AL TELLER ON THE HIGHWAY

The Digital Revolution is Changing The Way We Make, Market, and Broadcast Music But MCA Music's Chairman Says We Have Nothing to Fear But Fear Itself

This Week.....

Is it possible that, one day, there may be no record companies? The way some people, looking over the horizon of the much-ballyhooed information super- highway, see it, that day will come.

Musicians will record in their own studios, hire ad agencies or publicists to market the product, and consumers will buy at what used to be record stores by stepping up to a module, punching in their order, and making up their own CD (or whatever), including packaging. Or they can do it from home with a credit card.

Welcome to the digital revolution, an onslaught of changes that has—quite naturally—alarmed as many industry people as it has excited them.

Technology will be a major focus at the 1994 GAVIN SEMINAR, and it's on our minds this issue as we send Managing Editor Ben Fong-Torres out to chat with Al Teller, Chairman of the MCA Music Entertainment Group. Teller, a long-time techie, says that, for all we've heard about the info highway, the trip is just getting started.

Digital's impact on audio cassettes kicks off the News, as the powerful Tower Records begins to trim cassette inventory—and makes headlines. We also check in on perennial headliners Michael Jackson and Howard Stern as well as Mo Ostin (top), and hear some country radio memories from Stoney Richards (above right). On the GO Chart, it's Melissa Etheridge (above), Mr. Big, and Guns 'n' Roses who're on the highway to hitsville.

Crash Test Dummies

IT'S MMM MMM MMM MMMASS APPEAL!

“MMM MMM MMM MMM”

The lead track from their acclaimed new album GOD SHUFFLED HIS FEET - sales already well over 200,000

“The Crash Test Dummies undoubtedly, is the most explosive record of the year. Within two weeks, it is the #1 most requesting record at KROQ, with album sales exploding in L. A. This is the next big one.”

-Kevin Weatherly/KROQ

“Lightning-fast reaction record. Instant Top 20 sales, two instant sell-out shows, and Top 5 requests! You could learn a lot from the Dummies. This is a smash at any format.”

-Brian Phillips/99X

“The song that sticks in your head, unforgettable hook. #1 phones. Play this record. It tests mass appeal.”

Mo' Mo for Warner Bros.

Looks like the only major shakeups at Warner Bros. Records have already happened—on the morning of January 17 and with the 3,000 aftershocks since.

Chairman Mo Ostin, whose contract is being renegotiated and whose future with Time Warner has been the subject of rumors around the industry, is now expected to extend his contract through 1996.

Earlier reports included speculation that Ostin, whose current contract runs into mid-1995, might retire or take a job at another record company if he couldn't reach agreement with Time Warner management.

The 66 year-old Ostin has been at Warner Bros.' helm for more than 30 years, when Reprise Records, which he ran, was purchased by Warners. Ostin was said to be resisting pressure to report directly to Robert Morgado, chairman of the Warner Music Group.

While Morgado has long been expected to announce a shakeup, Ostin is now expected to survive it, having reportedly agreed, at least informally, to report to Morgado.

Label president Lenny Waronker, who some see as a likely successor to Ostin, is reportedly in line for a new title and additional responsibilities, seen by observers as a test to prove that he's a worthy heir to Ostin.

Cassettes Future Debated

BY BEVERLY MIRE

Tower Records' senior vice president Stan Goman made headlines two weeks ago when he said that the cassette is on the verge of extinction and that Tower had started phasing out its inventory. "I may be a bit myopic," he said, "but the way I see it, prerecorded tapes are fast approaching the fate of vinyl."

The comment drew disbelieving retorts from other retailers, and, now, Tower has scaled back its "cassettes are dead," claim, saying it will just cut back the number of tapes it will carry. (However, when GAVIN visited a store in San Francisco and mentioned cassettes to a clerk, he laughed. "Phasin' them out," he said.)

"The whole thing was blown up out of proportion," says Tower's Bob Delaney, who is vice president, retail, for record and video operations. "We'll be cutting inventory from 1.8 million units to 1.4 million."

Tower's scale-down of its cassette inventory followed a report that cassette sales amounted to less than 46% of the industry's $9 billion in sales, which is down 61% from five year ago. Other retailers, however, are not hurrying to abandon the configuration. "We consider the cassette tape to be an extremely viable product and anticipate it to be around for at least another five years," said Musicland president Arnie Bernstein.

Blockbuster's music division president Mike Murray agrees. "We have no intention of quitting the cassette business and would be more than happy to accommodate any customer Tower turns away."

Cassettes remain popular with consumers, partly because of price (up to $4 cheaper than a CD). "Cassettes are still viable," says RIAA spokesperson Ellen Caldwell. "Young people buy them because they're inexpensive."

If cassettes go the way of vinyl, the CD will emerge as the undisputed configuration of choice. In 1993, Sony, with the Mini Disc and Philips, with the DCC, tried to take away some of the CD's consumer power, but neither format has yet dented CD or cassette sales. As MCA Music Entertainment Group Al Teller says in this week's cover story, "One of the challenges that both formats have is that even though they are digital, there's been a lot of improvements in the sonic quality of analog cassettes."

So will the cassette join vinyl as a rarity? Maybe, but not as soon as first predicted. "No way," says Rachel Reis of Rasputin's in Pleasant Hill, Calif. "We sell lots of cassettes. Not everybody has a CD player."

FCC Fines Infinity; Okays Station Buy

The FCC has slapped Infinity Broadcasting with another series of indecency fines for utterances by Howard Stern, but has approved the company's purchase of KRTH/FM-Los Angeles.

Last month, Commissioner James Quello, an outspoken opponent of Stern's and Infinity's, had said the FCC might delay or deny the $110 million purchase pending resolution of some of the many indecency fines the Commission has levied against Stern and his employer, Infinity.

Now, the FCC has decided against any such action. On Monday (January 31), two of the three voting Commissioners approved the sale, with Quello strongly dissenting, saying that he could not believe that "decent, reasonable people would find it in the public interest to support additional outlets for licensees propagating lewdness, incest, deviant behavior and demeaning women, blacks and gays."

But the other Commissioners questioned the FCC's legal authority to delay or deny the transaction, especially after the court decision last November that struck down its indecency rules as unconstitutional.

Still, it was a close call. Evan Duggan, who has left the FCC to head the PBS, said that if it weren't for the legal cloud over the indecency laws, "I would have denied" permission for the sale.

While observers thought of the FCC's threats to bar Infinity's purchase as punishment for the company's combative stance on the $1.2 million in fines that the Commission has levied, the FCC added another $400,000 to the disputed tab. Stations in New York, Philadelphia, D.C., Baltimore, and Las Vegas were cited for airing Stern broadcasts last fall.

Radio Advertising Hit $9.6 billion in 1993

What was 1993's best buy? Looks like it was that sound machine we all depend on to get up to, go to work to, relax to and even go to sleep to.

The Radio Advertising Bureau (RAB) just released a report saying that in 1993 radio advertising jumped 9.3% to an estimated $9.6 billion, which is up from 1992's $8.7 billion. The Christmas season turned out to be a whopper: December vaulted 14% over the same period in 1993.

"People continue to embrace radio largely because the medium is a direct extension of the habits and moods of the American people," says RAB president Gary Fries. "As the communications options available to consumers continue to multiply, we're finding that radio remains firmly entrenched as a reliable companion medium in the home, the workplace, and—where few other media have access—the car."

The figures make 1993 radio's best year since 1985, when revenue grew 11.5%. Local sales were up 9.2%; national sales 10.2% and network 8.1% for the year. And the news gets better: Fries says early estimates show that 1994 is on par with 1993's boffo numbers.

Michael Jackson Wants Help with his Settlement

When Michael Jackson reached a settlement with the teenaged boy who charged him with sexual abuse, he didn't think he'd have to pick up the entire tab.

Last week, the London newspaper Today reported that Jackson, who is reportedly settling with the boy for $15 million, has asked the Transamerica Insurance Group to foot part of the bill. Apparently on January 13, the company's claims analyst, Russ Waldrip, sent Jackson's lawyer, Howard Weitzman, a letter indicating that Jackson's liability policy covered accidental bodily activity. But he was quoted as adding, "acts of sexual activity do not constitute" an accident. "Acts of sexual activity, especially those against a minor, are inherently intentional, wrongful and harmful," Waldrip is quoted as saying. "Coverage for such acts is precluded by (the) California Insurance Code."

On the other side, Jackson's lawyer Johnnie Cochran said Jackson suffered "personal grief" and "substantial financial losses," and that he wanted the claim to be settled immediately.

On another front, the on-again, off-again Jackson Family Honors is back on now that Michael's court date has been avoided. It'll be taped in Las Vegas on February 19 and will air on NBC February 22. Splashy ads starring Michael and Janet that sparkled with family unity hyped the February 19 event during the Super Bowl. LaToya was nowhere to be seen.

Warner Bros., Paisley Park Split

Warner Bros. Records and Paisley Park Enterprises have decided to go their separate ways.

"Our relationship with Paisley Park Enterprises has been an exciting and creatively rewarding one," says Warner Bros. chairman Mo Ostin. We look forward to working with...the artist formerly known as Prince, who continues to be one of our most important artists and producers."

The Minneapolis-based Paisley Park came with the former Prince when he signed his contract

Arsonists Suspected In Radio Station Fire

It was a close call for KVFX (The Fox)-Modesto, Calif. when someone set a fire just outside its front doors near midnight last Saturday (January 22).

"It could've been very serious," said GM Bill Johnson. "There's a fire station half a block from us. If they'd been another three or five minutes late, the entire complex might have gone up."

Two DJs, Chris Taylor and Paul Richards, were in the office building that houses the Classic Rock station when, according to investigators, gasoline was splashed at the door and lit.

The door was the only exit from the station, and the firefighters had to create a path to allow Taylor and Richards to escape. Both were uninjured.

KVFX posted a $5,000 reward for information, and last Tuesday, Johnson told GAVIN that a suspect had been identified. "It's someone who's known to authorities as what you might call 'troubled,'" said Johnson. "There was no direct link to the station, except that he was a member of an imaginary band who sent a tape of music to us, and we didn't play it."

Hmm. "No direct link"?

Johnson, who estimated damages at $25,000, said KVFX has added armed security to the premises.

Country Memories Are Made of This

BY STONEY RICHARDS

As broadcasters, we tend to be more concerned with computer read-outs that compare our TSAs with our MSAs; with stations changing call letters, formats and sometimes entire staffs, longevity becomes more the exception than the norm. And so with Los Angeles losing a part of its radio history, it became important to record its passing not on tape but in print.

What follows is a story submitted and printed in the L.A. Times. I wrote it to mark the passing of a radio and country music legend. I have since moved on to the morning show at K-BEAR (WQKB/FM)-Pittsburgh, where I stay aware of the fact that as radio stations change, come and go, they may affect the air talent first but the audience goes through the same emotional roller coaster you do. Let's remember that the numbers represent people.

Radio stations come and go. And with a market the size of Los Angeles with some 80 competing signals, the comings and goings may be a little hard to keep track of. The silencing of country music on KLAC/AM (570) after 24 years was duly noted ("The Last Word in Lonesome Is Country," Los Angeles Times Calendar, December 2). but what is so often difficult to convey when an audience loses "its music" is the emotional attachment that also went with the pictureless media.

