Rioport Launches Digital Distribution Gateway

One week after the Recording Industry Association Of America (RIAA) failed in its attempt to halt the distribution of Diamond Multimedia's portable MP3 Rio player, Diamond Multimedia has launched its new digital audio platform, Rioport, Inc. The platform, aimed at distributing secure digital music over the Internet, is comprised of new hardware products, digital music management software, a digital music portal (www.rioport.com), and a host of key content and technology partners.

The platform's core is Rioport.com, a digital music portal that provides consumers access to music, news and spoken word content on the Internet. The site's directory of legal music downloads is supplied by the company's deals with digital music companies Emusic, Amplified.com, UBL.com, CDuctive, Riffage.com, Audible and MP3.com, as well as deals with individual (Continued on page 14)

Mudhoney Bassist Departs, Band Taking Hiatus

According to a post on an unofficial Mudhoney Web site penned by singer/guitarist Mark Arm, bassist Matt Lukin has left the group. Lukin, says Arm, will "move out to the sticks and hone his hermit skills (something he's been working on for a while)" and that he "hasn't enjoyed touring for the last few years...his heart isn't in it." Arm also revealed that the influential grunge band and its record label, Reprise, have parted ways. Regarding that decision, Arm wrote that while the band would miss working with pub- (Continued on page 14)

A&M Founders To Sue Universal

A&M Records founders Herb Alpert and Jerry Moss are expected to file a $20 million lawsuit against Universal Music Group (UMG), citing breach of contract. Alpert and Moss claim that Universal's December 1998 acquisition of PolyGram - A&M's parent company - resulted (Continued on page 14)

Astralwerks Gives $\mu$ -Ziq's Latest The Royal Treatment

By Colin Helms

On what his label describes as "his most accessible work to date," British electronica wunderkid Michael Paradinas, a.k.a. µ-Ziq, continues to create the kind of imaginative, melodically playful sound-that scapes have made him under-an

ground radio fave since 1995, when he remixed an entire Auteurs album. Royal Astronomy, which Astralwerks will release on July 27, is markedly different than past µ-Ziq recordings in its heavy reliance on synthesized strings and other cinematic sound cues. The result is a lushly textured album that skirts elements of straight-ahead techno, drum 'n' bass and Chemical Brothers-styled "Big Beat," but does so in Paradinas's own uniquely idiosyncratic style.

"The record is much more orchestral and melodic," says Astralwerks's Publicity Manager Alison Tarnofsky. "[It] (Continued on page 14)

Guided By Voices

GUIDED BY VOICES Do The Collapse (TVT)

Over the course of its last halfdozen releases. Guided By Voices has been threatening to abandon its indie-hero status and give its arena-worthy, but lo-fi, anthems a studio shine. Do The Collapse finally makes good on those threats. Recorded in 24-track splendor and overseen by producer Ric Ocasek, GBV's 11th full-length is undisputedly the combo's most "complete" album, both in terms of songwriting - most of Robert Pollard's tunes seem to have true beginnings, middles and ends - and fidelity - the bigger studio budget only enhances the quartet's stadium-sized anthems and burly guitar wallop. Glossiness aside, this latest GBV epic holds true to Pollard's now-trademark mix of British Invasion-style melodicism, classic rock bombast and scrappy, basement-band vigor. His stungun hooks have always been the shimmering diamonds in the Ohioans' lo-fi rough, and Ocasek mines those rocks with an ear for the big melodic payoff. While the very concept of these underground legends making a "big," radio-ready album may seem like sacrilege, GBV has managed to go "'mersh" with-out sacrificing any of its personality - see Pollard's reliably intriguing wordplay - or gleaning melodic - Colin Helms strength.

PAUL JONES Pucker Up Buttercup (Fat Possum-Epitaph)

Electric Delta blues aberration Paul Jones embodies the straightup greatness of the Fat Possum musical ideal. Like many of the label's stars, the guitarist is no spring chicken. It took him 48 years to get around to recording his excellent, 1995 debut, Mule. Free of R.L. Burnside's crossover/remix aspirations, T-Model Ford's folksier leanings and Bob Log III's white-punk loopiness, Jones is less gimmicky than most of his peers, but his reckless, amped-up gnarl is an unbeatable distillation of the blues at its scuzziest and most potent. Characterized by freewheeling, soulful vocals, a reverence for gospel, an on-the-money, no-frills support cast, and the dirtiest guitar sound imaginable, the man's output testifies to the fact that simplicity, naturalism and forcefulness are the keys to genuine house-rocking and butt-kicking. Aside from the absence of Jones' wah-wah pedal and the presence of a few slower, sultrier tunes, Pucker Up Buttercup differs little from Mule. Which doesn't really matter. Just listen to those masterful, raggedy-ass chord progressions. Jones knows his strengths and he flaunts them admirably. This is one old dog that doesn't need to learn any new tricks. - Jordan N. Mamone

MR. BUNGLE California (Warner Bros.)

Predicting what the extraordinary Mike Patton will do next is as futile as explaining astrophysics to an infant. You're in for a surprise if you're expecting California to continue the goofball fusion of rap, speedmetal and smoky club-jazz found on the band's previous efforts, Mr. Bungle and Disco Volante. Mr. Bungle has taken a dose of Valium to ease its schizophrenic psychosis, but California still exhibits multiple personalities. The album is an amalgam of noises - a carnival of keyboards, explosions, calliope organs and crunchy guitars, along with those Patton-ted, over-the-top whispers, knee-jerk screams and whacked-out harmonies. Such otherworldly, frenetic emissions make the record resemble the music that accompanies your favorite Saturday morning cartoons. Mr. Bungle's eclectic juices flow throughout the beachy sounds and near-falsetto crooning of the cool "Sweet Charity" and the smooth, doo-wop experiment, "Vanity Fair." In Faith No More and Fantomas, Patton hinted at the powers of his mouth. With Mr. Bungle's latest album, he's found the open-ended outlet that allows him to manipulate his phonemes to deranged perfection.

ALI FARKA TOURE Niafunké (Hannibal-Rykodisc)

If you have any doubts about Ali Farka Toure's standing as a true bluesman who knows his roots, consider how the Malian guitarist has chosen to follow up Talking Timbuktu, his 1994 Grammy-winning, million-selling collaboration with Ry Cooder. Rather than ape the high-profile/guest star/L.A. studio approach of that record, Toure returned to his home village of Niafunké, where he used a simple mobile studio to record an album of deep, easy-going blues, made with local musicians. Toure hasn't drastically changed the scope of his sound over the years, and it's a good thing - his sparkling, acoustic picking and trademark loping, electric riffs are aging nicely and taking on a more profound, more essential air. If you're fond of the Delta stomp, you'll enjoy the lazy rumble of Toure's talking blues, though his use of complex hand percussion, a heady, moaning one-string violin, and a female call-and-response chorus will remind you that the rhythms of the Niger River - not the Mississippi - are the supple influences that make Niafunké such a special message from Toure's home. — Steve Ciabattoni

Black Crowes Keyboardist Hospitalized

After the Black Crowes' June 24 performance in Cologne, Germany, keyboardist Ed Hawrysch was rushed to a hospital in Laige, Belgium. Hawrysch took ill on the band's tour bus, which was en route to London, where the band was scheduled for a June 26 concert at Wembly Stadium with Aerosmith. He underwent surgery for a twisted intestine. According to SonicNet, he was released from the hospital on June 28 after doctors performed tests to diagnose the musician.

A spokesperson from the Mitch Schneider Organization publicists for the Black Crowes — told CMJ that the band played its Wembley Stadium date without a replacement; the Crowes set up Hawrysch's keyboards and left them unmanned. According to the spokesperson, this was the first date that Hawrysch had missed since he joined the Black Crowes in 1991. The band is currently touring in support of its latest album, By Your Side.

WORK Founders Exit Label

WORK Group Co-Presidents Jeff Ayeroff and Jordan Harris have left the Sonyowned label. According to a release from the Epic Records Group, WORK will continue "as an important A&R source for Sony Music...." WORK will remain part of Epic, which had handled the label's sales, promotion and marketing efforts. Epic will now take care of the label's administration. "Every effort will be made to help relocate, elsewhere within Sony Music, staff members whose jobs may be affected," said the release.

Epic Records Group Chairman David R. Glew is thankful for Ayeroff's and Harris's work with the label. "Both Jeff and Jordan have the entrepreneurial spirit that I'm confident will stand them in good stead when they choose to launch their next enterprise. I wish them both the very best and thank them for [their efforts] on behalf of the label's artists."

It was not clear at press time why Ayeroff and Harris left WORK or in what formation WORK would exist as part of Epic. Epic and WORK publicists did not respond to CMJ's phone calls.

Public Enemy Draws Fire For 'Swindler's Lust'

The Anti-Defamation League (ADL), the organization that monitors anti-Semitism, has attacked Public Enemy for its song "Swindler's Lust." In a June 17 letter to Atomic Pop, PE's label, ADL National Director Abraham Foxman claimed that the song, from PE's new album There's A Poison Goin' On, blames Jews "for the plight of financially underprivileged Blacks."

Although Foxman said that the ADL upholds PE's First Amendment rights, the organization was "going to exercise our First Amendment rights by standing up and calling this unambiguous anti-Semitism." Aside from decrying the title's variation on the acclaimed book and film Schindler's List, Foxman alleged that the group's lyrical juxtaposition of "the Big Six" and "a million led to bled claiming their innocence" invoked the Holocaust.

In a letter to Foxman, Liz Morentin, VP of Media Relations for Atomic Pop, said that the lyrics did not contain "anti-Semitic references. We support artistic freedom, yet we are aware that art is always subject to interpretation." Morentin said that "the Big Six" referred to the six major record companies (since shrunk to five after Universal and Polygram merged late last year) and "a million" referred to the Million Man march. Foxman declared Atomic Pop's response "completely unacceptable." He also claimed that Confrontation Camp, the handle for Chuck D's and ex-member Professor Griff's rock band, was a denigration of the Holocaust.

In his "Terrordome" newsletter, which is available at the group's Web site (www.publicenemy.com), Chuck D wrote: "...I knew some assholes would blindly attack me in the dark. In the beginning, I claimed there were swindlers in all shapes, colors and sizes and left it at that." He claims that the song is an attack on the music industry, not Jews.

Public Enemy are repeat ADL offenders. Ten years ago, the group fired Minister of Information Griff because he told a Washington Times reporter that Jews were responsible for the "majority of wickedness that goes on across the globe." The next year, Chuck D attracted criticism for the lyric "They got me like Jesus" from the song "Welcome To The Terrordome."

