Yahoo! Will Acquire Broadcast.com for $5.7B

Yahoo! Inc. has signed a definitive agreement to acquire Webcasting company Broadcast.com Inc. The stock deal is valued at $5.7 billion.

The deal is subject to regulatory and shareholder approval. The companies expect the aquisition to close by the end of September 1999. Yahoo! said that it expects to record a one-time charge related to the acquisition during the third quarter. "The acquisition of Broadcast.com is a natural extension of our strategy to deliver the ultimate experience to Web users and a powerful advertising and distribution platform for both companies' content, advertising and business services providers, said Yahoo! Chairman/CEO Tim Koogle.

Broadcast.com, founded in 1995, went public in a closely watched stock offering in July 1998. The Dallas-based Broadcast.com streams hundreds of audio and video programs. The company handled the recent webcast of the much-hyped Victoria's Secret fashion show. (Broadcast.com provides data for CMJ New Music Report's Internet Broadcast charts.)

Jazz Singer Joe Williams Dies

Joe Williams, whose smooth baritone and collaborations with Count Basie won him acclaim as one of jazz music's greatest vocalists, collapsed and died on the street, just blocks away from his Las Vegas home, on March 29. Before collapsing, the 80-year-old singer had been released from Sunrise Hospital, where he was being treated for a respiratory ailment. Authorities said that Williams died of natural causes.

Williams was revered for his ability to move seamlessly between balladry and blues. Throughout his career, he worked alongside jazz titans such as Coleman Hawkins,

THE ESSENTIAL RELEASES OF THE WEEK

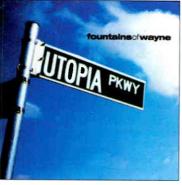

LILYS The 3-Way (Sire)

A cynic would say that almost all new music is derivative sometimes blatantly so - of the past. But even with that in mind, the question remains as to why that's a bad thing. The Lilys' Kurt Heasley doesn't have a single defense against the charge that he's cribbing from the classics. The 3-Way is an amalgamation of the most famous characteristics of the '60s British Invasion - simple Kinks guitar lines, Beach Boys harmonies, Zombies organ riffs, and at least one coda that calls for a royalty check to Lennon and McCartney. This inspired copping is far from exasperating, however. Chalk it up to the quality of the era's innovators, or perhaps to Heasley's ardent enthusiasm for them, but The 3-Way is anything but hollow mimicry. In fact, it is an instant classic that attests to Heasley's rare songwriting talent as much as it does to the longevity of the style. The 3-Way is one of the finest mop-topped '60s rock albums in recent memory. It deserves a coveted spot in every cynic's record collection.

Utopia Parkway (Scratchie-Atlantic) If you can recall the summer when That Thing You Do! was in theaters, you have an indelible memory of the film's impossibly catchy title track. And if you have a fondness for such Beatles-eque songs, you'll love Fountains Of Wayne - not only because the band has a similar penchant for pop songs and delectable vocal harmonies, but also because "That Thing You Do!" was composed by Adam Schlesinger, who is half of the FOW songwriting team. In fact, Fountains Of Wavne's atypical writing and recording process is a pop tunesmith's dream. Schlesinger (who is also in Ivy) and Chris Collingwood pen all of the songs themselves, while a changing array of musicians joins the duo in the studio. The result is an album with an unerring focus on threeminute pop songs and timeless melodies. You'll hum a handful of tunes to yourself in idle moments hours after first hearing them, and there are plenty of witty lyrics to tickle your funny bone when you go back for more listens after the album's initial sugar high.

MAN OR ASTRO-MAN? EEVIAC: Operational Index And Reference Guide, Including Other Computational Devices (Touch And Go)

The beings that comprise Man Or Astro-Man? claim to be aliens, yet since their space vehicle crashed to Earth in 1992, they've had a soft spot for good ol' American surf rock. EEVIAC, with its lengthy and forward-thinking subtitle, continues in the band's tradition of intergalactically tinted tunes. Thematically, the album charts a course of technological, scientific and computerized advancement, with such heavy-on-the-jargon titles as "Fractionalized Reception Of A Scrambled Transmission." Sonically, the album is a retro throwback, ironically dotted with futuristic clicks, beeps and loops. "Interstellar Hardrive" and "U-235/PU 239" are built around reverbed riffs that could have accompanied Frankie Avalon and Annette Funicello's oceanside frolicking in Beach Blanket Bingo. But not all of EEVIAC sounds like it escaped from a '60s, fun-in-thesun movie soundtrack. The grooves of both "D:Contamination" and "Reversal Of Polarity" are supplied by thumping drums, while "Psychology Of A.I." has all the elements of charring punk rock. EEVIAC is a complete and thorough package of entertainment, ideal for those who like to bury their noses in comic books or travel cross-country to Star Trek conventions. — Amy Sciarretto

ALEJANDRO ESCOVEDO Bourbonitis Blues (Bloodshot)

Cover songs outnumber the originals on this album five-to-four, but Bourbonitis Blues is nonetheless the unmistakable work of Alejandro Escovedo. Even for a seasoned songwriter such as Escovedo, it took nerve to tackle "Pale Blue Eyes," a song that the Velvet Underground did near-perfectly the first time, and that R.E.M. also revisited. But listening to Escovedo's (and guest Kelly Hogan's) graceful vocals and the band's blend of mournful strings, drum brushes and acoustic guitar. you almost forget that those other bands even existed. In addition to other thoughtful and adventurous covers of songs by John Cale, Ian Hunter, Jimmie Rodgers and the Gun Club, the album features memorable originals. Despite the jump from different songwriters and different modes of expression (the honkytonking "California Blues," the punky "Everybody Loves Me," the acoustic balladry "Amsterdam"), the album's themes complement each other. Escovedo's warm, richly melancholic vocals only increase the emotional punch of these tales of inner turmoil. With 1998's raucous live album More Miles Than Money and this more contemplative work, Escovedo's legend is finally - and deservedly spreading far beyond his Texas homeland. - Wendy Mitchell

Lost Boyz' Freaky Tah Shot Dead In New York

The hip-hop community suffered another loss when Lost Boyz rapper Raymond Rogers, a.k.a. Freaky Tah, was killed on March 28.

According to police, Rogers, 28, was leaving a party at the Sheraton Hotel in the Jamaica section of Queens, New York, when he was approached and shot by an unidentified black male who was wearing a blue ski cap. The assailant fled, and Rogers was rushed to nearby Jamaica Hospital, where he was pronounced dead at 4:20 a.m. At press time, police had not identified a suspect or a motive, but the case is under investigation.

The Lost Boyz gained fame with their two albums, Legal Drug Money (1996) and Love, Peace And Nappiness (1997). A publicist for Universal Records, the group's label, said the group had been working on its third album, LB For Life, for several months. The album was slated for a June release. Fans can send condolences to the Lost Boyz c/o Group Home Entertainment, 1755 Broadway, New York, NY 10019.

Mammoth Records Releases Its First MP3

Carrboro, North Carolina-based Mammoth Records has tossed its proverbial hat into the burgeoning digital download ring. The label has made "B-Boy Stance," the first domestic single by London electro-hip-hop band the Freestylers, available for digital download via the MP3 format.

The single is available at the label's Web site (www.mammoth.com). The label hopes that this move will call attention to the eight-piece group's brew of old school hip-hop, dub and breakbeat, which earned them the tag of "the most exciting live dance band in Britain," according to Melody Maker. Mammoth's National Director of Marketing Josh Wittman said, "While we aren't ready to make entire albums available for this kind of distribution, we do recognize that it's a wonderful way to increase some awareness of our artists using unreleased material."

Ministry Of Sounds Brings Radio Show To U.S.

Famed London club Ministry Of Sound is expanding its empire by launching a syndicated radio show in the U.S. The "Ministry Of Sound Radio Show," already the leading dance show in Europe and Asia, features two hours of cutting-edge dance music mixed by internationally famous DJs. Ministry Of Sound will initially target college radio stations for airplay.

"Commercial radio in the U.S. has to open up to the huge groundswell of demand for dance music," said Ministry's Head Of International Marketing Barney Glover. "Ministry [Of Sound] can be the name that unifies all dance music and club culture and delivers it in a comprehensive and accessible dance format." SDMI Portable Device Group Hears Proposals From 28 Companies

On March 29-30, the Secure Digital Music Initiative (SDMI) held its second plenary meeting and its third Portable Device Working Group meeting. During the meeting, 28 companies proposed possible technology solutions that would meet the group's requirements for portable devices.

The SDMI hopes that it can develop specifications in time for the 1999 holiday season. "It is an incredible experience to witness so many industry players contribute their ideas and share in the development of this rapidly expanding field," said SDMI Executive Director Leonardo Chiariglione. "This openness is unprecedented, and makes me confident that the collaborative effort that has characterized SDMI so far will result in a successful final specification."

In addition to the 28 companies presenting ideas for the portable devices, seven companies (including content providers, consumer electronics makers and information technology companies) presented ideas for the SDMI's functional requirements for the longterm SDMI specifications, to be completed by March 31, 2000.

The SDMI also established a Functional Requirements Working Group, which will be led by Niels Rump of Germany's Fraunhofer Institute for Integrated Circuits. The group will also include Sony Music's David Hughes, Victor Company's Nick Kuroda and IBM's Dan Sullivan.

DJ Hurricane To Release New Solo Album on TVT

Former Beastie Boys spinner DJ Hurricane has signed with TVT Records, which will release his second solo album this summer. Many rap, R&B and alt-rock luminaries will play on the album, which will include such cross-pollinating covers as Queen's "We Will Rock You"—sung by Green Day frontman Billie Joe Armstrong—and the '70s hit "To Be Real," featuring Faith Evans and the Lost Boyz.

Hurricane's other guests in the studio will include Money Mark, Goodie Mob, Kool G. Rap, Busta Rhymes and the Flipmode Squad. Beastie Boys producer Mario Caldato, Jr., who collaborated with Hurricane on his 1995 debut solo album The Hurra (Grand Royal-Capitol), will produce two of the album's cuts.

Queens, New York, native Hurricane (otherwise known as Wendell Fite) has been rapping since he was 11 years old. In 1986, he joined Run-DMC's Raising Hell Tour as a bodyguard for those fellow sons of Hollis. The Beasties, who opened on that tour, hired Hurricane when they parted ways with their original DJ, Dr. Dre.

