INTERNATIONAL EXECUTIVE

Model 1500 . . . for the Hobbyist . . .

Now . . . you can be on the air, and operate a two-way radio, without a license. The new International Model 1500 Executive transceiver is certified to meet all FCC Part 15 requirements for short range radio communication within the 27 mc frequency range.

Designed and engineered for phone and cw (code), you can talk 1 to 10 miles with other Part 15 stations depending on the height of the antenna. You are also permitted to work skip signals 1,000 miles or more with other Part 15 stations when a band opening occurs.

The Model 1500 Executive puts the maximum RF power into the antenna by combining the transmitter and antenna for rooftop mounting, thus eliminating loss through a transmission line.

A second unit houses a field proven supersensitive receiver and exciter, while a receiver preamplifier located at the antenna boosts weak signals for better reception. Another feature of the Model 1500 is a special crystal filter for reducing interference from adjacent channel Class D two-way radios.

PART 15

FICTION OR FACT?

FASCINATING FACTS ABOUT "PART 15!"

HOW MANY CAN YOU GUESS?

I've heard talk about Part 15, certainly it can't offer more than Part 19.

FICTION—While it is true that you can run higher power with a Part 19 (regular CB) station, operation under Part 15 of the FCC rules has much more to offer in ease of restrictions, and more signal coverage than you might imagine when properly used. Hobbyists can "CB to their hearts content" with Part 15 equipment, as we will see as we read on.

The main users of Part 15 units are CB hobbyists.

FICTION—Actually, hobbyists have discovered Part 15 only recently. Until now the service was most used by Boy Scouts, search and rescue parties, industry, yachtsmen, hunting parties, for personal use by vacationers, and on farms.

Many people within the CB industry are looking to Part 15 as one of the brightest prospects in the future of the 11-meter band. The past year has brought thousands upon thousands of new users of this "unlicensed CB service," and the outlook for the coming year is even more promising.

My Part 15 transceiver requires no license.

FACT—Unless the Part 15 unit is used in conjunction with a Class D (Part 19) station, no license is required for a unit which has been certified to comply with Part 15 regulations.

Stations which are unlicensed would not have callsigns, so they can't be distinguished one from the other.

FICTION—Elsewhere in this special Part 15 issue of S9 you can learn how you can obtain a station identifier, to give each and every Part 15 CB station individuality.

Since my Part 15 unit is license free, I can use a CB frequency all I want without regard to other stations.

FICTION—If your equipment causes harmful interference to any other service in this band, you must stop transmitting until the interference ceases. Thus, Part 19 CB equipment has the "right of way" over Part 15 units (15.3 and 15.210).

I can transmit for as long as I want without a “break” such as would be required for Class D CB operation.

FACT—Nothing is said in Part 15 as to the length of transmissions.

I can call “CQ” and “ham it up” with a Part 15 unit.

FACT—Nothing is said about what type of traffic can be transmitted by Part 15 stations, although the harmful interference rules (see above) are always in effect, and don’t forget that this type of operation is not permitted if you intend communicating with regular Class D stations, only with other Part 15 units.

I could connect my Part 15 unit to my Colinear or Beam antenna for more range.

FICTION—The Part 15 antenna must be a single element of no more than 5 feet in length. If you connected your Part 15 transceiver to an antenna other than this the station would then have to qualify for, and operate under, regular Class D Part 19 regulations.

The maximum power any Part 15 unit can run is one-tenth of a watt input.

FACT—The power input under Part 15 is limited to 100 milliwatts (1/10 watt). Hand held units licensed under Class D Part 19 rules may run as much as 5 watts input, however (15.205c).

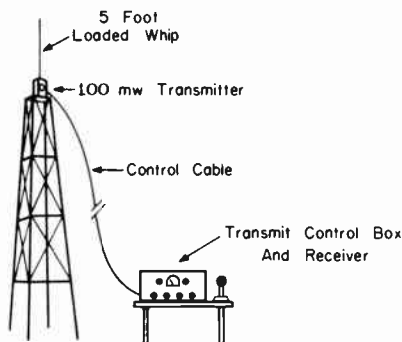

I could even work “skip” stations with a Part 15 rig.

