Moby Signs North American Deal With V2 Records

V2 Records has signed techno mainstay Moby to a six-album North American deal. Moby will remain signed to Mute for other parts of the world. Moby has already delivered his new album to V2, and the label tentatively plans to release the album on June 29. In a post to the Web site www.moby.org, Moby said that he plans to call the album Play. He explained the title choice: "I wanted a nice short title, and I was walking by a playground near my house and there was a giant mural that said PLAY. For some reason, this appealed to me. Also because every time I look at a VCR or CD player or tape deck, I see this word. It's hard to refuse a word that's followed me around so much." The album's first U.K. single, "Honey," was released overseas in August. Mute describes the song as "seemingly a departure for Moby in that it owes more to hip-hop than dance music or punk. The vocals for 'Honey' were recorded in the deep south of America in the 1930s by folk historian Alan Lomax." V2 hasn't yet determined the first U.S. single. Moby had been signed to Elektra Records in North America, but he "amicably parted" with that label in March 1998.

Tibetan Freedom Concerts To Be Held In Four Cities Worldwide

The Milarepa Fund will expand the geographical scope of its Tibetan Freedom Concerts this year, hosting festivals in Amsterdam, Chicago, Tokyo and Sydney on June 12-13. "The decision to take the concert international is in response to a lack of action on behalf of the U.S. government," organizers said. "We are truly disappointed with how little the Clinton administration has done for Tibet. In the next year, we will demonstrate to the governments of the world, to international institutions like the European Union, and to the United Nations that the people of (Continued on page 14)

THE ESSENTIAL RELEASES OF THE WEEK

HOWIE B Snatch

(Pussyfoot/Palm Pictures-Rykodisc)

Howie B has established himself as the ultimate wizard-behind-thecurtain, having produced, remixed and touched-up tracks for such forward-thinking popsters as U2, Björk and Everything But The Girl. In his own work, however, the Scottish beat architect remains purposefully left of center. Like Howie's two preceding solo efforts, Snatch is modestly comprised of abstract rhythin and sample fragments. In lesser hands, these scraps could easily degenerate into a colorless pastiche of gurgles and thumps, but Howie's smart enough to know where a good snare loop ends and a great, otherworldly soundtrack begins. The source material comes from all corners of Howie's working map: string and horn charts siphoned off easy listening and jazz records, hip-hop breaks re-sampled into funky, lopsided grooves and bits of eerie noise stitched together to form finely detailed backdrops. With the subtle touch of a master creator. Howie moves from weird, downtempo experimentalism to hip-nudging acid jazz. And that's not even getting into how he manages to work a squeezebox, an electric guitar, a harp and a dozen other percussive elements into the mix. — Colin Helms

RUBBEROOM Architechnology (3-2-1-Zero Hour)

On Architechnology, Chicago's Rubberoom institutionalizes our preconceived notions about rap music in the new millennium. This quartet of b-boy linguists loads the listener up with enough conspiracy theories and apocalyptic imagery to scare most people into hiding for the rest of the year. With an unprecedented 13 local turntablists providing the rhythmic bedrock alongside the production team of Fanum and the Isle Of Weight, Rubberoom proves once and for all that the Midwest is not to be overlooked as a major force in hiphop innovation. While the staff of beat chemists cook up a cinematic melange of sampling freak-outs, eerie film score loops and stabbing basslines, chief lyricists Meta-Mo and Lumba lead a posse of fellow Windy City underground MCs into battle with a full metal jacket of post-Orwellian, fight-the-future prose. Architechnology transforms thoughts and ideas saturated with sci-fi paranoia and Book Of Revelations visions into a brilliantly abstract testament to the Y2K tension felt by the intelligent hoodlum. - Ron Hart

CASSANDRA WILSON Traveling Miles (Blue Note)

Blessed with a bittersweet voice and a finely tuned ear for composition and collaboration, Cassandra Wilson has established herself as one of the true greats in modern jazz. Traveling Miles, Wilson's long-awaited studio follow-up to 1995's critically acclaimed New Moon Daughter, is a stirring tribute to the wit, wisdom and kinetic spirit of Miles Davis, The album features material either written, performed or inspired by Davis. Each tune has been scaled down or rearranged by Wilson using her eclectic homebrew of modal cool, folky blues and breathy pop. Joining her is an impressive array of guest musicians, including guitarist Pat Metheny, African diva Angelique Kidjo, coronetist Olu Dara and longtime collaborator, sax man Steve Coleman. While Davis strived to push the written note as far off the music sheet as humanly possible, Traveling Miles explores the human side of Davis's music, incorporating Wilson's seductive vocals in versions of "Someday My Prince Will Come" and Cyndi Lauper's "Time After Time," which Davis often covered in concert shortly before his death. -Ron Hart

LOW Secret Name (Kranky)

Sometimes the simplest things in life are the finest — a little black dress, a single flower bud, a glass of crystal clear water. Low builds its songs with similarly sparse elements, but the results reveal a powerful purity of vision. This Duluth, Minnesota, trio's fourth full-length album of new material (recorded by Steve Albini) finds the band expanding its horizons in both song structure and instrumentation. There's a great range of sounds here, spanning Low's most restrained, hushed moments thus far to the thundering crashes of noise on the ominous "Don't Understand." In addition to increased experimentation with piano, Secret Name is also Low's first full-length album with strings, as melancholy cello, viola and violin strains blend perfectly with the haunting vocals of Alan Sparhawk and Mimi Parker. While some people mistakenly assume that Low's slow rhythms are sleepinducing, Low's songs often supply more drama and tension than you'll find in blazing rock 'n' roll. The hypnotic patterns leave you sitting on the edge of your seat, savoring the clarity of each note and wondering what's to come next. - Wendy Mitchell

Number One Cup Breaks Up

Chicago indie rock band Number One Cup has disbanded, citing creative differences between its three songwriters, guitarists Seth Cohen and Pat O'Connell and drummer Michael Lenzi. The band members haven't announced new projects yet, but O'Connell is said to be concentrating on acoustic music, and Lenzi is said to now be playing guitar instead of drums. The band formed in 1993 and released several singles on Lenzi's own label, Sweet Pea. Flydaddy Records released Number One Cup's 1995 debut album, Possum Trot Plan, as well as the 1996 EP Kim Chee Is Cabbage and the band's 1997 sophomore album Wrecked By Lions. Flydaddy also released Number One Cup's third full-length album, People People Why Are We Fighting?, in the fall of 1998.

Trauma Sues Bush For Violating Contract

Trauma Records has filed a $40 million lawsuit against British rock group Bush, claiming that the band has violated the terms of its 1996 contract. Bush is said to have completed its third album, The Science Of Things, but the band has not delivered it to Trauma. In the lawsuit, Trauma alleges that Bush is "seeking to enter an agreement with another record company for the production and distribution of their recordings and for the purpose of releasing their next album through such company." Trauma alleges that the contract was also violated because Bush didn't submit a budget for the album. In addition to $40 million in damages and legal fees, Trauma is seeking an injunction that would stop any other label from releasing the album and an injunction that would make Bush deliver the album to Trauma. Trauma released Bush's first two albums, 1994's breakthrough debut Sixteen Stone and the 1996 followup, Razorblade Suitcase.

