This Week.....

Bill Walsh is a football coach. But, as any fan of the sport knows, he's something more than a master of X's and O's. He's an astute scout and developer of talent; a supreme strategist and choreographer who mixes precise and surprise moves and plays; an adept organization man with a flair for marketing his team and sport, and a heady communicator who values substance over gloss; language over lingo. We're proud to announce him as a keynote speaker for the 1994 Gavin Seminar, and to present a few of his thoughts about football, business. —and war. Elsewhere, in News, we take pride in announcing another keynote speaker, Gary Gersh (Top), who's taken his cutting-edge approach to music straight into the executive suites of the fabled Capitol Tower. And in the executive suites at Sony there's a whole set of new chairs as top level promotions take effect. On the streets, the buzz is about the new Arbitrons, and about a new format called 'Arrow.' Our straight-shooting Ben Fong-Torres checks out the latest twist on Oldies with CBS Radio's Rod Calardo (above, right). Beverly Mire's Campaign of the Week dissects the marketing of Prong's new album, Cleansing. Also, a handy guide to the Grammy nominations, topped this year by Sting, who can add six to the ten he's already won, by producer David Foster and composer Alan Menken (five each), and by Whitney Houston, Billy Joel and R.E.M. (above, left) with three each.

URBAN RENEWAL

It's a Niche

Urban radio is sounding better than ever and grabbing more ratings with every book. So why is it still being seen—and bought—as a niche format? In the first of a series of reports we're calling "Urban Renewal," our Bill Speed gets some answers.

CBS' 'Arrow' Finding Ratings Targets

BY BEN FONG-TORRES

CBS Radio shot an arrow into the airwaves last fall.

Now, with the fall Arbitrons out, it's apparent that the network is on target.

ARROW (All Rock 'n Roll Oldies), is a '70s-intensive oldies format that the network launched on its Los Angeles Oldies station, KCBS/FM. Playing both soft and hard rock, with a minimum of talk, "ARROW" has placed itself between Oldies and Classic Rock.

"Three weeks in, we knew we were onto something," says Rod Calarco, vice president of CBS Owned FM Stations. Buoyed by audience and advertising response, and before any firm numbers were in, CBS put the format onto three other of its stations—first in Dallas, and then, after some encouraging AccuRatings for KCBS/FM, in Washington, D.C., and Houston.

So far, things look good. In Los Angeles (see accompanying story), KCBS went from 21st to 13th in the market. Although KRTH, the longtime Oldies leader, kept its numbers, and Classic rocker KLSX gained, Album rocker KLOS may have lost some audience to KCBS.

With its inclusion of Linda Ronstadt and Jackson Browne into the mix of Classic Rock standard-bearers like Foreigner and Starship, as well as dollops of '60s and '80s hits ("for flavoring," says Calarco), the Arrow is also finding more female listeners than Classic Rock stations do and, according to Calarco, picking up listeners from A/C.

It's also picked up business. "Ever since the book came out, we are riding a boatload of business," he says with glee.

It all began, Calarco told GAVIN, when CBS decided that, despite a good sales year in 1992, "it became apparent that going head to head with KRTH wasn't getting us anywhere." Last spring, he says, he and station managers began searching for "the natural extension for this format."

The network did a perceptual with listeners 25-45, testing musical adjustments that went further back in time to the '50s, that plumbed a wide range of '70s sounds, including disco, and '70s pop-rock. The latter emerged as a clear favorite, and on September 10, CBS launched ARROW.

CBS' format only makes sense, says Robert Unmacht, head of M Street Journal. "The first oldies formats," he says, covered rock 'n' roll up to the Beatles. "The next format played songs from 1964 through 1972. Now comes the ARROW." And, as Garry Wall of Wall Media points out, "Those who were in high school in the late '70s and early '80s have no musical representative on the dial, nowhere to hear those memorable firsts that were accompanied by your favorite songs." With its apparent success, Calarco says, CBS has been contacted by "a few radio companies" about future flights of the ARROW.

Stern's Fox Hunt Over; FCC Lightens Hold on Infinity

As Howard Stern's world turns, he continues to get a mix of good news and bad.

First, the bad: Fox, which had courted him as a possible late-night star, has bowed out of the late-night wars for the time being. The announcement followed talk last week that Fox head Rupert Murdoch was turned off when he turned on Stern's New Year's Eve pay-per-view special.

Meantime, Infinity Broadcasting, which carries Stern's radio show, had a reversal of fortunes. The FCC's James Quello said last week that the Commission was delaying—and possibly denying—approval of Infinity's purchase of three stations because of pending indecency charges against Stern. Now, others at the FCC are saying that legal precedents may prevent the Commission from blocking the purchases. Besides, they said, the FCC's delay was due to its needing time to analyze a recent appeals court decision on its indecency rules.

Quello said the FCC could not keep Infinity from buying stations unless it found Infinity unfit to be a broadcaster. To do so would require revoking Infinity's 20 licenses, an action that would certainly trigger a massive legal battle. Infinity is already doing battle with the Commission over some $1.2 million in indecency-related fines levied by the FCC.

Gavin Grabs Gersh

Gary Gersh has been somewhat busy since last July, reconstructing Capitol Records as a truly artist-driven label. His first public outing since taking over as president and CEO will be as a keynote speaker at the 1994 GAVIN SEMINAR, which takes place in San Francisco February 17-19.

Gersh, who oversees all Capitol operations, will kick off the event on the morning of the 17th, and his address can be expected to reflect the creative emphasis he has placed on the company.

In a 20-year career spanning retailing, local and national promotion, and A&R, Gersh has picked up a reputation for a keen marketing savvy and will apply his experience and insight to some of the most important challenges facing the business.

For further Seminar details, contact the Seminar Registration Hotline: (415) 495-3200.

ARBS Out, 'Banda' Music Still Tops L.A.

The biggest story in the fall Arbitron numbers' is that the new all rock 'n roll oldies format, ARROW, lived up to insiders' expectations by making a strong debut, jumping 1.6-3.8 (see related

In New York, A/C station WLTW vaulted into second place, jumping 4.3-4.8, while consistent winner WRKS went up a tenth to 5.8, giving

Sony/Warner Plan Global TV Empire

Sony Music and Warner Music artists may soon be living in the same house.

The two companies are reportedly working on a deal to start up a global, music-based entertainment and retailing television channel. "Think of it as MTV meets QVC or the Home Shopping Network," said a company insider.

The network, which will be distributed stateside as a basic cable service, will feature music, merchandise and videos culled from both companies' rosters. Because it already operates globally, Sony's direct-mail arm, Columbia House, will be instrumental in coordinating the new service.

Neither company commented, but Warner Music Group chairman Robert Morgado has said he can "confirm that no agreement has been reached.

It's expected that both companies will still make their music videos available to MTV, VH-1 and other video channels.

WHO AM I?

When I was seven years old, I saw Elvis Presley on location filming Follow That Dream, and he provided a big inspiration for me. My band appeared in the 1978 film FM, about a California radio station, and I once recorded a hit song with Stevie Nicks. Throughout my career I've been embroiled in legal entanglements with record companies, and at one time I obtained a restraining order against B.F. Goodrich concerning using a song similar to one of my own in an ad. Who am I? See page 10 for the answer...

Fields was senior vice president, sales and distribution, McKeever was executive vice president of talent and creative affairs, and Chamberlain was chief financial officer... Paul Ramey (left) has moved to RCA, where he'll be national director, jazz, from GRP Records, where he was national director of sales...At Mute Records, Marc Alghini (left) has been promoted to director, national radio promotion and Halper was a part-time A&R scout for Virgin Records and Kelley joins the label from Sony Music where she was in the company's A&R Administration Department. Kelley executive produced the acclaimed Sweet Relief, a 1993 benefit album for muscular dystrophy-stricken songstress/songwriter Victoria Williams... The 1994 MusiCares "Person of the Year" Tribute Dinner will this year honor Epic artist Gloria Estefan. "The inauguration of Crescent Moon/Sony Music not only underscores our long-term association with Emilio Estefan, but also indicates Epic's desire to take a leadership role in presenting the music coming out of Miami," said Epic Records Group chairman David Glew. Crescent Moon/Sony Music's first release will be the self-titled Spanish language debut album from Cheito Quinones...Hey, boomers, want to feel old? The Plant Recording Studios, formerly The Record Plant, is celebrating its 21st anniversary. In those years, the studio has recorded everyone from America to Fleetwood Mac to Stevie Wonder to Marvin Gaye to Mariah Carey to Metallica. Isn't history wonderful?...●