FACT—While Part 15 rules say nothing against working “skip,” don’t forget that you are running a tenth-of-one-watt into a no-gain antenna. While nothing in electronics is impossible, Lady Luck would really have to be with you to give you much operation along these lines.

Nothing can be done to extend the range of a Part 15 station.

FICTION—Mounting the transmitter at the top of a tower (to eliminate feed-line loss) and using a loaded whip (not longer than 5 feet) has given some users coverage not far behind many of the Class D 5-watt input stations in their area.

Here’s why. Let’s say that you have a Class D rig and are running 100 feet of RG-58/U from the rig to the antenna. Figuring that you are one of the great majority of CB’ers who is getting about 1.3 watts into his antenna, the Part 15 installation described above will place the Part 15’er slightly more than 2 S-units behind you (using the same antenna height and a unity gain antenna at the Class D station). With increased antenna height (Part 15 does not live with the “20 foot” ruling), the Part 15 station could actually catch up, or even surpass the Class D signal.

Amplitude Modulation (A3) is the only type of transmission allowed when operating a Part 15 station.

FICTION—You may use any form of transmission as long as you don’t stray out of the band or cause interference. If you use CW (that is, Morse code), you would greatly increase your station’s effective coverage area.

I must maintain .005% frequency tolerance for my Part 15 station.

FICTION—The unit may operate on any frequency between 26.970 mc/s and 27.270 mc/s. The frequency tolerance is unimportant and the operating frequency may be placed between existing Class D channels to avoid interference from and conflict with Class D equipment (15.205a). You could even use a VFO, as long as you stayed within the band.

The following “Part 15 Channels” and channel designators have been voluntarily established by users or low-power units. Operation by higher powered Class D stations is not permitted on these channels, giving the low power stations maximum coverage.

26.995 mc/s Channel A (most hobbyists)

27.045 mc/s Channel B (the CW favorite)

27.095 mc/s Channel C

27.145 mc/s Channel D

27.195 mc/s Channel E

27.235 mc/s Channel F*

27.245 mc/s Channel G*

27.265 mc/s Channel H

*Under FCC consideration for Class D use.

I could order crystals to place my operating frequency on 26.970 mc/s.

FICTION—This frequency is one of the band edges and modulation products would fall outside the band. This is not permitted, as modulation products must be at least 20 db down outside the band (15.205b).

I could operate my regular 5 watt CB rig on one of the Part 15 channels, “ham it up,” and tell everyone I was a Part 15 station.

FICTION—If you got caught by the FCC you would have at least the following raps to beat: off channel operation, improper antenna, unsubstantive communications, overpower, and probably a few more tossed in for good measure.

I cannot repair Part 15 units or adjust frequency, power, or modulation since I don’t have a First or Second Class FCC Commercial License.

FICTION—A technician skilled in making and interpreting measurements that are required to assure compliance with the requirements of Part 15 can work on the circuits. Nothing is said in the rules about a license (15.208c).

I cannot build and certify my own Part 15 unit.

FICTION—The same interpretations as above apply to the construction of Part 15 equipment. You must execute a certificate which specifies (1) operating conditions under which the equipment is to be used, (2) the antenna to be used with the device, and (3) a statement that the unit complies with Part 15 requirements (15.208e).

Part 15 rigs can be used for radio control purposes.

FACT—Radio control units are specifically mentioned as low power communications devices covered by section 15.4f.

S9 MAGAZINE PART 15 OPERATING GUIDE

(Note: This is an un-official set of regulations which S9 proposes to be used by all Part 15 communications stations. No station is under any obligation to abide by any of these rules, with the obvious exception of those rules which happen to coincide with actual Federal Communications Regulations. It is hoped that all Part 15 stations will follow them as closely as possible in order to provide maximum use and enjoyment of all Part 15 frequencies.)

