Gavin Says 'Moved On' From College Radio

On April 23, industry trade magazine Gavin published its final issue containing a College radio section. In a letter to the industry, Gavin's Editor-In-Chief Reed Bunzel cited the company's new alliance with airplay monitoring service Mediabase as having "a profound effect on [Gavin's] reporting process." Bunzel also noted the departure of the College section's Editor Vinnie Esparza, which "only hasten[ed] the process [of discontinuing the section]." Esparza has left his position as the section editor to work for San Francisco-based label Six Degrees.

Since 1993, Gavin, which is owned by Miller Freeman Entertainment Group, has published a Top 50 College radio airplay chart, based on the reported airplay of a select group of college radio stations. On average, the chart was compiled from a panel of 75-100 stations. Seventy-four stations contributed to the section's final chart. Last year, the section moved to a spins-based reporting system, a methodology typically reserved for the electronically monitored (Continued on page 17)

Morissette, Amos To Tour With MP3

By Ronald Warren Deutsch

The upcoming joint tour between Alanis Morissette and Tori Amos, dubbed the 5 1/2 Weeks Tour, will be cosponsored by MP3.com and Best Buy. The controversial MP3.com Web site with a high profile summer tour promises to add fuel to the ongoing digital distribution debate. Although MP3.com only deals with legal MP3 music files, the proliferation of illegal MP3's on the Internet and MP3.com's founder/chairman Michael Robertson's outspoken statements for open (as in nonproprietary) standards stands in direct defiance of the RIAA, which desires security and control in this new (Continued on page 17) format.

FREESTYLERS We Rock Hard (Freskanova-Mammoth)

II Throughout music history, many a British recording artist has plundered the American songbook. If you'll recall, the Beatles and the Stones learned their schticks and got their hits by co-opting the works of Chuck Berry and Howlin' Wolf. London's Freestylers appropriate U.S. musical idioms with similar finesse. On their impressive debut album, they hang in a B-boy stance, exhibiting the authority of kids who grew up in an apartment above a record shop in the South Bronx. While many of the Freestylers' U.K. clubland contemporaries have expanded the parameters of hiphop, 'Stylers masterminds Aston Harvey and Matt Cantor steadfastly preserve the big-beat movement's early-'80s, electro-funk roots. Fueled by hearty samples from the Wild Style soundtrack, Ultramagnetic MC's and Public Enemy, the Freestylers' kinetic breakbeats take rave culture on a joyride through the graffitistained 'hoods and alleyways of rap culture's origins. Along the way, the group takes detours into battlerhyming, dancehall toasting and jungle. Now where did we put that old boombox? - Ron Hart

GUS GUS This Is Normal (4AD-WB)

Despite heaps of press and a closely scrutinized debut, Iceland's Gus Gus still remains somewhat of an enigma. Exactly how did a nine-member think-tank of multimedia artists-turned-musicians twist electro-pop into such an erratic and original form? This Is Normal, the band's follow-up to the 1997's wellreceived Polydistortion, marks a significant step forward for this mysterious combo. While the first album displayed a wealth of potential, its few standout tracks made the majority of the record sound like unfinished filler. This time around, the group has refined itself to construct a well-rounded, more consistent sophomore fulllength. Gus Gus wraps serene pop melodies and soulful vocals around a constantly shifting assortment of groovy house rhythms ("Acid Milk"), dense trip-hop ("Teenage Sensation"), ethereal ballads ("Superhuman") and orchestral overtures ("Bambi"). The group wields subtlety like a weapon; many of the cuts' production and songwriting — save for the inmediately gripping "Ladyshave" - fail to impress on first listen. But with repeated plays, This Is Normal will seep into your system like a hypnotic fever dream.

THE ESSENTIAL RELEASES OF THE WEEK

DANIELLE HOWLE Catalog (Kill Rock Stars)

Danielle Howle's first solo studio album (minus her band, the Tantrums) admirably documents one of America's best working songwriters. Crackling with character and insight, Howle's oddball imagination recalls that of the most evocative and comic Southern authors. The willowy South Carolinian sings like a running faucet, spouting twisted, folksy tunes full of such loaded lines as "What was I before the world/tore the head off this dollish girl?" (from "Lullaby") and "I was not a social person/but I never missed a thing" (from "Trees"). The latter song's themes of tree-climbing and solitude flood you with childhood memories so rich that you'd swear you can feel the bark on your bare feet and view the whole town from the top branch. Aside from a few modest overdubs, Catalog runs on the simple design of Howles's voice and a lone, uncluttered acoustic guitar. Howle's lilt can play out prettily, as it does on the torchy, romantic "Moon," or it can shoot out sparks of emotion, as it does on the steadily chugging "Old." Regardless, you'll be compelled to feel the sweet sting of her hickory switch of a voice.

ANGELS OF LIGHT New Mother (Young God)

Fi Michael Gira makes every record as if it were his last. Throughout his 15-year career as the leader of Swans, he threw himself, headfirst, into music of almost unbearable intensity. New Mother, the debut by his new, atypically song-oriented project Angels Of Light, maintains the power and honesty of his back catalog, but the drama and enormity have been filtered through time-worn introspection and an appreciation of subtle contrasts. Free of his retired band's oppressive tendencies, Gira the balladeer is quietly smashing preconceptions, using his superhuman strength to write beautiful, psychologically disturbing songs that draw on pastoral, American musical forms. Backed by a cast of familiar associates, the singer conveys arresting images in a wizened, but still robust voice. His sensuous, occasionally violent lyrics hearken back to such literary greats as Jean Genet, Antonin Artuad and Charles Baudelaire, while the primarily acoustic, alternately simple and baroque arrangements evoke both sunny fields and dank cabarets. While many of mid-period Swans' attempts at levity sounded forced and gothic, the Angels Of Light shine naturally, with poise and stunning clarity. - Jordan N. Mamone

The benefit concert will take place on May 28, at the Blockbuster Pavilion, in Charlotte. The event will feature performances by Ben Folds Five, Fountains Of Wayne, Dovetail Joint, 2 Skinnee J's and Jimmy Eat World.

The organizers of the event are asking attendees to bring clothing and/or non-perishable foods, which will be collected and distributed as part of the Kosovo relief effort. A portion of the concert's proceeds will be donated to a relief fund for

KMFDM, Marilyn Manson, RIAA Issue Statements In Wake Of High School Shootings

The recent tragedy at Columbine High School in Colorado, rekindled a national debate over gun violence and, once more, has caused the public to question the influence on violent behavior. The mainstream media has widely publicized the fact that the teenage killers, Eric Harris and Dylan Klebold, were fans of industrial music, the "Goth look" and artists such as Marilyn Manson and KMFDM. Lyrics from the recently disbanded industrial act KMFDM were also found on a Web site, posted by a member of the so-called "Trenchcoat Mafia."

KMFDM's Sascha K. responded to his band's association with the tragedy by saying, "KMFDM are an artform, not a political party. From the beginning, our music has been a statement against war, oppression, fascism and violence against others. While some of the former band members are German as reported in the media, none of us condone any Nazi beliefs whatsoever."

In response to the publicity Manson's music received in the wake of the shootings, Manson himself has issued the following statement: "It's tragic and disgusting anytime young people's lives are taken in an act of senseless violence. My condolences go out to the students and their families." Marilyn Manson was scheduled to perform in Denver on April 30, at a birthday celebration for the radio station KBPI, but he cancelled due to the impact the shootings had on the area.

Recording Industry Association of America (RIAA) president and CEO Hillary Rosen also spoke out against the media's attempt to link music to violent behavior by stating, "In the coming days, we may find out more about the cause of this tragedy, but we do know that music does not drive teenagers to violent despair, nor does it put guns and weapons in the hands of children. It's too easy to make music a scapegoat."

Pavement Site To Feature Live MP3 Tracks

Pavement's recently lauched www.pavementtheband.com will soon feature free downloadable MP3 files of live tracks by the band. Pavement guitarist Scott Kennberg told SonicNet that the site might also feature live recordings from its upcoming tour.

Matador Records will release the critically acclaimed indie rockers' fifth album, Terror Twighlight, on June 8.

Former Management Sues Hole

Hole's former management company Q-Prime has filed a breach-of -contract suit against the band in a New York District Court. Q-Prime claims that Hole abruptly and offensively terminated its management contract, and that the group is denying the company appropriate pay for services rendered. Q-Prime claims Hole owes the company $180,000 in acrued compesation. Q-Prime is also seeking compensation for the remainder of the band's contract plus an additional ten years.

The Billboard Bulletin reported that O-Prime's suit stated that Hole had "flourished" under the guidance of the company, and that Hole terminated the relationship and future management payments "without justification" after the band "set forth vague, unsubstantiated and untrue claims of 'breaches' by Q-Prime."

