Boston, Massachusetts' WERS has long been the city's flagship for diverse programming and live music. WERS is responsible for helping launch the careers of many artists, such as Mr. Lif, Catie Curtis, Mission Of Burma and Cave In. Debbie Steingesser, the station's Music Director, explains the station's programming philosophy: "We really try to be cutting edge with our programming, so we can give listeners a reason to come back to us and feel like they're getting something new that they can't hear anywhere else."

INDUSTRY NEWS

The Motion Picture Association of America, the National Music Publishers' Association, the Songwriters Guild of America and the RIAA have jointly sent a letter to more than 2,300 colleges and universities to make academic leaders aware of, and to ask for their help in stopping, the illegal copyright infringement that is so prevalent on college campuses. Six leading higher education associations also sent a separate letter stressing the importance of the issue and urging universities to take additional technical measures to combat the illegal online piracy of copyrighted works. The letters asked for decisive action, in the form of informing students of their moral and legal responsibilities to respect the rights of copyright owners, specifying what practices are, and are not, acceptable on the institution's digital network, monitoring compliance and imposing effective remedies against violators. • After much debate, the House of Representatives passed the "Small Webcaster Amendments Act of 2002" on Oct. 7, which will significantly reduce the amount of royalty payments that small Webcasters — those whose gross revenues are less than $1 million a year — will have to pay to U.S. record companies and recording artists for the years from 1998 through 2004. The deal will set royalties at a rate of eight to 12 percent of a Webcaster's revenue, or five to seven percent of its expenses, whichever is higher. Three years of back royalties will also be paid in three installments. Had the legislation not passed, small Webcasters would have been forced to pay the same rate as goliath Internet companies, such as Yahoo's Launch — 0.07 cents per song per listener, or $92 per listener per year — more than enough to drive many Webcasters out of business. The RIAA and the "Voice of the Webcasters" issued a statement, saying "We are pleased with the unanimous vote in the House of Representatives in support of this legislation. We both want fans to have the best musical experience possible, and this legislation helps us move forward together toward that goal." • Just when you thought you were safe... If the RIAA has its way in court, the recording industry may be able to force Internet service providers (ISPs) such as AOL, MSN and Verizon to give up the names, addresses and phone numbers of those customers the organization suspects of copyright infringement. U.S. District Judge John D. Bates is currently reviewing evidence to decide whether to enforce a subpoena requiring Verizon to surrender the names of customers the RIAA says are guilty of copyright infringement through file-sharing, which could set the precedent for future cases. If the names are handed over, the RIAA is expected to issue cease-and-desist letters to make the offenders take their song collections offline, though some lawmakers would prefer stricter punishments, such as fines or the possibility of jail time.

LABEL NEWS

Slow-core aficionado label Badman Recording Company is celebrating its fifth anniversary this year. To commemorate the event, the label is releasing Badman's Bedtime Maladies, a

White Stripes

10-track compilation that highlights the company's talented roster. The disc will include previously released songs by My Morning Jacket, Rebecca Gates, Paula Frazer and Mark Eitzel. It will also feature unreleased tracks by Hayden, James William Hindle, ill lit, Ken Stringfellow and others. The record is currently available on the label's website, www.badmanrecordingco.com, and will be in stores soon.

MUSIC NEWS

Former Smashing Pumpkins ringleader Billy Corgan sent his legion of followers into a bit of a frenzy with an Oct. 8 post on www.zwan.com, the Web site for his new band, Zwan, which also features ex-Pumpkin Jimmy

Illustration: Graham Brice

Chamberlain on drums. “The Zwan album is just about done and we are all very excited and proud that we were able to come together to make this possible,” wrote Corgan. “Everyone in Zwan has worked very hard so we could make the first Zwan record a reality by the end of this year. And it looks like we will probably be playing some shows after Thanksgiving, so please come and check us out if you can.” Meanwhile, Corgan also mentioned the previously unseen bonus video footage of his old band that will feature on the DVD release of the Smashing Pumpkins’ Vieuphoria, which was originally put out on video in 1994. “We didn’t even know these tapes existed,” he wrote of the recently discovered material from nearly a decade ago. “They are a little raw, but really do capture the spirit and aggression of the band back in the good old days.” The DVD is due in stores on Nov. 19, while a release date for the Zwan album has yet to be announced.

• It has been five years now since we’ve seen any fresh music from Portishead, and although a follow-up to the band’s self-titled last studio release still seems well over the horizon, there is something new for fans to get excited about. Beth Gibbons, the group’s darkly alluring vocalist, has a solo album of sorts on the way, hitting stores in the U.K. on Oct. 28. No U.S. release has been announced yet for the 10-track disc, Out Of Season, which Gibbons recorded with former

Talk Talk bassist Paul Webb, under the moniker of Beth Gibbons And Rustin Man. “This is a different record to Portishead or Talk Talk,” reads a description on the album’s official Web site, www.bethgibbons.com. “For one, it’s ‘beats’-free, and has more of a timeless, feel. Those who love Nick Drake, or Nina Simone, or even Radiohead’s ‘Exit Music (For a Film)’ should unconditionally love Out Of Season.” Meanwhile, the disc is being billed as a one-off project, and comes with the news that Gibbons and Portishead partner

Geoff Barrow are currently (finally) at work on their next long-awaited release. • The White Stripes have announced the completion of their latest album, currently titled Elephant. The new disc, recorded in the U.K., is the band’s fourth, and follows the huge success of their breakthrough last release, White Blood Cells. The album currently remains without a release date, however, as a statement from the rock duo’s official Web site, www.whitestripes.com, notes, “We have finished the making, mixing, and mastering of Elephant, but won’t let it out of its cage just yet. It needs to graze on the plains for a minute.” •

Following the leak of previously unreleased Nirvana track “You Know You’re Right” — one of the main selling points of the upcoming self-titled greatest hits package from the band — the release of the retrospective disc has been pushed forward to an Oct. 29 street date. • Reprise recording act Filter has cancelled the rest of its upcoming shows for 2002, following the news that singer Richard Patrick checked himself into a rehabilitation clinic, though no information has been released as to the cause and nature of the decision. In a statement on the official Filter site, www.officialfilter.com, Patrick states, “I want to apologize to all my friends and fans for having to cancel these upcoming shows, but right now I’m concerned about my health and want to get back into the best physical and mental condition to go back on the road next year.” The group had just released its third album, The Amalgamat, this summer and had an 11-city tour planned for the remainder of the year. • After canceling a series of European dates when frontman

Daryl Palumbo was hospitalized in France due to his chronic problem with Crohn’s disease, Glassjaw was forced to reschedule the first five shows on its U.S. tour as well. Originally scheduled to kick off Oct. 16 in New York City, the opening date was moved to the Oct. 22 gig in Orlando, with the postponed dates set to be added on to the end of the band’s schedule. • Primal Scream has signed a North American deal with Epic Records, who will release the band’s latest album, Evil Heat, in the U.S. on Nov. 26. The disc, which hit shops in Europe over the summer, finds the often-incendiary band of ramblerous explorers exploring the currently en-vogue realm of electroclash, in addition to reaffirming its pedigree in rock, punk and tech-no-attacks. It also features a duet between Scream frontman Bobby Gillespie and supermodel Kate Moss on a cover of Lee Hazlewood’s “Some Velvet Morning,” as well as appearances by the Jesus And Mary Chain’s Jim Reid, My Bloody Valentine’s Kevin Shields and Robert Plant. The domestic release will include a bonus DVD of videos and live footage of the band.

