Hit Factor is a percentage of stations playing a record which also have it Top 20. ie: 100 stations playing the record -60 stations have it in their Top 20 -- Hit Factor = 60%.

INSIDE TOP 40 by Dave Sholin

Over the past several weeks no less than a dozen PDs and MDs have remarked how the abundance of urban/dance material and female vocalists has made it hard to balance their stations musically. Although I thought the old rule about not playing two female artists or two urban songs back to back was gone, an unscientific sampling showed 50% of you would avoid doing so at all costs. That will cause problems when half the songs in the top ten are by females. Keep in mind that the audience is most likely to respond to the sound rather than the artist. Proper music flow is the big difference between two stations with similiar lists.

Yes, it is true that, glancing at the current crop of releases, it can be said that the women have taken over in the summer of '87. Besides our top three CHARTBOUND records and the week's most added track, the hottest record and artist on the street is MADONNA, or, as rock impressario Bill Graham called her, "the Lana Turner of 1987." It's not too often you see a HIT FACTOR go from 27% to 69%!! The only question now is... when it gets to number one, how long will it stay there?

Who's That Girl

A remarkable week for LOS LOBOS, who tie MADONNA for top overall airplay stats this week. Big gains at 93Q Houston 23-13, KOZE Lewiston 19-10, WJZQ Kenosha 27-16, WHYT Detroit 22-15, B97 New Orleans 13-7, FM104 Modesto/Stockton 22-16, KUBE Seattle 11-6, KMGX Fresno 23-16. Debuts Top 30 for Z100 New York, KKIS Concord, FM102 Sacramento, KQCR Cedar Rapids, WFBG Altoona, WAVA Washington D.C., etc.

Excellent growth for our CERTIFIED entry of two weeks ago, DIONNE

WARWICK AND JEFFREY
OSBORNE. Heads into the Top
Twenty for Buzz Bennett and Chuck
Beck at Y95, and Top 30 for Lisa
Tonacci and Kevin Davenport
B93/FM, Ray Mariner WPHR, John
Anthony WHKW, Jonathan Keyes and Paco Lopez ISLE 95, Steve Kingston and Scott Shannon Z100, etc.

Airplay continues to surge for ABC as they close in on nearly 250 reports. New believers this week include Z95.5 Detroit, KIXK El Dorado, WKDD Akron, KCIL Houma/New Orleans, WNFI Daytona Beach, WAVA Washington, HOT 103 New York, KWSS San Jose, KRNQ Des Moines, KYOS Merced.

SAMMY HAGAR edges close to the 200 report mark with another 16 adds including Y95, KKBG, KTDR, Q102, WZKX, WPHR, WKNE etc. Hefty gains for Charlie Fox KYYA 14-8, Dave Allen KSLY/FM 23-18, Mark Potter and Steve Taylor WQUT 24-18, Tom Cuddy PRO/FM 24-20, Brian Christian KVXO 19-13, etc.

While Deadheads watch in amazement, the legendary GRATEFUL DEAD go Top 40 CHARTBOUND. As I pointed out to a San Francisco Chronicle pop music critic who asked me about the phenomenon, we never know where that next hit is going to come from. Joins the Most Added list for the second week with new airplay at WXKS, WDEK, KZLS, KATD, WQLK, Q105, WKZQ, Q99, KIXY, KZZK, etc.

Another 50 adds propels THE OTHER ONES closer to CHARTBOUND, with a near certainty that this novelty dance track will be there next week. Number one requests at KQIX Grand Junction where it moves 31-23. New at POWER 104 Houston, KDON Monterey/ Salinas, Y94 Fargo/Moorhead, KDWB Minneapolis/St.Paul, KYYY Bismarck, KGOT Anchorage, KSND Eugene, etc.

Lots of top ten action on THE FAT BOYS WITH THE BEACH BOYS. Keeps goin' up for Paul Christy at POWER 104 Houston 4-3 and Guy Zapoleon KZZP Phoenix 9-8. Long list of heavy gains including WHSY 19-9, KSTN 29-17, KNOE 20-14, KITY 13-7, WFJA 23-11, KMGX 27-18, Y95 debut #24, KZOU 12-9, WKXX 37-19, B97 21-16. 23 adds with a HIT FACTOR of

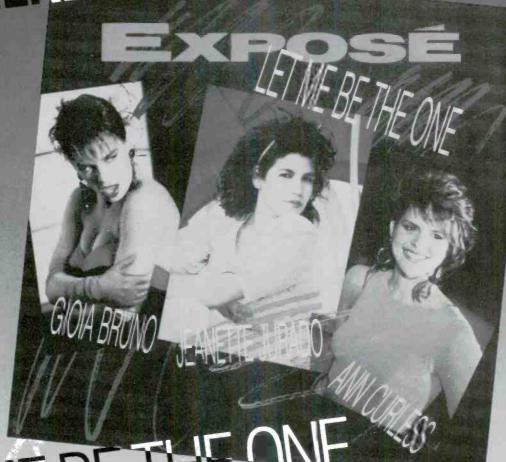

Last week's RECORD TO WATCH, ALEXANDER O'NEAL, lands into the Top Thirty at WKXX Birmingham debuting at #14, also KUBE, KQLA, HOT 105. New on 92X, KDWB, KIXY, KITY, WILI, PWR 99.7, WDJX, Q104, KZHR, WBBQ, KOKZ, etc.

Great start for NATALIE COLE with back-to-back weeks of 40 plus adds. Those jumping on include Steve Rivers and Jack Silver KIIS, Jim Gillie and Scotty Johnson KRQ, Nick Ferrara and Greg Rolling KS103, Rick Gillette and Mark Jackson WHYT, Brian Patrick and Kathy Means Z95.5, Bruce Stevens WBBQ, Stef Rybak KC101, Scott Burton and Rick Andrews WNYZ, Jonathan Little and Matt Hudson Z104.

They don't come much hotter than L.L. COOL J's "I Need Love." Are you ready for these debuts? KMEL #4, POWER 96 # 14, Y95 #14, KZZP #21, HOT 105 #7, Q105 #25, Y106 #16, PWR 99.7 #23, Z93 #26, KFIV #24, etc. Added at WABB, B93/FM, POWER 92, KS103, WBBQ, WRCK, Z94, KKYS, KBIU, Z95.5, etc. You can expect a big week ahead.

Welcome to our New TOP 40 Correspondent:

TOP 40 HYBRIDS ARE HOT

Any doubts about the viability of the dance/urban/top 40 hybrids should disappear with the advance Spring Arbitron results. From Miami to New York and Los Angeles, listeners have the hots for stations calling themselves HOT and POWER. The 12+ numbers tell the story:

Los Angeles:
KIIS (T40)	6.4/7.4
POWER106	5.7/7.0
KJLH (U)	2.4/2.0

New York: Z100 (T40) 5.1/5.8 HOT103 3.5/4.4 WRKS (U) 4.8/4.4

Miami: POWER96 4.5/5.4 WEDR (U) 5.0/4.1 Y100 4.5/4.9 HOT105 3.4/3.3 WMXI (T40) 2.5/1.7

While mass-appeal Top 40s like Z100 and KIIS have broad-based, mass-appeal managed to hold up against the tide, Urban stations like New on what we are, which is a broad-based, mass-appeal radio station. We pay close attention to POWER106, as York's WRKS are feeling the pinch. "HOT103 and POWER106 are successful due to their strong appeal to Hispanics 12-24 and to the young white dance crowd," says WRKS PD Tony Gray, "A year ago at this time, those components made up 45 percent of our audience by default. Now it's down to 20-25 percent." Gray's response has been to concentrate on "super-serving" the station's traditional black audience, with a slightly older demographic focus.

"That's a good game plan," says KIIS PD Steve Rivers, who admits POWER106 "hurt us tremendously in teens. But we are recovering. POWER106 is very good at what they do, but for us to overreact doesn't translate well in the numbers. In the last six months, we've moved away from trying to sound like them and concentrate on what we are, which is a broad-based, mass-appeal radio station. We pay close attention to POWER106, as well as KOST, which is an A/C and to the new music on KROQ. But instead of reacting to radio stations, we are reacting to what the listeners tell us they want to hear."

In Miami, HOT105 responded to POWER96 by becoming more dance-flavored itself. "We're virtually a brand-new radio station," says PD Duff Lindsey. Calling signal-saturated Miami "the most challenging market in the country," Lindsey notes that his station was number one just a couple of books ago. "We're primed and ready to come back," he says.

WESTWOOD ONE BAGS PEACOCK

Westwood One's purchase of NBC Radio, the nation's oldest broadcast network, ended weeks of speculation (United Stations was also mentioned as a possible suitor), but left a lot of questions unanswered. In exchange for $50 million dollars and up to eight percent of Westwood One stock, NBC parent General Electric essentially sold Westwood its affiliate agreements with more than 700 stations across the country. NBC Radio, Talknet and The Source will continue to supposed to do?" One produce the programming, which will be sold to Westwood for re-selling to affiliates.

Both NBC Radio President Randy Bongarten and Westwood One Chairman Norm Pattiz characterize the $50 million deal as an "alliance," with the NBC networks retaining their separate identities "much as the Mutual Broadcasting System has," as well as access to audio material from NBC-TV. Bongarten stressed, "Both companies will benefit from the efficiency and flexibility of a combined organization focused on radio. This relationship will enhance service to radio stations and advertisers."