For more than two decades, KLAC was known throughout Southern California and recognized for professional excellence from Nashville to Austin to Bakersfield. It was always important for country artists to have their songs played by KLAC. Kenny Rogers credits the start of his successful career in country music with KLAC's decision to play "Lucille."

Through the years, some of the greats of broadcasting have stood by the KLAC microphones: Jay (Bird) Lawrence, Dick Haines (At the Reins), Bob Kingsley, Danny Dark and, of course, Jim Healey. More recently there's been a bit more of an itinerant talent list from Jerry House, Scott Carpenter, Gene Price, Don Hinson and for a brief moment, even Gary Owens. I had the opportunity to ride the crest of this wave out for the past ten years. In that time, we all witnessed the change from Country and Western to New Country and Hot Country.

More than a quarter-million of us crowded into Hansen Dam for an event called Countryfest, where we experienced what was the beginning of the Randy Travis star shoot across the music industry. George Strait, Reba McEntire, Ricky Skaggs and the Oak Ridge Boys were all KLAC staples.

But the audience wasn't just discovering this form of music as the latest trend to fill the voice where pop music lost its soul. Our people belonged to Porter Wagoner and Hank Thompson. Marty Robbins was just as famous as Lefty Frizzell and our request lines rang for Hank Jr. as much as they did for Hank Sr.

By the time Garth Brooks happened, Merle Haggard and Waylon Jennings were having trouble selling records. Still, country music is a hot seller here and the most-listened-to format of all nationally.

But broadcasters in L.A. share an agenda that doesn't include much music on AM radio, and especially not much country music in a market with the demographics of Los Angeles. Regardless of the fact that you may have listened, the experts say you didn't and so KLAC Country, after 24 years, is no more. The station is now playing "adult standards."

And all we of KLAC Country have left are the feelings of the fun and games and gossip we shared and the words of all those great country songs. And no one can ever take that away from us.

Thanks for the memories.

Stoney Richards has been broadcasting for 24 years. He is the morning host on K-BEAR (WQKB/FM)-Pittsburgh.

CAMPAIGN OF THE WEEK

WILLIE NELSON
The Classic, Unreleased Collection
LABEL: Rhino

Available exclusively through the QVC cable network.

For The Classic, Unreleased Collection Rhino Records and Willie

Nelson bypassed traditional marketing and went straight to the QVC cable network to hawk this 3-CD/4-cassette package. It includes Nelson's first recordings, done in 1957, and an unreleased album from the mid-'80s, Sugar Moon.

Nelson brought his personal magnetism to a one-hour special that aired February 1. He chatted talk-show style with QVC host Bob Bowersox and took calls from fans, with the set's price (over $60) and an 800 number visible at all times. A half-hour followup was aired February 2. Plans call for Nelson to participate further by calling-in from the road and chatting with prospective buyers after the album joins QVC's inventory.

Also up for sale is a video, My Times, as well as a pricey ($60-$70) line of sportswear/workwear geared toward the modern-day cowboy/rancher.

According to Rhino, QVC has already moved 65% of the original shipment during the first show. Rhino and Nelson are taking a chance but since the cable giant reaches approximately 50 million homes, the gamble could pay off.

His Top 40 background includes PD of KBIU/FM (BAYOU 104)-Lake Charles, Louisiana and APD/MD at WFMF-Baton Rouge. Across town, KAKS (107.9 KISS FM) transforms itself into K108 with a satellite-delivered Hot A/C format from Major Network, formerly City FM. Drive times will be live with PD John Moesch remaining on board and teaming with promotions director Jill Christie for mornings. Adam Lee holds down PM drive.

Seems like Clarke Ingram being named APD and afternoon drive personality at B94 (WBZZ)-Pittsburgh is only a few i's dotted and t's crossed away.

Scott Hardy, MD at WQCY/FM-Quincy, Illinois, takes over as PD of WQCY/AM Monday, February 7, the same day the station switches from Talk to Oldies. WQCY/FM middayer Jeff Gray nails down Hardy's former title.

In the '60s and '70s, KFRC and KYA battled each other for the Top 40 crown in San Francisco on the AM band, until KYA finally gave up. Most recently the two fought the Oldies fight on FM, but no longer. KFRC AM/FM's owner, Alliance Broadcasting, has announced the purchase of KYA/FM. An LMA takes effect March 1 when the airstaff moves across the street to the KFRC studios. Other management, operations and sales staffers will remain with First Broadcasting, owner of KSFO. Might ABC/Cap Cities be considering an offer for that facility to team with Talk powerhouse, KGO/AM?

Mid-February is the target date for Top 40 WLZ-Cadillac, Michigan to change format as it begins simulcasting with Lite A/C WMBN-Petosky, Mich.

How thrilled was Richard Sands, PD of LIVE 105 (KITS)-San Francisco while watching ABC-TV's newsmagazine Day One, last Monday, January 31? The show featured a piece on Tony Bennett, including a full five minutes of the crooner's appearance at the station's Green Xmas Acoustic Concert. Richard said instead of the usual "local station, no logo, no ID" that usually is the case with TV coverage, "We had our billboard in full view three times, LIVE 105 crew shirts were shown, a station jacket with our logo, a station personality introducing Tony, plus countless banner shots, fan shots and staffers. It was like a dream come true!"

Will this be the next concert craze to sweep the nation? Z100 (WHTZ)-New York unveils "Landerpalooza," starring the Gin Blossoms, US 3 and Candlebox on Valentine's Day. Of course, it's all to introduce the station's new Z-Morning Zoo with John Lander. Monies raised will go to the NYPD's "Goods For Guns" program.

Bon Jovi closed out his recent tour in Montreal by celebrating worldwide sales of over eight million copies of Keep The Faith. Seen handing over the plaque are Alain Levy (no relation to Marv), president and CEO, PolyGram and Ed Eckstine, president, Mercury Records.

Thump Records names Mike Karsting, former 99.1 KGGI-Riverside promo director to its national promotions post. Meanwhile, back at KGGI, Harley Davidson returns as APD and PM drive talent.

GAVIN sends heartfelt condolences to Gwen Roberts, APD at KIIS-Los Angeles, on the passing of her husband, Ray, last weekend.

Manon Hennesy is named ops manager at JAZZ/FM-Los Angeles with DeDe Whiteside taking on duties as director of promotions and marketing.

Got a hot Top 40 morning show? Get that T&R off today to Joe Dawson at Communications Properties, 5490 Saratoga Road, Dubuque, Iowa 52003. Joe is looking to fill an opening at sister station, KCPI-Albert Lea, Minnesota.

What's the difference between Corn Flakes and the Buffalo Bills? Corn Flakes belong in a bowl!

Soundgarden, A&M's alternative metal rock quartet, will release their next album, Superunknown (yes, one word), on March 8. The band set up a special 800 number so that fans can call and hear excerpts of four songs, "Spoonman", the first single, "The Day I Tried To Live," "My Wave" and "Fell On Black Days." The toll-free number is (800) 204-ROCK. An extensive marketing campaign extends to fanzines and other music magazines later this month. There will also be a limited amount of colored (blue, orange and clear) vinyl available for the true fan. Vinyl is still popular with a lot of cool rockers. For the last three weeks I've been listening to the Michael Beinhorn (Soul Asylum, Red Hot Chili Peppers)-produced album and it's without doubt Soundgarden's best to-date...

Bryan Adams was the first western rock artist to perform in Vietnam since the war. He and his band played two concerts in January at the Hao Beinh Theater in Ho Chi Minh City (Saigon). Adams and his band are currently in extensive tour mode, hitting sold-out areas in Asia, Australia, New Zealand, Japan, Hong Kong and Singapore in the last several weeks. He's currently on the charts with two singles, "All For Love" and "Please Forgive Me"...

According to "Lollapalooza" tour organizer Don Muller, "We are at this moment still talking with several artists and their representatives and nothing is firm. We don't expect to be able to announce this year's talent or any other details regarding 'Lollapalooza' for several weeks. I can say that we're very happy that Perry Farrell has been and will continue to be involved in the festival this year." This comment resulted from the media erroneously reporting that the lineup was firm with Nirvana signed as a headliner...

Atlantic recording group Stone Temple Pilots just won Rolling Stone fans' "1994 Music Award" for "Best New Group" and "Best New Male Singer" for Weidland. "Creep" is the fourth radio track from Core, their multi-platinum album. The song's video clip is in heavy rotation on MTV and is the channel's #2 most played video...

Both Sides, the sixth solo album from Atlantic recording artist Phil Collins, has been simultaneously certified gold and platinum by the RIAA for U.S. sales in excess of 500,000 and 1 million units, respectively. The album which was written, produced, and performed entirely by Collins, was released in November, 1993. Collins was named VH-1's "Artist of the Month" for January...

Richard Thompson's album, Mirror Blue, will be in the stores on February 8 on Capitol Records. Thompson embarks on a major promotional tour January 29 through February 28 in support of this release, and he'll be visiting with radio, retail and press across the country. He'll play at this year's 1994 GAVIN SEMINAR...

Capitol recording artists Concrete Blonde launched the next leg of their U.S. tour as musical guests on The Late Show with David Letterman January 31. Their current album, Mexican Moon, is pulling in rave reviews from such magazines as Spin, Entertainment Weekly and People. The band has dates set through February 25 in Las Vegas, with more to be added...

Crowded House also hit the Late Show with David Letterman. They performed "Locked Out" from their new Capitol album, Together Alone on February 2. Produced by Killing Joke bassist Youth, the album shows a fresh sound for a great band who has a sense of humor as well as great licks. "Locked Out" is featured in the upcoming Universal Pictures film, Reality Bites, which opens February 18. Prior to their U.S. tour, Crowded House will headline a benefit concert for Amnesty International in Wellington, New Zealand on February 25...

Friends Of Radio

GEORGE WARE

Founding member of the Black Music Association; founding member of the Association of Rap music; Publisher Journal of Rap (JOR) quarterly; Planning the International Hip-hop Music Awards Show.

What station did you listen to as you were growing up?

"We could only receive stations with extra-strong signals. We would listen to WLAC/Nashville."

Who were the most important artists you heard on the radio?

"Hank Ballard and the Midnighters; James Brown; Lavern Baker; Little Willie John."

What was your proudest achievements?

"Going from a modest background to achieving a high level of education (Ph. D)."

What is Rap music's most important role?

"Rap as a means of self-expression and entertainment for today's black youth. It as a huge influence on world youth culture."

What are the greatest challenges facing Urban and Rap music?

"(Rap and hip hop) are now enjoying great popularity and financial success. This is a significant achievement. However, as the artists explode into pop culture they may alter the music's creativity in order to get attention and, as a result, will end up being abandoned by the pop audience."

If I owned a station?

"I would not forget the black audience."

de plume of two solo recording artists, highly-noted in their respective genres, for one album only. The two Englishmen have often paired with fellow superstars, but have never worked together. Separately, their work has appeared in the charts innumerable times, but never in this experimental field. They do not plan to reveal their identities and will not be available for comment, anonymously or otherwise. This album will be released on Capitol Records in North America on February 22. Entitled Strawberries Oceans Ships Forest, the instrumental album features nine enigmatic tracks that meld ambient techno, rave, grunge and industrial sounds. They utilize acoustic and electric instruments (conventional and otherwise), recorded both live and via aurally-treated mixes, loops and other tricks. Additional weird noises and unworldly voices add to the mesmerizing rhythms and exotic effect. The album was released in Great Britain on November 15 and found a strong following in underground clubs and large arenas after a clear vinyl double-pack was circulated to U.K. club DJs...