ADD N TO (X)

Loud Like Nature (Mute)
Over its last three records, vintage analog fetishists Add N To (X) have progressively embraced actual songwriting over maddening electronic blippery. Loud Like Nature adds the eclectic to the electric, subverting their Neu!- and Stereolab-isms through pulsating funk, skuzzy garage rock and grinding glam. The menacing groove of “Party Bag” sounds like Stephen Hawking making a Mothership Connection, and the garage-punk “Sheez Mine” (featuring Pulp guitarist Richard Hawley) and “Large Numbers” smash ANTX’s expensive equipment in the gutter, mewing and spewing like Kraftwerk bending a robotic ear to the Nuggets box set. Opener “Total All Out Water” and closer “All Night Lazy” are buzzing post-glam sleaze, a screaming, moaning lock-down at a Moog factory.

Comparisons to Marilyn Manson’s Mechanical Animals (you know, with those pesky guitars edited out) might be apt but, shit, ANTX are mechanical animals — flesh-and-blood creatures allowing the often unpredictable and imperfect nature of electronics to take precedence over precision.

FOO FIGHTERS

One By One (RCA)

After the dedication Dave Grohl displayed to Queens Of The Stone Age during his recent stint as its drummer, his work on the new Foo Fighters disc almost seemed like an afterthought. So, it’s only more staggering that Grohl and friends have turned in an album that not only easily tops their own previous releases, but can also sit alongside the former Nirvana skinsman’s other work as a true rock classic. From the opening sneak attack of single “All My Life,” Grohl’s time spent in the Queens comes into play, as, on much of the disc, the more poppy elements of the Foo’s material are sublimated by a darker, more aggressive approach. In contrast, there’s “Overdrive,” a healthy dose of pop-punk, and the soaring “Burn Away,” which is only surpassed by the even-more-soaring epic closer “Come Back.” That song, like the album as a whole, finds an optimal balance between dark and light, melody and menace. Back on the opener, Grohl repeatedly insists, “All my life I’ve been searching for something.” Well, if that “something” is a near-perfect album, he’s finally found it.

DOT ALLISON

We Are Science (Mantra)

Dot Allison was once the lead singer of One Dove, the Andrew Weatherall-produced U.K. acid house band that was briefly all the rage for influential dance label Junior Boy’s Own.

Afterglow, Allison’s 1999 solo debut, was a lush, mellow affair that melted the hearts of those lucky enough to discover it. But it’s her more recent collaborations with Death In Vegas and Slam that have had people buzzing about her as a modern electro queen. Co-produced by Keith Tenniswood (the other half of Two Lone Swordsmen, along with Weatherall), We Are Science is a sinister combination of ominous basslines with the once-angelic Allison’s now-iniquitous vocals. Opening track “We’re Only Science” visits a post-apocalyptic kingdom where industrial black leather is the only acceptable garb, while Mercury Rev’s David Fridman adds his helping hand to the distorted pop of “Strung Out” and “Lover,” bringing grace to the production. Elsewhere, bonus remixes from Felix Da Housecat and Slam manipulate murky tracks into electro-boogie and techno, respectively. Conjuring an overall air of disturbing tranquility, We Are Science is the narcotic missing from the nu-electro concoction.

LIARS ACADEMY

Trading My Life

(Equal Vision)

Rising in the wake of the demise of Baltimore’s Cross My Heart, Liars Academy is a pop-rock foursome that teeters on the emo edge, but manages to pull away in time to avoid falling into the chasm of classification. Ex-CMH members Ryan Shelkett (vocals, guitars) and Evan Tanner (drums) formed the band with Strike Anywhere’s Matt Smith on bass, with CMH’s Chris Camden completing the current lineup after their 2001 debut, No News Is Good News.

This new four-song EP is a short but sweet glimpse into a band that has been developing its catchy sound and tight instrumentation since that debut. The driving force behind the release lies in both the title cut and the track “Chainsmoke The Night Away,” which highlight Shelkett’s melodious, fine-tuned vocals, backed by confident, strong-willed guitar dynamics. The other two tracks by no means pale in comparison, though — as a whole, like the band, this release represents the talent and potential that still exists in a constantly expanding, but too-often diluted style of music. — Greg Winter

THE STREETS

Original Pirate Material
(Vice)

Raised on a steady diet of hip-hop, U.K. garage, dub, house and drum 'n' bass, British bedroom composer Mike Skinner, a.k.a. the Streets, is a one-man melting pot of conflicting musical genres that have been meticulously assimilated into a groundbreaking new form. It's not just that Skinner's ideas are innovative, but also the way that he so deftly brings the varying styles together, that makes his debut record so special. Although it missed out to Ms. Dynamite, this album was a favorite to win the 2002 Mercury Music Prize in the U.K., and with good reason. Influences are apparent on nearly every track, but you'll still have the hardest time pinpointing exactly what makes it work for you. Does it remind you of Roots Manuva? So Solid Crew? Maybe even Craig David? The only surety is that it does indeed work, and work brilliantly. Original Pirate Material is the sound of the streets in more than just name — it's an excursion through the trials and tribulations of youth that, with its humorous tinges, offers up a feeling of hope along with a beat. — Justin Kleinfeld

LOUDERMILK

The Red-Sides (DreamWorks)
"Red is the most volatile color," says Loudermilk vocalist/guitarist Davey Ingersoll. "It represents love, rage, jealousy and warmth." By that definition, Loudermilk picked the perfect title for its DreamWorks debut and this new five-song EP. Full of love, rage and all the rest of it, The Red-Sides EP is a collection of B-sides recorded during the sessions for the band's The Red Record. Not at all bad for a band whose members did time in a Guns N' Roses cover band called .22s And Tulips. However, while the group may have outgrown Axl-inspired metal theatrics, the Gunner's influence can still be easily heard throughout this disc. From the thick guitar riffs of "Estrogen Oxygen (Aches In The Teeth Again)" to the "November Rain" flashback piano ballad "Siren," Loudermilk subscribes to the "more is more" philosophy of making music. Often, this approach can blow up in a band's face if it isn't careful. Popular culture is littered with a mass of lifeless over-produced dross, but Loudermilk dodges that bullet with the aid of veteran producer George Drakoulias, who reigns in the songs and leaves them with a strikingly sharp focus, helping the band to instead become a much-needed punch in the arm of "Modern Rock."

