Crossover Star Sighting

Perhaps poised to traipse down the crossover dream street paved by Gloria Estafan and the late Selena is PolyGram Latino recording artist Soraya. The Latina currently boasts albums in Spanish and English that have received some broad-based attention through her touring with Sting and Natalie Merchant as an opening act. It is the label's strategy to keep the sultry singer on the road and to push her video image-in the United States and internationally-to further reveal the treasures on her En Esta Noche (On Nights Like This) albums. Cash Box Latin music editor Hector Resendez examines Soraya.

Courage Not To Bang

Far from the maddening, deafening boom, crash and jangling of summer blockbuster hits, comes the thinking person's movie Courage Under Fire, the 20th Century Fox film starring Denzil Washington, Meg Ryan and Lou Diamond Phillips. Cash Box film pundit John Goff tells why this film could gain some post season honors.

Bennett Named Geffen/DGC Prexy

FOR ONLY THE SECOND TIME in its 16-year history Geffen Records anointed a president when Bill Bennett assumed that station for Geffen and DGC Records last week in an official coronation by Ed Rosenblatt, the company's chairman/CEO who vacated the presidential post in April, 1995.

Commenting on the appointment of Bennett, who previously was director of promotion and general manager of the company, Rosenblatt said in a statement: "Bill has done a fabulous job since he joined us five years ago, building a promotion department that has consistently (led) the industry in rock music. He has demonstrated the kind of leadership and broad understanding of the contemporary music business that will help ensure our company's continued success into the next millennium. Obviously I'm pleased to be able to fill this position from within the ranks of our exceptional executive team and name Bill to become my partner in running this company."

The first 13 years of Bennett's lengthy career was spent at CBS where he worked at both the Columbia and Epic labels in promotion, marketing and sales. In 1986 he moved to MCA Records as vp of promotion, then to Uni Records as sr. vp/gm, before returning to MCA as sr. vp of rock promotion and artist development.

He started in the Geffen/DGC fold in 1991 as director of promotion for DGC, and when the two companies staffs merged the next year he was named to his last post for the combined entity. The artists roster under Bennett boasts formidable established acts and highly-regarded developing artists. Among them are Counting Crows, White Zombie, Weezer, Beck, Lisa & Loeb & Nine Stories, Hole, Elastica, Guns N' Roses and Peter Gabriel.

Geffen Records, owned by MCA, Inc., has a pressing and distribution deal for North America for Almo Sounds under which it provides marketing, sales, publicity and creative servcies support. and last year it launched joint ventures with DreamWorks Records and earlier this year with Outpost Recordings.

"I've always considered myself fortunate to be able to work with so many triends I respect at Geffen Records," Bennett commented. "Now to be chosen by Eddie to succeed him as president is a monumental opportunity—he is the role model of virtually every record executive I know. We have a lot of shared values, and I look forward to furthering the traditions he's established. The bottom line is to coninue to create a place that's artist friendly, where people can do good work."

News In Brief

CD CLASS ACTION SUIT: Six major CD makers, including EMI Music Distribution; Sony Music Entertainment; Warner Elektra Atlantic Corp.; UNI Distribution Corp., a unit of MCA Music Entertainment Group; Bertelsmann Music Group; and PolyGram Group Distributors, have been accused of fixing CD prices in a class-action lawsuit.

Filed in Knoxville, TN on behalf of two CD buyers, the suit won immediate class action status which opens the doors for other CD consumers and alleges the companies jacked up retail prices even after refinements in manufacturing and other improvements cut the cost of making a CD from $3 to the present cost of less than $1. The lawsuit was filed on behalf of anyone who bought CDs from any of the charged companies after June 26, 1992.

No specified amount was named but the suit limits each individual claim to $5,000, and while other suits have been filed in the past none have resulted in big money payouts. Labels' contention that hit records, which can be pressed in cost-effective quantities, are offset by misses have been the successful grounds for their past defenses.

BOOTLEG HOARD SEIZED: More than 87,000 alleged bootleg CDs were seized in New York City during an anti-piracy sweep conducted jointly by the New York State Attorney General's Office and the New York State Police, with The Recording Industry Association of America assisting at raid sites. The seizures were the first executed under the new bootleg amendment to New York State's penal code that took effect in November 1995, which greatly expanded the crime of dealing in bootleg CDs.

Andre Grabowicz and Gladys Caporali were arrested at Caporali's Jackson Heights residence in Queens, and charged with manufacturing, selling and distributing alleged bootleg CDs, audio cassettes and videos. Approximately 10,000 alleged bootleg CDs were confiscated from Grabowicz's Manhattan retail location, Second Coming Records. A second retail site, Revolver Records, yielded approximately 7,000 alleged CDs. An estimated 70,000 alleged bootleg

Columbia and Ruffhouse Records execs recently bonded to congratulate members of Trip 66 after the group's performance at Don Hill's in Lower Manhattan. The set featured selections from the band's self-titled debut album. Pictured in the back row are (I-r): Columbia's Tom Corson, sr. vp of marketing, and Tom Donnaruma, vp of sales; A. Christopher Schwartz, CEO of Ruffhouse; John Ingrassia, sr. vp of the Columbia Records Group; Columbia's Nick Cucci, dir. of marketing, and Will Botwin, sr. vp; (front row) Ryan Bernstein, Martin Hoeger, Maria and Paul Nicgorski, and Greg Lyons of Trip 66.

ROCKING THE BOAT: The increasing difficulty in finding venues in New York has made people become more creative. For a full night of cutesy pop during the Fourth of July weekend one had to travel along the piers of Chelsea to the Lighthouse Frying Pan. A vessel once sunk off the Panamanian coast, the ship is now docked and hosts a number of soirces. Sunday offered a full contingent of twee rockers out to swoon and sway to the likes of Boyracer which recently has been dropped by its ex-label, Zero-Hour, on the eve of its tour. This didn't stop the Leeds, England-based band from playing an energized show that had the crowd sweating with smiles. Next, below deck, was the super sweet Rocketship. The three-piece played like it had never had a bad day in its life, which is probably why the triad was so well received. The group's LP, A Certain Smile, A Certain Sadness By Rocketship, is available on Slumberland. A short walk down the plank from that was the veteran Honeybunch, which is fronted by Velvet Crush member Jeffrey Underhill and has Claudia Gonson from the Magnetic Fields pounding the skins. Their buoyant tunes had the kind of light touch that is so hard to do without coming off as cloying. A compilation of the group's singles has been released by Summershine. Picking up a head of steam was the Bay area's Henry Dress. The trio played vibrantly without quite leaving the musical neighborhood of the other bands on the bill. The group's latest long player, Bust'em Green, is out on Slumberland. Rounding out the night was New York's own Holiday, which started its country-wide tour with a set that was perfect pop. The band recently has released a CDEP on March Records. So it was a full speed ahead evening on the gentle seas and pleasant waves.

WHAT'S IN A NAME: Though the Macintosh Festival is just around the corner there are quite a few good bands circling in before that explosion. Tuesday the 9th at Brownies saw the highly anticipated Big Apple debut of the Scottish Prolapse. The club was packed with the cream of indie rock scenesters to see if the sexter could live up to its billing. With a standard rock set-up (guitars, bass, drums) and two singers the group never looked back from the first note. The members smashed through the set as they mixed Krautrock drones and hook-laden melodies. The two singers brought an élan to the stage as they could barely contain their vigor with dance steps and standing on tip-toes and in-between song patter with their full-on brogue. Their American debut is out on Big Cat. Playing along with them was the Athens. Ohio-based Appalachian Death Ride, whose morbid name belies its Neil Youngish sound. Despite technical difficulties the group still kept its verve. The LP should be out soon on Anyway Records.

DON'T COPY: Apparently not trying to be hypocritical about its stand on China's copyright infringement the Federal government swooped down on a number of stores in New York last week. The Feds attempted to catch them selling bootlegs and other illegal recordings, closing down a number of shops at least temporarily.

American Recordings owner Rick Rubin (pictured, left) announced the signing of Pakistani singer Nusrat Fateh Ali Khan (right) to the label, with a September release planned for his Holy Profit disc, an album of traditional Qawwali devotional music. Currently on his first North American tour. Nusrat

THE MORE THINGS CHANGE... Various religious and parent groups are mounting prayer vigils in England to prevent the appearance of those gleefully aging but triumphant bad-asses. The Sex Pistols, who must be having severe deja vu at this point. Several dates have been cancelled for fear of riots. Fulfilling the Pistols' goals for their Filthy Lucre tour, nearly all the other dates sold out immediately. In the meantime:

PUNK ROCKS THE VOTE—FOR FREE, NO LESS: Epitaph artists Down By Law joined Tijuana No!, Samiam, Supernova and Mr. Mirainga, among other bands, for a free show at the Media City Center in Burbank to get fans hooked up with Rock The Vote. The event was sponsored by KROQ and the House of Blues.

OKAY, YOU MAY REGRESS TO AGE FOUR NOW: Kid Rhino and Hanna-Barbera have released Pic-A-Nic Basket of Cartoon Classics, a comprehensive four-CD box set marking the fifth anniversary of their exclusive agreement to create audio releases from the studio's vast collection of music archives, including such fun sources as Josie & The Pussycats, The Jetsons, Johnny Quest and Top Cat. Packaged in a picnic basket complete with a flip-lid, the CD set has a suggested retail of $49.95 and is available through RhinoDirect at 1-800-432-0020. Rhino also has a Warren Zevon hits package and a remastered reissue of Emerson, Lake & Palmer's 1973 classic Brain Salad Surgery due for release soon.

