DELIVERS DELIVERS DEL

INSIDE TOP 40 with DAVE SHOLIN

Does success breed conservatism? That question came up in two conversations I had this week, one with a major-market programmer and another with a medium-market air talent. Both witnessed their ratings soar during the formative period when the stations were on the attack, building audience from book to book. In both instances, once success was realized, the powers-that-be began pulling back from the aggressive posture, creating an unhappy atmosphere and lower shares in the ratings battle. All too frequently, air talent and programmers who feel handcuffed creatively depart, and are replaced by those who accept the status quo. It's clear, judging by the perennial leaders in market after market, that the winning management credo is, "If it ain't broke don't fix it."

In only their third week on the chart, CUTTING CREW is hanging just outside the Top Ten! KUBE's Gary Bryan and Wendy Christopher move it all the way from 29-12..other big gains at KKXX Bakersfield 23-16, KPKE Denver 29-19, KIXY San Angelo 23-16, KYYY Bismarck 23-16, KDWB Minneapolis 23-15, WKDD Akron 25-17, Q105 Tampa 12-5, WTIC Hartford 27-19, etc. February 20th was the date JODY WATLEY became a crossover pick and it's busting through for just about everyone at this stage of development. Scott Shannon debuts it number 14 at Z100, plus jumps of seven places or more at Z95 Chicago 29-21, KEYP Tyler 31-23, KYOS Merced 15-8, KIIS Los Angeles 14-5, WBBQ Augusta

29-19, B94 Pittsburgh 30-21, etc. Immediate impact on CERTIFIED entry FLEETWOOD MAC. Heading straight into the Top Thirty in all regions. Debuts at #20 for Steve Kelsey WFBG Altoona, #21 with Craig Ashwood 94Q Atlanta and #23 for Tony Davis KVIC Victoria. Also debuting Top Thirty at KQEU, Y108, KIMN, Y94, KGLI, WVSR, WBAM, WYAV, Q99, WWFX, etc. Radio is giving BRYAN ADAMS the warm welcome that everyone expected. Over 200 reports in only two weeks, with adds at B104 Baltimore, WBPM Kingston, KROC Rochester, 92X Columbus, KBIU Lake Charles, KWSS San Jose, CKOM Saskatoon, KKYK Little Rock WKLQ Grand Rapids, WJET Erie, etc.

HIT FACTOR up to 11% for SIMPLY RED, who are just above the 150 mark in total reports. Excellent chart picture coming out of Boston, where Sunny Joe White takes it up 23-14 at WXKS and crosstown Harry Nelson lists it 29-24 at Z94. Other noteworthy moves include WPDZ 30-21, WCGQ 16-11, WKZQ 32-24, KVFM 28-22, KKLS 19-15, etc.

Market after market is confirming that POISON is taking effect, or should I say getting the expected reaction Number One for the second week in a row in conservative Salt Lake City at KCPX. Also big in Dallas at Y95 13-10, KS103 San Diego 13-10, KDVV Topeka 36-15, Y100 Miami 21-14, Z93 Atlanta 25-21, PRO/FM Providence 30-24, etc.

Teen appeal ranking is also strong for the followup by BEASTIE BOYS. HIT FACTOR is already 19%. Adds at Q99 Burlington, Y100 Miami, WROQ Charlotte, KIIS Los Angeles and KSND Eugene. Debuts #26 in Houston at 93Q.

CHRIS DeBURGH has been fighting an uphill battle since early Fall of last year but continues to prove a winner at many stations. HIT FACTOR is a significant 24% with Top 5 activity reported in Atlanta by Steve Davis at PWR 99.7, Bob Harlow KATD Los Gatos/San Jose, Mike Preston KWSS San Jose, Tony Waitekus WCIL Carbondale, etc. Now over 100 reports with 23 new believers including WKNE, WHKW, WYKS, WAGQ, KS103, KSLY, KZZP, WZOK, WZKX, etc.

HEARTBREAK BEAT

PSYCHEDELIC FURS

Former Record To Watch PSYCHEDELIC FURS picks up another 10 adds including 106X, WPFM, KTMT, KMGX, Y95, KTUF, etc. Climbs 22-17 at KHIT Seattle, 30-24 93Q Houston, 19-16 WPST Trenton, and debuts #29 at B106 Washington D.C.

Big Big airplay week on last week's Record To Watch, KIM WILDE. New on 32 stations including Z93, Z100, KCPW, WPOW, Q105, KMEL, KFMY, KZZP, I94, KRQ, KKSS, KZZU, KVXO, KGOT, KIYS, WBBQ, etc. Debuts at #15 in San Antonio at KITY, and #10 at B97 New Orleans.

ATLANTIC STARR moves into the URBAN CONTEMPORARY Top Ten and checks in with at Top 40 HIT FACTOR of 20%. New on G105, WTNZ, WBBQ, KYNG, KWXX, KMEL, KSYZ, etc. Moves 12-10 for early believer Guy Zapoleon at KZZP. Keep careful tabs on PSEUDO ECHO, who are quietly building a case worthy of mention. KZZU's Randy Robbins charts it 24-15 and Jay McCall at KOZE Lewiston moves it 13-11. New on KITY, WKPE, KIYS, KVXO, KHIT, KGOT, KUBE, KSND, etc. Excellent gains on COMPANY B at WTIC Hartford 25-15, Y100 Miami 10-7, KITY San Antonio 5-3, KMEL San Francisco 13-8, etc. Added at WQBZ, Z100, WYDD, KKTIX, I94, KS103, KREO, KZZP, KINN, 93Q, JLK/FM etc.

STONEWALLING

An aggrieved Garry Wall, PD at KKLQ (Q106)-San Diego, checks in to declare, "Despite what one trade is saying, we are not going head-to-head against anyone." Gracefully sidestepping pleas to define the format of the former KLZZ, he says, "People have compared us to everything from B100 to POWER106. I don't care what they say--as long as they listen!" Crosstown, Nick Ferrara at KS103 critiques, "Very A/C during the day and Top 40 at night." While expressing concern about the increasing number of stations "chiseling away at the 18-34s," Ferrara admits "a little adrenalin rush" at the advent of a new rival. "It will only make the market stronger," he asserts. Wall agrees: "When there's increased competition in any contemporary format, the first thing that happens is the universe gets bigger."

"Its not exactly an all-Don Johnson format--we throw in a lot of Huey Lewis, Lionel Richie and Phil Collins," says Kipper McGee, skipper of WHBT, Milwaukee's new "Heartbeat." The former WRKR-Racine is now targeted to 18-40 females--"Top 40 without the Beasties," is PD McGee's description. He credits consultant Gary Guthrie for helping to "take off the Top 40 blinders," adding, "We tested 'Heart,' but people thought it was soft rock. 'Beat' was too urban. 'Heartbeat' was just right. We're uptempo, but all our songs are lyrically meaningful. We hope it's the kind of station Laverne and Shirley would listen to--and Lenny and Squiggy would have on at home, too." Station is still in the board-op stage, with air staffers arriving in April. Kipper promises some "McGee-style interesting promos," so stay tuned.

BILLBOARD BOUGHT

Billboard Magazine has joined the parade of broadcast trade publications gobbled up by media giants. (Chinwag is still dickering with The National Enquirer.) A $100 million deal brought Billboard and its many sister publications (including Musician and Music & Media) under the wing of Affiliated

Publications, parent of the Boston Globe. Former owner Billboard Publications, Inc., which took over from the Littleford family in 1985, will realize about a $60 million profit and retain minority interest. Sale gives Vox Jox columnist Kim Freeman a chance to turn the tables on radio: "Tell everyone, 'No Change In Format!'"

EARLY ANNIE

Lou Simon of Power99 (KCPX)-Salt Lake City reports the hottest response in years to "I Only Want To Be With You" by The Tourists. Simon says the 1980 Annie Lennox cover of Dusty Springfield's hit charted briefly, then disappeared until he resurrected it. "Adults--particularly females--liked it right off. Then teens made it the number one on our nightly 'Hot Nine at 9.' It's a smash. Stores are getting people asking for the 'new Eurythmics.' It's a real listener-awakener. See for yourself--test it in any daypart." The cut is available only on an Epic compilation album.

RECORD ROTATION

After 21 years in radio, WLUM-Milwaukee PD Bernie Miller is moving on to the other side of the business. He's been named Vice President/A&R for Black Music at Epic Records in New York. Bernie, for you trivia buffs, wrote Ann Peeble's 1973 hit, "I Can't Stand The Rain"...Simon Low has been promoted to Vice President/A&R for RCA Records. Heinz Henn is now Vice President/International A&R Marketing for RCA, Ariola and Arista Records, and Marilyn Lipsius is RCA's Director, Publicity & Video. Arista has also named Debra Stein, Manager, Tour Press... PolyGram Records names Tony Joseph as A&R Manager for subsidiary Wing Records...Lisa Barbaris has been appointed Manager, East Coast Publicity for Elektra/Asylum Records...One of the industry's most consistent, persistent and talented promo men is weighing offers. Former Elektra guy Harry Levy--Gavin's 1987 Alternative/College Man of the Year--comes highly recommended. No one works a phone better. Give him a bell at (212) 825-1168.