CAN'T STOP IT

It seems programmers just couldn't stop themselves from breaking the embargo on the new Michael Jackson single. Four days before the July 22 release date, "I Just Can't Stop Loving You" showed up on New York's Top 40 and Urban airwaves, quickly spreading to Chicago, New Orleans, Dallas and other markets. One Midwest programmer told Chinwag, "It just came out of the woodwork!" CBS/Epic executives were not amused. Neither were those PDs without the connections to get advance copies. "My ass is burned!" moaned one Louisiana PD. "People are calling for it, saying they heard it on a New Orleans station--what am I small-market station in Texas got lucky, discovering the prized Jackson in what was labeled as a copy of "Pipeline" by Stevie Ray Vaughan from the "Back To The Beach" soundtrack. Still, the MD was worried: "I have a phone message from (CBS/Epic Promotion VP) Walter Winnick. Am I in trouble?"

SAL UTERANO

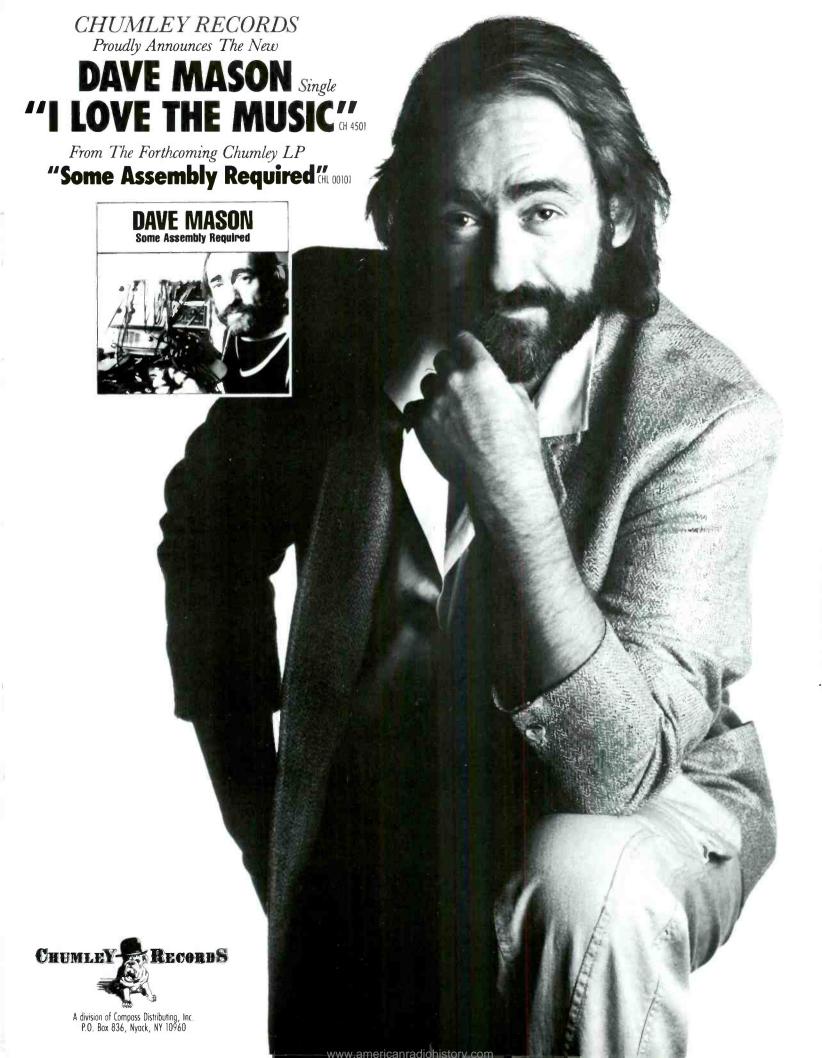

Our condolences to the family and friends of Sal Uterano, the gruff and legendary Atlantic Records VP/Sales, who died last week of a heart attack at the age of 59. Uterano had been with the label for 20 years. "He was a real individual, and will never be duplicated," says co-worker Judy Libow.

RICHARDS A VIRGIN AT LAST

Posing with Richard Branson, far right, is Keith Richards, the newest star in Virgin Records. Richards will record his first-ever solo LP for the label as part of a longterm multi-album deal. Most recently, Keith has been working on the sound track for the Chuck Berry bio-film, "Hail! Hail! Rock 'n' Roll." Pictured at the celebration are, from left, Virgin VP/A&R Nancy Jeffries, Virgin Co-Managing Director Jordan Harris, Richards' manager Jane Rose, Keith Richards and Virgin Group Chairman Richard Branson.

CENSORSHIP UPDATE

Warner Brothers has released a cleaned-up version of Michael Franks' "Island Life." In response to complaints from programmers, the phrase "screw you" was replaced by "sue you." Mick Hucknall, on the other hand, says he's "honored" to be on the PMRC's latest hit list. Simply Red's Men and Women was included among ten LPs condemned by the Washington wives as

"violent, sexually explicit or condoning substance abuse."

PMRC founder Tipper Gore admits she favors yanking the licenses of "offensive" radio stations, but denies advocating censorship. Interviewed by Charles Young, Jr. for an upcoming issue of Musician magazine, the First Lady candidate urged the public to alert the FCC when radio stations play music that violates their taste, adding, "Whatever action the FCC would take has to be legitimate legal action, which is not censorship." Oh.

RADI-O-R

Evening host Eric Johnson replaces Stephanie Barsamian as MD at Philadelphia's WSNI. Stephanie can be reached at (215) 789-7833 ... Former WFLY PD Chuck Taylor returns to Albany to program takes over music duties at WPYX as Andi Turco exits ... Sandy St. Pierre is the new News Director at New Haven's WELI ... Andy Vaughn is now MD at WFRB-Frostburg, MD.

Laurie Scott is now PD/MD at KAFX-Lufkin, TX ... Kevin Davenport moves from overnights to MD/midday host at Austin's B93, replacing Mike Oliver ... Pat Garcia moves up to MD at KCRS-Midland/Odessa ... Ron Brewster and Jim Bratt join the sales staff at San Antonio's KKYX ... Al Baxter takes over as MD at KINN-Alamogordo, NM, as Bill Matthews segues to Relations ... Athan James a similar position at Santa Fe's KVŠF ... Add Asst. PD to John Edwards' title at KBPI-Denver ... Bobby Knight comes in from KZOU-Little Rock to take afternoons at Phoenix's KOY-FM ... Crosstown, John Dixon has brought his "After Hours" show back to Sunday nights on KEY 100.3 ... Richard

Rees and his former KCGL

Alternative crew have expanded their air time from weekends to every night on Salt Lake City's KRPN. The station is oldies during the day, but will now air the Lime Spiders, Dead Milkmen and their ilk WKLI. Crosstown, John Cooper seven nights a week, 6 p.m. to 2 a.m. The expanded hours also mean they'll be reporting to the Gavin Alternative section.

> Brian Cooley is now news director at San Francisco's KMEL. He's a veteran of KKIS, KFRC and Earshot/ Rip'N'Read ... Our candidate for segue of the week goes to Jack Friday, bounced from afternoons on San Francisco's KLOK one day and starting the same shift the next at KOIT, same building, one floor down ...

KSND/KEED-Eugene, OR, AE Barbara Stern-Patterson adds title of Director of Public moves up to PD at KWYZ-Everett/Seattle ... Daryl Webster is now MD at KASH-Anchorage as Steve Chapman leaves for the Lower 48. Station also adds midday man Frank Kennedy from KENI ... Dan Weissman departs KZLS-Billings, MT, for afternoons at Anchorage's KWHL.

TAMMY SEES THE LIGHT

KFOG Music Director Sky Daniels discusses playlists and makeup techniques with Tammy Faye Bakker at San Francisco's Hard Rock Cafe. Although suspicions were aroused when the station added "Alley Oop" in power rotation, Daniels says, "Tammy and I are just friends! To paraphrase Lou Reed, her life was saved by rock 'n' roll.

WNUA: NEW AGE FOR CHICAGO

Pyramid Broadcasting has evidently decided that the Second City is ready for a New Age. On Aug. 3, its oldiesformat WRXR will become WNUA, "Music for a New Age." Like LA's KTWV, the musical fare will stress light jazz and pop. Unlike The Wave, WNUA will have live jocks, although their main role will be providing time & temp. Says GM Michael Donovan: "We feel a majority of today's adults grew up on rock 'n' roll or rhythm and blues and have now matured to the point that they want a radio station that will complement their professional and social lifestyles." Sounds like a dead aim at the WXRT "Fine Rock" audience, but 'XRT PD Norm Winer is not too worried. "I'm reluctant to comment too unfavorably on a format that has enjoyed some success in Los Angeles," he says. "But our research indicates a highlyproduced, slick pop sound is not viewed too highly here. What they're selling is a lifestyle, and that will take money."

DENE STILL LOOKING

The MD spot at KCPW-Kansas City is open again. PD Dene Hallam says Dan Pearman changed his mind about leaving KEYN-Wichita when he was offered the PD spot (replacing Jerry King). Dene's looking for a researchoriented MD with PD aspirations willing to join a station that jumped 4.3-5.9 in the Spring Arbitrons. Address is 4502 Shawnee Mission Parkway, Shawnee Mission, KS 66202.