MISCELLANEOUS SIGNS OF MUSICAL LIFE: Darius Rucker of Hootie & The Blowfish has become a spokesperson and volunteer for the National Marrow Donor Program...Perry Farrell already revolutionized the world of touring by inventing Lollapalooza and he's at it again: The ENIT Festival, billed as a multi-media musical, sensory and communal touring experience, kicks off in the U.S. in August, playing mostly non-traditional venues and featuring such celectic entertainments as tree planting, a communal meal and a "happy hour" of cocktail music. The ultra-cool line-up includes Farrell's own Porno For Pyros, along with Black Grape, Love and Rockets, Lady Miss Kier, Orb and Meat Beat Manifesto...Carlos Santana has been a star for a long time, but next year, he'll have a star of his very own on the Hollywood Walk of Fame...

Few bands have as star-studded a following as seminal L.A. punkers The Germs; now, Grass Records will release a Germs tribute, A Small Circle of Friends, featuring members of The Red Hot Chili Peppers, L7, Sonic Youth, plus many famous folks whose contractual restrictions do not permit them to be named in connection with this project. Stay tuned for many surprises...

The 14th Annual Rock N' Charity Gelebration raised over $300,000 for the T.J. Martell Foundation/Neil Bogart Memorial Fund. Pictured are rocking golf nuts Alice Cooper and Vince Neil, who never pass up a chance to do some drivin' and puttin' for a good cause.

Soraya: A New Star Crossing

By Hector Resendez

HER NAME IS SIMPLY SORAYA yet, her artistic career is anything but simple. Her creative story arc has skyrocketed within a relatively short period. The PolyGram Latino singer-songwritermusician signed with the label a few months ago. Or, in her words, "Three to four to be exact...we been having some amazing success." During that time, Soraya has released her debut Spanish language album, En Esta Noche, and an English language version, On Nights Like This, on Island Records. Consumer and critical response has been downright phenomenal.

Salvador Perez, managing director of Poly-Gram Latino, describes how impressed thay have been with the overall response to Soraya. With the first promotional single ("De Repente"), album sales have surpassed 50,000 units. Says Perez, "This is very important because it signifies that the album has a great future not only here in the U.S., but in other markets. This year, the album will be released in 35 countries. These represent some of the most prominent markets where Poly-Gram is firmly established."

Approximately three years ago, Perez started his own career with PolyGram as its marketing director for the Latin American region. A few months later, the company decided to open U.S. and Puerto Rican offices. Perez was subsequently named to head what is today called PolyGram Latino.

"When we started PolyGram Latino, we practically had no (Latin American) artists signed," Perez recalls. Some of the first artists that we signed were Django, Carlos Matta, Pimpinela, Carlos Vives, and from there our work began.

"Our other (affiliated) companies, like those in Spain, went on to sign artists like Martha Sanchez, and in Mexico, Pedro Fernandez and Grupo Limite were signed, and then the same was done in Argentina, Chile, and elsewhere," says Perez.

With Soraya, says Perez, there is a new opportunity within the Latin American market. "Everyday, we find that music—whether it be Latin, American, or Anglo-European—has similar tendencies. It is difficult to listen to Soraya in English and believe that she is Latina. This makes her an international artist."

The singer's success in Latin America lends heavy credence to Perez' testament.

Since February of this year, the singer-composer has twice landed a spot on tour with mega-star Natalie Merchant who had heard Soraya's album. "We toured together, starting in February, for a few weeks'' Soraya explains. "She (Merchant) took a little break and when she came back we toured for another couple of weeks. We were touring the U.S., through the Midwest, a few North-cast (markets)...(They were) different market...markets that really didn't have a strong Hispanic culture. But, it was amazing, to actually see people's reaction when playing from 2,000 all the way up to 16,000 seat theatres. It was a very good combination. Her audience is really my potential audience, though. They came in ready to hear her and then they heard my music which is really compatible with her style. I think it was a really good package. It was a lot of fun, too."

Merchant recently invited Soraya to open her tour with pop-icon Sting this past June at the Coral Gables Amphitheatre in Miami. Says Soraya, "It was great. I have a few more dates coming up with him both acoustically and with my whole band. He's been my idol for years! It's amazing to actually have him be there backstage and know that he's listening to what I'm doing and to get his commentary afterwards. He really liked what I did. He personally invited me to come back and do more shows with him."

Sting told her that he heard her CD both in English and in Spanish. "He really liked the vibes that I was trying to pull off," says Soraya.

Apparently, many listeners are pleased by these folk-laden, rather naturally heartfelt "vibes." The singer's colorful upbringing as a child surely played an integral part in her development. Additionally, Soraya possesses the highly-coveted talent of being bilingual and bicultural. Her childhood was spent shuttling between Cali, Colombia, and Jersey. "I write my material in both languages," she says. "Sometimes songs do come out first in English. I then go back and write them in Spanish or the other way around. When I do my stuff in English, it's a different energy altogether. Obviously the songs that were written in that language first and the comfort level (with them) is higher. But, I often prefer to sing the ballads in Spanish simply because of the melody of the language. I can do more with it...the pronounciation and everything, and with the meter of the language."

It was in Colombia where a five-year-old Soraya would watch and listen to her uncle play guitar and sing Colombian songs. Such childhood memories explains how the folkloric "Pueblito Viejo" appears on both album versions.

"It was the first song I ever learned to play on a guitar," Soraya says. "It's one of the most beautiful melodies that I have ever heard. On a personal level, I wanted to end my first professional CD with that song. On a musical level, I wanted to include it because it is such a beautiful melody and I just wanted to put it in my own arrangement."

The artist has found that her Spanish lyrics do well with American audiences, even in small towns in Wisconsin or in Michigan. "The biggest reaction I've gotten from crowds is when I start singing in Spanish. Simply, because the music itself is not Spanish music. I have a very Anglo production and Anglo-style of writing musically. But, when they hear that music with a Spanish lyric in front of it, I think it really interests them."

While Soraya will continue performing in the United States, there are plans for her later this year to tour Europe, South America, and other Latin markets. Japan will be releasing the album within three weeks. Soraya says, "So, from a viewpoint of promotion, my presence will be required there within the next couple of months. Hopefully, after that I'll be in the touring mode."

Another item sure to be an international eye-catcher is Soraya's debut video, "Suddenly," which was released as the first single for the English-speaking market as well as its Spanish version, the aformentioned "De Repente." The second single for the Spanish market was "Amor De Tus Ojos," with yet another new single in Spanish, "Quedate (Stay Awhile)," due to be released in three to four weeks.

"We just did the video for that (to be aimed at both markets) about a week ago," Soraya says.

When asked if the video will be different than her first, "De Repente/Suddenly," the answer was emphatic: "It'll be a lot different! The first video was exactly what we had in mind for that song, it was a very romantic song, a very intimate song. We needed to capture that visually as well. The single, "Stay Awhile," is something completely different. It's definitely more pop, not so tender as was the first production. The new video will actually follow that track," Soraya explains. "Visually, it's going to have a lot of different elements. It's not only my performance this time around, but there will be a lot of characters stepping in and out of the video."

Asked how she would define her style, Soraya says, "I haven't really put a label on it...but it is intimate and direct." When asked about music in general, Soraya says, "The Latin market in the U.S. is a changing one. The voice of the youth is being heard a little bit more strongly now. We're always going to have the classic balladeers, etc., and the tropical music as well. I think that the new generation is actually taking ahold of their music now. So, that is what I think has helped open the doors for my success so far. And, through that, I'm hoping that I'm making a change somewhat."

SINGLES REVIEWS By Daina Darzin

TORI AMOS: "Hey Jupiter" (Atlantic PRCD 6812-2)

With her Boys For Pele disc double platinum and counting, Tori Amos has firmly established herself in the pantheon of quirky, smart female vocalists right alongside Alanis Morrissette. This is an atmospheric, edgy ballad, at once ethercal and dark, buoyed by Amos' evocative, emotion-laden voice. An instant-add ot a number of formats including CHR, Adult Contemporary and Modern Rock.

THE ARTIST FORMERLY KNOWN AS PRINCE: "Dinner With Delores" (Warner Bros. 9 46317-2)

The first single off (insert little squiggly symbol here)'s eagerly-awaited new Chaos and Disorder disc, "Dinner With Delores" takes a different tack than the rest of the disc's guitar-happy, funky vibe. A languid, undulating guitar line mixes it up with playful, syncopated rhythms and sweet, offbeat lyrics. A pretty, inventive guitar break proves (we hear he's going back to being called "Prince," thank God) remains an effortlessly brilliant musician. A nautomatic add at rock stations, "Dinner With Delores" is mellow enough to get over on Adult Contemporary stations. This record got a big debut on NBC-TV's Today last week.

THE BLACK CROWES: "Good Friday" (American 9 430 82-2)

The mournful, lovely harmonica line which introduces this moody, cool track says it all: the Black Crowes, who were often pegged a retro act during the '80s, now seem 100% contemporary, a vital part of the move back towards good old rock n' roll. Lush and bluesy, "Good Friday" is the kind of song you'd want to listen to sittin' on your porch (if only you had one). Off the outfit's new Three Snakes and One Charm disc, rock stations nationwide will be playing this, like, tomorrow.

BLUES TRAVELER: "The Mountains Win Again" (A&M 31458 8157 2)

Blues Traveler is a unique band—happy and comfortable as a cult fave, the group was as surprised as anyone when its Four dise went quadruple platinum on the strength of the Top 10 hit, "Run-around." Its new Live From The Fall disc focuses on what Blues Traveler does best—long, loopy, extended jams. (Not for nothing have Blues Traveler and its H.O.R.D.E. tour colleagues inherited the Grateful Dead's deadhead fans.) This live version of "The Mountains Win Again," which originally appeared on Four, is classie

Blues Traveler—laconic, tuneful, and instrument-happy, especially the five-minute album version. A must-add for laid-back rock formats everywhere.