Look up in the sky—it's a Pyramid growing larger each week as Richie Balsbaugh and John Madison acquire WJMN (JAM'N 94.5)-Boston and WJZZ-Philadelphia, formerly WEGX (EAGLE 106). In Philly, where Pyramid also owns WYXR, it becomes the market's first duopoly. Some are speculating that Jazz-formatted WJZZ might return to Top 40, but chances seem slim that'll happen. In Boston, home of Pyramid flagship KISS 108 (WXKS/FM), rumors are flying about what crosstown competitor WJMN's joining the fold will mean. Last Friday's (January 7) edition of the Boston Herald said gossip around Beantown is that "serious housecleaning" will occur once the takeover happens. A source described by the paper as "someone who knows" is quoted as stating, "Anyone who took (Sunny Joe White's) side ain't going over well with Richie. White, of course, was KISS 108's former PD who had a falling out with Balsbaugh and crossed the street to WZOU, which eventually became WJMN." There might be a ton of snow on the ground and more stormy weather forecast for New York City, but the sun is shining brightly at 550 Madison with this week's announcement of new titles and responsibilities for Don Jenner, David Glew and Richard Griffiths, among others (see News for details). And for one other high level exec in line for a promotion, let's just say "President Baumgartner" has a nice ring to it, huh? After a year and a half back at KIIS-Los Angeles as MD, Brian Bridgman will be heading southeast at the end of the month to take over the programming reins at G105 (WDCG)-Durham/Raleigh, North Carolina. He replaces former G105 PD Bill Cahill, who exited last month. No word on who will get the coveted KIIS gig, but some names being whispered include Z100-New York's asst. MD Andy Shane, WKSS-Hartford's MD Kandy Klutch, KUBE-Seattle's APD Chet Buchanan and Tom Gjerdrum, most recently MD at Q106-San Diego. Are the stars in some bizarre alignment for anyone with the initials K.C.? On the East Coast Kevin Carroll, VP, promotion at eastwest america has left the company in what's been described as an "amicable parting." Look for EMIRG Chicago-based VP, promotion, Greg Thompson to relocate and fill the slot soon. Out West, Kevin Carter hands in his resignation as senior editor/general manager at Hitmakers magazine, effective at the end of the month. Expect both to surface elsewhere very soon. In the meantime, Carroll says the duo is trying to get the Sunshine Band back together. E-x-p-a-n-s-i-o-n is in the works at Zapoleon/Richards Media Strategies. Two of radio's brightest have joined the firm as associates. Steve Wyrostok, who has returned from a six-week excursion to Australia, New Zealand and Tahiti, has signed on, along with Jeff Scott, a principal in his own company, Harris & Scott, and formerly director of research for the Rusk Corporation. Scott was also instrumental in creating MIX 96.5 (KHM)-Houston with Zapoleon. Wyro recently resigned as PD at 104 KRBE-Houston, but helped that station get some of its biggest numbers in years before leaving. An ownership change at adult contemporary outlet WGRD-Grand Rapids, Michigan is fueling a buzz that a return to Top 40 might be on the table for consideration. San Francisco's finest burst into the studios of WILD 107 (KSOL) last Friday morning (January 7) with guns drawn. They weren't there asking for a request. It all came down following an appearance by several gang members on Mancow's morning show. Conversations about rape, robbery and other assorted crimes became heated, making for some compelling radio. Some listeners called the cops who showed up in force and blocked off the street. Too late, however, as the guest gangstas had already split. TV news crews were on the scene to capture it all. After 17 years in radio, Leo Davis opts for a new career. Leo, who for years was MD and then PD at WQEN (Q104) in Gadsden, Alabama, was most recently at WCGQ-Columbus, Georgia, which flipped from Top 40 to lite A/C late last year. He'll be moving to Atlanta to take a position with CIBA Vision, a pharmaceutical firm that makes contact lenses.

Instead of running for lieutenant governor, Sonny Bono will be going after a Congressional seat. No truth that Beavis and Butt-head will run the campaign.

Apologies to Dennis Snow and the staff at KZBB-Fort Smith, Arkansas. Dennis reports that while the call letters did change, the format remains Top 40 and has not been replaced by jazz. We regret the error.

If you go to see the new Walter Matthau/Jack Lemmon flick, Grumpy Old Men, keep your eyes glued for the meteorologist. It's none other than WPNT (FM100)-Chicago morning dude Steve Cochran.

KACE-Los Angeles nabs the first annual Media Award from the L.A. chapter of the National Organization For Women. The station was bestowed with that honor for refusing to play rap music with violent and misogynistic lyrics.

A special gathering of friends of Doug Lee will take place this weekend. Doug, who did independent promotion in the Midwest for years, founded the Upper Midwest Communications Conclave. He passed away late last year. If you'd like to attend, plan to be at the Kelly Inn (formerly the Radisson, site of the first Conclave) in Plymouth, Minn. at 4 p.m. on Saturday, January 22. Call (612) 927-4487 for more details.

Z104-Madison PD "Mr. Ed" Lambert is this close to being officially named APD/MD at KHKS-Dallas. Look for confirmation any second. Meanwhile, Ed is keeping busy by shoveling snow in Madison with pals (l-r): Jeff Zigler, chief engineer and morning duo, Johnny Danger and Greg Bair. And we thought he couldn't sing "Burning Love" and shovel at the same time! The bit? Shoveling snow for those who sang The King's hits prompted television coverage from WBBM-Chicago.

Smiles at KDON-Salinas/Monterey upon seeing the recent ARB where 12-plus numbers placed them back in the Top 40 lead, jumping 4.4 to 7.1. Instead of champagne, morning personality Mike Chase gets to unpack the more than two million entries in a recent high school spirit contest.

Dave Christopher flashes that KSLY-San Luis Obispo, Calif. made the flip back to Top 40 on January 5 at 3 p.m. The new lineup is Mike Esparza from NSE Satellite Network on mornings; Cyndi Fox, from KUPL-Portland, middays; Christopher, from KWTX-Waco, PM drive; Tim Brown, from WFHN-New Bedford, Mass., nights and Creig Payne, from KSTN-Stockton, Calif., overnights.

SHO-TALK

Bruce Springsteen and Neil Young wrote songs for the new AIDS-related film Philadelphia which was released nationwide on January 14. The Jonathan Demme-directed movie stars Tom Hanks and Denzel Washington. The tunes were written specifically for the movie and performed by the artists. Springsteen's "Streets Of Philadelphia" opens the film and Young's tune "Philadelphia" closes it. Peter Gabriel, Sade, The Spin Doctors and The Indigo Girls also have cuts on the soundtrack. On January 25 a second album of music from the movie will be released and will feature Howard Shore's orchestral score and three opera performances from the film performed by Maria Callas and Lucia Popp.

Brother Cain has just released the second single, "That Don't Satisfy Me," from their self-titled album to some outstanding airplay... Arista rockers Stick have had to cancel their tour dates up to and including January 20 due to Mark Smirls bout with chicken pox. The band will open for Raging Slab beginning January 22 in Pittsburgh, with dates booked well into February... Heart had to cancel their appearance on The Tonight Show with Jay Leno on December 17, but it's been rescheduled for January 20. The second leg of their tour is set to begin in Japan in March. The band will then return for more touring in the States...

Each doll is 12" high and captures each of these periods of his life. The Teen Idol doll comes outfitted with bolo tie, beautifully detailed guitar, a microphone, doll stand with Elvis' signature and a certificate of authenticity...

The Scorpions filmed the American video rendition of the forthcoming ballad "Under The Same Sun" from their current album Face The Heat. Symptoms of the hard-to-diagnose disease include loss of speech and hand use, scoliosis, seizures, spasticity and poor circulation of the legs...

Rudi Gassner, President and CEO of BMG International, has announced the signing of rap superstar Hammer, who records for Giant Records in the stores, to an exclusive international recording contract. WYHT, KFBQ, WEYQ and KROC. The song takes a healthy 31-25 climb on the GO Chart. Put it in the "definitely happening" column.

When talking about the hottest new tune to surface so far this year the answer has got to be "Stay" by Eternal. (right) KS104-Denver began spiking it several times a day and now it's up to four plays daily, with calls starting to come in.

Michael Newman, PD at KDON-

Monterey/Salinas, Calif., has it on four to five times a day and says, "It will kick in like Xscape, but it's still in the early stages of development." WAPE-Jacksonville has upped its rotation from two to four plays a day, with Top 15 phone action after only a week and a half on the air. Listed Top 30 at Z90-San Diego, KJYK-Tucson (46 plays), KMEL-San Francisco, POWER 106-Los Angeles, 92Q-Baltimore, KLYV-Dubuque and HOT 97.7-San Jose. While Crossover radio built the initial buzz, it's spreading to mainstream stations fast. Just check out the list of new believers which include: WDJX, Z104, STAR 94, I-95, KKRZ, KPLZ, WNVZ, WKSE, POWER 94.5, Q106, WSTO and KLUC.