ROTATIONS

Dave Urso is now Senior VP/Promotion at Elektra/ Asylum ... Jeffrey Forman has been named A&R Director for Virgin Records. He comes from EMI America Records, where he was Manager, Black A&R ... Carole Bergenfeld has been appointed to the new position of Director of Special Projects at Atlantic Records ... Capitol/EMI America/ Manhattan has named Brian Yates Director of European Operations, based in London.

PROMOTION OF THE WEEK

COLA WARS?

Eat your heart out, Michael J.-CFOX-Vancouver has its own "CFOX Cola." The station is selling a limited run of special "collector's edition" cans with their Fox logo to raise charitable funds. Proceeds will go to support the CFOX Kids' Park, as well as an ambitious medical research project, The Rick Hansen Man In Motion Tour. Hansen is completing a monumental "wheeling" round-the-world tour in aid of spinal cord research. Station mascot Mr. A. Fox is helping the kids toast Rick with cans of the now-famous cola.

THANKS-A-LOTTERY ▼

Here it is--documentary evidence of the largest radio station giveaway in history--one hundred million dollars. KTHO in Lake Tahoe, CA, managed to set this new standard for generosity by making the payoffs in $100 yearly installments. Morning guy Brian Beck on the left hands over the cash while PD Susan Stogner at right, wonders what she'll be doing a million years from now.

BATTER UP! ▼

Baseball was the name of the game as Listeners gathered to witness the athletic talents of members of Force MD's, WJLB's air personalities and other media celebrities, while Meli'sa

Morgan assisted with the play-byplay. Games in various locations are scheduled throughout the summer. Posing for this shot while their uniforms were still clean are (bottom row, from left): Mercury's Jim White, Force MD's TCD and Stevie D, Meli'sa Morgan, Force's Trisco, WJLB GM Verna Green, Duane Bradley, Susan Hawkins; WJLB and RC Cola staged the first (back row) Lynn Briggs, Claudia Strong Songs Celebrity game in Detroit. INSIDE A/C

Steve Winwood takes over number one from Al Jarreau with a 99% to 95% edge in HIT FACTOR, but probably this week's biggest news is the 16 adds on Suzanne Vega's Luka and the increase in HEAVY rotation reports from 85 to "La Bamba." Thirty we're sure the film

Dionne Warwick & Jeffrey Osborne, in only five weeks of tracking, have cleared 211 A/C stations for a solid 90% HIT FACTOR. Are the few stations not committed yet waiting for some good news?

Another obvious story is that of Madonna's latest single, Who's That Girl. It's 37 to 17 ranking increase over the past two weeks should turn any remaining questions into exclamation points.

Three of the three-week-old records which are already impressive in their profiles are Smokey Robinson (31 to 19), Huey Lewis & The News (35-21) and Dan Fogelberg (CERTIFIED @ 26).

REO Speedwagon has now cleared over 100 A/C stations and is HIT FACTORED by a healthy 59%. Adds this week include KFMB, WEBE/FM, KGY, KLOO, WGHQ, KHTN, KUKI, KKHT and KPTL.

Los Lobos has gotten to 31 on the chart before the release of the movie, "La Bamba." Thirty adds this week, but we're sure the film's exposure will eventually take it top ten. Everybody wins with this one.

Anita Baker makes a solid debut on the chart at 34. This fifth single from Rapture is quickly HIT FACTORED by 46% Her impressive calls include K101, WELI, KSL, WMYX, KFMB, KKLV, KFQD and WMT/FM.

Rosanne Cash debuts on the chart with more than half of her stations HIT FACTORED. Among the committed are WALG, WSKY, WASK, WCHV, KYJC, KNOX and KBRC.

Last week's RECORD TO WATCH, Restless Heart's Why Does It Have To Be, is this week's second MOST ADDED. With 80 stations in only two weeks it's unquestionally happening more quickly than their previous hit.

This week's RECORD TO WATCH, Paul Simon's Diamonds On The Soles Of Her Shoes, is getting fair attention from A/C radio, particularly from those who've chosen to edit out the intro.

Expect Herb Alpert's latest single, Making Love In The Rain, to move up to CHARTBOUND next week. Herb is beginning his second quarter of a century of music making with the early ears of KEZR, WTRX, WCHV, KEFM, WKCX and 45 other A/C's.

REVIEWS by Ron Fell & Diane Rufer

MICHAEL JACKSON

I Just Can't Stop Loving You (Epic) Give Michael credit for coming up with something mature as the lead single from his new album, "Bad." Urban and Top 40 would come on board with any tempo or energy level, but A/C might have had an easy out. Michael's co-vocalist on this track, Seidah Garrett, is not exactly new to the record biz. She's sung backup and solo in recent years, but she'll be somewhat of a household name before this record runs its course to the top. Was this the track

Michael had hoped Barbra Streisand would duet with him?

JOHN FARNHAM

Pressure Down (RCA)

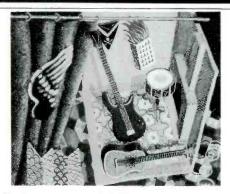

This track is straight pop, tall and true. The classic pop songs are the ones we can hear on one listen, and Pressure Down sells itself from the git-go. It's gonna give our sometimes tired playlists a boost and a brilliance.

SWING OUT SISTER

Breakout (Mercury/PolyGram)

Before you get scared off by a weird name, listen. It's more like the Manhattan Transfer than anything else. This is cool and hip.

CROWDED HOUSE

World Where You Live (Capitol) Need any proof that A/C radio can break a band? Hundreds of Gavin A/Cs can point with pride to their early committment to Crowded House. World Where You Live is a little more aggressive than the previous two singles, but it's made easier by their prior accessibility in our format. Go for

July 24, 1987/the GAVIN REPORT

ON MANAGEMENT by Dr. Oren Harari

BUSINESS AS UN-USUAL

In the June 12 issue, Eric Norberg's excellent "PD Notebook" featured some interesting approaches towards management taken by KIDN of Pueblo, Colorado. I was quite impressed with what PD Randy Hill reported to Eric. My immediate reaction was the title of this piece.

First of all, Randy writes, "Competition is fierce and money is tight." My experience has been that that statement is true for just about every business in every industry. When was the last time you heard a manager complain about too little competition and too much budget? I'd take that statement a step further and suggest that, regardless of what business you're in, competition will get fiercer and money will get tighter. That's important because it means that we can't do "business as usual." We've got to look for new ways of getting things done. Let's look at some of the things KIDN is doing.

First of all, they've set up a "Creative Room," where any employee can put up ideas. One wall is for ideas, one for planning, one for communication and one for innovative companies assume that every organization.

notion of a "Creative Room" means that people are encouraged to think of new ways to do things. Most organizations give lip service to the need for innovation, while the AM station to compete is to utilize every managers fight tenaciously to keep the old

Also, the very idea of a "Creative Room" means new ideas are always in public for everyone to look at, improve on and be inspired by. It also sounds like fun. Contrast that with the typical approach: buttoned-down committees preparing 200-page analyses of one or two "innovative" ideas and giving the report to only a few select people who'll never read it anyway. No wonder so many companies are mired in the doldrums. Many innovative firms do exactly what KIDN is doing: they publicize new ideas constantly, post them on Randy: "What we do is team two air people walls and bulletin boards, talk about them excitedly, and start doing them.

But I think the true brilliance of the "Creative Room" idea comes from two of Randy Hill's statements: One, "There are no bad ideas" and two, "All employees have input." The Japanese for years have subscribed to the "no bad idea" notion. That's why some individual Japanese firms can get literally hundreds of thousands of new ideas from employees every year, while many American firms are lucky to get a fraction of that. Certainly, not all ideas will work, and some should not even be tried. But how many people will take the risk to suggest or try something new if they're worried they'll be given the third-degree each time they suggest something?

The fact that everyone has input at KIDN is super. Every person doing a job is by definition an expert in that job. They see things you and I would never see because we're only doing our jobs. But many companies think new ideas are solely the prerogative of senior management, or some highly paid group of professionals who are studded with degrees. These companies tend to be stagnant and slow to respond to changes in the marketplace. They waste time and money by analyzing ideas to death, go for expensive project ideas (forgetting that those who swing for homers strike out a lot) and ignore the countless little and often inexpensive ideas that are constantly percolating within the firm.

In contrast, the flexible, exciting and single employee has ideas on how to do This is wonderful. For one thing, the very his/her job better, or reduce costs, or make more money. Randy puts it very well: "The way I see it, in today's marketplace, where FM radio is so dominant, the only way for an employee. We keep in mind that everyone on the staff has ideas."

There's another benefit. When you're not restricting people to their little job description "box"-when you're encouraging that secretary to make a suggestion about improving the billing system, for example, or when you're encouraging the bookkeeper to make a suggestion about a new product ideas-you start realizing that something wonderful is happening: You're hearing a lot fewer "motivation" problems.

KIDN's "team concept" strategy, however, is the clear winner. To quote with one salesperson. The team then works out a plan to sell promotions, weather, news, sports and special packages to prospective clients." That pays off in greater efficiency, more teamwork, more motivation and better ideas. And best of all, even after giving the team a commission on the sale, the station still makes money.

The disease in most organizations is their obsession with the "organization chart." One department does this, and then the next department does that, and so on. It looks so neat and orderly on paper. In real life, though, it leads to slowness, lack of innovation and hardening of the arteries.

