AKAI's complete portable Color VTR System... eliminates film forever!

Stop gambling with film and film processing. And start saving a lot of time and money.

The better way is here. AKAI's new CVT-150 is a complete and totally portable COLOR VTR system. For half the price you'd expect to pay. Only $5,995.

Instant, on-the-spot playback eliminates the gamble, delay and waste of film processing. Shows you immediately what you've shot. And the AKAI CVT-150 is a smaller and simpler system than you've been using. So there's less to go wrong—with both the equipment and the crew.

The amazingly efficient AKAI color camera provides better than 300 line horizontal resolution, a servo-controlled iris, 6-to-1 zoom lens, and a built-in viewfinder/playback monitor. And a unidirectional AKAI's outstanding color video recorder provides features you won't find on equipment costing twice as much. Like completely automatic editing control—no glitches, rolling or tearing between segments. And of course, there's the exclusive AKAI 1/4" video tape format—dramatically lowers your tape costs. Then add stop action and sound dubbing and you have a system that will meet your every need.

The entire AKAI CVT-150 system is truly portable... only 22 lbs.! AC or battery operated.

At this price, you can't afford to be without a portable color VTR. Get the colorful AKAI CVT-150 specs and see for yourself. Just send in the coupon below.

Quick guide to sections

Information in this YEARBOOK is divided into homogeneous sections as described in boxes at right. Here's how to locate a section rapidly:

Hold the YEARBOOK in your left hand. With your right hand bend the book back so that the black markings on the right edges of the pages appear. If you wish to find a page in the A section, for example, place your right thumb over the black bar to the right of the letter A at upper right on this page and riffle through all pages containing a similar black bar in the same position; at the end of the sequence of marking will appear the first page of the A section. The same procedure can be used to find the beginning of another section, starting with your thumb on the black bar on this page to the right of the letter of the section you wish to locate.

Radio billings 1935-1972

Figures for the years 1935 through 1967 are net time sales by stations and networks after all frequency and promotional discounts but before deduction of commissions to agencies and representatives. Figures for 1968 and 1969 were computed under a new formula and represent total amounts paid by advertisers for the use of broadcast facilities. They include commissions paid to advertising agencies and representatives and payments for broadcast time and programs, materials, facilities and services supplied by broadcast stations and networks in connection with the sale of time.

Yearbook 1974

There's some good news, some bad news in prospect

New broadcaster brow creasers include the energy crunch, return to daylight saving time and the next White House move

The stack of problems that faced the broadcasting industry going into 1973, didn't diminish one whit in the ensuing 12 months. In fact, going into 1974, it was evident that some brand-new corkers had been added to the crises list.

This is not to disregard the brighter moments of 1973. These included, among others, station and network profits continuing up, audiences reaching new highs and programing—particularly in the field of broadcast journalism—adding even more sparkle. And to many broadcasters and fellow-members of the FCC, Christmas came early in December when Commissioner Nicholas Johnson called it quits at the commission. The gadfly Mr. Johnson had completed his term June 30, but had stayed in office pending selection and confirmation of a successor.

Notable among those new problems going into 1974 were the questions being posed by the energy crunch: How would the new limitations affect the budgets of energy-involved advertisers as well as those sponsors (travel, recreations, etc.) that would be rocked as the ripple widened across the pond? In the same energy vein was the move to year-around daylight savings time, unsettling many daytime-only radio stations.

In assessing 1974, there are no indications that the broadcasters' ulcers would be helped by a White House that has been increasing pressures on media. Coming into 1973, it was the White House's Office of Telecommunications Policy that proposed license-renewal legislation that many condemned as a carrot-and-stick project: longer license-term benefits in return for station cooperation and sympathy with the White House's network problems.

OTP had other goodies as 1973 went along. In the fall it suggested dropping in an extra 66 VHF television channels by shortspacing in various areas throughout the country. OTP claimed to have the results of an engineering study to prove the feasibility of its shoehorn operation. In the forefront of those rebutting the OTP drop-in plan was the Association of Maximum Service Telecasters. AMST dissected the OTP study and found that possibly only eight VHF frequencies could be accommodated in the top-100 markets. Studies at the FCC also disclosed that the possibilities were much less than those envisioned by OTP.

The other part of problems stemming from the White House came from Richard Nixon, sitting on a Watergate hot seat and at odds with the news media. It reached a boiling point in late October at a televised news conference when the President exploded: "I have never heard or seen such outrageous, vicious, distorted reporting in 27 years of public life."

Earlier, Charles Colson, then a presidential assistant, had expressed his conviction that the government should encourage technological changes, such as cable television, so as to eventually "break up" the networks. Along similar lines, OTP Director Clay T. Whitehead had emphasized in a BROADCASTING Magazine interview that his office was concerned with "bias" in the news and well as the networks' "power" which he felt should be limited by government action and by the creation of more competition.

The pressures on newsmen came from other quarters in 1973 with the issuance of subpoenas that sought to require newsmen to disclose sources of news stories or turn over notes and unbroadcast tape recordings and other material for use in court cases. In many instances, those refusing to comply were jailed. While these tactics had been resisted by the media throughout the years, 1973 marked the greatest counteroffensive by journalists seeking to protect themselves. A joint effort for a "shield law" that would assure them their First Amendment rights got as far as Congress. However, after lengthy hearings it became apparent that Congress did not favor granting complete immunity. This sparked a division of opinion among newsmen as to the feasibility of only partial protection.

Despite these pressures, broadcast journalism recorded one of its finest years in 1973, ranging from the massive coverage of the Watergate scandals to investigative reporting of a sewage-treatment crisis in Roanoke, Va. A BROADCASTING special report last August documented the consensus that radio-TV journalism had become more aggressive, more mature.

One of the happier hours for broadcasters came in May of 1973 when the Supreme Court reaffirmed the traditional view of broadcasters as public trustees with the journalistic responsibility for deciding what issues will be discussed on their stations and by whom, with the fairness doctrine providing the only constant. The court's 7-to-2 decision came in two related cases. One involved the Business Executives Move for Vietnam Peace, an antiwar group, which sought to buy time on WTOP(AM) Washington to express its members' views on the Vietnam War. The other involved the Democratic National Committee, which had petitioned the FCC to issue a declaratory ruling that the Communications Act or the First Amendment precluded broadcasters from enforcing a general ban on the sale of time to "responsible entities" to present their views.