Virgin Records has announced the release plans of UB40's label debut, Signing Off. First released overseas in 1980, the British reggae/pop stars' early classic album has never before been issued in the U.S. American fans will also be able to enjoy the band live and in concert. They kick off the album and a tour on NBC's Saturday Night Live on February 12, with their first tour date on February 14 in New York City at the Paramount Theater. The outing will continue nationwide through early spring...

Colin James And The Little Big Band, the newest album from the Vancouver-based guitarist/singer, features James revving up blues, jump and swing classics from the late '40s and '50s. The 13 song collection will be available on Virgin Records February 22. James and his band will be playing at the 1994 GAVIN SEMINAR. ●

Check out the resume of almost anyone in our business and chances are they've worked in at least one small market. But beyond call letters and names, little is known about the stations, the towns they serve and the programmers responsible for their success. In a desire to remedy that, Paul E. Swanson, director of national secondaries for Jeff McClusky and Associates, will debut a new bi-monthly column in GAVIN, "Small Market Success."

Paul says he'll focus on "up 'n' coming markets or up 'n' coming programmers. I want to look at what is going on in the present and at what will become our future." He is keen on changing the perception some still have that smaller stations tend to play too many titles, preventing new songs from getting proper exposure. "That's just not the way it is anymore," he says. "These days they can really be an accurate barometer. It's important to me that we focus on how these markets are affecting local retail."

Last year, says Paul, artists like 4 Non Blondes, Joshua Kadison, Darden Smith, the Gin Blossoms, Toad The Wet Sprocket, Steve Miller, and Shakespeare's Sister owed much of their success to secondary market airplay. He firmly believes that "these markets have a tremendous amount to offer the industry. Let's continue to help them help us." The first "Small Market Success" story will appear in our Seminar issue February 18, featuring Steve McKay from WSBG-Stroudsburg, Penn., who will also join in on this year's small/medium market session. If you have any comments or suggestions for Paul regarding this new feature, call him at (312) 280-1212.

With a little less than two weeks to go before GAVIN's 1994 Seminar, the Top 40 agenda looks very full. Thursday afternoon (February 17) features the small/medium market panel which will include Steve McKay, Mitch Cooley from KQKY-Kearney, Neb., Franco from WQGN-New London, Conn., Tracy Leshay of Elektra, Martha Steele from KTRS-Casper, Wyo., and Mike Steele of KIXY/FM-San Angelo, Texas. KC101 (WKCI)-New Haven's Pete Cosenza will co-moderate the panel with me.

On Friday afternoon (February 18), our first-ever Top 40 main-stream/keynote event will be a discussion with Brian Burns from WKSE-Buffalo, Jeff McCartney from WAPE-Jacksonville, J.J. McKay, formerly of KHKS-Dallas, Tony Novia of STAR 94 (WSTR)-Atlanta. Mike Preston from WPLJ-New York and Jimmy Steal of Q102-Cincinnati. They will be followed immediately by an address from Top 40 pioneer and creator of "Hot Hits," Mike Joseph, who'll analyze the session and share his views on the state of the format.

Following Saturday morning's (February 19) Mix-Master demonstration (seen below) is the Top 40 crossover panel with KUBE-Seattle's Bob Case, JAMMIN 92 (WJMO)-Cleveland's Keith Clark, WHYT-Detroit's Rick Gillette, KJYK-Tucson's Bruce St. James, HOT 97-New York's Steve Smith and Steve Wall, formerly of Z90-San Diego. That afternoon, we'll have a look at how labels plan their marketing and promotion strategy. eastwest's Craig Lambert is moderator for the session which includes Columbia's Jerry Blair, Geffen/DGC's Steve Leavitt, PLG's Joe Riccitelli, MCA's Bruce Tenenbaum and eastwest's Greg Thompson. That will segue into what goes on behind the doors of a radio station's music meeting. KWIN-Stockton PD Bob Lewis leads a team that includes KKRZ-

Portland's Ken Benson, 104 KRBE-Houston's Tom Poleman, WDJX-Louisville's Chris Shebel and SWEET 98 (KQKQ)-Omaha's Dan Kieley. Annette and I are looking forward to seeing many of you (and yes, we've put in a request for warm weather).

WRCK-Utica, N.Y. reports that it continues to be the number one-selling 12-inch dance track. Re-ADDED at KQCR/FM-Cedar Rapids, Iowa. Also new on: 92Q, KISS/FM, WVIC, WYKS, KLUC, ZFUN, KJ103, KHFI, WCIL, KCLD, WVSR, BAYOU 104 and Z100.

Early reaction to Bruce Springsteen's "Streets Of Philadelphia" points to this becoming not only one of his biggest hits, but one of the year's top songs. Takes a nine-point leap into the Top 20 for 107 WIRX-St. Joseph, Mich., where MD Mark Adams says it's "blowin' out the phones." ADDED at: Z100, WBBQ, I-95, WMME/FM, WAPE, KISS 108, TOWER 98, V100, KQLA, KOKZ, WHZR, MIX 96.5, KMOK, KFMI, KWWW, KLYK, and more.

Airplay profile on Little Texas

Go Chart Most Added BRUCE SPRINGSTEEN (53) NIRVANA (32) INXS (30)

confirms the research results a growing number of programmers say they're seeing on this tune. Twenty-three ADDs for "What Might Have Been" include: KPLZ-Seattle, WSTW-Wilmington, KGRS-Burlington, Iowa, KTMT-Medford, KFBQ-Cheyenne, WEOW/FM-Key West, Fla., WERZ-Exeter, N.H. and 99KG-Salina, Kansas.

It seems that everywhere James' "Laid" is getting decent rotation, the audiences respond. Killer phones at KLYV-Dubuque, plus Top 20 listings at Z100, KROQ, THE END and 99X. In the ADD column: KISS 108, WWZZ, KONG, WPST and WNVZ.

Need that "secret weapon" record? Dusty Hayes at WABB-Mobile says he's got one right now and it's Deep Forest's "Sweet Lullaby." In fact, the first time he ADDED it, it went off. Now, he's re-ADDED it and it's getting Top Five requests. On the retail side, Dusty says, "They can't keep it stocked." Nine ADDs including: WAPE, KYYY, 95.9KHI-Ocean City, Md., WIFC, WBBQ, TOWER 98, Q99FM-Cape Girardeau, Mo., ZFUN and POWER 94.5-Junction City, Kansas.

Top Ten in callout at KDWB-Minneapolis and especially strong with upper demos is To Be Continued's "One On One," which jumps 22-8. Also showing a huge gain at POWER PIG-Tampa, 24-15. They also love it in Boston with WJMN charting it 3-2 and KISS 108 taking it 19-15. New on WRCK-Utica, N.Y.

KROQ-Los Angeles keeps the Crash Test Dummies at number two as it enters the Top 20 for 99X, XL93 and WJAT/FM. ADDED at KCLD-St. Cloud, Minn. and expect many more who are testing it to come on board.

Another big Alternative winner that's crossing fast is Counting Crows' "Mr. Jones." KDWB MD Kevin Peterson says it's the number one-selling album and ADDs it along with Steve Rivers and Cadillac Jack at KISS 108. Z100-New York jumps it 25-20.

Snoop Doggy Dogg's "Lodi Dodi" is getting more spins every week. Top Five requests after the first week at FM102-Sacramento, which has put together an edit on DAT. For a copy just call AJ at the station (916) 920-1025.

A new Madonna drops on March 2. Mid to up-tempo, it's titled "I'll Remember," it's from the soundtrack of a new film called With Honors that opens the same week.

HOMETOWN: Dayton, Ohio

LABEL: 4 AD/Elektra

SENIOR VICE PRESIDENT,

PROMOTION: Jon Leshay

CURRENT SINGLE:

"Cannonball"

CURRENT ALBUM: Last Splash

GROUP'S ORIGIN: Kim Deal (ex-Pixies) and Tanya Donnelly (ex-Throwing Muses) started the group in 1989. Donnelly exited after 1992's Safari EP to start up another band, Belly.

WHO IS ONE OF THE GROUP'S BIGGEST FANS? Nirvana's Kurt Cobain.

IT'S SAID: "A wonderful assortment of bubbly pop songs, abrupt riffing and lysergic noise, Last Splash chronicles carnivals and cupids, highways and heartbreaks, gods and monsters, all with Deal's trademark abstract wit. It's a remarkably accessible record."

—Michael Krugman, Ray Gun, September, 1993

IT'S SAID: "The Breeders are a prime example of our long-term commitment to breaking artists. When you are lucky enough to work with a band like this, you can't set any time frames. Who cares how long it takes, because it's going to be worth it. It already is."

—Tracy Leshay, director, national secondary pop promotion, Elektra Entertainment

ALICE IN CHAINS
Jar Of Flies (Columbia)

Seattle's frontier rockers have completed another stage on their journey to musical greatness with their latest release, Jar Of Flies. It's nice to watch a band that you've followed since their infancy climb the ladder of success. From the grungy guitar hooks of Facelift to the aggressive licks of Dirt, Alice In Chains have switched gears to bring us the graceful minstrelsy of the Sap EP and the charismatic melodies of Jar Of Flies. If it weren't for AIC's previous releases, this EP's magnetism wouldn't be as strong because there wouldn't be any stylistic contrast that listeners could refer to. Hard core listeners that expect the flailing guitar grinds of AIC's previous releases will be surprised not to find any, but the sullen lyrics and the brilliant orchestration will overshadow any doubts that AIC no longer rocks. Vocalist Layne Stanley and guitarist Jerry Cantrell express sorrow in their music and lyrics rather than anger, leading us to believe there is a glimmer of light filtering through humanity's dark landscapes. Jar Of Flies not only contains excellent song writing and talented musicianship it also represents the band's maturity. Using a string section consisting of a viola, a violin and cello captures AIC's subtlety while blending smoothly with Jerry's impressive guitar playing. "I Stay Away" and the short instrumental "Whale & Wasp" demonstrates this successful combination. The focus track is "No Excuses," but all the offered tracks will find their way onto stations' playlists. Some stations are already experimenting with "Rotten Apple" and the bluesy jazz cut "Swing On This." Already, 22 GAVIN Rocks stations are on Jar Of Flies and more are expected next week. This EP's versatility will attract a diverse crowd of listeners so it'll be no surprise to find Jar Of Flies crossing over into the mainstream. How will Alice In Chains top this?

DIO

LINEUP: Ronnie James Dio, vocals; Vinny Appice, drums; Tracy G., guitar; Jeff Pilson, bass

LABEL: Reprise

ALBUM: Strange Highways

FIRST SINGLE: "Evolution"

PRODUCED: Mike Fraser

RONNIE JAMES DIO TALKS ABOUT:

HIS NEW SOUND: "It is new and it's very much what we wanted to do on this album. We didn't want to be what we were before and we didn't want to be what everyone expected us to be. We were very focused when we made this album. I refuse to be a musician that has to rely on what's been done before. That's why it was very important for this album to be something progressive and new for DIO, and obviously it's been that way because of all the people in this band."