One successful manufacturing firm got tired of the hassles, snags and delays as products went from "product development" to "production" and then to "marketing." So they put together someone from each of those three departments in a team from the very beginning to champion every one of the new products from then on. One very successful greeting card company did the same thing, putting together a designer, writer and marketer from the very beginning, rather than going through the so-called "orderly" procedure. The result in both cases: more cost savings, more ideas, better morale and more revenues. Break down those artificial walls!

I've come to believe that the kind of things that KIDN is doing are no longer even options. If we want to thrive--if we even want to survive-in this explosive, highly competitive marketplace, we've got to stop managing the way we did in the past. No more "business as usual", because that only worked in the past. What we need today is more "business as un-usual."

I'll bet that there are a lot of stations out there that are doing some 'business as un-usual." If you're one of them, would you write me c/o the Gavin Report and tell me about what you're doing? It doesn't have to be big elaborate stuff. Just as important are the small "un-usual" steps that your station may be taking in the area of strategy, marketing, people management, organization design, policy, leadership, product development, customer service, or anything else. Remember: "there are no bad ideas." Let me know one or two un-usual things that you've found helpful and we'll talk about them and you in this column. I look forward to hearing from you.

elatively interview-shy until the creation of Radio KAOS, Roger Waters is a personable. intellectual conversationalist. What was most pleasurable about our talk was that no matter how far we strayed from music, Waters, in a voice astonishingly similar to his singing voice, always managed to segue back to the bottom line of making music, creating KAOS and someday living in a world where people cooperate more and compete-

Four years citer leavina Pink Floyd. Waters has a new lease on life. He's excited about expanding on the Radio KAOS concept via an ambitious world tour. As he was during the final Pink Floyd albums, he seems very secure about being "in charge." He conducts an interview much as he writes, first getting comfortable and letting his thoughts flow. His strong and tangled visions reflect an acute interest in the mind, both its dark side and its vast potential for good. Radio KAOS is a breakthrough in that a balance has been established between the dark side of the mind and a strong sense of hape. But capitalism--in Waters' words, "monetarism"--is still an issue he grappies with to this day. The flow of money and how it relates to society and even personal relationships was something that was sardonically explored on the Pink Floyd classic. "Money." On Radio KAOS, the topic that reigns supreme is competition, whether it be on the radio airwaves or on the floors of the stock exchange. Interestingly enough, Waters chooses the radio medium for which to transmit a newly found sense of optimism.

KZ: Radio KAOS is literally one of the purest radio albums ever made. Since we talk to close to a thousand radio stations each week, I'm keen on your perception of radio. RW: I have a great seal of affection for radio. It was very important to me when I was a kid. It was to most of us. But I lived in Los Angeles for six months and I was kind of attached to KMET. It was really ironic that the story in Radio KAOS turned out to be prophetic in a way KZ: The stary was written before KMET became The Wave. RW: Absolutely. All the writing was finished at least six months before the KMET shit hit the fan. KZ: I remember how important radio was when I was a kid. We had an AM station that introduced us to "See Emily Picy." RW: A band like Pink Floyd would really find it difficult to start now. KZ: Why do you think so? RW: Maybe I'm wrong, but have the impression that the network of people who simply played the music that they personally like--which was how thinner than it used to be. Certainly It's been Jim Ladd's experience. He's a good friend of mine. He's the deejay

A RARE CONVERSATION WITH PINK FLOYD'S FOUNDING MEMBER

By Kent Zimmerman

on the record and will also be coming on the road with us. The road show will be Radio KAOS on the road. It will be like a radio station going on the road. The show will be two and a half or three hours of real-time in the life of the radio station. It's not going to be a theatrical representation of the radio station. The idea is that the radio station will be on the road transmitting from which ever town it happens to be in that night. Hopefully, we'll be making some kind of contact with the local people via telephone calls and stuff like that. But I'm wandering off the point that you were asking me about. With Jim, for instance, with his experience at KMET and partially as well on KLOS, he slowly had less and less freedom. They were more and more wanting to create playlists from research, which I suppose is partially what you do.

KZ: In a way It Is, but we hear from quite a few different kinds of radio. Here at Gavin, we had to launch a section that includes Alternative stations. That section was designed to provide us with more street-oriented music information that I think is utilmately useful to a large percentage of our readers. RW: I noticed that.

KZ: But I'm interested in your perceptions of research, particularly research used to reach the lowest common denominator and how that affects you as an artist.

RW: Actually the phrase that I used was 'lowest commercial denominator.' There is a problem, particularly if radio stations are owned in chains, for a group to not take an Interest in each station independently. The priority tends to be, 'How can we run this conglomerate in the most efficient. cost-effective manner?' Sometimes the most efficient, cost-effective manner isn't the best way. That's my point. I would certainly suggest that if the most efficient and cost-effective manner means removing the human being from in between the stack of records and the guy sitting at home in his room listening to the radio, that's definitely a poor move. It must be wrong. There's got to be a human being there taking the records out and playing them. Okay, he looks at the trades and whatever to see what people are into and what's new and what's happening. But in the end, there have to be radio stations where the disc jockey goes, 'I like this song and that song, and those are the songs I'm going to play." Then people can get to know the guy and his personality. They can phone him and ask, "Why don't you ever play this, that or whatever?" A relationship builds up. You've got something that can be personal to the kid sitting in the room at home. He's not just listening to a machine telling him, 'This is what you ought to be listening to, son." KZ: Was Roger Waters once that young boy in his room? RW: My first radio was a crystal set, believe it or not. Very soon after that, I got an old valve set and I could pick up two stations. There were no music stations in England at that time. They just didn't play any new rock music. There was Radio Luxembourg (sings) '2-0-8 Meters on the Medium Wave band." They used to play rock n roll. That's where I heard all my early experiences like Elvis Presley, Carl Perkins and all those people. Also, we used to be able to pick up the U.S. Armed Forces Network from Halland. They had a powerful transmitter there. It was pretty scratchy and WHHHOOOOSSHHHEE and faraway, but if you worked at it, you could pick them up when the weather conditions were right. That was great, because there was all this new American music that you couldn't get in England for a number of years-1954 until 1959. KZ: It must have been exciting. RW: It was great. Radio is completely different from TV. You can allow your Imagination to work. I used to like the idea of listening to people and not really knowing what they looked like or who they were. Radio is a much more personal medium than TV. Although I've made one for this record, I'm not a great lover of pop videos, promotional videos.

KZ: For being such a visually oriented act--one of the very first bands to use sets, and of course the films--I've never perceived Pink Floyd as having a major video profile. RW: Promotional videos don't quite know whether they're small bits of musical film or commercials for a record. If they're short films with music or short films of a band playing or whatever, then the way video is programmed makes it very difficult to watch them because you get one after another after another. It makes it very hard for them to live as entities in their own right. They work great as commercials. People seem to leave music television on as a background. KZ: A friend once described videos as the first corporate art form. RW: Personally, I wouldn't call them an art form.

KZ: Tell me about the song 'Radio Waves.' It seems to operate on a couple of levels, both as part of the story and about radio.

RW: I wrote it very late. I wrote lots and lots of songs, fifteen or sixteen, of which eight are on this album. The others are sitting and waiting. They may get used or they may not. The first song I wrote was "Who Needs Information?" The part about the concrete block was from a coal miner dropping a concrete block onto a car which actually happened in England in 1985 during the miner's strike. I thought to myself, "Why am I writing about this incident?" When I write, it's a very passive exercise for me. I try to go very blank and allow whatever feelings I have to surface without interfering. I interfere as little as possible with this path I can open up from my subconscious and conscious mind. Sometimes I'm surprised by the stuff that comes out. Then the conscious part of my brain and any craft that I've developed takes over, and I start to fiddle about with the ideas. Much further down the line, after I'd written a whole load of other songs, I felt the need to write a song that was descriptive of Billy, the main character, and his condition. One day, 'Radio Waves' popped out. It's meant to be a descriptive piece about this spastic Welsh kid who is apparently a vegetable, but can actually communicate via radio waves, directly. He becomes very powerful. He probably represents the conscious mind. It's interesting in that the story is about twins, one able-bodied and one who is handicapped. The handicapped one maybe represents the unconscious, the more real feelings, if you like. The able-bodied one represents the conscious and the ego. It's the subconscious that becomes the more powerful.

KZ: Actually, I'm a twln.

RW: Are you? I've read a certain amount of literature about twins. Are you aware of telepathic communication between—is it a brother or a sister?

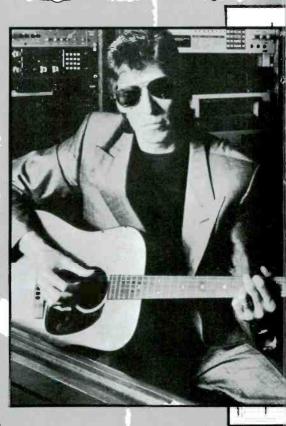

KZ: He's my brother. We work together. We're mirror twins, in that I'm. left-handed and he's right-handed. Our hair grows circularly in the back of the head in opposite directions. RW: That's very interesting! I've spoken to people before. When I make odd connections between things, people sometimes ask, "What made you think of that?" I say, "I don't know. It was no conscious thing." But someone described it to me as the left-hand side of the brain making connections with the right-hand side. There is a theory that an artist--whether it's a painter or a writer or a musician--has more connections between the right and left sides of the brain than most people. I think twins are likely to have more telepathic experiences than other pairs of people. There's some research being done at M.I.T. which now seems to very seriously suggest that one of the methods of telepathic communication is the transmission and reception of very low-powered radio waves. After all, a radio wave is only generated by a spark arcing across a gap in its purest and simplest form. We know that thinking is about our brain cells exchanging electrical energy with one another. Some of us can pick up that activity from another person, which is what radio is.

