RAGE AGAINST THE MACHINE Evil Empire Epic, 550 Madison Ave., New York, NY 10022-3211

Rage Against The Machine made an impressive enough splash several years ago with its self-titled debut, but in 1996, we guarantee that the nation of punk fans born and bred in the past couple of years couldn't possibly be more ready for the band than it is right now. Like hardcore before it, Rage is a burly arm of the punk body - simple, unrelenting, honest, mean and 100% visceral --- that galvanizes its fans through its power as much as its politics. And Evil Empire is as full-frontal an assault as Rage could have released to its throng of eagerly-waiting fans. If there's a band that's proves the theory about being greater than the sum of its parts, it's Rage Against The Machine: Taking the riffs from its favorite metal records and fusing them with the aggressive vocal delivery of hardcore rap, the band also delivers a charged message of anti-institutionalism, a political concept that speaks volumes to a generation feeling disenfrancised by its own government. For those who might dismiss Rage as simpletons, take a closer look at Zack De La Rocha's vicious and informed lyrics: Evil Empire recognizes Haitian troubles, colonialism, religious dogma, prison overcrowding, toxic pollution, immigration, Mexican political corruption and more. Rage explodes with message and meaning, and millions of American youth will soon be exposed to these new and challenging ideas via this record. You won't find us getting in the way. CHERYL BOTCHICK

CAT POWER Myra Lee

Smells Like, P.O. Box 6179, Hoboken, NJ 07030

"Why, I never!" is a perfectly appropriate response to hearing Cat Power for the first time: sole Cat Chan

Marshall's songs are not like anything you've ever heard before. Her bizarre music may be an acquired taste; it invariably evokes a heated love-it or hate-it response on first listen. Cat Power has a misfit quality to its sound, comprised of unique guitar playing, unusual rhythms and a deeply personal lyrical approach, all of which slaps the face of con-ventionality. Every track is a blues song, one that bridles an immeasurable amount of sadness and anger, suddenly and shockingly set free when the whispering vocals evolve into intense wailing cries. This second album,

Myra Lee, is the quick follow-up to last year's Dear Sir, and is shortly to be followed by another release on Matador this summer. There's no denying that Marshall is prolific, but this is peculiar from the start. The power of Cat Power lies in Marshall's overwhelmingly distinct character, so strong that it can give a new face to an old standard like Hank Williams' "I Still Love You." DAWN SUTTER

POLVO Exploded Drawing

Touch And Go, P.O. Box 25520, Chicago, IL 60625 312.463.8316 Years ago, when very few outside eyes were turned on the nascent scene in Chapel Hill, a band named Polvo began > creating some very individual sounds. At times, Polvo records sounded as though they came from a band that simply hadn't heard anybody else --- a dazzling, innovative pastiche of guitar timbres, rhythmic structures and elliptical, oblong lyrical statements. Although by now more people are aware of Polvo (through opening slots for Sonic Youth and a growing catalog of releases), the band still creates innovative sounds steeped in guitar texture and well-sculpted instrumental shading as dem-onstrated on its latest, Exploded Drawing. Songs spiral inward on themselves, whorls of sound reverberate as the > band worships at the altar of the Sonic Guitar: oftentimes such auditory illusionism will take them to some pretty amazing places, like the Pell Mell-ish tones on "Fast Canoe," which ends up sounding like the Breeders on quaaludes or the rumbling riffage of "Crumbling Down." If it's true that the attack and decay of resonating, vibrating guitar strings echo the very birth and death of the universe, then the members of Polvo are metaphysical masters of the cosmos. Explode into space with the above, plus "High-Wire Moves," "Taste Of Your Mind" and the 12-minute mini-epic "When Will You Die For The Last Time In My Dreams." JAMES LIEN

TEXAS IS THE REASON Do You Know Who You Are?

Revelation, P.O. Box 5232, Huntington Beach, CA 92615-5232 714.375.4264 To give you an idea of the college radio muscle that this debut full-length from Texas Is The Reason could boast, the band's recent 7" on indie label Revelation peaked at #29 on the CM[ Top 200, and remained on the chart for 13 weeks. Though > many did receive the three songs on CD as well, ponder for a moment the weightiness of that accomplishment during a time when airplay for a three-song 7" EP is nearobsolete, and many stations don't even have turntables in their on-air studios but those three songs were all college radio needed. That said, Do You Know Who You Are? is guite an accomplishment in its own right: Keeping the song total under ten and putting the extra time saved right back into perfecting what's already on its plate, Texas Is The Reason delivers an album that backs up the strength of that first single. Akin to other emo-core rockers like Sunny Day Real > Estate, Texas Is The Reason packs this album with nothing but catchy, emotionallycharged and pas-sionately-delivered tunes that shine with the care and precision already invested in their writing and execution. Ironically, this debut proves Texas Is The Reason's ability to write songs that stand as strongly and proudly on their own as they do within an LP a skill that's been waning in the current world of 75 minute-plus albums. And radio will love devouring this album track by track. Try the compelling "Back And To The Left," the clever "There's No Way I Can Talk Myself Out Of This One Tonight (The Drinking Song)," and the heady opener, "Johnny On The Spot." CHERYL BOTCHICK

GROOVE COLLECTIVE We The People Giant Step, c/o GRP, 555 W. 57th St., New York, NY 10019

It's logical that New York's acid jazz outfit Groove Collective has been awarded the first release on the Collective has been newly-formed Giant Step label, considering its long history with the organization. Created by the Groove Academy, Giant Step a travelling party of sorts — was the name given to nights at various Manhattan clubs when live jazz met live hip-hop, and a new form of musical expression was formed. It was GC flutist Richard Worth who helped invent this dynamic by introducing DIs to live musicians, and soon after he was also instrumental in the formation of Groove Collective in 1990. Its debut album featured a live performance, capturing the raw, intuitive energy that its shows offered. With We The People, the collective had the luxury of tinkering in a studio, yet the results still sound as live and fresh as ever. The best GC songs start with the smallest idea: a bass line, a funk rhythm or feel. The magic is when that sample is left open to interpretation by the other musicians, building into a swirling funk jam that never lets up. The Collective never settles into one style for too long. They effortlessly cover soul ("Lift Off"), hip-hop, African and Latin styles, and a wide variety of funk. "Caterpillar" is a soft, vibe-brushed mood inducer, while "I Am" is A Tribe Called Quest-like live rap session. If you dug the Roots, Jazzmatazz or enjoy the jazz-funk of Roy Ayers, the GC is for you. GLEN SANSONE

DAVID GRAY Sell, Sell, Sell EMI, 1290 Ave. of the Americas, New York, NY 10104

With two accomplished, if introspective, albums tucked under his belt, Welsh-born songwriter David Gray makes a bold statement with Sell. Sell. Sell, his third album and first for EMI. While A Century Ends and Flesh offered a stark, searing portrait of this undeniable talent, Gray's newest foray fills out his songs with suggestive arrangements, stepping up their emotional punch and making them more approachable. While Gray certainly won't be lumped with bands like Son Volt as "Americana" or "roots rock," his arrangements - rich with piano, harmonica, warm electric guitar leads and occasional strings - give his songs a natural appeal for fans of the Jayhawks or Grant Lee Buffalo (the latter's bass player and producer, Paul Kimble, helped engineer this disc). But what makes the dozen tracks here ring true, in addition to Gray's finely wrought songs, is his warm baritone, its natural Celtic lilt casting a knowing, heavy-lidded eye over his songs. For immediate proof, check out "Smile," one of two cuts recorded live and stripped-down, as its refrain of "Of yeah" burrows into your soul, or the poignant "Only The Lonely," pushed forward by delicate brush drums. But what'll probably grab you first here are his carefully penned and played rockers, namely "Late Night Radio," "What Am I Doing Wrong?" and the title track, all of which tie the elements of Gray's sound into a cohesive, powerful presentation. #### SMOG Kicking A Couple Around (EP)

Drag City, P.O. Box 476867, Chicago, IL 60647 312.455.1015 Listening to Smog's latest four-song collection isn't much different than secretly browsing through someone else's diary late at night; everything is laid out frightfully bare on the white page the beginnings of half-conceived poetry, mixed feelings and idiosyncratic descriptions of people and places all strung together with fragile honesty. Over the course of Bill Callahan's varied Smog releases, he's toyed with both lo-fi paste 'n' cut and fuller band compositions, never straying far from the distinct style that he lays bare so plainly here. Kicking A Couple Around is all about space and words, as Callahan's careful voice hangs on and hesitates around every phrase, accompanied only by the sparse utterance of an acoustic guitar. Just as he seems to be establishing a verse-chorus-verse relationship between his words, he quickly turns a song back in on itself, repeating and then changing a certain phrase until it reveals a new melody or lyrical focus. The EP's final two cuts may be its most emotional: "I Break Horses" features some gentle backing vocal textures, and "The Orange Glow Of A Stranger's Living Room" gives off as much rich, intimate beauty as its title suggests. COUN HELMS

Following last year's initial EP collaboration of singer Lida Husik and electronic whiz Beaumont Hannant (on which "Starburst 7" originally appeared), Green Blue Fire is a rich, slinky album that works both as a Husik record (if you listen to her sharp-tongued lyrics: "Rave on America/you frothing old blister/you piss-soaked young gutter") and as an electronic instrumental album (if you hear Husik's pellucid alto, double-tracked and echoed, as simply a ribbon of sweetness weaving through the mix — a sort of lead synthesizer that happens to come from a human larynx). In fact, her voice makes a great instrument: listen to the way "Oskerito Anthony amigo," the last line of "Wonderland," gets repeated and dubbed over itself until you hear it as a pure, chiming sound. What makes it special, though, is that it's clear how much fun the team had working on this. On "Bad Head Day," Husik interjects a "bay-beh!" at the end of a verse; Hannant and his collaborator, Richard Brown of Outkast Productions, pick it up, sample it, and then drop it all over the rest of the song. The whole thing's a pleasure to hear, but start with the above, plus "Just Like Candy" and the calm, pulsing "Haunt Me." DOUGLAS WOLK

FRED SCHNEIDER Just Fred

Reprise, 3300 Warner Blvd., Burbank, CA 91505

A favorite pastime of late at CMJ is saying everything in a Fred Schneider voice: "C'mon everybody—lunch!" "Head of lettuce!" By now, it's pretty well known that the second solo album by the B-52s' weirdo-with-a-microphone was produced, improbably, by Steve Albini, with music played, even more improbably, by members of Shadowy Men On A Shadowy Planet, Six Finger Satellite, Tar, the Supersuckers and Jon Spencer Blues Explosion — a convincing bunch of rock powerhouses. So is Fred a convincing punk-rock frontman? Of course not, but "convincing" has never been the point with him. A better question is "Is Just Fred fun?" To which the answer is, "Oh God, yes." There are few better antidotes to the fierce, humorless crunch of these bands than Fred's voice bellowing, well, anything at all — try "I thought this was a paaaar-ty!" ("Helicopter") or "40 lashes! 40 lashes from your eyes!" ("Whip"). For most of the album, the band rocks (and it really does rock), and Fred does his silly thing (and it really is entertaining). But Shadowy Men's excellent tracks both go a little further: "Sugar In My Hog" is a psychobilly rant in the tradition of Hasil Adkins, and "Secret Sharer" gives Schneider's voice the Albini-fied distortion treatment and ends up with something unexpected and creepy. Just try: the above, plus "Radioactive Lady Eyeball" and "Stroke Of Genius." DOUGLAS WOLK

SUGARPLASTIC Bang, The Earth is Round DGC, 9130 Sunset Bivd., Los Angeles, CA 90069

As self-effacing as it sounds at first, the Sugarplastic's debut is far more coy and complex than it lets on. There's no doubting that the band is simply a cheeky pop trio (owing a debt of arguable size to previous guitar pop ensembles like XTC), and it does that incredibly well — "Don't Sleep" plays with a simple Andy Partridge-like chorus and some wacky and amusing tape machinations on the backup vocals, and "Little Teeth" is a downright goofy guitar/vocal/silly percussion number written as a children's tune — but it's the third and fourth listens that reveal a deeper, more difficult side to what the trio pulls off so effortlessly. The closing "Ohio" floats on a breeze of delicate, honeysweet three-part vocal harmonies and the tip-toeing plucks of a kalimba. And the album's rocker, "Montebello," is a wry mix of racing bass, hopping guitar melody and fuzzed-out vocals. Bang, The Earth Is Round boasts production work by Ben and Colin Fairley, who've knob-turned on albums for the likes of Elvis Costello, Madness and Echo And The Bunnymen: Let that association freely inform your assumptions about what the Sugarplastic sounds like and whether or not you'll like it. New Wavers should try "Another Myself," as well as "Polly Brown" and "Soft Jingo." CHERYL BOTCHICK

MAGNOG Magnag

Kranky, P.O. Box 578743, Chicago, IL 60657 312.935.5683

Like most other Kranky releases, Magnog's debut release is as uncompromisingly non-commercial as music gets, which is not to imply that it is unlistenable; on the contrary, Magnog makes soothing noise, with droplets of lovely sounds washing over you like water on sand. The band's songs are full-blown compositions, with the melody (if it can even be considered that) leading the instruments in a slow escalation towards an eventual climax. The songs which would work best on the radio take a shorter time to complete this journey, although some of the longer ones are interesting precisely because they've taken all that time to get to the point. Beyond the traditional drums, bass, and guitar — which sound very non-traditional in this context — the three members also use a Moog in some spots, as well as some intriguing production techniques. There are a few vocals present in the morass of sound, although they are understated and almost unnoticeable. Magnog is a lovely addition to Kranky's fine list of noise releases. MEGAN FRAMPTON

STATE OF GRACE Jamboreebop

3rd Stone, c/o RCA, 1540 Broadway, Times Sq., New York, NY 10035 Jamboreebop, the full-length debut from Nottingham, England's State of Grace, could be the modern rock equivalent of a three act mini-opera (just humor us for a second). First, there's a medley of pulsing, guitar-pop tunes high- State of Grace lighted by happy hip-hop beats, a smattering of horns and strings, and the elegiac vocals of Sarah Simmons, whose balmy resonance recalls a young Siouxsie Sioux. But the beaming bounce of "Hello" and "Fluorescent Sea" do little to foreshadow the brooding composition of songs like "Camden," which emerge like dark figures from the shadows, attacking otherwise familiar pop frameworks with triphop/dub overtones and splashes of feedback. The disc climaxes with "Bitter Sun," an epic 11 minute venture that builds into a sonic fireball of rhythm and noise that consumes everything in its path before finally burning itself out. The tracks that follow - "Different World," "New Fear" and "Ruby Sky" - incorporate elements from both angles, like awaking the next morning to find the sun shining on the burnt, smoldering bodies. It's not that Jamboreebop is a concept album per se, but State Of Grace has succeeded at recording a record so vivid and colorful, you'd have no problem creating a screenplay based on this soundtrack. We do believe a standing ovation is in order. M. TYE COMER

