"Hams" May Perfect Television

TELEVISION will be the great field of experiment for the thousands of radio amateurs of the United States, who have been starved of real interest in radio for the past several years by commercial broadcasting, it is predicted by Dr. E. F. W. Alexanderson, engineer-inventor of the General Electric Company.

The 100,000 persons who now dabble in radio may be the ones to unearth the scientific facts which will make television practicable, he believes.

With scientists of the standing of Dr. Alexanderson admitting that there are steps yet to be accomplished before television can be considered not only perfected but even practicable, "around the corner" predictions have ceased to be heard, and it is generally conceded that not only is television perfection some distance in the future but that the final solution of many of its problems has so far evaded investigators.

The basic principle of sending the picture in sections, either by scanning disc or by cathode-ray, is pretty well settled, according to experimenters. The difficulty now is in getting a picture which is large enough to be viewed by a group at a distance from the screen, covering a scene in its entirety and not, as now, restricted to the heads and shoulders of the actors, when "real life" pictures are transmitted. Motion pictures can be sent in their entirety the original film "frame" being of such small size as to be readily transmitted.

Progress in television is slow but encouraging, according to the recent report of the Society of Motion Picture Engineers. Reviewing the developments in this country, the report refers to the work which is being done by C. Francis Jenkins and others and the picture broadcasts which are being offered by the various experimental stations now licensed. However, it is indicated, there are possibilities that the road to perfected television may lay in directions which are now being followed by lone investigators or which so far have not been explored at all.

"A new cathode ray type of receiver giving a picture four inches by five inches has been described by Zworykin," the report comments. "The method eliminates the high frequency motor previously necessary for synchronization, together with its power amplifier. No moving parts are used. A fluorescent screen aids the eye's persistence of vision and makes possible a reduction of the number of images per second without noticeable flicker. The transmitter is a modified motion picture projector with means for horizontal scanning.

"The selection of standards for radio television has been discussed, including picture proportions, number of scanning elements, number of pictures per second, scanning method and direction, and phase of current.

"In the Telefunken system of television being developed in Germany, a combination of a mirror wheel for illuminating the subject and a photo-electric cell are used for sending, and a Kerr cell, together with a rotating mirror wheel, for receiving."

James T. Williamson, a KPO fan who resides at Carrington Road, New Plymouth, New Zealand, writes to the KPO management as follows:

"Just listened to Joe Wright and his Cinderella Orchestra playing in the Silver Slipper Cafe. Your program came over with good modulation, fading slightly, and considering the distance the volume was surprising though static bursts interfered to some extent. I can tell you it gives one quite a thrill to hear someone at so great a distance performing and announcing. At present we are in the middle of winter and conditions do not let us forget it is here. Cheerio and good luck from far away New Zealand."

The letter was dated June 22.

Pete Barlow, drummer in the KFRC concert orchestra, shot a 69 at Lincoln recently. The voice of Harrison Holliway II is getting lustier every day; it is expected he will attend a Jamboree soon. Eugene Heyes, concert master, was born in India of British parents. Charles Cartier devotes his Saturday nights to singing with a dance band at Larkspur.

It used to be Harry Hall, announcer of KFI-KECA, who got the bulk of perfumed billets-doux, but it seems now that Jerry Kay, colleague of Harry, is inspiring the heaviest sighs and the most fragrant stationery.

Prose poems, some fairly well done verses and no end of swooning adjectives are included in daily messages mailed to Jerry—and all for the sake of his voice!

Eugene Heyes, KFRC's new concert master, through an error received an assignment slip from Merle Matthews to appear on a program which should have gone to Eugene Hawes (Pedro). The slip notified him he was to appear in the capacity of a comedian. Luckily the error was discovered before he sold his Stradivarius.

National Broadcasting Company studios in San Francisco now are releasing through the Pacific NBC network 237 programs weekly. Of this number, 157 are produced in the West and the remainder are New York presentations through the coast-to-coast network.

Hardly a radio fan in town but what has tuned in the KJBS "Owl" Program at some time or other. This broadcast, bringing all-night radio service to San Francisco, was tried out in the nature of an experiment, but has proven so successful that it is to remain as a permanent feature of the KJBS schedule. A metropolitan area such as San Francisco deserves the same service that is already offered eastern fans.