COOL BREEZE

Interview By Kyle Allen

The newest talent to emerge from Organized Noize's famed Dungcon Family, Cool Breeze might just single-handedly change the hip-hop climate with his original diction, smooth flow and Dirty South aesthetics. Having first appeared with Goodie Mob, Cool has also recorded with local favorites Outkast. On March 23, Interscope Records will drop Breeze's solo debut, East Point's Greatest Hit. The MC spoke to CMJ over the phone from his home in Atlanta.

You're known as the Organized Noize hookman. What's your technique for crafting a catchy hook?

Well, a lot of the time I'll come up with the hook before I even write a lyric. I just have my own vocab [that is] unique and sometimes a word or a phrase will pop out at me. I could be sleeping and it hits me, so I wake up and start forming it into a dope line.

Yeah, your phrases like "Good Good" and "The Field" are as different as |West Coast rapper] E40's phrases...

I think that hip-hop needs more originality. But that's just the way I talk. I'm always coming up with some hot new word. It's not like I'm really trying to be so different. Like "Good Good," that's my way of adding a new emphasis to the line, just repeating words. Things like "dirty south" and "the field," those are just local words. We kick it like that.

The Dungeon family flow seems to be more musical than other MCs'. Who were some of your non-rap influences?

I just listened to everything. I stay out of the production booth and let people like [producer] Rico Wade take care of that. But the music of like, gospel, soul and old school R&B — that's just in my voice. Like, I heard it so much, it's there without thinking about it.

Section coordinated by Kelso Jacks

Prolific Washington, DC band the Make-Up has made its various singles available on one CD. The 23-song I Want Some (K Records) amasses the group's 45s for the Time Bomb, Southern, Woo

Me!, Slowdime, Black Gemini, All City and Rock n' Roll Comintern labels. The best known tracks include "Free Arthur Lee," "Every Baby Cries The Same," "Blue Is Beautiful" and "I Didn't Mean 2 Turn U On."

A gaggle of today's most popular instrumental surf outfits has contributed to Wildebeest Records' Surfin' Señorita. For this 15-band compilation, Satan's Pilgrims, the Space Cossacks, the

Exotics, Squid Vicious' Overdose and the Halibuts learned a list of songs originally written by Tijuana Brass leader and trumpet player Herb Alpert. "Mexican Shuffle," "Whipped Cream," "Tijuana Taxi" and the title song are just of few of the campy classics on hand.

Virgin Records recently released UB40's Labour Of Love III, the British reggae group's most recent title in its Labour Of Love series of soul and reggae cover albums. The ensemble leaves its mark on more than a dozen tracks, among them Bob Marley's "Soul Rebel," Johnny Osborne's "Come Back Darling," Delano Stewart's "Stay A Little Bit Longer" and Peter Tosh's "Legalize It."

Composer Peter Buffet is exploring modernday Native American music, culture and spirituality with Spirit — A Journey In Dance, Drums  $\dot{\omega}^{2}$  Song. Hollywood Records will release this CD to coincide with the PBS television special of the same name, which will bring Buffet's music to life using 20 dancers, an orchestra, a girls' choir and a host of Native American percussionists.

Self-proclaimed collage artists the Christal Methodists have a new release available on Kolazhnikov! Records. Satanic Ritual Abuse is the outfit's third full-length, in the tradition of such political/religious sonic terror crews as Emergency Broadcast Network and Negativland. Choice selections include "Raped, Can I Get A Witness?," "Satanism Pays," "Conspiracy Of Heathens," "Warm Fuzzies" and "I Only Have Eyes For Jew." And no, "Reality Asylum" is not a cover of the Crass song. Headhunter-Cargo has released a special treat for fans of 3-Mile Pilot. Songs From An Old Town We Once Knew is a double-CD collection of hard-to-find singles compiled from limited edition 7"s and home recordings. The record also contains six previously unreleased tracks, including "A Very Old Bass" and "Tripoli."

Bloodshot Records and Soundies Records have collaborated to release The Last Of The Great Singing Cowboys, an overview of the musical career of Rex Allen. The previously unissued material on this 22-song dazzler was culled from Chicago's WLS Barn Dance radio program, on which Allen starred from 1946-1949. Enjoy such fancifully titled tunes as "I Won't Need My Six Gun In Heaven," "Tyin' Knots In The Devil's Tail" and "A Human Coyote Stole My Girl."

Palm Pictures and Rykodisc have compiled a live EP by Sengelese singing sensation Baaba Maal. Baaba Maal: Live At Royal Festival Hall was recorded in London on July 13, 1998, when Maal was joined by guitarist Ernest Ranglin, bassist Ira Coleman and Sinead O' Conner's backing vocalists the Screaming Orphans. "Mbolo," "African Woman," "Koni" and "Douwayra" were among the tunes Maal performed that fateful evening.

If you've kept track of Blur frontman Damon Albarn, you'll know that he now fancies himself a serious composer. To back that up, Virgin has issued the soundtrack to Ravenous, a Gold Rush-themed cinematic venture starring David Arquette and Robert Carlyle. To write the film's music, Albarn teamed up with film score luminary Michael Nyman. A note to curious Brit-pop fans: the pair has drawn upon both blue grass and contemporary classical minimalism for inspiration.

In conjunction with Def Jam-Island and Chronicles, Capricorn Records has reissued Elvin Bishop's Juke Joint Jive, Wet Willie's The Wetter The Betler, Livingston Taylor's Over The Rainbow, Hydra's Land Of Money, Alex Taylor's Dinnertime and White Welch's self-titled debut. These gems have been unavailable for 20 years. For the new versions, the labels reprinted the original packaging and digitally remastered the recordings. Hollywood Records' soundtrack to SLC Punk is an appropriate, safetypinned summary, containing early-years groundbreakers by Blondie, the Ramones, Fear, the Dead Kennedys and the Stooges. The film follows the trials and tribulations of the two lone punk rockers residing in straight-laced Mormon haven Salt Lake City, Utah.

Thick Records recently released the Blue Meanies' Pigs; The Bacon And Other Cured Rarities, a round-up of eight hard-to-find and/or live recordings by the ska-influenced, Chicago-based punk act. The band burns through such original standards as "Sucker Theme" and "I, Fitznik," and such choice covers as Operation Ivy's "Yelling In My Ear" and the Vindictives' "Dummyroom."

North Africa is a remarkable new collection on Worldclass Records, compiling some of the Sahara's most intense, Islamic musical fruits. To make these hypnotic sounds, performers Mahmoud Fadl, Abdelli, Hossam Ramzy and Anouar Brahem utilize such instruments as the ghaita, the oud and the darbukka drums, along with even more specialized folk instruments crafted in the Atlas Mountains.

With Vegas schmaltz, Gothic posing, slamming beats and heavy-duty sampling, My Life With The Thrill Kill Kult epitomized late-'80s industrial dance music. Rykodisc has reissued three of the outfit's albums, Sexplosion, 13 Above The Night and Hit & Run Holiday, all of which were originally pressed by Wax Trax! and Interscope Records.

Founded in 1994, Cropduster Records has proudly made the leap from tiny, musicianrun bedroom operation to confidant, officeoccupying, musician-run company. To help familiarize people with its roster, the imprint has issued Sampilation, a label sampler with two tracks each from Birdy, Bob Perry, The Other 99, Chris Merola and Julia Greenburg.