Meanwhile, Chuck D continues to be the prince of polemics. On August 31, he will release Chuck D Presents: Louder Than A Bomb, a hip-hop compilation that includes a remix of the 1982 Grandmaster Flash And The Furious Five song "The Message," along with tracks from Dr. Dre, Run D.M.C. and Ice Cube.

Nick DiDia Launches 818 Music

Pearl Jam and Rage Against The Machine producer/engineer Nick DiDia has launched 818 Music, an online music company. 818 Music will provide new artists with production, distribution and marketing services. Songwriters will also be able to publish their music through the company. Visitors to the 818 Web site (www.818music.com) will be able to download MP3 files. Says DiDia of his new venture: "The concept of 818 Music is similar to the Motown model. We have a group of musicians, a studio, and a particular style of music that we all agree on." Current 818 Music releases include Let It All Begin, the first solo record by Shawn Smith of Brad and Satchel, and Shiva Machine, a project helmed by ex-Black Crowe Johnny Colt.

Date Announced For First Latin Grammy Awards Ceremony

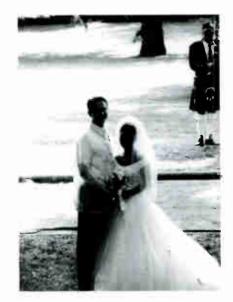

Michael Green, President and CEO of the National Association of Recording Arts and Sciences (NARAS) and its Latino division, LARAS, announced that the first Latin Grammy Awards will take place in November 2000. He revealed the date during a June 24 news conference at the MIDEM Americas music conference in Miami. Café Tacuba, Luis Enrique, Gloria Estefan, Elvis Crespo and Jon Secada attended Greene's news conference. According to Billboard, Greene mentioned that he was talking to U.S. Spanish-language channels Telemundo and Univision about broadcasting the ceremony, which will be held in either Miami or Los Angeles. Greene said that CBS, which last year signed a five-year contract to televise the Grammys, may also assist with the airing of the Latin ceremony.

Combs, Stoute Reach Settlement

Sean "Puffy" Combs and Steve Stoute, the Interscope executive Combs is accused of beating, have reached a civil suit settlement. Details of the settlement were not disclosed, but Combs told reporters that money was not exchanged. Combs was arrested on April 16 for allegedly assaulting Stoute with a chair, a telephone and a champagne bottle in the exec's office. Combs attacked Stoute because he was unhappy with his appearance in the Nas video "Hate Me Now," which depicted a crucified Combs.

Earlier this week Combs, who runs Bad Boy Records, and Stoute, who is the President of Interscope's Urban Music division, appeared together at the ceremony that announced the nominees for Source Hip-Hop Music Awards. Combs also expressed regret to the Los Angeles Times. "I made a mistake," he said. "I'm supposed to be a leader in the world of hip-hop. And I disappointed everybody." Combs vented to MTV as well. "I felt like I disappointed the hiphop community," he told the network, "because everything I do I'm trying to be a team player in taking hip-hop to the next level.... I let my emotions get the best of me...."

me...." There are still criminal charges pending against Combs, but the AP quoted the rapper as saving that Stoute seeks to have them dropped. According to SonicNet, a spokesperson for Stoute could neither confirm nor deny that information. Although Combs appeared in a Manhattan Criminal Court on June 24 for a hearing, the case was adjourned until August 5. If convicted of the charges of felony assault and misdemeanor criminal mischief, Combs could face up to seven years in prison. He was freed on bail following his arrest.

Fun Lovin' Criminals Singer Arrested

Fun Lovin' Criminals lead singer Huey DiFontaine was arrested in New York City on June 17 for possession of marijuana, according to MTV

Online. DiFontaine was allegedly sharing a joint with friends on a street corner when an alert member of New York's finest happened along and arrested him. The group's manager Jonathan Block said that the arrest would not hamper the band's overseas tour plans. The New Yorkers, who now spend much of their time in London, have a fondness for the herb, as the lyrics on 1998's 100% Colombian and 1996's Come Find Yourself attest.

Gorky's Zygotic Mynci Frontman Quits

The lead singer of Scottish gnomerockers Gorky's Zygotic Mynci, John Lawrence, has left the band. A spokesman for the band told NME.com that "...John just wants to do his own thing now. The band are surprised and disappointed, but it's all very amicable, even if that does sound like a cliché." The spokesperson said that the remaining four members have not decided whether or not they are going to replace Lawrence, whose departure, he added, came prior to Gorky's signing a contract with Beggars Banquet.

ARTIST SPOTLIGHT AFRO CELT SOUND SYSTEM

Interview by Tad Hendrickson

The cultural exchange program known as Afro Celt Sound System has returned. Volume 2: Release follows up the collective's critically acclaimed and commercially successful 1996 effort.

Sound Magic, Vol. 1. The group, which will headline the Seattle-area WOMAD festival (July 30–August 1), puts West African and Celtic traditional music through the funnel of the London club scene. In September the ensemble plans to launch a full-scale, North American tour. CMJ recently spoke with ACSS's accordionist and whistle player James McNally.

Have you ever gotten any criticism for taking different traditional musics and twisting them? It would be fair to say that we received naïve criticism. Practically 100% of our music is self-penned. So, even though we come from very strong traditional backgrounds — individually, through African and Irish and also the British club culture — we rarely take traditional pieces and stick them over-the-top for the sake of it. I wouldn't call it criticism, I would say skepticism, really. Early on, people wondered if it would actually work.

How did the project come together?

Initially we weren't a band. We were a bunch of strangers coming together to create an idea that Simon Emmerson had from working with Baaba Maal and Davy Spillane. We got together to record for a week in 1995 and that session eventually was released as the first album.

Was the original concept so broad?

Each of the individuals that Simon rang was a very poignant choice. The individuals were deeply blessed with the gifts they had from their own tradition, but this was a movement within ourselves to discover more about each other. It wasn't financial. We got together to take our roots and discover more about them. And also, to fuse it with the future and find out where the music was going, to find out for ourselves. It wasn't through speaking with the individuals, it was through playing with them.

Matt Johnson Signs To Nothing Records

The The's Matt Johnson has signed a deal with Trent Reznor's Nothing Records. In January 2000, the label is expected to release Nakedself, The The's first album of original material since 1993's Dusk. In 1995, the band released Hanky Panky, a collection of Hank Williams covers. Prior to signing with Nothing, The The had been signed to Epic Records, their label home since 1983. Since its inception in 1980, The The has been driven by the musical ideas of singersongwriter Johnson, with a ever-revolving cast of musicians backing him up.

Original Madness Lineup Reforming For New Album

In an era of reunions and reformations, the original members of '80s ska-pop band Madness are regrouping to record a new album. Although the band occasionally performs live, the new, as-vet-untitled album will mark the first time that all band members - Mike Barson, Chris Foreman, Lee Thompson, Graham "Suggs" McPherson, Mark Bedford, Chas Smash and Dan Woodgate – have recorded together since they made 1985's Mad Not Mad. Madness is best known for the hits "One Step Beyond" and "Our House."

Sinead O'Connor Pulls Out Of Irish Festival

Sinead O'Connor has bowed out of Feile An Phobail (The People's Festival), a concert to be held on August 6 in nationalist West Belfast. O'Connor, who became a priest in April, claims that she will not perform at the concert because its organizers asked her not to comment on IRA violence.

"I am sure my fans will understand my actions, as they know me well by now ---certainly better than Feile An Phobail," said the singer of her decision to pull out of the concert. "This is the festival committee's fault, not mine .... And there are no excuses for violence, none whatsoever, whatever anyone savs.

Festival director Caitrionia Ruane maintained that the organizers were innocent. "At no time did we say that she could not speak about any issue," she said. According to the BBC, Feile organizers have written O'Connor in the hopes that she will reconsider her decision.

O'Connor is recognized as Mother Bernadette Mary by the Latin Tridentine church, a renegade Catholic sect.

Thom Yorke, Bono, Geldof Call For Debt Relief

On June 19, in Cologne, Germany, alternative rock statesmen Bono, the Edge, Perry Farrell, Radiohead's Thom Yorke and Bob Geldof demonstrated against Third World debt along with 35,000 others. The demonstration, organized by charity coalition Jubilee 2000, was a challenge to the G8 Summit in Cologne. The musicians had traveled to Cologne to present German Chancellor Gerhard Schroeder with a petition signed by 19 million people. The document called for the forgiveness of debts owed by impoverished countries.

Leaders at the summit, including Tony Blair and Bill Clinton, announced the Cologne Debt Initiative, which will give $70 billion in relief to Third World countries. Bono and company, however, aired their dissatisfaction with the plan at a press conference. "It's just a token," said the Edge (a.k.a David Evans). "It's what they can afford to do without really trying." Geldof thought that the move was "a half-measure, typical of politicians." Professional crank Yorke told Reuters: "They have done a cosmetic propaganda job.... They are not addressing the central issues and we need to make the pressures more direct."

Jubilee 2000 spokesperson Mary Travis said that the organization would continue its efforts, but did not offer details. Paul Drummond, another spokesperson, had mentioned that Jubilee 2000 might hold a major concert in Africa on New Year's Eve, according to SonicNet.

Distortion Felix Signs To Alias Records

Distortion Felix, last seen on Akashic Records, the label co-owned by Johnny Temple of Girls Against Boys, has signed to Alias Records. Lovable misanthrope Steve Albini, who produced albums by Nirvana, the Pixies and PJ Harvey, will perform similar duties on the band's first release. In a July 20, 1998 review, CMJ New Music Report described Distortion Felix's "moody, attitude-laden rock" as "sexy and appealingly seedy."