"When You're Smiling," a song which Ken Stuart popularized in the Pacific Northwest, now threatens to make the KJR and Northwest Broadcasting System announcer famous throughout the United States and Canada.

Stuart has been using the song as the theme in his "Thirty Minutes of Sunshine" program for almost two years. He has received thousands of requests for copies of the song.

To meet the popular demand, the publishers have just run off a new edition of the song with Stuart's picture on the front cover. The edition is being distributed generally by the publishers.

Pacific Northwest listeners will soon be able to get copies of the song from any music dealer.

John W. Harrison is the latest addition to KPO's announcing staff. Harrison, who has done microphone work all over the United States with leading radio stations, hails from the city of Chicago and has recently been "doing time" at station XEM, Tampico, Mexico. He specializes in musical readings and is considerable of a baritone soloist.

With the coming of winter, KJBS is signing off from one to two minutes earlier each day. At the winter solstice, December 21, the station will be signing off before five o'clock, owing to the Federal Radio Commission's ruling that this station sign off at sunset.

John Moss, KFRC basso, is credited with being the handsomest man on the staff. In addition, he is six feet two inches tall and weighs one hundred and ninety-eight pounds. John was born in London, England. He came to Canada first, where he won recognition before accepting more attractive offers in the United States.

The plant staff of the NBC Pacific Division is distinctly of the old school. Every-one put in his radio apprenticeship at sea. Ten men in the department have an average of five and one-half years of ship service each or thirty-five years of sea wanderings. These men have visited practically every civilized seaport in the world, and reminiscences overheard in the control room sound weird indeed to the land-bound NBC staff members.

KJBS has one of the largest staff of announcers of any station in the bay region, numbering ten altogether. Those include Hal McCracken, the night Owl announcer, and Shirley Dale, Harry Wickersham, Jack Gray, Charles Parker, Frank Cope, William Harper, Freeman Lusk, Tom Gardner and Ted Berlin. Of the ten, seven have government licenses to operate a broadcast transmitter.

Meredith Willson, musical director for KFRC, will leave for New York shortly for his vacation period. He will stop off to visit his parents at Mason City, Iowa, on the way. His wife, Peggy, will accompany him.

A woman who lives in the apartment just beneath the one occupied by Johnnie Patrick, who writes the Cecil and Sally feature for KPO and takes the part of Cecil, complained because a typewriter kept her awake far into the night. She complained to Johnnie direct and not through the apartment house manager. Johnnie explained that it was necessary, that he had to work and couldn't help it. In the course of the argument he explained that he had to write a Cecil and Sally episode every day. The woman looked at him in amazement. "Do you write those," she asked, and when Johnnie admitted it, she said, "Well, if that's what you're doing, you go right ahead. I didn't know who you were. Just think, I might have stopped you and then I couldn't listen."

Charles Parker is the "Big Noise" heard on the KJBS Alarm Klok Klub every morning, and by means of his trusty alarm, serves to keep early workers advised of the time.

Lord Bilgewater, KFRC, who recently embarked upon an endurance contest to determine how long it was possible to go without eating spinach, received many cans of the delicacy in the mail from solicitous radio fans. The progress of his courageous trail-blazing efforts were reported daily on the Happy Go Lucky Hour. The final count gave him slightly over three hundred hours before physical weakness forced him to return to spinach with his meals.

Elmore Vincent, KJR tenor, is now feeling as proud as some of the famous people of today and times past.

Listeners have started naming babies after Vincent, the Texas Troubadour. Why, Vincent is unable to explain. The only thing about it all that Vincent cannot understand is why anyone would want to start a baby off in life with the handicap of his name.

To date three babies have been named after the KJR tenor.

Harold Horton, KFRC announcer, once played the part of the doctor in "White Cargo," the sensational play that is now sweeping over the country as a "talkie." It was during his histrionic career in Chicago. Harold has had a wide and varied experience in dramatics all over the world. His latest assignment on KFRC has been to the "Feminine Fancies" program, heard each morning except Sunday over the Don Lee Chain.