Capitol Records has serviced college radio with a sampler of selections from the Clubland soundtrack. The five-track disc features material by Vitreous Humor, Crustation, Splashdown, Star 69 and Supple.

The previous Tibetan Freedom concerts in San Francisco, New York and Washington, DC, have raised more than $2 million to fight the Chinese occupation of Tibet. #### Latin Music (Continued from cover)

"The industry as a whole had its strongest growth in four years, and still Latin music shipments increased at twice the rate of overall market shipments," said RIAA President/CEO Hilary Rosen. "Latin culture is flooding the American entertainment scene, and a greater number of music buyers with diverse tastes are being introduced to Rock En Espanol, Merengue [and] Cuban Jazz, and loving it."

was Mandy," explains Lyle Preslar, Sire's VP of Marketing, "One of his great passions is the kind of country music that Owen Bradley produced for so many years."

Were he British, Owen Bradley would have certainly been dubbed Sir Owen long ago. The country music icon was as much a part of the Nashville sound as any of the artists he produced, including Cline, Loretta Lynn and Brenda Lee. Bradley passed away in early 1998, just four tracks into producing I've Got A Right To Cry, but his brother Harold guided the completion of the album using Owen's hand-written notes for each track.

Though Barnett's music is a throwback to vintage country, "she's not a museum piece," Preslar offers, taking care to ensure that the legend of Bradley and his sonic stamp don't overshadow what Barnett has to offer. "I hope when other people look at Mandy, what they'll feel and hear is the voice," Preslar says. "The voice is what it's all about."

Though country radio would seem the most obvious home for Barnett's music, Preslar knows that her sound is a far cry to what is happening in popular country. "It doesn't sound like anything else and we're hoping that'll work for us," Preslar says, knowing also that both country and college radio have a solid track record of diversity. "There are a lot of secondary and tertiary country stations that actually have a powerful effect on listeners and are a lot more wide open than people would assume," he says. "College radio is as broad as you want it to be," he continues. "I think that anybody who has an inclination to hearing a woman with a great voice singing some classic country material with a wonderful production behind her, they're going to like this whether they listen to college radio or a big commercial country station."

Barnett is still exploring her options for a full summer tour, but she will make her network television debut on the Late Show With David Letterman the week of the album's release and perform a handful of showcase dates. Also, Barnett will cover Gene Pitney's "A Town Without Pity" for the Walk On The Moon soundtrack, which Sire will release on March 23.

CHART ACTIVITY

Radio 200: 64-14 Core Radio: #30 debut

When the first Rentals album came out four years ago, it was merely an afterthought to frontman Matt Sharp's day job, Weezer, with an impossible-toforget radio hit, "Friends Of P." Now it's Sharp's focus, and the greater attention paid to the band and its songs is plainly evident on Seven More Minutes (Maverick-Reprise). Still infectiously radio-ready (but not half as cloying), the Rentals capitalize on their 140 Adds last week and leap 50 positions to #14 on the Radio 200. With guest appearances by members of Elastica, Bhur, Lush, That Dog and Ash. the Rentals will likely continue to climb to the top of the CMJ charts.

Adds: #7 with 60 reports Radio 200: 195-24 Core Radio: #20 debut Triple A Adds: #1

Wilco's Summer Teeth (Reprise) establishes Jeff Tweedy and company as a great American rock 'n' roll band with rootsy pop songs, hiscious ballads and a few floor-shaking rockers. Though the band's been out of the spotlight for a couple of years while Tweedy worked on side projects (such as superstar band Golden Smog), college radio hasn't forgotten, and this new album makes gigantic strides on both the Radio 200 and Core charts while garnering 60 more reported Adds. Expect Wilco to vie for the upper echelons of both the Radio 200 and Triple A charts as the weeks pass.

Core Radio: #24 debut A number of indie rockers have recently tried their hand at beatmaking, but few have been as successful as Looper, the side project of Stuart David, bassist for college radio stars Belle & Sebastian. The impact of his name on Up A Tree (Sub Pop) would alone make Looper a small chart success, but its very strong first-week debuts on the Radio 200 and Core Radio charts are testimony to the album's quality. With a video available for the first single and a possible summer tour in the works, Looper may be one to watch.

DROPKICK MURPHYS

Radio 200: 180-41

With Saint Patrick's Day approaching, college radio gave extra airplay to the raucous new album from the Dropkick Murphys, The Gang's All Here (Hellcat-Epitaph). Packed with hearty punk/ska songs and a bounty of burly sing-alongs, the album also integrates bits of the band's heritage via fiddle and bagpipes. With tracks like "Blood And Whiskey," how can a programmer go wrong with The Gang's All Here at this time of year? Raise a pint to the gang's 139-position jump on the Radio 200. v chart topper

Web SITE OF THE WEEK

Other Music www.othermusic.com Contact: Tom Capodanno 15 E. 4th St. New York, NY 10003 Phone: 212.477.8150 Email: sales@othermusic.com

Othermusic.com is an extension of the New York City independent retail store. Although not the first indie retailer online, Other Music is among the first to have such a functional Web site. Many independent retail sites simply act as an online mail-order catalogue, but Other Music one-ups the competition by offering added services. In addition to its searchable online inventory, OM provides shopping cart services, secure e-commerce and OM News, which lists select local tour dates and announcements on Other Music's in-store performances. Customers can search by artist, title or label, giving OM's site more flexibility than that of most other indie retailers. Other Music offers cheeky category breakdowns of its catalog. including "La Decadanse." described as "music for the chaise lounge between your ears," and "Out," which features avant-garde music. OM Rarities allows visitors to browse the store's selection of collectible vinyl, while OM Merch sells the store's fashionable shirts and magazines. It should be noted that othermusic.com is nowhere near as dense and feature-filled as the bigger on-line superstores, and, in fact, the site still has significant content voids it plans to fill. Still, Othermusic.com represents a significant stride for independent retailers everywhere. With more features on the way, OM will be a site to watch in '99. - David Day

TOP 5 BOOKMARKS

Tom Capodanno

1. Momus (www.demon.co.uk/momus/) Probably the most intelligent artist site on the Web. I check back frequently for almost-daily essays and the latest on Mr. Currie's ongoing feud with the NME.

2. The Trattoria Sound Website

(trattoria.eccosys.co.jp) Everything about this Japanese label and their Web site is different – from the music they release to the strange, inexplicable graphics found on this site.

3. Citibank (www.citibank.com) High service fees and finance charges have paid for one of the most beautiful Flash sites on the web.

4. Ebay (www.ebay.com)

Friends of mine are cleaning up at this online auction selling things like photocopies of distributor one-sheets and artists' publicity photos. A new low in American consumerism.

5. Wact-Net (www.wact.net)

College friends from Delaware now living in Seattle working as programmers and artists. Still dealing with deep psychological issues resulting from a childhood in the First State.

SHADES APART

Eyewitness (Universal)

Eyewitness marks the major label debut of Shades Apart, a decade-old hardcoreturned-emocore band that spent the majority of its career on indie label Revelation.