Buzzcocks Sign To Go Kart

Classic poppunkers the Buzzcocks have signed to Go Kart Records. The band is expected to release a new record on that label in September. The album will mark the Buzzcocks's first release since 1996's

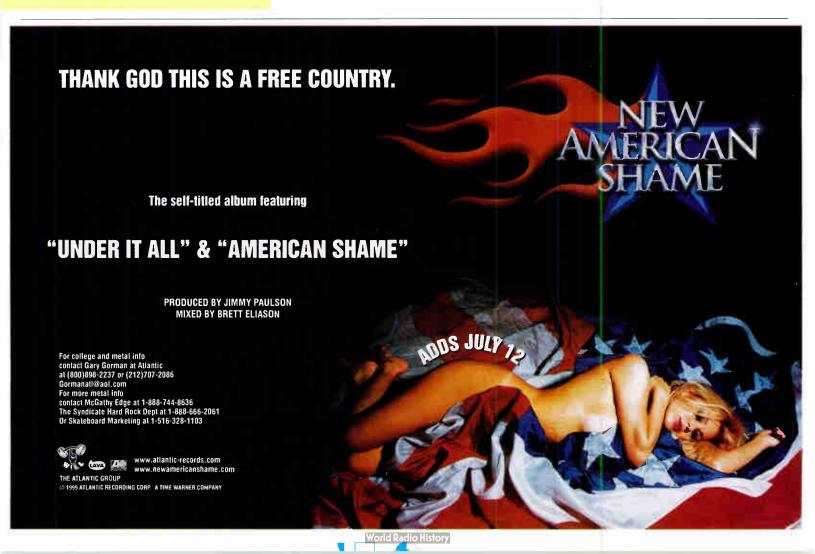

All Set. According to Go Kart spokesperson Dean Rispler, Raf Edmonds, the band's manager, approached Go Kart in February looking for a label that would take care of the group, which had recorded its most recent studio albums for Caroline and IRS. Rispler says that Caroline's large roster made it difficult for the band to receive attention when the label released 1993's Trade Test Transmissions. IRS went out of business two weeks after the release of All Set. Rispler said that Go Kart's smaller size would allow for the band to be a priority. The group's new record, tentatively titled Modern, was finished by the time Edmonds and the band came knocking

The Manchester band is best known for such punk-pop standards as "Orgasm Addict" and "What Do I Get?" The Buzzcocks, born in 1976, broke up in 1980, but singer/guitarists Pete Shelley and Steve Diggle reformed the band in 1989. (Bassist Tony Barber and drummer Phil Barker have replaced their original counterparts.) Go Kart, which was founded in 1993, is also home to Lunachicks, Vision Of Disorder, Down By Law and Candy Snatchers.

Bong Load Records Founder Gets The Blues

Bong Load Records founder and coowner Tom Rothrock has created a new blues imprint, Acid Blues Records, according to Billboard Bulletin. The first release on the new imprint will be 70 Years Coming, the debut album from Jon Brown, which will be released on September 21. The label, which will be distributed by Proper Distribution, will also release R.L. Burnside's Rollin' Tumblin' EP with a bonus track. The recording was issued on Bong Load last year.

Bong Load was founded by Rothrock and co-owner Rob Schnapf. The company is famous for being Beck's original label. Bong Load's roster includes Dieselhead, Poolside and Fatso Jetson.

Listen.com Forms Partnerships With 11 Music Sites

One week after having made its public debut, Listen.com, a comprehensive directory of downloadable music found on the 'Net, announced partnerships with 11 Internet music companies. The companies are Emusic.com, Amp3, Audio Explosion, CDuctive, Customdisc, Epitonic, Guitar.com, IUMA, Riffage.com, Songs.com and Tunes.com. The agreement with the participating companies will allow those companies' music content and artist information to be listed in Listen.com's directory. The deal will also help increase the brand visibility of each participating company site.

"We want to make finding downloadable music a quick and intuitive process. Our new partnerships will be working with us to help promote artists on their sites, which in turn will make it easier for users to find new music," said Rob Reid, founder and CEO of Listen.com.

SDMI Establishes Standards For Portable Devices

The Secure Digital Music Initiative (SDMI) has released specifications for portable devices, such as the Rio player, that play digital music. The new specifications were adopted by over 100 music, information technology and consumer electronic companies.

"In just four months, three industries have come together to agree on the first SDMI Specification for building platforms that operate in the digital music market," said Dr. Leonardo Chiariglione, Executive Director of the SDMI. The establishment of the new specs puts the two-phase rollout plan in action. During Phase 1, SDMI-compliant portable music players will be able to play music encoded in any format (MP3, Liquid Audio, et al.), regardless of whether or not the format is secure. Screening technology will be implemented for the Phase 2 rollout (expected to occur in March 2000) that will filter out pirated music. Furthermore, when Phase 2 begins, Phase 1 portable device owners will need to upgrade to the Phase 2 specifications in order to play or download music. For more information, visit the SDMI's official site at www.sdmi.org.

LaFace Reportedly On The Block

There may be a shakeup afoot at the house of R&B star Usher. LaFace Records owners Antonio "L.A." Reid and Kenneth "Babyface" Edmonds are looking to sell their half of their label, according to Billboard online. Bertelsmann Music Group (BMG), which owns the other half of LaFace, is reportedly negotiating to purchase the label for $125 million. BMG and LaFace did not comment on the potential sale. While it's not clear how the event would affect LaFace personnel, BMG could offer a senior position to Reid. Along with Usher, other LaFace family members include Toni Braxton and TLC.

Canadian Distributor Formed By Industy Veterans

Canadian record industry moguls have formed Oasis Entertainment Inc., an independent distribution company. The four principals in the company are Allan Gregg and Jake Gold of the Management Trust; Bill Ott, former president of PolyGram Group Distribution (Canada); and Alexander Mair, President of Attic Music Group. Gregg will continue his duties as Viacom Canada Ltd. President until December 31. Ott will act as Oasis's President; Randy Wells, late of A&M, will serve as Senior VP. Oasis will distribute products from Attic Music Group, Navarre Canada, Page Music and MaGaDa International Inc. Weird AI Yankovich's new album Running With Scissors will be the first release to be distributed through Oasis. (It will go through Volcano/Jive in the U.S.) Oasis, which has an estimated $15 million with which to launch the company, will likley go public this fall. The company hopes to start its own labels and branch out into music publishing as well.

FCC Raise Regulatory Fees By 10%

Congress has told the Federal Communications commission that it must raise $172,523,000 in regulatory fees for the fiscal year 1999. These regulatory fees are used to cover costs incurred by enforcement, policy making and user information. Fees for stations in AM Class A and FM Classes B, C, Cl and C2 will rise 10% to $4,400 if they reach a listener audience of more than 1 million; fees will raise 10% to $2,750 for the same classes if they serve audiences in number from 400,000 to 1 million. The new charges will go into effect September 10 of this year.

Universal Announces New Organization

In the wake of its merger with PolyGram, Universal Music Group, the world's largest music company, has announced a new North American organizational structure in order to streamline its operations. Six management divisions will report to Vinnie Freda, Senior VP of common Label Operations. The following three offices will be based in Los Angeles, the label's home city: Copyright Administration (headed by VP Pat Blair), Marketing Administration (headed by VP Larry Jacobson) and Image Management (headed by VP Jonathan Bender). Recording Administration (headed by Senior Director Kathy Cantwell), Repertoire Management (headed by Senior Director Ann Murray) and Advertising and Media Services (headed by VP Leslie Borrok) will be based in New York; Advertising and Media Services will retain staff in Los Angeles.

As we reported in Issue #625, Merge Records is currently celebrating its 10-year anniversary. The company, founded by Superchunk's Mac McCaughan and Laura Ballance, has released a compilation to commemorate this milestone. Oh, Merge contains 20 cuts, arranged in alphabetical order by artist, by the likes of East River Pipe, the Ladybug Transistor, Neutral Milk Hotel, Rocket From The Crypt, Spent, Third Eye Foundation and, of course, Superchunk.

AK Press, the publisher of radical socio-political propaganda and books by revolutionary luminaries such as Noam Chomsky and Mumia Abu-Jamal, has teamed up with Honest Don's Records to release Return Of The Read Menace. The 25-band sampler features Chumbawumba, Avail, the Levellers, Screeching Weasel, J Church, Hot Water Music and many others. Proceeds from the sale of the disc will benefit the AK Press.

South Park: Bigger, Longer & Uncut, the feature-length cartoon musical based on Trey Parker and Matt Stone's highly popular cable television series, has a soundtrack that's elbowed its way into stores.

The 20-track album includes songs from the film, among them "Kyle's Mom's A B**ch," "It's Easy, MMMKay" and "I'm Super." The record also boasts music inspired by the flick. Enjoy the stunning version of "O Canada," on which Rush's Geddy Lee and Alex Lifeson are joined by the voices of cartoon icons Terrance and Phillip. Diehard fans will also want to hear the bonus alternate versions of tunes from the movie, performed by legitimate artists such as the Violent Femmes and Kid Rock.

In the summer of 1972, a controversial movie dealt with such powderkeg topics as Communist China, the Black Panthers, the sex slave trade and drugs. The pic was called Soul Ecstasy and, because of its topicality and the sensitive social climate of the country, the film was in and out of theaters in a heartbeat. In an eerie twist, a 1979 fire destroyed every known copy of the movie. The blaze also claimed the life of Fulton James, the film's creator. However, Emperor Norton Records has recovered the soundtrack to this obscure classic, provided by the group Inner Thumb. The band was comprised of studio musicians brought together exclusively for the occasion by producer Ricardo Tubbs.

Motown recently reissued three classic albums by legendary R&B vocal quintet the Temptations, the group that made hits out of "The Way You Do The Things You Do" and "My Girl." You and your parents might enjoy the new CD pressings of Meet The Temptations (1964), Gettin' Ready (1966) and Temptations Live! (1967), all of which sport a pair of bonus tracks that are sure to make checking out these discs all the more...tempting.

CENERAL'S DAHEN

One of the more interesting movie soundtracks released this year is the music for The General's Daughter (Milan). San Francisco-based musician Greg Hale Jones made use of the Library Of Congress' archives, from which he obtained field recordings of Southern field workers and prison inmates. His chilling trance remixes of these labor sounds accompany Carter Burwell's score for the film and the bonus operatic piece "O Fortuna."

Reggae Celebrates The Detroit Sound, a new compilation on Pow Wow Records, celebrates the reggae world's appreciation of the Motown sound. The selection of tunes for the collection was supervised by Doug Wendt, a journalist and the host of the radio program "Midnight Dread," which currently airs on Montana's KGPR. J.C. Lodge's version of "You Can't Hurry Love," Junior English's version of "Tears Of A Clown" and Judy Mowatt's cover of "Stop In The Name Of Love" are among the highlights of this 11track anthology.

Forefront Records recently released Seltzer 3. Comprised of music by youthful, religious rock artists, the album is billed as "more modern music to settle your soul." The O.C. Superstars, Considering Lily, Five Iron Frenzy, Deluxtone Records, Rebecca St. James are just a few of the sonic Christian soldiers who lend their talents to this effort. To boot, the label has simultaneously issued Seltzer Karaoke. That's correct, you can now sing along to your favorite Christian rock tunes. The album includes both the original versions and the instrumental, karaoke versious of 10 different songs, among them DC Talk's "Jesus Freak" and the W's "The Devil Is Bad."

The debut album on 7N, the brand spanking new imprint of Buddha Records, is a collection of songs by Eartha Kitt. Purr-Fect — Greatest Hits is an overview of the onetime Catwoman's RCA recording career, which spanned the years 1952-57. This first American release of Kitt's hits contains 22 songs, among them "I Want To Be Evil," "My Heart Belongs To Daddy," "Just An Old Fashioned Girl" and "Santa Baby."