PICK OF THE WEEK

CIV: "Boring Summer" (Lava/Atlantic PRCD 6804)

Spirited, stylish, hardcorebased rockers who never lose their sense of fun, Civ's third single off their sophomore disc (Set Your Goals), is a slama-bama, mosh pit winner. Big, slashing guitars, a universal theme (guess what, there's nothing to do) and the band's usual anthemic, shred-a-minute approach make "Boring Summer" an excellent heavy-music and modern-rock add. A band whose energetic, high-fun live show makes it a good candidate to follow No Doubt on the path of skate-punker success, Civ is spending its own, not-so-boring summer on the Warped Tour.

ALBUM REVIEWS by Daina Darzin

THE LOW AND SWEET OR-CHESTRA: Goodbye to All That (Interscope INTD 90056)

Actors who want to rock out are nothing new (with Keanu Reeves and Dogstar the most obvious current example) but the Low and Sweet Orchestra has a lot more going for it besides the fact that its mandolin, cello and dobro player is Dermot Mulroney. That list of instruments says it all—this is one of the most imaginative discs you'll hear this year. Everything from an accordion to electric lap steel guitar make an appearance on this gem of a folk/punk/honky tonk/Celtic/swing/rock record that should get an enthusiastic reception from the neo-roots contingent.

SOUL COUGHING: Irresistible Bliss (Slash/Warner Bros. 9 46175-2)

On its second disc, the criticallyacclaimed Soul Coughing takes an inventive and eclectic trip through a variety of sounds and samples, but never forgets the group's main strength: a dense, ominous pulse, a multi-layered thang that takes on a life of its own, cruising along the bottom layer of its tracks like a subterranean river—equal parts old industrial sounds a la early Public Image Limited, hip hop rhythms, pop sensibility, dub, dance (and many other sonic references) deconstructed into a thick, constantly percolating stew. Originally out of New York's Knitting Factory scene, Soul Coughing has developed a substantial national audience through touring and their appearance on the X-Files compilation; they also wrote the soundtrack for the well-received indie film, Blue In The Face. The first single, "Soundtrack to Mary" brings an infectuous, syncopated rhythm together with aggressive keyboards, a fun and catchy modern rock track.

PATTI SMITH: Gone Again (Arista 07822 18747-20

Patti Smith comes back with a bang, literally— the muscular power chords and impassioned, aggressive vocals of the first and title track on this stunning album set the tone for the legendary singer/songwriter's return after years of private life. The searing, remarkable songs on Gone Again focus on Smith's recent tragedies, the deaths of her husband and brother; tracks like "My Madrigal" are at once beautiful and profoundly mournful. Smith was a universally-respected, seminal artist of New York's '70s scene who had a Top 20 hit with Bruce Springsteen's "Because the Night" and maintains a voraciously devoted fan base, so her comeback will surely be a spectacular one in both acclaim and sales figures. Her longtime friends and collaborators Lenny Kaye, Tom Verlaine and John Cale, among others, appear on Gone Again along with singer Jeff Buckley.

MAGIC DICK & JAY GEILS: Little Car Blues (Rounder CD 3141)

Former J. Geils Band rock stars Magic Dick and Jay Geils are playing good old traditional blues straight from the heart these days, and seem to be having a great time with it—the genuine exuberance of this joyously retro disc emenates from every note. Little Car Blues is a rollicking trip through blues history from Louis Armstrong to Buddy Guy; "The Jumpin' Blues," for instance, hearkens back to a really old time Kansas City '40s style, while "Feel So Bad" takes off on a Bo Diddley and Little Walter '60s track; J. Geils and Magic Dick also rock it up on the Marvin Gaye Motown hit, "Stubborn Kind of Fellow." A disc that will appeal to the traditional blues audience and also has the potential to cross over to J. Geils Band fans.

PICK OF THE WEEK

("Big Time"). "Changing Highways" veers into a Johnny Cash-style old time country sound, while "Music Arcade" brings a moody, acoustic spareness to the mix. One of the high points of this fine, classic-of-the-future disc is a defiantly lo-fi live cover of Jimmy Reed's "Baby What You Want Me To Do." Young attracts fans from teenage punkers to 50ish ex-hippies, and all of them are going to buy this record.

NEIL YOUNG WITH CRAZY HORSE: Broken Arrow (Reprise 9 46291-2)

A genuinely legendary artist possessed of eternal, neverending street credibility and cool factor, Rock n' Roll Hall of Fame-r Neil Young knows that less is more. Broken Arrow (no relation to the film of the same name) is a stunningly gritty, close-tothe-earth rock album, replete with unvarnished, edgy vocals, raw, gloomy harmonica ("Loose Change") and a folksy mid-tempo lilt that gets interrupted by a thick, reverb-heavy buzz

ALBUM REVIEWS By Peter Miro

CRUCIAL CONFLICT: The FInal TIc (Pallas/Universal UD53006) Producers: Wild Style, Shorty Capone, Fab 5 Freddy, Roy "Black Prince" Cormier.

The hook to this entire debut CD is two-pronged: An inner city rap crew from Chicago conjured visions of wind-whipped riders galloping on frothy mounts across cactus-dotted badlands on a road trip to L.A. This became the crux of "the next big thing" in rap-hip hop/country fusion-with a new "Giddy-Up" dance, performed like a bronco rider to a hyperfast, chugging train rhythm, dipping way ahead of the beat. Add references to hard street reality, urbanized dude ranch lingo, a hotly charting (#7 on Soundscan) single extolling the pleasures of cannabis ("Hay"), backed by a video receiving wide BET airplay and the result is a project that has shipped 400,000 units since July 2. Group members Wild Style, Kilo, Coldhard and Never shape the same cold-cracking dynamic on the entire LP. "Ride The Rodeo," "Desperado" "Trigger Happy," and "Showdown" are either clones or movements of the same suite.

QUAD CITY DJ'S: Get Up And Dance Atlantic/Big Beat (82905-2) Produc-ers: "Jayski" McGowan, Craig Kall-man, "Thrill Da Playa" a.k.a. Bass Mechanics.

Bass music, Florida's other export, gets a makeover on this high-energy product, which respects some melodic hooks and grooves of the '70s while rehashing them onto the body of this party creature feature. Some of the wild, feral edge that Luther Campbell popularized has been smoothed over, resulting in dance tracks that are friendly to backbones without the risk of dislocation. Singles "C'mon And Ride It (The Train)," and "Get Up And Dance," are Quad City principals C.C. and Jay-Ski's infectious contribution to a can't-keep-still mandate. Remaining tracks fall in the same food group.

DE LA SOUL: Stakes is High Tommy Boy (TBCD 1149) Producers: Jay Dee, De La Soul.

A leisurely stroll as opposed to a romp, De La Soul's new LP doesn't try to shake up the landscape, but rather sends vibrations that induce lounging under the sun on the nearest patch of grass, usually good for a warning from police in New York City. Its production is generously replete with jazz, soul and rap samples on material that amounts to fellas literally just hanging loose, despite the presence of Zhane on "More." Will trigger a search for redeeming merits, when stacked against previous works.

PICK OF THE WEEK

"Places In The Heart," "Serenade," and "Facts of Love," his ability to subdivide notes over a bridge or run suggests he can swap ideas with modern-day ronin of guitar George Benson, Lee Ritenour, Pat Metheny, and even pull a Wes Montgomery-style octave trick or two without submerging his own musical voice in the process.

NORMAN BROWN: Better Days Ahead (Mo-Jazz 314530545-2) Producers: Bruce Walker, Norman Brown, The Characters.

On this new AC/urban formatfriendly CD, Brown's variable-speed fretboard mastery sustains the melodic framework of R&B cover tunes "Your Body's Callin" and "After The Love Is Gone," integrating his scatted wails to the squeals, sobs and sighs of his lightning-plucked flurries. As he exercises restraint and release on instrumental cuts

THE RHYTHM

Covering high and low ranges of soul crooning, Columbia Records artist Kenny Lattimore (I) poses with singer Barry White backstage at Chicago's Arie Crown Theater just prior to White's performance. Singer/songwriter Lattimore was the special guest on "The Icon Tour," in support of his self-titled debut LP.

BIG EARTHBEAT CON-NECTS WITH POP DIVA:

Saxophonist/writer/produc er Cal Bennett, brings his bandleading skills to the Tonight Show with Jay Leno July 18, where he will appear as the musical director for La Face Records sensation Toni Braxton during her upcoming guest slot, and subsequent tour. Bennett earned the nod after proving his familiarity with Ms. Braxton's material, which is a slight departure from his creative focus as an instrumentalist captured on his '93 Nova Records debut Local Hero now reissued on the Groovetime label as A Stolen Moment. It's a timely break for the long-toiling artist, who has quietly trooped around the Los Angeles nightclub circuit with his ensemble, The Big Earthbeat, playing to a local cult of fans at clubs and festivals while holding down a day job. Bennett's band will also supply some of the backing vocals, but Ms. Braxton will likely pick up three or four singers who can approach the scraphim-like effect her sisters generated before their Atlantic Records deal. Hope the ensuing chemistry between singer and sax parallels that of Whitney Houston and Kirk Whalum, when he soloed on her megahit recording ''I Will Always Love You,'' then became a fixture of her road tour in '93.

HER MAJESTY'S PLEASURE: Composer/arranger Quincy Jones conducted an historic command performance for England's Queen Elizabeth, The Prince Of Wales, and South African president Nelson Mandela this week at London's Royal Albert Hall. The sold-out concert raised funds for the Nations Trust in that newly democratized region. Jones led the 30-piece Phil Collins Big Band, with vocal support from Tony Bennett. The concert included performances by Ladysmith Black Mambazo, Bayete, and road warrior Hugh Masekela, who made noise with his music across the globe—a tireless "Mr. Outside"—until both Mandela and homeland were finally sprung from captivity.

