On Having The Most Performed Song

While there were many awards given out the other night to the top BMI writers and publishers for 1976, no award is more gratifying than to have the most performed song of the year. And this past year, that award went to the Larry Williams song "Let Your Love Flow." First off, congratulations to Williams, Loaves and Fishes Music — the publisher, Davis Rosner, and everyone connected with the song's worldwide success.

The song was by any definition a big hit. It was number one on the Cash Box singles chart on May 1, 1976, and was on the chart for 21 weeks. Worldwide, it was number one in Germany for four weeks, and was in the Cash Box International Best Sellers chart in many other countries as well. Presently there are 71 separate versions of the song worldwide.

The record industry tends to regard songwriters and music publishers as stepchildren in many ways. We are more interested in the performer, the artist and the record manufacturer's sales than we sometimes are in the actual creator of a hit song. And oftentimes, as in the copyright dispute, the music publisher and record manufacturer wind up on separate sides of the issue.

Similarly, much of the public credit for "Let Your Love Flow" has in the past gone to the group and the label, as opposed to the writer and music publisher. The same is true for other situations where the performer of a number one record was not also its author.

There is a group of individuals in the music business who believe that a hit song will become a hit no matter which group performs it. They feel that more credit is due the songwriter who creates the music. And you have to agree that this viewpoint has some credibility.

We are in no way knocking the artist and manufacturer, whose praises the industry sings on a consistent basis. We just want to stop and say thank you to the creative people "behind the scenes" whose names seldom get into print. And congratulations to the entire roster of BMI award winners.

Fantasy Pulls Its Line From M.S. Dist. In All 3 Markets

by Gary Cohen

LOS ANGELES — In the first major defection from the recently expanded M.S. Distributing operation, Fantasy Records has pulled its line from Salstone in three markets where M.S. had previously distributed the label: Chicago, San Francisco and Denver.

In Denver the Fantasy/Milestone/Prestige line was given to the newly-operational Western Merchandisers independent distributing operation. News of the impending Western Merchandisers indy distributing operation was exclusively revealed in Cash Box (May 28).

In Chicago, Fantasy was given to the recently-opened Progress Records operation, headed by Joe Simone. In San Francisco the line was picked up by Pacific Record & Tape. All of the changes were effective June 14.

In analyzing the move, David Luchesi, national sales manager for Fantasy, said,

"M.S. lacked territorial leadership. We had M.S. in Denver, San Francisco and Chicago and the main leadership came out of Chicago. Individual leadership in Denver and San Francisco seemed to us to be weaker than if the head distributor execs were in the various cities."

Luchesi also said Fantasy "wanted separate inventories in San Francisco and Los Angeles," where Record Merchandising is their distributor. Fantasy, he added, disliked the situation where inventories for both markets were in Los Angeles, where M.S. also has its warehouse.

Luchesi added, "If you ask me if I was happy with my relationship with M.S. on a day-to-day basis my answer would be no."

Steve Marmaduke of Western Merchandisers explained that "Fantasy called Bob Krug in Denver and said, 'We're pulling the line from M.S. and would you be interested in carrying it.'" Initially, Marmaduke ad-

Ad Lineage Up, Due To Holiday Promotions; Sears Leads Way With New Rack Support

by Mark Mehler

NEW YORK — Record ad lineage increased noticeably this week over last, due primarily to such general merchandisers as J.C. Penney and Sears gearing up for Father's Day sales and major ad pushes on superstar LPs by Peter Frampton, Barry Manilow and the Moody Blues.

However, while lineage rose, prices continued their generally downward spiral.

Mass Merchandisers More Visible

J. C. Penney advertised, in six surveyed markets, about a dozen releases, including the latest LPs by the Climax Blues Band, Bob Marley and Jeff Beck, for $3.99-$4.29, and several higher list-priced LPs by Steve Miller, the Beatles, Helen Reddy, Parliament, the Moody Blues and Bee Gees for varying sale prices.

Sears ads were observed in Los Angeles, Detroit and Cleveland, although in the case of the latter cities, there was another reason to advertise, besides the holiday: rack jobbers were servicing recently acquired accounts. The 10 Detroit Sears units are now being racked by ABC Record and Tape Sales (Cash Box, June 18), while Sears' 11 Cleveland area stores have pacted with Lieberman Enterprises for their supply of records and tapes.

David Lieberman, president of the fast growing rack, said his company had launched a big print and radio ad campaign in Cleveland similar to that of ABC in Detroit. Like the situation in Detroit, Lieberman noted that under its former in-house rack jobber, Serec, Sears in Cleveland had not established a reputation as a record retailer. "We're just trying to get them back into the competitive market," he explained.

Toward that goal, a new pricing structure will feature about 10 front-line albums sale-priced between $3.98 and $4.98, with a heavier emphasis on high-margin cutouts and TV packages. The Cleveland market, however, with its more rigorous price competition and aggressive mass discounters like Gold Circle and Uncle Bill's, presents a distinct challenge to Lieberman.

Dennis Sinclair, manager of Lieberman's Chicago branch, who is overseeing the new Cleveland Sears operation, said all the stores had been refitted with banners, posters and in-store tapes added to the physical environment. Sinclair characterized the operation under Serec as one that was somewhat uncompetitive price-wise. Even more crucial, he noted, was the fact that the stores were unable to keep hot items in stock.

"I don't think they felt it was worth laying out that kind of money for sophisticated computer inventory control," Sinclair noted. "We're able to call on each store on a weekly basis, and that makes a big difference."

Lieberman recently opened a Cleveland warehouse, which will also aid that inventory flow.

ABC, meanwhile, was gratified by a dramatic one-week 83% sales gain at its Detroit Sears stores, which officials attributed to heavier advertising, in-store appearances by artists and deejays, and a new computerized inventory replenishment system.

Frampton Comes Alive Again

A&M this week launched its massive ad campaign on Peter Frampton's latest LP, "I'm In You." Print ads were observed in 10 urban markets, with full-page promotions in Boston, Dallas, Detroit and New York. The Dallas ad tagged 23 local retailers.

First Pickwick Strike Ends; California Walkout Continues

by Ken Terry

NEW YORK — Employees of Pickwick International's central warehouse in Minneapolis returned to work June 13 after a nine-day strike. However, the wildcat strike against Pickwick by warehousemen in Burlingame, California continued into its second week, with no relief in sight.

According to C. Charles Smith, president and chief operating officer of Pickwick, the Minneapolis workers settled for "the same thing we offered them initially." Officers of Local 638 of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters, the employees' union, were unavailable for comment. But Henry Aguirre, president of Teamsters' Local 860, which covers the employees at Pickwick's Burlingame facility, said he believed that the Minneapolis warehousemen might have settled for about 10¢ per hour less than the company had initially offered.

Meanwhile, representatives of the Burlingame strike committee, the union leadership and management delegates met with a federal mediator on June 15. According to Aguirre, Pickwick made some concessions on holidays and other fringe benefits. Nevertheless, the strikers, who want higher wages, voted to continue the strike on the following day.

Smith declared that the company intends to stand by its original wage offer to the Burlingame workers. However, Aguirre suggested that Pickwick might change its mind. "The company told me they're going to have to stand fast for two or three weeks and then see what happens. In the meantime, I told them, if you have any ideas as far as the money goes, let me know. And he (Smith) said he's going to discuss it with his board and maybe come back to us."

Asked if Pickwick might consider moving its Burlingame branch to a different location because of the strike, Smith replied, "Obviously, if they're out for an unreasonable period of time, that's an alternative we might have. Otherwise I wouldn't comment on it."

Earlier, Aguirre had warned the strikers that if they didn't reduce their demands, Pickwick might pull out of the area (Cash Box, June 18). A number of other firms have already done so because of the unusually high cost of labor in the region.

The major reason why the workers struck was that most other members of the warehousemen's local make approximately $7.00 per hour. The Pickwick employees are paid an average of about $5.00 per hour.

New Retail Operation Opens Outside Atlanta; Jimmy's Link Denied

by Mark Mehler

ATLANTA, GA. — A new chain of specialty catalog mail stores, Turtle Records, will be expanding rapidly over the coming weeks in suburban DeKalb County, in Georgia, about 20 miles outside of Atlanta.

The opening of the first store in Smyrna last Monday prompted heavy speculation that Jimmy's Music World was moving into the Atlanta metropolitan market, due to the involvement of Al Levinson with Turtle. Levinson is the national sales manager of Sutton Distributors, which owns Jimmy's.

However, according to Joe Martin, buyer and coordinator of the week-old retailer, Turtle is 100% owned by Sauls Inc., a nine-unit Atlanta department store chain owned by Milton Saul. Levinson is Saul's nephew, Martin said, and aided his uncle in setting up the new enterprise. "Our only connection to Sutton Distributors will be that they will supply us with cutouts," Martin explained. "We're a subsidiary of Saul's."

Opening 2 More

"We'll be opening our second and third stores in DeKalb County in the next two weeks," he added. "All the Turtle stores will be identical (in layout, pricing, and inventory) . . . they'll each carry about 3,500 titles, with a sale price of $3.99 (on $6.98 merchandise) and regular shelf prices of a dollar above that." Martin stressed that the stores would not go below that price, even on grand opening specials.

He noted, however, that a major similarity between Turtle and the lowball Jimmy's operation in New York would be a heavy emphasis on cutout product. "We'll be carrying about 660 cutout titles. They'll fill up a whole wall. It'll look a lot like a Jimmy's store."

Frampton ads also appeared in Baltimore, Cleveland, Los Angeles, Philadelphia and Washington, at prices ranging from $3.99 (in New York and Philadelphia) to $4.99. The album debuted at #9 with a bullet on the Cash Box Top 200 Albums chart.

More Low Prices

Unusually low prices were found this week at Korvettes in New York, which advertised a $3.88 sale on all WEA, Capitol, ABC and Buddah $7.98 list product (in addition to their $6.98 product). This is the lowest multi-label $7.98 sale price observed in the first year of the Retail Price Survey. Currently there are three $7.98 list releases on those labels in the top five of the Cash Box Album chart: "Rumours" by Fleetwood Mac at #1; "Book of Drums" by

Casablanca Sets 1-Month Record With May Sales

LOS ANGELES — May sales for Casablanca Record and FilmWorks exceeded $5.8 million, according to Neil Bogart, president of the company. It is the highest figure posted by the company in one month.

Bogart attributed the successful month to strong catalog sales and initially favorable reaction to Casablanca's recent "Spring into Summer" release. The label is requesting gold certification for Donna Summer's "I Remember Yesterday" album and Parliament's two-record set "Parliament Live."

Bogart also stated, "Initial orders on the new Kiss LP, 'Love Gun,' are over one million units." The company's president said Casablanca's sales were running 44% above the figures for last year at this time and predicted June's sales would surpass the new one-month sales high set in May. The previous record for sales in a single month was set in November 1976, with sales of $4.6 million.

Biggest Black Music Tour Ever Revives After Losing Promoter Plus The Isley Bros.

by Phil DiMauro

NEW YORK — After two successful stadium dates, the loss of one promoter and the departure of one major act, the biggest black music tour in history has regrouped for a new beginning starting the middle of July. Perry Jones Productions, based in Los Angeles, is the new promoter for the Funk Festival.

The concert tour's new bill includes definite commitments from Parliament-/Funkadelic, Rufus featuring Chaka Khan, Bootsy's Rubber Band, and Fred Wesley And The Horny Horns, with the probable addition of the Brothers Johnson, Maze and Rose Royce. The Isley Brothers, booked on the original tour, did not play the second date in Los Angeles, and left the tour entirely.

Financial difficulties forced the original promoter, E&L Productions, to drop the tour after the Los Angeles Coliseum appearance on June 4. Reports of the Isleys' reasons for leaving the tour vary from billing disputes to a question of advance payments for the forthcoming shows, but spokesmen for the artists have verified that all acts were paid in advance for the Los Angeles show.

Norman Isley, contacted in New York, stated that the Funk Festival "was not the right thing for us to do at the time." He allowed that certain problems had come up at the Los Angeles performance, but felt that they "were nothing that couldn't have been handled eventually." Isley added that the Isley Brothers would begin their own tour in July, promoted by E&L Productions.

Eugene DeWitt of E&L Productions called the Isley situation "just a big misunderstanding about how certain monies were to be dispensed." He explained that the Los Angeles date demanded an advance payment of nearly $300,000 up front for all performers. The Isley Brothers had been led to expect a payment of $40,000 in addition to their portion of the advance for the Los Angeles date, which DeWitt had been unable to meet because the Coliseum held all revenues from ticket sales back for one week.

DeWitt called the tour "one of the most viable new concepts" in live entertainment, and was not at all bitter to see it pass into new hands. "I'm not one to stand in the way of progress."

Any suggestions that disturbances at the first two dates of the concert had hindered the tour were discounted by management of the L.A. Coliseum and the tour's first venue, Arrowhead Stadium in Kansas City, Missouri. Russ Klein, director of promotions for the Kansas City Chiefs, which controls the stadium's bookings, said, "The crowd was exemplary. We had the largest attendance at Arrowhead Stadium, and out of 40,000 people, we may have had trouble with 50." According to Klein, the show's technical problems were the same as those encountered with most large outdoor concerts. "The biggest problem is changeover time. This show ran longer than it should have, and that, as a consequence, cost the promoters money. I think four acts is as much as should ever be on an outdoor show."

Jim Hardy, manager of the Los Angeles Coliseum, echoed Klein's sentiments, noting that "there wasn't any obstreperous behavior." Hardy also noted a certain "lack of organization, but it's a terrific show." Both dates were profitable for the stadiums in which they took place.

Peter Long of Mellow Management, based in Los Angeles, and responsible for career direction of the Brothers Johnson, indicated positive feelings about the dates and the tour. Regarding the Los Angeles date, he stated, "No problems at all. We got our money, and the date was very successful. It is a precedent-setting idea." As for the future of the tour, Long observed, "It's a large undertaking, especially financially, and you have to have a very solid and competent organization to pull it off."

Ron Strasner, head of Mellow Management and manager of Parliament-/Funkadelic, Bootsy Collins and Fred Wesley, has been the main organizer of the Funk Festival. Contacted in Los Angeles, he recognized that certain technical problems had delayed both the Los Angeles and

by Joanne Ostrow

WASHINGTON, D.C. — When the June 15 deadline for reply comments on the question of performance royalties passed last week, the Copyright Office had received some 66 comments — the lion's share from individual small or medium market radio stations — and in them, no surprises.

As reported (CB, June 18), the Copyright Office has scheduled hearings on this controversial subject, beginning July 6 in Arlington, Va., and July 26 in Beverly Hills, Calif., for three days in both locations.

There are several filings in reply to the comments reported earlier — urging creation of performance rights in the case of RIAA, BMI, the Record and Tape Association of America, the Chicago Bar Association's Patents and Trade Practices Committee and F.E.L. Publications (Fellowship of Spiritually Minded People); opposing such a royalty in the case of the NAB, ABC, the North Carolina Association of Broadcasters, a group of some 235 TV and radio licensees, and the Amusement and Music Operators Association (CB, June 11).

Additional Pro- & Con-

Twentieth Century Fox argued in favor of performance rights, saying the current over-reliance on rock superstars is not unavoidable. "A performance should be copyrightable so that owners can license its use for fair compensation. The result will be the availability of a far wider range of music, and less emphasis by virtue of less dependence on teen-age rock artists."

The AFL-CIO unions for professional employees said, "... the establishment of such a right would end an unjustified form of discrimination against the creator of sound recordings ..." and would resolve the current legal inconsistencies. "The broadcast, jukebox and background music industries ride on the backs" of performing artists, the comments said, and this should be righted. The unions undercut the broadcasters' arguments this way: "The advent of inexpensive and easy-to-operate taping equipment by individuals undermines whatever validity there may be to the broadcasters' argument of increasing record sales." (This refers to the long-standing claim by broadcasters that the promotional value of airplay, resulting in increased record sales, should leave the record companies and performers beholden to radio stations). The AFL-CIO filing suggested that ASCAP, BMI and SESAC are good models of mechanisms for monitoring the use of records, for obtaining payment and ensuring equitable distribution of payments. The unions would encourage voluntary negotiations between parties, not compulsory licensing, with the yet-to-be-appointed Copyright Royalty Tribunal acting to resolve any impasses.

Leber/Krebs Set New Record Co.; Name Top Execs

by Julian Shapiro

NEW YORK — A new record company, tentatively named Manhattan Records, has been formed by the management team of Steven Leber and David Krebs. Dennis Laventhal will be the new label's president and Noel Love, formerly general manager of Midsong International Records, has been named executive vice president and general manager.

Distribution

Contracts outlining distribution arrangements should be signed by or shortly after July 1, according to Leber. At that time, the artist roster and other operational details will be announced. Currently, Leber and Krebs are negotiating with Columbia for distribution through CBS.

"We have it in the works," commented Leber, regarding plans for the upcoming formal announcement. "It will be a very dynamic label, very big and very, very important. It will be a new step and we're going to tie everything into it."

Currently, Leber-Krebs, Inc. manages a number of acts, including Aerosmith, Ted Nugent, Artful Dodger, Mahogany Rush and Walter Egan. All their acts are signed to CBS labels, either Columbia or Epic. In addition, the management company is the producer of "Beatlemania," the Broadway show based on events of the 1960s and early 1970s, featuring the music of the Beatles.

Not Pilot

Earlier, it had been rumored that the new label would be called Pilot Records. Leber, however, discounted that possibility.

Throughout her eighteen years in the music business, a tremendous international following has developed around Joan Baez. Her first album for Portrait Records, "Blowin' Away," debuts on the Cash Box Top 100 Albums chart this week at number 119 with a bullet.

Baez recently completed a major date nationwide tour which culminated with her New York debut as a Portrait artist.

Baez was known in the early years of her career as a folksinger steeped in the anti-war movement and civil rights struggle. While she distinguished herself as the writer of "Daybreak" and "Blessed Are," it wasn't until her 1976 hit "Diamonds and Rust" that her talent was fully acknowledged to a mass audience in the U.S. and internationally.

Pickwick Retailing Arm Plans Quick Growth; Management Structure Has Been Revamped

by Ken Terry

NEW YORK — The Retailing Division of Pickwick International, which now has 275 units, will total 300 units within a year and will grow at an annual rate of approximately 10%, according to Scott Young, general manager of the recently consolidated division.

By the end of this summer, nine new Musicland stores will be opened in the following cities: Columbia, South Carolina; Novi, Michigan; Green Bay, Wisconsin; Roseville, Minnesota; Vancouver, Washington; Fort Worth, Texas; Montgomery, Alabama; Laredo, Texas; and Anderson, Indiana. Some unprofitable Pickwick outlets will be closed, too, but their locations have not been revealed.