RECORD BRIEFS

During a recent public chat online, Bono commented on the current sessions for U2's forthcoming, eponymous album. "We're kind of running after it at the moment. Which is a good sign. It's usually the sound of four people playing in a room — four people who have spent most of their life together, but feeling like it's the first time. It feels really fresh to me. Don't know when it will be finished, though."...On September 7, Interscope will release One Part Lullaby, the next album by the Folk Implosion...Bush recently played a few dates in California. The Brits unveiled a handful of new songs that displayed an increasing reliance on electronic enhancement. "Jesus Online," "Warm Machine" and "The Chemicals Between Us" are a step away from the band's grunge-ful back catalog. These and other new tracks will appear on Bush's unscheduled, forthcoming Interscope release, The Science Of Things...A new R&B/hip-hop supergroup has been born. According to SonicNet, Soul Disciples features ex-members of A Tribe Called Quest, Tony! Toni! Tone! and En Vogue. The trio is currently recording songs for its debut album. The group has yet to announce the name of the label that will release the effort...Frances McKee, who is best known for her role in Kurt Cobain's favorite Scottish band the Vaselines, has a new project called Suckle. The group also features ex-Long Fin Killie drummer Kenny McEwan and McKee's sister Marie McKee. Suckle is currently recording material for the U.K. label Chemikal Underground...Go Kart Records recently announced that it has inked a deal with hardcore heroes Down By Law. The band's first album for the label, Fly The Flag, should arrive in stores by the end of the summer...Long Island ska unit Edna's Goldfish has finished recording its new album for Moon Ska. The Elements Of Transition is currently in the mixing and mastering stages...On August 3, Mud Records will issue Very Secretary's Standing In The Shade, the band's sophomore album. Guitarist Tim Adamson left the combo sometime after its debut album, released in January of 1998. However, Very Secretary now boasts a new member, violinist Rachel Dietkus.

artists and record labels. For its digital rights management solution, RioPort has also entered into an agreement with digital rights management company Reciprocal. Rioport.com also allows for the purchasing of tickets, CDs, portable digital audio players and software downloads. The portal will be fully functional by August.

In August, Rioport Inc. will release the Rio 500, a new 64MB digital audio player. With an estimated retail price tag of $269, the player, unlike the current generation of Rio players, will be compatible with both the PC and Mac platforms. Rioport has also made a deal with Microsoft to incorporate support for MS's Windows Media Player into the Rio 500. "The launch of our Rio player last year was a pivotal component in transforming Internet audio from a fringe, alternative market into a worldwide phenomenon," said David Watkins, President of Rioport. "Where we see an opportunity now is in providing an integrated and secure digital audio solution that brings together the best content on the Internet, the most intuitive audio content management software and leading-edge playback devices under the Rio brand.

Rioport made these announcements just after Diamond Multimedia announced that it would be bought by PC graphics company S3. The stock-swap deal, which will take place in October, is valued at $170 million. Both Diamond Multimedia and S3 have been struggling financially. Diamond's first quarter report indicated that net revenues were down from $186 million in the same period last year to $144 million this year. S3's first quarter report indicated that net revenues were down from $82 million in the same period last year to $44 million this year.

publicist Rick Gershon and A&R rep David Katžnelson, Reprise on the whole "didn't seem to give a shit or have a clue."

Arm announced that the other members of Mudhoney would be taking a break from each other to pursue various side projects. Arm and guitarist Steve Turner play in the Monkeywrench with Tim Kerr. Turner, according to MTV News, will join the Wellwater Conspiracy, members of which include Soundgarden alumni Matt Cameron and Ben Shepherd. Drummer Dan Peters is working with Mike Johnson; he had been playing in Valis with the Screaming Trees' Van Connor.

Mudhoney's most recent album was last year's Tomorrow Hit Today. The band's first label, Sub Pop, is expected to release a twodisc collection of Mudhoney hits and exclusive tracks next year.

in the dismantling of their label. The deal that A&M signed with PolyGram in 1989 stipulated that PolyGram must maintain the integrity of the label. But after Universal acquired PolyGram late last year, it released or displaced A&M artists and fired over a hundred A&M employees. Alpert and Moss, who are also founders of the Almo Sounds label and the publishing company Rondor Music, oversaw an artist roster that included such hitmakers as Sting, Janet Jackson, Blues Traveler and Sheryl Crow.

Manager Alison Tarnofsky. "[It] reveals a more poppy side to Michael...while retaining all his credibility for being a cutting-edge artist."

Given Royal Astronomy's more accessible and almost cinematic quality, Astralwerks hopes to make the album  $\mu$ -Ziq's most successful U.S. release to date. The album will be made available as a point-of-purchase release for the first time in the U.S. The label's marketing plans include placing tracks from the album as incidental music in films or on soundtracks. Astralwerks also expects college radio to embrace Royal Astronomy in the same manner that the medium welcomed past  $\mu$ -Ziq releases, which include the RPM chart-topping albums Lunatic Harness (1997) and In Pine Effect (1995).

"We expect college stations to be very receptive to this record and are hoping to bolster his sales in the U.S. with this album," says Tarnorsky. "We have several new vehicles with the record that we never had before. [Those] being a single, 'The Fear,' and [its accompanying] video." Astralwerks is also currently planning a u-Ziq U.S. tour for the late fall.

"Michael does better here than in the U.K., and his sales history has grown with every record," remarks Tarnofsky. "We expect to continue that trend [with Royal Astronomy]."

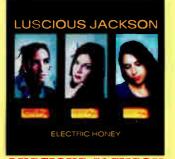

Chart information is based on combined airplay reports from CMJ's panel of college, commercial and non-commercial radio stations. Statistics are compiled from point totals tabulated from positions (1-30) of artists on airplay reports, then multiplied by station code factor (based upon market size, market impact and market reach). © 1999 College Media Inc., 11 Middle Neck Road, Ste. 400, Great Neck, NY 11021-2301.

CHART ACTIVITY

Capitol preceded this new Luscious Jackson album at radio with a promo EP that enjoyed quite a bit of chart success in its own right, peaking at #28 over six weeks on the chart. So when Electric Honey arrived at stations for its Add week and first week on the charts, it immediately made a big impression, most notably debuting at #16 on the Radio 200. With a recent appearance on Late Night With Conan O'Brien, and a few upcoming Lilith Fair appearances slated for July, the album is poised for success on the CMJ charts and beyond.

SHORT MUSIC FOR SHORT PEOPLE Radio 200: 176-47 Core Radio: #50 debut

Talk about a great gimmick: Fat Wreck Chords' Short Music For Short People is comprised of all-new 30-second-andunder songs from 101 different artists. Not only is college radio responding to the album's militant take on the old don't-bore-us-get-to-the-chorus method, but the roster reads like a virtual who's who of punk rock. A sampling: Less Than Jake, Living End, Bad Religion, Blink 182, No Use For A Name, Green Day, Mr. T Experience, Lagwagon, Gwar, Samiam, Descendents, Offspring, Groovie Ghoulies, the Damned, Sick Of It All, NOFX, Rancid, Queers, Agnostic Front, Down By Law, Lunachicks, Bouncing Souls, Muffs, Ten Foot Pole and the Misfits.

MY FAVORITE

Radio 200: 133-51 Core Radio: #38 debut

Long Island's My Favorite follows up its various singles and compilation appearances on other indie labels with Love At Absolute Zero on Double Agent, and college radio's affection for the band pushes it 82 positions up the Radio 200 in its second week out. Mining a variety of modern rock influences from the '80s (from Depeche Mode hits to genreblending bands like the Police) and introducing them to the '90s indie rock ethic, My Favorite manages to be as referential as it likes without sounding kitschy or retro. Expect Love At Absolute Zero to be especially strong at Core Radio, where it debuted this week at #38.

BLACK BOX RECORDER

Radio 200: #56 debut Adds: #2 with 128 reports Triple A Adds: #4

England's Black Box Recorder debuts stateside with Jetset's England Made Me, and though the album only debuted on the Radio 200 this week, its powerful appearance on the Adds chart (#2 with 128 reports) and showing on the Triple A Adds bodes well for its future. Comprised of a former member of the Auteurs, ex-Jesus And Mary Chain drummer John Moore, and new vocalist Sarah Nixey. Black Box Recorder's moody pop music brings in both old fans of the style and new, mixing triedand-true sounds with lyrics focused on very modern societal problems. chart topper

Web site of the week

What do you get when you puree the ashes of Jimi Hendrix, a bottle of wine, a user's guide to HTML and a pinch of cannabis in a blender? Why Woodstock.com of course! And unless you've been living in a cave for the past few months, you are by now surely aware of the forthcoming Woodstock 99 concert. Commemorating the historical event that took place in the summer of '69, the three-day, 30th anniversary celebration featuring performances by some 40 bands will come to pass July 23-25 in upstate Rome, New York. Woodstock.com is the official source for psyberdelic fans wishing to learn more about the special summer concert, offering vital information on admission, parking, travel packages, camping and what legal necessities to bring (don't forget the bug spray!). Also presented is "official Woodstock 99 news," chat opportunities, MP3 downloads and special features including video interviews by the Counting Crows, the Tragically Hip, and Live. For the John Lennon in all of us, the site is hosting a John Lennon Song Writing Contest in which aspiring songwriters of all experience levels are encouraged to submit songs with the chance to win cash, prizes and a possible publishing contract. Woodstock.com also showcases a list of all scheduled performers with links to separate individual artist pages outlining brief group histories. And it is only fitting that a Web site affiliated with a momentous historical event should make a little history of its own. On June 25, Woodstock.com offered site visitors a pay-per-view webcast of a Sarah McLachlan concert simultaneously via pay-per-view television in many cities through Spring Communications. Although the concert originally took place in April 1998, it was the first time such a 'Net event occurred. The company plans to push the envelope once again by pay-per-view webcasting the Woodstock 99 concert, only this time as the event actually unfolds. We must be in heaven man! - Bill Konig

Valley Media, Amplified.com In Digital Distribution Pact

Music and video distributor Valley Media (www.valleymedia.com) has entered into an agreement with Amplified.com. The two companies plan to offer music Compilations to downloads and custom CD compilations to retail stores. In return for an equity stake in Amplified.com, Valley Media will create a custom CD manufacturing facility in its Woodland, California-based distribution center, where the custom CD compilations will be manufactured.

"The proposed relationship with Amplified.com would move Valley Media into the digital distribution of music," said Rob Cain, President/CEO of Valley Media.