GO STATION PANEL: The GO Chart is based on reports by 140 GAVIN correspondents who are not part of Radio & Record's or Billboard's panels. Underlines indicate upward movement, while blue entries highlight a stronger performance than on the main Top 40 chart.

As anticipated, last week's TOP TIP from Ace Of Base nearly tripled in airplay. Fifty-four spins qualified it for Number One at XL93-Grand Forks, N.D. and it also topped the list at 104 KRBE-Houston with 53 plays. It's always impressive when PDs and MDs, no matter what their particular niche, express this much confidence in a song.

Looking for that reaction record? Don't forget about Sagat's "Why Is It? (Funk Dat)." Brian Burns and Sue O'Neil at WKSE-Buffalo report Number One requests, as do Todd Cavanah and Erik Bradley at B96-Chicago.

Although WAPE takes the position of telling listeners they won't play rap, PD Jeff McCartney felt the US 3 single was "too big and too damn good to ignore." How to solve the problem? Thanks to a trusty computer, the station has created their own edit taking out the rap and inserting part of the instrumental version in its place. Those with the same problem might want to check with Jeff and beg him for a copy of his edit.

The West Coast was first to confirm All-4-One's "So Much In Love," but airplay is spreading very quickly now. Number One again at HOT 97.7-San Jose and Top Ten at KMEL-San Francisco, KUBE-Seattle, Q96-Imperial Valley, Calif., B95-Fresno and KJYK-Tucson. ADDs include: WRVQ, KFFM, TOWER 98, KTRS, WINK 104, KDUK, 92Q, WAOA, KYA, THE PEAK, FM102, WJMX and more.

Lisa Lisa's (left) "Skip To My Lu" is number two in callout for Steve Wall at Z90-San Diego. Steve says it's in his powers, pulling 63 spins last week.

Momentum is picking up on NKOTB, who are building a base of support as "Dirty Dawg" enters the Top 30 in hometown Boston at KISS 108. Thirteen in the ADD column including: FUN 107-Fairhaven, Mass., WBPM-Kingston, N.Y., WILI/FM-Willimantic, Conn., WIFX-Jenkins, Ky., KCCQ-Ames, Iowa, POWER 94.5-Junction City, Kan., KKFR-Phoenix, KMEL-San Francisco and KONG-Lihue, Kauai, Hawaii.

KIXY/FM-San Angelo, Texas boasts a Top Five success story with Chantay Savage's "Betcha'll Never Find." APD/MD Robert Elfman tells us, "The song is getting four to five plays a day, is getting Top Ten requests and we're seeing decent callout results, too." The song is also Top Five for THE ROSE-Hyannis, Mass. New believers this week include: WKPQ-Hornell, N.Y., KJYK-Tucson, KS104-Denver and FM102-Sacramento. (AML)

And what's the deal with the Village People's "Y.M.C.A." at WSNX in Grand Rapids? Ask PD Jim Richards and MD Chris Thompson, who report it in their Top Five most requested every night and chart it 24-22. Is everybody missing out on something here?

On the Alternative tip, it's worth noting that KROQ-Los Angeles is charting the Smashing Pumpkins' (above) "Today" at Number One and 99X-Atlanta charts it Top Ten. A few stations have played around with this track, but it might be time to take a closer listen/look.

An off-the-wall entry to be watching for is Beck with "Loser," on Geffen. It might even get honors for most original chorus of the year: "I'm a loser baby, so why don't you kill me?"

ages four through twelve participated in the scramble held at the local Toys R Us...When JT Taylor was on The Tom Joyner Morning Show last week he called for a signature campaign to support Michael Jackson, asking for fans and the public to add their names to strengthen the NAACP campaign against the media's treatment of African American celebrities. Additionally, Joyner initiated a special program as a tribute to the Jackson Family (Jan. 7) and commissioned a song "We Believe In You," which was featured on the morning show. ETERNAL Stay (EMI/ERG)
Hailing from South London, Eternal has an urban sound and style that has created quite a vibe overseas. The quartet makes their North American debut with "Stay," a sexy and confident New Jill groove.

Remixes by Teddy Riley are available on the CD-Pro. A jam!

TEVIN CAMPBELL Shhh (Qwest/Warner Bros.)

With lyrics and production by Mr. Paisley, Tevin croons a tune for the sophisticated. "Shhh" finds a mature-sounding Tevin eager and willing to break it down after school. Need I say more...

JODY WATLEY When A Man Loves A Woman (MCA)

The latest single from Jody Watley's Intimacy album is a monologue observing key elements of an unconditional relationship between a man and a woman.

BLACKGIRL Krazy (Kaper/RCA)

Atlanta is definitely becoming the black music mecca. This Atlanta-based trio steps out from behind the scenes as session singers to show their talents. "Krazy" is the funky-phat debut single from their forthcoming album, Treat U Right.

ALL-4-ONE So Much In Love (Blitz/Atlantic)

Yes there's still room for another a cappella group—just ask All-4-One. Debuting with a remake of a recognizable ballad, these gentlemen are already seeing airplay at K98, WBLX, KFXZ, WOWI and KJMS.

RANDY CRAWFORD Love's Mystery (Warner Bros.)

Always a winner with adult listeners, Randy Crawford's smooth vocals ponder "Love's Mystery." The single is from her Don't Say It's Over album.

LENNY KRAVITZ Heaven Help (Virgin)

Accompanied simply by a piano and guitar, Kravitz comes with a soulful love song that's reminiscent early '70s soul ballads recorded with real instruments.

SNOOP DOGGY DOG Gin And Juice (Death Row/Interscope)

'With his mind on his money and his money on his mind' Snoop pulls another narrative from his dog pound. Finding early play at KJMZ, WJMH and KKBT.

CD from front to back and bear it no matter how wack you think it is." That lil' U.S. Hip-hop b-boy bias was alive and well in the back of my mind. Never mind that I couldn't front on the flavor of Tim Westwoods show circa 1988 in London. So I spun it. BAMM!!! Flava, much of it, on every track. Naturally, MC Solaar flipped tracks over an infectious jazz groove—that was expected. But, what caught me off guard were groups like Ireland's Scary'aire with cuts like "Lost For Words." They serve up sobering lyrics about the reality of poverty that will ring in your ears long after you've stopped the disc. "Every second, every hour, every day every season/Human beings are sleepin' in the streets freezin'/Flesh-n-blood just like you, just like me, just like everybody/Wake up from the fantasy into reality." Articolo 31 and Japan's Microphone Pager come tighter than ya mama's girdle, even though I don't know what they're sayin'. Ultimate propers are due to South Africa's Prophets of the City for "Understand Where I'm Comin' From," which is wonderfully executed. I came away from this album with a new understanding of just how global this African art form has become. So funky, so fresh, you can't front on the flava. Peace to the originators Cool Here and Bam for makin' it truly worldwide.

GANG STARR Mass Appeal Chrysalis/ERG

GURU and Premier have done it again. Gang Starr is one duo that isn't compromised by the prolific nature of their material. At this point, they could restate the old adage: proficiency makes perfect. This song is a lyrical indictment of the crossover sellout. As in "I get wild with my monotone style/because I don't need gimmicks/gimme a fly beat and I'm all in it/I be kickin' the real/while they be losin' the race tryin' to chase mass appeal." GURU eases over Premier's streetwise production with the finite smoothness of freshly-laid concrete. As a contrast, the snap-back bassline will score with mixshow DJs and those fearless dancers.

New Releases

CHRIS WALKER
"How Do You Heal A Broken Heart" (Pendulum/ERG)

Excellent song, flawless soulful adult performance. Can't miss! Sounds like one of those hit love themes from a hit movie.

DAVE KOZ
"Lucky Man" (Capitol)

The title track of Dave's new album features the vocals of Charles Pettigrew (of Charles and Eddie fame). Dave's lyrical sax turns the song into a sweet and soulful duet.

BARBRA STREISAND
"Speak Low" (Columbia)

David Foster and Johnny Mandel arranged an elegant score to support Ms. Streisand's always perfect performance.

K.T. OSLIN
"Feeding A Hungry Heart" (RCA)

K.T. picks up the pace with a driving arrangement full of decidedly non-Country instruments. It's a song about those '80s ladies and gents who still live a life that's expected of them.

Dear Diary Part II

BY NATALIE DUTSMAN

Last week we printed Part I of a true story entitled "Dear Diary...I Lost My Job," in which a medium-market program director had received a bad book and a summons into the general manager's office.

June 2—It's a simple conversation, really. He has read my proposal and has decided not to accept my ideas; he wants to take the station in another direction. He adds, "It's nothing personal, you're not a bad person or bad programmer. I think a change of scene would be good for you, to build a new fire for you to succeed."