Harry Stanton, whose voice is heard during the broadcast of the Woman's Magazine of the Air and other programs, began singing while in college and spent some time on the stage before signing with NBC at San Francisco.

Eva Gruninger Atkinson, NBC contralto, is a native of Oakland, California. She won her first singing engagement when she was fourteen years old.

Tommy Harris, popular singer and imitator of jazz singers on KFRC, once won a silver cup for imitating Al Jolson. Several hundred contestants were bested by Tommy, who was only sixteen years old at the time. Some of his early training was derived from acting as yell leader at the Horace Mann and Mission High schools in San Francisco. Now we know what yell leaders develop into—radio artists.

Yes, you're hearing a new voice among the corps of announcers at the NBC San Francisco studios. It is that of Sid Goodwin, who has been staff announcer at the NBC affiliated station KGW, Portland, Oregon.

The most consistent wearers of spats among KFRC artists are Meredith Willson and Eugene Hawes, the latter better known as Pedro.

Personal Pickups

By GYPSY

Mrs. M. L. P., San Mateo, Cal.—The announcement regarding Hazel Warner's departure for South America is authentic. If you wish to "shake the hand" of your favorite and bid her bon voyage—why not heed the impulse? Hazel would, I know, be glad to meet you. She leaves September 6 on the Guatemala. By calling the Panama Mail Steamship Company, you may ascertain the hour of sailing and number of pier.

W. K., Stockton, Cal.—Jesse Norman was born in Omaha, Nebraska. He insists (he does it emphatically, too, because one's incredulous gaze is so frightfully Missourian, taking in his 6 feet and 200 pounds) that he was an undersized, puny little boy whose parents were distraught over his poor health. Then one memorable day he fell headlong into a cyclone cave. It was twenty feet deep and sinister and only through much strategy was he safely restored to his parents. From that time on, believe it or not, little Jesse began to grow big and strong and brown. The family decided to move on to California, there being numerous other caves in Nebraska and Jesse being an only son, and in due time he entered Stanford, graduated with flying colors and four years ago married one of the most attractive girls in radio.

L. R., Sacramento, Cal.—According to report, "Hum and Strum" are now touring in vaudeville. Charles Carter (KFRC) is 15 or 16 years old. Eddie Holden has gone to Hollywood. His schedule appears in the program department of this issue under KNX. Wint Cotton is at present concentrating on business problems that have no bearing upon radio. Art Fadden is heard over KJBS and KPO. Walter Kelsey and Edna Fisher are cousins, but Robert Olsen and Norman Neilson are not related.

F. M. C., Centerville, Cal.—David McDaniel is single, 23 years old, has serious gray eyes, brown hair, is 5 feet 9 inches tall, and weighs 155 pounds. On his father's side he is of Irish-Scotch blood and on his mother's, English and French. David was born in Elgin, Illinois, has lived in California for some time, been with station KQW two years and is engaged in library work in addition to broadcasting. An earnest, rather self-deprecatory young man, highly sensitive, artistic, possessing an active mind and a surprising, rare humor.

Miss F. W., Auburn, Wash.—"You Lucky People," written and sung by Morey Amsterdam (KNX), is not purchasable, but Mr. Amsterdam will be glad to send you a copy of the words if you will communicate with him. Address him at the station or in care of the Paramount studios in Hollywood.

A. S., Grass Valley, Cal.—"Alexander" in the Cecil and Sally broadcasts (KPO) is played by John Sirmeyer, boyhood chum of Johnny Patrick (Cecil). "Uncle Thomas" is portrayed by Ed Ludes. The vocalist to whom you refer is Walter Kelsey. Maurice Gunsky is heard from KPO every Monday at noon. As this is written he appears on no other program.

W. B., Sacramento, Cal.—Speaking of hobbies—Robert Hurd (KFI) revels in the preparation of a new and tasty dish. Walter Beban (NBC) goes in for endless sessions of Pop Warner's football game. Something to do with cards, I understand, and oh so scientific. Mildred Bailey (KPO) indulges her love of animals in caring for several tanks of goopy and Samoan fighting fish. Before she moved to the hotel she ran a number of dog kennels. Gilbert Hyde Chick (KFRC) enjoys gardening and Clarence Hayes (NBC) is never happier than when he has an opportunity for target practice.