To mark the beginning of this new era, the group has polished and updated its sound, but the overall change is subtle enough to appeal to a wider audience, without repelling old fans. Shades Apart makes its clean, sparkling pop-punk statement during the opening strains of Eyewitness's lead-off track, "Edge Of The Century," and the friendly fire never lets up. Gone are the knotted, howling guitars of earlier efforts such as 1997's Seeing Things. Tightly packed chord progressions now support the band's familiar, impassioned vocals, making Eyewitness a very radio-ready effort. — Cheryl Botchick

FRIENDS OF DEAN MARTINEZ Atardecer (Knitting Factory)

You'd expect Friends Of Dean Martinez to flaunt their jazzier side, given that the Southwestern instrumentalists have traded the Sub Pop logo for the Knitting Factory's seamstress insignia. But the pared-down duo of founder Bill Elm and Dave LaChance refuses to abandon its mesa musings, though the line-up purge has given way to a newly stark ghosttown aesthetic. Elm has replaced the actual songs of the Friends' previous two long-players with more evocative, experimental moodscapes, occasionally kissed by feedback and tasteful electronics that successfully wash away the older efforts' lush but ironic sheen. Thus, a sinister beauty inhabits the smarter, more mature twang of Atardecer. The album title translates as "late afternoon," and in light of that, this lovely record seems appropriate for a sunset drive around the dusty desert outskirts of Vegas. — Jordan N. Mamone

BUCK-O-NINE Libido (TVT)

Buck-O-Nine formed in the early '90s, in the midst of a Southern California punkand-ska collision. But on its fourth album, the band steers a path d i r e c t l y between the two styles. Closer to Rocket From The Crypt's h o r n p u m p e d pogo-punk than to Sub-Buck-O-Nine lime's suburban skank, Buck-O-Nine eschews traditionalist reverence in favor of an energetic, mix-and-match of its chosen musical idioms. Having scored a minor commercial radio hit with "My Town" in 1997, the band assures its continued pop accessibility with a number of persistently upbeat cuts: the shamelessly catchy "Who Are They?," with its bouncing riffs and three-part brass charge; the warm, bittersweet ballad "Swimming In Sand," and the head-nodding, nimble skank of "Awkward Girl." Libido certainly doesn't reinvent ska or punk, but it further proves the value of the two combined forms as worthy enersources for lighthearted pop. gy Colin Helms

OLD PIKE

Ten Thousand Nights (550-Epic)

Hailing from the patriotic town of Bloomington, Indiana, Old Pike is an enigmatic quintet that plays with a paralyzing amount of emotional muscle. This heartfelt surge is laid thickly atop a composite of American roots rock influences sharpened by countless onenighters and months on the road. When lead vocalist Tim Jones sings his colorful stories about ordinary life he makes the sharp, pianohighlighted music all the more emotional and weighty with his throat-shredding, soulful conviction. Ten Thousand Nights is balanced with a handful of slow, methodically draining songs, such as "Millionaire's Servant" and "Never Ends," which provide much-needed breaks from the band's hearty, sweat-stained rockers. — Glen Sansone

GAZA STRIPPERS

Laced Candy (Man's Ruin)

Fiery, sharp-dressed rock 'n' roller Rick Sims developed a small but dedicated following with his first band, a speeding, smart-aleck garage punk combo known as the Didjits.

Aside from establishing Sims as a nut and as a master of brilliant album titles (e.g. Full Nelson Reilly, Que Sirhan Sirhan), the Didjits' output set new standards in velocity and intensity — Sims's hyper frontman behavior is hard to match. The Gaza Strippers are his new outlet, and they certainly don't live down the Didjits' legacy, given Laced Candy's whirlwind blend of whiplash-inducing riffs, frantic drumming, distinct, piercing vocals and wickedly funny lyrics. The songs resemble vintage rockers played at a methamphetamine pace. Fast and loud punk rock is not exactly a rarity, but Sims and the Gaza Strippers are older and wiser than most of the pack. And Sims continues to exist in a class of his own. — Cheryl Botchick

KLEENEX GIRL WONDER Ponyoak (March)

Graham Smith is a self-admitted recluse who spends the majority of his time speculating on such universal issues as life, love and heartbreak while simultaneously examining the structure of modern radio rock hits. Ponyoak, Smith's third full-length under the KGW moniker, is lo-fi pop written and recorded in a dorm room at the University of Wisconsin at Madison. The album executes relatively conventional, indie musical ideas in a bipolar, unconventional way. Smith recites tender tales of heartbreak in his vibrant singalongs, while his addictive pop melodies lay buried beneath the gritty hiss of his twotrack recorder. Ponyoak is a highly endearing and very real portrait of an emerging artist that makes you wonder what he could do if given a little cash and an actual studio in which to work. — *M. ment with the band's diary-honest lyrics. One prevailing experience lurks beneath and informs Pop Unknown's soft melodies and chiming guitars — the painful parting of ways with a loved one. This Texas quartet has created a sweet, emo-studded rock EP that evokes a Codependent's Anonymous meeting; the band wants you to know that there are others who share your clingy feelings. Summer Season Kills may not inspire you to let go during your next dysfunctional relationship, but it'll help you cope and give you strength to get out of bed on those despairing mornings. — Amy Sciarretto

ANDREA PARKINS

Slippage (Knitting Factory)

Accordionist Andrea Parkins casts unusual and complex spells when she draws out her trademark long, billowing breaths of sound. Her witchcraft takes a turn for the abstract when she samples her musical passages and plays over her own ever-changing loops. To define the more melodic passages of her difficult compositions, the Knitting Factory stalwart simultaneously takes to a piano. On six of Slippage's 12 tracks, saxophonist Briggan Krauss and drummer any Parkins, Kenny Wollesen accompany Parkins, admirably supporting her while spurring her to temporarily discard aural sculptures so she can engage in palpable improvisation. Avant-garde and slightly jazzy, the accordionist's right-on downtown aesthetic is challenging without ever growing contemptuous, which is what good experimental music is all about. — Tad Hendrickson

MUSTARD PLUG Pray For Mojo (Hopeless)

Think the late-'90s wave of American ska has finally fully entered the mainstream? Well, think again. Michigan's Mustard Plug has been doing its punk-with-horns thing since 1993, so the band can't really be considered mainstream bandwagon jumpers.

