Clear Channel, AMFM To Merge

Clear Channel Communications, Inc. and AMFM, Inc. have announced that they will merge. Clear Channel owns radio and television stations and billboards. The combined company is to be called Clear Channel Communications, and it will be the world's largest out-of-home media entity ("out-of-home" primarily referring to radio stations and billboards.) The stock swap is valued at $56 billion.

Because of certain regulatory limitations in the Telecommunications Act of 1996, Clear Channel and AMFM are expected to unload 125 stations. After this divestiture, the combined assets of Clear Channel and AMFM will give the new company a presence in 32 countries with 830 radio stations in 187 markets; stakes in more than 240 radio stations outside the U.S.; 425,000 bill-boards; and 19 television stations affiliated with Fox, UPN, ABC, NBC and CBS.

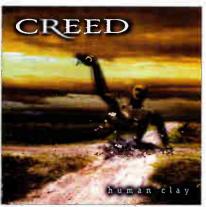

Lowry Mays, Chairman and CEO of Clear Channel, will retain that position after the merger. Thomas Hicks, AMFM Chairman and CEO, will assume the position of Vice (Continued on page 9)

Schur Named New President Of Geffen Records

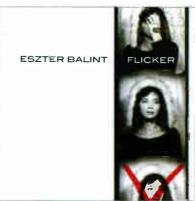

Flip Records founder Jordan Schur has been appointed President of Geffen Records. He has replaced former Geffen President Bill Bennett, who, following the merger of Universal and PolyGram, left the company, along with Chairman/CEO Ed Rosenblatt and most of the label's staff. Schur will retain ownership of Flip Records, which boasts the acts Limp Bizkit, Dope and Staind. "I'm very fortunate that I've been allowed to still own Flip. I'll still be working with the acts currently on (Continued on page 9)

Atlantic Has Faith In STP Comeback Album Despite Weiland's Absence

By Cheryl Botchick

Over the course of three albums, the Stone Temple Pilots have established themselves as one of the quintessential radio bands of the '90s. Thus, it should come as no surprise that "Down," the lead single from the band's forthcoming No. 4 (Atlantic), has made its mark on various radio charts. The song, which, during its September 20 impact week, took the #1 most-added spot on rock and alternative radio, is in heavy rotation on over 200 rock stations and at 100-plus commercial alternative outlets. But, as Atlantic Product Manager Lee Trink notes, the label's biggest challenge still lies in the com-

A Ma Zone (Luaka Bop-Virgin)

Zap Mama's strain of Afropop is an ever-evolving global party hosted by melodies and textures that hail from everywhere under the sun. On the brilliant A Ma Zone, this renowned female sextet, which is inspired by entities as varied as Central African pygmy tribes, Roberta Flack and Doug E. Fresh, continues to take its musical approach even further into the urban jungle. The album adventurously expands upon the themes of Seven, Zap Mama's 1997 experimental hip-hop and R&B collaboration with Spearhead's Michael Franti. Keeping A Ma Zone close to the street, members of the Roots join the group on a couple of tracks; wordsmith Black Thought throws down a tasty rhyme on "RaFiki," and drummer ?uest Love drops a killer live jungle rhythm on "Songe." Former Arrested Development frontman Speech also makes an appearance on the soulful album closer "'Allo 'Allo." But A Ma Zone also cruises down the avenues of drum 'n' bass and Bjork-ian techno-pop. DJ This Kid Named Miles adds a little something extra to the IB'sinspired funk of "Kemake." "Gbo Mata (Station)" is a gorgeous slice of futuristic balladry with vocoder harmonies to rival Air's. This true must-hear has finally brought the beat box into the brave new world.

CREED

Unless you're from another planet, you're probably familiar with Creed's 1997 debut, My Own Prison, which practically owned rock radio thanks to a string of ubiquitous smash singles. Tongues have been wagging over Human Clay, the follow-up to that record and one of the most eagerly anticipated commercial rock releases of 1999. On this effort, the Florida quartet throws its weight around, straving into heavier, more metallic territory. The burlier riffs are a fierv amalgam of the Stone Temple Pilots' boisterous spirit and Sevendust's hard-driving soul. Scott Stapp didn't start listening to rock until he was in his late teens and out from under the thumb of his Pentecostal parents, but you'd never guess it from his spirited vocals. Creed is not a Christian outfit by any stretch of the imagination, though Stapp's lyrics do deal with spiritual issues. The group fills a void left by Alice In Chains while it shares the spotlight with Godsmack, all the while avoiding sounding like third-generation grunge. Human Clay will grab you by the shoulders and shake you all night long.

- Amy Sciarretto

ESZTER BALINT

Flicker (Scratchie)

Eszter Balint was born in Hungary and raised in New York City's downtown art community. Prior to crafting the 11 enchanting, roughly hewn songs on Flicker, she had established herself as an independent film actress, starring in Steve Busceini's Trees Lounge and Jim Jarmusch's Stranger Than Paradise. Balint's poetic, intersecting phrases are somewhat difficult to penetrate, but their dark, twisted, occasionally melancholic sensibilities are lovingly intensified by her eclectic, just left-of-center arrangements. The album's beautifully unsophisticated mess of rural textures (mandolin, banjo, squeeze box, violin, etc.), haunting melodies and eccentric roots music leanings give it a distinctively odd, yet compelling feel. Ultimately, Flicker's small, intimate moments are its most rewarding and poignant. On "Amsterdam Crown," Balint's simple guitar strums enhance her lyrical isolation, while Marc Ribot sews the song full of weepy electric guitar fibers. Closing the album, Richard Buckner joins Balint to sing the lullaby-like duet "Almost Gone," perfectly winding down one of the more extraordinary debuts of - Glen Sansone recent years.

For Fans Of: Kristin Hersh, Lisa Germano, Tom Waits, Richard Buckner Recommended Tracks: "Panic Donut." "Halfway To Texas," "Still," "Dirt On Your Heel"

ARTO LINDSAY

Prize (Righteous Babe)

Arto Lindsay has produced records by some of Brazil's most revered bossa nova luminaries, but, as far as his own music is concerned, this veteran downtowner has always emphasized iconoclasm and innovation. Having pushed the musical envelope for almost 25 years, Lindsay now seems content to paradoxically marry bossa nova and samba rhythms to electronic music, which he began doing on 1996's The Subtle Body. The quality of his integrated creations continuously improved on the subsequent Mundo Civilizado and Noon Chill, which lead up to the nearly flawless Prize. Skillfully employing an even broader range of instruments and production techniques, Lindsay and his creative team of Melvin Gibbs, Andres Levin, Skoota Warner and Davi Moraes build their songs from the groove up, peppering electro-nova beats with a myriad of acoustic percussion. The group plays spare, sonorous, Brazilian melodies on acoustic guitars, pianos or strings, while the funk bass acts as a linchpin between the music and the rhythm. Augmenting the music's downtown edge, surges of electronic noise and Lindsay's fractured electric chords cut through the mix, pushing the sound into the red before retreating behind the melody. The real treat, however, is Lindsay's voice. His frail tenor lends these graceful songs the air of sensuality that is essential to the bossa nova tradition.

Universal Shuts Down A&M Studios

The Universal Music Group (UMG) has closed A&M Recording Studios, according to Billboard Bulletin. Universal acquired the studios in January, when the company purchased PolyGram, the company that owned A&M. Insiders say that the Jim Henson Company is looking to buy the studios, which A&M founders Herb Alpert and Jerry Moss purchased in 1966 for use as the label's headquarters. The original owner of the property — Charlie Chaplin — built the lot to make his own films in 1917. A&M Records' catalog includes works by artists such as Carole King, Joe Cocker, Styx, Peter Frampton, the Police, Janet Jackson, Sheryl Crow and Soundgarden.

Enclave Head Leaved IDJMG

Tom Zutaut, the well-known A&R executive and head of the Enclave imprint, has parted company with the Island Def Jam Music Group (IDJMG), according to Billboard Bulletin. As a result of the merger between PolyGram and Universal, the Enclave has become associated with IDJMG. Insiders speculate that IDJMG will be allowed to acquire acts from the Enclave roster, which includes Drain STH, Full Devil Jacket and Nashville Pussy. While he was working at Geffen, Zutaut was responsible for having signed Enya, Edie Brickell, the Nymphs and Guns N' Roses.

Vedder And C Average To Open For The Who

On November 13, Eddie Vedder, backed by Washington state sci-fi metalheads C Average, will open for The Who at the Chicago House of Blues, according to the official Pearl Jam Web site (www.sonymusic.com/according to the official Pearl Jam web site artist/PearlJam). The concert is a benefit for The Maryville Academy, which is a children's charity for which Pete Townshend occasionally works. Earlier this past summer, Vedder and C Average played a Who tribute show. In addition, the singer has frequently played with Townshend. (Meanwhile, in March, a member of C Average told The Stranger that Townshend was his favorite guitarist — kismet!) Two live Vedder-Townshend performances can be found on the recently released Pete Townshend: Live — A Benefit For The Maryville Academy. Pearl Jam and The Who will also share the bill at this year's Bridge School Benefit Concert. The other performers at the October 30-31 event include Neil Young, Lucinda Williams, Brian Wilson and Tom Waits. The shows will take place at San Francisco's Shoreline Theater.

David Bowie's Web Site Features 'Sensation' Exhibit

David Bowie has created an online version of the controversial "Sensation:

Young British Artists For The Saatchi Collection." See what the hype is all about at the artist's Web site, www.davidbowie.com, which contains postings of all 141 of the exhibit's works, including Chris Ofili's "Holy Virgin Mary," which consists of a clump of elephant dung stuck to a rendering of the Virgin Mary. During its current tenure at the Brooklyn Museum, the piece sparked the anger and opposition of New York City Mayor Rudolph W. Giuliani. The site also carries audio commentary by Bowie.

"'Sensation' represents some of the best, worst, but definitely most extreme of the high-profile work to have come out of Britain in the last 10 years or so," Bowie told the New York Times.

Spitfire Tour To Hit 20 Cities

Following its successful three-day tenure at Woodstock '99 and its four-city dry run last fall, the Spitfire Tour, which aims to educate college students about free speech and global affairs, is preparing to embark on a 20-city journey. The tour, created by Rage Against The Machine's Zack de la Rocha, features such rock 'n' roll talking heads as Amy Ray (Indigo Girls), Chuck D (Public Enemy), Art Alexakis (Everclear), Exene Cervenka (X), Greg Graffin (Bad Religion), Jello Biafra (Dead Kennedys), Krist Novoselic (Nirvana/Sweet 75), Michael Franti (Spearhead), Mickey Hart (Grateful Dead) and Perry Farrell (Jane's Addiction/Porno For Pyros). According to Colleges.com, Spitfire's Web host, Alexakis will speak to the crowd about "Various Issues," while Cervenka will tackle "Society's Toll

On Mental Health." Actor Woody Harrelson, Politically Incorrect host Bill Maher and designer Kenneth Cole will also speak; activists such as Cecilia Rodriguez, Julia Butterfly Hill and Tracy Conaty, who, respectively, labor on behalf of Mexican Indian rights, forests and gay rights, will also appear at the event. Individuals will be admitted to the Spitfire happenings free of charge. Organizers expect to accommodate crowds of 2,000-10,000 people.