AUTEURS After Murder Park

Hut/Vernon Yard, c/o Caroline, 114 W. 26th St. New York, NY 10001 212 886 7500

On the Auteurs' latest release, leader Luke Haines has taken his band towards a more traditional rock sound. bolstered by production from the ubiquitous Steve Albini. Unlike previous Auteurs' efforts, After Murder Park adds its idiosyncratic touches on top of its traditional formula, rather than using those touches as the base itself. Haines' raspy vocals augment his pointed, somewhat bitter lyrics, and strong guitar adds a point of punctuation to his harsh phrasings, as on "Light Aircraft On Fire" or the self-referential "New Brat In Town." "Unsolved Child Murder" sounds very Beatlesesque, with cello and acoustic guitar and Haines' vocals heading into a high, mournful range. The songs which carry off the Auteurs' new improved sound the best are those which take advantage of Haines' distinctive vocals and the orchestral song construction. Try any of the above to get the full flavor of Haines' tourde-force. MEGAN FRAMPTON

J MASCIS Martin And Me Reprise, address above

What exactly is the difference between a | Mascis solo record and a Dinosaur Jr, record? Well, not much actually. Martin And Me is something of a fake-out; it includes primarily songs that have already appeared on Dinosaur Jr. records, with a couple of cover songs thrown in just for fun. The album features Mascis during a live performance, equipped with just his Martin acoustic guitar and Neil Young-esque drawl. Except for "Repulsion" — originally heard on his band's debut long-player (from back before the band appended the "Jr." to its name) - most of the songs are from the last three of Dinosaur Jr.'s six fulllengths. Although to some those three records may not constitute the band's best work, Mascis has selected some of their best moments and whittled them down to their barest basics. "Thumb" from Green Mind and "Goin Home" from Where You Been both fare well with Mascis' twangy-voiced, spare guitar treatment. Covers of Carole King's "Anticipation" (these are not the good ol' days), and Lynyrd Skynyrd's "Every Mother's Son" are weaker than Mascis' own tunes, but his version of the Smiths' "The Boy With The Thorn In His Side" is not to be missed; Mascis' nasal, gravelly howl is the antithesis of Morrissey's smooth trill, and the contrast is really, er, interesting. JENNY ELISCU

WEDGE Wedge

Slipdisc, 1111 N. Dearborn St., Ste. 3007, Chicago, IL 60610 312.664.1615 Illinois' Wedge might have a mighty firm grasp on its own pop sensibilities, but the band is not going to let that restrict the type of songs it writes. On this album, the band enjoys taking the listener through several mood changes, first charging across a doubled-up guitar-fueled pop wonder, then wandering lazily through a Neil Young-ish countrified rocker. At either extreme, you have "Part Of You," which sounds like it could have been a Crowded House tune, and the chunky "Sugar," which almost recalls Adrian Belew in places, partly due to lead vocalist Hugh Hart's enunciations. These sometimes drastic stylistic changes are all tinted with the same wonderfully warm guitar tones, and that's one of the elements that helps keep the whole collection as cohesive as it is. Add that to the amount of melodic care that's spoonfed into each song and what emerges is a solid collection of infectious, memorable tracks. Pry into: "Idolizer," "Next Impossible" and "Starfish." AARON CLOW

FLEMING & JOHN Delusions Of Grandeur Universal, 1755 Broadway, New York, NY 10019

Singer Fleming McWilliams and guitarist John Mark Painter honed their skills and their partnership at an unusual setting - a Grand Cayman Islands resort, where they were in the house band for a year. That may also be where they worked on their talent for crowd-pleasing: you can almost hear vacationers' cheers every time the two slide into one of their silky harmonies, or Painter adds a little flourish to his arrangements (he's also written them for the Indigo Girls and Nanci Griffith), or McWilliams' voice reaches up and goes raw. Originally released on R.E.X. a while ago, Delusions finds the pair and their trusty rhythm section joined on a couple of tracks by Ben Folds (playing drums!) - most notably a wispy bossa nova called "Rain All Day," and "I'm Not Afraid," a litany of fears (set to a tight little guitar riff) that keeps coming back to "I'm not afraid of you." Elsewhere, McWilliams' lyrics tackle child abuse ("Break The Circle"), l'esprit de l'escalier ("Letters In My D

Bill Morrissey You'll Never Get to Heaver

"A brilliant poet/minnesinger in the line of Randy Newman, John Prine, and Steve Goodman -- and as with them, graven with a deep sense of place. Bill's place is down East, and his people are real and palpable; a lunch-bucket brigade of bartenders, mill workers, end-of-the-line waitresses, fishermen, lorn backstreet mistresses, lovesick guitar heroes. A real plus is the new sonority that the smallhorn backing brings to the table, booted by a terrific rhythm section anchored by the great New Orleans drummer

Johnny Vidacovich."--Jerry Wexler

PIE Strictly Seance

Big Top, 955 Massachusetts Ave., Ste 115, Cambridge, MA 02139 617.491.8373 Ah, a CMJ Futures graduate. We love to watch bands like Pie blossom from promising young demo-tape makers to promising young "recording artists." And, in the year and a g artists." And, in the year and a half since we first heard Pie, the band has indeed grown. Strictly Seance finds the Cambridge, MA, band doing an admirable job of combining noisy, freeform postpunk elements with bits of indiepop. What's best about the record is that the band works iety of song structures and never with an unusually wide variety of song structures and never lapses into predictable verse-chorus-verse hooey-hooey or the blah of boring, recycled hooks. Instead, it continually tries to arrange its songs in different and interesting ways. The album's kick-off number is one of its most successful: "Tony, Porn Star" begins with a driving, guitar-heavy introduction and, as it progresses, adds a catchy (though not poppy) vocal melody, "Plastic Vistas" is built around a melody that is, happily, reminiscent of the Beatles' "Being For The Benefit Of Mr. Kite," while "Sink This Ship!" combines the hard-hitting vocals of Jason Loewenstein's Sebadoh songs (check out the punchy, shouted chorus) with Polvo-style guitar noodling. Other tunes ("Louisville, Stall," "Yellow Dwarf") include Slint-y basslines and laidback Pavement-like vocals. Strictly Seance is, overall, an inspired hodge-podge of noise and hook, and it's well worth a spin. JENNY ELISCU

SUPER 5 THOR Ford

Echostatic, 2802 East Madison, Ste. 159, Seattle, WA 98112 206.322.7366 If you've ever driven down a deserted desert highway at twilight, feeling so fatigued that you're numb and so exhausted that you're giddy, you know exactly what it's like to experience Super 5 Thor's Ford. Master students of early '80s drone-rock, an era when bands like Galaxie 500 and Jesus And Mary Chain lulled the underground masses into a frenzy, Super 5 Thor sinks deep into your skull and tickles the part of the brain that you're only aware of after missing two consecutive nights of purchadelic quitty chords and clus sleep. Combining spacey, psychedelic guitar chords and sluggish, murmured vocals with poppy song structures that trudge toward that mystical point where the road meets the sky, the quartet carries the torch of its mentors proudly, sounding surprisingly fresh and new. The hypnotic vibrations of "Superstar," "Breath" and the aptly-titled "Tired" are the high points of a disc that simmers contentedly on a far backburner with no intention of ever breaking into a boil. A beautiful, cohesive collection of songs that clocks in under 40 minutes, yet seems much, much longer, Ford is the perfect soundtrack for overcast days when mental capacities have maxed out in second gear. #### NEEDLEJACK Eping Needlejack, P.O. Box 1161, Mechanicsburg, PA 12055 717.361.3602 Another former CMJ Futures pick (see Pie review above), Needlejack marks its return with the all-too-brief, yet stellar Eping. Weighing in at seven songs, it's a bit shorter than an album, but it's just long enough to give us a good taste of what the band's been up to lately. Needlejack has cleaned up its sound considerably since 3/99¢ and has started to let its influences show a bit more freely, most obviously with the Redd Kross cover of "I Don't Know How To Be Your > eighteen 4.29.96

Friend," and more subtly with the spectacular album opener, "To Nothing," which is one of Eping's most infectious melodic moments. Needlejack takes a few stabs at some mellower material, too, with the acquatic "23 Again," a meditative track backed by shimmery guitars and some almost-eerie harmonies, as well as the jangly, psychedelic "Waiting Song," which could easily give

FÜXA 3 Field Rotation

i/Mind Expansion, c/o Ché, P.O. Box 653, London E18 2NX U.K. 0181.530.8381 Psychedelic voyagers Flying Saucer Attack may've broken up, but their legacy lives on — at least in Dearborn, Michigan. Area instrumental duo Füxa (we're told it's pronounced

"fuchsia"), which shares an ancestor with similar-minded neighbors Windy & Carl, dabbles in the same sort of moody, lo-fi expressions as FSA, but veers off in its own subtler direction, often taking a more improvisational tack. 3 Field Rotation collects most of the group's 7" work, introducing the CD-spinning public to its beautiful, suggestive web of sound. While not completely abandoning song structure, Füxa navigators Randall Nieman and Ryan Anderson clearly relegate it to the back seat, allowing sound and space to guide their sonic trips. The short, graceful "100 White Envelopes" sums up much of what Füxa is about, its driving force, a manipulated guitar lead, flowing over live drums and crested with acoustic guitar strums and space-age, Moog-generated noises — the duo emphasizes how much can be generated from so little. While a melodic refrain (we're not gonna call it a hook) is nestled into the lovely "Dreamlanding," "The Anvil" pits a repetitive bar of notes against warm organ drones for a velvety-soft, yet somewhat difficult sound. The multi-part fifth cut (it's divided into three named sections) flaunts the band's improvisational nature with interesting results, and if Füxa's reliance on the wonderful sounds of the Moog weren't enough to tip you off, the rhythmic focus of "+2" suggests a definite Krautrock (start with Can) influence. Look for a self-released follow-up CD to appear in a nearby space and time. LYDIA ANDERSON

ANIMALS THAT SWIM Workshy

Big Pop, P.O. Box 12870, Philadelphia, PA 19108 215.551.3191 This album, simply put, is music to get drunk by. By that, we don't mean rousing drinking ditties sung by friends in pubs, we mean slow, brooding music to drown sorrows to alone. After a year and a half of gathering substantial amounts of critical accolades from the British press and an established following in France, Animals That Swim's debut album is finally seeing domestic release here. The band specializes in playing moody, low-key guitar pop reminiscent of early Pulp, Luna or the Tindersticks. But this five-piece boasts a secret weapon in the form of lead vocalist (and self-proclaimed "poet-genius") Hank Starr. So while the other bands drown their passive vocals in bright production and spacious soundscapes, Starrs' narrative song-speak vocals are front and center, while soft washes of guitar, piano and trumpet serve as the perfect backdrop for the surreal lyrical vignettes of barfly/slacker lifestyle to which the album title alludes. The tales range from imagined encounters with rock legend Roy Orbison in a greasy diner ("Roy"), to intoxicated star-gazing ("King Beer"), to heckling Vic Chestnutt during a performance in a local pub ("Vic"). The biggest highlight is the album's closing cut, "Sway With Me," in which a Charles Bukowski poem is set to a bittersweet, jazzy pop melody, serving as a perfect ending to an album that chronicles the way of life he helped romanticize. Drain a pint of your favorite ale and spin: the aforementioned, "Smooth Steps," and the melancholy strains of "Susie's Friends." DUANE HARNOTT

TURKISH DELIGHT Tommy Bell

Castle Von Buhler, 16 Ashford 5t., Boston, MA 02134 617.783.2421 The Boston quartet Turkish Delight pushes indie-rock as far as it can go and still be recognizable. Listen to these songs inattentively and they'll sound pretty straightforward; listen with care, or repeatedly, and they burst into a riot of color homemade instruments (like an "electric can"), richly throbbing atonalities, strange rhythmic twists, details of instrumentation and production, and some very unusual songwriting, both lyrically and musically. See, for instance, the "ichi-ni-san-shi-GO!" chorus (Japanese for counting to five) of "Ghost," a song where what the guitar and bass are doing basically only counts as percussion. The main part of "Sister Meringue" has all the instruments thrashing dryly along and singer Leah Callahan mumbling something that doesn't quite parse, and then everything leaping into place for a huge anthemic harmonized chorus before it splinters again, just as unexpectedly. Callahan is a great foil for the rest of the band, grabbing attention with a tiny inflection and whispering as the instrumentalists' parts explode. And they can really play — check out the bass dervish at the start of "Jodi," or the gently-quivering clarinet part that underscores the slide-guitar wheeze of "Blue Wing." Also check out "Try Harder" and "Spin," both former singles that made a splash on Boston radio. DOUGLAS WOLK

HUGH Lucky Drive

Mafia Money, P.O. Box 8562, Madison, WI 53708

Within this San Francisco three piece's new release is a band that searches for its own distinct sound and identity by trying on different musical hats within the indie-rock genre. But that doesn't mean that Hugh (yet another former CMJ Futures pick) is indulging in soulless bandwagon emulation; it's more like eager students trying to apply what they've been taught, mixing up the influences to create engaging and accessible tunes. You can hear it in the lazy Malkmus-esque vocal stylings of "Ruby Cruiser," or the softly quiet guitar dynamics of Eric's Trip that combine with the textural restraint of bands like Seam in "Zoe's Grape Story." The most exciting thing about Hugh is how easily it switches styles from song to song without sounding forced or unfocused. The most accomplished cut on this seven-song release is the 10-minute pop epic "East Of Reno," in which lead David Rosenheins' hypnotic vocal weaves itself around melancholy swirls of guitar buzz, building so slowly and subtly that you barely notice the gradual rise of ambient white noise that eventually envelops the melody line, taking over both the vocals and the listener. If Hugh continues to encompass so many styles so effortlessly, it seems inevitable that they will keep evolving. DUANE HARRIOTT

MIND SCIENCE OF THE MIND Mind Science Of The Mind

Epic, 550 Madison Ave., New York, NY 10022-3211 212.833.8000 Mind Science Of The Mind is the definition of "alternative rock supergroup." Spearheaded and navigated by Shudder To Think guitarist Nathan Larson, completed by Helium's Mary Timony and the Dambuilders' Joan Wasser and Kevin March, Mind Science... is a project that incorporates small bits of influence from the members' varying home bases and but blends them into a different flavor altogether. The disc spends its time hopping between two separate and very distinct levels; it drifts from the sometimes acoustic, sometimes electric, always grandiose blue-eyed soul ballad ("Skirts To Suffer On," "Does It Rain In Your Womb?" and "Oceans Don't Need Us") to grungy prog-rock experimentation ("To The Tenders Beauty Marks/Blisters," "Science Of The Mind" and "Do You Rule"). The combo proves most successful during the inspired "Your Human Spine," a dark duet between Larson and Wasser (whose violin is her voice) that wavers somewhere between sweeping rock opera and jazzy lounge ditty, and "Infidels [When Your Hips Came Loose]," a choppy, riff-heavy scorcher whose off-center and unexpected time signature changes make for quite a bumpy ride. This debut is musically stimulating, in your face, and quite impressive for a collection of songs composed in only two weeks time. M. TYE COMER

LOOMIS You're No Tiger, Meow, Meow, Meow Grass, 72 Madison Ave., 8th Fl., New York, NY 10016 212.843.8300

Although Loomis' sound is largely based on the same noise-injected, stop/start rhythmic patterns of bands like Sunny Day Real Estate, it puts a bit of a twist on the formula, removing some of the jarring dynamics in favor of revealing a bit more melody and stability.