Ani DiFranco Announces Summer Tour Dates

Singer-songwriter Ani DiFranco has announced the first nine dates of her upcoming summer tour. She will start her summer schedule on June 14, in Vienna, Virginia, after which will remain in the Northeastern region of the U.S. and Canada, stopping in Baltimore, Philadelphia, New York, Buffalo and Toronto, with more dates to follow. DiFranco also announced that saxophonist Maceo Parker, formerly of Parliament and Funkadelic, will be her opening act.

DiFranco is touring in support of her latest album, Up Up Up Up Up Up Up (Righteous Babe). She can also be heard on the upcoming collaboration, Fellow Workers (Righteous Babe), on which she plays with singer/storyteller Utah Phillips.

More Acts Added To Woodstock Lineup

Having announced a lineup that ranges from Limp Bizkit to Willie Nelson, organizers of this summer's Woodstock '99 festival have added Wyclef Jean & The Refugee Allstars, Canada's Our Lady Peace, soul/funk artist Jamiroquai and former Grateful Dead drummer Mickey Hart's Planet Drum percussion ensemble to the list of performers.

Wu-Tang Coming To PlayStation; ODB's Legal Woes Continue

It was only a matter of time before the Wu-Tang Clan and its secret Shaolin super powers were incorporated into a video game. Activision will release Wu-Tang: Shaolin Style, an arena-based martial arts video game, just in time for the holiday shopping frenzy. In the game, each member of the Clan possesses a special power or weapon. RZA wields two swords, GZA swings blades from a chain, Method Man boasts a sledgehammer and Ol' Dirty Bastard wields, yes, a jug of alcohol. Not to be outdone, Inspectah Deck's middle finger contains his secret powers. The game will also feature three exclusive new cuts by the mighty Wu.

In other Wu-Tang news, Ol' Dirty Bastard recently faced a series of court dates in Los Angeles for three separate felony charges. a A Compton Superior Court dropped charges that ODB (a.k.a. Russell Jones) made terrorist threats to his son's mother; witness testimony conflicted with police reports. ODB also faced charges at a hearing in L.A., for wearing a bulletproof vest (illegal for convicted felons in California). Additionally, the rapper failed to appear at a pretrial conference in Santa Monica, where he faced felony charges that he threatened to shoot staff and patrons at Hollywood's House Of Blues nightclub.

ODB still faces charges in New York of illegally parking his Range Rover in the borough of Brooklyn, while allegedly carrying a small amount of crack cocaine and a suspended driver's license.

Mase Retires From Rap To Follow God's Calling

Twenty-year-old, multi-platinum rapper Mase is retiring from music to follow the call of God. Mase, whose real name is Mason Betha, made his mark on the rap landscape with his 1997 album Harlem World, and on collaborations with Puff Daddy, Mariah Carey, Brandy and the late Notorious B.I.G.

In a statement, Mase, who performs in the group Harlem World with his younger sister Stase, announced his departure from the hip-hop nation. While he will give speaking engagements to promote his upcoming effort Double Up, due out June 15 on Bad Boy Entertainment, he will no longer perform live shows.

The Harlem-raised rapper plans to devote his time to charitable endeavors, such as helping inner city kids. Manager Karen Levy said that Mase showed no hesitation in his decision, though he remains quite uncertain about his future.

Skip Spence Dies Of Lung Cancer

Skip Spence, 52, an original member of Jefferson Airplane and founder of Moby Grape, died of lung cancer on April 16, in Santa Cruz, California. Born Alexander Lee Spence, he began his musical career as the drummer of Jefferson Airplane, before he left in 1966 to form Moby Grape, for which he played guitar.

Spence, who had spent many years battling alcoholism, schizophrenia and homelessness, passed away just before the release of More Oar, a Spense tribute album that features Beck, Robert Plant, Tom Waits and members of R.E.M. Spence released the cult classic solo album, Oar, in 1968. A copy of More Oar was playing in Spence's hospital room during his final hours.

Residents' Tour Stalls

Concert promoters in both Berkeley and Sacramento, California, abruptly cancelled the April 20 and 21 scheduled performances by the Residents, who are currently on a 20-date U.S. tour in support of their latest album, Wormwood: Curious Stories From The Bible.

The promoters claim that the shows were cancelled due to slow ticket sales, though the tour, which began on April 1 in Boston, has been met with critical acclaim and large audiences. The band suspects that the promoters cancelled the shows because of the album's subject matter, which touches on the darker aspects of the Bible. Residents' spokesman Hardy Fox said, "The Bible is a more complex work than what people imagine. The Bible is one of the darkest books ever written." The Residents also faced resistance at Boston's Copley Theater, where protestors distributed leaflets that criticized the band's unorthodox examination of the book.

CARTIST SPOTLICHT

Interview by Glen Sansone

Shannon Wright is the former frontperson of the now-defunct Crowsdell. After having dealt with both the highs and lows associated with the music industry, she recovered from the break-up of her band and set out on a solo career. Quarterstick Records recently released her debut, Flight Safety, which reveals an increasingly dark, introspective side of her songwriting craft.

CMJ: Is the mood and tone of Flight Safety based on your music business experiences?

Yeah, I think they were born out of just letting go of a big thing in my life. Crowsdell was the only band I was ever in, and I put a lot of work into that band. I've been friends with the people in that band since high school. It [marks] a big transitional period for me; I was writing like crazy not really wanting to — I was trying to fight it.

How do you see your songwriting style changing?

I don't think the next record I do will sound anything like Flight Safety. There are so many things I want to do musically. I think [Flight Safety] is the kind of record that I've always wanted to make for a long time. I just want to make music naturally; I've never been a stylist with music — I'm so ignorant, my brain doesn't work that way.

How do you feel about the music press? What did you think the first time you were compared to another artist?

It sucked. I was getting crazy comparisons. I was being compared to every female singer you could think of. I was being compared to Stevie Nicks, all the way to Edie Brickell. I wasn't influenced by any of those people. The Feelies — really rhythmic bands influenced me. I was never into Natalie Merchant. Not saying she's horrible, but with those comparisons I felt, 'God, they're really not getting this.'

Stone Temple Pilots Return To Studio, Plan Summer Release

The oft-beleaguered singer Scott Weiland recently reunited with his former band Stone Temple Pilots and the group began work on its first album since 1996's Tiny Music... Songe From The Vation

Songs From The Vatican Gift Shop.

Following STP's breakup in 1997, brothers Robert and Dean DeLeo, along with drummer Eric Kretz, formed the band Talk Show, with vocalist Dave Coutts. The band released one album. Weiland released his solo album 12 Bar Blues in 1998.

The rockers have recruited Brendan O'Brien — who produced all three of STP's previous albums — to produce the still-untitled album, which Atlantic Records will release this summer.

Elvis Costello To Tour U.S.

Mercury Records has announced that Elvis Costello will be touring the U.S. from the end of May through June. The 44-yearold Costello is currently on tour in Europe. He will be making his way to North America for a May 21 date in Calgary, Alberta, which precedes the American leg of his tour, which begins on May 26, in Seattle.

Costello has not played in the U.S. since his performances with Burt Bacharach last October, in support of their collaboration Painted From Memory. Costello will perform in San Francisco (June 5), Chicago (June 12), Boston (June 19) and New York (June 26; as part of the Guinness Fleadh).

Pernice Plans Sophomore Album

The second album by ex-Scud Mountain Boys frontman Joe Pernice is expected to be released on September 21. The followup to last year's Overcome By Happiness (reviewed in CMJ New Music Report issue #570), the album is currently titled Joe Pernice Presents...Chappaquiddick Skyline. The work will be credited to Joe Pernice, rather than the Pernice Brothers.

Happy Mondays Play Comeback Shows To Aid Kosovar Refugees

Manchester's Happy Mondays are reuniting to perform a series of shows to raise money for Kosovar refugees. Instead of donating money from ticket sales to the cause, the band is charging everyone on the band's guest list a minimum of five pounds. All the proceeds will go to the Manchester Evening News fund for Kosovo.

Shaun Ryder claims that there are at least 100 people on each show's guest list. In other Mondays news, the band went to Birmingham to rehearse for more upcoming shows. Ryder commented that the Mondays are getting along with their new singer, Nuts. The band sold out its first comeback gig on April 21, at Hereford Leisure Centre. The Happy Mondays play at the V99 Festival, at Staffordshire Weston Park, and at Chelmsford Hylands Park, on August 21 and 22.

Charlatans Working On New Album

The Charlatans are busy working on their first album since 1997's critically acclaimed Tellin' Stories. The band's still untitled sixth album is being recorded in the U.K. group's own newly constructed Big Mushroom studios in Northwich, Cheshire. The album will be mixed at Jimi Hendrix's Electric Ladyland studios in New York.

The album will feature new keyboardist Tony Rogers, who replaced original keyboardist Rob Collins after Collins died in a 1996 car crash. The band will debut songs from the new album during appearances at the Reading and Leeds 99 festivals, in August. The recording is expected to be released in the U.S. by the end of the year.