Inasmuch as the majority of Part 15 users have hobby motives, we have tried to pattern this guide as closely as possible after the regulations of the Amateur Radio Service.

We welcome all suggestions from Part 15 users concerning modifications and/or additions to this Guide. Any changes will be announced exclusively in S9 Magazine. This guide is the Copyrighted property of The Cowan Publishing Corp., New York 36, N. Y. Permission for reproduction of this Guide must be obtained in writing from the Copyright holder.)

REGISTRATION

11. Registration of Station

Each station operating under Federal Communications Commissions Part 15 shall be registered with S9 Magazine. This registration shall be accomplished by the owner completing the applicable forms and submitting them to S9 Magazine in the required manner.

12. Eligibility for Registration

There shall be no limitations on the eligibility for registration. Registration will not be given to citizens of governments which do not permit operation of these units.

13. Term of Registration

Each station shall be registered permanently. If the owner changes his address of registration, he will promptly notify S9 Magazine of his new address.

OPERATING RIGHTS

21. Limitation on Antennas

Part 15 stations will strictly conform to all current existing Federal Communications Commission regulations regarding antennas for Part 15 operation. Horizontal polarization is suggested in the band of 26.97 to 27.27 mc/s.

22. Location of Station

Stations may be operated at any fixed or mobile location. They are not to be operated in a territory under foreign jurisdiction where such operation is not permitted by foreign government regulations.

23. Authorized Apparatus

Any equipment is authorized so long as it does not exceed the limitations of Federal Communications Commission Part 15.

24. Assignment of Station Operation Identifiers

Station Identifiers will be assigned by S9 Magazine.

25. Transmission of Station Identifiers

(a) (1) The operator of a Part 15 station shall transmit the station identifier of the station or stations (or may transmit the generally accepted identification of a particular network) being called or communicated with, or shall identify appropriately any other purpose of a transmission, followed by the authorized Station Identifier of the station transmitting:

(i) At the beginning and end of each single transmission or;

(ii) At the beginning and end of a series of transmissions between stations having established communication, each transmission of which is less than three minutes duration (the identification at the end of such a series may be omitted when the duration of the entire series is less than three minutes), and;

(iii) At least once every ten minutes or as soon thereafter as possible during a series of transmissions between stations having established communication, and;

(iv) At least once every ten minutes during any single transmission of more than ten minutes duration.

(2) The identification shall be transmitted on the frequency being employed at the time and shall be either telegraphy using the International Morse Code, or telephony. In addition to the foregoing, when a method of communication other than telephony or telegraphy using the International Morse Code is being used or attempted, the identification shall be transmitted in that method.

(b) In addition to complying with the requirements of paragraph (a) of this section, an operator of a Part 15 station operated as a portable or mobile station using radiotelegraphy shall transmit immediately after the Station Identifier of such station, the fraction character ("DN") followed by the initial of the Part 15 call area in which the portable or mobile Part 15 station is being operated, as for example:

Example 1. Portable or mobile Part 15 "Atlantic" station operating in the "Southern" Part 15 call area calls a fixed "Northern" Part 15 station: "N17 N17 N17 DE A9 DN S A9 DN S AR."

Example 2. Fixed Part 15 station answers the portable or mobile Part 15 station: "A9 A9 A9 DE N17 K."

Example 3. Portable or mobile Part 15 station calls a portable or mobile Part 15 station: "P8 P8 P8 DE W9 DN P W9 DN P W9 DN P AR."

When telephony is used, the Station Identifier of the station shall be preceded by the words "this is" or the word "from" instead of the letters "de", followed by an announcement of the geographical location in which the portable or mobile is being operated.

Example 4. Portable or mobile Part 15 station operating in the "Northern" Part 15 call area calls a fixed Part 15 station: "NORTHERN 17 NORTHERN 17 NORTHERN 17 THIS IS (or FROM) ATLANTIC 9 ATLANTIC 9 ATLANTIC 9 OPERATING PORTABLE (or MOBILE) 3 MILES NORTH OF JACKSONVILLE, FLORIDA, OVER."