¹ In addition to his solo work, DJ Hurricane has also carried out recent production duties for 2 Skinnee J's, Vallejo, the Calhouns and Gravity Kills.

Warner Parts With Grant Lee Buffalo

Warner Bros. Records will not distribute the next album by London-Slash recording artist Grant Lee Buffalo. An as-yet-undetermined branch of the new Polygram-Universal configuration has the option to release any future recording by the band. The group recorded four albums for Warner Bros., including the standout Mighty Joe Moon in 1994, which has sold 100,000 units to date, and 1998's Jubilee, which featured the radio hit "Truly."

"I mean, it wasn't for lack of trying on everybody's part," said Randy Kaye, Grant Lee Buffalo's former A&R representative. Kaye added that the band is discussing the future, but couldn't say whether fans should expect a solo career by frontman Grant Lee Phillips or a group effort for the next Grant Lee-related recording.

Negativland, Chumbawamba Collaborate On EP

Negativland and Chumbawamba have collaborated on a new EP, The ABCs Of Anarchism. Seeland Records will release the EP on May 23, but the record is available now via mail order. Negativland describes the 13-minute title track as "a simultaneously informative and confused trolley tour through the backlot of an often misunderstood political point of view." The EP also includes the songs "Smelly Water" and "(C) Is For Stupid." For more information, visit www.negativland.com.

Led Zep, Nirvana Albums Reach 10 Million Sales Mark

Having made its end-of-March tallies, the Recording Industry Association of America (RIAA) announced that three new titles qualify for its recently introduced Diamond Award, which celebrates albums with sales of 10 million units or more. The latest albums to reach diamond status are Led Zeppelin's Houses Of The Holy and Led Zeppelin II, and Nirvana's Nevermind. Led Zeppelin is only the third act, with the Beatles and Garth Brooks, to have been honored with three or more Diamond Awards.

Led Zeppelin IV was already recognized for diamond status at the March 16 inaugural ceremony, alongside 61 other albums spanning four decades.

Nevermind is one of only four alternative albums to reach the 10 million mark, alongside U2's The Joshua Tree, Pearl Jam's Ten and Green Day's Dookie.

Rosa Parks Opposes Use Of Her Name In OutKast Song

Civil rights heroine Rosa Parks has expressed her dismay at the use of her name in a Grammy-nominated single by the hip-hop group OutKast. Parks's management company issued a statement saying that OutKast and its record labels, LaFace, Arista and BMG Records, are "exploiting the usage of her name without her consent."

OutKast's single "Rosa Parks" is featured on the Atlanta group's 1998 album Aquemini, which has sold more than one-and-a-half million copies.

OutKast responded with the following statement: "Rosa Parks has inspired our music and our lives since we were children. The opportunity to use our music to help educate young people about the heroes in the African-American community is one of the responsibilities we feel we have as music artists. It was, nor ever has been, our intention to defame a woman who we consider a role model and a civil rights pioneer. We hope to be able to work out this situation amicably."

Parks has hired an attorney, Gregory J. Reed, to stop Outkast and its labels from using her name without her authorization. She claims that they have violated her "rights of publicity," a rule against using a person's name, image or likeness for commercial gain without that person's knowledge.

However, OutKast's attorney, Conrad L. Mallet, Jr., said, "My clients have a First Amendment right to express themselves and Mrs. Parks's lawyer knows full well that these young men were absolutely allowed to use Mrs. Parks's name in their song." LaFace said that it also stands by OutKast's song.

MTV Online Offers MP3 Of New Jesse Camp Song

Jesse Camp's transformation from East Village couch potato to MTV VJ to rock star is almost complete. In anticipation of the May 25 release of his debut album on Hollywood Records, MTV Online will offer an MP3-format clip of the album's first single, starting on April 10. The song, "See You Around," will be available from April 10-19, in conjunction with MTV's Wanna Be A VJ Too contest.

After April 19, a video clip of the song will also be available at the site (www.mtv.com). MTV Online visitors will also be able to pre-order the album, entitled Jesse & The 8th Street Kidz. The screechyvoiced, scarf-clad Camp triumphed over more than 4,000 wannabe VJs during MTV's first nationwide VJ search in April 1998. From April 11-17, MTV will air special programming related to this year's search.

CARTISTISPOTLICHTD SASHA & JOHN DIGWEED Interview by M. Tye Comer

For two years, Sasha & Digweed have been preaching sweeping trance/progressive house sermons to faithful crowds at celebrated New York City club Twilo. These two lauded DJs have become the leaders of the American clubland's so-called "British invasion," but the pair's fame stems from much more than its live gigs. This month marks the U.S. release of Expeditions (Ultra Records), the third volume in the team's Northern Exposure DJ mix series.

CMJ: Have you gotten any complaints because the Northern Exposure CDs have been assembled in the studio, rather than with turntables?

Digweed: Some people say, "Bah, it's not a live mix." But technology is there to be used. Sometimes, tracks run out 16 bars too soon, and it'd be a shame to let them end just for the sake of it, when with a computer, you can extend that a little bit, filter it out, and make the songs do what we want them to.

It's intriguing how your monthly Twilo night has become somewhat of an institution for the East Coast club scene.

Sasha: [Twilo] keeps that perfect balance of the younger kids, the older crowd, gay, straight, ravers, well-dressed people there aren't many clubs in the world that have it absolutely right. Every month, D.C., Boston and Philly have busloads of people coming without fail. Now we have to turn people away. I haven't seen anything like that since the days of the Hacienda [in Manchester]. I'd always get really nervous before playing Twilo. I'd think, "Oh God, what if it's empty this month?" But after about six or seven months, I realized the night had established itself. Especially after the first birthday party [in April 1998]. [laughs] That was a monumental night.

Didn't you drop $2,000 in cash onto the crowd that night?

Sasha: Yeah. [laughs] That was so cheesy.

So what are you going to drop from the ceiling on your two-year anniversary?

Sasha: Oh, we're still going to drop money. But John and I are going to be underneath it covered in honey, so we can walk away with most of the dollars.

Buddha Reincarnated As BMG Reissue Imprint

By Steve Ciabattoni

As of April 27, recordings from Frank Sinatra, Graham Parker, Daryl Hall, Fats Waller and others will receive new life thanks to Buddha Records, a new BMG

Special Products imprint. Borrowing its name (but not its spelling) from the RCAowned Buddah/ Kama Sutra label, Buddha will release CDs through three product lines: Stop Time, featuring first-time releases of historic live recordings; Original Masters, a re-release series offering many first CD pressings of out-of-print releases; and Compilations, a theme-oriented series.

Alex Miller, who steered the Titanic soundtrack for Sony Classical, is leading the Buddha project. "Our approach is, 'What would appeal to us as record nuts?" says Miller. "I chose [the Buddha staff] because they really love music. It sounds clichéd, but if you don't have a passion to really do it right and to do it respectfully and do it knowledgeably," says Miller, "then the product just becomes product."

Of the Stop Time series, Miller beams "It's such a great example of the archeology of discovery and the technology of restoration. When we found these recordings in a box, we just went crazy!" In addition to unearthing two early Frank Sinatra

Motown To Release Marvin Gaye Tribute

Motown Records will celebrate the late Marvin Gaye's 60th birthday by releasing the tribute album Marvin Is 60. The recording, available on June 8, features covers of Gaye's greatest hits by Brian McKnight, Will Downing, El DeBarge, Montell Jordan and Gerald Levert. Erykah Badu and D'Angelo perform the duet "Precious Love." The package radio broadcasts, the series will unveil the only authorized live recording of Fats Waller and his band. "The way he scats and the way he runs his band reminds me of Little Richard," says Miller. "I had never caught that in his studio recordings." Miller's team also found a notable recording of Glenn Miller's signature "Moonlight Serenade." "The radio announcer says, 'Here's a song being played for the very first time,'" Miller adds. Duke Ellington and Louis Prima are scheduled to get the Stop Time treatment later this year.

The titles in the Original Masters series include Graham Parker's The Mona Lisa's Sister from 1988. "We got Graham to write liner notes," says Miller. "We said 'Say whatever you want, Graham.' And, whew, he does say whatever he wants to," chuckles Miller, in reference to Parker's notorious disdain for record labels. Also in the first wave of the Original Masters series is Daryl Hall's 1977 album, Sacred Songs, which was produced by Robert Fripp. In June the series will serve up Harry Nillson's famed collaboration with John Lennon, Pussy Cats, and Captain Beefheart's Safe As Milk. The second wave of Buddha reissues is due out on May 18, and it includes the first release in the Compilation series, Big 12 Inches, a three-CD set of '70s and '80s chart-toppers. A glam rock compilation, Glam, Bam, Thank You Ma'am, is also scheduled for release sometime during the first half of 1999.

marks the first time today's soul avatars have been gathered together to pay respect to the singer, songwriter and producer, who began his career with Motown in 1961. Gaye racked up 39 Top 40 songs, which included solo tunes and duets with Tammi Ter and duets with Tammi Terrell, Diana Ross and Mary Wells. Gave was inducted into the Rock & Roll Hall of Fame in 1987, three years after he was killed by his father.

Cranberries Use Website To Sell Tickets

In conjunction with the release of their new album Bury The Hatchet, the Cranberries have achieved an online milestone. The Irish quartet is now the first band to use the Internet as the sole outlet for purchasing concert tickets. As of April 1, fans were able to purchase tickets via the band's official Web site at www.cranberries.com.

Following the April 27 release of the album, the Cranberries will embark on a nine-city North American tour. The tour will begin on April 28 in Washington, DC and the outing will end on May 19 in Los Angeles, with additional stops in Philadelphia, Boston, New York, Toronto, Chicago, Las Vegas and San Francisco.

While the folks at Priority Records are preparing the upcoming N.W.A 12" box set, fans of the g r o u n d b r e a k i n g hardcore South Central crew can pump The N.W.A Legacy Volume 1

1988-1998, which culls the posse's best tracks — yes, "F Tha Police" is on there — along with choice moments from the group's subsequent solo and side projects. Beginning with "Straight Outta Compton" the 26-cut collection includes hits by Ice Cube, Da Lench Mob, MC Ren, the late Eazy-E, D.O.C., Dr. Dre, Snoop Doggy Dogg and Above The Law, just to name a few.