This doesn't mean, however, that Loomis is predictable in any sense of the word. Songs like "Kung Fu Girl" and "Melvin Purvis" reveal a freshness, an almost unrehearsed quality that's as startling as it is virile. Within those confines, however, the band covers a lot of ground, from the album opener, "Conquistador," which is about as far as the band carries its pop leanings, to the off-kilter "Wake Up Kaveh," which swims in distorted cacophony, yet somehow maintains a solid center. #### LES THUGS "Strike"

Sub Pop, P.O. Box 20645, Seattle, WA 98102 206.441.8441

When you say the name David Hasselhoff, the first thing people say is, "I hear he's huge in Germany." Les Thugs' bio says they are huge in France, but we've always heard that abrasive rock wasn't exactly fashionable there. Whether Les Thugs are heroes or outcasts in their own country, this is a band that Americans should embrace and raise on top of their shoulders.

Les Thugs spew the kind of punk that has riled audiences Stateside for years. "Strike," the band's third fulllength, is more dynamic than previous releases: There's still the heavy weight of Buzzcocks' style punk, but "Strike" also has melodies so strong they can carry the weight of the

Thugs' aggressive guitars, making for ear-catching and hooky punk. Les Thugs (Sub Pop veterans) have been cranking out good solid records since the late '80s and have remained true to form — it's about time that these pop/punk predecessors receive some praise. Les Thugs sont magnifique; "Allez Les Filles," "Poison Head" and "Strike" prove it. DAWN SUTTER

BULLETS FROM OZ Something To Say

Bullets From Oz, c/o Chip Lovelace, 2514 Stuart Ave., Richmond, VA 23220 804.359.4276

Something To Say, the three-track demo from Richmond's Bullets From Oz, is certainly one of the more impressive

FUTURES offerings we've found in the Futures mailbin lately. The ultra-hooky "All That We Needed" sets the stakes pretty high, and thankfully, it just gets better from there. The title track offers just enough of what one might predict melodically, even as it steers away from any obligatory pop formulas with a few jagged, yet appropriate, chord changes. Guitarist/singer Chip Lovelace has a knack for putting warm, compelling solos properly in place among chunky rhythm guitars, a trait particularly noticeable at the midsection of the title track, and his vocals are consistently as intimate as each song's musical context will allow. The concluding track, "No Second Chance," is a laid-back sparkly number complete with Byrds-ish guitars and some truly spectacular harmonies. Here's hoping we get to hear a full-length very soon. #### 764-HERO "High School Poetry" (7") Up, RO. Box 21328, Seattle, WA 98111-3328 206.441.8277

In addition to being a Seattle two-piece, 764-HERO is the phone number that you call in Washington state if you notice someone driving on the highway in the carpool lane when they shouldn't be. You don't get any ge, except that self a "bero":

sort of reward for snitching, except that you get to consider yourself a "hero": Sure, it's ridiculous, but it makes a great name for a band, eh? The duo includes Polly Johnson (also of Havolina) on drums and John Atkins (whose old band, Hush Harbor, made one really great EP and then split up) on guitar and vocals. The single's A-side, "High School Poetry," alternates between a quirky pop verse and a driving, emotional chorus, Atkins' agonized vocals (especially during the chorus's "I'm waiting for the downfall/...It's fucking high school poetry.") are very moving, both here and on the B-side's slow, shuffling "Only Things With Arms." The band has an LP due out in September, also on Up Records. JENNY ELISCU

ESP FAMILY Jubilee (7" EP)

Icon, P.O. Box 1746, Royal Oak, MI 48068 313.872.4520 ESP Family is the muse of His Name Is Alive's William Defever (guitar/vocals), Dirt Eater Melissa Elliott (drums) and Matt Smith from the Volebeats (bass). Together, the three take on the guise of an old-timey (we're talking turn of the century here) back porch folk-blues band, a pick-up group of blackened coal miners and rail workers, strumming and singing the standards their great grandpappys taught them. They've even got the recording aesthetic down, compressing the sound of these four simple floorthumpers into scratchy old lost classics. "Jubilee" is the hopeful railroad ditty, while "Coal Miner" and "This World Is Not My Home" are sad and somehow poignant, followed by the hummable and clappable "Union Line." COLIN HELMS

BIG CITY ORCHESTRA "Grass" (7") Sick Muse, P.O. Box 28664, Bellingham, WA 98228-0664

The A-side of "Grass" is a cover of a cover: a reinterpretation of Robert Wyatt's version of Ivor Cutler's "Go And Sit Upon The Grass," stripping away the melody but keeping Cutler's wryly political words (here spoken in a strangled, quavering voice) and the clicking tabla percussion Wyatt added to the song. The other side is also a cover of "Grass" — but this time it's the XTC song. Sung by Cait McWhirr and accompanied by a little acoustic guitar, some softly rumbling industrial noises and what sounds like a sitar borrowed from the other "Grass," it takes on a new sense of gentle weirdness and corruption. DOUGLAS WOLK

FLASHBACK

Column coordinated by James Lier

CURTIS MAYFIELD People Get Ready!: The Curtis Mayfield Story Rhino, 10635 Santa Monica Bivd., Los Angeles, CA 90025-4900 310.474.4778 Curtis Mayfield, in his prime, was a fighter who acted like a lover. When others of the same era, from James Brown to Dyke And The Blazers, came up with black-power songs, they sounded like anthems. With his beard and glasses, Curtis looked more like a tactical theoretician than a general, but when his lithe falsetto cheered on the troops in "We're A Winner" or told it like it was on "Freddie's Dead," he sounded like he was personally trying to seduce everybody on both sides of the line. That was his secret: sugar-coating even the harshest attacks in pretty sounds. (Some of the lyrics to "Pusherman" or "If There's A Hell Below We're All Going To Go" are as brutal as the Last Poets, but their sound explicitly prefigures Philly soul.) Of course. he could sugarcoat anything, no matter how ludicrous: "Kung Fu" and "Sweet Exorcist," back-to-back here, are actually not embarrassing, because Curtis gives them as much as he gives anything else. And he was an ace live performer: A few tracks that show up here from his concert albums generate real heat. People Get Ready! surveys almost his entire career, aside from the first few years of the Impressions. As it picks up the story, Curtis is trying to get out from under the shadow of original Impressions singer Jerry Butler, for about the first minute of the "Spanish Harlem" wannabe "Gypsy Woman." After that, he almost instantly finds his voice (high-pitched and melismatic) and his subject matter: proto-slow jams like the awesome "Fool For You" alternating with civilrights anthems like "Keep On Pushing." He happens on the funk with "We're A Winner," but he doesn't fully claim it for himself until he goes solo halfway through the first disc. In his best work, he's a consummate funkster, developing and working polyrhythmic grooves, as on the sublime "Move On Up," here in all its nine-minute glory. If he doesn't get sampled nearly as often as JB or Clinton or Sly, it's because his arrangements tend to be busy with strings and horns and harps and things: Beneath all the goo on "We Got To Have Peace," there's a cool little funk groove. (And somebody really ought to take advantage of the beats underlying "Get Down" and "Future Shock.") By the late '70s and '80s --- the period covered by the third disc --the goo sometimes overwhelmed the funk. Mayfield is fine as a love-man, but he's so much better when he takes a stand on "Mr. Welfare Man." When he was on, though, he could bring the church, the boudoir and the street together like nobody else. DOUGLAS WOLK

Column by Robin Edgerton and Douglas Wolk

VARIOUS ARTISTS Musique's Action 2 Van D'Oeuvre, Centre Culturel Andre Malraux, BP 126, 54504 Vandoeuvre-les-Nancy cedex, France It's unclear what the seven experimental pieces here, all solo works of around 10 minutes apiece and mostly by French artists, have in common. But all of them use extremely odd instruments (CDs, plastic pipes, family members, tape) and manipulate familiar ideas of music in strange ways. Le Quan Ninh, Jim O'Rourke, and Massimo Simonini deliver takes on The History Of Western Music - Condensed Version, though their methods differ. O'Rourke's ravishing "Antithese" uses a map of overlapping tape (ancient flute, then a stripped-down '70s electric guitar whine, then mellow, contextless tones): Ninh's "Not want to say anything about FZ" is a barrage of percussion and samples, and Simonini's frustrating "Scivolevole" is constructed from skipping CDs, mostly of generic "ethnic" European musics --- think polka and you're close. There are also contributions from Daniel Koskowitz (of Soixante Etages), Jerome Noetinger (an imaginary soundtrack), sound-installation artist Frederic Le Junter and Dominique Petitgand (settings of words spoken by his family). It's nice that these experimental pieces are delivered not below your head (they're not purely resonant or meditative), not above your head (the concept doesn't overshadow the execution), but directly at your head. They're focused on communication through sound, and they offer a lot to grasp onto.

FLYING LUTTENBACHERS

Destroy All Music (LP) ugEXPLODE, c/o The Order Of Higher Primates, P.O. Box 390903, Cambridge, MA 02139

The Flying Luttenbachers' first LP, 1994's Constructive Destruction (soon to be reissued on CD), was a revelation to the few who got to hear it --- a bullet-speed collision between hardcore and Hal Russellstyle free jazz. Destroy All Music is the first of at least four Luttenbachers releases due this year (supposedly they've become a hornless black-metal band now). It's basically Constructive Destruction, Part 2, which is a fine thing; ten tracks recorded within months of the first album, before and after master reed-person Ken Vandermark's departure, including an even faster version of that record's Negative Approach-plays-John Barry "Fist Through Glass." Drummer/composer Weasel Walter's writing mostly follows a pattern of incredibly fast head/incredibly fast improv freakout/unison ending (there are also three entirely improvised pieces, including one with Chad Organ and Jeb Bishop playing Moog and Casio instead of tenor sax and trombone), but the themes are really distinctive and, for that matter, so are the freakouts. The Luttenbachers are all awesome improvisers, capable of thinking hard even while they're zooming around like Roman candles.

Although the days of Culture reigning as one of the finest vocal trios in all of reggae pantheon may be in question (founder Joseph Hill is the only one pictured on the cover). Hill continues to spread the word of conscious reggae, largely undaunted by the changes in dynamic and mood that have taken over the limelight in lamaican music. True to his spiritual roots, he delivers tunes that, while modern in production and programming, nonetheless emit an irie vibration: in terms of Hill's vocals and lyrics, if it weren't for the production and programming in the music, "Addis Ababba," "Tribal War," "Satan Company," and "Rastaman A Come" could have been generated at any point in his career.

DUBADELIC 2000: A Bass Odyssey

Wordsound, 129 N. 11th St., Brooklyn, NY 11211 Not a strict reggae album per se, but the Wordsound posse over the bridge in Brooklyn continues to put out some of the most invigorating and exciting reggae/dub/funk fusions imaginable. Exploring a world where dub collides with ambient, electronic, funk and groove music, the music of the Dubadelic project is about as innovative as anything happening (we're not entirely sure, but we suspect that all Wordsound releases feature the same musicians in different permutations). Check how "The Devil Went Down To Forsyth County" starts out like it's going to be a straightforward deep dub jam, but then an unexpected and totally un-reggae electronic beat keeps wandering into the edge of the picture, like a passerby accidentally walking onto a movie set, keeping the listener's ears on edge.

PETER TOSH The Toughest

Heartbeat, One Camp St., Cambridge, MA 02140 617.354.0700

Another of Heartbeat's crucial reissues, The Toughest provides a glimpse of the young Peter Tosh in his formative years with Coxsone studios and Lee Perry: and like John Lennon in the recently-released tapes of the early Beatles, even though it's rough and raw, you can still tell something extraordinary is happening. You might want to listen to this CD before watching the magnificent The Harder They Come to sense the roots of Tosh, especially the Lee Perry-produced material, which is some deep conscious reggae from Perry's peak.

With Digital B at the production helm, this is primo stuff coming out of Jamaica right now. The bobbing Digital B beat works best with exuberant singers like Terror Fabulous or Buccaneer, who rag on the mic like a boxer yelling while he punches out his opponent's lights; crooners like Sanchez end up sounding like they're just killing time in the studio.

beginning to take effect. The folks at sm:)e have licensed a stone-cold set of rave classics from the British Bass Section label, which issued this compilation about six months ago. If rave culture has a canon, then the 12 tracks here form its foundation. The very appearance of "Narra Mine" by Genaside II here is miraculous --- the track's been out-of-print and indemand for nearly five years. Its pre-jungle tempo, seismic bass lines and manic toasting still have the power to shock and amaze. Two of techno's most elephantine moments are also found on Rave Anthems: Joey Beltram's "Energy Flash," the bass line from which has been sampled beyond recognition on hundreds of records since, and the charging, stabfilled "The Vamp" by Outlander (Marcos Salon), which lifts bodies straight into the air from the relative security of the dance floor. Other wonderful moments include the menacing "Mr. Kirk's Nightmare" by the still prolific and innovative 4 Hero and the British happy hardcore (the piano driven precursor to jungle) anthem "Feal Real Good" by the Manix. Happy 'core enthusiasts will also delight in the inclusion of the ripping "Some Justice"

UNDERWORLD "Rowla" (12") Wax Trax!, c/o TVT, 23 E. 4th St., New York, NY 10003

by Urban Shakedown with Mickey Finn, a hands-in-the-air stormer.