Former Record Execs To Manage Soundbreak.com

Acadia Research has formed the music site Soundbreak.com, naming David Kronemeyer and Walter Lee as the leaders of the new company's management group. Kronemeyer had been the Senior VP of Business Affairs for Atlantic Records. He also held the same position at Capitol Records. Lee had been General Manager, Senior VP of Marketing, Sales and Promotion for Capitol Records. Soundbreak plans to feature retail merchandise, streamed music videos, and continuous Webcasts by live DJs.

"Soundbreak's mission is to provide our target audience, the 18-34 age group, with a superior entertainment experience and instant access to new music combined with the ability to immediately own the music they like," said Lee. Soundbreak's streaming media services will be provided by Broadcast.com.

Musicland Unveils Multi-Site Online Retail Attack

Musicland Corp. (www.musicland.com) has opened the following four new online retail sites: SamGoody.com, Suncoast.com, MediaPlay.com and OnCue.com. Together, the sites sell music and video merchandise, in addition to toys, clothes, books, sheet music, video games and computer software. As part of its marketing plan for the sites, Musicland is offering online shoppers a chance to win a $10,000 grand prize that includes a Sony home entertainment system and a trip for two to the WWF Summer Slam, which will take place on August 22 in Minneapolis. Visitors to any of the four sites can now register to win the prize. The first 25,000 customers to purchase merchandise from any one of the sites will receive a free gift.

Musicland owns and operates more than 1,300 brick-and-mortar retail outlets, comprised of Sam Goody, Suncoast, Media Play and On Cue chains located throughout 49 of the 50 states, Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands and the United Kingdom.

Harmonix, Acer, Rock Records, Intel Launch CDX MusicZone

Harmonix Music Systems, Acer Internet Services, Rock Records (an Asian music label) and Intel have unveiled CDX MusicZone, a preview site — accessible through www.intelweboutfitter.com — for a forthcoming music portal site that is currently being developed for Asian music consumers. CDX MusicZone features access to new Internet multimedia applications, a directory of 'Net radio and video channels, and retail outlets that sell CDs, DVDs, CD-ROMs and concert tickets.

Nanocosm Gets $13.4 Million To Expand Live365.com

Nanocosm has received $13.4 million in private funding from investors based in Hong Kong and Singapore. The company plans to use the money to expand server space for its live audio stream site, Live365.com. The site provides server space to Web site producers who wish to webcast original programming in the MP3 format. Live365.com currently offers users 100MB of free server space for the storage of multimedia content. In the future, the company hopes to team up with music Web portals to expand the reach of the site.

ABUNAI!

The Mystic River Sound (Camera Obscura)

For the record, Mystic is the name of an actual river the flows through the suburbs of North Boston, the stomping ground of spacefolk quartet Abunai!. Regardless of that fact, the image evoked by the title of the band's sophomore release, The Mystic River Sound, r e m a i n s applicable to the group's music — an intersection of organic and spiritual forces. Abunai! (Japanese for "Look out!") masks whimsical folk-pop musings with a solid wall of shimmering guitar effects and lazy, hazy atmospherics and distortion. Most selections, such as "Tomorrow" and "Sweet William," are soothingly psychedelic, entering a realm where Cat Stevens tangos with Spacemen 3. On other cuts, such as "To Think That You Knew" and the instrumental "Vanishing Point," Abunai! cuts its earthly ties and lets the swirling compositions float, helium-like, into the stratosphere. Pass the ether. — M. Tye Comer

CRESCENT

Collected Songs (Roomtone)

Over the years, Crescent, Matt Jones's reverbsoaked ensemble from Bristol, England, has been shedding its detuned, psych-rock skin and coating its raw flesh with the ultimate organ-based drone. The frozen, analog soundscapes of Collected Songs — a hodgepodge of previously unreleased material recorded in a church between 1995 and 1998 — mark another step forward in the band's journey towards the land of nod. But the quartet's otherworldly hum is hardly ambient music. Jones's disembodied muttering and drummer J. Larsen's slow, methadone-punk rhythms give the record a rare sense of purpose and drive. Mixing amorphous shadowplay with bass-driven, postdub pounding, Crescent lulls you into some gorgeous fever-dream on what is the group's most arresting and effective outing to date. — Jordan N. Mamone

LUNACHICKS Luxury Problem (Go-Kart)

The Lunachicks have developed a raucous reputation that precedes them in every way. Thanks to 12 years of nonstop touring and a catalog of six ferocious albums, these ladies ns, these ladies have built a fervent fanbase. So in 1999, the 'Chicks' challenge is not to simply rock the masses they've got that down pat — but to build on their unforbey do that on gettable punk/metal legacy. They do that on Luxury Problem, which proves that even without longtime rhythm guitarist Sindi, the band is capable of retaining its fatal chops and sharp lyrical teeth. The latter displays a feminist stance that's empowering, outrageous, and sometimes just plain funny ("Hope To Die," the story of a housewife who chokes a policeman to death with her uncomfortable brassiere, puts the old saying "cross my heart and hope to die" to the double-entendre test). Courtney Love wishes that she could muster up so much sass. — Cheryl Botchick

JASON TRAEGER My Religion Is Love (K)

Cynics should proceed with caution when they enter Jason Traeger's world. The title of his debut, My Religion Is Love, suggests that his views about life are smothered in a glossy, Brady Bunch idealism. Traeger's imperfect-but-enthusiastic voice quavers with such u n - m a c h o confessions as "Of the many things that I like most in life/The three things I like most of all/Are love, love, love" and "Hold onto love/It's the key to your health." But that kind of lovey-dovey hooey is forgivable, if not refreshing, every once in a while. One might think that Traeger would apply his brazenly open, quirky, lyrical lacquer to predictable, acoustic indie-folk musings (a lá the Mountain Goats). Instead, with some help from his friends, he sets his words to a plugged-in, muddy, lo-fi rock thing that's not unlike the punk-rockfriendly approach of Sebadoh circa 1992. — Kelso Jacks

MARKY RAMONE & THE INTRUDERS

The Answer To Your Problems? (Zoë-Rounder)

If you don't have a pretty good idea of what The Answer To Your Problems? sounds like before listening to it, you're probably in the wrong business. But while the old adage you can take Marky out of the Ramones but

e Ramones but you can't take the Ramones out of Marky — holds true as far as Mr. Ramone is concerned, his I n t r u d e r s have their way with the R a m o n e s' tried-and-true formula, incorporating old-school, lunkheaded pop fun into a new-school delivery reliant upon gruff vocals and a snarling edge. Producer Lars Frederiksen (Rancid), gives The Answer To Your Problems? its punk-approved brass knuckles, but he never buries the infectious fun of three-chord rock, which still shines on the album's speedy cover of the Beatles' "Nowhere Man." Marky Ramone remains one of the mookiest rockers of New York's East Village. — Cheryl Botchick

BICYCLE

Bicycle (Capricorn-IDJMG)

You wouldn't expect such kooky, folkinspired, undeniably light-hearted pop to come out of the rain-drenched rock metropolis of Seattle. Bicycle, the brainchild of singersongwriter Kurt Liebert, acknowledges your suspicions on the un-ironically titled "Pop Song," which points out that "Everyone in town loves Hüsker Dü / Maybe I'm afraid what it does to you." On Bicycle's eponymous debut, Liebert sings in a high monotone, often accompanied by acoustic guitar. An electricguitar injection gives a few of his vignettes an extra bit of oomph. The vocalist puts a personal, silly spin on even the most mundane daily rituals; for example, the goofy "Clean" discusses the bathing process in a manner that makes scrubbing yourself seem as exciting as skydiving. Bicycle's slices of life of make up a rather quirky sonic pie. — Amy Sciarretto

FOUR HUNDRED YEARS

Suture And Other Songs (Lovitt)

From its delicate piano opening to its conclusion full of choppy riffs, Four Hundred Years' debut Suture And Other Songs is an intense listening experience. The fuel tank of this hyper-dynamic, post-hardcore outfit from Virginia brims with a high-octane blend of quietloud guitars and passionately screamed vocal harmonies. Siphoning its hard-hitting force from both math rock and emo-core reserves, this bipolar "s c r e a m o" record deals in quivering tension and abrasive vitriol, usually within the same song. The cunning chord progressions prowl like a cheetah that's methodically stalking a gazelle. The technical, intellectual side of the music is balanced out by the singer's severe, almost unstable, gusts of emotion. Suture... is a knotted web of brutality and sensitivity

Vertú (550-Sony Legacy)

The backbone of any great band is its rhythm section. As members of the legendary '70s fusion unit Return To Forever, bassist Stanley Clarke and drummer Lenny White formed some of the sturdiest sonic vertebrae in music history and helped bring the backbeat to the forefront of innovation and composition. Vertú is White and Clarke's first reunion since the nion since the late-'70s breakup of RTF. The quintet, rounded out by smooth jazz keyboard siren Rachel Z, violinist/ onetime Yanni sideperson Karen Briggs, and recovering hair metal guitarist Richie Kotzen, relives fusion's glory days and pumps new life into the old jazzrock warhorse. The album's arpeggio guitar streams and odd-time throwdowns don't stray far from the genre's original spirit, but Vertú's over-the-top aesthetics put virtuosity and musicianship back into the spotlight. — Ron Hart

SUMMER HYMNS Summer Hymns (7") (Made In Mexico)

Summer Hymns is an Athens, Georgia, sextet featuring two members of Of Montreal that has tailored its lush Luna-meets-Brian Wilson music to perfectly fit its band name. On side A's "Half Sick of Shadows," singer Bren Mead allows his Dean Warehamesque vocals to float over a subtle mixture of organ, jingle bells and reverb-drenched guitar. The B-side, "Lucky," is a countryish, acoustic ballad, peppered with tambourines, space-age burblings and a recorder outro. Both tracks are served well by a heartfelt lyricism that weds the pastoral and the surreal.