RACHAEL SAGE

Illusion's Carnival (MPress)

From the opening staccato beats and fluttering piano notes on Rachael Sage's fourth record, Illusion's Carnival, it becomes apparent that this brazen songsmith is in a league of her own. With ripe piano-driven songs that blend a rich mixture of pop, folk and jazz, Sage offers up 15 tracks reflecting on love and acceptance, fluctuating in delivery between passion and distress, hope and despair, anger and glory. Although the Tori Amos comparison is a tired one, there are few other artists that incorporate the raw emotion and musicianship this award-winning singer-songwriter possesses. The desperate "Camera" comes across as a theatrical performance, with Sage's sexy vibrato dancing over the piano's ivory keys that she plays with such grace, while the bouncy riff that opens "Look" has the ability to warm a room as surely as a smile from a loved one. Elsewhere, Sage offers equally sultry and gripping melodies on "Angel" and "I Am Gonna Try," further evidence that this is one carnival that is well worth the price of admission.

YOUR LIVE MUSIC LEADER

Boston has always been a hotbed of great music. Luckily, Emerson College's WERS is there to let the rest of us know about it.

Story: Louis Miller • Photos: Bernie O'Doherty

WERS Music Director Debbie Steingesser brings the RAWK!

WERS staff soaks up the Boston sun

When Emerson College's WERS first took to the airwaves with its all-classical format in 1949, no one could have guessed at the impact the humble college radio station would have on the Boston music scene in the years to come. "[WERS] is just really unique," explains the station's Music Director, Debbie Steingesser. "People thank us all the time for doing what we're doing and playing local music."

The station certainly has come a long way since its humble beginnings over 50 years ago. Although the classical music has recently been nixed, WERS is now responsible for bringing some of the most diverse programming available to the airwaves. In fact, while many stations are happy to stick with their "all rock, all the time" formats, WERS' programming consistently includes the best of 20 genres, including folk, jazz, world, blues, hip-hop, electronica, metal, reggae, children's songs, traditional Hebrew music, a cappella — it even has a weekly program devoted to show tunes.

"We really try to be cutting edge with our programming, so we can give listeners a reason to come back to us and feel like they are getting something new that they can't hear anywhere else," asserts Steingesser. "College stations are not [just] all about rock and should never be all about rock. There is so much more that is going on in music that people should be aware of."

It's exactly this kind of dedication to quality and diversity that has allowed the station to be embraced by the 3.8 million people that reside in Boston and the surrounding markets throughout most of Massachusetts, parts of New Hampshire, Rhode Island and Vermont. So, what is a station with 4000 watts of power supposed to do with all of that music? In a word: educate. This is college radio, after all. WERS prides itself on introducing its listeners to artists, both local and national, that can't be heard elsewhere. In fact, the station's dedication to the Boston local music scene doesn't just include giving artists' CDs airtime. With its state-of-the-art studio, WERS has played host to thousands of musicians who have given stellar, live on-air performances.

"Throughout the years, we've tried to incorporate as much live and local music as possible into every show, not just the rock shows," Steingesser says. Quite often, artists of all genres will come into the studio and play for 20 minutes before announcing their shows that night at a local club. Many acts, from Mr. Lif, Ed

O.G. and Gang Starr's Guru to Catie Curtis, Mission Of Burma, Lot Six and Cave In have all jump-started their careers by playing on WERS. "[Cave In's] Stephen Brodsky sat up here with a guitar my first week at WERS and sang really sad songs," remembers Steingesser. "And now they're going to tour with the Foo Fighters." Several of these artists have also been featured on WERS-produced CDs, Live On WERS and Crunch This.

WERS' passion for live music doesn't stop in the studio, either. Not only does the station coordinate various concerts and benefit shows throughout the city, but more often than not, station staffers and DJs can be seen at any show, sponsored by the station or otherwise; "bringing the community to WERS and vice versa," as Steingesser puts it. "That is what WERS is about — everyone is involved in some facet of this community and is really good friends with local artists. We're the kids that go out and see these shows and find bands that aren't signed yet and actually give them a chance to be heard." Indeed, the people who work at WERS have an unfettered love for music that is evident both at shows in the community and on-air.

One thing about being a radio station in a market such as Boston, though, is that it will always be facing a lot of competition. When it comes to vying for listeners, however, Steingesser insists that there is no contest. "I never feel any sort of competition because our programming is so unique to this area," she emphasizes. "We're not really going up against anything. WERS is just really good radio. A lot of time when people listen to us they really don't associate us with college radio. It's very rare that people outside of Emerson think it's a college radio station. We really try to make our DJs sound very professional, so it doesn't come off like unprepared people just coming in and throwing on CDs." And people have definitely noticed: WERS ranks 25th in listener audience in a crowded market of 52 stations — an impressive feat, when one considers the competition includes such heritage commercial stations as WBCN, WFNX as well as college stations WMBR, WUMB, WTBU and WRBB, among others.

As WERS continues to blaze a trail in the Boston community, musicians and listeners alike can rest assured that college radio will be there, day-in and day-out, to make sure that the best new music will make its way to the public.

"I think [the purpose of college radio] is to provide listeners with music that they can't hear anywhere else; to not be a commercial station in any sense of the word," declares Steingesser. "It should really educate listeners as to what they're listening to and where they can find the music they're hearing. We should be providing an outlet for musicians that they are not going to find anywhere else. If we do that, musicians will be grateful."

And, as WERS has consistently proven, so will the audience.

NMR

WERS "TOP" LOCAL BAND PROSPECTS

WERS has helped a countless number of artists get their foothold in the Boston music scene. These five acts are up-and-coming Boston talents that the station feels we all deserve to hear about:

Brian Webb – Brian Webb moved to Boston to pursue a career in folk music. With the help of WERS, he has moved from playing at various train stops around the city to much bigger shows with other local artists, such as Rachel McCartney, Katie Barbato and Teddy Goldstein. Brian just released his most recent solo album, Broken Folk, this past June and was nominated for a Boston Music Award this past spring. WERS has been Brian's number one supporter since the day we found him and he has played two benefit shows for WERS. He constantly tells us, "Wow, y'all have power."

John Brown's Body

– On its unbelievable new record, Spirits All Around Us, local artist John Brown's Body incorporates drum 'n' bass, electronic and country music into classic roots reggae. It recently received a Boston Music Award for "Best Roots Band" in 2001 and has performed at such acclaimed festivals as the Bob Marley Caribbean Festival and Sierra Nevada World Music Festival. WERS has been a huge supporter of JBB for many years on our World, Reggae and Electronic programs, which have had a great effect on the band's following in Boston. It recently sold out a local club when it played with another local reggae band, Pressure Cooker.

