Valli rapidly in the top part of the chart. His most powerful entry and Crew production since "Can't Take My Eyes Off You." Flip: "A Face Without a Name" (Saturday/Seasons Four, BMI). PHILIPS 40622

10P60P0PSP0TIGHT

Spotlights Predicted to reach the top 60 of the HOT 100 Chart

EDWIN STARR-I'M STILL A STRUGGLING MAN

(Prod. Johnny Bristol) (Writers: McNeil-Bristol) (Jobete, BMI). He hit the chart solidly with "Twenty-Five Miles," and this pile-driver rhythm item has much of the sales appeal of that smash. Powerful vocal workout. Flip: "Pretty Little Angel" (Jobete, BMI) Gordy 7087

*BOBBY VINTON— THE_DAYS OF SAND AND SHOVELS

destruction of the

(Prod. Billy Sherrill) (Writers: Marsh-Reneau) (Lonzo & Oscar, BMI)-Poignant ballad currently climbing the country chart via the Waylon Jennings version has all the ingredients to carry Vinton to a top chart spot. Beautiful material with a top performance. Flip: "So Many Lonely Girls" (Feather, BMI). Epic 5-10485

CLARENCE CARTER—THE FEELING IS RIGHT

JAMES BROWN-MOTHER POPCORN

(You Got to Have a Mother for Me)

(Prod. James Brown) (Writers: Brown-Ellis) (Dynatone, BMI)—The popular discotheque winner proves powerful material for Brown and his dynamic style. Strong entry loaded with sales potential, pop and r&b. Flip: "Mother Popcorn, Part 2" (Dynatone, BMI). King 6245

ARCHIE BELL & DRELLS-

GIRL YOU'RE TOO YOUNG

(Prod. Gamble & Huff) (Writers: Gamble-Bell-Bell) (World War Three, BMI)-This is the hot rhythm item that the group needed to put them back in the selling bag of "There's Gonna Be a Showdown." This one will hit hard and fast, Flip: "Do the Hand Jive" (World War Three, BMI). Atlantic 2614

*FRANKIE LAINE-DAMMIT ISN'T GOD'S LAST NAME

JACKIE DeSHANNON—PUT A LITTLE LOVE IN YOUR HEART

(Prod. VME) (Writers: DeShannon-Holiday-Myers) (Unart, BMI)—Along the lines of her classic "What the World Needs Now Is Love," the stylist has a sales topper for her recent "The Weight" hit. Meaningful, original rhythm ballad is a beauty with a performance to match. Flip: "Always Together" (Metric, BMI), Imperial 66385

CAT MOTHER & ALL THE NIGHT NEWS BOYS-GOOD OLD ROCK 'N' ROLL

budget promotion by turning the legwork over to teams of representatives to push the Grateful Dead's "Aoxomoxoa" in 15 major markets.

Slogan for the tour is "Good News From San Francisco," and it is designed to explain the rock scene here as well as advertise the LP. Total cost of the tour will be under $15,000, two-thirds of which is slated for co-op advertising in underground and campus newspapers. The remainder of the cost is for expenses and salaries for three two-man teams from the Dead's business family.

The 10-day tour, which started last week, is also to assess the effectiveness primarily of underground radio and print media, according to Rock Scully, manager of the Dead, as well as to establish which song should be released as a single.

The target cities are those the band has played on its last two tours: Seattle, Portland, Denver, St. Louis, Minneapolis, Chicago, Detroit, Ann Arbor, New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Miami, Kansas City, Phoenix and Los Angeles.

The teams will work in conjunction with local distributors' promotion personnel to make the rounds of AM and FM underground stations, underground print media and local newspapers.

building, where a division office will be established.

Other ABC properties, including the Westminster label, and the True Sound recordingpressing plant will continue their present operation under East Coast management.

Also, ABC president Larry Newton announced: "All general and over-all administration activities, as well as international, legal, special sales and production policies and programs for ABC Records, Inc., will continue to operate out of our main offices in New York." The eight were winners of an inter-office contest, sponsored by Columbia to promote sales on Williams' new Columbia single "Happy Heart,"

The winners, named "Knights of the Happy Heart," by Columbia, were Ed Hynes (Boston), Russ Yerge (Detroit), Tim Kehr (Minneapolis), Joe Casey (Atlanta), Dave Swengros (St. Louis), Dave Ezzell (New Orleans), Terry Powell (Hollywood) and Bob Moering (Hollywood).

Runners-up were Jack Campbell (San Francisco), Earl Rollison (Washington), Ted Kellem (Philadelphia), Al Gurewitz (Hartford), Joe Mansfield (Dallas), Hank Hirschfield (Houston) and Don DeVito and Joe Senkiewiz of New York.

Also cited were Solly Solomon (Pittsburgh) and two Columbia newcomers' Pat Brady (Cleveland) and Stuart Van Durand (Miami). RCA Buys '2525'
—Signs Disk's Duo

NEW YORK—RCA Records has acquired the master of "In the Year 2525 (Exordium & Terminus)," by Zager & Evans, and has signed the duo to an exclusive recording contract. The single originally was released on the Truth label in Nebraska and Oklahoma. Ted Daryll, RCA pop a&r producer, has flown to Lincoln, Neb., to plan an album with the team, which will be cut in Chicago this month.