CAPTAIN BEEFHEART & HIS MAGIC BAND

Grow Fins: Rarities (1965-1982) (Revenant)

It's quite a challenge to get your head around Grow Fins, the five-CD whopper of live and studio recordings that didn't make it onto Captain Beefheart's original excursions into blues, jazz and avant-garde. Frank Zappa, whose Straight Records first issued the Captain's landmark 1969 double album, Trout Mask Replica, introduces this box set's live performance of Replica's "My Human Gets Me

Blues" by announcing "pay attention to this man's music, because if you don't, you might miss something important." What the audience got was a thick dose of caustic, psychedelic skronk performed by a band that had outgrown its mid-'60s blues-oriented mode and evolved into one of the most ambitious musical collectives of all time. Even in its earliest and most accessible incarnation (heard on the satisfying first two discs), Van Vliet's Magic Band served up a sound full of

ELVIS COSTELLO My Aim Is True (Columbia-CRG)

Elvis Costello likes to strike poses. Torch singer, string quartet impresario, Jerry Garcia lookalike, soundtrack composer, blue country swain. What strikes me most, however, is the stance he took on the cover of his 1977 debut, My Aim Is True: the eloquently angry young man. As far as I can tell, that model's been discontinued. With his songs of pissed-off dissipation, Elliott Smith comes close. But the lank-haired, knit-capped Smith inhabits the existential slouch endemic to my generation. Costello, however, came out fighting, wearing his jacket and tie like a threat — he's gonna put punk in a suit and you're gonna like it. His guitar's slung across his chest like a round of ammunition. But those glasses, those cuffed jeans — are you sure he isn't going to proffer a bouquet from behind his back? His aim is true, alright. Each song on his first record explodes with idiosyncratic vision; the words pin the world down quickly, gracefully. Work is a sham: "Welcome to the working week/I know it won't thrill you, I hope it don't kill you." So is love: "I said I'm so happy I could die/She said drop dead and left with another guy." But then he's undone because some friend of his took off his girl's party dress. That's what makes the album great - the way, musically and lyrically, it straddles control and abandon, the way it drops slivers of hope into the bitterness. Elvis's 1980 album Get Happy!! contains some of my favorite Costello songs, but I love My Aim Is True for that iconic portrait and for everything it stands for — some brash, brainy English kid has come to offer us a sound salvation. Geeks never looked so good. Carlene Bauer

Bio-fact: Before he was a rock star, Costello was a computer operator. Since the release of My Aim Is True, Costello has released more than 20 albums and has worked with everyone from Paul McCartney to Burt Bacharach.

But by the late-'60s, Beefheart was letting all of his influences fly — his vocals had the rumble of Howlin' Wolf and his sax playing wrestled with the cathartic bombast of Albert Ayler. To summarize this very complex release with an understatement, Beefheart's dense, ambitious compositions still sound as groundbreaking and forward-thinking as ever. — Steve Ciabattoni

CLARENCE "GATEMOUTH" BROWN

American Music - Texas Style (Blue Thumb)

Texas-born and -bred musical entrepreneur Clarence "Gatemouth" Brown has a long and fabled lustory on the bandstand. His legacy stretches back to the wild and wooly days of the 1950s' Southern R&B circuit. In 1999. Brown is reigning supreme as a master of American music, renowned for combining the modern sounds of funk and soul with a tried-and-true, down-home appreciation of four decades of blues and jazz. American Music

American Music – Texas Style is an aptly titled celebration of all things 'Mouthical spry fiddling, soulful guitar picking and gravelly, tough vocals. Add in Brown's spicyhot horn section, bolstered by the boisterous trumpet solos of Nicholas Payton, and you've got a real winner of an album, the songbook for which draws upon forms as lofty as vintage. Uptown, Duke Ellington-styled arrangements and as low-down as gut-bucket, chicken-shack blues. The long-player paints a broad and vivid picture of Brown's genius. Because of Gate's time-worn career, it's a little silly to suddenly proclaim that "his time has come at last." But American Music is so damn powerful that it's hard to disagree. — James Lien

The New Demonstration of Songs (EP)

Do you miss 1991, when Brit-pop sounded like the Charlatans UK, Ride, the Levellers, the Wonder Stuff and the Candy Skins? With its five-song demo full of crunchy, swirly guitars and shaken-and-stirred percussion, Élan, a trio fronted by guitarist/vocalist Christopher Tucker, takes you back to that year. With that year. With the help of bassist Lorren Sherrell and d r u m m e r D a m o n Howard, Tucker crafts appealingly textured songs about disaffected girls and boys

"Wasted Days" is a particularly accomplished piece of pop that starts out with a graceful piano vamp, but ends leaving Tucker and his guitar stranded on a sludgy, Pavement-esque plane. The singer's gifts as a lyricist may not match his musical talents yet, but his choruses (e.g. "There's nothing like breaking the heart of a heartbreaker") hint at radio domination.

CARL COX Phuture 2000 (Moonshine)

It's been a long time coming, but Phuture 2000, Carl Cox's first album of all original material, is finally seeing the light of day. Cox's wealth of experience as the world's premier peak-hour DJ is evident here, as nearly every fist-pounding dancefloor filler carries the Englishman's distinctive energy and vigor. Cox spices each cut with very different flavors — a heap of techno here, a dash of electro there, a smidgen of salsa for garnish — but uses a base recipe of multi-layered melodies and domineering rhythmic structures to give each song his authentic flavor. Well worth the wait.

We Will Follow: A Tribute To U2 (Cleopatra) If the sheer novelty of mall-rocker Tiffany (yes, that one) collaborating with Front Line Assembly on "New Year's Day" doesn't pique your curiosity, then perhaps Electric Hellfire Club's "Sunday Bloody Sunday," Razed In Black's "Pride," or any of the other industrial/goth takes on U2 classics will prompt a cursory listen to this most unusual tribute. Riot's American tour, which will commence on July 18, in Washington, DC. This inaugural performance will be the British "avant hard" trio's first American gig since its 1998 CMJ MusicFest showcase. Earplugs will be a necessity, rather than an option, for these forthcoming dates. Trust us...Prodigy MC Maxim will issue his first solo recording on July 26. His debut comes in the form of My Web, a five-track, U.K.-only EP, on which the performer began work last year. Insiders say that Maxim shuns rapping on the mini-album, which is more "low-slung and meaty" than your typical Prodigy fare. A domestic pressing should follow My Web's European release...On September 6, England's Hard Hands Records will release Rhythm And Stealth, the latest effort by U.K. electronica staple Leftfield. The first single from the LP will be "Afrika Shox," a two-year-old collaboration with Afrika Bambaataa. Chris Cunningham, who directed Aphex Twin's "Come To Daddy" and "Windowlicker," as well as Bjork's "All Is Full Of Love," has already filmed a vi leo for the song.

beat box news

review of the Tillson single. In the piece, Dub Narcotic was mistakenly identified as a label. It's actually the name of Calvin Johnson's band, the Dub Narcotic Sound System. The "Action" 12" was actually pressed by the venerable K Records. I personally apologize for this mix-up, in hopes that my repenting will prevent the indie kids out there from lining their birdcages with that section of our publication...Puff Daddy and Steve Stoute — the man who had his ass-kicked by Puffy's thugs — appeared side by side at a New York press conference, at which they announced the plethora of nominees for this year's Source Hip-Hop Music Awards. The event will take place in Los Angeles on August 18. The Interscope executive's decision to join Combs was public proof that the two music biz moguls have squashed the beef that had come between them (see page 5). This news should make real hip-hop heads in our audience rest much easier at night. As for the nominations, DMX led the pack with six nods, including Solo Artist of the Year, Album of the Year (for It's Dark And Hell Is Hot), Lyricist of the Year, (Continued on page 31)

GZA/GENIUS Beneath The Surface (MCA)

Many heads are still ringing from GZA's groundbreaking 1995 classic Liquid Swords, and the Wu-Tang Clan's founding father returns at last with his highly anticipated third solo outing. While Beneath The Surface may not possess the dusted-out, dungeon rat textures of his previous effort, the album's solid fusion of RZA-esque string play and thumping jeep beats provide an equally formidable backdrop for the Genius's ever-heady lyrical chessboxing. Unlike the last couple of Wu solo joints, ...Surface is a family affair with impressive guest spots from Ghostface Killah, Inspectah Deck, Method Man, Ol' Dirty Bastard, the RZA, and Masta Killa. Behold the first true Wu-Banger of 1999.

MR. LIF "Triangular Warfare" (12") (Brick)

There's a reason why 'test Lif and you got ate" is emblazoned on the back of this dope single. A member of Company Flow's crew, this Boston upstart's nasal delivery and off-kilter cadence is so commanding that it will make his competition go running home to mama. The single also features the El-P produced "Arise," along with the bangin' "Inhuman Capabilities" with Akrobatik.

LOST BOYZ

"Ghetto Jiggy" (12") (Universal)

The latest single from the Lost Boyz' forthcoming Lost Boyz 4 Life is a thugged-out soul jam perfectly designed for summertime rotation. As a Santana-esque guitar sound resonates beneath a thumping background groove, Mr. Cheeks and the late Freaky Tah show love to their hometown of Jamaica, Queens.

ALI FARKE TOURE Niafunké (Hannibal-Rykodisc)

When Ali Farke Toure tunes up his guitar amidst the peaceful evening desert air of Mali, he can spin listeners into a trance with his African blues, a super-charged, guitar-driven style of Malian music that bears an uncanny resemblance to the American blues of John Lee Hooker and Jimmy Reed. Whereas 1994's Grammy-winning Talking Timbuktu was a sculpted and tailored masterpiece with Ry Cooder on board, Niafunké is a rougher and rawer recording. It offers a deeper glimpse into Toure's unique African blues, which is as powerful as just about any music you could name.

KIRSTEN BRATEN BERG From Senegal To Setesdal (Six Degrees)

Kirsten Bråten Berg is a well-traveled traditional Norwegian singer who has recorded an intriguing solo project. From Senegal To Setesdal represents an unusual collaboration between Norwegian and West Africans musicians, melding koras and djembes with Norwegian munnharpe. There doesn't seem to be much musical glue uniting the two musics, but when these vastly different strains mesh, the resultant fusion is surprisingly pleasing and remarkably beautiful.

For Fans Of: Annbjorg Lien, Capercaille, Outback Recommened Tracks: "Uppstaden," "Kouami Ba," "Bitilo" Contact: Vinne Esparza Phone: 415.626.6334 ext. 16 Fax: 415.626.6167 Email: vinnie@sixdegreesrecords.com Release Date: June 22

FLYING BULGAR KLEZMER BAND Fire (Traditional Crossroads)

Amidst the host of vibrant and exciting bands that are pushing the modern limits of this genre, the Flying Bulgar Klezmer Band is one of the most unorthodox. Fire is a live recording featuring acclaimed Yiddish singer Adrienne Cooper. The song selections are a mix of startling originals and timeworn tunes culled from a variety of traditional sources.