KZ: There's a line in "Me Or Him" about "communicating like in the good old days." Do you think that, despite all the sophisticated communication link-ups and satellites, we're not really communicating?

RW: That's not a very good line. Because if I was to identify the "good old days," well maybe that's just a bit of sloppy writing. But having said that, if I have to stand by that line, I would say that smaller communities, like villages where everybody knows everybody--you don't have to like everybody, but you have to live with them. If there's a village idiot, the village looks after it. The 'good old days' refers to a time when communities were smaller and therefore communication was easier. It was impossible not to know everybody, whereas nowadays we tend to live in large cities. Now it's very difficult to know anybody.

KZ: Were you raised in a small village?

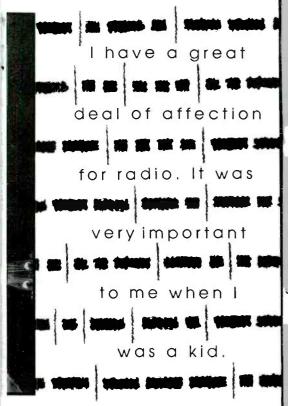

RW: No, I was raised in Cambridge, which is a university town of about 100,000 people. It's a sense that I have about rural communities. People are happier/In rural communities, you get to see the changing seasons. Being closer to pature with natural things happening around you makes human beings happier. Whatever you had in your house, you probably made yourself. For most of us, the television set is like magic. It certainly is to me. If I take the back off one and look inside, if something goes wrong, there's no way I can mend it. But if you've made yourself--I don't know--a spinning wheel or something, with the simple tools that people use, there's a certain satisfaction in understanding things that you have to have and developing simple skills to cope with your everyday life. And people developed communication skills with the other people. Maybe those are skills that we've lost because we're all happy to sit in front of the TV, which is a cold medium. You don't need any skills for that.

KZ: The concept of people being captivated or, rather, sucked in by television finds its way into a lot of your music. Are you a TV person? RW: Yes, I watch a fair bit of TV when I've been working hard all day. That's why television is so captivating. It can be very soporific and relaxing, which is what one wants some of the time. Also it can be quite stimulating. But I stay by the sea quite often and we don't have a television there. Then I start to read books again. There is no question that it's more satisfying and enduring to read a novel than it is to sit and watch a succession of TV programs. If you can escape from the chains of television and get to books, you see that books are far more moving and compelling than television can ever be. I treasure books. Not that I read very many, but if I'm in the middle of a really good book, I ration myself. I don't want to get to the end because the experience is so enjoyable. So I tend to put it down and go off and do something. But you never put it down and go off and watch television. You tend to put it down and go off and fly a kite.

KZ: Was there ever a point when making records wasn't enough? You've always had a tendency to stretch out into other mediums.
RW: When our audience grew to the point where we started to play arenas rather than theaters, it seemed clear that one had to put on some kind of a show in order to make a theatrical experience that would live comfortably in an arena. In a club with three or four hundred or even a thousand people with a bar and tables--the kind of gigs that we did for many years--a band can just get up on stage and play. It's hot and sweaty and a really good experience. But when you get ten thousand people, you have to provide more. I would feel bad about just standing on stage playing. So, I branched out in that way by starting to put all those Pink Floyd shows together. Toward the end, we tried, in fact, to go into stadiums. But I discovered that it just doesn't work. Put it this way--it doesn't work for me. I have never been to a stadium show that I thought was anything but mediocre or that would not have been better indoors or in a smaller place. Stadium shows are only about one thing, and that's money. Well, two things--money and ego. All the talk you hear, 'Do you know how much we grossed? Do you know how many people were there?" Funnily enough, the audience gets seduced by exactly the same thing. "Yeah, it was great. There were 85,000 of us there. We were like sardines. You had to piss standing up. It was wonderful!" What was so great about that? You can't hear very well or see very much. There's something very perverse about that, which is why, with The Wall, I went back indoors again and vowed never to work a stadium again as long as I live. As far as making movies, like The Wall, are concerned, it seemed like a good idea at the time. I'm not sure it was very successful.

KZ: The Wall, directed by Alan Parker?

RW: Yes. I have real reservations about it. I worked on it every bloody day, going to the studio, doing the dubbing and everything. Then at the end of the day, my heart sank the first time I saw it. I suddenly realized I couldn't care less about this guy, the Pink character. I think the film was very compelling, visually, but I didn't care. It didn't move me.

KZ: "The Tide Is Turning" Is a bit of a self portrait. I've seen you play over the years In various places, some relatively small places. I've always sensed a detachment between you and the audience.

RW: Yes. There absolutely was. That's what The Wall was about, really. Partially Did you see The Wall? KZ: In Los Angeles.

RW: Well, there you go. That was the first week that we did it. Partially it was just an autobiographical piece and about broader issues. But The Wall was about the lack of contact I felt with an audience, particularly in stadiums. I sensed the wall across the front of the stage, and that's why I built one.

KZ: But Live Ald obviously moved you.

RW: Yes...(pauses) it did. I wrote "The Tide Is Turning' the next day, or two days later. Live Aid has taken a lot of knocking since, some of which may or may not be right. I don't know. The reason Live Aid was important for ne was that it showed modern communications technology being used, for that one day, unquestionably to make human beings feel better about each other. There is the potential and the possibility for human beings to cooperate with one another. If there is a main drift to the ideas in Radio KAOS it is my view that competition is not always good for you. Sometimes it is, but more often than not, the idea that rampant self-interest, which is the basis of monetarist philosophy, is not only good for the people who win the order, but in some magical way, good for the people who lose the order as well. That seems to me to be pure cant. It's a very convenient philosophy for those of us at the top of the heap. It's pernicious to suggest that, in some magical way, it's good for the people at the bottom of the heap as well. Such is the theory. KZ: Hence the album's dedication "to all those who find themselves at the violent end of monetarism"? RW: Monetarism is a very violent economic philosophy because it's based on the idea of a free market. You can't have winners without losers in a completely free market. Somebody has to lose. Although unchecked competition between nations and businesses may be healthy in the short term -- and I wouldn't deny that for a minute-- it seems self-evident that in the long term, there's going to have to be a great deal more weight given to the idea of cooperation and less given to the idea of competition. In an

MAKING PSAs INEFFECTIVE

I have no idea how long it's been going on, but I first became aware of it as we entered the 1980s. I'm talking about the practice by some stations of deleting addresses or phone numbers from public service announcements and saying instead, "Call the station for more information."

At first glance, this may seem a good idea. It results in shorter PSAs, and brief, clear announcements are more likely to be communicated. Some stations felt it also makes the PSAs sound less like paid ads and the station sound more like the source of all community news.

The last two points are good ones. But consider this: Now that the FCC no longer requires you to run PSAs, there are only two justifications for carrying them. Talking about events and opportunities going on around your service area makes your station sound aware and involved. And supporting the charities and nonprofit activities that local business and community leaders support is good business.

Now let me ask you this: Is it of value for the station to be helpful in drawing response to these nonprofit activities? To have people say_that they responded because they heard it on your station? After all, isn't this an opportunity to show those community and business leaders who are involved with these projects that advertising on your station is

If you agree, then you shouldn't be saying, "Call the station for more information," when that more information is just a phone number, contact person, or address. This is called requiring "tiered response." In order to get from point A to point B, it's necessary to go to point C to find out how to get to B. And it just doesn't work.

An example: About thirteen years ago, an FM station in Los Angeles thought it had found a novel way to promote its new format and call letters. It decided to saturate the metropolitan area with small billboards that said something like, "For news of Los Angeles' newest and best FM radio station, call XXX-XXXX!" Being in the business, I did call the number. The machine answering the phone had a brief message describing the station, and telling where it was on the dial. But not enough listeners were curious enough to phone- though they might have tuned in had they known the dial position. All that money spent, and an absolute failure in the ratings. The station started over with a Spanish format and became successful.

The moral of that story is this: Response drops rapidly when listeners have to go through a maze to respond. In my experience, most people don't bother to call the station. They call the subject of the

Maybe that doesn't concern you: "When we say call us for information, we're showing how on top of it we are. It doesn't matter to us if they get any response or not."

I think it does matter. Not only does it show your community concern, but it reflects on your effectiveness as an advertising medium. I know of one instance in which an advertiser connected to a public service campaign sourced the responses...and found the only radio responses came from the one station in the market which did give the organization's contact number in the PSA. That station was not top rated, and had watched that advertiser's budget go to some of the higher-rated station in the past. The advertiser now cancelled the other stations which had shown no ability to draw response for the PSA and put the radio ads just on the station that had drawn response.

That advertiser was just making a

Now that the FCC no longer requires you to run PSAs, there are only two justifications for carrying them: Talking about the events and opportunities going on around your service area makes your station sound aware and involved. businesslike decision to use only advertising media that had demonstrated their power to motivate response.