HIS SECRET LAIR: No, it wasn't a captured alien spaceship that was so heavily guarded behind a huge black curtain by hulking, earringed bodyguards at Santa Monica Airport's Barker Hangar a week or so ago. It was simply The King Of Pop rehearsing for an upcoming tour. Michael Jackson has rented the 35,000 square-foot hangar since June 24, and he's been religiously focused for five hours a day. Jackson used just two of his normal road panoply of 160 speakers, but was clearly audible to passers-by as he worked through some of his hits. Cameras were forbidden, and the security cordon even excluded Air Center staffers.

There was a lot of California love for Roger & Zapp's sold-out performance at the House Of Blues. Congratulating him after the show are (I+): Drawz, Warner Bros. recording artist; Alison Ball-Gabriel, vp A&R West Coast, Warner Bros. Records; Roger Troutman; Denise J. Brown, sr. vp Black Music, Warner Bros. Records.

THE RHYME

Sony Music Entertainment and Rakeem (a.k.a. RZA) of Wu Tang Clan recently sealed a deal to form Razor Sharp Records, a worldwide joint venture label. Its releases will go through Epic Records Group and be distributed by Sony Music. Pictured (I-r): David Glew, chairman, Epic Records; RZA; Thomas D. Mottola, pres/COO, Sony Music Entertainment; Ron Sweeney, exec vp, Black Music, Epic Records.

RENDERING A HIGH COMPLIMENT to the contributions of Wu-Tang Clan founding member Rakeem (a.k.a.) RZA, Sony Music Entertainment president/COO Thomas D. Mottola announced the formation of Razor Sharp Records, a worldwide joint venture laber which Sony Music will distribute. "Rakeem has expanded the creative horizons of hip-hop as one of its foremost producers and performers," Mottola said. "His productions vibrate with the energy and drive of the streets, and the artists he works with speak to real issues. Razor Sharp will serve as a springboard for Rakeem's artist development projects and provide Sony Music artists with access to his considerable lyrical and production talents." Sony Music will fund and distribute the new label, and its releases will be marketed and promoted worldwide through Epic Records Group. RZA will also produce and write for Sony Music artists and work with new and developing acts. Initial signees include Wu-Tang Clan member Ghost Face Killah, Cappadonna, and Blue Rasperry.

Razor Sharp's first release is the single "Who's The Champion" by Ghost Face Killah, featuring RZA. This deal does not affect the existing relationship between Wu-Tang Clan and RCA/BMG.

GOODIE MOB REAPS GOLD: Soul Food, the debut LP by LaFace Records' Atlanta-based rap group Goodie Mob. went Gold this month off the combined momentum of singles "Cell Therapy" and the title track. Soul Food was produced by Organized Noize Productions, who showed TLC a thing or two about "Waterfalls," and OutKast a thing or two about Platinum on their debut LP Southernplayalisticadillacmuzik. Goodie Mob recently shot the video for its third release, "Dirty South" in Atlanta, and are preparing for a European tour.

AMBASSADOR FROM COMPTON: Epic recording artist MC Eiht will be heating up the international rap scene with a promotional tour targeting western European cities in support of his current LP Death Threatz. Tour stops will include Hamburg, Germany and Stockholm, Sweden by month's end. Eiht's scheduled circuit of music festival appearances, club dates, radio and press interviews and autograph sessions at record outlets will enhance his stature on The Continent for his production work with Swedish rap group Infinite Mass, which garnered top Swedish music awards earlier this year for their R&B/hip hop-inspired debut LP.

Urban Singles Reviews

By Peter Miro

CAL BENNETT: "Liberian Girl/Dutch Cargo" (Groovetime GTJ-9010) Producers: Cal Bennett, Grover C. Wimberly III.

Let's get this straight. Groovetime offers a slightly edited version of the romantic Michael Jackson ode covered on saxophonist/composer Cal Bennett's '93 Nova Records debut LP Local Hero now reissued as A Stolen Moment. It's Quiet Storm material all the way, accented by its vocal scat of the initial bass passage, then the fluid sax phrasings propelling the Afro-Caribbean-flavored chorus to its climax. With his posse of loyal sidemen, and chops honed in numerous club dates, Bennett's star is long overdue for rising, the fate of heavier-than-average-matter throughout the universe.

TERRI & MONICA: "Sexuality (if you take your love)" Epic (ESK 8206) Producer: Dave "Jam" Hall.

Radio will run up the odometer on this sweet single from Terri & Monica's upcoming sophomore LP Suga once it reaches playlists. It's an urgent yet subtle plea for love to remain that's sure to impress with its suave groove energized by the feathery, throaty caresses these ladies produce. Features a compact radio edit, LP version, instrumental and a capella tracks to be wooed by equally. A worthy vehicle for the '90s that strokes engrams similar to those massaged by The Emotions on their Maurice White-produced Flowers LP of 20 years past.

JODECI: "Get On Up" MCA (MCA5P 3763) Producers: Mr. Dalvin, Andre Harrell, DeVante, Erick Sermon, Rockwilder, Dat Nigga Daz, Crazy C.

No harm done to Jodeci's original single on these five remixes. Actually, it's intriguing to hear how divergent results can be achieved with the same core material by the mixmasters stepping to the plate for this midtempo track. The "Platform Shoes Remix" and "Gangsta Gangsta Remix" are like night and day, but convey the same easygoing party mood.

Jazz Reviews

By M.R. Martinez

Soulful singer Gladys Knight lit up the night with some palpable energy when she closed the second day's bill at the Playboy Jazz Festival held June 15 and 16 at the Hollywood Bowl. Knight's big time voice warmed up the day's earlier offerings by artists such as J.J. Johnson, Wayne Shorter and T.S. Monk. Following her audience rousing performance, Knight was joined backstage by executives of MCA Records for whom sherecords. Pictured are (I-r): Gary Ashley, sr. dir. of A&R, MCA; Jay Boberg, MCA president; Knight; and Ken Wilson, president of black music, MCA.

■ KENNY GARRETT: Pursuance: The Music Of John Coltrane (Warner Bros. 46209-2). Producers: Matt Pierson, K. Garrett with Robin Burgess.

The old saw that imitiation is the highest form of flattery does not apply here. Besides, people in all arts sometimes imitate, often because they don't have an original thought. But that's another discussion. For saxophonist Kenny Garrett, this tribute to the expansive musical vision of the legendary John Coltrane is the former's construct, an individual interpretation of Trane's songbook, both known and lesser-known selections. Not an imitation. Like Trane, Garrett's technical facilities prepare him for the task, and accompaniment by guitarist Pat Metheny, Rodney Whitaker on bass and Brian Blades handling the drum kit provide the proper rhythmic undertow and textural aura to raise the spirit of Coltrane without forsaking fresh ideas. Standouts are "Equinox," which features Metheny's gentle, articulate presence; the fat, rich tonality of Garrett's atto on "Lonnie's Lament;" the emotive caseade of sonic energy surrounding Garrett's improvisational explorations on "After The Rain;" the hard driving "Pursuance," which is paced by bassist Whitaker and drummer Blades; and the chord progressive exercise that is known as "Giant Steps."

GARY BARTZ: The Blues Chronicles: Tales Of Life (Atlantic 82893-2). Producers: G. Bartz, Eulius Cathey with Don Hillegas.

Bartz has always been a fearless re-inventor of his own musical character, and this latest collection is a soulful compendium of his various musical identities with his solid and inventive playing on alto and soprano sax being the connective tissue throughout. His dexterity is evident immediately on the opening riffs of "The Five Dollar Theory," which does not try to re-invent form or idiomatic expression, but expand the dialogue that Bartz can bring to the table. "Makes Me Wanna Moan" is an articulate slice of sass, while "Miss

Otis Regrets" is a reflective glimmer of daylight. "One Million Blues," is just what it sounds like, with guest Cyrus Chestnut giving up some homegrown taste on piano. "Band In The U.S.A." is driven by the funky drumming of Dennis Chambers and cogent solos by trumpeter Tom Williams and pianist George Colligan. Williams and Colligan also shine on "And He Called Himself" A Messanger." Reggae flavor abounds on the cover of Bob Marley's "Lively Up Yourself." That song may never be the same.

BILL EVANS: Escape (Escapade Music ESC 63650-2). Producers: Jim Beard & B. Evans.

Saxophonist Evans may have been just a little quieter than some of the alumni from the later Miles Davis aggregations, but he comes out here with a bright, multi-layered chunk of heaping funk that immediately reminds one of the vintage vigor and invention of the fusion era. That is not to say that this is a retrospective visit. The suave mixture of compelling rhythms and well-placed old-school jazz flour-ishes are arranged to attract the listener to that netherworld between neo-traditional sensibilities and contemporary jazz tastes. A stellar and lenthy line-up of collaborators, including trumpter Wallace Roney, bassists Marcus Miller, Victor Bailey and Mark Egan, guitarists Lee Ritenour and Nick Moroch, too name a few, help create a broad pakette of sound. Tracks to note include the Miles-inspired "Aftermath" (featuring Roney on some great muted trumpet) "Swing Hop," "The Sunday After," "Rattletrap" and a house party thang called "Undercover."

LIMI-T XXI: Comenzaré Otra Historia (RMM-Merengazo, 82019) Producers: Ralph Mercado, Luisin Marti, Elvin Torres-Serrant. TROPICAL-MERENGUE.

The Puerto Rican merengue trio known as Limi-T-XXI makes its debut on RMM's Merengazo label. Their recent album Comenzaré Otra Historia features nine hot dance numbers of which all were arranged by group member-producer, Elvin F. Tor-res-Serrant. The first single, "Que Te Pasa Con-mige" hit sixth position on the charts in Puerto Rico. The album's progress westward is steadily coming along. Incorporating a unique slant to today's merengue, the contemporary merengue beat resounds throughout this fine album.