Recordnews

The Dark Beloved Cloud label has released a new collection of tunes by Chris Knox, New Zealand's favorite indie-rock son. Almost is a 10-track compendium of songs that almost appeared on Knox's various releases. The tracks, written between 1989 and 1995, have been compiled into a sort of "greatest outtakes" record. Knox's liner notes explain that the tunes are almost-live recordings, as well. The Tall Dwarfs leader recorded them at home, on an eight-track, in March of 1998. To boot, the record is almost — but not quite -a full-length release, as many of the tunes are quite short in length. And don't miss such cheeky highlights as "Maxillofacial Homograft," "Don't Worry, B Major" and "The Emperor's New Status.'

If ever you've ever doubted Athens, Georgia's status as an indie-rock mecca, we would like to take the time to remind you of such age-old CMJ favorites as R.E.M., the B-52's, Pylon, Neutral Milk Hotel and the Olivia Tremor Control. Athens seems pretty sure of itself, though. Every year, at a music festival called the Athfest, our favorite college town takes the time to celebrate its local pool of talent. Ghostmeat Records has released a CD to accompany the forthcoming 1999 edition of the summer weekend event. Athfest 99 contains 18 tracks by 18 different up-and-coming bands, among them Jucifer, Hayride, the Lures, Jack Logan and Wunderkind. Athfest 1999 will occur from June 24-27. For more information, visit www.athfest.com.

As Plaid, Ed Handley and Andy Turner have made a name for themselves as purveyors of smartly melodic techno. Which is why they were invited to perform live on the BBC's world-famous John

Mordam, the San Francisco-based independent distribution company, recently serviced a promo-only, double-CD sampler, not surprisingly entilted Mordam 1999 Sampler. The collection boasts a diverse lineup of artists, including GoGoGoAirheart, Jets To Brazil, the Hi-Fives, the Bomboras and Rainer Maria. These bands record for an equally diverse list of Mordam-affiliated labels, including Polyvinyl, Jade Tree, Vermiform, Man's Ruin, Lookout! and Dionysus.

James Brown is the King, and before you start thinking that we mean the king of soul, think again. We're actually referring to James Brown, the postman from Belfast, Section coordinated by Kelso Jacks Ireland. He's an Elvis tribute act of sorts. On his debut album Gravelands (Ark 21), This King plays Presley-styled versions of popular songs. Enjoy novelty versions of hits made famous by Nirvana, Jimi Hendrix, Bob Marley, and, yes, even Elvis Presley.

In The Book Of Life, Hal Hartley's new, madefor-television movie, Satan and Jesus engage in a friendly conversation over drinks, on the last day of the 20th century. Set in New York City, the film also features an acting turn by vocalist Polly Jean Harvey. The impressive soundtrack contains material by PJ Harvey, Yo La Tengo, David Byrne, Hub, Takako Minekawa and others. The film is currently touring the U.S., as part of the Year 2000 series; the soundtrack is available from Echostatic Records.

Nordic Trax, the fledgling Vancouver-based dance label, has issued Necessary Pieces, a DJ mix of deep house music performed by Canadian artists. For this funky project, Tyler "T-Bone" Stadius, who spins at the Vancouver dance club Sonar, reassembles music by artists such as High Fidelity, Sea To Sky, Rum Runners and Dino And Terry. The continuous mix makes a fine representation of the north-of-the-border electronic scene.

Dressed in Flintstones-styled, faux-fur outfits, the Neanderthals have bashed out another album, The Modern Stone-Age Family (Sundazed). Though the sleazy garage band's bio claims that the guys are oncefrozen, now-revived Neanderthal men, insider information has assured us that the trio is indeed the side-project of the Phantom Surfers' Eddie Angel. Also of note is bass player Cheese Blotto, whose former band Blotto was to blame for the '80s cult hit "I Wanna Be A Lifeguard."

The well-dressed Texas punkers in Hagfish have delivered a new release to Coldfront Records. Caught Live is the band's first, well, live recording. The 17-song album, recorded at Trees in Dallas, Texas, captures the group's lovable onstage imperfections on such favorites as "Disappointed," "Sucker," "Bop" and "Grin Doggy."

The Bluegrass Mandolin Extravaganza throws one hell of a hoedown. Acoustic Disc's selftitled double-CD by this group of mandolinists revels in the intricacies of bluegrass form to create a "complete and perfect compendium of bluegrass mandolin artistry." Sam Bush, David Grisham, Ronnie McCoury, Jesse McReynolds, Bobby Osborne, Ricky Skaggs, Frank Wakefield, and Buck White perform 34 songs, arranged for solo, duet, trio and octet. Del McCoury also lends a hand, accompanying the ensemble on guitar. Priority Records recently released Groove Radio Presents: Alternative Mix Compiled & Mixed By Swedish Egil, a continuous mix CD that brings together a variety of popular electronic genres, including trance, breakbeat, dub and drum 'n' bass. Such high-profile electronic artists as Propellerheads, Moby, Freestylers, Crystal Method and Fatboy Slim will shake your floors with 70 minutes of big beats and bass.

Cats may have nine lives, but New York City's Spin Doctors are almost as fortunate. The band, which exploded onto the charts with the wildly popular 1991 LP Pocketful Of Kryptonite, is back, with a new release on Universal Records. Since the days of "Little Miss Can't Be Wrong," the frat-funk MDs have issued three albums, including a live effort. But these titles were met with little commercial fanfare. Leader Chris Barron — he of the ratty-ass beard — even cleaned up his scruffy image and appeared in an off-Broadway play. Judgement Day has come! Here Comes The Bride is the Spin Doctors' new attempt to recapture the ever-elusive magic.

Exworks Records has unearthed Obeah, Peace & Love, a collection of hits by the Jamaican reggae trio Culture. Obeah, by the way, refers to a form of positive Jamaican mysticism, rooted in West Africa. The magical, 10-song collection includes the spliff-sparkers "Soon Come," "Capture Rasta" and "Peace And Love."

Any fan of the Burt Bacharach-Hal David songwriting team should appreciate Dionne Warwick. After all, it was Warwick who recorded the bulk of the duo's tunes. For an earful of hits, check out Arista's new The Definitive Collection. The 20-track mammoth contains such Bacharach-David compositions as "Don't Make Me Over," "I'll Never Fall In Love Again" and "Walk On By." The record also revisits plenty of other classics, including "Will You Still Love Me Tomorrow" and "That's What Friends Are For," Warwick's good-will throw-down with Elton John, Gladys Night and Stevie Wonder. The artwork even reprints chart positions and includes an in-depth look at the once-soulful career of the singer-turned-psychic-advocate.

K-Tel Launches Auction Site

Given the prominence of now that auction sites such as eBay, Yahoo! Auctions, CityAuctions and Amazon.com, K-Tel International has announced that it will join the craze by offering auction services on its own site. K-Tel.com will sell music, collectibles, computers, sporting goods, toys and software.

K-Tel.com is not the first music site to offer auction services. In April, Internet music broadcaster Spinner.com announced that it would offer music-related auction services following its partnership with CityAuction.

The Flaming Lips A Soft Bulletin (Warner Bros.) realm of commercial radio.

In his farewell column, Esparza thanked the Gavin staff, labels and college radio for their support of the section. "At a time when most commercial radio stations are catering to their advertisers rather than their listeners...College radio - and now, the Internet - are becoming the only beacons of hope for unknown artists and independent voices," he said.

In his letter, Bunzel also said that Gavin is "currently gearing up to provide an even greater focus on new, talented artists and the labels that work with them." The letter did not provide any specifics about the magazine's plans.

In a recent interview in the Ottawa Citizen, Morissette said, "There was a period of time when I equated MP3 with piracy and bootlegging, but I believe if there can be a happy medium achieved between supporting an artist and protecting an artist, and having the technology work in keeping with that, I think it's one of the most amazing, exciting things."

The co-sponsorship of the Morissette and Amos tour by MP3.com is the start of the Web site's strategic alliance with Los Angeles-based film, music and personal management company Atlas/Third Rail. Atlas/Third Rail represents recording artists such as Goo Goo Dolls, Green Day, Seal and Weezer, in addition to Maverick Records' Morissette. While further details are forthcoming, it is expected that live tracks from the tour will be available at MP3.com and that other Atlas/Third Rail artists will soon have their music featured on the site.

Attorneys for Maverick Records, Atlantic Records (to which Amos is signed) and parent company Warner Bros. are reportedly meeting to discuss where the labels stand in regard to the broadcast and distribution of their artists' music via MP3.com. The involved parties were unavailable for comment.

departure from GBV's signature lo-fi approach. The band had previously recorded for Maiador Records.