YOU DON'T NEED A WEATHERMAN

Rockford, IL, breeding ground of Milwaukee programmers (see RADI-O-RAMA) was mistakenly wiped off the map by the National Weather Service earlier this month. The RTNDA Intercom says a March 2nd NWS bulletin sent to Midwest broadcast and cable outlets reported a predawn tornado had "demolished" the town of 140,000. The report--actually a test message gone astray--caused little stir in Rockford, but was aired on two radio stations, WJVL-Janesville, WI, and Chicago's WLAK, before a disclaimer moved on the wires. The NWS blames the foulup on software problems that have since been solved.

RADI-O-RAMA

WKLH-Milwaukee PD Joe Krause packs his bags for Detroit to spread the "Classic Rock" gospel at WCSX (known as WMJC until its A/C "majic" faded). Replacing him is Steve Brill from WROK/WZOK-Rockford, IL--also the alma mater of "Heartbeat's" Kipper McGee (see above) and scene of a mythical disaster (see above). Taking over in Rockford are PD Steve Summers and MD Scott Manning, who will no doubt be in Beer City one day.

Our own Dave Sholin has resigned his PD position at KFRC-San Francisco to concentrate on his duties as Top 40 Editor for the Gavin Report. He'll continue to host IS Inc's weekly syndicated "Countdown USA"...Shifts in the Elton Spitz empire: WXXP-Pittsburgh MD D.J. Bird returns to announcing duties at Long Island's WLIR, turning music chores over to PM driver Deb Brady...Afternoon host Victor John adds MD title at KNIN/FM-Wichita Falls, TX, as Chuck Roberts rides in from KEYJ-Abilene to take wakeup shift...David Sadof is Asst. MD at KLOL-Houston...Debby Baker is upped to PD at KLOO/KFAT-Corvallis, OR...Carol Handley rises to Asst. PD at KEZX-Seattle, and Ben Chalkes does same at WPYK-Birmingham, AL...

COMPARING COLUMBIA ▼

caught at the Gavin Cocktail Party discussing the latest antics of The Beastie Boys.

Several years ago, we profiled a few of you record and radio biz mavens in this space. A deluge of letter and phone call has convinced us you want to know MORE about the lives of your peers, underlings, bosses, sycophants, flunkies and associates. With that in mind, we present Edition II of the highly lauded...

Lifestyles of the Richland Famous

PHIL QUARTARARO/VIRGIN RECORDS

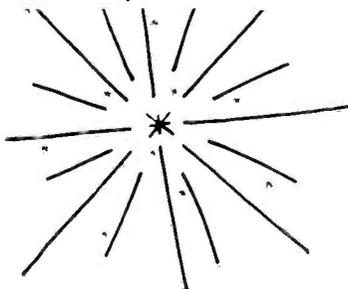

This guy's meteoric rise has sparked myriad questions. Some of them are 1) Does he actually know a guy who knows Gerry DeFrancesco? 2) While at Island, did he pick out Robert Palmer's suits? and 3) Is he a flash in the veritable pan, or will he be around as long as Billy (MCA) Brill's Kuala Lumpur local guy?

No one knows these answers, but we DO know that Phil's success and rapid rise through the ranks to the visible spot as a boss of Virgin have afforded him the luxury of an opulent and well-deserved lifestyle. While still residing in The Apple, Phil had much to do with the success of "Addicted To Love." His now-legendary comment, "How should I know which track to release? They all sound alike to me," was a portent of the '87 Grammys. When the cut hit, Phil moved out of his four-story walkup in Greenwich Village into a plush Fifth Avenue townhouse adjoining that of Percy Sledge.

Virgin recognized the Phil-guy's talent and moved him lock, stock and BMW to the West Coast, where he purchased Wilt Chamberlain's old mansion. Protected by electrified barbed-wire fences, mean-spirited Dobermans and a complex alarm system, Villa Phil rests on a 100-acre parcel high above the Gentile ghetto of Beverly Hills. Here he relaxes in splendid fashion after a hard day of trying to get Steve Rivers on the phone. A protective moat greets visitors after the three-mile trek up Phil's Southfork-like driveway. Six alligators screen guests arriving for one of Phil's 18-course Sunday brunches, and guards dressed as Marriott doormen check credentials. When arriving for this interview, we were greeted by the affable promo-domo, who was walking his six Camels on the massive lawn. Never asking why he walked his cigarettes, we settled down for a buffet of egg creams, candied gefilte fish and deep-fried sushi-on-a-stick. Cowering servants sniveled at every request and calls from Scott Shannon were waved off with dispatch. The Quartararo lifestyle should inspire any young record person. I, myself, could only muse, "There, but for The Nazz, go I!" ●

ELMA GREER/THE GAVIN REPORT

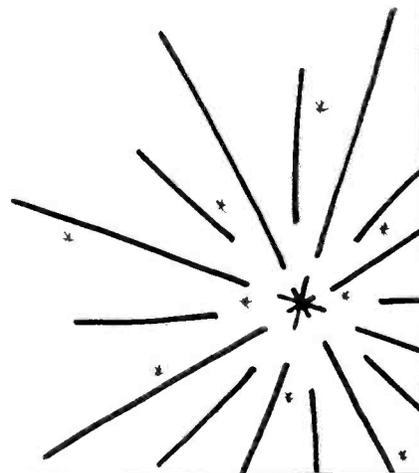

A classic riches-to-more-riches story! No one could have dreamed that the once all-powerful KSFO Music Director could ascend even greater heights by a chance move into what used to be called Country & Western. Western hasn't been heard from in a while...It's just Country, and Elma is the undisputed Queen of same. Her speedy rise is astonishing, when you consider that this is a woman who, a mere 10 years ago, thought Lacy J. Dalton was the wife of a train robber. From maid-of-honoring at Jerry Lee Lewis' ninth wedding to being a witness at the Marie Osmond/hockey-player guy divorce, she's ever in the forefront when C&W is involved. And she's been duly rewarded. Residing in a Victorian showplace high above San Francisco's Tenderloin, she lives in the lap of down-home luxury. Her 12-room castle, built in the shape of Eddy Raven, nestles on a plot of land she couldn't have imagined when she was programming Hurricane Smith records in her two-by-two-foot office at the old KSFO. Country has been good to Elma, who now greets pals with lines like, "Howdy, Bub" and, "Have you heard the new Pinkard Bowdens?" Her faithful servant, Billy Bob Swig, responds to her calls for spiked lemonade; Juice Newton makes pilgrimages with her new CDs; and Jerry Clower, William Lee Golden and Junior Samples work security on revolving shifts. We don't begrudge the Elm-girl living in this sort of grits 'n' gravy version of a Dynasty world. She got it the old-fashioned way...She earned it! ●

WALT PINTO/ WHYNS-SPRINGFIELD, MA

Nestled in the gorgeous New England countryside sits the chalet in which A/C programmer Pinto and his patient bloodhound Gumby make their home. Years of picking hits (after Sheila Chlanda TOLD him they were hits) have brought Walt a reputation. Despite this, there is a continuing feeling that a mere luncheon date will not insure a Pinto Pick To Click. A vision in polyester, Walt scoffs at his detractors and utters his now famous catch-phrase: "I just play the hits...and all other records good enough to be sold at K-Mart."

This positive attitude has given Walt a lifestyle envied by Christina Onassis, Larry Bird and Michael Deaver. His custom Delorean station wagon brings awe to the hearts of Springfielders who see him tooling through the city's skid row. Often he will stop and, with his characteristic spirit of altruism, purchase Lean Cuisine hor d'oeuvres for down-and-out all-night guys. His sense of fair play is the reason this radio legend reports to virtually every trade publication, including "Guns & Ammo," "Boot & Shoemaker" and "Modern Sludge Management." The luxury in which this paragon of the industry resides is living testimony to the motto by which he conducts his life: "Is the new Helen Reddy out yet?" ● ny film written, directed or produced by John Hughes starts with an imaginary soundtrack drawn from his personal record collection. Even before a single camera rolls, he already has the sound of his movies in his head, setting up the basic feel and, most important, the attitude. The films Hughes has directed and produced--Sixteen Candles, Breakfast Club, Weird Science, Pretty In Pink and Ferris Bueller's Day Off--have grossed $200 million in the short span of three years. His current film, Some Kind Of Wonderful, features an array of groundbreaking bands virtually unknown in this country. He's just finished She's Having A Baby with Kevin Bacon and Elizabeth McGovern and is about to start Planes, Trains and Automobiles, starring Steve Martin and John Candy. All this without once using the words "rock n roll" on a movie poster.

Originally an advertising copywriter and freelance writer, Hughes joined National Lampoon magazine as an editor. It was there that he first revealed his skills as a screenwriter, turning out screenplays for National Lampoon's Vacation and Mr. Mom. Even though he'd never set foot on a movie set, Hughes bargained for his directorial debut of Sixteen Candles, starring Molly Ringwald and Anthony Michael Hall. The topic at hand for this interview revolved around the release of Some Kind Of Wonderful, both the movie which Hughes produced and the soundtrack sampler album released on the newly-launched Hughes label via MCA Records. We spoke to him about his music tastes, his insight into the world of disenfranchised teenage America and the prospect of giving unknown art bands a shot at reaching the masses via the silver screen.

THE SOUND OF MOVIES

KZ: As opposed to OMD?