Deep Elm Records has released the third installment of the very popular Emo Diaries series. The Moment Of Truth: The Emo Diaries, Chapter 111 is another survey of up-andcoming emocore bands' unreleased and rare material, chosen from a pool of submissions received during the label's open call. This time around, Cross My Heart, Sweep The Leg Johnny, Speedwell, Last Days Of April and Penfold are among the lucky few. Meanwhile, Deep Elm is already selecting tracks for I Guess This Is Goodbye: The Emo Diaries, Chapter IV; the submissions deadline was March 12.

Pacific Northwest punk trio Sicko broke up sometime last year, but the band's first spin-off project has already shown its face. Tales From The Birdbath if fronted by former Sicko Ean Hernandez. The group also includes Mike Musburger (ex-Posies, Fastbacks) and Dave Fox (ex-Posies). The all-stars' debut, Baron Von Birdbath, is available now on Empty Records. The record is packaged with an informative three-page story penned by Hernandez himself, which details Birdbath's evolution.

ROIR Records has re-issued Rastafari Dub, the classic 1972 roots-reggae dub version of Ras Michel & Sons Of Negus' Nyabinghi. Notables Peter Tosh, Tommy McCook, Geoffrey Chung, Chinna Smith and Robbie Shakespeare donated their talents to this Jamaican landmark.

Pope John Paul II is already one of the most recognized faces in the world. People all over the planet claim that the guy routinely dials God's direct line. Ever long to hear His Holiness' words of wisdom set to a beat worthy of the chill-out room? Sony Classical recently issued Abba Pater, an ambient electronic album that employs a vocal track comprised of the papal one's chants. The creators of this spiritual happening, the first record of its kind, invite you to "embark on an interior pilgrimage." And if that's not enough to absolve you of your sins, beef-up your playlist with the five-song promotional remix CD.

The Musician's Choice compilation contains work by the winners of the Guitar Center's 1998 Kickstart Your Career contest. The national chain held the competition in conjunction with Beyond Records. The axebattle was an attempt to attract the country's best unsigned musicians and to make the victors' music available at a national level. Along with tracks by champs K9 Circle, One, the Hal Lovejoy Circus and Vagrant, the album also features songs by national acts Sponge and Mötley Crüe.

Joseph Gordon-Levitt, of the hit television sitcom \mathcal{F}^{rd} Rock From The Sun, is making his big-time, silver- screen debut in the film 10 Things I Hate About You. The curious soundtrack to this umpteenth, late-'90s, teen-themed comedy has an oddly grown-up bent, though. The Hollywood Records title contains tracks by the likes of old-timers Madness, George Clinton and Joan Armatrading, as well as a cover of Cheap Trick's "I Want You To Want Me" by Letters To Cleo.

Immortal Records has released the most headbanging compilation in recent memory. Family Values Tour '98 was recorded live last year on the controversial, Kornled package tour of the same name. Bash your brains out with over an hour of hard-hitting fury by Korn, Incubus, Orgy, Limp Bizkit, Rammstein and Ice Cube.

ëmod soual

Elektra Records' soundtrack to The Mod Squad most assuredly does not contain tunes from the original television series, which aired from 1968-1973. The new film version of the show stars

Highland Sounds' Women And Their Power Tools compiles live-in-the-studio songs by 12 unsigned female acts from California. The anthology is packaged with a handy 2000 calendar, which also includes contact information for the contributing artists. Dee Dee O'Malley, the Julies, Vickie Velvet and Eleni Kelakos participated in the project.

British singer-songwriter Kevin Coyne has been pressing records for more than 30 years now. During those three decades, the performer has been accompanied by some very notable musicians, including Robert Wyatt and Andy Summers. Coyne, a longtime purveyor of independent music, recently released his 36th (!) album, Sugar Candy Taxi, which is available on Germany's Ruf Records.

The Direct Beat label sampler, Techno Bass: The Mission, amasses tracks by a roster of artists that "left 'the homeworld' to explore the galaxy." Thrill to 12 sweaty, electronic pulsations by Trax, Tom Tom, Cirkit, X-Ile, Posatronix, DJ K-1, Di'Jital, Cronik Tronik, Will Web and others.

While the new film The Matrix promises to show off some of this year's most eye-catching, big-screen special effects, Maverick Records is hoping that the accompanying album will show off some of this year's most ear-blasting, modern hard rock. The high-tech, sci-fi action film stars Keanu Reeves and Laurence Fishburne. The soundtrack stars Monster Magnet, Marilyn Manson, Rob Zombie, Deftones, Rage Against The Machine and eight other heavyweights.

New Spring Books has just published Coming Of Age In Babylon, a book that comes with its own soundtrack. Written by Doug De Bias the pocket-sized paperback is a warm and fuzzy guide to life that has a CD secured in its inner back cover. The books instructions (that's right, it has instructions) encourage the reader to play the CD, which includes music by Danielle Howle & The Tantrums, Atomsplit, Three Finger Cowboy and the Veldt amongst others, and randomly begin reading the essays and "watch aspects of your life start to improve."

A Taste Of New Orleans is an impressive compilation produced by Allen Toussaint that aims to give the world a sampling of the Big Easy's multitude of sounds. Cool Riddims, Sister Teedy, Raymond Miles and New Birth Brass Band are among the artists for whom Toussaint turns the knobs. The album is available from NYNO Records, the label Toussaint started up to bring more attention New Orleans diverse musical history.

Lenny Kravitz Releases Exclusive Track Online

A live version of the Lenny Kravitz's "Live," has been made available using a2b Music's secure digital download technology. The song can be downloaded at the artists's official Web site (www.lennykravitz.com) and at a2b Music (www.

a2bmusic.com). The song, recorded live at London's Brixton Academy, will expire 30 days after the initial download. However, consumers that purchase any Kravitz album from Tower Records Online (www.towerrecords.com) or tour tickets from his official Web site via Ticketmaster will earn a special email key that will allow them to keep the bonus song in perpetuity.

Queens Of The Stone Age To Open For Smashing Pumpkins

Queens Of The Stone Age have landed the only opening slot on the Smashing Pumpkins' upcoming 10-date tour. Pumpkins frontman Billy Corgan invited the Queens to join the tour after he saw the stoner rock band perform earlier this year in Chicago. The tour will start on April 10 in Detroit. The Queens Of The Stone Age, featuring former members of Kyuss, released their self-titled debut album on Loosegroove Records in 1998.

Offspring, Collective Soul to Headline Hard Rock RockFest

The Offspring, Collective Soul and Everlast are among the headliners to perform at the Hard Rock RockFest, which will take place at the Atlanta Motor Speedway on June 5. Other bands scheduled to perform include Better Than Ezra, Eve 6, Everlast, Live, Marvelous 3, New Radicals, Silverchair, Sugar Ray, Mighty Mighty Bosstones and Third Eye Blind. This event will be the first of three such annual festivals. The fest will kick off a concurrent concert series at or near select Hard Rock Cafes, nationwide. Tickets to the RockFest can be purchased for $28.50 through Ticketmaster by phone or through the Ticketmaster Web site (www.ticketmaster.com).

Magic Johnson Music Signs R&B Singer Avant

Magic Johnson Music, the basketball icon's new MCA-distributed label, has signed its first artist, Cleveland's Avant. The 20-year-old R&B singer, songwriter and producer will release his debut album this summer. Also, MJM's artist management division announced that it has signed deals to represent Mase and Kelly Price. (MJM will co-manage Price with Priceless Music.) Director Phil Robinson will oversee the deals, with a staff that includes Jeff Dyson, Karen Levy and Damon Jones. MJM, a unit of Magic Johnson Enterprises, includes a record label, a management group and a concert promotion division.

Former Smiths Members Form Band With Aziz Ibrahim

Former Smiths drummer Mike Joyce and ex-Smiths bassist Andy Rourke have joined a new band fronted by Aziz Ibrahim, who plays guitar with Ian Brown (ex-Stone Roses). The group, called simply Aziz, played its first gig in Manchester on March 18. "The thing that's really good about Aziz is he's just been known as a guitarist and a session player, but now he's coming into his own right," Joyce told the NME. "He's incredibly versatile and that's what reminds me a little bit of the Smiths. One track can be quite funky, the next can be quite rocky and the next can be quite spacey." The group has started recording its first album in Wales. Paul Weller and Ian Brown may make guest appearances on the record.

J. Geils Band Reunites For Summer Tour

After 16 years apart, Boston's J. Geils Band will reform for a 17-show, 15-venue summer tour set to begin on June 23-24 at Boston's Great Woods amphitheater. Tour stops include Detroit, Cincinnati and Washington, DC, the PNC Bank Arts Center in Holmdel, NJ and Jones Beach in Wantagh, NY.

The band, Seth Justman, J. Geils, Danny Klein, Magic Dick and frontman Peter Wolf, formed in 1967. Its recording career lasted until 1983. The R&B/rock band scored 10 Top 40 hits during its existence. The J.Geils Band is best known for its chart-topping 1981 pop-radio anthems "Centerfold" and "Freeze Frame," in addition to songs such as "Give It To Me" and the anti-relationship gem "Love Stinks."

Flydaddy To Distribute Arena Rock

New York City-based indie label Arena Rock Recording Co. has signed a distribution deal with Providence, Rhode Islandbased Flydaddy Records. "Flydaddy wants to create a network not unlike that of Touch And Go, and if that's the case, then let's give it a shot," said Arena Rock Co-Founder Greg Glover. Flydaddy's network of distributed labels will go through Valley Media's DNA. Arena Rock still plans to work with smaller distributors as well, including Carrot Top, Southern, Nail and the online distributor PAL Mailorder. Arena Rock's current roster includes Elf Power, Home and Illyah Kuryahkin. The label previously released albums by artists such as Harvey Danger and Superdrag. Flydaddy's catalog includes albums by Olivia Tremor Control, Richard Davies, the Moles and Bevis Frond.

Ideal Records Changes Name To Hi-Ho Records

On April 1, Ideal Records, the Dust Brothers' joint-venture label with Mammoth Records, changed its name to Hi-Ho Records. The label was renamed to avoid confusion with the U.K.'s Ideal Music Distribution. "We were confused," said Dust Brother Mike Simpson. Hi-Ho's first release under the new name will be 10¢'s Buggin' Out, due in stores on May 4. Hi-Ho's roster also includes Styles Of Beyond, Natural Calamity, April March and the Dust Brothers. Ideal was formed in 1998 as an offshoot of the Dust Brothers' NickelBag Records. The label's email addresses and Web site (www.idealrecords.com) should automatically roll over to new addresses.