New Act Led By Meat Beat Manifeto's Jack Dangers Gives Music Away Online

Spontaneous Human Combustion, the new duo of Meat Manifesto leader Jack Dangers and veteran tarist/producer Danny Saber, has posted its music online, free of charge www.shcombustion.com, reported. The techno-rocker "All For Nothin'" is currently on the site, alongside Dangers's remix of the same cut. Saber is a former guitarist for the U.K. act Moby Grape. He has produced music for U2, Michael Hutchence (INXS) and the Rolling Stones. The song also features guitar work by ex-Nine Inch Nails and Guns N' Roses collaborator Sean Beavan.

"There are so many other options and avenues, there's no point in signing a record deal when we can investigate other things and not be tied down until the time is right," said Saber. Human Combustion has finished recording five other songs: "Products Of The Disease," "Numb," "Ketaject" and "Million $ Monkey," the latter of which features David Byrne and guitarist Reeves Gabrels.

Misfits Working With Horror Director, Set To Tour

Horror punk rockers the Misfits have been proving that there's no rest for the wicked. The band released its new album, Famous Monsters, on October 5. The first video from the record, a clip for the single "Scream," was filmed by famed gore master George Romero, the director responsible for such classics as Night Of The Living Dead, Dawn Of The Dead and Creepshow. The quartet will also perform the song in Romero's upcoming film, Bruiser, which should open in theaters sometime during 2000. Curious parties may view the video at www.misfits.com. Fans who want to catch the wacky horror picture show live will have to wait until October 12, when the band embarks on its 24-date tour with Puva and G.W.A.R. The outing, which commences in Cincinnati, will wrap-up on November 7 in Washington, DC. On October 8, a New York audience watched the Misfits kick off Madison Square Garden's annual "Madison Scare Garden" event - the group was introduced by none other than the godfather of the genre Alice Cooper.

Radiohead At Work On New Album

According to Radiohead guitarist Ed O'Brien's online diary, which has been posted at the band's Web site (www.radiohead.com), the British band is planning to release its fourth record in May or June of 2000. Although a representative from Capitol Records, the band's U.S. label, did not list a specific release date for the album, they did say that the band had notified the company that the follow-up to 1997's OK Computer would be ready by spring or summer of next year. O'Brien's log, the last posting of which was completed on September 9, lists the following as current track titles: "Optimistic," "Neil Young *9," "Follow Me Around," "How To Disappear," "You And Whose Army?" and "Say The Word." SonicNet reported that Radiohead is currently in studios in London and Paris, working with producer Nigel Godrich, who oversaw OK Computer.

Manic Street Preachers Hit With $46K Bill For Onstage Destruction

When their American tour is completed, the Manic Street Preachers will return home to the U.K. to face a $46,000 bill for bassist Nicky Wire's onstage antics, which followed the act's July 11 performance at the Scotland's T In The Park festival. Following his group's set, Wire, dressed in a skirt, smashed his bass, the band's gear and a host of P.A. equipment. The musician reflected on the events, telling MTV News, "It was really funny. [Drummer] Sean [Moore] pushed his kit over, but then restrained himself." After Moore and guitarist James Dean Bradfield left the stage, Wire "was still out there smashing everything, screaming hysterically. I gave my bass away to the audience," he added. "I gave Sean's snare away, and I came into the dressing room and Sean goes, 'That's good. I pushed my kit over, but I didn't break anything.' And I went, 'I think you did. Not only did you break it, but I gave half of it away."

Lisa Gerrard Composes Music For Pacino Film

Lisa Gerrard, one-half of the defunct 4AD duo Dead Can Dance, is scoring the upcoming Michael Mann film The Insider. Her current musical partner, Pieter Bourke, is working with her on the project.

The film stars Al Pacino and Russell Crowe. Mann is the man responsible for the television shows Miami Vice and Manhunter and for the films Heat and The Last Of The Mohicans. He and Gerrard have worked together in the past, as well. He used music from the singer's 1995 solo album, The Mirror Pool, in the feature Heat. The soundtrack to The Insider, featuring songs by, among others, Massive Attack, will arrive in stores on October 26.

DANZIG

By Amy Sciarretto

Satan's Child will be issued by Evil Eye, the singer's own imprint of E-magine Entertainment.

From his days

From his days fronting legendary punk act the Misfits, through his tenure leading Samhain, to his present-day occupation commandeering his namesake band, Mr. Danzig has always wowed his audiences. As Halloween approaches, CMJ chilled with the soft-spoken man with the big biceps.

Danzig and Samhain will tour together this fall. Is this a Samhain reunion?

No, it's not a reunion. As part of the Danzig set, Samhain will come out and play. There will be a 15-minute intermission and then Danzig will come out and go crazy. It will be two-and-half hours of Danzig history.

Aw, yeah! How did this monster tour form? We were gonna do two weeks of just Samhain. I was talking to the guys in the band and I said, "Man, we would save so much money and kill two birds with one stone by going out with Danzig. People will freak out."

It reads "Danzig 666" on the spine of the new album. Did you permanently add 666? No. It's the sixth record. Everyone's punkin' out on Satan stuff. I say, "Fuck everybody. I'm not gonna play the mainstream game."

Are you a Satanist?

No, I'm not a Satanist. I love the idea of the Great Rebel. Maybe to some people I am [one] because of what I do. People try and tell me not to put that imagery on the record. Who the hell are you to tell me what to do? I don't give two shits.

Dude, my favorite Danzig song of all time is "Snakes Of Christ."

That's the one Stone Temple Pilots ripped us off with. "Sex Type Thing." I hate them. If I get a hold of them, they're dead meat.

Universal Music Group Announces Universal Music Enterprises

The Universal Music Group (UMG) has announced the structure and objectives of Universal Music Enterprises (UME), its centralized U.S. catalog and special markets division. The new division, overseen by President Bruce Resnikoff, will market the UMG's expansive catalog and specialty releases from each of the company's U.S.-based labels. UME will act as the umbrella organization for five distinct entities: Catalog Management, UTV Records, Hip-O Records, Universal Music Special Markets and Universal Film & Television Music. A strategic marketing unit has been formed to provide leadership for alliances, promotional partnerships, integrated marketing programs and public relations. The new division will be based in Los Angeles, with its regional offices based in New York, Chicago and Minneapolis. UME's first major release was Eric Clapton's Bhues, which has shipped more than 240,000 units to date.

The UMG includes A&M, the Decca Record Company, Def Jam, Deutsche Grammophon, Geffen, Interscope, IDJMG, MCA, MCA Nashville, Motown, Philips, Polydor, Universal and the Verve Music Group, in addition to several imprints owned or distributed by its worldwide record company subsidiaries.

NetRadio.com To Sell Liquid Audio Tracks

Internet broadcaster NetRadio.com has entered into an agreement with Liquid Audio (www.liquidaudio.com). NetRadio.com's users will be given access to Liquid Audio's full catalog of music. NetRadio.com currently features more than 120 channels of original music programming. Consumers may purchase CD versions of the music broadcast at NetRadio.com through NetRadio's CDPoint online music store. NetRadio.com will become part of the Liquid Music Network. The broadcaster's site will promote and sell secure, downloadable music issued by 600 labels. The company will also outfit its CDPoint site with a music download area that will include Liquid Audio downloads. NetRadio will also use Liquid Audio's rights reporting, watermarking and encryption technology to securely sell its music downloads.

'Blair Witch' Film Company Launches Imprint

Artisan Entertainment, the film company responsible for last summer's surprise hit The Blair Witch Project, as well as for the film Stir Of Echoes, has launched a record label, Flash Cut Records. The music company's first venture, the soundtrack to the film The Limey, will arrive in stores on October 19. The record contains music by The Who, Byrds, Hollies and Boston. WEA's Lightyear Entertainment will distribute the Flash Cut catalog.

The new staff will consist of two national promotion managers and five regional promotion reps.

Slater Named President Of LIFEBeat

Mitch Slater, the Executive VP of SFX Entertainment and Co-president/Co-CEO of DelsnerSlater, has been named President of music industry AIDS organization LIFEBeat. Slater has replaced Daniel Glass, the Artemis Records Executive VP who had presided over LIFEBeat since its 1992 inception. Glass will remain on the organization's board, which also includes Columbia Records Group Senior VP Jerry Blair, VH1 President John Sykes, MTV President Judy McGrath and RIAA President/CEO Hilary Rosen.

Gold, Platinum Requirements Lowered In Germany

The German trade organization BPW has adjusted its home country's sales requirements for gold and platinum albums. Germany is Europe's largest music market. Gold records will now be awarded to artists who sell 150,000 albums (previously 250,000); platinum records will be awarded to artists who sell 300,000 albums (previously 500,000). Certification requirements for singles remains unchanged: 250,000 copies for gold; 500,000 copies for platinum. The adjustments were made to bring Germany's gold and platinum requirements closer to those of the U.K., Europe's second-largest music market. In the U.K., gold awards are given to artists who sell 100,000 albums; platinum awards are given to artists who sell 300,000 albums.