Mrs. P. H. O., Oakland, Cal.—Thomas Kelly, who portrayed Dagon in the "House of Myths" (NBC) is a former stage celebrity. He has played with Ethel Barrymore and other stars of like prominence and began his career at the age of twelve. For the past few years he has been appearing at the Fulton Theatre in Oakland, where his face is so familiar to patrons of that house that he is often greeted by total strangers on the street who believe him to be a personal acquaintance. Mr. Kelly is married and is the father of a boy of three years and little girl of three months. Mrs. Kelly was Dorothy Desmond, also a former Fulton player.

Clarion

PROVES ITSELF

By every test of tone and appearance

UNTIL you hear and see Clarion for yourself, you cannot realize what a sensational new development it is—particularly in clarity and fidelity of tone. That's why we want you to inspect Clarion and submit it to your own tests. We want you to compare it with any other radio made—not merely with any radio in the same price class, but with any other at any price. It will be obvious at once that Clarion is the equal of the most expensive receivers—in tone, in selectivity, in sensitivity, in cabinetwork. It will be just as obvious that Clarion cannot be approached in any of these respects by any radio selling for less than twice its price!

These are daring comparisons to invite. We invite them because we know the outcome. We know the unprejudiced eye will single out Clarion in any roomful of radio cabinets. We know the sensitive ear will pick Clarion for tone in every "blindfold test."

Clarion has already proved itself in such tests—not once or twice, but time and time again. We want you to make these comparisons in order to convince yourself that Clarion Radio offers more value in appearance, workmanship and performance than any other receiver on the market.

If any radio receiver will sell itself, Clarion is that radio. Write us for particulars or communicate with the Clarion dealer in your territory.

Myron Niesley, NBC

MYRON NIESLEY set out to become a chemist, found himself in politics, coaching a high school football squad, playing in musical comedy and finally singing regularly before the microphone in San Francisco for the NBC System audience.

Niesley, a tenor, has been with NBC since 1927 when he was signed with "The Rounders," a recording quintet formerly featured through the chain. His work now is mostly as a soloist, however, though he is one of the Firestone Choristers and is heard occasionally with other groups.

MYRON NIESLEY

"I suppose I abandoned the things I set out to do because I liked singing best," is Myron's only explanation of his present situation. "In Los Angeles I tried both—working as a chemist through the day and singing in theatres at night. I finally became convinced that I'd never be happy until I devoted all my time to the theatre. Radio came along then and that's even more delightful."

A native of Kansas, Niesley was graduated from Abilene University and received his masters degree afterward at the University of Pennsylvania. While he studied chemistry so seriously, he always sang and while he worked afterward, he studied voice two years in New York with Wilbur Greene.

Then back to Kansas to teach high school chemistry and coach football—he had been captain of his college team in 1920.

He can't decide when politics came in, but one day he found himself the city manager of a small town in Kansas.

"That didn't interest me long, however," Niesley continued. "I just had to come West and, like a lot of people, I went first to Los Angeles."

He sang there in churches and in prologues for the Grauman productions, afterward coming to San Francisco with the Music Box Revue only to be signed for the microphone performances.

Myron's hobby is golf, which he plays every day at Lincoln Park.

He was a bachelor until last June when he went down to Los Angeles and returned with a bride, who is just as much a golf enthusiast as her husband. The romance had its inception several years ago while they were playing in the same musical show.

Capt. Wm. Royle, NBC

ACTOR, flyer and instructor! That is Captain "Bill" Royle, NBC master of ceremonies, member of the National Players, and aviation authority heard weekly through NBC stations.

The genial World War aviator came to NBC shortly after the inauguration of the Pacific division under Don E. Gilman.

"English, Chinese, Scotch, Irish and Colored," he answers when asked what characterizations he has interpreted.

Meanwhile he has a school of student aviators for the Curtis Flying Service at the company's transbay field. In 1929 he graduated 147 novices, four of whom were girls. Louise McPhetridge Thaden was one of his pupils and Madeline Kelley another licensed pilot he taught.