Pray For Mojo, the group's third long player, projects a youthful aura with e n e r g e t i c instrumental passages and singer Dave Kirchgessner's vibrant, adolescent vocals. If you listen closely, you'll even be able to detect subtle traces of early-'80s new wave. Overall, the songs sound like good ol' fashioned pop-punk, jacked up a notch by peppy trombone and trumpet lines that prime you to kick off your shoes and start skanking 'till rivulets of sweat pour down your face. Don't miss the closing "We're Gunna Take On The World," a full-on anthem, complete with the ear-pleasing sound of smashing plates. — Amy Sciarretto

Push Comes To Love (Drag City) Well-respected conceptual artist Stephen

Prina occasionally dabbles in music. For one of his performance pieces, he harmonically manipulated tapes of a string quartet

while playing covers of Sonic Youth and Steely Dan songs. While Prina was working on a Red K r a y o l a album, Jim O'Rourke and David

Grubbs approached him to make a pop album, the result of which is Push Comes To Love. Melodic and low-key enough to appeal to Burt Bacharach fans, Push is filled with graceful hooks and meticulously applied nuances. The large and impressive

"Drcam Scream" is yet another off-kilter pop song by Daniel Johnston. The Aside is a melancholy, lisp of a song with a bassdriven back-

I'M YOUR Fân ULTRAVOX

In 1985, I was a freshman in high school. With my long-banged/shaven-sides haircut, thrift store clothing and penchant for poetry and painting, I was less than popular. But I wasn't as unpopular as my music tastes. I was drawn to melodramatic, mealy-mouthed, miserable British wonders like electro-pop outfit Ultravox. I have no idea how I first found the band, though I do remember hearing "Dancing With Tears In My Eyes" and "Reap The Wild Wind" on the local "strictly underground," but commercial, radio station. It was glorious. Synthesizers and guitars churned out layers of music that could work me into a full-on swaying frenzy. But the sincere heartbreak was in the vocals, all haunted and distant. What this band was speaking to was, what I felt was at least, my pathetically tragic, artistic soul. It combined new wave with orchestral pop, which, in retrospect gave me what was at least, probably my first taste of pop that had symphonic elements. Given the band's taste for the ornate, Ultravox would allow me to go on to embrace contemporary acts such as Olivia Tremor Control. Truth be told, I'm no Ultravox purist, and I can only speak with authority about the group's albums with Midge Ure, who, in 1980, had taken over the vocal duties on the band's fourth album. Ure pined with an unnerving, piercing sense of desperation. If all of this sounds like it's completely over-the-top, well, it truly is. But at 15, I was a sucker for romantic synth melodies and overwrought lyrics like "The image is gone/Only you and me/This means nothing to me." — Kelso Jacks

Recommended Albums: Lament (Chrysalis), Vienna (Chrysalis)

Bio-Fact: In addition to his work with Ultravox, Midge Ure released four solo albums and co-wrote "Do They Know It's Christmas?" with Bob Geldof for the Band Aid charity project.

"GROOVEY" JOE POOVEY Greatest Grooves (Dragon Street)

Starting out as a child country star in 1954, y star in 1954, "Groovey" Joe Poovey's career lasted for nearly 50 years. This definitive, 24-song collection spans Poovey's entire output. Along with artists like Ronnie Dawson, Poovey is considered to be one of the founding fathers of rockabilly. Though his latter-day efforts delve into honky-tonk and more restrained country balladry, Poovey's early tracks — which present him as a snappily dressed, rollicking guitarist — make this reissue essential. The studio sides will make you cut a rug, while the live tracks from the 1958 Dallas Big "D" Jamboree pricelessly offer an early taste of rock 'n' roll. ## WILD MAGNOLIAS BLUES

ROOTS 'N'

Life Is A Carnival (Metro Blue)

By now, most folks have heard about the celebrated Mardi Gras Indians of New Orleans – groups of African-American men and boys who parade through the streets in February, dressed in elaborate, colorful, feathered cos-feathered costumes. Ages ago, the Indians were the street gangs of their day, tough, proud and mean. The revelers' hallowed, Africanderived chants are perhaps the oldest precursors of modern rap on the North American continent. Led in the 1970s by chiefs Bo Dollis and Monk Boudreaux, the Wild Magnolias tribe combined these chants with funk. The group's two albums for Polydor have since become staple platters at any Mardi Gras party. Well, the tribe is back with another opus. Over a year in the making, this heap of classic, grooving wildness boasts cameo appearances by Dr. John, Robbie Robertson, Cyril Neville, Bruce Hornsby, Allen Toussaint, and the Black Bottom Brass Band of Osaka Japan. It's quite possibly the biggest Mardi Gras party ever captured on tape. Bo Dollis's gruff and husky cry is the voice of carnival itself, and it should be — he's been demanding that Mardi Gras revelers "let it all hang out" for 20-odd years. — James Lien

DJ WALLY The Stoned Ranger Rides Again (Liquid Sky)

New York City's DJ Wally has always walked a fine line between brilliant urban composer and tonguein-cheek sonic swindler with a sampler and too much time on his hands. But it's the yin-yang of his musical persona that makes him one of the most watched artists in the Manhattan scene. The title of his new release, The Stoned Ranger Rides Again, pretty much says it all: Wacky, warped samples, dubinspired bass and trippy melodies are meticulously placed over an array of heavy hip-hop and breakbeat grooves. But Wally is not all fun and games, as this album maintains a level of eerie, psychedelic ambiance that's more potent than his past releases. It's some of the most obscure, intelligent and inspired work Wally has produced to date, and should firmly secure his role as both king and court jester of East Coast illbience.

60 CHANNELS Give Me Your Love (EP) (World Domination)

The saucy, breakbeat-driven cover of the Curtis Mayfield classic (taken from the band's Tuned In, Turned On LP) is the title song on this five-track EP, which also includes four new cuts. Coasting on a luxurious cushion of frazzled beats, angelic crooning, rasta raps, and howling bass grooves, these cuts prove why this vibrant U.K. collective is worthy of all the firss.

TWILIGHT CIRCUS SOUND SYSTEM Horsie (M)

The Netherlands-based Twilight Circus Sound System infuses its fifth full-length, Horsie, with a soothing blend of stony, Jamaican dub buffered by rippling basslines and echoey drum rhythms. Led by bassist/drummer Ryan Moore (of Legendary Pink Dots/Teargarden/Download fame), the band creates a subtle, groove-based offering tempered by electric guitar textures that demonstrate the electicism of TCSS's vision

AMORPHIS Tuonela (Relapse)

Over the course of its seven albums on Relapse, Amorphis's sonic style has completely morphed from obliterating death metal into progressive rock with a spacey edge. Tuonela is easily the fivesome's most accomplished work to date, picking up where My Kantele left off, and infusing the band's sound with Finnish folk elements. Atypical loud rock instruments, such as the sitar and flute, accompany clean (as opposed to rabid) vocals and keyboards, resulting in lush, textured songs. Only the haunting "Greed" hearkens back to Amorphis's darkest metallic days, with its deathy growls and crunchy riffs. Tuonela is a trippy, psychedelic, and ultimately beautiful opus destined to appeal to the more cerebral side of metalheads.

DIMMU BORGIR

Spiritual Black Dimensions (Nuclear Blast America) Norway's Dimmu Borgir has unleashed Spiritual Black Dimensions, an album of completely unadulterated symphonic black metal. There are times on the album where the melodies and synthesizers sound downright innocent and pretty, but they're soon bludgeoned and soiled by the band's 1,000 miles-an-hour, dual guitar assault and Shagrath's operatic vocals, which fluctuate between shrill screams and guttural growls. Metal melodrama at its finest!

For Fans Of: Cradle Of Filth, In Flames, Covenant, Emperor, Dark Funeral Recommended Tracks: "Reptile," "Dreamside Dominions," "The Blazing Monoliths Of Defense"

STATIC-X Wisconsin Death Trip (Warner Bros.)

