

Section H: This, the "Technology" section, begins with a list of U.S. and international equipment manufacturers and distributors, and continues with listings of frequency measuring services, videotext operations, teletext operations, videotext and teletext software and hardware suppliers, automated-channel suppliers, broadcast automation systems, and a directory of companies providing mobile production services. These listings include addresses, telephone numbers, and names of principal executives. Next are lists of common carriers including land line, microwave & multipoint distribution services. On page H-57 a chart shows the growth of broadcasting, and on page A-62 a chart shows television and radio set sales from 1958-1985. The last part of Section H begins on page H-59 with the 1987 Buyer's Guide, the yellow pages, a commercial directory to equipment, programing and broadcast services.

Section I: is divided into three parts-Professional Services, Associations, and Broadcast Education. Part one provides listings of brokers and consultants, station financing firms, research services, technical consultants, law firms and attorneys in communications law, public relations services, talent agents, and employment services. Part two, Associations, begins on page I-50 with the National Association of Broadcasters and includes trade organizations, professional associations and societies, and unions. Broadcast Education, part three, opens on page I-55 with broadcasting schools. The section continues with reviews of recently published books related to the Fifth Estate. Section I concludes with a list of colleges and universities offering degrees and courses in radio and television.