I don't think radio can afford to shoot itself in the foot like this, and I urge any stations using this technique of leaving off addresses or phone numbers and asking instead for a call at the station for such information, to rethink their position and to go back to being an asset to the community. It really helps in the long run.

successful so far. I think it was a great band, and the band is now finished. I'm against the name being exploited for purely commercial reasons. That's a personal opinion of mine, which I'm happy to share with you, but other people are obviously entitled to other opinions and clearly have other opinions.

KZ: You worked with the film director Nicholas Roea on your first solo LP... RW: Yes. He shot all the American live footage for the Pros And Cons Of Hitchhiking. I wanted a filmmaker who I liked and whose work had a strange dreamlike quality to it. It needed two things. Pros And Cons Of Hitchhiking was about dreams and it was about sex. Roeg's work has always had a dreamlike quality, and he's also pretty well obsessed with sex (laughs). So he seemed like the perfect man for the job. I rang him up, then played him the music. He said, 'Yes. This is very interesting. I'll do it.' KZ: What about the visuals on this tour. Anything as off-the-wall as Nicholas Roea?

RW: Jim Ladd will be there, so clearly we'll have a certain amount of KAOS paraphernalia--radio station stuff. But I'm going back to the simple circular screens I've used so often in the past. There will be a lot of new film. I've been working with an English documentary filmmaker named David Monroe. His ideas, both philosophically and politically, are very much in line with my own. We've been cutting material for songs like "Home" and "The Powers That Be." Also, David has been cutting material for 'Money' and some of the old songs. That will be very interesting for me, having lived with old visuals of those songs for so long.

KZ: Will it be a departure from animation?

RW: Yes, although there will be animation in the show because I've used quite a lot of computer generated graphics to explain the Billy character-how he makes his decisions about what's wrong with the world and what he's going to do about it, which is explained very very minimally on the record. There was no way I could explain any of that on a forty minute record. But in a two and half hour show, we'll be able to tell Billy's story much more fully.

KZ: You seem to work on projects in layers. It may start with an idea which becomes a record. Then the live show extrapolates. Then possibly a film may follow, as happened with The Wall.

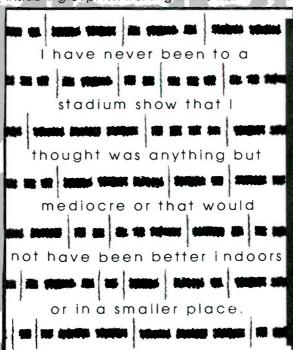

RW: Hike to pursue things. If I've got an idea, I'm like a terrier. Once I get hold of it, I want to shake it until everything that's in there has fallen out onto the floor so I can sniff around it and see what's there before going off to see what else I can find in the big garden.

KZ: Is being solo better than operating inside a group?

RW: Oh, yeah. But I am operating inside a group. I'm working with other KZ: I always notice that at the end of a record or project, a crack of light and hope appears. Is that you?

RW: Yes. I think I've always felt that. Obviously on Radio KAOS, there's a much bigger crack of light. "The Tide Is Turning" is unquestionably the most optimistic thing my unconscious has ever released upon me, if you like. That's why Live Aid was a very musicians as I was in Pink Floyd, The difference here is that there's no jealousies. It's clearly understood within The Bleeding Heart Band that everybody makes a very important contribution, but it's my band. So there are no political problems. In a band like Pink Floyd, people grow at different speeds. They change in different ways and grow apart from each other. You tend to cling together for far too long because the brand name is a comfortable umbrella hovering over you. It's hard to break away. But having broken away now, I'm much happier. KZ: Isn't It scary going out without the security of the Pink Floyd name? RW: It was to start with, but I've been doing it for three or four years how, and the pros far outweigh the cons. KZ: Your bio says that you are an "anti-superstar." You're not one to hang out. Are you shy or a bit withdrawn?

RW: No, I hang out, but with my friends. It just doesn't happen to be in public places, I'm not at all interested in discos, clubs, premieres or being important day for me. Because it gave me that hope.

KZ: Having worked with Bob Geldof on the movie version of The Wall, did it surprise you that he went on to do such great things?

RW: No, not at all. His feelings are pretty close to the surface. He's a very strong guy.

KZ: How about a word about the new band? You've just finished rehearsing today. How are things RW: Great. There's a guy called Paul Carrack who did a guest vocal on one of the tracks. He's in the band now as a keyboard player. He's going to sing as well. I think we're pretty solid. Graham Broad, the new drummer who is on the record, is wonderful as well. We're just coming to the end of our first week of rehearsal. We've reached that stage where we've gotten to know each other now, so that we spend a lot of time laughing. We have to keep that in check a little bit, so that we actually do manage to get on with some work. (Guitarist) Andy Fairweather-Low, who I've worked with for many years, is probably one of the funniest men on God's earth. We're having a great time.

ECHO & THE BUNNYMEN SILENCERS

"Ghost On The Beach"-The Insiders (Epic)
Originally leaked under a cloak of anonymity, it's rare that we're able to be introduced to a song the same way our audiences are. The Insiders come from Chi Town. Those taking a stab at identifying the band have reached for easy comparisons like John Mellencamp and Jackson Browne. But The Insiders sound much more like themselves. "Ghost On The Beach" is a confident, even-tempoed Album Radio standard. There are no synths. Lead guitarist Jay O'Rourke produced. Hey, isn't that the ole Epic logo that was on my sister's 45s?

"Women"-Def Leppard (Mercury)

Like Dr. Fronkensteen's creation, here it comes! Def Leppard is finally unleashed. For a rock band, the production is highly technical. Mutt Lange made a similar production statement with The Cars racking impressive airplay results. This time, monster guitar

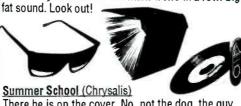

Back To The Beach (Columbia)

If you ever tried your hand as a guitarist, this record has the first two songs you ever made feeble attempts at. "Pipeline" is a surf song everybody knows in their sleep. Dick Dale and Stevie Ray give it a real Jane Fonda workout. SRV plays pretty good for a landlocked hodad. Also included on the LP is a crazed "Wipe Out" by Herbie Hancock, Dweezil Zappa and Terry Bozzio. Annette sings ska with Fishbone. Private Domain toast it up. Surf's up. Robocop. Eliminate Annette and Frankie before they drag back Ike.

"Should've Known Better"-Richard Marx (Manhattan)

Talented newcomer Richard Marx hit paydirt with "Don't Mean Nothing," a blast-out Album rocker that just invaded the Top Forty Toppa Tenna this very week. I say "Should've" will make it two in a row. Big

There he is on the cover. No, not the dog, the guy on the left, Mr. Coors. If every possible negative feature could be programmed out of a human being, Mark Harmon would be the by-product. Actually this A solid mainstreamer like this keeps us from wigging capsule review is a thinly veiled excuse to rag on more about Tonio K's 1'm Supposed To Have Sex With You." The key word is "supposed," as in peer pressure. While class is in session, check out "All I Want From You" by The TAMI Show and "Jackie" by Elisa Fiorillo, both catchy ditties. Also included in the original waxing of the Fab T-Bird's "My Babe," which amid all the glossy mixes sounds a bit out of its element. Don't forget to give Tonio a solid spin.

Recently-Joan Baez (Gold Castle)

In a sense, Joan Baez's cover of "Brothers In Arms" elevates Mark Knopfler to an even higher plane. He's rarely covered by other artists. Baez has a sneaky way of making somebody else's song sound like her own. We used to call it "smokin' OP's" or "other people's." Impressive production.

Binky Philips (Caroline)

In-your-face honesty Replacements and Georgia Satellites style. Binky Philips (with Sara Lee and Mick Leyland) is one hell of a tight three piece. There seems to be a revival in stripped-down, good time rock n roll a la The Faces, circa A Wink Is As Good As A Nod To A Blind Horse. Five Binky songs reflect a will and a way, especially the guitar solo on the outro of "Nothing's Free." Call 212-924-7775 and find out why writer Robert Palmer gave this one the New York Times Rock Album Of The Week award. Recorded live.

"Follow You"-Glen Burtnick (A&M) out over The Lime Spiders all day long. This is a real mover, music to knock the furniture over to.

The Cave Comes Alive-Lime Spiders (Virgin) Lime has always been my favorite spider flavor, how about you? The Cave Comes Alive is risky business. Spider roots seem to be firmly planted in sixties screamer bands like 13th Floor Elevators, Standells and Music Machine--you know, tough guys. Like a sausage machine, these "Limey" Aussies crank out a hodgepodge of period pieces like Cream's "NSU" alongside staggering originals like "My Favorite Room" and "Just One Solution." "Catch The Moon"-Marc Jordan (RCA) One of the last records we had trouble easily categorizing was Bruce Hornsby & The Range. Marc Jordan, who's been kicking around on a few labels, shelves doing the predictable, opting for music from the heart. This three track CD sampler (ADD) shows a mature side to lyrics, synths and studio technique. I sense something special. The LP, Talking Through Pictures, is due in August. KZ

"Can you imagine if Pink Flamingo director John Waters had recorded Radio KAOS? cracked Ty. What if Roger Waters had done the soundtrack for Lust In The Dust starring Tab Hunter and Devine?