ALVARO TORRES: En Busca Del Amor (EMI Latin, 73904) Producer: Alvaro Torres. POP-INTERNATIONAL.

The latest album by the versatile composer-singer Alvaro Torres demonstrates why his popularity only continues to soar. Torres is a master in the pop ballad genre. His performances are legendary and well-attended. All ten selections will surely satisfy all of the singer's fans as well as make new ones. Torres' style is enchantingly eclectic. For example, take the tropic-tinged "Mujeres Solas," a humorous yet insightful look at single women. Compare it to the hip jazzy number, "Stress" and you'll see what we mean. While there's no actual Spanish translation for stress, Alvaro Torres won't need to be concerned. His music is totally enjoyable.

JOSE LUIS RODRIGUEZ: La Llamada Del Amor (Sony Latin, 81962) Producers: Bebu Silvetti, Estéfano & Mario Acevedo, Afo Verde & Paulo Durand, Rey Nerio. POP-INTERNATIONAL.

Classic pop balladeer Jose Luis Rodriguez responds to the call of true, yet sometimes clusive, love with his new album La Llamada del Amor. Produced by some of the most respected names in the business, each of the twelve selections are exquisite creations by some of the finest composers today including "Alquien Como Tu" written by Lilibeth Rodriguez, one of the artist's duaghters. The Miami Symphonic Orchestra lends the perfect touch to this magnificent project. Rodriguez is one of those few artists known simply by an acronym. "El Puma" is a name casily recognized and loved throughout the Americas and the world.

KING AFRICA: El Africano (BMG, U.S. Latin, 35824-2) Producer: Tuti Gianakis, POP-DANCE-RAP,

Under the artistic direction of Tuti Gianakis and Ezequiel Deró, their album El Africano takes you on a non-stop, hard-driving and highly pulsating trip to the dance floor and then some. And it doesn't matter if it's in Europe or Stateside. King Africa's rhythm is definitely Latin ala Caribbean, yet it's unmistakenly dance music for the masses of the world,

PICK OF THE WEEK

FRANKIE RUIZ: Tranquilo (PolyGram Latino, 314527648) Producer: Vinny Urrutia. TROPICAL-SALSA.

Puerto Rican salsero Frankie Ruiz' latest album Tranquilo on Rodven-PolyGram Latino is anything but calm. The title track is one incredible dance tune. Then again, so are the other eight selections. Throw away any arcane ideas of "salsa erotica." This album is "salsa cadente" (hot). And it's the salsa of today! Hard-core and hip salseros will attest to that fact. Ruiz does what he did with La Solucion and with Tommy Olivencia. He cooks! Look for more from one of the most vibrant Salsa vecalists around. PolyGram Latino recently extended Ruiz' contract for four additional albums. Ready for that chill pill?

News From U.S. & Latin America

By Hector Resendez

THE LATEST FROM RMM & VIDEO:

Typically, anything innovative within the Tropical-Salsa-Latin jazz scene must first cross the desk of Debbie Mercado, publicity director for RMM Records & Video in New York. And for good reason. Her dad, Ralph Mercado, president/CEO of the company, has seen it all in his 25 years-plus in the tropical music biz.

One of his latest creations is the forthcoming ballads album Un Solo Beso by one of the greatest living salsa singers of all time: Cheo Feliciano of Puerto Rico. And can this man sing a bolero!

Touted as an album that will make history, Feliciano is joined by master singer-songwriter Armando Manzanero of Mexico. RMM's bold statement is unequivocably correct! Feliciano is one of the great masters of ballad singing. His style, known as the "Sentimental Voice" stems from his days with another living legend Joe Cuba. Manzanero will be accompanying Feliciano on a duet version of the classic "Contigo Aprendi." In fact, Manzanero is featured on piano, as musical director, and composer of all of the selections on the forthcoming album.

ANTHONY RE-MARC CORDS NEW VIDEO: The "Salsero of the New Millen-nium," Marc Anthony recently completed work on his latest music video called "Hasta Ayer." The song, originally performed by the Mexican group Los Terricolas, appears on Marc's second and latest album for RMM called Todo A Su Tiempo. The video was suitably filmed in historical sites throughout Mexico City under the direction of Benny Corral. Adolfo Angel, integral member of the aforementioned band, was on hand to help out his friend Marc.

TONY VEGA WINS GOLD: Just two weeks after its release. Tony Vega's latest self-titled album has gone Gold. The Puerto Rican singer last went Gold and Platinum in 1994 with his last album Si Me Miras A Los Ojos. "I can tell you that this is the most complete record that I've ever done in my career," says Vega, whose album features song-writers like Mary Lauret, Omar Alfanno, and the Spanish-singer-songwriter Braulio. As proof, Vega's first promotional single, "Esperaré A Que Te Decidas" (I'll Wait For You To Make A Decision), has been ranking high on single tropical chart lists throughout key Latin markets.

JVC FESTIVAL FEATURES TROPI-JAZZ ALL-STARS: Recently the Tropi-Jazz All-Stars made their debut appearance at the JVC Jazz Festival at Carnegie Hall in New York City on June 29. Marc Anthony and his salsa band were showcased as well that evening.

The evening offered an all star-studded line-up including Tito Puente on percussion, pianist Eddie Palmieri, Dave Valentin on flute, pianist Hilton Ruiz, Humberto Ramirez on trumpet, Charlie Sepulveda on trumpet, J.P. Torres (trombone), Johnny Almendra (percussion), John Benitez (bass), Horacio "El Negro" Hernan-dez (congas), Richie Flores (pcrcussion), David Sanchez (tenor sax), and Jillian (vocalist). The never-aging Felipe Luciano served as host emcee.

20TH'S Courage Is Strong

By John Goff

Meg Ryan and Denzel Washington during Desert Storm.

COURAGE UNDER FIRE or the lack of same is one major theme of Courage Under Fire. A predominant theme certainly, but the Rashomon-like structure writer Patrick Shacane Duncan has utilized to examine the varied points of view and opinions of what "courage" means to all concerned brings in the question of courage under other areas of existence. There is courage under life, courage under friendship, courage under truth; can you stand up to other's examination or, and perhaps more importantly, can you stand up to your own examination of it, and if you can't what does it take to make yourself whole, to run from the truth or to run to it? Duncan's wonderfully crafted work asks many questions and reveals many answers-all very frighteningly human.

Duncan and director Edward Zwick turn their audience into itself and ask each member to think and evaluate themselves. Together they require watchers to involve and participate. That'll probably frighten many. Certainly coming at the end of the blockbuster-turn-your-brain-over-to-FX season many may find it tough to find enough pieces of their digitally destroyed grey matter to form a coherent thought-that core audience, however, won't be interested in this type of thought provocation anyway-but, for those hungering for something more than death and destruction, Courage Under Fire is here, it's rich, rewarding and welcome. This is definitely for the audience who believes film is an art form to be used for sharing ideas and feelings and, right now, it stands as probably the finest all-around film of the year. Courage Under Fire will find a steady, solid growth of audience as that core audience digs it out from the rubble out there. It'll even pick up some fringe-ers who, upon seeing tank firepower and Desert Storm footage in trailers, think they're going for more shoot-em-up action and find themselves caught in their own web. Certainly it is a strong critical entry and, in all areas Courage Under Fire can stand up to whatever criticism is fired at it.

Opening with actual Desert Storm footage director Zwick puts us in the middle of something already familiar. For the majority it's simply like sitting at home and re-viewing our TV news experience. Duncan's expertly woven story slips in and becomes part of that natural fabric, following Lt. Colonel Denzel Washington into battle and his own personal terror which he must face later in peacetime Washington while examining posthumous Medal Of Honor nominee Medevac pilot Captain Meg Ryan, who's seen only within the context of other crew members' stories. Throughout his search Washington's character must face his own doubts and fears and observe what truths, half-truths and lies do to others. It all sounds complex, and within context of the mind it is, but it is simple also: There is no substitute for the truth, on a personal, relative or bureaucratic level. The consequences of war and how it affects participants emotionally and soul-wise is a given and important constant to the story and each character's participation.

Each actor must also work on several performing levels, commanding both exterior and interior control of their role. All are superb. Washington is the center post, fighting his own interior recognition of courage and truth while attempting to go along with a chain of command he has chosen as his life, the Army. He's also seeing his home life dissolve under his own pressure. Washington manages all aspects with finesse, the best, most complex work he's done. Look for even more recognition down the road. Meg Ryan supplies the Medal of Honor hook: first female pilot to be honored. Her story is told in observations through parents and crew; those who loved her and those who hate her. Ryan must reveal the character only in flashbacks and via others' views of her while retaining a core

Miramar's National Parks

CONTINUING THE MERGER of nature, photography and music is Miramar Productions out of Seattle, WA. Perhaps there's nothing better able to put a stressed nervous system at peace than a journey through some of Nature's settings accompanied by soothing music, no vocals, no narrative commentary. If you can't actually be there, Miramar brings you the next best thing with their excellent line of videos, National Parks being the latest. Here you visit the Grand Canyon; Rainier National Park and The Pacific Northwest for waterfalls; White Sands National Monument; Yellowstone, Bryce Canyon, Olympic, Saquaro, Joshua Tree and Organ Pipe National Parks and the ethercal as well as mystical Carlsbad Caverns, all woven with music by Tangerine Dream, Pete Bardens and Lanz & Speer. This is something you want to keep for peace after, say, a day like today. Right now, I'm on my way to Carlsbad Caverns. See ya.