He says he thinks I'd be better off returning to a major market as an on-air talent or to a turn-around situation; that is where he feels I could do my best work. (Funny how my current turn-around situation isn't one of them.) He tells me he will be happy to help me in any way he can and wishes me well. He sets a quasi-deadline of mid-to-late July as my departure date and assures me no one on the staff will know the actual reason for my leaving. In effect, he is giving me the opportunity to save face.

I knew the answer to my next question before I asked it, but I asked anyway. "What is it about my proposal that you don't like?"

He had a stock answer ready. "I've decided the station has to go in a new direction." I thanked him for his honesty, for giving me so much notice, and got up to go home.

On the drive home I thought about how I would break it to my wife, about how we would handle our finances while I looked for a job. It was time to go to work.

July 1—In the past 30 days, I've been through a lot of changes. My wife and I have accepted what is happening and have made adjustments. We sat down and outlined our spending and made some cuts of luxury-type items. Some good has come out of this as we both are becoming more conscious of our spending, and figured out we can almost break even when I stop working and start drawing unemployment.

On the job search scene, I've sent out about 25 packages to all areas of the country. I've read in the trades that some of the jobs have been filled, but for my mental survival, I have to figure that if there hasn't been an announcement or letter of rejection, I've still got a fighting chance.

Another thing that has kept me busy is networking. My phone bill will be higher than normal, but that's just part of the job search expense. I've networked with folks from Connecticut to Montana from Oregon to Georgia, which has opened a few doors. Still no firm bites, but there are several opportunities that I feel could come through.

July 14—Another two weeks have passed, and it seems that my job search is no further along than it was before. I know the 4th of July holiday has slowed down the process. My wife has been very supportive, as have close friends who know of my situation. Each day I have to remind myself that the process takes time and to have patience. What makes it tough is that I feel all bottled up inside. I want a job and I want to work! I've talked with a couple of PDs and don't know how to communicate my eagerness to them, worried that if I blurt it right out, it may scare them off.

At work, things are status quo. I still don't know when my last day will be. There are some people in the station who know and others who don't. Since my ads have run in the trades, the word is out. Folks at other stations in the market know; it's just a matter of time before it becomes reality. I do appreciate what the GM is doing for me, allowing me time to find something before I leave. It also helps him as my continuing to work is making it easier to fill vacation requests, but those are rapidly coming to an end. At the end of vacation season, I figure I'll be finished at work and sent packing.

Inside Connections

This week's GAVIN Connections chart is brought to you by 514 Urban, Top 40 and A/C stations.

Most connected of all singles is "All For Love," from Sting, Stewart and Adams. It's #1 and Hit Factored at 96% at both Top 40 and A/C radio with 408 of a possible 460 stations.

The A/C to Top 40 connection includes all of A/C's top nine singles, yet by this time next week Top 40 and Urban may only have four singles in common.

Most Added from the

Rod, Sting & Bryan

three formats is Janet Jackson's "Because Of Love" with 170 out-of-the-

box ADDS. Richard Marx's "Now & Forever" is a distant second with 90 new, followed by Phil Collins' "Everyday" with 59 and Ce Ce Penniston's "I'm In The Mood" with 56 new. Big news on the GO chart is the #16 ranking for Kate Bush's "Rubberband Girl," but it's ranked at just #28 on the main.

Three of the GAVIN GO chart's six debuts are ranked in advance of their eventual main chart ranking: Ace Of Base's "The Sign" is GO signed at #33, while Meat Loaf's latest entree, "Rock 'N Roll Dreams Come Through," is the GO chart's Most Added and is already at #35, one tick ahead of the Bruce Hornsby, "Rainbow's Cadillac" at #36.—RON FELL

"February 17, 18, 19. That's the 1994 GAVIN

SEMINAR, of course, and I'm aiming to make my way to San Francisco to meet up with all my friends from radio and music once again. It amazes me how fast it comes around each year but I wouldn't miss it for the world.

"You see, as well as finding lots of familiar faces (and new ones!), I actually learn a lot from it, unlike some conventions I could mention. You get a nice mix of very specific sessions and broader topics which tackle the real issues. I hear there's going to be lots about some of them new technologies in 1994. I guess we've got to face up to change. Why, I'm even thinking of investing in one of those dishwashing things sometime soon. But that's another story.

"The other thing I like about the Seminar is the chance to cut a rug at the live performances. You can really let your hair down, in a manner of speaking, as well as finding out what the latest "big thing" is likely to be.

"So take a tip from a regular. Better book your place real fast on that new fangled Seminar Hotline (that's 415-495-3200, if memory serves me correctly) and feel the benefit of those early registration rates.

"As for the dishes, I guess I'll be letting those nice people at the Westin St. Francis take care of all that stuff."

"Nice talking to you."

“LUCKY MAN”

CHARLES PETTIGREW

Dave Koz has every reason to consider himself a Lucky Man.

His first single, “You Make Me Smile,” went Top 5 AC. After spending 8 weeks at #1 on the NAC charts, tying the record set by Kenny G., LUCKY MAN went on to become 1993’s #1 NAC album.

Now, with his new single, Dave takes his sexual passion and intensity one step further by adding the soaring vocals of Charles Pettigrew (Charles &

This is Bill Walsh's time of the year. And the former head coach and general manager of the San Francisco 49ers has three Super Bowl championship rings to prove it.

But this year, on the January day when current Niners coach George Seifert was bemoaning the "chaotic" and "sorry state" of his team as it seemed to be wandering, dazed, into the playoffs, Bill Walsh was moving into new offices at Stanford University, where he has been the head coach the last two seasons.

After a losing campaign, one most observers wrote off as one in which Walsh was rebuilding, he was getting ready to go out and recruit talent. But Walsh, who was widely hailed as a genius before and during his time with the 49ers, is a popular attraction on the speech circuit, and has agreed to be a keynote speaker for the 1994 GAVIN Seminar.

Walsh will bring a three-decade long record of winning to the podium. It began in 1957, when he coached a Bay Area high school team, then moved to UC Berkeley and Stanford as an assistant coach, then joined the Oakland Raiders as backfield coach for Al Davis. In 1967, he became part of the legendary Paul Brown's new club, the Cincinnati Bengals, and made Brown's hallmarks—theory, organization, and teaching—his own. After leaving the Bengals in 1975, and a season with the San Diego Chargers, he returned to Stanford in 1977 and compiled a 17-7 record in two seasons. It was, of course, with the 49ers that he found his greatest glories, when he took over a sad-sack squad and led them to Super Bowl victories in 1982, '85 and '89. Among his many reward: NFL Coach of the Decade honors for the '80s. After the last triumph, he retired, but soon returned to the public eye as an analyst for NBC broadcasts of NFL games. In 1992, he returned to coaching and to his favorite university: Stanford.

Although he'll be addressing a radio and recording industry conference, Walsh doesn't try to put himself across as any expert—or even a great fan—of contemporary music. After a morning drive into work accompanied by a News/Talk station, he says, he'll head home to the beat of an oldies station like KYA-FM. At home, he might put on Broadway showtunes or standards by Irving Berlin. "I like all forms of music," he says. "I don't follow any particular artist."

It's when he thinks of music and radio as businesses that Walsh can see a bridge between what he does and what GAVIN readers do.

To introduce Seminar attendees to the coach, we spoke with him recently about common grounds. The short conversation is followed by a reprint of an article Walsh wrote for Forbes ASAP Magazine.

GAVIN: Do you ever think of football as entertainment? As something beyond competition and strategy?

I consider football as much an art form as music is. Creativity is critical, but there's got to be continuity to it, and also being able to orchestrate it, and then there's the final product. From the thought of creating something to the point that it's a beautifully orchestrated piece of music, there's a parallel there.

Like sports, the music industry is an intensely competitive, high-pressure business, in which one seeks to win at all costs. What's your approach to winning and losing?

If you're going to endure, then you're going to have to deal with disappointment, frustration, and occasional losing. If you're only going to take the responsibility for wins, that's another thing, but if you expect to have an operation that's going to weather different seasons, different trends and things of that nature, you're going to have to be able to deal with frustrations and defeat, and you're going to have to be resilient enough to absorb it better than the other people can.

So if there's a trend, like in your (music) business, I would think that those who can deal with quick change and evolution the best, and not linger too long, are the ones who can endure.

To me, sports is enduring as much as it is winning.

Something else our businesses share is the intense charting of our efforts. You're being graded week by week, or game by game, in your case.

That's the detail of what we do, and using every bit of information that's available, and being able to evaluate that information and assess ourselves and strategize—that's critical to us.

And there's the competition. Football just takes every bit of your very existence to do it, to succeed, so that everybody in the organization is really tested, emotionally, in your ability to deal with others and absorb the frustrations that go with it. So you're continually being tested. Your mind can play tricks on you.

One of the major problems is that one factor that's disappointing can affect everything else you do. The other factors may be normal, but you can make them more difficult. You have to compartmentalize your frustrations.