RIAA Passes Out September Gold, Platinum

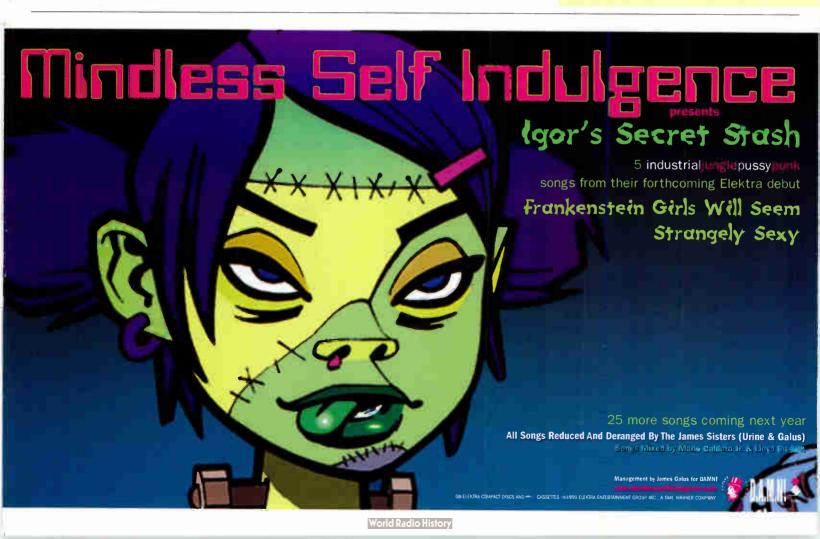

The Recording Industry Assoication of America (RIAA) passed out its gold and platinum certifications for September. Gold albums were awarded to Len's Can't Stop The Bum Rush, Powerman 5000's Tonight The Stars Revolt!, Memphis Bleek's Coming Of Age, Lou Bega's A Little Bit Of Mambo. and self-titled albums by LFO, Buckcherry and Buena Vista Social Club. Santana's Supernatural, the legendary group's first multi-platinum album in more than two decades, was certified double-platinum. Other platinum awards were given to Fatboy Slim's You've Come A Long Way, Baby and Smash Mouth's Astro Lounge. Gold awards were given to Insane Clown Posse's Forgotten Freshness, Alice In Chains' Nothing's Safe and Mobb Deep's Murda Muzik/Mobb Muzik, among others. For a complete list, visit www.riaa.com.

Back when the melodramatic, overblown sounds of '80s new wave were beginning to wear out their welcome and grate on the nerves of the American public, a new, sarcastic breed of post-punk band was born. Equipped with DIY ethics, biting sarcasm and pop sensibilities, groups like They Might Be Giants, Camper Van Beethoven and the Dead Milkmen intensified the era's synthpop backlash. Debuting in 1987 with the album Green Eggs And Crack, joke-rock quartet Too Much Joy joined the aforementioned acts in lampooning popular culture. Sugar Fix Recordings recently honored these yuksters by releasing Gods And Sods, a career-spanning collection of previously unreleased material. The album spans Too Much Joy's high schoolera demos to its latter-day studio outtakes. For more information, call Sugar Fix at 213.874.3888 or send sugarfix@aol.com.

The Drags are one of the best punk rock 'n' roll ever to hail from Albuquerque, New Mexico. Or anywhere else, for that matter. Like any good punk trio, the group, which has issued several albums on Estrus, has released its fair share of 7" singles, from which Empty Records has compiled the 23-track collection 45x3. "I Like To Die," "That Girl Is Coming Around" and Allergic Reaction" are just a few of the gems included on this fine record. For more information, call Meg (Empty) at 206.706.9088 or send email to empty@esdkimo.com.

Olympia, Washington's Yoyo Studios has released its fifth compilation album. Naturally, the tracks, released by the facilities' own Yoyo Recordings, were recorded in-house. Projector, a display of the many rock subgenres that thrive in the Pacific Northwest, covers of lot of musical ground. The Need, C Average, IQU, Lois Maffeo and Little Red Car Wreck are just a few of the artists who contribute to this 22-song indie explosion. For more information, call Yoyo Recordings at 360.352.2597 or visit www.yoyoagogo.com.

The new wave-ish, neoglam band formerly known as the Audience has changed its name to Vue. Gold Standard Laboratories recently issued a the act's new five-song EP, its first release under that moniker. Death Of A Girl consists of three new songs and two tracks from the out-of-print "Young Soul" 7", which was released on the same label. This handy, bite-size minialbum is just what the doctor ordered for those who are anxiously awaiting Vue's upcoming Sub Pop full-length. For more information, email Gold Standard Laboratories at bnekkgsl@aol.com.

The British have a knack for adding a bit of civility and class to just about everything, even their rock 'n' roll. Point Music's British Rock Symphony adds orchestral elements to some of pop music's most beloved tunes. But the record is hardly a Muzak take on your favorite hits. Such Anglos and Americans as Alice Cooper, Roger Daltry, Ann Wilson, Thelma Houston and the Animals' Eric Burden vocalize on the record, which features such dinosaur rock chestnuts as "Stairway To Heaven," "A Hard Day's Night," "Ruby Tuesday" and "Another Brick In The Wall (Part II)." For more information, call David Fishof (David Fishof Presents) at 212.757.1605.

Bomp!, one of independent rock's longestrunning labels, is celebrating its 25th anniversary this month. Since its inception, the Burbank, California-based company has seen many a band and many a musical movement come and go. Fittingly, the organization is celebrating decades of rocking by issuing Straight Outta Burbank, a double-disc collection of both old and new names, among them Beachwood Sparks, MC5, U.S. Bombs, the Dead Boys, Davie Allan & The Arrows and the Brian Jonestown Massacre. Bomp! is also using the record as a means of formally announcing the label's union with the Alive!/Total Energy imprint, which has been affiliated with Bomp! since 1993. For more information, call Betsy Palmer (Bomp!) at 818.729.9096.

Thank heavens for Loud Records which, in conjunction with the pop culture Web site Disinformation (www.disinfo.com), has come up with a bizarre yet rather necessary concept album compiling the "essential Moog rock tracks of all time." The 19-song Best Of Moog shows just how far Dr. Robert Moog's 1964 invention has crept into middle American life. The work contains such tracks as "The Savers" (better known as the theme to the gameshow The Joker's Wild), "Baroque Hoedown" (most often heard as the theme for Disney's Main Street Electrical Parade) and "Popcorn," which happens to be the best-selling instrumental single of all time.

Record Briefs

The Autumns have been very active. Risk Records recently released the Los Angeles quartet's three-song EP, The Boy With Aluminum Stilts. The band is also hard at work in the studio, assembling its third album, In The Russet Gold Of This Vain Hour. Risk hopes to issue the affair in late January. The producer of the full-length is none other than former Cocteau Twins bassist Simon Raymonde, whose two young sons augment the band on a track called "Witch Hazel."...The Notorious B.I.G., who was mysteriously murdered in 1997, wasn't exactly an unknown when he was killed. Still, his fame seems to grow long after his death. On December 7, Bad Boy-Arista will issue a new Biggie album entitled Born Again, which consists of his original demo tape and several unreleased tracks...You've probably heard that The Cult has reunited and that the goth-metal act is working on new material. Naturally, the industry is cashing in on the regrouping and churning out a slew of products associated with the band. On January 18, Beggars Banquet expects to reissue the group's second, third and fourth albums, respectively, Love, Electric and Sonic Temple. On the same date, the label will also release The Best Of The Cult alongside Natural Born Guerilla, the long-delayed solo album by the band's vocalist, Ian Astbury. Finally, the company will compile a five-disc box set of Cult B-sides, rarities and miscellany, which should arrive in stores by the fall of 2000...Unconfirmed rumors claim that second guitarist Reg Schrader is no longer playing in the Chicagobased, tension-rock band Seam. Meanwhile, Ajax Records, the label for which the musician used to work, has finally released the group's long-delayed, limited-to-1,000 7", "Sukiyaki," which was recorded prior to Schrader's departure. The A-side is an uncharacteristically sappy but fun Japanese-language cover of the 1962 Eastern hit, originally popularized by Kyu Sakamoto and re-worked in the early '80s by A Taste Of Honey. The track features guest female singer Yan Pan. The B-side is an excellent, if more predictable reading of the David Bowie/Brian Eno classic, "Heroes." You may purchase one of the 25 or so remaining unsold copies of the record by contacting Ajax, PO Box 805293, Chicago, IL 60680-4114.

Air Relives Its Past On 'Premiers Symptomes'

By M. Tye Comer

It may seem somewhat unconventional for a group to release an album of rarities as the follow-up its debut release. Then again, Parisian space-lounge duo Air has never prided itself on following the norm. The pair's 1998 breakthrough release, Moon Safari, is an exquisite wash of exotic pop melodies, retro-lounge stylings and serene instrumental ambiance. The album, which connected with armchair electronicists, easy listeners and all sorts of music fans in-between, sold more than 800,000 copies worldwide and prompted various labels to sign an array of likeminded artists who would comprise a new breed of chillout music.

Air's seven-track collection of odds and ends, the Premiers Symptomes EP (Astralwerks) will arrive in stores on September 14. This compilation of hard-to-find early recordings is an enchanting prequel to the cinematic opus that was the act's debut.

"They were very special moments for us because we recorded all of these tracks before we began making [Moon Safari]," said Air's Jean Benoit Dunckel (JB) told CMJ, phoning from the Parisian studio where he and partner Nicolas Godin are currently recording a forthcoming album. "At the beginning, we were just working at Nicolas's apartment. We had no studio, and we wanted to be professional, but we had no professional equipment, so we tried to do with what we had. We had only one sampler, one eight-track recorder, two keyboards and two [drum] boxes, and that was it. It was very simple."

The EP presents fans with a less-seasoned, more rudimentary version of Air. None of the tracks aim for the grandiose, theatrical highs of dream-pop treats such as "Sexy Boy" or "Kelly Watch The Stars." But the record does display the spectral, space-jazz tendencies that make Air such a unique musical outfit. Despite the relatively simple equipment on which they are executed, tracks such as "Modular Mix" and the uncharacteristically funky "Californie" have won over many of Air's American fans; less than one moth after its release, the EP has peaked at #3 on CMJ's RPM chart and #26 on the CMJ Radio Top 200 chart.

"After we recorded [the songs on Premiers Symptomes], we decided to build a new universe for [Moon Safari]," says JB, "but it was still a very special time for us. When I hear the tracks, I can remember the smell of the apartment. It was about Christmas, and you can feel it in the tracks. There's a very special ambiance to them."

Though Premiers Symptomes is a trip back in time, JB and Godin are continuing to look forward on their newest projects. The band's cinematic inclinations recently allowed them to score an actual movie -The Virgin Suicides, the first feature by Sofia Coppola, which debuted at the 1999 Cannes Film Festival. In early 2000, Air will issue the soundtrack to the work on its new Record Makers imprint, distributed through Astralwerks in America. JB says that the new label venture will eventually give the pair a chance to sign and produce up-and-coming artists. For the time being, however, he and Godin will remain hard at work, plotting an artistic course for Moon Safari's successor, which is scheduled for tentative release in late 2000. This daunting task has prompted the band to turn to new as well as old artists and influences for guidance and inspiration.

"I don't know yet, but I think it's going to be a more extreme album," says IB. "I think we're going to [sound] more excited on some of the tracks. We're going to add some special productions, some punk, some '80s [new wave] sounds and things like that. We want to be more extreme and less nice. We have to be dirtier in terms of our sound. We will use more distortion and use some tracks that sound more like trash art. Before we were just listening to old music," he continues. "Sometimes we'd listen to '80s music, but now new artist albums are very important to us. Now when we compose a song, we try to be careful to keep with the times and to make sure the productions appear modern. That's not to say we want to be fashionable. All composers use the instruments that are available to them at the time, and it's the same for us. We have to play with modern instruments and to search for inspiration in a very new way."