LEARY RIGHTS TO DOUGLAS

NEW YORK — The Douglas Corporation has acquired the rights to all media properties of Dr. Timothy Leary, who was cleared of violating the Federal Marajuana Tax Law last week by the Supreme Court.

Leary will debut on Douglas in the fall with a double-album package of a seminar recorded at Berkeley University. Douglas will also publish and distribute Leary's forthcoming book, "The Psychology of Psychology," and has acquired the paperback rights to his current book, "The Politics of Ecstasy," Related record albums will be tied in by Douglas in a promotion drive.

ing firms. For instance, Jacobs said that Watermark would be acquiring Arean Associates, Hawaiian concert production organization; this is headed by Moffat, who also is general manager of KPOI in Honolulu. The Miami Pop Music Festival, Inc., organization, headed by Mitch Fisher, will be absorbed; this event drew more than 100,-000 fans to Miami last year. Charlatan Productions, a leading producer of promotion films of record artists headed by Tom Rounds, will also be absorbed.

Looking to Buy Jacobs stated that Driscoll is a prime figure in the plan, classifying Driscoll as a financial expert who plans to establish a "contemporary entertainment conglomerate." Watermark is looking into the acquisition of various broadcasting properties, Jacobs said, as well as a U. S. concert promotion firm and an audio service company. In addition, Rounds and Fisher launch a series of 17 shows June 13 at the Hollywood Palladium called "Magic Circus."

Various divisions of Watermark yet to be formed will fall under titles such as Audio Watermark for television pro-

Fischer to Open Facility in S. F.

NEW YORK — Carl Fischer, Inc., is opening a new full-service wholesale operation and jobbing branch in San Francisco, at 149 New Montgomery Street. The facility is intended to better serve the needs of customers of the west and north-west sections of the nation. The exact date of the opening will be announced shortly.

Meanwhile, orders are being filled through Stan Halverson, manager of Carl Fischer's wholesale branch in Los Angeles. gramming, for example. Video Watermark for television programming could be another division, Jacobs said.

Jacobs hesitated to speculate on whether there would be a radio consulting division, however, the merging of Rounds, Fisher, Jacobs, a 16-year-veteran of the radio business, became a program director at the age of 17. When he took over as program director of KHJ here on April 7, 1965, the station was almost non-existent in the ratings. For example, a Hooper audience survey showed the station with a 1.6 in the morning and a 5.1 in the afternoon. The latest Hooper audience ratings survey showed KHJ with a 16.4 in the morning and a 24.8 in the afternoon-the highest ratings in the station's history. Aside from the resignation of Jacobs, KHJ may face other difficulties. It was understood that he would take his assistant-Shelley Gordon-with him, too. Reliable sources said last week that the contracts of two of its air personalities-Robert W. Morgan and the Real Don Steele-were up as of Saturday (31) with no agreement reached on higher salaries they are demanding.

Jacobs will join Watermark as of July 1. His radio career, which started in 1955 on KHON in Honolulu where he was born (later the station became KPOI) also includes serva ing as vice-president of Colgreene Broadcasting from 1959 to 1964 during which time he revamped and formated KPOL KMEN in San Bernarding, Calif., and KMAK in Fresno, Calif. After leaving Colgreene, he was consultant to Trans-World Media and set up a station in Hong Kong. He is noted for developing the "Boss Radio" concept and most recently produced "The History of Rock 'n' Roll" package now being syndicated nationwide.

Aspen Plans Expanding Act Roster & 2 Publishing Cos.

LOS ANGELES — Jack Jones' record label, Aspen, is looking to bolster its artist roster and expand its two publishing companies.

Aspen, distributed by RCA, has acquired a four-story building here and plans to build two recording studios.

Col. to Release 'Fools' Track

NEW YORK — Columbia Records will release the soundtrack of "The April Fools," a Jalem Production for Cinema Center Films, which features Columbia's Chambers Brothers, Mongo Santamaria, Taj Mahal, Robert John, and California.

The title song from the movie, which stars Jack Lemmon, Catherine Deneuve, Peter Lawford, Myrna Loy, Charles Boyer and Jack Weston, is performed by Percy Faith and his orchestra and chorus.

Weiss Exists Crewe -Starts Own Cos.

NEW YORK — Larry Weiss, general manager of Bob Crewe's publishing complex, has ended his affiliation with the operation, to start his own firms, which will involve publishing, production and commercials.

The company, which independently produces Howard Slager and Jerry Cole, two country acts, and Marc Copage, wants to add several rock and pop acts to the roster and several songwriters to Westwood (ASCAP) and Redwood (BMI), which publishes Jones' material.

Jones' next album for RCA will be in the contemporary mold, including the theme from "Romeo and Juliet," "Easy to Be Hard" from "Hair," "Hey, Jude," "Spinning Wheel" by the Blood, Sweat and Tears, "Last Seven Days" and "I Keep Leaving Houses Behind," a tune written by Jones.

The Jack Pleis-produced LP includes a full orchestra, conducted by Ralph Carmichael, and an eight-voice chorus on several tracks. Arrangements are by Al Capps and Shorty Rogers.

WRITES 'FAUST' WITH A BEAT

LOS ANGELES — Composer - producer Dave Axelrod has written a rock version of "Faust" for Dave Hassinger, who will record it with a pop group.

Axelrod is also writing a forminute jazz composition for Cannonball Adderley, which the saxophonist will record with 42 men. Adderley is among the artists Axelrod produces for Capitol as a staff a&r man.