The Recording Academy and its Latin affiliate new world news (LARAS) have announced their plans to hold the first Latin Grammy Awards, which are scheduled to take place during the MIDEM Americas convention in November of 2000. The awards will feature 39 categories, among them Record Of The Year, Album Of The Year, Song Of The Year and Best New Artist, and 12 nomination fields, in such genres as pop. rock, tropical, Brazilian, regional, jazz, traditional, classical, children's, production and video...Northside has announced plans for a Garmarna tour, which will take place in the fall. Having scored several glowing reviews for its recently released Vengeance, the Swedish band will support that release from September 13-23...Winter & Winter will imminently issue

Gaga For Ya-Ya: Zydeco, the musical accompaniment to Rebecca Wells' bestselling book Divine Secrets Of The Ya-Ya Sisterhood, which reached No. 1 on the The New York Times' Bestseller List. The record label is known for its beautiful packaging jobs, and this lovely disc will boast performances by such Zydeco legends as Buckwheat Zydeco, Boozoo Chavis and Beau Jocque. The book has spent 21 weeks on the Times' list. The CD, which was initially used as a promo item for the paperback, will arrive in stores in August. The success of Wells' work prompted the label to give the general public a chance to enjoy the record...Green Linnet has taken on Irish-American fiddler Liz Carroll. She is currently working with Solas's Seamus Egan to finish her label debut, which marks her first solo effort in over a decade. The album will be released early next (Continued on page 31)

Big Sandy And The Fly-Rite Boys are in for some personnel changes. According to a letter that Sandy posted at Deja.com,

"Wally [Hersom] and Carl [Sonny Leyland] are leaving the band." The good news is that the band will continue to exist. Former Sun Demons member Jeff West will replace Hersom sometime after July. Leyland's spot will remain open. This summer, the group will embark on its final American tour with its original line-up, so catch it while you can... Given her well-publicized disdain for the "women in rock" tag, Pretenders leader Chrissie Hynde was a surprise inclusion on this year's Lilith Fair tour. While Hynde told the Boston Globe that she thinks it will be fun "to play with a bunch of girls," she also took a swipe at the blockbuster tour, referring to the outing's female focus as "a marketing ginmick." Mixed feelings aside, the frontwoman has made her performance priorities clear. "The only thing I know for sure is that we will be excellent. P.S. This will also give me a chance to test my theory that girls can't play guitar. Anyone wanna prove me wrong?"

RANDY NEWMAN Bad Love (DreamWorks)

Since his 1968 debut, Randy Newman has been penning mordant songs that have delivered hits for both himself ("Short People") and artists such as Judy Collins and Joe Cocker. Still, his smothered drawl and tales of the pathological have hindered him from appealing to the mainstream, a fact stated here in classic Newman style on "I'm Dead (But I Don't Know It)." With production by Mitchell Froom and Tchad Blake, Bad Love ranks among his best-sounding albums. Stocked with poignant, tastefully arranged songs about the fall of Marxism and European colonialism, Bad Love also stands as one of his better collections of songs.

VICTOR WOOTEN Yin-Yang (Compass)

As Bela Fleck's bassist, Victor Wooten has already proven his tremendous talent as an instrumentalist. This double album, however, gives him room to flex his technical skills and showcase his innovative compositions. Disc 1 gives us laid-back fusion, but on disc 2, Wooten really lets the funk fly.

JOHN TRUDELL

Blue Indians (Inside Recordings-Dangerous Discs) Thirty years as a Native American activist has filled Trudell's poetry with a wealth of experiences — both horrific and wonderful. The roots rock musical backdrop provided by Mark Shark (of the Graffiti Band) and chants from Native American woven throughout give deeper meaning to Trudell's powerful and sometimes disturbing texts.

CHUCHO VALDÉS Briyumba Palo Conga (Blue Note)

Master pianist Chucho Valdés continues to amaze with his profoundly Cuban take on jazz. This latest in his series of religiousthemed albums finds him exploring the African component of Cuban religion with a jazz quartet. The results are stunning. Hearing Valdés manhandle the piano like he does on "Caravan" is a delight indeed, as he treats the piano like the percussion instrument it is, making Duke Ellington's exotic tune yield to the rhythmic pummeling.

CHARLES BROWN In A Grand Style (Bullseve Blues)

Pianist Charles Brown was a genius of both soul and jazz. Coming from the school of Ray Charles and Nat "King" Cole, Brown's melancholy playing was the perfect soundtrack for loneliness. His warm and tender voice expressed ache and longing like few others. One of his last recordings, In A Grand Style features Brown alone at the piano. It's a dark and stirring album that captures the complexity and depth of this departed musical legend.

MARCELO ZARVOS Labyrinths (M-A)

Brazilian-born pianist Marcelo Zarvos has created a mesmerizing album that creates a hypnotic and tranquil mood with roots in the heart of the Brazilian sound. His piano playing bears touches of melancholy sunsets, surging, optimistic sunrises, tranquil moonlit beaches and cool shade of the rainforest.

On June 14, the 1999 Jazz Awards were held in New York City. Hosted by Paul Shaffer, the event boasted awards given out in 25 categories. One of the biggest winners of the night was trumpeter Dave Douglas, who won awards in four different categories. Pianist Herbie Hancock's Gershwin's World earned the title of Album Of The Year. Hancock, saxophonist Wayne Shorter and keyboardist Joseph Zawinul were among the many heavies who were on hand to announce nominees or simply catch up with old friends. The following Friday, Hancock and Shorter performed at Carnegie Hall, as part of the JVC Jazz Festival. While the concert was quite subdued, reminiscent of last year's

1 + 1, the hour-long performance was filled with poignant moments. And don't forget to tip your hat to Sonny Rollins, who won the Lifetime Achievement award. The man just keeps earning those well-deserved recognitions. Hopefully, he'll release a new album sometime soon. Until then, try to catch Rollins this year, at one of his numerous scheduled live appearances...Jazz supergroup Jazz Is Dead will hit the road to play 30 dates throughout July and August. The ensemble, which is composed of guitarist Jimmy Herring, bassist Alphonso Johnson and keyboardist T Lavitz, will support Laughing Water, an album that reinterprets the whole of the Grateful Dead's Wake Of The Flood. Drum monster Billy Cobham plays on the record, but he'll be replaced live by the two-percussionist attack of Leftover Salmon's Jeff Sipe and the Dixie Dregs' Rod Morganstein...On June 24, Koch Jazz will have completed moving its offices from Port Washington, Long Island, to its company's new digs in New York City. The organization's contact information will change, but, at presstime, Koch had yet to confirm phone, fax and address data. Regardless, Koch's Naomi Yoshi and Donald Elfinan will remain reachable at the same email addresses yoshii@kochint.com; elfman@kochint.com.

Given the numerous tours that will flatten the counloud rock news try throughout the month, July should be extrasweaty for the American Loud Rock population. Could the summer jaunt of Hatebreed, Soulfly and Neurosis get any louder, harder, faster or more brain- annihilating? You're probably scratching yer noggin, thinking "No way," right? Well, the metal ante has been upped. Sacramento's finest noise mongers, Will Haven, have been added to the outing. The foursome's sophomore stab, WHVN, is currently being remixed by Andy Sneap, who has worked with Machine Head and Earth Crisis. Without a doubt, this record will be one of 1999's most anticipated and important Loud Rock titles...Heavy metal cannot be contained by mere concrete walls, folks. Due to its unharnessable largeness, the Milwaukee Metal Fest has been moved to an outside venue, the Wisconsin State Fair Park. The change in locale will allow the two-day festival to accommodate more than 150 bands, including Machine Head, Cradle Of Filth, Manowar and Satyricon...Black Label Society's Sonic Brew has sold over 11,000 copies in the course of six weeks. Zakk Wylde and company will embark on a full-blown U.S. (Continued on page 31)

MACHINE HEAD The Burning Red (Roadrunner)

The Burning Red opens with Machine Head vocalist Robb Flynn barking, "Fuck this place up!" The Bay Area bruisers do just that with each resonant riff and thunderous drumbeat on its well-written and righteously indignant third album. Despite the presence of Korn producer Ross Robinson, the album doesn't borrow from Korn's sound. Machine Head experiments with its tones as much as ever on this album, but its riffs remain instantly identifiable. The Burning Red is a mammoth album that should land the band alongside Pantera and Sepultura on the metal map. With new guitarist Ahrue Luster fitting the band like a well-worn baseball cap, the aggro-yet-accessible The Burning Red smashes you like a 10-ton hammer.

IN FLAMES

Colony (Nuclear Blast America) Sweden's In Flames incorporates beautiful, unforgettable melodies into its progressive power-metal mix. Colony is also complex and classically influenced, proving that heavy metal can be intellectually stimulating - guitarists Jesper Stomblad and Björn Gelotte are practically virtuosos. While In Flames's guitar approach is similar to that of legends Iron Maiden and At The Gates, Anders Friden's shredding screams secure the Swedish quintet's originality.

STEP KINGS Let's Get It On (Fantastic Plastic)

If you live anywhere in the NYC area, you've probably heard of the Step Kings, since the trio blankets the area with frequent gigs. This fun, New Jersey-based band should satisfy your hard rock jones. Singer/guitarist Fern and bassist Bob McLynn play like they're on a sugar rush, and the band's funk-metal grooves ensure that you'll be shaking your booty. Think Bad Brains meets Orange 9MM, with a big dose of humor.

For Fans Of: Sevendust, Bad Brains, Orange 9MM Recommended Tracks: "Vibe," "Right Is Wrong" Contact: Marc, Ciancio, Eric (The Syndicate) Phone: 888.666.2061 Fax: 201.864.3380 Email: hardrock@thesyn.com Release Date: June 29; at radio now

tour in August...Despite limited servicing, Marduk's Panzer Division Marduk (Osmose Productions) is clawing its black-metal ass up the charts. The self-proclaimed Black Metal War Machine has crafted a technically brilliant mindfuck of uncompromising aggression. Throw this platter into the CD player, and you'll feel your head spinning faster than the disc itself ... You'll have to wait a little longer to see your favorite danceable metal band, Grip Inc. The group has canceled its tour due to "illness." The band plans to reschedule the outing...Attention jazz-metal fusion aficionados. Candiria's Process Of Self-Development will be issued on July 20, on MIA Records... GWAR recently took time out from its schedule of beheading monsters and sacrificing virgins to celebrate its career-record sales of over 500,000 copies... Maryland is giving metalheads another reason to live. The Free State, which bestowed the pummeling aggression of Nothingface upon our weary souls, has brought us the dense clusterfuck of Compression. I was lucky enough to watch the band open for Biohazard, at a recent Saturday night show at the Trocadero, in Philly. The set was as punishing as a series of repeated, methodical punches in the gut. I went home and threw on the group's self-titled record (Chord Recordings). I haven't been able to detach myself from it since...On August 31, Megadeth will release Risk, which, given Dave Mustaine's penchant for tricky wordplay, has an uncharacteristically plain album title ... Plastique, which recently dumped its theatrical rapper, Reveille, and Boiler Room brought their loud antics to New York City's Coney Island High on a recent Wednesday evening. Reveille's set was crushing. From a distance, these Beantown teens looked nice and cute. But, onstage, the kids were angrier than grizzly bears. The highlight of the set was the synchronized singing and jumping-up-and-down of the bassist and the two guitarists. They stomped all over Coney's tiny stage. I thought they were gonna go through the floor. Boiler Room is currently unsigned, but its funky set, which was closely observed by several label reps, indicates that the group may soon have someone to pay its studio bills.

year...On June 9, Celtic rock act Brother was involved in a serious automobile accident outside Needles, California. The band was returning home from a gig in New Mexico when singer/guitarist Angus Richardson fell asleep at the wheel of Brother's tour van, which subsequently rolled over. The group's four members were injured. Richardson remains in intensive care with a broken back, but a full recovery is expected. On June 22, Rhubarb Records issued the quartet' debut, Your Backyard.

