Television Marketplace

The ADI Market Atlas

The Area of Dominant Influence is a geographic market design that defines each television market exclusive of the others, based on measurable viewing patterns. Each market's ADI consists of all counties in which the home market stations receive a preponderance of viewing, and every county in the continental U.S. is allocated exclusively to one ADI—there is no overlap. The total of all ADI's represents the total television households in the U.S.

The ADI is a standard market definition. As a television buying tool it is a geographic and demographic means for maximum efficiency. As a station tool it has applications for sales, programming, and promotion planning.

Following, in alphabetical order, are Arbitron Television's 212 ADI markets for 1987-88 with coverage maps for each; and county by county breakouts of TV households. Other data include the market's stations, their cities of license, channel numbers and network affiliations.

Coverage maps show total survey areas in light shading, the ADI's themselves outlined in black, and Arbitron Metro Rating Areas in white. The survey areas consist of all counties in which the home market stations are viewed to any significant extent, including via cable. The Metro Areas usually conform to U.S. Census Standard Metropolitan Statistical Areas.

Non-ADI markets do not meet Arbitron's criteria for having an ADI of their own; they are listed with the ADI of which they are a part.

A complete listing of the non-ADI markets and a cross-reference list for cities in multi-city ADI's appear on page C-147.

Non-ADI Markets

The following single-county markets did not achieve ADI status because the preponderance of viewing is not to the home-market station. Neither did they meet the criteria of the 10% Rule to become an ADI. The home counties in non-ADI markets are assigned to the ADIs that do receive the preponderance of viewing.

TV Markets by Nielsen Marketing Research Territory

Nielsen Marketing Research territory groupings are another standard way of reporting sales data. The following table ranks TV markets within each Nielsen Territory. This provides a yardstick for determining the number of spot markets needed to achieve a given coverage of a territory. For example, if the national media are not delivering sufficient advertising weight in New England, the planner will find that 3 TV markets (Boston, Hartford and Providence) contain almost 80% of the New England territory households. Or, the planner can use the table to get a better idea of how and what TV markets are needed to cover all of New England. Data is from special Nielsen Station Index tabulation based on a January 1988 estimate.

How Network Delivery Varies by Market

National advertisers use spot television to increase network advertising weight in specific markets to achieve a predetermined level. These market goals are derived from the advertising budget and the market's share of the brand's projected sales. Thus, a spot schedule is usually indicated where a market has an unusually high brand-sales potential, or where the network weight delivered for the brand is below the national average used in planning, or both.

The first factor, market brand potential, varies by product and is difficult to generalize. The second factor, local-market network audiences, must be generalized because planning is based upon next season's anticipated network performance. The prevalence of network package buys, which tend to deliver average audience levels, supports the use of average data.

The following tabulation, chosen especially for the BROADCASTING/CABLECASTING YEARBOOK, shows Arbitron Television's Areas of Dominant Influence (ADI) in terms of percent of the total number of U.S. TV households. Also given, in like percentage terms, are the network audiences in each ADI market during prime-time hours. It is this market audience figure, when compared to the market's share of the population, that indicates whether the network commitment will perform above or below the national plan average in that market.

The figures are based on Arbitron Television's May 1987 Network Program Group Analysis.

PROBLEM SOLVERS

How to re-create instantly -- anytime -- the exact camera adjustments that gave you perfection today.

This problem is both technical and artistic. And the best solution ever developed is the built-in floppy disk system in Hitachi's Setup Control Panel, for SK-97D and SK-970D cameras.

Keep this "perfect look" on file.

For example, suppose you've spent a fussy 55 minutes adjusting your cameras for absolute perfection in tight closeups, for a special on kids and pets.

But as soon as you start shooting, the on-camera narrator becomes very ill and you have to reschedule. This leaves you not feeling so well yourself. Because you know, in a day or two, you'll have to create that look again.

No problem -- with Hitachi's system. Setup and adjustment data from as many as six cameras and 32 scenes can be filed on a single floppy disk. You can automatically set up your cameras again anytime -- exactly the way they were. About two minutes is all it takes.

Other computerized camera systems can't do this. Only Hitachi has the software and the built-in floppy disk drive that does it. On-board micro-computers in Hitachi's SK-970D and SK-97D cameras exchange data with the disk.

Think of the advantages. You can file and re-use camera adjustments that flatter the complexions of specific talent. You can match and keep on file the look of any continuing series.

The bottom line is -- you save time. You add to effective production time by cutting down setup time.

That's why a major network

AT SYBERVISION WE HAVE A $40 MILLION TV ADVERTISING BUDGET.

And we're hungry to spend it!

Our 30-minute television commercials are currently aired by 600 broadcasters weekly. We're looking for at least 600 more.

SYBERVISION, the world leader in personal achievement technology, offers documentary-like commercials that are unlike any you've seen. The reason is the products we sell. All our products were developed by world renown experts after years of scientific research at major universities. Our products lend themselves to a documentary presentation that will appeal to nearly all your viewing audience. Enhancing our commercials' appeal are our broadcast quality productions, which are equal to or above the standards of the television industry.

We currently offer three half hour commercials — Weight Control: A Fat Free Future; Self Discipline: The Fire That Burns Within; and Journey of Discovery, which tells the story of SyberVision while introducing a wide range of our unique audio-video products. But, these are just a beginning. Because of the success of our television commercials, we will be developing new half hour shows featuring many of our more than 40 products. We invite your station or group of stations to carry our commercials and join the momentum that is SyberVision.

Here are some of the benefits from carrying SyberVision's half hour commercials:

- 1) You will increase profits for your station from selling us television time.
- 2) You will add a client that is in television marketing to stay.
- 3) Your viewers, if they follow what has been the norm, will have such remarkable success with our products that they will thank you for carrying our commercials.
- 4) Our commercials have information value that makes them more like documentaries than commercials. Our shows have actually drawn rating points in most markets.
- 5) Anyone who is not satisfied with any of our products can return them to us within 60 days for a full refund (minus shipping and handling) — no questions asked.

So far, our commercials have been approved and shown by stations in every market in the country. If you aren't currently running SyberVision commercials, you can be sure that at least one of your competitors is.