Did you gain much from your experience as a color commentator at NBC-TV?

No question about that. I'm much more versed in what the needs are within a communications network, the role each person plays, the mentality that exists, the atmosphere—it can be very slippery! You're so much at the mercy of the critics. Too many of our people who weren't necessarily well-informed were the critics.

And some critics were looking not at what you sought to deliver, but at the cosmetics.

The subject matter or the composition of what you're doing could be the last thing on their mind. They were looking for a quick little quip or a quotable remark.

In a difficult time—such as the season you've just gone through at Stanford, which was a losing season, but one that is widely considered transitional—do you adjust your thinking and expectations in preparation for the bottom line?

Exactly. You have to adapt your goals, in a sense, and be able to glean whatever you can out of something, and not allow it to become catastrophic. Sometimes you're battling, doing the best job you've ever done just to be able to field the team, let alone win a lot of games. ●

PRONG

LINEUP: Tommy Victor, vocals/guitar; John Bechdel, programmer/sampler; Ted Parsons, drums; Paul Raven, bass

LABEL: Epic

ALBUM: Cleansing

FIRST SINGLE: "Snap Your Fingers, Snap Your Neck"

PRODUCED BY: Terry Date and the band

TOMMY VICTOR TALKS ABOUT:

WRITING: "Most of it's mine since I'm the vocalist and guitarist. I have to come up with the riffs and simultaneously try to get an angle on what the vocal is going to be like. I present my work to Ted, the founding member of the band, and we work together on the music side of it."

PRE-PRODUCTION: "All our pre-production work made the actual recording go a lot faster. You can focus on what you really want to do. On our previous recordings we were more scattered in our thoughts, and we were always running out of time when we had to lay the tracks down."

TERRY DATE: "We looked at a lot of producers and engineers. Terry wasn't sure that he'd be able to do the Prong recording at first because of some personal business. The records that he's worked on that really impressed us were both Pantera albums and Soundgarden. He came down to meet us when we played Seattle because the Soundgarden guys were always talking his ear off about us. We did the basic tracks in New York, but did the overdubs at Bad Animal Studios in Seattle because Terry wanted to be close to his wife and their new baby. We were primarily interested in his guitar sound approach and his concern with getting the songs across void of a lot of access."

THE MIXING: "It is our best mixed album, without a doubt. One of our concerns was to make sure that it came across vocally, and again Terry was excellent in achieving that goal. On our past records there was a lot of processing going on and there was a certain sterility in the vocals."

FIRST SINGLE "SNAP YOUR FINGERS, SNAP YOUR NECK": "Paul Raven, our new bassist from Killing Joke, really helped a lot on this one. He knew exactly what to do on that song without a lot of excess. The tune has a lot of Killing Joke elements and makes it a perfect first single because of that influence. It still has the attack and heaviness of Prong with more darker qualities than your average group. It's a good hook and a good song regardless of the darkness. We're never shy about saying that over the years Killing Joke has been a huge influence on Prong."

MECHANIZED SOUND: "It's important to have the human element. Ted has strayed against some of the rhythms on earlier recordings. Now he's concentrating on the grooves, and we're trying to maintain the grooves and achieve diversity within a song like "Broken Peace." We want different atmosphere and textures, and with the samples of John Bechdel formerly of Murder, Inc./Killing Joke, and extra guitar parts we're maintaining that groove a lot more than we have in the past. Prong still has the quality that allows us to go up with dinky little amps and really shitty equipment and still pull it off. I like that aspect of it."

TOURING: "We're going out with Obsessed and White Zombie beginning January 23 in Oklahoma City. It's great. I'm not expecting too much from radio. They're not even picking up on what's really obvious. We can't rely on radio so we're just going to continue touring. We are trying to do something that's a little ahead of the game. This new music we've done could see us touring with a lot of different bands. We're improving, we've kept our heads straight and we're trying to improve ourselves individually—and that's the most important thing."

Hard Rock Releases

OVERFLASH Threshold To Reality (MNV)

As the hard-core industrial music scene popularity picks up speed, new bands like Overflash pave the way to acceptance. Hailing from a small town in Sweden, Overflash is a one-man band (Devo Andersson) that sounds like an enormous orchestra, spitting out massive guitar slabs, intricate techno beats and shrill vocals. Clashing death metal grinds with industrial spuzz, Overflash's vigorous upbeat sound will attract listeners who thrive on speed metal or industrial jams. According to the bio, this form of death metal/cyber-techno music is called Cyberdeath. Great, another label but at least it sounds cool. Whether cyberdeath or industrialized death metal, Threshold To Reality rocks. Most of the songs have a classical core which is layered with heavy metal guitar riffs that expand into speed metal romps and vocal snarls coated with techno synth/keyboards. "Enter Life Between" is the best example of Overflash's musical dexterity. As it drifts between hard-core death metal rants to classical low-end guitar plucking that floats on an endless stream of soft melodic piano and synthesizer chords. It's a stark contrast to the rest of the cuts, which are pretty hard-hitting. Some of the more death metal guitar-oriented tracks include "The Evolution," "Nuclear Winter" and "Future Warrior." "Life Converter" and "The Evolution" are a notch lower than death metal but still boast heavy metal guitar romps. If your listeners enjoy death metal industrial mixes, Overflash is a must play.

PITCH SHIFTER Desensitized (Mosh/Earache)

The latest trend among industrial bands is the use of death metal and heavy metal guitar riffs. Following this fad with great vigor is a band from Nottingham, England called Pitch Shifter, whose metallic rhythms and gyrating screams scream '90s rock. There's an addictive quality to industrial bands who filter heavy metal guitar grinds throughout their music giving it that hard-edged dangerous appeal. With their latest album, Desensitized, Pitch Shifter ignores the "drive carefully" signs and dives head first into a realm of intense techno orgasmic sounds that are accompanied by metallic guitar riffs, thundering drums and raging vocals. Programmer and guitarist Jon Carter sets this cosmic groove along with bassist Mark Clayden and drummer D, with Jon Clayden belting out the chaotic vocals. Check out "To Die Is Gain" to discover Pitch Shifter's dance side, which offers roaming bass vibes and an array of techno beat sounds that border on hip hop. The very next song, "(a higher form) Killing," has Pitch Shifter churning out crazy guitar slams that wiggle their way across Ministry-like industrial spuzz and Metallica-like metal prowess. Metal radio should focus on "Cathode," "Ephemerol," "Gatherer.Of.Data" and "Triad." Shift your station into high gear and spin Pitch Shifter.

VICTIMS OF INTERNAL DECAY (Grind Core)

I may be a little late on this one, but my tardiness has been made up for by metal radio's eagerness to play it. Victims Of Internal Decay sounds as heavy as the images their name conjures up. Not rock or industrial, this band is strictly death metal. Blasting out guitar-ripping slams, evil vocals and thunderous bass and drum atrocities, Victims Of Internal Decay don't mess around with delicate melodies or anything that represents wholesome music, which is why hard-core radio and specialty shows will have a field day with this. The traditional death metal styles, which include out-of-control drumming and unintelligible vocal growls, are present, but Victims adds a creative hard guitar driven edge that sets them apart from other death metal bands. No matter how hard some of the cuts may be, there's a lingering rhythm that makes your head whirl to the guitar romps that often expand into entwining low-end metallic grinds. If you're looking for seriously hard metal, Victims Of Internal Decay will have them moshing in no time. Check out all tracks, they're all heavy and hard.

Rock Releases

ZZ TOP "Pincushion" (RCA)

Classic Texas rockers ZZ Top are back with their trademark crunchy Tex-Mex guitar grooves and driving drum beats on their latest single. "Pincushion," from their upcoming album, Antenna. This single brings guitarist Billy Gibbons, bassist Dusty Hill and drummer Frank Beard (he still refuses to grow one) back to their traditional electric sound which first got people hooked to their rendition of rock n' roll. College radio will experiment with this, but it'll be album radio that will give "Pincushion" tremendous airplay, and in the process give pleasure to many ZZ Top devotees. Eleven Gavin Rocks stations are already on it. Add "Pincushion" and give your listeners a taste of traditional "border rock."

BLACK SABBATH "Back To Eden" (IRS)

The rock 'n' roll plague continues to spread through radio, and Black Sabbath's "Back To Eden" is the carrier. From the days when Ozzy Osbourne reigned as lead singer to the present, Black Sabbath has been stereotyped as an evil rock band whose music influenced young people to commit unsavory acts. This single makes those remarks seem as ridiculous now as they were when the band first started recording. "Back To Eden" shows Black Sabbath emerging as a mature rock 'n' roll band ready to infect mainstream radio. The flippant guitar riffs and classic '70s metalized vocals will find a home at album radio. College radio will spin this for old times sake, but it'll be album radio that take's this one home because it will appeal to older listeners as well as diehard Sabbath fans. The B-side contains a rock ballad called "The Hand That Rocks The Cradle" that, like the A-side will find more success on Album radio than on college. Both songs come from the upcoming album Cross Purposes, due out February 5.