The album's first single, "Hold On Hope," can be digitally downloaded from Launch.com's Web site. GBV's latest lineup includes Robert Pollard on vocals and guitar, Doug Gillard on guitar and vocals, Jim MacPherson on drums and Nate Farley on bass. GBV will embark on a 10-month long world tour starting July 4.

has re-added the "Brass Band" to its moniker for its forthcoming album on Mammoth Records, Buck Jump, the followup to 1996's Ears To The Wall. According to Andrew Paynter, Director of College Radio for Mammoth, "The name change for Fars To The Wall was just the band trying to update things, but it sort of sounded like a Lee Marvin movie. Some of the band's longtime fans were confused by it or turned off by it, so we're trying to reach out to those people once again."

Longtime DDBB fans are not the only audience that Mammoth hopes to reach. Paynter also hopes that Buck Jump will strike a note with fans of producer John Medeski's (Medeski, Martin & Wood) music. "We are hoping for a crossover audience fans," says Paynter. "We're sure that MMW fans are now buying more jazz records since listening to the band, in the same way that the Squirrel Nut Zippers attracted kids to swing, big band and hot jazz."

Dirty Dozen's legendary live shows have always been one of its biggest assets. This spring the band is scheduled to play the Jazz & Heritage Festival in New Orleans, as well as jazz festivals in China and Europe. Mammoth is also sending the group on a U.S. tour. "The band is doing an extensive tour here in the States with Widespread Panic. So we're kind of hoping to win some of the dirt fans," Pavnter savs with chuckle. A short East Coast run with Katharine Whalen's Jazz Squad will follow.

Buck Jump is going for radio adds on May 23-24. Radio is likely to embrace the funky funky, jazzy qualities of this bonafide party album. Given the benefits of Medeski's credentials, and the album's consistency, the Dirty Dozen seems poised to add its own heat to the summer swelter.

CHART ACTIVITY

Radio 200: 10-4 Core Radio: 15-3 RPM: 3-1 Triple A: #19 debut

The new album from Underworld is enjoying the benefits of some smart setup by its label, V2. Preceded by a pair of 12" singles, "King Of Snake," followed by "Push Upstairs," Beaucoup Fish arrived to open arms at college and non-commercial radio a few weeks ago. Now coupled with a barrage of press, including CMJ New Music Report's Last Word cover story last week and consumer press in magazines such as CMJ New Music Monthly, Raygun, Paper and SPIN, the album has really hit its stride, leaping into the top five on the Radio 200 and Core charts, taking over the top of the RPM chart, and debuting at Triple A.

BECK

Radio 200: 25-12 Core Radio: 49-19 Triple A: #27 debut

Beck's crossover status has been one of the most commercially and artistically sound success stories of recent years, and yet Mr. Hansen and his handlers have hardly forgotten his roots at college radio. The Cold Brains EP (DGC) is a fivetrack collection of songs previously unreleased in the States, and it's a promotiononly treat for college radio. While commercial stations stick with rotating the hits, college radio listeners are able to hear these rare songs. College programmers appreciate the gesture, too, as they push the EP further up the Radio 200 and Core charts and debut it at #27 on Triple A.

RPM: #15 debut

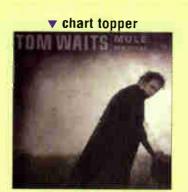

Last vear, Add N To (X)'s debut album garnered tons of attention for its aggressive use of analog synthesizers, its live show, and it's twisted, rock 'n' roll mentality in general. Avant Hard (Mute) pushes the envelope even further, cramming together man and machine in a collection of songs that scrape like metal shavings on flesh. Though the pornographic animated video for the album's lead single, "Metal Fingers In My Body," will never see the light of day on broadcast television, its extremity and odd humor only boost the band's underground appeal.

Radio 200: 117-43 Core Radio: #68 debut RPM: #16 debut Loud Rock: #29

Sadly, this veteran band has been unfairly dragged into the national spotlight in the past couple of weeks, but to college programmers, KMFDM's political industrial music is a staple of non-commercial radio. And Adios (Wax Trax!-TVT) being the band's last album as a group, college radio is responding even more quickly and thoroughly than usual. The album rockets up 74 positions on the Radio 200 and debuts at #68 at Core, while it begins the band's usual crossover climb on specialty charts, debuting on both RPM and Loud Rock in its second week out.

INSOUND www.insound.com 1133 Broadway, Ste. 821 New York, NY 10010 Contact: Matt Wishnow Email: matt@insound.com Phone: 212.414.1727

The people that run Insound refer to their site as "three guys and a machine." Insound offers CDs by artists in genres such as emocore, garage, noise and electronica through its easy-to-use site. On top of a handful of discounted daily picks, Insound offers customers the ability to browse by category, where they can check out everything from Alternative Country to New Zealand Rock. In the Insound Annex, visitors can read excerpts from, and follow links to, some of the finest independently minded 'zines. The Annex also features 7" and 10" vinyl from obscure labels. Insound has also begun hosting chats (Silver Scooter is scheduled for a chat on May 18th). A page of links to indie record labels and the 'zines is a nice touch, but even nicer is the free shipping on all domestic orders.

BLUE RAGS Eat At Joe's (Sub Pop)

The sophomore set by this quintet of Tarheels led by piano/ vocalist Jake Hollifield sounds like something you might hear roaring from a riverboat boogying its way down the Mississippi.

The Rags mix up a merry brew of ragtime jazz, old-time blues and dirty bluegrass on Eat At Joe's, an album so hot, steaming and delicious that it'll make the humidity rise and the mosquitoes start biting. Conjuring up images of ginhouses, backporch jamborees and rusty old Ford pickups, songs such as "Movin' On," the rockin' "Can't Tie That Knot" and "Ragtime Band" (a rollicking workout with washboard, piano and banjo) zip through a variety of subtle, stylistic shifts, without ever letting up on the goodtime feel. Pure retro fun without a trace of irony. — Clen Sansone

NAUGHTY BY NATURE

Nineteen Naughty Nine: Nature's Fury (Arista) After four years out of the loop, Jersey flava unit Naughty By Nature is making its return to the hip-hop fold with Nineteen Naughty neteen Naughty Nine: Nature's Fury, the trio's first album for Arista. Like the '91 debut that earned the trio critical praise, street acclaim and a Grammy, Naughty's cameo-studirt-floor quickded comeback tacks gritty, dirt-floor quickness onto ear-friendly accessibility. The "O.P.P." boys head down the Coast to scrap with the No Limit Army on "Live Or Die" and "Holiday," they sling verbs with Big Punisher on "We Could Do It," and they jam-out with Upstate NY-based rockers Rustic Overtones on the Run-D.M.C.-esque "Radio." But wherever they go or however they flow, Treach, Vinnie and Kay-Gee keep it faithful to their NJ roots. East Orange is in the house again, kids. — Ron Hart

Adios (Wax Trax!-TVT)

Three songs into Adios, on the big, bad "D.I.Y.," KMFDM main man Sascha Konietzko barks, "From the gutter to the top/KMFDM will never stop." It's an ironic statement, as the appropriately titled Adios is the G e r m a n industrial jugg e r n a u t's swan song; K o n i e t z k o and fellow KMFDM beat wizard Tim

Skold have since gone on to form MDFMK. Cynics might call Adios a check-cashing let'sget-it-over-with effort, but they'd be wrong. The record continues in the group's grand tradition of techno-informed, industrialfueled beat manipulation. While ravers can bust moves to the majestic grooves, the rhythms are coated in the undiluted angst and the lyrical aggression favored by the band since its incarnation. The programmed, scintillating beats form an electrifying chemistry with the subtle guitars and female backing vocals. Adios is a satisfying sendoff for KMFDM and its legion of fans. BEVIS FROND Vavona Burr (Flydaddy)

A pro-Bevis Frond cheer led by Country Joe McDonald lends a Pythonesque send off to Vavona Burr, the 17th album by one-manband Nick Salomon. But that's the only sign of Salomon's legendary eccentricity unless you count the ballad conflating drug buddies with Jesus's disciples. Although he's enamored of the '60s, S a l o m o n writes songs and wanks his guitar in a manner that channels the sound of the decade without reducing the whole affair to a tourist attraction. On Vavona's best songs, the six-string hero infuses his melodies with a punk sneer to churn out such top-down pop as the kiss-off "She Couldn't Care Less" and the anti-apathy anthem "Let It Ride." As his work on Mary Lou Lord's 1998 album Got No Shadow suggested, Salomon is currently concentrating less on shaggy psychedelia and more on stirring a well-crafted stew of compassion, invective and wit. — Carlene Bauer

CUL DE SAC Crashes To Light (Thirsty Ear)

Boston's Cul De Sac has only been around since 1992, but Crashes To Light, the band's fourth album, possesses a vibe that timewarps to the early-'70s, German progrock scene. The band specializes in stretching out its material, which builds from neo-Krautgrooves into crescendos of orchestrated chaos. Robin Amos's cantankerous old synthesizer sounds burble and hiss throughout, occasionally belching out sheets of noise, but the mayhem is tempered by the classical and Eastern-scale flourishes of Glenn Jones's guitar, which still isn't above ripping into an old-fashioned rock or surf lead. With its notably strong rhythm section, Cul De Sac has the rare ability to push the musical envelope without leaving its audience behind . — Tad Hendrickson

