Balancing of Artists Essential

THE good old male quartet that took a deep breath before each minor chord and "gave 'er all they had" in length, breadth and height of tone, has passed from the radio studio.

It has been superseded by a group of trained singers capable of melodious production in tones only slightly louder than that of ordinary conversation.

The new type is the outgrowth of experiments by experts in the National Broadcasting Company and other leading studios in eliminating the raucous "blasting" of tones in broadcasting. In the earlier stages of broadcasting, much irritating rattling accompanied the renditions of quartet numbers. The quartet was moved back from the microphone, sometimes as much as ten feet, but without getting rid of the annoying rasp of super-vibrated receiving and transmitting apparatus.

Then came the discovery that if the members would sing pianissimo, they might approach the "mike" within a foot or two without "blasting." Further experimentation has resulted in such further improvement that now the quartet numbers come over the air as sweetly and naturally as a violin solo.

The members of the quartet are "balanced" by production experts to a point of perfect blending. The bass is moved back an inch or the baritone six inches to the side in rehearsals until a tone unison of pipe-organ accuracy is accomplished.

"Balancing" occupies much of the rehearsal periods of vocal and orchestral groups in the radio studios which initiate most of the network features.

Each piece in an orchestra is placed at such distance from the microphone as to best symphonize it with the rest of the instruments. The violins occupy the front row, with the 'cellos and viols back of them and at either end.

Directly back of the strings are the clarinets. Flanking these, and slightly to the rear are the flute, the oboe, the piccolo and the bassoon, and possibly the xylophone.

Back of these there is a considerable space, perhaps eight or ten feet, and here sit the trumpets and saxophones and trombones and basses in brassy isolation. And 'way over yonder, in the corner of the room, is the musical pariah—the drummer.

The drummer, who used to get his joy in life out of a battering tattoo on the old bass drum, and a rolling crescendo on the snare, is a pathetic sight in a radio studio. The drum is a poor radio instrument, and there is little drumming to do. So the drummer has to content himself with coconut shell imitations of the galloping horse, ringing dinky little steel triangles or blowing the canary bird warble. It's a terrible comedown for the drummer. He has been virtually "balanced" out of a job.

The Loud Speaker

By EARLE ENNIS

NOW that the Lord High Executioner, Ng-ka-Poo, has joined the broadcast field, we have something new every minute. It was dull and drab before. But every night, now, brings its own excitement. At least the L. H. E. is stimulating the flow of public profanity.

* * *

In comic opera days the Lord High appeared in robes, brandished a shimmering blade, and sold himself to the audience as a very necessary element in human affairs. Today, he stays out of sight, brandishes a finger and is about the most useless attachment to the broadcast field. But in one particular he emulates his predecessor—he puts the fine art of murder on a new plane.

* * *

The Lord High Executioner is the busy bozo who sees to it that the music of the programs is chopped in half RIGHT ON THE HOUR, no matter whose favorite melody is on the air. He raises his finger, the announcer cuts in on the air, leaving the music dangling, and the next event comes in under its own power. The Lord High Executioner enforces the authority of the dotted line, and the well-inked signature on the sponsoring contract. And we, who listen, can go jump in the bay!

* * *

When we were babies, they gave us an all-day sucker to keep us from weeping when we had been cheated of our rights. Grown older, we found that hooey replaced the sucker. But the Lord High Executioner had a better thought. He lets us hear a clock strike. So now—when our pet orchestral selection is butchered to please a moving minute hand, the Lord High cuts in a couple of chimes and bids us be of good cheer. Oh boy! If he could but hear the language!

* * *

The other night L. H. raised his finger, shuffled his spats and caught the eye of the announcer, and clipped Tannhauser in two.

As a panacea, he gave us a couple of dingles and the startling news that there was a way of keeping the carbon out of our cylinders. The night before he smacked down a perfectly good number, and let us in for a long wait, during which the static shushed on our loud speakers, and the guy next door squeaked for distance.

* * *

The Lord High is rapidly popularizing the programs that break in this way (in a pig's valise!). He is getting radio fans so peeved with his calm disregard of courtesy that they cut the set off for the evening, in many instances. You may borrow a man's lawnmower, or his money—if you are decent about it. But try and get either by force!

* * *

The day has passed when the Lord High Executioner can lop off heads as he sees fit. Today we want to know the reason for the lopping. And the general tendency is not to hurry the victim. In what frame of mind does the Lord High think a listener tackles the next program when the one to which he has been listening has been ruthlessly executed while the jury was hearing the evidence? If the Lord High will keep his finger off the push-button until the gentlemen who are fiddling, sawing and blowing get through, it will be greatly appreciated.