MIA Records Moves To NY, Announces New Staff And Roster

Hard rock label MIA Records has relocated from Houston to New York City. The label has also hired the following staffers: Steve Sinclair, General Manager; John "JC" Cariaso, Retail Director; Rob "Fiend" Fienberg, VP of Promotion; Gordon Conrad, Press Director; and Jack Ball, Production Manager.

The label has also announced that it has signed Soil, Roadsaw, Candiria and Indecision. In addition, through a joint venture with TeePee Records, MIA will work with artists such as Chrome Locust, Atomic Bitchwax, and Helios Creed. MIA's releases will now be exclusively distributed through Caroline. (DNA had handled distribution.) MIA's new address is 315 Church St., New York, NY 10013. The new phone number is 212.966.9664 and the new fax number is 212.966.1287.

Digital Club Festival To Be Held July 20-23

The Digital Club Festival, formerly known as the Intel New York Music Festival, will be held from July 20-23, in New York City. Intel, RealNetworks and MTV will present this fifthannual event. The Digital Club Festival will feature more than 350 live bands performing within a worldwide network of clubs.

The venues will include 20 downtown New York City clubs and five additional venues around the world. Performances from every location will be webcast from the festival's command center to a global audience.

Festival co-producers Michael Dorf and Andrew Rasiej will also unveil the Digital Club Network, which will webcast live events from around the world. Artists hoping to perform and those wishing to attend the festival should check www.digitalclubfest.com for information.

The festival is being held in conjunction with Jupiter Communications' Plug.In Forum, an annual event focusing on record label strategies, digital distribution, music-oriented online content and intellectual property issues. For more information on Plug.In, visit www.jup.com.

K-tel Restructures Sales Department

K-tel International Inc. has restructured its sales division by creating five new regional sales manager and sales rep positions. Mike Gleason, K-tel's former National Sales Director, has been promoted to VP of Sales, and he will oversee the newly reorganized department. Other personnel appointments are: Catherine Corsaro, West Coast Regional Sales Manager; Gasper Milazzo, Mid-Central Regional Sales Manager; and Wendy Super, Bobbi Lee and Suzanne Falger, sales reps.

"Our current releases appeal to a much broader audience than K-tel's traditional core of customers," said K-tel President Lawrence Kieves. "The addition of skilled music industry vets in key markets will allow us to provide the attention necessary to properly service all of our music product." K-tel International's labels include K-tel, Cold Front, Dominion, Era and Twin Sounds.

Juvenile Diabetes Foundation Honors NARAS President

The Juvenile Diabetes Foundation International will honor President and CEO of the National Academy Of Recording Arts & Sciences Michael Greene with an April dinner at the Sheraton New York Hotel & Towers. The foundation hopes the benefit dinner will raise $500,000 to fund diabetes research. Greene is also President of the NARAS Foundation, which advances music education in schools. He also heads the Musi-Cares Foundation, which provides educational and financial assistance to music people in need. The event is the Juvenile Diabetes Foundation's Fifth Annual Music Industry Dinner.

CMJ Music Marathon Announces Panel Contest

CMJ Music Marathon, MusicFest & Film-Fest '99 is sponsoring a "Create Your Own Panel" contest for this year's festival, which will be held from September 15-18 in New York City. CM] is seeking creative twists on the existing panel format. As long as the topic is relevant to the music industry, anything goes. Please submit your ideas on the form that appears on page 9 of this issue. The winner, selected by the CMJ '99 staff, will have the opportunity to see his/her panel come to life. He or she will even get the chance to moderate it! CMJ New Music Report will announce the winner. Please email Carol Candeloro at carolc@cmj.com or Megan Frampton at meganf@cmj.com for more details. (CM] Music Marathon, MusicFest & FilmFest is owned and operated by College Media Inc., publisher of CMJ New Music Report.)

Sarah Vaughn, Ella Fitzgerald and Cannonball Adderley.

Born Joseph Goreed on December 12, 1918 in Cordele, Georgia, Williams started his singing career at the age of 14, as a member of a gospel quartet. After a few smaller gigs, he joined the Coleman Hawkins big band in 1941.While working as the stage doorman of Chicago's Regal Theater in 1942, Williams joined the Lionel Hampton band in which he worked alongside Dinah Washington.

In 1954, Williams was invited to join Count Basie's big band as a blues singer, replacing Basie's former vocalist Jimmie Rushing. "Everyday (I Have The Blues)," a 1955 recording that Williams made with Basie's orchestra, was added to the Grammy Hall Of Fame in 1992. After seven years of touring and recording, he parted amicably with mentor Basie in 1961 to embark on a solo career. Williams and the bandleader reunited frequently until Basie died in 1984.

Besides a heartbreaking vocal technique,

Williams also possessed modesty. "I'm most pleasantly surprised at what still comes out of my throat — I thank God for what comes through me," he told an interviewer in 1986. He is survived by his wife Jillean and two children, Joe and Anne.

Real Estate's "Every Shining Time You Arrive," Gardener's "Tamed" and Damien Jurado's "Honey Baby."

The Seattle-based label's inaugural MP3formatted songs included tracks by Saint Etienne, Pernice Brothers, Murder City Devils and Combustible Edison. "There are huge numbers of music fans all over the world starved for new music that radio isn't playing," said Sub Pop COO John Schuch. "Given the fact that so many of them come to MP3.com to satisfy those needs, it makes perfect sense for Sub Pop to put our artists' music there."

According to Schuch, Sub Pop's mission of breaking new artists rather than supporting a stable of superstars has made the label more MP3-friendly than many major labels. Although no concrete plans have been made, Sub Pop expects to release additional MP3 tracks in the future.

forthcoming follow-up, Peasants, Pigs And Astronauts, the band hired legendary rock producer Bob Erzin (Kiss' Destroyer, Alice Cooper's School's Out and Peter Gabriel's So), to futher Kula Shaker's musical progression. Chanting and flutes, as well as non-rock instruments such as shenai and the sarungi, play an even bigger part in the band's everchanging approach; however, the album still maintains a majestic rock feel, filled with searing guitars, groovy organ jams and a few dancey 4/4 rock beats.

According to Ted Dougherty, Columbia Records National Director of College Promotion, "There's nothing out there in 1999 that sounds like this band. They have a different sound and their amazing live show will do nothing but raise their profile."

While Dougherty concedes that the band was more successful in the U.K. than it was in the States, he expects American college radio to embrace Kula Shaker once again. "College radio is very important to us, so we are going to ship the album to [college radio] on April 20, even though the street date isn't until June 22. The whole setup begins at college radio. This isn't your typical commercial band, but I think they have a great sound that has a definite chance breaking through commercially once we get college radio."

The band has made two videos for the album. The first video, "Shower Your Love," will be released to MTV, prior to the album's street date.

MOGWAI

Radio 200: #27 debut Core Radio: #30 debut Adds: #8 with 47 reports

Scottish quintet Mogwai's third album, Come On Die Young (Matador), is the band's first effort for its new label, Matador, but despite the recent change, Mogwai hasn't lost any steam at college radio. Just as its Jetset albums rocketed up the CMJ charts, so will Come On..., judging by its first week, where it garners the top debuts on both the Radio 200 and Core Radio charts. The band's mastery of quiet tension (c.f. Slint, Codeine) is also assisted by the production of Dave Fridmann, member of V2's college radio favorites Mercury Rev.

GO-BETWEENS

Radio 200: 131-36 Core Radio: #34 debut

78 Til 79 The Lost Allnum (letset) might be considered a "reissue" by some, but it's actually the debut release of previously unheard material from this classic garage pop band. Its label, Jetset, is smartly promoting it as a brand-new album, being that it was recorded in such a small period of time and was intended as such originally. College radio agrees with that assessment, pushing the release 95 positions on the Radio 200 and debuting it at #34 at Core. Coupled with a greatest hits compilation currently available on Beggars Banquet, The Lost Album is paving the way for a renaissance of this seminal band.

Badmarsh & Shri's Dancing Drums (Outcaste-Tommy Boy) is the latest entry in a growing electronica sub-genre that incorporates Third World musical styles into dance music. This one, though, executes the idea literally: Badmarsh is a London turntablist, and Shri is a Bombay-born, classically trained instrumentalist. The combination is a raging success at college radio, where RPM reporters have made the album #1 this week while Radio 200 and Core reporters begin to catch the buzz.

QUEERS

Radio 200: #86 debut Core Radio: #65 debut

All of the internationally-minded collaborations in the world won't ever change the fact that college programmers love good pop-punk albums, and this Queers reissue is no exception. Comprised primarily of the band's first album's worth of demos (with a few singles and other early tracks tacked on to the end), Later Days And Better Lays (Lookout!) is a raucous. scuzzy, pogoing package of great three-chord punk rock songs. It takes second-highest debut honors on the Radio 200 by arriving at #86, and appears for the first time on the Core Radio chart at #65.

One of the finest examples of a traditional broadcast radio station expressing its wise and warped personality through its Web site is New Jersey's mighty WFMU. As the longest-running free-form radio station in the country, WFMU provides the New York/New Jersey area with some of the most diverse and obscure audio treats around. The station's Web site provides, among many useful links, the Playlists Parade, which contains a healthy archive of each show's playlists, a great thing considering the hard-tofind, never-heard-that-before sides 'FMU DJs are famous for spinning. More links to other free-form stations and a recommended Brain Twisting Reading Room will keep avant-garde thrill seekers happy. But if you really want to get the 'FMU experience in the flesh, try not to miss its annual spring record fair, where Jandek and Stereolab fans mingle and trade. WFMU has recently switched its Web broadcasting link from its home page to Broadcast.com, so to access the live feed, go to: http://www. radio.broadcast.com/radio/public/wfmu/.

MP3.com Makes Finding Music Easier MP3.com, Inc. has finally made it easier for digital music-starved enthusiasts to locate specific music on the company's site, which contains songs 7,200 by international artists. The Geographic Music Search System (GMSS) enables visitors to find free, downloadable sound files by a given performer, according to the categories of genre, country, state, province, city or community. MP3.com receives 300,000 unique hits per day. The site has facilitated the download of more than 18 million songs to date.