Chairman, while Mark Mays and Randall Mays of Clear Channel will continue to serve as President & COO and Executive VP & CFO, respectively.

Flip's roster," Schur told the Billboard Bulletin. "Geffen Records is back, and I want it to be everything it was and more."

Following the merger's completion, the label and its DGC imprint dropped most of the acts singed to the labels. Hole, Rob Zombie, Counting Crows, Beck, Lisa Loeb, Guns 'N Roses and Peter Gabriel remained on-board and were folded into the Interscope/Geffen/A&M label group.

Schur plans to slowly build a staff rather than embark on a hiring spree. He told Billboard that he expects to sign roughly four-to-six new Geffen acts over the next year.

The first release under Schur's leadership will be the soundtrack to the film End Of Days, which will arrive in stores on November 2. The album will contain music by Rob Zombie, Korn, Limp Bizkit, Powerman 5000 and Creed. Geffen has also signed the rock bands Cold and Professional Murder Music, the latter of which is also featured on the End Of Days soundtrack. Cold had previously been signed to Flip-A&M Records. "I'm a rock guy," Schur added. "It's what I know and what I do best. I want Geffen to be the rock label again."

The troubled label's staff has reportedly been whittled down to about a dozen employees. One year ago, the company had a staff that was approximately four times as large. Jim Stein, the label's Vice President of Promotion, reportedly exited the company following the downsizing. Industry insiders believe that Red Ant is currently seeking a joint venture partner so that it may continue to operate. The company underwent consolidation in April, when it closed its New York-based office and laid off roughly 10 employees in both the East and West Coast offices.

Stone Temple Pilots (Continued from cover) when the company will attempt to market the group's latest effort as a successful comeback album.

The task will be challenging for Atlantic, considering that STP singer Scott Weiland is serving a one-year sentence for parole violation, and the rumor mill has run rampant with speculation about the quality of the record."The goals that we have are, first, alerting fans that STP is back, obviously. And not only that they're back, but back with a vengeance," says Trink. "Then the other thing that you have to counteract, especially with a band that's as big as STP, is everyone wants to know if they still have the chops. And then, obviously, target new fans and really make sure to take nothing for granted as well in terms of their fanbase."

Judging by the label's multi-faceted marketing campaign, little about the future of the album is being taken for granted. An aggressive merchandising plan is already underway, with posters, one-by-ones, sticker postcards, lightboxes, cassette samplers, snipes and even complimentary STP shopping bags for indie stores all in the works. Teaser ads that lead fans to the album's Web site, www.number-four.com, have already stirred grass roots interest, while a TV spot is being prepared for a national buy on USA Networks and local buys on MTV.

The label is also selling a collector's edition lithograph of a photo taken at Weiland's most recent performance with the group, just prior to his incarceration. Footage of the August 12 gig in Las Vegas will also make up the video for "Down." MTV has committed to air the entire STP live performance during the first week of November, shortly after the album's October 26 street date. Trink seems excited about the broadcast. "They really went out with a bang," he says. "Having this as their last show is huge for them. It's really a stunning gig...[Weiland's] court appearance was the next day, so his future was definitely a concern when they hit the stage."

In terms of traditional publicity, Raygun and Icon will run cover stories about Weiland and the band. Weiland also gave a number of interviews before he had to report for his sentence. Trink says that Atlantic took pains to do a "massive photo shoot with a huge number of different setups" in order to satisfy various magazines' demands for exclusive photos. A considerable online campaign is underway as well. "Down" will premier on Internet radio broadcaster Spinner.com. The event will coincide with the launch of the company's new 3.0 Internet radio player. "Down" will also be the first-ever song to serve as a full-length promotional download for the MP3 player Winamp. Both Spinner and Winamp were recently acquired by AOL, a fact that should further bolster the single's online presence.

Trink and Atlantic remain enthusiastic about the release, despite the difficult circumstances surrounding the band. "It's the kind of project where the music is going to speak for itself," he says. "The music is something that will be able to dispel all the stuff being bandied about in the press and everything. It all comes down to the music, and I think when people hear it, everyone's fears will be allayed. STP is clearly back."

JON SPENCER BLUES EXPLOSION

Radio 200: 136-32 Core Radio: #25 debut

The Jon Spencer Blues Explosion has built a rock-solid fanbase at college radio, so even though Xtra Acme USA (Matador) is a compilation of outtakes and remixed tracks from last year's #1 Matador-Capitol album, Acme, it's making quick headway on our charts. With guest appearances from the likes of Andre Williams, Moby, Money Mark, David Holmes and Calvin Johnson, the disc is a must-have for fans, and is coupled at radio by the Blues Explosion's collaboration with Dub Narcotic Sound System called Sideways Soul (K). Xtra Acme moves 104 positions on the Radio 200 in its second week while debuting at #25 on Core.

TRAM

Radio 200: 131-37 Core Radio: #32 debut

Jetset's ability to dominate the college radio charts is proven time and again, most recently with Heavy Black Frame, the debut from England's Tram. The quintet, whose quiet, hypnotic melodies are delivered with a psychedelic flair, bears comparisons to other haunting bands such as Mazzy Star and the Tindersticks, but with references to slow-core hands like Low. Tram will be touring the U.S. beginning in late October, but in the meantime, college radio primes the U.S. audience by giving the album a 94-position jump on the Radio 200 and a #32 debut at Core Radio.

AMERICAN FOOTBALL

Radio 200: 135-46 Core Radio: #68 debut

American Football's self-titled debut album on Illinois-based indie Polyvinyl is striking a chord with college radio right out of the box, thanks to the resume of band frontman Mike Kinsella. A former member of popular indie band Joan Of Arc (and brother of still-JOA-frontman Tim Kinsella), Mike assembled American Football to recreate the more straightforward rock of the early days of his former band. As a result, American Football strips away the artier tendencies of today's Joan Of Arc to make a more traditional emocore album. College radio's reaction to American Football picks up steam this week as the band moves 89 positions on the Radio 200 and gets its foot in the door of the Core chart, debuting at #68.

Radio 200: #56 debut Core Radio: #37 debut

Dutch record shop owner Elizabeth Esselink must be delighted at the success of her recording alias, Solex. Her sophomore album, Pick Up (Matador), takes top breakthrough honors in its first week on our charts, with strong debuts at both Core Radio and the Radio 200. Driven by Esselink's ingenious sampling instinct and her savvy way with melody pastiche, Pick Up is an even more undeniable declaration of Solex's irresistible post-modern kitsch than her 1998 debut. Esselink just wrapped up a U.S. tour with critics' darlings Cibo Matto, and her energetic set, augmented by a live drummer and guitarist, surely helped whet the appetites of her fans.

GARAGEBAND

www.garageband.com 1700 Montgomery St. San Francisco, CA 94111 Contact: Amanda Welsh Phone: 415.616.2000 Email: amanda@garageband.com Fax: 415.616.2001

Garageband.com has been described by cofounder Tom Zito as "an Internet version of Dick Clark's American Bandstand." The innovative new music community, launched this year on September 30, is essentially an online record company that provides the "average Joe" music enthusiast the opportunity to play armchair A&R rep and to determine which small and struggling bands get signed. Unsigned musicians are encouraged to upload a few songs (each no longer than six minutes) in MP3 format to Garageband.com. Members of the site can then listen to and review the music. Each month, beginning in November, the band whose song is rated highest will receive a $250,000 recording contract. It's that simple. To become a site member, simply fill out a brief registration form requesting standard demographic and music preference information. And as a judge, participants have the opportunity to receive free stuff. Each time a member reviews new music, the reviewer earns Frequent Reviewer Points that can be cashed in for such cool items as DAT players, CD burners and more. Musicians who don't win still gain access to valuable information. The review process encourages candid member comments that can then be used as feedback by the artists themselves. Garageband also pays attention to such praise and criticisms, hoping to improve the company's chances of releasing commercially successful CDs. In addition, the Web site is home to many world-class producers, including former Talking Head Jerry Harrison, also a co-founder of Garageband, Jim Dickinson and the team of Paul Kolderie and Sean Slade. Through a "Go Backstage" area on the site, the producers field questions from musicians and discuss relevant - Bill Konig music issues.

Listen.com Partners With Seven Indie Labels, Raises $25 Million

Listen.com, a comprehensive directory of digital music downloads, has formed partnerships with indie labels Artemis, BYO, Kill Rock Stars, Matador, Ng, Palm Pictures/Rykodisc and Razor & Tie. Listen.com's digital directory will promote and list the artists signed to those labels. The accords will also pave the way for various joint promotional campaigns between the labels and Listen.com.

Of the relationships, President & CEO of Artemis Records Danny Goldberg said, "Music fans should be thrilled to know that it's now easier to find MP3s from such artists as Sleater-Kinney, Pavement and Cindy Bullens."

Listen.com also announced that it has raised $25 million thanks to its new investors the Barksdale Group; Access Technology Partners, L.P. (the investment arm of Hambrecht & Quist); and Sony Music Entertainment. Thus far in 1999, Listen.com has raised $35 million.

CustomDisc.com Realizes Record Sales Gains compilation CustomDisc.com announced its third quarter earnings, which triple the figures originally predicted by the company. The strong gains follow the company's August promotional campaign for Sarah McLachlan, a move that resulted in the sale of more than 10,000 units of a custom CD that featured the singer's music. Through the offer, individuals who purchased McLachlan's live Mirrorball release at CDnow.com, Borders.com or other participating retailers could also purchase the custom CD at a special price of $4.99. Such promotions suggest a bright future for custom-CD Web sites. A study conducted by Jupiter Communications also predicted a successful future for custom CD companies. The study found that consumers are more likely to purchase custom compilation CDs than any other form of Internet-related music.

Indie-Music.com Plans Statewide Health Care For Independent Musicians, Families

This autumn, Indie-Music.com, a free music resource for independent musicians, will unveil an ambitious, yet affordable health care plan that will cover independent musicians and their families, employees of indie labels and indie managers. MusiciansHealthNet.com will commence operations in Indiana, Indie-Music founder Suzanne Glass's home state. Throughout the subsequent 12-16 months, the organization will expand its operations into all 50 states. Ms. Glass, who is also a musician, hopes that every independent, American artist will have the opportunity to apply for the plan. Furthermore, she estimates that the plan will become affordable by virtue of the large number of projected participants.