CANDY SAYS: "I love jazz, funk and R&B music the most, so the combination of the three is the greatest!"

SPECIAL GUESTS: "We had the opportunity to work with Maceo Parker and the JB Horns. We had a song that screamed for the Tower Of Power Horns and were lucky to get them during their tour of Europe."

POP VERSUS BOP: "I wanted to make a real hip record and use a lot of drum computers and sampling. We like layering different loop samples together. It sounds unrecognizable, but still gives something different to the music."

ON "BOB'S JAZZ": "It was written by my partner, Ulco Bed, and inspired by the whole Acid Jazz scene. We had the leading Hammond organist in Holland play a solo and added samples of freight trains and helicopters."

INFLUENCES: "Maceo Parker, David Sanborn, Charlie Parker. Chaka Khan is one of my greatest influences in phrasing."

WRITING SONGS: "I find it very hard writing songs from scratch. I can only write when there's someone else around, but I'm good at streamlining other people's ideas with production and layering melodies."

Jazz/Adult Alternative New Releases

ROSEANNA VITRO
SOFTLY (CONCORD JAZZ)

Vocalist Roseanna Vitro digs in with the Fred Hersch Trio and a few guests (George Coleman and Mino Cinelu) to deliver her most polished recording effort yet. On the surface Vitro takes a decidedly sophisticated, Rodgers and Hart stance, but Softly vaults into just as many heated hop moments as cabaret settings. Hersch's manicured accompaniment on piano matches the keen discipline of Vitro's fine-tuned intonation. Roseanna is at her best when her superb range pushes her voice around the notes to imitate the built-in imprecision of a horn player. Take "I'm Through With Love." The song really comes to life when Coleman's sax licks and Vitro's singing are trading eights and fours. Another proof positive is "Life I Choose," a direct adaptation of a Tom Harrell composition. Vitro immortalizes this gifted horn player through her scatting bridges, as well as tipping her own hand to some pretty hip tastes in jazz soloists.

BILL WATROUS
A TIME FOR LOVE (GNP CRESCENDO)

Has it been 30 years since GNP Crescendo hung their independent label shingle along Hollywood's Sunset Boulevard? If so, then Bill Watrous' A Time For Love doubles as a fitting tribute to both the label as well as the genius of composer Johnny Mandel. While Mandel's arrangements and productions have scaled the top of the GAVIN Jazz chart via his collaborations with Shirley Horn's Here's To Life and Natalie Cole's platinum Unforgettable With Love, Watrous should also fare well on his own with this class package. Pardon the cliché, but trombonist Watrous has the smoothest glissando and a hell of a sustain to boot. On "A Time For Love," Watrous is as subdued as possible, but glides magnificently over the shimmering big-band charts by pianist Shelly Berg. The symphonic build-up to the ballad "Emily" never strays into sentimentality. Watrous is a brilliant soloist and a master of melody and texture. Minus the brash razzamatazz of, say, Ray Anderson, Watrous' takes the high-class route all the way.

MUSIC AS A WEAPON

It's not hard to use music as a competitive weapon; you just have to adopt a different mindset than most programmers who, whether they realize it or not, make the majority of their music choices to avoid risk. Only occasionally do they take a wild flyer on records they like. But, as in any business, gain is worth the risk. If your station sounds like every other station in the market, how is it going to set itself apart in the listener's mind.

Let me say here that if you throw caution to the wind and add all sorts of risky records you'll go down in flames. Intelligent risk-tak-

To build positive listener expectations about your music, you must first define your limits—how far from the center of your format you can go—and include all records within this boundary for airplay consideration. Next you must build meaningful music categories, and find a way to allow the listener to sense the difference between those categories (even if they don't recognize it consciously). Then you must work out a predictable playlist sequence to deliver consistent variety within those limits.

This variety defines your station's musical approach and builds listener expectations about the music

ing means knowing what you're doing. But a program director taking intelligent risks will be aware that in most pop formats the song is more important than the artist, and he or she will put aside “automatic adds” for familiar artists, and instead listen for the unusual, offbeat and catchy song—even if it's by an unknown artist.

An intelligent program director understands that being different has less risk, competitively, than being the same as everyone else. And though nobody likes to receive negative calls about a song, a program director will understand that songs that arouse positive emotions in some listeners are capable of arousing negative emotions in others. And if you don't get a few negative calls about a record now and then, you probably aren't getting anybody's attention and you're vulnerable to competition.

Here's a fundamental programming truth: the only reason listeners tune in your station is the expectation of what they will hear. Those expectations are usually based on past experiences with the station. If there's no contrast or variety in your music, and you're relying entirely on delivering a generic product you are, again, vulnerable to competition.

they'll hear when they tune in. Don't overlook the power of a well-chosen new record—newness is as appealing to adults as it is to teens. The important part is identifying which of the new records will do the job for you. When making this choice be aware that your fellow program directors are more likely to be selecting records primarily for safety rather than for appeal, so “consensus adds” in the trades may not always be the right records.

Steer away from having lots of categories and an extended category sequence—a great temptation with modern computer playlisting; the average listener only tunes in 15 to 30 minutes a day (although the median listening spans tend to be much longer, made so by a handful of listeners who tune in for hours per day). Thus, if you don't substantially complete your category sequence in 15 to 20 minutes, you run the risk of seeming musically inconsistent to the majority of your listeners, which reduces expectations and decreases frequency of listening and listening spans.

One final thought: stations that allow their air staff to rearrange scheduled records within the hour are causing reduced listener expectations of their music. ●

A<sup>3</sup> New Releases

MORPHINE Cure For Pain (Rykodisc)

Morphine sports a unique lineup, but then again, guitarist Mark Sandman has always experimented with audacious three-piece outfits throughout the tortuous New England club circuit. A hip cross between alternative and jazz, Morphine's adult appeal comes from its spooky alliance between the bare snare and the gut-bucket sax work. Admittedly, on paper it all sounds very strange, but sometimes it's the spaces left in the mix that keeps Morphine's vision sleepy and stoned as opposed to overdone and gimmicky. Color Morphine's music dark blue.

BECK Loser (Geffen)

Not Jeff Beck. Definitely not Beck, Bogart & Appice. No siree. Beck Hansen's "Loser" is remarkable blend of machined hip-hop rhythms and white delta blues, and yet another anthem of the underachieving slacker. "Loser" is a major-label repackaging of Beck's indie 12-inch with some unreleased ditties that echo Beck's flirtation with hip, hop and dirty white rock n roll. After some serious repercussions on Chris Douridas' show on KCRW, Beck spiraled onto the Seattle airplay on KNND. Those A<sup>3</sup>'s surfing the fringes of alternative radio need to stay aware of Beck.

BILL WALSH ON FOOTBALL, BUSINESS, AND WAR

By Bill Walsh

*Boldness is the outstanding military quality...
We must imbue the force from camp follower and private to the commander in chief.*

—KARL VON CLAUSEWITZ, ON WAR

I have spent my adult life studying the dynamics of organizing people to achieve a goal in the face of the most severe circumstances. In practice, I have been successful on many occasions, and failed on others.

That's what coaching football is all about. But this process of organizing, leading, enduring setbacks and ultimately succeeding lies at the heart of every profession, be it business, government or the military.

Thirty-five years as a coach, from high school to professional football, have convinced me that coaching a football team is like running a business—only more so. By this I mean that when one looks behind the box scores, the idolization by fans and the identification by home cities, the daily operation of a professional team is that of a company in microcosm—but a company under extreme stress at every point and operating at lightning speed.

Professional football is a business where the mean age of the participant is only 26, yet many earn more than the president of the United States; where the life cycle of the sole product (the team that takes the field) is, at most, 20 weeks; where employees of vastly different backgrounds and educations must work side by side under conditions of complete trust; where every nuance of every decision and action is under intense scrutiny by millions of people; where debilitating physical injuries can occur to key individuals at any moment; where failure is complete (there is no Chapter 11 protection) and history is reserved for only a single competitor; and where one's fate may be decided by the physics of a tipped pass. In other words it offers a first-glimpse analogy of the fast corporations that soon will dominate the world's economy.

Because of that, I believe that a football team can serve as a test bed for the new business model. Just as companies simulate the long-term effects of wear on their products by subjecting them to extreme environmental forces, so a football team, with its stopwatch timing and dangerous physical environment, can serve as a model for organizing and running a successful fast corporation.

This analogy between coaching a football team and managing a business is not only accurate but extraordinarily complex. This is particularly true with young, fast-moving industries. Stanford University, where I coach and teach, is the birthplace of Silicon Valley, where high-technology companies are built almost daily. Within these new start-ups, the comparisons with coaching football are quite compelling. The short career life span, the heavy dependence on key talent, the rapid turnover and, unfortunately, the limited job security of the top executive are shared burdens of the entrepreneur and the football coach.