The Supreme Court ruling on BEM-DNC struck down an opposite opinion on the fairness doctrine that had been issued in 1971 by the U. S. Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia.

The ball bounced both ways in 1973 with regard to court decisions involving the fight between broadcasting and cable over copyright. In March a federal appeals court ruled that cable systems are liable for copyright payments for programing taken from "distant" stations that ordinarily do not reach the homes served by the cable systems. However, the Supreme Court in October agreed to review the spring decision.

Cable television in 1973 gave indications that it might be entering its greatest area of expansion. Subscription TV, which in the past had foundered as an on-the-air television venture, showed signs of a comeback with cable, a move being strongly opposed by broadcasters as the year drew to a close.

On-the-air broadcasters particularly sought to keep pay cable away from their sports programing, a money-maker and audience builder as well as a prestige gainer. This value of sports was documented last February when BROADCASTING's special report on the 24 major league baseball clubs revealed that the National and American Leagues would be dividing $42.3 million in broadcast rights in 1973. This represented a $1.3-million increase over payments during the preceding season.

Similarly, a companion special report in August on professional and college football found that the radio-TV tab for 1973 rights had jumped nearly $1 million to $70 million.

The euphoria of the National Football League was diminished in late summer, however, when Congress pushed through legislation that mandated the local telecasting of home pro games that are sold out. The bill, promptly signed into law by the President, provided for the lifting of the home blackout through the 1975 season. The measure also included professional baseball, basketball and hockey.

The modification of the prime-time-access rule was one of the climaxes to 1973. On Nov. 29, the FCC announced its compromise in the form of putting 7:30-8 p. m., Monday through Saturday, up for grabs and eliminating the access rule completely on Sundays.

The 'Broadcasting' Guide to Spot Planning

The broadcast planning process, as practiced by national advertisers, consists of four steps: (1) determining the advertising value of local markets; (2) calculating the delivery of national media in these local markets; (3) locating the markets where national advertising weight is insufficient; (4) estimating the cost of the spot advertising required to bring "underweight" local markets into proper balance with their advertising value.

The following data, augmented by specific brand information, is all the spot planner needs to complete this process. The sources, as noted in the separate tables, are the American Research Bureau, Beltsville, Md. and the A. C. Nielsen Co., Chicago. In sequence, here are the sections of this guide:

1. The Television Markets. These are markets as defined by American Research Bureau as areas of dominant influence (ADI), shown in alphabetical order. Listings contain individual county television-home counts, population data for the market, and capsule listings of the stations serving each market. See also Map of The Television Markets on pages 50-51.

2. The Markets Ranked by Size. These show the distribution of TV homes and population by television market (ADI). Page 41.

3. How TV Network Delivery Varies by Market. Local market audiences reached by each network during prime time. This data is presented to show markets where TV network delivery is low and requires spot support. Page 44.

4. TV Markets by Nielsen Territory. A size ranking of markets within Nielsen Retail Index territory. For use in determining the number of spot markets needed to obtain a given level of territory coverage. Page 47.

5. TV Markets Matched with Sales Areas. The distribution of each TV market's households by Nielsen Retail Index county-size categories. For use in determining the weight delivered to a given county-size classification by a list of spot markets. Page 48.

The Television Markets

Here, listed alphabetically, are the 209 ADI TV markets which constitute the United States. According to American Research Bureau's formula, each county in the U.S. is exclusively assigned to a single market, based upon dominant coverage of the county by the stations originating in the market. Market data shows the stations, their cities of license, channel numbers and network affiliation. (Networks in parenthesis indicate secondary affiliations). Also shown are the counties composing the market and their television household count. Population data included is total for the market. Call letters, network affiliation are as of Sept. 18, 1973.

To reach the Dayton ADI, all you have to remember is

WHIO

WHIO (AM) is the leading radio station in the market for adults 18 and over.

WHIO-FM is the leading FM station (the nation's top FM station in share of market) and ranks second in the market only to WHIO.

WHIO Television is the area's leading TV station. (Check your latest surveys for proof)

Dayton, Ohio — Heart of the 10th largest 90-minute market in the U. S. A.

40th largest ADI in the country, 39th in food sales, 38th in retail sales, 30th in department store sales. Net effective buying power (ignoring a $24 million military market) ranks Dayton 33rd in the nation. Add Dayton to your next top market campaign.

Radio-TV Station Employment

In this table groupings of full-time staffs of radio and television stations have been made. Percentages of the total reporting stations employing a given number of people are shown. For example, in the United States, 1.9% of all television stations and 13.0% of all reporting AM stations employ full-time staffs of from one to five persons.

Figures in parentheses are cumulative to a given point on the chart. For example, in the U.S., 3.8% of reporting television stations and 47.4% of reporting AM radio stations employ full-time staffs of 10 or less persons. U.S. figures are derived from totals of 1,818 AM 456 FM and 373 television stations; Canadian figures are from 62 AM-FM stations and 14 TV's.

The Markets Ranked by Size

Here are the television markets of the U.S. ranked in descending order by the number of television homes they contain. Also shown are the numbers of women, men, teenagers and children in each market and the percentage of the total U.S. population each represents.

Lacking sales data, these population distributions are a rough and ready guide to the sales potential of TV markets for commodity products. All data is from American Research Bureau, and represents the Arbitron Television household and population estimates for the 1973-1974 season.

How Network Delivery Varies by Market

Which markets need spot support, and how much money should be spent, by market, are questions of vital concern to both the national advertiser and the local station. This table provides the audience data critical to these decisions—the local-market performance of network TV average prime-time programs.

National advertisers use spot television to increase network advertising weight in specific markets to achieve a predetermined level. These market goals are derived from the advertising budget and the market's share of the brand's projected sales. Thus, a spot schedule is usually indicated where a market has an unusually high brand-sales potential, or where the network weight delivered for the brand is below the national average used in planning, or both.

The first factor, market brand potential, varies by product and is difficult to generalize. The second factor, local-market network audiences, must be generalized because planning is based upon next season's anticipated network performance. The prevalence of network "package" buys, which tend to deliver average audience levels, supports the use of average data.

The following tabulation, chosen especially for the BROADCASTING Yearbook, shows the American Research Bureau's Areas of Dominant Influence (ADI) in terms of percent of the total number of U.S. TV households. Also given, in the like percentage terms, are the network audiences in each ADI market during prime-time hours. It is this market audience figure, when compared to the market's share of population, that indicates whether the network commitment will perform above or below the national plan average in that market.