Consisting of what used to be the Recco and Musicland divisions, the Retailing Division includes 175 Musicland, 39 Discount and six Auraround stores, as well as 55 leased departments. This record retailing operation, the nation's largest, accounted for 29% of Pickwick's $262 million in revenues and 10% of its $9.5 million in net income for fiscal 1976.

Regional Supervisors

The union of Pickwick's two retail organizations has required the creation of a new management structure, which was recently detailed at a conference of Pickwick's retail supervisors in Minneapolis. According to Young, the new allocation of responsibilities should promote administrative efficiency and permit a greater "localization" of merchandising plans. Additionally, he said, the reorganization will prepare the Retailing Division for its anticipated rapid growth.

Replacing the various types of supervisory positions which existed in the former retailing divisions, is a system based on 28 district and five regional supervisors. The district leaders will be responsible for all types of Pickwick outlets within their areas; the newly-appointed regional supervisors will each oversee and evaluate the operations of 50-60 units.

The regional personnel are as follows: Tom Shaughnessy, based in Atlanta; Nick Brown in Minneapolis; Tom Wiesner in Somerset, Massachusetts; Stan Denne in Chicago; and Steve Demaris in Los Angeles. They all report directly to Grover Sayro, former director of the Musicland chain, who now has operational responsibility for the entire Retailing Division.

Sayro in turn reports to Young, as does Dieter Wilkinson, divisional product manager, who used to head the Recco Division. The advertising and financial planning functions for the Retailing Division also fall within Young's responsibility.

'Fine-Tuning' Planned

With the increased efficiency of this system, Young noted, the Retailing Division will be able to refine its methods of operation. "We have been profitable, and we really don't have many problems because we have been successful. I think what has to be done is really an improvement and fine-tuning in all the areas: advertising, promotions, in-store contests and displays, and

Jimmy's Expands Promo Strategy; Adds Two Stores

NEW YORK — For the first time in many months, Jimmy's Music World in New York changed its normal $2.99 print promotion in the Daily News, advertising instead its $1.99 disco packages and $1 cutouts, along with a special "Thanks A Million" coupon.

The coupon is worth $1 off any purchase of $10 or more at any store, and is "our way of saying thanks for making Jimmy's New York's largest metropolitan record store," the ad stated.

In addition, the chain opened its 37th store in Brooklyn and its 38th on Lexington Avenue in Manhattan. The Lexington Avenue unit, the second largest in the chain with a total floor space of approximately 6,000 sq. ft., also houses Jimmy's executive offices. The chain recently opened a 10,000 sq. ft. outlet near Times Square.

90 Musicland Stores Tied To Campaign For Little River Band

NEW YORK — Flexing its muscles for the first time since it was created out of two smaller divisions, the Pickwick Retailing Division has begun working with Capitol Records on a promotional campaign to break the Little River Band.

Approximately 90 Musicland stores, one-third of Pickwick's retail units, are participating in the program. All of them lie on the route of the Australian group's current U.S. tour, and all are located in areas where LRB's last album sold especially well.

Capitol is tagging these stores in ads for LRB's new disc, "Diamantia Cocktail." It is also providing promotional kits including how the store looks, as well as in the product and getting the right product out quickly."

Some of Pickwick's store managers have reportedly complained in the past about not getting the right amounts of product when they need it. But Young claimed that this is rarely a problem. "I don't think any store manager is ever satisfied with his service. They always complain about the fill. But I had a consultant come in to do statistics, and it (the fill) was 97% accurate."

Nevertheless, Young stressed the fact that one of his prime objectives is to make the organization more responsive to local needs.

Music City Expands In Malls; Will Keep Boston Operation

by Ken Terry

NEW YORK — While Boston's price wars continue to attract national attention, New England Music City, which has two stores in the city of Boston, has been quietly expanding its operation into suburban malls ranging from Rhode Island to New Hampshire.

By the end of this week, Music City will have opened its seventh unit, in Mansfield, Connecticut (home of the University of Connecticut) and its eighth unit at the Weymouth Mall, halfway between Boston and Cape Cod. A ninth store will be inaugurated at the Manchester Mall in Manchester, New Hampshire at the end of August. Music City operates other outlets in Enfield, Connecticut; Lincoln, Rhode Island and Dedham, Massachusetts.

According to Howard Ring, owner of Music City, there is no truth in rumors that he might phase out or sell the chain's two stores in Boston (Cash Box, June 18). "I would not say that we would never close those stores. But we have no plans to close them."

Depressed Prices

Nevertheless, Ring conceded that especially since the introduction of Strawberries, a deep discounter, his Boston stores have not been as lucrative as they were several years ago. "We're doing as much business (as we were then), but we're not making anywhere near the profit, because the prices are depressed."

Currently, Ring said, "Our push is to the suburbs. We haven't opened a store in Boston in over four years. We like a place where you don't have to worry about somebody moving next to you every day."

Ring has found that, for Music City, mall stores are a much better investment than outlets located in downtown urban areas.

Of course, he added, not all mall locations pan out. "But in general, you're going to do a certain amount of business basically just because of the traffic. You don't get all the business, but if you get enough to make a decent profit, that's all that matters."

In order to compensate for high rents and other fixed costs involved in a mall operation, Ring pointed out, Music City's mall stores must charge more than its Boston units do. Thus, for example, the chain's shelf price for $6.98 list records in Boston is $5.68, whereas its suburban units charge $5.99 for the same LPs. However, this is not much of a difference compared to the range of sale prices, which are currently $3.89 in Boston and $4.99 at Music City's mall stores.

Even the Dedham Mall store, located 12 miles outside of Boston, charges higher

McKuen/RCA Lawsuit Settled Out Of Court; No Details Revealed

NEW YORK — RCA Records and Rod McKuen have settled out of court on McKuen's $20 million lawsuit charging the company with breach of contract over millions of "excess cutouts." Details of the settlement were not available at presstime.

McKuen's attorney, Lawrence Philips, and RCA officials, both declined comment pending release of a formal statement.

The suit alleged that RCA pressed extra copies of McKuen's albums that had been deleted from its catalog, as part of a special marketing program, and failed to pay McKuen his required contract royalty rate. RCA denied all McKuen's allegations. (Cash Box, April 16 and 23).

It's Working!

Here's how we're making it work for

Blue Note

For years Blue Note Records has been known as the oldest, most respected jazz label in the business. It may sound strange, but we're working to change all that.

You can still expect to find Ronnie Laws at the top of the jazz charts (Friends and Strangers is number 1 this week). But now you'll also find him up there on the pop charts.

When Noel Pointer does a showcase to support his new album, he plays the Bottom Line, or the Bijou.

It's working, because Blue Note artists no longer record for a strictly jazz audience. And Blue Note records are getting the attention they deserve in contemporary music.

So you're just as likely to hear a cut from Earl Klugh's new album on an AOR station as a jazz station.

It's working for Blue Note, because Blue Note is UA.

And we're working to make Blue Note Records a major force in every aspect of contemporary music.

Zeppelin To Headline 90,000-Seat Stadium

NEW YORK — Led Zeppelin will headline a concert in mammoth JFK Stadium in Philadelphia on August 13. Approximately 90,000 tickets will be made available at $11.50 each.

Two other acts will appear with Zeppelin, though they haven't been announced yet. The British supergroup is slated to perform a 3½-hour set on the bill that will run from noon until 6 p.m.

This is the second time this year that JFK Stadium has been utilized for rock concerts. On June 11 a show headlined by Peter Frampton drew 91,030 customers, according to a spokesman for Electric Factory Concerts, promoter at the outdoor arena. The spokesman indicated that no additional shows had been planned for JFK.

FCC Broadcast Bureau Requests Non-Public Hearings On Payola/Plugola Investigation

by Joanne Ostrow

WASHINGTON, D.C. — The FCC will meet in closed session June 22 to consider authorizing the judge in the case to hold closed-door payola/plugola hearings in the future, when he deems it appropriate.

The request for private (in camera) hearings was made by the FCC Broadcast Bureau to deal with a problem the investigators have endured throughout the five months of public hearings — namely, their access to valuable witnesses is hampered by holding proceedings in full view of the public and the press. "We've been told of a number of people," one FCC attorney said, referring to agents, promoters and performers, "who will be willing to talk in private, behind closed doors."

"We are going into some different and perhaps more sensitive areas now," Broadcast Bureau hearing division chief Charles Kelley said, adding that the focus will now move away from Washington soul station WOL(AM). Hearings on allegations of payola/plugola surrounding WOL have been in recess for a number of weeks. Kelley declined to confirm that the hearings will move to Los Angeles next (although other FCC lawyers have so stated), saying only that the investigation will take the road in the future.

Speculation Prompted Open Hearings

The payola/plugola inquiry had been conducted on and off behind closed doors since 1964, and was only opened to public scrutiny for this most recent round of hearings because, Kelley explained, there was so much speculation about WOL even before the hearings started, the FCC felt it would be advantageous to open the sessions and (through assured press coverage), bring out anyone who would be willing to testify. The advance speculation specifically referred to was a front-page Washington Post story about WOL, the station's disc jockeys and their DJ Productions concert promotion firm, and the still unsolved murder of former WOL dj "Soul Papa" Campbell.

On the first day of open hearings, February 16, local promoters William Washington and Jack Boyle (of Dimensions Unlimited and Cellar Door Productions, respectively) requested that the hearings be held privately. Judge Joseph Stirmer denied that request and the hearings proceeded, with testimony from Washington, Boyle, the WOL dj's, WOL station management and parent Sonderling Broadcasting Co. executives, a former William Morris agent, Teddy Powell (major New York concert promoter), performer Al Green and Green's manager.

(Press coverage was predictably heavy at the start, with local TV and radio cameras and microphones much in evidence in the first week, then fading abruptly. One FCC attorney complained privately a few months ago that the only attention the hearings were getting was from the pencil press — the flash had gone out of the story.)

Few members of the public took advantage of the open hearings after the first week, and even on the day Al Green took the stand there was hardly a crowd in attendance (although Green was asked for a couple of autographs in the corridor outside the hearing room).

But at this stage of the investigation, the hearings appear likely to go into in camera sessions, although it remains to be seen whether Judge Stirmer will be authorized only in specific situations or given broad powers to close the hearings as he sees fit.

Bee Gee Will Lease Record Departments In Three Ex-Masters

NEW YORK — The Modell's Shoppers World discount chain announced last week that it had acquired three Masters department stores on Long Island. Bee Gee Merchandisers, Modell's present record department lessee, will now take over leased operation of the three Masters record departments.

Three Others

The three Long Island Masters stores and three other Masters outlets (two in the New York suburbs, one in Staten Island) had previously been leased by ABC Records and Tapes. ABC, however, has already terminated 13 of its 19 leases, and plans to eventually pull out of its last six. Three of those are in Valley Fair stores and three are in Majors stores. All six are in metropolitan New York or New Jersey.

Joseph Roschetti, operations manager for Masters, said the other three former ABC-leased units will now stock only cutouts, which will be bought direct from cutout suppliers. "We're going to start out with a modest inventory, and see what happens," Roschetti said.

In addition to the citations, special engraved glass plaques were presented to Lawrence Williams, writer, and Loaves and Fishes Music Company, Inc., publisher of "Let Your Love Flow," the most performed BMI song during 1976.

Barry and Robin Gibb were the top 1976 writer-award winners, each receiving five awards. The leading publishers, also receiving five awards each, were Screen Gems-EMI Music, Inc. and Unichappell Music, Inc.

Winners of four awards in the writer category were Maurice Gibb and Neil Sedaka. Publishing companies which won four awards were Casserole Music Corp., Mighty Three Music and Unart Music Corp.

McCartney Wins 3

Paul McCartney was the sole winner of three writer awards. Seven companies, however, won three publishing awards each. They were ATV Music Corp., Flamm Music, Inc., Gentoo Music, Irving Music, Inc., MLP Communications, Inc., Neil Sedaka Music and Tree Publishing Co., Inc.

Twenty writers received citations for their achievements during 1976, including: Eric Carmer, Harry Casey, Sam Cooke, Barry DeVorzon, Richard Finch, Charles Fox, Howard Greenfield, Kenneth Gamble, Norman Gimbel, Daryl Hall, Leon Huff, Dennis Lambert, Jeff Lynne, Linda McCartney, Bob McDill, Christine McVie, John Oates, Brian Potter, Kenny St. Lewis and James Taylor.

Eleven publishers were honored with two awards each, including: ABC/Dunhill Music, Inc., Altam Music Corp., Bull Pen Music Co., CAM-USA, Inc., Country Road Music, Inc., Dawnbreaker Music, The Hudson Bay Music Company, Kags Music Corp., Sherlyn Publishing Co., Inc., Vogue Music, Inc. and Warner-Tamerlane Publishing Corp.

Citations marking previous awards were presented to eleven of the songs honored with BMI awards.

Court Upholds ASCAP In License Fee Case

NEW YORK — A federal district court judge in New York has upheld the position of the American Society of Composers, Authors and Publishers in a petition brought by a local radio committee seeking a change in license fee rates.

Judge William Conner recently signed an order requiring stations in the All-Industry Radio Music License Committee to pay fees during the ongoing court proceedings at the previous existing rates. Those rates were contained in a license agreement that expired February 28, 1977.

The radio stations had asked the court to set new license fees at the level of dollar payments made in 1976, while ASCAP sought continuation of existing rates pending final determination of a new agreement commencing March 1, 1977.

The fees payable during the proceeding, however, are subject to retroactive adjustment when the court determines a final fee schedule.

FBI Hits Flea Mart; Seizes 10,000 Tapes

NEW YORK — About 10,000 allegedly pirated tapes and two vans were seized by FBI agents in a raid on the Rogers Flea Market in Ohio. Additional tapes and equipment were later seized at the homes of the owners of the vans.

FBI officials said about 27,000 tapes were found at the home of Margaret Chrobak of New Castle, Pennsylvania, while winding and packaging equipment and a quantity of raw materials were uncovered at the residence of Richard Hammond, residing in Youngstown, Ohio.

Siegel Confirms Mushroom's Two Future Heart LPs

by Randy Lewis

LOS ANGELES — Sheldon Siegel, president of Mushroom Records, last week confirmed that the label has two unreleased albums by former Mushroom recording group Heart.

Although the group switched to Portrait Records after the success of its first album, "Dreamboat Annie," Siegel said, "We still have two Heart albums in the can. We have a live album and a studio album."

Siegel's response to rumors that one of the albums might be released as early as fall of this year was, "There is a possibility, but I am not making a commitment that we will release it then."

"We do have two albums," Siegel continued, "and, hopefully, sometime in the future I am going to be releasing them, but I definitely do not want to make a statement as to when."

The group's debut Portrait release, "Little Queen," is #7 bullet on this week's Cash Box Top 200 Album chart after five weeks, while "Dreamboat Annie," Heart's platinum album for Mushroom, is #97 bullet this week in its 65th week on the chart.

ALBUM REVIEWS

STREISAND SUPERMAN — Barbra Streisand — Columbia JC 34830 — Producer: Gary Klein — List: 7.98

Faster than a speeding ballad, more powerful than a top ten album, able to leap tall musical charts with a single sound, it's all here for Streisand fans. A thick foliage of richly arranged numbers gives way to the expansive purity of the Streisand timbre. Soft, ever-reaching songs of yearning metamorphose to energetic crescendoes. Also included are a couple of tunes written for "A Star Is Born." For aspiring supermen, AOR, MOR and pop playlists.

MY OWN WAY TO ROCK — Burton Cummings — Portrait PR 34698 — Producer: Richard Perry — List: 6.98

With his new album, Burton Cummings has fulfilled his promise of a harder rock sound than heard on his debut Portrait LP. An extremely versatile vocalist, Cummings delivers several straight-forward rock and roll tunes, including a full-speed-ahead rocker in the title tune. "Try To Find Another Man," a marvelous remake of the old Righteous Brothers song, features Cummings in a duet with himself. For top 40, AOR and some MOR playlists.

MONKEY ISLAND — Gells — Atlantic SD 19103 — Producers: The J. Geils Band — List: 7.98

A new sound and a new name (sort of) from the group previously known as The J. Geils Band, highlight this effort from a heretofore heavy metal group. In a refined but immensely tasty offering, Geils seem to be concentrating more on their musical technique than ever before. The effort will no doubt reach added listeners as AOR and top 40 programmers should give this one some attention.

NEW YORK, NEW YORK (Soundtrack) — Varied Artists — United Artists UA-LA 750-L2 — Producer: Ralph Burns — List: 11.98

While some film scores lose their flavor without the accompanying celluloid, this double album stands by itself as a fantastic trip back to be-bop jazz in the '40s. Liza Minnelli's boundless talents play a major role in the album's musical repertoire, but she is also joined by a truckload of veteran pros. Especially tasty is the sax work of Georgie Auld. A perfect period slice for jazz and varied playlists.

THE DEEP (Soundtrack) — John Barry, composer — Casablanca NBLP 7060 — Producer: John Barry — List: 8.98

The soundtrack from the Peter Benchly film contains a choice for those with divergent musical palates. For the more classically inclined, one side contains a fluid ballet based on the score. The other side contains a disco rendition of the theme, ably sung by Donna Summer. Also included on the blue vinyl deep sea version is a calypso tune by Beckett. For varied playlists.

SHUT OUT — Paul Jabara — Casablanca NBLP 7055 — Producers: Marc Paul Simon, Paul Jabara, Arthur G. Wright, Ron Dante and Stan Vincent — List: 6.98

Offering both disco-flavored and soft melodic tunes, Paul Jabara shows unusual commerciality with this Casablanca debut. Donna Summer, one of Paul's favorites, is featured on the title track, and her influence is felt on other cuts, including a bicentennial standard — disco-ized. He begins with vocals a la Neil Sedaka and follows later with an uncanny Smokey Robinson. For disco, R&B and top 40 programmers.

ENCOUNTER — Flora Purim — Milestone M-9077 — Producer: Orrin Keepnews — List: 6.98

An all-star cast which includes Ron Carter, Paul De Souza, George Duke and McCoy Tyner is a big plus on this album, with four fine cuts on each side. Purim fans will have a good time with this tight offering. A good collection from the wife of percussionist, Airto. For jazz and AOR programmers.

FORK IT OVER — The Section — Capitol ST 11656 — Producers: The Section — List: 6.98

The Section is a group of four gifted musicians who are well-known for their work with Dylan, Streisand, Carole King, James Taylor and Crosby, Stills & Nash among others. In their first album for Capitol, they utilize their rock roots to give jazz a new consistency. Never stagnant, The Section's music is lively, spirited and bound to make AOR and jazz playlists. David Crosby and James Taylor are only a few of their superb guests.