STRANGE HIGHWAYS: "This album is so much more of an extension of what Vinny and I were about on the Black Sabbath album Dehumanizer. Being on the last Black Sabbath album really allowed us to carry on in this direction."

SIDE ONE: "'Evolution' is the first single and it's really what this album is about. This song's content is the attitude, the frustration and anger that all of us feel when looking at the world as it is today, especially at the younger generation who don't have a lot of hope out there. I've always been the greatest spouter of 'believe in your dreams.' In all honesty I really couldn't say that today because I see so much misery and pain out there. I felt it was time to be realistic and shout about the things that other people don't have a forum to shout from. I have a stage to play from, a record to shout with. 'Jesus, Mary and the Holy Ghost' is a really abstract, autobiographical song. Here's the Son of God and he's nailed on a piece of wood, here's his Mother who's made of stone and has eyes that have no expression and no compassion at all. The song is a statement I needed to make. For me, religion has become a business, and the Catholic church especially since we have a Pope telling everyone, in this day and age of overpopulation, to continue having as many children as you want. Only a stupid man would make that statement."

RECORDING TIME: "Two and a half months of recording is pretty close to a record for us. We were extremely prepared. The time flew by and we were pleased with what we were doing. This project started at two o'clock and everyone was there by 1:45 and excited to get started. We'd look at the clock about nine and realize that we'd been jamming for seven hours straight."

NEW MUSIC SCENE: "We really needed an injection of new sounds. People like Napalm Death have been much more important than the Seattle scene in that they did everything that no one ever did before. They said we're going to make this song last for one bar, that's all. We're going to count it off and it's going to be one bar and that's the end of it. What it did was break the rules. That allowed DIO to take an immediate left turn or an immediate right turn. It didn't have to be just intro first, middle chorus, solo and away you go. That band really turned me around."

TOURING: "We just came back from a tour that started in Athens, Greece in November. The Strange Highways tour will continue with dates throughout South America in March if it's feasible. I loved it when I was there with Sabbath. It was one of the great experiences of my life. One step at a time. If South America makes sense before North America then we'll be there."

Hard Rock Releases

VARGA Prototype (Zoo)

The Canadian steeltown of Hamilton, Ontario is home to one of the most complex metal molecules in existence. This metal, known as Varga, contains Adam Alex on guitar and background vocals, Joe Varga on bass and lead vocals, Sean Williamson on guitar and background vocals and Dan Fila on drums. Combining metal guitar romps with a dash of funk and sampling, Varga delivers rhythmically hard and heavy music. Speed metal is the band's roots, but they began experimenting with different musical styles in 1992. Prototype's release reveals the band's expansion into techno-sampling, which is most evident on "Cast Into The Shade" (very cool tune) and "Freeze Don't Move." The latter has a second version called "Krash's Psycho Mix." Their industrial traits allow Varga to explore an array of metallic melodies which often turn into crusty riffs that dive in and out of the harmonizing vocals. "Thief," "Greed," "Film At Eleven" and "The Strong" are all hard-hitting metal featuring great guitars which are worthy for spinning.

THERAPY? Troublegum (A&M)

The second full LP from Therapy? has finally arrived so take a deep breath, relax and turn the volume up to eleven. I've been listening to the pre-release tape for a while and I've discovered that one of the more innovative and creative aspects of this band, apart from their lyrics, is the incredible guitar playing. From plucking high-pitched jams to crunchy waves of thrash slams, all the bases are covered. Troublegum, like Therapy?'s first album, Nurse, will appeal to hard rockers as well as alternative-types because their musical style hovers between the two formats. College radio will embrace this and spin the hell out of it, lets hope commercial radio does the same. The second cut, "Screamager," should be familiar because the single has been floating around for sometime. This talented Irish trio can go from melancholy melodies like "Femtex" and "Die Laughing" (this will be a big alternative hit) to erupting into frazzled guitar slams and groovin' rhythms of "Trigger Inside," "Brainsaw" (my fave.) "Hellbelly" and "Knives." Anyone who was ever into Joy Division will appreciate Therapy?'s rendition of "Isolation," a very dark song that the band pulls off like it was one of their own. Troublegum is happening. Check it out.

ENTOMBED Wolverine Blues (Earache/Columbia)

Anticipation for this album has been building since last year. Harder music is slowly making its way to the acceptance level onto commercial radio. If it weren't for college stations playing the hell out of bands like Fudge Tunnel, Carcass and the beloved Sepultura commercial radio would probably never go near anything harder than Def Leppard, Scorpions and Metallica. When bands like Sweden's Entombed release devilishly hard rock with melodies and ripping rhythms instead of making noise, it gives hard rock and metal credibility. Not only are Entombed leaving the door open for other hard bands to follow, they're delivering the same hard-edged music that college radio and album specialty shows have been praising since the release of the Hollowman EP last year. With the release of Wolverine Blues, Entombed will continue their reign as one of the most compatible death metal bands to ever hit radio. Using the basic elements of death metal (deep guitar grinds, heavy drumming and vocal snarls) and smashing it with '90s hard rock, Entombed creates an inspiring string of completely hard tunes that metal listeners live for. The title track is the one metal radio is going for but be sure to check out "Heavens Die," "Blood Song," "Demon" and "Eyenmaster." Actually check them all out you won't be disappointed.

New Releases

ANGELA WINBUSH Treat U Rite (Elektra)

Angela returns to the mic after writing and producing with Ronald Isley and the Isley Brothers for the past few years. The first single from her self-titled Elektra debut is a groovin' laid back track that you'll be appreciated more and more with each play. "Treat U Rite" is written and produced by Chuckii Booker.

AFTER 7
Gonna Love You Right (Fox)

After 7's "Gonna Love You Right" is the lead track from the soundtrack to Wesley Snipes' new movie, Sugar Hill. The unmistakable harmonies in this ballad will pull in After 7's faithful fans and attract some new believers.

ME 2 U
Raindrops (RCA)

The Baltimore/Washington D.C. group continues to deliver songs that solidify them as chart contenders. Me 2 U's strength is their soaring vocals especially on this ballad as their vamping is reminiscent of Johnny Gill. "Raindrops" will pick up where "All Night" left off.

GANG STARR
Mass Appeal (Chrysalis/ERG)

DJ Premier creates a hypnotic groove from a jazz/hip-hop fusion. Meanwhile, Guru serves up self-explanatory lyrics that are directed at rappers who would "sell their soul for mass appeal." Gang Starr's production gives this song "Mass Appeal."

KRIS KROSS
Da Bomb (Ruffhouse/Columbia)

The title track from their sophomore album gives you a strong indication of where Kris Kross is heading as they drop a funk groove with a rough edge.

DIANA KING
Stir It Up (Chaos/Columbia)

Diana King remakes the Marley-penned track that Johnny Nash achieved pop success with in 1973. Diana's version appears on the Cool Runnings Soundtrack and an upcoming Stir It Up Compilation. Early adds already logged at WLOU, WBLX, WTLZ, KMJJ/FM, K98. KFXZ.

JT TAYLOR Prove My Love (MCA)

JT will sho' you right as he sets the mood for romance. The sensual love song is straight up and free from questionable lyrics. Kick back and enjoy your favorite Chardonnay, because this is an adult winner.

NAS

It Ain't Hard To Tell (Columbia)

"Halftime" is over, and NAS is ready to score with skills. Even though he's dropped the adjective from his name, nasty still best describes the delivery on this jam. The production features Michael Jackson's "Human Nature," but check this—the song was freaked well. Using Mike's effortless ad lib is just what the doctor ordered and is by no means soft. It echoes NAS' lyrical confidence quite nicely: MCs eavesdrop thought/they need not sneak/My poetry's deep I never fail/NAS' rap should be locked in a cell/It ain't hard to tell. This song has instant appeal. Contact Tyesh Harris at Columbia(212) 833-8872.

VOLUME 10 Pistolgrip-Pump (Immortal/RCA)

A longtime veteran of L.A.'s Good Life scene, Volume 10 brings a new slant to gangsta rap with his debut single. "Pistolgrip-Pump" is a thick, murky swirl of dark, brooding funk. Possessing a rich, deep baritone which he lets of slow then fast with vocal twists and tweaks, Volume 10 releases a complicated delivery that places him in the ranks of L.A.'s True School (Heavyweights, Pharcyde, etc.). The CD single is packed with seven different versions of the song, ranging from two "cleaned up" radio edits to an a capella. Highlights include the "Friday Night Mix" which has that grungy old time rhythm & blues feel, the "UK Jazz Mix" which is built around a haunting horn riff and lilting keyboard tinkles. Finally, there's the "Extravagant DogHeart Mix", essentially a re-working of the "Friday Night" version with an additional ragged chorus.—SPENCEDOOKEY

(Pendulum/ERG)

Inside A/C

Ron Fell has jetted off to attend MIDEM and here's what took place in A/C (always cool) format during his absence.

Richard Marx's "Now And Forever" jumps from #5 to #1 this week edging out Phil Collins. The 60-station increase in HEAVY rotations assisted Marx's takeover.

Rod Stewart (left) is definitely "Having A Party" as he moves to #4. This third release from his MTV

Unplugged album will repeat what the past two did—hit #1.

Heart inches into the Top Ten to #8, converting 31 stations to HEAVY this issue, which created its 91% HIT FACTOR. There's plenty of room for continued growth and it's new with WKWK/FM, WNUY and KOSO.

"Linger" by the Cranberries is charted at #13 and HIT FACTORing 83% at A/C. ADDED this issue at WCOD, WCTW, WHLM, WLRQ, KCCR, KELO/FM, WHSB, WJTW, WSPT, WYCO, KZOR and KBIG.

Records which receive the greatest increase in Hit Factor

With rotations in HEAVY at WHAI, WLEV, WMJQ, WAHR, WLET, KAYL, KLSS, KMXV, WFRO and B100.

Increasing his previous HIT FACTOR by 16%, Rick Astley's "The Ones You Love" climbs from #22 to #14 on the chart with a total of 160 stations playing. New at WCEM, WLMX, WQID, KFML, WCPZ, WQLH/FM, KBLQ, KSTT, K103 and KESZ.

By topping PLUS FACTOR with a 36% increase is the HOTTEST single of the week, Mariah Carey's "Without You." In three short weeks Mariah is being heard on 157 stations, that's 48 ADDs over last issue. Included in the new are WELI, WTSX, WQID, WRFC, KFYP, KRDI/FM, KSDN, WQLH/FM, WTPI, KELI, KVVLL, KBOI, KQMT and KXRO.

As mentioned, all three of the tracks in CHARTBOUND debut, with Linda Ronstadt leading the way at #34. "Oh No, Not My Baby," in its third week, is being played at 108 A/Cs, with 42 of those new and WKLI, WQLJ, WLMX, WQID, KLWN, WSPL, KBCQ, KESZ, KRNO/FM, KTHO and KFQD are among them.

Bruce Springsteen (above) enters the chart at #35 with the title track to the box-office smash Philadelphia. In its second week of release, 96 stations are on the "Streets Of Philadelphia," and 38% of those are HIT FACTORing. ADDED with WBEA, WCSO, WKSQ, WMBX, KMXV, WMT/FM, WHIZ, KESZ, KBOL, B100, KVVN/FM, KEYW/FM, etc.