For example, the New York market contains 9.44% of total U.S. TV households. The New York audience attracted by the average CBS prime-time program is 8.76% of the total national audience the average CBS prime-time program attracts. This is the starting point for creating the spot-market list and allocating spot dollars. The figures are based on a May, 1973, study.

TV Markets by Nielsen Territory

Nielsen Retail Index territory groupings are another standard way of reporting sales data. The following table ranks TV markets within each Nielsen Territory. This provides a yardstick for determining the number of spot markets needed to achieve a given coverage of a territory. For example, if the national media are not delivering sufficient advertising weight in New England, the planner will find that three TV markets (Boston, Hartford and Providence) contain more than 80% of the New England territory households. Or, he can use the table to get a better idea of how and what TV markets are needed to cover all of New England. Data is from a special Nielsen Station Index tabulation based upon a September 1973 estimate.

TV Markets with Sales Areas

Advertiser sales data is reported by sales district, region and county size. Media planning uses the TV markets as its basic unit. Often these different pieces do not fit together well. The table below deals with the problem of reconciling county-size reporting with television-markets definitions.

Counties are placed in different categories according to complicated formulas that take into account population, contiguity, density of population and other factors. The "A" counties are the 25 major metropolitan areas (as of Feb. 3, 1972); "B" counties contain the next largest group of cities (in counties, or metro areas over 150,000 population); "C" counties contain the smaller towns (over 35,000 population); "D" counties are largely rural.

County-size sales data shows where a brand has its greatest strength, whether it is a big-city, urban, or rural brand. Since geographic flexibility is one of the strengths of spot broadcasting, county-size statistics are important inputs for spot planning. For example, if Brand X has an above-average A-market sales potential (and national media typically underdeliver in these bigger markets) major-market spot might be recommended to supplement the national effort. Here is where the problem of "fit" occurs.

Market definitions are television markets (DMA's or Designated Market Areas, very similar in definition to ARB's Area of Dominant Influence (ADI)) and each market comprises counties that fall into different county-size groupings. A case in point: The top-20 DMA's are all A-county markets. Yet nearly 20% of their populations live in non-A counties. So the media planner using spot to increase A-county impression-weight cannot assume that the spot dollars spent in A markets are all contributing to this goal. The following tabulations from A. C. Nielsen Co. show the distribution of DMA television households by county size for each DMA market and in incremental groups of 10 markets.

Hawaii is excluded from this listing because its counties are not classified by "A", "B", "C" or "D" definitions. Incremental groups after the 79th ranked market do not include Hawaii in the group totals. Hawaii is the 80th ranked market with a total TV Households Estimate of 210,710.

Hotels & Motels Used by Communications Groups

The following hotels, motels and convention halls were meeting places for communications groups listed in BROADCASTING Magazine's Date Book pages during the past two years.

The information below was supplied by the hotels and motels listed and from other trade sources.

This section is published to aid those in the business of Radio-Television-Films-CATV-Advertising in planning meetings, conventions, seminars, sales and executive travel. The section gives available rates and facilities of hotels and motels having established experience with these communications groups.

The meetings held by communications groups, listed below each hotel or motel, are intended as reference sources for planners.

The Radio and Television Audiences

Radio and television were in more U.S. homes than ever before as 1974 approached.

■ Television.—A total of 66.2 million homes, or 97% of all U.S. homes (excluding Alaska and Hawaii), were TV-equipped as of September 1973, according to the A. C. Nielsen Co.

■ Color TV.—Homes equipped with color TV sets totaled 43.4 million as of Oct. 1, 1973, according to estimates by NBC.

■ Radio.—The Radio Advertising Bureau estimated that 67.4 million U.S. homes, or about 98%, were radio-equipped in 1972.

■ Radio Sets.—The number of working-order radio sets in the U.S. totaled 368.6 million in 1973, according to estimates by the Radio Advertising Bureau. RAB estimated that 265.9 million of these were home and personal radio sets and 102.7 million were out-of-home receivers. The total represented a 1.5 million gain over the 353 million estimated for 1972.

■ Viewing and Listening.—The extent to which radio and television sets were used is indicated in numerous ways in the tables that follow. The television figures were furnished by the Nielsen company and its Nielsen Television Index (NTI). The radio data came from RAB, NBC and other sources as noted.

Cumulative Audiences: Radio and TV

Cumulative reach of radio is compared with that of television in the following figures from NBC Radio's 1965 Cumulative Radio Audience Method (CRAM) study, made public in 1966. Although the study was conducted primarily to test new research methodology, NBC said it considered these estimates "approximate" but "conservative" benchmarks.

* TV percentages based on a special Nielsen Television Index tabulation covering in-home viewing only, adjusted to reflect (1) all U.S. individuals 18 years of age and over from both TV and non-TV households, and (2) April TV set usage patterns. NBC's CRAM report said this radio-TV comparison "does not imply that television and radio are equal in impact or effectiveness" but "does suggest that radio's broad reach makes the medium an ideal choice for backing up television advertising."

Minutes of TV Viewing and Radio Listening by TV Viewers

Amount of time that adult viewers (over 18 years of age) spend daily with the broadcast media, by day part and for the day as a whole, is shown in the following tables. In each case the viewers are classified in five groups according to how much time they spend with TV, from the 20% who watch most (at top) in descending order to the 20% who watch least (bottom). TV dominates 6 p.m. to midnight period, but radio has an edge in all other day parts, with the biggest advantage among lighter viewing groups. Data, the most recent available in this form, was prepared for Radio Advertising Bureau by R. H. Bruskin Associates, independent research firm, based on nationwide interviewing conducted in July 1964.

Television billings 1948-1972

Figures for the years 1949 through 1967 are net time sales by stations and networks after all frequency and promotional discounts but before deduction of commissions to agencies and representatives. Figures for 1968 through 1972 were computed under a new formula and represent total amounts paid by advertisers for the use of broadcast facilities. They include commissions paid to advertising agencies and representatives and payments for broadcast time and programs, materials, facilities and services supplied by broadcast stations and networks in connection with the sale of time.

* Estimated.

Prior to 1971, data reflects factory sales by U.S. manufacturers plus those products imported directly by distributors or dealers for resale. Import statistics are based on average value as published by the U.S. Department of Commerce, which is F.O.B., and therefore excludes U.S. import duties, freight charged from the foreign country to the U.S., and insurance.