The Slip – The Slip combines the classic techniques of jazz music with folk storytelling and improvisation. Its fourth album, Angels

Come On Time, was recently released on Rykodisc. The group's strenuous touring schedule has gained the trio a large following all over the United States and in Japan. Originally from Providence, Rhode Island, the band has played live on WERS' "Jazz Oasis" program four times in the past three years, supporting the releases of its previous four albums and local shows. Just like WERS, The Slip's music is always cutting edge and contemporary.

combines a mix of down-tempo, tech-house and broken-beat tracks and includes collaborations with DJ Colette and Gavin Froome. Morgan has remixed tracks for Grammy-nominated group Wax Poetic and has been featured on various compilations put out by Lakeshore, Tronic Soundz and Plastic City Recordings.

There Were Wires –

There Were Wires is a pioneer in the Boston D.I.Y. straightedge-punk scene and can often be found drawing attention to basement shows all over the area. Its music is a metal/grindcore mixture that makes the kids go wild in the biggest mosh pits ever seen. There Were Wires just re-released its debut record on local label Iodine Recordings (Orange Island, Gregor Samsa, Nationale Blue) with bonus tracks that were recorded live on WERS' acclaimed metal and hardcore show, "Nasty Habits." With the recent addition of ex-Moment guitarist Thomas Moses, there is no question that this band will skyrocket on the college radio charts!

Beck is getting comfortable in the No. 1 position, as his latest gem, Sea Change, spends its second consecutive week atop the heap. However, setting up a horse race for next week is Apples In Stereo's Velocity Of Sound, which gallops 5-2* this week. • Other moves of note within the Top 10 this week are Black Heart Procession (12-7*), Doug Martsch (11-9*) and Hot Hot Heat's Make Up The Breakdown, vaulting 17-10* for the Sub Pop crew (and all that's happened in just two weeks on the chart!). • Securing the highest debut on the Top 200 is Jetset's badass Flaming Sideburns (D-47*). Also keep an eye on Bad Astronaut (D-68*), Elf Power (D-72*), beatmaster Squarepusher (D-73*) and Matt Pond PA (D-87*). • There are plenty of movers to shine the spotlight on this week, including: Karate (40-23*), Destroyer (43-26*), Agenda! (71-28*), Philadelphia's Burning Brides (49-33*), Snapcase (41-34*), Rilo Kiley (50-35*), Lot Six (53-39*) and Juliana Theory's Love EP. Oh, and let's NOT forget to mention "old fart" Peter Gabriel's brilliant new collection, Up, which surged 60-41*. • Finally, watch for these to come crashing into the Top 100 (and higher!) in very short order: Warm Guns, Donnas, Lemon Jelly and All-American Rejects.

How is the station different from others in the market?

KALX is a free-form, non-commercial radio station that does not program a single style or resort to block programming. All programmers are required to play three distinct styles of music during their shows.

Outside station activities:

In recent months, the station has co-announced a series of nights at the Oakland Museum designed to attract more youth visitors. The station's public affairs, cultural affairs and women's programming regularly focus on community issues and feature local leaders, activists and artists as guests.

How is the station promoted?

With flyers and tables both on- and off-campus. In addition, there's a program guide with articles and the on-air schedule produced and distributed twice a year. The station also co-announces select concerts at local venues, plus the Web site has the current on-air schedule and information about the station.

News/Sports programming:

The award-winning news department airs three newscasts a day, Monday-

Friday. The sports department does play-by-play broadcasts of UC Berkeley football, basketball and baseball. There's also a weekly sports call-in/talk program called "Bear Talk."

Station marketing/ Fundraising:

KALX raises money for operating costs during an annual 10-day on-air fundraiser every fall. For marketing, the station relies on distributing flyers, local shows, print ads in the local weekly papers, distribution of the program guide and the Web site.

Regular special features:

In addition to hour-long, genre-specific specialty shows six nights a week at midnight, there's "Ridefinder," a ride sharing calendar read twice a day; "Campus Calendar," a calendar of upcoming events on the UC Berkeley campus read twice a day; and "Entertainment Calendar," a daily concert calendar read three times a day.

Current/Recent promotions:

Recent ticket giveaways include Sleater-Kinney, Jurassic 5, Interpol and more. The station also recently completed its annual T-shirt design contest in preparation for the annual fundraiser.

Ties to local retail:

A long-running relationship with Amoeba Music, often recognized as one of the best record stores in the country. They underwrite some of the music department's specialty shows.

Station benchmarks:

"The Next Big Thing" is a demo tape/CD-R only program that has been airing since 1984. "KALX Live" is a Saturday night program that features a different local band live every week.

Interesting tidbit:

Celebrating its 40th anniversary, KALX began in 1962 as a carrier current station in UC Berkeley dorms. It was started by four engineering students who built the first mixing board out of a cigar box. KALX began broadcasting as a 10-watt FM station in 1967, eventually increasing its signal to 500 watts in 1982. Its signal can now be heard by millions of people in the greater Bay Area.

ARTIST SPOTLIGHT

CKY

When a fan visiting the band's official Web site asked what CKY stands for, the group's singer, Deron

Miller, replied, "Because if we sat down we'd be the boringest band ever." Right now, CKY may be known primarily for its connection to MTV's Jackass — drummer Jess Margera is the brother of skateboarder Bam Margera, who featured on the program, and the group contributed music to both the series and the big screen version of the psycho-stunt show. But this is a band that's well prepared to stand and be heard on its own terms. In fact, CKY wants nothing less than to inspire a revolution within the record buying public. With the recent release of their third album, Infiltrate • Destroy • Rebuild, former skate-video soundtrackers Deron (guitar, vocals), Chad Ginsburg (guitar), Jess (drums) and Vern Zaborowski (bass) have given the world a bit of insight into their plans; through its association with the hit TV show, the group has already accomplished the first decree of its record title. CMJ caught up with three-quarters of the rock act before a recent New York gig to find out just what degree of destruction the next step could entail, how easy it really is to get a straight answer from these guys, and what we can look forward to in the world according to CKY.

CKY has built a solid fanbase in a very grassroots way. How did that happen?

Jess: Basically, we had a large following in the skating community from doing music in skate videos. Chad: We did soundtracks for skate-culture related videos. We did the soundtrack for the CKY movies. At the same time that was going on, we continued with the CKY music and touring. We've done the Warped tour and things like that. We've been a working band for about five years now. Deron: Also, the music was good enough that word of mouth helped. All a band needs is good, quality music and they'll get somewhere. A lot of bands don't have a following because their music just doesn't cut it.

What advice would you give to bands that are just starting out?

Chad: Play around with the Internet. There's a lot of communication on it that makes it the perfect tool to get your music out there to people for free. Jess: Put all your effort into the recording, because that's what people are going to hear. Chad: Get a good recording. Make sure you're happy with it. If you doubt it, don't put it out. Throw it on file sharing programs under more popular bands and list your band name in the title. There are all kinds of secret ways to get your music out there. Jess: Basically, if you make a record that can't be ignored, it won't be ignored.

So you guys are pro-file sharing?