Amazon.com Opens Auction House

On March 30. Leading Internet retailer Amazon.com (www.amazon.com)

opened its virtual auction house, which allows site visitors to buy and sell virtually anything. Amazon plans to compete with e-Bay, the current online auction leader, by introducing several customer service improvements. If a buyer feels that his purchase does not live up the seller's description, Amazon.com will reimburse the buyer for up to $250. In addition, the new site does not require an additional sign-up in order for a bidder to participate in the auction. Amazon.com will also promote auction items across its site. Objects currently for sale include a rare, red-vinyl pressing of the Beatles' self-titled "White Album," and a self-published book of poetry by Doors frontman Jim Morrison.

Global Media Launches Online Station

Entertainment Global Media has launched online radio station Indieaudio.com (www.indieaudio.com) and its corresponding on-line community (www.indielife.com). The Web sites will broadcast and sell music by up-and-coming, independent, alternative artists. "Global Media will be providing a community, culture, and content center for an enormous market," said President Michael Metcalfe.

Insound and Rocket Fuel Announce Partnership

Indie rock Web sites Insound and Rocket Fuel recently announced their partnership. Insound will serve as the music-retail destination for browsers of Rocket Fuel's monthly ezine. In turn, Insound will feature content from Rocket Fuel, which boasts regular programming, in addition to text.

Trans World, Visa, BMG Join for Online Music Challenge

Trans World Entertainment, owner of specialty retail music and video stores such as Strawberries and Coconuts, will join BMG Entertainment and Visa in the Rankit Music Challenge. This year-long cross-promotion will unite Visa's college Web site Rankit.com, BMG's alternative music Web site BUGjuice.com, and the urban music Web site Peeps.com. Every month, visitors to Rankit.com may listen to and rank 20 new tracks released by BMG's family of labels. Using a downloadable coupon redeemable at Trans World locations, participants can receive a $2 discount on their Visa card purchases of Rankit Music Challenge-related albums. Visa and BMG also plan to advertise the venture in Rolling Stone.

Billboard Online Launches Billboard Radio

Using Broadcast.com, Billboard Online has launched Billboard Radio (www.billboardradio.com), the Web version of the Billboard Hot 100 countdown. The weekly five-hour program, written by Chart Beat author Fred Bronson and hosted by Billboard radio editor Chuck Taylor, is a rundown of the week's most popular songs, the Billboard genre lists' number-one songs, European chart activity, and other chart information. Liquid Audio will provide listeners with access to music previews and album reviews. In addition to the Hot 100 program, Billboard Radio is planning to introduce shows based on its Modern Rock, Gospel, Latin, R&B, Rap, Adult Contemporary and Dance charts, as well as shows based on the magazine's charts from previous decades.

JIMI TENOR Organism (Warp-Sire)

Throughout his youth, electronic musician, photographer, fashion designer, cult film prince and all around decadent poseur Jimi Tenor was accosted by teenage girls because of his striking resemblance to Jimmy Osmond. Like Donny and Marie's younger brother, the Finnish disco freak boasts a gorgeously plastic allure. Musically, however, this Jimi favors a decidedly un-wholesome brand of winking, continental lounge-funk. Once the leader of the industrial troupe the Shamans, the Barcelonabased entertainer is playing it straighter for his major label debut, acting like a fey Barry White raised on a diet of porn, techno and exotica. The percolating synths, cool saxes, ultra-light beats, utopian lyrics and vocoders of Organism aren't as much fun as Tenor's import titles, but they make a decent introductory statement and an inventive celebration of all things Eurotrash. - Jordan N. Mamone

PIZZICATO FIVE

The International Playboy & Playgirl Record (Matador)

For more than a decade, Toyko's Pizzicato

Five has been earning its lounge-royalty reputation. The group's recent material. however. has taken on a decidedly drum 'n' bass feel. Singer

Maki Nomiya and musical mastermind Yashuharu Konishi veer their sound into another new direction for The International Playboy & Playgirl Record. More Bacharach than Bukem, this effort's '60s-style, suave groove-romp owes a new debt to bygone jazz, bossa nova and orchestral flavorings. However, P5's cartoonish whims are still very much in evidence, and Nomiya's voice is still in top form, subjecting the listener to long diatribes that sound like - we're guessing here - instructions from a howto-be-hip manual. No translation needed, these playthings will start any party on a - Tad Hendrickson righteous note.

BIG SANDY & HIS FLY-RITE BOYS Radio Favorites (EP) (HMG-Hightone)

Since the early '90s, Big Sandy &

His Fly-Rite Boys have fine been tuning a retro-roots approach that melds classic Western swing, hillbilly boogie and jump-blues into an irrepressibly suave package, outdone only by the band's high-energy, image-perfect live appearances. The sixsong Radio Favorites - which, despite its title, is neither a best-of package nor a collection of covers - finds the California-

On Avant Hard, that child has grown up and become Rosemary's baby. With guest drummer Rob Allum (High Llamas) adding a live, percussive backbone to the group's cybernetic analog symphonies, Add N To (X)'s sound is analogous to the soundtrack to an obscure '70s, sci-fi horror flick. LONESOME ORGANIST

Cavalcade (Thrill Jockey)

We're happy to report that the Lonesome

Organist, a.k.a. former 5ive Style keyboardist Jeremy Jacobsen, has grown weirder since his brilliantly bizarre 1998 debut album, Collector Of Cactus Echo Bags. He still sounds like a oneman-band with attention deficit disorder and a stockpile of instruments (including various organs and keyboards, harmonica, percussion, guitars, steel pans, etc.), but he's learned a few new tricks, as he now makes use of saws, samples, steel drums and even tap shoes. Thus, Cavalcade sounds even more adventurous and playful, if a bit less rootsy than Collector. One of the Organ-based band working through its usual array of dance-worthy roadhouse rave-ups. Nowpermanent pianist Carl Sonny Leyland seems fully integrated into this set of songs, each of which is patterned around a certain genre-specific style. These veterans' chops and effortless grasp of the material allows each track to turn history into pure, rollicking fun. — Colin Helms

MOVIOLA

The Durable Dream (Spirit Of Orr)

Tuneful melodies, yearning lyrics and simple arrangements characterize Moviola's pop craftsmanship. With gently strummed guitars, this Ohio group plays speedbump-free indie rock. As with Moviola's previous releases, the band's fourth album, The Durable Dream, was painstakingly self-recorded in a practice space over the course of several months. The record's c a r e f u l l y detailed, simple riffs build to cathartic, but never over blown choruses, which eschew arty digressions in favor of the almighty hook. This exceedingly well-crafted pop explosion never falters.

NIGHTMARES ON WAX Carboot Soul (Warp-Matador)

Breaking a four-year hiatus that had fans wondering if the dream was over, George

E v e l y n 's Nightmares On Wax has returned with Carboot Soul, an album that couples classic Quincy J o n e s inspired R&B vibes with a stony, laid back hip-hop attitude. Picking up where 1995's Smoker's Delight left off, this offering is a smooth, luxurious ride through nu-soul territories, layering quiet, near-ambient melodies over sensual bass lines and languid rhythms. The addition of live musicians makes Carboot Soul a more organic affair than previous Wax platters, allowing the technofied funk to flow more freely. The end result is anything but a nightmare. It's more like a serene, technicolor dream, from which you'll never want to awaken. — M. Tye Comer

Dead Bees On A Cake (Virgin)

Throughout his career with Japan and his subsequent side projects and solo albums, singer David Sylvian has come to embody arty, debonair pop. Dead Bees On A Cake, an album that's more appetizing than its title would suggest, shows Sylvian in a more organic mood than usual, with the increased intimacy suiting the poetic, spiritual mysticism of his lyrics. Ryuichi Sakamoto layers in gossamer string, keyboard and horn arrangements, reminding us that smoky atmospherics are still the thrust of Sylvian's sound. But Marc Ribot's guitar and mixmaster Talvin Singh's tabla adds a raw humanity to the soulful songs. It's a thrill to hear Sylvian's quivering, seductive voice paired with Ribot's nervy riffs on the slow burn of "Midnight Sun, which borrows from "Drifting Blues," and on John Lee Hooker's "I'm Wanderin'". – Steve Ciabattoni

SHANNON WRIGHT

Flightsafety (Quarterstick)

While she was still a member of the dark, jangly trio Crowsdell, Shannon Wright wrote intense yet sparse songs that were too disjointed and emotionally naked for most pop fans. After two albums, an EP and a collection of 7" singles, Wright broke away from the band. Around the same time, her label, Big Cat Records, more-or-less dropped out of the music industry. Disillusioned, Wright sequestered herself in a home studio in Alabama to concentrate on the material that would comprise Flightsafety. Self-produced and crafted using little more than an acoustic guitar and a piano, the record conveys powerful feelings of solitude and isolation with a completely numbing sense of introspection. Wright's voice is hushed and gentle, as she looks to heal old wounds and to express her music in its purest and -Glen Sansone most heartfelt form.

GHOST

Snuffbox, Immanence (Drag City) Tune In, Turn On, Free Tibet (Drag City) This zonked-out, Japanese, peace-nik collective takes psychedelia to new, highly spiritual plateaus. On this pair of concurrent releases, the communelike band helmed by Masaki Batoh continues to dilute its Western-derived acid daze with Eastern mysticism and traditional acoustic instrumentation, further exploiting the heavenly intricacies of Ghost's 1996 American debut, Lama Rabi Rabi. Though breathtaking, heroic guitar solos scar both of these generally meditative records. Tune In, Turn On is the more interesting twin, opening and closing with cacophonous hunks of distorted meatiness, which sandwich and contrast the group's folkiest recorded landscapes. Both efforts pale in comparison to Ghost's live show, but the Tokyo trance-masters' near-religious, pan-textural pursuit of sonic nirvana should satisfy even the most devout psych purists. Just check Snuffbox Immanence's groovy, mispronounced cover of the Stones' 1969 nugget, "Live With Me."

SOUNDTRACK

Arlington Road (Will)

If you've been exposed to the films of David Lynch, you're probably already familiar with the work of Angelo Badalamenti. The composer's ominous. haunting scores have helped define the singularly dark style of Lynch's work.

