Boston Brings America a Second Revolution: Aerosmith and Their New Single, "Dream On."

4-45894

The way Aerosmith has conquered Boston has been absolutely astounding. It began with their single, "Dream On." For five consecutive weeks, it had number-one phones on WVBF-FM. It's now No. 2 on WMEX and has been in the Top 10 there for four weeks. In the same four weeks it's gone from hitbound to No. 3 on WRKO.

In nearby Providence it's 6 at WPRO and 3 at WICE. And it's getting play at all the FM rockers in the area.

But a record as big as "Dream On" can't be confined to one region. So besides Hartford and Albany, it's also on in Detroit (No. 25 right away), in Cincinnati, in Houston, in Columbus, in Chicago, in Tacoma and Sacramento; and it's picking up more stations and cities every day.

The album has sold more than 20,000 copies in Boston alone. And it's spreading so well, it's now climbing the national charts.

Coinciding with the spread of the single and the album, there's a gigantic national tour with Mott the Hoople, insuring that Aerosmith's powerful music will be ringing in every small town and big city in the country.

On The Horizon: 'Profound' Shifts At Top Exec Levels

By all informed accounts, the industry is on the brink of a wide-ranging shift on the highest executive levels of the business. In the months ahead, the industry is likely to see a re-shuffling of this nature that will parallel the remarkable changes at the top that occurred a few years; this time around, however, we feel that such a development will have an even more profound effect on the business.

What we see as one "profound" aspect in the context of the new wave of top executive changes is that such movement will open up top level management to a younger team of middle-line management, who, as always, wait in the wings for the call to run label operations.

There are several reasons for this. Many of the industry's leading executive lights on the scene today cannot be lured away from their present situations to new management positions because they have reached a point of creative and financial contentment and security. On the other hand, some of these executives may also be thinking in terms of early retirement or the possibility of new challenges in other areas of the business world.

This means that recruitment for top posts that need to be filled in the normal course of industry development and needs will have as its administrative pool middle-line management who have built a track record in their areas of responsibilities. Their rise in the industry as a group in a dramatic short period of time will, of course, have yet another "profound" effect on the industry we speak of. On the negative side, their "gestation" period may well reduce further the ranks of "industry spokesmen" that all levels of the business world need to set a philosophical tone. Once this vital vacuum is filled, however, the industry may reap the rewards of the kind of "different" thinking that many concede is needed to stimulate new drive and excitement in the business. Today's middle-management has matured in the industry in the midst of tremendous creative and administrative change. Their voice within the top echelons of the industry may be required to see the industry through in the years ahead, to be, unquestionably, a period of even greater industry challenges.

We would certainly hope that the respected and articulate executives who presently give so much to the industry will continue to find a sense of excitement and purpose in their current situations. However, it looks like the industry will open up soon to heavy new responsibilities for talented middle-management executives. This should prove to be a transition period unlike any of recent memory.

RUBBER BULLETS

by

10 C.C.

If you live in the Eastern United States you might be missing out on one of the fastest spreading singles in America. "Rubber Bullets" by 10 C.C. First it was a major hit in the U.K. And spread throughout Europe.

In America it caught on first in San Francisco and started spreading up and down the West Coast. Then, onward to the Midwest. It's just hit Chicago (WLS and WCFL) and it's now heading East.

As their song says, "There's a rumor goin' round, you know...that a fuse is gonna blow!" And it's gonna blow big!

Phonogram To Stick With Indie Outlets

NEW YORK — Phonogram Records will continue to maintain indie distributors despite the possible acquisition by its parent company, Polygram, of the U.D.C. branch setup.

Bob Brockway, president of Polygram, noted that "there is considerable industry speculation over the future distribution plans of the Polygram companies. MGM Records and Polydor Records are being distributed through U.D.C., Inc. But Phonogram/Mercury opted to remain under independent distributorships. Irwin Steinberg, Phonogram's president, will continue to exercise, as do all our companies, independent judgment in this matter."

Steinberg, in turn, was emphatic over Phonogram's status with indie distributors. "Regardless of what decisions are made that might bring Polygram and U.D.C. closer together," Steinberg said, "Phonogram and the Mercury labels will continue to be distributed by independents. It's working for us and we see no reason to make any changes."

While negotiations between Polygram and United Artists are reportedly continuing over the future status of U.D.C., it's understood that final disposition of the matter is still open.

ABC Leisure Group Is Formed; Under Direction Of Pompadur

Units Include Music Interests

NEW YORK — Leonard H. Golden-son, chairman, and Elton H. Rule, president of American Broadcasting Companies, Inc., have announced the establishment of ABC Leisure Group, a new division responsible for supervision and development of several major leisure time interests of the company.

They also announced that I. Martin Pompadur has been promoted to serve as president of ABC Leisure Group. Pompadur continues as a corporate vice president of ABC, Inc.

In his new position, Pompadur will continue to report to Rule and will have direct responsibility for the following activities: Record production and music publishing, including ABC Records, Inc., and its subsidiaries; record merchandising—ABC Record and Tape Sales Corp.; publishing—ABC Publishing, which now has three

Peer-Southern Professional Dept. To Coast; L. Lewis Chief

HOLLYWOOD — A major reorganization and move of the Peer-Southern Organization professional division to the west coast has been announced by Mrs. Monique I. Peer, president of the Peer-Southern Organization, the largest independently owned group of music publishing companies in the world.

Newly appointed as general professional manager for the United States is Leonard B. (Lenny) Lewis. Lewis will headquarter in the PSO west coast office in Hollywood. This marks a major change for the company as the professional department has headquartered in their New York office since the inception of the firm. Prior to joining Peer-Southern, Lewis was western professional manager for E. B. Marks. He began his career as an orchestra leader and clarinetist with his own 18-piece swing band and then served as personal representative for Artie Shaw, Count Basie and Morgana King before becoming entertainment director of the Flamingo Hotel in Las Vegas.

In appointing Lewis, Mrs. Peer stated: "This is a most important move for our company. Mr. Lewis comes to us with a fine reputation and is widely known throughout the music world, especially among composers, artists and recording executives who are now almost exclusively Hollywood based. For this and other reasons, we feel it more practical that the head of this division be here publications—Prairie Farmer, Wallaces Farmer and Wisconsin Agriculturist; motion picture theatres; ABC Entertainment Center, an entertainment, commercial and office complex in Century City, Los Angeles.

Golden-son and Rule said the formation of ABC Leisure Group will consolidate the management responsibility for several existing non-broadcasting activities of the company and will create a division responsible for the development of expansion of the company's activities in the leisure time field.

Commenting on Pompadur's new responsibilities, they said:

"Marty Pompadur has played a key role in management decisions that have resulted in significant growth for the ABC Television Network, the ABC Broadcast Division and the Corporation as a whole over the past five and a half years. His extraordinary administrative and creative abilities are ideally suited to this new assignment and his appointment as President of ABC Leisure Group underscores our interest in and commitment to these and other leisure time activities."

Pompadur has been a corporate vice president of ABC, Inc., since February, 1972. Before that, he had served as Vice President of the Broadcast division since March, 1970, and earlier, as vice president and general manager of the Television Network for the preceding two years. He joined the ABC Television Network in 1960 and, with the exception of a brief period during 1961, has been associated with ABC since that time.

CBS Sets Deal To Acquire Organ Company

NEW YORK — Columbia Broadcasting System, Inc. has entered into a contract with Gulbransen Industries, Inc. whereby CBS will acquire for cash the business and assets of the organ manufacturer, according to John Phillips, president of CBS/Columbia Group. The transaction was scheduled to be completed last Friday (28).

Gulbransen Industries is the successor to the Gulbransen Company which was founded in 1904. Originally a piano manufacturer, Gulbransen began making organs in 1955 and terminated the manufacture and distribution of pianos in 1971. Gulbransen Industries, privately owned, has its headquarters in Chicago and manufacturing facilities in Hoopston, Illinois.

Gulbransen will continue to operate under its present management as a unit of the CBS Musical Instruments Division. Formed in 1966, the division offers a broad line of instruments. They include Steinway & Sons, manufacturers of pianos; Fender, manufacturer of guitars and guitar amplifiers; Electro Music, manufacturer of Leslie speakers; V. C. Squier, manufacturer of strings for guitars and other instruments; and Rogers Drums.

Commenting on the announcement, Mr. Phillips said: "The musical instruments industry, which has grown 36% during the last three years, has been a highly satisfactory area of diversification for CBS. The choice of Gulbransen affords us the opportunity to participate in one of the industry's fastest-growing segments with an innovative product of outstanding quality. We are confident that Gulbransen will enjoy the high rate of growth experienced by the other units of the CBS Musical Instruments Division."

NCRD Survey: Retail Outlets Down 53% In Yr

NEW YORK — The total number of U.S. retail outlets dropped by more than 19,000 during the past year, 53% more than the 12,400-store loss recorded in 1972.

This reduces the number of stores by 1,657,000, according to the National Census of Retail Distribution conducted annually by Audits & Surveys Inc., a leading marketing research firm.

The 1973 figures represent a 1.1% decline from the 1,676,770 recorded in 1972. Annual attrition between 1968 and 1972 ranged from 9,100 units to 14,200. The loss in 1973 was more than 55% greater than the five-year average of 12,200.

Fewer outlets, along with increasing population, resulted in a record high store-to-people ratio of one store for every 125 persons, Audits & Surveys reported. Last year the ratio was 1 to 122; two years ago it was 1 to 120; three years ago it was 1 to 118. The ratio was 1 to 112 in 1967.

Solomon Dutka, president of Audits & Surveys, noted that the trend to higher store-to-people ratios reflects the growing attraction of consumers to the convenience of one-stop shopping.

"Additionally, the shrinkage in the number of retail outlets was abetted by the continuing rise in the costs of doing business, and the squeeze on profit margins which was heightened during the past year as a result of national economic policies," he said.

A broad range of findings emerges from the 1973 retail census. Based on a nationwide area probability sample of more than 40,000 retail and selected service establishments, the annual study is the largest business census in the nation that is conducted in person.

With the exception of the furniture-home furnishings classification which, as a group, remained relatively unchanged, the study recorded a downturn for every major category.

The growth of discount department stores, up 6% or 300 units to approximately 5,300, outpaced the growth of traditional department stores, which rose 1.9% or approximately 100 units to 4,800 outlets. In 1972, they posted gains of 8.3% and 3.3%, respectively.

Dutka pointed out that the increase in discount operations reflects the impact they have had in the general merchandise area.

These gains, however, were offset and dry goods outlets. Variety by losses in the number of variety stores, which have recorded shrinkages for six straight years, dropped 2.3% during the past year to some 20,700. In 1972, they fell 1.7% from the previous year. Dry goods outlets posted a 0.4% drop to approximately 39,900 units.

Overall, the general merchandise category fell to about 70,700 outlets, down 0.4% or nearly 300 units from the previous year. In the 1972 census, these outlets posted a gain of some 1,000 stores over the year before.

Gainers during the past year included radio-TV stores which had a gain of 1.7% or 200 units to approximately 12,200, their highest level since 1967 when they accounted for 12,500 outlets.

Spokesmen for Poco have announced that no replacement will be named.

Columbia Names Oct. Gould Month-Releases 5 Disks

NEW YORK — Columbia Masterworks has named Oct. Glenn Gould month, and is releasing five new disks by the Canadian pianist. Highlighting the Gould releases is a first, Gould's own transcriptions for piano of three orchestral pieces by Wagner: Meistersinger Prelude, Dawn and Siegfried's Rhine Journey and Siegfried Idyll. Another release is Gould's first recordings of Paul Hindemith, performing three Piano Sonatas of the 20th century German composer.

Rounding out Gould's Oct. releases will be a series of the works of Bach, Beethoven and Mozart. Gould, who made his record debut with Bach's Goldberg Variations, 20 yrs. ago, continues his series of the complete keyboard music of Bach with the French Suites, No. 1-4.