JH: I was very happy with OMD. I liked them very much and had approached them first because of the old CBS problem with music and films--the video cassette buy-outs and all those other horror stories. I was quite pleased with OMD, but I foresaw problems in the future. If you have an obscure band versus a well-known band or a band more inclined to break, you can't necessarily force a record company to push something they're not interested in. So the label is really about control. I have faith in MCA because Irving (Azoff) has been understanding about what I'm trying to do, which is using more obscure bands and people who are not so well known. I had always dealt with bands that may have not yet broken Top Forty, but had built reputations. Now I'm dealing with bands that haven't even had domestic releases. Some Kind Of Wonderful is a pretty obscure album. We'll see whether it works or not. It may not go gold or platinum, but it will expose these bands. The songs will be in the film and on the videocassette. There will be recognition for these bands. That's what I'm interested in. The music is not my primary source of business, so I can take risks.

KZ: Stephen Hague produced all of the sessions on the album. How did his role differ from Keith Forsey's, who oversaw the Breakfast Club soundtrack?

JH: Something I learned from Keith was to get the (music) producer involved early on. There are compilation soundtrack albums where you've got ten different producers submitting ten different tracks. They're all on the album but there isn't any uniformity to the sound. Keith came to the Breakfast Club rehearsals. He was in from the very beginning. There he was in the background, watching the actors read through the material, watching the way I was working with them. There were extensive conversations about the film and what it would sound like. Will it be all in one room? Will it be very confined? The music should be percussive. All these thoughts came out. Keith then went off and very quickly wrote the songs. He came back with the demos in a phenomenally short time. He really determined the sound of the movie. Then we went to Stephen. That was the same thing. We wanted him to produce all the songs on the album, plus the score. Then the movie will have a completely uniform sound. The individuality of the various artists will be linked by one common producer. His sound will be applied to all these bands.

KZ: Lately, I feel the overall concept of a soundtrack album has been raped and plundered.

JH: A lot of people wrongly believe that a single will open the movie, that here is this great free marketing tool. In isolated incidents, singles have broken movies. There have been times like Saturday Night Fever, when something will catch. But what a single is good for is sustaining the movie. I think too much emphasis is being put on the single. If the single charts, will the video get played? There's all this marketing jazz. Film people tend to go for bands that will get them chart position immediately without thinking about what's right for the movie or what makes most sense.

KZ: "Don't You Forget About Me" was a Gavin number one on our Album and Top Forty charts. In that case, the song stood on its own.

JH: What I wanted was an anthem for these five very different characters. This would be their personal anthem. Keith came back with "Don't You." There was a lot of discussion over who should do the song. I had been listening to Simple Minds pretty heavily. I had actually tried to put them into Sixteen Candles, but there wasn't the right slot for them. So I had "Up On A Catwalk" temped in. For a while I thought Simple Minds were Australian because I bought New Gold Dream in Australia. I found out they were an A&M band. Oh great! This is great! That cut out all the singles rights issues and all those legal things.

KZ: Were any other acts being considered to record that song?

JH: Bryan Ferry. Keith was into that. That was interesting, but for whatever reason, it wasn't the right move for Bryan Ferry at the time. Corey Hart was also mentioned and I said no. I liked the political stance Simple Minds took. Whoever wrote that thing in the Gavin Report two weeks ago (February 6, 1987) hit it perfectly. I read it aloud to the staff at the end of the day. We all hang around and the guys from music come up and play stuff and hang around. So I read it and said, "Whoever wrote this really understands exactly what I'm doing. That's exactly it." "Get hip or sink." We were thinking about putting that on tee shirts. That's our battle cry. Put it on the flag.

KZ: When I see kids portrayed in your movies, for example, in the Breakfast Club, I wonder if Album Radio can really reach kids like that with AC/DC and Rush.

JH: Do you know what my biggest problem is? What music to play at the bad guy's house. My inclination is to think that these guys would be listening to Cinderella. This is so interesting. We put it in a temp dub.

KZ: A temp dub?

JH: A temp dub is before you have your final music, you go through your record collection and put in what you think might go there so you can preview and do research screenings to see what people think of the movie. I put the music in and after the screening we hold about 25 people afterwards and we just talk. "What did you like? What didn't you like? Were you confused about anything? Was there anything stupid?" The we ask about the music. These people are sitting there, you know, little Westwood-type kids. They said, "That party song really sucked." Why? "It wasn't good like the other stuff." What happens is that the songs you combine, the songs off the charts

Don't put the words "rock n roll" on your poster. You'll kill the movie. If you gotta say it, you're not it.

and the Top Forty stuff, mixed in context with the the newer music, is perceived as grotesquely unhip. So much so, that the character in the movie listening to it isn't hip. They spot the charted music in the context of the newer songs and they feel that it sticks out like a sore thumb.

KZ: Where do you get your perception of youth? In Breakfast Club, the kids, the architecture of the school, the BMWs were all so different from Blackboard Jungle, or my school for that matter? How old are you?

JH: Thirty-seven.

KZ: I'm thirty-three, so we're almost the same age.

JH: Not quite. In high school I'd be saying to you, "Hey, what are you lookin' at?" I didn't forget what it's like. There's two basic things that work in these films. There are two basic perceptions that I carried from my childhood to now. One is that as a teenager, you are more serious than you will ever be in your life. Therefore things affect you much deeper. Also, you don't perceive time the same way you do as an adult. Everything has to be dealt with immediately. Tomorrow is too late. When you have a problem, it's so urgent. People don't give you credit for having problems. You come home. Your dad asks, "What's wrong?" "Fourteen kids came up to me and said I have an ugly nose." Your dad goes, "Are you kidding me? I lost three accounts, I got a mortgage payment." He forgets to put himself back and remember the importance. Giving people credit for having problems are what my movies try to do. Critics accuse me of pandering to the wallowing nature of teens. People are afraid of teenagers. They always have been. They don't like them. They're historically threatened by them. Stand By Me was like a junior version of Breakfast Club. Teenagers are threatening. But with Breakfast Club, the wrath of God came down on this movie. People either loved it or hated it. It will be the death of society if we let people like John Bender (portrayed by Judd Nelson) air his feelings! I saw Stand By Me and said, "Wait a minute. These are younger kids sitting around talking in a similar style. There was a certain rudeness to the language."

KZ: Ironically, though, Stand By Me was recommended to me by a lot of adults. Maybe that's because it was a period piece.

JH: You see, you can do it in a period piece. If I had set Breakfast Club in 1965, it probably would have reached the critics differently. But what's the point? For us it would have been an exercise in nostalgia. For kids today, the most important piece of information when you're dealing with a problem is YOU'RE NOT THE ONLY ONE. I remember when I was young and staring at myself in the mirror, thinking, "You are the ugliest thing that God ever made." I met my wife in high school. She was Miss Popularity. I was Mr. Scourge. Dylan was it. I didn't have curly hair, which killed me. I wanted to look like Dylan on the back of the Highway 61 Revisited album with the tight pants, the boots and the guitar with the harmonica holder. When I started going out with her, I found that she didn't think she was as great as I thought she was. Senior year, the prom, the most popular girl in the school didn't go because I thought she thought it was creepy. Turns out, nobody asked her. She sat home. It got me to thinking, "Maybe everybody feels the same way I do." When you have a problem and someone else acknowledges it, you begin to feel that maybe you're not the only person this happens to.

KZ: In researching your films, how have kids changed? So many broadcasters, record people and artists are trying to reach this audience. What's the most dramatic change in kids you've noticed?

JH: I don't think there has been a lot of change. As for music, take (Paul Schrader's) Light Of Day. When I heard the radio commercial say, THIS IS ROCK N ROLL! This little voice inside me said, "Uh-uh. If you have to say it, it isn't." It's like the old films saying, "Hey teens! Come hear the hottest new rock n roll." That's not rock n roll. That's a promoter in Philadelphia. It just doesn't work. It was like Streets Of Fire--A Rock n Roll Fable. Don't put the words "rock n roll" on your poster. You'll kill the movie. If you gotta say it, you're not it.

A lot of these directors experience a rude awakening when they're looking at their rough cuts and find a character doesn't make any sense. She's beautiful, but who is she?

KZ: Is rock n roll a liability in marketing a movie?

JH: I think so. All those movies that say, "Featuring the soundtrack, featuring the music of Depeche Mode, blah blah blah," everybody knows a bunch of songs have been licensed to get you into the movie. If you're really hip, you don't have to mention it.

KZ: Otherwise it's just an eighties version of Bikini Beach Party.

JH: Yeah! The Bikini Beach thing was fine if you wanted to see Annette Funicello in a bathing suit. KZ: I sensed a big difference in style between Sixteen Candles and Breakfast Club.

Was there?

JH: Not in the mind of the audience. To them, these pictures are all brothers and sisters. I'll find people who think Breakfast Club was the best one. No no, Sixteen Candles was better. Stylistically, everything about these films are so completely different, but they fit together like a string. I talk to a lot video retailers about the films and their rental patterns. Sixteen Candles is a must for birthday parties. Weird Science is a big party rental. Breakfast Club is for singles. Someone will come in by themselves and rent it. Pretty In Pink is now in heavy girl rental. The kiss of death for me would be to ask my audience, "What would you like to have a movie about?"

KZ: With Pretty In Pink, which came first, the title or the movie?