Badalamenti's embellishments have also helped shape the mood of dozens of non-Lynch soundtracks, as well as assorted sideprojects, including collaborations with David Bowie, James's Tim Booth and Marianne Faithful. The maestro's score for the forthcoming political/psychological thriller Arlington Road retains his hallmark eerie, lush sense of drama. The piece relies on both traditional string and keyboard arrangements and anxiety-inducing layers of electronic noise and ambient tones, painting a tense, suggestive backdrop that's equal parts effective Hollywood verve and unset tling sound sculpture. - Colin Helms

Täydellisiä Kysymyksiä, Täydellisiä Vastauksia (Bad Vugum)

Kirvasto is a magnificent all-star beast, comprised of current members of some of Finland's finest underground rock ensembles, among them Circle, Keuhkot, Aavikko and Sweetheart. With a fondness for hypnotic repetition and a surplus of guitars and subtle electronics, the septet glides through gradually unwinding, spacious riffs that subconsciously mutate via carefully repositioned accents and the addition and subtraction of six-string trills, bubbling effects and harmonic counterpoints. A jazz-tinged, yet steady, rock-hard rhythm section keeps the spidery musical figures in constant motion, but the elliptical mega-drone is disrupted by the deliciously paranoid rants of vocalist Kake Puhuu, who sounds like he took singing lessons from Peter Lorre. An unrelenting, climaxing menace inhabits Täydellisiä..., though an unexpectedly funky and laidback jamming vibe offsets the tension. Your nervous system will have a field day.

OMAR & THE HOWLERS Swingland (Black Top)

It's rewarding when an audience finally warms up to a band that has been slugging it out on the blues circuit for years. Omar & The Howlers are a p e r f e c t example of refashioned this phenomenon, having refashioned themselves as an acclaimed jump-blues outfit with an eye on the burgeoning swing scene. This move suits their music well, as Omar has taken naturally to the persona of swinging, jiving, 1950s hepcat. There's still plenty of blues to be found on Swingland (Taj Mahal's "Going Up To The Country" stands out), but the band has adopted a more "good-rockin'-tonight" sense of aesthetics. Legendary R&B saxman David "Fathead" Newman blows his horn on several cuts, conjuring up that authentic after-hours vibe. Omar's latest is a strong album among those swing-tinged or otherwise. Here's hoping that the zoot-suit-wearing Lindy hoppers will pick up on more traditional jump-blues contenders, as a result.

weepy-eyed sentimentalitv to pissedoff menace over the course of "Letters To Peru." The song's quiet creep gives way to an > reassessed the guitar-power lessons taught by Lou Reed and Keith Richards. Leader Tom Verlaine and, to a lesser extent, axeman Richard Lloyd, helped build the mid-'70s' germinating NYC new wave/punk scene while pushing the boundaries of innovative, post-hippie jam rock. No other group has been able to match the quartet's unique guitar duels, which were especially awe-inspiring in concert. Originally released in 1982 as a ROIR cassette-only live album, The Blow-Up has been masterfullv re-edited for CD, but its 85-minute scorch still possesses the warmth and the scratchiness of an A+ audience bootleg. Lloyd and Verlaine lock horns on the epic "Little Johnny Jewel" and "Marquee Moon," which display rare, non-jazz or -blues improvised ferocity. Cracked renditions of "Knockin' On Heaven's Door" and "Satisfaction" show Television's backhanded respect for the rock establishment that the band sought to deconstruct.

TELEVISION The Blow Up (ROIR)

FLASH-BACK

A&R PICK

BLUE CHANNEL

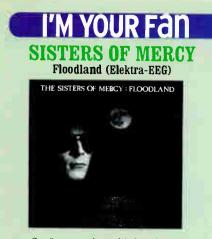

Lookin' At Life Through Dirty Glasses (One Grand) Since forming in 1992, Blue Channel has led a torrid existence. In 1998, after a year-and-ahalf-long breakup, the quintet resurrected itself, making the post-punk world a better place once again. Sometimes internal conflict and breaking-instead-of-bending can stimulate young rock bands. Blue Channel proves that point with a cat-scratch, doubleaxe attack, fevered drumming and clearly enunciated vocals, recalling some Boardcertified indie rock version of the Foo Fighters. These Jersey boys know how to rock, emanating a rowdy, twenty-something, blue-collar vibe. Lookin' At Life Through Dirty Glasses releases far more pent-up aggression than a marathon drinking session after a stressful work week. - Amy Sciarretto

Few outfits from goth rock's heyday are capable of equaling the melancholic majesty of Leeds, England's Sisters Of Mercy. The band's only human constant, Andrew Eldrich ("Doctor Avalanche," the band's drum machine, being the inhuman constant) was never photographed without his sunglasses - his shit was just too cool for sunlight. After plaving with a series of early-to-mid-'80s lineups, His Creepiness decided that life would be easier if he and his ego worked alone. The principal incarnation of the group split into three factions: founding member Gary Marx went on to form Ghostdance, and Wayne Hussey created the Mission U.K. After releasing a pseudonymous EP, Eldrich retained the Sisters moniker, and, with (or without) ex-Legal Weapon bassist Patricia Morrison, he recorded the follow-up to the "group's" 1985, rock-oriented debut fulllength, First And Last And Always. Despite the bassist's photographic presence (it's rumored that she was merely a marketing ploy), the breathtaking, brooding Floodland was largely a solo venture that caused the Sisters' focus to momentarily shift from guitars to electronics, resulting in thundering, synthetic rhythms and floating keyboards that made Eldrich's rich baritone howl even more demonic. Eldrich's abstract, yet undeniably poetic lyrics took on extra measures of drama. The album went a tad over the top at times (e.g. The New York Choral Society as a choir-cum-gang-of-Hell's-Angels on "This Corrosion"), but what could easily have been corny is now viewed as classic. I must admit that, after 12 years of repeated listens, I still have no fucking clue what Floodland is about. ("Hot metal and methadrine/I hear empire down." Sure, Andy. Whatever.) But Eldrich moaned it like he meant it. And when any track from this album is dropped at your local club's "goth revival" night, the faithful will take to the floor, writhe around in brutal bliss, and sing that corrosion like they mean it.

On May 3, Digital Hardcore Recordings will release 60 Second Wipe Out, the third full-length album by German noise-terror group Atari Teenage Riot. The record is ATR's first recorded endeavor with Nic Endo, who has been working with the band live, for more than a year. "We just tried to make it louder, faster, noisier and more powerful than any record we had ever heard before," the dancefloor demons stated in a recent press release. (Um, isn't that what ATR said about its last two albums?)...The Digital Hardcore news just doesn't stop. Last year, label head and chief noisemaker Alec Empire bought a Nintendo Gameboy with a music programming feature. About a month after the purchase, the DHR office received a DAT from Empire, containing a double album's worth of tracks composed on the portable game machine. SASHA & JOHN DIGWEED

Northern Exposure III: Expeditions (INCredible-Ultra) For Expeditions, the third release in their Northern Exposure CD series, U.K. trance/progressive house heroes Sasha & John Digweed concoct a DJ mix more akin to a live club experience. Hence, the inspired, energetic two-disc set is more upbeat than previous NE discs, weaving cosmic breaks, uplifting trance, and dark, pulsing house into an audio web designed to ensnare your ears. Despite its dancefloor-friendliness, the duo still manages to tell a powerful, emotive story — one of euphoric highs and melancholy lows, created from an intelligent arrangement of new and classic tracks. A journey well worth taking.

For Fans Of: Paul Oakenfold, Paul Van Dyk, Humate, Faithless Recommended Tracks: "Space Manoeuvres" (Stage One), "Expand The Room" (The Light), "Belfunk" (Sasha), "The Silence," (Mike Koglin), "Love Stimulation" (Humate) Contact: Mike Newman Phone: 212.343.2200 Email: newman71@aol.com Fax: 212.343.9429 Release Date: April 6; at radio now

COMMON FACTOR Dreams Of Elsewhere (Planet E)

Although Nick Calingaret (a.k.a. Common Factor) grew up in several European countries, his musical mindset disguises him as a direct descendant of Motor City innovators. Dreams Of Elsewhere, his first full-length LP, is a passionate offering made from electro soul and techno textures, and assembled with a distinctive Detroit flair. Dreams is geared to shine the spotlight not only on Calingaret, but on Detroit's premier label, Planet E Communications, as well

WEED Hard To Kill (Nettwerk)

Weed is a sweet and sultry Vancouver-based duo whose music is comprised of chilled-out, electronic funk rhythms and breathy, seductive vocals. Hard To Kill, the band's debut album, rides an ethereal atmosphere from open to close, complimenting spacey breakbeats with thin melodies and waves of gritty, gorgeous noise.

For Fans Of: Tricky/Nearly God, DJ Rap, Recommended Tracks: "Hard To Kill," "If Only U Could See," "Further Away" Contact: William Godoy Phone: 310.855.0643 Email: william@nettwerk.com Fax: 310.855.0658 Release Date: April 6; at radio now

JACK LOGAN Buzz Me In (Capricorn)

You may recall Jack Logan as the Twin/Tone signee who culled his 42-track 1994 debut, Bulk, from 600 home-recorded songs. Chock full of quirky pop gems, Bulk may have been a critic's darlin', but Logan's latest release shows the songwriter as a more mature composer who has refined his craft . Buzz Me In is a culmination of Logan's previous work, incorporating both his propensity to rock out and his skillful acoustic harmonizing in country-thick tunes like "Melancholy Girl." While Logan's clearer musical signature is welcomed, it's also good to hear in songs like "Hit Or Miss" (featuring the Sundog String Quartet) that he hasn't lost his ear for eclectic arrangements.

For Fans Of: John Stewart, Tom Petty, Dennis Brennan Recommended Tracks: "Brake For God," "Hit Or Miss," "Melancholy Girl" Contact: Jeff Cook Phone: 404.954.6600 Fax: 404.954.6681 Email: jcook@capricornrecords.com Release Date: April 19: at radio now Marketing Data: Currently touring.

COREY HARRIS Greens From The Garden (Alligator)

People were expecting great things from Corey Harris's Fish Ain't Bitin' won the 1997 W.C. Handy Award for Acoustic Blues Album, Greens meets the challenge with its invigorating mix of Delta-style blues songs turned inside out by a madcap attitude and influences ranging from reggae to ragtime.

For Fans Of: Lightnin' Hopkins, Sam McClain, John Lee Hooker Recommended Tracks: "Basehead," "Honeysuckle," "Wild West" Contact: Craig Bonell Phone: 800.348.7214 ext. 24 Fax: 773.973.2088 Email: craig@allig.com Release Date: April 12; at radio now Marketing Data: Currently touring.

FATS DOMINO Fats Is Back (Bullseye)

Antoine "Fats" Domino was one of the founding fathers of rock with numerous mid-1950s hits, but the concept of recording a cohesive album didn't take off until the mid-1960s. Wanting to stay current, Fats recorded/released this album in 1968 with horn arrangements by Randy Newman and performances by sax man King Curtis. Remarkably fresh, several tracks fit right in with the current crop of blues-rock.