ULTIMATE FAKEBOOK

This Will Be Laughing Week (Noisome)

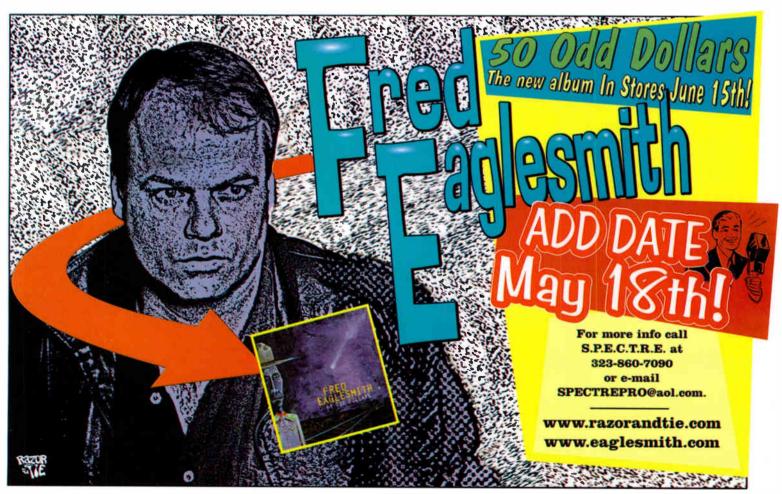

The most noticeable thing about Ultimate Fakebook's This Will Be Laughing Week is its concept. The record is a look back at high school, that chapter in your life that you thought was the be-all and end-all of your existence. The album's artwork even half-mocks the counterfeit sincerity of the signatures in a yearbook, with the standard-issue "Dude-callme-over-thesummer-we'llparty" messages scrawled all over the tray card. But Ultimate Fakebook isn't about sappy memories. The Kansas trio loyally follows traditional pop structures with a dash of rock tuneage, which makes the songs all the more addictive. Even after you've shelved This Will Be Laughing Week, you'll catch yourself humming its perfect melodies, skipping down the street and noticing the beauty of the day. — Amy Sciarretto

HATE DEPT. Technical Difficulties (Restless)

As one of the late-90's most prominent producers and remixers, Hate Dept. mastermind Siebold is a modern-day maestro of the soundboard. When he isn't remixing tracks for such hitmakers as

Berlin and Smash Mouth, he's creating some truly circuit-breaking industrial rock 'n' roll. Technical Difficulties, Hate Dept.'s long-awaited third album, was recorded over a two-year period, using live instruments. The songs were subsequently channeled through computers, which added a cyborg-ish sheen. Slamming rock intensity into the looming keyboard progressions of Front 242, while adding jazzy horns and Nine Inch Nails-worthy power ballads, Technical Difficulties is easily the most diverse and robotic weapon in Hate Dept.'s arsenal. — Ron Hart

HIPPOPOTAMUS

3 Sounds (Grooovy Sounds Un/Ltd.) Groovy Sounds Un/Ltd., the company that brought you those Phillies Blunt t-shirts and the Dum Dum Project's Bollywoodinspired dance music, has signed its first indie rock band. Well, not really. Since the 1996 release of its self-titled debut album, Hippopotamus has jettisoned its hard-pop tendencies to mutate into a slightly funky, slightly difficult instrumental power trio, perverting its compositions with mathematical precision, jazz fusion smarts and cloud-forming dissonance. On most of 3 Sounds, Mark Maloof's jabbing, barbed guitars slice glorious paths into the tight rhythmic clusters amassed by bassist Colin Kohnhorst and superb drummer Pat. James Longo. For a pair of elastic aberrations, the group is hijacked by its six-person, horn-, percussion- and key-abetted alter-ego Project For Fans Of: Minutemen, Tortoise, Polvo, Mahavishnu Orchestra Recommended Tracks: "Proudly Presents," "Plainer," "Free Floating Anxiety," "Days Disposition," "Conclusion" Contact: Pat. SWEEP THE LEG JOHNNY

Tomorrow We Will Run Faster (EP) (Southern) Sweep The Leg Johnny's Tomorrow We Will Run Faster is a haunted hybrid of post-hard-

d of post-hardcore and jazz. "Early October," the seven-and-ahalf-minute opening track begins with b o o m i n g drums that mimic the r u m b l i n g power of tympani. A fevered saxophone hums and squeals to enhance the bombast, before the whole song winds down into a plodding conclusion. And so goes the entire EP— intense, manic and ominous. For the most part, the vocals play a sparse and inconsequential second-fiddle to the instrumental interaction, notably to the seduction between the sax and the percussion. Hardly a stop-gap release, this massive mini-album is a mature, masterful follow-up to Sweep The Leg Johnny's 1998 debut. — Kelso Jacks

HALL OF FAME First Came Love, Then Came The Tree... (Amish)

B Tree... (Amish) Hall Of Fame revels in testing the fragile distinction between in-thename-of-art pretense and inspired experimentalism. Comprised of New York City avant-gardists Dan Brown, (Stratotanker, God Is My Co-Pilot) and Samara Lubelski (Metabolismus, Sonora Pine), along with visual artist Theo Angel, the project vacillates between scrappy improvisation and more traditional, songlike shapes. The atonal, acoustic riffs and groaning viola of the restless opener "Little Horsy Rider" feast on fried, high-calorie neopsychedelia, while the slo-mo note-picking of "The Ballad Of The River People" rests for a moment of lucid serenity. The claustrophobic, percussion-heavy "Vermillion" sputters and thumps in a light, tribal rite of passage, proving that Hall Of Fame is capable of turning even its rowdiest music into tempting audio anesthesia.

I'M YOUR Fan ALICE BABS AND DUKE ELLINGTON

The Minnesota winters are long and grueling. But those brave souls who venture out into the sub-zero temperatures are often treated to some wonderfully eerie nights, during which the moon shines through the leafless trees, casting shadows upon the stark white snow. This was the setting in which I listened to "The Jazz Image radio show in my car during late night journeys. Host Leigh Kammen played haunting theme music that seemed to echo the cold, celestial beauty of the desolate blackness. It was pure Ellington. The show's ID began with a silky burst of horns, precluding a clear wordless soprano that sounds more like a horn than like a voice. Kammen would bounce between different songs (always Ellington, and always that haunting voice) during breaks or talk-overs. Finally I left a message at the radio station, asking who wrote its theme. About week later, this familiar radio voice was on my answering machine: "Hello this is Leigh Kammen of The Jazz Image. The album is Alice Babs and Duke Ellington, Serenade To Sweden." It was my first Ellington album and it's still one of my favorites. Babs's operatic soprano soars above the sublime Ellington band, which was, for the most part, a trio with occasional horns. She adds emotive vocalese to songs such as "'C' Jam Blues," "Satin Doll" and "Babsie," and lends her dramatic style to tunes such as "I Didn't Know About You" and "Take Love Easy." There's no personnel credits for the session, but that's fine. It was really just Ellington and Babs with a supporting cast - the solos are limited to Ellington's breif tinkles and Babs's little scats. The two worked together again on Ellington's Sacred Concerts, but it's the spark of inspiration captured on this initial meeting that continues to haunt me. Tad Hendrickson

On April 24, Kemistry (real name: Kemi Olusanya), a Metaldheadz label founder and one half of the U.K. drum 'n' bass DJ team Kemistry & Storm, was killed in a bizarre car accident. Details of the incident remain unconfirmed as of press time, but it has been reported that a road reflector dislodged by an oncoming car entered Olusanya's window, striking her in the head and killing her instantly. Check CMJ New Music Report next week for more details...As the result of an appalling and unfortunate shooting embarked upon by two, supposedly trenchcoat-wearing KMFDM fans, many Americans are casting a fearful and suspicious

VARIOUS ARTISTS Points In Time - The Good Looking

Retrospective Vol. 1-3 (Good Looking-Stud!o K7) U.K. junglist LT] Bukem and his Good Looking Record's protégés have spent the majority of the '90s spreading positive vibes through their soulful soundscapes, serene sonic atmospheres and frantic breakbeats. Points In Time is Bukem's first review of the revolution: A three-volume collection compiling crucial 12" releases from the U.K. indie eight-year existence. All the boys are represented among the 27 tracks: Blame, PFM, Blu Mar Ten and, of course, Bukem himself. A smoldering collection of tracks and an essential compilation.