CAPT. WILLIAM ROYLE

Captain Royle won his commission in the U. S. Reserve Corps in 1921 after becoming a lieutenant in the flying corps during the World War. He flew first in 1917 and saw service overseas as flying instructor at Tours. He also went into action during the drives in Chateau Thierry, the second Marne offensive, Argonne Wood and Belleau Wood. Royle was wounded and gassed in 1918 and afterward went to England for night-flying instruction.

Through the war period he put on shows at the various camps in France and, mustered out, he played in vaudeville on the Pacific Coast. The entertainer also had a hand in arrangements for the famous Dole transpacific flight to Hawaii and the reception for Lieutenants Maitland and Hegenberger upon their return from their successful hop to Honolulu. Royle "managed" Ernie Smith and Emil Bronte's flight to the Islands.

History of the ~

HOWARD RADIO COMPANY

*Founded 1921
Exclusively Radio*

The Company was one of the pioneers in the Radio industry, being founded by Mr. A. A. Howard in 1921. It was organized to manufacture radio apparatus exclusively and its operations have been confined to this field. No other product has ever been made in the Howard factory.

20 Years' Experience

Mr. Howard began experimenting with Radio (or "wireless" as it was called in those days) over twenty years ago. This experimental work was not spasmodic, but has continued uninterruptedly from that date to this.

Early Experimental License

For many years he owned and operated the largest transmitting station West of New York, having received from the government one of its early experimental licenses. His experience not only covers transmitting and receiving, but tube manufacture, as well.

First Man West of New York to Broadcast Music

Station KDKA at Pittsburgh, the first of the present group of broadcast stations, opened on November 2nd, 1920. Yet, as early as 1914, six years before this, Mr. Howard was broadcasting music nightly from his transmitting station in Chicago. He continued to do so until this country entered the World War, at which time the government took possession of all privately owned stations. Mr. Howard was sent East by the government, and during the war inspected delicate radio apparatus for use with airplanes.

*Company Organized When Broadcasting
Became a Fact*

In 1921 a few months after regular broadcasting of programs became a fact, Mr. Howard founded the Howard Radio Company. He has associated with himself men who have had years of experience in this field.

Manufactured Parts

A complete line of radio parts were manufactured in the early days of the Company, and these were shipped to every country in the world.

*Manufactured
Receivers Under Neutrodyne Patents*

A year or so later, when Professor Hazeltine disclosed his invention of the Neutrodyne circuit, the Howard Radio Company was granted one of the early licenses to build under these patents.

*RCA and
Other Patent Protection Added*

Nearly three years ago Radio Corporation of America began to license other companies to manufacture under their large list of patents, and again Howard was one of the early ones to secure these rights. Since then additional patent protection has been added in the form of licenses under the Latour patents; the Hogan patents and the Meissner patents.

Founders of
"RMA"*

Mr. Howard was one of the organizers of the Radio Manufacturers Association which was formed early in 1924, and was also a member of its first Board of Directors.

Growth of Company

From its modest quarters in 1921, the company has greatly increased its floor space and manufacturing facilities each year until now it is occupying a factory having over five and one-half acres of floor space, where all cabinets as well as radio receivers are built complete.