POLYRHYTHM ADDICTS Rhyme Related (Nervous)

After earning respect in New York's underground circut as solo artists, Shabaam Shadeeq, Mr. Complex, and Apani B. Fly Emcee have teamed up into a hip-hop supergroup. Twisting their uncompromising lyrical exploits around DJ Spinna's smooth soundscapes and turntable cuts. The album plays like a brilliant live show as the tracks never sound over-produced, leaving enough room for the MCs to bob and weave through crisp drun snaps and subtle horn lines. The trio's tight tagteams get an extra accent from Organized Konfusion's Pharoahe Monch on the retro-styled jam "Take Me Home."

MR. SERVON Da Next Level (No Limit-Priority)

For those who still think No Limit kicks out generic artists with cookie cutter precision, a listen to Mr. Servon is in order. The Army's's smoothest soldier spins introspective tales over hypnotic tracks, then crushes with guest Big Punisher on the rowdy single "From N.Y. To N.O.

NED SUBLETTE Cowboy Rumba (Palm Pictures)

Ned Sublette is a journeyman of the New York music scene. He's a musician, he has also been a host for Afropop Worldwide radio show, and he's the co-founder of the excellent Qbadisc label, which spotlights Cuban music. Cowboy Rumba synthesizes Sublette's own heritage – born in Lubbock Texas, land of Buddy Holly, pedal steel players, and cowboy boots – with 15 years of Sublette's deep immersion in the Cuban music scene of New York. The album is a startling blend of styles that is forward thinking and deep with no less than four different bands spanning a whole host of Latin and American (i.e. country, early rock 'n' roll) styles.

For Fans Of: Los Van Van, Los Muniquitos, Cuban Gold compilations Recommended Tracks: "Ghost Riders In the Sky," "Not Fade Away," "Cowboy Rumba," "Que Electridad" Contact: Sean O'Connell Phone: 978.825.3239 Fax: 978.825.3239 Email: promo@rykodisc.com Release Date: March 30

FRANCISCO AGUABELLA Agua De Cuba (Cubop)

For more than 40 years, Francisco Aguabella has been a certified legend in the world of Cuban music. Agua De Cuba, however,⁹ is remarkably only the percussionist's fourth album as leader in a storied career stretching back to well before Aguabella immigrated from Cuba to New York in 1957. This album is ambitious, hard-hitting, unstoppable Latin music, as pure and undiluted as it gets. Highly recommended.

For Fans Of: Tito Puente, Dizzy Gillespie, Eddie Palmieri Recommended Tracks: "Dajomy Blue," "Sentimento De Un Latino," "Agua De Cuba," "Millestones," "Manteca" Contact: Andrew Jervis Phone: 415.864.8448 Fax: 415.864.8449 Email: andrew@ubuiquityrecords.com Release Date: March 30

NORMAN HEADMAN'S TROPIQUE One Step Closer (Arabesoue)

Large-ensemble, conga- and timbale-driven Latin jazz bands have flourished in the '90s. Artists such as Steve Berrios and the Fort Apache Band have truly breathed new life into the old charts, which is also where Norman Headman's Tropique enters the picture. Headman, a first-call session percussionist for rock and soul artists, here fronts a tight Latin ensemble featuring the great Talib Kibwe on alto and soprano saxophones and special guest Hilton Ruiz on piano.

be with us, but he was certainly anye in 1977 when he stepped into the studio alone to record Blue Boyé (steve@screwgunrecords.com). As a founding member of the World Saxophone Quartet and as a wellknown leader in his own right, Hemphill's music has influenced countless younger musicians, including Tim Berne, who has reissued this double CD on his own Screwgun label. Featuring Hemphill on alto and soprano saxophones, flute and occasionally percussion, the songs have a soulful, orchestral-like quality that keeps in close touch with the blues. Horns weave in and out to play melody and counter-melody in a joyful musical dance that lends real insight into the mind of this musical genius...Orange Then Blue's Hold The Elevator (GM; gmr@gmrecordings.com) manages to do a lot of different things well. This should come as no surprise, given the group's top-notch lineup, which includes Chris Speed, Andy Laster, Tom Varner and Andrew D'Angelo. The album, which was culled from a series of live shows in 199495, mixes Ellington-like big band dynamics, Eastern folk melodies and downtown soloing in a setting that's both tasteful and electric...Bassist Charlie Haden's daughter, Petra Haden, is a excellent violinist that can be heard on both rock and experimental projects. On Belle Neurox (Win; winrecords@aol.com), Haden teams up with accordionist Miss Murgatroid to present their West Coast version of downtown experi-mentalism. Both folky and abstract, Belle Neurox is succeeds on its moody, evocative melodies and lovely stylistic textures. — Tad Hendrickson

JASON MORAN

Soundtrack To Human Motion (Blue Note)

Jason Moran is one of the most eloquent and elegant young pianists. His McCoy Tyner-ish melodic flair and sophistication that often sounds far beyond his years. His influences clearly range beyond the jazz realm, frequently incorporating strokes of Ravel and soft, Chopin-like chords. Where others might play a large cluster of notes or a big, harmonically splashy chord, Moran illustrates in a simple, almost minimal line or texture that speaks volumes. Of particular note are are the later tracks, which feature Moran in a mellow context alongside fellow Blue Note compatriot, vibist Sterfon Harris.

WHAT WE LIVE Quintet For A Day (New World)

There is something very significant happening in the music of San Francisco Bay Area-based trio What We Live. While much "improvised music" tends to dissolve into apocalyptic, wrenching blowing sessions, the music of What We Live is sensitive, flowing, and challenging. On Quintet For A Day the basic trio (Lisle Ellis, Larry Ochs, Donald Robinson) has been expanded to include stellar guest performances by trumpeters Dave Douglas and Wadada Leo Smith (heard in the right and left channels, respectively).

PONGA

Ponga (Loose Groove)

Wayne Horvitz and Bobby Previte have released projects with startling regularity, leaping from genre to genre within the realm of jazz as they do. Collaborating as Ponga, the group explores electronic drum 'n' bass textures in a jazz setting, an ambitious fusion when held in these capable musical hands.

INDECISION

To Live And Die In New York City (Exit-Wreck-Age)

According to this album's liner notes (penned by the Brooklyn bombers Indecision themselves), hardcore is "not just about 'the mosh." Indeed, NYHC is also about positive youth crews and social messages running the gamut from veganism to straight-edge. This hardcore quintet's skill in shoveling out heaps of moshable grooves is not to be overlooked, though. To Live And Die...'s three new tunes and re-recordings of old Indecision favorites is the band's first release with new frontman Artie Philie, and it will flatten you like a ten-ton hammer. Genre mainstay Don Fury produced the album, giving it his signature over-the-top explosiveness. Expect to be deafened by Indecision again soon; the band recently inked a deal with MIA Records.

For Fans Of: Shai Hulud, Milhouse, Earth Crisis, Hatebreed, All Out War Recommended Tracks: "Hello Cruel World," "Purgatory," "Shadowboxing," "Dead" Contact: Amber Phone: 212.260.5114 Fax: 212.388.9778 Email: exit@wreck-age.com Release Date: March 2; Add Date: May 4

FATSO JETSON Toasted (Bong Load)

The Southwest's desert has supplied the Loud Rock world with a motherload of dusty and dirty pot-rock bands, from the genre-defining Kvuss to current heirs to the throne Queens Of The Stone Age. The hazy Fatso Jetson fits in quite nicely among such big names. Toasted houses standard fuzzy guitar tones, dense grooves, and guitar jams that span a mile. The band generates quite a bit of heat on its own, but singer Mario Lalli's hot and sexy vocal stylings turn the thermostat up yet another notch.

For Fans Of: Kyuss, Fu Manchu, Queens Of The Stone Age, pre-Powertrip Monster Magnet Recommended Tracks: "Magma," "I've Got The Shame," "Swollen Offering" Contact: Bambino, Jason, Dana (McGathy) Phone: 888.744.8636 Fax: 212.924.7831 Email: edge@inch.com Release Date: April 6; at radio now

TERRA FIRMA Terra Firma (The Music Cartel)

Terra Firma is a retro-sounding quartet that revisits the hard rockin' sound of vintage Black Sabbath. While the band's fundamental style has roots in both classic and stoner rock, it can't be pigeonholed as merely an amalgam of influences, nor would it be a stretch to deem it completely arena-worthy.

For Fans Of: Black Sabbath, Sheavy, Soil Recommended Tracks: "...And The 8th Seal Was Hers," "Goatburn," "Spiral Guru," "Fifth Whee!" Contact: Bambino, Jason, Dana (McGathy) Phone: 888.744.8636 Fax: 212.924.7831 Email: edge@inch.com Release Date: April 6; at radio now

The jazz department at Columbia Records has signed bassist/multi-instrumentalist Richard Bona. The musician — who was born in Cameroon and moved to New York, via Paris, in 1996 has played with Joe Zawinul, Billy Cobham, Randy Brecker, Michael Brecker, Harry Belafonte and numerous other notables. Bona's Columbia debut will be issued in May. The record blends the sound of the artist's African homeland with the feel of Western jazz...The 27th International Association Of Jazz Educators (IAJE) will meet in New Orleans, from January 12-15. The event is expected to attract more than 6,000 professionals and fans...Mosiac Records has released the complete works by pioneering violinist Stuff Smith. This set, which collects nine Verve Records sessions recorded between October 1956 and October 1959, was produced by Verve label head Norman Granz. The anthology also boasts three unreleased songs from a 1964 session with fellow violinist Ray Nance...Jazz At Lincoln Center has announced the 20 finalist for its fourth annual Essentially Ellington High School Band Competition and Jazz Festival. Picked from a pool of more than 1,300 bands hailing from all 50 states, the chosen few will compete for $50,000 in prizes. Toshiko Akkiyoshi, Chuck Israels, Paquito D'Rivera and musical director Wynton Marsalis will act as judges for the event, which will take place from April 30-May 1. Good luck to everyone involved...On May 18, guitarist Bill Frisell will debut his new group at New York's hallowed Village Vanguard. Frisell recorded his forthcoming Good Dog, Happy Man with bassist Victor Krauss, drummer Jim Keltner and keyboardist Wayne Horvitz, but the guitarist's touring band will consist of bassist Tony Scherr and drummer Kenny Wollesen...Vocalist Joe Williams died on Monday, March 29. He was 80. See Top Stories for details.