71-'72 data reflects products or purchased by U.S. manufacturers plus those products imported directly by distributors or dealers for resale. Import statistics are adjusted to U.S. factory values, including U.S. import duties, freight charged from the foreign country to the U.S., and insurance.

¹Other imports reflect those products imported directly by distributors or dealers for resale. Prior to 1971, where import values are reflected, these statistics are based on average value as published by the U.S. Department of Commerce, which is F.O.B., and therefore excludes U.S. import duties, freight charged from the foreign country to the U.S., and insurance.

Countdown on cable television

Pennsylvania is generally considered both the birthplace of cable television and the most active center of today's cable activity. But it is California that has the most subscribers, the most homes passed by cable and the largest total of system miles in place.

Those figures are to be found in a compilation of statistics from this edition of the CABLE SOURCEBOOK. The figures show that California's systems have 834,615 subscribers, Pennsylvania's 723,242. California leads in homes passed by 1,656,000 to 1,475,414, and in miles covered by 19,916 to 19,496. Pennsylvania is still far ahead of all other states in the number of its communities served by cable. It has 927; the closest competitor, California, has 391.

The nationwide subscriber total is just short of 6,000,000 (5,957,910), based on SOURCEBOOK compilations of FCC records. The top-10 states are California, Pennsylvania, New York (485,903), Texas (359,257), Ohio (279,615), Florida (257,116) Washington (184,483), West Virginia (172,276), Michigan (146,382) and Illinois (143,283).

The 10 smallest are Connecticut (where no systems are yet operating), Rhode Island (which has one system with 2,558 subscribers), Alaska (3,177), Utah (4,391), Hawaii (14,014), North Dakota (14,830), Nevada (17,735), South Dakota (22,885), Maine (26,098) and Delaware (32,694).

The world community wrapped in a never-ending strand of cable or a cross-section of cable swirling around the diaphragm of a camera? David B. Gray, a graphic designer with Colony Communications Corp., Providence, R.I., who conceived this logo, leaves it to the beholder to decide. This design, chosen from among 225 entries in a national contest, is to be the official logo of the National Cable Television Association (subject to refinements and approval by the NCTA board of directors). As a prize for his winning design, Mr. Gray is to be awarded $300 in cash and a quadraphonic sound system valued at $1,200.

Sharp rises in penetration of UHF, color, multiset, cable

ARB's newest "Television USA" documents increased numbers of variables of TV medium

Color-equipped TV homes in the U.S. increased by 5.2 million to 38,284,900, or 59% of all U.S. TV homes, between November 1971 and November 1972, while total TV homes increased by 2.3 million to 65,243,900. UHF-equipped homes rose 4.2 million to 54,571,500, or 84%. Multiset homes rose 2.3 million to 27,777,600, or 43%, and cable-TV homes went up by 776,000 to 6,209,500, or 10%.

These figures are drawn from the American Research Bureau's latest "Television USA," a market-by-market report based on ARB's November 1972 sweep. It covers all 209 ARB area-of-dominant-influence (ADI) markets.

ARB said it found that 18 of the 20 markets with all-UHF service have UHF penetration rates of 91% or more, while 22 mixed UHF-VHF markets have 90% or greater penetration, with six of those ranging above 94%, led by Eric, Pa., Fort Myers, Fla., and Springfield-Decatur-Champaign, Ill., with 96% each. Another 26 mixed markets are in the 85%-89% penetration range and seven others match the national average of 84%.

In color penetration, ARB said, Las Vegas, Nev., and Lima, Ohio, lead with 72% each, followed by Fort Myers (71%) and Flint-Saginaw-Bay City, Mich., and Odessa-Midland, Tex. (70% each). Twenty-seven others have color penetration rates of 65% or more.

Although CATV's national penetration was put at 10%, the ARB report showed some CATV homes in all ADI markets but two: Hartford-New Haven, Conn., and Las Vegas, Nev. Generally, highest penetration tended to be in smaller markets. At the top of the list was Palm Springs, Calif., where 28,600 subscribers represented 90% penetration. Three others were in the 60%-or-over range—Elmira, N.Y. (68%), Flagstaff, Ariz. (66%), and Santa Barbara-Santa Maria, Calif. (60%)—while 10 others were between 50% and 59% and 17 between 40% and 49%. Among the top 10 U.S. markets, Pittsburgh and San Francisco lead with 18% each, but Philadelphia has the most CATV homes, 292,900, or 13%.

There are 10 markets, the study showed, in which half or more of the TV homes have two or more sets. Baltimore is first: 62% of its TV homes are multiset homes. Then come Las Vegas (61%), Philadelphia (55%), Miami (54%), Cincinnati (53%), Chicago, Detroit, New York and Rochester, N.Y. (52% each) and Boston (50%).

The following estimates are provided for those television markets that, according to ARB findings, have no geographic area of dominant influence of county size or greater. They are based on the home counties of the market and therefore are not directly comparable to the ADI estimates listed previously. The home counties are shown in parentheses following each non-ADI market. Because the survey areas of the markets listed below are composed of counties which are part of other market's ADI's, these estimates are not additive.

Market	Total TV Households	CATV		Color		Multiset		UHF
		TV HH	%	TV HH	%	TV HH	%	TV HH	%
Hagerstown, Md. (Washington, Md.)	33,800	9,652	29	16,200	48	14,200	42	30,000	88
Worcester, Mass. (Worcester, Mass.)	204,000	22,896	11	132,800	65	101,000	49	187,500	91

Viewing estimates for the home stations of the following non-ADI markets are reported in the television-market reports for the ADI markets, noted in parentheses, in which each of these is located. Therefore no CATV, color, multiset or UHF estimates are shown here for these non-ADI markets: Akron, Ohio (Cleveland); Anderson, S.C. (Greenville-Spartanburg-Ashville); Battle Creek, Mich. (Grand Rapids-Kalamazoo); Bowling Green, Ky. (Nashville); Canton, Ohio (Cleveland); Dubuque, Iowa (Cedar Rapids-Waterloo); El Centro, Calif. (Los Angeles); Fayetteville, Ark. (Tulsa); Fond du Lac (Green Bay); Fort Dodge, Iowa (Des Moines); Fort Lauderdale, Fla. (Miami); Fort Pierce-Vero Beach, Fla. (West Palm Beach); Hazard, Ky. (Bristol-Kingsport-Jackson City); Hickory, N.C. (Charlotte); Houma, La. (New Orleans); Lafayette, Ind. (Indianapolis); Manchester, N.H. (Boston); Miles City, Mont. (Billings); Modesto, Calif. (Sacramento-Stockton); Salem, Ore. (Portland); Sarasota, Fla. (Tampa-St. Petersburg); Tulare, Calif. (Fresno); Wildwood, N.J. (Philadelphia).