212.979.6410 web: http://www.tvtrecords.com

It's always a delight to recall the gorgeous, incandescent "Doot, Doot" by Freur, a mid-late '80s synth pop dream come true. Traces of that clean, warm keyboard aesthetic exist in the fast-moving though contemplative music of Underworld (who consist of the former members of Freur). "Rowla" is culled from Underworld's second full-length record. Second Toughest In The Infants and it sees Hyde, Emerson, and Smith arrive at a new plateau in their musical sensibilities. Unlike their last album, Second Toughest... allows Underworld's dance/rock hybrids to come alive. "Rowla" is a sprawling, epic trance track which manages to avoid all the cliches of that genre. In other words, these folks have a sense of humor. Vocal snippets wander in and out of the mix and the surging synth lines provide an almost panoramic backdrop for the track.

Wax's Excursions imprint. At the risk of rebuke, I maintain that James Lavelle's label and its offshoots are still making some of the most progressive dance music on either side of the Atlantic. And not all of the Excursions material is being channelled through ffrr/London over here. "Pressure" by SOLO FEATURING J.T. is a dark, troubling record which strikes a discordant note with those who prefer to categorize drum-andbass into the hardstep and experimental categories. This one eludes such definition. With the assistance of the able Peshay on the flip side, this is a rumbling, shivering rainstorm of a record, grey and moody, yet extremely fast. The best drum-and-bass records are always able to give the listener the impression that the tempo is moderate, while actually increasing the velocity to a breakneck pace. This is one such record (Excursions, c/o Mo Wax, 167 Caledonian Rd., London NI, U.K. 0171, 787 1532) British slowmo groovers FILA BRAZILLIA have been "back in the news" recently with their appearances on the excellent Quango label compilations. They were in Chicago for a spell and recorded their domestic debut EP. Sycot Motion, for the increasingly visible Mindfood label (500 West Cermak, Ste. 500, BX#6, Chicago, IL 312.666.0973). Those familiar with their lointensity outings for the Pork label will be delighted to find new material from these folks, who are hardly the publicity hounds of the British dance underground. In fact, their music has a remarkable subtlely which can sometimes bely the insistent grooves which fuel their tracks. "Blind In One Eye" is sort of like a giant buffer rubbing up against your psyche, with a deeply ingrained bass line and shooting-star effects. "Laying Down The Law On The Lard," though probably not a vegetarian polemic, is a rhythm infused number with a strange, centrifugal pull. Unusual music from unusual imaginations.

DJ SPOOKY

email:asphodel@interport.net Now that the simple distinction between modernity and postmodernity have been called into serious question, we are able to see that techniques of collage and bricolage have been present in African diasporic music well before they became institutionalized in the west. DJ Spooky is an inheritor of such a black cultural tradition. His elaborate, fragmented and cohesive soundscapes have a sprawling, ambitious quality that confounds easy explanation. Spooky (a k a Paul Miller) emerged from the New York downtown arts scene some years ago, bringing a critical intelligence and radical approach to the art of turntable manipulation. He's already entered into dialogue with the ideas of such Black Atlantic cultural critics as Paul Gilroy and Manthia Diawara (and he was involved in the Black Cyberspace Conference held in London last year) and the result is one of the most accomplished electronic records of the last five years. Songs Of A Dead Dreamer also comes at a time when the concept of the DJ as artist is returning to the center of both dance music and hip hop (with such artists as DI Shadow, DI Krush, and the DIs featured on The Bomb magazine's Return of the DI compilation of last year). The peaks and valleys, the absence and presence of sounds, and the wide-range of cultural reference points make this album essential. Moments of "Hologrammic Dub" echo the cat-scratch guitar and reverbed melodica of Augustus Pablo. while the dense atmospherics of "Juba" unwind melancholic moments from the Eraserhead score to devastating effect. Songs Of A Dead Dreamer is one for the time capsule.

PIERRE AKENDENGUE Maladalite Melodie/France, c/o Qualiton Imports, 24-02 40th Avenue, Long Island City, NY 11101 718.937.8516

While the Sony reissue of his amazing Lambarena rides on the charts here at CMJ, this Gabonese poet and musician has been busy at his work, and with Maladalite we find Pierre Akendengue in an all-acoustic framework that is in some ways a stark contrast to his more famous work. But this structure also offers him and his collaboratuer Hughes de Courson some opportunities to expand their vision, and they take advantage of them. Akendengue is a non-conformist, with neither a strict tie to tradition nor a slavish addiction to pop music, and he searches and finds a unique artistic vision in his music. As a poet, he understands frugality and spareness, and uses both in Maladalite to great advantage. Each note is carefully measured, each silence vital and alive. When he uses large ensembles, usually groupings of voices or similar instruments, it is as ambience rather than power. He never overreaches, and never trips over a cliche in his effort to incorporate all he hears into his music -Latin, African and European. Akendengue the composer is superlative. Akendengue the singer and musician is more notable here than on Lambarena. His sweet tenor and his guitar playing punctate rather than override the rest of the tracks, always right but never conspicuous. He is joined by a wonderful group of African and French musicians and singers, notably soukous guitarist Maika Munan along with Courson's string players and arrangements. For fans of the grand Lambarena, this album offers a gentle reminder of the power of acoustics.

AMERICA THE UNUSUAL

and many of the masters of jazz in the '40s and '50s.

performers have spent a large part of the last decade looking for a "new Americana." Both ROBIN HOL-COMB and BILL FRISELL have moved through jazz and experimental circles for many years, and have always injected into their work (and the work of the musicians they associate with) a sense of history, of folkiness, almost, that has defined their work. In the last few years especially, they have gone head long towards finding a new American music that isn't just a revival or assimilation, but a continuance of a trend that has included Copeland, lves

Robin Holcomb's third Elektra release is Little Three (Elektra, 75 Rockefeller Plaza, New York, NY 10019), a moving, quiet companion to the more pop and rock orientations of her two previous song albums. Here she is alone, just her piano and sometimes her voice, telling starker tales that have an edge of melancholy and nostalgia tangled with a strange sort of New West optimism. Shamelessly derivative, as all folk processors are, Holcomb nearly quotes from every verse of the American canon, without ever actually playing a tune you know. Her song/stories evoke obvious ties to things American classics like "Our Town," and "Rodeo," yet seem to move into a contemporary America ill-equipped to look back on its own history. Of the seven songs on the album, two alone feature lyrics, the moving "Graveyard Song" and the brief and romantic "The Window." The other songs are piano solos. Newfound Holcomb fans may be surprised by this, but since her career is primarily that of composer/pianist, it really is an obvious path for her. The piano pieces still carry a lot of lyrical weight, and her playing and singing share a lot of the same faltering, breathy qualities. Little Three should be taken as a whole, a short novel about persons unseen and unnameable.

The BILL FRISELL QUARTET (Nonesuch, 75 Rockefeller Plaza, New York, NY 10019 212.575.6720) moves on a parallel course to Little Three, seeking some of the same inspirations, but moving them along in a far more aggressive fashion. If Holcomb plays the part of The Stage Manager, Frisell and his band play the roles of Kane and Kong, manipulating here, stomping there, taking their personal history of the American movement and hammering it like so many spikes into a rail siding passing ominous trash can fires and shady characters. Eyvind Kang provides a folky violin and a throbbing tuba. Ron Miles and Curtis Folkes plays the bandstand with trumpets and trombone, and Frisell's by-now unmistakable guitar twanging provides the southern flavor needed, it seems, in every great American novella of the twentieth century. Jazz? Folk? The beauty of both Holcomb and Frisell is their inability to fit any of the general descriptions.

AND AL As an aside to all this Americana, take a shot of Celebration On The Planet Mars (Koch International, 2 Tri-Harbor Court, Port Washington, NY 11050) by Dutch reconstructionist, The BEAU HUNKS. Their loving revival of the film music of Raymond Scott is meticulous, almost eerie in its perfection, but gives you a real taste of the music in isolation from the many films it comes from. Scott's work was quirky, innovative and sometimes as bizarre as anything to follow in the American music scene.

The New Feeling (Celestial Harmonies, PO 30122, Tucson, AZ 85751 email: 72120.3673@compuserve.com) described in this anthology of international fusions from the Celestial Harmonies catalog is a mixed bag of hard hitting pop jazz (Brazil's Marcio Montarroyos), successful cultural clash and collusion (Michael Askill and Omar Faruk Tekbilek) and lightweight fusion (Paul Horn and Takadja). The set was put together by Australian DJ Jaslyn Hall, and while working within the confines of a single company's catalog, she manages to find surprises and delights for the uninitiated and fan alike.

ET AL... KIPS BAY ("the band formerly known as Kips Bay Ceili Band") hit and miss as they try to emulate the success of the Waterboys on their new album Into The Light (Green Linnet, 43 Beaver Brook Road, Danbury CT 06810 203.730.0333). When their Celtic roots shine through they really rock, but watch out for those grandiose pop tunes. Imagine a band that could sound like The Pogues and REO Speedwagon in the same set?...They try desperately to convince you that it's not a novelty record, but TINY TIM with BRAVE COMBO doing "Stairway To Heaven"? Please, Girl! (Rounder, I Camp Street, Cambridge MA 02140 617.354.0700)...

shortcomings in his beautifully heartfelt and literate songwriting. true measure of what makes Bill Morrissey's songs so powerful is the way his lyrics become larger than the chords he or his crafty group of musicians play. Like good short stories, each song creates powerful visuals, as if he had fine-tuned each song so that it was purified down to the most essential elements. You can feel the loneliness of "As Long As The Sun," and "Winter Laundry" boasts one of the best narratives on the album.

KIMMIE RHODES West Texas Heaven

Justice, P.O. Box 980369, Houston, TX 77098 713.520.6669

Continuing in our "heaven" theme, Kimmie Rhodes' latest disc is a delicious slice of West Texas Heaven, capturing the simplistic, at times pensive, purity that also graced Gillian Welch's latest. Her voice is so sweet and gentle that when you hear it you want to just lay in an open field and stare at a big sky and let songs like "Be Mine" (featuring Waylon Jennings) literally tear at your heartstrings. Willie Nelson turns up on two songs, including the sparse "I Never Heard You Say." Whether her songs are as straight-ahead as a Kansas highway, or warm and inviting like "The Corner Of The Bar," Kimmie Rhodes is impossible to deny. A favorite cut is the delicate, calliope-backed "Wild Roses," a seamless blend of her astute songwriting and tranquil arrangements. We're also ga-ga over: "Maybe We'll Just Disappear," "Git You A Job" and "I'm Not An Angel," which will be featured on the Mrs. Winterbourne soundtrack.

Margaritaville, c/o Island, 825 Eighth Ave., 24th Fl., New York, NY 10019

The Iguanas have gone from being a local cult favorite to becoming one of the Big Easy's (a k a New Orleans) biggest party favors. There truly isn't anything to dislike about this group. It's more consumed by making good music, fit for a late-night romp on the dancefloor, than by pandering to fashionable styles or sounds. Not too distant from the mixed bag approach of Los Lobos, the Iguanas season its stew with English and Spanish vocals, boogie, swampy funk, and a dash of Tex-Mex ("Is This Love?"), all adding to the exciting wanderlust and exhilarating feel of Super Ball. While most tracks, especially the oom-pah-pah rhythm of "Mil Demonios," will make you wanna stay out long enough to see the sun rise, the opening cut, "Rock Star," may be the most charming. The group take on a Beach Boys persona, and complete the feel-good vibe with background vocals (basically "000-weee-000"s) by Alex Chilton. This is the perfect record to get rid of that lingering winter chill.

DAVID GRAY Sell, Sell, Sell, Sell EMI, 1290 Ave. of the Americas, New York, NY 10104

Welsh-born songwriter David Gray sings with a brash Gaelic wail, a singer who is submerged in thought and demonstrates both undeniable will and conviction in his music. You can feel Gray's commitment to his craft simply by the way he backs up every last syllable with a sense of purpose and thoughtful determination: he cries "Praise the Lord above, and sell, sell, sell!" on the title track, and does it with a feeling of ragged grace and passion. Gray's soul-wrenching songs burn deeply; they scream to be heard and understood. even when he cloaks himself in nothing more than a gentlystrummed guitar on "Hold On To Nothing" ("It chills you down inside when you see just what is real") or the live recording of "Smile," which, cast in stark beauty, is one of the most resonant songs on the album. The wide-ranging, well-tailored arrangements on Sell, Sell, Sell offer the perfect compliment to Gray's vocals, highlighting the various shades of emotion his voice emits, yet remaining simple, straightforward and stable. This is not the kind of album that will unravel itself in one listen; give it some time and it will keep getting better. Sell: "Late Night Radio," "Magdalena," "Only The Lonley" and "Gutter Full Of Rain."

Beastie Boys

The In Sound From Way Out Grand Royal, c/o Capitol, 1750 N. Vine Street, Hollywood, CA 90028 After their incredible 1989 album Paul's Boutique, the Beastie Boys decided to put away the drum machines and sampling devices and kick out the jams. Going back to their old hardcore roots, they began jamming in a studio located in the basement of the offices of their California-based record company Grand Royal. There, with the help of keyboard specialist Money Mark, the trio concocted gritty compositions with Mike D on drums and his partners MCA on bass and Adrock on guitar. The Beasties' latest low-key release The In Sound From Way Out! features mostly instrumentals from their last two major recordings: Check Your Head and III Communication. "Groove Holmes" sounds like it was snatched off a Meters' Greatest Hits collection; the unmistakable blackploitation feel of "Namaste" and the surreal "Lighten Up" are all evidence of the Beasties' prowess as gifted musicians. Although at first listen I found myself missing the group's whiny voiced, ill subreference sprouting lyrics. there's never a dull moment or a filler sounding cut on this 13 song rhapsody. The Beastie Boys are still the funkiest white boys in hip-hop and continue to prove they are true musicians whose talents make them one of the top bands in all of music today.

