Brunswick Plans Development Program

■ NEW YORK — Having wound up 1971 as the biggest year in the company's history, Brunswick Records is planning an extensive program geared to insure the firm's continued growth and development in the new year.

Pete Garris, Executive Vice President of Sales and Promotion, announced that he has completed lining up distributors across the country to handle the Dakar label, which is now being promoted and distributed by Brunswick. Garris advised that a new, colorful label has been designed to highlight the change in distribution that will be featured on all future product from Dakar. The first releases to carry the newly designed label will be singles by Jean Shy, Tyrone Davis, Johnny Sayles and Otis Leavill, plus a new album by Davis, all of which are set for release.

By DAVE FINKLE

■ NEW YORK — Allen Klein, head of ABKCO Industries, is sending a letter to Bhaskar Menon, head of Capitol Records, which he describes as "a reminder and a demand."

Klein announced his intention to send the letter at a press conference he called last week in order to clarify on-going misunderstandings about George Harrison's "Concert for Bangla Desh" album.

Klein said that his only contention with Capitol Records, who are distributing the Bangla Desh album in the United States, is that the company allegedly is failing to live up to their contractual agreement to

The 400 Turn Out At Elektra Convention

By TONY LAWRENCE

■ PALM SPRINGS — Elektra Records officially convened its first sales convention at 7:30 p.m. on Thursday, Jan. 6, at the Riviera Hotel. The four-day event began with a buffet dinner.

At first the plans seemed pleasantly routine enough for a record convention. However, after the first day's activities it became clear that the message was one of: "Relax and enjoy yourselves, get to know each other (around 400 salesmen, executives, promotion men, press and artists) and understand that Elektra is definitely a heavy for 1972."

Residuals, Younger Members On Managers' Agenda

By MITCHELL FINK

■ NEW YORK—Since 70% of all major talent in the entertainment industry reportedly is controlled by the Conference of Personal Managers, Record World sat down with the group's East Coast President, Robert Coe, specifically to be updated on the many faceted functions of the Conference.

As previously announced, Jess Rand is President of the West Coast Conference, and Gerard Purcell has stepped up as national President overseeing both coasts. The National Conference meets four times per year, and their last meeting was held on Sept. 14, 1971.

Coe began: "The problem of uncollected residuals has been plaguing the industry for years. At our last meeting steps were initiated to involve AFTRA and SAG, and make them aware that

Columbia, WB Tribute Guthrie Via Concert LPs

Joining forces on the Columbia-Warner Brothers Woody Guthrie concert albums, from left: Harold Leventhal, producer of the concerts and albums; Mrs. Marjorie Guthrie, widow of Woody; Clive Davis, President of Columbia Records; Joe Smith, Warner Brothers Exec VP; Leventhal; and Pete Seeger.

■ Columbia Records and Warner Bros. Records have concluded arrangements to release the historic "Tribute to Woody Guthrie" concerts recorded in 1968 at Carnegie Hall and in 1970 at the Hollywood Bowl.

Clive Davis, President of Columbia Records announced that Columbia will release Volume I of the "Tribute to Woody Guthrie" LP as Warner Bros. Records Executive Vice President Joe Smith simultaneously announced that Warners will release Volume II.

The tribute albums include performances by Arlo Guthrie, Will Geer, Robert Ryan, Odetta, Bob Dylan, Judy Collins, Pete Seeger, Richie Havens, Tom Paxton, Joan Baez, Peter Fonda, Country Joe McDonald, Earl Robinson and Jack Elliott. Columbia and Warner Bros. are coordinating joint national advertising, promotion, publicity and merchandising campaigns. Both volumes of the tribute share the same cover art work and sales on the two will be tabulated on a joint basis with proceeds to go to the newly created Woody Guthrie Tribute Fund. This fund will be used to create a Woody Guthrie library at his birthplace in Okenah, Oklahoma; also, to further medical research on Huntington's Disease (the affliction which took Woody Guthrie's life in 1967) and to create a Woody Guthrie scholarship in folk lore and folk music.

Harold Leventhal, producer of the concerts and the records and a trustee of the Tribute to Woody Guthrie Fund, carried on the negotiations between the two record companies over the past months.

"This marks a milestone in the record business," Leventhal states. "Both companies will distribute the tribute LPs at cost, and all the performers have waived royalties so that all the profits can go directly to the fund. We have edited the tapes from the Carnegie and Hollywood Bowl performances to create two exciting LPs that make for a memorable recording of the music and writings of Woodie Guthrie."

Millard Lampell, an old friend of Guthrie's, adapted and staged both the Carnegie Hall and Hollywood Bowl tributes.

The trustees of the Woody Guthrie Tribute Fund consist of Moe Asch, Marjorie Guthrie, Nora Guthrie, Joseph Taubman as well as Harold Leventhal. The Advisory Board of the Fund includes Al Brackman, Judy Collins, Ossie Davis, Bob Dylan, Jack Elliott, Peter Fonda, Will Geer, Ronnie Gilbert, Louis H. Gordon, Arlo Guthrie, Richie Havens, Lee Hays, Fred Hellerman, Jac Holzman, Millard Lampell, Guy Logsdon, Joe McDonald, Brownie McGhee, Joe North, Odetta, Richard A. SESAC New Campaign To Sign Writers

■ NEW YORK—A. H. Prager, Executive VP and Managing Director of SESAC, Inc., has announced that SESAC, previously known primarily as a publisher oriented licensing organization, is now offering direct affiliations to composers, authors and writers in every field of contemporary music.

"In making this significant move, SESAC specifically recognizes the dynamic impact that young writers and performing groups have made on today's music scene and on the entire entertainment industry," said Prager.

In conjunction with the major policy change, Prager also announced a revised incentive program for SESAC affiliates which is designed to keep writers' and publishers' compensations at a competitive level in the industry. These combined changes, which were made effective retroactive to Jan. 1, 1972, place the licensing firm in an enviable position to make even greater strides in the future. SESAC plans to extend its present repertory in all areas and is undertaking a comprehensive campaign to sign up creators in every field of music. The firm will continue to promote its extensive repertory among music users throughout the world and will devote the same personal guidance and service to its writers as it has to its established affiliates for the past 40 years.

Joining SESAC's established list of writers including Ted Harris, Mosie Lister, Bobby Hackett, Bill Gaither, James Blackwood and John Peterson are such names as Glenn Ray, Eddie Noack, Otis Skillings, Jeremiah Stone, Peggy Forman and Raymond A. Smith, all of whom have been signed in recent weeks.

Everything's Coming Up 'Sunshine' for Jonathan

■ Jonathan Edwards is a modest, unassuming singer-songwriter-guitarist who has somehow managed to make it without all the hype and false promise that so often accompanies such success.

This week his catchy single "Sunshine" rises to No. 3 with a bullet on the singles chart, and helps propel his "Jonathan Edwards" album into the top 50, also with a bullet. Needless to say, the demand for live performances from Jonathan and his bassist Stu Schulman has grown to the point where they now must turn down a great many offers. (Edwards is on the Macon-based Capricorn Records, distributed by Ateo.)

Edwards' musical roots range from country and bluegrass to blues to the gospel music he used to sing with friends in churches. Like most performers, he went through a period of playing to unappreciative audiences, and he spent the early '60s bumming around with many different groups. Then, after being discovered by Peter Casperson, Edwards spent five years as lead singer with Sugar Creek. He made the decision to break from the group in 1970, and spent most of that year traveling, singing and making "Jonathan Edwards" for Capricorn.

And as the album reveals, his talents don't end with "Sunshine"; many of the other tunes on the album, notably "Morning Train" and "Shanty," are equally spirited and engaging. Mostly, his songs reflect a happiness that he is trying to communicate to his audience; as he puts it, "There's a joy I get from playing music for people that I can't really describe . . . I'm trying to share this joy with all the people I play for; I can't keep it to myself any longer."

With all the people Jonathan Edwards is now reaching through his records and appearances, he needn't worry any longer about communicating his message to an audience.

IRC Distributes ABKCO

■ MASPETH, N. Y.—Jack Silverman, President of International Recotape Corp., record and tape distributor, has announced that IRC has been appointed exclusive distributor for New York, New Jersey and Connecticut by ABKCO Industries for all their tapes and recordings. The first release, the Rolling Stones' "Hot Rocks" tape on 8-track, cassette and reel-to-reel, will be shipped the week of Jan. 17.

Mrs. Ware Jewel Gospel Promotions VP

Irene Johnson Ware, Stan Lewis

■ SHREVEPORT, LA.—Irene Johnson Ware has been named Vice President in Charge of Gospel Promotions for Jewel Records, announces President

Stanley J. Lewis.

Mrs. Ware was born into a family of gospel singers and preachers, and her grandfather, Rev. J. B. Weaver, is Pastor of the Greater Mt. Olive Baptist Church. Mrs. Ware, who was graduated from Allen Institute and furthered her education at Besteda's School of Cosmetology, entered radio as an announcer at WGOK. She joined NATRA in 1965 and was instrumental in getting the organization to recognize gospel music. She was Chaplain for NATRA for four consecutive years.

In October, 1971, the National Association of Gospel Announcers and Affiliates Worldwide, Inc., was organized and Mrs. Ware was elected Executive Director.

Al Green Gets Big London Push

■ London Records is wheeling up its biggest promotional guns in support of Al Green, whose "Let's Stay Together" is now in the top 5 singles charts. Green's LP, "Gets Next to You," is also a major chart entry.

London is preparing a four-part blast-off for his new album, "Let's Stay Together." First-up, a mailing of several thousand "birth" announcements will be made to traders and press and promo people throughout the world, heralding the "birth" of a new hit album. One week later, the same extensive mailing list will receive a special package with a mini-cassette containing four selected tracks from the new album. The cover of this will be the same as that on the album itself (to come later) which in turn duplicates a recent giant Al Green poster that was prepared and distributed by the company.

Finally, the third week brings a mailing of the new album itself, which contains inside the package a slick of the cover and on the cover itself, a special message to the recipient from D. H. Toller Bond, President of London Records, who takes note of the high regard in which the company holds Al Green and outlines some of its plans for the artist. The final phase of the promotion incorporates a heavy supporting ad campaign on radio and in a host of publications.

Prior to that, he was based in Los Angeles as Advertising Manager of Billboard, owner of his own firm, Bob McCluskey Associates, and before that was Sales Manager for RCA Records. Artie Ripp met from Can who brought group to ABC/Par

where they had a recording contract and eventually cut a local hit.

After deciding that superstardom was not in his immediate future, Ripp decided that he wanted to learn as much about the music business in as short a period as possible. He looked around for the right man to apprentice under and he chose George Goldner who paid him $50 a week plus all he could learn. Ripp and Goldner were inseparable until 1962 when the latter liquidated everything and joined Roulette. Ripp, however, felt that there was one other aspect of the industry to be learned: publishing. He joined Alden Music as assistant to Don Kirshner and Al Nevins working with their writers and producers (Carole King, Gerry Goffin, Barry Mann, Cynthia Weil, Neil Sedaka, Lou Adler and Howard Greenfield)

for about a year.

It was during this period that Phil Spector was convinced by Ripp to cut "Uptown" with the Crystals. Immediately afterwards, Ripp started Goldie Records with Goldie Goldmark, a company that lasted six months until being bought as a capital loss by Premier Albums. Ripp went over to Premier for a short period of time, just long enough to cut "Just One Look" with Doris Troy (it took about an hour).

By now Ripp wanted his own label and in March of 1964 he became a partner in Kama Sutra Records and later Buddah Records. He recorded the Lovin' Spoonful, Melanie and Sha Na
Na, among others, and finally sold out his share of Buddah/Kama Sutra for which he still receives a third of the profits for the next two years. Ripp's newest venture is as head of Family Productions and Records in association with Famous Music.

This exclusive two-part Record World interview with him was conducted one afternoon amid the dynamic decor of his hilltop hideaway.

Record World: How did Kama Sutra start?

Ripp: In March, 1964, Phil Steinberg and Hy Mizrahi approached me about coming into business with them in exchange for a third of the company. They told me I could do anything I wanted as long as I could find a way to pay for it. So we became partners. When I came into the company the assets were $400.
The rent was $465 a month. The secretary got $50 a week and they had a songwriter named J. J. Jackson who was getting $50 a week. So we were out of business the minute I came in.

At that point I looked through their catalogue and came across a demo that Shadow Morton had written called "Remember Walkin' in the Sand." George Goldner had just gone into part-of them went

Perry, Beau
room. In June,

Record World: How did the B... evolve to your company?

Ripp: A little while after opening up Kama Sutra Productions
"Leader of the Pack" went number one and "Come a Little Bit Closer" went to number three, Erik Jacobson and Bob Covallo came into 1650 Broadway after being turned down by 15 record companies and they went up to see Koppelman and Rubin who had also just opened up. They played them a dub of "Do You Believe in Magic" and Koppelman and Rubin called us. I listened to this worn-out dub that had been through 15 labels and it blew my mind. I made the deal that night. Jac Holzman was after the group and Phil Spector was flying in that night to talk to them.