The Beethoven release will feature the Opus 31 Piano Sonatas (complete), including Op. 31, No. 2, the "Tempest." And with his recording of Mozart Sonatas No. 11, 15, Sonata in F with Rondo and the D Minor Fantasy, he moves to four-fifths completion of the piano sonatas of Mozart.

Columbia Records merchandising will supplement Glenn Gould Month by providing a 55-minute radio special to classical stations which will feature a conversation with the artist and Ken Haslam discussing Gould's attitudes about the Wagner transcriptions.

It was five years ago that Columbia Masterworks had its last Glenn Gould month, and at that time released Mr. Gould's first performance of a transcription, Beethoven's Fifth Symphony transcribed by Liszt.

Freedom Train Bicentennial To Hit 50 States

NEW YORK — The American Freedom Train Foundation is planning an exposition which will bring the bicentennial celebration to Americans all across the country. A non-profit, non-political organization, the American Freedom Train will depart in April, 1975 powered by a restored, post-war vintage steam engine, which will visit every Continental state during its journey.

The official song of the American Freedom Train is Stephen H. Lemberg's "Here Comes the Freedom Train."

Admission will be free to the 15 display cars, each carrying a panorama of Americana—artifacts, recordings, literature, slides—our country's history brought to life. A distinguished Editoria Board will help choose the themes which will best represent America's cultural and technological growth. Among those having already accepted positions on the board are: Dr. Barry Ulanov, English Department Chairman at Barnard College; Dr. Robert Jastrow, Director of the Goddard Institute for Space Studies, NASA; Dr. Eli Ginzberg, Professor of Economics at Columbia and four-time chairman of the National Manpower Advisory Council; Dr. Lon Tinkle, Southern Methodist University.

A minimum of 30 million people will walk through the display section of the train and millions more will view it through low profile windows as it slows down to 3 miles per hour while passing towns along its route.

Ross E. Rowland Jr., founder and President of The American Freedom Train Foundation is one of the four men in history who have been named life-time members of The Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers. This honor has been bestowed in the past on Harry Truman, J. Edgar Hoover and Johnny Cash. Rowland's love of steam engines and trains finds him constantly involved in special trips, including the "Proud Trip to Promontory" which he organized to Utah to commemorate the driving of the Golden Spike. He takes a three year leave of absence from his Wall Street commodities firm, Floor Brokers Associates, to head up the American Freedom Train.

Fund raising is now going "full steam ahead" and the project will rely on contributions from private citizens and corporations. Tax-deductible contributions should be sent to The American Freedom Train Foundation, Box 1976, Radio City Station, New York, N.Y. 10019.

The task of organizing the annual series was assigned to the NAACP's Mid-Manhattan Branch, whose work and membership encompasses the Lincoln Center area. The Mid-Manhattan Branch supports and operates Project Rebound, a tax-deductible rehabilitation program for ex-offenders.

Tickets are being sold in subscriptions of two for the series—one for each concert. Of the 2,800 seats at Philharmonic Hall, roughly 500 have been reserved for sale at benefit prices—$100, $75, $50 per subscription. The remainder are being sold at box office prices—from $8 to $20 per subscription of two. Each subscription entitles one person to admission for both concerts.

Except for the actual box-office ticket price, the cost of the benefit tickets are fully tax-deductible.

Tickets may be purchased from the headquarters of the NAACP Sixty-fifth Anniversary Concert Series, 150 East 58th Street, New York, N.Y., 18th floor (phone 212-421-2120). The Philharmonic Hall box office will also sell tickets at non-benefit prices.

James, Puente Bands, At UJA Fete For Levy

NEW YORK — The guests at the Eighth Annual UJA Music Division Dinner Dance will be entertained for dancing throughout the evening by both the 17-piece Harry James Big Band and the 15 man aggregation of Tito Puente and his Latin rhythms.

Rather than individual soloists or groups performing and necessitating total audience attention, the presence of two top bands will afford the people of the industry an opportunity to meet, mingle and exchange social and shop talk for the duration of the black tie affair which this year honors Roulette Records president Morris Levy as "man of the year." This year's dinner, being held Oct. 27, at the New York Hilton Hotel, will be attended by many record company founders and industry pioneers.

MCA Holds Regional Meets

UNIVERSAL CITY—MCA Records executives have been traveling non-stop the past two weeks hosting their second series of annual regional meetings. The sessions began Sept. 16 in Toronto, according to Vince Cosgrave, vice president, sales, who chaired. The meetings were also held in Cherry Hill, N.J., Cleveland, Chicago, Atlanta, and Los Angeles.

Executives in attendance were Rick Frio, vice president, promotion; Chic Doherty, vice president, sales for country product and John Brown, national country promotion manager. MCA's entire sales and promotion force, operation managers, and credit managers were directly involved in the sessions.

Presentations were made of MCA's October and November product releases. The recent country crossovers MCA has had with Conway Twitty, Jeanne Pruett, Cal Smith, and Bill Anderson were discussed, and an exploration of the concept of soundtrack albums (MCA recently released soundtrack LP's from "Jesus Christ Superstar," "American Graffiti" and "Dillinger") was conducted.

The theme for the meetings, as well as for MCA's Fall schedule is, "MCA Has Really Got Their Hits Together." This theme will be reinforced by an extensive merchandising program, including stickers, tee-shirts, radio spots and tags, and trade and consumer advertising. Commented Cosgrave, "We felt that after two years spent getting it together, it was time for a positive statement to the industry and to our people. A glance at the current trade charts proves that MCA has really got their hits together."

Picks of the Week

CURTIS MAYFIELD (Curtom 1991)

If I Were Only A Child Again (2:52) (Curtom, BMI—C. Mayfield)
"Super Fly" himself is back with another hot chart item that's going to immediately re-establish his Top Ten standing. As usual, Curtis' vocals are dynamite, but this time there's a strong horn section to make the track even stronger. From his top flight "Back To The World" LP. Flip: no info. available.

RINGO STARR (Apple 1865)

Photograph (3:59) (Richoroony, Ltd., BMI—R. Starkey, G. Harrison)
Already one of the hottest records in the country, this new Ringo outing is definitely headed for the Top Five. A moderate paced rocker with a strong blues feel and good vocal performance adds up to another solo Beatle success. Flip: Down And Out (3:01) (Richoroony, Ltd., BMI—R. Starkey)

BOBBY WOMACK (United Artists XW 255-W)

I'm Through Trying To Prove My Love To You (4:00) (Unart/Tracebob, BMI—B. Womack)

R&B superstar Bobby Womack comes through again with this tender, soulful ballad guaranteed to be yet another smash. Pop audiences should also be picking up on this one, finally making Bobby the complete star he has always been. Flip: no info. available.

LOBO (Big Tree 16,012)

There Ain't No Way (3:14) (Kaiser/Famous, ASCAP—Lobo)
A rather unusual outing for Lobo, this up tempo country rocker, but his great lyrics are still in evidence and that means chart action in short order. Fans should once again rally round this top pop artist. Flip: no info. available.

LED ZEPPELIN (Atlantic 2986)

D'yer Mak'er (3:15) (Superhype, ASCAP—Bonham, Jones, Page, Plant)
From the world of fifties rock and roll a la Elton John's "Crocodile Rock" comes this latest Led Zep outing that should be a Top Ten item in a matter of weeks. Unique for the group, but a real charmer. Flip: no info. available.

THE STYLISTICS (Avco 4625)

Rockin' Roll Baby (3:15) (Mighty Three, BMI—T. Bell, L. Creed)
A new bag for the Stylistics and a rockin' one it is. Top lead vocal and harmony performances stand out as does Thom Bell's production. Chalf up another hit! Flip: no info. available.

THE SIR DOUGLAS BAND (Atlantic 2985)

Texas Tornado (2:57) (Unichappell, BMI—D. Sahn)
That's what he is and that's what this one's gonna act like as it rambles up the charts. Reminiscent of his early Sir Douglas Quintet days, this driving rocker should make folks sit up and finally take notice that Doug Sahn is a superstar. Flip: no info. available.

SONNY BONO (MCA 40139)

Rub Your Nose (3:15) (Levine & Brown, BMI—I. Levine, L. R. Brown)
Already picking up some air action, the not-as-pretty half of the Sonny & Cher team comes through with his first major chart item in some time as a solo. Reminiscent of the type of material that Cher's been hitting with, this one looks headed for the Top Twenty. Flip: Laugh At Me (2:40) (Cotillion/Chris—Marc, BMI—S. Bono).

BARBRA STREISAND (Columbia 4-45944)

The Way We Were (3:29) (Colgems, ASCAP—M. Hamlisch, A. Bergman, M. Bergman)
The title track of Barbra's latest flick in which she co-stars with Robert Redford is a simply mesmerizing ballad which she performs with her usual emotional charm. It's been a long time since Barbra's been on the charts, but this should change things. It's also not stepping out too far to hint "Oscar." Flip: no info. available.

HANK WILSON (Shelter 7336)

Roll In My Sweet Baby's Arms (2:55) (Peer Int'l, BMI—L. Flatt)
Leon (excuse me, Hank) shifts into high gear with this toe tapping country ditty that should please pop as well as country markets. Originally the "B" side of his "I'm So Lonesome" single, heavy response warranted the flip. On the way! Flip: no info. available.

CHUCK BERRY (Chess 2140)

Bio (3:40) (Isalee, BMI—C. Berry)
Chuck's still rocking and rolling and this one's another winner for the man whose career has spanned three decades. This time the accent's on blues and Chuck is in top form from start to finish. Flip: Roll 'Em Pete (3:04) (MCA, ASCAP—J. Turner).

DON NIX (Enterprise 9083)

She's A Friend Of Mine (3:39) (Deerwood, BMI—D. Nix)
Culled from his great "Hobo's Heroes And Street Corner Clowns" album, this fine track should be the one to finally break Don wide open. Pretty lyrics and moderate pacing along with excellent backing music and harmonies make this one a "Can't miss." The "B" side is a rousing rocker that should also attract loads of air play. Flip: When I Lay My Burden Down (3:17) (Deerwood, BMI—Traditional, arr. D. Nix).

BRIAN AUGER'S OBLIVION EXPRESS (RCA APBO 0085)

Happiness Is Just Around The Bend (3:33) (Blackwood, BMI—B. Auger)
From the group's latest LP, "Closer To It!" comes this jazz rocker that's certain to bring Brian Auger back to the charts. Progressive FM'ers should be picking up on this one just as easily as many Top 40 rockers. The future's looking good. Flip: Inner City Blues (3:24) (Jobete, BMI—M. Gaye).

Newcomer Picks

BARRY BLUE (Bell 391)

Dancin' (On A Saturday Night) (3:09) (ATV, BMI—B. Blue, L. dePaul)
All we can say is "wow!" This Barry Blue-Lynsey dePaul hard rocking track, complete with a Greek flavor should literally have 'em dancing in the aisles. A better debut would be hard to come up with. The feeling here is Top Ten in no time. Flip: no info. available.

HUDSON-FORD (A&M 1471)

Pick Up The Pieces (2:35) (Arnakata/Irving, BMI—R. Hudson, J. Ford)
Richard Hudson and John Ford, formerly of Strawbs have gone out on their own and this debut should be enough to establish their solo career. Progressives will be programming this one along with the Top 40's and the response should be huge. Flip: no info. available.

IAN THOMAS (Janus 224)

Painted Ladies (3:30) (Corinth, BMI—I. Thomas)
Culled from his smooth debut album, this America-like track should be the one to establish Ian in pop circles. Especially tasty are the vocal harmonies which will be attractive to C, S, N & Y and America fans. A very impressive debut, indeed. Flip: Will You Still Love Me (3:59) (Corinth, BMI—I. Thomas).

RODNEY ALLEN RIPPY (Bell 403)

Take Life A Little Easier (2:54) (Senor/G&W, ASCAP—S. Woloshin, J. Annarino)
Five years old and on his way to becoming a superstar! That's Little Rodney who's been doing TV spots and now records. This debut is cute and very impressive and should generate loads of station and chart action. Flip: no info. available.