JH: The movie--actually the screenplay. That was off the Furs album, which we were listening to a lot while we were filming Sixteen Candles. Every movie has had its own record. We call it THE RECORD. Sixteen Candles was the Furs and Duck Rock, that's what was being played constantly on the set. Breakfast Club was heavy early Beatles. She's Having A Baby was heavy classical music. Ferris Bueller was all the Beatles' White Album. That's all I listened to. I listen to music on the way to the set in the morning. What sound do I want this movie to look like? I wanted Ferris to have the sound of that album.

KZ: We felt repercussions of Ferris Bueller through the song "Twist And Shout," which radio then resurrected. Yet there was no soundtrack album.

JH: It wouldn't have been a great album. I didn't feel comfortable putting "Twist And Shout," which everybody has already anyway, next to the Flowerpot Men, followed by Yello. I think we only had seven tracks. We would have had to fill three. I didn't want that. I want the albums to be samplers of the ten best tracks we could find. Somebody at seventeen, unlike someone like myself who gets everything for free, has to make a purchase decision. If there's two good songs and eight bad ones, they're out the money and I don't want to do that. I want them to be able to buy an album sight unseen and like it.

KZ: In looking over the Some Kind Of Wonderful album, is there a correlation between the attitudes of the bands and the music and the attitudes of the film and its characters?

JH: Yes, to a certain extent. I always put together a temporary soundtrack before I write the film. I listen to that music while I'm writing, so that sort of becomes the musical bible. That's the sound I want for the movie. In Some Kind Of Wonderful, I wanted it to be bands rather than voices fronting heavy production teams. I wanted to get away from high-octane studio production. I wanted bands that could actually stand on a stage, put on a show and play as opposed to something that's programmed. I wanted real drum sounds, a band and guitars. My partner in London, Tarquin Gotch, is always coming up with interesting things. I send him this "bible" and he collects demos. I listen. For instance, the Lick The Tins song was out in England on Sedition Records. I heard it and said, "This is (Some Kind Of Wonderful character) Drummer Girl. This is what this girl is." It's the old Elvis song, "Can't Help Falling In Love," but it's an interesting treatment. "Brilliant Mind" by Furniture, when I first

A/C ANALYSIS

On the strength of 12 more HEAVY rotation reports, The Starship takes control of the hot spot from Janet Jackson.

Aretha & George add 32 HEAVY reports and leap into the POWER TRIO. In only seven weeks, they have 80% of their airplay in the highest possible rotation. Similarly, Steve Winwood and Restless Heart have dominant HEAVY reports.

Smokey Robinson's HIT FACTOR is now cruisin' in the mid-80's. Only 18 adds this week, but then nearly everyone who will play him already is....

The ebony & ivory duet of 1987, Billy Joel and Ray Charles' Baby Grand, leaps from 45% to 72% in HIT FACTOR and scores 28 more adds.

Kenny Loggins' accomplished a ten-point chart jump by passing eight records with no underlines on last week's chart, while his HIT FACTOR clears the two-thirds mark at 67%.

The sleeper, Shirley Murdock's As We Lay, still doesn't have 100 stations, but she's got the kind of HIT FACTOR, 69%, which implies respectability.

Anita Baker is this week's third most added record with 48 adds after being picked on this page back on February 20th.

Last week's RECORD TO WATCH, Paul Simon's You Can Call Me Al, has been added or (re-added) at KSL, WEBE/FM, WWMJ, WJEH, and WLSC.

This week's RECORD TO WATCH, Don't Give Up by Peter Gabriel and Kate Bush, can count among its faithful WSKY, KWAV, KCRG, WCHV, KKLV and KLOV. With all the musical junk food out there, it's good to hear something with a little substance.

Lionel Richie will debut big next week. He's got 113 stations in two weeks and its genuine reggae beat doesn't seem to be a deterrent.

Next week, Marvin Gaye would have celebrated his 48th birthday. It also will be the week Cyndi Lauper's incredible re-make of What's Going On debuts on the chart.

R&D

RECOMMENDED FOR A/C RADIO

LISA LISA and CULT JAM

Head To Top (Columbia)

This record has a fun attitude to it. It's about as pop as she/they will ever sound. The Lisa Lisa sound developed at the club level, then Urban Radio, then Top 40. This should light fires everywhere simultaneously.

AL JARREAU

Give A Little More Lovin' (Warner Bros.)

Stylistically this is a different sound for Al. Producer Nile Rodgers gives Al more guitar and less keyboard for support and AJ's usual scatalogue of vocalese has been put on the shelf, at least for one song.

STEVE WARINER

The Weekend (MCA)

Michelob time for Steve and his part-time heartbreaker. The memory of the all-to-brief affair lingers, after she took him to the deep end, he fell for her, hook, line and sinker and then left him high and dry. Bummer!

HIT FACTOR

Hit Factor is a percentage of stations which have it in Heavy or Medium rotation. ie: 100 stations playing the record - 60 stations have it in Heavy or Medium rotation - Hit Factor = 60%

ONE MORE TIME

Last December, I printed a comment from Don Hoffman of KNBQ-Tacoma, WA, concerning my columns of the previous August and May about the "old and crusty, famous but old-fashioned morning man." The subject must have struck quite a few nerves, because I'm still getting mail on it. From Dick Pust, morning man and PD at KGY-Olympia, WA:

"Think again, Eric. At least this old guy reads GAVIN and other trade magazines, attends conferences. etc., to pick up new ideas. It is true that I reject some of the ideas of younger announcers, but often the reason is that the 'new' idea isn't new at all. It might be an old one found to be unworkable. I try, however, to be constantly receptive to 'better' ideas. For example, one of our part-time announcers recently came up with a practical way to provide better rotation of the music I play in the morning. The idea worked, and I feel my show improved greatly because of it.

"Another thing! Your 'old and crusty' references imply that there's no preparation for the job. I get up at 2:30 a.m., six days a week. After breakfast and some time to wake up, I'm on the job by 4 a.m.--even though my show doesn't start till 5:30. I spend that first hour and a half getting ready for the program. That includes a quick visit to the local police station and to the dispatch center, and even to a local 7-11 to look for information on what happened during the night. If there's a bad snow or windstorm, I sometimes make a tour of some of the roads to see if there are going to be any traffic problems for people that day. It's easier and better to describe a personal experience than to relay second-hand information. When I get to the studio, I skim two morning papers and make phone calls to people I wasn't able to visit. Every minute counts, and I move quickly.

"You make it sound like it's the salespeople who are keeping the 'old-timer' on the air. That's not true. The salespeople at KGY will support anybody who can get results for their clients and help their sales increase. Perhaps the 'old and crusty' morning man has learned through the years that cooperation--not constant confrontation--with the sales department can be more rewarding to everyone. Over the years I've discovered that salesmen are people, too. If we communicate, we can learn from each other. Usually, our goals are the same: We both want to work for a topnotch radio station.

"Thanks for letting me sound off. I'm only 46. I hope to be in radio for many more years. I've still got a lot to learn and there are many more challenges ahead. I'm not even close to 'burning out.'"

Thanks to Dick Pust for his comments. An aspiring PD in the Midwest wrote in to ask, "Why do stations still break at :10, :20, :30, :40, :50 if you can't garner more than one daypart from Arbitron?" In response, I wrote, "My first reaction is that anyone who programs to a ratings service is foolish; there are so many problems with the Arbitron method that they really do not fall within the laws of probability. There is enough variability in the results that an attempt to gimmick the ratings by responding to their 15-minute breaks could warp the programming sufficiently to reduce the audience appeal of the station. Since it is audience appeal that is the most important factor in listener response to commercials, audience appeal is ultimately even more important than a station's ratings. You can keep selling a station with poor ratings if the advertisers get satisfactory results (although this is less so when a station is dominated by ad agency, since ad agencies seldom are aware of how good the response may have been, they rely more on ratings). The bottom line: If it makes good programming sense to break at those times, then do it, because (if you are programming correctly and have made a good decision to do so) it would be a decision that should heighten the station's audience appeal!" What do you think?

And James Lawson, technical director for the Wally Phillips show at WGN-Chicago and part-time air talent at Top 40 WDEK-DeKalb, IL, offers three questions in hopes of stimulating some interesting discussion:

- 1) How fast should a station move its currents to recurrents and then oldies?
- 2) What's the best way to get your first PD job?
- 3) What sort of checklists do PDs use, listing the steps to take upon being hired as PD?

I'll print any responses received in future columns! ●

'Perhaps the "old and crusty" morning man has learned through the years that cooperation--not constant confrontation--with the sales department can be more rewarding to everyone.'

INSTANT REPLAY

At last month's Gavin Seminar, I made a presentation entitled "Practical Management Tips." For those of you who were unable to be there, as well as those who were kind enough to attend but didn't take notes, here is a recap of my remarks. I do need to point out that I am abridging my comments considerably in this article, but I think you'll get an overview of the themes I covered.

1. Have a vision, and communicate it to all hands. A vision is more than a goal, although goals should be consistent with the vision. A vision is what you want your organization to be best in. Is it a product? A service? Programming excellence? Receptivity to the customer? Innovation? Teamwork within the office? Finding a niche of customers you can service best? A vision inspires employees, gives them a direction and tells customers why they should patronize your business.

2. Convey the "rules of the game" to all hands. In sports, players need to know how the game is played and where the goal lines and sidelines are. The same is true in business. Tell your people some basic do's and don't's, what's basically okay and what's not, what the priorities are, and on what basis you're going to evaluate their performance. Once you do that, let them run with the ball the way they see fit.