CHUNKY, NOVI & ERNIE — Chunky, Novi & Ernie — Warner Bros. BS 3030 — Producer: David Campbell — List: 6.98

The mixing of vocal and instrumental music complements both and manifests the talent of these three artists. Each song tells a real-life experience that touches the lives of everyday people. A varied assemblage of musical thoughts that should no doubt gather new listeners. With a cluster of fine musicians backing this effort, it appears to be headed for MOR and top 40 playlists.

Germany;

LIVE! AT THE STAR-CLUB IN HAMBURG, GERMANY, 1962 — The Beatles — Lingasong/Atlantic LS-2-7001 — Producer: Larry Grossberg — List: 13.98

These live recordings were made using a single microphone with a domestic tape recorder under perhaps even more adverse conditions than the Beatles' concerts at the Hollywood Bowl. Yet through the admittedly limited sound quality emerges some of the raw spirit which helped catapult the group to the unprecedented degree of success it reached only a year or two later. For collectors, fans and adventurous programmers.

Stephen Sinclair

A+ — Stephen Sinclair — United Artists LA 767G — Producer: Joe Falsa — List: 6.98

School's out with the report cards in and Sinclair easily passes the course. Foot stompin', head noddin' R&B sounds with catchy hooks will provide easy airplay. Sinclair wrote or co-wrote every song but one, and Joe Cocker and Olivia Newton-John's interest in some of these tracks proves he is in the right classroom. Catch the innovative back cover of the LP jacket. For R&B, AOR and top 40 programming.

TO LEFTY FROM WILLIE — Willie Nelson — Columbia KC 34695 — Producer: Willie Nelson — List: 5.98

TO LEFTY FROM WILLIE — Willie Nelson — Columbia KC 34695 — Producer: Willie Nelson — List: 5.98

The songs in this tribute album were songs either written by or made famous by Lefty Frizzell, who died in July 1975. Like those by other country music pioneers such as Jimmie Rodgers and Hank Williams, these are simple songs dealing with everyday concerns of common people, such as love and the fear of losing it. Nelson sings with compassion and plaintiveness without resorting to excessive mournfulness or self-pity. For country playlists.

AL JARREAU

LOOK TO THE RAINBOW — Al Jarreau — Warner Bros. WB 2BZ 3052 — Producers: Al Schmitt and Tommy LiPuma — List: 8.98

A tight four-piece backup group with Al Jarreau's voice is all one needs to hear a full, rich sound as is the case on this live recording from European concerts. Jarreau successfully synthesizes jazz, rock and blues into a distinctive blend that transcends conventional interpretations. His voice can attack or caress a song and is often described as an "instrument," clearly shown on an exceptional rendition of Paul Desmond's "Take Five." For jazz, R&B and AOR programming.

ENGELBERT HUMPERDINCK

GOLDEN LOVE SONGS — Engelbert Humperdinck — Epic E 34719 — Producer: None Listed — List: 5.98

This collection of previously released material features the prince of swooners doing what he does best — using his silky smooth voice on some of the most popular love songs written in recent years. The list of composers of these golden love songs is comprised of such diverse writers as Hal David and Burt Bacharach, Paul and Linda McCartney, John Denver, Don McLean and Kris Kristofferson. A must for MOR playlists.

THE STEELEYE SPAN STORY

THE STEELEYE SPAN STORY — ORIGINAL MASTERS — Steeleye Span — Chrysalis CH2-1136 — Producers: Sandy Robertson, Steeleye Span, Jerry Boys — List: 9.98

Don't bother to ask about the fate of folk-rock as it definitely is alive and well on this double LP from the famed British troupe of six. Weaving gentle stories with smooth lyrics, engaging harmonies and a soft rock beat, this group aims to keep alive much of Britain's historic music. With this anthology of their best-loved songs, their distinctive sound will light up MOR, and other varied playlists.

SCARLET RIVERA

SCARLET RIVERA — Scarlet Rivera — Warner Bros. BS 3060 — Producer: Jimmy Wisner — List: 6.98

Scarlet Rivera, the violinist who added so much extra texture to Bob Dylan's last studio album and joined him on the Rolling Thunder Revue, has recorded an album of songs which showcases her versatility with the instrument. She produces sounds ranging from a mournful wail to a raspy harshness to the sadly beautiful. For jazz, AOR and possibly some top 40 stations.

Buddy Rich plays and plays and plays...

BUDDY RICH PLAYS AND PLAYS AND PLAYS . . . — Buddy Rich — RCA CPL 1-2273 — Producer: Norman Schwartz — List: 7.98

The nine selections in Rich's new album take his band from laid-back blues through to some blistering, no-holds-barred be-bop. The punchy arrangements from talents such as Sammy Nestico, Don Menza and Bob Mintzer are accented by the fluid trombone solos of Rick Stepton, the Oscar Peterson-ish, rippling piano solos of Barry Klenner and the blazing tenor saxophone of Steve Marcus. A jazz programmer's delight, but top 40 programmers should take note of "Kong."

WILLIAM SHATNER LIVE

WILLIAM SHATNER LIVE — William Shatner-Lemli 00001 — Producer: Richard Canoff — List: 7.98

In an unusual double LP, William Shatner, the ever present Captain Kirk, enters a new warp factor as he puts himself on the line in a series of one man shows, recorded here. Shatner is an engaging speaker, easy to listen to, and his verbal scenes, including interpretations from Bradbury, Brecht and H.G. Wells are presented with sufficient sensitivity and care. Trekkies will enjoy the discussion of the upcoming film.

picks of the week

FOUR SEASONS (Warner/Curb 8407)

Down The Hall (3:47) (All Seasons — ASCAP) (Gaudio, Parker)

Catchy, familiar riffs dot this apartment house love story in a steady dance beat. An energetic lead vocal by drummer Jerry Polci, who did the honors on "Oh What A Night." Tight orchestration and sharp vocal and horn arrangements make this a good candidate for success at top 40 radio.

DAN FOGELBERG (Epic/Full Moon 50412)

Love Gone By (3:04) (Hickory Grove — ASCAP) (Fogelberg)

A lot of positive energy in this up-tempo cut from "Nether Lands." Piano chords push the arrangement from the bottom, while percussion and high gear slide guitar and organ add punch. With the kind of full vocal harmonies expected from Fogelberg, this is a sound candidate for AOR, top 40.

PAUL ANKA (UA 1018)

Tonight (3:05) (Paulanne — BMI) (Anka)

A steady succession of two simple piano chords provides the basis of Anka's latest single from "The Music Man" LP. Rhythmic pickups and a romantic delivery will see this played on MOR and some pop stations.

BOB MARLEY AND THE WAILERS (Island 089)

Exodus (3:59) (Bob Marley/Almo — ASCAP) (Marley)

This title track from Marley's latest album has elicited the best response from AOR radio that the premiere reggae artist ever enjoyed. The theme is political, but the music should effect a different kind of "movement of jah people" everywhere.

MIGHTY CLOUDS OF JOY (ABC12281)

Music Is My Way Of Life (3:12) (L.A./I'Hano/Traco/Screen Gems-EMI — BMI) (Booker, Allen)

A strong gospel feeling in this uplifting anthem from the group's album "Truth Is The Power." Sounds like just the right mixture of spirit and funk for a good showing on the R&B charts.

VAN MORRISON (Warner Bros. 8411)

Joyous Sound (2:48) (Warner-Tamerlane/Caledonia Soul — BMI) (Morrison)

This spiffy shuffle from "A Period Of Transition" has been one of the cuts most often played by AOR stations. Morrison relaxes with the pure sound and accent of the syllables in his vocal, while the band cooks throughout. This man was way ahead of the current vogue in cracker-jack session groups.

JOHN WILLIAMS (20th Century 2345)

Cantina Band From "Star Wars" (2:44) (Fox Fanfare — BMI) (Williams)

From the number one hit film of the year so far, this is the Dixieland jazz number played by a band of unlikely aliens in the strangest bar in the universe. Box office smashes have pulled top 40 audiences in the past. Backed with the main theme.

BLUE OYSTER CULT (Columbia 10560)

This Ain't The Summer Of Love (2:20) (Mastoid/Bad Boy — BMI) (Krugman, Bouchard, Waller)

Growling guitars churn out this realistic message with brief and pointed expression. A mood of evil created in a humorous fashion a la Alice Cooper in this single from "Agents Of Fortune."

AL GREEN (Hi/London 2324)

Love And Happiness (3:58) (Jec/Al Green — BMI) (Green, Hodges)

This single, from the recently released "Al Green's Greatest Hits, Vol. II" begins with a slow soliloquy. As the band picks up into the next verse, this record is Memphis blues all the way, from the uncluttered horn backing to Green's plaintive delivery.

DION (Warner Bros. 8406)

Young Virgin Eyes (3:00) (County Line/Skinny Zach — ASCAP) (DiMucci, Tuohy)

Threads of nostalgia are woven through the tracks of this candy-sweet single. Lots of "La-la's" and clever refrains key this in for top 40 radio, while Mr. DiMucci's vocal is always distinctive. Produced by Steve Barri and Dion.

GLEN CAMPBELL (Capitol 4445)

Sunflower (2:50) (Stonebridge — ASCAP) (Diamond)

A guitar-laden arrangement of Neil Diamond's song brings out pleasant and unexpected qualities in Campbell's voice. A record to attract pop and easy listening stations alike, culled from the album "Southern Nights," and following up the number one single of the same title.

BOOTSIE'S RUBBER BAND (Warner Bros. 8403)

Can't Stay Away (3:58) (Rubber Band — BMI) (Collins, Clinton)

In the further pursuit of his individual identity, P-Funk's bassist has come up with this single from "Ah... The Name Is Bootsy, Baby!" Lots of humorous love-rapping: "You're a total smash, baby. Pop, you're R&B, you're MOR, you're easy listening!" Already making some noise on the Cash Box charts.

JOHNNY RIVERS (Big Tree/Soul City 16094)

Swayin' To The Music (Slow Dancin') (3:38) (WB — ASCAP) (Tempchin)

The first release from a new distribution deal, this record finds Rivers covering a song written by Jack Tempchin, a man who penned a couple of hits for the Eagles. Rivers delivers the simple tune with conviction, while guitar melodies and sumptuous strings add dimension. A strong offering for middle ground pop.

QUEEN (Elektra 45412)

Long Away (3:30) (Queen/Beechwood — BMI) (Queen)

From "A Night At The Opera," this single reflects Queen's slicker side, which has generally found most favor with top 40 programmers. This gentle tune is built from endless layers of strummed guitars, showcasing the versatile Freddie Mercury's sweetest voice and the group's distinctive high register harmonies. A strong reprise ending.

THE ELUSIONS (Epic 50402)

I'd Like To Say I Love You (3:36) (Sumac — BMI, Louise Jack — ASCAP) (Mitchell, Soehner)

A ballad that improves with repeated listenings, because the vocal and string harmonies add depth to its simple progression. A bluesy lead vocal and dramatic use of brass complete this tasty choice for R&B stations.

OHIO PLAYERS (Mercury 73932)

O-H-I-O (3:07) (Play One/Unichappel — BMI) (Beck, Williams, Jones, Pierce, Middlebrooks, Satchell, Bonner)

Territorial homage is coming back into fashion, and the Players have taken the feeling one step further, utilizing their name in a chanted salute to the home state. Largely instrumental with vocal accents, this record has bizarre street sounds mixed deep within the tracks, all arranged around a varying latin/rock beat.

DAVID MATTHEWS (CTI 39)

Theme From "Star Wars" (3:22) (Fox Fanfare — BMI) (Williams)

The inevitable meteor shower of "Star Wars" cover versions begins with this danceable version from arranger David Matthews. The stately march comes off better in a syncopated beat than one might imagine. This version is spiced up with robotic vocals from the synthesizer and an especially nice guitar solo.

CASEY KELLY (Private Stock 145)

Where You Been (3:18) (Bobby Goldsboro — ASCAP, Everly and Sons — BMI) (Kelly, Everly)

The chorus is a true memory-clinger in this mixture of varied pop influences. The beat ranges from rock to disco, while the string synthesizer adds a soul feeling offset by a burning blues guitar solo. Wide airplay possibilities portend well for this record, co-written by Phil Everly.

BRUCE JOHNSTON (Columbia 10568)

Pipeline (3:47) (Regent — BMI) (Spickard, Carman)

An instrumental selection from the author of "I Write The Songs" on his debut album, "Going Public." The theme is familiar, the beat and arrangement decidedly disco, but various seaside sounds and calypso-styled guitar add an original touch.

ELLIOTT RANDALL (Kirshner/CBS 4271)

Samantha (3:12) (Don Kirshner — BMI) (Randall)

A story of search from "Elliott Randall's New York," this is a poignant story of a lost love which he sings in effective falsetto. Harps, reverberant guitars and angelic choirs of voices create an ethereal mood that will attract top 40 programmers.

GENE COTTON (ABC 12282)

Sweet Destiny (3:24) (Sorn/Lyndelane/Franston — BMI) (Hoppen, Mason)

A quick-paced number from Cotton's album "Rain On." This single's catchiness lies in the generous use of vocal harmonies, as well as a progression that leaves the listener hanging for re-entry of the chorus. Recycled riffs, but well-arranged for pop stations.

NEW YORK PORT AUTHORITY (Invictus/CBS 1283)

I Don't Want To Work Today (3:25) (Holland-Dozier-Holland — ASCAP) (Brown, Floyd, Brown)

"School's out" records are all over the place, so why not a little escape fantasy for the working man? Actually this is a serious examination of the frustrations of staying above water level: funky music with a message in the spirit of The O'Jays.

AL MARTINO (Capitol 4444)

Kentucky Mornin' (3:43) (Silver Blue — ASCAP) (Bernstein, Adams)

A stately melody grandly orchestrated for Martino, in which the country influence goes no farther than a pedal steel and a southern state. His clear delivery and wide dynamic range will see this record finding acceptance at easy listening stations, with potential crossover.

HODGES, JAMES & SMITH (London 8193)

Since I Fell For You/I'm Falling In Love (3:18) (Warner Bros. — ASCAP/EI Patricio — BMI) (Johnson/Stevenson)

This medley has already been aired on some outlets in its twelve inch version. The familiar tune is well suited to a disco rhythm, while the superimposed song by producer William Stevenson fits in quite well.

TROOPER (MCA 40738)

We're Here For A Good Time (Not A Long Time) (3:30) (Little Legend/Legendary — BMIC/BMI) (Smith, McGuire)

A happy-go-lucky philosophy embodied in this single from the album "Knock 'Em Dead Kid." A common rock progression, but tricky rhythms, arrangement touches and a strong vocal quality make this an original and persuasive pop record. Incisive production by Randy Bachman.

THE MEMPHIS HORNS (RCA 10999)

What The Funk (3:18) (Bridgewood — ASCAP) (McDonald, Shields, Abrahams, Wender)

A bit of the spirit of Sly Stone's early days is recalled by this record, with its ensemble-sung lyric line and brassy arrangement. The semi-pun in the title is not very original these days but might be a selling point.

MOMENTS (Stang/All Platinum 5073)

I Don't Wanna Go (3:25) (Unichappel/Begonia Melodies/Fedora — BMI) (Roberts, Sager)

A strong pairing of artist and song from the album "Moments With You." The smooth vocal blend creates a romantic mood, making this a programming piece geared for an initial shot at R&B airplay.

LETTA MBULU (A&M 1950)

Clouds Of Rain (Maru A Pula) (3:20) (Munjale — BMI) (Semanya)

A steadily pulsing rhythm section provides the background for this lady's wide range of vocal effects. Funky tropical rhythms and a creative use of brass, especially in the syncopated closing, keep this constantly changing in subtle ways from beginning to end.

RAMONES (Sire/ABC 746)

Sheena Is A Punk Rocker (2:45) (Taco Tunes/Bleu Disque — ASCAP) (Ramones)

This combination of grinding guitars, rock nostalgia and Anglophiliac delivery could only belong to the Ramones. From their album "Ramones Leave Home," this record is their slickest effort to date, though it still demands a certain leap of faith.

Sandy Gallin Views Crossover, Security & Mgmt. Theories

by Jeffrey Weber

LOS ANGELES — Sandy Gallin is one third of the management firm of Katz-Gallin-Cleary, whose clients in the music industry include the Greg Allman Band, the Amazing Rhythm Aces, Cher, Mac Davis, Olivia Newton-John, Donny and Marie Osmond, The Osmond Brothers, Dolly Parton, along with others. Gallin came into management after a nine-year stint with CMA (now ICM), management company with a large and diversified clientele must be concerned with attending to each client's particular needs in a fashion that will not alienate any other client. This requires a well-oiled, well-thought-out machine. When asked how his management firm handles the situation, Gallin stated, "Although we have a lot of clients now, we handle each client differently, according to his or her respective needs. For the past four years of the firm's eight-year existence, it has been the policy to sign only one new client per year. The reason is, to do an adequate job for the client, it takes about a year to get involved in somebody's head. As a manager you have to assume and anticipate what that person wants in life and what he wants creatively. No two people have the same needs. You, as a manager, must pace each person's career differently.

"One of the most important things in a management firm is creativity, the planning of the career, making the right moves at the right time, and maximizing the dollar with the least amount of effort on the part of the performer, all in an effort to sustain a career. A management firm must pay particular attention to detail and as a manager, you must be constantly available to your clients at almost any time, day or night."

The handling of personalities in a company with a large roster can often lead to certain clashes which can be a headache to management. Gallin stated that "one of the smallest problems that we have is with our clients. Very luckily, we have a very good relationship with all the clients. We put in enormous amounts of hours just to facilitate everyone's needs. When a client first comes to the office, he is very scared that, because of our other clients, he won't

Artist Viewpoints

LOS ANGELES — To find out how the artists themselves react to management, Cash Box spoke with three clients of Katz-Gallin-Cleary.

Mac Davis, Gallin's first client, has been with the management firm for eight years. When asked what he looked for in a manager, he said, "I look for a manager to be my spokesman, to be my hatchet man. He has to be tough when it is necessary and be soft when it is necessary. In addition to being enthusiastic, I want to feel comfortable knowing that when I am on the road, my problems at home are his problems. A good manager worries just as much about how I am feeling as he does about seeing how much work he can get for me."

Dolly Parton looks for a manager who "believes in what I am doing, someone who can dream as big as I can, and I look for someone who won't just talk about what they are going to do, but do it. In the past, I have had a number of problems with people who were not considerate of my plans and whose mind couldn't carry them beyond the county line. I generally look for a trusting friend, more than anything else."

Cher never really had a manager before. "I have an inborn mistrust of managers of what I have heard from other performers, so I really wasn't looking for a manager, I was really looking for a friend who knew the area. I can't imagine having anything to do with a manager who wasn't my friend first."

get the attention he wants. This is not the case as we make a point of covering every detail in an artist's career, right from the inception."