Ownership

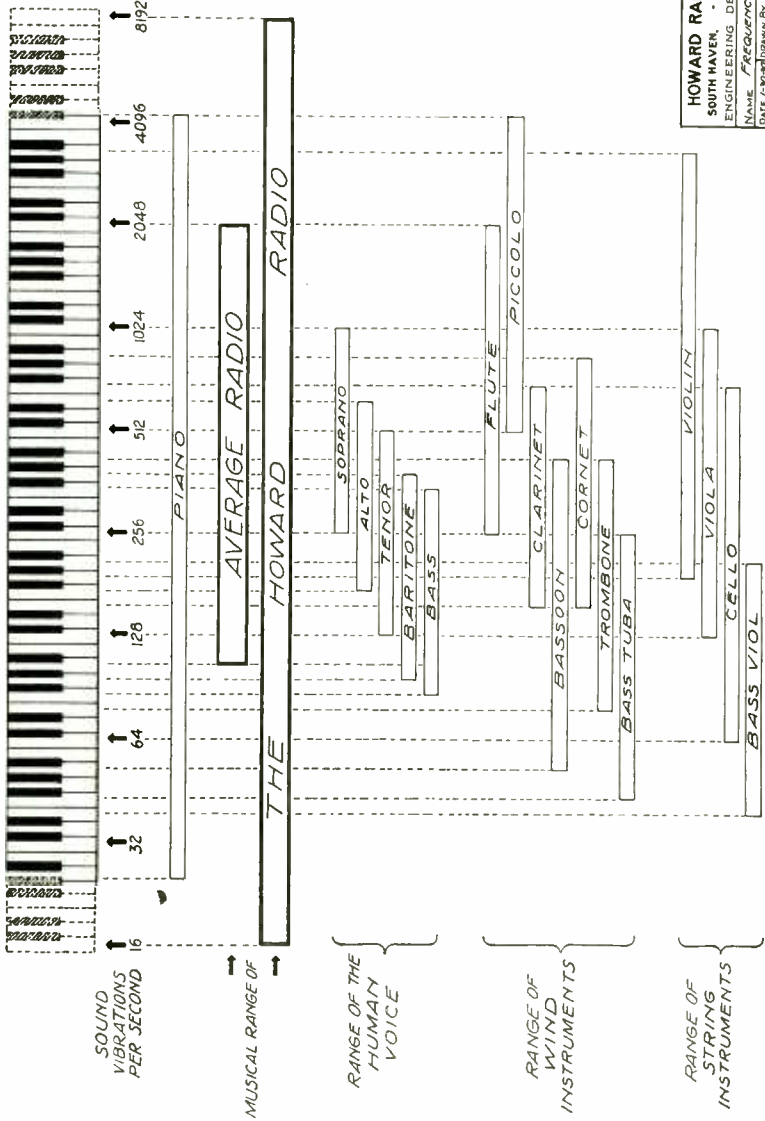

The company is a closed corporation, five members of the company owning all stock. It is ably financed and has a record of never having borrowed a dollar from any bank since beginning business.

Policy

Its policy has always been to produce quality merchandise—to build the highest type of radio receivers—and to make every effort to market the product through reputable dealers.

Cuban Government In Control of Radio

GOVERNMENT control of broadcasting, patterned after that in effect in the United States, has been adopted in Cuba, where proposals for the construction of a 50,000-watt station have made necessary the establishment of a governmental body which may act to prevent interference both between the various Cuban broadcasters themselves and between those of Cuba and the United States.

If the proposed 50,000-watt station is erected, it is expected that it will be necessary to come to some agreement as to the frequency it shall operate on, in order that it may not interfere with American stations. At present, most of the Cuban broadcasters are on frequencies which come between frequencies used in this country, although two stations operate on frequencies used here—CMW on 600 kilocycles and CMX on 920 kilocycles—and one station, CMC, is on the Canadian wavelength of 840 kilocycles.

However, in the case of a station with as high power as that under consideration, its use of a frequency between two wavelengths used here would result in interference on both over a wide area, it is believed, so that it is probable negotiations will be undertaken before it begins operation to provide a frequency which will not cause trouble.

There are approximately twenty-one broadcasting stations in operation in Cuba, all but one of which use frequencies coming within the broadcast band used in this country. Nineteen of them are of comparatively low strength, the two exceptions being stations CMK with 2000 watts and CMW with 1000 watts.

Governmental control of radio has been in effect in Cuba since 1925, and has been very successful in preventing congestion and interference in the island. As in the United States, however, this control has been centered in a subsidiary branch of one of the government bureaus and has been found inadequate, a separate bureau, of the type of our radio commission, now being provided to exercise control over all government broadcasting stations, commercial stations, and amateur stations of all kinds, to make investigations of applications for licenses, to assign frequencies, and to have jurisdiction over broadcasting programs, hours of operation, etc.

One of the features of radio control in Cuba has been the evident intention of the Cuban government to give its people the opportunity to hear not only the programs of the native stations, but to share in the best of the radio entertainment and features emanating in the United States. To this end, Cuban broadcasters have not been permitted to operate on frequencies which would interfere with the programs of certain popular American stations, and on occasions local broadcasting has been prohibited in order to leave the field clear for the reception of special programs coming from the United States. This attitude on the part of the government, according to reports to Washington, has served to increase materially the popularity of radio in Cuba.