3. Learn to delegate. There's no way you can do it all alone. If you're not delegating, you're going to be overworked and inefficient. You'll also lose your good people. And if you believe that your people aren't capable of handling more responsibilities and authority, then you're doing a poor job of selecting and developing employees. Learn to act the role of a coach, and gradually build up your people's confidence and competence so they can take on more and be more innovative.

4. Learn to empower. Do whatever you can to make your people feel stronger and more confident about using their brains to do whatever is necessary to fulfill the vision and goals of the organization. Empowering means people understand that, as long as they adhere to the vision and rules of the game, they have the power to decide what's appropriate to do on a day-to-day basis. Empowering is different from delegating. "Delegating" means giving people things to do and the authority to do them. With "empowering," you don't even know what they're doing, but you're confident that they're doing what you'd want them to be doing, because they're clear on the vision, goals and rules of the game.

5. Carry water. Find out what your people need from you in order to do a good job. Ask them frequently, and then provide it. Maybe they need some training. Maybe they need to get rid of some Mickey Mouse rules. Maybe they need you to trust them more. Listen, and act. Carry water for them. Run interference for them. Let them know that you're there to do whatever you can to help them do a great job.

6. Catch people in the act of heroism. Every day, your people are going beyond their job descriptions. They're going that extra inch to insure high-quality work, high-quality service, innovation and teamwork. Are you around to notice these little acts of heroism? Get out of your office and catch someone doing something right. Then show your appreciation with a thank-you, card, plaque, memo, luncheon, dinner--any reward you can think of.

7. Be open--admit mistakes and celebrate failures. Research shows that effective leaders have made many mistakes, and have used them as learning opportunities. Educate your people by sharing stories of your past mistakes and what you've learned from them. Encourage them to do the same with the team. If people are afraid to make mistakes, they won't--and they also won't try anything innovative. Celebrate mistakes, as long as someone tried something thoughtfully and learned something important from it.

8. Keep your promises. If you tell your employees you're going to do something, you'd better follow through on it. Sounds obvious, but many managers often ask employees for input, or they'll say they'll consider an employee's request, and then forget about it. Actions like those damage your credibility.

9. Build a team by sharing information and rewards. The less you hide, the better. Share good news and bad. Share company plans, sales data, financial data and the like with everyone--not just those you've traditionally considered the elite. Give team rewards as well as individual rewards. Throw parties, dinners or hoopla events which celebrate team successes. Give people rewards which highlight team spirit, like group bonuses, team T-shirts and group tickets for fun events. The act and frequency of doing these things is more important than how much money you spend. Finally, don't hog the limelight. Share any credit for success with the team players who got you that success.

10. Network. Cultivate meaningful professional relationships with others in your field, within your organization and beyond, within your community and beyond. Effective managers are constantly in communication with colleagues for the purpose of batting around ideas, getting updates on what's really going on, and getting encouragement for the kinds of things they're trying.

11. Learn to manage your own boss. Five basic rules of thumb: Admit your boss is the boss--don't fight it!; Know their style and relate to it accordingly; Don't keep bad news from them--bosses don't like surprises; Be prepared and do your homework prior to seeing your boss; Finally, tell them what you need from them in order to do a great job for them.

12. Accept the fact that things will never settle down. Our research suggests that less effective managers are always waiting for things to "settle down," while more effective managers know that things will never settle down. Accept this fact, see it as an opportunity to improve and create, and go for it! Remember, your competitors are facing the same crummy environment, and they've got their own problems. Things will never settle down for them, either.

13. Talk to people. Don't hide behind office doors, secretaries, memos, reports and miscellaneous paperwork. Talk face-to-face with employees, customers, regulators, vendors, distributors and anyone whose efforts contribute to your business's success. Do this frequently. Confront the problems; confront the good things that are going on. Establish relationships. Listen. Only by eyeballing people on a regular basis can you stay in touch with what's going on.

14. Always look to improve. We've found effective managers are always impatient with a "steady state." No matter how well things seem to be going, they're always thinking of ways to make things even better, and they're always thinking about ways to improve their managerial skills. Don't stagnate. Don't get smug. Don't relax--or the market will nail you. Keep your focus on "being better," and your odds of succeeding will improve dramatically.

So that's our instant replay. In past columns I've discussed a few of the above tips (3, 5, 6 and 9) in some depth. In the future, I'll discuss some of the others. ●

"DIRTY WATER"

THE FIRST SINGLE FROM THE DEBUT ALBUM

UNDER THE VOLCANO.

Produced by Bruce Fairbairn, Rob Rock and Paul Hyde.

BIO FEEDBACK

JENNIFER WARNES

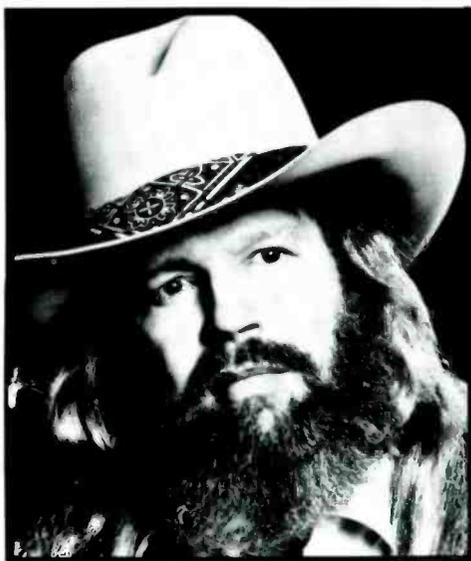

She performed the themes for two Academy Award-winning songs: "Up Where We Belong" with Joe Cocker for "Officer An A Gentleman" and "It Goes Like It Goes" from the Sally Field movie, "Norma Rae."

CRYSTAL GAYLE

She is currently appearing in several episodes of the soap opera "Another World."

ERIC CLAPTON

"Behind The Sun" is his first certified Gold record since 1981. Clapton's upcoming live show in Providence, Rhode Island, will feature Phil Collins on drums.

DAVID ALLAN COE

The singer/songwriter known as the "Mysterious Rhinestone Cowboy," was born in Akron, Ohio.

AL GREEN

Al sang in a family gospel group, The Greens, until his father caught him listening to the "profane music" of Jackie Wilson.

STARSHIP

Grace Slick was born in Chicago in 1939. Her original name was Grace Wing.

U2

A brief U.S. tour by the band will begin next week in Tempe, Arizona, home to real Joshua trees.

JON BUTCHER

After being referred to as Mr. Axis once too often, Jon Butcher shortened the name of his band from Jon Butcher Axis to Jon Butcher. Now people just misspell his first name.

FARRENHEIT

The band's name has nothing to do with the temperature scale. Two of the three members of the band are Charlie Farren and David Heit.

DEBORAH ALLEN

Who is Joey Coco, producer and writer of her new single, "Telepathys"? The L.A. Times says it's Prince.

WHITNEY HOUSTON

Her first album, released two years ago this month, has been certified by the RIAA for exceeding 8,000,000 units sold - the biggest-selling debut album in history.

SPANDAU BALLET

The band adopted their name after seeing the two words scrawled on the Berlin Wall. Guitarist Gary Kemp writes the songs.

SIMPLE MINDS

Their next recording project is a live double album to be released this summer.

DUANE EDDY

He has signed to record an album for Capitol Records. Expect a cameo performance from Paul McCartney.

WAYLON JENNINGS

He was one of the first acts signed to Herb Alpert's A&M Records in 1963.

LUTHER VANDROSS & GREGORY HINES

Mr. Vandross is producing the entire debut album for Mr. Hines. One of the tracks is their current duet, "There's Nothing Better Than Love."

BRYAN ADAMS

SAINTS

Into The Fire-Bryan Adams (A&M)

Bryan Adams got this far, amazingly enough, without the aid of styling mousse. In fact, I'm not so sure I'd recognize him if I bumped into him in the subway station. But his drum sound is as unique as a fingerprint. As he's pointed out in the past, when asked his occupation, the standard reply is "songwriter." Though he's contributed to a number of acts, he seems to save the goodies for himself. Besides the single, which sounds damn strong as an opener, there's the title track that has a "It's All Over, Baby Blue" refrain. Unlike his previous efforts, there's a solemn strain running through most of the songs on this disc, giving a strong indication as to how seriously Adams and Jim Vallance take their craft. Songs like "Native Son" and "Rebel" set a serious tone. Into The Fire maintains a lot of the fervent respect listeners have for Bryan Adams as a creator of deep, textured rock n roll songs.

"Jammin' Me"-Tom Petty & The Heartbreakers (MCA)

After three or four listens you realize he's singing. "Take back Vanessa Redgrave, Joe Piscopo and Eddie Murphy. Give 'em all some place to go." Right up there with those three is "ugly scandal" and "El Salvador." Petty's odd hit list should have no trouble making Album Radio's. Mind if I join in? Take back Jim and Tammy Faye Bakker, Oral Roberts and Al Haig. Hey! I feel a whole lot better already...this could turn into something.

THOMPSON TWINS

Close To The Bone-Thompson Twins (Arista)

I'll go along with producer Rupert Hine. If it had to be just one track, it would have to be "Long Goodbye." In an effort to strip things "close to the bone," the Thompson Twins re-examine how far they've come and where they're going.