SONOMA (Dunhill 4365)

Love For You (3:26) (American Broadcasting/Hello There, ASCAP—C. Merriam)
From this new group's debut LP comes this softly rocking pop excursion that should have the Top 40's attention completely. Strong lead vocal and harmonies from the Mamas & Papas file should turn a good many folks on to this bright new organization. Flip: no info. available.

Neil Young Graham Nash

ROXY, L.A.—This Sunset Boulevard site, which once featured strippers, was renovated and decked out in its art deco trappings just in time for its gala opening (Sept. 20), drawing from Neil Young, the headliner, a hearty "Welcome to Miami Beach!" From the rocking neon "R" out front to the carefully detailed embellishments inside, the Roxy is clearly the poshest pop club in L.A. The five owners—Lou Adler, David Geffen, Elliot Roberts, Chuck Landis and, at the last minute, Bill Graham—were all conspicuously hosting on opening night, with both shows jam-packed. Surprises included an intro by Graham, a guest shot by Cheech & Chong, a substitute for the originally billed Grin, and an intermission feature—a right-in-the-middle-of-it-all performance by the Soul Train dancers.

The replacement act was Graham Nash, who happened to be in town recording—and it was that album-in-progress from which he picked most of his material. Strong were the cynical love song "You'll Never Be the Same," "The Prison Song" and "Sleep Song." Altogether, a short but immensely satisfying set, warmly received.

When Young, Nash's former partner, came on, he was wearing sun

Morgana King

ALICE TULLY HALL, NYC — Paramount recording artist Morgana King had appeared at Kenny's Castaways in May in a workshop setting, but New York had waited a long time for her to give another major concert. Always the perfectionist, Morgana set the staid musical establishment on its ear with an amazing demonstration of her singing prowess as she delivered 21 songs, ten of which are brand new, to an audience representing a true cross-section of musical tastes.

Backed by a combo including Gene Bertone on lead guitar, Bob Dougherty on bass, Bill Goodwin on drums, and a strong quartet, Morgana immediately captured the fancy of everyone by opening with George Harrison's "Something." Using just the combo to back her, she displayed her rampant sensitivity with moving versions of the Lennon-McCartney tune "Eleanor Rigby" and Donovan's "Sunshine Superman." Remarkably adept at working within any musical framework, Morgana was overwhelming with the entire orchestra backing her on "Like A Seed."

She returned from the intermission break with the Paul Williams' song "We Could Be Flying," which established the tone for the second half of the concert. Her version of Leon Russell's beautiful ballad, "A Song For You," was one of the evening's many touching and tender highlights. But Morgana can interpret any lyric and any style as she proved with virtuosic scat-singing on the campy "Them There Eyes."

Singing a number of Beatle songs including "Gotta Get You Into My Life" and the Stevie Wonder gem, "You Are The Sunshine of My Life," Morgana was fine enough to get a well deserved standing ovation. She responded for an encore with a song from her brilliant, new LP, "New Beginnings," called "All In All." Justifying the faith and good wishes from her producer/mgr. Vince Mauro, Stevie Wonder, and Donny Hathaway as well as the stunning response from an enraptured audience, Morgana King has come back in a big way and once again looms bright in the sky like the star she is.

glasses. Not, he said, because he was the star of the show but because his eyes were over-strained from staring into so many lights at so many concerts. He asked for, and got, a single suspended light bulb—a prop that seemed appropriate to the country-influenced tunes that dominated his act. They, too, were almost all drawn from an upcoming LP. Highlighted by titles like "I'm Coming Home Tonight" and "World on a String," Young progressed in a good straightforward here's-a-song-and-here's-another-one manner. All very enjoyable, and particularly so as the Roxy's opener. Business for the two shows that night was strictly SRO, and has been ever since.

Roger Miller

KINGS CASTLE, LAKE TAHOE — He's identified nowadays as the most honored songwriter of our time, and dang me if Roger Miller isn't just that, 11 Grammy Awards over two years a prime indicator, but Miller on stage shows why the honors extend elsewhere.

He is the consummate performer, exponent of a type entertainment that has been imitated, borrowed from and used as a model by others, but never quite duplicated or equaled since he first put the parts together. They fit, as usual, like a mink-lined glove of joy through this headline engagement, during which he's incorporating a slew of new songs.

Written after a two-year hiatus, there's the current chart-clinging "Open Up Your Heart;" "I Believe in the Sunshine," designated as the next single and a rousing salute to life; "Shannon's Song," composed for his young daughter; and "Whistle Stop," a wordless travelog that Miller turns into a singalong, all part of his soon-due, debut album for Columbia Records.

And all elicited the same kind of warm response from his audience as the Miller traditionals, the classics that keep accounting for the SRO houses here and elsewhere. "Dang Me," for sure, and "King of the Road" and "England Swings" and "Chug-A-Lug" and "In the Summer-time" and "Buffalo Herd" and "Husbands and Wives."

And, oh, yeah, (why not?), even the one he didn't write but made his own anyway, "Little Green Apples," and it's all held together by a certain grace and good humor that welds the performer to the people who've come to pay homage the best way they know how, by enjoying.

Enjoy they do, irrespective of taste, real or presumed, for Miller has the ability to please no matter whom. Too, in the Will Rogers tradition, he is blessed with a grassroots, back-home brand of humor that's as magical as his music. Whether planned or spontaneous, his observations bridge songs with infectious laughter.

That he pauses to show his way around a banjo or ride the "Orange Blossom Special" on fiddle is so much bonus to the entertainment phenomenon that is Roger Miller.

Opening the bill were Jack Burns and Avery Schreiber, whose cerebral comedy is a record feature now and again, but right now is mostly in evidence on their own summer TV show. Based on a series of their vintage, finely-honed routines, the act starts with laughs and only gets better. They should get bigger.

JSD Band

BITTER END, NYC—The JSD Band, from Scotland, debuted in New York with a marvelous show. The music of the five man group is traditional English and sounds almost as good as Fairport Convention and Steeleye Span. Jim Divers(J), Sean O'Rourke(S), Des Coffield(D), Chuck Fleming, and Colin Finn play at least 14 different instruments between them and they showed us how on opening night. The group's music is easy to enjoy and get into; I don't think that anyone in the audience wasn't tapping their feet along with the music. Two songs from their Warner Bros album "Travelling Days" that were especially fine, "Cuckoo" and "Sarah Jane," were only a sampling of their talents. On the comical side, every time someone in the group spoke to the audience, everyone started to laugh because the group have such strong accents that none could honestly understand what they were talking about. J.S, and D handle all vocals on the tunes very well. You really wouldn't know they are from Scotland. One of the JSD Band's selections combined four tunes into a long instrumental that was excellent. I'm sure if there had been room people would have danced as the music was very lively and catchy. It was a very impressive show from the JSD Band.

Ann Peebles

DISNEYLAND, ANAHEIM — America's favorite amusement park undulated to the strong rhythm of Memphis as Ann Peebles sang a pair of succinct sets for the dancers in Tomorrowland. Though hampered by myriad distractions and a house band with whom she had never before performed, the quality and excitement of Ms. Peebles' music made itself nonetheless apparent.

Sexy in her black sequined suit, she took control of the stage and had something to teach even the Disney people about animation. Ann went through such songs as "Part Time Love," "Walk Away" and "Breaking Up Somebody's Home" with gospel-trained gusto, stretching notes out like taffy and impressing everyone present with her powerful vocal range. Highlighting the set was a smooth rendition of "I Can't Stand the Rain," the hit single from London Records.

Whittemore & Lowe

THE RAINBOW ROOM, N.Y. — Elegance and beautiful music returned to the Rainbow Room in Rockefeller Center last week when the marvelously integrated pianos of Whittemore & Lowe re-opened the room's new policy of soft, pretty music, formal attire required on weekends, and excellent cuisine for only $12.75 per person.

Messers. Whittemore & Lowe, with their 9 foot concert grands back-to-back on the center rotating stage were most elegant with a few Richard Rodgers pieces, Cole Porter's "Begin the Beguine" a Kern piece, a Bach piece and the country favorite, "Honey."

With their white ties and tails, good old good music, and that beautiful Rainbow Room, it was almost as though one was back in the 1930's.

They concluded with a wonderful encore playing Ravel's "Bolero," numbing the strings to create the drum effect of the intro and building to a dramatic conclusion.

The easel on each table also offered the audience a request list and the pianists interpreted a few of 28 multiple choices.

The room and the atmosphere is highly recommended for an evening with your mate or date.

Eric Weissberg and Deliverance Alex Harvey

TROUBADOR, L.A.—Somewhere in the on-going country and bluegrass revival there had to be room for Eric Weissberg. Perhaps the greatest of the city-slicker banjo virtuosos, Weissberg has been seen on folksy stages for more than a decade, spending six years with the banana boat balladeers, the Tarriers.

With the movie "Deliverance" came new-found popularity. To everyone's surprise, including Eric Weissberg's, "Duelling Banjos" became a hit record, and the formation of the group Deliverance followed soon thereafter. From their opening instrumental, "Scalded Cat," a Weissberg original, and through such songs as the Flatt and Scruggs tune "Till the End Of the World Rolls Around," both from their recent Warner Brothers LP, the obvious enjoyment of the musicians on stage was infectious. It spread through the audience with all the exuberance of a hog-tying contest at a rural county fair, transforming the crowd into one great tapping foot. Eric Weissberg may be from New York City, but as far as the hillbillies in the Troubador are concerned, he is pure country.

Alex Harvey is best known as the writer of several country and pop hits, most recently "Delta Dawn." He brought to the stage a wealth of new material, a beery Nashville baritone and a pastoral nonchalance that turned to intensity with the first chords sounded by his guitar.

It was a static set, with Harvey and his two accompanists seated on stools throughout the performance. The music, much of it from his new Capitol Records album "True Love," was left to its own devices, with little salesmanship coming from the stage. If the intent expressions on the faces of the audience is any indication, or the applause that followed each song, one could safely say that, even without salesmanship, the audience was sold on Alex Harvey.

Bang

WHISKY L.A.—Two guitars, a bass and a set of drums. As familiar as a bottle of coca-cola, its the standard rock formula and hardly the makings of anything novel. And yet, as Bang opened on the Whisky stage, those elements came together as if they were a recent invention.

The band is organized around the expert, flashy lead guitar playing of Frank Gilcken and the fine rock vocals of Frank Ferrara. With Carl Backman on rhythm guitar and Denny D'Agostino's energetic drumming, Bang is well equipped and tight enough to handle their particular brand of hard-rock music with ear-catching precision and, yes, novelty.

Their opening song, "Don't Need Nobody," established the lightning-quick pace that was to continue for the duration of the set. Gilcken, one of the most animated musicians on the rock scene, seemed capable of producing any imaginable sound, creating the smoky air with Claptonesque guitar licks, changing to a country styled lead on "Brightness," a cut from their third and latest Capitol Records LP, "Bang Music."

It was not an easy gig; the off-night crowd was small and not always friendly. Playing as well as they did against adverse circumstances, Bang clearly demonstrated that they are among the most resilient acts around. They quite possibly could become as familiar to the rock audience as that bottle of coca-cola.

THE BEST OF PROCOL HARUM—Procol Harum—A&M SP-4401

Like a gem sparkling against a black velvet background, this A&M collection of some of Procol's finest moments is a treat guaranteed to brighten any day. Featuring the hit singles, "Whiter Shade of Pale," "Homburg" (First time on any LP), and "Conquistador," this LP also contains a couple of the British band's lesser known works which are singularly powerful and energetically imaginative. "Long Gone Geek," "Whisky Train," and "Shade" will easily find a niche in the group's colorful history and the LP a spot in everyone's heart. So return with us now to those days of Reid, Brooker, Fisher, Knights, Trower, and Wilson and delight yourself.

SLADEST—Slade—Reprise MS 2173

Britain's wild quartet has scored again with their debut LP on Reprise highlighted by their hits "Gud buy T' Jane" and "Cum On Feel The Noize" and "Mama Weer All Crazee Now." Always a band with gut-level appeal, Slade has apparently decided to go with their strength. "Take Me Bak'Ome" is an outstanding example of controlled violence that provokes pleasurable sensations. "Coz I Luv You" is a shining change of pace that comes on very strong near the end with the power of marching music. Slade has always been synonymous with high-energy music and this album maintains that tradition splendidly. We like "Skweeze Me Pleeze Me" and "My Town."