The comparison works with mature companies, too. Every new product has its season. A company must set a precise goal and then develop a long-term strategy to reach it. At the same time, as the program progresses, tactics must change and contingencies must be developed to meet unexpected twists and turns. The sales, marketing and management teams must be held together, their spirits kept high and their efforts coordinated for maximum effect. This takes leadership, management, and, as the great military strategist Karl von Clausewitz says, "the utmost of care."

My suggestion that a football team is a compressed version of a corporation may sound unusual. In fact, it provides a third leg to a triangle of analogy among football, business and warfare begun many years ago.

Certainly the notion that football is like warfare has become a tired truism. One need only to look at a play chart to find in the pattern and movement of the Xs and Os parallels to the movement of troops and weaponry.

In fact, the connection between military theory and football is the basis for my interest in the Civil War. On my vacations I walk the battlefields and study the brilliant tactics of Lee at Fredericksburg and the merciless strategy of Grant in the wilderness. I learn from McClellan that the most efficient organization is worthless if improperly applied. In the last few years, I've even taken to giving away copies of On War by von Clausewitz to friends in professional football.

I also give On War to my business friends because its theories of tactics, strategy, organization and preparation for contingencies are equally valid in corporate life.

Equating business to warfare isn't new either—remember the popularity of the 17th Century Samurai manual, A Book of Five Rings, by Miyamoto Musashi, a few years ago?

In both sports and business, however, you can easily go too far with the warfare analogy. Neither a football game nor a new product sales campaign is anything like a pitched battle. Real war is murderous, bloody and destructive of everything in its path. The parallels among sports, business and warfare exist only at bottom, in a shared philosophy of competition and struggle toward victory. In practice, they have much less in common.

On the other hand, the analogy between football and business holds great promise because the two disciplines share much in application.

Every company must build a complete infrastructure in a short amount of time in order to bring a successful product to market—in the face of competition, internal struggles, outside scrutiny, and environment forces beyond our control.

The analogy grows even stronger when one speaks of the new fast companies. You could even go so far as to argue that many of the new business techniques—delegation of authority to line employees, flexible use of technology to improve productivity, quick reaction speeds and chief executives functioning as strategists and tacticians—have longstanding parallels in my profession.

Even when you talk about some of the attributes of the new corporate models, you see considerable precedent in the organization of professional sports organizations: for example, how an NFL team functions in an inter-related network that extends for the league offices and the ownership right through to the team staff, stadium management and retailers; how it is constructed of sub-teams of highly trained and adaptive individuals; and how it works to provide a service so compelling that it keeps customers—fans—loyal for decades. The crucial difference is that professional sports has been doing it for years, whereas the corporate world has just arrived.

As you remodel and streamline your companies for the new competitive era, one of the hazards you face is that there are very few corporate examples of how to proceed. Thus, for years to come you will likely be flying blind, not knowing if the choices you made will be invigorating or fatal. In dealing with that unknown, you will surely cast about for help for business school case studies, magazine articles, consultants and, I suggest, even the most unlikely non-business sources, such as football, for ideas and support.

(My purpose in writing) is to start that dialogue now instead of waiting for the heat of battle. If you accept this, or at least have an open mind, then I have much to share with you about construction and organization, dealing with competition and coping with sudden change. On the other hand, if you don't quite believe me, turn on the television this weekend and see if you don't recognize your employees in those uniforms, your company in the ebb and flow of offense and defense, and yourself in that anxious coach pacing the sidelines. ●

Inside Alternative

Whew! Now that we're all back and have our land legs, as it were, the news is coming in fast and furious.

Congratulations to SBK/ERG's Mike Mena on his recent engagement! Mike and fiancée Kim Thoene have chosen April 9 as their wedding date, so there's plenty of time between now and then to wish them well. We'd like to be the first to wish Mike and Kim much love and happiness in their new life together.

Former KJHK-Lawrence music director and AIM Marketing guy Kris Gillespie is Matador's new radio promotion person. It's only a matter of time before he blows a call in to you, if he hasn't done so already.

A&R guru Jim Dunbar (Gumball, Firehose) has left Columbia for Geffen. He is still based in New York.

Former Capricorn Records' promotion gal Beth Latrell has moved over to Velvet Dwarf Records, which is distributed by Intersound International. And yes, that's Velvet Dwarf Records.

In radio, KROQ-Los Angeles' now-famous Rolling Stone cover shot hit my desk this week. As reported before the holiday break, the staff photo was taken on the set of The Flintstone's new movie. Congrats on being voted America's favorite radio station for the second year in a row.

Got a couple of phone calls from people looking for their next radio challenge last week. Former KTOZ-Springfield Rick Kennedy says when WCHZ-Atlanta takes the station over, he'll be let go. Rick would like to stay in Alternative, but will consider all offers. He can be reached at (417) 863-8472... Max Volume, formerly with KRZQ-Reno, has spruced up his resume and has a killer tape ready to go. Similarly, Max would like to stay in Alternative, but can also do Top 40 or Album. He can be reached at (702) 331-0410.

In related news, KTOZ-Springfield's new program director will be former WCHZer Dom Casual. Former APD John Lenox will stay on as music director.

All interested parties who want to participate in our annual post-seminar softball game, listen up! MTV's Kurt Steffek will be coordinating the East Coast team and can be reached at (212) 258- 8836. Alternative Action's John Rosenfelder will be coordinating the game plan for the West Coast, and can be reached at (310) 440-2535. ## New Releases

BECK
"Loser" (Geffen)

I know many Commercial stations have been trying desperately to get a hold of this one ever since KROQ started banging it late last year, and because of its limited, independent pressing, not many lucked out. Well, your luck's about to change. Sitting on your desk this week should be the new CD-5 from Geffen, which includes "Loser" and four other tracks that give us a rough idea where Beck is coming from musically. Those who haven't heard this one yet are in for a treat, as "Loser" is one of those songs you hear once and sing all day. Here in the office I hear people muttering, "I'm a loser baby, so why don't cha kill me" all the time (Personally, my favorite line is, "Get crazy with the cheez whiz"). And now that the entire panel has a copy, expect some big chart moves. College radio should enjoy the four other tracks, as they're more street-oriented. The album, Mellow Gold, should hit the streets in mid-February. —LINDA RYAN

THE LEVELLERS
"This Garden" (Elektra)

What makes the The Levellers' phenomenal success in their native England so incredible is that it's a true reflection of the band's popularity; they aren't grist for the hype-driven mill that often creates mountains out of molehills over there. Seeing the organically-grown buzz firsthand at Glastonbury in 1991—the 100,000 or so people wearing Levellers T-shirts, and an awe-inspiring show—convinced me that these guys have something real and totally honest. The only comparison I can possibly draw has "Grateful Dead and Deadheads" written all over it. Featuring half sung, half-spoken vocals, "This Garden" is a wild musical ride steered by a solid hook, and if you have the advance CD-5 also check out "The Player," a warm offering propelled by some mean fiddle playing. Just love it! The band will on tour soon, so you can experience their musical savvy firsthand. I might not be able to hold back an "I told you so."

—LINDA RYAN

KRISTIN HERSH
Hips And Makers (Sire/Reprise)

Seldom are side projects fully realized. Many artists try too hard to establish their own identity apart

ARTIST PROFILE

FREAKWATER

FROM: Chicago, Illinois

LATEST RELEASE:

Feels Like The Third Time

LABEL: Thrill Jockey

THEY ARE: Janet Bean

(from Eleventh Dream Day), guitar and vocals; Catherine Irwin, guitar and vocals; Dave Gay, drums.

IT'S SAID: "Freakwater continues to cleave closely to country's pure, mountain-music roots, with spare instrumentation (guitars, bass, occasional violin and mandolin), unvarnished productions, wide-open harmonies (Irwin low, Bean high) and tales of hard times, sin and salvation."

—Baltimore City Paper

FEELS LIKE THE THIRD

TIME INCLUDES VERSIONS OF: Woody Guthrie's "Little Shoes," Conway Twitty's "You've Never Been This Far Before" and Nick Lowe's "You Make Me."

SHE SAYS: "[Country] is the type of thing I can sing now and feel good about, and also the type of thing I could sing when I'm 90 and feel OK about. I think country music is way more enduring than rock music. It's about keeping ties.