Record World: What was the "Spoonful" sound that you heard on that dub?

Ripp: I heard a strange instrumental sound, an auto harp and this very sweet voice of John Sebastian and those incredible lyrics. Innocence is probably the best word. It wasn't professing any kind of revolution. There was nothing super-intellectual about it. It was gentle on your head and you could tap your feet.

The surprising thing about "Magic" was that it never got as big as it should have. It was really a turning point song in rock and roll. It related—much like Chuck Berry's "Roll Over Beethoven," a specific description of the music and what the music makes you do; and "do you believe in magic in a young girl's heart/how the music can free her whenever it starts/and it's magic when the music is groovy/makes you feel happy like an old time movie/I'll tell you about the magic that'll free your soul/but it's like telling a stranger about rock and roll" made it clear that they were one group that truly brought us back to being kids.

Record World: Were the Spoonful playing dates at this time?

Ripp: They had been thrown out of the Night Owl Cafe. The guy there said they were the worst group he'd ever heard. So they went into the basement of the Albert Hotel, rehearsed and were then allowed to come back and play.

Record World: What does "Kama Sutra" mean to you and why was that name chosen?

Ripp: It was originally a book written in the 1400's about love and sex and teaching partners how to treat one another and how

A performance by Boz Scaggs and his band is quite an experience. The air is absolutely electric.

San Francisco was the first to pick up on Boz. And now he's spread through the rest of the country.

The new album is a combination of the energy that a Boz Scaggs performance generates, and of the subtle, lovely music that Boz creates.

His new single, "Runnin' Blue," has been getting FM air play all over the country. And some of the most important Top-40 stations are already on it.

If you haven't seen Boz live, it may sound hard to combine blasting, driving, horn-band rock and roll, and gentle fluid lyricism. But fortunately you can be as easily convinced as the rest of the country:

CHANTILLY LACE (Glad, BMI)

The "Chick A Boom" man should return to the charts with this riotous reworking of the Big Bopper's golden oldie. Tons of fun!

I'LL NEVER LEAVE YOU LONELY
(Johnson-Hammond, BMI)
Soul man has experienced regional r&b success with previous releases and will do at least as well with his latest, a medium tempo outing.

BULLANGUS—Mercury 73265
RUN DON'T STOP (Engagement, BMI)

UNCLE DUGGIE'S FUN BUS RIDE (Engagement, BMI)
New group describes its sound as riff-rock and the description proves apt in their first single as the riffs comes fast, hard and heavy.

JOE THOMAS—Today 1507 (Perception)
CHITLINS AND CUCHIFRITOS (Neepat, BMI)
TALK TO ME (Lois, BMI)

Joe may or may not be the Ebony Godfather, but one thing is sure. He's got one fine jazz single here. Perfect time-fill for most formats. Incredible swinging flute.

JOHNNY PEARSON ORCHESTRA—Mercury 73270
SLEEPY SHORES (Easy Listening, ASCAP)

Pretty orchestral instrumental just could be this year's "Love Is Blue" as the label no doubt wishes. Certainly a must for MOR.

RECORD WORLD ALBUM PICKS

DIONNE

DIONNE WARWICKE—

Warner Bros. BS. 2585.

This is Dionne Warwicke's long-awaited first album from Warner Bros., and it's exquisite. For it, her Svengalis Hal David and Burt Bacharach have composed three transcendently-lovely new ballads, "I Just Have to Breathe," "The Balance of Nature" and "If You Never Say Goodbye."

FATS DOMINO

United Artists UAS 9948.

This is the collection of Fats Domino standards to own. Not only are 28 songs included, but there is also a concise biography of Fats along with a discography. Needless to say, rock and roll would not be rock and roll without Fats Domino, nor would Pat Boone be Pat Boone. A must.

PHASE III

THE OSMOND BROTHERS—

MGM ISE 4796.

The Osmond Brothers include their new single on this package and also try for and achieve a variety of moods. The fellows have established themselves as an important show biz act and this collection will add to their eminence. Very groovy.

CASS ELLIOT

RCA LSP 4619.

Cass Elliot has made a succession of gorgeous, carefully-prepared albums. This one is her first for RCA, and hopefully it will bring her renewed luck. The beauty here, which she perhaps can establish, is the Beach Boys' Bruce Johnston's "Disney Girls." Top drawer.

ALL THE GOOD TIMES

NITTY GRITTY DIRT BAND—

United Artists UAS 5553.

The Nitty Gritty Dirt Band keep it, as is their wont, nitty, gritty and dirty and they give old and new songs the country treatment. Hank Williams's "Jambalaya" is one of the cuts and looks to be the next single and a hot one at that. "Jamaica, Say You Will" also nice.

BRAIN CAPERS

MOTT THE HOOPLE—Atlantic SD 8304.

This album is dedicated to James Dean, according to the liner notes. This means another excursion back into the '50s, the tour guided by a '70 rock group. Even the cover features pop '50s commercial art. So the accent is on rock and roll, and the rock and roll is highly acceptable.

ISLANDS

KING CRIMSON—Atlantic SD 7212.

Quiet, exotic, personal are three adjectives that can be applied to King Crimson's new album. In fact, the entire package has the air of a recently-popular tv commercial for Trinidad (also an island). Tranquil, passionate, et cetera. Crimson fans will get what they paid for.

TEENAGE LICKS

STONE THE CROWS—Polydor SD 5020.

Maggie Bell, Les Harvey and Colin Allen are still in Stone the Crows and they are still the foundation of a strong rock group that deserved better with its first album and may find it with the second. Bob Dylan's "Don't Think Twice" gets its best reading since PP&M.

GENYA RAVAN

Columbia C 31001.

Columbia has been looking for a Janis Joplin successor and looks to have found it in Genya Ravan, who shows what mettle she's made of on this first solo album. Gal, in an expertly-produced package, wails with all she's got. Album has been long in the coming, and pay-off is sure.

'S WONDERFUL, 'S MARVELOUS, 'S GERSHWIN

TV SOUNDTRACK—

Daybreak DR 2009 (RCA).

TV is just about to come up with a tribute to the Gershwins, George and Ira, and Dubose Heyward. Jack Lemmon hosts this show and this soundtrack, with Leslie Uggams, Peter Nero, Robert Guillaume, Linda Bennett, Larry Kert, and especially Fred Astaire appearing.

TURN YOUR RADIO ON

RAY STEVENS—Barnaby Z 30809.

Ray Stevens gets very country-gospel on this album with songs that either are authentic old-time foot-tappers or sound very authentic are included. The foot-stomping Stevens wrote many of the songs. The whole outing is pegged on the wonderful old "Turn Your Radio On." Should make it.

MESSAGE FROM A DRUM

REDBONE—Epic KE 30815.

The group and those behind the group have worked hard, and now things are beginning to happen. First of all, "The Witch Queen of New Orleans" is clicking as a single. Redbone is not particularly pushing their Indian ties beyond one or two cuts and a few steady drum beat riffs. Watch.

WCYAYA

OSIBISA—Decca 7-5327.

Joyful, introspective polyrhythmic music from this sevensome, who got a running start with their first album a while back and now look to bring it all home. Among the instruments hit or strummed or blown on this groovy disc are the cowbells, the fontonfrom, the kabasa and the prenprensua.

HANDS OF JACK THE RIPPER

LORD SUTCH, FRIENDS—

Cotillion SD 9049.

Lord Sutch, recalling American rock and roll and British crime history, is helped in these grooves by Keith Moon, Ritchie Blackmore, Noel Redding, Matthew Fisher, Victor Brox, Brian Keith and Annette Brox. The feature attraction is the vivid, funny, hairy title cut.

CONCERT REVIEW

Southern Entertainers at Apollo

NEW YORK — A soul explosion took place the week of Jan. 5 at the Apollo Theatre in a show mainly made up of Southern entertainers.

As the curtain went up, one heard the "Theme from Shaft" done by the People's Choice from Miami. This self-contained group definitely smoked through their hit tunes "I Likes To Do It" and "Woo Wee Too" (Phil I.A. Soul). Greeting an impatient audience, the MC brought on the "singing promo man."

Freddie North has the coolness of Jerry Butler. Singing (Continued on page 17)

Kool and the Gang visit Record World

Delite recording artists Kool and the Gang visited Record World last week prior to a stint at the Apollo, to be followed by a nationwide tour. Coinciding with this increase in activity is a new single by the group, "Love the Life You Live." Kool and the Gang will also be working on a fifth album and traveling to Europe over the next few months. They are pictured above with Record World's Publisher Bob Austin and R&B Editor Dede Dabney, and (far right) road manager Herferth (Tiny) Blue.

a cut from his Mankind LP "I Know I Did the Woman Wrong," he flowed gracefully into his hit single, "She's All I've Got."

Of course, no show would be complete without having a little bit of femininity. Tall, talented, sophisticated Laura Lee soulfully did her newest addition to the charts, "Since I Fell for You," followed by "Women's Love Rights," which appealed to the women folk (Buddah).

Al Green Next

Sauntering on stage next was Al Green who was introduced by Frankie Crocker. Greene, the star, introduced "Tired of Being Alone" with a monologue which reflected the value of this tune. Returning to the '50s he proceeded to take off tie and jacket, speaking softly to the audience, saying, "I love you." He moved to "Back Up Train," and "We've Only Just Begun," accented with gyrations which were unbelievable, started the monologue for "Let's Stay Together." Al Greene will soon be as important an in-person artist as he is on Hi Records.

The Staple Singers came next, breaking into "When Will We Be Paid." "Respect Yourself" was done exactly the way it was recorded on the Stax million-seller. This group, known for their gospel background, had a moving, driving force.

All in all, the show was enjoyable. People left with a full feeling, having learned what is meant when it is said, "Soul motivates the inner you."

GOSPEL TIME

By IRENE JOHNSON WARE

Irene Johnson Ware

The International Student Congress on Evangelism, "Spiritual Explosion 1972," or Explo '72, will be held in Dallas, Texas, June 12-17, 1972.

100,000 delegates will be meeting during the day in 50-60 separate training conferences, 1,000 to 12,000 in each, 100,000 meeting together each evening in the Cotton Bowl. Eighty per cent of the delegates will be students (college and high school), also faculty, laymen, internationals, servicemen, pastors, professionals, athletes, executives and christian leaders.

Campus Crusade for Christ International is a Christian movement of students and laymen who have united to help change the world in this generation.

The general purpose of Campus Crusade for Christ International is to train students and laymen in how to share their faith in Christ and to experience the abundant Christian Life, as well as to help reach their campus or community with the claims of Christ.

Explo '72 is the next phase in the Campus Crusade strategy to help saturate the world with the claims of Jesus Christ, a springboard to Operation Penetration Conferences.

Specific Objectives

Each Explo '72 delegate will be challenged to recruit five others for training conferences to be held throughout the United States in August and September, 1972, making possible the potential of training over 500,000 individuals before the fall of 1972. Specific objectives are to train students and laymen and involve them in a strategy to help evangelize the world; to make a clear presentation of Christ and His message to tens of millions across the United States and around the world through live participation, films, newspapers, magazines, radio and television; to create nationwide momentum to accelerate the fulfillment of the Great Commission of Jesus Christ through every facet of society; to increase the Great Commission Army, an anticipated five million people who are dedicated to the fulfillment of the Great Commission; and to impart a vision for the world and challenge each delegate to become involved specifically, in one of the 210 countries and protectorates of the world by "going, giving and praying."

Bill Bright, founder and President of Campus Crusade, has said, "Most Christians have not taken the command of our Lord seriously. We have been dealing with peripheral issues when it is only as men's hearts are changed from within through Jesus Christ that the problems of evil threatening to engulf humanity can be solved."

The finale will be a gigantic mass rally on Saturday afternoon, June 17, for an anticipated 250,000 people for a 300-mile radius of Dallas in a spectacular outdoor amphitheatre. It will be an all-day gathering on a hillside near Dallas featuring music testimonies, Billy Graham and other outstanding speakers in a gigantic reunion of "God's Forever Family."

This promises to be one of the mightiest demonstrations for Christ the world has ever seen.

Gospel record stars and their companies are asked to record "soul gospel" radio spots in 20-30-60 second lengths to be played on most major stations around the country.

For additional information, contact: Rick Tober or Dan Lane at (214) 521-1972 or write to them at International Student Congress on Evangelism, 3625 Rawlins, Dallas, Texas 75219.

Send all gospel news to: Irene Johnson Ware, P. O. Box 2261, Mobile, Ala. 36601.

Young Adds Duties

Dave Young, Western Regional Sales Director at Elektra Records, is now responsible for supervising sales activity in Oklahoma, Texas and Louisiana, in addition to his responsibility for the 11 Western states. Announcement was made by Mel Posner, VP of Marketing.

Havens Stars In New Film

Richie Havens will make his motion picture debut starring in an anti-war drama titled "We Should Always Part Much Wiser—But We Never Do," to be released this spring by Gorilla Productions.

Havens also co-authored the screenplay with the film's producer, Gary Keys, who heads the recently formed Gorilla firm and is well known in the pop-rock concert field. Havens also wrote several tunes for the film's score and in addition to performing them in various scenes will record them for his own record label, Stormy Forest.