THE HOLLIES' GREATEST HITS—The Hollies—Epic KE 32061

It's always a delight to hear perfectionists at work, and this collection of twelve hits from the Hollies is nothing short of spectacular. Each tune resembles a musical time capsule by which we measure the good times in life. "Bus Stop" is an appropriate lead tune because it shines with the essence of the band's approach to music and is as well known as any song they've done. Reminders of the group's unique stature are evident everywhere—from "Long Cool Woman In A Black Dress" to "He Ain't Heavy, He's My Brother," and "King Midas In Reverse." For the uninitiated, this LP is a must and for the aficionado a blessing.

DAWN'S NEW RAGTIME FOLLIES—Dawn Featuring Tony Orlando—Bell 1130

It's a bright new day for Dawn with the release of this stunning package that's bound to capture the hearts of millions with its good old ragtime flavor. Led by the giant hit single "Say, Has Anybody Seen My Sweet Gypsy Rose?," the LP is more than a well-executed period piece. It is an ever-lovin' chunk of Americana in its finest hour. "Who's In The Strawberry Patch With Sally" looks like it has great potential, and "If It Wasn't For You Dear," "Sweet Summer Days of My Life," and "You Say The Sweetest Things" are bright and happy. One of the finest good-time albums ever.

ADVENTURES OF PANAMA RED—The New Riders of the Purple Sage—Columbia KC 32450

The San Francisco band is riding high and handsome with their latest LP. Highlighted by the humorous country-rocker title track, the collection is further enhanced by the presence of Buffy Saint-Marie (on "You Should Have Seen Me Runnin'" and "Cement, Clay and Glass"), the Memphis Horns, and producer Norbert Putnam, who does a fine job with the group's sound. Waylon Jennings is one of the authors of "L.A. Lady," a spirited country tune on which the New Riders do their distinctive thing. Dave Torbert's "Thank The Day" is one of the odd delights that give this LP its character. "Kick In The Head," "Important Exportin Man," and "One Too Many Stories" are also excellent.

REACHING OUT—Freda Payne—CBS/Invictus KZ 32493

The ten cuts on Freda's new album are as delicious as she is and prove why everything she does is always received with great excitement. From the Holland-Dozier-Holland "Mother Misery's Favorite Child" to the Nicholas-Williams standard "Rainy Days and Mondays," Freda wails and soothes, always capturing the mood perfectly. "We've Gotta Find A Way Back To Love" is typical of her special vocal talent, and shows off the fine production and arrangement jobs done by Ronald Dunbar, McKinley Jackson, Mike Smith, Tony Camillo, and Don Baldwin. Freda has always possessed a special magic that's as inescapable as love in the Spring. Check out the title track, "Mood For Love," and "For No Reason."

HEARTBEAT, IT'S A LOVEBEAT—The De Franco Family Featuring Tony De Franco—20th Century

The family most likely to capture the hearts of kids of all ages sparkles on its first album by mixing a little love with some good, happy music. Led by the hit single title track, the album serves as a wonderful vehicle for the catchy lead vocals of young Tony De Franco and the harmonies of his brothers and sisters. If you hear a little Donny Osmond on the playful "Sweet, Sweet, Loretta" or a bit of Michael Jackson on "Love Is Bigger Than Baseball," don't be misled. Tony has the timeless qualities of both those vocalists and then some. A warm selection ranging from "Abra-Ca-Dabra" to "Gorilla," this LP is on its way to the top.

LOVE HAS GOT ME—Wendy Waldman—Warner Bros. BS 2735

If Wendy's debut LP reminds you a lot of the genius of Joni Mitchell you're not alone. The music and lyrics of this LP jump out at you with a force and vigor that is particularly refreshing when you realize that in addition to writing, singing, and playing, Wendy also arranged the material. Quite a feat for one so young. "Train Song," "Thinking of You," and the title track are moments of brilliance that promise an incredibly bright future for this lady who is a personal favorite of several other artists. "Vaudeville Man" is sheer magic.

CRAIG DOERGE—Craig Doerge—Columbia KC 32179

An interesting debut album combining Craig's music and voice with the captivating lyrics of veteran Judy Henske. "Yellow Beach Umbrella" is sweet and melodic with an old-time flavor while "Reno," "Red Hot Music," and "Magic Sam" are funky, heavy rockers which are super charged with piercing electric lead guitar and volcanic sound effects. "Raggedy Ann" and "The Trouble With a Woman" are beautiful ballads which leave no doubts about Craig's interpretive abilities. A solid effort.

SANDALWOOD—Sandalwood—Bell 1134

A peaceful and mellow debut LP for Brian Tabach and Byron Walls to follow up their hit single "Lovin' Naturally." The duo's harmonies are classy and yet personal, particularly on "Having Each Other Around," a beautiful melody with lyrics to match. Look for the tunes "Mary Lee," "Certain People at Certain Times," and "The World is A Tuxedo" to appeal to the sensitive taste, with the latter a catchy jazzy shuffle with a great tag line: "The world's a tuxedo, and I'm just a pair of brown shoes." An enjoyable collection worthy of close attention.

BEST BETS

953 WEST—The Siegel-Schwail Band—RCA/Wooden Nickel BWL1-0121

Long recognized as one of the funkier blues bands in the U.S., this album certainly justifies the group's well-deserved reputation. The single "Old Time Shimmy" is a honky cariaature featuring some mean guitar work by Jim Schwall and the Jimmy Reed-esque "Think It Was The Wine" is a classic study of blues-humor. Always dynamite live, the band has recreated that controlled pandemonium in the obviously erotic satire "Blow Out The Candle," "Traitor From Decatur" and "Off To Denver" are of a different and softer metal, but are as effective as the hard stuff. A fine, solid record.

PACIFIC GAS & ELECTRIC STARRING CHARLIE ALLEN—Pacific Gas & Electric ABC Dunhill DS 50157

Another job well done by PG&E, this album has some of the most explosive material the group's ever done. "Dancin' In The Fire" jumps out of the grooves and surrounds you with its incandescent heat and looks to be a strong favorite from this collection which has several other strong cuts, such as "Gumbo Jones," "Hold On," "Some Kind of Feelin'," and "Sunshine Embrace." Seems this band is always a step or two ahead of the pack in exploring new territory and this LP proves how and why. If your into spirituals, you'll love "Good Gospel Music." Charlie Allen's vocals are the soul and substance of this disk.

NEW YORK—GRACE SLICK: UNITING THE MOVIE THEME FREAKS

As she stood backstage at the Elton John concert, Grace Slick said she felt really nervous. "After all," she commented, "I hadn't been on stage for over a year and I had trouble realizing I was a guest. I was working myself up to go out and perform." The tension is understandable when you realize that Grace as lead singer of the Jefferson Airplane has become sort of a musical institution in concert halls from the group's home in San Francisco to England and Europe.

But if Grace has been inactive as far as performing with the Airplane, don't attribute it to laziness. "Actually," she says, picking over her midday breakfast of bacon and eggs, "I think we've been in the studio something like nine or ten months straight with a only a little time off between sessions. And if that's not enough, RCA has asked us (The Airplane) if we're ready to record again." The studio time Grace and Paul Kantner have put in thus far this year has been to finish the "Baron Von Tollbooth and the Chrome Nun" LP with David Freiberg (also a singer with The Airplane) and bring to near completion Grace's latest solo LP entitled "Manhole."

"Except for a couple of minor details," says Grace, "the album is done and will be released sometime in November. We'd like to get David Freiberg, David Crosby, and a whole bunch of folks together this week to help us with a big vocal chorus that goes, 'Don't tie me down, I want to run, give me the sun'. It would sound great with a lot of voices. Other than that, we've got a few decisions to make about flute tracks and things like that."

While Grace speaks, Paul Kantner (an Airplane charter member) enters the room and after listening to bits of the conversation about the "Manhole" LP, which he co-produced with Grace, he plays a cassette tape of the album to help fill in the verbal gaps. "I'm really into the album," beams Grace with obvious pride. "I've always had a fascination for movie themes. I mean some of them are really fine and on this record I got into that concept. One whole side is called "Theme From The Movie Manholé" and it's sort of for closet movie theme freaks. It's for all those folks who are really into the flicks."

A global venture of sorts, "Manhole" was recorded at the Record Plant and Wally Heider Studios in San Francisco and Olympic Studios in England. A diverse collection of musical modes, the album features Grace playing piano on "Manholé" (a sub-section of the theme side) and lead and rhythm guitar tracks on the Spanish instrumental titled "Jay." In addition, Paul has added nine Scottish bagpipes to one of his own tunes. As in the past with Grace's albums, cooperation among several talented musicians has made the effort a gratifying one.

Grace Slick

"It's all sort of incestuous," says Grace, referring to the free interchange of musicians in The Airplane and Steelwind with Hot Tuna Grace and Paul and . . . "well it gets complicated, doesn't it?" asks Ms. Slick. Arranged by longtime friend Stephen Schuster, the symphony orchestra that weaves in and out of "Theme From The Movie Manholé" is an interesting contrast to Paul's bagpipes and the piano and guitar flights of fancy of Grace. Craig Chaquico, the brilliant 17 year old Portuguese lead guitarist of Steelwind, plays some of his finest licks on "Manhole" and is ably assisted by a rhythm section including the redoubtable Jack Casady and Peter Sears on bass and John Barbata on drums. David Freiberg, whom illness prevented from playing on the album at first, recovered in time to add a couple of songs to the LP as well as play some keyboard.

When asked how she chose the title for her new album, Grace frowns and then laughs saying, "I guess you could call it a blast at women's lib. I mean, I believe everyone's entitled to his point of view, but women are undermining their own cause by coming on so heavy. There's a cold aloofness that's kind of frightening and when men sense that in a woman it turns them off pretty quick. I mean, I always liked the way men have treated me, so I never could really identify with the women's lib point of view."

Completing "Manhole" has made Grace happy, but it appears she won't have much time to sit back and enjoy listening to the fruits of her labor for very long. With RCA anxious for the Airplane to start recording their eighth and even ninth albums, there is also management pressure of sorts to put the group out on the road for an extended tour. "Obviously," says Grace, "we're not going to be able to rehearse for a new album and go out on tour at the same time. I guess RCA is going to have to make up its mind which it wants first."

If, in fact, Grace and Paul take The Airplane on the road, it will be in a different form than that audiences have become accustomed to. "We'll definitely do our family trip," smiles Grace, "and everybody will get a chance to do his thing. The Airplane will play some songs, Hot Tuna will do some of its things, then a couple of mine, and some of Papa John Creach's stuff. It'll be interesting." Right now Grace and Paul are exploring the possibility of doing a Don Kirshner special for TV. "We'll wait and see how the Stones do before we decide," says Grace. Hopefully, we'll be seeing as well as hearing Grace very soon. david budge

HOLLYWOOD—STEELY DAN: ICONOCLASTIC BOOGALOO

"In our heart of hearts, we are really bizarre," comments Donald Fagen, comfortably crumpled like a ball of scrap paper on the couch. His friend and collaborator, Walter Becker, nods noncommittally, an attitude to which he is not usually prone. The conversation, expecting but not receiving further elaboration on the subject, slides into brief silence.

We were sitting in Becker's new Laurel Canyon house, perched pleasantly on top of Los Angeles, 3200 miles as the crow flies from Brooklyn. Fagen and Becker flew from Brooklyn three years ago, shortly after leaving the instrumental entourage of Jay and the Americans. Originally contracted to ABC/Dunhill as a songwriting team, they instead gave birth to Steely Dan, a pair of hit singles ("Do It Again" and "Reelin' In The Years") and an album that was certified gold a year after release.

Now there is "Countdown to Ecstasy," their second ABC LP, struggling its way through the top 40 charts and a single, "Show Biz Kids," that got lost somewhere along the way. It was a strange choice for a single release, containing an oddball contrapuntal chorus and an entire verse that needed bleeping. "We're sadder but wiser in relation to that" says Becker, "but it's always comforting to know that you've got something potentially obscene on AM radio."