Deron: The only thing that really sucks about file sharing is getting an entire record before it comes out. Chad: It's not as exciting as it was. The excitement came from going to the record store when the album came out. If you're just sampling music and looking for bands to like, it's fine, but if you want to hear a band's album that you really love, you should wait until it hits stores. Jess: It's cool to have the artwork. And downloaded music doesn't sound as good. You can't trust the quality. Chad: Trust the CD for sound quality. I wouldn't trust an MP3 to judge what a band really sounds like. Deron: The future of buying records also has to do with what comes with the music: enhancements, videos, packaging. Chad: The future will probably be downloading and mailing out packaging. Deron: Or maybe doing what we're trying to do, which is put out a DVD of every song on the album. Maybe, in the future, albums will be DVDs. Chad: Some bands have added DVDs to their albums, but we're doing a whole DVD version of our album with videos. We paid for the videos with money we made from the skating videos.

You guys make a point of connecting deeply with your audience. How do you go about that?

Deron: The easiest thing about it is that we've been being ourselves since we started. We don't feel like we're rock stars. We don't think any band should come across to their fans with an attitude of, "We're better than you." Chad: Just speak the truth. I talk to them like I would talk to you, and they talk to me like they would talk to their friends. We're friends with our fans. Jess: We basically want to know our fans. We respect the hell out of them. It's cool that they've come this far with us. We aren't a band that gets pushed in people's faces. Deron: A lot of the things fans tell us, like, "You've saved my life" or, "I picked up a guitar because of you" — you can't just turn your shoulder to that, you know? Chad: Our fans are right there with us, one-hundred-percent on the same level energy-wise. Our best way of staying in contact with our fans is through our Web site, www.ckymusic.com. We answer questions from anybody.

CKY has been pretty outspoken in its opinions of the music industry. What would you do to change it?

Chad: We're doing it now. Deron: We released a record last week and that's the start of it all. Chad: It'll always be the start and won't ever be the finish. We're just going to keep being CKY. There's nothing really beyond that. Jess: Rock is definitely stagnant right now. And we're trying to bring it in to a new direction. Deron: And one way to do that is to be completely clueless about what is going on in rock today. Jess: We made our record regardless of trends. Chad: I really hate what's popular now. I want a clean slate and we deserve it. There is no better time than right now. We're suffering through what I call "generation overdone." CKY can be revolutionary and inspire change.

— Interview by Brad Filicky

Ex-Metallica bassist Jason Newsted has never been shy about expressing his love for metal-pioneer Voivod. What greater way to show his dedication and love than by joining the band as an official member? Newsted joins Piggy, Snake and Away, and has adopted the moniker "Jasonic." He will play bass and record Voivod's forthcoming album, The Multiverse, which is due out next spring. What a triumphant return to metal for Newsted. • We reported the rumors and now it's official: Brooklyn's finest, Life Of Agony, will play a series of reunion shows in January 2003! Something to look forward to and to get us through the dank, bitter days of winter! Yee-ha! The original line up of Keith Caputo, Alan Robert, Sal Abruscato and Joey Z. is rehearsing and raring up. The baby-fine hairs on our arms are standing on end in anticipation of this landmark event. For more info, check www.lifeofagony.com. • In other mid-'90s hardcore news, Madball will play a few reunion shows in December, as well. • Glassjaw has been forced to postpone the first five dates of its forthcoming U.S. tour as well as postponing its entire European tour due to the adorable frontman Daryl Palumbo's resurgence of Crohn's disease, a chronic intestinal condition that has plagued Palumbo throughout his career. The condition flared up in Paris, where he had to be rushed to a French hospital, thus forcing the band's Euro dates to be cancelled. The shows will be rescheduled for December. The first five dates of the band's domestic tour have also been postponed, and will be made up at the end of that tour. While Crohn's disease is uncomfortable and recurring, it's not life threatening. CMJ sends its thoughts and prayers out to Palumbo for a swift recovery and return to the road. • In an interview with Brave Words And Bloody Knuckles, former Slayer drummer Dave Lombardo cryptically expressed interest in recording new material with the band. He said he is interested, but as long as writing and capturing new material to tape happens sooner than later. Hey Tom Araya and Kerry King — Get on that train! Speed that shit up! Like we're really going to complain about another Slayer album so soon! The more, the Slayer-ier. • For the death metal kids: Children Of Bodom is currently holed up in the studio recording the follow up to Follow The Reaper. • The always-sinister Bal-Sagoth is in the studio, working on its — natch — sixth album. • In the continuing saga of Gorgoroth singer Ghaal, it seems the singer's release from prison has been delayed. Apparently, another charge has been levied against him — this time for ritualistic Satanic torture. He will, however, be granted a temporary leave from prison to work on his band's new album. No, we're not kidding. He is actually allowed to go to the studio to work on Gorgoroth's new album. We dunno about you, but letting a dude out of prison when he's in the big house for committing violent crimes in order to work on musical material seems somewhat lenient. Don't get us wrong; we're all about the procreation of metal, but this seems a little questionable. • Finnish death metal act Farmakon has signed to Earache imprint Elitist Records. • Soulreaper has signed to Hammerheart. A new album is expected in March 2003. • Medium, the absolutely incredible rocka rolla band of former Overcast guitarist Pete Cortese and Shadows Fall's fill-in drummer Derek Kerswill, has entered the studio to record some material. If you have not heard this band yet, talk to the fine folks over at Bullen Promotions. • The King Of All Kings — that would be King Diamond, not Elvis Presley — has leaked his newest album title. It's simply called The Puppet Master. Elaborating further, the Diamond Despot said, "The rules of censorship are being thrown out the window. This is going to be the rawest story/album we have ever done!" The King and his cronies retreated to the nether region of Budapest, Hungary to work on the new gruesome material. • We weren't the only ones wondering where the hell Slymenstra Hymen of GWAR was on the band's Violence Has Arrived album and tour. Apparently, she was in Hollywood hanging out with her celebrity friends. She's pissed at her co-conspirators for the exclusion and the bitch is back with the ultimate goal of castrating Oderus Urungus. • Rap-rocker (Hed)pe is hitting the road to generate some early buzz on its forthcoming album, Blackout. The platter won't be ready till March of next year, but you can catch the band on the road. For a complete list of dates, hit www.hedpe.com. • The reunited Prong will be snapping fingers and necks on its upcoming U.S. and Euro tours. A new studio album is expected next year, but a live album will tide your asses over shortly. • Jamey Hatebreed and Ill Nino's Christian Machado are rumored to appear on E-Town Concrete's forthcoming new album. • Biohazard has changed the name of its forthcoming new album to Kill Or Be Killed. • Spineshank is calling its new album Violent Mood Swings. • Relative Ash has called it a day. In case you blinked and missed 'em, they were signed to IDJ and appeared on 2000's Tattoo The Earth tour. • Knives Out, featuring ex-members of AN and I Hate You, and hailing from the city of Brotherly Love, has broken up. Finito. • Super indie hardcore label Pluto Records has signed Without Sincerity. • We've heard that Relapse is thisclose to signing The Red Chord. • Finally, a comment, not a piece of news: On its tour with Killswitch Engage, In Flames beats ass. Like Iron Maiden, only heavier, In Flames is still one of the best metal bands around, despite some metal purists' rejection of the Swedish horde's newer albums. Frontman Anders Frieden is growing dreads and people are acting like he just joined Insane Clown Posse. Give it up. It's hair, not a personality trait. Worry about the economy or something substantial.