Striding onto the chart from UP & COMING is Expose's "In Walked Love" at #39. The second MOST ADDED single of the week gathered 57 ADDs, bringing their total station count to 98. Among those stepping in with love are WGMT, WOBB/FM, WAHR, WHFX, WSTU, KFYP, KLSS, WFRO, KBCQ, KQMT, JOY99, KKIQ and Y92.

K.T. Oslin's "Feeding A Hungry Heart" projects a 25% increase in HIT FACTOR with only 51 stations playing it. Last issue's RECORD TO WATCH collected WSTU, WZDQ, KFMO, KWAT, WHCO, KCMT and KWXX with good rotations from WEIM, WBLG/FM, WNNC, KSDN, WRCO, KMGH, KBMG, etc.

Moving into the RECORD TO WATCH category is Chris Walker's "How Do You Heal A Broken Heart?" with only 38 stations playing but boasting a 39% HIT FACTOR. ADDs from WLEV, WMSQ, KBCQ, KXRO to list a few and rotations at K99, KLSY, WBMX, WMJQ, WSKY, WMT/FM, WLDR, WQLR and KVIL.

New Releases

MITCH MALLOY "Tumbling Down" (RCA)

Mr. Malloy's vocal talents were brought to our attention last Fall via Warren Hill's "I Still Believe In You." This debut track from his Ceilings And Walls album is a convincing pop treat that should be a sure winner with A/C.

BILLY JOEL "Lullabye (Goodnight, My Angel)" (Columbia)

Billy wrote this tender lullabye for his daughter, Alexa Ray. His third single from the River of Dreams (hits) album which has already had two Top Five tracks.

LEA SALONGA "Vision Of You" (Atlantic)

After one listen to this single from Lea's debut self-titled album you can hear why she is a superstar in her native Philippines. She has already had success in the U.S. with her voice; you'll recognize her as "Princess Jasmine" in Disney's Aladdin.

STAR TECH

AI Teller Tells All

About the Digital Revolution

And its Impact on Records & Radio

BY BEN FONG-TORRES

When Blockbuster and IBM announced, last spring, that they'd developed technology that would allow record stores to make their own CDs, therefore bypassing the traditional record distribution system, the recording industry huffed and puffed about how they hadn't been apprised of the development, and how concerned they were about copyrights and licensing.

Only one record company seemed to know exactly what the rapidly expanding video retailer and the computer giant were up to.

"MCA is developing its own technology for electronic delivery...which it intends to make available to the entire industry," Al Teller calmly announced. Those who know the 49 year-old Teller, chairman of the MCA Music Entertainment Group since 1989, weren't surprised. He's been booted up since the mid-'60s, when he was at Columbia University studying electronics engineering and working part-time at, of all places, IBM. While at Harvard, his computer skills helped him land a summer job at a management consulting firm whose clients included Columbia Records. Suddenly, he was in the record business, where he ascended to the presidency of CBS Records before joining MCA in 1988.

In recent months, it's Teller's voice that has spoken most knowledgeably about the likely impact of the rush traffic on the information superhighway on the music industries. At the same time, he's been the most protective of his business. Like his peers, he saw the IBM/Blockbuster development as more of an intervention than a mere invention. "We, as record companies, are already in the distribution business," he said. "Why would we empower somebody else to do that?...We should own that."

But it's not only record manufacturers and distributors that have a battle on their hands. Radio is being challenged by digital/cable delivery systems; television is either waiting for or dreading the arrival of the 500-channel system, through which consumers can do any number of things besides watching TV.

As for the record business: It has to wonder about the ramifications of make-your-own-CD systems. What's to stop artists from making and selling their own product, without labels? What's to stop customers from, one day, making their own CDs, paying for and pulling digital information off satellites, cables or fiberoptic lines and using laser printers to spit out a CD jacket?

Teller has considered all of these questions, and, one recent afternoon at his computer- and CDs-cluttered office at MCA in Universal City, met with GAVIN. He was in the midst of a rush of activity. MCA had just announced plans to open affiliate MCA labels in six European countries: France, Italy, Spain, Sweden, Belgium and Holland. The expansion, for which MCA will invest a reported $10 million in startup costs, would involve BMG International, with which MCA has a worldwide licensing and distribution deal, handling manufacturing, distribution and sales. MCA will focus on domestic A&R, marketing and promotion. The six new companies join MCA labels in London (where the European operations will be headquartered) and Germany.

The global expansion plans climaxed a year in which MCA broke its sales record of 1992. Though criticized as weak in rock, the company launched Meat Loaf's comeback, with sales of nearly four million units. "That was my signing,"

Teller says proudly. "There was a lot of skepticism, but I was convinced that he could have a major comeback." And MCA remained strong in Country and Urban. (Those two musical worlds hook up in another Teller idea: Rhythm, Country and Blues, an album of duets due out in March, with linkups including Al Green with Lyle Lovett and Vince Gill with Gladys Knight.)

For all this—not to mention his inestimable value as a master of technology—Teller is reportedly up for increased responsibilities with corporate parent MCA, Inc.

But we were at MCA to talk tech. And, looking sporty in a striped grey dress shirt, silver-patterned tie, and slacks, Teller was happy to comply.

You must've had one of the first personal computers.

The HP with the tape drive, 8K of memory...I was into those things right from the start. It occurred to me that this was profoundly important. Having been in an IBM mainframe envi-

TECH-TOCK, TECH-TOCK... A TECHNOLOGY TIMETABLE

1844: Samuel Morse's electric telegraph gets its first public demonstration. From Washington, D.C. to Baltimore, Morse sends the message: "What hath God wrought?"

1861: A transcontinental telegraph line begins operation.

1866: A telegraphic cable opens, and permanent communication by wire is established between the U.S. and Europe.

1876: Alexander Graham Bell succeeds with telephone transmission of a complete sentence: "Mr. Watson, come here,

I want you."

1877: Thomas Edison builds the first phonograph. Bell fashions the first microphone.

circa 1900: Edison and Dane Valdemar Poulsen experiment with magnetic recording.

1901: The first transatlantic wireless signal—the Morse code for the letter "s"—is sent from England to Newfoundland.

1920: KDKA in Pittsburgh is among the first commercial radio broadcasters, reporting Presidential election returns.

1925: The first commercial use of fax—facsimile—technology. Photos are transmitted over phone lines between New York, Chicago and San Francisco.

1927: Television is demonstrated publicly in the U.S.

1931: RCA introduces a 33 1/3 r.p.m. record, but its poor sound quality keeps it on a shelf. Meantime, a patent is granted for a system using coaxial cable as a long-distance medium for potential use in TV transmissions.

1933: Juke boxes become popular, and stereo is recorded on disc and film at EMI labs in the UK and at Bell Labs in the U.S.

DEVELOPING A POSITIVE PANIC

BY NATALIE DUITSMAN

Response to our "Dear Diary" series about a programmer's job loss and ideas for recovering has been so positive that we asked Talentmasters' Don Anthony to take up the baton. The following is the first of a three-part series on how to turn the panic of job loss into a positive search.

It's been weeks since you were let go. The hurt and anger of losing your job is still present. However, your money and self-confidence is diminishing more rapidly than you thought. Even your friends seem to be fading. When the phone rings it's like an alarm that awakes you from a bad dream. You pray it's good news. Sometimes it is; most often it's not. When you make calls, those which are unaccepted or not returned begin to feel like knock-out punches; all take their toll on your ability to keep fighting. You're reaching the point where you wonder whether radio is really the business for you. You're mad, depressed, angry, bitter, confused, scared. You're panicking.

"You wonder whether radio is really the business for you. You're mad, depressed, angry, bitter, confused, scared. You're panicking."

If you're unemployed and I've described your current state of mind please tear out this article and put it next to your notepad, the one you use when calling people about jobs. You may want to review it again just before you begin your day. (If you're employed you should read this article anyway and store it for possible future use. After all, this is radio.)

This article is about turning your panic and even fear into weapons for your job search. In fairness, the subject requires more than a page. After all, I don't want to give you the impression that all your problems can be remedied with only a few paragraphs. They can't! But maybe, just maybe, I can give you the one tip you need to get back into the job market.

Positive Panic Rule (PPR) #1: You Don't Have Time to Wait!

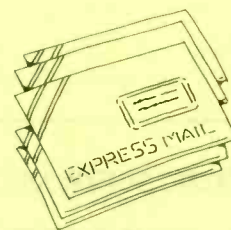

No matter what your severance pay was or how much money you've got stashed away, you have to move quickly in finding another job. As mentioned, your funds will diminish more rapidly than you think. Also, the longer you're out of work, the less attractive you are to potential employers.

Assume a sense of urgency in your approach to a new position, and do this from the moment you're let go. Remember, the job market doesn't pause for a couple of weeks while you take time to regroup. Some may ask, "Won't this sense of urgency cause even more panic?" Yes, absolutely—But it's good panic. It's getting you in the stream of things fast; putting you closer to your next job; getting you active and off the couch. It's also keeping you from the #1 job-kill-pill: Procrastination.

While you're at it, make sure your mailing habits work to your advantage as well.

Here are some quick tips:

1. Use U.S. Priority mail as much as possible when sending packages. It's only $2.90 for 2-day delivery and allows for quite a bit of weight. From an economical and efficiency point of view, it's unbeatable.

2. Try bringing letters directly to the Post Office so they can apply postage by meter. Since metered mail bypasses a lot of sorting procedures, it gets preferential treatment and could actually get out sooner.

3. Call your local Post Office and find out when their pick-up times are. This is different from drop-off times which are posted on their mailboxes. The pick-up time is when their mail is actually picked up and delivered.

Next week: Developing a work schedule and sticking to it. Catch Don Anthony in his presentation, Putting Power in Your Personal Marketing at the Gavin Seminar, Thursday, February 17 at 4 p.m.

"I know of one weekend I won't have dishpan hands."

"February 17, 18, 19. That's the 1994 GAVIN SEMINAR, of course, and I'm aiming to make my way to San Francisco to meet up with all my friends from radio and music once again. It amazes me how fast it comes around each year but I wouldn't miss it for the world.

"You see, as well as finding lots of familiar faces (and new ones!), I actually learn a lot from it, unlike some conventions I could mention. You get a nice mix of very specific sessions and broader topics which tackle the real issues. I hear there's going to be lots about some of them new technologies in 1994. I guess we've got to face up to change. Why, I'm even thinking of investing in one of those dishwashing things sometime soon. But that's another story.

"The other thing I like about the Seminar is the chance to cut a rug at the live performances. You can really let your hair down, in a manner of speaking, as well as finding out what the latest "big thing" is likely to be.

"So take a tip from a regular. Better book your place real fast on that new fangled Seminar Hotline (that's 415-495-3200, if memory serves me correctly) and feel the benefit of those early registration rates.

"As for the dishes, I guess I'll be letting those nice people at the Westin St. Francis take care of all that stuff."

"Nice talking to you."

1994 GAVIN SEMINAR

February 17, 18, 19 Westin St. Francis Hotel
 San Francisco

ronment, the idea that you could actually do computing on your own desk was so radically different.