With characteristic ambiguity, they are fond of comparing their song-writing process to the creation of "junk sculpture." "Some songs are completely mine and some are Walter's, but in most there isn't any cut-and-dried division. 'Boston Rag,' for instance, has my chorus and verses by Walter." Musically, both of them have a predilection for jazz, a slight disdain for theatrics and an amiable cynicism towards the pretensions of the rock "scene," but not for the music. "Someone sent me a newspaper clipping that described rock concerts as 'the inept playing for the untutored,'" said Walter, with more amusement than indignance. "That just isn't true. The music may be simple, not as sophisticated, say, as jazz or classical music, but some of the guys playing it—a lot of the successful ones—are very, very good at what they do."

"I listen to music for its intrinsic musical values, as opposed to any dramatic or theatrical qualities," continued Fagen. "For that reason our lyrics are usually dry and objective. The content may be subjective, but it's pure music, pure lyrics." Within the complexities of their music, there is seldom anything thrown in for emotional content. They prefer to leave their compositions uncluttered by images that would allow the listener to relate on the basis of sentiment or any non-musical experience. As in jazz, then, the feelings of the audience are aroused not by story telling or catch-phrases but purely by the sounds of the music itself. "Actually," added Walter, "they (the lyrics) just appear to be passionless because everyone else's stuff is so soppy."

Steely Dan has undergone changes of peripheral personnel since its inception, but the original quintet has remained intact. Becker on bass and Fagen's keyboards are joined by drummer Jim Hodder to form the rhythm section. Jeffrey "Skunk" Baxter, an outstanding and very original musician who previously did studio work for Carly Simon, alternates guitar leads with Denny Dias.

Recently, the group has taken pains to enliven their stage act, adding vocalist Royce Jones and two girls, introduced as Porky and Bucky, who add some oomph to the choruses while dancing on the side of the stage. Fagen was asked, half jokingly, if he had thought of going "whole hog" with the idea; he could, for example, enclose the girls in cages and dangle them, Las Vegas style, above the band on stage.

Fagen: "Don't think we haven't thought of that. Unfortunately, though, unless you take the authority upon yourself, like Frank Zappa, for instance, you can only get people to do just so many things."

Becker disagreed: "We can get those people to do anything we want them to."

Fagen: "Yeah, but then you're assuming a burden of responsibility . . . I just couldn't ask them to do that routine with a real, live python; that's pretty dangerous . . ."

Becker interrupted: "Sooner or later," he said, "they will do the routine with the python." eliot sekuler

ASCAP 'Rap Session' Answers Questions

NEW YORK — A large segment of the 2,000,000,000 musical performances on U.S. radio and television stations are covered by the ASCAP survey, pres. Stanley Adams of the American Society of Composers, Authors and Publishers told a near-capacity audience at the season's sixth N.Y.C. "rap session" sponsored by AGAC. Erwin Drake, pres. of the American Guild of Authors and Composers, chaired the September 25th gathering at the Warwick Hotel.

Many of the questions that Adams fielded an informal introduction related to the survey and pay-out system. Avoiding statements on the royalty system of B.M.I. Adams noted that the ASCAP survey covers some 1,000 stations—including FM outlets—during the course of a year. He pointed out that the ASCAP pay programs offer a writer two different plans from which to choose, noting that a new member can start with the fast-cash "current performance" option and then change three years later to the spread-averaged payments of the "four funds" system without losing a single performance credit in the switch.

He explained that an ASCAP writer member can collaborate with a BMI "affiliate" and collect every cent of his performing rights income from ASCAP. He reported that research had established that night club, hotel etc. performances followed the same lines as radio and TV and added that the cost of surveying non-broadcast performances might match or exceed the total fees paid by such users. Drake, who had earlier lauded Adams for his role in straightening out the "secondary lyric" situation, confirmed that a top BMI executive had told him the same thing. Adams reiterated that the ASCAP Board is committed to an annual reevaluation of the soundness of the survey. The current reexamination is considering various questions, including the problems of the jazz community. Adding detailed answers to technical questions were ASCAP's Paul Marks, dir. of operations, and Paul Adler, distrib. mgr. The next AGAC "rap" is set for October 9th.

'Island People' Oct. LP Drive

HOLLYWOOD — Five new albums from Island Records are scheduled for release on Oct. 15, supported by a comprehensive merchandising and program. LPs by Traffic ("On the Road"), John Martyn ("Inside Out"), Spooky Tooth ("Witness"), The Wailers ("Burning") and Amazing Blondel ("Blondel") have been set for Island, distributed by Capitol.

The Island month campaign planning began in July, when Capitol merchandising director Dennis Killeen went to London to meet with the Island people and discuss support concepts. At that time, the "Island People" theme was set, to be used in all advertising and display material. The campaign was coordinated in the United States with the help of Island people Annie McCormack and Walt Schaeffer.

Post Sets

A series of mounted and soft poster sets carries the "Island People" motif and features Bob Marley of the Wailers, Steve Winwood of Traffic, John Martyn, the Amazing Blondel and Spooky Tooth. Added to the campaign have been the Sutherland Brothers and Quiver, whose recent tour and chart single have brought them Stateside attention, and Stomu Yamash'ta and the Red Buddha Theatre, whose "Man From the East" theatre piece and album premiered in the U.S. simultaneously in September. In addition to the poster series, display material includes a cardboard floor merchandiser, holding 200 albums, that picks up the "Island People" graphic theme as does a set of varicolored plastic divider cards featuring each group.

Killeen has also put together an "Island People" sampler LP, featuring cuts from all seven albums and designed for in-store play.

An extensive trade and consumer print campaign, designed by Capitol art director Roy Kohara, has been created, as well as a widespread broadcast (radio and TV) campaign that will begin on the Oct. 15 release date.

All artists included, with the exception of Traffic, will be touring in the United States between now and Christmas. Through Stu Yam's artist relations department, individual market campaigns will be conducted, following the tour schedules.

RCA Sets Rachmaninoff LP Salute

NEW YORK — RCA Records has released the first three volumes of a salute to late composer-pianist Sergei Rachmaninoff. Two extra three-record sets will be released in Nov. to complete the 15-record set containing all the known recordings of the Russian who was born 100 years ago. The edition showcases Rachmaninoff as composer, performer, and conductor.

R. Peter Munves, dir. of classical music for RCA Records, said: "Rachmaninoff not only was one of the most important composers of the last 100 years, he also was a titan of the piano and frequently served as conductor. During most of his lifetime, he recorded exclusively for RCA and we feel we owe it to serious music collectors to make these recordings available again."

"At least 13 items have not been previously released, and we additionally have all his Edison discs, his first recordings," Munves said.

The first album of three records contains Rachmaninoff's acoustical recordings (including the Edison discs). The second and third sets contain electrical recordings of Rachmaninoff as piano recitalist.

The five albums were co-produced by John Pfeiffer, exec. Red Seal prod. for RCA, and Gregor Benko, vice pres. of the Intl. Piano Library.

Contents of the two November sets include Rachmaninoff's collaborations with the late Fritz Kreisler, Rachmaninoff conducting the Philadelphia Orchestra in performances of his orchestral works, and Rachmaninoff performing his four piano concertos and his Rhapsody on a Theme of Paganini with the Philadelphia Orchestra conducted by Leopold Stokowski and Eugene Ormandy.

October 'Phila. Int'l Sound' Month

NEW YORK — October has been designated "Philadelphia International Month" to herald new album releases by such Superstars as Billy Paul, The O'Jays, Harold Melvin & The Blue Notes, and The Three Degrees.

During October, Philadelphia International, the Columbia Custom Label headed by Kenny Gamble and Leon Huff, will release the following LP's: "War Of The Gods," by Billy Paul of "Me And Mrs. Jones" fame; "Ship Ahoy," by the O'Jays, whose singles, "Love Train" and "Back Stabbers" have each sold more than two million copies; the newest album release by the Three Degrees, which is entitled "The Three Degrees"; and "Black & Blue Featuring 'The Love I Lost,'" by Harold Melvin & The Blue Notes.

In addition, the label will be celebrating its success and saluting its artists with an album entitled "The Sound of Philadelphia, '73." Specially priced at $4.98, this LP features some of the past year's biggest selling Philadelphia International singles, including Billy Paul's "Me and Mrs. Jones," The O'Jays' "Love Train," "If You Don't Know Me By Now" by Harold Melvin & The Blue Notes; "It's Forever," by The Ebonys; and "Family Affair" by MFSB.

In addition, two recently released albums will be spotlighted—the debut LP by the group Spiritual Concept, and the album "Yellow Sunshine" on the Gamble label.

"Philadelphia International Month" will be supported by massive promotion and marketing drives designed to call maximum attention to the new product, as well as the label's catalog items. Ads will be featured in many prominent Black periodicals including Soul, Jet, Soul Sounds and Essence. There will also be a heavy emphasis on outdoor billboard advertising in Black communities, and multi-product time buys are being scheduled for both Black and Top 40 radio stations.

Jim Tyrrell, Director of National

Sales, Epic & Columbia Custom Labels, said, "We are happy to be able to launch a program which will entail a major involvement of our company with the entire retail structure, in the United States, both black and white. An incentive program is being offered that will be equitable to both large and small retail dealers, with all receiving their share of merchandising materials. Billy Paul, the O'Jays and Harold Melvin & The Blue Notes took the country by storm earlier this year, and we are confident that their second LP's featured in "The Sound Of Philadelphia" Month will consolidate their position as major recording stars."

The label has assembled a "Sound Of Philadelphia Kit" for in-store display. It features a mobile display unit depicting eleven albums in four colors; a counter take-one bin which includes free folders containing photos and information about the Philadelphia International catalog; and divider cards to facilitate customer finding of the label's product.

Ron Alexenburg, Vice President, Epic & Columbia Custom Labels, said: "In the past two years one of the most exciting things that we have been involved in has been the emergence of the Gamble and Huff labels—Philadelphia International and Gamble. During these two years, Gamble and Huff have built a strong artist roster and upon completion of the new albums we wanted to emphasize to everyone that this product has received the acceptance of not only the blacks, but whites as well and are giving special attention to their sound during the month of October. We are proud to be able to distribute the Gamble and Huff artistry, as well as the artists they produce."

Commenting on the upcoming month of activity, Kenny Gamble said: "Our thanks and appreciation we give to Columbia/Epic Records for helping us expose 'The Sound Of Philadelphia' . . . a Message Of Love To The People."

HOSTS—Label president David Geffen and Lou Adler chat quietly before the opening of their new club, the Roxy on Los Angeles' Sunset Strip, which offered Graham Nash and Neil Young on its initial bill. The other three owners are Chuck Landis, Elliott Roberts and rock impresario Bill Graham. The Roxy, art deco in style and seating over 500, is being launched with a number of "heavy" acts, including Richie Havens, Cheech & Chong, Joe Walsh and Poco, the latter supported by John David Souther. All performances so far: totally sold-out.

MCA Sets 8 October LP's

UNIVERSAL CITY — Rick Frio, vice president, marketing, has announced a strong contemporary October release for MCA Records, with five of the eight scheduled albums being double-record sets.

The long-anticipated Who double-record album, "Quadraphenia," complete with a 41-page booklet that provides a photographic essay on the Who's recent activities, precedes the Who tour scheduled for this winter. Like "Tommy," "Quadraphenia" is a concept album.

Elton John's first double-album package, titled after his next single, "Yellow Brick Road," has already been briefly introduced to select press and radio through a unique New York-Los Angeles closed-circuit television broadcast held two weeks ago. Elton is just completing an extensive U.S. tour.

Another two-album set, recorded live in New York during this year's Schaeffer Festival, "Reunion in Central Park," is the historic reunion of the Original Blues Project, New York's first progressive rock band from the days when "progressive" and "underground." Al Kooper, Steve Katz, Roy Blumenfeld, Andy Kulberg, and Danny Kalb revive classics like "Wake Me, Shake Me."