(c) When operating aboard a vessel the station shall identify itself with the suffix "DN MM" when using radiotelegraphy, or "MARITIME MOBILE" when using radiotelephony.

USE OF PART 15 STATIONS

33. Points of Communication

A Part 15 station may be used to communicate only with other stations operating under Federal Communications Commission Part 15. Communications are not permitted with Part 19 Citizens Radio Stations or with Amateur Radio Stations. Part 15 stations may be used for radio control purposes as outlined in FCC Part 15.

34. Broadcasting

The broadcasting of music or other entertainment material shall be discouraged in the frequency band 26.97 to 27.27 mc/s.

35. Codes and Ciphers

Whenever necessary, Part 15 stations shall endeavor to utilize standard abbreviations such as the "10 Code," "Q Code" or other commonly accepted and established abbreviations.

ALLOCATION AND USE OF FREQUENCIES

41. Frequencies and types of Emissions

Further to the allocations granted in FCC Part 15, the following shall apply.

(a) 550 to 1600 kc/s. This band is occupied by commercial radio broadcasting stations. Part 15 stations operating in this band will locate no closer than 20 kc/s to the frequencies used by local broadcasting stations. Whenever possible, Part 15 stations operating in this band will operate on frequencies which do not end with a zero (i.e. 950 kc/s, 1050 kc/s, etc.) but will operate on “split frequencies” (i.e. 747 kc/s, 981 kc/s, etc.). Avoid operation in the bands 630 to 650 kc/s and 1230 to 1250 kc/s.

(b) 26.97 to 27.27 mc/s. This band is occupied by Class C and Class D Citizens Radio Stations. Care should be taken to avoid operation which will interfere with these stations. Part 15 users are reminded that Class C and Class D stations have priority use of these frequencies.

The following channel designations have been made:

Channel A	26.995 mc/s
Channel B	27.045 mc/s
Channel C	27.095 mc/s
Channel D	27.145 mc/s
Channel E	27.195 mc/s
Channel F	27.235 mc/s
Channel G	27.245 mc/s
Channel H	27.265 mc/s

The following suggested uses have been made:

Hobby radiotelephone: Channels A, C, E

Hobby Radiotelegraph: Channels B, D

Radioteletype: Channel H

Misc.: Channels F, G

Whenever possible, Part 15 stations should avoid using Part 19 Class frequencies. If Variable Frequency Oscillator control is used for the transmitter, care should be taken to keep all emissions within the band and away from occupied frequencies. Modulated oscillators operate only on Channel C when using radiotelephone.

42. Logs

It is suggested that Part 15 stations maintain accurate station logs to include the following information:

- (a) Date and time of each transmission.
- (b) Station Identifier (s) of all stations called or contacted.
- (c) Frequency or channel used.
- (d) Type of emission (s) used.

SPECIAL CONDITIONS

51. Obscenity, Indecency, Profanity

Part 15 stations shall refrain from making transmissions containing obscene, indecent, or profane words, language, or meaning.

52. False signals

Part 15 stations shall refrain from transmitting false or deceptive signals, or any Station Identifiers which have not been assigned by S9 Magazine to the station he is operating.

53. Unidentified Communications

No Part 15 station shall transmit unidentified radio communications or signals.

54. Interference

No Part 15 station shall be used for willfully or maliciously interfering with or causing interference to any radio communications or signal.

MISCELLANEOUS

61. Contacting Random Stations

The general call for contacting random or unknown stations shall be the letters “CQ”, transmitted by either radiotelephone or radiotelegraph.

GENERAL

71. Federal Communications Commission

All rules and stipulations of FCC’s Part 15 shall be obeyed at all times, and in the event they are modified at a later date they will supersede any stipulations of this un-official Operating Guide.

72. Courtesy

All stations operating on Part 15 channels should make every effort to achieve courteous operation in order to permit maximum use and enjoyment of the facilities involved.