The NOTORIOUS B.I.G singing? Yes, and believe it or not, it works. The DJ Enuff remix of JUNIOR M.A.F.I.A's "Get Money" (Big Beat, c/o Atlantic, 75 Rockefeller Plaza, New York, NY 10019) features Biggie Smalls harmonzing over the classic beat of Dennis Edwards' "Don't Look Any Further." It's a solid re-working, with Lil' Ceaser, Lil' Kim and the big man all delivering new verses. Standout line courtesy of the bat-wielding Biggie Smalls: "Problems with my wife, don't discuss 'em." And if you don't know, now you know, fella...Brand Nubian alumnist SADAT X's solo debut single "Hang Em' High" (Loud, c/o RCA, 540 Broadway, Times Square New York, NY 10036) gives us an inside look at rap's selfproclaimed "wild cowboy." Sadat dazzles us with his poetics over an ill bass line that sounds like it was lifted straight from a western. On the Showbiz-produced B-side "Stages And Lights," X delivers his resume: "I ain't never been gold/But I got the platinum fame." Taking his first steps towards solo riches, Sadat comes off "ten times as bad as John Wayne," and shows that real rappers never die, they just ride off into the sunset ... Sadat (who seems to be making more guest apperances than Busta Rhymes did in his guest appearance prime) also appears on FRANKIE CUTLASS' new club-rocker "You and You and You." While his verses are good, Redman (another guest rapping maverick) steals the show. "Demolish leave most MC's jobless/Boxing apple cobblers at Roy Rogers," he asserts over this dance floor ditty which has a variety of mixes...Keeping it surreal is CAMP LO with the Ski remix of "Coolie High" (Profile, 740 Broadwat, New York, NY 10003 212.527.2600). Slightly reminiscent of Digable Planets, the crew's clever wordplay and Ski's use of a recurring vocal loop are the ingredients that give this song a breezy springtime feel...MASTA ACE returns with "Top Ten List," a brilliant B-side off his new single "Turn It Up" (Delicious Vinyl, c/o Capitol, address above). Utilizing an old KRS One sample, Ace runs down the reasons why an unnamed rapper can't run him out the rap game. "Real gangstas don't talk shit in magazines," he warns, spewing out battle lyrics that take you back to the days when Ace was a lethal lyricist who made records for more than jeep pleasure.

NEWS FILE

As reported in the Los Angeles Times, rumors continue to swell about an apparent riff between Suge Knight and Dr. Dre, who is supposedly on his way to signing an exclusive deal with Interscope records. To date, no one from either Death Row or Interscope has given a comment on the situation and everyone in the rap industry is waiting for an official word. If Dre does leave, it's almost inconceivable that Death Row's success story won't be seriously altered by Dre's departure. Imagine listening to Snoop Doggy Dogg's upcoming album Dogg Father without the production assistance of rap's premiere west coast track master? I don't want to ... I'll admit that for the most part, I hate rap videos. Videos are a plague which have helped stripped hip-hop of its cultural identity. You know the drill: wack rappers get over by having dope videos, dope rappers suffer from having wack videos, it never ends. But lately, dope singles are starting to be accompanied by equally dope videos. There are a couple that deserve a quick mention. Besides creating a striking debut album, Busta Rhymes "WOO-HAH!!!" video has also helped catapult him to superstar status. Director Hype Williams' work is striking and was able to fully capture the charismatic presence and frenzied energy of the dreaded one ... Wu-Tang Clan's Genius is also, as you probably already know, an emerging director in his own right. In his current clip, he combines the music from the two sides of his current single "Shadowboxin'"/"4th Chamber" into one video which shows the Wu in army fatigues poised for apparent war. Flags are waved, gunshots are busted and revolution begins. The highlight is a camouflage-painted Ghostface Killer waving a canteen and rapping while huddled under a tent...Coming soon to your local video show is the just completed video to Tragedy's west coast diss "LA. LA." Directed by Nick Quested, the vid was shot in Queensbridge and is said to feature Trag and his boys Capone, Noriega and Mobb Deep kidnapping Tha Dogg Pound, taking them to Queens, and throwing them off the infamous bridge. Set your VCR, boys and girls, I know I can't wait.

JUGGAKNOTS The Juggaknots

Fondle'Em, c/o Fat Beats, 323 East 9th St., New York, NY 10003 212.673.3883

Hip-hop personality Bobbito Garcia is Fondle 'Em's founder. Fondle 'Em is a New York-based independent label that truly puts the artist first. His second release on this burgeoning label is the Juggaknots. This New York group once had a major recording contract with EastWest which never released their material. During that time, Bobbito took a liking to the Juggaknots and would invite them up to WKCR's Stretch Armstrong show, the legendary rap radio show that he hosts. One of their songs "Clear Blue Skies" was one of the show's most requested grooves. This poignant tune, featured on their selftitled album, explores racism in a clever scenario that revolves around a father and son. The father disapproves of his white son's interracial relationship with a black female and eventually kicks him out of the house. Also on a similar socially conscious vibe is "Romper Room," which details how kids today grow up playing with guns rather than toys. Thankfully, instead of letting fresh music sit on the shelf and go stale, the Juggaknots have put out this long-overdue album. Although it was recorded a couple of years ago, The Juggaknots can still hold its own in the current marketplace. Give support to Juggaknots and like it says on the record's white label, "Support hiphop artists who go for delf."

BLOWIN' UP OK, all you wack rappers, its time for you to pack your bags and get the hell out of town: De La Soul is back. "The Bizness," the Strong Island crew's promotional-only debut single is an out-the-box smash. For the second week in a row, "The Bizness" is the most added record on the Beat Box charts and this week debuts at #20 on our radio chart. Over a simple two bar loop, Posdnous, Trugoy and special guest Common flex their freestyle skills and trade verses like an old school crew. "Forget all the playas, we be the rhyme sayers," Common mumbles on the song's intro and they get no argument from me or this week's reporting stations: WDCR, KAMP, KASR (#1), KRNU, KWVA, KZSC (#1), WBAR, WCFM, WCUR, WCVM, WEFT (#1), WIUS, WKVR, WMCC, WSUR (#1), WUSC.

SOCIETY OF SOUL Brainchild

LaFace, c/o Arista, 6 West 57th St. New York, NY 10019 Anyone familair with the successful sounds of southern rap champions Outkast and Goodie Mob has heard the name Organized Noise. This three man Atlanta-based production unit of Rico Wade, Ray Murray, and Patrick "Sleepy"

Brown have finally stopped creating hits for other people, and are putting out their own music as Society of Soul. Joined by female vocalist Roni and spoken word artist Big Rube, the crew aims to create contemporay R&B music with enough soul to give them a '70s edge. Like the Goodie Mob, Society of Soul's subject matter is very spiritual and the record is dedicated to the big man upstairs. On the gospel-inspired "It Only Gets Better" and "Changes," which features the sultry T-Boz from TLC (Organized Noise produced its hit "Waterfalls"), the group expresses a faith in God as the remedy to help through the troubled times. If the crew does have the '70s funk formula, it's probably because it's in the genes: lead vocalist Sleepy Brown's father was a member of the funk group Brick. At a young age, Sleepy got to hang in the studio and rub elbows with bands like Cameo and the Bar-Kays. Although the crew do come off a little preachy on songs such as "Migratentation" and the title track, the group's messages are refreshingly sincere and heart-felt. Whether or not this group's attempt to make socially conscious R&B music in the '90s will have as much impact as socially conscious hiphop did in the '80s remains to be seen. But one thing's for sure, Society of Soul's music is funkier than a bowl of three week-old collard greens.

LIONEL RICHIE Louder Than Words

Mercury, 825 Eighth Ave., New York, NY 10019

Lionel Richie is no new jack. As the leader of the flashy '70's funksters the Commodores, Richie was the celebrated afro-sporting author behind classics like "Brick House" and "Three Times A Lady." But then everything changed. Richie outgrew his bandmates, left the group, got a jheri curl and achieved overwhelming pop success and mainstream acceptance. His three solo albums of the '80's: Lionel Richie, Can't Slow Down, and Dancing On The Ceiling were all huge world-wide smashes and Richie began to get the backlash and flak that comes from being a black singer with a large white fan base. Things hit rock bottom in 1991, when Richie became infamous for a spousal abuse incident with wife Brenda. Richie tried to keep his head up and release a greatest hits collection the following year, but it was met with a lukewarm response. Richie vanished into hibernation and hasn't been seen in public lately up until now. Louder Than Words, his first album in four years, is ballad heavy and reveals Richie hasn't lost his touch as a gifted songwriter. I appreciate the fact that at age 47 Richie didn't try to come back on the hip-hop tip or play into any current musical trends. Richie is at his best on sappy, romantic jams: "Still In Love" and "Piece Of Love" are just a couple of ones to choose from. My fave is "I Wanna Take You Down." With a slight touch of a contemporay bounce, Richie busts out with some old Marvin Gaye-like crooning. If time does indeed heal all wounds, Richie will probably return to his rightful spot on the top of the charts. All you playa haters --- step off.

EDGE OF SANITY Crimson

Black Mark Production, 354 1/2 Yonge St., Ste. #17, Toronto, ON M5B 1S5 416.364.0213

Although Edge Of Sanity's fifth full-length offering is, in fact, a 40-minute-long song, it shouldn't be thought of as just one tune. The music of Crimson isn't sequenced into actual songs, but there are enough distinct breaks in its tempo, aggression and emotion for each listener to create his or her very own song interpretations. The majestic melee of exotic sounds and mind-altering ambience found within the expansive passages of the album takes the listener on a journey into the very distant future, where the last generation of human life as we know it struggles against imminent death and destruction. Innovative and bold, multi-faceted and unrestrained, Crimson evokes feelings of happiness and contentment, in addition to pain and suffering, as exquisitely beautiful melodies collide with angry, death-laden bursts of speed and power resulting in an uproarious cloud of splendor, destruction and force. This musical masterpiece floats on gentle acoustic passages, soaring, aromatic melodies and dark, doom-encrusted inlays, while it delves into furious thrash-death-metal explosions of noise, mega-ton guitar riffage, crushing rhythms and writhing churns. Frontman Dan Swano and Opeth vocalist Mike Akerfeldt — who was hand-picked by Swano to help him with vocals on the album — provide a perfect balance between menacing, gut-wrenching growls and powerful, soaring howls. This cutting-edge, brilliant album should not be overlooked. To all of the radio programmers out there who will be quick to dismiss this album on the basis that they "can't play a 40-minute-song": Create your own songs and don't miss out on this killer conglomeration of texture, emotion and sound.

MANHOLE All Is Not Well

Noise, 292 La Cienega Blvd., Ste. 103, Beverly Hills, CA 90211 310.289.2515

Driven by the sharp-tongued, stinging lyrics and volatile voice of frontwoman Tairrie B. (the "B" stands for B.I.T.C.H. — Being in Total Control of Herself), L.A.'s Manhole sucks you deep into the dark recesses of its uncompromising rap/metal/hardcore/groove explosion of sound. Erupting in a frenzy of purely angry, attitude-laden grind, Manhole slams out a slew of rage-fueled messages that deal with sexism, racism, rape, violence against women and reproductive freedom. Manhole forces you to listen to its underlying messages with harsh, attention-grabbing oneliners like "My pussy, my choice," taken from the furious, aggroslash of the pro-choice tune "Put Your Head Out," and "What part of 'no' don't you fuckin' understand, asshole?," culled from the fiery attack of the anti-rape song "Victim." Surrounded by a barrage of manic guitar thrusts, deep bass slaps and violent hardcore grinds, Tairrie B.'s rawthroated screams and rap-inflected jams demand respect. It was N.W.A./Ruthless Records' founder Eazy-E who gave Tairrie B. her first record deal back in the days when gangsta rap was only beginning to make its mark on the world. Her debut, The Power Of A Woman, featured guest appearances by rappers Dr. Dre, Eazy-E, the D.O.C. and House Of Pain's Everlast. Although the Ross Robinsonproduced (Korn, Sepultura, Deftones) All Is Not Well takes a much rougher, harder and more brutal musical route, Tairrie B.'s gangsta-rap roots remain prominent within her vocal delivery and take-no-shit lyrical approach. Her determination, aggression, strength and power are an inspiration to women all over the world. You go, girl! Check out the blistering stomp of "Hypocrite," the scorching groove of "Kiss Or Kill," the raging blast of "Roughness" and the frustrated rebellion of "Down," which includes a guest appearance by Snot's Lynn Strait.

FAR Tin Cons With Strings To You

Immortal, c/o Epic, 550 Madison Ave., New York, NY 10022-3211 Without mentioning any names...ahem...the last Loud Rock collaboration between Immortal and Epic resulted in one of today's newest, hottest bands snagging a big, shiny gold record for its brilliant debut. Following hot on the heels of the aforementioned band, but sounding nothing like it, Sacramento's Far is more than ready to explode on a national level with its aggressive, melody-laden, grooveoriented rock 'n' roll. The band's With Strings Ta Yuu — "You know debut album, Tin Cans With Strings To You — "You know, like those little things you'd talk to your friend with as a kid," says lead vocalist Jonah Sonz Matranga — provides just enough raucous, unruly Loud Rock energy to make it a no-brainer for the headbangin' crew, but also possesses a softer side with its passionate, harmony-driven choruses and emotion-filled vocals, making it a perfect choice for commercial radio. Far's discordant side, however, will knock you flat on your ass with wild, distorted riffs, raspy, razor-throated screams, jagged bass thwaps and circular, stop-start rhythms. Check out the opening crunch and howl of "What I've Wanted To Say," the fast-driving chaos of "Love, American Style," the soft, flowing melodies of "Girl," the wild, crashing waves of "Seasick" and the chugging rhythms of "Cut-Out."