Nixon

OLIVER STONE'S sprawling double-cassette look at Richard Nixon doesn't seem so sprawling on the home unit. Much of it is like the subject it purports to track, covertly presented; in the Oval Office, the rooms of the White House, various homes, rooms and locales and actually seems better suited to the TV set than the big screen for which it was made. We as a nation, indeed as a world, watched the Watergate affair and Nixon's presidency reveal and unravel on television so much of it seems familiar. Much of it is taken from and presented here on television via original TV footage with star Anthony Hopkins digitally entered into Nixon's historical footsteps. Of the nominated performances, Hopkins and Joan Allen as Pat Nixon, Allen remains as a richly colored personage while Hopkins-perhaps simply because of the majority of time spent with him, thus allowing for microscopic study-tends to grate manneristically outside the character. Accompanying the release print are 20 minutes of never-before-seen footage presented here by writer/director Stone. (Buena Vista Home Video)

Mr. Holland's Opus

ANOTHER ACADEMY NOMINATED piece of work, that of star Richard Dreyfuss' performance as the Mr. Holland of the title, is richly showcased. The actor presents a touching and totally human portrayal as a musician who finds a concerto of life through his teaching. What is even more uplifting, however, is the story by Patrick Shaene Duncan (writer of current Courage Under Fire on the big screen) which, while not overtly stressing the absolute necessity of teachers who are dedicated, gets that point across—now, if a writer and direct or could just find some way to stress the absolute necessity for students who give a damn, wouldn't that be a novelty. While they find a couple students here who discover their way through positive instructor/role models, the other side of the coin is also pointed up with a couple blanks who remain blanks. Still the overriding emotion and feel of the film is positive and welcome. It was popular in theatres and should be the same in video. (BVHV)

Happy Gilmore

PUTTING THE VIOLENT sensibilities of the hockey rink onto the staid links of golf is an interesting concept and Happy Gilmore definitely has some moments of pointed humor but overall the Adam Sandler character is so thoroughly dislikeable up front not even his kindly old grandmother being saved through the good intentions and subsequent actions of the boor can truly redeem this work. Still, the MTV generation voted the on-links fight between Sandler and TV host Bob Barker as the "Best Ot" the season, so that in itself tells you what you're about to view, and Sandler is popular with the break-wind-nbelch bunch. (MCA Universal Home Video).

Rattled

YOU LIKE SNAKES? Rattlesnakes in particular. Well, if you do, this is for you. Thousands of them are here with a couple close calls for our hero William Katt—who really dislikes them—to overcome. Statement here is when you destroy the natural habitat to put up a housing development you'd better be prepared to deal with Nature's creatures whose homes you disturb. This is really slickly done and not as bad as it sounds. Entertainment that'll make you curl your toes, pick your feet up off the floor and think twice about reaching blindly into a clothes hamper—even if it does reach a bit as to how one of those things could curl up in there. But still, these guys can climb ladders and concrete walls. (MCAUHV)

Georgia

MARE WINNINGHAM GOT A Best Supporting nomination for her performance as a popular and successful singer and sister to centerpiece Jennifer Jason Leigh's wannabe star character. She's fine and displays a better than nice voice, but the entire piece is shadowed and shrouded by the dark Leigh character. Several times throughout you begin to hope the angst ridden, sloppy character will simply OD so we can get it all over with. At the least one wants to scrub the packed make-up off the one note (here anyway) actress with Comet. Georgia has a statement to make: sibling love can persist even through dysfunctional families and blind jealousies; and the film does have a cult following, but that's about all that will be looking at this. (BVHV)

truth of her own belief and she succeeds wonderfully while fighting a definite image turnaround here. Ryan is a solid, totally rounded actress who grows with each role. Lou Diamond Phillips has, perhaps the trickiest turn as the seemingly macho ground trooper who tosses the wrench into the works. What he hides is, almost immediately, obvious, but he must hide that also before the last, desperate redemptive measure. Look for Supporting talk down the line here. Absolutely his strongest role to date and he makes the most of it. Michael Moriarty exudes strength as the commanding general and friend. Matt Damon is impressive as a crew member destroying himself because of memories. Scott Glenn is solid as a sympathetic Washington Post journalist and Regina Taylor offers an heroic image for those left at home.

James Horner adds a solid score, heroic without becoming maudlin or overly patriotic. In keeping with the tone of Zwick and Duncan's work, Horner has composed a touching but complex supportive score which is, even under fire, also as human as the people involved.

Cinematographer Roger Deakins and editor Steven Rosenblum's contributions are solid and first rate.

John Davis, Joseph M. Singer and David T. Friendly produced.

TOP UK SINGLES: Moving up again to top spot on the charts is Fugees' "Killing Me Softly" followed by debut single "Born Slippy" by Underworld. Landing down on three is Baddiel/Skinner/The Lightning Seed's "Three Lions" which pushes Peter Andre/Bubbler Ranx's "Mysterious Girl" down to four. Holding onto five is Celine Dion's "Because You Loved Me" followed by newcomers Belinda Carlisle's "In Too Deep" on six. Toni Braxton's "You're Makin' Me High" on seven and Todd Terry/M Wash/J Brown's "Keep On Jumpin" in on eight. Livin' Joy's "Don't Stop Movin" pushes down to nine, and rounding out the chart is newcomer Sleeper with "Nice Guy Eddie."

Still number one album in the UK is Crowded House's Recurring Dream—The Very Best Of. In the music video department, The Live Cast Recording—Les Miserables is still number one as is the rental video Seven and the sale video X Files—File 3 - Abduction. Computer game rentals remain the same with Mega Drive's Toy Story and Super Nintendo's Donkey Kong Country 2 topping the lists. Buena Vista's The Rock is still number one at the UK boxoffice.

Buena Vista's The Rock is still number one at the UK boxoffice. Europe is buying single "Macarena" by Los Del Rio in Denmark, Finland, France, Belgium, Croatia, Latvia and Macedonia making it Europe's top seller. Doing nicely is Fugee's "Killing Me Softly" moving out of the shops in Sweden, Norway, Ireland, Yugoslavia, Israel, Germany and Holland.

Metallica's Load album is loading up in Belgium, Sweden, Finland, Austria and Germany. Meanwhile people in Ireland and Holland are swallowing Alanis Morissette's Jagged Little Pill and the music is to be found in Italy and Switzerland for Eros Ramazzotti's Dove C'e Musica (Where Is The Music).

People in the UK are reading Barney Hoskyns' Waiting For The Sun (Viking), a study of Los Angeles' music scene from the 1930s to today. On the classic side, there's John Lucas' Otto Klemperer: His Life and Times (Cup). In the paperback field we have Stuart Nicholson's Billie Holiday (Indigo) and Purcell: A Biography by Jonathan Keates (Pimlico). Topping the non-fiction best seller list is SAS: The Soldiers' Story by Jack Ramsay (Macmillan) based on the UK television series. Terry Pratchett's Feet Of Clay (Gollanez) is top of the fiction list. Eric Lomax's The Raitway Man (Vintage) is moving out of the bookshops in the paperback general field and Patricia D. Cornwell's From Potter's Field (Warner) is top fiction. BBC's Proms 1996, details of this season's concerts is a useful paperback manual. MAINLY DOWN as PolyGram at NLf96.60 (£36.25) is down 4.2% and Rank Organization. selling at £4.84 is down 2.7%. However, Thorn EMI at £17.94 is up 0.2%.

IT'S A NO, NO-GO so The Sex Pistols won't be playing in Ireland after all. They were scheduled for gigs in Dublin and Belfast, then the Belfast City Council ealled the group's upcoming concert "blasphemous" and cancelled the concert. (Somehow there seems to be more important things going on in North Ireland.) The tour promoters saying it was uneconomical to play only one concert on the Island of Ireland, cancelled the Dublin date. However, Iggy Pop, who was set as special guest at both concerts, will do a solo at Dublin's Mean Fiddler instead.

FROM TRASH TO CASH via video. Wayne Huizenga started out in Trash with Waste Management (now called WMX Technologies) which became the world's largest waste handling company. Then he moved into Blockbuster Video, which he took from being a small Dallas video chain into a worldwide company, then selling it to Viacom. Now he's moving onto ADT, the security firm with a reported bid of £3.2 billion.

CAN'T SLEEP and there's nothing on television? Well, in London you can always run down to a new video shop that caters to people who didn't take their Melatonin. Cinemat UK says that by using a membership smart card, videos can be selected from a menu printed on a video screen which lists up to 900 video releases or CD-ROMs. The menu also gives a few basic facts about each item and once selected, the rental video drops out like a pack of cigarettes. Reportedly the machinery can be found in some 4,000 outlets in Italy, where the major selections tend to be hard-core.

GET MORE POPCORN READY as, thus far this year, the UK's boxoffice shows a 35% growth in seats filled. Part of this increase is attributed to the success of such tocal product as Sense And Sensibility and Trainspotting. In 1995's first quarter, 22.5 million tickets were sold. This year's first quarter total is 32.2 million and with the big Hollywood blockbusters due in, exhibitors expect the second and third quarters to be even better. And an added incentive to go to the films are the many new cineplexes opening as well as the refurbishment of existing cinema houses.

COUGH UP: Ireland's nightclub, hotel and pub owners are facing a £2 million bill for unpaid music copyright charges. The Irish Music Rights Organization elaims they hold copyrights to most music works and that includes new arrangements of old music, which now carry new copyrights. A district court ordered a pub to pay the increased royalties, however, the Circuit Civil Court has postponed the £5,000 judgement in order to have the case appealed to the High Court if agreement is not reached between the IMRO and pub owners.

YOU TOO CAN MAKE A CD: How about doing what Austrian Willi Opitz did. He's come out with a 14-track CD which features the sounds of his wines maturing in their casks.

THIS IS A MUSIC COLUMN, RIGHT? So, Hungary has come up with singing condoms. The top tune on the condom charts is reported to be "Arise Ye Workers..."