While arranged samples, staccato riffs and gargledwith-razor-blades vocals abound on Static-X's Wisconsin Death Trip, the orderly, programmed beats are by no means stale or overly mechanized. Rather, Static-X's industrial/metal hybrid uses a guitar sound that keeps its songs refreshingly large, loud and groovable, similar to its California brethren Fear Factory.

debut single, "I Really Like It," is already bubbling at radio. The unit, which consists of Mase's twin sister Baby Stase, his brother Blinky Blink, and Puff Daddy's cousin Huddy Combs, along with grade school friends Meeno, Loon, Cardan and Suga J., recently sat down with CMJ to discuss the newest Harlem renaissance.

CMJ: Tell us about the album. Baby Stase: It's a universal album, without too many guests because we feel it's enough right here with us. We used super producers like Track Masters, Jermaine Dupri, D. Dot, Grease, and Mase, who produced the first single. East, West. North, South—we made sure we made music for everyone. Huddy Combs: We just think we got a hot album. It was well-thought-out, with a lot of important messages. That's why we call it a "movement." Maybe it's obvious, but why did each of you decide to go with Mase? Combs: This was the best thing for everybody in the group. Instead of six people coming out, bringing you the different parts of Harlem, we avoided the competition and brought all of those ideas together. Blinky Blink: (Continued on page 34)

COOL BREEZE East Point's Greatest Hit (Interscope)

Not many solo artists can produce a bangin' debut album without relying on a slew of guest MCs. Cool Breeze, however, has proven himself with this accomplished, soulful shot. After appearing on albums by fellow Dugeon Family members OutKast and Goodie Mob, Cool has fused his peers' spirituality with a rough street element and positioned it nicely within Organized Noize's melodic, soulful and haunting beats. Teaming with OutKast, Witchdoctor and Goodie Mob on "Watch For The Hook," Cool explodes with his trademark hooks that stick in your head for days. Also check his tag-team with Kurupt on the thumping gangsta baller "We Get It Krunk."

"Repretoire" (12") (D&D/Gee Street-V2)

QNC, the second artist signed to the new D&D label, hits home with this well-crafted single. Delicately balancing R&B influences with strong, honest mic skills, QNC delivers like a Natve Tongue for the next millenium.

"Work The Angles," one of last year's best underground singles, has been re-worked with some slick beat tweaking by Kutmasta Kurt and Babu, along with some outstanding guest spots from AG, Defari and Xzibit. Also included here is a tight remix of the original cut," Work The Angles," by Evidence and the Alchemist-produced gem "Guaranteed."

CHRIS SMITHER Drive You Home Again (Hightone)

Chris Smither is a master at combining folk and Southwestern blues into brooding, introspective roots music. His pensive yet edgy voice, stellar fingerpick guitar playing, and foot-tapped rhythms nearly make him a one-man acoustic band. But Drive is more rocking and "plugged-in" than previous Smither releases. Stephen Bruton's electric guitar and John Dee Graham's lap steel add a leathery punch to songs like "Steel Guitar" without overshadowing Smither's more subtle acoustic presence. A bit of upbeat country mixed into "Hey, Hey, Hey" and Tex-Mex thrown into "Tell Me Why You Love Me" keep Drive from being overly somber.

For Fans Of: John Hiatt, Randy Newman, Mississippi John Hurt Recommended Tracks: "Steel Guitar," "Duncan & Brady," "Tell Me Why You Love Me Contact: Darrell Anderson Phone: 510.763.8500 Fax: 510.763.8558 Email: Dander959@aol.com Release Date: March 16; at radio now Marketing Data: Currently on tour.

ASA BREBNER

Ragged Religion (Asa Records)

If you're in the mood for some "no bullshit" rock from someone who was an inspiration during Boston's new wave heyday, who toured Europe with the Modern Lovers, and who founded the Chartbusters, then Asa Brebner is your man. Sort of a cooler loser-rock version of Springsteen, Brebner roars through the title track, belting out lines like "I lost the grocery money on a football game."

For Fans Of: Bruce Springsteen, Modern Lovers, Chartbusters Recommended Tracks: "Ragged Religion," "I'm In Love," "Ponytail" Contact: Mikey D (Planetary Group) Phone: 617.451.0444 ext. 226 Fax: 617.451.0888 Email: mikey@planetarygroup.com Release Date: March 8; at radio now Marketing Data: Currently touring the Northeast.

VARIOUS ARTISTS It's Heartbreak That Sells: A Tribute To Ray Mason (Tar Hut)

As fine as his own roots-rock band may be, the real ace up Ray Mason's sleeve is his songwriting, which is proven here by 18 diverse interpreters. King Radio gives a new wave disco spin to "Step Back Melody," Steve Westfield adds his lo-fi touch to "I'm Only Human," and the Ass Ponys play a backwoods version of "Missvouville."

For Fans Of: Sixteen Horsepower, King Radio, Scud Mountain Boys Recommended Tracks: "Down At The Night" (Cheri Knight), "Step Back Melody", "Cats" (Pete Weiss and the Rock Band) Contact: Jeff Copetas Phone: 617.776.5106 Email: info@tarhut.com Release and Add Date: March 29 Marketing Data: Ray Mason Band is currently touring the Northeast.

Diana Krall has teamed up with actor/director Clint Eastwood to make a video for a song "Why Should I Care." The track appears on the soundtrack to Eastwood's film True Crime. Eastwood, Linda Thompson and Carol Bayer Sager wrote the song, which Krall recorded specifically for the movie. Eastwood will direct Krall's video himself. The single, Krall's first work for the revamped Verve Group, will be shipped to radio on March 29. The CD5 will include a bonus track from her forthcoming, June 8 album, When I Look Into Your Eyes...Columbia Legacy will reissue five Duke Ellington albums, in celebration of what would have been the jazz leg-

Diana Krall end's 100th birthday. On April 27, the label will release Ellington At Newport, Such Sweet Thunder, Black, Brown & Beige, First Time! The Count Meets The Duke and Anatomy Of A Murder. Columbia is also putting together a three-CD box set, entitled The Duke, which will survey the three main periods of Ellington's life, 1927-40, 1947-52 and 1956-62. Compiled by jazz historian Phil Schaap who is known for assembling the Miles Davis/Gil Evans set the box is due out in mid July...Speaking of Miles Davis, Columbia will issue Panthalassa: The Remixes in late May. For this project, DJ Cam, King Britt and Philip Charles, Doc Scott and Jamie Myerson reconfigured the material from Panthalassa, the 1998 Bill Laswell project that remixed, previously unreleased Davis outtakes from the early '70s. The new record is sort of remix of a remix, if you will. The album's vinyl version will include a bonus track by DJ Krush, who does a version of "Black Satin"/"On The Corner."

Charles Lloyd's odyssey in music has taken the saxman from sitting in with R&B bar bands as a teenager to exploring, as a sage jazzman, the outer limits of the spiritual qualities inherent in music. A landmark in Lloyd's re-emergence from retirement at the turn of the decade, Voice In The Night features drunner Billy Higgins, guitarist John Abercrombie and bassist Dave Holland. This top-flight quartet bristles with a silent, self-assured energy. The group functions somewhat like Lloyd's classic quartet of the '60s, although with a more cerebral, meditative quality. It may be subdued and serene, but this album is absolutely luminescent.