* * *

Heaven knows, these fifteen-minute programs are ruining enough good music without chopping what we are being given into hash. Speeding up programs, forcing musicians to play music at tempos foreign to the composer's intention and the listener's good judgment, is a dastardly enough crime against so-called "good procedure" without butchering the piece itself by an untimely end. If the Lord High Executioner will lay an ear close to the ground, he will be surprised.

* * *

We hope the Lord High steps on a banana peel!

New Record Set In Radio Service

Spending $1.15 a second to broadcast the Democratic National Convention, the National Broadcasting Company and associated stations are believed to have set a new high record in radio public service, according to M. H. Aylesworth, president of the National Broadcasting Company.

The Democratic convention was on the air for a total of 25 hours, according to National Broadcasting Company's records. The total cost of the Democratic broadcast over the coast-to-coast network of 43 radio stations was $104,000 or $27,000 more than the Republican convention broadcast.

"We believe that the broadcasts of the Republican and Democratic conventions are outstanding examples of the service radio can render the nation as a whole."

The figure of $1.15 per second is arrived at by reducing the 25 hours to 90,000 seconds of time on the air at a total cost of $104,000.

The total cost of broadcasting both conventions, shared by the National Broadcasting Company and associated stations, was $181,000.

4:30 to 5 p.m.—Biblical Dramas. A young Israelite spy and a notorious woman of doubtful reputation who befriends him, although he is the enemy of her people, are the principal characters in the Biblical drama, "The Woman of Jericho."

William Ford Manley, author of the drama-logue, has taken the story from the Old Testament. The dramalogue opens as the Israelites—men, women and children—are encamped within sight of the distant city of Jericho, through which they must pass on their way to the Promised Land. Joshua, leader of Israel, is worried because he believes he has no man cunning enough to penetrate the walls of Jericho and discover how they are guarded. Adoni, a youth of twenty, volunteers to go on the dangerous mission.

Disguised as a wandering minstrel, Adoni enters Jericho. His music pleases Rahab, who invites him into her house for food and rest. She divines her guest's identity and purpose in the city, but shields him from those who would kill him because of his kindness to her.

A cast of National Players, directed by Willa Wilson Church, will be heard in the dramalogue, which will be broadcast through KHQ, KOMO, KGW, KGO and KFI.

 Two of Moszkowski's "Spanish Dances" follow the Romberg number. Although Moszkowski is famous for his Spanish music, he is Polish by birth. These dances are vivid, scintillant compositions, and are among his best-known works.

"Wedding of the Winds," a graceful waltz by Hall, is another favorite number to be played.

The following are the selections chosen for the half hour:

TUESDAY Programs

NBC

National Broadcasting Company

7 to 8 p.m.—Memory Lane. "City Visitors" is the title of the Memory Lane hour to be broadcast this evening. With old songs and characteristic dialogue, many memories of life in a small town of twenty years ago will be recalled.

On tonight's Memory Lane hour the scene will be at the home of "Mrs. Smithers." Her married niece, accompanied by a girl friend, is spending a week in Portville and "Mrs. Smithers" is giving a dinner party for them. "Ezra Higgins," whose tendency for falling in love at first sight is well known to dialers who follow Memory Lane, will have the comedy element in tonight's broadcast. The part will be played by Ben McLaughlin. Miss Eileen Piggott, soprano, will enact the role of "Mrs. Smithers." Ted Maxwell, Billy Page, the popular radio juvenile star, and others will take parts in the "City Visitors." Miss Piggott and McLaughlin will sing several old-time songs.

Broadcast through KOMO, KGW (7:30 to 8) and KGO.

8 to 8:30 p.m.—Eveready program. "The Red Hussar," a three-act comic opera by Edward Solomon, first produced in London thirty-nine years ago, will be presented in tabloid form.

The presentation will be given by a quartet of singers—the Eveready light opera ensemble, and an orchestra conducted by Max Dolin. Names of the singers will be announced during the broadcast.

Action of the opera occurs during the time of Queen Anne, when England was at war with France. Ralph Rodney, once a wealthy gentleman, joins the regiment of Corporal Bundy and is sent to the English camp near Bruges, Flanders. The young girl whom he loves, Kitty Carroll, follows Rodney's regiment to the continent. In order to see his sweetheart, Rodney disguises himself as a German girl. His ruse is discovered by the commanding officer, Sir Henry Leighton, and the young soldier is condemned. Unexpectedly, his discharge is purchased by Barbara, a maiden who loves him but who in turn is loved by Sir Henry. The love affairs of the four are straightened out and a happy reunion concludes the opera.