Besides taking an active role in the expansion of a client's career, a manager must be a watchdog, protecting the various interest of the artist, and shielding him from faulty business investments. "Some people may have the idea that I am difficult to get along with, but one of the reasons why that might be so is that the only thing we care about is protecting our clients. Everyone is out to chisel the client, whether it is in hiring musicians to play in a band, hiring a lighting man, or hiring a sound man. They all want to take advantage. Whether it is in hiring the people who are going to do the clothes, or dealing with the promoters, they want to get a better deal than they should. Regardless of what it is, you are dealing with many people doing different jobs for each of the clients, and most of them are out to get the very most they can get and give the very least. It is our responsibility, when taking 15% of these people's earnings, to protect them in every way. We take this aspect of management very seriously."

Also involved in the protection arm of management is the guidance and counseling concerning the myriad of business propositions and career moves that follow success. "Since most of our clients have been with us for several years, we usually have a pretty good sense of what is right and what is wrong, and what they should do or should not do. Of course, the final decision, the ultimate decision is always up to the artist. They can have something set in their mind, creatively, or business wise, and be very definite about it; if we instinctively know that the concept will not work, or is not right for the client, we will sit with them and try to show them why they should not do it. By the same token, if there is something the client is afraid to do, if they don't think they can do it, or if they believe it might be wrong to do, we will try to convince the client to give it a try. Again, the final decision is always up to the performer."

Proper Attention

Once the manager gives proper attention to his client, developing his career, protecting the artist from bad business or career moves, he, along with the artist, may decide to cross over to another musical genre in order to expand the audience. The selection of a cross-over artist is not made solely on the basis of the artist's desires. The first thing that Gallin looks for is a capable singer. Should the singer be a songwriter also, all the better. Of course, the artist must want to broaden his career and he must be capable of appealing to a broad spectrum of people. The final prerequisite is that the artist's personality must be one that will appeal to a varied audience.

The manager must then go to the label the artist is on and get them to agree that the artist should have the opportunity to do a musical statement that transcends genre boundaries. The manager, after receiving the go-ahead, must then scrutinize the ar-

EAST COASTINGS — INSTANT AIRPLAY — Southside Johnny & The Asbury Jukes with Ronnie Spector got triple exposure at their recent Bottom Line engagement in New York, which had the highest attendance of any two-night stint in the club's history, according to the owners. Because of the sellout, the Tuesday early show was broadcast over WNEW-FM in New York. At 4:15 that afternoon, however, a more unique broadcast took place. The group performed a 45-minute set that was beamed via satellite to France, where it reached the entire nation live in stereo in the early evening.

A TOUCH OF MINK — Among those down to see Mink DeVille's weekend performance at Trax in Manhattan were Paul Stanley, Crosby, Stills & Nash, Ron Wood, Robert Plant, Jimmy Page and John Bonham. Also on hand were Mick Jagger and Michelle Phillips — interesting when one considers that Mick and John Phillips had been working in the studio together earlier this year. . . . Both SSJ and Mink's performances were heavily peppered with record company employees of many labels. . . . Bryan Ferry will not play the Palladium June 24, but will appear one night only at The Bottom Line June 23.

MUSICAL CHAIRS — Ambrosia is off to Warner Bros. Records with a fat guarantee, according to reliable sources. . . . Martin Carthy (concertina) has re-joined Steeleye Span as Bob Johnson and Peter Knight depart. Also joining the group is John Kirkpatrick (melodeon). . . . Chris Copping will be playing piano with Frankie Miller, not bass as reported last week. Meanwhile, reports are flying that drummer B.J. Wilson will leave Procol Harum to make his fortune here in New York. . . . Pakalameredith is not a brand of Tibetan butter but a new duo whose first album will soon be out on Elektra. Jimmy Pakala sings and plays keyboards, while Larry Meredith vocalizes and contributes virtuoso violin. They will be joined by the full cast of Booker T. & The MG's and Little Feat keyboardist Bill Payne on the album. . . . Philip Judd (guitar) and Jonathan Chun (bass) have left New Zealand's bizarre rock ensemble Split Enz to be replaced on their respective instruments by Neil Finn (brother of lead vocalist Tim) and Nigel Griggs. Anyone who's seen Split Enz will be wondering what alternate forms of employment Judd and Chun will now be seeking.

THE REAL THING — The queen of gossip columns became a recording artist this week, not necessarily by her own choice. Murdoch's angel Farrar Fawcett-Majors recorded a side in France with vocalist Jean Paul Vignon in 1974 entitled "Toi" or "You." Never picked up by a major U.S. label, the single (on Nelson Barry Recordings) is a syrupy love song, sung in romantic French by him while she echoes in softly whispered English. Ms. Fawcett-Majors has made no comment thus far on this marketable throwaway, and her management says it would also rather disregard the matter entirely. With the present litigation over "Charlie's Angels," a seven-inch disc is the least of their worries.

REAL LAWSUITS — Teddy Pendergrass has filed a suit seeking $1,015,000 in damages from the city of Philadelphia, his hometown. After driving through a yellow light, Pendergrass was taken to headquarters, where his belongings were confiscated by police, who claimed there was a warrant for his arrest in New York. After their claim was proved untrue, Pendergrass says that they tried to send him off without returning his money in full, a situation which resulted in his being beaten and rendered unable to perform at Madison Square Garden a few days later. . . . Not So Real: Alice Cooper's former mistress Cynthia Lang claims that he violated a nine-year-old verbal agreement to support her in style for life, even after they split. Claiming to be an "unlicensed spouse," she's suing for $7.5 million in assets and damages, and $90,000 a year for support.

DISCO-MENSCH — Kraftwerk's "Trans-Europe Express" is emerging as a favorite in discos in this area, and has recently been heard on WBLS-FM's weekly disco program, midnight to 4 a.m. Sundays. Their first hit single, "Autobahn," is still generally regarded as something of a fluke, but if this keeps up, that attitude may have to change.

KUDOS — Richard Rodgers will turn 75 on June 28, and the many people who owe him so much will begin the celebration with a birthday party at the Uris Theater, where Rodgers and Hammerstein's "The King and I" is now enjoying a successful revival. Rodgers has written over one thousand songs, mostly for the legitimate stage. At this point, 42 musicals carry the credit line, "Music by Richard Rodgers."

AND MORE — RSO's Eileen Rothschild, recently named vice president of the publishing division, has been awarded the 1977 Certificate of Special Merit Award by the Print Industry of Metropolitan New York, Inc. for her outstanding contribution in the design of press kit folders. . . . Cy Coleman, composer of the Tony Award-winning show "I Love My Wife," will receive a Dea Award from the Dance Educators of America for his contributions to American musical comedy, television and the concert stage on Sunday July 10 at the Grand Ballroom of the Waldorf-Astoria.

THEY COULDN'T WORK IT OUT — George Harrison and his wife Patti were granted an uncontested divorce in London June 9, after being separated for two years. They were married in 1966.

MAKING BOOK — Jefferson Starship has booked studio time for this month at Wally Heider's in San Francisco to begin recording the group's fourth album. Meanwhile, Marty Balin has added a room to his Mill Valley home, which will be built to the scale of the Great Pyramid, which he will use for writing and meditation. The album is expected in August. . . . A group named the Moody Blues has booked three months studio time in New York.

SHORT CUTS — Captain Doby of "Starsky & Hutch" is Chico Hamilton's brother. . . . Elton John and Craig Evans are performers on the new Rocket Records single by mystery group Highway 101. . . . TK-distributed Rocky Coast Records has signed Speed Limit, formerly Katfish on Big Tree. . . . Peter Wolf of the J. Geils Band stopped in to congratulate hometown FM progressive station WCOZ on its first anniversary, and dropped off the group's new album, "Monkey Island," at the same time. . . . Paul Williams and Charlie Fox to collaborate on new songs for the film version of "Grease". . . . Writer/performer William Bell, who scored a hit earlier this year with "Tryin' To Love Two," has signed a worldwide co-publishing and administration agreement with Intersong-USA for his Bell-Kat Music catalog, which also includes the songs of his co-writer/lyricist Paul Mitchell.

POINTS WEST — STEP BY STEP is the way Kiki Dee is heading into her six-week tour scheduled to begin at the end of the month. Following a two-year recording and performing hiatus, Kiki told us, "I am getting more into what I am doing, instead of trying to 'make it.' As much as it's possible for any performer, I try to disregard the machine." With some recent and yet-to-be-aired appearances on Dinah!, Merv Griffin, Mike Douglas, Wonderama and morning interview television segments, Kiki said she is "getting closer to being more relaxed and more in control of the music side" of her career. As to her upcoming concert appearances, she said she has changed her attitude about coming on stage. "I used to think people were there not to like me. But I think they want to enjoy you; they're not really there to criticize you. People just want to be taken out of themselves." The tour will consist of stops in small clubs, on the whole. With her new album bulleted on CB's Top 200 Album chart, a newly-released single, guest spots on television shows and concerts, Kiki confided, "I think I'm going to be pretty hot after the tour and I will have a lot of things in mind for

CKLW Walkers Raise $500,000

LOS ANGELES — CKLW/AM, Windsor, Canada, coordinated eight separate "Walks For Mankind" in Michigan and Canada, resulting in 25,000 walkers raising over $500,000 for Project Mankind, a group that sends medical assistance to underdeveloped areas in both the United States and abroad. Co-chairmen for the walks were Shaun Cassidy, the Osmond Brothers, and Detroit Pistons basketball star Howard Porter.

95% of the walkers finished the walks, which were monitored by a station helicopter, mobile units and station DJ's (who also participated in the walks).

WCOL Names Four Vice Presidents

LOS ANGELES — WCOL radio in Columbus, Ohio has four new vice presidents of programming, news and public affairs, market research and music research, appointed by Dan Morris, president and general manager of the station.

Robert Gooding will be the new vp of programming, Jay Solomon is vp in charge of news and public affairs, John Lankenau is vp of market research and Bryan McIntyre becomes vp of music research.

The appointments add to the station's management team of three existing vice presidents of engineering, sales managing and an administrative vice president.

ABC Radio Pulls Network News From WTUL Tulane

by Mike Falcon

LOS ANGELES — The ABC Radio Network has pulled its Contemporary Network newscasts from WTUL/FM, the Tulane University educational station in New Orleans has been used by WTUL since April 14, 1975 on a complimentary basis. The network was also installed at commercial stations WNOE/AM & FM in New Orleans approximately 18 months ago.

A WTUL increase in power, from 10 watts to 1500 watts on September 4, 1976, is the reason behind the network move, although WTUL management thinks that programming at the non-commercial rock station has become too potent for commercial competitors in the market. Consequently, the Tulane University station thinks a WNOE complaint to ABC was motivated by ratings, rather than by actual conflict of interest, and is intended to disrupt WTUL operations.

Not Notified

WNOE station manager Eric Andersen denies that anything other than the exclusivity of an ABC contract was the reason for his complaint. "I happened to be listening to WTUL and heard them using the news that our stations use," explained Andersen, "so I called the Contemporary Network and asked then what was going on. I protested that we had an agreement, and they gave WTUL a month's notice." Andersen told Cash Box that he was not notified that another station in the New Orleans market was using the Contemporary service when he subscribed.

Previously Closed Circuit

ABC spokesmen stated that the change from a closed circuit campus station to an "open FM programmer" resulted in the WTUL service termination. According to ABC files, WTUL had previously operated as a closed circuit station. The network spokesman explained that unless there is a programming conflict with a local subscriber, no action is usually taken. The ABC source added that if the station were to go back to on-campus operation exclusively, the service could be restored.

ABC originally charged WTUL with illegal use of the service, according to station manager Mike Longman. After Longman Monster.

That's what Rita Coolidge has right now, a monster single. It's called "Higher & Higher" and it's climbing up the charts at an explosive rate. It's a Walrus

"Killer Kut." It's a Gavin "Top Tip." And it's an A&M "smash."

RITA COOLIDGE "HIGHER & HIGHER"
THE SINGLE

ON A&M RECORDS Produced by David Anderle

JAZZ ALBUM PICKS

PRIME TIME — Count Basie — Pablo 2310 797 — Producer: Norman Granz — List: 7.98

Basie has the best jazz band in the business and the third Pablo LP by the full band has any number of impressive moments. We especially like the tenor solos of Jimmy Forrest and the wry, subtle trombone of Al Grey. The rhythm section is always a joy and if drummer Butch Miles is not ideal, at least he is learning. Charts by Sam Nestico on seven originals and a nice updated "Sweet Georgia Brown". Count Basie forever!

STAIRCASE — Keith Jarrett — ECM 2-1090 — Producer: Manfred Eicher — List: 11.98

Four separate pieces by Jarrett, divided into sections, each encompassing an entire LP side. Seventy-four minutes of solo piano is not the easiest thing to digest but after all, Jarrett gave us ninety-three minutes of solo organ the last time. How much of this is jazz is difficult to say (we suspect that the artist deplors such categorization), but to Jarrett fans, and there are lots of them, it won't matter. This should be another strong performer for ECM.

MUSIC FOR PERLA — Tete Montoliu — Inner City 2021 — Producer: Nils Winther — List: 6.98

Seldom have we been so impressed with a pianist as we have been by Tete Montoliu. A blind Spaniard in his mid-40s, Montoliu is generally unknown in the U.S. but he is a world class jazz musician. This is solo piano with half the album consisting of Montoliu originals and the other half well known standards. The pianist has been featured on a number of important Inner City LPs and thus will become better known shortly. His talent demands recognition.

LIFESTYLE — John Klemmer — ABC 1007 — Producer: John Klemmer and Stephan Goldman — List: 6.98

Klemmer is a virtuoso performer on tenor sax and is capable of a variety of moods. At his best, as he is frequently here, he is an exceptional lyrical performer. The accompaniment rhythm and strings and the interaction between Klemmer and drummer Harvey Mason is especially attractive. Should be a sure jazz chart item. Expect strong across the board airplay as well.

THE MAIN MAN — Jo Jones — Pablo 2310 799 — Producer: Norman Granz — List: 7.98

A happy session, this one, with the great drummer leading such kindred souls as Roy Eldridge Sweets, Edison, Vic Dickenson and Lockjaw Davis. There are a couple of brief outings for Jones and his drums, but everyone has a chance to participate and the jazz is solid mainstream fare. More please!

SUMMIT MEETING — Elvin Jones-James Moody-Clark Terry — Vanguard 79390 — Producer: Ed Bland — List: 6.98

This was a good idea pairing the three leading artists on the Vanguard roster with two others (Bunky Green, Roland Prince) and filing the lineup out with compatible rhythm players. There is excellent Moody and Terry here and to hear Elvin booting the band with a strong shuffle (on "Jones") will be a new experience for many. Everyone has a good time here. It would be nice for other companies to pick up on this idea.

Frampton Opening In Phila.

JFK STADIUM, PHILADELPHIA — Peter Frampton displayed all the reasons for his phenomenal popularity as he successfully debuted his new act for this summer's North American tour.

From his first leap onto the stage, Frampton made clear he came to please, and interact with, his huge audience, estimated at over 100,000 people. He set the theme of the concert with the opening acoustical song, "By Your Side," a tender, pleading number with lyrics suggesting that the desires of two yearning lovers will soon be fulfilled. By the end of the concert, which closed with Frampton's new single "I'm In You," it was more than obvious that the two symbolic lovers had indeed been fulfilled.

The affair didn't take long to consummate. By the third song, "Something's Happening," the crowd was clapping along to the steady beat of the familiar rocker. In appreciation, Frampton peeled off stinging guitar licks which flew out from the frenzied energy generated by his talented band.

Yet for all his virtuoso talent on the guitar, Frampton concentrated on his role as a visual entertainer. Jumping and gyrating about on stage in his trademark gold-lame barechested jumpsuit, Frampton created a continual blur of whirling motion. Even while standing still, Frampton would wave his arms over his head and exhort the crowd to participate by clapping, and in one instance, to sing along with the well-known Frampton anthems.

The audience responded enthusiastically, and Frampton proceeded to inject a fresh exuberance into standards like "Show Me The Way" and "Do You Feel" that accentuated their upbeat and optimistic quality. Not only did the forceful rhythms from the multi-platinum "Frampton Comes Alive" album sway the crowd, but Frampton's voice managed to project a clear and sensual tone of sincerity.

Frampton's true challenge of the afternoon, however, was met and conquered by successful and well-received renditions of songs from his new "I'm In You" album, especially "Tried To Love."

Billy Joel

CARNEGIE HALL, NYC — Billy Joel is often numbered among superstars in the rough. The opening night of his sold-out three-night engagement at this hall, however, included all the trappings of full-blown stardom. A large and well-rehearsed orchestra of strings, woodwinds and brass twisted and turned through complicated arrangements with barely a hitch. Before an audience of devotees from the areas he often sings about, New York City and the Long Island suburbs, Joel could introduce many songs to cheers of delighted recognition. Many encores passed before they were satisfied enough to let him exit the stage.

Joel has always geared his writing toward a big sound, and this performance brought his music into its own in a way that club dates never could. The lavishness of "I've Loved These Days" was more sensible with a large scale orchestration, as was the big city blues feeling of one of Joel's better lyrics "New York State Of Mind." One of the flashiest numbers was "The Ballad Of Billy The Kid," in which his touring group and the full orchestra galloped and braked through complicated syncopation with pinpoint accuracy. Joel was not about to depend on the special effects, however. His own four-piece group delivered a version of "The Entertainer" that bounced with the rhythms of an acoustical guitar, while, the set's closing

Flora Purim/Clover

THE ROXY, L.A. — Flora Purim played a fast-paced wild set at the Roxy, after husband Airto Moreira led off with two up tempo numbers in which he demonstrated that the evening would be torrid and tempestuous.

Purim's style is an amalgam of numerous influences from her native Brazil, and is a form that is difficult to pigeonhole. She takes many types of music (rock, jazz, bossa nova and other Latin forms) and mixes them in her own fashion, and the result, as demonstrated in performance, is a wild brew. Although much of her recorded repertoire is soft and ballad-like, her Roxy date was entirely a collection of quick-paced tunes, save for one number.

While the fast pace did not allow her voice to surface as subtly as one might wish, she ably demonstrated an almost overwhelming ability to deal with a number of live performance crises. Trombonist Raul de Sousa was almost an hour late, and she led the new (4½ month) band through a series of selections without his part being played. When audio difficulties surfaced, she quickly quelled them. The only complaint remaining was the overly loud band itself, which frequently

Zeppelin Plays At The Garden

MADISON SQUARE GARDEN, NYC — The cheers and fireworks were deafening as Led Zeppelin's sold-out six-concert engagement got off to an explosive start here. Newer "heavy metal" rock bands have been racking up impressive attendances and grosses in recent years, but few in operation today can match the crowd impact of these nine-year veterans of the large scale concert tour.