If you're exposed to technology, you realize that once the basic scientific threshold has been passed, it's no longer a discovery threshold, but rather an engineering challenge, and the march of progress is relentless. Things will always become smaller, faster, cheaper, whatever. That's just the history of the techno business. No matter where it is, it's always just a step in an infinite process. It never is the ultimate "is." Which is why what's going on now has so much impact on the entertainment industry.

In your speeches, you often address the subject of change, and how many in the industry have that natural fear of change.

Whenever you have a comfort zone, when you're dealing in the reality you know and have become successful in, human nature wants you to freeze it in time and make it stay that way forever. Life doesn't work that way. Business history is littered with the corpses of thousands of companies that were once quite powerful, but who were ultimately brought to their knees and even worse, because they were not capable of or interested in adapting to changing realities.

You have now a structure in the music industry that's essentially been in place for decades. You have record companies which sign, record, market, promote and develop artists. You have a very well established distribution and retail structure which brings the products to the attention of the consumer. You have an exposure mechanism of radio that is very well entrenched and has been very important to this business, and all these pieces coexist and are symbiotically attached even though they don't see the obvious relationship sometimes. But it has all worked well for some years. The basic dynamic is going to change. Digital technology is going to force that to change.

Why was the record biz so shaken up with the IBM/Blockbuster announcement last year?

Here were two corporate entities outside the record industry, suddenly announcing a venture whereby they wanted to insert themselves directly into the distribution chain. That's what everybody was reacting to. The distribution part of our business is a very critical. It could be looked at as a shot across the bow or a wakeup call. This changes the entire nature of how the music is ultimately delivered to the individual.

About a month before the IBM/Blockbuster announcement, I wrote an editorial in Billboard which basically laid out this whole scenario, which is one that I've been thinking about for quite some time. I wanted to start pounding the drum a little bit and seeing if we could get some industry momentum. My premise was the idea of electronic delivery to the home was being constantly talked about. My own sense is that it will be quite some time before home delivery of both the audio and the graphics components will be able to be anywhere close to the saturation point, but in this intervening period, and perhaps for quite some time to come, if not indefinitely, there's an enormous opportunity to do that at the retail level.

What's happened since then? Have IBM and Blockbuster reached some settlement with the industry?

Teller and Meatloaf

I'm not sure if that's an accurate statement, I know they have been engaged in a dialogue with various record companies, ourselves included.

What's the timetable for MCA's CD-making technology?

The timetable is to have a prototype up and running within 12 months. Whether that means we'll have a half a dozen or a dozen or whatever, we will have a system operating. I would like to think that within 12 months after that, we could start having a significant roll-out of units.

One of the great challenges of this process is making it as user-friendly as possible. People have a very low threshold of pain when it comes to coming to grips with such things as programming a VCR. It's got to be obvious how to do it without any difficulty at all. I don't want to go into what I think it's going to end up being. It's going to work in such a way that not only is it easy but it will be vastly entertaining as well.

Radio has been impacted by such innovations as DMX, cable-delivered music. What's on the horizon for radio?

Broadcast radio as we know it will always have its place, whether it's analog or digital or whatever. I think what's going to happen, certainly for the perspective from being in your car, being on the beach, from the perspective of portability in instant access without having to be wired to something, radio's role is pretty powerful. I think where it starts to get a little tricky is in the home, when there will be without question all kinds of alternative ways to listen to music. Whether it be by a telco line, cable company, a satellite, whatever, and radio is going to have an interesting challenge there. The historical challenges of formats and finding your niche and positioning yourself in a market place relative to the demographics you're trying to attract in order to get the right advertising dollars—that dynamic is going to be complicated as you get all these very narrow-casted, high-quality delivery systems capable of pumping into your house, virtually anything you want to hear. If it then gets to the point of interactive listening, it raises the level of complexity several more notches. The role of radio in terms of deciding what it is you are providing to the listener can be rendered obsolete. I think radio is going to have to rethink a lot of what it's all about from an entertainment perspective.

What about TV? Changes there impact not only radio, but film and records as well.

We are all competing for the consumer's time and the consumer's dollar. In the broad world of entertainment, the competition for that is going to be fiercer than ever. There's a multiplicity of choices on every level—listening choices, viewing choices, game choices, virtual reality choices or any one of a number of choices we don't even know about yet. There are only 24 hours in a day. The average human being can only do one or two things at a time. Life's going to become much tougher for all of us. We'll all be forced to play our game much better. We're going to have to have the kinds of products that capture their attention. If we don't, we're history.

With technological advances, we've read about the possibility that in the future, record companies may not be needed. Artists can make their own CDs; stores can order and manufacture them on the spot, and, someday, the consumer may be able to purchase and make his or her own CD at home. What's left for record labels?

Any record company worth its salt is going to prove the necessity and the viability of its role in the scheme of things. Fundamentally, we find the talent and we develop the talent. That's the core reality of what a record company is. So far, I haven't seen any technological thing that's going to replace that process.

Artist imaging is a complicated process; it's a question of presenting the imaging to the public in a thoughtful kind a way. It represents who the artist really is, in addition to making all of those career elements work.

In this world of unfolding technology and constantly easier access between creator of RADIO NEWS...

KMPS has announced their new morning team, stealing Greg Thunder and The Waking Crew (featuring producer John Heifield, whose on-air role will be expanded) from crosstown KPLZ, a former Top 40 which is now hot A/C. The new lineup will include: MD Carl Ann from 9-1, "Tall Paul" Fredricks from 1-3, and Stubbs, who moves from middays to afternoons... WYQC-Nashville has gone full-time "Rockin' Country." Citing the recent Super Bowl halftime show and the success of their "Rockin' Country Weekends," the station, now known as "Rockin' Country Q 102.9" will feature a hybrid of hot country currents, along with cuts by artists like Bonnie Raitt, John Mellencamp, Steve Earle, Lynyrd Skynyrd, The Eagles and others. The fact that crosstown WGFX/The Fox has changed formats from classic rock to rock n' roll oldies no doubt affected Q-102's decision to go after that audience... With the extreme temperatures in Duluth, Minn., WUSZ has been giving away Collin Raye's Extremes album to the best "frozen cold" stories... WFMS-Indianapolis' morning team invited listeners to bring all their cold-weather reminders to the studio where they will be steam-rolled by a two-ton steamroller. In exchange for bringing in antifreeze, boots, space heaters, etc. listeners got gift certificates for spring floral bouquets... John Brooks has left WCTQ and is looking for his next opportunity. Give him a buzz at (813)

AROUND THE INDUSTRY...

Arista Texas announced its first signings at a press conference in San Antonio last week. It was no surprise that VP/GM Cameron Randle introduced Freddy Fender and Flaco Jimenez, two acts that he had previously managed. Other new signings come from the Tejano field—Joel Nava, Rick Orozco and La Diferenzia. "These entertainers... each contribute a unique talent that helps make this art form positive, inspiring and irresistibly danceable." Can't argue with that... The 23rd annual Fan Fair has already sold out, making it the fastest sellout in the history of the event. The week-long festival will take place June 6-12 and will feature an expanded schedule, with a full day of label showcases on Friday, June 11... The West Coast FanFest, which will be staged May 4-7, announced that all profits from ticket sales will be donated to Earthquake Relief in Los Angeles...

THE PARTY NEVER ENDS...

Liberty's Chris LeDoux, who is currently looking for songs for his next project, reintroduced himself to publishers in Nashville with an Ace Of Clubs showcase complete with confetti and pyrotechnics... Giant's James Stroud jumped behind the drum set at a recent showcase for newcomer Daron Norwood, much to the delight of the audience.

New Releases

WYNONNA

"Rock Bottom" (Curb/MCA)

Fresh from her Super Bowl appearance Wynonna releases this monster record, a funky personal manifesto from her excellent Tell Me Why album.

FAITH HILL

"Piece Of My Heart"

(Warner Bros.)

How long did it take you to recognize this song? Faith takes Janis Joplin's classic (actually a 1968 hit for her band Big Brother and The Holding Company) and transforms it into a driving Country lament.

AARON TIPPIN

"Honky Tonk Superman" (RCA)

Here's one that's certain to pack the dance floor. Tippin has perfected his rockin' tonkin' style, with a little fiddle and a lotta attitude. Just wait 'til you see the video!

RICK TREVINO

"Honky Tonk Crowd" (Columbia)

Trevino has fun with this Marty Stuart song (featured on Marty's last album). You can tell that this song describes Trevino—he sounds like he was born with his boots on. Love the line: "She didn't like hillbilly music/that was more than I could take."

SHENANDOAH

"If Bubba Can Dance (I Can Too)

(RCA)

Marty Raybon, Mike McGuire and Bob McDill wrote this fun, danceable song after seeing a television ad for a mail-order Country dance video.

BOB WOODRUFF

"Hard Liquor, Cold Women, Warm Beer" (Asylum)

Even though Woodruff's coping a Yoakam pose on the single cover, Asylum's newest artist is his own man. What he does have in common with everyone's favorite Hollywood hillbilly is a hard, honky-tonkin' sensibility, and a style so country it's a little groundbreaking.

ARTIST PROFILE

BELLAMY BROTHERS

FROM: Darby, Florida

LABEL: Bellamy Bros. Records

PROMOTION CONTACT: Gerrie McDowell (615) 327-7955

CURRENT SINGLE: "Not"

INSTRUMENTS: David Bellamy started playing the accordion at age nine.

BIG BREAK: They wrote "Spiders And Snakes" for Jim Stafford in the early '70s.

BACK-UP BAND: Ron and the Starfires

FUN FACTS: Known for their great song titles, some have come from strange places. David got his idea for "If I Said You Had A Beautiful Body (Would You Hold It Against Me)" from Groucho Marx, and "Lovers Live Longer" from a supermarket tabloid headline.

INTERNATIONAL STATUS: The Bellamys have long been popular in Europe and have earned gold albums in Germany, Austria, England, Norway and Sweden. They've also been dubbed Howard I and David I by German nobility and were knighted at Augustusburg Castle in Chemnitz, Germany.

THEY SAY: "We've always gone on gut feeling. I think we will always be an act that goes on gut feeling because it seems to work for us." —David Bellamy music and consumer of music, which could bypass all the traditional kinds of mechanisms that are in place, we will continue to have to prove our worth. I think that's a fair challenge.

Look what goes on now in terms of a lot of Alternative music. You have a lot of bands right now who go in and make their own record. They press up their own CDs and they sell them to these independent stores. They skip the record company level completely, even on the indie record level. That gets a little bit of a spark going, and that's always been a part of our business. I'm not fearful of that at all. I think it's healthy; it keeps all of us on our toes. Ultimately, if you want to reach a certain critical mass, if you really want to widen your circle of penetration, you need to draw on an organization with greater resources. I think there will be a role for record companies for many years to come.

In 1993, we heard a lot of talk about high-tech—but we also got a sense that there's more being dreamt up and produced than there is demand.

I think the average person basically doesn't buy into theory, they buy into reality. The reality is, if you put a product in front of a consumer that he or she likes, they'll respond to it. So far, the new digital super highway has been seminars as opposed to anything real coming from it—yet. But that's to be expected. It's a fascinating topic for journalists to write about. Ultimately it's going to have to test itself in the market place and those tests will be unfolding very rapidly in the next few years.