Live Performer of the Year, and Single of the Year (for "What'cha Gonna Do", with Jayo Felony and Method Man). Busta Rhymes and OutKast both nabbed four nominations each, while Lauryn Hill, Redman and Jay-Z were named twice. Other nominees included Big Pun, The Roots, Goodie Mob, Juvenile, Eminem, Black Star and the Black Eyed Peas. Russell Simmons will be honored with the Lifetime Achievement Award. DJ Kool Herc, Afrika Bambaataa, and Grandmaster Flash will be blessed by the Pioneer Award. The UPN Network will air the Source Awards on August 20...A couple of months after the successful run of the Hard Knock Life Tour - just when hip-hop was starting to get a good rep in the arena circuit again - a near riot occurred at the venue formerly known as the Meadowlands (Continental Airlines Arena). The Associated Press reported that on June 24, the night of Hot 97's Summer Jam, a crowd of ticket-less fans attempted to break through the venue's the gates and enter the arena, which was hosting performances by Nas, Missy Elliott, Q-Tip, Redman and Method Man. The botched bum rush caused security to close all doors and gates, a move which, in turn, prevented many ticketholding fans from entering the concert. Local police restored order to the situation, which was settled with a few minor injuries and several arrests...A mid-summer release date is being established for the debut solo single by that five-foot assassin, Phife Dawg. The former A Tribe Called Quest member is currently working on his upcoming album. However, according to a report on The Source's Web site, the white label version of "Bend Over" will only be available in Europe and Japan. Jay Dee of the Ummah produced the track, which finds Malik soaking in the booty-moving sounds of the Atlanta club scene. The title of Phife's upcoming album was unavailable at press time, as was the name of the label for which the artist is recording...On August 31, Rhino Records will issue Chuck D Presents: Louder Than A Bomb, an anthology of rap music's greatest political anthems compiled by Public Enemy's chief mouthpiece. Revisit the past with Run-D.M.C.'s "Proud To Be Black," Ice Cube's "A Bird In The Hand," Jungle Brothers' "Black Is Black," Dr. Dre's "The Day The Niggaz Took Over" and Grandmaster Flash's "The Message," which also appears as an updated remix, lovingly fucked with by Tice-Tace and Chuck D.

Offing down to chat with the sta Band can be something of an ordeal. The young, hotly raised quartet has already gained a reputation for bein an adventure to interview. Stories abounded that the group's members often sat mumbling amongst themselves, no really saying anything about their music. Allegedly, the lade once used an air horn to give one interviewer an earful whenever the scribe asked a question that the band cidn't feel like answering.

On the day of this interview which took place during the Beta Band's first American pross junket, the band was quick to talk about anything but its own music, which, in all fair-ness, probably peaks for itse. An imaginative hod epodge of hip-hop, psychedelia and 'to's rock and soul, the Beta's sound features a multitude of in erwoven styles. To carry out their fusion, the outfit employs raditional rock instruments, samplers and an array of no rock musical instruments, among them steel drums, melodica and hand percussion. Over the course of three amazing EPs, multi-instrumentalists John McLean, Steve Mason, Robin Jones and Richard Greentree have drawn upon trip-hop beats, ambient drones and strange variants on Pink Floyd's introspective balladry to create a sound uniquely their own. Collected onto one album by Astralwerks for U.S. release, The Three E.P.'s served as a fabulous teaser for the band's self-titled debut.

Were the Betas nervous about doing a full-length, following the success of the EPs? "Sure we were a bit worried about doing an album," admits McLean. "We did it in separate sections in different places. Four songs here, four songs somewhere else. You know, break it up a bit." The Beta Band, which is even harder to classify than the EPs, continues to avoid conventional verse-chorus-verse song structure, delving even further into abstract sounds and beats while leaving a bit of the band's early, acoustic folkiness behind. "It was both a conscious effort and natural effort," says Mason. "It was just something that we all wanted to do. We didn't really have to put too much effort into it."

For a moment, Mason begins to lose some of his inhibitions. He almost explains the band's songwriting process. "Each song starts differently, really. Sometimes it's a sample or a drum beat. Sometimes it's lyrics or a melody or something like that. It's different every time." After a plea for a more concrete explanation, the singer becomes positively magnanimous. ""The Hard One' is a good example because we did something in way that we had never tried before. We don't really have songs where it's McLean gets in the final word, "It was a good song, we just thought it deserved better."

The Beta Band's discussions about deconstructing pop songs and stealing ideas may offer fans some insight into the quartet's methodology, but the unit's live shows exhibit just how much thought these guys put into their approach. Onstage, the four men trade-off on a number of different instruments — often switching more than once during the same song. Surprisingly, the live performance is a fair approximation of the Beta Band's intricate studio work. As far as visuals are concerned, homemade videos and a slide show are projected on and around the stage, which is illuminated by a light show and enhanced with curious theme-related decorations. Oh, and the group often performs in cos-verse and chorus, but that song has two verses and two choruses. Just to make it a bit more interesting we just split everything up. We treated each section like a separate song. So the first verse was like one song. The second verse wasn't a copy at all and we tried to treat the choruses that way as well. Then we combined the songs together to make one song."

A portion of "The Hard One" was — believe it or not — inspired by "Total Eclipse Of The Heart," the pervasive 1983 pop ballad, sung by Bonnie Tyler and written by Meatloaf producer Jim Steinman. "The piano is all sampled from that song then we put it through stuff, but it's all pretty much as it is off the record," says Mason. "Basically, it's our cover version," offers Jones. "We switched the lyrics to the chorus around," continues Mason. "It was a big tune in England. Me and Robin were in Greece or something like that and I heard it. I thought it was a great song, so we ended up writing that tune around it. It's not really a great song — it's pretty awful really. But I liked that it was so dramatic." Correcting Mason's offhanded slight,

Already canonized in its homeland, the twoyear-old band is now getting its feet wet in the States, having recently completed a quick tour of New York, San Francisco, Seattle and Los Angeles, during which the Betas made an appearance on KCRW's "Morning Becomes Eclectic." The group will return to the U.S. soon, to embark on a highly anticipated American tour. Yet for all the media attention, the Beta Band doesn't see what all the fuss is about. "The group's still evolving really," says McLean. "We haven't even put out our first album yet. It still seems to us like we haven't done anything."

INDUSTRY PROFILE

Nice with his new wife, Emilline

Interview by Kelso Jacks

Meet Steve Nice, a man with no experience working at a college radio station. but one who has successfully promoted music to college radio programmers for the past three years. In 1999 alone. he and his three-person team have promoted albums by Jimmy Eat World, Paul Westerberg, Ben Lee and Sparklehorse. Nice is currently working in conjunction with Grand Royal Records to promote Luscious Jackson's new release, Electric Honey. Nice's future projects include a new album from Bis and the soundtrack to the film version of Trainspotting author Irvine Welsh's The Acid House.

How did you get to where you are today?

Basically, I was working with some local L.A. bands, booking shows, etc., and I was interning for Terry Dry at A&M. I had met Tommy Daley through mutual friends from our hometown of Buffalo, New York, and he was running the [Capitol] college department at the time. He pretty much made "The Cage" what it is today. Anyway, he happened to have an opening when I asked about a job, and he hired me. I owe a lot to Tommy. I definitely haven't forgotten that he gave me a shot.

STEVE NICE

Director Of National College Promotions And Specialty Shows, Capitol Records

"The music has to speak for itself for the most part. You can only polish a turd so much."

Speaking of "The Cage," why does the Capitol college promotions department operate out of a cage?

Well, the story as I know it is that Tommy convinced the powers that be that the college radio format was very important. So he was able to set up one full-time person to run the department and hire three people to work part-time to call radio and do all the work in-house. Later, when Phil Costello came in as Senior Vice President of Promotions he decided that this tiny office the college department was crammed into needed a name, so he had a metal gate door bolted onto the doorway, and it became "The Cage."

What is your take on college radio's neverending indie vs. major label battle?

The indie vs. major battle is a frustrating one. I think some people get too caught up in what label a band is on instead of the music that's in question. We have plenty of bands at Capitol that really benefit from the support they get from college radio, and that really need it. One thing people fail to realize is that just [getting] signed to a label such as Capitol...doesn't equal instant success and money [for a band]. We have a lot of bands that are still fighting to get noticed by anyone who will listen. A major definitely has more resources than an indie, but that doesn't mean that those resources are being properly used on each and every band. I understand the resistance by some stations to play records that are viewed as commercial because of the other artists that might need more attention, but the bottom line is that it should be about the music.

What is it like working with another label to promote the same album (for example, Grand Royal for Luscious Jackson)?

I love it. It definitely makes my job easier because we have more people talking to radio. Working with Grand Royal is great. First of all, Tick [Grand Royal's College Radio rep.] is one of my best friends. We work great together, and the records speak for themselves. Whenever we put our heads together on anything it seems to come out well. The same was true with Matador and Donovan Finn. Tick and I speak everyday about records or Slammer remixes that Kut Masta Kurt is working on.

Do you find that college programmers find a dual promotional attack to be too much?

I hope not. I think Tick and I have a similar philosophy when it comes to promotions. I don't think we pressure people too much. The records need to do a lot of the talking.

What is your personal promotions style?

Basically, I want our records to get a chance to be heard. I don't like to put a lot of pressure on music directors. I try to make sure that our records are being given a fair shake, and if they aren't then I discuss that with the MD. But, like I said before, the music has to speak for itself for the most part. You can only polish a turd so much.

What are long-term goals within the industry?

I try to take it day by day. I love doing radio promotions and right now I want to keep doing that. I think that if I just keep working hard and go with the flow, things will work out fine.

Everyone always pronounces your last name 'nyce', but I was wondering, if maybe it's supposed to be 'neece'?

It's definitely pronounced 'nyce' not 'neece.'

So what are the origins of such a nice name (doh!)?

I think English. My Dad has English and German blood.

Finally, how's married life treating you, Mr. Newlywed?

Getting married was the greatest thing I have done in my life to date. Without sounding too sappy, I found the greatest person in the world to spend the rest of my life with, and I hope everyone else is as fortunate as I am.