Schroeder Audio Fi Sales Mgr.

NEW YORK—Audiofidelity Enterprises, Inc., has launched a long-planned realignment and expansion of the activities of its record labels with the naming of Topper Schroeder as National Sales and Promotion Manager.

Company President Herman D. Gimbel stressed that Schroeder would be in overall charge of distribution and promotion for the Audio Fidelity and milestone lines, as well as for a new and still unnamed contemporary label now being formulated. Schroeder and Orrin Keepnews (who heads the Milestone subsidiary and supervises all A & R for Audiofidelity Enterprises) are currently in discussion with artists and independent producers for the upcoming label.

Schroeder comes to Audiofidelity from Ampex Records, where he was National Sales Manager.

Gideon Push on at Bell

NEW YORK—Bell Records will be mounting one of their most extensive promotional and advertising campaigns for the San Francisco group Gideon & Power, whose first LP, "I Gotta Be Me," is just being released.

Gordon Bossin, VP of LP Sales and Merchandising for Bell, outlined details of the program, which will support Gideon's personal appearances, including the Cellar Door in Washington, D.C., the Gaslight in N.Y. and the Quiet Knight in Chicago and other leading clubs.

Radio time buys, print ads in local underground and soul publications and press-on patches which can be worn on shirts or dungarees will be utilized. More than 1200 press kits are being distributed. Since a significant part of Gideon's appeal is his performances, emphasis is being placed on getting the press, promotion men, distributors and key retailers to a live performance in their area. Gideon's album was recorded live at the Keystone Korner Club in San Francisco.

Television will play an important role in exposing Gideon to the consumer public. He was on the Sonny & Cher Show last

"BREAKING UP SOMEBODY'S HOME"

Producer: Willie Mitchell

Dialogue: Artie Ripp

to be understanding and considerate towards each other as well as stimulating towards each other.

What Happened to Kama Sutra Stable

Record World: What eventually happened to that stable of writers and producers at Kama Sutra?

Ripp: My partners sat down with me and said that I'd blown too much money on them and that we would go down the tube unless we let go of them. At that point we got into an argument with MGM. I had a longer contract with the Spoonful than they had with me. MGM wanted me to extend my agreement for at least the period I had the Spoonful which would have been two more years.

Record World: How did this affect the beginnings of Buddah?

Ripp: I told my partners that I would sign an extension of the Spoonful agreement with MGM if I could start a new record company. So I signed the extension and immediately flew to NARM and came away with $95,000—$105,000 in loans from distributors. Buddah Records was then started. Then I decided we had to have our own sales and promotion staff since we weren't going to be distributed by anybody. My associate Ort Kass and I met with Neil Bogart, Marty Thau and Cecil Holmes and concluded a deal with them to come in and manage and direct the affairs of Buddah. Now we also had Kama Sutra which I wanted to base on the West Coast when we became contractually free from MGM in 1970. I hired Bob Krasnow out here. We signed Captain Beefheart and a girl named Penny Nichols and Krasnow took them to Europe to break them.

Record World: When did Buddah begin to distribute other labels?

Ripp: In 1968 no other label was distributing a label they didn't own. Columbia was offered Kama Sutra for distribution and turned them down. I had thought in 1963 that independent label distribution was where the business was going. So Buddah signed up Curtom, Sussex, Hot Wax, Holland-Dozier & Holland's label and T-Neck Records with the Isley Brothers.

Grandfathers Rock On

■ Another knight errant has entered the crusade to prove that rock lyrics are poetry, and again the knight comes off looking and sounding like Don Quixote, because there is no argument here.

Lyrics, by definition, are a form of poetry (whether good or bad is another matter), and lyrics are also almost invariably meant to be accompanied by music—they are lame divorced from music.

David Morse, a well-meaning rock fan with an English Lit background, is the author of the latest exegesis called "Grandfather Rock—The New Poetry and the Old" (Delacorte, $4.95).

One gives him points for heart, if not for clear-headed purpose. For this collection of rock songs paired with what Morse considers their prototypes in classical literature, subtly subverts its intention. Morse wants to say that rock lyricists are handling the themes of their predecessors with equal skill. But, without exception, what emerges is proof that the grandfathers are better than their rock offspring in a comparison that the new writers never requested themselves.

But this book will serve some end if it draws recalcitrant students to some of the world's best poems by using rock lyrics as bait. Homer, Ovid, Baudelaire, Shakespeare, Yeats, Keats, Byron and Amy Lowell are some of the prizes awarded to the fans of the Beatles, Stephan Stills, Bob Dylan, Bernie Taupin, Donovan and John Fogerty.

The most alarming feature of this book, actually, is the press letter that, in tub-thumping it, contains this quote from rock writer Lillian Roxon: "Grandfather Rock is a beautiful book which every teacher should be forced to read, and teach from, at gunpoint, if necessary." It would seem that everyone, even Liberationist Roxon, has the makings of a fascist where dedication to his or her own cause is concerned.

New Career For Songwriter Barry Mann

Barry Mann

By MIKE SIGMAN

■ NEW YORK—As of several months ago, Barry Mann was known primarily as the tunesmith of one of the great songwriting teams of the '60s. It is by now legend that he and his wife and lyricist Cynthia Weil churned out some 50 hits during that decade, many of which became standards and all of which combined to sell somewhere in the neighborhood of 70,000,000 records.

He did have a hit as a performer with the novelty "Who Put the Bomp," but aside from that and a couple of other recording efforts he enjoyed (or suffered) the curious anonymity of the great songwriter: everyone knew his songs inside out and was affected by his songs, but comparatively few people knew his name, or were even aware that it was really the same person who was responsible for "Uptown," "You've Lost That Lovin' Feelin'," "On Broadway," "Blame It on the Bossa Nova" and countless others.

Now Mann has come out with a superb album as a performer; it's on the New Design label and it's entitled "Lay It All Out." He has also made one public appearance as a performer, a successful guest set with Carole King at the Greek Theater in Los Angeles.

Speaking to Record World last week, he reflected on his current work plans for the immediate future: "My thought was that I didn't want to perform as an unknown. When I see how much exposure my album is getting, I'll decide about where to perform, how many people to play with, etc." (Barry was gratified to learn that both the album and the single, "When You Get Right Down to It," are doing very nicely on Record World's charts.) He added, "I really want to perform, but I don't want to get hung up on trying to please the masses."

'Trying to Grow'

As for the album, which is intensely introspective and reflects a tremendous amount of effort, Mann said, "I'm trying to grow; it's a first album, and the songs go in many different directions—it's possible to listen to it and not really get to know me very well. But I love the way many of the songs come out, and I feel I've really said something about myself in my lyrics."

Mann also revealed some interesting tidbits about his writing career and musical preferences: his favorite among all his songs is "You've Lost That Lovin' Feelin'"; he wrote "I Love How You Love Me" in a half-hour; and among his favorites on the contemporary scene are the Who, Yes and, of course, Carole King.

Whether or not Barry Mann will follow Carole's path in making the complete transition from writer to writer-performer remains to be seen, but judging from the initial reaction to his record, he has already made a profound and successful impression as a recording artist.

Columbia Adds Radio Shack Chain

■ Columbia Records has added Radio Shack, the 1,200 store-chain, to the growing list of licensees for its SQ disc system. Under the licensing agreement, Radio Shack will manufacture 4-channel equipment that will incorporate the SQ decoding system.

Schulman Resumes Indie Promotion

■ NEW YORK—Steve Schulman, 14-year promotion veteran, has relocated to Philadelphia in order to resume independent work there.

Formerly with Colossus, Gregar and, most recently, Musicor, Schulman got his start in the business working the Philadelphia area. He is currently promoting the Street Christians single for PIP, Melanie and Brewer and Shipley singles for Buddah and the Mac Davis album for Columbia.

Schulman can be contacted at 3701 Conshohocken Ave., Philadelphia, Pa. 19131; (215) GR 3-7669.

Judee, Gordon Score

■ HOLLYWOOD — The new year got off to a fine start at the Troubadour recently (4) with Asylum's Judee Sill and Warners' Gordon Lightfoot both in for six days. The balance between this coupling of a brilliant female and male was exceptional and Miss Sill sounded better than ever with a vocal solidity and some uncommonly imaginative songs.

In terms of melody, Miss Sill's range is almost phenomenal. She takes a phrase or chord change and exploits it to its fullest beauty. From her (now) well known "Lady O" to "Enchanted Sky Machine," each composition offers something new to an increasing number of fans. "Jesus Was a Crossmaker" has the distinction of being an excellent song and an excellent single, and on "Lamb Ran Away With the Crown" Miss Sill, very possibly, became the first artist ever to truly convince a Troubadour audience to sing along. They did, and that, too, must be added to her impressive list of abilities.

Gordon Lightfoot, last reviewed when he played the Santa Monica Civic (5/1/71), seemed more at ease in this close proximity. He actually allowed some of the warmth and poignance of his writing to come across during the non-musical portions of his set. With "Summer Side of Life," "If You Could Read My Mind" and "Alberta Bound," Lightfoot displays a decidedly rustic loneliness within the lyrical structure. Others, like "Beautiful" (not Carole King's—but his), are a bit too obtuse. From his upcoming album, "Don Quixote," Lightfoot sang the title song, a thoughtful ballad that may become one of his most popular. His exemplary side men included Red Shea, Terry Clements and Richard Haynes. Tony Lawrence

A & M Ups Pair

■ HOLLYWOOD — Steve Levine has been named California Promotion Director for A&M Records, reports Harold Childs, National Promotion Director. Levine was formerly Los Angeles promo man.

Also promoted to a new spot is David Ezzell, who has been named A&M's Southern Promotion Director. Ezzell was formerly A&M's Memphis promotion man.

By LEE BARRY

■ The Atlanta Rhythm Section, whose debut Decca LP will be released this month, have been scheduled for an early spring tour with Deep Purple and Buddy Miles. A cover drawing of modern Atlanta burning as Union soldiers flee the city on their march to the sea wraps the Buddy Buie-produced disc featuring the talents of Rodney Justo, vocals; Barry Bailey, guitar; Robert Nix, drums; J. R. Cobb, guitar; Paul Goddard, bass; and Dean Daugherty, keyboards.

Guitarist Wick Larson has joined the Wet Willie Band, scheduled to begin recording their second Capricorn Records LP on Feb. 11. STREET CORNER SYMPHONY
THE PERSUASIONS—Capitol ST 872.
There seems to be a dispute about the Persuasions. Is the kind of singing they do spelled "a cappella" or "accapella?" That's about the only uncertainty. Otherwise, these marvelous holdovers from the '50s street corners have an assured future. "Temptors Jam" looks like the big winner.

SUMMER OF '42
AL MARTINO—Capitol ST 793.
Every Al Martino album features a close-up of the singer. The gimmick here is that the mug shot is Al in his '42 Navy uniform looking as if he's just been given 24 hours on the town. The "Godfather" co-star sings recent hits and sings them so that all the fans will be happy to have them around.

TIME TO FLY
DAVID POMERANZ—Decca DL 7-5329.
There are those who are going to find great beauty and scope in this collection of wandering thoughts by David Pomeranz, and indeed the album has much to recommend it. A large orchestra, coordinated by producer Charles Calello. An album that calls for more than one close listen.

GREENHOUSE
LEO KOTTKE—Capitol ST 11000.
Leo Kottke plays a terrific guitar—actually a rainbow-hued guitar. And occasionally—too occasionally considering his talent for it—he sings. "The Song of the Swamp," in which he fools cleverly with distortion, is a particularly outstanding inclusion. Not all new, but unfamiliar, songs.

YOU GOTTA WALK IT LIKE YOU TALK IT OR YOU'LL LOSE THAT BEAT SOUNDTRACK—Spark SPA 02.
This is the score from an obscure movie farce, starring Zalman King, a sort of Jewish pixie, who has materialized on TV in a number of attractive guises. The music has its own pixilated sass and is by Donald Fagen, Walter Becker with an occasion assist from director-writer Peter Locke.

I'M THE ONE
ANNETTE PEACOCK—RCA LSP 4578.
Somewhere out where progressive jazz meets the sunrise, Annette Peacock has spread her plumage and is singing at the new day. These incantations are weird and individual. More than likely the jazz stations will start the album off, but a wider market is waiting for her.

DIVINE HAIR MASS IN F
CAST OF HAIR, OTHERS—RCA LSP 4632.
Galt McDermot, Gerome Ragni and James Rado have gotten plenty of mileage out of their "Hair" score and so has RCA. This latest Hair variation is the "Mass in F" that McDermot wrought from his music. Cast members and singers and musicians affiliated with New York's St. John the Divine perform.

Scepter Sees Biggest Year

■ NEW YORK — Scepter Records, which has announced that it has wound its first 1972 fiscal quarter with the largest sales volume in its 14-year history, is predicting its most successful year.