Lou Reed LP, U.S. Tour Set

NEW YORK — Lou Reed, has had sold-out houses at every stop on his European fall tour which began Sept. 9 at the Scheesl Festival in Germany and continued Sept. 15 at the Crystal Palace in London at the annual pop fest staged by Melody Maker, the British music weekly. The two shows drew in excess of 50,000. Reed also drew capacity houses of more than 3,000 each at the Paris Olympia Theater and in Copenhagen, Amsterdam and Brussels.

The same reaction occurred in Britain, with the sell-outs continuing in Glasgow, Manchester, Southampton, Leicester, Liverpool, Sheffield and Newcastle. Still to be played: Birmingham on Oct. 3 and London's famed Rainbow Theater on Oct. 5 and 6. All three of these dates appeared to be advance sell-outs.

Meanwhile, a 10-city U.S. tour is being planned for Nov. which would include major U.S. markets with the focus on Reed's new RCA album, "Berlin," which was released this week.

Dobie Gray and his producer, Mentor Williams, returned to Nashville's Quadrafonic Studios to record Dobie's second MCA LP, "Loving Arms." The same studio musicians who contributed to "Drift Away" participate in this collection of blue rock soul.

McKendree Spring went to England for their album, "Spring Suite," recorded at the Manor in Shipton-on-Cherwell. The group wrote (with one exception), arranged, assisted in production, and played on all the tracks.

Sonny and Cher are alive and well and recording in Las Vegas—hence, "Sonny & Cher, Live In Las Vegas, Vol. II." Snuff Garrett produced this two-record collection.

Bob Ruzicka's second album, "Soft Rocker," was also recorded at Quadrafonic Studios with many of the same people who play on Dobie's release. David Briggs produced.

Bill Cosby, produced by Gil Rodin, rounds out the release with a two-record set.

To support this extensive contemporary release, MCA has undertaken an extensive advertising and promotional campaign with the coordinating slogan of "MCA Has Really Got Their Hits Together."

RCA Rushing New Quad Sampler

NEW YORK — RCA Records has finished a Quad sampler disk made up of selections from its 15 new four-channel albums.

RCA is distributing copies to record dealers, manufacturers of playback equipment for use as demos, and the nation's music critics.

Printed on the back cover of the album is a description of four channel sound. Also listed on the back cover are all 39 of the currently available RCA four channel albums.

John Pudwell, director of new product development for RCA, said: "We firmly believe that this sampler will serve as a 15-selection introduction to the excitement of four channel sound, and that the album and notes will give the listener a better understanding of this new sound medium. This can serve as a vital tool in the introduction of four channel sound to a much wider audience around the nation."

The 15 albums range from three new classical LPs from the Philadelphia Orchestra and Eugene Ormandy to titles from RCA's catalog, including the Broadway hit, "Hair."

Atl. Previews Fall Releases

NEW YORK — Atlantic Records' home office staff and regional marketing directors met last week in New York to preview a filmed presentation and lay out a sales campaign for the company's fall releases. After the New York meeting, the home office personnel went on the road to show the program to sales, management, and promo personnel at each of the WEA offices in Philadelphia, Boston, Atlanta, Cleveland, Chicago, Dallas, and Los Angeles.

The video cassette program presented material about artists on Atlantic's fall release, which includes a wide range of offerings. New LP's from The Rolling Stones, Bette Midler, and John Prine are a part of the new release. Also featured are new comedy albums by George Carlin, Burns & Schreiber, and The Committee (on Little David Records).

In addition, are new disks from Atlantic's newly-created Nashville office, by country stars Henson Cargill, Troy Seals, Terry Staffored, David Rogers, and Marti Brown. Jazz is represented with a new album by Gil Evans, three more in the series of Commodore re-issues, plus a new one from Robin Kenyatta. Artists doing their first albums for Atlantic include Barnaby Bye, Billy Cobham, The True Reflection, and Gary Farr.

The release will be supported by an ambitious campaign involving the efforts of the merchandising, advertising, and publicity depts. Marketing aids like in-store sampler LPs and smaller LPs for giveaway, posters and mobiles will be used by branch personnel.

Phonogram Sets 'Early Allman' LP

CHICAGO — The Dial label is rush-releasing "Early Allman," containing recordings by Duane and Gregg Allman, it was announced by Charles Fach, vice pres./A&R at Phonogram, and Buddy Killen, head of Dial.

The tapes date back to 1966, when John D. Loudermilk and John Hurley produced tracks by a Nashville rock group called the Allman Joys. Killen had signed the Allman Joys and tapes on the group when leaders Duane and Gregg left Nashville. He found the Allman Joys tapes a few months ago and discussed the release of an album with Fach.

"Early Allman" contains 12 tracks, six each from the Loudermilk and Hurley sessions. The only track so far released from the sessions is "Spoonful," which was released as a single in Nashville area in '66. "Early Allman" contains the earliest known professional recordings made by Duane and Gregg Allman.

CMA Awards Correction

NASHVILLE —In listing the CMA Awards Finalists, Cashbox gave the Song of the Year, "Behind Closed Doors," as composed by Charlie Rich. Charlie Rich was the artist on the single but did not write the song. Kenny O'Dell, who penned the tune, should be correctly listed as composer of "Behind Closed Doors."

Country Artist of the Week: Roy Druskey

"THE HITMAKER"—What started as "Our Sunday Afternoon Living Room Band" resulted in one of the most powerful and talented careers in country music for Roy Druskey. As a small child in Atlanta, Roy didn't dream of being an entertainer, he wanted to be a baseball player, and he worked toward that goal—he worked hard until he was invited to the Cleveland Indian Camp. But the invitation came after Roy had finished a Navy hitch and had enrolled at Emory University to specialize in Veterinary science. But fate did not hold it in the cards for Roy to play ball or be a veterinarian. Songwriting and singing was what it was to be about and it started with The "Living Room Band" at WEAS in Decatur where the group won first prize in a talent contest. The prize was a regular spot on the show and Roy was on his way. The way has covered every recognition that country music can bring. Roy Druskey has had 10-#1 records such as "Another", "Anymore", "2nd Hand Rose", "Three Hearts in a Tangle", "Yes, Mr. Peters", "Peel Me a Nanner", "White Lightning Express", "Long Long Texas Road", "Jody & The Kid", and "Strangers".

Roy has appeared on most all major country syndicated TV shows, appeared in 4 motion pictures, and starred in concerts in every State in the Union plus Europe. Roy Druskey is a member of the Grand Ole Opry and travels over 90,000 miles a year with his band, The Loners, in concert appearances. He is an executive, having his own publishing company and is past director of the Nashville based office of the music licensing firm SESAC. A couple of TV shows are now under consideration. Roy records for Mercury Records under the direction of Jerry Kennedy and his current hit single is "Satisfied Mind". Exclusive booking is by The Bill Goodwin Agency.

Marshall Appt'd. Museum Director

NASHVILLE — Howard Wight Marshall, a folklorist and specialist in American traditional music, has joined the staff of the Country Music Foundation as director of the Country Music Hall of Fame and Museum it was announced recently. Mr. Marshall fills an expanded post which supervises all activities related to museum operations in the Hall of Fame building.

Bill Ivey, Country Music Foundation executive director, stated: "Mr. Marshall will bring a new dimension in leadership to the Museum portion of our operations. Howard possesses a strong academic background, and I am personally confident that the industry will witness dramatic, positive growth in the overall acceptance of the Hall of Fame under his direction. The Country Music Foundation has itself become a widely-recognized contact point between the industry and those interested in it during the past two years, and we have seen what Danny Hatcher has accomplished in expanding the Library portion of the Foundation's activities. I am sure we will see similar growth in the Hall of Fame and Museum under Mr. Marshall's leadership."

Marshall was born and raised in Moberly, Missouri, and received his Bachelor's Degree in Literature at the University of Missouri. He holds an M.A. from Indiana University, and is presently a Ph.D. candidate in the Indiana University Folklore Institute. Marshall has written extensively on folklore and folk music subjects, and has published articles and reviews in such journals as Pioneer America, the Journal of American Folklore and Country Music magazine. His current academic research interests include folk architecture, cultural geography, and old-time country music.

Marshall plans a busy year for the Hall of Fame and Museum. He noted that, "The Museum has earned wide public acceptance, but in some ways it has been managed rather than directed. We now have several important projects which have been on the drawing board for more than a year. Our first priority in the Museum is to complete the Pioneer Display and a revision of the Hall of Fame theatre presentation. Our second priority is to establish positive working relationships with the professional museum community. This goal requires involvement with the American Association of Museums and with state and local museum associations. The Hall of Fame will only assume its rightful status as a leader among American cultural museums after these priorities have been executed."

Mr. Marshall has already assumed the position of director of the Country Music Hall of Fame and Museum, and has established a permanent home in Nashville. He is married to Linda Duckett Marshall.

Country LP Reviews

PLASTIC TRAINS, PAPER PLANES—Susan Raye—Capitol ST-11223

Plastic Trains, Paper Planes, hit songs, wonderful voice and great production tend to make this album a sure fire smash hit. Susan, the girl next door, with that sweet charming voice has always been destined to be a superstar and this album could be the one do make her one. The title track which is also her present single is included with these other songs as my favorites, Whatcha Gonna Do With A Dog Like That, Top Of The Morning, Love At Eleven, Love Makes The World Go Round. The five others are good also. A note to keep in mind is that they are all Buck Owen's composition.

SOMETIMES A MEMORY AIN'T ENOUGH—Jerry Lee Lewis—Mercury SRM-1-677

Jerry Lee Lewis is back with what can possibly prove to be his biggest album to date. Included are his present chart single and title number of LP, plus Honky Tonk Wine, Ride Me Down Easy, The Morning After Baby Let Me Down, and seven others. Jerry has been an influential force in the world of music and this album will lend more charism to his legend and definitely bring him many many more followers. Watch for this one to become a chart album in the next few weeks.

OVER THE HILLS TO THE POORHOUSE—Lester Flatt and Mac Wiseman—RCA APL1 0309

This new release has been greatly sought after following the pick hit "Waiting for The Boys To Come Home." Described as "a pleasurable touch of real Americana" this greatly diversified duo personifies the image. Incomparable banjo and guitar work augmented by the sweet harmonies of Flatt and Wiseman assure this album a secure spot on the charts. Included in the album are tunes that have not been played in over twenty years. This album proves itself a veritable treasure trove for the country buff. "When My Blue Moon Turns To Gold," "Over the Hills to the Poorhouse," and "There's More Pretty Girls Than One" are of special interest.

LOVERSVILLE—Kenny Vernon—Capitol ST-11227

Kenny Vernon's new album is going to be a country chart buster. The title track Loversville embodies all the richness of Kenny's voice and was a recent pick on the singles charts. Kenny's creative ease is indicative of his love for country music, and his unmistakable professionalism in performing it. His approach to love is fresh and human, and breathes new life into the ears of his avid fans. Tracks to take special note of are "Loversville," "Nothing But Lonely Between," and "That'll Be The Day" a Buddy Holly classic.

BUBBLING OVER—Dolly Parton—RCA APL1-0286-A

An eagerly awaited album, Dolly Parton's new release will elicit immediate effervescence upon the initial listening, but then again isn't that what bubbling over is all about! "Traveling Man," Dolly's last chart single is included on the album. An easy listening blend of country music at its finest this new album will prove an inevitable success for the inimitable Miss Parton. Some of the more outstanding tracks as are "Bubbling Over," "Sometimes an Old Memory Gets in My Eye," and "Love With Me."

IF YOU'VE GOT THE TIME, I'VE GOT THE SONG—Red Steagall—Capitol ST-11228

A lot of easy listenin' pleasure is in store for Red Steagall fans on this new LP. His recent pick "The Fiddle Man" is included on this latest release. Red's down to earth material is not only readily identifiable but honest, real, and most entertaining. "If You've Got The Time, I've Got the Song," "Little Old Heartbreaker Me," and "Bring Back The Waltzes," are exemplary of Red's great diversification and excellent musicianship.