Political advertising leveled off in 1972

Under law restricting political to lowest advertising rates, broadcast spending held even with 1968, new FCC report shows

A total of $59.6-million was spent on broadcast and cable-television advertising by political candidates during 1972, about the same that candidates spent in the 1968 elections, the FCC reported last week. The 1972 record featured a radical decline in Republican spending in presidential and vice-presidential races.

Although the commission made no mention of it, the volume of campaign spending in broadcast last year was for the first time affected by the Federal Election Campaign Act, implemented in 1972, prohibiting stations from charging candidates more than their lowest advertising rates. (Another restriction in the act, a ceiling of six cents per voter on broadcast advertising by candidates for federal office, turned out to be generous. Neither presidential ticket spent the $8.5 million the law would have allowed.)

The McGovern-Shriver total expenditure for the November general election was $6.2 million. Democratic candidates spent another $3.4 million in the primaries. The Nixon-Agnew ticket allocated $4.3 million to broadcast for the general elections. Republicans spent under $100,000 in the primaries. The Democrats spent $1.3 million less in 1972 on presidential and vice-presidential races than the $10.9 million they spent on broadcast four years ago. The Republicans' $4.4-million expenditure in 1972 compared with $15.6 million in 1968.

Other presidential candidates allocated a total of only $305,000 to broadcast in 1972, compared with $2 million in 1968. (The presence of Alabama Governor George Wallace throughout the 1968 campaign and his attempted assassination early in the 1972 campaign accounted principally in the difference of third-party spending.)

The commission's study shows that George McGovern's successful bid for the 1972 Democratic presidential nomination was supported by his sizable broadcast expenditure during the party's primaries. He allocated nearly twice as much to broadcast as any of his Democratic opponents. The McGovern camp's total primary spending in television—both network and local spot—amounted to $586,821; for radio, the total was $413,089; for cable TV, $210. Senator Edmund Muskie's (D-Me.) primary campaign was the next costliest: $308,922 in television, $207,783 in radio and nothing in CATV. Senator Hubert Humphrey (D-Minn.) was third, with $270,862, $172,944 and zero, respectively.

The study shows that Democrats running for all offices spent more than Republicans for broadcast during the 1972 campaigns, and that the total spent for spot announcements by both parties greatly exceeded that allocated for the purchase of program-length commercials (see accompanying tables).

Broadcasting expenditures in 1972 were also down from four years ago in senatorial races. Candidates for the U.S. Senate, the commission reported, spent a

To order your own copy, fill in the coupon below. Your copy will be mailed promptly.

The 1974 Cable Sourcebook—contains complete systems information based on FCC data and BROADCASTING's own sources.

Here, for example, is comprehensive data you'll find on a typical system:

—Name of system, its address, telephone number, name of person who signed FCC Form 325, along with his address and telephone number. Name of attorney and address, if not located in Washington; parent company name.

—Area served, its population, number of subscribers, start date, homes passed, system length, franchise expiration date, franchise fee, charge per month.

—For TV stations carried: call letters and location, channel of broadcast and channel of carriage on cable, method of pickup—off air or microwave.

—For radio stations carried: call letters and location; whether AM or FM.

—Number of channels used for TV; number of automated program-origination channels; number of automated program-origination channels with background music; number of channels used by cable TV operator or others for non-automated program origination; number of channels used for broadcast signals and number of channels unused.

—Programing during sample week: number of cable channels and hours used for time and weather reports, news ticker, sports ticker, stock-market ticker and such special services as burglar and fire alarms, facsimile, preference polling, meter reading.

—Also details on amount of local programing, CATV network programing, film programing, tape programing (with type of tapes used), news, sports, religion, instructional programing, entertainment—plus channel usage by government and private groups.

—Also details on number and length of locally originated commercials.

—Make of principal items of equipment in the system.

—Explicit details of ownership of the system, with cross-references to other systems if multiply owned.

A Complete Cable Guide—

In addition to the wealth of data listed above, the 1974 Broadcasting Cable Sourcebook offers a complete guide to:

—Group Ownership of Cable Systems in the U.S. and Canada—with name and address of group, names of principal officers and ownership data including shares authorized, issued and unissued.
—Broadcasters in Cable—shows stations owned, systems owned, percent ownership and names and addresses of owners.
—State Statistics—includes communities served, number of subscribers, homes passed and miles covered.

New in 1974 Sourcebook a list of the Top-50 multiple system owners, a list of the Top-25 cable systems in the U.S., as compiled by the National Cable Television Association.

1972: It was a very good year for radio

Massive, annual year-behind breakout of finances by FCC shows sales and profits rose at a record rate

Any business that can report an 11.8% increase in revenues and a rise in profits nearly three times as great in a single year is sailing in smooth financial waters. So it was with radio in 1972. As previously reported (BROADCASTING, Dec. 17), the FCC computed the radio industry's collective revenues in that year to be $1.407 billion. Profits reached the $134.3 million level. Advertiser expenditures for the medium totaled $1.548 billion—the biggest bulk of which ($1.098 billion) was collected for local commercials. While expenses continued to rise (they reached a level of $1.273 billion in 1972), revenues rose faster. As a group, the radio networks, their owned-and-operated stations, and the other AM and AM-FM facilities did well. And while FM operations as a group continued to be unprofitable (62% of the independent FM's reporting to the commission said they lost money), revenues for those facilities were on the rise and the number of losing ventures continued to decrease.

The tables on this and the following pages put radio's 1972 economic picture in perspective. Two new features to the computations have been added by the commission this year. They are an assessment of radio's barter activity (contained in a separate column in tables 7 and 8), and a market-by-market breakdown of FM's financial accomplishments. The tabular material contains the following information:

Table 1 (this page): a comparison of the totals for radio and television in revenues, expenditures and pre-tax income in 1972 and 1971.

Table 2 (page 56): total 1972 revenues and expenditures for both network and nonnetwork radio operations. Separate lists are provided for AM and AM-FM combinations, and independent FM's.