Scepter's Exec VP Sam Goff said, "This lucrative business period proves that a well organized record manufacturer does not have to be 'Sizzling' hot to do a large, profitable volume. Our catalog sales have been far above expectations. In addition, we were most fortunate that Dionne Warwick's 'Decade of Gold' LP surpassed the million dollar mark during this period.

Sales VP, Ed Kushins pointed out that during this record-breaking period, single sales were negligible and represented only 5% of gross, while LPs did 70% with the remainder of the volume in tapes. Goff emphasized that gospel sales on the Hob label were especially strong.

Motown Has 5 LPs

■ DETROIT—Motown Record Corp. has announced release of five albums for January:

"Got To Be There," Michael Jackson; "Solid Rock," Temptations; "Face to Face with the Truth," Undisputed Truth; "Definitions," Originals; and "Jesus Christ's Greatest Hits," God Squad featuring Leonard Caston.

'Baby' Certified

■ The RIAA has just certified the single "Baby, I'm A Want You" by Elektra group Bread as a million-selling gold record, announces Elektra's VP, Marketing, Mel Posner.

Grateful Gold

Members of the Grateful Dead were joined by Warner Bros. Records Exec VP Joe Smith recently at a gala banquet/presentation held at the Coachman Restaurant in San Francisco. Evening was highlighted by the presentation of gold record awards to members of the group for their recent two-LP set, "Grateful Dead." Dead members surrounding the Warner executive include (left to right): Keith Godchaux (newest member of the group); Phil Lesh; Bob Weir; Jerry Garcia and Pigpen.

At Elektra Convention in Palm Springs

MCA Issues 15 LPs in Jan.

■ HOLLYWOOD — MCA Records and its Decca, Uni and Kapp labels will release 15 albums during January. Of the 15, eight are first efforts by new artists.

Decca's releases include Osibisa's second album for the label, coming some six months after their debut outing which scored on the charts. Rock-blues artist David Pomeranz weighs in with his second album while Lindy Stevens will have her debut album released during this period. Progressive rock quartet Ratchell (which includes ex-Steppenwolf member Larry Byrom) also make their initial appearance, as do the Atlanta Rhythm Section, a six-man ensemble comprised of top Atlanta session men.

In the country field, Decca will be releasing duo albums by Conway Twitty & Loretta Lynn, Bill Anderson & Jan Howard and Kitty Wells & Johnny Wright. An album by Jerry Smith will also ship this month.

New to Label

Uni's three January releases are all by artists new to the label. Mike Settle, founder of the First Edition, makes his debut, along with a country rock group called White Duck and a Los Angeles-based quintet fronted by two singer-composers who call themselves Boondoggle and Balderdash.

Kapp will release the first album by a six-man rock group called Uncle Jim as well as a new album by Sonny & Cher which is a rush-release. The 15th album is a rock mass recorded by Decca live in Perth, Australia, at St. George's Cathedral, entitled "Rock Mass for Love."

Sly Selling Big

■ Sly and the Family Stone's single, "It's a Family Affair," has rushed past the two million mark in sales and shows no signs of letting up the pace as it continues to sell well over 100,000 copies a week after having been on the charts for 12 weeks.

Mama's Brood

Family Records' Mama Lion is pictured above with Mama Lynn Carey (second from right) during a recent visit to Record World to herald the release of their "Preserve Wild Life" LP. Group, currently touring Europe, lists, besides Neil Merryweather and Mama Lynn, Jim Howard, keyboards; Coffi Hall, drums; and Rick Gaxiola, guitar. A single from the LP, "Ain't Too Proud to Beg," will be released.

■ NEW YORK — Mike Becce, Polydor's National Promotion Director, announced the addition of Tom Nash to his staff.

He will operate out of Polydor's New York office. Nash was formerly with ESP Records as National Promotion and Publicity Director.

SOUL TRUTH

"Solid Rock" is the title of the Temptations' new LP. You will hear such familiar cuts such as: "Ain't No Sunshine," "Stop, the War Now" and "The End of Our Road," plus original material such as "Take a Look Around," "Smooth Sailing From Now On" and "What It is," which is quite funky and full of enthusiasm.

George Morris has called to everyone's attention that the side on the new Nite-Liters is titled "Afro-Strut." Give it a listen.

Perhaps you were not aware that there is a bright new artist on the scene. Actually, he really isn't new, he was with the Watts 103rd Street. His name is James Gadson and his new single, "Let Your Feelings Belong to the One That Turns You On," is beginning to show up. If you haven't cut your playlist down and are willing to give this one a chance get on the bandwagon. It is on the Cream label, distributed by UA.

Personal Pick: "You And I," Black Ivory (Today), distributed by Perception. The group who gave you "Don't Turn Around" has come back with a melodic ditty. You will be able to hear the influence of the Stylistics, and Delfonics. This one is a sure winner.

The new label distributed by Buddah is Music Merchants. Their new release is titled "Mama's Little Baby (Loves Loving)," recorded by Brotherly Love.

Last week we made a prediction that the new Freddie North would be a smash. It is. Within two weeks it has sold over 70,000 copies. It's on stations such as WLIB, WBLK, WGIV, WAPX, WGOK, WIGO, WVOL, WLAC, KKDA, WENN, WVON, WGRT, WMPP, WDAS, WWOC, WRAP, WMBM, WTOY, WWIN, WEBB, WOOK, KCOH, KYOK, and WJLB. Get on the bandwagon.

"Masai" by Jungle Jim on the Renee label is hot and heavy in New York, Boston, Baltimore and on its way in St. Louis.

Roulette Pacts Duo After Live Audition

NEW YORK—Morris Levy, President of Roulette Records, last week broke a long-standing precedent by contracting artists following a live audition in the absence of demo tapes or a recorded presentation.

The act, teenage duo Tony & Carol, were presented "live" to Levy by producers Myrna March and Bert Keyes. Levy and other company officials reacted to their presentation by immediately negotiating a production deal with March and Keyes' Make Music firm to produce Tony & Carol for Roulette. Studio sessions were completed within the next few days, and Levy stated that an initial release will be issued before the end of the month.

on), Bernie Taupin, Lindisfarne (touring with the Faces in February, produced by Bob Johnston), the Incredible String Band, Bread, Timber (who have just switched to Dallas Smith for production), Alabama State Troupers live album from their traveling show, Carol Hall (produced by West Coast a&r Head Russ Miller), Harry Chapin and the Doors.

One highlight of the presentation was Holzman's reading of Bruce Harris' sensitive and evocative liner notes for the new Doors release, "Weird Scenes Inside the Gold Mine," which will be a specially priced two-record companion set to "Doors/13."

Marketing Vice President Mel Posner made one of the convention's more interesting remarks when he disclosed the remarkable growth of None-such, and the fact that "effective market penetration means automatic sales." In a massive two-month promotion, None-such product sold 500,000 units which was as much for the entire year before. Posner also hailed the WEA distributors for breaking the New Seekers' single, "I'd Like to Teach the World to Sing."

The first business meeting was held at 4:40 p.m. with Vice President Bill Harvey stressing the company's "commitment." "Our purpose and conviction is simply to make great records and then make those great record hit records," said

Harvey. He also emphasized the importance of "creativity" at Elektra on all levels from album covers to advertising, while also relating that "We've failed at dozens of things no other record company would even dare try—but we've also succeeded at hundreds of other things no one else would try."

He was followed by Joel Friedman: "It's no secret that Elektra is the smallest member of the WEA (Warners/Elektra/Atlantic) family in terms of its annual billing, and that is the real reason it offers the greatest growth potential of anybody. More than anybody else, Elektra Records will increase its output of product during the coming year." Friedman also talked about the importance of taking "the extra time this year to get our heads into the music. We're all too busy covering radio stations, covering accounts, working up ad programs and filling out return authorization forms and we don't devote enough time to listening to music."

Friedman then quoted Goddard Lieberman as saying some years ago: "Records aren't beans. You don't sell them by the pound."

Ruppert: FM Will Dominate

Elektra's new Head of National Promotion, Fred Ruppert, spoke on the "beginning of the death of AM radio" and the significance of FM. Ruppert feels that FM will dominate most major markets in five years and that when AM ratings drop in certain markets they cut their playlist that much more; a pessimistic move in terms of promoting new artists. He made his strongest point by asking promotion men to "keep thinking of new ways towards exposure." He also mentioned the advantages of promotion men, salesmen and dealers all relating fully to each other with the promotion of new product.

At 6:30 p.m. Elektra hosted a dinner at the top of the Palm Springs Aerial Tramway where the Doors played until around midnight.

Champagne Breakfast

Saturday (8) started with a champagne breakfast and "Let's Break Bread Together"—a promotion planned for this month featuring two contests for salesmen and promotion men, respectively.

Stan Marshall, Elektra's National Sales Manager, showed the Bread in-store display with inserts, a four-color Bread poster and a stand-up display featuring the use of two die-cut jackets. Additionally, the company has put together a promotion disc with some of the strongest cuts from past Bread product. These will be used as giveaways for store clerks and other involved personnel. Immediately afterwards, Bread's manager, Al Schlesinger, accepted the group's gold record for the single, "Baby I'm-A-Want You," which was just certified.

The business meetings were divided up into three areas. All Atlanta, Chicago and Cleveland personnel (except promo men) met with Stan Schoen (Mel Posner, also expected to chair the meeting, became a father and flew back to New York) with the main thrust of the talks centered around advertising costs and quality, as well as the need for ad tools from the manufacturer such as prepared spots and mats.

Medford, Cherry Hill and Carlstadt Branch personnel met with Niles Segal and Jon Peisinger where servicing of product was discussed. An excellent example of the kind of problem that can arise away from such meetings was a promotion involving the new Audience album. A mailing concept was utilized where program directors and music directors were "invited" to do nothing more than merely sit down and listen to the record. Due to a slight inaccuracy in one of the lists, the records were serviced to the stations instead of their homes where the promotional idea would have been most effective.

All Glendale and Dallas Branch personnel met with Dave Young and George Steele where most of the exchange dealt with what the convention stood for; a getting acquainted with each other so that even more amicability would be possible in the future.

That night, Carly Simon and Harry Chapin (an artist marking Jac Holzman's return to the studio as a producer) entertained at dinner to be followed by departures on Sunday.

Holmes 'Fan' Airs

The TV special "I'm a Fan," starring Dick Van Dyke and Carol Channing and set to air Tuesday, Jan. 25, was adapted from the new United Artists LeRoy Holmes LP of the same title. The score is an original by Holmes and takes a satirical look at sports.

Frank at Vanguard

At signing of Memphis singer/songwriter Bob Frank to Vanguard Records recording contract are (seated) Frank and Dave Wilkes, Vanguard A&R Director; (standing) Gary Walker, Head of Lowery Music's Nashville office and co-producer of Frank's first album, and Cleatus Haegert, co-producer of the albums and Frank's personal manager. The album is being recorded at Vanguard's 23rd St. Studios and Woodland Sound in Nashville.

AN HISTORICAL FIGURE

IEA Service Org. Formed on Coast

■ HOLLYWOOD — Establishment of International Entertainment Associates, providing support for all areas of operation within the music and entertainment industry, has been announced, concurrent with the opening of IEA offices in Los Angeles, London and Geneva.

Company principals are Robert Hirschman (London), Alex Grob (Geneva), and Al Schlesinger (Los Angeles). Primary thrust of the new firm will be to coordinate projects and programs among United States, British and European corporations and private interests, including record companies, record producers, music publishers, agents, personal manager-composers, performing artists and others.

Purpose of a London office is to have a man with extensive West Coast and international experience and contacts on the spot to remove the communications roadblocks that can frequently delay and often destroy dealings on the international level.

IEA will represent music catalogs; deal in the placement of masters and production deals; oversee tours and personal appearances; coordinate scheduling of recording sessions and musicians; handle music and talent requirements for films and television; and generally serve as a "troubleshooter" for IEA clients.

Cinema Prize Label Formed In Hollywood

■ HOLLYWOOD — Cinema Prize Records, Inc., a subsidiary of the Harrison Carroll Cinema Reporting Foundation, has been formed and released its first product, an album entitled "The Closest I Ever Came," with a single extract of the title tune by actor-vocalist Troy Cory.

Warren Lanier Enterprises has been contracted to set up national distribution and handle the promotion, marketing and merchandising of the new label's product. Executive officers of the new diskery are Braden Linden and Gerd Oswald.

pass on a 2% discount and a 5% discount for advertising to dealers.

That is all Klein is questioning, he noted last week, and his letter to Menon is to express this. In all other areas and with all other concerned parties, Klein feels equanimity, he indicated.

Klein also announced what was a seemingly equally important move, and which he hopes, for the good of the industry, will be a pace-setting one.

He is forming a new label, ABKCO Records, which will be distributed by independents.

Of his reliance on indie distributors, he said, "Who is going to fight for new artists? In order to get new vitality in the business, you're going to have to go back to 1957. Nothing can beat a local promo man going into a local store. I like the idea of talking about records as records and not product."

The first ABKCO release is the Rolling Stones' "Hot Rocks" tape, which is already being shipped.