THE BOB WILLS ANTHOLOGY—Bob Wills and his Texas Playboys—Columbia KG-32416

This beautiful album fully chronicles the Western Swing era of this country giant. Some of the recordings as "Mexicali Rose," "Old Fashioned Love," and "Steel Guitar Rag," date as far back as the middle thirties.

A must for any country fan young or old.

GREAT BRITAIN

MCA Records, who for the last 40 years have been handled by Decca in this country are changing their distribution to EMI. Under the agreement, which is effective from the first of January 1974, EMI will handle all areas of marketing, manufacturing and distributing for the label. The deal was concluded in London recently between EMI managing director Gerry Oord and MCA president Mike Maitland. Maitland told Cash Box, "It is with some regret we leave our good friends at Decca. However we are most pleased to join Gerry Oord and his team at EMI, and we look forward to a long lasting and mutually beneficial relationship." Commenting on the deal Oord said, "I am extremely proud to have done this deal on behalf of EMI, MCA has an important and extensive catalogue which dates back over many years. I am confident that we will make a real contribution to MCA's success and growth in this country." The deal applies to all MCA labels, Kapp, Uni, Coral and MCA and includes artists such as Martha Reeves, Wishbone Ash, Sonny & Cher, Tony Christie, the world wide hit album "Jesus Christ Superstar," and the MCA catalogue includes material from Bing Crosby, Louis Armstrong, Al Jolson, Ella Fitzgerald, Buddy Holly and classical guitarist Segovia. MCA's office will move into EMI's Manchester Square headquarters. It is believed that the present managing director of MCA in London, Derek Everett will not be renewing his contract with the firm when it expires in October of this year.

Island Records are doubling the size of their sales force with the addition of six new salesmen in order to establish a totally independent sales force. This brings the number of retail outlets serviced by Island on a monthly basis to 2000. Although Island is distributed jointly between themselves and EMI this expansion is no reflection on the service given by EMI. Island has recently taken over the distribution of the Virgin and Rocket labels, and with the amount of product being handled by EMI, Island feels that the expansion of their own sales force will allow them more freedom to take on more distribution from other companies. They also handle the Chrysalis and Bronze labels as well as their own. At the same time, Ray Laws, formerly Island van salesman has been appointed to assistant distribution manager.

Pat Meehan Jr., manager of Black Sabbath and managing director of World Wide Artists Ltd. has formed a label for the company, to be known as WWA Records. Phonogram are to distribute the label world wide, in a deal negotiated by WWA managing director Pat Meehan Jr. and Phonogram Tony Morris. First release on the label will be "Vado Via" by Albert Terraza, a song previously recorded by Italian singer Drupi now hitting the American charts. Other artists to appear on the label are Black Sabbath, who have a single to be released in October titled "Sabbath Bloody Sabbath," Tony McPhee, Groundhogs, Gentle Giant and new group Snaffoo.

Pye Records are to distribute the Spanish Discos Ensayo catalogue in the UK, Commonwealth and Japan, in a deal concluded last week by Discos Ensayo's managing director Antonio Armet and Pye deputy managing director Walter Woyda. The catalogue includes Teresa Berganza, Carlo Bergonzi, The English Chamber Orchestra and Thomas Hensley.

Drupi Emerges From Ski Diver To Hit Artist

LONDON — As a skin diver, 24 year old Drupi dived to the bottom of the sea bed but as a recording artist he is rockeing to the top of the charts with his single "Vado Via." Drupi began his musical career three years ago when he sang in a group. However, this group disbanded because of lack of bookings and he returned to skin diving. Then last year an executive of the Ricordi company discovered him singing in a nightclub and signed him to a five year solo recording contract.

The very first song he recorded was "Vado Via" and this proved to be a No. 1 hit in France and a hit in Belgium. The single looks like it will hit in Italy and it is currently just under the Top 100 in the American charts. Drupi is currently working on an album and is visiting Brussels and Germany for TV. A & M has just issued single in the U.K.

Probe UK Promo On Steely Dan

HOLLYWOOD — Probe Records, which distributes Steely Dan records in the United Kingdom, is running a point-of-sale promo campaign for the ABC/Dunhill group's "Countdown To Ecstasy" album.

A total of 1,500 display cards are being distributed to selected retailers, and full page advertising is being taken out in the consumer music press. A series of 45-second radio spots will be heard on Radio Luxembourg.

Label also is sponsoring a Steely Dan balloon race at Radio Luxembourg's race meeting at Brands Hatch.

Ray Charles On 45-Day Euro Tour

NEW YORK — Ray Charles, now on the Crossover label, is on a 45-day European tour, which takes him to Madrid, Vienna, Stockholm, Helsinki, Marseilles, Rotterdam, Belgrade, Berlin. He returns to the U.S. Oct. 25 and will depart for a tour of Japan Nov. 2, returning to the U.S. Nov. 22.

Nippon Victor UK Joint Firm

TOKYO — Nippon Victor Co., (president: Yoskiro Kitano) has established a joint company in England by acquiring 51% of the shares of Denham and Morley (Over Seas Ltd. Capital: £10,000). This new joint company will take charge of sales of Nippon Victor in the U.K.

Nippon Victor will leave the management of the joint-company entirely in the hands of Britishers by the adoption of a joint managing director system.

Nippon Victor's sales target for the 1st year is estimated at £4,000,000.

Moodys Break Swiss PA Mark

NEW YORK — The Moody Blues set an attendance record for the Fest-Halle in Bern, Switzerland when their concert there on Sept. 9 attracted 8200 fans, shattering a mark of 8000 set a couple of years ago by Emerson, Lake and Palmer. Bern is a relatively small Swiss town, and Moody Blues fans came from as far away as Zurich, Montreaux, and parts of France to see the group.

The Bern concert occurred early in the European leg of the Moody Blues 10 country world tour. They are currently touring England, and they arrive in North America on Oct. 24 to play the Montreal Forum, and then go on to play Pittsburgh, New York, Long Island, Philadelphia, Chicago, Louisville, Baton Rouge, Fort Worth, Houston, Atlanta, Cleveland, and Ann Arbor.

CBS Conference: Exec Shifts, New Deals And New Product

LONDON — CBS Records held its annual sales conference in the out-of-town location of Stratford-upon-Avon Hilton hotel.

The conference was attended by many of the company's American executives and was the forum for the announcement of the restructuring of the English company for the future, as well as presentation of product to the salesmen and dealers attending. As in previous years, the theme of the conference centered on the 'family' image of CBS and the slogan this year was true to tradition being "The Family of Music '73".

The restructuring of staff and new appointments announced by managing director Dick Asher included four new directorships i.e. Jack Florey director of sales; Clive Selwood, formerly marketing manager, promoted director of marketing; Dan Loggins previously head of U.K. A&R, is now director of U.K. A&R, and Terry Stanley has been appointed financial director. Stanley was previously at WEA Records in the same capacity. Maurice Oberstein, deputy managing director, has been given additional responsibilities in the areas of manufacturing, warehousing, distribution and studio operation. Glyn Evans has been promoted to manager of international A&R and will assume additional responsibilities in the areas of international co-ordination and the release of U.K. product overseas. Tony manager, has been made merchandising manager and will have the product managers reporting to him.

To strengthen the increasing growth of the "Philly Sound" productions of Kenny Gamble and Leon Huff and to give this area of music a more separate identity, the Philadelphia International label is to be launched in Nov. It will be headed by Glyn Evans and will include acts such as Billy Paul and the O'Jays. To strengthen its black artist roster, the Invictus label (which houses acts like Chairman of the Board) will be distributed through CBS as from Nov. Invictus was previously handled by EMI. Both labels will be given massive European launch in Nov. including promotional campaigns and dealer displays.

To break into the mid-price market CBS are to launch the Embassy label which will feature material previously put out on full price product picked from the vast catalog of the English and American companies. All albums will retail at 99 pence, will have the Embassy logo and be presented in newly designed sleeves. The label will be headed by Rex Oldfield, previously manager of Special Projects. Embassy will have an initial release of 49 albums and was, by far, the biggest presentation at the convention. With artists such as Blood Sweat and Tears, Fleetwood Mac, Sly and the Family Stone, Tommy Dorsey and Aretha Franklin Embassy is designed to appeal to all age groups and tastes.

In a deal concluded just a few days before the conference York Records is to be distributed through CBS (previously with Decca). York's presentation was made by Deke Arlon and featured Lovelace Watkins and new band Whistle. CBS is to distribute writer Peter Shelley's new label Magnet and Miki Dallon of Youngblood presented albums by Apollo 100, Mac and Katie Kisson and Kevin Lamb.

This year, Disney will celebrate its 50th anniversary and a compilation album titled "The Golden Years of Disney" will be issued. For the first time Disney are going into classics with a new series entitled "Cantata Classics" featuring music for Strauss and Grieg. Disney's presentation was made by Tony Owtrim and included a clip from their new film "Robin Hood."

Bob Walker, manager of the classical music department, announced that once again their series of three boxed sets designed for the Christmas market would be available this year including one from classical guitarist John Williams. Pop product was presented by Tony Woolcot, who announced albums from Colin Blunstone, David Essex, Scott Walker, Soft Machine and a repackaged Zombies album.

Still on the pop front Roger Cook and Roger Greenaway's production company, Cookaway, has signed an exclusive production deal with CBS. They were with Bell for the last two years and although Cookaway will still produce The Drifters for Bell all other material will go through CBS. First three acts are Reg Presley, John Gaughan and Paul Young.

The convention was attended by salesmen and among the American executives were Goddard Lieberman, Walter Yetnikoff, Ron Alexenburg and Don Ellis. From Paris came Peter de Rougemont. On the last night Gala Dinner was held at which CBS artists performed the cabaret i.e. Colin Blunstone, Brotherly Love, Tommy Leonetti etc.

Toshiba Sales Go Over Target

TOKYO — Toshiba Onko K.K. (Toshiba Musical Industries Co.,) held its all branch managers conference on Sept. 6, 7 at its head office in Tokyo to confirm sales results of the 1st half period of 1973 (Apr. 1, 1973 to Sept. 30, 1973) and to confer over its measures for the sales of the second half period of 1973 (Oct. 1, 1973 to Mar. 31, 1974).

The total sales of this term is anticipated to show 11% more than the target, 6,700,000,000 yen ($25,760,000). At the same time, this will be 24% more than the same period of the previous year. This is a new record since the foundation of the company.

These good results seemed to be generated from the boom of sets by the Beatles and the improvement of Japanese music.

The percentage of Japanese vs Western will be 40.6 to 59.4% whiling disk-records vs music-tapes are expected 82.3 to 17.7%.

"Live And Let Die" (Paul McCartney), "My Love" (Wings), "Give Me Love" (George Harrison) (Single) and "The Beatles" (2 sets). "Dark Side Of The Moon" (Pink Floyd), "Living In The Material World" (George Harrison), "Red Rose Speed Way" (Paul McCartney & Wings) (LP) are included in the disks which have contributed to the increase of the sales of western music.

The sales target of the next term has been settled at 7,800,000,000 yen ($30,000,000) as the minimum line.

Tokuma Sales Show Big Gains

TOKYO — Tokuma Onko K.K. (Tokuma Musical Industries Co.,) held its branch manager conference on Sept. 4, 5 at its head office in Tokyo to examine the sales results of its 1st half term of 1973 (Apr. to Sept. 1973) and to discuss the prospects for the 2nd half term of 1973 (Oct. 1973 to Mar. 1974).

The total sales of its 1st term of 1973 showed 50% more than the target. The percentage of disk-record vs music-tape was 68 to 32%. Improvement in cassette sales was most notable in its growth of 80% in comparison with the target. The company keeping a pace of 50% growth as in the 1st term. The prosperity of "Enka" (Japanese traditional popular song) was the main element of the sales boom, the company said.

Wurlitzer Boosts Sales Force Strength; As Pollak and Anderson Join the Ranks

KEN ANDERSON

FRED POLLAK

NORTH TONAWANDA — Two important sales positions were announced by the Wurlitzer Company as part of its most recent realignment of executive responsibilities. Amile Addy, vice-president and manager of Wurlitzer's North Tonawanda Division, named Ken Anderson and Fred Pollak to new positions in the sales program headed by Dick Williams.