Table 3 (page 57): a 10-year record of (a) gross advertising revenues for the entire radio industry; (b) radio revenues, expenses and income, and (c) FM accomplishments (for both independent stations and those affiliated with an AM but reporting to the commission separately from their sister stations).

Table 4 (page 58): number of AM and AM-FM stations in specific revenue and profit categories, determined by volume.

Table 5 (page 58): Data on employment and investment in tangible broadcast property for networks, network-owned stations and all other stations.

Table 6 (page 58): Expenses of all networks and stations reporting revenues in 1972 of $25,000 or more.

Tables 7, 8, 9 (page 59-66): Radio station financial achievements in 1972 on a market-by-market basis. Tables 7 and 8 include a new column devoted to barter statistics.

Table 9 (pages 66-67): A new market-by-market breakdown of FM revenues, expenses and income.

total of $6.4 million last year compared with $10.4 million in 1968. Democratic senatorial candidates spent $3.3 million last year, $1.4 million of it during primaries. They spent $6.1 million in 1968. Republicans spent $3 million last year, $500,000 in the primaries. Four years earlier, they spent $4.2 million. Other candidates spent $120,000 last year compared with $84,000 in 1968.

In races for the U.S. House of Representatives, $7.4 million was spent last year. Comparable data was not available for 1968. Democratic candidates were responsible for $4.3 million ($2 million in primaries), Republicans for $3.1 million ($670,000 in primaries).

In gubernatorial contests, $9.7 million was spent on broadcast and cable last year, compared with $6.2 million four years ago. Democrats accounted for $5.9 million of last year's total; they spent more in the primaries—$3.4 million—than in general elections. Republicans spent $3.7 million, $700,000 in the primaries. Other candidates spent less than $100,000.

For other state and local offices, the 1972 spending total was $21.7 million, of which $11.3 million came from Democrats, $6.5 million from Republicans and $3.9 million from others. Comparable figures were unavailable for 1968.

Television expenditures amounted to 62.4% of the $59.6-million campaign-spending total (compared with 64.5% in 1968). Radio got 37.5% of the revenues: last year (compared with 35.5% in 1968) and CATV accounted for 0.1%. No cable totals were available for 1968.

During the 1972 campaigns, 88% of the total spent by candidates went for spot announcements, 12% for programs. The distribution in 1968 was 91% for spot and 9% for programs.

Donations of free time by the several electronic media totaled 19,981 hours, 9,995 of which went to Democratic candidates, 7,185 to Republicans and 2,78 to independents. The total breaks down by medium as follows: commercial television stations, 2,545; commercial radio stations, 13,673; CATV systems, 1,12 public television stations, 1,386; public radio stations, 880; public radio and television networks, 218; commercial television networks, 102; commercial radio networks, 53. (For a listing of how those hours were allocated to political parties see tables.)

Notes: 1972 radio data covers the operations of the nationwide networks (CBS, MBS, NBC and ABC's three AM networks and one FM network), 4,271 AM and AM-FM stations, 275 FM stations associated with AM stations but reporting separately in 1972, and 590 independent FM stations. This data also includes the compensation paid by other (regional, state, etc.) networks to affiliated stations, but does not include the revenues retained by these other networks nor their expenses. Radio data for 1971 covers the operations of the nationwide networks, 4,252 AM and AM-FM stations, 241 associated FM's that reported separately in 1971 and 527 independent FM stations. Also included is the compensation paid by other networks to their affiliates, but not the revenues retained by the other networks nor their expenses. TV data for 1972 covers the operations of three networks and 690 stations. TV data for 1971 covers the operations of three networks and 688 stations.

IN THE BUSINESS OF BROADCAST ADVERTISING the leader is BROADCASTING. Through the pages of BROADCASTING, your own advertising reaches more than twice the paid circulation among vital agency-&advertiser readers than any other TV-radio publication can offer. And at a cost-per-contact less than half that of any other.

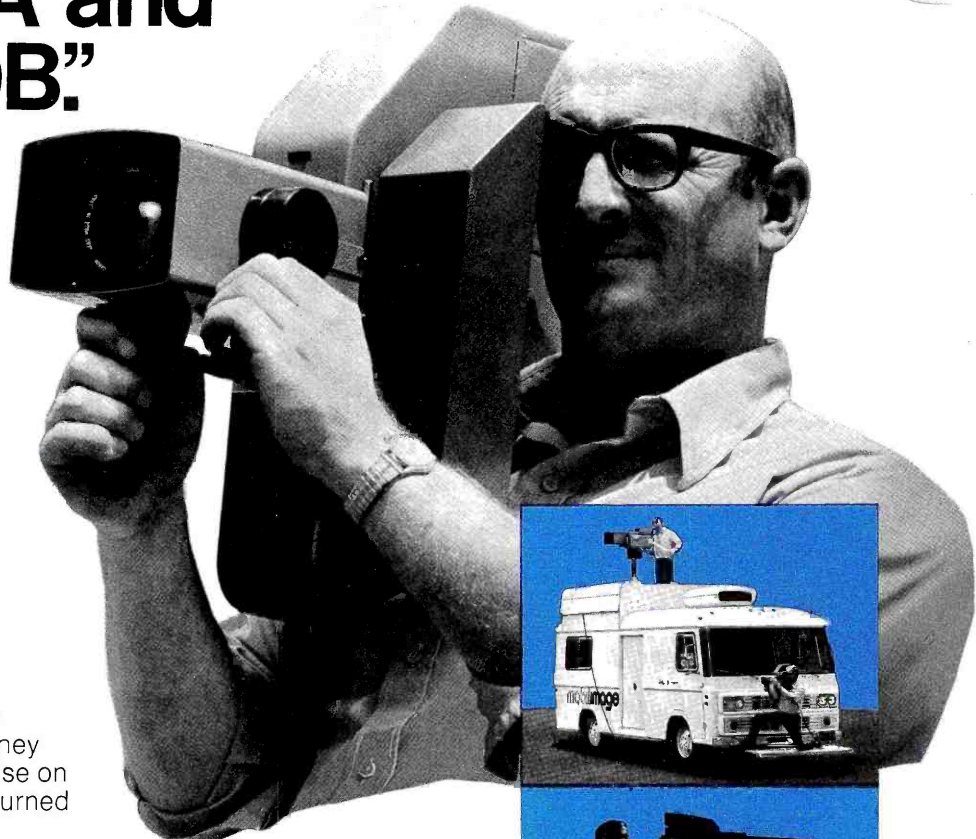

This is the largest audience with the greatest potential at the biggest economy. BROADCASTING delivers it.