ABKCO distributors are International Recotape, New York; Chips, Philadelphia; Best and Gold, Buffalo; TDA, Chicago; Music Merchandisers, Boston; John O'Brien, Milwaukee; Godwin, Atlanta; All South, New Orleans; Record Rack Service, Los Angeles; South Seas, Hawaii; H. W. Daly, Houston; H. R. Basford, San Francisco; Bibb, Charlotte; ARK J. K., Detroit; Heilicher, Minneapolis; Commercial, St. Louis; Tone, Hialeah; ABC, Seattle; Big State, Dallas; Hot Line, Memphis; and Zamoiski, Baltimore.

No other ABKCO artists or records have been announced yet.

Apple's distribution agreement with Capitol ends in a year's time, Klein noted, but he said it would be a mistake to assume that Apple would then be distributed through the ABKCO indies.

Woody Forms Label

■ Comic Woody Woodbury has formed his own record label, Adirof (Florida backwards), announced Tom Sheils, his personal manager. Adirof Records will produce mainly comedy albums.

A New Year's Message from Terry Knight

the village VOICE, December 23, 1971
Culture unrecycled

'The Next Big Thing' is the next dead thing

by Harold Carlton

Remember when culture used to have a capital C? Or when music on the radio used to be just that? There were record albums to buy in stores, too, but nobody expected each performer to launch a whole new culture, an alternate life style, to be a fashion oracle or to lead a revolution.

When I lived in New York City from 1964 to 1966, it felt as if the whole city would collapse if the radio stations went off the air for too long. We all needed that big beat to wake up to, go to work on, go to sleep to: the beat was the pulse of New York, throbbing through the air like electricity or oxygen, like caffeine in coffee: out of laundromats, out of transistors tucked into the bosoms of cleaning-ladies, out of the stoops of Harlem where everyone seemed to have a mysterious pre-arranged agreement to tune into the same station. A few cents' worth of batteries made you feel part of the whole listening audience.

There is an annual lecture-series on the BBC called the Reith Lectures. Often more original than McLuhan and more thought-provoking than books like "Future Shock," they are written by experts and professors, sometimes pertaining to our wonderful world of media. In that hesitant, modest, British way of university lectures are delivered without fuss and quietly reprinted in something known as "the BBC's own organ," a thin newspaper called the Listener. One lecture-series some years ago was dedicated to the idea that the arts, far from propagating the appreciation of them. Amongst other examples, it stated that Beethoven symphony could be harmful, since repeated listening to a recording established a pattern in the listener's mind. When he heard the symphony live at a concert he would be disappointed if the live performance did not read exactly with the version on his recording. Certainly everyone to him at least once, either at a concert or an opera. Or perhaps reading this has had that happen when seeing a group so attuned to sessions in the studio that they cannot perform live, or singers who rely overmuch on engineering effects to amplify their often meagre voices.

The lecturer also said that reproductions of paintings in expensive color books worked as anti-culture because after gazing at rich renditions of work like Michelangelo's Sistine Chapel, one might be extremely disappointed by the sometimes gloomy, uncleaned, unlit real thing. In other words, we are going around with one idea of culture that doesn't exist. That glossy plate in a coffee table tome sometimes makes the original work seem like a faded shadow of your reproduction.

Today, even more than ruining our culture by over-dissemination, we are cutting it off almost at its source. I want to use James Taylor as an example, although half a dozen other uneasy examples would do as well. I want to write of the kind of music which played a few times on the radio, recordings in modest quantities in James Taylor is playing and singing disposable music. Thanks to a star-hungry public too greedy to allow its stars to be born, every singer must almost immediately be termed a superstar or aspire to be one. Only huge worldwide success, in as many media as possible, is good enough. Let a genuine talent attempt to sing to a small public and he might find Time, Life, or record-company spies in the audience, all of them on the track of "The Next Big Thing." Singers are not the only artists being eaten alive by the process: actors, directors, writers also suffer, but singers suffer the worst because a big record can happen much faster than it takes a book to be published or a film to be completed. I would suggest that if we can get away from the concept of "The Next Big Thing," we'd have a healthier arts scene. Like the commercialization of health foods, one begins to wonder whether all those vegetables, fruits, and eggs can possibly all be "organic."

Overnight success never did exist, or if it did, it was usually followed very soon by overnight disappearance. The Beatles, to coin a phrase, did not happen overnight. They worked for some years together, their first records were not big, and they took several years to click in America. The overnight success that we have begun to insist on foisting onto artists is an effective way to get rid of them. For today it is not merely enough for artists to sing or merely act: they are obliged for artists to ternate culture, complete with fashions, life styles, and political attitudes. No wonder most of them collapse under their responsibilities, or literally die when they scent a sudden lessening of their popularity. None of those recent young deaths in the pop world happened to artists at the very peak of their acclaim.

Avocado aficionados know how ripe an avocado must be to attain perfection. They know, too, the impatience of watching the days go by, just dying to take a bite, and finally slicing it open to find it unripe. You take a bite. It's not bad but it could have been so much better if you had been allowed to gradually find their feet. This is what we are doing with people who should have been allowed to gradually find their feet. Jack Nicholson, and James Taylor, all gleefully hailed as "fresh young faces" by the press at their first success; just as their second efforts, "has-beens" on and spat out. If a truly talented actress comes along, she is offered the same parts until, reluctantly, she is "only able to play one type of role."

James Taylor epitomizes what has lately happened to music. In his songs he summed up a moment, a mood, in American history. The month that James Taylor became an overnight superstar, the mood appeared to be a self-pitying, hungover whine. It seemed that the listener was being urged to admire the singer for "making it through another day." As if, now that the Vietnam war was being de-escalated, there would be little to blame one's own, or the nation's, troubles on. Not that Taylor's songs are political in any sense other than a vague assumption that listeners are on his side in some kind of rebellion: us against them, carefully not specifying exactly who "us" or "them" are. Who is to say that this is not the most political type of song?

Two decades ago, and we might as well say a century ago, people bought Rosemary Cooney and Doris Day records for humming along to. Those were the days: when pop was pure pop. The first rock 'n' roll records were bursts of energy rather than outbursts of energy. The first outbursts of energy were bought mainly for their lyrics, their poems. A James Taylor record does not represent music exactly, or just lyrics, but a life style, an attitude. Playing James Taylor on your record player is showing, in the vaguest, least committed, way possible, which side of the gap you're on. Which gap? The one you'd care to name. So music as music is not being appreciated: not through its notes, its melodies, or its rhythm. Rather through its lack of rhythm, as in James Taylor's supine, weary cadence: a conscious rejection of modern-life pressures, opting out, music-to-feel-sorry-for-yourself-to: hippie Muzak. They are going to make a fortune out of it.

This musician, who obviously has talent that isn't being allowed to develop, brings out an album that reaches Number One. His next two albums, whatever they contain, will also reach high sales-figures, because dealers and salesman will be in the mood to push it (nothing succeeds like success—but wait til you see failure!). A Time cover was all that was needed to make James Taylor THE NEXT BIG THING. The lack of professionalism, the fact that every song sounds more or less the same, are considered positive advantages. What will happen to James Taylor: a singer who should have taken it easy, grown gently to maturity as artists must do? Could Andy Warhol have been right when he predicted that soon everyone would be famous, for 10 minutes?

Thompson Starts Total Service Co.

■ LOS ANGELES—The formation of "bill thompson unlimited" has been announced by its President Bill Thompson. The new firm will be a total service company specializing in artist development in all creative areas.

Several divisions will make up the operation, namely Sunstoned Productions, which will concern itself with record production, television-motion picture-concert production and road management for artists on tour; and the Great Stoned Highway Music Co., Inc., which will publish original material written by new artists who are signed to the parent company.

A radio personality for over 20 years, Thompson has an in-depth list of credentials in all these areas. He has served as manager and road manager for such artists as the Smothers Brothers, John Hartford, the First Edition and Mason Williams. He has been road manager and producer of Glen Campbell's concert and night club shows around the country during the 1969 summer season, as well as having served as associate producer of Campbell's first TV season shows. In 1970, Thompson was associate producer of "The Smothers Brothers Summer Show" for the ABC-TV network. Additionally, he was the announcer for the late night "Joey Bishop Show" and he formerly headed a management firm.

Since 1968, Thompson has been announcer on the Campbell TV series for CBS-TV. "bill thompson unlimited" has opened offices at 1225 N. Sweetzer St. in Los Angeles, and can be called at (213) 654-0444.

THE FORTUNES—The Fortunes—Capitol Records

■ LONDON—Regular chart-toppers T. Rex are to have their own record label distributed by EMI. This follows the expiration of their contract with Fly Records. The new logo will feature a picture of group leader Marc Bolan. Initial release is expected to be T. Rex' follow-up to "Jeepster," but no announcement has been made in respect of any other artists to appear on the label.

Apple Records expressed criticism over certain London record dealers who are importing copies of George Harrison's Bangla Desh LP to sell at exorbitant prices. An Apple spokesman stated that they "detested the avarice of these people." In the meantime, Paul Edwards, a director of UNICEF, has expressed his appreciation of the Bangla Desh concert and album in a letter to Harrison and Ravi Shankar saying, "Never have two or three individuals in association with their friends provided such a significant sum of understanding as well as money to so tragic and complex a human situation."

Tim Rice and Andrew Lloyd-Webber's newly formed production company, Qwertuiop, has taken on a&r man Roger Watson to aid them. Watson became closely involved with Rice and Webber while at MCA during the period that the "Superstar" idea was first conceived. His initial responsibilities for the company will include the production of new group Silverhead, actor Michael Des Barrs and an album of "Peter and the Wolf," featuring comedian Frankie Howard . . . In recognition of DJ Alan Freeman's services to the record industry during his years with the Radio One show "Pick of the Pops," a reception was held by the RTR Weekly and Martini and Rossi Limited at New Zealand House last week. Freeman commenced "Pick of the Pops" 10 years ago when the show was broadcast on the BBC Light Programme, which became Radio One four years ago . . . Bell Records' first single releases of the new year and since their independence are by newcomers Robin Jack, produced by Jonathan King, and Janet Webb, produced by Rogers, Cook and Greenaway. First albums are by the Fantastics, produced by Tony McCauley, Young and Renshaw (Cook and Greenaway) and the previously reported "Nicholas and Alexandra" movie soundtrack. Coinciding with their British tour commencing this week, a Fifth Dimension double album will also be included in the initial batch of Bell album releases.

Following the signing of a recording deal earlier this month, Nancy Sinatra's new album with Lee Hazlewood titled "Did You Ever" will be issued by RCA immediately. Nancy has enjoyed several hits with Reprise in Britain during the past five years commencing with "Boots Were Made for Walking," produced by Lee Hazlewood with whom she has shared all her single successes including the latest, after which the album has been named.

■ BERLIN—Last week, CBS Frankfurt threw a party here headed by P.R. man Werner Wunderlich who introduced the new CBS artist Jimmy Patrick and his sizzling new album produced by Mal Sondock . . . Hear that CBS President Clive Davis is in London, later heading for MIDEM . . . Here's a tip to Ray Conniff, recording a vocal version with the song, "Prost Onkel Albert": leave out the intro, start with the refrain . . . Johnny Cash due in Germany the end of February . . . Germany's Caterina Valente to do a show at Paris Olympia. Sure to be a sellout . . . Dr. Hans Gerig has a hit in T. Rex' "Jeepster" on Ariola.

Einzi and Robert Stolz recording albums for BASF, which no doubt will sell . . . RCA musician Peter Ingwersen in Hamburg doing great with "Soley Soley," Middle of the Road . . . The Les Humphries Singers, a very talented group of guys and gals due for concert tour of Germany . . . I still predict Hildegard Knef will retire from recording and write books . . . Note to my German colleagues: read my portrait of Dr. Laci Veder of EMI Europe GmbH in the current Automatenmarkt/Musikinformation issue. He is a very wise and experienced man in our industry . . . Lyricist Fred Oldörf has a hit Hansa single with a parody called, "Prost Tante Anna" . . . BASF has a potential chart hit duo with Cindy & Bert, who need the right song and away they go . . . The Engelbert Humperdinck TV show in London will be seen on German TV this year . . . Hardly recognized Klaus Achterberg of the Henno Lohmeyer newsletter at a record party recently. My, how his beard has grown . . . Concert pianist Veronica Jochum Von Moltke, daughter of conductor Eugen Jochum, is now on tour doing concerts in Germany and Austria, and I look forward to her visit to Berlin . . . "Ossie" Drechsler of Philips (Phonogram) in Hamburg ought to present Helga Binder a mink stole for the positive results she has with the djs in servicing them with the newest Philips discs . . . No doubt Johann Michel, successful publisher, will land a few more hits from MIDEM. When you see an express train tearing around there, that's Germany's young chartmaking producer/artist Jack White . . . Isaac Hayes due in Berlin next week for a big concert. He better put his earmuffs on, as the Berlin audience is the most responsive audience in Germany.