INDUSTRY NEWS

Concrete Marketing has elaborated on the restructuring and streamlining of its metal radio department. A company press release stated that Suzanna Paradise, formerly the head of the three-person department, will concentrate on a select panel of 150 stations which have the most impact on record sales, in effect, giving greater attention to a small roster of clients. Paradise will handle a maximum of six titles/records per week. Upcoming projects include Silvertide (J Records), Clockwise (RCA) and Pacifier (Arista). Any questions, hit up Suzy P. at suzannaparadise@concreteplanet.com or at 212.645.1460. •

In the wake of Spitfire Records amicably severing its relationship with parent company Eagle Rock Entertainment, radio promotions guru Scott Meyer is moving to the retail promotions department. The one and only Smitty will handle the radio duties. He can be contacted at smitty@spitfirerecords.com and you can immediately begin forwarding your charts to him. Upcoming releases include Napalm Death, Cathedral, Tribe Of Judah and a live Pissing Razors. • The quintessential Metal Machine — that would be Mean Dean Eddington, the frequency contamination advisor over at Relapse Records compound — will be contributing vocals and lyrics to the forthcoming Agoraphobic Nosebleed CD, Altered States Of America. Song titles include "Narcoterrorist Meglomaniac" and "12 Days Of Sodom." Righteous! Mean Dean has a panoply of side projects. He's also managing Love Lost But Not Forgotten and Kiss The Cynic, whose self-titled release, out on Slob Inc., sounds a helluva lot like Kiss It Goodbye. And that can never be bad. • Serjical Strike, the label of soft-spoken System Of A Down frontman Serj Tankian, will be distributed by Columbia, which happens to be SOAD's label.

TAPROOT

Welcome (Atlantic)

It sounds as if someone told Taproot in between its last tour for 2000's Gift and the recording of Welcome that the band needed to grow up and take a step up. Taproot, in turn, must have taken the advice to heart, because the Michigan quartet has advanced by leaps and bounds on the unforgettable Welcome. Not that Gift was lacking — it was a solid rock album — but Welcome, however, is a fireproof, bulletproof and ultimately fail-proof platter, with a “gift” for bewitching melodies and tuneful songs tempered by just the right amount of aggressive edges. Singer Steven Richards wears his vocal inspirations of Mike Patton and Brandon Boyd proudly on his sleeve, reaching high pitches that often toe the line between passionate and whiny. Guitarist Mike DeWolf, on the other hand, lays down super-sized riffs, with girth bigger than John Candy's waistline. As a result, “Poem” and “Mine” are singles that could rule active and modern rock airwaves for weeks. Like Disturbed, Incubus and Deftones before them, Taproot stands in line as another band to graduate with honors from the Loud Rock class to the greener pastures of commercial radio.

LACUNA COIL

Comalies (Century Media)

There's no arguing that chicks rule. But when the chick is a raven-haired Italian singing lead for a left-of-center metal band, that acts as a ripe, juicy cherry on top of an already tantalizing sundae! On Comalies, Cristina Scabbia is quite the temptress; her lush, creamy vocals wrap around slowly progressing riffs and touches of power chords. Scabbia's somewhat operatic, yet always dreamy vocals play a cat and mouse game with her male counterpart, Andrea Ferro. Hailing from Milan, Italy, Lacuna Coil is Europe's answer to the likes of other mammoth, female-fronted prog acts like the Gathering and Sinergy. Comalies is symphonic rock that will appeal to even the most groove 'n rap-minded mall-metaller, and ultimately, songs such as “Heaven's A Lie” and “The Ghost Woman And The Hunter” could go back into history and be used to tame even the most vile Roman gladiators in the Coliseum.

DAYLIGHT DIES

No Reply (Relapse)

In spite of its name, you won't think that daylight has died on Daylight Dies' depressing debut, No Reply. The album is so bleak and melancholic, you'll think daylight has never even existed! Operating off the same “slower-is-deadlier” theory that propelled My Dying Bride, Katatonia and Opeth to progressive, post-death metal careers, Daylight Dies focuses on the sad metal mood, and takes its time making its points. Songs hover around and above the seven-minute mark, so be prepared for long, drawn out riffery and cold, sterile growls. So, if there is a busy signal at the suicide hotline, throw No Reply in your player and let “I Wait” and “The Line That Divides” envelope your world!

KATAKLYSM

Shadows And Dust (Nuclear Blast)

Why don't you try telling Kataklysm that death metal is out of style? Even if the genre was a dying breed going the way of disco, Kataklysm would still be right there on the scene, resurrecting it with Shadows And Dust, a blast beat-laden affair. Kataklysm fills its tunes with monster power grooves

(the kind Pantera uses, although Kataklysm sounds nothing like Pantera) and more death than a funeral parlor. Kicking off with “In Shadows And Dust” and “Beyond Salvation,” the album could serve as a clinic for death metal drummers. Next to Cryptopsy, Kataklysm is the heaviest and hardest thing about Canada.

YAKUZA

Way Of The Dead (Century Media)

Century Media's commitment to genre-defying, inventive metal is perfectly illustrated by Yakuza's Way Of The Dead. An avant-metal clusterfuck, Way Of The Dead hopscoches between bladder-bursting metal riffage, Jesus Lizard noise, post-hard-core change-ups and jazz breakdowns throughout. Weird?

Absolutely. Inaccessible? No way. Music fans who like everything from Faith No More to Voivod to Candiria will take a hankering to “Vergasso” and “Yama.” Not for small-minded metal fans. Not in the least.

"What clever bastard! It reminds you just how great pop music can be."
— Greg Penny, Producer (k.d. lang, Elton John, Chic, Popo & The Three Mothers)

"The creative spirit of the '60s comes thru, yet the record sounds fresh and of the present."
— Robben Ford, Guitarist/Solo Artist (The Blue Line, George Harrison, Jani Mitchell)

"Like The Beatles' Rubber Soul and Sgt. Pepper's, or David Byrne's Hunky Dory, the songs on the Guns' new album, Blown Away, will stick in your head and the smart lyrics will make you think. The Warm Guns is a band that won't let you forget that pop music can have meaning, substance and intelligence."
— Brad Flicky, CMJ New Music Report

"...a strong album that stands on its own. Full of smart songs with thoughtful lyrics and impeccable arrangements."

HART OF THE MATTER

What began just over a year ago on the west coast as a simple idea born to Mark Cope's head as he raked his yard's mid-summer leaves, and which coincidentally on the east coast, had already become a next-phase priority to CMJ founder Bobby Haber, has taken seed and grown — in a way that only a match of these two minds could bring.