NEW

WHITESNAKE

Whitesnake (Geffen)

Since the release of this current LP, David Coverdale dropped the ax and sent his rhythm section slithering away. So this album may be our only souvenir of Aynsley Dunbar laying down those huge drum beats. With a fresh collection of reinforcements, Whitesnake really ought to tour on this collection. They do cover ground on this album. As hard as trax like "Crying In The Rain" and "Still Of The Night" crunch, ballads like "Is This Love" (with its Michelob guitar tones) threaten A/C (as opposed to AC/DC) playlists. The remainder of the images are exactly what hardened mainstream rockers live for; i.e. dogs without bones, candles in the wind, high-heeled women full of champagne and lies plus extended guitar solos. Let's set up Thunderdome with Coverdale and Dio and see who crawls out alive.

the Washington Squares

Washington Squares (Gold Castle)

"We're doing all this Ramones-style," explains bassist/neobeatnik Torn Goodkind. The Washington Squares (a perfect name for this Noo Yawk aggregation), prior to releasing this debut album, have crisscrossed this proud land of ours playing, er, modern folk music. While it is folk, folks, it trucks, grooves, chimes and shimmies. The Squares go all out, with letter-imperfect impassioned vocals. Now dig that bongo hit on my favorite track, "Can't Stop The Rain." Don't let the bongos, goatees and berets trivialize your initial perception of the band. Goodkind has spent an inordinate amount of time and energy researching the spirit of folk music spanning from the late '30's to the present. With the occasional rockabilly lead and Entwistle bassline thrown in, the Squares certainly rock n folk the place without belittling history and heritage. What we're dealing with here is punks who have done their homework. Airplay gems include "Rain," "You Can't Kill Me" and "New Generation." I'm adding this record to my slim best-of-1987 list.

Running In The Family-Level 42 (Polydor)

I'd rate Simply Red and Level 42 as superior musicians. They play tight music, capturing American soul music much the same way Hall & Oates and AWB did so during the 70's. All seem to worship inside the Church of Stevie Wonder. This is the kind of record we'll receive reports on well over a period of several months. Trax: "Lessons In Love," "Running In The Family" and "Two Solitudes."

She Was Only A Grocer's Daughter-Blow Monkeys (RCA)

This is British fascination with soul music different from that of Level 42 and Simply Red. The Blow Monkeys operate on the same plane as Paul Weller's Style Council. Common ground is guest singer Curtis Mayfield, whose "Move On Up" Weller covered with the Jam, and who makes a cameo appearance on this LP. She Was Only a Grocer's Daughter isn't nearly so innocent. "How Long Can A Bad Thing Last" (watch out for the "nasty") and "Out With Her" are adrenaline and hormones in overdrive. KZ

My 2 cents

As Cutting Crew climbs into the number two slot, it's doubtful they will ever consume the lead U2 has over everyone. However, the Crew did muscle its way to #2 amid some pretty fierce competition—hence its line. Meanwhile, U2's emphasis trax actually ran off the page. If we could extend the page a couple of inches, perhaps all eleven trax could have been listed. That's how extensive the airplay has been. Peter Wolf's album arrived just under the gun this week. Come As You Are is a grittier album for Wolf, revolving around strong contributions from a quartet. Los Lobos re-enter the Top Five as "Set Me Free" takes over from "Shakin' Shakin' Shakes." There's still lots of gold to be mined from this LP. As expected, Jon Butcher is looking at his very first Top Ten album. Next week an aggressive Bryan Adams is going to go Top Ten. Somebody's got to go. I expect Lou Gramm will step down, even though there will be increased interest in "Ready Or Not." That creates a dilemma as the real Album Radio trax off of Gramm's record begin to find the forefront. After all, "Midnight Blue" was a compromise between Album and Top Forty radio. Frozen Ghost is home this week. The success of this record reminds me of the adventures of Mike & his Mechanics. Top Forty look out! Album Radio has just broken another one. Lots of rave reaction all week to the new David Bowie. This will be a sensational comeback after Bowie's last few soundtrack singles. Excellent weeks for Cult and Night Ranger. The Cult, produced by

Def Jam's Rick Rubin, looks like they'll be enjoying their biggest American success to date. Like the Furs, the Cult will be gathering a huge buzz among young listeners. Chris

Isaak, who appeared this week on the Johnny Carson show, continues his gradual, concentrated surge up the chart. The Del Fuegos, as expected, made their debut this week at #34. While the majority seems to favor the "12" push track, there are those out there who are deviating towards the "Scratching At Your Door" track featuring Tom Petty. Glass Tiger, who graced the cover of our very first 1987 issue, returns yet again at #35. Watch Rock & Hyde, who hit #39. They'll jump substantially next week. It's a safe prediction that they will leap at least ten places, possibly into the Certified category. Hoodoo Gurus picked up a few more believers, scoring #3 Most Added status. Other hot biscuits occupying Chartbound include Thompson Twins, Eddie Money, Whitesnake, and Dokken. Look out for the very bottom debut on Chartbound. Thrashing Doves, once it makes its way around more radio stations, could very well be one of this year's surprises. Check out their new LP, Bedrock Vice. See you at the T.J. Martell Bowlathon. If you can't make it down there, why not send a check anyway? It's a worthy cause that deserves the mobilized industry support it gets each and every year. Stay well. KZ

ALTERNATIVE ACTION

As expected, U2 dethrones the Furs as our #1 record. U2 obviously hasn't compromised their adventurous stance and their long-time supporters at college radio appreciate it--as do commercial programmers who have seen the public grow to appreciate these true leaders. Look for their present 20% chart lead to grow even further in the coming weeks. Julian Cope improves his chart points by almost 50% and should drive through the soft top 10 without much resistance. Behind the strength of an entire album, Wire Train is Certified as our highest debut with Maximum play at WLIR, WXXP, WUSC, WOXY, KEYX, KVRE, KUSF, KZEL, etc. Oingo Boingo is our sole other debut, as a fresh new batch of Most Added records are lining in Chartbound, including Style Council (#1 Most Added last week),

SPOTLIGHT LP

Night Of Desirable Objects.

Snakefinger's Vestal Virgins (Ralph)

Snakefinger cooks up a mad jambalaya of roots music spiced with jazz, blues, R&B and ethnic sounds from all over the menu. The album's opening track, "Sophia's Playful Pipes," is a traditional Bulgarian folk song, while the instrumental "Move" is a standard jazz riff that could easily be on Pablo Records. "Bad Day In Bombay" and the lead track, "There's No Justice In Life," draw their inspiration more from R&B. It's appropriate that Snakefinger's Vestal Virgins includes former Captain Beefheart (another mad musician with an appreciation for his roots) Magic Band keyboardist Eric Drew Feldman, who assisted in the production of the album. Call Ralph Records at (415) 543-4085.

Frequency And Urgency-SALEM 66 (Homestead)

Salem 66's pop-rock keeps its innocence without sugar-coated cuteness. Former Expando Brain member Steve Smith's jagged guitar licks counterbalance sweet vocal harmonies on songs like "Wanderlust," "Postcard" and "Broken Bottles." "Widow's Walk" explores the timeless problem of deserted loved ones. In their five years of existence the band has already developed a primer coat of early devotees scattered across the country. This should apply the next layer. Produced by Ethan James last fall, this is the Boston-based band's fourth record. Peter heard it, sounded like Eric Stoltz. I like Pete Shelley and have been a fan of his ever since he was with the Buzzcocks. Pete had worked with Stephen Hague. Pete wanted to do something, so we showed him the film. He came up with "Do Anything." I like Jesus & Mary Chain very, very much. I wanted someone who was really trying something new. Originally the problem was their stuff was a little too far out there. A lot of things were lost in the production. But they really deserved to be heard. So if the movie is a hit, and the song is on the album, people will hear them and know who the band is. That's the step-up for them. Hopefully people will investigate their other material and watch for their new stuff.

KZ: Stephen Hague working with the Jesus & Mary Chain is a strange combination. They're very much a minimalist band, influenced by early Velvet Underground.

JH: My instructions to Stephen were, "Please don't compromise the sound of the band. Don't do something they'll artistically regret. If it's not right, we do lots of movies and we'll do something some other time." Stephen Hague and the Jesus & Mary Chain got on well. What he did was bring the vocals forward. They have wonderful voices and you can really hear the words. It's a great song. I think you should be able to take the album and listen aside from the movie and learn more about the movie from listening to the soundtrack. There's a lot of information about the movie in the soundtrack, especially that song.

KZ: What about March Violets?

JH: There's a great store in Chicago called Wax Tracks. I bought a track by the March Violets a couple of years ago. A friend of mine was going to London, so I asked him to please bring me back some music. He brought back "Turn To The Sky." What I like about these projects is that you get someone like Stephen Hague and he takes young bands who have worked on demos or very low productions. Stephen takes them into major-league studios with a producer, treats them like kings and lets them just work. It's a great moment for them. They really get a chance to step forward.

KZ: Has MTV's effect on you and your movies been exaggerated?

JH: We've never had much exposure on TV. I don't know that the marriage of film footage and video is a good one.

KZ: Video directors like Russell Mulcahey and Julien Temple have yet to make the definitive transition from directing videos to directing successful feature films.