CDbeat.com, Cakewalk Announce Merger

CDbeat.com, Inc., a company that develops software linking music enthusiasts to online fan clubs for acts such as Korn, Bruce Springsteen and Mariah Carey, will merge with Cakewalk, LLC, a record label group that repackages blues, jazz and soul. The financial terms of the pending union have not been disclosed. However, the agreement states that all existing shares of CDbeat's stock, exclusive of those maintained by the company's management, will remain outstanding subsequent to the merger. Cakewalk will also lend $50,000 to CDbeat, which will use the money as working capital. A fully-realized merger is contingent upon the final approval of each company's board of directors and upon the completion of other legal obligations.

CDnow's Digital Music Downloads Stimulate Album Sales

Pioneering online music and video retailer CDnow has reported significant increases in month-to-month sales of titles by artists whose music is promoted in the form of free, downloadable files. The files appeared on the Web site's Music Download promotion area. The company had featured a month-long digital download of an exclusive-live version of Sugar Ray's radio hit "Every Morning." Following the campaign, CDnow reported a 70% increase in sales of the band's new album, 14:59.

Ted Hooban, Director of Digital Products for CDnow stated, "[We have] proven that music downloads are an effective merchandising tool, furthering our mission of connecting consumers with music."

Other artists who are benefiting from similar CDnow offers include Todd Rundgren, Jethro Tull, Sevendust and Tori Amos. The latter's latest effort, To Venus And Back, had been available for advance purchase. The company's current postings include tracks by Stone Temple Pilots, Sarah McLachlan and Meat Loaf.

DAVID BOWIE

'Hours...' (Virgin)

Having spent the majority of the '90s investing in shaky deals with cyber rock, industrial, and drum 'n' bass, the Thin

White Duke finally has stepped back from those trendier inclinations to his make most straightforward rock album nearly decades. Giving the post-glam wankers who've cribbed his classic sound a run for their money, Bowie recalls his Heroes/Low/Lodger days with dramatic vocal build-ups and melodic post-new wave synth washes on tracks such as "New Angels Of The Promise" and "The Dreamers." Other songs, such as "The Pretty Things Are Going To Hell" and "What's Really Happening" revisit the driving, metallic rock of Tin Machine. 'Hours... may not be a return to classic form or a significant leap forward for Bowie, but it does prove his enduring vitality, as he continues to pull off fresh, unexpected things as only a chameleon of his caliber could.

CHARLATANS U.K.

Us And Us Only (MCA)

The members of the Charlatans U.K. are true survivors. The band has persevered in the wake of incarceration, nervous breakdown and the death of keyboardist Rob Collins. And while many onetime "Madchester" bands of the late-

'80s/early-'90s have become extinct, the Charlatans have endured, ensuring that their foot-tappin', Hammond-drenched grooves will continue to move bodies on both sides of the Atlantic. Us And Us Only, perhaps the group's finest effort to date, is a truly melodic collection of soulful, swampy guitars, infectious beats and the timeless vocals of Tim Burgess. The blokes effectively pay their respects to such '70s icons as the Stones - the slow groovin' "My Beautiful Friend" is a gentle tip of the bowler to the Keith Richards-penned anthem "Happy" - all the while evincing a contemporary club culture sensibility.

COMET GAIN

Tigertown Pictures (Kill Rock Stars)

Comet Gain has been revamped, remodeled and dispatched. Since its formation in 1995, English quartet has seen its members come and go. The act even officially called it quits in 1997. Guitarist David Christian, however, apparently couldn't give up his dreams, so he claimed the rights to the name and recreated the band with different personnel. We'll forgive him, because the band's crash-and-burn, spasmodic, lo-fi British post-punk is certainly a quirky treat. The herky-jerky enthusiasm that was missing from Comet Gain's relatively polished 1997 effort, Sneaky, carelessly and agreeably propels the new Tigertown Pictures. Boy/girl lead vocals, astoundingly rough time changes and drunken yet still meaningful lyrics make this effort another interesting episode in this band's soap-operatic career. — Kelso Iacks

SIMON JOYNER

The Lousy Dance (Truckstop-Atavistic)

Simon Joyner's high, trembling, slightly off-key cries and whispers are capable of reducing your entire china closet to rubble. That's a compliment, by the way. His pained voice makes up for what it lacks in tunefulness and complexity by communicating a wealth solipsism, depression and beauty. On The Lousy Dance. home-taping veteran's sixth full-length, his smartly worded, studied melancholy gets a sympathetic, minor makeover by producer Michael Krassner (Boxhead Ensemble) and horn/string arranger Fred Lonberg-Holm. Joined by an ensemble of Chicago avant-session men, these two gents provide eerie, minimalist backing for Joyner The Purist's quiet intensity and folk-like musical rudiments. The combination is startling and affecting enough to make a smoother, less expressive "singer-songwriter" go out and hang him-— Jordan N. Mamone

Kakusei (Red Ink)

DI Krush has always been one to wander around the intersection of free jazz, ambiance, intense turntablism and obscure hip-hop. Kakusei, his latest aural sculpture, is hardly a departure from such lauded albums as Meiso and Milight, but this particular outing thins out his music. This experiment in subtraction removes every unnecessary sound and instrument from each track, leaving only the cuts' skeletal supports (beats, bass, nominal melodies) to stand. Suffice to say, Kaku-

man Reviews man

sei is the DJ's most minimal, abstract work, but it's also one of his most intriguing. Less, indeed, becomes more, as the album's lack of superfluous sound emphasizes the interplay between the disparate rhythms and the jazz-inflected melodies, giving the album the alluring, hypnotic edge that most abstract music strives for, but rarely achieves.

HEATHER DUBY

Post To Wire (Sub Pop)

Recipe for instant '90s pop thrill: float one aloof girl vocal over tastefully arranged and unnerving beeps and loops. Following in the footsteps of such British electrophiles as Massive Attack, Tricky, Portishead, Beth Orton and, most recently, Dot Allison, Seattle twentysomething Heather Duby has unveiled a debut record of whimsical technoscapes. Thanks to Duby's eclectic vision, the album radiates both warmth and mystery without dissipating into sonic wallpaper. The opening "Judith," for example, is tugged along by a groove that's as lowdown as a tractor pull, while "A Healthy Fear Of Monsters" is a trade-off between drum loops and a tattered music box waltz. Imagine Sarah McLachlan inspired by black coffee rather than Celestial Seasonings tea, and you'll have an idea as to Duby's edgy, airy melodicism.

HEFNER

The Fidelity Wars (Too Pure-Beggars Banquet)

The ability to couple a dour, vaguely existentialist lyric with a melody that rivals the most famous phrases in the FM canon — that's the hallmark of an unforgettable indie pop band. At the heart of The Fidelity Wars' "Don't Flake Out On Me" dwells one of Hefner's biggest doozies: "We will always talk this way/Tired and slightly jaded/We will waste our tears/And we'll be waiting years/For the friends who always promised that they'd phone us." Good luck not singing along with this fatigued sentiment. The album's other songs also contain equally wonderful, well-written choruses, nestled between lyrics that elucidate life's more uncomfortable emotional experiences with a relentless eye for detail and an often wicked sense of humor. Consider The Fidelity Wars a perfect album to close out the most ironically detached decade of the century.

Hope Is Important (Odeon-Capitol)

The presence of Idlewild — a raw, ferocious punk band — on a major-label distribution roster seems like the result of the recent commercial success of "aggro" and of the industry's new definition of rock music in general. The truth of the matter, however, is a bit more interesting. The brethren of this Scottish band aren't the boys on MTV, but rather the swelling Stateside emocore kids that college radio so fervently supports. Could major labels be taking notes on the indie buzz? The intense, fervent Hope Is Important flies by in a rush of piercing, razorsharp guitar lines, but the album also packs undeniable melodies into every song. And thankfully, Idlewild varies this otherwise familiar formula with a liberal dose of its own snaggletoothed, U.K.-bred sneer.

Incognegro (Chord)

Remember the Goats, that leftist hip-hop crew from a few years back? Those who were hip to the adventures of Chicken Little and Hangerhead, characters from the Philadelphia crew's 1992 conceptual masterpiece Tricks Of The Shade, will be pleased to hear the group has re-emerged from its creative hiatus under the name Incogne-gro. The new band's eponymous debut makes use of everything we loved about the Goats — save the sociopolitical leanings. Keyboardist Gungi Brain and drummer/ skate funk luminary Chuck Treece kick out the live-instrument jams, while producer DJ Smoove ensures that everything is nice and raw. Frontman/chief lyricst Maxx, now known as MC Uh-Oh, has never come off hotter, particularly on tracks such as "Can You Feel It?" and "Brand New Caddy," the latter a killer revision and slight re-titling of the Clash gem.

LULLABY FOR THE WORKING CLASS

Song (Bar/None)

Song begins with a barely audible drone - actually the sound of the band's van traveling down the highway one night - that grows slightly louder. The record closes with another drone grows ever-so-quiet. This Nebraska collective has a penchant for creating mesmerizing, vast records, and, appropriately enough, a modern shoegazer-meets-American Gothic tone pervades the procession of Songs that fills the space in between the album's two hushed bookends. On both its minimalist, vocal-and-guitar driven songs and its grander, more arranged offerings, Lullaby For The Working Class deliberately and meticulously positions every note and sound into each of its sober tracks.

JIMMY LUXURY AND THE TOMMY ROME ORCHESTRA

A Night In The Arms Of... (Work-Epic)

The music of Jimmy Luxury recalls, in part, the days when Vegas was a lot more swingin' than it is today. According to the album intro. "What were doin' here is we're takin' the Dean Marwe're tin. takin' Frank Sinatra...and we're laying it over some fatbeats. ass From a rhythmic standpoint, lounge and hip-hop have more in common than one would think like the former's strict, swing-based tempos, the latter's beats provide a steady backdrop, conducive to rapping or soloing. A Night In The Arms Of... is ambitious, if not radical, its in goals, but the hybrid of the rhythmic forms works surprisingly well. Nevertheless, the group's style often succeeds, thanks to Luxury's amusing raps and to the fact that he and musical cohort Tommy Rome have nothing but fun with their quality source material.

MEDIAEVAL BAEBES

Worldes Blysse (Nettwerk)

With a name like the Mediaeval Baebes, you'd think that this 12-woman, British troupe something on the order of Frank the Zappa prank Girls Together Outrageously. But the group, led by former Miranda Sex Garden frontwoman Katharine Blake, makes seriously bewitching music, though its fluttery, girlish vocals aren't as astoundingly pure as those of the traditionalist medieval babes Anonymous 4 — perhaps that's because Blake and her ladies have played S&M clubs. Coupled with the leader's scores, which are largely set to Middle English lyrics, the Baebes' voices unite into some alien siren song. "Kinderly," distinguished by a round-like a cappella arrangement that makes the members sound as if they're speaking in tongues, is one of the most otherwordly entries on the record. Added bonus: the lyric translations, which reveal sentiments such as "I do not know where I am going, foul and stinking, I rot.'