SO SUE ME: And Status Quo, the UK rock group did just that. They claimed that BBC Radio 1 was unfair because they didn't play their music, even though they were in the Top 40 charts. BBC replied that just because a record was on the charts didn't mean that their listeners wanted to hear it. The London High Court ruled in favor of BBC.

BACK OFF: Eternal, a London girl group, will do the theme song from Disney's Hunchback Of Notre Dame. "Someday," written by Alan Menken and produced by Simon Climie will be released July 29. Eternal's two albums have sold more than 5 million worldwide.

WELCOME BACK, ADOLPH: RTL, the German commercial broadcaster has brought Hitler back to German television. Most German commercial and public television stations have always cut out any references to the Nazis or the Holocaust in imported U.S. shows like Magnum PI, The Rockford Files and Miami Vice. RTL last month dropped the self-censorship and reports that its reruns of Magnum PI jumped some 25% in the ratings.

MY TIME AIN'T US TIME: The quota system is still making trouble in Europe. European Union culture ministers have agreed not to impose binding quotas on broadcasters on the amount of European-produced shows they must screen. However, the European Parliament in February backed legally enforced quotas for programming. Parliament also put under the quota system new services like video-on-demand. They also voted for talk and game shows to be excluded from calculations on European programming, thus further cutting down non-European (meaning American) shows. France is the strongest defender of quotas while the UK, Germany and Sweden are strongly against.

WELL, HELLO DALAI: If you're in London July 18 drop in at London's hot club, Megatripolis. Gig of the night is a life show on the screen of the Dalai Lama being beamed from his lecture at the Barbican Concert Hall.

SPORTS ONE - MUSIC ZERO: So reports from London record shops indicate. On nights and days when big games are played, customers and sales drop in the stores and the bigger the event, the bigger the drop.

COME ON-A MY HOUSE: No, you first. Invited to 10 Downing Street were the three tenors, Pavarotti, Domingo and Carreras. However, due to their heavy schedule, they asked Prime Minister John Major and his wife to come to them instead. For a while it was a classical standoff but the Brits held firm and the three tenors blinked and so a world crisis was averted and they went to Major's house.

NO, HE DON'T DO WALLS: But Bon Jovi drummer, Tico Torres is a painter and has been switching back and forth between his drum sticks and paint brushes. The results of his efforts can be seen on the walls of London's Benihana restaurant. Prices at Torres' first European exhibition run from £25 for a poster to £10,000 for larger works.

CAN'T SING, CAN'T DANCE, CAN'T SPIN: Well, in the UK you can always make big bucks driving a celebrity DJ from gig to gig. With DJs getting up to £1,500 for a two-hour set (we're talking $3,500 here) they need wheels to get them to a couple of gigs a night. And to fill the needs of the celebrity DJs, a new company, Disc Drive was formed in London, thus becoming the first specialist agency handling DJ drivers. True, the pay isn't as good as the DJ gets, and the job isn't as glamorous, but earning up to £300 for a weckend, and getting the left-over groupies ain't too bad.

BAD BAD - BAD BOB comes to London this week when the Dublin-based restaurant and music venue opens its newest branch in London's Covent Gardens. It features a full-size stage in the 200-seat restaurant with "dining music" until 11 p.m. and from then on it'll be live bands and comedy acts. Owner Gerry O'Reilly expects to get a club license in a couple of months which will allow Bad Bob to serve drinks until 3 a.m. Bob Geldof is to be host of the opening party with guests confirming including Mick Jagger, Damon Albarn from Blur together with some of the Super Models as well as other members of London's high profile community.

AND THE WINNER of the Grand Prix at the 43rd International Advertising Festival in Cannes is the Volvo poster from Japan and in the film division, a Dutch ad for Rolo Candy. Losers were a Brazilian anti-AIDS commercial which featured a talking penis and a Swiss toilet paper ad which starred a fly buzzing around a man's backside. London's Saatchi & Saatchi was voted Agency of the Year and British Airways flew in as Advertiser of the Year.

SCHOOLS AIN'T WHAT THEY USED TO BE: Especially in the UK where the Conservative's education minister has given approval for School Media Marketing to start selling "wasted bare walls" in schools to advertisers. While there have been some protests from educators and parents, the company reports more than 1,000 schools have expressed interest in the plan.

Hill, O'Connor To Close Olympics

In Other News...

By Wendy Newcomer

WARNER BROS. NASH-VILLE ARTISTS FAITH HILL AND MARK O'CON-NOR will represent country music on August 4 at the gala Closing Ceremony Southern Jamboree, the finale of the 1996 Olympic Games in Atlanta. Hill and O'Connor will be joined by a stellar lineup of artists that includes Gloria Estefan, Al Green, B.B. King, Wynton Marsalis, Tito Puente, Little Richard and Buckwheat Zydeco. The once-in-a-lifetime jam session will be guided by everyone's favorite conductor (and David Letterman's longtime musical director) Paul Shaffer.

"We are working with authentic artists to offer the world a sampler of the different kinds of music that have made—and continue to make—the South one of the world's greatest producers of popular music," said executive producer Don Mischer.

During the Jamboree, Hill will carry the "vocal torch" for country music and master fiddler O'Connor will perform his original composition, "Olympic Reel." written for the closing ceremonies. Hill has two platinum-selling albums for Warner Bros—Take Me As I Am and lt Matters To Me. O'Connor first gained recognition as a player with artists such as Chet Atkins, Vince Gill, Lyle Lovett and James Taylor. Now having made a name for himself as a composer, O'Connor has performed his "Fiddle Concerto" with more than 50 symphony orchestras and in May, premiered his second symphonic work "The Tennessee Concerto."

Hall Of Fame Increases Inductees

TAKING A HINT FROM WILLIE NELSON, the Country Music Assn. announced that it will induct 10 new members into the Country Music Hall of Fame over the next three years. Beginning this year through 1998, there will be one inductee in each of the following categories: Open: Career Achieved National Prominence During the 1950s; and Career Achieved National Prominence Prior to 1950. A non-performer will also be inducted in 1998.

Upon receiving his Hall of Fame plaque during the telecast of the 1993 CMA Awards, Nelson remarked, "There's some guys out there we gotta go back and pick up, and next year I think we ought to dump about five or 10 folks in this Hall of Fame and catch up, 'cause we're getting behind." The Hall of Fame eventually agreed.

"Certainly there are many deserving individuals who have made significant contributions to this industry," said Ed Benson, CMA executive director. "There was a strong feeling by the board about the need to add to the Hall of Fame. The issue was how to assure that additional inductions would cover some of the pioneers who might be passed over. Everyone was very satisfied by the decision to designate special categories focusing on the '50s and prior to the '50s."

This year's inductees will be announced in late August. The induction ceremony will be included in the live telecast of "The 30th Annual CMA Awards," scheduled for Wednesday, October 2 on CBS-TV at 8 p.m. (EST).

ASCAP signed the Lynn Twins (Loretta Lynn's daughters) to a writers agreement in the Societies Nashville offices. Pictured are (I-r): Peggy Lynn; ASCAP's Connie Bradley; Patsy Lynn; and ASCAP's Ralph Murphy.

VETERAN SONGWRITER GENE NELSON signed an exclusive deal with SESAC, Inc. for performing rights representation. Nelson is the writer of country hits such as "Eighteen Wheels And A Dozen Roses" and "Bubba Hyde."

HIGHTONE RECORDS ARTIST JOHNNY RODRIGUEZ will headline the first annual Mexican Fiestaval Cook Off at Hermitage Landing on August 17. The event is sponsored by Taco Bell, Budweiser and Pepsi, with donations from the production company and entertainers going to The Boys And Girls Clubs of Middle Tennessee.

ROUNDER RECORDS ARTISTS will entertain the masses at the Summer Olympics at Southern Crossroads, a free outdoor festival in Atlanta's Centennial Olympic Park. Scheduled to perform between July 18 and August 3 are The Vidalias, Claire Lynch, D.L. Menard & the Louisiana Aces, and Robert Ward.

THE THIRD ANNUAL MARK COLLIE Celebrity Race for Diabetes Cure is set for October 9 at Nashville Speedway USA. Drivers confirmed for the Legends car race include Collie, Brooks & Dunn, Tim McGraw, Faith Hill, Tracy Lawrence, The Mavericks, and others.

SONGWRITER STERLING WHIPPLE recently signed an exclusive writing agreement with Hamstein Cumberland Music Group. Whipple's credits include "Third Rock From The Sun" and "I'll Be Coming Back For More."

THE COLLECTIVE, A NASHVILLE-BASED film and video production company, has added Laura Lyness to its staff as director of marketing and publicity. Lyness will represent the company's three directors, Steven Goldmann, Thom Oliphant and Bob Gabrielsen.

FANS OF BLUEGRASS can now reach Pinecastle/Webco product info through the label's Web Site or e-mail address. Current product by The Osborne Brothers, Larry Stephenson, Southern Rail and The New Coon Creek Girls is available on the web at http://pinecastle.com.

BILLY RAY CYRUS HAS ENDED his association with manager of seven years Jack McFadden, effective July 24. Cyrus' new Mercury album, Trail Of Tears, is scheduled to be released August 20.

ARISTA NASHVILLE'S BR5-49 just completed a whirlwind tour of Europe and received raves for their unique brand of country music. The group's first full-length CD, The Number To Call Is...BR5-49, is slated for a September 17 release.

THE MUSIC VALLEY WAX MUSEUM OF THE STARS welcomed legend George Jones to its "Sidewalk of the Stars" on July 4. Jones also signed copies of his new book, "I Lived To Tell It All."