Williams is the recently-appointed "Manager of Phonograph Sales—Domestic" under new policy which brought the company-owned Wurlitzer Distributing Corporation into the North Tonawanda fold.

Both Anderson and Pollak are recognized as experienced men in the coin-operated phonograph industry. They join Ralph Cragan and Bob Bender as Wurlitzer's top regional spokesmen. Wurlitzer officials indicate that the addition of Anderson and Pollak is meant to bolster the company's efforts in supplying distributors with knowledgeable field representatives who are in keeping with a new ambitious Wurlitzer marketing program.

Anderson is a familiar Wurlitzer figure. He began with the company over six years ago as a credit representative in the Wurlitzer Distributing Corporation branch office in San Francisco. Since then he has served as a sales representative in the San Francisco and Los Angeles branches and later branch manager of Los Angeles and Denver offices. Currently he is stationed in Denver, where he will serve the Western and Northwestern territories for Wurlitzer.

Pollak has an equally impressive association with the coin machine industry. For almost eight years he served as vice-president-marketing for Rowe AMI. During his years at Rowe, he proved to be one of the industry's major innovators, being in the forefront of promoters of jukebox discotheque programs. Pollak will make his headquarters in Lakewood, New Jersey where he currently resides. It is expected that most of his sales assignments will find him working in the Northeast United States.

Wurlitzer sales manager Dick Williams intends to implement both men in their new positions immediately. Wurlitzer plans for Anderson and Pollak include an extensive program designed to fully familiarize the men with the organizational procedures of the North Tonawanda Division, followed by introduction and exposure to the distributors within the company's marketing plans.

EDITORIAL:

Throughout the many years this business has been in existence, collections have gone up, come down, been great, got rotten . . . and more than a few of us have tried to pin the blame on the national economy. For the record, this business, in general, did great during the depression in the 30's but didn't fare so well during the recession we're just about coming out of. So you can't pin coinbiz success or failure on general economic health of the USA. What you can pin it on, tho, is something a little more tangible . . . something we like to call courage.

What kind of courage? The courage to boost play pricing on jukeboxes and amusement games when additional income is required. The courage to spend a little more investment capital when the new machines are first released, instead of waiting until your competitors prove them out and the popularity begins to peak. The courage to move newer records onto the jukebox playlist before they even hit the charts. The courage to speak out at association meetings when the financial health of your operation and the operations of your brothers could be mutually helped. The courage to walk into a brand new type of location with a brand new sales pitch and sell it.

Sure, there are tons of steps the operator has to take that require courage, if he seriously intends to get ahead. But courage isn't really the kind of heroism depicted in John Wayne marine movies . . . it's simply the ability to try something new and be prepared for failure. That's all it is, but it's surprising how many people in this industry and elsewhere that are afraid to do anything out of the ordinary because they're afraid of dropping the ball and maybe losing face. As such, we are faced with the "status quo" that exists in many parts of this industry.

If you're not content with being a member of a "status quo," well, go out and get cracking.

Firm president Al Rodstein, and branch manager Herb Rosenthal, hosted the tradesters and guests to food, refreshments and door prizes during the course of the open house.

Banner's Pittsburgh branch is one of this area's most prominent and successful distribution outlets.

Toward a Super European Assn.

BRUSSELS — Representatives of European national coin associations recently met in Brussels on an informal level to discuss what their newly-formed European-federation Economic Community (common market) and what that EEC could do for them. Major topics of common interest under discussion at that gathering included: coin machine taxation, technical conformity, the elimination of secular legal obstructions to machine operation and the gradual elimination of individual national currency.

Dr. Bruns-Wuestefeld of the EEC indicated that the coin federation is considered by the common market commission as the representative body acting in the mutual interests of the industry for several member countries, and could be registered and considered as a valuable partner in case of consultation.

The representatives of the German central organization of automatic machines (ZOA) and of the German association of wholesale trade of coin machines (DAGV) stated on this occasion that their organizations had decided to adhere to the European union. The association of the German coin machine manufacturers (VDAI) is a member as well as founder of the union.

Representatives of the Belgian, British, Danish, Luxembourg and Dutch associations have shown their interest and made known their intention to bring this question of adhesion to the European union within their respective organizations.

Those who participated in the Brussels meeting were: Mr. Schulze, Dr. Kummer (Germany), Mr. China, Dr. Maneschi, Mr. Mancini (Italy), Mr. Faraut, Mr. Lahalle, Mr. Meresse (France), Mr. Herbosch, Mr. deRidder, Mr. deMunck (Belgium), Mr. Riis, Mr. Andersen, Mr. Nielsen (Denmark), Mr. Shefrass, Mr. Selby, Mr. Singleton, Mr. Alexander, Mr. Willis (England), Mr. Roeffen, Mr. Rouvoet, Mr. Ravens (the Netherlands), Mr. Kaestner, Mr. Meyer-Christian, Mr. Wende, Mr. Schmidt, Mr. Deter (Germany), Mr. Schmit, Mr. Jastrow, Mr. Wintersdorff (Luxembourg) and Dr. Bruns-Wuestefeld and Mr. Specker of the EEC.

EASTERN FLASHES

ON THE ISLAND—Dick Simon, president of U.S. Billiards, advised us at press time that they'll soon be releasing a brand new video paddle game called "TV Tennis," and it's a four-player. Piece should be on market soon; certainly will be displayed at their exhibit at the November MOA Show. Dick also notes that firm's general sales manager Len Schneller and wife Reba are currently vacationing in Florida. . . . State association president Millie McCarthy paid visit to Long Island operators at their recent dinner get-together. . . . Irv (Dolene Industries) Holzman very busy these days between bustling route business and association work. Irv's vice president of MONY. . . . R. H. Belam Co. exec Marc Haim tied the matrimonial knot Sat. night (22) with lovely Caron Weingrow. Lavish black tie affair was held at the Old Westbury Golf and Country Club and was attended (naturally) by dad Vic and brother Bob, plus several other industry guests. The couple spent a brief honeymoon at Montauk Point; will enjoy an extended honeymoon later on after Marc gets his masters in business administration from Columbia. Interestingly, Caron's dad, Howard Weingrow, performed as treasurer for the Democratic National Committee during the McGovern campaign.

Gail Hood from Peabody's Inc. (national reps for the Rene Pierre soccer table line) enjoyed attending recent West Virginia association show, and meeting with distributors and factory brass. She's looking forward to attending her first MOA Expo this November. Peabody's will be represented with an exhibit booth. Other first-timers at the Expo this November will be the Game Tech Corp. of Philadelphia, PMC Electronics, also of Philadelphia (who are about to bow a great new video piece, by the way), PZP Associates of Connecticut (makers of soccer tables) Stan-A-Lane of Reno, Kiddierama Theatre of Davenport and Century Industries, also of Philadelphia.

CHICAGO CHATTER

The 55th annual IAAPA (Parks Show) convention will be held in Atlanta, Georgia this year, at the Marriott Hotel. Dates are November 17 through 20. In order to give members and visitors the opportunity to take in as much of the show as possible, the association has arranged for all seminars, meetings, workshops, etc. to be held on Friday, Sunday and Monday afternoons, allotting all day Saturday (17) as "exhibitors day" for everyone to fully tour the floor and see the wide range of exhibits without fear of missing any of the business sessions. In a letter to the membership, executive secretary Bob Blundred outlined the agenda and urged members to arrive a day earlier to be on hand for the three workshop sessions scheduled for Friday, November 16.

BE ON THE LOOKOUT FOR a brand new video game from Midway Mfg. Co. called "Asteroid!" It has to do with space ships gliding through a field of meteors. Sample shipments are going out this week, so the trade will see it on display at Midway distrib showrooms very soon. Midway is also preparing to sample ship "Winner IV"—another exciting new piece to watch for! . . . As for the "Sportsman" gun—Larry Berke says it's selling like crazy!

EMPIRE DIST-CHICAGO is a very busy place! Gil Kitt, Joe Robbins, Jack Burns, et al are constantly on the phone but we did manage to get through to Jack, even if for a brief minute or two. "What's selling," we said . . . "Everything!" he said! . . . and that just about sizes up the situation! Also made a quick call to Empire's new branch office in Indianapolis, which is headed up by Joe Patterson. He was telling us they are operating out of temporary facilities until their permanent headquarters are available sometime around November 15. If all goes well, Joe hopes to be completely settled in the new space by early December.

CHICOIN'S EXPORT MANAGER Bob Sherwood is tending to details for the upcoming IMA Show in Dusseldorf, Germany, October 15, 16 and 17. ChiCoin will display its current lineup of equipment at the show and—from what Bob intimated—a "surprise or two!" He will be covering the entire show and will remain overseas on an extended 3-week trip to visit the factory's various overseas representatives. Bon voyage, Bob . . . On the home front: all ChiCoin distributors (world wide) are presently participating in a big factory-sponsored contest where-by those distributors who make their quotas for September and October will be the guests of ChiCoin at the Riviera Hotel in Las Vegas on November 11, 12 and 13. Chuck Arnold said there'll be cocktail parties, dinner parties, shows to see, and all sorts of fun activities planned—so it should be a swingin' three days for the winners!

MILWAUKEE MENTIONS

It is unfortunate that Milwaukee Coin Machine Operators Association president Arnold Jost, because of a recent heart attack, was unable to attend the association's meeting earlier this month. He is recuperating at home, however, and we would like to extend wishes for a speedy recovery from all of his friends in the industry.

EMPIRE DIST. IN GREEN BAY recently added about 2800 square feet of warehouse and display space to its Main Blvd. quarters—and they're already utilizing every inch of it, according to Bob Rondeau. The addition was just completed a couple of weeks ago. "We're doing extremely well with the Rock-Ola 452 model phonograph," Bob said, "and games, especially Allied's Tennis Tourney, are still very much in the fore." Bob also mentioned that with the reopening of schools there's a big demand for Cornelius cold drink machines.

MUCHO ACTIVITY AT Wurlitzer Dist. Corp.! Paul Jacobs was pretty much glued to the office last week while sales reps Mike Kollross and Gabe Tawil were on the road covering their respective territories. Paul said he's selling a lot of Wurlitzer "Cabaret" phonographs these days, and the demand for video games hasn't let up at all—they've still very big sellers for him!

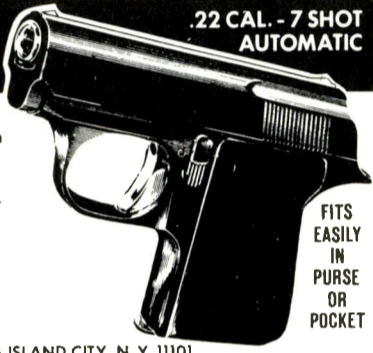

CLINT AND MARIE PIERCE are back at their Pierce Music premises in Brodhead following a trip to Eau Claire for a County meeting. Both regretted having to miss the ICMA meeting in Lake Geneva because of a heavy September schedule.

CALIFORNIA CLIPPINGS

Atari now shipping bulk deliveries of their new 'Pong Doubles' and 'Gotcha' video games, response, according to their national sales chief Pat Karns, bodes two more "Pony-styled success stories." Pat's been logging plenty of air miles visiting their distributors around the country, and has been a frequent visitor to open house affairs where the distrib's have been showing off their new phonographs. . . . Kee Games, Inc., one of the new factories in the computer-video games industry, has opened its new Santa Clara plant, according to its president Joe Keenan. Kee Games is now sample shipping its new 'Elimination' paddle type game. Engineering vice president Steve Bristow (formerly of Atari) says he has more video prototypes in the test area and that holography is just around the corner. . . . We're all thrilled to learn the Washington State guys have formed a state association. President is Al March of Hart Novelty (Bellingham). Next meeting is scheduled for October 13th in Yakima (see separate story on the new group this issue). . . . Ray Galante at Music Vend in Seattle info's the area's operators really dig new Seeburg jukes recently intro'd at their Westward Ho affair. . . .