The Mershon Electrolytic Condenser

CERTAIN metals, such as aluminum, magnesium, and tantalum, when immersed in an electrolyte, possess the property of allowing electricity to flow in one direction and not in the other.

In the presence of various electrolytes, if a current is passed between an electrode of aluminum and an electrode of some other metal, and the aluminum electrode is positive with respect to the other, a film of aluminum oxide will form on the aluminum electrode. This film will be extremely thin but quite high in dielectric strength. The Mershon Electrolytic Condenser makes use of this film as the dielectric.

Due to the fact that the dielectric film is stable only when positive potentials are applied to the aluminum, the condenser may only be used where direct potentials are inherent to the application. In other words, it cannot be used directly on alternating current. It must be used on voltages that do not reverse in polarity. Satisfactory conditions are present in the output of alternating current rectifiers, and it is here that Mershon Electrolytic Condensers at present find their greatest, though not only, application.

Mershon Electrolytic Condensers are manufactured by The Amrad Corporation, Medford Hillside, Mass., which is represented on the Pacific Coast by C. E. Flynn, 312 South Palm Drive, Beverly Hills, California.

EDNA FISCHER—KFRC

By MONROE R. UPTON

WHAT is the ingredient in the recipe for an artist giving him, or her, an indefinable quality that assures a top-notch place in his or her field? Such an artist is, to all outward appearances, just the same as any other. In many instances there has been no more studying or hard work or no more of the "breaks." And yet—but after all, such matters had better be left to men like Professor Einstein, Will Rogers, Peggy Joyce, Pedro Gonzales and other great scientists. Our business is with one top-notch artist in particular, Edna Fischer.

Edna Fischer, for the benefit of our Patagonian and Southwest Madagascar readers, is a pianist who specializes in jazz and popular music. Again for the benefit of our non-resident members (everybody else knows this) Edna specializes in a manner that is uncannily perfect. She possesses a sense of rhythm and a surety of touch, together with a confidence in herself and a sympathy for jazz and popular tunes that make her work at the keyboard a joy to listen to. She is one of the few pianists on the air who is given time all by herself to play what and how she will. KFRC features her three times weekly, in addition to spotting her on a great many other programs, including the Blue Monday Jamboree.

Edna, at the age of 19, ran away from her Oakland home to join the Topsy and Eva show of the Duncan Sisters. She confesses that heart trouble was a contributing cause. A lover's quarrel so darkened her world that the only light she could see was the dimly burning one of thespian adventure. (We shall learn later that Edna ends up by acquiring both love and fame.) The show broke up shortly after annexing Edna, and the Duncan Sisters went to New York. Edna sold her beloved grand piano, pocketed the money (in her gingham dress, no doubt) and followed, seeking fame.

Due to her above mentioned inherent and uncanny penchant for coaxing pure, unadulterated jazz and popular music out of a piano fame didn't prove with Edna to be the elusive partner it does with so many. She became the Duncan Sisters' pianist and made records with them. Engagements in vaudeville followed. She rejoined the Duncan Sisters for a year. A sudden attack of Nostalgia while walking down Broadway one summer evening caused her to prescribe for herself a trip home to Oakland to see the folks and find out who had married who in the neighborhood and all about it. While at home she met Oklahoma Bob Albright, famous vaudevillian, and waltzed off with him on a tour which took them all the way around the world. This voyage gave her many interesting experiences upon which she looks back with pleasure. Her first radio broadcast was in Sydney, Australia, over station 3-LO. They rigged up a microphone in her dressing room at the theatre. Sydney is a town, by the way, for which she has retained a great deal of affection. I think show people usually have a few towns out of the many visited to which they would like to return for a visit.

In London she played for a long time at the Kit Kat Club, an exclusive night club which requires considerable social, titular or pecuniary prestige of its patrons. Another memory Edna guards with affection is the one in connection with a great hospital benefit program in London at which she and Oklahoma Bob joined talents with Will Rogers and Nora Bayes in providing the show. Will Rogers, she says, received a lot of applause for telling the natives how rotten their coffee was.