OTIS Electric Londlody

CherryDisc, P.O. Box 990424, Boston, MA 02199 617.262.5547 Propelled by pure, unadulterated, aggressive attitude, Otis stomps out a heavy blend of thick groove/blistering hardcore/rough power-metal mayhem on its sophomore effort, Electric Landlady. Otis' gritty hardcore grind crystallizes in a surging on-slaught of rigid rhythmic ng on-slaught of rigid rhythmic thumps, wailing guitar riffs, gruff vocal explosions and hard-edged melodies on this perfect followup to the band's 1995 self-titled debut. Immediately following the release of this successful debut record, Otis picked up the award for "Outstanding New Local Rock Band" at 1995's Boston Music Awards. Where many of Boston's hardcore-influenced outfits tend to flatten your senses with a never-ending stream of abrasive noise and discordant screams, Otis weaves a precise and deliberate groove into its overall, heavy musical presence with crisp vocal punches and distinct tempo shifts. In fact, the band even incorporates some swaggering, bluesy riffs into its sound on the instantly infectious "The Haul." Also lend an ear to the humorous, menacing slap of "Buttafuoco," the chugga-chugga riff-o-rama of "Skink," the boisterous stance of "The Swede" and the shattering "Stike."

CHUM Deod To The World Century Media, 1453-A 14th St., #324, Santa Monica, CA 90404 310.399.6900

These four "chums" from West Virginia spent their time together carving a mark for themselves in an area virtually devoid of any clear identity. Dead To The Warld is the brilliant sparkling result. John Lancaster's vocals glide through the stripped-down, powerfully impressive tracks that make up the band's debut release. "Angels In The Snow" looks at how different a scene can be, depending on whose eyes take it in. "Greetings" is a grungy pummeling of chords, beats and vocal chops. Shivers will creep up the back of your neck as you hear the pain in Lancaster's vocals on "Stepping On Cracks," as it chugs through the horrifying topic of child neglect, while "Kindling Kind" starts off with a sustained chord that slowly builds its fire from there. Overall, the album trickles with a spaciness at times, then becomes gloriously ominous, as it switches from pounding riffs to quieter moments and back again. Throughout the album, Lancaster's vocals are strongly commanding. At times, he'll whisper to make a more profound impact than any loud-barking screams could ever deliver. "Live In A Circle" is at the other end of the spectrum from most other tracks on the album, as it swirls around your head with a silvery peacefulness. Chum succeeds with this no-nonsense, initial project that can be summed up with a line from the title track "...it's not a phase." DONNA RODGER

STICKMEN This is Groovecore

Eureka, 3621 South Harbor Blvd., Ste. 150, Santa Ana, CA 92704-6950 714.673.0200

Just as the album's title implies, Boston's Stickmen pound out a thick amalgam of raunchy groovecore wrought with Helmet-like, circular, grinding riffs and powerful vocals that range from gruff mumbles and low-end howls to high-soaring bellows and harrowing screams. Joining forces four years ago, the musical mashers in Stickmen have already amassed a devout following in the New England area via the band's high-energy live performances, while also opening shows for heavy-weights such as Candlebox, Pro-Pain, 24-7 Spyz and the Mighty Mighty Bosstones. With an already established fanbase in its home-state and a continual stream of positive press popping up all over the country, the Stickmen are in a prime position to release their debut record, This Is Graavecare. Stickmen bring together the attitude of punk, the full-on, aggressive rage of hardcore and the crushing chord slam of power-metal to form its distinctly heavy sound. Grind to the devastating uproar of "Sick Of It All," the penetrating, stop-start groove of "Polluted," the rough, rhythmic spat of "All I Got," the fast 'n' furious romp of "Time To Change" and the earsplitting guitar wails of "Finally."

All reviews by Jenni Glenn unless otherwise noted.

Just when you thought that the chance to win a special, limited-edition Sepultura box set was the coolest thing that Roadrunner had to offer in recent memory, another top-notch Sepultura contest comes flying at ya! The prize isn't a CD, or a poster, or a lifetime supply of bumper stickers — the winner will actually get to spend Memorial Day in Holland with the band! How cool is that?! In addition, the metal director and his or her guest from the winner's station gets to go along! All you have to do is have your listeners send in a postcard answering the following question: The song "Ratamahatta," from Sepultura's new release, Roots, is sung in what languages? Make sure to tell your listeners that ONLY postcards will be accepted and they should include their name, address, age, phone number, radio station that they heard the contest on and, of course, the answer to the question. One winner will be chosen at random. No one affiliated with Roadrunner or Sepultura is eligible for this contest and the winner MUST be 18 years of age or over and have a valid passport. Lead vocalist Pee is doing phoners while the money for repairs is being scrounged up...According to a press release from Mazur Public Relations, S.W.A.T. teams and police armed with batons were called in at a recent Brazilian in-store appearance by Bruce Dickinson when a crowd of 3,000 fans broke into a riot. The turn-out for the appearance exceeded the expectations of the event's organizers at the Galleria, a collection of stores in San Paulo selling music merchandise, which was only prepared to handle several hundred fans. Thousands of fans tried to get into the small store where Dickinson was greeting fans and signing autographs. A television crew traveling with Dickinson for an interview captured the chaos, resulting in national television coverage. "In all the years I've been in metal, I've never seen a crowd quite so passionate and crazy," Dickinson said. "I'm really pleased no one was hurt." Dickinson was in Brazil promoting his latest album, Skunkworks, which has already doubled sales of his last album within two weeks of its release in Brazil. Dickinson plans to tour Europe, the United States, South America, Australia and Japan in the upcoming months. For additional information, please

L.U.N.G.5.' song "One On One" will be the new theme song for the Extreme Fighting: Battlecade series on Pay-Per-View...Metallica's Jason Newsted recently contacted Voivod drummer Michel Langevin and invited him and Voivod guitarist Denis d'Amour to his California studio to jam. "It was an incredible experience," says Langevin. "My phone rang one day and it was Jason. We had met a few times in the past and he was calling to tell me how much he loved the new album. Then he invited us and our instruments to go to San Francisco and hang out with him." Hmmmm...might there be a sideproject in the works? I guess we'll soon see...On May 21, the WORK Group will release the soundtrack to lim Carrey's new Columbia Pictures comedy, The Cable Guy, which is set to open in more than 2,200 theaters nationwide on June 14. The album features new songs by Porno For Pyros (performing Lou Reed's "Satellite Of Love"), Cracker, Silverchair, Cypress Hill and the Toadies, among others. The first track (and video) from The Cable Guy soundtrack will be Alice In Chains' Jerry Cantrell performing "Leave Me Alone." The Cable Guy, directed by Ben Stiller, tells the story of an unsuspecting cable subscriber, played by Matthew Broderick, who accepts the offer of a few free movie channels from an over-eager cable installer (lim Carrey), that turn his world into a comedic nightmare. For more information, please contact Kris Ferraro at 310.449.2500...Judas Priest is presently auditioning vocalists for its new album, Jugulator...Guitarist Rob Echeverria (ex-Helmet) has joined Biohazard. The band's next album, entitled Mata Lego (which means "killer chokehold"), will be released in mid-June...Although still a "rumor," how cool is this line-up for an upcoming summer tour: Warrant/Slaughter/Vince Neil/Belladonna! I can just see the hairspray and spandex already!! Rock on!...Speaking of rumors, unfortunately the one about Pungent Stench breaking up is true. A final farewell CD called The Collection will be out this fall, and it will contain previously-unreleased tracks, as well as rarities and B-sides. It is indeed a sad day. Long live the Stench!...Neurosis has just begun an extensive European tour with Unsane, but will be back in the States in July, with a U.S. tour following shortly...Last, but certainly not least, congratulations to Ron Platzer, formerly of We Bite America Records, on his move to Victory Records. #### HORNS APLENTY

Gerry Teekens' Dutch Criss Cross label (PO, Box 1214, 7500 BE Enschede Holland), a bastion of neobop with the accent on youth, has come out with the opening salvo as a leader from trombonist STEVE DAVIS. This Massachusetts-born 'boneman, 29, a member of Art Blakey's last Jazz Messengers unit and a current player in lackie McLean's sextet, proves he's ready on The Jount, a quintet sojourn (sextet on three tracks with the addition of altoman Mike DiRubbo) pairing him on the front line with labelmate Eric Alexander, one of the most prominent, hardblowing young-bloods on the scene. Davis' warm, rich (often enticingly legato) sound stands out pleasingly on an original written in honor of McLean ("] Mac's Dream") and on fellow trombonist and ex-Messenger Curtis Fuller's "Little Dreams." Eric McPherson, Davis' mate in McLean's band, mans the traps tunefully (and time-fully). alonside bassist Ugonna Okegwo and pianist Bruce Barth (whose recent, second Enja offering, Morning Call, merits your attention) ... Alto saxist JIM SNIDERO, a soulful New Yorkbased bopster, reaffirms his boldyet-balanced linear concepts on Vertigo, also new from Criss Cross, with frontline assistance from Walt Weiskopf, his longtime friend and associate in the orchestras of Toshiko Akiyoshi and Frank Sinatra. The leader penned four of the eight selections and wisely tapped the ample compositional talents of Weiskopf ("Midtown," 6:55). Snidero doesn't always break new ground, but can be counted on to dig well beneath the surface; David Hazeltine (piano), Peter Washington (bass) and Tony Reedus (drums) provide the muscle... For his second Criss Cross foray, the tenor-playing youngster SEAMUS BLAKE abandons bebop in favor of driving funk. Blake shares the spotlight, and much of the composing, with fellow tenorist Chris Cheek on The Bloomdaddies. Blake's unusual lineup (with a bass guitarist and two drummers) departs from Criss Cross' conventional bop instrumentation, not to mention approach, but The Bloomdaddies evinces a strong live feel despite the electronic effects (reminiscent of '70s-style Eddie Harris) apparently triggered by the leader ... OLIVER LAKE, the often (but not always) avant alto saxophonist, has taken the high road by forming his own label, Passin Thru Records (P.O. Box 197, Montclair, NJ 07042 201.746.1938), to document influential but underrecorded masters. Passin Thru's first offering is Lilac from the 59-year-old FREDERICK WASHINGTON JR., a mainstay of the St. Louis scene and a mentor to the likes of Lake and pianist John Hicks. Fittingly, Hicks shows up on Lilac in Washington's foursome with the formidable drummer Billy Hart and bassist Neil Kane, 21, appearing for the first time on disc. The leader, who composed two originals (the 7:32 ballad "Lilac I" and the 6:05 "Sing Song" are both recommended for airplay) to supplement renditions of McCoy Tyner's "Contemplation," Benny Golson's "Stablemates" and John Coltrane's "Crescent," plays a robust, slightly creamy tenor. Washington's fluid lyricism, buoyed by unexpectedly delightful phrasing (a trademark of St. Loo), is endearingly mainstream. Yet, like the betterknown Hicks, Washington is at his best when, while maintaining his songful equilibrium, he veers into postbop territory. This tenorist lives up the liner notes' billing as "an exciting master artisan of jazz." Every major city in America has a Washington, a guru too busy giving to get his just desserts, and one eagerly awaits future releases from nationally unknown territorial titans on Lake's imprint ... Speaking of Lake, his best-known aggregation, the WORLD SAXOPHONE QUARTET, has moved to a new label but retained its alluring four saxophones-plus-percussion perspective. For the Justin Time company (5455 Rue Paré, #101, Montreal, Quebec, Canada H4P 1P7), Lake joins fellow co-founders David Murray (tenor/bass clarinet) and Hamiet Bluiett (baritone/contra-alto clarinet) plus John Purcell (saxello, English horn, alto flute and C flute) on Four Now. African drums and vocals are tendered by Chief Bey, Mor Thiam and Mar Gueye, the Senegalese threesome whose undulating rhythmic patterns made the WSQ's 1991 Metamorphosis (Elektra) so appealing to the saxmen and to progressive jazz and worldbeat audiences...

Everyone knows that John Coltrane cut his landmark recordings on tenor and, to some extent from his middle period on, soprano saxophones. Trane's influence, though, has extended to, and been translated on, virtually every instrument. The enterprising multi-reedman JAMES L. DEAN scales the inviting-but-treacherous peaks of Coltrane's compositional mountain on Clari-Trane (Cexton, 2740 S. Harbor, #K, Santa Ana, CA 92704 714.641.1074). As the CD title implies, Dean does so, for the most part, on clarinet, a woodwind instrument with a peevish mind of its own when it comes to intonation. The leader acquits himself favorably, nonetheless, in various small-group settings. In a quartet, with chordal support from Vic Cenicola's guitar, Dean (who produced this CD, as he did his four previous efforts for the label) scales the peaks of "Giant Steps," "Naima," "Locomotion," "Lazy Bird," "Spiral" and "Moment's Notice." Considering its degree of difficulty, a Coltrane-on-clarinet project is quite risky. That Dean has done it, and rather well, demands an audition by programmers who pay lip-service to jazz on the edge...The same can be said for the world-class jazz clarinetist EDDIE DANIELS' The Five Seasons (Shanachie Cachet, 13 Laight St., 6th Floor, New York, NY 10013 212.334.0284), on which he plays the parts Vivaldi intended for solo violin in his majestic The Four Seasons. In a genre-crossover project - without narrow-casting for commercialism --- Daniels plays The Four Seasons with a jazz quartet plus a chamber orchestra. Arranger/co-producer Jorge Calandrelli also penned his own piece, "The Fifth Season" (5:51), to conclude the CD. DJs pressed for time, or suspicious of genre-blending, are advised to call Shanachie and request the two-CD package with the bonus disc of radio edits. While maintaining the compositional integrity of the original work, Daniels adds a new imporvisatory dimension in keeping with the uplift and sweep of Vivaldi.

Tim Auvenshine, WarHead Records, Kingsport, TN 423.245.7101 "Apples, peaches, pumpkin pie-i-i-i..." will make you puke if you eat them all at once. Hey, kids: Grab the dog and hide the canned goods 'cause the "Memphis geek" is back. Scary as hell, ain't it? First out of the chute, news from the homefront, Leroy & Beecher's Huh! I'll Whoop Yer A**!!!! is at 3500 pieces and still counting. Thanks to radio for your response. The prank calls and filthy messages left on my machine are priceless. Mash-O-Matic, Mash-O-Matic, Mash-O-Matic, Mash-O-Matic, Mash-O-Matic!!! With that said, hopefully, by the time you read this you will have product sitting on your desk, and you have listened to it and picked yourself up off the floor and are giving it some serious rotation. Mixed by John Hampton, Joe Hardy and Craig Archilla with masterings by George Marino. OK, so there is no big label tie-in at the moment. OK, I said major independent distribution. OK, OK, OK. Listen to it, then tell me I'm full of shit. I'm humbled now. I'm not the smart-ass I used to be. I'm a changed man. As a matter of fact, they're coming to change me again. Loss of body functions is not a pretty sight. If you haven't received a copy, page me at 800.252.7211. Deist Requiem, Deist Requiem, Deist Requiem, Deist Requiem, Deist Requiem. Produced by Martin Atkins. 'Nuff said. What a hoot!!! As you can see, my medication is about to kick in, so remember the words of my grandmother, who always said "the ceiling needs painting!!"