A word to RCA, USA: Why can't we buy more albums of Arturo Toscanini? . . . Vikki Carr's single, "I'd Do It All Again," sounds like it could be a chart hit here in Germany . . . Germany is today the #4 country in the world regarding record sales and record earnings, and each ASCAP or BMI or Harry Fox Agency royalty payment proves this point. I would like you people from other countries to consider the release of original German recordings in your country, which I believe would sell in the German language from selected German record artists such as Peter Alexander, Udo Jürgens, Roberto Blanco, Anneliese Rothenberger and several others. So why not try for spins on the turntables of your local djs, and let the public decide?

From the King line, Polydor is releasing the latest single by the Coasters and James Brown's double album, "Revolution on Your Mind."

New appointments at Vogue include Daniel Goldschmitt (formerly with Philips), who now handles promotion for discothèques and the trade press. Ann Pergament and Georges Gall handle TV promotion. Max Dumas, formerly with Editions Pathé-Marconi, now Promo Manager at Barclay Records . . . CBS is releasing the first LP by Gilbert Montagné who made a very auspicious start last year . . . Big Germany Turnout For MIDEM '72

By PAUL SIEGEL

■ BERLIN — Welcome to MIDEM '72 with all its hullabaloo, heartaches, successes and sleepless nights. Don't lose your notebook of all the contacts and addresses of the MIDEMites you meet during our industry's kickoff MIDEM for 1972.

Bernard Chevry's press gal. France's Muriel Alphen, reports a sellout attendance. From Germany's territory you can expect a 95% turnout of the biggies, such as: record companies—Ariola, Bellaphon, CBS, Electrola, Decca, Teldec, Metronome, Hansa, MPS, Philips, BASF, Kinney Group, Polydor, and late-comers; and in the publishing group expect Andreas, Apollo, Bennefeld, Budde, Chappell, Hi-Fi, Inter, Intro, Discoton, Gerig, Francis, Day & Hunter Peter Kirsten-Global, Marbot, Melodie Der Welt, Minerva, Ralph Maria's Siegel & Ralph Siegel, Jr., Seith, Schott's Söhne, Slezak, Aberbach, Wewerka, Jose Weinberger, RCA, Accord, United Artists, Wiener Boheme, UFA, PROM and Eckart Rahn. Plus others coming from radio-

TV-trade mags, etc., and naturally yours truly. Meet me at the Record World headquarters in MIDEM or Hotel Martinez.

The new record company BASF (Badische Anilin & Soda Fabrik AG) in Ludwigshafen and Hamburg has an answer for MIDEM in Director Hans Versemann's business psychology, with which I agree 120%: "Action speaks louder than words." With recording sessions going on around the clock in various studios in Germany, 1972 will witness the adult results of BASF, which will have grown out of its "growing pains" to a major record company with international distribution on their own BASF delivery line.

French 'Godspell'

■ Steve Metz of Victrix Productions, Inc., has negotiated an agreement with Philips Records of Europe for Steve Reinhardt to produce the French version of "Godspell" in album form. Reinhardt is currently in Paris, handling the music for the French production.

U.A. Records Limited commences operations on Jan. 15, 1972, and becomes the fourth independent international company formed by United Artists Records, other firms currently existing in Great Britain, France and Germany. Move was sparked by UA's goal to expand international operations and to strengthen its involvement with the Canadian marketplace. U.A. Records Limited will headquarter at 6 Lansing Square, Willowdale 425, Ontario.

All sales, promotion, marketing and product development for Canada will be supervised by U.A. Records Limited. ■ MILAN—1972 brings a new San Remo Festival here. As is known, this contest, which celebrates its 21st birthday this year, is still the most important musical event in Italy.

According to the latest information available, the Municipality of San Remo has approved a project restricting the admittance to the San Remo stage to 28 "well-known" artists. These 28 top talents will pick the songs they want to sing from among all tunes submitted to the Festival organization. Therefore, this year only 28 songs will be presented, one by each artist. Even if the project seems to be the most logical solution to some of the problems connected with this festival, there will obviously be great problems in determining which 28 artists will be admitted. There will also be difficulties in coordinating an equitable participation from among the 14 "top" Italian record firms, 11 of which have caused these changes in the first place just to get such an equitable share.

It also has been approved that the Municipality will appoint an A&R Manager who will be charged with the organization of the three nights of shows. The names of well known Italian theatre organizers Garinei & Giovannini have been mentioned, but no official announcement has been given yet.

Best-Selling Discs Heartening

The final list of best-selling discs in the Italian singles market is very heartening for Italian artists and copyrights. In spite of an extremely active promotion effort on behalf of foreign product, especially on the part of our radio and TV company (our inquiry revealed that during the month of October, 1971, 84% of all records broadcast were of foreign origin), the total number of foreign discs which entered the charts in Italy has been considerably reduced. In 1970, three foreign hits kept away local product from the number one position on our charts: "In the Summertime," "Neanderthal Man" and "Sympathy." This year after the success of "Sing-Sing Barbara" by Laurent (SAAR), which was at the top of the hit parade for a couple of weeks, there was only one other foreign hit at the top, namely "Mammy Blue" by the Pop Tops (SIF), and that for only one week. Among other foreign acts who reported a good achievement on our market in the past year are Ocean, Middle of the Road, Demis Roussos, Jimmy Cliff and recently the Spanish Waldo de los Rios.

On the national scene, 1971 has definitely revealed the great talent of Lucio Battisti both as composer and singer. He was on the charts with every recording he made. 1971 also confirmed the surprising talent of the group I Pooh. Also enjoying a good year were Mina, Ornella Vanoni, Milva, Patty Pravo, Orietta Berti, Gilgiola Cinquetti and Massimo Ranieri. A decline was noted in sales by Gianni Morandi and Adriano Celentano.

In the LP field there are only foreign names on the hit list: Charles Aznavour, Led Zeppelin and Santana are at the top positions. This demonstrates that Italian producers have not yet gotten used to the needs of the LP consumers, whose number in Italy is increasing every year.

Schlachter to Europe

■ Marvin Schlachter, President of Chess/Janus Records, will spend the next 10 days in France and England meeting with the label's European affiliates.

Wright Produces Rose

By TONY LAWRENCE

■ HOLLYWOOD—Relaxed and positive about his recent U.S. visit, Gary Wright talked to Record World recently over on the A&M lot about his newest project. Wright is currently at work in London at the Olympia Studios producing Tim Rose's new album for Playboy Records.

The Rose/Wright association first began when Wright received a phone call from Rose while the former was in a hotel in Paris. Wright had been familiar with Rose and "Morning Dew," having done the song with Spooky Tooth.

"Tim needs a positive direction towards a heavier sound," said Wright. "I'd like him to be shown off more as a vocalist. He has a great voice and part of his strength is as an interpreter of other peoples songs as well as his own." Though the album's material is still partly in the discussion stages, Wright indicated that most of the songs will be of a ballad nature. Lennon and McCartney's "You've Got to Hide Your Love Away," the Beach Boys' "Tears in the Morning" and "New York Mining Disaster" by the Gibb Brothers were mentioned as part of the repertoire, as well as songs by both Rose and Wright. Release is planned for the end of February with the album cost estimated at around $20,000, around $15,000 more than the budget of Rose's last album.

■ LONDON—Promotor Mervyn Conn has announced the following artists will be appearing at the Fourth International Festival of Country Music at Wembley Pool on April 1 and 2, 1972: Bill Anderson, Tom T. Hall, George Hamilton IV, John D. Loudermilk, Loretta Lynn, Anne Murray, Del Reeves, Earl Scruggs and Family, the Stoneman Family, Conway Twitty, Dottie West, Hank Williams, Jr., and Tex Withers.

During the two-day event there will be exhibition stands as before, representing a number of the record companies, music publishers, western clothing outfitters and others who will have the opportunity to display their product for the many thousands of fans who will be attending. BBC Television is planning two 45 minute specials of the evening concerts produced by Douglas Hespe, who did an excellent job of the 1971 show. On the radio side, Bill Bebb will be recording a number of "Country Style" shows, involving the Nashville stars. Speaking of "Country Style," their country Christmas show at London's Nashville Room was a roaring success. This was the first time that the show had ever been done "live" and was a tremendous success as a result. The enthusiasm and the spontaneity of the audience proved the value of doing live shows of this nature. Starring were Tex Withers, the Jonny Young Four, the Kingpins and the Colin Hindmarsh Trio.

The British record charts are showing a good sprinkling of country music discs such as Lynn Anderson's "Rose Garden." (By the way, apologies to Lynn from yours truly for the error in our last column, as she was the one who was voted Female Vocalist of the Year by the CMA GB at the Annual Awards Dinner last Nov. 29, and not Loretta Lynn, as printed.) On the album side, Jim Reeves is high on the list with his LP "Twelve Songs of Christmas" and "Jim Reeves Golden Records." Glen Campbell's "Greatest Hits" is also in the Top 20.

Looking back on 1971, it has been truly one of the outstanding years for British country music. The Wembley Festival; tours by Slim Whitman and Hank Snow; the two BBC Television Series by George Hamilton IV (the latest is due for transmission at the end of January); and the growing audience figures for the country music shows, both national and local, on BBC radio.

CLUB REVIEW

Julie Budd: Superstardom Ahead

LAS VEGAS — Watching RCA star Julie Budd perform at Caesar's Palace Jan. 4, one began to think that if she is only 17 years old now, by the time she reaches 21 she will probably be headlining her own night club, TV series or Broadway show—or probably all three!

But whatever she does she is certainly headed for superstardom. With the guiding hand of her conductor-arranger Herb Bernstein, Julie clearly displayed her ability as a vocalist with amazing depth and perception. She has that rare quality of showmanship that enables her to instill in each song her own distinctive style of interpretation.

Most memorable among her selections were "I'm a Song," wisely chosen to open her act; a beautiful and wistful treatment of the classic "I'm Always Chasing Rainbows"; plus a medley of Herb Bernstein hits, "Knock Three Times," "See You In September" and "Wedding Bell Blues."

The superlative Nat Brandwynne orchestra supplied the backing. Mike Trent

■ Con la participación de Tito Puente y su Orquesta Gigante y las orquestas de Larry Harlow, Willie Colón, Tony Pabón ("La Protesta"), Willie Rosario, Ray Rodríguez, Machito y sus Afro-Cubans, con Graciela, Dee Jay, Charlie Palmieri, Pete Rodríguez, La Flamboyán y Victor Savinón y sus Meren-gueros, se efectuó durante los días 1 y 2 de enero el anunciado "Maratón de las Orquestas," con Miguelito Valdés, como maestro de ceremonias, organizado por el Circuito Registry Caribbean para animar la reapertura del teatro Puerto Rico, ahora remodelado. Por la calidad de las orquestas y el entusiasmo del público, el espectáculo causó un gran impacto entre la colonia hispana de Nueva York . . . En conversación con el destacado arreglista Joe Cain, director-ejecutivo de los sellos Tico y Alegre, divisiones de Roulette Records, nos informó, que acaba de finalizar bajo su tutela, las grabaciones de dos nuevos álbumes, uno de Joe Cuba y su Sexteto, y otro del maestro Tito Puente y su Orquesta. Además, está terminando de grabar otros dos álbumes, con La Lupe y con el maestro Eddie Palmieri y su Orquesta. Y a propósito de Palmieri, el talentoso músico puertorriqueño, ha causado sensación con sus dos últimos LP's, "Vamonos Pal Monte," para el sello Tico, y "Harlem River Drive" para el sello Roulette. Cuando nos despedimos del amigo Cain, nos dijo: "Que las puertas de su despacho están abiertas para cualquier nuevo talento."

Agradecemos la tarjeta de saludo que nos envió Sandro, el ídolo de América, desde Madrid (España) . . . La mundialmente conocida editora "Peer-Southern Organization" acaba de trasladar sus oficinas para un nuevo y enorme edificio situado en el número 1633 de Broadway en Manhattan . . . El Duo Los Ahijados están teniendo muy buena acogida con la grabación "El Borracho," número editado por el sello Kubaney . . . Rolando La'Serie firmó contrato para actuar en el muy anunciado espectáculo que presentará Producciones Díaz Gutiérrez en el teatro Boulevard, desde el miércoles 2 de febrero próximo . . . Casi al finalizar el año 1971, la RCA lanzó a la venta un nuevo álbum del estelar Marco Antonio Muñiz, titulado "No soy de aquí, ni soy de allá." En este álbum ha sido incluido el bonito número "Serrana Mía," que en la voz de Marco Antonio se populariza en la radio . . . Nos comenta José Chao, activo distribuidor de los discos Kubaney en esta urbe, que el pimentoso músico dominicano Johnny Ventura, esta vendiendo muy bien los elepés que tiene grabado con el sello que él representa . . . Willie Colón con "La Murga" y Los Melódicos de Venezuela con "La Escoba," se disputaron en duelo musical el primer lugar en ventas disqueras, durante las fiestas de fin de año. (Continued from page 48)

Willie Colon and his Orchestra were attacked two weeks ago after their performances in Bridgeport, Conn. Although they were hospitalized for several days, only Hector Lavoe (singer) will be forced to stay in the hospital for two months . . . Sabu from Argentina will debut this week at Teatro Puerto Rico, N.Y. From there he will fly to Puerto Rico where he will perform on TV. His rendition of "El o Yo" is being promoted in Miami, New York and Puerto Rico at the same time his "He Tratado de Olvidarte" looks like a smash in those areas . . . Borinquen will release at the end of this month a new album by Lissette containing "Un Sabado Más" and "El que Siembra Amor." Her previous one with "Debut and Despedida" and "La Chica de los Ojos Tristes" was a real winner, although it was the first album on the label released at a higher price.