For Fans Of: LTJ Bukem, Logical Progression series, Progression Sessions series

808 STATE Newbuild (Rephlex)

The reissue of this landmark 1988 debut from U.K. figurehead 808 State is intriguing not only for nostalgia's sake (the funky Roland 303 textures coursing through each song sound endearingly ancient, truly encapsulating the late-'80s "acid" sound). The seventrack album also demonstrates how accurately the band, which then included A Guy Called Gerald, so accurately predicted the future of electronic music with rudimentary analog equipment. A necessary, important listen, and the first time this classic portrait of 808 State has been available on CD.

For Fans Of: Hardfloor, early Orbital, A Guy Called Gerald Recommended Tracks: "Sync/ Swim," "Dr. Lowfruit," "Headhunters" Contact: Motormouth Media Email: wigbox@aol.com Release Date: April 20

ELITE FORCE VS. RED CELL

Turf Wars (split 12") (Fused And Bruised-Derailed) The acid-techno, breakbeat intensity of New York's Red Cell (Brian Vick) goes head-to-head with the funky, hip-hop-inspired grooves of London's Elite Force (Shack from Lunatic Calm) on this four-track release. Turf Wars features acid breaks swift enough to knock the wind out of everyone on the dancefloor.

For Fans Of: Josh Wink, Fatboy Slim, DJ Icey Recommended Tracks: "Bang The Box" (Elite Force Remix); "Kick This" (Hot Rails Remix) Contact: Derailed Phone: 212.260.7558 Fax: 212.929.6305 Email: info@derailed.com Release Date: May 18; at radio now

BURIED ALIVE Death Of Your Perfect World (Victory)

Buried Alive wowed the hardcore world from the start, and captured a deal with Victory after only its third performance. Just one year later, Death Of Your Perfect World is upon us. Scott Vogel fronts the band, and screams his soul out with growls far more corrosive than his work with his former band, Despair. Thanks to a crippling double axe attack, Buried Alive is dirtier, harsher, and more smothering than that outfit. Also, Hatebreed's Jamey Shanahan joins Vogel on "To Live And Die With." To approximate the formidability of this vocal tag team, try jumping on a land mine. Death Of Your Perfect World is the goriest slab of metalcore to burst out of upstate New York in far too long.

For Fans Of: Despair, Turmoil, Hatebreed, All Out War, Earth Crisis Recommended Tracks: "Poisoned Seeds," "Six Month Face," "Kiss Of Death," "Nothing At All" Contact: Ron Platzer Phone: 888.447.3267 Fax: 312.666.8665 Email: ron@victoryrecords.com Release Date: May11 Add Date: May 11

BLACK LABEL SOCIETY

Sonic Brew (Spitfire)

Black Label Society is the new outlet for guitar demigod Zakk Wylde, who contributed to several of Ozzy Osbourne's later albums, including No Rest For The Wicked. Sonic Brew features Wylde playing everything except the drums, making for a riff-roaring hunk of Southern-fried (even though he's from Jersey) metal. While the centerpiece of BLS's sound is the grandiose guitar work. Wylde's whiskey-soaked voice complements the righteous (and sometimes fuzzy toned) rifling.

For Fans Of: Pride & Glory, Sevendust, Black Sabbath, Clutch Recommended Tracks: "Bored To Tears," "The Rose Petalled Garden," "Born To Lose," "Mother Mary" Contact: Rob Gill (Spitfire); Clancio, Marc, Eric (Syndicate) Phone: 973.378.5889; 888.666.2061 Fax: 973.378.2548; 201.864.3380 Email: riffraff@sprintmail.com; hardrock@thesyn.com Release Date: May 5; at radio now Marketing Data: Touring Europe with Metallica

ROADSAW Nationwide (MIA)

A hantmering hard rock band like Boston's Roadsaw is great ammunition against crotchety codgers who claim rock is on a "downslide." Nationwide proves these Beantown boys to be jam masters with gargantuan hooks, thick bass lines and the impressive range of vocalist Craig Riggs, all of which assures Roadsaw imminent status as a "nationwide" rock radio phenomenon.

For Fans Of: Corrosion Of Conformity, Loudmouth, Soil, Monster Magnet Recommended Tracks: "Not Today," "Satellite," "Keep On Sailing," "In Threes" Contact: Steve Krucher Phone: 212.966.9664 Fax: 212.966.1287 Email: krucher@mia-records.com Release Date: May 18; at radio now Marketing Data: The Syndicate and McGathy Edge are working Nationwide to Loud Rock reporters.

I recently had the pleasure of speaking with the incomparable Robb Flynn, mastermind behind Machine Head, about his band's forthcoming The Burning Red. He confidently promised that the record will be 'on fire.' Though Machine Head worked with Korn producer Ross Robinson (and mixer Terry Date), Flynn has squashed any fears that the new album might sound like the boys with the curlers in their hair. "The first thing we told Ross when we met with him in pre-production, was, 'We do not want to sound like Korn at all...We want you to capture what Machine Head is live,'" Flynn recalled, adding that Robinson was more than happy to oblige. The Burning Red is also MH's first effort since guitarist Logan Mader left the band. "We're ten times the band now." Flynn commented. Apparently, the group has really (Continued on page 34)

This summer will see a flurry of new material by Kool Keith. With Ruffhouse-Columbia Record's July 13 release of Black Fluis/Lost In Space, The Artist Formerly Known As halfsharkalligatorhalfman will have released two solo albums within months of one another. The forthcoming record will share shelfspace with Keith's current Dr. Dooom's First Come First Served, on his own Funky Ass imprint. The busy rapper will also re-enter the studio with his legendary former group the Ultramagnetic MC's. Throughout the next few months, the crew is scheduled to work on a stilluntitled project. DR. D000M First Come, First Served (Funky Ass)

Before he drops his anticipated Ruffhouse debut, Black Elvis/Lost In Space, this summer, Kool Keith has to deal with some internal conflict issues concerning a pair of wacky doctors waging a full-on vocabulary war in his brain. Those who thought 1997's Dr. Octagon LP was a little too obscure will be pleased to find that Dr. Dooom's lyrical alchemy hits closer to the rudiments of the traditional MC. Whereas Octagon spat rhymes as if he was plagiarizing a Medical handbook, Dooom incorporates more elements of battle rhyming and Sex Style boasting into his latest hip-hop freak out. Keith's flow assaults your soul with an equally surreal attack on your senses as studio physicist Kut Masta Kurt twists up the beats.

KING TUBBY & FRIENDS Dub Like Dirt (Blood & Fire)

Ten years ago this past March, dub reggae pioneer King Tubby was gunned down in his home by robbers. It was a great loss. This compilation celebrates the incomparable legacy of King Tubby, surveying his impact. His innovations made him stand out from the pack - he was the first to use reverb, one of the first remix engineers to work with other people's recordings, and one of the first to build his own customized equipment. As usual, the Blood & Fire label remains unsurpassed in its presentation of archival material due to the great quality and care that goes into their packages.

IVAN LINS Live At MCG (Heads Up)

Brazilian keyboardist Ivan Lins has been a featured performer and sideman for several decades. He's also played a pivotal role in the evolution of MPB, the genre of Brazilian popular music. This album was recorded live with the cream of the current Brazilian music scene. Some may find the sound slightly pop, but listen deeper to hear the Brazilian roots shining through like beams of sunshine.

AUGUSTUS PABLO Valley Of Jehosaphat (RAS)

Augustus Pablo's distinctive use of the melodica has become immediately recognizable. One of the great names in Jamaican dub reggae, Pablo has such a unique sound - even from hearing just a few notes, you instantly know it's him. Valley Of Jehosaphat is a great album filled with spacey dub echoes, percolating percussion, and, of course, Pablo's eerie, reedy melodica playing.

TODD THIBAUD Little Mystery (Doolittle-Mercury)

As one of the founders of the Courage Brothers, Todd Thibaud cunningly crafted roots-pop songs that received loads of Triple A airplay in the mid-'90s. Eventually, the band broke up and Thibaud signed to Relativity records just in time for the label to switch its focus to urban music. Now enjoying a long-deserved comfortable fit with Doolittle Records, Thibaud lets his dusty, emotive voice shape tension-filled phrases that speak of desperation, love and the struggle to control one's own fate. Backed by a loose but rocking ensemble that includes vocalist Merrie Amsterberg and pedal steel wiz Greg Leisz, Little Mystery is Thibaud's best collection of songs to date. The album also reunites him with former Courage Bros. songwriting partner Jim Scott, who serves as co-producer.

DUKE ROBILLARD

New Blues For Modern Man (Shanachie)

With his 13th solo album since founding Roomful Of Blues in 1967, Duke Robillard not only shows off his stomping R&B guitar mastery but also his production skills. Recorded live in the studio in only a few takes, including Duke's guitar solos, New Blues For Modern Man comes closer to capturing Robillard's incredible live energy than any of his previous releases.