No Use For A Name has a lot in common with punk rock icon Bad Religion. The younger band's speedy, melodic riffs and vocalist Tony Slv's Greg Graffinlike delivery will not dispute this assessment. It's nevertheless refreshing to hear such intelligent punk rock, given the proliferation of snot-nosed brats that choose to sing about goofy sexual dysfunctions and body odor. NUFAN pontificates about the people, places and things that matter in life. These days, it's not often that super-fast power chords accompany lyrics like "I'm not your savior/I'm not who you want me to be" or "Refusing to break/Cut my losses/Ties them with you." More Betterness! is a refreshing change of pace. — Amy Sciarretto

PEACE ORCHESTRA

Peace Orchestra (Stud!o K7)

Peace Orchestra will strike a familiar chord with students of downbeat electronic music. The outfit is, in fact, the alter ego of Austria's Peter Kruder of the ridiculously revered Kruder & Dorfmeister. While K&D are largely known for their DI and remix work

(they've only released a few singles and one EP of original material), Peace Orchestra demonstrates that Kruder works just as well in the one-man-band setting. He constructs his chill-out skyscrapers from the ground up, fusing swanky lounge, stony acid-jazz, atmospheric breakbeat and mellow techno into an always tranquil, yet furiously funky headtrip. His stellar retro-futuristic fusion results in space-age easy listening music that's never too soft or sedate.

BRENDAN PERRY

Eye Of The Hunter (4AD)

As one-half of the brains behind 4AD's long-enduring, pan-ethnic art-goth ensemble Dead Can Dance, Brendan Perry turned a host of ancient musical influences - from Celtic to Middle Eastern to South American — into finely textured compositions rich with mood and symbolism. Eye Of The Hunter, his debut solo outing and first appearance since DCD's 1998 dissolution, doesn't strav far from his former outfit's lush, almost sacred aesthetic. The singer's deep, softrock voice, which, like entire album, sounds as if it were recorded in some great subterranean cavern, defines the work's mythic tone, cushioned by appropriately elegant, but somber, arrangements of mandolins, pedal steels, keyboards and light percussion. At its core, Eye Of The Hunter is a traditional folk record, dressed up in the Medieval grandeur of Perry's soul-searching vision.

JOSH ROUSE + KURT WAGNER

Chester (EP) (Slow River-Rykodisc)

This five-song collaboration between rootsrock balladeer Josh Rouse (music) and Lambchop leader Kurt Wagner (lyrics) maximizes the strengths of both Nashville songwriters - restrained, yearning emotionalism and casually twisted wordplay, respectively. Rouse's warm, hushed scratch of a voice adds a rustic veneer to his subtly buoyant melodies, but Wagner's halfsmirking, meaning-obscured rhyming ensures that the record is as oddly poetic as it is sadly tuneful. Figure in some tastefully low-key backing vibes, cello, Fender Rhodes, etc. courtesy of Wagner and friends, and Rouse's evocatively homespun style takes on newly understated, haunting qualities. — Colin Helms

Much Against Everyone's Advice (Almo Sounds)

It's hard to believe anyone advised Belgian brothers Stephen and David Dewaele not to make this, their second album. This creative, dynamic, oftentimes lush affair is a treat for lovers of imaginative power pop. To achieve its pristine sense of harmony, the group takes cues from several '70s pop-rock legends (Badfinger, et al.), but Soulwax is very much a '90s band capable of carving an "alternative" edge into its vintage-styled handiwork. The title track attests to this fact its sterling harmonies and choruses share wax with overdriven guitar riffs, all of which adds up to something that sounds like the Foo Fighters backing

Sweet. Jason Falker's string arrangements, which help the Dewaele's tunes to rise to the top, enrich several tracks. On "Proverbial Pants," an orchestra haunts a gem of a pop song driven by deep, syncopated rhythms. Essentially, this album is a resume-builder for everyone involved. - Steve Ciabattoni

ROOTS 'n' BLUES

BUDDY MILLER Cruel Moon (HighTone)

In Emmylou Harris's current backing band Spyboy, guitarist Buddy Miller tends and nurtures the country and rock roots that anchor the songbird's voice. On his third solo outing, Cruel Moon, the sideman turns his voice up just as high as his rumbling, twangy guitar work. On the opening "Does My Ring Burn Your Finger," the live, closemiked sound of the instruments enhances the raw-nerve nature of the tune and sets the tone for the remainder of the album's bruised-heart laments. It's ironic that Miller's wife Julie helped him pen many of these "bad tunes, especially because her sharp singing is such a fine spouse to Buddy's rustic voice. Steve Earle, Jim Lauderdale and Harris also sing on select tracks from what is one of the most consistently excellent roots rock albums of the year.

single

"Improvise" (CD5) (Interscope)

"Barbershop hip-hop "is a fine description of the verbal acrobatics that characterize this Native Tongue-inspired, L.A. rhyme collective. This four-track prelude to the Five's long-awaited, full-length debut proves just how flawlessly each rapper flows in and out of the group's famous, pitch-perfect chorus line. And hey, don't sleep onthose piano-deep loops conspired by DJ Nu-Mark and the ever-impressive Cut Chemist.

Rock & Roll Is Dead, Long Live Rat At Rat R (Neutral, 1985)

Rat At Rat R was the fourth band in the mid-'80s' Holy Trinity of New York noise rock comprised of Sonic Youth, Swans and Live Skull. The quartet's lower profile and more conventional approach caused the pissier critics of the era to write off the group as inferior. Yet XZV-9, an early version of the combo, based in Harrisburg, Pennsylvania and later in Philly, formed in 1978, predating the genesis of those more celebrated units. The Ratties, who relocated to Manhattan in 1981, set themselves apart from their peers by virtue of their more moderate notions of deconstruction. Production aside, Rock & Roll Is Dead sounds less dated than many similarly intended albums. Its trebly overload of kinetic bad vibes dresses up downtown art-grind in a simultaneous reverence and disdain for rock history. Despite the work's grim, urban aura, you can tell that guitarist/vocalist/mastermind Victor Poison-Tête, guitarist John Myers, bassist Sonda Andersson and drummer David Tritt probably spent their youth sitting around smalltown America, getting high on household cleaners, science fiction, Salvador Dalí and Yes. The dissonant, serpentine six-strings of "The Plague" and "No Ears" are totally uninhibited, bold enough to break into full-on, technical duels that soar atop the speeding crescendos built by Tritt's machine-gun rhythms. "Asshole" into "Rape" is one of the scariest one-two punches in post-punk history, turning 70s progressive foppery, heavy metal bombast and poetic passion into one big anxiety attack. After Glenn Branca's Neutral label issued this spectacular debut, Rat At Rat R underwent several lineup changes and soldiered on until 1992.

PRINCESS SUPERSTAR

"Come Up To My Room" (CD5)

(The Corrupt Conglomerate)

The Princess of Avenue A has recorded yet another sassified hip-hop joint, this time with the help of Baron Ricks from Cypress Hill. Steamier and funkier than anything the from Ladv's two full-lengths, even the radio version of "Come Up To My Room" sounds dirty. The X-ecutioner's Sinista messes with the mix on two of this single's six versions. The more soulful B-side, "Love/Hate To Be A Player," is also worth checking out.

IRON MAIDEN

Ed Hunter (Portrait/Columbia-CRG)

Iron Maiden is the quintessential '80s New Wave Of British Heavy Metal band. They are the lords who defined the genre, issuing such masterful, inspirational albums as

Powerslave, Number Of The Beast, and Seventh Son Of A Seventh Son. In 1988, highregister singer Bruce Dickinson and guitarist Adrian Smith left the group to pursue solo careers, but in 1999, they returned to the fold. Maiden, helmed by Dickinson and augmented by third (!) guitarist Smith, will release a new studio effort in 2000. To whet the appetites of power metal fans, Columbia has issued a CD-ROM of the Ed Hunter video game, accompanied by 20 classic Maiden tunes chosen online by fans. This collection is the end-all, be-all greatest-hits package of old-style, devil-horns-in-the-air metal, chock full of screeching, hammer-on solos and siren-like vocals. Long live Maiden. Long live metal. - Amy Sciarretto

") and will feature appearances from such hip-hop rovalty as Doug E. Fresh, DI Red Alert and Darryl "DMC" McDaniels from Run-D.M.C., Rumors are circulating that the techno pioneer will contribute a song to the soundtrack for the film Next Friday (the sequel to the 1995 Ice Cube vehicle Friday), which is also directed by Carr and is due out in December...Astralwerks Records has been pretty busy lately. The label, in conjunction with Luaka Bop Records, will be releasing the debut full-length album from Clinton, Disco & The Halfway To Discontent, in late January 2000. Clinton is, in fact, a duo made up of Tjinder Singh and Ben Avres of Cornershop, who scored a minor hit in 1998 with the "Brimful Of Asha" single. Clinton, however, will be a more beat-driven project, referencing everything from '70s funk to '90s French house. On November 9, Astralwerks will enter the world of documentary video with the release of Air's Eating, Sleeping, Waiting, And Playing. The film chronicles the French band's 1998 "Moon Safari" tour (Continued on page 37)

TORI AMOS To Venus And Back (Atlantic)

Amos fans get a "two-fer" with this double album, which features a new studio disc and a live collection of several favorites from her 1998 full-band tour. The studio album contains some of Amos's most introspective songs to date, such as the haunting "Bliss." But fans of her edgier side may find several of Amos's new efforts slightly sedate. Fear not, rockers! The live bonus album showcases her more rocking and raw side with hard-hitting renditions of her hits, among them "Cruel" and "Cornflake Girl." Venus should appease anyone looking to scratch that Amos itch.

LUKA BLOOM

Salty Heaven (Shanachie)

Luka Bloom has spent the past 10 years touring the globe with his acoustic guitar, spreading a musical message that combines the earthy lyrics of folk music, the hooks of rock and even the occasional hip-hop groove. Bloom's Salty Heaven, his first album in five years, is richly produced and features soulful vocal arrangements on songs such as "Ciara."

LB IV Life (Universal)

After overcoming the tragedy of losing a key member of the group to a senseless act of violence, the Lost Boyz bounce back to prove why they are among the true masters of straight-offthe-block New York hip-hop on their triumphant third album. LB IV Life perseveres with an indelible balance of old-school finesse and the kind of street grit we've come to expect from Mr. Cheeks, Freaky Tah, Spigg Nice and Pretty Lou. The crew proves itself on tracks such as the bouncy, acoustic guitar- and brass-laced "Ghetto Jiggy" and the weeded, mid-tempo jeep thumps of "5 A.M." and "New York City War Call." Also make sure to check the reflective, Les McCannsampled "Can't Hold Us Down."