With Cope we got passion, integrity, experience and an uncanny knack for helping us want to see or hear things (even if just for a moment) as only he could. As Cope moves on, CMJ's unparalleled history of commitment toward ear-to-the-ground artist discovery, along with the tools for helping develop what you find, remain very much intact and ready to tackle what the future throws our way.

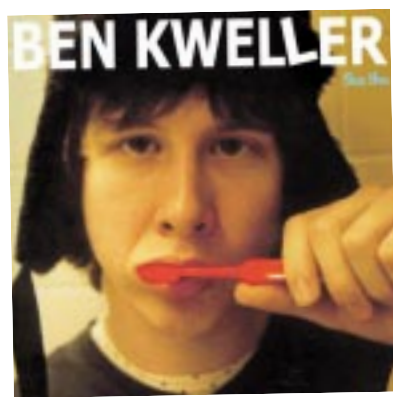

As CMJ Retail continues to grow and as we've enlisted talented people in the year since its birth, we've sought those who share our original passion and commitment to music. Though from the beginning we've known this endeavor was a business and that we'd need both the support of accounts and labels alike to pull it together, business has and will always ride shotgun to two of our major priorities: artist development and the independent-minded retailers that make it happen.

Week in and week out we will continue to visit and revisit the issues that impact those two causes most. Often we bring fresh perspective, and just as often our tune will sound familiar, repetitive, maybe even annoyingly so, but it's with purpose. Take a look at this week's "Speak Out" (below) by Houston's Record Rack owner Bruce Godwin. It's a cry we've heard over and over again: "MP3s and CD burning are ruining my business!" So why take up space here, adding yet another retailer's "rant" to the one choir where, these days, his voice will almost surely be drowned? To illustrate this key point—again: each individual casualty, be it label, artist, retailer, affects not only its own small economic universe but, in the aggregate, the overall stability and health of the industry. There are good things happening in this business every day too—and we continue to recognize them as well. There are businesses that are not only surviving, but also thriving; opportunities that there haven't been before with new ways, methods, programs, artists and fresh enthusiasm to seek them out. And always beneath it, the music that brings us here in the first place.

CMJ Retail continues the joy, frustration, struggle and exhilaration that is artist development and music retail. At our core, we continue moving that spirit of independence forward that gave birth to CMJ almost 25 years ago. Thanks everyone for your ongoing support. We expect to see many of you at this year's Music Marathon (e-mail me for if you need additional details).

On a completely different (and equally important) note, have any of you heard about this new album from the Ravenettes? If not, just sit tight—this one will rock your world. Also, if you haven't already, please listen to Brendan Benson's Lapalco (StarTime/Red Ink). Don't overlook this one—I almost did.

SPEAK OUT

BRUCE GODWIN
Owner, Record Rack
Houston, TX
713.524.3602
Bruce@hypercon.com

After 45 years as the oldest record store in Houston, the Record Rack is for sale. Why? Well... downloading and label greed are the reasons. Downloading will continue unabated for any music fan that chooses not to buy, but to steal their favorite music. Why can't the labels make CDs $9.99 list? They promised to make CDs cheaper for 20 years. Liars! The music fans know they make millions on hits. It is not the consumers' or retailers' fault the labels spend untold millions on crap bands, unneeded marketing, overpaid executives and padded expense accounts. They sacrifice all commerce for the sake of No.1. No single is available to buy. What other business model ignores consumers' wishes altogether only to grant the wishes of those who make the product?

Customers want singles. They want albums that are full of good music, not a catchy single and 45 minutes of filler. We all know the economy is sucking and the Big Box Boys make it impossible for indies to survive. The labels don't care one bit. When they need to develop the future stars of tomorrow there will be no stores to do it in. If they think the consumers are going to download for pay, they are wrong. The party's over guys and girls, wake up! Make better albums. Sign talented artists/songwriters, not pretty boys who are held up like puppets by their choreographers and stylists. Make music cheaper!

Call me bitter, out-of-touch, stupid, whatever. The Record Rack has sold millions of units by itself in 45 years. Maybe someone else can make a go of it. I can't. MP3s are the end of me as a retailer. If you want to buy a shop that has started trends and not followed them, that has developed countless bands and has had everyone from Ministry to the Village People in the store, call me. It's less than 1/3 the cost of a CD Warehouse franchise, or new venture.

I'm outta here. Maybe I can go sell crack knowing Best Buy won't be cheaper and people can't get it for free online.

UNDER THE RADAR Column by Gerry Hart • ghart@cmj.com

This week in Under The Radar we want to draw special attention to those albums that are either making important moves on CMJ Retail charts or are just about to. We'll also throw in a few reasons on the what, why and how things are beginning to pop.