Broadcast through KHQ, KOMO, KGW, KGO, KPO and KFI.

FRIDAY Programs

NBC

National Broadcasting Company

- 5:35 to 5:50 p.m.—Land o' Health. The Land o' Health programs are broadcast each Friday afternoon over NBC System stations KHQ, KOMO, KGW and KGO.
- 7 to 7:30 p.m.—Retold Tales. Jeff and Andy, the "gentle grafter" with a conscience and his educated partner, appear in new roles in "A Midsummer Masquerade," the O. Henry story to be broadcast tonight.
- Stranded in Little Rock, Ark., during the hottest days in July, and with only $37.92 with which to pay a $35 rent bill and a $4 bill for a broken window, the partners decide to try to find a cooler place in which to "do somebody." They ride by train as far as their money will take them and arrive in Crow Knob, in the Tennessee mountains.
- Signs of life are few in this forlorn spot, and Jeff and Andy are despairing of their luck when they meet an old friend, "Smoke-em-out" Smithers, owner of the town's summer resort and hotel. To aid Smithers in an embarrassing predicament, the partners agree to pose as Lieutenant Peary and the Duke of Marlborough.
- How well they fare will be revealed by the National Players, who will enact the playlet under the direction of Wilda Wilson Church.
- Broadcast through KOMO, KGW and KGO.

ATWATER KENT RADIO

New Model 40---Another
Ten Strike

$81

Once again Atwater-Kent repeats with the biggest seller in the history of the radio industry—the new Atwater-Kent Model 40 seven-tube receiver. Embodying the finest of materials and the best in precision workmanship and having a volume measured on a meter of 16 to 20 times the popular Model 37, this receiver at any price would be an outstanding seller. And now, right in the middle of the summer, it is selling at a Christmas-like pace.

The merchant who shows Atwater-Kent and talks it is making profit this summer instead of waiting for fall.

SATURDAY Programs

NBC

National Broadcasting Company

8 to 8:30 p.m.—Grand Opera Album. When the Grand Opera Album opens tonight for dialers of the NBC System who tune in at 8 o'clock, the first page will show the brilliant scene from Ponchielli's "La Gioconda," in which the ballet does the bizarre and colorful "Dance of the Hours."

The second page will recall memories of one of Donizetti's old and seldom-heard operas, "La Favorita." The last revival of this opera in the United States was at the Metropolitan Opera House in 1905. The duet, "Dans ce Palais Regnant," will be sung. Helen Lowe will be "Album's" Manon.

James Isherwood will sing the "Parsi siamo" from "Rigoletto," and from this same popular Verdi opera Miss Lowe and Harold Spaulding, tenor, will sing "Cortigiana, vil razza dannata." The ever-popular "Habanera" from "Carmen" will be sung by Margaret O'Dea, contralto.

Broadcast through KHQ, KOMO, KGW, KGO and KPO.

8:30 to 10 p.m.—Union Oil Hollywood Bowl Symphony Concerts. Guided by the baton of the distinguished Belgian conductor-violinist, Henri Verbrugghen, a 100-piece orchestra will present another "Symphony Under the Stars" tonight. The concert will come over the air from the far-famed Hollywood Bowl, Southern California's unique outdoor amphitheater.

The complete program is given:
Orchestra—Symphony No. 6, "Pathetique"

Liebestraum Liszt
Maori Dance Song, "Waiata Poi" Hill
Prelude in C Sharp Minor Rachmaninoff
Moment Musical; Marche Militaire Schubert

Broadcast through KHQ, KOMO, KGW, KGO, KPO and KEF.

10 p.m.—Longines correct time
10 to 12 midnight—The Big Show. This gala Saturday night entertainment will be directed by the inimitable humorist, Professor Herman Schnitzel, who will introduce all of the artists participating in the program in addition to amusing the radio audience with his droll and witty comments.

Among the intermissionists who will probably be heard are Jozieta Van der Ende, "blues" singer; Johnny Toffoli, accordionist, and Frank and Charlie, the "Hill-Billy" Boys. Dance music will be provided by the Trocaderoans, directed by Vinton La Ferrera.

Broadcast through KHQ, KOMO (10 to 11), KGW, KGO and KPO.