For Fans Of: Lester Young, John Abercrombie, Michael Brecker Recommended Tracks: "Voice In the Night," "Picket Full Of Blues," "Forest Flower: Sunrise/Sunset" Contact: Neil Gorov, Josh Ellman, Mark Rini (Groov Marketing) Phone: 800.544.7668 Fax: 818.883.3320 Email: groov@pacificnet.net Release Date: March 9

MCCOY TYNER AND THE LATIN ALL-STARS

McCoy Tyner And The Latin All-Stars (Telarc) McCoy Tyner is famous for being a part of John Coltrane's classic quartet back in the '60s, but he is still at the top of his game. This wonderful, percolating album teams him and A-list jazz players and Latin juggernauts. The result is a spectacular take on Latin jazz with the added fluidity of Tyner's signature piano sound, which is lyrical and persuasive.

PAPO VAZQUEZ

Pirates & Troubadors: At The Point Vol. 1(Cubop) Trombonist Papo Vazquez, an alumni of such crucial outfits as Jerry Gonzalez's respected Fort Apache band, and the ensembles of Ruben Blades and Tito Puente, leads his group with a commanding presence that shouts authenticity. This is simmering, stop-on-a-dime Latin jazz, played with freshness and love. Also noteworthy: the presence on piano of Arturo O'Farrill, son of the great Chico O'Farrill.

TARAF DE HAÏDOUKS Taraf de Haïdouks (Nonesuch)

Consisting of three generations of gypsy musicians, Taraf de Haidouks (translates as "band of brigands") hail from a small village in Romania near Bucharest. This self-titled album compiles tracks from their three European releases. It's hearty gypsy music, a slow burning fire fueled by minor-key accordion, passionate violins and a unique percussion instrument known as the cymbalum. When these young and old brigands unite to play music, it is often poignant and special.

For Fans Of: Gipsy Kings, Maria Bethania, Los Reyes Recommended Tracks: "Rustem," "Dumbala Dumba," "Indiaca," "Briu" Contact: Erica Linderholm Phone: 212.707.2263 Fax: 212.405.5525 Email: erica_linderholm@wmg.com Release Date: March 9

MAYA Y CANTU

El Primero Conjunto Norteño Fomoso (Arhoolie) Arhoolie Records continues its legacy of dedication to the authentic Tex-Mex sounds of the American Southwest. Jesus Maya and Timoteo Cantú were a duet of bajo sexto and accordion. Recorded at a radio station in Nuevo Laredo, Mexico, between 1946 and 1949, these recordings capture a slice of Tex Mex in its earliest incarnation. Wonderful stuff, indeed.

Green Linnet Records has signed progressive Irish band Kíla. Singing in Gaelic, the septet mixes traditional Celtic music with electronic beats and modern grooves. On May 18, the label will issue the American version of group's debut, Tóg é Go Bog é (which translates as "take it easy"). The record has already been released in Ireland, and the single "Ón Taobh Tuathail Amach" has climbed to #18 on that country's charts. The band will tour the U.S. in June...The office is hopping at Minneapolis's Northside Records. Indiana, and Durham, North Carolina. Norwegian fiddler Annbjørg Lien will join those bands for a New York show on March 27. The label is also hosting a small festival during the first week of April. Nine Northside acts will perform during the fourday event, which will take place in the imprint's home city... A few days prior to the March 9 street date for its album Generation Coming, Third World hosted a charity record release party to benefit Kidscare and the United Foundation For Aids. The bash took place at the South Beach, Florida, nightclub Amnesia...With three successful U.S. tours under her belt, Sinéad Lohan has finally entered the world of movie music. "No Mermaid," the title track from her 1998 debut, appears on the soundtrack to the film Message In A Bottle. The singer is still finalizing plans for a summer tour.

for Chord Recordings this summer. During the show, MC Anthony Martini's raw bark blew apart the standard hip-hip/metal formula. Candiria bassist Mike Macivor fell on his patooty during his band's jazzy, horn-adorned set. MIA Records will unleash the group's album, sometime during the summer. The perennially punishing Hatebreed tore the roof off the house with a primal, metal clusterfuck. Among other things, cherubic singer Jamey Shanahan introduced a new second guitarist and ordered the audience to form a circle pit...Skarhead will play select East Coast dates as part of this summer's Warped Tour...Flip-Interscope has planned a tentative July street date for Limp Bizkit's Significant Other. The record may appear almost two-years-to-the-day after 1997's Three Dollar Bill Y'All. Word has it that LB will sport an even heavier rap sound. Eminem, Method Man, Korn's Jonathan Davis, System Of A Down's Serj Tankian and Scott Weiland are on the long-player's guest list...Vocalist Jay Berndt has left Kilgore. The band is seeking a dedicated, tour-ready replacement who is willing to relocate to either the East Coast or Los Angeles. If you think you can step up to the mic, send a T&R to: Kilgore, P.O. Box 2224, Pawtucket, RI, 02861...Phil Fasciana, guitarist for Fort Lauderdale-based death metal faves Malevolent Creation, recently gave me a road report, via his cell phone: "We had a few major derailments," he said. "Our RV broke down...When we got it back, we got pulled over and spent three days in jail. There was weed in our drummer's jacket." The guys were actually forced to wear striped, Alcatraz-era, black-and-white jail uniforms, in lieu of the more common putrid, orange jumpsuits. "We looked like Beetlejuices," Fasciana recalled...Speaking of Malevolent Creation, New England's Shadows Fall opened for the band at a recent NYC gig, at Coney Island High. The Massachusetts maniacs changed tempos (from fast to faster) so often that no one remained still, not even the young metallion in the wheelchair.

And being all things equal, my man, Mase, did go four million [laughs]. Did you worry Mase would overshadow you? Stase: No. Basically we are on his label, he is presenting us as his artists and he is on the first single. But that is the only single he is on. He's just bringing us to the light. What does each MC bring to the family? Stase: I bring versatility to this group, a woman's version. Suga J: Suga J bring the ladies. Combs: I'm the enthusiastic type, an entertainer, and I also bring experience. Blink: I bring the hook. Loon: I'm more of a lyricist, so I bring detail. What's the advantage of rolling with a crew in hip*hop today?* Loon: We bring more fans as a group. The ones I can't get, Stace might bring them in, or Suga J [might attract them]. It's a supportive group. If I slip, someone's there to pick me up. Speak on the Harlem scene. Loon: Everybody has their turn. Mase opened the doors, and now Harlem is hot. Queens had theirs, Brooklyn had theirs, now it's Harlem's turn. Stase: I think we are paving the way and opening eyes for the other talent in Harlem. And the more from Harlem, the merrier, because I want to make opportunities for those unheard in Harlem.

Ex-Pixin Frank Black sharts from the bin about

Ex-Pixie Thank Black shoots from the hip about his new aboum Pistolero, the online world and his triumphant return to the garage.

Feature by Ron Hart

For nearly 15 years, the many faces of Charles Thompson IV have been synonymous with alternative rock. From the mid-'80s to the early-'90s, using the alias Black Francis, Thompson led college radio pioneers the Pixies, who blended punk rock fury, science fiction kitsch and clamorous surf guitars with a hook-perfect pop aesthetic that subsequently influenced a large number of alternative johnny-come-latelys. Kurt Cobain once self-effacingly admitted that the loud/soft dynamics of "Smells Like Teen Spirit" was a blatant Pixies rip-off.