According to the ACLU and the Treasury Department, Cuba's greatest dance band can perform in Miami. The City Of Miami abruptly canceled Los Van Van's October 9 performance at the James L. Knight Center, a venue owned by the city. Anti-Castro sentiments run high in Miami and Cuban-American Mayor Joe Corollo has even referred to Los Van Van as "the official Communist band of Fidel Castro." This isn't the first time that the local politics have interfered with scheduled performances. Last year's MIDEM conference ran into problems when members of Buena Vista Social Club were scheduled to play the conference. Since the ACLU and the Treasury Department have gotten involved, the city has had to back down and the group performed in the same venue on October 11...Italian singer, songwriter and pianist Paolo Conte will make a brief trek across the U.S., performing in Hollywood on October 25, San Francisco October 26, New York City October 28 and Boston on October 30. After a distinguished career that began in the '70s, Conte made his first appearance in the U.S. in 1998 in New York City, in support of The Best Of Paolo Conte, his Nonesuch debut. Based on the rave reviews from the New York shows and the Nonesuch CD, Conte's star seems to be on the rise here in the States. His music can also be heard in the film Mickey Blue. Eyes...A new reggae band called Saxsemilla has cropped up on the horizon. It features blues saxophone player Saxsemilla and legendary Jamaican saxophonist "Deadly" Headley Bennett. The group's debut, Kingston Sessions, is a self-released disc that features a treasure trove of guests — The Mighty Diamonds, Michael Rose, Chalice, Culture and Ken Boothe all chip in on vocals. Although genre-hopping is a common practice in these postmodern times, Saxsemilla earns originality points for mixing blues and reggae into a smooth, classic roots sound.

MUSAFIR Dhola Maru (Sounds True)

Musafir is a group that brings together traditional musics of the Indian subcontinent, which are united by the fact that these musical forms represent the roots of gypsy music, which would later spread all over the world. Synthesized from a combination of stately Indian ragas, the passionate songs of Sufi mystic singers as well as the lonely shepherd flutes and "camel rhythms" of Indian desert nomads, Musafir present a musical hybrid that is an education on the deep roots of Gypsy music.

other dimensions

Other Dimensions is a monthly column dedicated to new fringe jazz and improvised releases.

Pianist Matthew Shipp and horn/flute player Rob Brown have worked together off and on since they made their debut duo recording together in 1988. Bassist William Parker has played with both musicians separately on a regular basis. All three finally get together on Shipp's Magnetism (Bleu Regard; phone: 315.287.2852; email: cadence@cadencebuilding.com). Available as an import only, this disc is definitely worth seeking out. The session, much like last year's Strata, finds Shipp in one of his more contemplative moods, leaving plenty of room for Parker to show off his nuanced stuff. Brown's flute work is also noteworthy, as it gives the proceedings an eerie, almost mystical quality...The Thrill Jockey label is known mostly for its post-rock acts, but the Chicago indie occasionally tosses out a curve ball. One such pitch is the David Boykins

Outet's vinyl-only release, Evidence Of Life On Other Planets Vol. 1 (Thrill Jockey; phone: 312.492.9634; email: radio@thrilljockey.com). Here the Windy Cindy saxophonist leads a five-piece comprised of flutist Nicole Mitchell, vocalist Glenda Baker, drummer Chad Taylor and bassist Josh Abrams. Hypnotic and almost ambient, this is improvised music with a gentle edge...Comprised of Ryan Noel's robust tenor sax playing and Brain Army's manic drumming, Army Of Ghosts' The Horror (Parralelism; email: manager@parallelism.com) is a rough and tumble experience that sounds like Albert Ayler in a head-on collision with Rashied Ali. A handful of assorted movie dialogue samples adds additional color to the pair's performance, but the high-octane musicianship is the album's real draw.

loud rock news

"The memory remains." Thanks to The Syndicate, McGathy, Concrete, and Skateboard for the wild listening party at the Korova Milk Bar on Avenue A. And additional thanks to the labels for providing the swag! On the last night of the convention, the Step Kings rocked a packed Contintental. JP (KAMP), Suzanna (WXJM), Mat (Now Or Never), Steve (WTSR), Dave (WRGW), Nicole (WUMS), Tara (Tommy Boy), and Marc, Ciancio, Eric and The Hoss (The Syndicate) nearly tripped over the stage, but Ed (WVVS) won the award for Craziest Headbanging DMF of the evening. Before that show, however, Che (KRXQ), Joe (WFNP), Jason (Pavement) and crew took in Jonah

Matranga's performance at the Westbeth Theatre. Armed with a guitar and an R2-D2 drum machine, the stunning Far frontman touched all of our hearts. I'd also like to thank the LMC, Kate (WGLS), Jen (Roadrunner), Jason (Revelation), Jimmy (WSAM), John (WHPC), Mike (WRNU), Adam (Music Choice), Julia, Sean and Jen (WSOU), Scott (WTYL), and Kelton (KMSA) for rocking out with me. DILLINGER ESCAPE PLAN Calculating Infinity (Relapse)

This past summer, Mike Patton invited Dillinger Escape Plan to open for Mr. Bungle simply because he's such a big fan, but this clenchedteeth New Jersey quintet has been knocking the Loud Rock world on its ass since 1997. Calculating Infinity is DEP's first full-length, and its mathematical terror-core is so potent, it will put hair on your chest and reduce your bones to dust. There are from-leftfield time changes to guitar work so insane, it practically qualifies as grindcore, along with monolithic drumbeats, hurried, whip-lash shrieks, and jazzy breaks. This noisy album is almost painful to listen to, but it's compelling enough to turn you into a happy masochist.

MISFITS

Famous Monsters (Roadrunner)

Jerry Only, Doyle Von Frankenstein and company make their Roadrunner debut with devil's locks firmly in place. Famous Monsters treads familiar Misfits territory — a hybrid of sci-fi and horror lyrics sung in Michale Graves's feminine, even-toned voice over spiffy riffs. Again, this classic band shows why it's one of the most revered names in punk rock.

REACH THE SKY

So Far From Home (Victory)

The term "hardcore" gets misused quite a bit, often used to describe things like metal riffs with screaming vocals. If you want a definitive example of hardcore, though, indulge your ears in Reach The Sky's So Far From Home. This is clean-cut, traditional posi-core: hearty singalongs, swift punk riffs, and moshable breakdowns.

For Fans Of: Sick Of It All, Shutdown, Strife, Vision, Ignite Recommended Tracks: "Worlds Stand Still," "The Chase Is On"

all rule! Almost as much as METAL itself!...Napalm Death and Earache Records have ended their decade-plus relationship. The extreme grindcore masters have formed their own European label, in association with Dream Catcher Records. The undisputed kings of loud-and-fast might have an EP of old-school, underground metal covers up their bloody sleeves... Speaking of death metal royalty, Morbid Angel is currently writing a new record, which will hopefully level the masses by mid-2000... Rolling Stone named New Jersey's hard-as-fuck station WSOU one of the six most rocking college radio broadcasters on the Web...Sources claim that the highly prolific Korn will release its fourth album on November 16. If this new opus comes out right after the new Rage Against The Machine record, I just might explode before Christmas. But something (intuition, maybe?) tells me that the Korn record won't see the light o' day till 2000. Hmm...Later this month, Pavement Music will release Fast Forward, the new assassin by the Swedish metal fükkerz of Defleshed. Some track titles for you, gentle reader: "The Iron And The Maiden," "Snowballing Blood," and "Fatal Feeding Fairies." It doesn't get much more metal than that... MTV recently promoted a "Return To Rock" video weekend. I, personally, find myself vehemently at odds with the network's definition of "heavy" and its lack of real rock airplay, but it was nice to see back-to-back vids by Refused, Fu Manchu. Filter and EDL. I say, exhume "Headbanger's Ball."...For the month of October, Pantera's Philip Anselmo will open his controversial House Of Shock, a haunted house inspired by classic horror movies. Head down to New Orleans if you want the shit scared out of you. I will give you a full report soon — if I make it back alive...E-Town Concrete knocked CBGB on its ass the other night. If you like deep raps with yer death riffs, check out these NI monsters...Creed proved that it is a hard rock force to be reckoned with. The band recently blew through Irving Plaza with the force of a tornado. The Florida quartet played plenty of the newer, heavier tunes from its sophomore effort Human Clay. What can I say? I am a fan and they are better than 'N Sync... Attention all Wrestling loving DMFs: This fall, Tommy Boy Records is releasing WCW Mayhem: The Music and is blanketing the Internet with audio clips of tracks from the album, including new songs by Slayer, Primer 55, and Insane Clown Posse. If your station has a Website and would like to put these exclusive files on your site or link to Tommy Boy's site, get in touch with the label or The Syndicate...Congrats to Coal Chamber bassist Rayna and her hubby, Sevendust drummer Morgan Rose. Earlier this month, the couple welcomed a daughter, 10 lb. Kayla, into the world.

and follows Air on their visits to New York, London and Paris. The DVD version of the film will include an audio bonus track — the rare David Whitaker orchestral version of "Remember," recorded at the legendary Abbey Road studios in London...Liquid Sky Music is still accepting entries for its "Create Your Own Radio Promo Spot" contest for the recently issued Yellow Note Vs. The Daleks album. As mentioned earlier, entrants should create a radio promo no longer than 30 seconds long; the spot should be recorded on cassette, DAT or CD-R. Spots can be configured in a studio or performed live on the air. All LSM asks is that participants keep the spots fun, creative and, most importantly, jungle. The grand prize winner will receive a Liquid Sky record bag, a Liquid Sky sweatshirt, a Yellow Note T-shirt, all of Yellow Note's 12"s and both the original and remix versions of the ... jazz news