Ramoncito Rodríguez, a member of Trio Los Andinos and a dj for WAPA Radio, Puerto Rico, will quit his position in radio to give full attention to the trio. They will perform in New York and Chicago . . . Parnaso is smashing in Puerto Rico with "Esta Noche la Paso Contigo" by Los Angeles Negros. Yacco Monti, also on this label, is selling "Vanidad" . . . Alhambra Record Corp. had been created in Puerto Rico to exploit the Columbia catalogue from Spain that will be edited in the states and Puerto Rico under the Alhambra label. Juan Antonio Estévez will be in charge of the new enterprise . . . Julio Iglesias will cut an album in Japanese . . . Antonio Prieto will tour this month Mexico, Puerto Rico and New York, where he will perform at Theater Jefferson. From New York he will fly back to Buenos Aires where he established his permanent residence . . . I deeply appreciate from Noti-Fuentes their award as "International V.I.P. of Colombia." Thanks Roberto Victor Cicuta, Artistic Director of LR3, Radio Belgrano, LS10 Radio Libertad and RVC Associates, is visiting us in Miami on his way to New York where he will spend the rest of the week . . . John Lear from Phonogram, Argentina, is very active in his new position . . . Mary Lou released in New York an album by Wilkins containing "Esperame" (Carmen Iraida Polanco), winner of the Festival of New York . . . It seems that the Festival of Acapulco will take place in Mexico City because of a lack of a big auditorium that could accommodate the thousands of attendants that are supposed to patronize a festival . . . Julio Jaramillo is selling big in Mexico, where Los Solitarios from Peerless are smashing with "Un Desengaño Más."

Paul Brown Pioneer In College Promotion

By GARY K. COHEN

■ When the subject of college radio promotion comes up, the first name mentioned is that of Paul Brown. Paul, who has been in the industry as a promotion man—first to regular commercial stations and then to college stations exclusively—for many years, has become one of the people college radio people all over the country are aware of.

His first dealings with college stations came in 1947 when he visited the campus station at Purdue University. He asked the manager of the station if there were any other college stations around, and was told, "Maybe five or six in the country." At that time, promoting commercially, Paul became interested in the market and decided to help college stations out in getting themselves established.

When asked what the major problem of college stations were back in 1947, the answer was "no records and no service," according to Paul. So Paul began sending 78's to college stations—he would ask his friends around the industry to send him a box of something for him to mail out. Soon some record company people asked him to promote their product to commercial stations and to college stations. By 1964, the majority of the calls he received were for college radio promotion, and in 1965 he gave up his commercial contacts to concentrate exclusively on college promotion.

Interested companies or artists hire Paul to promote their product (or themselves as artists) and Paul sends out product to over 750 college stations around the country. There is no college station in the country that does not receive service from Paul Brown.

Good Track Record

Paul's "track record" is a good one. He is presently promoting for Dick James Music (Elton John), Melanie and Mountain. (He is written, incidentally, into Windfall's contract with Bell Records, which calls for him to promote Mountain to college stations.)

Before A&M Records instituted their own college program, Paul promoted all A&M product to stations. The first time most college stations saw A&M Records product (including this writer as a college freshman/college station music director) of Joe Cocker, Lee Michaels, the Flying Burrito Brothers, Spooky Tooth and CTI artists Paul Desmond, George Benson and J&K was through Paul. He worked on the first Melanie album for Buddah, "Godspell," Richie Havens, Roberta Flack, Woody Herman, the "Joseph & the Amazing Technicolor Dreamboat" LP on Scepter, and Hookfoot and Nigel Olsson albums on A&M and Uni. A nice collection of product that has shown up extremely well over the years on college station playlists.

Paul was recently elected to serve on the Intercollegiate Broadcasting System's Board of Directors, and has received awards from IBS in 1970 and 1971 for outstanding service to the organization.

In a conversation this week, Paul informed Record World that IBS will hold its National Convention this year in New York at the McAlpin Hotel, 34th St. and Broadway, in N.Y.C. The Convention dates are March 24-26, 1972. Further details will be announced as they become available, but this is the first indication from someone that there will be a convention this year. So reserve the dates on your calendars... and plan to attend.

Manfred Mann and the Climax Blues Band will go on tour of the U.S. in February, according to Polydor's Phyllis Chotin.

Single Moves to UA

■ "Chinatown," new single by the English group the Move, is being released on United Artists Records. Several weeks ago, the recording was announced as being issued by MGM Records, which has since been changed to an exclusive UA release. All future product by the act is now on United Artists Records.

JAZZ

By MICHAEL CUSCUNA

Michael Cuscuna

■ Much of January is spent writing about the previous year, its best and its worst. I tried to select what I thought were the 10 best jazz recordings of 1971 and found the task impossible. Yet I found it quite easy to select what I felt was the single best disc for me. Ironically, it was never issued in this country. It is Chick Corea's "Piano Improvisations Volume One" (ECM 1014). All that I can say is that it is a true masterpiece of music and a very important album.

ECM will soon be issuing volume two as well as a solo album from Keith Jarrett. The company can be reached by writing to ECM Records, Munchen 60, Gleichmannstr 10, West Germany.

Esther Phillips, known mainly for her work with the Johnny Otis Show and her several recordings on Atlantic, has signed with Creed Taylor's CTI Records. She is now finishing up her first album, which will include some very strong material such as Gil Scott-Heron's "Home Is Where the Hatred Is."

The City Center in Manhattan was the scene of a unique production in December, "Mary Lou's Mass," featuring Mary Lou Williams and her band and Alvin Ailey and his American Dance Company. The talented and creative Ailey choreographed Mary Lou Williams' Mass entitled "Music for Peace" (Mary Records, Box 32 Hamilton Grange, New York, N.Y. 10031). The production has met with great success and may make other appearances in New York and other major cities.

With its initial release of Junior Parker and Jimmy McGriff, Sonny Lester's Groove Merchant label is off to a strong start. Very soon, Lester will release a new batch of albums by Count Basie, Jeremy Steig and Chick Corea, among others.

Lester, after seeing blunders within larger record corporations, insists on setting up his own independent distribution and doing things his way. He believes that an album that sells 3,000 and is buried at a large company can actually sell a great deal more with the proper attention and procedure. He seems to be proving his point right now.

Sonny will also be producing the next Thad Jones-Mel Lewis Orchestra album for A & M.

Newport Jazz Festival Moves to N. Y. C.

■ NEW YORK—The Newport Jazz Festival, 18 summers old, will be held in New York City July 1-9, 1972.

"There will be over 27 events in the nine day festival," producer George Wein said. "We've already scheduled six days of concerts in Carnegie Hall, six days of concerts in Philharmonic Hall and two large outdoor concerts in Yankee Stadium. And, we hope to be able to use parks, city streets, theaters and churches so that a festival atmosphere will be created in the entire city."

In a press conference at the Rainbow Grill, it was announced by Vernon Jordan, Executive Director of the National Urban League, that while the festival will be sponsored and produced by Festival Productions Inc., 50% of the profits will be donated to the National Urban League.

Monte to GWP

■ Lou Monte has signed a recording pact with GWP Records, reveals Jerry Purcell, President. Monte's first single for GWP: "I Have An Angel In Heaven" b/w "I Really Don't Want To Know."

Miss Skydel VP

■ Barbara Skydel has been named Vice-President of Premier Talent Associates, Inc., announces Premier President Frank Barsalona. Miss Skydel previously was associated with GAC, ITA and Peter Nero.

CONCERT REVIEW

Getz Back With a Bang

■ NEW YORK—After glowing reviews throughout Europe, the revitalized Stan Getz has returned to the U.S. with a stellar band led by pianist Chick Corea. Aside from Corea, who wrote most of the tunes in the band's repertoire, Airtio is on Latin percussion, Tony Williams on drums and Stanley Clarke on bass.

Despite the rather tourist-filled crowd, the great tenor saxophonist played pure music and played it beautifully. The set that I caught included some outstanding Corea originals such as "Captain Marvel," "Day Waves," "Time's Lie" and "500 Miles High." The band cooked from within and without, supporting Getz perfectly and journeying into its own brand of music as well.

There were also a few standards, including Billy Strayhorn's "Lush Life." After the quintet had established itself guitarist Joao Gilberto sang a few songs by himself, including "Quiet Nights, Quiet Stars" and a Portuguese version of "The Trolley Song." Getz and company joined him for "Desafinado." Although the banal, commercial brand of Bossa Nova died as all fads do, Gilberto served as a reminder that the exquisite, delicatated music of Brazil is still in great shape.

Stan Getz, Chick Corea and ensemble will be at the Rainbow Grill until Jan. 22. Catch them if you can. The magic team of Getz and Corea was captured on record several years ago with the album "Sweet Rain" (Verve). Let's hope their new band with a full book of 18 tunes is also preserved on wax. It's good to have Getz back. Michael Cuscuna

Esther to Fantasy

■ Singer Esther Marrow has signed with Fantasy Records and will co-produce her first album with the aid of co-manager Jim Rein.

Wes Inks Mike

■ Mike Melvin, arranger songwriter and entertainer, has been signed by Wes Farrell, President of Coral Rock Productions, to arrange and play keyboards on the next David Cassidy and Partridge Family albums, which will be distributed by Bell Records.

NARM Awards Davis, Como

The Executive Award is given not only on the basis of an executive's success in his own company, but he must also have made contributions toward furthering the advancement of the music industry in this country and throughout the world. Last year's Presidential Award winners were Jerry Moss and Herb Alpert of A & M Records, Moss in the Executive Category and Alpert in the Artist's. Columbia Records, with Davis as its chief executive, doubled its share of the total market in three years. A move that affected the entire industry—his decision to price all LPs the same (mono and stereo) caused the rapid phase out of mono, as other companies followed his lead. He was also responsible for variable pricing, which brought additional revenue to the all-stereo LP industry. He has become a spokesman and innovator for the industry at large, as a public speaker and is the subject of many interviews in the various media, as a representative of the music industry.

The Artists Award was established in 1966, for the purpose of honoring the "superstars"—artists and other creative people whose contributions to the record industry have been sustained over a period of many years, through the different musical trends. In addition to last year's winner, Herb Alpert, other winners have been Frank Sinatra, Mantovani and Burt Bacharach and Hal David.

Perry Como, this year's Presidential Artists Award Winner, has been a star for almost 30 years. From 1943, when he signed his first recording contract with RCA, his golden hits have become legend, beginning with his first one, "Goodbye Sue," to his latest, "It's Impossible." Although the recording industry claims him as its own, he was a star of radio, Movies, TV and now has embarked, after an absence of 27 years, on a new career when he opened in a supper club engagement in Las Vegas.

Both Como and Davis will accept their awards at the NARM Awards Banquet on Thursday, March 9, the closing event of the 14th Annual Convention at the Americana Hotel in Bal Harbour, Fla.

Dealers' Problems Aired

The four panelists were asked to respond to three questions: What have been the changes in the industry that have affected the retailer? What changes have you been forced to make? What is the future of your operation? Following are a few of the highlights of the discussion.

Rothfeld began by noting the "tremendous shift to 'contemporary' music," the spiralling of costs and the fact that many distributors are going into the retail business and vice versa. He also voiced optimism about the future of the retail business, and pointed to new audio visual equipment as a whole new area for expansion. Gensler, who runs a single, independent store, was less positive about his end of the business, declaring that if things go the way they are, "the future of the independent retail store is gone." He also noted that record clubs and TV ads keep many buyers out of the stores.

Jack Grossman referred to the "basic" strength of the entire music business, and called for more professionalism from retailers, calling the rash of new store openings "good but potentially dangerous." Goody emphasized the expanding role of the retailer, noting that he must be a lawyer and policeman in addition to a music man and businessman. Goody also closed his response to the third question by stating that from his point of view "the future has never been so bright."

The panelists were unanimous and emphatic in their opposition to piracy and pilferage, and were anxious to see the results of S-646, the anti-piracy bill, which goes into effect Feb. 15.

More of these kind of discussions, with representatives from all areas of the music industry, are being planned for the near future.

Brunswick Development Program

Brunswick moves into the new year riding high with the Chi-Lites' "Have You Seen Her," nearing the three million mark in sales, and Jackie Wilson's "Love Is Funny That Way," now breaking wide open all over the country, plus the top-selling album by the Chi-Lites "(For God's Sake) Give More Power to the People," which has already topped the 750,000 sales mark, and Wilson's album called "You Got Me Walking," which is selling at a fast clip.

Set for release are new singles by the Lost Generation, "Young, Tough and Terrible," the Chi-Lites' "Love Uprising," which has received heavy calls from the field. Additionally, a new album by Barbara Acklin will also be issued.