Zeppelin's main strength is still the skill of its individual musicians, notably lead guitarist and mentor Jimmy Page. His versatility was demonstrated by facile finger-picking on the twelve-stringed electric for "The Song Remains The Same," as well as tasteful acoustic backing of Robert Plant's lead vocal on "Going To California," part of an acoustical set that included the very unusual "Battle For Evermore" from the band's third album.

John Paul Jones is a jack of all trades, playing a solid, reserved bass in addition to various keyboards, strings and bass pedals. His feature of the evening was the dreamy "No Quarter," for which he played synthesized piano in the midst of the effective dry-ice fog. The concert's major energy contributor was drummer John Bonham, who specialized in imaginative embellishment and occasional telepathic explorations of rhythmic chaos with Page.

Special lighting effects included a pyramid of green lasers surrounding a solitary Page, and directed spots which gave Plant the look of a blue elf with flaming golden hair at the outset of the three-hour set's close, "Stairway To Heaven." The show was not without its weak points, however. The sound was completely unbalanced for the first twenty minutes, creating a very disturbing distortion at high volume. Once the mix was clear, there were additional slow spots, especially lengthy, self-indulgent solos by Page and Bonham. The group sometimes seemed to be going through its paces rather than giving itself to the audience.

Led Zeppelin is bent on becoming one of the world's longest-lived rock groups. However, they conspicuously avoided older material, in even leaving out the classic "Dazed And Confused." Sticking to the current albums will keep Zeppelin fresh with the younger crowd, even at the risk of losing the "grandparents," as Plant humorously referred to us.

Weather Report

THE ROXY, L.A. — Storm warnings went out over the Sunset Strip as Weather Report began a two-night stand at the Roxy. And if the soldout opening performance proved anything, it was that the group can be just as devastating in person as on their superbly produced records.

Often as loud as any rock band, the highly charged quintet co-led by former Miles Davis sidemen Josef Zawinul and Wayne Shorter, effectively served notice that they have no intention of relinquishing their title as the premier exponents of rock-infused jazz. Concentrating on material from their last three albums, (Mysterious Traveller, Black Market and the latest, Heavy Weather), the group played a well paced hour-and-a-half set that left the audience completely mesmerized.

The music proceeds as a series of short jazz-backed themes — heightened and intensified by pauses, slyly repeated riffs, the rhythm section dropping out momentarily as the melody shifts abruptly. The underlying energy, of course, comes from rock; and the result transcends the boundaries of contemporary styles.

Zawinul's keyboards and "sizers" make Shorter's saxophones sound as if they are backed by a big band, while Jaco Pastorius' electric bass dominates a cookin' rhythm section that also includes Latin percussionists Alejandro Acuna and Manolo Badrena. The band is a veritable cornucopia of exotic sounds: African and Latin American rhythms, Middle Eastern folk melodies, American jazz and rock & roll.

Each of the players responded in spades when left alone on stage to exhibit his individual virtuosity. Wearing a red baseball cap emblazoned with a white "P," Pastorius drew the loudest ovation for his unconventional approach to the bass guitar and harmonic sleights of hand.

"Birdland," Heavy Weather's opening track and a real smoker, was an astute choice for an encore.

Z.Z. Top/Elvin Bishop

THE FORUM, L.A. — Z.Z. Top, at first glance, doesn't seem to be the type of group that makes for good listening. Guitarist Billy Gibbons and bass player Dusty Hill are not your archetypal rockers: they are not lean, or especially subtle in word or manner, and with the addition of Frank Beard on drums, they have only three members in the band. But first impressions can be deceiving, and to judge this band on some imagined ideal is to miss the point of their music.

Here is a group that is an extension of Texas-style country music, that plays its country/rock mix in a straightforward no-holds-barred manner, and speaks very effectively to a young and restless audience. While their themes are simple (you'll find no poetic pretension or highbrow hype here), they are, on the bottom line, honest. The hot hooks and high volume, coupled with a

WSM B'cast Group Reveals Top Management Changes

by Lola Scobey

NASHVILLE — E. W. (Bud) Wendell, who has served as general manager of the Grand Ole Opry and the Opryland USA amusement park here since 1974, has been named president and chief executive officer of WSM, Inc., which owns the Opry, Opryland and WSM Television and Radio.

He succeeds Irving C. Waugh, president of WSM, Inc. since 1968, who will retire December 31 after a 40-year broadcasting career. Waugh is credited with initiating the Friday Night Opry in the Opry performance schedule, the annual Opry Anniversary Celebration in October, the concept of Opryland USA and the International Country Music Fan Fair held annually in June.

It was also announced that J. Thomas Griscom, vice-president of WSM Television, has been named vice-president of broadcasting for WSM, Inc. Both promotions will take effect January 1, 1978, according to William C. Weaver, chairman of WSM, Inc., who made the announcement.

Weaver himself will be succeeded by R. L. Wagner, president of Nashville's NLT Corp. (which owns WSM, Inc.), who becomes chairman of WSM, Inc. on November 1.

Wendell, 49, will continue to manage the Grand Ole Opry and Opryland as well as the 615-room Opryland Hotel, now under construction, the announcement said.

'77 Fan Fair Week Is Capped By Record Crowds, Spending

by Lola Scobey

NASHVILLE — Fan Fair, which has more than doubled in size since its beginning six years ago, saw a new attendance record established this year as over 13,000 enthusiastic fans from the U.S. and ten foreign countries flocked to Nashville June 6-12. The previous record of 12,600 was set at last year's event.

According to Chamber of Commerce figures, the 1977 fair pumped $1.6 million into the Nashville economy, with each registrant spending an estimated $125.

Exhibitors' booths, which were crammed into the upper levels of the Municipal Auditorium for the first time this year, increased about 20% over last year — from 200 to 241. Under the sweltering outdoor lunch tent, the indefatigable Chuck Wagon Gang from Odessa, Texas served around 11,000 lunches each day.

History-Making Event

A history-making event at this year's Fan Fair was Saturday's Reunion Show, which gathered together over 200 country music pioneers. The '77 show was a tribute to legendary guitar innovator Merle Travis, and, for the first time in history, the man who taught Travis to play guitar, Mose Rager, performed on stage with Travis and Chet Atkins, the world-renowned guitarist Travis greatly influenced.

Recently retired Grand Ole Opry announcer Grant Turner emceed the 36-act Reunion Show, which was highlighted by the fiddling of spry Sid Harkreader, who appeared on the first Grand Ole Opry broadcast with Uncle Dave Macon.

The seven-act International Show, hosted by Charley Pride, was also a big crowd favorite, with the CMA's Ray Pradines declaring that several acts on the show could be "smash hits here."

Fan Fair itself, which is co-sponsored by the CMA and the Grand Ole Opry, is not a money-making venture. But amidst all the

"I am very honored to assume a presidency with such a long and distinguished background," Weaver told Cash Box, "and particularly the presidency of one of the most unique broadcasting properties in the world."

Griscom, 50, will be responsible for all radio and television broadcasting as well as Opryland Productions, and will report to Wendell.

Sources at the station have indicated that Opryland Productions, which operates a television production studio in the Grand Ole Opry house, is seeking additional business. And Griscom told Cash Box that he will be putting considerable effort into bringing more television production to Nashville. Currently, Opryland Productions' business is weighted toward providing production facilities for syndicated country music television shows.

Waugh, who succeeded Jack DeWitt as president in 1968, has not formally announced his future plans, but is expected to become involved in television production, including the creation of specials involving Nashville talent.

He began his career with WSM as a radio announcer in 1941. As an overseas correspondent for NBC radio during World War II, he became the first announcer to broadcast from Japanese soil after the invasion by U.S. forces.

free posters, pictures, flyers and autographs given away, there was a good deal of buying and selling going on in the carnival-like atmosphere. No selling of food, beverages, records or tapes is allowed from exhibitors' booths, but authorized concessionaires, who donate a percentage of their profits to Fan Fair, were doing a booming business.

At the Fan Fair Record Shop, for example, Larry Humphrey, treasurer of Music City Record Distributors, which runs the shop, said that they grossed $15,000 last year and expected to do $18-20,000 this year. The shop stocks records of every act that appears on Fan Fair, and a hot performance upstairs by even a medium-grade artist can generate sales of up to 200 pieces downstairs, Humphrey revealed.

James D. Scott, owner of Scott Sales, which runs the souvenir shop, said he expected a volume about like last year, in the neighborhood of $20,000. The hot dog and soft drink concession is run by the Municipal Auditorium.

New & Established Stars Shine During Fan Fair Shows

NASHVILLE — The major labels' shows are the mainstay of Fan Fair entertainment. As part of the week-long festivities, fans gather in concert proportions at the Municipal Auditorium, where record companies invest an estimated $20,000 to showcase new and established artists. Country Singles Reviews - Album Reviews

GLEN CAMPBELL (Capitol P-4445)

Sunflower (2:50) (Stonebridge Music — ASCAP) (Neil Diamond)

Campbell's striking rendition of this previous pop hit, written by Neil Diamond, should turn it into a country/MOR smash. The whistling adds a nice touch. And his guitar work, as usual, is superb.

TOMMY CASH (Monument 45-222)

The Cowboy And The Lady (3:15) (Clancy Music — BMI) (Peggy Russell)

Producer Don Davis has carried that famous Cash family sound into this debut release on Monument. This single and the Bobby Goldsboro record carry the same title, but the similarity ends there.

BOBBY GOLDSBORO (Epic 8-50413)

The Cowboy And The Lady (3:17) (House Of Gold Music — BMI) (B. Goldsboro)

Don't confuse this song with the Tommy Cash single which was also released this week. Both songs tell almost the same story but are written from entirely different angles. Bobby is Goldsboro all the way.

EDDIE MIDDLETON (Cleveland/Epic 8-50388)

Midnight Train To Georgia (3:15) (KECA Music — ASCAP) (J. Weatherly)

The newly-formed Cleveland International label is distributed by Epic and this is their first shot at the country market. This Jim Weatherly song is done very well and is an astute choice for a first release.

BECKY HOBBS (Tattoo JH-11026)

Someone To Watch Over Me (3:07) (New World Music Corp. — ASCAP) (I. Gershwin, G. Gershwin)

Utilizing an unusual string intro, this Gershwin tune features an exceptionally strong vocal offering by Becky Hobbs and should be picked up on by programmers immediately. "Someone" is a well-written and nicely mixed record and Hobbs' vocals, along with an excellent banjo track, will provide the necessary strength for placement in any "hard country" sweep.

HANK SNOW — Still Movin' On — RCA APL1-2400 — Producer: Chuck Glasser — List 6.98

No homogenized assembly-line country here. Instead, nifty flat picking, back slap blues rhythms and Snow's unique stylizing make for a soulful combination. "Breakfast With The Blues," "Trouble In Mind," "I've Done At Least One Thing (That Was Good In My Life)," and a revised version of "I'm Movin' On" written with Shel Silverstein are strong selections. The instrumentation has changed but Snow sings like he always has, which should gain even more converts.

LARRY BUTLER AND FRIENDS — United Artists UALA739-G — Producer: Larry Butler — List: 6.98

Larry Butler is wearing his bedroom eyes through this production of easy-listening-oriented instrumentals, which features cameo appearances by Crystal Gayle on "Somebody Loves You," Billie Jo Spears on "Blanket On The Ground," Dottie West on "When It's Just You And Me," and the Jordanares. Instrumentals numbers include a sleepy "Nashville P.M.," "Hey Won't You Play) Another Somebody Done Somebody Wrong Song," and Stanley Kramer's "High Noon (Do Not Forsake Me)."

ANITA KERR AND THE FRENCH CONNECTION — RCA APL1-2298 — Producers: Anita Kerr & Alex Brob — List: 6.98

Courting the heartstrings of those not too old to love, this is a cultural exchange album filled with easy listening French hits. The tunes are sung by a popular French group, The French Connection.

BILLIE JO SPEARS — If You Want Me — United Artists UALA748-G — Producer: Larry Butler — List: 6.98

Billy Jo is still singing like a torch carrier in the high school band. "If You Want Me," "Every Time I Sing A Love Song" and "Look Whose Man You Are" are sure to score points with heartbroken housewives in need of some pop-unfused energy. In any case, a nice effort.

RCA Video Tape Special Screened At Fan Fair Booth

by Lola Scobey

NASHVILLE — The first video tape presentation exclusively designed for, and shown at Fan Fair was screened this year in RCA's most elaborate booth to date.

Shown simultaneously on two 23-inch television screens mounted on 10-foot pillars at each end of the RCA booth, the film included footage on more than 25 RCA Nashville-based acts.

Paul Randall, manager of press and artist relations for RCA Nashville and co-producer of the film, has been collecting film clips for the 45-minute film for over a year. Randall conceived the idea about three years ago, based on the fact that "television is coming to the record business. Video discs are on the way, and soon promo men may be carrying video presentations along with records." Heavy TV exposure of RCA acts over the past two years made the film particularly feasible this year, he said.

Rare Clips

The video tape, which had material from over 70 sources and required 147 edits, was made up primarily of footage from syndicated country music television shows. It also included a rare black and white TV clip

Fan Fair Week Capped By Record Crowds, Spending

In general, according to the CMA's Helen Farmer, an attempt is made to discourage strictly commercial enterprises, especially if "someone comes along we think would take away from, rather than add to Fan Fair." Fan clubs, however, are allowed to sell anything in the likeness of, or which bears the likeness of an artist, and numerous booths were doing a brisk business in pins, plaques, belt buckles, T-shirts, rings and buttons.

Entertainment Highlights

The major label shows are always popular as fans get to flash their bulbs at their favorite stars (see accompanying story). Additional crowd pleasers this year included the following shows:

- The four-hour bluegrass show, which was headlined by Bill Monroe And The Bluegrass Boys.

- The International Fan Club Organization banquet and show, hosted by KVOO's Billy Parker and Jack Reno of WLW, which featured major acts like Loretta Lynn, Buck Owens, Joe Stampley, Gene Watson and Don Williams.

- The Independent Labels Show, hosted by WWL's Charlie Douglas, which demonstrated the strength of 17 independent labels with chart artists like Randy Barlow (Gazelle), Ruby Falls (50 States), David Houston and Red Sovine (Starday), Claude King (True), Don King (Con Brio), Bobby Lewis (RPA), Kenny Price (MRC), Jerry Wallace (BMA), Charlie McCoy and Chuck Stewart (Monument).

- The Nashville Songwriter's Show, which featured 14 major singer/songwriters, including a rare performance by John D. Loudermilk.

Capping off the week's events, registrants received free passes to Opryland, where they could attend the Grand Masters Fiddling Contest won by Rudy Meeks, who took home a $1,000 prize.

As one ecstatic Pennsylvania fan put it, "Fan Fair is so tremendous. If it weren't for my 70-year-old father who came with me, I don't think I would go to sleep at all."

Phonogram/Mercury Execs Hold 1st Seminar For New Nashville Talent

NASHVILLE — In an attempt to familiarize new artists with the inner workings of their record label as well as the music industry in general, Phonogram/Mercury Records executives met with their recently-arrived talent during the company's first artist seminar, held at the Vanderbilt Holiday Inn on June 7.

A panel of Nashville and Chicago Phonogram executives explained the functioning of their respective departments, which was followed by a question and answer session. One new artist, Lawanda Lindsey, commented: "I had always had questions about sales and royalties which I was afraid to ask. The last label I was with always gave me the runaround, but here I got good straight answers." Performer Nick Nixon agreed with this assessment, saying, "I was able to ask questions which might have been embarrassing around some of the larger artists."

Artists showed considerable interest in the problems of record availability in retail outlets, and this led to a detailed explanation of the distribution process. Royalties, the Phonogram corporate structure, returns, European sales and record promotion were also discussed.

Panelists

Phonogram executives on the panel included Charles Fach, executive vice president-general manager; Jules Abramson, senior vice president-sales; John Frisoli, executive vice president-general manager, Phonodisc; Jerry Kennedy, vice president-Nashville A&R; Jerry Gillespie-Nashville A&R; Frank Leffel, national country promotion director; Carol Forney, director, business affairs; and George Knemeyer, publicity.

Participants were given a new album-sized Phonogram brochure entitled "A Family Album." Artists attending included Cledus Maggard, Jacky Ward, Lawanda Lindsey, Reba McEntire, Joel Sonnier, Sherri Williams, Nick Nixon, Jimmie Peters, Megan, and members of Red, White and Blue(grass).

KWKH, Acquired By Empire B'casting, Will Change To A Country Format

SHREVEPORT, LA. — Great Empire Broadcasting of Wichita has assumed control of 50,000 watt radio KWKH-AM in Shreveport and the station will switch to an all-country format effective Monday, June 20. The new co-owners of the station are Mike Oatman and Mike Lynch.

The announcement came at a press conference on Thursday, June 16, when it was also announced that the chain has taken over radio KROK-FM, Shreveport. That station, however, will retain its present rock format.

In addition to its newest acquisitions, Great Empire Broadcasting operates radio stations in Wichita, Kansas; Omaha, Nebraska and Springfield, Missouri.

Commenting on the change at KWKH, Jim Hawthorne, the station's combination program-music director, told Cash Box: "This is something that KWKH should have done a long time ago. Nashville is very excited about it." Until now, the Gavin Report had listed the station as "adult contemporary."

Hawthorne further indicated that an extensive promotional campaign is currently underway, including billboard and newspaper ads and TV spots by country music personalities such as Buck Owens and Ronnie Milsap.

Stars Shine During Fan Fair Shows

joining Don Everly on "Bye, Bye Love," and host and founder Roy Acuff singing "I Saw The Light," with Newbury, Gibson and Everly harmonizing.

On Thursday afternoon, CBS's Moe Bandy put sawdust on the floor and a spark of honkytonkitus with "Hank Williams You Wrote My Life." Then new artists Faith O'Hara and Charly McClain sweetened the set for Playboy's Bobby Borchers. Jim Owen with Hank Williams' Original Drifting Cowboys followed, recreating the legend and doing an encore of "Your Cheatin' Heart" much to the audience's satisfaction. The near reverent moment was broken when Mickey Gilley took the mood across town to honky tonk city with a rocking finale.