kicked into "Raining Blood," the packed, sardine-can-like floor recalled a battle scene in Braveheart. Headbangers draped in faded Reign In Blood concert tees were holding on for dear life. The band's very own two-hour reign turned the venue into a chaotic, thrash paradise. The experience was empowering enough to make headbangers ask, "Metallica who?"...Polar opposites Kid Rock and Staind recently teamed up at the Lower East Side's Bowery Ballroom. Staind looked at-ease while it unleashed its moody heaviness on a sizable crowd. The Kid's hedonistic set incited roof-raisin' and boogiein'. The scantily clad dancer onstage was rumored to be porn star Midori, Jody Watley's sister and Mr. Rock's own paramour. Biohazard's Evan Seinfeld was also in the house. Only the face of H2O's lovable Toby Morse is more visible in the NYC loud rock scene...Pro-Pain and Hatebreed recently tore apart Philadelphia's Trocadero. Material from Pro-Pain's Act Of God went over well, especially the chunky "In For The Kill." The bald-core bruise-band also made use of the classics "Foul Taste Of Freedom" and "Make War (Not Love)." Hatebreed simply annihilated everybody. 'Nuff said...Radio whiz Dustin Goldfarb has left Concrete. Best of luck to him in his future endeavors. Meanwhile, congrats to Eric Cole, who has been promoted to director of Concrete's Radio Department. And props to Gary Susalis, who will fill Cole's former position...The Deftones recently recovered some equipment that was stolen from them. The goods turned up in a Michigan pawnshop....Speaking of the Sacremento soul-crushers, guitarist Stephen Carpenter will direct a video for a song from Will Haven's forthcoming WHVN. The album includes renditions of "If She Could Speak," "Jaworski," and "Slopez." This highly anticipated release should arrive in stores by September ... Vision Of Disorder and Madball have amicably parted ways with Roadrunner. These high-quality hardcore bands won't be unsigned for long...CMJ extends its heartfelt condolences to the friends and family of Morgion keyboardist Brandon Livingston. The musician passed away on March 29. The group is seeking a serious replacement who is ready to tour, and willing to relocate to Orange County, California. The Continued Success of Sleater-Kinney

FEATURE BY AMY SCIARRETTO

"The important thing is never to make the same record twice," asserts Sleater-Kinney vocalist and guitarist Corin Tucker, in an even-toned speaking voice that contrasts her twitchy, on-record vibrato.

Tucker is referring to The Hot Rock, the fourth album by the Pacific Northwestbased, all-female trio. "We have to keep pushing in order to stay interested in making music together," she continues, "We want to have longevity as a band, and we have to keep challenging ourselves and doing things that we find interesting." Sleater-Kinney, which is completed by guitarist/vocalist Carrie Brownstein and Quasi drummer Janet Weiss, has cultivated a more feminine, less jagged edge for its latest effort, which softens the hallmark power-punk guitar base of the band's 1997 landmark, Dig Me Out. Rather than find comfort in the parameters of cookie-cutter, formulaic recording, Sleater-Kinney is diversifying, experimenting and maturing.

Tucker and Brownstein formed the band over more than five years ago. With the addition of the phenomenal Weiss on Dig Me Out, the pair perfected an edgy, critical-

Heavens To Betsy and Excuse 17, has succeeded admirably and ambitiously in skirting artistic redundancy. Such aspirations have resulted in a win-win situation for fans and band alike, proving that Sleater-Kinney knows how to prioritize - the music outweighs both the potential for commercialism and any implicit political messages. If anything, these women are searching for new methods of articulation. Tucker says, "The songs we were writing up until the time we recorded were different and intricate. They called for a different production and procedure. We booked three weeks in the studio, which is a long time for us. Dig Me Out was made and mixed in seven days."

Instead of banging out and hastily completing The Hot Rock, the ladies sent demos to producer Roger Moutenout (Yo La Tengo), who they recruited for the studio work. Tucker explains how they "talked about doing different things. We expanded the guitar sounds so they were diverse throughout the songs. We wanted everything to be a new sound experiment. I worked on my vocal parts...there were a lot more voices I experimented with."

Sleater-Kinney's approach, though grown-up, remains as distinctive as a used it as a learning process about the record industry. The best place for us to be is on Kill Rock Stars because we wanted to have our own game plan for making music, how our records are sold and how we tour." Tucker affirms that "[we're] really happy we're on Kill Rock Stars," given the music industry's currently unstable state, rife with corporate mergers and uncertain fates.

In March, in the midst of its current U.S. tour, the trio was temporarily derailed by Brownstein's recurring back injury, which she aggravated lifting her amp. The pain worsened when Sleater-Kinney was driving across Texas. After performing a mere five songs in New Orleans, Brownstein was forced off the stage and into the emergency room. She's currently recovering and undergoing physical therapy. The band will resume its tour in May.

Despite this minor setback, Sleater-Kinney seems to have it all: solid musical kinetics, deep friendships, something poignant to say, and a white-hot new album embraced by an eager and expanding fanbase. "I love it," Tucker says, for lack of a better explaination. "It's really fun."

ly acclaimed, girl-fueled rock, born out of instrumental and interpersonal tension. "It developed over time," Tucker says. "Our styles have become more solid. We're more relaxed as a band. The music [on The Hot Rock] seems less forced. We have a common language we can speak." The Hot Rock cuts back on some of Sleater-Kinney's nascent searing pace and boisterous attitude, but the record is hardly a sellout. Think of it as a refinement.

This post-riot grrrl outfit, which sprung from the talent pool of femme-punks strand of DNA. Tucker's nervous yelp layered over Brownstein's smooth singing creates lush harmonies and swelling tension, which lends unsettling qualities to the newly beautified melodies. The band's huge grass-roots following — comprised of an equal number of both girls and boys has piqued the interest of major labels, though Sleater-Kinney hasn't strayed from noted Seattle indie Kill Rock Stars. "After Call The Doctor and Dig Me Out, we talked to a lot of major labels and seriously considered signing," Tucker reflects. "But we

INDUSTRY PROFILE

Interview by Glen Sansone

In the past year, Virgin Records has had great success marketing and promoting breakthrough artists such as Placebo and the much-lauded Gomez. Elizabeth Gruenewald, a member of the label's College Marketing team, took some time to talk with us and reflect on the label's past success in the everchanging marketplace.

What other music industry experience have you had?

I started out working at Power 92 in Phoenix, Arizona, and then I worked for KZZP. I worked for the Arizona State college radio station KASR for four years.

Do you feel there is still as much emphasis placed on developing artists at the college level as there used to be?

I worked at a college radio station for four years, so [I know] it's debatable. But if you look at the people who work at the college radio stations, those are the future program directors of commercial stations...so I think [college radio] is a formidable tool. It does play a significant role, and so does college and street marketing. They're all pieces of a puzzle, and when you work them together, they really can make an impact.

ELIZABETH GRUENEWALD

National College Marketing/Promotions Manager, Virgin Records

"They should take some of the money they spend on expensive parties and bullshit, and spend it on people who know what they're talking about when it comes to MP3."

How closely do you work with traditional retail outlets?

On a local level, there are a variety of people that go in and deal with the retail stores. The college reps around various campuses work closely with mom and pop stores and a couple of chains here and there. Right now, we're talking with Sam Goody and Musicland about doing something that would involve a fall campus contest where particular artists would come and perform on campuses.

What did you do to develop Gomez so quickly and get the band so much attention?

Actually Bob Frymire (VP of Promotions Operations), Newman (ex-National Promotions Manager), and Stephanie Seymour (National Video Promotions Manager), had contacts with the College Television Network, and they had a fall campaign for Gomez. The videos were shown on the College Television Network's kiosks that they have on campuses. They have a magazine as well [Link] that goes out on all the campuses and we included a contest ad that mentioned Gomez — people were able to enter to win a trip to Jamaica. We had sponsors like Jamaica Air and Compaq computers. It was a fullblown campaign to get the music out there to college kids. CMJ has been great in terms of exposure, and the reception on the college level has been great. I disagree with all those people out there that say college [radio] isn't important. I think it is such an important facet of what goes on in the bigger picture, and you need to have that there. You need to know what's doing well at college; look at all the different acts that broke at college. [College radio] serves a purpose, a purpose that I don't think anyone can deny.

How has the reaction been to the use of Gomez's music in the Philips commercials? Everyone has been very receptive to it, but the problem is that the song [a rendition of the Beatles' "Getting Better"] isn't on the album and they don't want the song released. We had talked about belly-banding [packaging two CDs together] it and putting it on the current record to help with sales, but the band chose not to do that. They do not want to be known as a cover band or "that band from the Philips commercial." They're working on their second album.

What new things are you working on right now?

Manic Street Preachers, Skunk Anansie.

Obviously Blur is out there.

How did you approach working this new Blur record, which is so different from the band's past releases?

It's different, but if you look at all the Blur fans, the core base will love Blur no matter what they do. They're such a great band when it comes to always moving on and staying one step ahead of everyone else. The people who love Blur love them for that reason.

How has the Internet been beneficial in helping you do your job?

Right now, we're dealing with College Club (www.collegeclub.com) and I've been approached by a number of marketing companies that just do the Internet thing. We had a contest about a year ago that just focused on the Virgin Internet site, driving people to the site, which drove them to Music Boulevard where they could buy records. When you look at the people who are on the Internet right now — the college kids those are the people we want to market to, and we certainly want to do it in a way that makes the most sense.

What are your feelings about MP3 and digital distribution?

My opinion is that everyone in the music industry and the bulk of the decision makers are so scared and worried about it. Instead of being worried, they should take some of the money they spend on expensive parties and bullshit, and spend it on people who know what they're talking about when it comes to MP3 so they can sit down, research it and figure out how we can be better off. It's not going to kill off the music industry.

The music industry seems reluctant to change with the times and embrace new technology.

Right, but are you going to let everything change and be the last person to come to the table? Look at what can be lost by not being one of the people at the forefront of the change.

What have you been listening to lately?

Lately, John Coltrane, the box set [The Classic Quartet: Complete Impulse! Studio Recordings]. Because of the stress from [doing] both jobs [marketing and promotions], I come in the morning, the incense is burning, Coltrane is on almost all day long.