“Video becomes as mobile as film with the Norelco PC-100A and PCP-90B.”

...says Warren G. Stitt,
President Mobilimage
Corporation, Hollywood,
California

Warren G. Stitt

When Mobilimage put a complete TV production studio into a small van, they didn't want to compromise on picture quality. So they turned to Norelco.

First for the PCP-90B . . . the world's first and finest hand-held color television camera. Its three-Plumbicon* design produces uncompromised studio-quality color pictures. Operating with pencil-thin triax cable, it weighs just 18 lbs. It can operate anywhere, self-powered from a battery back-pack; and can transmit direct live broadcast by microwave . . . no cables needed.

Second, Mobilimage chose the Norelco PC-100A. It's today's most advanced studio and field camera.

Naturally the PC-100A uses triax cable too. Our exclusive ACT (anti-comet-tail) Plumbicon tubes eliminate the comet-tailing so commonly encountered in remote work.

Warren Stitt says, "Both cameras give immediate registration. They eliminate costly set-up and strike time. They enable Mobilimage to meet the strictest requirements for perfect tape-to-film transfer. And they produce the best color pictures in television today."

Now you can combine the go-anywhere versatility of film with the instant replay, crisp imagery, and electronic control advantages of videotape.

For information on how you too, can get aboard the new-generation mobile TV production band wagon, call your nearest Norelco field representative, or write, today.

ASK FOR THE MOON!

Bill Kessel did. And got it.

Just ask him. He's one of the toughest chief engineers in the business. And he wanted features that no one else could give him in two switchers for his studios at KTVT in Ft. Worth and for his facilities in Dallas.

Jack Harris, the production manager, was just as delighted... on the creative side. He got the exclusive features that pack in business... with a control board designed for guys who have to put it all together.

Take a shot at the moon... everything you want... and then some.

HOW MANY CALLS DO YOU GET FROM PEOPLE INTERESTED IN TELEVISION CAREERS?

The American Film Institute GUIDE TO COLLEGE COURSES IN FILM AND TELEVISION Edited by Michele Herling Preface by George Stevens, Jr., Director, American Film Institute

The only authoritative listing of film and television courses offered by American colleges, tells you . . .

- *Degrees offered
- *Number of majors on the undergraduate levels
- *Scholarship and/or assistantship aid
- *Distinctive programs or opportunities available to students
- *Department chairmen and names and positions of all full-time and part-time faculty
- *The major areas of film and/or television study
- *Course titles followed by units of credit available
- *Teacher training courses offered, and the person to contact
- *Film equipment and facilities available
- *Television equipment and facilities available

Arthur Knight, Professor of Film, Department of Cinema at the University of Southern California writes an exciting Foreword on Film about the exploding market for trained teachers and producers of film. He cites the tremendous expansion in television—commercial, educational, cable TV—as well as the wide variety of new vidronic devices.

George C. Stoney, Professor of Film and Television, Undergraduate Institute of Film and Television, New York University, in his Foreword on Television optimistically cites the changes in and out of film schools and says "the way we view and use the visual medium will be revolutionized and college campuses will be serving as the laboratories."

If you put this much into the news, it only takes this much to sell it.

When it comes to selling KPRC TV News, our salesmen have it easy.

After all, look what they have to work with.

We have the largest news department in Houston.

We think it's the best. So do others. KPRC TV News has won more awards than all the other Houston stations combined. And with good reason.

KPRC TV News has a tradition of excellence. As a result, we get the best news people.

And they operate from one of the most advanced broadcast facilities in America.

Because we put more into our news, the people of Houston get more out of it. Just check our ratings.

It doesn't take much to sell KPRC TV News.

In fact, with all due respect to our very fine salesmen, we think it sells itself.

TV Allocations, State City

Note: UHF and VHF TV allocations have been made by the FCC to the following cities. A plus or minus after a channel indicates that a station occupying the channel must operate with its carrier frequencies offset 10 kilocycles above or below, respectively, the normal carrier frequencies. The offset indicators are not shown for UHF assignments, which were the subject of a rule-making adopted June 4, 1965. The designators were to be added in a later order, but had not been published by time the Yearbook went to press. Meanwhile, the appropriate designators are shown on construction permits and licenses issued for UHF stations.

Asterisks (*) indicate channels reserved for noncommercial use. Footnotes: 1) Following the decision in Doc 18261 (amendment of rules regarding geographic reallocation of channels 14-20 to land mobile radio in the 25 largest urbanized areas of the U.S.) channels so indicated will not be available for use until further action by the FCC. 2) This channel is not available for Elgin, Ill., unless FCC determines it is not needed at Joliet, Ill. 3) This channel is not available for Asbury Park, N.J., unless FCC determines it is not needed at New Brunswick, N.J. 4) Channel 15 will not be available for television use until further action by the FCC. 5) Stations using these assignments shall limit radiation toward stations on the same channel in Puerto Rico. 6) Operation on this Channel is subject to the conditions, terms, and requirements set out in the Report and Order in Docket No. 19075, RM-1645, adopted January 5, 1972, released January 7, 1972, FCC-72-19.

TV networks bill record $1.8 billion in 1972

64 newcomers, led by J. C. Penney, help push last year's total $1.8 billion over 1971

There were more customers and more newcomers to the medium in what was a record billings year of 1972 for network television, according to the Television Bureau of Advertising.

TVB's report, based on compilations by Broadcast Advertisers Reports (BAR) and released today (March 5) put last year's total network billings at $1.8 billion, or $200 million more than in 1971 and $100 million above 1970, a previous record year.

Network-TV advertisers increased in one year from 432 to 479. There were 64 newcomers to network TV in 1972, more than in the previous year. Among those new to network in 1972 was J.C. Penney Co. which by spending $5.5 million topped the newcomers list.

One of the few major advertisers to show a decrease in its network investment, Procter & Gamble, was still easily number one in the medium with over $116 million.

Biggest gainers among the top-10 network advertisers, comparing 1972 spending with 1971, were Ford, up 69% to $50.1 million, and Sears, Roebuck & Co., up 59% to $36.3 million.

Seven new customers help spot TV bill $1.4 billion in '72

Procter & Gamble stays at top of list with $72.3 million

Advertiser investment in national and regional spot television amounted to $1.4 billion in 1972, according to figures released last week by the Television Bureau of Advertising.