Tennessee Pullybone Impress

That evening RCA artists Tennessee Pullybone impressed the audience with their solo potential before backing Gary Stewart through a rockin' "Where Are We Going, Your Place Or Mine," and Bobby Bare during his noteworthy set. Then an audience participation song entitled "Another Man Done Gone" took the crowd as far left as it could lean. Helen Cornelius and Jim Ed Brown followed by restoring the family image to the show in a duet beginning with "I'm A Born Believer." Dickey Lee opted for memories, opening with "Patches," and followed with hit "Angels, Roses and Rain." Surprise guests Charley Pride and Dave and Sugar kept the flashbulbs popping.

On Friday morning, Barbara Mandrell emceed the two-hour program featuring Tommy Overstreet, Narvel Felts, O.B. McClinton (who was joined by his son Drexel Shea on stage), George Hamilton IV and Don Williams. Newer artists Allen Frizzell, John Wesley Ryles, John Conlee and Randy Cornor performed a few numbers each as an introduction to fans from all over the world.

Later that afternoon, Capitol Records presented young artists Larry Ballard and Tracy Nelson, who performed "Get Down To The Truth," an upcoming duet single. Linda Hargrove, James Talley, Kenny Dale and "Cowboy's Sweetheart," Marcia Ball tried their wings and were politely received. Gene Watson tossed "Paper Roses" to outstretched hands, followed by Ray Griff, who closed the show.

The MCA show on Friday evening boasted the highest attendance, even though competing with the Grand Ole Opry time slot. Emcee Jerry Clower integrated the show with good ole boy philosophy recitations which got plenty of laughs. MCA's blend of performers was probably most at home with the audience. Writer/performers Ronnie Sessions and Geof Morgan, who became familiar through songs he's penned for Ronnie Milsap, warmed the crowd for Bill Anderson and Mary Lou Turner. However, Conway Twitty and Loretta Lynn, solo and duet, were the undisputed stars of the show.

of Jim Reeves, an excerpt from an old army recruiting tape featuring Hank Snow, excerpts from TV commercials featuring RCA artists, transitional footage shot in Nashville and a one-minute mini-feature shot in Luckenbach, Texas (locale of the Waylon Jennings/Willie Nelson hit).

Randall was pleased with fan response to the booth, and said many viewers stopped at the booth several times for 5 to 10 minute intervals.

Warner Bros. films also had an audio-visual presentation in their Fan Fair booth, featuring clips from their new summer-release movie "Outlaw Blues."

Musicland In LRB Capitol Campaign

in-store display materials, to local Pickwick branches and district supervisors. Finally, LRB will make in-store appearances at Musicland in Kansas City, St. Louis and Nashville.

For their part, the Musicland outlets are stocking larger quantities of the album than normal for an LP by a relatively new band. They are also placing the LRB displays in prominent positions.

"We're going to work them (the stores) hard, and see if we can make an album like that really come through," commented Scott Young, general manager of the Retailing Division.

'Powerful Impact'

Young noted that, as a result of combining the Musicland and Recco chains into one division, Pickwick can now run more extensive promotions than before with record manufacturers. "With 275 stores, the impact would be so powerful if we wanted to exert it that way. No one else has more than 80 stores or so."

Even the next largest chains, such as Record Bar and the Wherehouse, Young pointed out, are regional rather than national record retailers. Therefore, he said, Pickwick is in a unique position to work with record companies on certain projects.

Dennis White, national sales manager for

Capitol, made the same point with regard to the LRB campaign. "Any major retailer in the country can help us break the album. The advantage here is that we could tie in with 100 stores in a single conversation, with heavy stocking and heavy merchandising in support of the new album and in support of the tour."

"In the past, we were never able to do this with them," continued White. "We could do specific promotions together, but in the case of a brand new artist like that touring, we were never able to put it to bed as quickly as we did with this one."

Music City

prices than Music City's Boston outlets do. Fortunately for that unit, though, its customers are evidently willing to pay the extra cost. In Dedham, Ring noted, "we're right across the street from Lechmere, we're in a mall with Bradley's, and we still do a very good business."

Lowballing Hurts Business

Within Boston, Music City's competitors usually run sales at between $3.69 and $3.99, a range that includes Music City's sale price. The shelf prices at other area retail stores, however, are generally lower than Music City's. For example, the everyday LP price at Harvard Coop is $4.99; at Lechmere, it is $4.88.

Ring stated that he will continue to match his competitors' sale prices, but will not reduce his shelf price. "We don't match them on that because we feel we're the best catalog store in the city," he explained.

Eventually, though, he added, continued lowballing is bound to limit the amount of catalog which record retailers can carry. "When you're making 38% as a specialty operation on an inventory of that scope dealing in ones and twos, that's really not what you'd call a legitimate margin for a specialty store. Sam Goody, for example, can't sell all his records for $3.89 and make a profit. If Jimmy's (Music World) wants to carry 200 titles and sell them for those prices, that's another story. That kind of pricing will destroy the business, because the manufacturer will have no place to go."

'We In Black Radio Are Still Sharecropping,' says Rapper

by Joe Nazel

LOS ANGELES — "The truth shall set you free." Jack "The Rapper" Gibson said at the first session of the Family Affair Convention in Atlanta, Georgia, setting the stage for all that was to follow. "If you've got something inside you and let it stay there, you're doomed," he said, completing his remarks and introducing Joe Howard of Houston and Joe Medlin of New York, who would be moderators for the sessions.

What's On Your Mind

The opening session of "Family Affair," held June 10 at the Colony Square Hotel, was an open forum. In a heated, emotional rap session, the throng of record and radio representatives unburdened themselves as they directed their remarks to those topics and conditions which they felt were working against a fluid progression of black people in both industries.

It was quickly suggested that black radio stations, no matter what the format — R&B, progressive, jazz — play more gospel and blues records. The two musical forms were unanimously considered to be the roots, not only of all black music, but also of American music. They agreed that the two forms should be preserved and given their proper due.

Following the lead of the "What's on your mind" platform of the session, radio people proposed that product from record companies who were not supportive of black publications by way of advertising, be boycotted.

Though some agreed that the proposal had merit, others challenged the idea. Dave Clark, in special markets with TK Records after having spent 40 years in the record industry, asked, "How can a disc jockey in Greenville, Mississippi boycott anything? His hat will follow him out of that joint. How can a cat that's a promotion man with a record company walk up and say, 'They're not buying time with a black publication or with black radio stations and I'm going to tell the man that he's got to buy time.' The man will tell him to go buy some time in the welfare department."

Clark reiterated suggestions that a union of some kind be organized to provide those services sorely lacking in the black radio and record industry — job protection, insurance funds and retirement plans.

Steps Towards Organization

It was then decided that it was time to take the first step towards organization. A committee of twelve was appointed to draw up a plan for movement to be discussed at the 2nd session of Family Affair scheduled for June 11. Ed Wright, president of Global Entertainment Industries, Inc., was elected spokesman for the planning committee. Also appointed were Novella Smith, Bunky Shepard, Mel Davis, Dr. John Cashin, Jr., Margaret Nash, Delta Ashby, Buddy Lowe, Kenny Gamble, Joseph Rose, Mother Frances and George Ware.

The committee met twice before the 2nd session and out of their meetings came 4 proposals which were presented to the main body of conventioners by Ed Wright.

Those proposals were:

1) We propose a theme of unity in all levels of black music.

2) We propose that as a group we should support the National Association of Television and Radio Announcers (NATRA), Sidney Miller's Black Radio Exclusive and Annual Conference, and Jack "The Rapper" Gibson's newsletter and "Family Affair" convention with the intention of saving black music in America.

3) We propose that Novella Smith be appointed liaison person for the funneling of job information from radio and record company execs and decision makers to Black Radio Exclusive, Jack "The Rapper's" newsletter and any other concerned communications media.

4) Finally, we recommend that each of the proposals be introduced and broadened at the NATRA Convention in August.

The 4 proposals were accepted by the body of radio and record people as the first steps towards strengthening their positions in the industry and advancing the cause of black music and communications.

Ghetto Clean Up Subject Of New Phila. Int'l Album

by Joe Nazel

LOS ANGELES — Most R&B artists have roots in the major ghettos of this country and much of their music is directly attributable to those beginnings.

Philadelphia International Records in conjunction with CBS Records, companies which boast a host of R&B artists, is launching a summer-long "Let's Clean Up The Ghetto" campaign in ten major cities in this country.

The two companies have set aside a total of $50,000 in order to implement the campaign in New York, Detroit, Philadelphia, Cleveland, Newark, Chicago, Atlanta, Los Angeles, Memphis, and Washington, D.C.

The drive will begin the last week of June with the release of a "Let's Clean Up The Ghetto" album to include a single recorded by six of the label's major artists — Lou Rawls, The O'Jays, Dee Dee Sharp, Gamble, and Billy Paul. Former Philly International acts, Harold Melvin And The Blue Notes, The Three Degrees, and Philly artists The Intruders will also be included on the album.

Philly International artists will donate their time and effort in each of the ten cities to insure the success of the campaign.

One hundred percent of the net profit from the campaign will be reserved for future community development programs.

Reflections 'N Black

Hosea Wilson was terminated from his vee pee post with Twentieth Century Records June 6. "The termination letter states," Hosea said, "that I was cut loose because of a violation of the conflict of interest clause in my contract. That conflict of interest was the fact that I had made application for a California radio station. In my own mind that does not constitute a conflict of interest. The whole thing revolves around the fact that I was too intense about black artists. I wanted the same economic considerations given blacks just as they were being given to whites." Elmer Hill has replaced Wilson.

CBS Intern Program Provides 12 Students Summer Employment

NEW YORK — CBS Records is continuing its Summer Internship Program for minority students this year, providing 12 college juniors and seniors an opportunity to learn various aspects of the record business through on-the-job experience. Depending on performance, the program may lead to full time positions upon graduation.

The 12 students are currently pursuing courses of study related to the recording industry (art, music, journalism, etc.) and summer placement is based on the individual's academic and career orientation.

Interns have been placed in the A&R, finance, accounting, special products, publishing, special markets and production areas. In addition, for the first time in the three years of the program, students are eligible for internship in the regional sales branches.

Credit Info Service Schedules First Meet

NEW YORK — Credit information related to the music industry will be provided to subscribers of a new business, the Music Credit Information Bureau, with offices located at 60 E. 42nd St. in New York City.

Adam Vogel, former president of ISSCORP and the principal owner of the Music Credit Information Bureau, has scheduled a general informational meeting on June 29 at the Essex House here.

my next album. The important thing," she said, "is to keep working."

AL BUMS AND ART FORMS — The Wall Street Journal devoted a front page feature to record cover art work and its relative importance to merchandising. A survey of photographers, art directors and industry people revealed in the story that artists like Dylan or Sinatra could sell records "in a plastic bag," but album graphics do help sell LPs, especially for new artists. The future trend in record cover art? Be on the look out for "Japanese-type science-fiction graphics..." Rodan lives.

A PIECE OF THE ROCK — A particular rock on the Long Branch, New Jersey shore has served as an inspirational locale for Bruce Springsteen over the years as he went there every morning possible to write "Born To Run" and others. But recently, this territory was invaded by another rock fan, Millenium recording artist Bruce Foster, who lives near Long Branch. Ironically, the two singer-songwriters met and Foster revealed that this very rock has been his favorite writing location in the afternoons. During their meeting, they discussed the state of music and future time schedules at the beach. By the way, Springsteen is sitting on some 20 new songs from which he will choose for his next Columbia release, now that legal problems are out of the way.

ON THE ROAD — Chicago starts a 10-city tour, tied to the July release of their new album, with a date in Norfolk, Va. on June 25. They will also play the city of their namesake on June 28-29 at Chicago Stadium... Chilliwack will also perform in the Windy City on June 27 on its first tour of the U.S. among other dates between June 19-30... Don Costa, veteran producer/arranger, is showcasing his latest find, the Jackie Winslow group "Gawd," at Gazzari's in L.A. on June 22... Studio One's Backlot Nightclub in L.A. will feature Barbara Cook slated for June 21-July 3.

ON THE ROAD WITH SUCCESS — Recording star and A&M exec Herb Alpert will be honored June 22 by the Hollywood Chamber of Commerce with his own "star" on the world-renowned Walk of Fame on Hollywood Boulevard. L.A. Mayor Tom Bradley will attend the affair and proclaim the day as "Herb Alpert Day" in Los Angeles. The ceremonies and proclamation tie in to the grand opening of A&M's new 30,000 sq. ft. building adjoining the company's studio complex in Hollywood... Country Joe McDonald was made the Honorary Commodore of the Lane County, Oregon naval fleet, dedicated to saving the whales. The ceremony followed Country Joe's benefit performance at the KZEL Save the Whales Day in Eugene, Ore. Once again, it's Country Joe And The Fish... Capitol recording artist Suzanne Stevens received a Bronze Medal at the Golden Orpheus competition held in Bulgaria. Representing her native Canada in the annual international song festival, Suzanne spent two weeks prior to the contest rehearsing with the festival's 25-piece orchestra.

RECORDING COLORS — Johnny Green And The Greenmen will have a new A.V.I. album, "Seven Over From Mars," to be released in the near future, and on public appearances fans will discover their green hair... In this same color line, United Artists released ELO's "Telephone Line" in green vinyl to celebrate ELO Month in June... The soundtrack album to "The Deep" is an oceanic blue... Suzy And The Red Stripes or Paul, Linda and Denny's "Seaside Woman," is red in color, as is the latest UFO single "Too Hot To Handle," but the Brothers Johnson have gone one step further. Their single, "Strawberry Letter 23" is also red vinyl and scented for an extra olfactory sensation — the sweet smell of success.

MUSICAL NOTES — Mick Fleetwood of Fleetwood Mac has signed Bob Welch, a singer-composer-guitarist, to an exclusive personal management contract. Welch is currently at work on an album for Capitol to be released this summer... Rufus has signed with Fitzgerald-Hartley management... Buddy Miles has formed a new group and finished a new album titled "Buddy Miles' Roadrunners." Discussions with interested labels are underway... Danny Johnson and Vinny Appice, former Rick Derringer band members, have joined forces with Jay Davis, late of the Mick Ronson Band and Foreigner, to create Axis. The New York-based trio will be produced by Kenny Kerner and Richie Wise (Badfinger, Kiss, Angel) and are seeking management and label affiliations... Boz Scaggs, still cruising on the triple platinum success of his "Silk Degrees," was treated with another pleasure — a new son, Oscar Louis. His wife, Camella, timed the birth while Boz was in the midst of recording his new album... Elektra/Asylum Records has penned TCB, the music division for Image Factory, Inc., to create the lighting and stage design for their country singer Eddie Rabbitt while on his west coast tour... Columbia is releasing a four-year old Johnny Mathis song, "Ariane," as a single, due to listener and programmer inquiries. The song was co-written by Martin Charnin, currently associated with the Broadway smash, "Annie."... Pretty and popular Olivia Newton-John is to make her film debut in the film version of the play, "Grease." Olivia will star opposite John Travolta as his innocent love interest and filming is set for June 27. Incidentally, Olivia is the granddaughter of Nobel Prize-winning German physicist, Max Born, friend and co-worker of Albert Einstein... Dr. Philip Springer, well-known electronic music specialist and author of "The Switched On Synthesizer," will teach a UCLA evening extension course entitled "Electronic Music and Electronic Composers" beginning June 22... Herman Rush and Paul J. Flaherty have formed The Rush/Flaherty Agency. With offices in New York and Beverly Hills, the company will represent performers, producers, directors and writers for television, film and personal appearances... Chuck Comstock returns from Oklahoma City next week.

Shelly Weiss and Curry Tjader have joined the Creative/Professionals Department.

Stevens is the former program director at KVOL in Lafayette, Louisiana. Also former MCA Los Angeles salesman, Jay Bolton has been promoted to sales manager in Denver.

Biggest Black Music Tour Ever Revived

Kansas City shows, but he was adamant about continuing with a six-act bill. "This is a festival!" exclaimed Strasner. "It's black rock and roll on a stadium level, with the same technology involved in a Rolling Stones, Who or Led Zeppelin concert." Parliament/Funkadelic's live concert features elaborate staging and special effects.

Tentative dates set for the concert tour include July 17 in Cleveland or Charlotte; July 23 at RFK Stadium in Washington, D.C.; July 30 at Pontiac Stadium outside of

Detroit, Michigan; August 6 at the Liberty Bowl in Memphis; August 13 at Comiskey Park in Chicago; August 27 at JFK Stadium in Philadelphia; and September 5 (Labor Day) at the Houston Astrodome. Strasner is still attempting to line up dates for Louisville, Atlanta and Norfolk, in addition to the especially difficult problem of finding a New York venue. Thus far, he has encountered resistance from the stadiums in the New York area, and is contemplating a multi-date stint at Madison Square Garden. Jones, who heads the Los Angeles-based concert promotion firm, started his first production company in Denver. He was Earth, Wind & Fire's tour manager until 1974, after which he began promoting a few EW & F dates in the Los Angeles area. Since July 1976, Perry Jones Productions has promoted concerts by EWF, Commodores, Rufus and the Brothers Johnson in Los Angeles, Louisville, Cleveland, Dayton, Oakland, San Diego, St. Antone, St. Louis, Kansas City, Omaha, Minneapolis and Des Moines.

Al Bell, ICA's chairman of the board, took to the stage closing night of the Family Affair and, during the course of what was more a sermon than a speech, dramatically exhorted the 300-plus industry representatives in attendance "to come together."

"We ain't got nobody but us," Bell intoned intensely. "It's coming together time. We've got to put God first and love one another."

During the long address Bell echoed much of what had been said throughout the convention. He insisted that black execs help other blacks in the industry and make the majors see that black music is an economic force that has not reaped its just rewards.

In closing, Bell directed his remarks to Reverend Jesse Jackson of Operation PUSH and Benjamin Hooks, FCC commissioner and designated NAACP head, neither of whom were present.

In responding to Jackson's crusade against sex-oriented lyrics, Bell said, "Attack the disease, Jesse, not just one symptom, then you will aid us in saving our children and our music.

"The position Jesse Jackson is asking us to subscribe to," Bell continued, "is causing us to destroy that which he suggests we preserve... the future of our children. Their forty acres and their mule."

Bell called upon Hooks to "make a giant step in the advancement of colored people by causing the FCC to cease investigating payola practices and start investigating programming policies and hiring practices at radio stations and TV stations."

Aaron Goldmark, Industry Veteran, Dies At Age 66

LOS ANGELES — Aaron "Goldie" Goldmark, a well-known music industry veteran of more than 35 years, died June 11 at Cedars-Sinai Hospital of heart failure induced by cancer. He was 66.

A Julliard graduate, Goldmark played string bass for the Tommy Dorsey Band during WW II and later with Mitch Ayres. After his performing days, he entered the publishing field by joining Levy Music Publishing. He also served as general manager of Mo Gale Music Publishing, where he helped to discover Otis Blackwell, writer of "Don't Be Cruel," "Fever" and many other popular songs. His most recent association was with Charles Hansen Music Publications, where he was the west coast publishing representative.