TAOSMANIA. KTAO-Taos MD Bill Evans puts Michael Tomlinson, Echo & The Bunnymen, Paul King and Silencers on the hot list...Michael Right is three deep on Hooters ("Johnny," "Satellite" and "K"). Will KNOX/FM be broadcasting from Hooterville?... Carol Handley added Joan Baez, but not a cover of "Brothers In Arms." "We don't play covers at KEZX." Fortunately, Joan penned one...Catfish Phil at WHMD-Hammond is having a "Holiday" with The Other Ones...Paul Shagrue at WRXL is on Roger Water's "Me Or Him"... Scott Murray at KVRE-Santa Rosa adds Joe Ely and 10,000 Maniacs...The first Faster Pussycat add goes to Ron Garrett and Pamela Roberts at KRXQ/93 Rock in Sacramento...The Peoples' Choice Award at 91X went to New Order's "True Faith."

INSIDERMANIA. To my knowledge, not a single person who called this week got an Oliver North haircut. But it is true that Epic's Jack Isquith is getting his teeth spaced. Anyway, yours truly really stepped in it this time. Regarding The Insiders resurrecting the old yellow Epic label, I swore there were no Yardbirds records bearing that label. Wrongo boyo. Epic A&Rist Bob Feineigle got the idea from a framed Yardbirds album hanging in the studio. Hey, I bought my records in California, OK?

Phoenix is thinking about getting a Paul Kelly haircut...Bill Webster at WJXQ is practicing Kellyism at WJXQ...Ray Diggins has become the KOTR-San Luis Obispo Paul Kelly devotee...Ravin' Larry the Duck is feeling the heat from spinning Tonio K's "Sex With You." It ranked #6 this week on the 'LIR playlist following the usual band of suspects, Cure, Echo, U2, Simple Minds and Replacements...Bob "Yamaha" Linder singled out Tonio, promising phone response to those "with the courage to play it." WDHA-Dover is getting good response...Dennis Martin at WWPZ -Petoskey finds that Jon Astley draws female phones...Carter Alan and WBCN are walking on the Wild Side. They add The Brandos alongside Def Lep and Dio.

KIDS SAY THE DARNEST THINGS. While reporting this week's playlist, KAT /FM-Amarillo MD Dale Miller let it slip that in between radio gigs, he worked at K-Mart managing the sporting goods department. "When they found out I was in radio, I had to announce the Blue Light specials." Meanwhile at KAT/FM, Hooters are making a big impact...Over the rainbow at KATS/FM-Yakima, Ramblin' Ron O'Brien got conned into judging The KATS Car Stereo Sound-Off and Bikini Contest. "Judging those bikinis was real work," admitted Ron with sincerity that lifted 7% of the ozone off our atmosphere...Bill St. James at KZEL-Eugene wants you! The station was hesitant to add the new Neil Young. So they invited Geffen Rep Michael Stein to plead his case ON THE AIR!!! Response was so good that Bill's looking to turn Groveling For Airplay into a weekly feature. All right all you dedicated reps, I'm serious. Give Bill a call at 503-342-7096. I want tapes of Heavy Lenny spinning Schonherz and Scott. "Lenny here." ELVISMANIA. What a joy it is to have the Elvis Presley Sun Sessions on CD. Over 72 minutes are crammed onto one disc. The notes are classic. When Elvis walked into Sam Phillip's front office, Marion Keisker asked, "Who do you sound like?". "I don't sound like nobody," quoth Elvis politely. But the quote that cut to the quick came from Phillips himself describing The King Of Rock N Roll. "He tried not to show it, but he felt so inferior...Elvis Presley probably innately was the most introverted person that ever came into that studio. He didn't play with bands. He didn't go to this little club and pick and grin. All he did was set with his guitar on the side of his bed at home. I don't think he even played on the front porch." That's rock n roll. Stay well. Yer pal, KZ.

by Peter Standish

Perched for two weeks at #2, X finally overtakes The Cure by a narrow 2% margin! But both records may be unseated by Echo and The Bunnymen which has skyrocketed for Valarie Pittman WRAS-Atlanta, Mike Marrone WHTG-Asbury Park, George Spillman KUCI-Irvine, Heather Young WUSC- Columbia, Matt Potolsky KDVS-Davis, Gina Mainwal KUNV-Las Vegas, etc. The Lime Spiders break the top ten and are doing great for Jason Cohen WNUR-Chicago, Jonathan Rosen KEYX- Phoenix, etc. The Mighty Lemon Drops and Grateful Dead (hot for John Jesser WOXY-Cincinnati, Alan Lawson KTCZ-Minneapolis, Susan Kennedy WWVU-Morgantown, etc.) both leaped 10 positions. The La Bamba Soundtrack and Sonic Youth are kicking in. Sonic Youth is drawing heavy requests for Faith Henschel KCMU-Seattle, John Phillips WUSB-Stonybrook, Anna Cerkola KCPR-San Luis Obispo, etc. The Dead Milkmen, Certified and our highest debut, could be huge. It's doing exceptionally well for Ivar Hamilton CFNY-Toronto, Adam Langley WBNY-Buffalo ("people are going nuts over it"), Anita Ammons WUOG- Athens, Lisa Securo WUNH-Durham, etc. They're joined by a long string of eight other debuts that displace a large number of fatigued records. Among these debuts, the 4 A.D. Compilation is making waves for Steve Balcom WXYC-Chapel Hill, Phillip Griffin WRUV-Burlinton, John Koski, WRVU-Nashville, Kandy Wilkens WXCI- Danbury ("jumped to #3"), etc. Our Most Added records 10,000 Maniacs, New Model Army, New Order and Icicle Works should all debut next week. The Pet Shop Boys import single "It's A Sin" is our Record To Watch and pulling in solid airplay from 91X, KROQ, CFNY, WLIR, WXXP and KRPN. KRPN-Salt Lake City is the latest revival of the late KCGL with former M.D. Mike Summers now Program Director for the Modern Music programming, which has just been expanded to all evenings from 6 p.m. to 2 a.m. Welcome back!

band recall an incarnation of the early Clash Rhythm Killers-SLY & ROBBIE (Island) with their compelling emotion and political idealism. This new record offers three new songs ("White Coats," "Charge" and "Chinese Whispers") and four live tracks of previously released music. "White Coats" is the album's beacon, similar to a raw Damned, minus heavily layered production. "Charge" takes a critical look at the selfish lack of camaraderie in today's generation, which is addressed only on a few songs (with X's "See How We Are" being an exception). On the live side, "The Hunt" and "Waiting" are the best snapshots of NMA's charged stage show.

Few musicians match the predator musical instincts of the rhythm twins, drummer Sly Dunbar and bassist Robbie Shakespeare. That's why they're among the most demanded studio session performers around, whether they're backing Black Uhuru or Bob Dylan. While their talents serve as an ideal complement to other musicians, their previous duo projects have sometimes sounded incomplete. On "Rhythm Killers," a full portrait has been painted with artists like Bootsy Collins, D.S.T., Bernie Worrell, Gary "Mudbone" Cooper and producer Bill Laswell lending their brush strokes. The centerpiece is "Boops (Here We Go)," a colorful musical collage of dance-oriented-rock, rap, dub and funkadelic styles strung together with Bootsy's vocals. The song picks up momentum as it segues into "Let's Rock," which is essentially "Boops" part-two with a harder edge. Also included are funky covers of the Ohio Players "Fire" and the Pointer Sisters "Yes We Can" (written by Allen Toussaint).

URBANIZING by Jerry Boulding

MEET ME HALFWAY

The latest information from those agencies that buy our radio stations indicates that the 25-54 demographic is supplanting the 18-49 group as the most desired age group for advertisers. As might be expected, the leading musical format continues to be Adult Contemporary, which has its highest share among the 25-54s. But what is surprising is that Urban stations are hot on the heels of A/C in this age group.

Other data, supplemented by our own studies, shows that a big proportion of this group are, for one reason or another, living alone. Close to 21 million American adults-one out of nine-live in single-person households. That's three times as many as in 1960.

What does this "mixed singles" group want and need from a radio station? It's time we took another look in the "answer book," because the answer to that question could make the difference between winning and losing or winning big and just getting

LOVE CONQUERS ALL

Maybe Lionel Richie knew about those mixed singles, or maybe it didn't matter. If not Richie, then perhaps Whitney or Stevie, or even Kool & The Gang would lay some meaningful love lyrics on us at a time when it counted most. And for lonely singles these days, that's most of the time. If they can't be in love, they at least like to fantasize about it.

These live-alone, left-alone and newly detached men and women are important to advertisers. Single householders are impressionable consumers, free from the clutter of family life and the obligations to compromise the simplest choices, from the volume of the stereo to the choice of radio station.

WHERE OR WHEN?

Let's take as an example, the case of a young woman who leaves the nest. At age 22, she has completed her education and is ready to move out on her own. She is attracted to the freedom and excitement that being single and ready to mingle offers. The pattern has changed during the early part of the '80s, but, economics notwithstanding, for many young women, living alone remains an accepted, and in many cases expected, rite of passage between mom and marriage, boyfriends and

Whether the radio station she liked when she was home remains the frequency she finds when she moves out depends on a myriad of factors. She will most likely be influenced by what she feels best suits her lifestyle. If she's in love, or close to it, she'll choose the station with the music that most closely parallels those feelings. If she's not really in love, but dating, she will probably look for energy and fun from her favorite stations.