JUST DESSERTS Give Up The Ghost (Earhorn)

If you can imagine Mark Eitzel fronting the E-Street Band, you'll get an idea of what Just Desserts is all about. Backed by an understated and cleverly arranged ensemble, singer-songwriter/ guitarist Tom Laverack offers lyrical gents about everything from alcoholism ("Alcohol") to homogenized rock radio ("Last Rock & Roll Band").

DEWEY REDMAN/CECIL TAYLOR/ELVIN JONES Momentum Space (Verve)

This big deal trio recording marks the rare major label appearance of legendary free pianist Cecil Taylor, who is in fine form throughout, working in a trio format that best suits his apocalyptic style. Drummer Elvin Jones, who spent years with Coltrane, is at home in rough waters like these. Venerable postbop saxophonist Dewey Redman has had a lower profile, yet he's up to the task at hand, prodding the other two. Featuring solo cuts, duets and trio playing, this is a well-balanced program of excellent jazz that is truly "in the moment."

ASTRAL PROJECT Voodoobop (Compass)

Astral Project is a significant yet under-heralded jazz group, featuring guitarist Steve Masokowski who has recorded extensively for Blue Note. The group takes a variety of standard jazz forms (fusion, world, blues, New Orleans) and stretches them into new and exciting shapes. The quartet has been honing its rapport for nearly 20 years, and Voodoobop showcases a neartelepathic interplay between drummer Johnny Vidacovich, Masokowski, saxist Tony Dagradi and keyboardist David Torkanowski that makes these stylistic leaps palatable.

For Fans Of: Return To Forever, Medeski, Martin & Wood, Recommended Tracks: "Voodoobop," "Southern Blue," "The Whole Truth," "Deb's Garden" Contact: Bradley Williams Phone: 615.320.7672 Fax: 615.320.7378 Email: info@compassrecords.com Release Date: April 20

EUGENE CHADBOURNE/ HENRY KAISER The Guitar Lesson (Victo)

Chadbourne and Kaiser are two of the most brilliant and innovative guitarists around. This collaboration features an astonishing blend of two very unique styles: Chadbourne's noisy, tumultous scratching and Kaiser's slightly more cerebral, post-Beefheart approach. The Guitar Lesson is a fascinating record that rewards careful listening.

Lately, the entire jazz world seems to be rethinking its Internet presence. Keep an eye out for Blue Note's fully revamped Web site, which the label hopes to launch in late-April or May. Michael Cuscuna's Mosaic Records, a top-shelf reissue outfit fond of limited editions and deluxe packaging, has launched a new site at www.mosaicrecords.com. Browse information about the label's five-CD box of Duke Ellington's Blue Note material, or get a look at the new Jackie McLean box set. Mosaic's nine-CD The Complete Anita O'Day Clef/Verve Sessions is set for June release. Given the merging of Verve and Impulse!/GRP, the newly-formed Verve Music Group's www.vervemusicgroup.com could be an ideal location for online shopping or a cursory glance at many a jazz legend. The label hopes to launch the site on June 1. One of the best jazz Web sites around — The Jazz Central Station Web's www.jazzcentralstation.com — will undergo several changes when parent company Music Boulevard completes its merger with CDnow. Stay tuned to see how the deal pans out...The Global Music Network's Web site has renewed its commitment to jazz. GMN will broadcast a new show entitled Live From Birdland, which will feature exclusive performances from New York City's Birdland, one the city's most celebrated jazz clubs. The Web site has also entered into an agreement with noted jazz pianist, broadcaster and educator Dr. Billy Taylor. Taylor's audio and video show will boast interviews alongside music performed by Taylor and his guests.

taken to new axe-slinger Ahrue Luster. Some songs to whet your appetites: "From This Day," "Nothing Left," "Take My Hand," "Exhale The Vile" and a cover of the Police's "Message In A Bottle." Finally, Flynn said, "We've taken every aspect of Machine Head and multiplied it times ten." So, will the album crush like a 100-ton hammer? No fuckin' doubt! The Burning Red is sure to strike a nerve...Those depraved deviants in GWAR have hit the road with Godhead and Puya. Affectionately dubbed GWARmageddon, the tour and its stage show are so outrageous that they could force carnival veterans to bow down in reverence. And if Monopoly doesn't tickle your recreational fancy, the masked metallions have designed a board-game for you - GWAR: Rumble In Antartica...Madball is currently being courted by Epitaph, MIA, and Victory Records... New World Disorder is coming in June. The "Switchback" single will give Loud Rock radio a sneak preview of Biohazard's latest album. The CD5 includes the non-LP tracks "Power" (written by Agonstic Front's Vinnie Stigma) and "Not Worth Shit" (written by Sick Of It All's Armand Majidi)...Six Feet Under has completed Maximum Violence, which contains an interpretation of Iron Maiden's "Wrathchild." Other gory titles include "Feasting On The Blood Of The Insane" and "Hacked To Pieces." Would you expect anything less blood-splattered from the diabolical Chris Barnes, former frontman of Cannibal Corpse?...The Milwaukee Metal Fest will be held from July 30-31, at Eagles Auditorium/The Rave nightclub. This year's headliners include Machine Head, Morbid Angel, and Cradle Of Filth. The event, to be hosted by onscreen gang-bang goddess Jasmin St. Claire, will be served with a sweaty side order of wrestling...DDT, Staind, and Buckcherry brought their hard rocking shenanigans to NYC's Irving Plaza one Monday evening. All three acts completely ripped shit up. Limp Bizkit's Fred Durst and DI Lethal were in the house. The girlies started to squeal as soon as they noticed Durst, whom they followed around for hours - for a brief moment, the show felt like a Backstreet Boys gig. That is, until Durst jumped around with his boys from Staind to sing "Bring The Noise."

Jason Miller, of Washington, DC's Godhead, is doing his part to defend the movement from a misinformed media. "It is surreal to me that the gothic subculture, overnight, is now considered neo-Nazi and violent," said Miller in the April 22 edition of The Washington Post. "Almost all goths I know are passive and shy. Most of them are affluent, intelligent people who would rather read a book than start a fight. Of all the different people who come to Godhead concerts, goths are usually the quietest and tend to stay out of any sort of violent confrontation." Miller also spoke to KMFDM braintrust En Esch, whose lyrics, posted on one of the killer's Web sites, were supposedly used as a battlecry during the shooting. In the article, Miller emphasizes KMFDM's anti-Nazi stance, claiming the band was quite disturbed by the incident. "...What the 'Trenchcoat Mafia' has left the 'Gothic community' is a wave of misunderstanding and hate," he continued. "The only thing we can do now is try to educate people and let them know that we are NOT violent racists, but simply alienated intellectuals who are not attracted or stimulated by mainstream culture."...Along the same lines, Rik Millhouse, President of Razorburn Marketing and managing editor of the goth and industrial music authority Interface magazine, released a statement condemning the massacre and decrying the beliefs held by Harris and Klebold: "Interface would like to unequivocally deny that the actions of the so-called 'Trenchcoat Mafia' are in any form or fashion representative of the tens of thousands of goth and industrial fans served by our publication globally — who, by and large, are indeed passive peoples whose main direction in life is one of encompassing acceptance for persons of all colors, creeds and individual pursuits." On Saturday, April 24, Millhouse spoke on 89.1 WFDU, the Teaneck, New Jersey-based radio station for Farleigh Dickinson University. The editor discussed the influences that gothic and industrial music may, or may not, have had on the murderers.

my folks had very little money. They exploited and victimized me for their own personal gain. I would busk and they would keep the money. This started at age six and by age nine I had my first and only hit. After that, I fought long and hard to regain my fame. But, it would never happen. Puberty came along, my voice started to change and then came all the facial hair. Nobody wanted me. I just wasn't that cute kid any more. I was a pimple-faced teenager. Heartbroken, I had to break away from that childish image, France, and my folks. The rest, as they say, is history.

Howie B

The remixer produce recording artist, record label owner, and recent film producer talks about his hot and heavy schedule.

THE LAST WORD

owie B's calendar year has been busier than most people's entire careers. In addition to working in the studio and co-running Pussyfoot Records, he has also produced a few short films, which will be released sometime later this year. The diversity of Howard Bernstein's musical projects is commendable. The Scottish-born studio pro may use loops, but he's hardly stuck in any sort of stylistic holding pattern. Throughout the last 12 months, B has remixed varied tracks by reggae icons Sly and Robbie, glam poppers Placebo, Rock And Rock Hall Of Fame-r Robbie Robertson and avant-garde iconoclast Steve Reich.

"The main inspiration I get is working with such magic material," says Howie, on the phone from his London studio. "When you work with people that can express themselves and you don't have to think about it, it's instinctive. You get somewhere incredibly quickly or you get nowhere incredibly quickly, but you know where you're at anyway," he adds with a hearty chuckle.