After the spin around the globe her act opened at the Palace in New York. An automobile accident, in which she broke her wrist, temporarily interrupted her career and brought her home to Oakland again. Her wrist healed and ready for the keyboard once more she walked into KFRC's studios one day and so impressed Helen O'Neil, the station's program director at that time, with her ability that she was given a staff position immediately.

While on her 'round the world trip Edna found romance under the bright tropical

Amos 'n' Andy Sign New Five Year Contract

AMOS 'N' ANDY have proved so popular with radio listeners that the National Broadcasting Company, as their exclusive agent, has signed a long-time contract for their services with the Pepsodent Company of Chicago, present sponsors of their program.

That announcement was made recently as Correll and Gosden, creators and portrayers of radio's favorite characters, near the end of their first year with NBC and the tooth paste manufacturers. The contract is said to call for a salary on a sliding scale over a period of five years, netting them the largest amount ever paid radio entertainers. In addition to this the Pepsodent Company paid Correll and Gosden a substantial bonus this year above their salary, in appreciation of their value to the company.

It was on August 19, 1929, that Amos 'n' Andy made their debut in person over a wide network of NBC stations under the sponsorship of Pepsodent Company. While at that time they were well known throughout the Middle West and in a few places in the East, they were newcomers to network broadcasting. Within a few weeks, however, they had won millions of new followers and were acclaimed everywhere as the most popular entertainers the world has ever known.

Last November, in an effort to please listeners in the East who complained that hearing their favorites at 11 p. m. kept their children up too late, the time of broadcast was changed to earlier in the evening. Within a week hundreds of thousands of western listeners complained of the change of time, and the boys consequently began a two-a-night broadcast schedule. This permits eastern listeners to hear them at 7 p. m., E. D. T., and western listeners to get their entertainment at 10:30 p. m., C. D. T. (7:30 p. m., P. S. T.). They were the first radio entertainers to use this sort of schedule.

During the past year the popularity of Amos 'n' Andy has exceeded anything that the entertainment world has ever known. Hundreds of thousands of letters have been received from listeners, and the public continues to manifest its desire to learn all the details of their lives and activities.

A great many commercial organizations have bid for their services or for the use of their names in exploitation, but Correll and Gosden have found it advisable to accept only a few of these.

On April 11, 1930, the National Broadcasting Company signed a contract with RKO Productions for the services of Amos 'n' Andy in making a talking picture.

The fame of Amos 'n' Andy, which has spread throughout the world, was built and continues to rest upon the homely, human drama of the lives of two uneducated negro boys, their business and club affairs, their loves and adventures, and their sincerity of portrayal.

stars that looked down upon the upper decks we should say that she is an impulsive, eager, generous, artistic, very friendly girl, with a sense of humor, fond of approval and subject to rather plaintive, wistful moods. She never entirely gave her heart to the show business, a home and husband, with some measure of domesticity kept her more or less discontented until she got them.

Following are a few more facts about this genius of jazz which should prove interesting to her many admirers. (By the way, Edna receives a large fan mail. Her letter-writing friends range from children just learning to write to men in prisons.)

1. She has gained 112 pounds since her dramatic entry into the world in 1902, when she weighed only 8 pounds and 8 ounces.

2. She is five feet tall.

3. She wrote the song hit "Someday Soon," a number of years ago when she was longing for an early consummation of her romance with Milton Hayes.

4. She can do splits and back bends.

5. She writes out her programs on the backs of envelopes, on packages, on anything at hand while snatching a bite in a restaurant, dashing in taxicab to the studio or in some other inconvenient place.

6. She was the first one to do the Charleston in Australia.

7. She has never been seasick, though she survived a typhoon in the China Sea.

8. She has an affectionate disposition.

Striking, modern arrangements of standard compositions are programmed for a half-hour tonight when Mahlon Merrick and the Modern Melodists play.

The Apple Girls, Cora and Seeda, will blend their voices harmoniously in favorite songs, and Ole will cut up capers before the microphone.

Only two more days are left to save the world, threatened by the malignant forces of an ancient Mayan priesthood whose hidden city a little group of Americans have found. This is the tense situation upon which tonight's episode opens.