Album Reviews By Wendy Newcomer

PAUL JEFFERSON: Paul Jefferson (Almo Sounds AMSD-80007)

It's the age of the singer/songwriter in Music City, and Paul Jefferson is right in his element. All songs on this self-titled debut were co-written by Jefferson, who, up until now, is best known for writing Aaron Tippin's hit, "That's As Close As I'll Get To Loving You." Jefferson's sensitive-man voice belies his penchant for clever humor.

as heard in "I Might Just Make It" and in his first single, "Check Please." Otherwise, the album is full of love songs of reassurance that run the gamut of so-so tunes to potential hits. The album closes with a hopeful message found in "Common Ground." Hopefully, Jefferson will find common ground between being a Nashville songwriter and finding radio acceptance.

PAUL BRANDT: Calm Before The Storm (Reprise 9-46180-2)

With a three-octave range and a songwriting ability that could rival any veteran tunesmith, Paul Brandt's debut album is already causing radio to sit up and take notice. Crafted by noted rock producer Josh Leo, Calm Before The Storm showcases Brandt's lean toward traditional country and provides a modern sound to old standards like "Pass Me By (If You're Only Passing Through)." The majority of the cuts on Calm are written by Brandt, who sings with an authority that contradicts his 23-year-old baby face. Album highlights include the current single, "I Do," "I Meant To Do That," "All Over Me," and "Take It From Me."

WADE HAYES: On A Good Night (Columbia/DKC CK-67563)

On A Good Night is Wade Hayes' second album, the ultra-important sophomore effort. The outcome? Hayes holds a steady gait in the race of the '90s cowboys. Occasional bouts of mediocrity are offset by heart-stopping performances including "The Room" and "My Side Of Town." Other notables are "Hurts Don't It" and "Undo The Right."

Hayes' last track is the autobiographical "This Is The Life For Me." a song that unpretentiously explains why he will be a contender for leader-of-the-pack status in years to come.

PICK OF THE WEEK

SUZY BOGGUSS: Give Me Some Wheels (Capitol 7243-8-35460-2-9)

The essence of Suzy Bogguss is like sugar cane sweet in flavor and unbendable in strength. Back from a motherhood hiatus, Give Me Some Wheels is a verification that she hasn't lost her pitch-perfect voice or her way with a pen. Bogguss sweetly rocks out in "Traveling Light" and "No Way Out;" is playful-but-direct in

"Feeling 'Bout You' and "Let's Get Real;" and brings genuine tenderness to "Far and Away" and "Live To Love Another Day." Bogguss' Give Me Some Wheels should rejuvenate a career marked by integrity and true talent.

Hits & Pieces

By Dick Ishbun

AN ATLANTIC FLOOD IN CYBERSPACE: Atlantic Records is making quite the splash in cyberspace, bringing live events to distant modems the world over. And who knows what ET's are picking up the signals. The label is singing its praises for a series of May events on its DigitalArena website (http://www.atlantic-records.com/DigitalArena/), including a Tori Amos in-store at the new Virgin Megastore in New York City's Times Square, the Jewel concert at Mew York's Irving Plaza and the Tragically Hip's set at Irving Plaza.

Of course, the fact that they claim 6.2 million hits for the month helps boost the volume on the laudatory chorus. Under the direction of Nikke Slight, Atlantic's director of multimedia, the DigitalArena has earned attention from Newsweek's "Cyberscope" column and has prompted other labels to more aggressively pursue hosting live events on their own website. Atlantic's DigitalArena also is planning a full slate of live events and other features, including expansive coverage of the Macintosh Musical Festival that kicked off last week in New York City.

Partnered with EmeraldNet, Atlantic has set up a site employing an array of audio, video and computer technology that permits maximum interactivity for end users, regardless of hardware. It must have worked in May, as Amos' hour-long cybercast, uh, netted about 225,000 hits on the Atlantic website in a 24-hour period. Jewel's show (which also featured labelmate Duncan Sheik opening) topped that with 272,000 hits. The cyber pounding reached 310,000 later in the month after the Newsweek article, rebroadcast of Amos' in-store, links with the bigitalArena. The cybercast of The Tragically Hip and Mammoth recording act Clarissa (formerly known as Snatches Of Pink), broke the clock at 400,000 hits at the end of the month.

Atlantic has set-up to co-host with the Macintosh Music Festival a July 18 cybercast from the Wesbeth Theatre with Mammoth Atlantic recording Artist Frente. The next day, the DigitalArena will feature performances by Mammoth/Atlantic act Seven Mary Three and Modern/Atlantic recording artist Poe who will perform at the Roseland Ballroom. And on July 19, Atlantic recording act The Gathering Field bring to a close coverage at the Mac fest with a cybercast from Greenwich Village's Lion's Den. Poe will be heard throughout July on DigitalArena's series "Cyber Cafe," which will feature her during a road tour with Seven Mary Three.

Atlantic might be promoting its artists through the website with the aim of stimulating sales of its artists' product, but the DigitalArena puts them into the live show business, too.

QUICK HIT: M2: Music Television, developed as a sister channel to the ubiquitous MTV: Music Television is scheduled to debut August 1. With plans to target the 12-34-year-old demographic with a so-called "freeform" music format, the channel will be on 24/7 with a playlist that features the broadest group of artists and genres of music that are present in the marketplace. The channel, according to MTV honchos was constructed with the burgeoning interactive age in mind.

"This is the perfect time to launch M2: Music Television," commented Tom Freston, chairman/CEO of MTV Networks. "M2 is custom built for the interactive digital era. It will be innovative and adventurous force in music programming, much the same way that MTV has been since it launched in 1981. M2 will blend an eclectic mix of music and promotion with the power of the Internet."

The new channel will offer viewers through Intercast, a new technology developed by Intel, the opportunity to use their computers to tune into M2 and receive relevant information related to the music video they are watching. Artist tour dates, inside information about the video and/or artist, polls and contests are features planned for the site.

MILTON NASCIMENTO: Amigo (Warner Bros. 46248-2). Producers: Marcio Ferreira & M. Nascimento.

This live record (cut in Belo Horizonte, Brazil at the Palacio Das Artes Sept. 22. 1994), complete with an orchestra and some large Gershwin-esque arrangements, does not overwhelm the intimate power of this Brazilian crooner. Nascimento's vocal interpretations are as lush as the Orquestra Jazz Sinfonica Do Estado De Sao Paulo's strings and horns that undulate around his lyric. Performed in his native Portugese, there's no emotional content lost in the translation. While the orchestra and the two children's choirs that accompany him provide theatrical textures, none of that is more dramatic than Nascimento's vocals, especially on (translated titles) "I Know I'll Love You" and "See This Song." "Paul And Bebeto" and "Stickball And Marbles" are perhaps the most successful uptempo offerings on this record, which is a nod to Amnesty International.

THE MARIAN MCPART-LAND TRIO: Live At Yoshi's Nightspot (Concord Jazz CCD-4712). Producer: Charles C. Emory.

Always a dependable performer, one whose music slips around you like a down comforter, McPartland's articulate piano stylings are like warm, insightful conversations. And she's equally at home sharing these ivory chats with the material of Duke Ellington and Stephen Sondheim to Thelonius Monk and Ornette Coleman. In this live setting at the Oakland, CA club Yoshi's, with accompanists Bill Douglass (bass) and drummer Glenn Davis, McPartland exudes quiet and/or engaging resilience, especially on standards like "In A Sentimental Mood," "Straight, No Chaser," "Steeplechase," and "Bemsha Swing." The audience reaction on the album is rightfully warm and apreciative.

Financing for the acquisition was arranged by Communications Equity Associates, Inc., while legal work was handled by the New York firm of Phillips, Nizer, Benjamin, Krim & Ballon.

RIAA MIDYEAR RECAP: The Recording Industry Association of America announced its midyear Gold and Platinum certifications, awarding June nods to 12 Gold and one Multi-Platinum singles, and 19 Gold and 29 Multi-Platinum albums.

Hootie and The Blowfish's Cracked Rear View debut LP attained U.S. sales of 14 million copies, trailing only Boston's 1976 album (15 million) as the top-selling debut album of all time. Boyz II Men's 11 notched in at 12 million units sold, followed by TLC's CrazySexyCool, which topped the 10 million mark. Haitian-American hip hoppers, The Fugees upped their Score to four million copies sold. "Tha Crossroads" single certified Double-Platinum for Relativity's Bone Thugs-N-Harmony, while the LP which spawned it, E. 1999 Eternal, hit the three million level, a milestone shared by R. Kelly's LP R. Kelly. His earlier project, 12 Play recently edged the 5 million level.

The all-female compilation to the Waiting To Exhale soundtrack reached six million units sold, launching Platinum single spinoffs from Whitney Houston, Brandy and Mary J. Blige. It is the first soundtrack ever to generate three Platinum singles. Resurrection, the Geto Boys long-awaited reunion LP went Gold, sharing that status with Marilyn Manson's Smells Like Children, and Further Down The Spiral by Nine Inch Nails. SWV, H-Town, Jay-Z, Monifah, and Lost Boyz all certified Gold for their recent single releases.

CONGRESS BACKS CHICK IN GERMANY: Head of International Relations Committee, Benjamin A. Gilman, has taken up the cause for Grammy-winning jazz musician Chick Corea who was the target of religious discrimination by the German government in 1993 when his scheduled performance at the 1993 World Athletics Championship Concert in Baden Wurttemberg, Germany was cancelled, and again two months ago in the Bavarian city of Burghausen, over his affiliation as a member of the Church of Scientology.

In a letter to Secretary of State, Warren Christopher, Congressman Gilman asked Christopher to intervene on Corea's behalf due to his "concern about practices of the German Government that adversely impact the rights of American citizens who are Scientologists."

"I have been performing throughout Germany and in all corners of the world for the last twenty years without incident," stated Corea. "At no time have my personal religious beliefs been a part of my concerts nor have they ever been an issue. I consider this artistic apartheid. As an American I cannot stand by and do nothing about it."