JH: Video is completely different. It's all visual information. The Peter Gabriel videos are inventive and interesting, but they're not movies. Movies are a story-telling medium. If it was just a matter of visuals, The Gods Must Be Crazy wouldn't be such a great movie. It's a great movie and it's as cheap as it could possibly be. Successful movies are movies that tell a good story. You use the camera to tell the story as opposed to using the camera as an end unto itself. When you intend to make only an incredibly visual movie, you end up with two hours of what YOU think are good shots.

KZ: Movies like 9 1/2 Weeks and Flashdance tended to look like a string of thirty-second television commercials.

JH: You're going to see a lot more of that, the marriage of commercials and film. They're now very close. But commercials are a very different thing. They don't tell a story, they stimulate an interest to buy something using one-dimensional images. A lot of these guys experience a rude awakening when they're looking at their rough cuts and find a character doesn't make any sense. She's beautiful, but who is she?

KZ: Has that ever happened to you?

JH: No. My pictures are not visually stunning (laughs). I've just recently taken an interest in the camera. I always went for basic camera work. A lot of people have taken their cues from Hitchcock, but visually he's very simple. When he did a trick shot, it was to make a story point. Dolly in, zoom out. That wasn't done because it was cool. It was done to create the impression of vertigo. He designed the shots around the story.

KZ: Who's making good movies these days? Do you go out and see a lot of films?

JH: No I don't. I'm cautious about that. Top Gun and Crocodile Dundee are big hits. You can look at those movies and see what works. I would rather remain somewhat in a vacuum and take my influences from non-related things. I like French films. I like Eric Rohmer. What I like about his work is that it isn't about plot. It's about characters. If you watch Pauline At The Beach, you know Pauline. It's these people, it's her, it's what she says. That's what's interesting to me. My things are not heavily plotted. If you take all my films, what you get out of them is that you meet people.

That's what the Breakfast Club was. It's not, "What's going to happen?" It's who are these people and why are they talking this way?

KZ: There's the old filmgoer's axiom that it's easier to make a movie based on a short story than a novel.

JH: It's very difficult to compress a film. She's Having A Baby covers six years. My first cut was three and a half hours long--an enormous movie. Then you have to trim it down.

they wanted the script, I had to direct it, which, in retrospect was incredibly presumptuous. I had never been on a movie set before. It was a little bold. But I would rather do it my way or not do it. I just didn't know. I was sitting in a little house in Chicago writing scripts thinking that if I could write them, I could certainly direct them. Now what's involved? A HUNDRED AND HOW MANY PEOPLE? Now what's that large thing over there with the wheels? That's the camera?

KZ: Did you turn it into an advantage?

JH: I did things that old time line producers would say, "Oh no, you don't want to do that." But I became good at communicating what picture I had in my head to the people around me. I just watched the movie as I was making it. It's like watching a movie and being able to change it while you're watching it.

KZ: As you finish She's

Every movie has had its own record that's played constantly on the set. Sixteen Candles was the Furs. Breakfast Club was heavy early Beatles. She's Having A Baby was heavy classical music. Ferris Bueller was the Beatles' White Album.'

KZ: This is your new movie with Kevin Bacon. Are you going to rescue him? He hasn't made a great picture since Diner.

JH: You won't recognize him. He's very funny and deadly serious. He will rise and go past all the guys in his generation. He's the first actor of all those guys to truly make the jump into an adult film.

KZ: What was your background before you started directing movies?

JH: I was an advertising copywriter in Chicago. I was at Lampoon. Then when Animal House became such a big hit, everyone who had ever walked by the Lampoon building got a development deal. They were looking for lightning to strike again. I just happened to get one. I made good on mine. It took about three years of writing to get something made. Then Mr. Mom and Vacation hit. I actually had my directing deal set before Mr. Mom or Vacation came out. I wrote Sixteen Candles and told them if Having A Baby, critics are already writing about how you're growing up. I would guess that's not true.

JH: No. I'm working on the next teen film. Kids are like the general audience, if they connect to a film, they'll see it. If it's about them, great. If not, that's okay. They obviously went out and saw Crocodile Dundee and they saw Pretty In Pink, two movies that are as different as they possibly can be. As soon as you try to figure out what people want, you're dead. The youth market is hard because it changes every six months.

KZ: Do you have any kids?

JH: Two. They're still in grade school. The older one is becoming territorial. I can see it and I can feel it. He's trying to establish himself. It's like his room. Stay out of my room. He's in my room. His room is beginning to mean something. I'm doing everything I can to remember what it was like. I watch what I say. No hair jokes.

COUNTRY SUMMARY

Based on this week's research, Reba McEntire is a strong #1 song in all regions of the country. The O'Kanes get their first Top Ten record, with 158 reports and a 94% HIT FACTOR. Another great week for Judy Rodman, as she moves 18-13 and is getting HEAVY rotation at KQKD, KOKK, KNIX, KLIK, KCLK, KVBR, WAOV, KRRV, KLYQ/AM, KVAS, KFGO, etc. Both of this week's CERTIFIED records, Southern Pacific (debuting at 34) and T.G.Sheppard

(debuting at 35), were in the MOST ADDED category in our March 6th issue. The Nitty Gritty Dirt Band, with excellent chart and airplay stats, bypass CHARTBOUND altogether and debut at 38. They are also one of this week's MOST ADDED, with adds including WKHX/FM, KSNAN, KNIX, KSO, KRAK/AM,

WPOC/FM, WGKX/FM, KFAT/FM, etc. Dwight Yoakam tops our MOST ADDED this week with 58 reports and 51 adds. Johnny Cash keeps getting stronger every week - 9 more believers take him to 53 reports. Rick Robinson at WEYY-Talladega reports immediate phones on Johnny. Johnny B at WKRE-Elmore says that Tim Malchak is pulling in Top 3 requests at his station. T.J. Hart at WFMB-Springfield tells us that Michael Johnson is tearing up his request line. Tim Todd at WORC-Worcester says Billy Joe Royal is picking up some good action, and Ed Paulson at WHTL-Whitehall tells us that folks there really like the Bruce Hornsby. Listeners to KTDO-Toledo are crazy about the "Snake Boots" cut from Conway Twitty's LP. And look for the new single "80's Ladies" by K.T.Oslin to be released some time in April.

We'd like to welcome three new reporting stations to our Country family. Marv Allen from KLXX-Bismarck, ND, P.O.Box 1377, Bismarck - 58502, phone number is 701-663-6411. Dan Moore from KEYK-Wenatchee, WA, P.O.Box 79, Wenatchee - 98801, phone number is 509-664-5186. And finally welcome back to Alan Rowe from WDVA-Danville, VA, One Radio Lane, Danville - 24541, phone number is 804-797-1250. Welcome one and all. Talk to you next week. Lisa & Elma

PROMOTIONS by LISA SMITH and BETTY HOLLARS

◀ EUREKA'S FOURTH ANNUAL LIP SYNCH

KXGO/FM-Eureka, CA's fourth annual original Lip Synch contest was, according to GM/PD Jim Nelly, "The biggest yet." Listeners lip synched their favorite acts--Madonna, Tina Turner, the Talking Heads and many others. KXGO raised $14,000 for the local Boys and Girls Clubs. Reports Nelly: "The line to the front door was three blocks long, and we had listeners camping out for the best seats." Those in attendance were from ages 3 to 75, proving that this was definitely a mass appeal event.

◀ POWER99/FM LISTENERS DRIVEAWAY

Two lucky Power99/FM-Philadelphia listeners drove away in new Oldsmobiles after winning the Power99/FM Driveaway Sweepstakes. Listeners were eligible to win keys to the automobiles (one in 40 chance, not bad) after initially winning $99 on Power99/FM. Both cars were gone early, as the winners started their engines before thousands of envious onlookers at the Philadelphia Spectrum. But everyone went home a winner--each contestant received a Driveaway Sweepstakes Sweatshirt and a ticket to a 76ers game.

◀ A VEGAS VALENTINE

To celebrate Valentine's Day, 1987, WGAD-Gadsden, AL, in conjunction with a local travel agency, gave away a vacation for two to Las Vegas. Every day for the two weeks prior to February 14th, the station played a "key song," with daily winners each getting a key. On Valentine's Day, WGAD locked up the airline tickets, hotel reservations and discount coupons in a strongbox, and the listener with the correct key won the trip.

ALWAYS BRINGING YOU THE BEST

"URBANIZING"

by JERRY BOULDING

CONTESTING

In this final part of our three-part series on "Fixing the Format," we want to take a look at contesting. Everyone has an opinion about them, but, after sifting through all the facts, we come up with a few basics: The most effective contests, in terms of building cume and listenership, are on-air cash giveaways and, more lately, direct mail campaigns.

Both can be effective, but they serve different functions. Cash giveaways, regardless of their form or the size of the prize, are designed primarily to build cume--to get a large number of different people to listen to the radio station for at least five minutes within a given daypart, ideally across the quarter-hour. Direct mail campaigns are meant to increase quarter-hour listening. Many black and urban formatted stations have tremendous loyalty (or quarter-hours), but they ignore the direct benefits to be derived from direct mail.

Let's talk cost for a minute. In a medium or major market, a direct mail campaign can run anywhere from $150,000 to $400,000, depending on printing, mail follow-through, etc. One way to control cost is to pay attention to what you mail, and where you mail it. Instead of a general mailing, you can eliminate a lot of waste by making a run to Laurel, Maryland, reviewing your Arbitron diaries and seeing which zip codes would truly benefit your station.