Memorial services are to be held June 22 at 11:30 a.m. at the Old North Chapel, Forest Lawn in the Hollywood Hills. Donations to the American Cancer Society have been requested in lieu of flowers.

Bally To Begin Renovation Of Atlantic City Hotel, Casino

CHICAGO — Bally Manufacturing Corp. has completed its acquisition of the Marlborough-Blenheim Hotel property in Atlantic City, N.J., and the company's rebuilding program for the operation of a hotel-casino complex will get underway shortly, according to an announcement by William T. O'Donnell, president of Bally.

The entire operation will be under the direct supervision of William S. Weinberger, formerly president of Caesar's Palace in Las Vegas, who recently was named president and chief operating officer of Bally's New Jersey subsidiary.

In making the announcement, O'Donnell said the form of the transaction had been revised from that previously announced. The definitive agreement provides that the 100% Bally-owned subsidiary will acquire a long-term ground lease for the entire premises.

Bally will be responsible for the reconstruction of the hotel-casino facility. It is estimated that the cost of the project will exceed $50 million. The casino complex is expected to be in operation in late 1978 or early 1979.

The transaction is subject to the obtaining of all required regulatory approvals and licenses.

AMOA Launches Its Service School Program; Atlanta Is The First Site

CHICAGO — The first in a proposed schedule of service schools under the sponsorship of AMOA will be held in Smyrna, Georgia, a suburb of Atlanta. The program will consist of a 10-day school, held at the Sheraton Winchester Motor Inn, during the period of July 11-20, on the reading of schematics and the fundamentals of trouble shooting on flipper games, presented at an elementary level.

In selecting the subject matter for the school, AMOA took into consideration the commendations of association members. "We polled the entire membership," said the association's executive vice president Fred Granger, "and asked operators exactly what kind of school they wanted and what area of instruction would be most beneficial. The response was overwhelmingly in favor of elementary instruction on the topic of schematics."

The school will be conducted by Don Miller, who has an extensive background in service and training instruction and at one time had his own school in Denver. The cost of the course is $150 per person and the classrooms will be limited to 20 students.

AMOA president Garland Garrett has put a great deal of personal effort into organizing the first school, as Granger indicated. The association plans to sponsor an additional two or possibly three schools, either in Georgia, "for economic reasons," Granger said, or a comparable site which could provide accommodations at reasonable rates to help keep the cost down.

Gottlieb's New 'Jungle Queen' Pin Has Four Flippers

CHICAGO — D. Gottlieb and Company announced the commencement of production on its latest 4-player pinball machine called "Jungle Queen," which has among its outstanding features, four flippers on the playfield. The four flipper concept has been very successful in previous Gottlieb machines, but on this particular model, they are uniquely positioned one set above the other to provide exciting full board action.

Jungle Queen offers four places to score extra balls and four positions to score special. In addition, there are various combinations of drop targets and A-B-C rollovers to light the extra ball and special features. The A-B-C rollovers and the last ball light the double bonus feature, and players can score up to 199,000 points.

The model abounds in exciting playfield action and is designed to enhance the location as well as attract the player. The illustrations and artwork depict the jungle environment in bold, outstanding color.

Jungle Queen is convertible to add-a-ball.

'Score,' A New Video Love Machine, Is The Latest Game From Exidy, Inc.

MOUNTAIN VIEW, CA. — In a departure from the rather morbid but critically acclaimed theme of "Death Race," Exidy, Inc. turned to the romantic elements, or "the battle of the sexes," as marketing vice president Paul Jacobs describes it, in the game concept of its latest upright video machine.

The game is called "Score" and it features males chasing females and vice versa, with the object being to make contact. When this is accomplished a realistic whistle sound is emitted and a flashing heart appears on the screen. As soon as either a male or female character is caught, a replacement immediately appears on the screen.

The accumulated hearts, resulting from contact, remain on the screen as obstacles for the ensuing chase and continue flashing after the game ends in order to attract new players.

An optional feature of Score is the token dispenser which can be adjusted to dispense a token at a variety of score levels. The tokens are marked "I Win—No Cash Value" but, as Jacobs pointed out, "operators can use their own imagination as to redemptive potential." If the dispenser is not desired, it can be concealed by a cover plate which fits over it. Score comes in a bright yellow cabinet with vivid plexiglass artwork and measures 68" high, 30½ wide and 29" deep.

Atari Restaurant Combines Fast Food & Coin-Op Games

by Alan Sutton

SUNNYVALE, CA. — Atari, Inc., a manufacturer of coin-operated video games since 1972, recently expanded its operation to include the fast food business. Combining a high quality pizza restaurant with computer-animated performing characters and game rooms, the Pizza Time Theater is another leisure time innovation from the company that Pong built.

A prototype restaurant opened in San Jose, Calif. on May 16, with Mayor Jane Gray Hayes and other community leaders on hand for the festivities. In addition to sampling a wide variety of pizza and sandwiches, the dignitaries were entertained by a hilarious cast of 48-inch three-dimensional characters gesturing wildly in gilt frames above the dining area. "Chuck E. Cheese," his straight man, "Crusty" the cat, "Jasper T. Jowls," the hillbilly dog, and "The Warblettes," soul singing magpies, performed skits, jokes and songs together with "Pasqually," the Italian-opera-singing-chef. Patrons were greeted by an employee dressed as Chuck E. Cheese.

'In Pizza We Trust'

Included in the 5,000-square-foot facility are over 30 video, pinball, foosball and air hockey games set up in controlled room environments surrounding the dining area. For instance, patrons can test their skill on Breakout, Tank and Dominoes in three unique pizza game booths. All the games have been adjusted to accept either coins or special "In Pizza We Trust" tokens; and free tokens are given away with food orders and on special occasions, such as birthdays and anniversaries, to encourage game play. To preserve the atmosphere of family entertainment, controls have been established to assure that the games are limited to restaurant patrons only.

The Pizza Time Theater concept is being developed and operated by Atari's Restaurant Operating Division. In an interview with Cash Box, general manager Gene Landrum explained that the firm's entrance into the fast food market is a logical move. Noting that the eating out habits of American's have been increasing steadily year after year, he said "the projections are that by 1980, 50% of the meals will be eaten outside of the home." But, why pizza? "The demographics of who eats pizza show a high correlation to those who play games. And also, in the minds of the general public, pizza has a reputation as a fun food. We're in the leisure-time fun business, so the two products (coin-operated amusement games and prepared food) are not as diverse as you might think."

Further Refinements Necessary

Landrum stressed that further refinements are necessary before Atari can expand the project beyond the present location. "We're experimenting right now," he said. "We have 30 games in the present location and we're trying to determine the right equipment mix. Once we get all the bugs out and everything is operating correctly, then we will decide how and where to push forward."

"We took an existing facility and renovated it," Landrum continued, adding that the company plans to develop a prototype model that can be produced with an identical structure and motif around the country.

In closing, Landrum summed up Atari's commitment to its fast food division. "I'm on the Atari payroll, and they certainly aren't paying me or letting us go ahead with the cost of building this thing to open just one or even 10," he said. "The obvious intent is to create a whole chain."

NEW GAME — The latest United shuffle alley called "Cherokee" is currently being unveiled by William Electronics, Inc. The model offers the traditional 6-player action and five outstanding game choices: Regulation, Repeat Strike, Strike 90, 6th Frame and Flash. In Repeat Strike, which is the new game feature introduced in Cherokee, the scoring is regulation but players can earn an extra shot for a strike, which is signified by a flashing light on red. The new model is available for immediate delivery through Williams' distributors. The recommended pricing is one play for a quarter.

SEMINAR DOWN UNDER — Amusement Machine Distributors, Australian suppliers for Rowe International, last month inaugurated its R-81 jukebox service school in Sidney. The service schools, in the form of two-day audio-visual presentations, are being conducted by Leo Ankus and Martin Herman of AMD. During the sessions emphasis is placed on informative dialogue between student and instructor, with class size held to a minimum. Additional classes were held in Brisbane and Melbourne.

CALIFORNIA CLIPPINGS

Atari founder and chairman Nolan Bushell has once again been featured in a major magazine article on the superaffluent. First Playboy spotlighted Nolan in its June issue, and now he has been included in a Time (June 13) cover story titled "The Hot New Rich." In the Time article, Nolan traces his success back to the fact that he possesses "the obscure combination of engineering, education, knowledge of video synthesis, and background of work in an amusement park." He adds that college economics courses and "a sense of how the financial system works" also helped.

DATELINE SUNNYVALE, CA. — Home of Meadows Games, where marketing director Lila Zimler was ecstatic over domestic response to her company's new "Meadows Lanes" bowling game. She projected even greater success for the game overseas — especially in Japan, a country of avid bowlers.

JONES MUSIC'S Mel Porter reports that the Long Beach, Calif. ops have increased the size of their pinball route from 30 to 100 in the last couple of years — just another indication that, as Newsweek magazine put it recently, "Pinball Lives!" Games that are particularly in demand, according to Mel: Bally's "Capt. Fantastic," "Freedom" and "Night Rider." As for videos, he said he was having a lot of success with "Tank" by Kee and "Sea Wolf" by Midway.

PORTALE AUTOMATIC SALES executive vice president Tom Portale noted enthusiastically that the Los Angeles distrib is moving a goodly number of Irving Kaye pool tables since acquiring the famed line recently. So far, the Deluxe Apollo seems to be the most popular model, according to Tom. He also said that the firm had enjoyed a recent flurry of activity on Electra's "Flying Fortress" and Americoin's "Junkyard."

BALLY'S "Fireball" home pinball game received a major west coast boost this past weekend with an ad in the Sunday San Diego Union. All Bullock's stores in the San Diego area were offering the game for $899.

NEWS FROM DOWN UNDER: Amusement Machine Distributors of Sydney recently began a series of service schools on Rowe jukeboxes. In explaining his company's decision to inaugurate such a program, Lex Davidson, sales director, said: "Technical training is as important as insuring adequate provision of spare parts, and we feel that these service schools are a big step in the right direction." He added, "We are very pleased with the Australian industry's reaction to these free schools."

WITH THE RECENT ADDITION of manager Ray Cook, Rowe International distrib is making a bigger push in the southern California games market. That's how Rowe's Dave Jacobs sized things up during a recent telephone conversation, while also noting that company technician Gordon Winfield was busy conducting service schools on Rowe equipment.

CHICAGO CHATTER

Among new amusement machines being premiered this week are Exidy's "Score" video upright; Gottlieb's "Jungle Queen" 4-player flipper; and the United "Cherokee" shuffle alley.

BALLY'S FIELD SERVICE MANAGER Bernie Powers notes that a Bally service school on electronic pinball machines will be sponsored by Empire Dist. on Monday, June 20, at the Holiday Inn in Chicago's downtown area.

THE LOCAL AMOA office has received several calls inquiring as to whether the association plans to relocate the annual convention to a site other than the Conrad Hilton — and the answer is "no." AMOA's executive veepee Fred Granger said, "We have no intention of moving the show out of the Conrad Hilton. As a matter of fact," he added, "we have confirmed dates through 1980 and tentative dates beyond that period."

THE FINAL PRODUCTION RUN on Midway's historic "Sea Wolf" has been wrapped up at the Franklin Park factory. The game was in production from about February of '76 to June of '77 and that's quite a record. As Larry Berke pointed out, it is still among the most popular games in the industry and will no doubt rank as "one of the top earners of '77." Fantastic! At the present time, the factory is concentrating on delivering "Boot Hill" and "Double Play" and is also in the process of sample shipping its new "Road Runner" video gun game.

SAID A QUICK HELLO TO Irv Ovitz, who heads up the World Wide Dist. vending department and got the good word that vending sales are definitely on the rise and World Wide is moving a good number of machines, accessories, et al.

DURING THE RECENT CES summer show at McCormick Place, a television camera crew shot some footage at the Bally exhibit, which featured such Bally home products as the Evel Knievel and Fireball pinball machines as well as the outstanding Bally arcade home video system, for airing on the 6 O'clock News. Firm's marketing director Ross Scheer was also featured in the telecast, being interviewed by one of the newsmen and explaining the specifics of the various home products on display. The firm received additional mass media coverage at the big party hosted for special guest Evel Knievel, who was in the Bally exhibit during the convention.

EASTERN FLASHES

As seems to be the case in many areas of the country, and in many industries, a summer lull in business is being felt but it's being accepted hereabouts as an expected but temporary condition . . . By the time this column makes print, Mondial Int'l. in Springfield, N.J. will have received the new Gottlieb "Jungle Queen" 4-player pingame, which the distrib's Tony Yula is very enthusiastic about. "Test reports have been super," he said, adding that he expects the model to be a very big seller for him . . . Sol Lipkin plans to be on hand at the upcoming No. Carolina state group meeting August 5-7 in Charlotte, to host an exhibit of American Shuffleboard equipment. Firm's presently occupied with volume orders for shuffleboards, as Sol mentioned, and daily inquiries about forming leagues and holding shuffleboard tournaments. Based on present momentum, Sol anticipates a "solid summer and a big fall season." . . . Prominently on display at Bilotta Dist. in Newark, N.J. is the newly arrived "30's" single player version of the highly successful Playmatic "Speakeasy" pinball machine — and "it's a winner," according to Pat Bilotta. Expected very shortly is a new supply of Wurlitzer phonos, currently enroute from Germany . . . At press time the Westchester Ops Guild meeting was being held, a high point of which would be an election of officers. More details later . . . Atari's Howard Rubin, who is in charge of east coast operations for the company, was a visitor at Coin Machine Distributors Inc. (Peekskill) to spend some time with Al Kress. Their conversation, as Al told us, focused on the high earnings capability of the "Atarians" pinball machine. Al also noted that work is just about completed on the distrib's new parts room which is being outfitted with all of the necessary customer conveniences, including a direct parts and service telephone line.

STATE ASSOCIATION NEWS

Other officers are: Mel Perlman and Don Van Brackel, vice presidents; Jim Hayes, secretary; and Ed Elum, treasurer. In his presidential report to the membership, Hopkins restated the association's intention to accelerate its efforts in the legislative arena, where significant gains have been made in the campaign to "remove the gambling stigma from replay." To strengthen its position OMMA has retained a chief lobbyist to work with the state group's legal counsel and is hopeful that a legislative proposal will be introduced in the not too distant future . . . The Colorado Coin Industries state group is considering the possibility of expanding the scope of their annual meeting to include an equipment exhibit, which would necessitate the relocation of their convention site to the Denver area. A definite decision was to be made at the group's June '77 meeting . . . Amusement/Music Operators of Tennessee will be holding a board meeting on June 23 to re-schedule their recently postponed annual convention. Reflections 'N Black

Alan Lott is no longer with Buddah Records in New York.

The Spinners, Atlantic recording group, is back in the States after a whirlwind tour of England and Japan. The tour was further highlighted by the group's taping of two local shows in Amsterdam, "Top Pop" and "Disco Circus." The group then flew to Tokyo, where they were warmly greeted by 500 sign-carrying fans. They are now headlining George Wein's series of summer festivals. They will be taking time out, during their appearance at the Greek Theatre in Los Angeles, to award a medical scholarship from their Educational Fund, through UCLA's College of Medicine July 8.

Eleanor Laskey and Anthony Rhodes, vocal/piano duo from San Diego, took top honors in the Soul Search competition co-sponsored by Jos. Schlitz Brewing Company and KGFJ in Los Angeles. Along with the $1,000 cash prize, Laskey and Rhodes will receive an all-expense-paid trip to New York to make a paid appearance at the Newport Jazz Festival. Wayne Anthony (vocal/instrumental group) took second place and $500; Lake Of Love (vocal/instrumental group) came in third and received $300; Jerry Mitchell And The Rhythm Track Band (vocal/instrumental group) were fourth place winners of $200; and Harry Shaw (vocalist) came in fifth and received $100.

Train Robbers has a new single, "Tricky Dick," being released by Saint Simon Records, a division of Boblo Records.

Newspaper Ads Rise As Father's Day Approaches

Steve Miller at #3; and "Hotel California" by the Eagles at #4.

Korvettes has recently been in the forefront of nationwide price-cutting, running a four-week $3.99 all-label sale and advertising increasing numbers of "specials" at $2.88 (Cash Box, June 11).

In addition, Sound Warehouse in Houston advertised, over a full-page, the latest LP by Waylon Jennings for $3.39, tied to a "Father's Day sale." This is the lowest price on front-line merchandise that Cash Box has observed in that city.

Ben Morton, co-manager of Sound Warehouse's newest outlet, the only one of their three Houston stores selling the Jennings LP at $3.39, said the loss leader item was probably selling only a few cents above cost as a special deal from RCA. "We put in a large order. He (Jennings) has a good following here, and it's moving pretty well," Morton added, however, that sales on the Jennings catalog did not seem to be keeping pace with his current release.

In Boston, the four-store Stawberries chain advertised the latest LP by Supertramp for only $2.69, with the submission of a ticket stub from the group's June 12 concert at the Orpheum. The ad also featured the rest of the Supertramp catalog for the regular $3.89 sale price.

A Strawberries spokesman said the ad had sparked limited activity on the new album "Even In The Quietest Moments" and on the rest of the catalog. The new album this week is #20, while the group's second LP, "Crime Of The Century," returned to the Cash Box chart at #182.

Other retail price developments this week included major budget record promotions run by CBS and RCA in conjunction with Korvettes; and a continued two-week-old "super star" catalog campaign at Sam Goody.

Columbia and Epic advertised between six and 24 $4.98 list budget releases for $2.99 in Baltimore, Washington D.C., Detroit and Chicago. That price was cut to $2.49 in New York. Meanwhile, RCA promoted its entire budget catalog in the same five Korvettes markets at $2.99.

Ed Hines, director of national sales and artist development for Columbia, said these budget releases, rather than being candidates for the cutout bin, are still "viable merchandise" that continues to sell.

"We run promotions (on these items) regularly," Hines said. "But you'll see even more between now and Christmas." Hines explained that even at $2.49, the budget product allows a retailer like Korvettes, who is severely strapped for margin on regular goods, to make a solid profit. Since much of the $4.98 product is still fairly "hot," (including albums by Tom Jones, Engelbert Humperdinck, George Benson and Maynard Ferguson), the $2.49-$2.99 sale allows the retailer to enhance his low-price image, added Hines.

Superstar Sale

Sam Goody stores in New York and Philadelphia have instituted another special promotion (in addition to their recent "buy 'em and try 'em" campaign). This week all $6.98 list LPs by Pink Floyd, Cat Stevens, Kiss, Bad Company, Dan Fogelberg and ELP were advertised for $3.89, with $7.98 list LPs by those artists selling for $4.89.