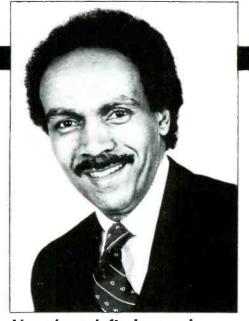

MARKETING TO MIXED SINGLES

The audience the urban format attracts is one of the most powerful, profitable consumer groups in America today. Not only does it have considerable disposable income, our target audience is also one of the fastest-growing. Blacks now account for 12 percent of the population-and half of them are under the age of 20. But there are some less rosy facts in the mix, also. More than 30 percent of black households are headed by women (compared to 10 percent of white households). Women spend more time and money on shopping trips than men do, and have less brand loyalty (meaning they can be influenced by a strong radio ad campaign). They're more likely to plan their shopping in advance and to emphasize economy. It's no secret that the Urban format, properly executed, can attract huge numbers of women to all dayparts. So the Urban format of the future must consider the needs of the singles, particularly the single woman.

From a sales and marketing standpoint, it is interesting to note that those who listen to black and Urban radio tend to be conscious of the efforts made by advertisers to gain their confidence and get their dollars. Statistics show that companies that want the brand loyalty of blacks will have to earn it by recognizing key market segments and designing ad campaigns that will maintain that loyalty. A few years back, Thom McAn decided to go after the black youth market-and did so by placing Johnny Cash commercials on black radio. We don't need to tell you the problems that caused. The shoe company's position was that Cash was a national figure, and they weren't going to spend extra money to have a black or more mass-appeal artist re-do the commercial. Stations that wanted their national dollars had to take the commercial as it was.

SINGLES TEND TO THINK YOUNG

All things being equal, men and women who find themselves "suddenly single" tend to think differently than when they were married. This doesn't mean they are all going to flock to discos, bars, clubs and singles bars--but some will. They are looking for love-or maybe just someone to talk to. They tend to put less emphasis on the family and a lot more on the kinds of things they were into before they got married, or always wanted when they were. How about that new complex in the suburbs with a sylvan name like Pinewood Glen-only the "glen" is covered by acres of concrete and the pine trees are a few scraggly three-foot evergreens that may not last past Christmas. But there they are, listening to their favorite radio station, away from the flashing lights and synthesized drums. They still get diaries, and now they have time to fill them out.

Live-alone, left-alone and newly detached men and women are important to advertisers. Single householders are impressionable consumers, free from the clutter of family life and the obligations to compromise the simplest choices, from the volume of the stereo to the choice of radio station.

And opposites still attract. Take the case of the middle-aged man in Texas who married a sweet young thing of eighteen. He didn't know whether to take her on a honeymoon or send her to camp. They still have to get used to each other's music. Her favorite song is "Diamonds." His is "Show Me The Way." The both like "Don't Disturb This Groove." But they both need love....on the radio.

The grapevine is spreading rumors about Jim Maddox making the big exit from KJLH-Los Angeles to head up All-Pro Broadcasting, owned by Willie Davis, which includes KACE-Los Angeles, WAWA/WLUM-Milwaukee, KYOK-Houston and KQIN-Seattle. Jim's official title however, wasn't part of the rumor, but President was a word that was bantered about - either of programming or of whatever. It was also rumored that KACE owner, Stevie Wonder, met with Maddox behind closed doors with his powers of persuasion at the ready, hoping to convince him to stay. The most outrageous rumor of the week that midwest-marvel Lee Michaels exits WBMX, headed for WCZY-Detroit as GM, is "Outrageous," according to LM, and is said to be started by crosstown rival WGCI/FM, who will do anything to rid themselves of this genius.

Before we get into the music, we need to clear up something. As a courtesy to Epic Records, we did not enter the Michael Jackson single into our computers until the official relese date, July 22. If you reported the add prior to that day, we won't show it until next week, so be sure to report it then as WCIN-Cincinnati, reinforces Jay with calls in an add. If you forget, we won't - we'll probably ask you. His might be the most added single of the week next week. The duet is with Siedah Garrett (first name pronounced Sy - EE - dah) and she's the WAMO-Pittsburgh, Andre Carson, little lady who sang with Dennis Edwards back in the April 1984 release "Don't Look Any Further", which, in fact, charted on my Top 100 at #7 for the year! She's had a single for FAT BOYS and DIMPLES. The most or two on her own, and this looks like a big break for her, don't you think?

FAT BOYS is already getting calls from teens, says James Alexander, WJLB-Detroit. Melvin Jones, KRNB-Memphis, says it's "Hot, hot, hot!" Our Record To Watch this week, THE DEELE, is already pulling good phones as WNOO-Chattanooga, and Jay Riley says that they're coming from the 18+ group. It picked up eleven new believers this week: KRNB, WANM, WEKS, WJTT, WWDM, KATZ, KOKY, WBMX, WXOK, KDKO and KXOJ. Steve Harris, Cincy for it.

MADAME X had an amazing week in adds, but is also already in medium rotation for Terri Avery, KKDA-Dallas, John Anthony, WWDM/FM-Columbia, and for Wayne Walker & James Mason, WHYZ-GREENVILLE. James also gets calls requested is still "I Need Love" by L.L.COOL J, which you should have on your desk by now. Second in the request line is LEVERT, which took a healthy jump in our chart this week to

REVIEWS By Betty Hollars and John Martinucci

MADAME X - Just That Type Of Girl (Atlantic) Best thing we've heard all week because it's so different - scores an 89 for originality, as they used to say on TV! Instrumentation on this track is so great, it sounds like there's a horde of talent in the percussion section. Credit ex-KLYMAXX member Bernadette Cooper, who started this trio of ladies called MADAME X and produced the single with Cornelius Mims.

GLENN JONES - We've Only Just Begun (The Romance Is Not Over) (live/RCA) With an intro similar to "Tasty Love," this could fill any voids left by male vocalists. Melody line has the familiarity that will drive you crazy: "Where've I heard that before?"

LISA LISA AND CULT JAM - Lost In Emotion (Columbia) For a good change of pace, this pop/urban flavored release should have the same impact as a summer holiday. You can hit the beaches with your radios tuned to this

MICHAEL JACKSON - I Just Can't Stop Loving You (Epic) Need we say more - or anything at all? After the long-awaited release arrived, no one was disappointed enough to pass on adding it. Even those who didn't have it tried to hum in on the air so they could say they were the first to play it! Siedah Garrett, his sidekick on this single, was the same lady who dueted with Dennis Edwards back in '84 on "Don't Look Any Further," which charted at #7 on our Top 100 for that year. See Inside Urban Radio for more details.

THE WINANS featuring ANITA BAKER - Ain't No Need To Worry (Owest) Ain't no need to fret, either, based on the string of hits Anita Baker's racked up to date. She's been caught up in the rapture of success and The Winans do well by her in this moving single.

PERSONAL PICKS — SINGLES

MICHAEL JACKSON - I lust Can't Stop Loving You (Epic) A lot of folks expected him to come out dancin', but instead he's romancin'. The on again, off again release schedule made everyone want it that much more. Michael's songwriting ability shouldn't be overlooked either. Quincy Jones' quality production and vocal assistance from Siedah (Sy-EE-dah) Garrett give the song a wonderful texture. He sings it like he means it.

LISA LISA and CULT JAM - Lost In Emotion (Columbia) Turn it up, close your eyes, and it's summertime on the boardwalk circa 1966. Anyone like me who's a sucker for a great pop melody is sure to fall for this one. Love the clever way it finishes.

IOHN FARNHAM - Pressure Down (RCA) Australia's love affair with this marvelous vocal talent is well documented. John replaced Glenn Shorrock in Little River Band and then went solo after Glenn returned to the group. Consensus American airplay has eluded him up 'til now, but this just might be the vehicle to drive him up the Top 40 in the United States.

THE MONKEES - Heart And Soul (Rhino) Here's a trivia question: How many different songs have had this title? In any case, it's highly doubtful that anyone could identify this as a Monkees song. Up, happy and lots of fun with a chorus that doesn't quit.

NEW CITY ROCKERS - Rev It Up (Critique/Atco) From the guys who revived "Black Dog" comes a hot summertime rocker. Though it's maybe not for all dayparts, it's real easy to hear how this would fit right in on a nighttime cruise though town.

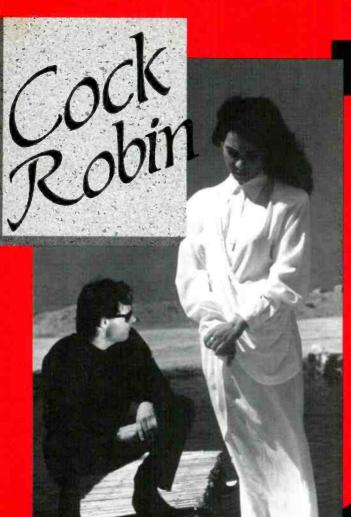

CROSSOVER PICKS

L.L. COOL J - I Need Love (Columbia) History's first rap ballad is already a hit at some key Top 40 outlets (see Inside Top 40). This is the kind of record that makes you turn the radio up. Grabbed me the first time I heard it on the air three weeks ago, and I've been in love with it ever since. Cannot miss.

FORCE M.D.'S - Love Is A House (Tommy Boy) Just finished listening to the LP and was blown away. A clever lyric highlighted by the group's powerful performance. Strong Top 40 and A/C potential.

LEVERT - Casanova (Atlantic) Enters Urban Contemporary's Top Ten this week with a quiet buzz beginning among several Top 40 programmers. Not too early to turn on the alert sign. Sounds very strong.