What lessons can be drawn from the battle between the MiniDisc and the DCC, neither of which has taken the music world by storm?

I could quarrel with the timing of both those formats. The compact disc still has further penetration to go, it's obviously become fundamentally the primary carrier of choice for our industry. The cassette is the portable medium. The role for any new configuration such as MiniDisc and DCC is from the perspective of portability, in my opinion. I don't see any particularly compelling reason why someone would want to go from compact disc in their home to MiniDisc or DCC. If you could show the consumer that you have a substantially improved portable medium, then you have viability for your product. But one of the challenges that both of these formats have on that score is that even though they are digital, as opposed to analog cassette, there's been a lot of improvements in the sonic quality of analog cassettes over the last couple of years. And for the average person in a portable environment, the shades of differences sonically become too small to say, "This is good enough for me." To spend more money on a hardware investment and start collecting new software might not be the decision they wish to make. I don't think it's nearly as clear cut a delineation between the old and the new as it was when compact disc came out. It was a very sexy product and it worked. I think MiniDisc and DCC have more difficult marketing mountains to climb.

What do you think about using research and music testing?

I'm not a huge fan of that. At CBS Records, the lobby was endlessly filled with people from off the street who were being shown into rooms where they held a little gizmo and they offered their opinion on new pilots for television shows. Those tests had a dismal track record. I don't think that it's as simple as playing a record for somebody to determine whether or not you have a hit.

Certainly in terms of, let's say, a pop single, or a R&B single, if you're looking for simple reaction to a single, yeah, you could play a record for a group of people and they could probably give you an opinion as to whether or not they like it. You could probably get an indication that it might be a hit or not be a hit. Frankly, that's what record company people are supposed to do. If our creative judgments aren't good, we won't be saved by audience testing.

With all the talk around us, every day, of mergers of entertainment and technology companies, what's in the future for MCA?

We are already an overall huge entertainment entity. The kinds of combinations that have been going on with great heat are combinations of TELCO and cable companies. Rather than have a shootout, they have decided it's best to join forces. Delivery system/software combo where it's one thing to have the highway, now you need some cars. There are a lot of potential alliances that are being looked at in that way. We are already a full-fledged entertainment company. I still think the ability to create content is a very powerful bargaining chip at the table and the exact nature of how these alliances really have to be made, I think is really far from being settled. I don't think you have to be joined at the hip to make it work. All of us at the senior levels at MCA are looking around the terrain, we all see what's going on, and we're trying to be thoughtful about what it is we have to do to remain very competitive. ●

MANAGEMENT

P.D. NOTEBOOK

BY ERIC NORBERG

A GM'S EQUATION

This is an open letter to program directors from the general manager of a locally-programmed FM station. It was inspired by something his PD said to him. "We wanted to invite a few dozen people to do some local auditorium testing of some of the songs we play," he said. "I asked him who we should invite and he replied, 'I really don't know very many people in town.' The thought occurred to me that it's difficult to frequently changing jobs and changing communities, how can they quickly learn about their new communities? What are some good ways to learn what their new listeners are interested in? How can they avoid making mistakes because they don't know their new communities?

"Good PDs should read GAVIN and other industry trades, but what else can they do to round out their knowledge? Not just of the community as a whole, but of the com-successfully program a radio station when you don't have any one-to-one contact with the audience."

Here's this GM's open letter to you, for your comments:

"What are some good ways for program directors to get a feel for the distinctive characteristics of the community they're living in? In these days of 50-channel television and instant satellite communications, what's popular in one community probably is going to be popular in another. It doesn't take a lot of thought to program Mariah Carey, Billy Joel and Linda Ronstradt. But each community does have its own distinctive traits. While a trip to Florida may be a great contest prize in one town, another community might prefer to win a trip to Arizona. While football might be big in one town, hockey or baseball or basketball might be big in another one.

"With announcers and program directors community they serve?"

These are some very good questions. The station that catches the attitudes and spirit of their community will beat the competition in an otherwise even fight. And a satellite-programmed station should always be vulnerable to a sharp, locally-programmed competitor, all things being equal.

The fact that things don't always turn out that way certainly brings home the fact that the questions this general manager raises are relevant to, and raise troubling questions for, many of the program directors in the business today.

I'd really like your thoughts on this. I bet if we draw a dozen responses we'll have a dozen different answers—all good. Fax me or write c/o GAVIN.

I hope to see you in person at the 1994 GAVIN SEMINAR in San Francisco from February 17-19. If you haven't made your plans to be there yet, it's not too late. ●

SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 19

9:30 a.m. sharp! MixMaster Music System: The Ultimate Demonstration—Colonial Room
Attention all formats! This will be one of the Seminar's most talked-about sessions as the Zimmermen and Tony Schondel of KIFM-San Diego welcome Frank Cody and his associates from Broadcast Architecture. We will actually perform a music test on a group of Gavin Seminar attendees using the MixMaster System. After a round of testing, a panel of programmers (Steve Feinstein of KKSF, Lee Hansen of WNUA and Monica Logan of Smooth Sounds) will interpret the data. Cody and his associates will provide color analysis. The Zimmermen and Tony Schondel will referee the audience reaction.

11:30 a.m. A³ On The GRIDdle—Elizabethan A/B

The controversial GRIDdle makes it's Gavin Seminar debut. Using symbols from the A³ Boomer Grid, programmers will define the sounds of their stations by reacting "blindfold-style" to bytes of upcoming releases. The hosting team of Kent Zimmerman and Jim Trapp of KZON are back as well, with a few surprises.

KAREN FARR
Sistine (November)

After living with this one for several weeks, we can attest to the fact that the artwork of Sistine wears well. Pressed to describe Philly's Karen Farr, besides her own original slant on relationships, sonically she vaguely recalls Joni during her troubled For The Roses era. While the moods vary, the piano work on "Riot Act" into "Words" combined with the lyric work lead an aggressive "sensitive" attack. Like Michelangelo's own Sistine masterwork, much of the inspiration seems to have come from a reclining position.

VANCE GILBERT
Edgewise (Philo/Rounder)

Yes! Here's the next link in the Vega Colvin Gorka Story chain of perk and natural talent. A funny-faced troubadour, Vance Gilbert has a contagious sense of craftiness to his music, spinning out of the folk idiom with gobs of personality and Jazz-flavored chords. If you remember a young Rickie Lee Jones, Vance mixes ingredients in much the same way. His clear and pleasing voice mixes with the fluid guitar work of Duke Levine. Just one listen and it's clear why pickers and singers like Shawn Colvin, Patty Larkin, David Wilcox and Tuck and Patti are just a few of Vance Gilbert's famous fans. "Good Cup Of Coffee" is a wonderful portrait from a black singer in a white folk(y) world. We highly recommend Edgewise.

SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 19

9:30 a.m. sharp! MixMaster Music System: The Ultimate Demonstration—Colonial Room
Attention all formats! This will be one of the Seminar's most talked-about sessions. The Zimmermen and Tony Schondel of KIFM-San Diego welcome Frank Cody and his associates from Broadcast Architecture. We will actually perform a music test on a group of 1994 Gavin Seminar attendees using the MixMaster System. After a round of testing, a panel of programmers (Steve Feinstein of KKSF, Lee Hansen of WNUA and Monica Logan of Smooth Sounds) will interpret the data. Cody and his associates will provide color analysis. The Zimmermen and Schondel will referee audience reaction.

1:30 p.m. The New and Improved Analog A² Jukebox Jury—

Elizabethan A/B

The A² Jukebox Jury is back by popular demand! Staying one step ahead of imitators, we've changed the game rules a bit. Co-hosts Dore Stein of KKSF and Kent Zimmerman present the music.

3:15 p.m. Jazz/A² One On One: Reissues For The Future with Producer Joel Dorn—

Elizabethan A/B

Co-hosted by the Zimmermen, our very first Jazz/A² "One On One" will be a casual conversation with producer/storyteller Joel Dorn will discuss the art of putting together the Atlantic Jazz Gallery/Rhino reissue series. We'll talk informally about the artists as well as the process of reissuing the works of John Coltrane, Rahsaan Roland Kirk, Eddie Harris, Les McCann, Charles Mingus, Fathead Newman and preview upcoming packages from Keith Jarrett, Yusef Lateef, and the famed Montreux Festival tapes.

Inside Alternative

At radio, we note that at WCHZ-Augusta, Mark Copeland is out and Ronnie Ramirez from sister-station KTOZ-Springfield is in. At least temporarily. He'll take calls 3-6 p.m. EST, while Rob Nicholson maintains his current hours of Wednesday and Thursday 11 a.m.-3 p.m.

KUSF-San Francisco will be hosting a reunion of sorts on Sunday, February 20. Former staffers interested in coming in for an airshift that day should call Kate Ingram at (415) 386-KUSF. Many of you will already be in town because of the Seminar, so get in touch and be a part of this overdue reunion.

In record company news, former WERS-Boston music director Kerri WERS has been named national director of college radio for Relativity Records. She'll be working out of the Los Angeles office and can be reached at (310) 212-0801.

Plenty of rumbling going on in L.A.—and no, we're not talking about earthquakes. Immortal Records' newest signing, April's Motel Room, rocked the packed-with-mostly-industry-types Troubadour last week. Keep an ear out for this hotly-tipped band.

Quite a few notables in town last weekend for the annual Noise Pop Festival held at Bottom Of The Hill. The Want Ads' Dave Sanford, Relativity's Kerri Savage, A&M's Teresa Ensenat, Elektra's Brian Landau, Columbia's Dave Margulies and of course, GAVIN's Seana Baruth witnessed awesome shows from The Meices, Overwhelming Colorfast, The Fastbacks and Hazel, among others.

About the chart: Beck retains its hold on Number One by a comfortable margin, but judging from this week's 12-3 mega-jump, Tori Amos is setting herself up for a big takeover, possibly next week.

Both Nirvana and Smashing Pumpkins regain their bullets this week, due to new airplay action on the "All Apologies" and "Disarm" singles, respectively.

Better than chocolate: I'm seeing The Wonder Stuff with Dig and Teenage Fanclub with Yo La Tengo this weekend. Yes, there is a God, and he loves me.

"It's a perfect hit song...I'm a brother."

Rick Lambert, P.D. KNDD

"After 'Laid', I didn't think James could do it again! 'Sometimes' I'm wrong! Since day one this song has garnered strong phones and positive reactions!"

Mary Moses, M.D. KTCL

"I couldn't wait for the single; I played 'Sometimes' when it was still an import."