You don't want to do a direct mail campaign without a lot of planning first. And there must also be a time commitment. It usually takes at least three months to run an effective campaign.

One major-market station recently ran a very successful campaign by mailing 350,000 pieces out to specific zip codes. Each mailer had a different serial number, like the lottery or those magazine mailers with Ed McMahon's picture on the front. Listeners were asked to match the numbers on their mailers with those called out on the air for various amounts of cash. Naturally, there was some forced listening, which helped build the station's cume. The station not only experienced real growth, in terms of getting new people to try the station, but also reinforced its image among those who were already listeners.

Because the urban format, in many markets, has never done direct mail, there seems to be some question about its effectiveness, given the expense and involvement that is required. In fact it does cost more than other forms of cume-building contests and/or promotions. Done right, the results are nothing short of phenomenal.

DIRECT TELEVISION

Television spots are designed to attract potential listeners and build awareness of what is going on at the radio station. Many of you may be familiar with the direct TV spots that Filmhouse continues to run for various formats in markets both large and small throughout the country. The most effective of these has to do with the birthday promotion--a station gives away cash to someone whose birthday is contained in an envelope displayed on television. In this case, radio is using television to help with its promotion. It's another case of getting new people to try the station and thus build cume.

If television is used in connection with direct mail or a huge cash giveaway, the results, once again, can work wonders. But you have to use enough spots to be effective. We've seen this kind of effort fail because a radio station, hoping to save money, either doesn't buy enough spots, or doesn't produce the highest-quality spots. A raggedy, "bargain-basement" television spot can trash a station's overall image. So the decision to be competitive must be coupled with a commitment to see the promotion all the way through.

Make sure you have your "house in order" before you launch a television and/or direct mail campaign. Contesting and other promotions are like inviting people into your home. If your station sounds tacky when the potential new cumers arrive, they will quickly depart, and you will be left with more problems than when you started. Therein lies the responsibility of program and music directors. It would be wise to do a really close inspection of your "house" before you begin a campaign. Make sure the overall sound of the station is the way you would like it to sound...consistently. If not, it would be prudent to delay any new promotional efforts. That way, your station will improve in several ways. By lifting your standards, you will have a better overall sound--and you will have to maintain it. Secondly, you now have a newly redecorated "house" to invite people into. And this is the goal of every program and music director--and those who aspire to be--to have a station that sounds good, one that people try, and come back to again and again.

The two most difficult things to do with your radio station are much like the same two things you might want to do for yourself: make a good name, and then keep it. Remember the collapse of character often begins on compromise corner. ●

'Because the urban format, in many markets, has never done direct mail, there seems to be some question about its effectiveness, given the expense and involvement that is required. In fact it does cost more than other forms of cume-building contests and/or promotions. Done right, the results are nothing short of phenomenal.'

URBAN CONTEMPORARY SUMMARY

FREDDIE JACKSON and CAMEO were naturals for Certified headlines the day they were released - and this week they prove it. A more unusual Certified listing is the SURFACE "Happy" single, which took its time to make a big impact on the listening audience. Rick Stevens, WCKX -Columbus reports "everybody, all ages are calling for that one," when describing the SURFACE. Dave Allen, K94-Norfolk reports his top three requests are for SURFACE, LUTHER VANDROSS and KLYMAXX. Royce Blake, KKPW-Tucson, called with reports of requests for SURFACE, from everybody - especially females, and so did L.D.McCollum, XHRM-San Diego. Jay Riley, WNOO-Chattanooga has calls from the 18+ for SURFACE. Dave Dickenson, WNHC-New Haven has it on his most requested list, and Clint Works, WDKX -Rochester says it's getting "across the board" calls. It's not amazing that the same day you should be getting the new double PRINCE LP (today, 3/30) his single goes to #1 on the chart you hold in your hand. It's not amazing because, from the start, this single was a hit.

Many of you are playing the flip of the PRINCE single called "La La La He He He" and L.D.McCollum, XHRM-San Diego reports calls for it immediately after he played it. They're still calling for it, most teens and 18-34, he says, and lots of males. That's not PRINCE on the cover of the commercial (store-bought) single - it's a woman named Kat, who is in his new band. You'll see his new look when the album is released. L.D. is also getting many calls on the LISA LISA & CULT JAM, which he just added this week, as did 35 other programmers. They get the Most Added headline, edging the next contender by five adds. ATLANTIC STARR takes a healthy jump from 16-9 with the following remarks from MD's and PD's: Don "Early" Allen, WOWI-Norfolk says that across-the-board demos are causing it to skyrocket, Andy Henderson, WQKI -St.Matthews, says it's number one in requests, Daryl Moore, KXZZ-Lake Charles, reports 18-34 females calling, Mike Kelly, KATZ/FM-St.Louis told me that he's getting 25-54 demos on his request line for it, Doug Davis, KHYS-Pt.Arthur is hearing from the 18-35 group, and Melvin Jones, KRNB-Memphis, says this: "The ATLANTIC STARR is the biggest ballad in this market so far this year - it's a hot one." Duff Lindsey, HOT105 -Miami, has three hot requests items in SYSTEM, PRINCE and HAZEL DEAN's single, "They Say It's Going To Rain," an import that is doing very well in his market. Chris Turner, WTMP-Tampa, calls in with his biggest requests by far for CAMEO's "Back & Forth." Gary Weiler, WBLZ -Cincinnati, had to call in to report that great BREAKFAST CLUB hit, he says on the 12" version. It's a Jellybean mix that contains Jimmy Iovine producing, and includes Michael Verdick and Stephen Bray. He says to "be sure to listen to this version when you get it - it's already getting requests and it's our 'Hip Pick' of the week." That's Gary alright - hip to the bone. Two cuts on the HERB ALPERT album are making noise: "Diamonds" is getting requests for Ron Davis, WQIS-Laurel/Hattiesburg, and "Making Love..." is getting requests for Guy Broady, KFXZ-Lafayette, who says it's hot, and Paul Perrodin, KACE-Los Angeles, says it's one of his most requested items.

Congratulations to Bernie Miller, former P.D. of WLUM-Milwaukee, who is now the V.P. of Black Music in A&R for Epic Records. (See story in Chinwag)

the GAVIN REPORT

DAVE SHOLIN'S Personal Picks — SINGLES

LISA LISA AND CULT JAM - Head To Toe (Columbia)

Falls somewhere between The Bangles and The Supremes. First reaction was a double take...is this really Lisa Lisa? Special credit should go to writers Full Force. Front to back, top to bottom, or head to toe, it's a winner!

HOODOO GURUS - Good Times (Elektra)

Dr. Sholin's remedy for anyone feeling a bit bummed...listen to this record. Another group of Aussies who've been a staple on Alternative Radio for some time. Now it's time for Top 40 to take notice, and this side (with vocal assistance from The Bangles) should do the trick. A song that says Spring/Summer.

EDDIE MONEY - Endless Nights (Columbia)

It's called finding just the right groove, and Eddie and producer Richie Zito, have captured it. Has the same wide audience appeal of "I Wanna Go Back" and "Take Me Home Tonight," which, by the way, won Song of the Year honors at last week's Bay Area Music Awards held here in San Francisco.

JEFFERSON AIRPLANE - White Rabbit (RCA)

Though the term "classic" gets overused, it definitely applies to this release, which still sounds contemporary twenty years after it was recorded. Interestingly, teens in the late 70's continued to request it in many areas. Powerfully used in the film "Platoon." It's a natural for top-of-mind subject matter.

PETER CETERA - Only Love Knows Why (Full Moon/Warner Bros.)

He seems to have his biggest success when he shifts into ballad mode. Sung with the emotional intensity that's become his trademark. Lovers (and that makes up a good chunk of audience) will no doubt be lining up to buy this for one another - or have their favorite radio stations play it for 'em.

RON FELL'S Personal Picks — ALBUMS

PETER WOLF - "Come As You Are" (EMI America)

Blue-collar (or no-collar) blues from a former party animal with enough pith and vinegar to get it up for the weekend--the holy days of rock n roll. To quote the liner notes, this album "is recorded in a specific combination of analog and digital to create a Sonic Digital Weaving." What that means to a laymen like me is a signal-to-noise ratio of 51-49 percent--scruffy enough to sound live, yet calculated enough to give a certain brilliance to instruments which sound better in the studio. The end result, fortunately, is a platter of powerful music unfazed by technology. In this case, the logical device is the attitude Wolf brings to the party.

BRYAN ADAMS - "Into The Fire" (A&M)

Bryan takes no prisoners in an entire album of maxed trax. All of these songs will likely translate into gargantuan coliseum rockers. What they lack in intimacy they compensate for in muscularity. Bryan's voice is always a potentially abused instrument stretched to an almost unbearable texture, lending credence to a lyrical urgency in his songs and countered wonderfully by some sweet rockable guitar lines from fretman Keith Scott. I found side two to have more dynamics than the flip. Side one's anchor is the obvious hit single, HEAT OF THE NIGHT. Side two may have more than its share of cliched licks, but they're great ones and worth repeating on tracks such as ONLY THE STRONG SURVIVE, REMEMBRANCE DAY and HEARTS ON FIRE.