Some people are lucky enough to have statues made in their likeness, but if you are jazz pianist Oscar Peterson, you get a 570-seat concert hall named after you. Located on the campus of Concord ia University in Montreal, the venue will be renamed Oscar Peterson Concert Hall during a ceremony scheduled to take place October 16 at 7p.m. with Peterson in attendance. The event will be broadcast over the Web oscar.concordia.ca...Congratulations are in order for the winners of Blue Note Horace Silver competition. WECS's Art Heriot, KUGS's Martin Nichols, KBCS's Bruce Wirth, WERU's Tim Harris and WYSO's Vick Mickunas each won a copy of Horace Silver's Retrospective, a new four-CD compilation out on Blue Note...Those wondering what happened to Frank Tafuri, who used to run the American branch of Black Saint/Soul Note, take heart. Tafuri has recently launched his own label, entitled Omnitone. The first release is a Joe Locke/Frank Kimbrough disc, which we reviewed a few weeks back. French horn player Tom Varner, trumpeter Ron Horton and guitarist Joe Morris also have discs due out on Omnitone this year. Welcome back, Frank...The Thelonious Monk Institute has announced the semifinalists for its 13th Annual Thelonious Monk International Jazz Competition. Twelve pianists will compete in Washington, DC on October 16 and 17 for more than $60,000 in scholarships and prizes. There's probably no price on the exposure the winner will receive—ask past champions Joshua Redman, Marcus Roberts and Teri Thornton...Speaking of Thornton, the singer/pianist is currently recovering from phlebitis. Thornton was forced to cancel her October 12-17 run at New York City's Village Vanguard, but doctors say that she is recovering and should be performing again soon. Verve has just released I'll Be Easy To Find, her first album since winning the Monk competition last year. We send our best out to her...Pianist Glenn Horiuchi is currently undergoing chemotherapy for colon cancer. An Asian-American activist for Redress/Reparations who documented stories of Japanese-Americans who were interned during World War II, Horiuchi has released several albums on Soul Note and Asian Improv...On a sad note, Chan Parker, who was married to Charlie Parker at the time of his death, passed away on September 9 in Etampes, France. The cause was an unspecified type of cancer. She was 74.

stores in time for the holidays. The collection boasts a number of guest appearances, among them contributions by Biggie's own mom Voletta Wallace and the album's executive producer Sean "Puffy" Combs. The album includes a slew of previously unreleased cuts and remixes, including Smalls's original demo tapes...On November 23, Nas will release Nastradamus, the second half of his tworecord opus. The title track, which is the first single from the work, has already received its share of airplay. Due to rampant bootlegging, the record features several cuts that were omitted from Nas's most recent release, I Am..., among them "Project Windows." The producers on the Nasty One's fourth solo effort include LES, the Trackmasters and Dame Grease...Over a year ago, Master P announced that he was retiring from actively recording music. On October 26, the MC will insert his foot into his mouth on his new solo effort, Only God Can Judge Me. Guests on the album include Jermaine Dupri, Rico Lumpkins and Nas, along with the usual cast of No Limit soldiers. The first single, "Step To This," has already been added to radio. The album was originally intended to be a greatest hits compilation, but the Master was inspired to create otherwise, which resulted in his delaying the best-of project until 2000. The general has also decided to take another stab at the NBA. On October 4, he reported to the training camp of the Toronto Raptors...For those who like the new grooves that fly in under the mainstream radar, here's the run-down on a couple of worthy, recent indie releases. Having enjoyed a successful run during last month's CMJ Marathon, the Atlanta-region upstarts in Major Damage have dented the Beat Box charts with Ming Dynasty. The group walks the fine line between East Coast crunch and Dirty South smoothness, kicking it with gritty street anthems that display the act's skillful art of storytelling. If this sounds like your thing, call Wayne Rhoden (Frustrated Records) at 770.757.4336, or fax him a request at 770.237.8286. Another collection worth hunting for is Street Life: A Hustler's Compilation, pressed up by the Strong Island imprint Cee-Low Entertainment. This 18-track sampler features some of the dopest underground acts on the East Coast, including Donny Hoffa, Intrigue, Energetic and Manson Batez. For more information about this hot slice of wax, hit up Paris Fawundu (Cee-Low) 516.285.6907.

World Radio History

IN THE EVENT OF A VERY EMERGENCY...

This year, with a recent weekend-long programming focus on the resurgence of guitarheavy, testosterone-fueled music, MTV loudly declared, in no uncertain terms, the "Return Of The Rock." Of course, that all depends upon your definition of rock. At least one person out there is not in alignment with the network's notions of the word. His name is Jason Gnewikow, guitarist for the Promise Ring. "Yeah, they think rock is back. Why? Just because they like the rock image that is back? Because bands are talking about doing coke in their interviews? I'm not buying that bullshit," says the gleefully opimionated indie rocker. "What would be really cool would be if MTV was saying, like, "Rock is back," and then playing the new Guided By Voices record. But I'm not holding my breath."

Gnewikow's bold words contrast with the Promise Ring's image, that of the unassuming little quartet from Milwaukee that, in 1997, turned the collective head of postpunk youth culture. That year, Jade Tree Records released the act's monumentally successful sophomore album, Nothing Feels Good, pushing the then-heavier band to the front of the broadly defined "emocore" scene. MTV ended up playing the clip for "Why Did We Ever Meet" on the network's

120 Minutes program, and earlier this year, Spin felt compelled to include the group on a new-talent list of "9 To Watch In '99."

The guitarist isn't biting the hand that feeds him, however. At least, not hard enough to break the skin. Gnewikow amends his statement and admits to MTV's at least partial support of his band. "Yeah, MTV played the video a couple of times. That was totally unexpected, cause we only made it because a friend said he d do it for free. He's worked on videos for bands like Blink 182, so he just took the ends of stuff he had laying around and put it all together. It was considerably less interesting and groundbreaking than, say, a Radiohead video." The good-humored guitarist playfully continues, "The real benefit to [national recognition] is calling home and justifying my existence to my mom, y'know. It's like, 'Here look at this. People like us. This is what I've been doing for the last five years while you've been telling me to get a real job.' It's like, 'Look, at me, I'm really successful. I'm a professional musician.' Meanwhile, the truth is, I don't know why people like us. They have no reason to."

Judging from the quality of Very Emergency, the band's latest and most confident work to date, people have plenty of reason to like the Promise Ring. Ex-Jawbox/current-Burning Airlines leader J. Robbins produced the record at Washington, DC's Inner Ear Studios. The post-hardcore veteran also turned the knobs on Nothing Feels Good. "He's awesome. He's a little prince," Gnewikow states with awe. "He's so enthusiastic and down to earth. And he interferes in a really good way, y'know. Just enough. As far as we're concerned, he can interfere as much as he wants. He's a genius."

That "genuis" helped the act create a record that glows with a newfound maturity. This aural document is the work of a band that took the time to learn from its mistakes and truly find itself, moving away from its early "emo" tag. Unembarrassed, Gnewikow agrees. "30" Everywhere [the band's 1996 debut] was the record we should've never recorded. At the time, we weren't really ready to do it yet, y'know, but we thought, 'Oh, let's put out a record.' A lot of those songs could've been so much better, but we rushed into it. So we did that, and it was bad. It was like 50 percent us mocking other bands and 50 percent us trying to figure out what we were going to do. Nothing Feels Good was us spending a little more time in the studio with a producer who was really into it. It was us getting a lot closer to what we wanted

INDUSTRY PROFILE Felice Ecker Vickie Starr

Interview by Carlene Bauer

Girlie Action, the independent publicity firm that represents such high-profile alternative mainstays as Superchunk, They Might Be Giants, Beth Orton, Elliott Smith and Ben Folds Five, celebrates its fifth anniversary this year. Felice Ecker, who started the company in 1994, decided to get into the music business because she was obsessed with Syd Straw and the Golden Palominos. After stints as a publicist at WEA and Mute, Ecker decided to work on her own. Soon, she asked journalist and WBAI DJ Vickie Starr to be her partner and the two set up Girlie Action headquarters in Ecker's 500-square foot-apartment. Now, the two women oversee a staff of eight in a roomy Soho office, watched over by a poster of the Rolling Stones in drag. CMJ talked to the duo about the challenge of trying to be publicists who don't blow a lot of hot air.

Your roster of clients is pretty impressive. Have you been able, for the most part, to work with whom you choose?

Ecker: Oh, definitely. But we're in this place right now where we have really strong relationships with pretty much every label in the country and maintain a regular dialogue about what kind of projects we'd be good at and projects we're personally interested in. Over the years, we've developed part of our roster in a way that's become permanent. Beth Orton is a career client, [so are] Elliott Smith, Ben Folds Five and DJ Spooky. It's a nice place to be in, to have certain artists that you've worked with over the course of two to four releases. [Major label rosters] have increased so much because of all the mergers that they don't have time to finesse smaller acts, so we're given more opportunities to work with developing artists at major labels than we were five years ago.

How did you end up working with Internet companies Listen.com and CDuctive?

Ecker: We had a couple people approach us, and we weren't comfortable with representing them initially. We were really waiting for a company that...we felt offered something. For any client, I need to believe that there's a story to pitch. I'm not looking to brand an Internet company. We're trying to figure out how the Internet fits into pop culture. I have no interest in doing anybody's corporate or tech press, churning out press releases every week talking about mergers. I want to talk about the people behind the companies, the vibe that's being created, the people coming to the sites. Music touches people. And we need to know how to figure out how to do that for the net as well, figure out a way to make it warmer, more personalized.

So, what's in the future?

Ecker: We're doing something that I vowed that I would never ever do again: Management! [Laughs] And I can't even talk about whom we would be managing because it's not even official yet. But we are going to start working with two amazing solo artists. I'm not looking to develop an entire management division. I think the two of us are in different places from when we started Girlie Action and were managing two acts—it was so thankless. I'm happy to be a band manager as an adult.

You both were founders of the nowdefunct organization Strong Women In Music, which provided support to your colleagues in the industry. To what extent is feminism a part of the success of Girlie Action?

Starr: I think with us, it's not just a gender thing. It's about respect. I think that over the years we've developed a core of clients and colleagues who share our worldview. That goes deeper than just the business of making music.... What Felice and I try to do, at least once in a while, is stop and think about the human beings that make this business work. Especially the artists. There's a tendency in our business, because everybody's moving so fast, and partly because of the almighty dollar, to steamroll through people. Not to sound touchy-feely about it, but at the end of the day, the job isn't fulfilling if we all feel like crap, psychically.

How do you keep your ears from becoming jaded?

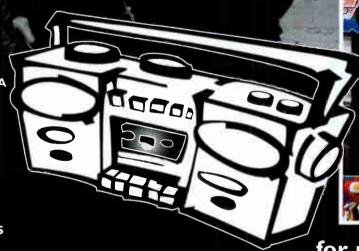

Starr: It's definitely hard to find time to listen to music in a quality way. I continue to be energized about music. What's happening with drum 'n' bass is exciting, what's happening in hip-hop and younger singer-songwriters is exciting — people like Martha Wainright and [client] Danielle Howle. We rely on the fact that our staff is very young, both physically and at heart. They keep us clued in. And this is something that's a real challenge to me because I have two young children at home....I really try to make time to listen to the new DI that's rolling into town. Although it's hard for me to do it, when I'm standing in a club at 3 a.m. and I have a big smile on my face because I'm really loving what I'm hearing, it reminds me why I love this job. [Laughs] Sometimes it's not easy to remember that during the day!