The figures, based on Broadcast Advertisers Reports (BAR) compilation in the 75 leading television markets, shows that seven advertisers joined spot TV's top-100 for the first time in 1972. They are: Magnavox, $4,819,000; H. & R. Block (income tax service), $4,121,400; Mutual of Omaha, $3,722,400; G. Heileman Brewing Co., $3,659,200; A. H. Robins Co., $3,384,400; Control Data Corp., $3,127,900, and Blue Cross Associates, $2,952,900.

The leading five advertisers in spot TV last year were Procter & Gamble, $72.3 million; General Foods, $45.4 million; American Home Products, $35.1 million; Colgate-Palmolive, $35 million and Lever Bros., $23.6 million.

TVB cautioned that the investments for 1972 should not be compared with those for 1971 since BAR last year switched to data from a major advertising agency as the primary source for estimating spot-TV costs. Under the new system, estimates appear smaller (though closer to actual cost), e.g., BAR figures show an 0.5% increase for 1972 while other major indicators show an increase of more than 14%.

Day-by-day New York. Procter & Gamble was the top spot-TV spender on New York's six commercial VHF stations in January-February—a not very surprising piece of news since P&G is by long odds the nation's biggest TV spender. But the way it distributed those New York dollars is something else: 68% of them went to the three independent stations—and virtually all of the rest went to a single network affiliate (table below). American Home Products ranked second but went the other way, putting almost 87% of its money on affiliates. General Foods, in third place, followed an in-between pattern, heavier on affiliates but with 31.5% going to independents.

These figures are taken from a Broadcast Advertisers Reports analysis of results of the first two months of its full-time monitoring of the New York commercial V's. The new service, called "Full-Time New York" and based on special time-lapse video-recording equipment ("Closed Circuit," April 2) is being announced today (April 16). Video recording (one frame per second) as well as full-time operation distinguishes Full-Time New York from BAR's monitoring in 74 other markets, where recording is audio only and covers one week a month. Video recording, according to President Robert W. Morris, permits much faster processing. "We can publish our New York monitor reports in one week instead of the two to three weeks it used to take," he said. Expenditure figures for the reports are calculated by applying the estimated "going rates" for each station to each advertiser's actual schedule. The "going rates" are estimated for BAR by the timebuying department of BBDO. The expenditure estimates also include allocations for advertisers whose schedules were trade-out or barter.

The top-20 advertisers for the two months are shown in the table below, along with their estimated expenditures and the distribution of these funds among stations (whose rank order, on the top-20 basis, differs somewhat from their rankings as computed when all spot and local spending was taken into account). BAR said the top-20 outlay of $8,579,063 covered 14,214 commercials, or 27.4% of the total dollars and 22% of the total announcements. In the group, BAR noted, are four local advertisers: Korvettes discount chain (ranked fifth), A&P food stores (sixth), Mazda Auto Dealers Association (eighth) and Sears, Roebuck stores (12th).

Directory of AM and FM Radio Stations in the U. S.

Listed in this directory are all AM (amplitude modulation) and FM (frequency modulation) radio stations in the U. S. and its territories and Canada. Information received as late as Sept. 15, 1973, has been included in the listings.

The following sample listing is given, with explanation of order and meaning of information following the listing.

ANYTOWN (401) Howcom county

WOF Jan 1, 1963: 1600 khz; 50 kw-D, 10 kw-N, DA-D (L-WOOF). Box 100. (00001). 462-0100. TWX 401-568-0100. WOF Bestg Co (acq 7-1-63).
Net: ABC/C. Rep: Jones, Penn State. Format: MOR/C&W. Spec progs: It. 1 hr wkly.

WOF is in Anytown, in Howcom county. Its Direct Distance Dial telephone code is 401.

WOF began operation Jan. 1, 1963. It operates on 1600 khz, with 50 kw in daytime hours, 10 kw at night. It uses a directional antenna during day hours (DA-N indicates nighttime directional antenna; DA-1, indicates directional antenna at all times, and DA-2 indicates directional antenna with differing directional patterns in daytime and nighttime hours. SH—specified hours of operation; ST—station shares time; CH—critical hours; CP—construction permit; CR—Canadian restricted). This station is limited to operating at nighttime, only when dominant station (WOOF) is not operating. Its mailing address is Box 100, ZIP code 00001. Telephone is 462-0100. Teletype Writer Exchange (TWX) number is 401-568-0100. Licensee's name is WOF Broadcasting Co., which purchased the station from its previous owner on July 1, 1963. (If no acquired date is listed, licensee is original owner.)

WOF is affiliated with the ABC Contemporary network. Its national sales representative is Jones, and regional rep, Penn State, follows the national rep. The station programing format is divided between middle of the road and contemporary. WOF has one hour of specialty programs each week in the Italian language. A list of station executives with their titles follows.

WOF-FM 1963: 106.9 mhz; 20 kw. Ant 200 ft. DUP WOF 60%. Stereo.
John Jones, stn mgr; Phil Smith, prog dir; Hugh Scott, chief engr.

WOF-FM began operation in 1963 on 106.9 mhz. The station has an effective radiated power of 20 kw. Its antenna is 200 feet above average terrain. It duplicates the programing of WOF 60% of its broadcast schedule and programs independently the remaining time. It also broadcasts in stereo by the multiplex system. Licensee of the FM station is the same as companion AM station, unless otherwise listed.

Executives are listed if they are different from those for the AM station. No listing for executives indicates the same people serve both stations.

WOF-TV is the TV adjunct of WOF-AM-FM.

Listings for independent FM stations follow the format of AM station listings. Noncommercial stations carry an asterisk(*).

Be it known to all media buyers-

- you get a regional

'audience network'

with every toot on

We don't hang our hat on geographic coverage. You would expect KRAK's 50,000 watt, clear channel signal to cover a large area, and it certainly does . . . the rich Sacramento Valley (including Sacramento, Stockton & Modesto), and even the San Francisco Bay Area (including San Francisco & Oakland).

However, the thing that really affects your clients' sales charts is not the number of square miles covered, impressive as that may be. It's the actual listening audience you reach with your message . . . and that's where we shine!

By whatever standards you make your judgments, KRAK will prove a unique one station regional "audience network" buy.

Your HR/Stone Man has the facts and figures. Give him a toot.