POINTS OF IMPACT

artist	GOB F.U. EP Arista Catalog No. 14789 Dist: BMG	ADEMA Insomniac's Dream Arista Catalog No. 14786 Dist: BMG	CHRIS ROBINSON New Earth Mud Redline Entertainment Catalog No. 70009 Dist: RED	PRETENDERS Loose Screw Artemis Records Catalog No. 751153 Dist: RED
Retail	This is a low list price ($7.98) to raise visibility on a band who's been touring like dogs and who have a full-length hitting retail early '03. Much more than an EP, with nine tracks and 3 videos. The band also included on Electronic Arts' NHL 2003 video game (10/9).	This is a bridge piece spanning the band's debut (nearly 700k sold) and their June 2003 LP follow-up. Also at a low price point for an EP with seven songs and three videos ($8.98). Gives those 700k + fans something new in the meantime.	Shipping 100k with programs at MMN and LINC's, as well as at specific indie locations: Crow's Nest, Waterloo, Gallery Of Sound, Homer's, E. Fetus and more. Major programs at Tower, B&N, Borders, Best Buy, Transworld. Focus markets: Chicago, Boston, Austin, Denver, Raleigh.	Looking to ship 125k with programs at Newbury Comics, Tower, E. Fetus, Borders, Wherehouse, J&R, Compact Disc World, Streetside and many more. Also in the mix is a MMN lightbox program for Nov. and a (votes willing) CIMS Dec. listening post.
Radio	EP serviced to Modern Rock, Rock and College radio. Promo vinyl shipped to radio and retail.	EP available to Modern Rock, Rock and College radio 10/14. Not being actively worked right now—though Arista isn't discouraging it of course—they're ready with the EP in stores if radio goes, but aren't pushing it otherwise.	Focus track is "Safe In The Arms Of Love." Add dates were 10/14 at Triple A and 10/15 for Mainstream Rock. No.1 most added at Triple A last week.	First single is "Complex Person" which is going for adds 10/21 at Hot AC, Rock, Alternative, Triple A. Already getting support from WAXQ (NY), WXRT (Chicago), KMTT (Seattle). College add date 11/4.
Video	The disc is enhanced with three videos.	Adema is lending "Immortal" (the EP's lead track) to Mortal Kombat: Deadly Alliance . "Immortal" getting early MTV2 support.	DVD documentary is included in all initial orders. A five-minute clip from the DVD will also be available at newearthmud.com and at launch.com.	"Complex Person" video "in discussion."
Press/TV	Not really the point. As a low price point/early visibility piece, the idea is to provide something that can be made available for fans during their tour and before their early 2003 LP release.	The trailer for the game goes to 5k movie screens (for "R" ratings). Spots running 9/27 - 11/21 and estimated to reach about 1.8 million. Ad campaign running for game in all major Game Enthusiast magazines as well as well as FHM , WWE , DC Comics (Adult), Maxim and more.	There's been a great response from press including Q , Mojo (upcoming), Rolling Stone (two pieces and an upcoming album review), Spin (feature and album review), as well as homepage coverage at VH1.com. Also watch for Chris Thanksgiving Day on Conan .	Special Lifetime performance taped in LA 10/10 and will run (likely) in late Oct. Just appeared on Caroline Rhea Show . Print support coming in from Rolling Stone , Spin , GQ , Interview , Bust , USA Today , Jane , Magnet , Blender , Guitar World , Tower Pulse and more.
Tour	Veterans of three Vans Warped Tours. Just finished dates with No Use For A Name and will be on these Punk-O-Rama dates: Freeport (10/17), Detroit (10/18), Cleveland (10/19), Pittsburgh (10/21), NYC (10/27), DC (10/28) and Philly (10/29).	Band currently not on tour, but in studio working on new material.	There's a club tour kicking off in Dallas that will run southeast and northeast. Watch for multiple nights at a small NYC venue Thanksgiving weekend. Ticket giveaways at indies planned for tour (check site below for dates).	Just finished a string of opening dates for the Rolling Stones. US headlining tour starts in January and will run through March. Artemis making tickets available for in-store giveaway contests.
Internet	Best sites are gobnet.com or arista.com. Tracks have been encoded for streaming online. Cornerstone is being used for grassroots Internet campaign and there's an e-card featuring the new track "Ming Tran" that's being used in e-blast campaigns.	Best site is ademaonline.com for all things Adema including fan club info, pics and streaming video for "Immortal."	Best site is newearthmud.com (Chris' "official" homepage). Fans can find unreleased live and acoustic performances there. E-blast to like-minded fans (Black Crowes anyone?) through Amazon. MP3 downloads available there too. IAG will suit up for online street duties.	Best sites are artemisrecords.com and pretendersband.com. At pretendersband.com, fans can preview the entire album. Programs running with Amazon.com. E-card will be available shortly.
Notes	The band has been busy out visiting retail including Hoodlums (Tempe), Easy Street (Seattle), the Record Exchange (Boise), Music Millenniums (Portland), Graywhale CD Exchange (SLC), Twist and Shout (Denver) and more. These are mostly no-pressure, band-meets-store-store-meets-band encounters. Good ones.	The song and video will be included in MK game's DVD content. Game streets 11/22 for Xbox, PlayStation 2 and Nintendo GameCube. Release date for the EP is 10/22. After a summer of Ozzfest and over 300 live shows since the band's Adema debuted in Fall 2001, both Arista and the band are giving fans something to hold on to.	This is the solo debut from the Black Crowes lead singer and comes with behind-the-scenes documentary footage of "Making New Earth Mud " as well as live acoustic performances. There's a lt. ed. print available as a value add. For more, hit up Ryan Dolan at Redline: 952.995.7617 or Ryan.Dolan@redline-entertainment.com.	For displays, in-store play copies and more info on ticket giveaways, hit up Nick Tieder at 212.433.1885 or nickjrb5@aol.com. Pretenders fans are weighing in on this one as possibly their best album since their first two made history. This one will make new fans as well. Check out the Pretenders/Artemis listening party on Halloween at CMJ (6-9 @ Hi-Fi).

Picture fourteen hippies forming a collective that provides each one of them employment by selling music on a college campus. Sounds like a radical idea? Well, maybe it was. At the time, there were plenty of co-ops cropping up around the country who were selling everything from health food to bicycles. Most were near campuses. But these 14 took it even further—for them, it wasn't about greed. Their incentives were music and politics and they wanted to make a difference in their community. They were thinking "locally" long before the trend and started by dedicating a percentage of profits back to the community (those pinko commies—refreshing, in these times of corporate misdeed). Champaign, Illinois was on the dope highway that led from Mexico and on through Austin, Texas, Norman, Oklahoma, and into Madison, Wisconsin and Ann Arbor, Michigan. So the culture was of the counter-type (not record counters) and it was serious. There was a war going on and I'm guessing fourteen of these guys were on both Nixon's enemy list and the FBI's need-to-watch file.

What started in 1969 as the Undergraduate Student Association Record Ordering Service, has matured into today's Record Service. In 1971, Record Service incorporated with fourteen owners. Phil Strang is now the last-man-standing. Record Service has been at its current location 21 years (now 4200 sq. ft.) and operates both Record Service and Figaro's (a classical outlet located upstairs). Record Service is the only record store on the University of Illinois campus and though they do have to deal with the usual Big Box suspects on but they excel with alternative, rap, jazz, rock, trance, electronica and dance. They have listening stations, front window space is available and they host in-stores (including performances, but bring your own PA).

If we had to sum Record Service up with a line, it'd be Captain Beefheart who'd say it best: "Love over god."

NEWSWORTHY

Blackalicious To Hoodlums: It's All Goodlums

Tempe, Arizona retailers Hoodlums New And Used Music hosted yet another one of their famous in-stores — or should we say in-lawns, since the Hoodlums-sponsored performance by Bay Area old-skool-revisionists Blackalicious was so massive that it had to be held on the Hayden Lawn, part of the Arizona State University campus. The substantial crowd (estimated at over 1,000) garnered front-page honors in the campus State Press.

Hoodlums owners Steve and Kristian say several ASU big-wigs mentioned that the crowd of hip-hop heads was the largest crowd they've ever seen at Hayden lawn. The lawn could not be reached for comment.

If that wasn't enough, on October 9, the boys of the Transplants — the Epitaph super-group featuring Rancid's Tim Armstrong and Blink 182's Travis Barker — stopped by for an in-store listening party.

The kids were mighty excited to meet Mr. Barker, to say the least. "One girl was on her way to the tattoo parlor to have Travis's huge signature - that he had put on her stomach - made permanent," said Hoodlum's co-owner Steve Wiley. "Another said she 'would never wash that hand again.'"

The day before, Future Farmer songwriter M. Ward was supposed to show up to promote his new album End Of Amnesia. "We got a call from him about an hour and a half after he was supposed to start... which informed us that he and the rest of the Bright Eyes tour bus had been partied into the ground down in Tucson the night before," said Wiley. "What're you gonna do with them damn rock stars?"

Do these guys just have in-stores all day?