Rock music is the opposite." —Janet Bean

DISCOGRAPHY:

Freakwater (Amoeba, 1989)

Dancing Underwater (Amoeba, 1991)

from their group's or simply can't escape the band's shadow. Throwing Muse singer Kristin Hersh has polished 15 acoustic jewels that sparkle and bask in the light of her bountiful voice. The first single, "Your Ghost" is a foreboding ode to the pain of separation, featuring Michael Stipe on vocals. "Bee Stung" intertwines a simple, lulling piano melody with Jane Scarpantoni's cello, as Kristin sings "you press your palm to your snow-covered thought cage." A guitar reminiscent of "Scarborough Fair's" punctuates "Teeth" with slender grace, and the instrumental "Sparky's" captivating acoustic guitar leaves no doubt about Hersh's ability. Other highlights include the tenacious snarl of "Close Your Eyes," breathy vocals of "Velvet Days," and the title track's ironic lyrics. This worthy outlet for Kristin's more personal musings can be thought of as foreplay for the new Muses album due out later this year, and foreplay never tasted so good. —DAVID BERAN

EVE'S PLUM
"I Want It All" (550)

The track you've been asking for finally hits your desk this week, as

550 unleashes the power of Eve's Plum's manic "I Want It All" on radio. Colleen Fitzpatrick's biting, schizophrenic vocals toe the line between madness and lucidity, and are highlighted most tellingly in this "going for the brass ring" song. —LINDA RYAN

THAT DOG
(Geffen)

The debut from That Dog, besides being the latest cool offering from Geffen, also seems to be L.A.'s answer to the Breeders. In That Dog sisters Petra and Rachel Hayden (daughters of jazz great Charlie Hayden) offer spine-tingling, slightly-skewed harmonies (a la Kim and Kelley Deal), and the band, in songs like "Old Timer" and "Zodiac," juxtapose sweet, floating verses with sudden, careening choruses—in a most Breeders-like manner. However, some of the material on this eponymous debut is slower, and/or acoustic, which gives the band's charming, unique violin an opportunity to be a real player (ha ha ha). Fave tracks include "Old Timer," "Jump," "Zodiac" (I'm a sucker for that astrological shit), "Family Functions" and the reprise of "She Looks At Me," which features a lovely violin solo/jig. The members of That Dog have, I'm told, known each other since childhood, and their familiarity translates on stage to an incredibly appealing repouire, so check 'em out live if you get a chance. —SEANA BARUTH

MARK LANEGAN
WHISKEY FOR THE HOLY GHOST (SUB POP, 1932 1ST AVENUE, SUITE 1103, SEATTLE, WA 98101)

Screaming Trees' lead vocalist Mark Lanegan has delivered another solo album nearly two years after The Winding Sheet wowed Trees fans, Eitzel followers, critics and college radio with its stark, confessional poetry. Well, it seems that (despite The Screaming Trees' continual success), Lanegan is still kinda, um, down, because his vocabulary hasn't really changed; Mark's still singing (in his magnificently rich voice) about darkness, despair and alienation. What has changed is the tone and production. Whereas on The Winding Sheet, the sparse instrumentation and raw emotional quality of Lanegan's voice combined for a fragile, could-crack-at-any-moment effect, Whiskey For The Holy Ghost seems less ephemeral and boasts a sumptuous (but still acoustic) sound that lends the songwriter's material an otherworldly, pregnant resonance. Hopefully, the more studied production will make A's programmers as amenable to this release as college radio is sure to be; Lanegan's excellence rather demands it. Guests here include: J. Mascis, Tad Doyle, Mudhoney drummer Dan Peters, Jack Endino and ex-Trees drummer Mark Pickarel. —SEANA BARUTH

INDIAN BINGO
(ROCKVILLE RECORDS, DUTCH EAST INDIA TRADING, P.O. BOX 800, ROCKVILLE CENTRE, NY 11571-0800)

One of the Bay Area's best—and often overlooked—bands delivers a five-song EP that features everything from guitar-laden rockers to a lulling Frank Sinatra cover. Avid fans will recognize a reworked version of "Michigan" that transforms the former, lighter one into a trudging, heavy assault. As singer Mike Boul's unmistakable voice clenches around lines like "You are unbalanced...commit me to you" the guitar climbs, and the solo at the end obliterates all that comes before. "Dear Henry" is a straightforward rocker that lets that pony run and stands out as my favorite track. As a crunching guitar and spurring percussion light a fire under it, Boul's vocals begin low and then soar. "Dream Away" is the Sinatra cover that was featured on last year's Chairman Of The Board tribute. Phil Carney's guitar becomes loungey and exotic, and Boul croons syrupy paens to the joys of dreaming. The other two tracks, "Try" and "Calls A Phone Booth," are slower, brooding explorations of a world where "I'd much rather be anyone than who I've turned out to be." Now is as good a time as any to check these guys out, and the beauty of it is, anyone can play Indian Bingo. —DAVID BERAN

Singles .....

ALL-4-ONE So Much In Love (Blitz/Atlantic)

Recalling those street corner harmonies of old, this sensational cover of the Tymes' 1963 summer smash caught fire at the tail end of 1993. It's one of those songs that gets on the air and within seconds, captures the audience. Strong request activity.

SALT-N-PEPA FEAT. EN VOGUE Whatta Man (Next Plateau/London/PLG)

Whatta concept, pairing these goddesses of hip-hop with a killer track and some of the best lines heard in a long time. Though it was getting a healthy number of spins in several markets late last year, it's now starting to bust big.

GUNS N' ROSES Since I Don't Have You (Geffen)

Will anything top this for the most unlikely release of the year? Hardly considered balladeers, GNR choose to offer up a rendition of this standard from the late '50s, originally sung by The Skyliners. On paper the idea sounds a little wacky, on disc it sounds great. By the way, does anyone know which well-known record exec was a member of The Skyliners?

LENNY KRAVITZ Heaven Help (Virgin)

Lenny has a special talent for conceiving simple yet unique pop melodies. The songs have roots in the past, but their originality and mood are very much set in the '90s. This release should help win him even more fans.

MR. BIG Ain't Seen Love Like That (Atlantic)

Rather than going with full-blown orchestration and production, Mr. Big found success by taking the straightforward, stripped-down route. Lead singer Eric Martin co-wrote this latest release from Bump Ahead and is careful to balance his delivery with a powerful sensitivity.

JAMIROQUAI When You Gonna Learn? (Columbia)

Music with a message can be exciting. Woven into this retro-melody are some disturbing yet thought-provoking lyrics about the state of our environment. Jay Kay is the man behind Jam-ear-oh-kwai and his honest concern for the planet prompted him to call his album, Emergency On Planet Earth, a package that sold nearly one million copies around the world.

DEEP FOREST Sweet Lullaby (550 Music/Sony)

Anyone asking, "So, what's new in music?" should take a listen to this production. The music comes from rain-forest Pygmies of Zaire and is unlike anything audiences most anywhere have ever heard. There's no doubt why this is retailing like crazy and beginning to tweak the interest of more and more programmers. Haunting and captivating, it needs more than one listen.

By Dave Sholin

Albums .....

FREDDIE JACKSON Here It Is (RCA)

The man who turned out the '80s with chart toppers like "Rock Me Tonight," "You Are My Lady," "Tasty Love," "Have You Ever Loved Somebody," and "Jam Tonight" is back with his RCA debut album. His current charted single, "Make Love Easy," the title track and "Paradise" are among my favorites. But Freddie is also solid on "Giving My Love To You," "Addictive 2 Touch," "I Love" and "My Family."

—JOHN MARTINUCCI

RAMONES Acid Eaters (Radioactive)

This is the latest to come from New York's leather clad rockers, and it will be your listeners' top request. Acid Eaters is a compilation of cover songs that's saturated with the Ramones' patented gritty punk/thrash sound. From the Amboy Dukes' "Journey To The Center Of The Mind," to The Who's "Substitute" (featuring Pete Townsend on background vocals), to Jefferson Airplane's "Somebody To Love," this CD rocks. The Ramones can successfully cover anything and Acid Eaters is proof. Don't miss this one.

—ROB FIEND

PHILADELPHIA SOUNDTRACK Various Artists (Epic)

Bruce Springsteen's custom-written theme is as scary a portrait of AIDS as you're likely to hear all year long. Combining the gruesome fears of urban abandonment coupled with the tragedy of a fatal disease in just one song is surely a miracle of subtlety. Also aboard are credible efforts by Peter Gabriel, Spin Doctors and the Indigo Girls. The question remains, will the movie live up to its magnificent theme? That answer lies in the talents of Tom Hanks and director Jonathan Demme.

—KENT ZIMMERMAN

GARY BURTON & REBECCA PARRIS It's Another Day (GRP)

Always one to test new concepts, vibraphonist Gary Burton enlists fellow New Englander Rebecca Parris to sing on his first all-vocal album, It's Another Day. Burton and Parris perform hand-in-glove on each tune. The glimmer of Burton's vibes present a shining complement to Parris' more robust vocal presentation. Moods range from pop to breezy A<sup>2</sup> to traditional jazz.