High on Herman

Brunswick is very high on a young new vocalist from South America called Herman.

On Managers' Agenda

millions of dollars have remained uncollected. It's not easy policing the payments of overseas residuals for television shows, but thanks to the efforts of Gerald Purcell we're now beginning to see the light of day."

Some younger members of the industry are under the illusion that the Conference is comprised of old-timers sitting around in smoke-filled rooms accomplishing nothing, but according to Coe, this couldn't be further from the truth. "If younger managers were more aware of what the Conference does, I'm sure they would join. The old style of managing is out. The Conference was founded on mutual assistance, and it's probably our most important policy. We have a grievance board that otherwise might have gone to court. Without this mutual assistance the Conference would have little importance. I'm happy to announce that some of our younger managers are beginning to get the message and are joining."

Coe has been in the entertainment industry for 22 years. He has always been a manager, and contrary to some of his peers, Coe handles a limited list of clients. They include Ed McMahon, former Miss America Marilyn VanDerbur, the Burgandy Street Singers, and Joe Given, the voice of many com-

Described as a cross between Elton John and James Taylor, Herman's initial release will be an album that Garris advises will receive an intensive promotion and publicity campaign when released.

Commenting on further progress made by Brunswick, Carl Davis, Executive Vice President of Recording, revealed that the company is utilizing a new system of recording that was developed by Davis and Bruce Swedien, chief engineer for the label's recording studios in Chicago. Called "Ultra Range Process," the new method has established a definitive sound by which all recent Brunswick product can be readily identified. So pleased is Davis with the results on past sessions, that he announced "Ultra Range Process" will be used on all future recording dates for both the Brunswick and Dakar labels.

mercials. Coe's theory of managing is simple. "I feel a small list of clients will enable me to devote more time to an artist over a long period of time. I live by the theory of a velvet glove with a male fist."

At the present time Coe is concentrating his efforts and the efforts of the Conference of Managers on formulating better relationships between managers and agents. He concluded: "I'd like to see a better relationship exist. We all would."

Colt Guest

Bobby Colt (above, third from left) is shown at the New York Temple of the Salvation Army, where he was guest of honor recently to kick off their charity drive. He sang his Murbo single, "The Crooked Little Christmas Tree." From left: Ralph Chamberlain, Brigadier Paul Seiler, Colt, Major Ann Mae Klaes and Col. Orval Taylor.

RECORD WORLD COUNTRY

'Hard Country' Next Trend?

Dripping Springs Sets $70,000 Country Package

■ DALLAS, TEXAS — There are a lot of industry watchers who are betting that the next important trend in pop music will fall into the category of "hard country."

One group of these gamblers is a trio of young men from Dallas who are laying odds that they can attract 60,000 people a day to a three-day open air concert to be held on a working cattle ranch in rural Texas.

The young men have corraled heavy country acts like Loretta Lynn, Kris Kristofferson, Buck Owens, Merle Haggard, Waylon Jennings, Tom T. Hall, Earl Scruggs, Bill Monroe, Sonny James, Roger Miller, Tex Ritter, Roy Acuff and T. Tommy Cutrer.

Mike McFarland, spokesman for the First Annual Dripping Springs Reunion, told Record World that he and his partners, Ed Allen and Don Snyder, have secured contracts on $70,000 worth of country entertainment which he plans to present in a chronological history of country music utilizing Acuff, Ritter and T. Tommy as narrators. The three-day event March 17, 18 and 19 will be held on a cattle ranch 20 miles west of Austin on the banks of the Pedernales River not far from the LBJ Ranch.

Under terms of the new Texas Mass Gatherings Act, Dripping Springs Reunion, Inc., must provide medical units, toilet facilities, drinking water and adequate police patrols to handle the crowds which the corporation must estimate before receiving a state permit from the country commissioner and sheriff's offices.

The shows will run 12 hours a day, with each act doing an hour show and with no act doing a repeat. The festival will trace the evolution of recorded country product from the early Jimmie Rodgers days to the "Suburban Country Music" of 1972.

McFarland, who looks nothing like the general conception of a country music promoter, sees Top 40 markets eventually turning to hard country product. "I think country music will be bigger than rock ever was. The fad is now moving in a country direction, it's a natural turn around in music. There aren't many music forms left to explore and country is easy to slide into. Young people are beginning to accept the hillbilly image because of music pioneers like James Taylor, Baez, the Nitty Gritty Dirt Band, Goose Creek Symphony and the real spearhead, Kristofferson."

Bradley Inks MCA Long-Term Pact

■ HOLLYWOOD—Owen Bradley, Nashville-based MCA Records VP in charge of country product, has signed a long-term contract with the company.

Over the years, Bradley discovered and helped to bring to prominence such artists as Conway Twitty, Loretta Lynn, Bill Anderson, Webb Pierce, Kitty Wells, Brenda Lee and Jack Greene.

Barnaby Records Action Indicates '72 May Be Year of Country Indie

■ NASHVILLE — 1972 may prove to be the Year of the Indie Labels in the field of country music.

Andy Williams' Barnaby Records joins Mega, Cartwheel, Target, Chart, Royal American and Plantation as indie or new labels having had more than one artist on Record World's country charts. This week's chart shows Ray Stevens' former Record World pick, "Turn Your Radio On," at the #14 position while another Record World pick, "Ain't No Sunshine," by the Hager Brothers, comes in at #69.

Although Barnaby has moved its headquarters to the West Coast, they will still maintain office space on 16th Ave. So. with Steve Norman heading up the Nashville operation.

General Manager in charge of promotion Mike Shepherd told Record World that Ray Stevens will continue to produce his own records for Barnaby, as well as those of Layng Martine, out of Nashville.

Label Prexy Ken Mansfield and Shepherd will work out of Barnaby's National Headquarters at 816 North LaCienega Blvd. in Los Angeles.

Fan Clubs Join Fan Fair

■ NASHVILLE — The International Fan Club Organization's Fifth Annual Dinner and Show will be held on Tuesday, April 11, immediately preceding the First International Country Music Fan Fair. The group will hold the event in the Main Ballroom of the Hermitage Hotel in Nashville.

Booth space for the Fan Fair is at a premium, and Bill Hudson, Chairman of the Booth Committee for the Fair, reports that requests for booths have been received from firms engaged in every facet of the music industry. They are being reserved on a first-come, first-served basis, and those interested in securing a booth should write to Hudson in care of Fan Fair, Box 100, Nashville, Tenn. 37202.

Assistance in obtaining hotel reservations is also available through the Fan Fair committee. A letter to Bud Wendell, dent.

Chairman of the Fan Fair Committee, at the above address is all that's necessary to arrange hotel or camping accommodations for the Fan Fair.

The four-day fan fest will be held April 12-15, 1972, and is being planned just for the fan of country music. To date, 12 official shows are scheduled, and also included in the $20 registration fee are two free meals.

A personally guided tour of the Country Music Hall of Fame and Museum can be arranged by writing Mrs. Doris Lynch, Tour Administrator, Country Music Hall of Fame, 700 16th Ave. So., Nashville, Tenn. 37203.

COUNTRY HITS OF THE WEEK

SINGLE

FREDDIE HART, "MY HANG-UP IS YOU." Freddie wrote the follow-up to his gold "Easy Lovin'." Country airplay will come immediately. Freddie uses the old Muscle Shoals r&b guitar licks and the organ background that was so successful on his last outing. Capitol 3261.

SINGLE

GEORGE JONES, "A DAY IN THE LIFE OF A FOOL." Here's one of those masters that RCA picked up from Musicor and it's a goody! George has seldom sounded better than he does on this beautiful Eddie Noack ballad. Easy chart addition. RCA 74-0625.

ALBUM

THE BEST OF ROGER MILLER. A quick run-down of the titles is enough to make this a consumer's dream: "Little Green Apples," "Husbands and Wives," "I've Been a Long Time Leaving," "Walking in the Sunshine," "My Uncle Used to Love Me" and the first (and perhaps the best) cut on "Me and Bobby McGee." Most of the tunes are from the good days when Roger wrote them and Jerry Kennedy produced them in Music City. Miller and Kennedy must be given credit here for initiating big interest in writers Bobby Russell and Kristofferson. Mercury SR 61361.

The Cavett guest-shot would be about prison reform. (Shirley is a former inmate of a California prison.) . . . In Orlando, the first show will headline King Crimson on Feb. 27 at Kemp's Coliseum. Other productions slated for the Coliseum include Humble Pie, April 6. Scheduled for dates at the Orlando Sports Stadium are Emerson, Lake & Palmer on March 29 and Jethro Tull on April 28.

series at the London Records distributors conference in Atlanta on Jan. 14 and 14.

Groove Merchant International, an independent label headed by Sonny Lester, is distributed in many areas of the country by London. Heavy sales of the first three Groove Merchant LPs prompted Herb Goldfarb of London to invite Lester and sales manager Erv Bagley, to Atlanta to introduce the new albums to distributors in that area.

The new Groove Merchant LPs are "Evergreens" by the Count Basie Orchestra; "Sundance" by Chic Corea; "Black & Blues" by Jimmy McGriff and "Fusion" by Jeremy Steig, announced Sonny Lester, head of GMI. The McGriff and Steig sets are two records for the price of one. All four LPs are also available in tape cartridges and cassettes.

Carl Smith's new single has a lot in common with some of the country's biggest successes.

Because "Don't Say You're Mine" was produced by Don Law. Who also produced Ray Price's two Number One country hits, "For the Good Times" and "I Won't Mention It Again."

And "Don't Say You're Mine" was arranged by the same man who arranged those songs: Cam Mullins.

Now, Carl's single is already getting strong country and MOR air play. It's on the country charts. And it looks ready to break Top 40.

"Don't Say You're Mine": the country's sounding better every day.

COUNTRY SINGLE PICKS

CARL BELEW/BETTY JEAN ROBINSON—Decca 32916

WHEN MY BABY SINGS HIS SONG (4-Star Music, BMI)

DON'T LET THAT HAPPEN TO US (4-Star Music, BMI)

"What's He Doing In My World," "Am I That Easy to Forget," "All I Need Is You," all three hits are wrapped together with an original melody to give a potent duo outing. Joe Johnson produced.

RONNIE DOVE—Decca 32919

KISS THAT HURT AWAY (Mydov Music/Chu-Fin, BMI)

HE CRIES LIKE A BABY (Moss Rose Publ., BMI)

Ronnie is going to the country on this beautiful ballad. The "Nashville Touch" might be good for Ronnie.

SONNY JAMES—Capitol 3232

ONLY LOVE CAN BREAK A HEART (Arch, ASCAP)

HE HAS WALKED THIS WAY BEFORE (Marson, BMI)

Bacharach and David provide the "Country Gentleman" with his new uptown material. This record should keep Sonny's string of number one hits going.

BRENDA LEE—Decca 32918

MISTY MEMORIES (Playback Music, BMI)

I'M A MEMORY (Willie Nelson, BMI)

Another pretty Ben Peters song which should pick up enormous amounts of hard country airplay. Producer Owen Bradley has stayed with the Brenda Lee big band sound.

WALT MILLS—Impact R-5122

RUNNING FREE (Heartwarming, BMI)

Here's another from that happening gospel label. This is an uptempo production with likable rolling guitar. Message is obscure.

MYLON—Columbia 4-45532

WHY YOU BEEN GONE SO LONG (Acuff-Rose, BMI)

It's the Mickey Newbury song done by the youngest non-gospel son of the gospel-singing LeFevres of Atlanta. Programming a couple of these an hour will help those demographics by lowering listening age.

JACK RENO—Target T13-0141

HEARTACHES BY THE NUMBERS (Tree Publ., BMI)

The Harlan Howard "standard" is redone in fine Reno style. The new indie label keeps a couple of records in the charts all the time.

RED SOVINE—Starday 45-933

I'LL SAIL MY SHIP ALONE (Lois Music, BMI)

HAPPY BIRTHDAY, MY DARLIN' (Acuff-Rose, BMI)

The redhead brings back the golden days of country music with an old-time melody and a western swing arrangement.

RED STEAGALL—Capitol 3244

PARTY DOLLS & WINE (United Artists Music/Songmill, ASCAP)

MIDDLE TENNESSEE COUNTRY BOY'S BLUES (Mark Three, BMI)

Good rinky-tink rock-a-billy tune reminiscent of the late '50s which is where the experts say we're headed again. Title tells the lyric: Drinking, women and "let the good times roll."

TOMPALL & THE GLASER BROTHERS—MGM K14339

SWEET, LOVE ME GOOD WOMAN (Glaser Publ., BMI)

STAND BESIDE ME (Glaser, Publ., BMI)

Here's the Brothers' followup to "Rings." Production feel is close to the formula followed on the predecessor. Important playlist addition.

CHARLIE LOUVIN—Capitol 3243

I PLACED A CALL (Hartbrake, ASCAP)

I'M GOING HOME (Copper Basin, BMI)

Charlie wails this ballad like it ought to be sung. He has moved from the novelty tunes to the heavier side.