If you want to work with Howie, however, expect to be driven. "I know what instruments can do," he says. "So it probably makes me push people more. I'll go, 'Look, c'mon, you're not busking here, this is a record we're making! This is something that people are going to be listening to in 30 years time. So give it your best, motherfucker!' Sometimes people get upset. But it's not an easy ride. It's interesting to push people and it's always interesting for me to be pushed, because it returns whenever I start mixing or putting my bit in. So they say, 'c'mon, you motherfucker! I turned you on, now turn me on!'"

Howie was the sole person being pushed or doing the pushing on his latest album Snatch, an abstract, but fully realized concoction of beats and textures that makes use of old sounds and new ideas.

"I'm constantly searching and constantly reassessing what I'm doing," he says. "For me it's, 'I've got a sound — now what am I going to tomorrow?" Oddly enough, it wasn't until months later that Howie deciphered the true meaning of Snatch. "I figured out that [making the record] was therapeutic. I didn't realize how much it actually helped me to keep my sanity until I started talking about it," he says, recalling the European promotional tour when it all began to click for him. "This piece of music stopped me from going over the edge," he confesses.

Though the record is lyric-free, the subject matter and the mood behind the pieces allowed Howie to express himself, using his admittedly most effective means of communication — pure music. "It's really basic if you look at the titles. 'Cook For You' that's what it's about. Me wanting to cook for a person. There's that whole desire for that sociability of cooking for someone. I haven't been able to do that because I've been in studios for 10 to 15 years eating out of tin foil and restaurants. And then there's 'Cotton High.' That was about me as a kid being forced to wear cotton white socks — which I hated — and that was me getting back at my mum. And songs like 'To Kiss You,' again...very direct."

Howie B doesn't like to sit still— you can hear the restlessness in his animated, spontaneous bursts of speech. The producer founded Pussyfoot with Nick Young, after the pair had grown fed up with the sluggish attitude of certain major labels.

"They were just pussyfooting about with me," he says explaining the genesis of his label's moniker. "They'd say, 'Yeah I love this Howie, this is great, but...' Their lack of fire gave me the inspiration."

In addition to having issued several successful compilations, Pussyfoot Records has pressed up LPs and 12"s that are heavy "on the trip-hop tip." The company's latest anthology, the double-length Suck It And See, will arrive on American shores one year after the record's initial European release. The delay shouldn't diminish the title's impact, given the quality of the artists involved and the unifying subject matter — pornography. Fittingly, Pussyfoot will push the project with an ultrasteamy, 35-minute promotional video.

"The only backlash I've gotten from America has been why was there no footage of two men kissing each other?," he says. "And my answer was quite simply, 'There wasn't. No other reason.' I'm actually quite surprised, I thought I was going to get an awful lot of stink from America, so maybe something is changing or maybe there's more of an openness now."

Aside from trying to appeal to the masses with an album that flaunts song titles like "Cum Dancing," Howie is facing another challenge helping Americans overcome the belief that porn music is traditionally, or so we're told, embarrassingly awful and cheesy.

"I think what we've done is thrown down [to the porn industry] and said, 'music is important' in this whole aspect of sex," Howie says. "You can make your movies even more interesting and give people an interesting soundtrack. Half the time, people are not watching it. If a couple are watching, halfway through something happens and they stop looking at the TV. But the music is still there and it'd be great if the music was good and actually gave them a rhythm."

INDUSTRY PROFILE

Interview by Alex Ellerson

When you walk into the Manhattan office of CDuctive - one of the premiere custom compilation CD and Digital Distribution companies operating on the web today (www.cductive.com) --- one of the first things you can't help but notice is a great bear of a man stalking back and forth around the enormous loft that the company calls home. The man's name is Jordan Trachtenberg, and you'll recognize him from the wireless phone headset that appears to be surgically attached to his skull. The potential label partner on the other end of the phone line, no doubt transfixed by Trachtenberg's beguiling charm and no-nonsense approach, won't be able to see him gesticulating wildly, but they'll be treated to the verbal equivalent through the staccato bursts of loud dialog that pour out of him as he pitches them on the benefits of working with CDuctive. Jordy took a short break from weaving his oral magic in order to give us a bit more insight into exactly what it is that he's doing while on this seemingly endless stream of phone calls that fill each of his working days.

Can you describe a bit more about what it is that you do at CDuctive?

As the Vice President of Label Relations, I have constructed an exclusive, virtual community that focuses on the indie scene. Each licensing pro at CDuctive is an aficionado in his respective genre. We really take a hardcore A&R approach to choosing our label partners.

A quick perusal of the list of labels that have signed on with CDuctive reveals that you guys definitely knew what you were doing when you drew up your target list. It reads like a who's who of the most influential indie labels in the rock, hip-hop and electronica genres. To what do you contribute this prescience and your success in signing up these labels?

Well, first and foremost, I really care about the music and the labels. I'm a fan first, a CDuctoid second. When I approach a label, I'm very tuned in to their direction, because in most cases I have bought their music in stores and have seen their bands live. Secondly, I've been told I'm a people person. I do enjoy talking on the phone - especially with my headset style - and dealing with people. If I was a label owner and had someone who wasn't hip to my music approach me about licensing my entire catalog, I would be extremely leery about doing business with that company. CDuctive is only as good as the vision we put forth and the label partners that support us. I tip my hat to all of our label partners. Without them, CDuctive would be like everyone else racing around in the digital space. But I think the real key to success is that, when all is said and done, both parties should be excited about working together when you enter into an agreement and both parties should feel like they have received a fair exchange.

JORDY TRACHTENBERG

Vice President Of Label Relations, CDuctive

"Competition? I view the 'others' in our space as just that...others."

Give us a little of your pitch. Why would a label want to work with CDuctive as opposed to one of your competitors?

Competition? I view the "others" in our space as just that...others. Our formula is quite simple.

1.) Deliver the music: No shit, just the goods. Content is king. It's easy to fill your space with filler, but at CDuctive we are committed to offering the best of the best. The proof is on our site.

2.) Optimize distribution: When it comes to distribution of our products, we have the widest reach on the Web thanks to an extensive network of partners such as CDnow, Tunes.com, CMI Online and SonicNet, just to name a few. So in addition to selling our labels music on CDuctive.com, our reach through our partner network exceeds 10 million users per month. We also put a back end "boutique" on our label partners Web sites if they request them! This allows the fan of the label to come to the labels' websites and make the best of their roster on their own. It's a fan's dream.

3.) Remain technology agnostic: We're here to push our labels' music, not to push one specific technology. We distribute our labels' music in the most appropriate DUR DUR D' ETRE BEBE ! ####### custom CD or digital download format for each partner. Why limit our label partners to just one format when it comes to digital distribution? Why bet on one horse when we can have each horse run the race it's best suited to win?

Word on the street is that you're CDuctive's "secret weapon." True or false? And if true, does that maybe have anything to do with the fact that, in a previous life, you were a big macher in the schmata trade?

Ahh, I was waiting for that skeleton to pop out of the closet and dance on my head. Yes, in the eight years of selling moderately-priced, missy, polyester blouses, I dealt with mom-and-pop stores, such as Belk, JC Penny's and Sears. At the height of my so-called career, I walked away from that scene to chase my dream of being in the music industry. Who is going to change the world with a polyester blouse? My first project was a CD that I produced for Rhino call POEM-FONE: New Word Order, a spoken word project with poets like M. Doughty, John S. Hall and Alan Ginsberg. Although the garment center left a vile taste in my mouth, it did teach me a lot. I understand how to service an account. what follow-up means, and to always make good on my word. You have to deliver. As far as the secret weapon question goes, I'm hardly a secret these days, and as for the weapon part, the only people who can really answer that are "the others.'

Care to let our readers in on the somewhat unusual arrangement you have with your wife with respect to your attempts to get women to remove their tops for you?

It was the final deal I made with her before we were married. Breasts are very special to me. I accept them for what they are and I have yet to see a really bad pair. I think it may have something to do with being breast-fed. There are rules to our deal. First, it's a look-don't-touch policy. Two, no bartering, i.e., show me your breasts and I'll send you a free CDuctive CD. It has to be the woman who wants to flash. If I can talk her into it, then it's OK with my wife. Granted, it can take a lot of talking and a ton of patience, but sooner or later some do give in. I'm not a pig about it, or come off in a threatening way. I don't approach strangers on the streets, nor would I ever try to pull that stunt with a co-worker. But friends and friends of friends do it. My wife has even recruited a few of her friends for me. It makes me smile.

> Bottom line, MY WIFE RULES!!! Now that my secret breast obsession is out to the CMJ readers, please feel free to e-mail a JPEG of your breasts to jordan@cductive.com. All submissions will only be viewed by myself --- and perhaps my wife -and will not be posted anywhere.

Can you settle a bet we have going here at CMJ's offices? I say you're actually the same Jordy that released the "Dur Dur D'Etre Bebe" single a decade or so back. True or false?

Geez man, you just want to expose me at every angle. The story goes like this: As a poor, young boy growing up in France, (Continued on page 34)