Christian D. n.h. M.D. WZRH

"We're playing James, and we love it here. Huge phones great lyrics, and it seems as if they're finally breaking through!"

most comprehensive work of their ten-year history. And like many of the gems on Doughboy Hollow, "Harness Up" maintains a sharp, well-spaced sound so crisp your sternum reverberates with every beat of the drum. It's precisely that understated power and articulated flair for dramatics that have won Died Pretty so many devoted fans over the years. This kind of talent is measured on a world-wide scale, and one listen tips the balance in Died Pretty's favor. —LINDA RYAN

Labour Of Love (Mammoth)

This Australian three-piece's version of New Order's "Bizarre Love Triangle" is getting tons o' airplay on Live 105—I mean, you could probably pull up a BDS report as long as my arm. Other than that, I don't know much about the band. What I can tell you is singer Angie Hart's somewhat girlish voice is an instrument in itself, and when played in this kind of sparse musical context, can be mesmerizing; the intimate, acoustic setting plays up her warm vocals dramatically. Of the seven songs on Labour Of Love, I like the covers best. I realize that's somewhat of a backhanded compliment, but their version of "Bizarre Love Triangle" and Chris Knox's beauty, "Not Given Lightly," are two very strong tracks, as is the band's, "Paper, Bullets, Walls." —LINDA RYAN

"Sometimes" (Fontana/Mercury)

When the Laid album first came out, a few programmers didn't hear the title track immediately, and I suppose with good reason: it's an unconventional hit in that it doesn't really have a chorus—therefore it doesn't follow the verse-chorus-verse formula. Until that song sparked, some stations drifted to "Sometimes," which stands as the logical follow-up single. Playing on frontman Tim Booth's flair for drama and romance, "Sometimes" takes you up and leaves you basking in the glow of its wake. There's a lesson to be learned here—James is a band whose songs you must feel, not hold up to conventional formulas. And if you still aren't convinced (what will it take?), James has just started a two-month American tour. See 'em live and never doubt their power again. —LINDA RYAN downright charming in their child-like wonder. But don't expect some sappy, over-produced piece of pap; Euegenius' bark is as loud as its bite. And what they may lack in the slick/finesse department, they make up for with plain ol' good tunes. I'll take substance over style any day of the week. —LINDA RYAN

"Cut Your Hair" (Matador)

I know plenty of people who are anxiously awaiting this piece of plastic, and those that aren't will be. After their (hilarious) contribution to the No Alternative compilation, one would think Sacramento's Pavement worked out their R.E.M. fetish, but the initial listen to "Cut Your Hair" leaves me wondering. They're making fun of some band—maybe themselves? In any case, "Cut Your Hair" is slop-pop at its finest. Ringing guitars, the plodding bass and plucky drums, the falsetto "doot doot doot doos," all conspire to do my head in. In fact, I'm downright giddy. This is one of those songs where street-cred mingles with radio-friendliness—if only for a moment. Another gem in a fantastic week for new music.

HARVEY SID FISHER ASTROLOGY SONGS (AMARILLO, P.O. BOX 24433, SAN FRANCISCO, CA 94124)

Ah, now here's an album I feel uniquely qualified to review, one that incorporates two of my dearest loves—music and astrology.

Unfortunately, Harvey Sid Fisher's music leaves more to be desired than does his astrology, but let's put on a brave Sagittarian face and accentuate the positive. Once, (in the late '60s?) there was a rash of records like this one, but I think the artists responsible for those relics took themseles rather seriously; it's impossible to believe that of Fisher. On the different tracks of Astrology Songs, Harvey Sid matches his music to each individual sign: the Sagittarius song is enhanced by a sassy sax; "Capricorn" boasts a earthy calypso swing, "Moonchild" is sweepingly romantic, and "Scorpio" is reminiscent of a '70s porn soundtrack. The somewhat hollow nature of many of these backing tracks (as well as the prom-prom-prominently up-front vocals) serve to reinforce what you've probably assumed—the lyrics are this LP's raison d'etre.

Soooo, HSF seems to have a better grasp of the fire and air signs (Aries, Leo, Sagittarius, Gemini, Libra, Aquarius) than of the water and earth (Moonchild, Scorpio, Pisces, Taurus, Virgo, Capricorn). His portraits in "Gemini" and "Sagittarius" seem right-on; his "Moonchild" and "Taurus" characterizations, however, are particularly weak.

The Coalinga, California-based Amarillo label discovered Harvey Sid via a video version of this release. You can order it, as well as Fisher's Golf Songs and Golf Jokes, from Astrology Song's back panel, and you can get your astrological chart done—free of charge, even—by faxing me at (415) 495-6341 with the correct time, place and date of your birth. —SEANA BARUTH

NO SAFETY

LIVE AT THE KNITTING FACTORY (KNITTING FACTORY WORKS, 47 EAST HOUSTON ST., NYC 10012)

First impressions, as the saying goes, can be very telling, especially where music is concerned. No Safety immediately grabs attention with "Take Me," which offers an arsenal of scalding raw guitar that slides from industrial noise to ska, then abandons this groove for a drum-induced tribal romp. It's apparent that this quintet is into breaking new ground and shattering expectations. Although traces of Swell Maps and Joy Division surface, here is a brand new element on the periodic sound table. "Ms. Quoted" is a cover of the Clash classic "Magnificent Seven" done in double time. The subversive anthem's bite is intact, and a violin eventually mutates the song further into Soul II Soul disco druthers. "Balm" begins innocuously then builds to a crescendo of schizoid guitar and headstrong female vocals, and t°F Is For Fake's" twisted circus features the elephantine howl of guitars, kazoos, Tarzan movie drums and chanting vocals. "He's Some Kind Of A Dope Bitch" is a funkfest that segues into the dementedly manic "Master/Slave," and Specials fans will appreciate the instrumental "Guilty's" burping bass. I could go on about the delicious time signature changes and No Safety's talent for spinning disparate elements into an intriguing web of live sound. But, as they say, cut the chatter and spin the platter.

CRASH TEST DUMMIES Mmm Mmm Mmm Mmm (Arista)

If there's an Alternative outlet in town, you can hear how great this sounds on the air. Poised to enter the Top Ten on the Alternative chart, the Crash Test Dummies have enough of a groundswell at Top 40 to qualify as RECORD TO WATCH. Leslie Fram, APD of 99X-Atlanta, reports playing it in early December when it generated instant phones and sales.

THE OTHER TWO Selfish (Qwest/Reprise)

Anytime Stephen Hague gets involved in a production it's guaranteed to come complete with an extra coat of pop polish. The Other Two are Gillian Gilbert and Stephen Morris, the other two members of New Order, who together with Hague, create a surprisingly different treat for their longtime fans.

CULTURE BEAT Got To Get It (550/Epic)

Energy is what programmers keep begging for week after week and few releases last year provided a charge larger than Mr.

Vain's "Culture Beat." Sadly, the untimely death of producer Torsten Fenslau prevented him from enjoying success Stateside, but his concept lives on in productions such as this.

DANZIG Mother (American Recordings/Reprise)

Glenn Danzig is the brains behind a tune that's been around for about three years, but is now busting loose on our Gavin Rocks chart. Put a song with this much raw power in the hands of producer Rick Rubin, and something extraordinary is bound to happen.

PETER BLAKELEY I've Been Lonely (Giant)

It doesn't take any great insight to figure out that Australian Peter Blakeley has a love affair going with American funk and R&B. In fact, in his teens he discovered Marvin Gaye, a singer he still considers a major inspiration. That style clearly influences this rendition of a song first made popular by Frederick Knight in 1972 when it was titled, "I've Been Lonely For So Long."

SUDDEN CHANGE Comin' On Strong (east-west)

Sisters Linne and Jessie Modestin, along with Katia Pinard got together initially to become dancers. But since then, they've decided to add singing, writing and rapping to their list of skills. Keith Clark, PD at JAMMIN 92-Cleveland, is starting to spike this especially "smoooooth" release.

THE GLEE CLUB Mine (4AD)

The core of this Irish band is singer/songwriter Joanne Loughman and guitarist/violinist Hugh O'Carroll, who broke away from their former group because their penchant for the Cocteau Twins and My Bloody Valentine that didn't jive with their handmates' tastes. Mine is comprised of re-cut versions of earlier songs that appeared on an overseas EP, plus four additional tracks. Fans of female vocal groups like the Heart Throbs and Nightblooms will feel welcome at this club. "Need" features Loughman harmonizing with herself on a background vocal track, and showcases her stunning ability to sing both low and high parts. A pop sensibility emerges on "The Blame," as an addictive guitar curls around a sprightly beat. This one's invisible energy should give it radio legs. "Drives You Away" is a lulling journey combining violin and guitar with silken vocals, and "All The Promises" chorus echoes with more of Loughman's hypnotizing vocals. A final appraisal of this debut album leaves me thinking that The Glee Club is still tinkering with their identity, and is on the verge of growing into an even better, more self-assured band.

NKOTB Face The Music (Columbia)

The "kids" from Boston are back, only now they're men and have shortened their name to five simple letters—NKOTB. (And shame on you who still call them "New Kids!") For Face The Music they've enlisted the songwriting/production talents of Teddy Riley, Walter

Afanasiëff and Narada Michael Walden to deliver 67-plus minutes of hook-laden tunes. Automatic favorites are the mid-tempo "Girls," "Never Let You Go" (which some stations are playing as an album cut), "Mrs. Right," featuring Tavares on background vocals, and the ballads "Since You Walked Into My Life" and "I'll Still Be Loving You." Lukewarm radio response to the first single, "Dirty Dawg" may be related more to image than musical quality. Hopefully this album will be given a chance to demonstrate that their talent is intact and deserves to be heard.

BIG BLUNTS: 12 SMOKIN' HITS Various Artists (Tommy Boy)

"I wanna get blunted my brotha" seems to be the recreation cry for the hip-hop generation these days. Tommy Boy salutes this ethic with an intoxicating compilation of reggae and dancehall tracks that revere the cultural and artistic staple in all its forms—"bud-dah", 'ses', 'chronic', 'dank', 'herbals'..."Herbsman Smuggling" features Yellowman praising Jamaica's ganja suppliers for ensuring the high, Ninjaman calls for legalization with his hip-roller "Legalize The Herb," and Rita Marley delivers "One Draw," a feeeeeel-good reggae jam that offers a ganja lesson at the end. This album is more than a capitalization on cannabis sativa. It is a tribute to a way of life and a positive, irie vibe, ya-know! The chatah legends rule, from the pioneers mentioned above to Wayne Smith, whose hazy swaying vocals score all over again, remixed by Cypress Hill's DJ Muggs Old School Remix. B-Real even drops in for a blunted nasal verse. Whether hip-hop bobs your head or reggae butterflies your hips, get ready to pucker up your ears and take 12 smokin' hits.

COMPANY Devotion (Giant/Reprise)

If you're concerned about the company you keep, rest assured you're in good hands with this Company. The septet's music is what founding member Donald Lawrence calls inspirational, but these Charlotte, North Carolina-natives manage to deliver their message with a little funk/R&B. Besides the currently charted "Angel," treat your ears to a cover of Stevie Wonder's "Love's In Need Of Love," and EWF's "Devotion," plus "More Today Than Yesterday," "U Make It Right," "Someone's Praying For You" and "How You Make Me Feel So Good."

—JOHN MARTINUCCI

RICHARD THOMPSON Mirror Blue (Capitol)

Richard Thompson tinkers with an arsenal of acoustic instruments and electronic effects, giving Mirror Blue a high-tech gleam. The opening riff of "For The Sake Of Mary" is shamelessly lifted from Neil Young's "Cinnamon Girl." On "MGB-GT," Richard croons to a classic English car, unlike his last album when he swooned over his vintage motorcycle. Oddly, the song mixes Celtic and Arabic flavorings. Typically, Mirror Blue houses songs that have dust from roads all over the world. And what's a RT album without a tall tale? This time it's "Shane And Dixie," a charming Chuck Berry-esque mover about ill-fated lives of crime. Yes!