David Julian & Chip O'Brien, Radio Promotions & Resident Workaholics, Superjazzfunkfolk Records, Buffalo, NY 716.694.1821 email: psandals@aol.com SJFF Records would like to thank the following cutting-edge stations for playing and/or reporting the band Plaster Sandals' first release, Two Steps Left of Hip: WARY, WBUQ, WCVF, WECS, WFNP, WITC, WIXQ, WMHC, WRHO, WRUR, WPUR, WBNY, WCFM, WDUB, WEOS, WGSU, WITR, WJSC, WNHU, WRPR, WSUC, WBSU, WCNI, WECB, WESS, WHRW, WIUP, WMCC, WRDL, WRUC and WWUH. Plaster Sandals continues to be discovered by more and more stations as the band tours the Northeast. The band's next album, Pop Revolution, is in pre-production and will be released late summer. If you don't have a copy of the current release, contact SJFF.

Mark Abba, Promotions Director, Good Kitty Productions, Richmond, VA 804.358.5946 Wakka-wakka once again from the Land Of Pleasant Living. The Trouble With Larry's Live At CBGB cassette keeps earning raves, and the band hits the road in June. New Larry bassist John Fronza is a monster! Watch for him live. If you need a copy of the cassette or want to get on the newsletter mailing list, call us at our brand new 800 number, 800.665.8531 pin. 5079. 'Til next time, hang from your thumbs.

Aaron Felt, Radio Promo, SST Records, Lawndale, CA 310.590.8853 It's getting messier and uglier (again) out there on the Cam-PAIN Trail '96, which is why SST Records humbly suggests the Presidential nomination for our own Falling James of the Leaving Trains, if only so there's at least one token extremist. We had to go all the way out to the heat-fried depths of the Mojave Desert to find the Sort Of Quartet, which wasn't easy. Not only did we have to round up the more than four members of this "quartet," we also had to corral their various split personalities, which took time. Kiss Me Twice I'm Schitzo is the Sort Of Quartet's second CD, an instrumental melange of James-drawn workouts as arranged by Frank Zappa and Captain Beefheart, a tumbling cartwheel of jazzy, carnivalesque sounds and speedy interplay. Also fresh out of the oven is Gone's Best Left Unsoid, which lets sabotage guitarist Greg Ginn (Confront James, HOR, Screw Radio) do the talking. Instrumentals like "Bomb Plot Case" start off with drums, bass and a clean, snaking guitar before a rumble of thick, saturated guitars blows the place up.

Carly Perry, Radio Promotion Queen, CherryDisc Records, Boston, MA 617.262.5547 By now you should have the brand new Otis CD, Electric Landlady, and if ya don't, call and beg me for it. Be forewarned, I will make you work for it. This thing absolutely rocks. I hope y'all have heard the new Tree 7" because its a mighty fine preview of what's to come in late summer from them. Hey, we just acquired a new band called Quintaine Americana, and their first album with us is due out in lune, but to tide you over, they have a track on the Wicked Deluxe compilation out on Wicked Disc Records. Thanks for all the support on the Toetag and Vision Thing, especially the local radio people around here. And don't forget about the surf-rock compilation which will be called Tube. That'll be on your desk at the end of April. Can I bitch here for a second? I just want to wonder out loud why it is that sometimes when you call people during their office hours they are never, ever there? I mean, I can see a couple of times, but when they never keep them and you leave message after message ... oh, well. I guess it'll never change, huh? One more thing: Hope you guys are playing the new Semisonic and Tracy Bonham albums. Love ya!

Brett Alperowitz, Piss-Boy, Republic Records, New York, NY 212.840.6700 email: nyrepublic@aol.com Did you hear the one about the two Jews, a zebra and a cantaloupe? Neither have I, but if anyone has, let me know it sounds like it could be a good joke. So the Bloodhound Gang is putting the wraps on their new record, One Fierce Beer Coaster. After they're done recording, they hit the road beginning in Pennsylvania, then continuing through Ohio, and then heading out West. If you need tickets to any of these shows, don't call me - I'm not f*cking Ticketmaster! So, anyhow, Los Dudes (yep, that's the CD that came with the free cigarette) is hitting the road as well, taking their Crampsmeets-Buzzcocks-meets-the Damned sound to Boston, DC, Philly and Portland, ME. Look for dates in the Midwest in May. Hugs and kisses to Lisa at WUTK, Frank at WBUL, Andrew at WMNF, Lisa at WPRK, Melissa at KCPR, Ellen at WOWL, Mik at WUSM, Chris at WECX, Chrissy at KFSR, and Kevin at WFHC. Rock 'n' roll hootchie-coo.

Randy Dry, Polygram Classics & Jazz, New York, NY 212.333.8314 What?: It's the tour you've all been waiting for: Courtney Pine with Cassandra Wilson! 5/23 San Francisco at Bimbo's; 5/25 Portland at the Aladdin Theater; 5/26 Seattle at the King Theater; 5/27 Vancouver at the Vogue Theater. Why?: Because Courtney Pine's latest Antilles release, Modern Day Jazz Stories, is a modern mix of hip-hop and jazz that'll leave you screarning for more. And guess who's singing on the new emphasis track, "Don't Xplain"? None other than Ms. Wilson, of course. Who do I call?: This record is so huge that we'll give you three different people to contact: 1) Your local PGD college rep; 2) Julie Kerr at Verve/Antilles headquarters (212.333.8449); or 3) Yours truly. Don't miss it!

Lindsay Stevens, LuLu Promotions, Inc.,

303.541.9250 Greetings, folks! A couple updates that LuLu's working on: Sherri Jackson and Zuba. Not only is Sherri Jackson hitting the road to open for the Bodeans in a week or so (wow), but Zuba will also be hitting the road to tour in the Midwest, so keep a lookout. Dave Benson and Lori Martin of SBR Radio showed up for a lively sellout crowd to see Boulder, CO-based band Zuba, who played at the Fox Theater. Wow, what a show, I tell ya! Zuba was serviced to Triple AAA last week and should be hoppin' on your desk right now, so don't let it get away — going for adds April 23.

Adam Lewis, Chris Avies & Steve Woitasek,

The Planetary Group, Bostan, MA 617.274.0772 At this point, most of you must be just sick to death of this: Blah, blah, blah, blah, blah, play our records, blah, blah, add our records, blah, blah, blah. It's springtime! Go enjoy yourselves in the warm sunshine! (But play our records first.) Whorgasm, on Rawkus Entertainment, is going to twist your mind and rock your world. This disc has hard rock, techno, dance and trip-hop, all on one convenient compact disc. Check out the second disc with remixes. Rustic Overtones should please all Buck-O-Nine fans everywhere, busting out funky, hard ska. Random House of Soul has their first national full-length CD out on Eureka Music. Their self-titled disc has some raw acoustic funk sounds. Eureka has also released Stickmen, This Is Groovecore, burning up the metal and hard rock shows. Thank you for all the mega support for the Gravel Pit. Their manifesto is getting major amounts of play. They could be coming to a town near you, so look for dates. Abiodun Oyewole, on Rykodisc, has seen great play on many formats. Something to watch out for this summer: Pound Cake on Q-Division, and coming on W.A.R? Records is Cycomotogoat. These boys offer you a special brand of acid rock.

Laura Bond, Epiphany! Recards, Tempe, AZ

602.804.0992 Despite appearances, the Refreshments aren't the only worthy new band from Arizona. Three new releases from Beat Angels (Unhappy Hour), Fuzz (Lipsmack) and the Drakes (self-titled) demonstrate these kids can shake their banditos with the best of 'em. Luckily, there are a few hip music directors out there who are gonna help us prove it to the rest of the world: WCBN in Ann Arbor just added Fuzz's single, "Sore Eyes"; WHFS in Washington added Beat Angels' "Grow Up"; The Peak in Denver added the Drakes' "Bunny." Won't be long before you can't turn the darn dial without hearing these tunes. I predict more spins than Alanis Morissette and Oasis combined. Well, maybe not. I'm no psychic. Regardless, listen for them and add them if you're feeling generous. Also, keep those eardrums peeled for the Piersons Humbucker. Rollickin' good-time rock and roll, a bundle of energy, and enough sass to launch an Aaron Spelling series. If you haven't received these latest releases and think maybe you might want 'ern, just give us a ring and we'll set you up. We're good like that.

Kristi Wachter, Chief Big Umbrella Fan, Racer Recards, San Francisca, CA 800.5.RACER.5/ 415.931.1614 If you haven't gotten your copy of Big Umbrella's Ever Ever Land yet, please glare at your postal carrier for me and then call me up and demand another copy. This is Big Umbrella's third CD, and it's unbelievable. Be sure to check out "Bottomfeeder," "Use A Gun," "Soak It Up," and my own personal favorite, "Tasty." Another cool track is "Superslide," which is a big favorite when they play live. We're going for adds the week of April 15. Lyrics and stuff are, of course, at the Racer web site: http://www.racerrecords.com. Big Umbrella will be touring in the next few months --- watch for early dates on the West Coast in May. We're up to over 160 stations playing Wreckless by the Potato Eaters (I think there's a review in this issue, or last week's, or next week's - massive thanks to the persistent and forgiving Cliff Furnald), and great big armloads of gratitude to everyone who's giving their listeners a chance to hear the disc. People seem to be especially enthused about "Run Through With Daylight" (and why not — it's a great title), but the cover of Richard Thompson's "Calvary Cross" is truly amazing, and the title track is pretty damn cool as well. As always, if there's anything we can do for you, or if you just need to talk to someone who's frighteningly cheerful, give us a call, 24 hours a day.

Welcome To The Mainland Guest Dialogue: Eitoro Hayashi "I thought I had made it clear, but apparently not to all of you, It don't matter now cuz I am back, and still not talking about music. Currently I am filling in as VT's little grasshoppa, so in case you forgot to send in your movie trivia answers last year, it's still not too late. Here's one for the week, "Get your ass to Mars...Get your ass to Mars...Get your ass to Mars..." And oh shit, Van Damme is finally directing a film, his virgin, entitled The Quest (let's hope there's no long speech in it, like Seagal's On Deadly Ground). In SF, but aloha all around, baby."

Andrew Kaiser, College Radio Drive Thru Attendant, Caroline Records, New York, NY

212.886.7570 Congratulations are in order! A big round of applause, if you will, for Brandon Lieberman of KBOO in Portland, OR, and the aptly named "Cookiehead" of Tower Records in Seattle. They are the winners of Combine's History Of American Rock And Roll Trivia Quiz grand prizes glow in the dark Nirvana posters! Long live rock and roll! You betcha! On the negative, I regret to relay a certain music director's credo that college students "have better things to do than review records." From the mouths of babes! I decline to name names (you won't see any shoutouts here, for that matter), but I thought we all got involved in college radio because we like to listen to lots of records. I don't expect every station to add every record I send them, but if you don't even bother to check a record out until several months after you got it, then step the fuck down so someone who's more enthusiastic about hearing music can do the job. Ahem. Speaking of the opiate of today's youth, your cupboards should now be fully stocked with wholesome Caroline goodies. Looking for a slow-rock fix? Try Low, Acetone and Idaho. Longing for an out-of-body experience? Take that trip with Spacetime Continuum, Husikesque and Nusrat Fateh Ali Khan And Michael Brook. Also, look for Low, Idaho, the Godrays (exmembers of Small Factory), and the Low Road on tour in a town near you. Tickets and interviews available. Check 'em out, unless you college students have better things to do.

Charles Scott, Radio Promotions, ROIR Records, New York, NY 212.477.0563 Hello all! There are two new releases from ROIR that I know everybody must own!! First of all, Bad Brains' self-titled first album is now available domestically on CD! This album has been called "the best hardcore/punk album of all time" by Adam Yauch of the Beastie Boys, With rave reviews pouring in from everybody including the New York Post and Kerrong!, it should certainly be on your shopping list. Hear the album that started it all. This was ROIR's biggest seller on cassette, which, by the way, is still available. Our latest release on CD is Wordsound I Powa, Live From The Plonet Crooklyn. A word from Neil Cooper of ROIR, Dub Freak #1: "This is the best, newest and most innovative sound system in America today. This is an absolutely fantastic CD, a new generation of dub with strong hip-hop and sampling influences. We will be hearing a lot from this group." What more do you need to know? Well, this terrorist sound system from Brooklyn includes Scarab, Roots Control, Spectre, Dubadelic and Rankin's Boopsman for starters. They have released eight albums on their own label, which have startled the European dub scene. They will be touring as the opening act for Adrian Sherwood's On-U Sound house band, Dub Syndicate. Watch for this group and the CD! Available now!! So go and get some ROIR, the label all your friends already know about!

Shawn Evans, Double Play Records, San Francisco, CA 415.267.4837 Snowmen just finished the second leg of their tour to support In Orbit. Thanks to all of you who showed up to check the gang out. Yeah, they do put on a great show! I'm still wondering what their fascination is with car songs (seven of them!), but didn't "Crash and Burn" and "V8 Vega" rock? Thanks to all of the stations supporting the CD: KALX, KUSF, KFJC, WSBF, WMUV, WUMD, WSYC, WMUC, WMUL, WMFO, WECS and KWVA. Call Triage at 212.989.4545 if you need a copy (or call me, as well). I also have to take this chance to give a hearty "thank you" to Rai at Motel Records for the very cool Vampyros Lesbos promo items. If you haven't checked this CD out, you're blowing it.

Scott Pacyna, Music Director Retiree, WRBU, Peoria, IL 309.677.2231 Well folks, my two year tour

of duty is finished here at WRBU. I must say I've had a very good time while it lasted. By now, most of you should be talking to my replacements (it looks like there will be two of them), so go easy on them and make sure you keep sending free CDs and tickets to them, too. Lots of thanks go out to all of the people I've talked to over the past two years, especially Scott at McGathy, Rob at WB, Amy at Futurist, and pretty much everyone else who has attempted to bribe us with free cool stuff. Well, it's time for me to graduate, so goodbye for now, and long live the true WRBU (not those fakes heard elsewhere).