After his band's demise, Thompson became solo artist Frank Black. He followed his muse even further, blasting off into the outer reaches of studio production by employing an arsenal of eclectic instruments and styles to further quirkify his fundamentally accessible tunes. Following a fall-out with American Recordings after the label released his 1996 effort The Cult Of Ray, Black decided that it was time for another rebirth. The songwriter returned to his indie roots, singing a 1997 deal with spinART, the result of Thompson's demo with the group of musicians who would go on to become his new band, the Catholics. That demo turned into his debut album for the small New York label. Recorded in four days, live and straight to two-track, Frank Black And The Catholics was by far Black's most stripped-down recording since his acclaimed days with the Pixies. The new group wasted no time in returning to the studio to churn out a second proper album. That effort, Pistolero, seems set on establishing a defined Catholics style. Rather than beef up the approach of the debut with studio polish and excessive production, the band decided to crawl back into the basement and once again bang the songs out live and straight to two-track. What prompted Black to stick to this formula in this new era in his career?

"Its cheap!" he laughs over the phone from his house in Los Angeles. "All we have to do is go rock out. We're not supposed to fiddle and fix and overdub and smooth it all out. We realize that might have been fine when we first started makin' records in our early 20s. But we've been doing it for a while, and we're all good enough that we'd rather just go play. Nothing against produced records, but we like that under-produced sound. And for a guitar-based rock band, it's an ideal you should be clinging to. It's better to stand for something that's a little more rock 'n' roll [these days]."

According to Black, two-track recording rescues the fun from the drudgery of studio sessions. Laying down the tracks live allowed the Catholics to focus on the task at hand. The expediency of the process let them concentrate on the music, rather than on its production.

"We like it better when we're all playing live together, because at least we've got something to do in the studio," Black explains. "It's not like, "Okay, Dave's gonna work on this bassline for a while, you guys go play some Ping-Pong. We don't have time for video games or Ping-Pong or talking on the phone or anything. We go in the studio as musicians from the minute we walk in to the minute we walk out."

Much like the band's eponymous debut, Pistolero consists of gritty, yet rootsy, ale-house rock that owes more to Aerosmith and Lou Reed than you'd suspect. But while this record certainly recalls the first Catholics album, it's not a carbon copy of that effort. A country influence creeps into several tracks, and the guitars on "Western Star" and "So Hard To Make Things Out" bear a mighty strong resemblance to Neil Young.

"I had this tape of [Young's] Zuma in my car for about a year," Black recalls. "And I went through a period of listening to just that tape over and over and over again. So yeah, I would imagine there's a heavy Neil Young influence [on this record]. But there's a heavy Neil influence anyway if you grew up listening to him."

Black is not afraid to express his fondness for the Catholics' output or for his label. SpinART is a firm supporter of digital music delivery, and the singer is thankful that his music is available online. Though Black certainly didn't sign to spinART for its technological boons, he believes that online music delivery formats like MP3 are positive developments in light of the corporate turmoil the music industry has experienced in the past couple of months.

"It's good for good music," says Black. "Its good for stuff that's a little more independently minded, shall we say. It'll get everyone to back off and let music develop on its own. As the mainstream becomes more narrow, maybe it'll make things good again. It'll make it so that a lot of independently minded rock has room to breathe."

"You know how sometimes people say 'Well, I'm the first in my family to go to college.' Well, I'm the first generation in my family not to live in a trailer (yet)!"

How did you get into the music business and why?

Robbie Hanjobbie hooked me up with this job. We talked a lot when I was working at WCSB [in Cleveland]. I went to see Rancid with him one night and we started talking about jobs and what I was going to do when I left college. He said, "Come work at Epitaph." I was into the local music scene back home in Cleveland, so [I thought,] "Why not take it national and get paid all at the same time?" But before all this, I never even thought I could have a job in the music industry. It all seemed too "business suit" for me. I guess I got lucky.

What are some of your favorite bands from Cleveland?

I think most of the bands have now mutated into other bands, but here goes... Chump was always a favorite. I loved to watch Melvis play her guitar. She rules! Craw, Death Of Samantha, Gem and the DuValby Brothers were always heavy. I loved when Boulder would play the Grog Shop and blow the electricity out! There are a whole bunch of new bands in Cleveland that are popping up. I wish I could see them more.

Was it hard to adjust after moving from Cleveland to California?

Yeah, it was really hard. I guess it's always hard when you pack up and move to a city where you really don't know anyone. It was worth it though — one of those life changing experiences. One thing, though, is [that] I am such a wimp in the cold now. I like California's climate. No more lake effect for this girl!

Are there any special challenges you face working mostly punk-related releases to college radio?

Yeah, holy-roller program directors who have an "indier than thou" attitude. Besides that, college radio has been really good to us. The Planetary [Group] guys could probably answer this one better, being that they are the guys on the phones everyday.

How did Epitaph get hooked up with [blues label] Fat Possum?

Andy [Kaulkin], our president, is the one that hooked that whole deal up. Fat Possum was doing some cool shit, and so were we, so why not do it together? Those guys down at Fat Possum are "punk" in the truest sense of the word. Fat Possum rules!

A lot of people were surprised when Epitaph signed Tom Waits. Is the label going to pursue other artists that might surprise us?

I think we were all really surprised when we signed Tom Waits, too. I hope we keep surprising people. We've grown a lot the past few years and it seems the Tom signing really opened up some eyes. The Hellcat label is doing great, Fat Possum is rocking, and now Tom Waits... Who knows what is next? I will say, this place, since I walked in the door the first time, has continued to surprise me and stoke me out on so many levels. Dare to dream, right?

So do you have a dream band that you'd love for Epitaph to sign?

I have always been a huge Supersuckers fan. It would be really cool to work with them. Or the Didjits, if they were still around — who doesn't love Rick Sims?

What projects do you have coming up in the next few months?

Tom Waits, Pennywise, Choking Victim. The new Bouncing Souls is amazing, Ole! Ole! Ole! And Brett [Gurewitz] just got finished producing the new H2O and Pietasters records. It will be a really great year for us!

Do you think people have a lot of misconceptions about Epitaph?

I think people have a lot of misconceptions about Epitaph — probably that all of our bands sound the same, you know, Southern California melodic hardcore.

So, where does the "Whitetrash" name come from? Are you white trash in any way?

Let's just say I am one generation out of the trailer park. You know how sometimes people say, "Well, I'm the first in my family to go to college." Well, I'm the first generation in my family to not live in a trailer (yet)!

Tell us what you do for fun.

I like to grab one of my Boy Toys and jet off somewhere tropical for the weekend. (And you think I'm kidding!?) If I can't travel with one of the boys, then I like to drive my Impala (with the bitches in the back) to shows down in Long Beach and check out all the cute punker boys.

We hear that Epitaph came in fourth in BYO Records' DIY Bowling Tournament in Las Vegas. Were you on the team? Are you guys gonna train so you can beat 'em next year?

We came in fourth in Vegas, but we came in first place during the regular season of DIY bowling, and I was on that team! We have training sessions Wednesday nights at the Hollywood Lanes, we want to beat Fat Wreck [Chords]!