Harry Palmer, vice president in charge of special promotions for the 27-store chain, explained that the "superstar specials" give Goody "an alternative to the all-label sale" as a means of boosting catalog volume.

Effect On Sales

"We reactivate those catalogs very strongly for this kind of promotion," Palmer said. "It's had a definite effect on sales."

Palmer reported that in the 10 Philadelphia Goody outlets, returns on the 10 "buy 'em and try 'em" specials (offering money-back guarantees after an 'auditioning' at home) were running about 30%, which he felt was a reasonable percentage on a promotion of that nature. Goody plans to select about 10 LPs each month for inclusion in that campaign.

Sandy Gallin On The Managers Role

artist's entire show, her personal appearances, even her band. If necessary, Gallin stated that these elements must be changed and coordinated to achieve a broader audience appeal. The next step according to Gallin would be to book the artist in places not generally associated with the style of music the artist was previously involved in. For example, a country artist making the expansion into pop might play the Bottom Line in New York, The Roxy in Los Angeles, or The Boarding House in San Francisco. Another avenue to explore would be to avoid placing the artist in a club where "everyone" plays, trying instead to get into a much bigger or more exciting room. Gallin believes this motivates the artist, yielding, more often than not, a better performance.

"Naturally, the final goal is to get on the pop charts. You have to do a lot of promotion on the record as well as having the label's promotion staff work on it. You may want to hire independent promotion men or marketing consultants, all in conjunction with the label. We will then do everything we possibly can to get radio play. We will send the artist on a myriad of personal appearances, tours and performances, all in an effort to reach everyone. The key is, you want to make as many people as you can aware that the artist is in town. You coordinate press, radio, print copy, and record store displays. If everything is done, the cross-over has occurred."

Flora Purim

overshadowed her words. In comparison with her vocals, these were small, but distracting, inputs.

Purim is as effective in live performance as on record, except for these minor annoyances which are not of her own making. Her voice is pure and carries both precise tone control and an almost infinite number of shadings.

Clover, a six-piece hard rocker from England, opened the show in an exciting demonstration of outstanding harmonies and well-delivered original material. Better in person than on their new record (which is still a winner), Clover seems capable of making a quick climb to headliner status. An a capella version of Sam Cooke's "Chain Gang" revealed the band to be extremely precise in exposed vocals as well as a group with a number of first-rate singers.

only once, so enjoy it and feel it... preferably in high gear.

Although their show was predominantly southern rock and roll, Z.Z. Top was effective in an occasional ballad. "It's Only Love," the title track off their "Tejas" LP, was a crowd favorite. And while the band isn't always as even in performance as they are on record, the material is hot enough to carry them through a long set with plenty left over for their inevitable encore.

Elvin Bishop opened for Z.Z. Top in a fast-paced show that was received well by the audience. The 45-minute set was too short for the crowd, so an encore was demanded. Bishop displayed a well-harmonized approach to a country-style rock sound Marmaduke added that it is 375 miles from Denver to Amarillo.

ABC Shifts To RCA For Distribution

SIDNEY — ABC Records, international division, has announced that RCA Ltd. Australia/New Zealand will manufacture and distribute all ABC/Dot catalog and new repertoire as well as material from the extensive Dot-Paramount catalogs in those territories effective July 1. The new license agreement now gives RCA manufacturing rights for all ABC-owned and affiliated labels. The Dot labels had previously been distributed in Australia/New Zealand by Festival Records, Pty.

A Depressed Economy Forces Job Cutbacks

LONDON — Grim evidence of the still depressed state of the British economy has been provided by music industry staff cutbacks in several quarters. Reorganization at Transatlantic Records, the disc subsidiary of Granada TV, has resulted in the departure of general manager Jack Boyce, marketing manager Martin Lewis, five sales representatives and one field promotion man.

Pye Records has reduced its field promotion team by three, and marketing director Clive Selwood has also left the company. Island Records has cut its sales staff by five, and Decca has trimmed its New Malden pressing plant payroll by nearly 100, representing about 10% of its total staff there. Most of those departing were part-timers or staff nearing retirement age, who advanced their retiring dates.

WEA IN BELGIUM — WEA International has established a new record company in Brussels. WEA Records S.A./N.V. in Belgium will officially begin operations on July 1, 1977. Ben Bunders, managing director of WEA Holland, will assume the added responsibilities of becoming the managing director of WEA Belgium. The new organization becomes the 13th affiliated record company in the network of WEA International. The WEA affiliate in Belgium will inaugurate its own A&R, promotional and merchandising activities. Distribution will be handled by Inelco. Pictured (l-r) are: Phil Rose, executive vice president of WEA International; Ben Bunders, managing director of WEA Benelux, and Nesuhi Ertegun, president of WEA International.

BMI Honors Phillips

LOS ANGELES — Veteran British music publisher Jimmy Phillips received a special Broadcast Music, Inc. (BMI) citation of BMI's awards dinner held June 14 at the Century Plaza Hotel, Los Angeles. At this same function, the "Afro-Disco" concept album, "It's You," by receiving artist, Daisy Dumakude, was launched. Free Album Given In Natalie Cole Promotion

LONDON — Capitol Records is giving away a free album with the first 30,000 copies of new 12-inch singles by Natalie Cole and the Sylvers. The four-track 12-inch singles go on sale on July 4, and when both records are purchased at the same time in the same store, the buyer will also receive a sampler album showcasing the best of Capitol's rhythm and blues repertoire. The sampler LP is not available separately.

The 12-inch singles will have a recommended retail price of 99 pence, and will be available in a limited edition of 30,000 copies. The album offer will only apply to this limited edition, and the LP will not be given away when the singles revert to a seven-inch format. The latter will be sold at 70 pence.

Argentinian News

BUENOS AIRES — After several months of low sales, the main recording companies have returned to a massive attack on the "promotional" LP concept, mainly by releasing one album each of them, charged with the hottest single items on their labels. The low margin on costs is not allowing the companies, this time, to indulge in a price war, and most of the effort has been put on the selection of the tunes and artists composing the LPs. RCA has "Los Consagrados," while Phonogram, through its Polydor label, is marketing "Ruidos In Spanish," Sicamerana has a new volume of its "Los M.H. Positivos" series, Microfon has launched the first album under the "Los Exitos del Amor" (Love Hits) logo and EMI is selling the second volume of a surprisingly successful mixture of romantic

Injunction Granted Against Tomita's Version Of "Planets"

LONDON — High Court action by Imogen Holst, daughter of composer Gustav Holst, has resulted in an interim injunction being granted against RCA regarding Japanese artist Tomita's electronic version of Holst's "The Planets" suite.

Justice Oliver made the injunction effective until the trial of a copyright action being brought by G & I Holst Ltd., owners of "The Planets" copyright. The injunction restrains RCA, its servants and agents from manufacturing or selling, authorizing the manufacture or selling, or otherwise infringing the copyright of "The Planets" until trial.

Produced Despite Objections

The court was told that RCA had produced 40,000 copies of the Tomita disk, plus 6,000 cassettes despite objections by

Ms. Holst. The LP charted at 47 in the UK. Justice Oliver expressed his agreement with Holst's contention that the Tomita version is one "which vulgarises and mutilates her father's work" and added that she deeply regretted that permission was given to reproduce the recording in the U.S.A. and Japan, through an oversight. The injunction did not prevent RCA from continuing to sell the Tomita album in those two territories.

G & I Holst has issued a writ against RCA claiming a permanent injunction, damages for infringement of copyright and conversion, or alternatively, an account of profits and delivery up of the offending material. It claims that no license was ever given to make an arrangement of "The Planets," to record it, make a record of it or sell it.

Kink Plans West End Season For Musical

LONDON — Ray Davies of the Kinks, currently touring the States, intends to mount his rock musical "Preservation" on the West End stage here later this year. Davies completed the work in 1973, and the Kinks toured it in America as well as presenting it for three nights at London's Royalty Theater, but their record company of the time regarded it as too esoteric for an album.

Survey Started To Test Strength Of Salsa Versus Pop

NEW YORK — Tiara Music International Productions is conducting a survey to determine as accurately as possible the trends in the musical taste of the Latin American population of the United States.

This survey reportedly will seek to clarify the confusion there is concerning the relative strength of Salsa versus pop. The survey has already been started in the area of New York, New Jersey and Connecticut. It is being monitored by Lingua Franca, a language school in New York that is also interested in the broader cultural and artistic aspects of the Spanish language.

ballads, "Romanticos de Hoy."

EMI's melodic chanter Marlo Echeverria has opened at the plush Michelangelo night club. He recently visited his home city, Mercedes, in Uruguay, and performed to a crowd of 6,000. The diskery is recording his new LP, due soon. Ricardo Kleinman, probably the most important independent record producer in this market, traveled to the United States and Europe in search of new product. Kleinman is also president of Fania Argentina, which represents the company headed by Jerry Massucci in the U.S. In Europe he'll visit England, Belgium, Holland and France, and will be back in Buenos Aires next month.

Angel Demarco, who recently bought the Vaiven label from record distributor and retailer Cesar Maris, has returned from a trip to Italy, where he contacted several labels for representation in this market. Demarco has started releasing classical music, and has also items in the regional music and pop fields.

CBS' general manager Hecio Cuomo reported to Cash Box that his diskery has obtained very strong sales with the "Teen Tops' Greatest Hits" album, recorded nearly twenty years ago by the Mexican rock and roll group that marked the start of r&r in the Latin markets in Spanish. The revival of this music is not limited to Spanish lyrics: an album by Little Richard, also marketed by CBS, is currently riding the LP charts and two other LP's, by several artists, are also selling briskly.

Jazzman Charles Mingus is the visitor of the week in Buenos Aires, and he offered a press conference on June 1 at the Hebraica. Sicomericana has recently released an album by him, included in the successful series "That's Jazz!"

Microfon artist Carlos Torres Vila is traveling to Mexico and the States to promote his recordings in these markets.

CBS' Juan Marcelo paid a visit to Chile, taping two TV programs and appearing on scene. In a few weeks he will start a tour of Peru, Ecuador, Columbia, Venezuela and Mexico, promoting his latest LP. He has also been writing the lyrics and music for a show with choreography by Oscar Aralz, to be exposed in Brazil and France.

Microfon signed a contract with Melody Records of Mexico establishing an exchange plan for the artists of both labels, which includes a 50-50 coverage of expenses caused by promotional trips to and from Mexico and Argentina. Microfon has had strong success with Mexican artists La Revolucion de Emiliano Zapata, Los Bukls and Peruvian artists Los Pasteles Verdes, while Aldo Monges is scoring high in Mexico and Carlos Torres Vila and Elianna are receiving strong backing.

'Single Cassette' Out

AUSTRALIA — Astor Records reportedly has come up with a new concept in Australia in having a hit single also released on a special "single cassette." Astor's first release on single cassette is the current National No. 1 hit across Australia, "Don't Cry For Me Argentina" by Julie Covington.

Selling at a $1.40, an increase of only 20 cents on the single play record, it is now expected that all future major charted hits will be released on cassette.

market radio stations filed individual letters to the Copyright Office, urging the Register to drop the idea and all expressing similar sentiments. As one said, "If things were to be done justly, the performers should be paying us to play their records." Jon Baumgarten, general counsel, suggested the NAB had orchestrated the letter-writing campaign (this was not confirmed, but at the NAB convention, a large assembly cheered the proposal that stations act "so that ASCAP will recognize that it is a united, and not a fragmented industry, that it has to reckon with." Presumably, NAB members would be asked to act in concert on the question of performance rights comments as well).

An argument in favor of the proposed performance royalties was submitted by artist Woody Herman, speaking from personal experience. Broadcasters get a royalty from cable TV operators who pick up their signal, Herman said, so the same principle should apply to broadcasters playing records: they should have to compensate the performer.

Hal C. Davis, president of the American Federation of Musicians, submitted that "... the same broadcasters who use 75% of their air time playing music do not hire a single musician and do not pay one cent for the musician's work which they exploit." The AFM believes a compulsory license system would work and would be relatively easy to implement. The Copyright Royalty Tribunal should be the arbiter in setting rates, Davis said.

The American Federation of Television and Radio Artists (AFTRA) takes a similarly pro-stand. It agrees that a performance royalty should be split 50-50 by performers and recording companies (and split evenly among performers on a particular recording), and likewise recommends a system like ASCAP, BMI and SESAC to oversee the process of collection and distribution of fees.

The National Endowment for the Arts, through its general counsel Robert Wade, filed comments pro-, and furthermore, argued in favor of an approach "which would ensure substantial benefits to performing artists involved in the creation of artistic works falling outside the commercially successful category (i.e., popular hits)." The Endowment has been on record since the initial Congressional hearings on the copyright revision in favor of a distribution formula weighted in favor of symphonic, folk, operatic or other performers who are worthy, but not able to generate mass sales.

A single scholarly submission came down on the con- side: a copy of the article in the George Washington Law Review (November 1974) by Professors Robert Bard and Lewis Kurlantzick. Prof. Kurlantzick wrote to restate his conclusions of three years ago, that "none of the likely outcomes would justify the establishment of a second public performance right with respect to records." The original article said record companies and performers would benefit in the short run, but probably not in the long run. Classical music, which could use a boost, would hardly profit from it and such a royalty would "inevitably increase the existing strong pressures inducing record producers to offer improper inducements to employees of the broadcast industry to get their records played on the air."

volunteered to produce records and letters verifying legal use of the line, the network wrote and notified him of the termination. The notification has caused some worry at WTUL, where public service and news broadcasts help fulfill the educational non-commercial requirements.

An examination of Arbitron ratings in the New Orleans market indicates that WTUL may be drawing listeners from the rock stations in New Orleans, especially WNOE/FM (see box). While Arbitron estimated there are 800 more average ¼ hour FM listeners in the Fall 1976 survey than in the Spring 1976 survey, easy listening station WWL/FM picked up 2000 listeners in the same period. Total estimated ¼ hour listeners dropped 15,400 people. Arbitron ratings for Fall 1976 were begun 7 weeks after the WTUL power increase.

An Arbitron spokesman commented that educational stations, although not measured by his company, have sometimes figured very strongly in local markets. Understandably, commercial station managers feel the educational stations enjoy an advantage in that they do not have to interrupt broadcasts with commercial messages.

BPA Convention Report Fundamentals Of Radio Promotion Getting Publicity From The Press

LOS ANGELES — "Back To Basics" was a look at the fundamentals of radio promotion. The BPA workshop was hosted by A. Lee Pocock, promotion director for KSL/AM, Salt Lake City, and included panelists Bill Wolff, audience promotion coordinator for all news station KNX/AM, Los Angeles, and Norm Ginsburg, director of information services for CBS Radio, New York.

The panelists heard Ginsburg claim that the creative process is an orderly one which can be repeated at will. The information director offered a five-step method for voluntarily making the creative process function:

1. The situation. Get a complete understanding of the needs of your station.
2. The objective or problem. State the objective simply and accurately, remembering that an idea unrelated to the problem is useless.
3. Creativity. Prepare the subconscious mind deliberately by recognizing the value of conscious "cues," including preparation for sleep.
4. Production of ideas. List the ideas accurately and define them, each on a separate piece of paper.
5. Judgment: The ideas are weighed.

Pocock presented a slide show demonstrating how this step-by-step process was used in a KSL promotion.

Wolff provided one of BPA's most interesting lectures in demonstrating how to deal with fixed ideas, positive and negative creativity, and self-doubt. The promotion coordinator, who recently addressed a humanistic psychology convention in Los Angeles, used numerous historical and interdisciplinary examples in his speech, which was a convention highlight.

ARB Study Has Mid Sat. 2nd Best

NEW YORK — An Arbitron comparison of popular day-parts shows that Saturday, 10 a.m.-to 3 p.m., is the second most listened to day-part. The surprise finding is based on a sample of listening levels from a combination of the April/May 1976 Arbitron Nationwide Network Report and 10 markets from the October/November 1976 survey. Monday through Friday, 6 a.m.-to-10 p.m., is the most popular listening time. This day-part has traditionally been the strongest.

Markets

The 10 markets in the October/November report include Akron, Denver/Boulder, Jacksonville, Minneapolis/St. Paul, New Orleans, New York, Oklahoma City, Portland, San Diego and Syracuse.

LOS ANGELES — One of the radio highlights of the 1977 BPA Convention was "Batting Your Head Against The Wall," a workshop that viewed, and sought remedies for, the frustrations in getting radio station publicity. Moderator for the panel was Ellen Manowitz, promotion services director for WMAL Radio, Washington, D.C. Panelist for the workshop was Warren Turnbull, public relations and publicity director of KMPC Radio, Los Angeles.

Turnbull's approach to the problems of radio publicity centered on press releases in the workshop. He emphasized that the workings of the local press, particularly "throwaway" papers, center on local people doing things slightly out of the ordinary. "While winners of our station's Sunshine Awards may not make the L.A. Times, they will be front page news in the Studio City paper," observed Turnbull. He also stressed the importance of sending press releases only when there is something to say, rather than on a timetable basis.

Manowitz centered her speech on the typical problems encountered in getting radio news in a major daily paper. She and other Washington broadcasters banded together, read stories in the Washington Star and Washington Post, and presented a full written brochure to both papers, detailing stories the papers missed and possible future stories.

Additionally, Manowitz demonstrated a method to compare Arbitron radio ratings and television ratings. This procedure involves only simple math and shows how to compare what, at first glance, appear to be two dissimilar ratings systems. Radio salespeople were unanimous in their praise of the system.

KMET Joins Laserium For Anniv. Celebration

FOUR NEW MILESTONES!

FLORA PURIM • ENCOUNTER (M-9077)
 The most unusual effort yet from this most unique singer—a series of encounters with a star-filled cast that includes Airto, Ron Carter, George Duke, Hermeto Pascoal, plus two historic duets with McCoy Tyner. Produced by Orrin Keepnews.

McCOY TYNER • SUPERTRIOS (M-55003: a 2-record set)
 Two incredible and highly significant meetings of giants. One "supertrio" unites the pianist with Tony Williams and Ron Carter, the other with Jack DeJohnette and Eddie Gomez, to create an instant jazz classic. Produced by Orrin Keepnews.

JOHNNY HAMMOND • STORM WARNING (M-9076)
 Up to this point Hammond has been known as one of the funkiest multi-keyboard players around. With Storm Warning he adds some exciting new roles: as arranger, composer (four strong new tunes here are his), and co-producer (with Orrin Keepnews).

OPA • MAGIC TIME (M-9078)
 Opa's debut album, Goldenwings, blew a lot of minds with its very personal blend of rock, Latin, and jazz; their second seems certain to be the magic one that develops the promise of the first into full-scale success. Produced by Airto.