John O'Rourke, Music Director, WONY, Oneonta, NY 607.436.2712 email: wonyrs@oneonta.edu Being that this is my first one of these, I'll keep it brief. My office hours are Tuesdays and Thursdays from 2:00-3:30 p.m. Eastern time. Please call or email me if you cannot get a hold of me. I'm looking forward to the new Fishbone album, it should be skankingly delicious. For the time being, we are grooving on the Princess Superstar and the brand-new, ass-kicking Down By Law album. I'd like to say thanks to Jeff, Sharon and Jim for a great time on Friday. And thanks also for bringing Hank out on the town. See ya later. Bye.

Genevieve Atlas, Co-MD & One-Woman Freakshow, WLHA, Madison, WI 608.262.1206 email:

wlha@vms2.macc.wisc.edu l'd like the title of "most edited MD" from CMJ. I'd also like to state that the Gufs rock. (Finally, someone from Wisconsin besides a serial killer makes good!) And if they're in your area, go see them. Same for the Geraldine Fibbers. If you are afraid of clowns, you should get your head checked out. The End.

Peter Williams, Program Director, Music Director &

Janitor, KAZU, Pacific Grove, CA 408.375.7275 Well, it's been a heck of a long time since I did a Dialogue. I'm happy when I can get it together enough to do a chart. Our staff is so darn small, but I digress. I had a few things I wanted to point out. We are not a college station, we are a community station with many similarities to college-based stations. We play (in order of most hours) jazz, Americana, blues, world, "alternative" rock and more. I take my calls everyday after I p.m. Pacific time (except Wednesday). I really appreciate all the help that we get with servicing and with our membership drive. I value the relationships that I have made with many of you record types: Julie at Verve, Leslie at Rounder, Dukey D at GRP, Eric at Rhino, Tim at All That Jazz, Jamie at Ryko, Gwen at Relax, Nancy Stein at Warner Bros., Arny at Michelle Clark (there are more but I need the space). Thanks, you are all great and have really helped KAZU alot!!! Sometime I want to dedicate a Dialogue to the lack of assistance from my "local reps." (Now there's a great job: Make lots of promises, never follow through, and never take another call from the slob you made the promise too!!!) But again, I digress. I try to do these charts weekly, but many times I'm busy putting out fires. I promise to try harder. This looks like I've gone on enough. Until next time — I'll see you in the lounge.

That's right, we are now running Music Director 95™. No longer will we be burdened with actually listening to each and every release we receive. Now with MD95™, we simply drop the perspective add (or not) into our CD-ROM player, and let it do all the work. MD95™ has an extensive database of samples from thousands of artists and hundreds of genres of music, and is also customizable with current and past station playlists going all the way back to the glory days of Cliff Lipman. If the prospective add doesn't stack up against the database, no add. Also, points will be taken away every time MD95™ hears the phrase, "Going for adds on 'x' date." So

NE 402.375.7536 email: tcox@willy.wsc.edu Does anyone else have a venue in your town that moves in national acts for early shows to have a cover band in that night to sell swill to blue collar tweakers? If so, I hear ya. Anyway, I'm licking my chops for the Native Tongue folks, De La and Tribe's new stuff. Hopefully Jive and Tommy Boy see this and quench my thirst. While I wait though, DJ Krush, Bomb The Bass and Fugees are keeping my speakers moving. While trading email with my boy G-Man at KRNU in Lincoln, we were talking about the "Big Boy" recording companies out there making hook-ups like drawing blood and pulling teeth combined. While you folks are sleeping, Blunt, Menes, Quango, London, Radical and all the other shortys on the block are getting mad props from my reports and rotations. Keep sleepin'. I'm looking forward to upcoming shows from Man Or Astro-Man?, Shallow and 7 Year Bitch. It's going to be one hell of a three-day weekend. By the way, my silver anniversary was on the 26th of last month. Best B-Day drink for a B-Boy: Italian Root Beer, Galiano, Coke and cream. Peace, I'm out.

Collin Forbes, Music Director, KUOI, Moscow, ID 208.885.6433 email: collinf@kuoi.asui.uidaho.edu News from the back nine: Idaho played Moscow on April 5. We took them on a "walking interview and architecture tour" of the UI campus while broadcasting live from a remote backpack. The backpack has enough juice for about 1.5 hours of radio from anywhere in the city. Just grab and go live! What a toy! Other vital bits include my office hours which are Mondays and Wednesdays from 2-5 p.m. PDT. School ends in May, but we will be on the air throughout the summer (no doubt using the backpack for radio mischief).

800.603.3043 Between the "midget" episode of CHiPs and the ever-so-nasty Fritz The Cat, we're knee-deep in entertainment over here! My new Star Wars toys are awesome! I just got the micro machines deluxe ship collection including the Super Star Destroyer! You know you're jealous. Eddie from Century Media is dragging me out to see Trouble and Cathedral on Friday. It scares me to think how fucked up we're gonna be! Wicker Man is on the road again, supporting Life Of Agony and Type O. Call for dates! Into Another's T.A.I.L. EP is still kickin' bootay! Suicide Machines are playing some dates, as well as Super 8 with the Deftones and Fu Manchu! Ooohhh aaahhh, I got ya all in check.

Paula Kopka & Chris Roberts, Noise/Dynamica Records, Beverly Hills, CA

800.NOISE.22 Hey everyone - as Tairrie B., Manhole's lead singer would say - Mother fuckin' MANHOLE!!!! It was our first week at radio this week and we were pretty much #2 Most Added across the board at all trades! It doesn't take a rocket scientist to see why we did so well. Just listen to Manhole's debut release, All Is Not Well, and you'll see why Manhole can compete against all the established bands out there — they are the shit! Tracks that folks are especially digging include "Hypocrite," "Kiss Or Kill," "Victim" and "Down" (which features Tairrie B. doing a duet with Lynn Strait, the lead singer of Santa Barbara hardcore band Snot). If any of you folks need radio edits/clean versions of some of the CD tracks, please call me! And for all of you folks who aren't playing the Manhole yet, you'd better be, or else I'll have to send Tairrie B. down to your radio station in person to "take care of business" (and believe me, you don't want to get Tairrie B. on your bad side!). For all the West Coast stations out there, call us if you're interested in going to the Korn, Manhole, Sugar Ray and Human Waste Project show at the Hollywood Palladium on April 18, or Manhole's San Diego show with the Dimestore Hoods and Snot on April 19. More West Coast dates to be determined, so call us for updates! Next week sometime I'll be mailing out Kreator's new release, Scenarios Of Violence, so keep your eyes peeled for it! Also, for fans of industrial music out there - you'll definitely want to check out our Dynamica Record's Suck Toste Spit compilation. The CD features three of our top industrial bands: Cubanate, Think About Mutation and Oomph!.

Marc Meltzer, Mausoleum Records, New York, NY 212.758.4636 ext. 233/800.957.6256 Oh my, is it?...Could it be?...It is!!! A Voivod sighting in America. Well, at least a foresight. Voivod finally hit the States April 29 in Seattle! That's the first date of about one month of touring in the U.S. They will hit Europe for a festival or two, then back for a complete summer tour of the whole U.S. (maybe even Providence!). Speaking of Voivod, the Nanoman EP adds on April 29 and 30. Add it, spin the new tracks and all the goodness of my being will be shared. Not my hatred. Do you realize that Nanoman was cowritten by Ivan Doroshuck, the lead singer of Men Without Hats? That explains the chorus. For those of you with access to America Online, check out the Music Message Center. They have a pretty cool metal area there (complete with Voivod folder)! For those of you that have a little heritage with your metal programming, we just started Mausoleum Classix. We're going to be doing some re-issues and release CDs never before available in the U.S. of older metal/rock bands. The first two releases are Deep Purple's Live At The California Jam (remember Ritchie Blackmore setting the stage on fire?) and Rainbow's Live In Europe (2 CDs). Call if you'd like them for your station. The Rainbow CDs are very limited and suck for airplay — 2 CDs/8 songs! Let me know what you need from me.

Eddie Williamson, Century Media Records,

Santa Monica, CA 310.399.6900 Catch phrase of the week: Play Chum, you bum! These wonderkind West Virginians should be racing up your charts. Can you dig it? Hooks 'n' melodies aplenty permeate the disc, but at the same time, there's no mistaking this as a metal record and a damn fine killer debut at that. Wake up and smell the Chum! The Trouble/Cathedral circus is rolling right along; a full-on riff-a-thon of magically mammoth proportions. I want you at this show, and make sure to share! Have you given "Flowers" a chance yet? Only Living Witness and their album, Innocents, continue to astonish and stupefy. Yes, this record is really that good and if you're not on it, you're a bloody miserable bum. Which means, of course, you should be playing Chum, right? Coming soon: fucking Grave.

Chainsaw, Master Of Darkness, FLG, New York, NY 212.226.7272 You finally have the edit of My Dying Bride "The Cry Of Mankind," now play it! We have confirmation now that there will be a tour. Paradise Lost is bringing My Dying Bride to the States for a special 14date tour. Keep in mind that this is My Dying Bride's first EVER appearance in the States. Show your support by playing and charting the undisputable kings of goth/doom/metal, My Dying Bride. (Note the constant repetition of the band's name. I figure the more times I use the words My Dying Bride, the more you will.) Paradise Lost continues to get extreme support. Keep it up. Interviews are available, call me. Final note: I have a cassette of the new Overdose. I am a happy, if overworked, fella. P.S.: My Dying Bride.

Sean McKnight, Relapse/Release/Nuclear Blast, Millersville, PA 717.397.9221 Welcome to installment #3 on how to kill a poseur! This week we focus special attention on Razor Ray at WRBC. Ray had recently met with some strong poseur opposition in his native Maine (it seems that poseurs in Maine have a higher resistance to good music, and therefore do not submit easily). However, this did not discourage our hero as he plowed ahead with his attack. Playing the hell out of discs like Hypocrisy's Abducted and Storm Of The Light's Bane by Dissection, Ray's initial attack simply wasn't enough. It wasn't until Ray spun the Locust Stor disc by Neurosis 43 times in one week and made Neurosis #1 (as they should be) that his opposition was thwarted. You too can add to your poseur trophy collection like Ray and spin Neurosis like he did. It's that simple! The full-length, Through Silver In Blood, should have been added by now. That disc will give you all the ammo you will ever need to wipe out poseurs. Don't forget, o' faithful poseur hunters, add dates for the new Amorphis disc, Elegy, are April 6 and April 7. Join me next week as we discuss exactly what parts of a poseur you can actually eat!

Jennifer Meola, Roadrunner Records, New York, NY 212.274.7545 Hey radio gang, how's it going? I hope all of you had an insane Spring Break and, of course, a happy holiday. I only wish I still received Spring Break. Now that I'm in the so-called "real world," I don't get those cool perks college life offers. What am I complaining about? Whenever I did have Spring Break, I didn't go anywhere and I usually ended up working my ass off or staying home all day watching talk shows. I suppose I'm really not missing anything by being over here at Roadrunner, especially now that I have the #I band Sepultura to work with. Thanks to everybody who is spinning the hell out of Roots. It's your contributions to radio that matter! Make sure you all enter that amazing Sepultura Memorial Day weekend contest! If the winner is one of your station's listeners, then YOU get to go to Holland, too, and see Sepultura live!! Don't waste time, get started right away. The deadline for all entries is May 10. Read the details carefully and if you have any questions, please feel free to call me at 212.274.7545. Keep up that Roadrunner loyalty!

Dean, Rotten Records, Montclair, CA 909.624.2332 email: rotten@primenet.com | was wondering why none of my Dialogues have been showing up in this lovely forum of communication for awhile, until I realized I hadn't written any in a while. And why not? Well, it's been super busy around here. D.R.I. is still on tour. If you had your heart set on seeing them somewhere in Canada the first three weeks of April, it didn't happen. I hope you'll survive. Still have time to catch them again in the States. They even have some shows in markets they've already played. For example, Denver on May 9 with, get this, Gwar, Meatmen and Sheer Terror, Wow! What a bill. They'll be in Europe this summer. Kiss The Clown is on their first national tour, and yours truly booked the whole damn thing. So, I've been able to add yet another hat to my ever-growing hat rack. Acid Bath is in the studio now for the next two months and plans to have the sound portion of a finished product done by the beginning of June. I'm not going to mention rumors that have been circulating as far as to whose hand the artwork will come from. Stay tuned

Gill, Krucher & Bambino, McGathy Edge, New York, NY 212.924.7775 Hangovers...don't ya just love em? What's shakin', people? McGathy Edge here. How ya doin'? We're just fine and you will be too when you all add Pantera's "Drag The Waters" single. You all have the Core Kiss The Sun EP. It fits oh-so-cozily with that little Fu Manchu record. Spin the hell out of them and keep in mind the Fu's are playing the 11th Annual McGathy Bash at CBGB's on June 14!! So, you all have the Prong single and you are anxiously awaiting the fulllength, which you will have for adds on May 14. 7 Year Bitch is still on the road — why don't you people spin this damn record, go to the show, record it and play it over the air. Wouldn't that be cool? Yeah, it would, Both Worlds is crankin'. Keep spinning it and call us for interviews and tour info. Overkill has proved to be one of the most massive metal records to hit radio in '96, thanx to all who have been supporting Blitz and the boyz. We have more tour dates/interviews. In Memory Of Celtic Frost has been doing really well. If you haven't spun it yet, give it another listen. There's something for everyone on that record, so spin it. You all should finally have the Egypt full CD. Check out "Other Man," "Light Headed Jimmy" and "S.A.D.A." Back to Fu Manchu, after further review: I have found that every fucking song on this album rules. Spin the whole damn thing and call us for tour info, interviews and proper rolling techniques. Into Another's Tail EP, if you have forgotten, has two previously unreleased tracks on it. Check 'em out. Coming up: King's X (three-song EP with one non-album track), g//z/r (live EP and remixes), Michelin Slave (full adds May 6), Slayer (oh, yeah) and last, but not least, Metallica (oh shit). Call us, write us, email us, or stop on by if you are in the Burnt Apple.