FURTHER FACTS ON FIFTEEN

WHY PART 15?

Section 301 of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, contains 6 criteria for determining whether a transmitter must be licensed by the FCC. However, this Section can be construed in such a way that a license is not required for apparatus that emits RF energy but does not fall within any of the 6 criteria given. Pursuant to this, the FCC has worked up Part 15 which sets out the conditions under which such equipment may be operated without a license.

Part 15 is based upon the reasoning that if radiation is kept within specified fixed limitations, a general assumption can be made that such operation will not normally cause interference to regularly licensed radio stations. It is the FCC's position that those operations, as long as they do not exceed the radiation limitations specified, and do not cause actual interference, may lawfully be carried on without a license.

INCIDENTAL AND RESTRICTED RADIATION DEVICES

The FCC rules covering Incidental and Restricted Radiation Devices, now known as Part 15, date from 1938. The radiation permitted under Part 15 operation is set at a level which will eliminate interference in most cases and reduce the complaints of harmful interference to such a small number that they can be handled individually, on a case-by-case basis. In the event a Part 15 station is found to be causing interference, the FCC will require the operator of the station to modify either his operation or his equipment to correct the situation.

Restricted Radiation Devices include radio receivers; carrier current systems (including community antenna TV systems and campus radio systems); and low power communication devices such as wireless microphones, garage door openers, most hand held transceivers, all specially designed "Part 15 CB rigs."

Table 1. All of the Part 15 bands. In the computations shown, "F" equals the frequency (in kc/s) of the transmitter.

These Restricted Radiation devices are permitted to operate in several frequency ranges in addition to frequencies within the Citizens Band, and each Part 15 band has its own specific technical requirements as to power input, antenna, amount of permissible radiation, and transmission time (or combination of several). A chart showing the various Part 15 bands and their individual technical specifications is shown in Table 1.

THE GOSPEL

While it is possible to purchase the complete Part 15 from the Superintendent of Documents in Washington (ask for FCC Vol. II, $2.00), it is not necessary for you to have a copy in your possession when operating (as is the case with Part 19). Much of Part 15 is devoted to things which would be of no interest or importance to you. We reproduce here all sections of Part 15 which will be of interest to you and bear upon your "Part 15 CB" operation:

EXCERPTS FROM FEDERAL COMMUNICATIONS COMMISSION PART 15 INCIDENTAL AND RESTRICTED RADIATION DEVICES

15.3 General Condition of Operation

Persons operating restricted or incidental radiation devices shall not be deemed to have any vested or recognizable right to the continued use of any given frequency, by virtue of prior registration or certification of equipment. Operation of these devices is subject to the conditions that no harmful interference is caused and that interference must be accepted that may be caused by other incidental or restricted radiation devices, industrial scientific, or medical equipment, or from any authorized radio service.

15.4 General Definitions

(b) Harmful Interference. Any emission, radiation or induction which endangers the functioning of a radionavigation service or of other safety services or seriously degrades, obstructs or repeatedly interrupts a radio-communication service operating in accordance with this chapter.

(f) Low power communication device. A low power communication device is a restricted radiation device, exclusive of those employing conducted or guided radio frequency techniques, used for the transmission of signs, signals (including control signals), writing, images and sounds or intelligence of any nature by radiation of electromagnetic energy.

15.5 Equipment Available for Inspection

Any equipment or device subject to the provisions of this part together with any license, certificate, notice of registration or any technical data required to be kept on file by the operator of the device shall be made available for inspection by Commission representatives upon reasonable request.

SUBPART E—LOW POWER COMMUNICATION DEVICES

15.205 Operation Within the Frequency Band 26.97-27.27 Mc/s

A low power communication device may operate within the band 26.97-27.27 Mc/s (27.12 Mc/s \pm 150 kc/s) provided it complies with all of the following requirements:

(a) The carrier of the device shall be maintained within the band 26.97-27.27 Mc/s.

(b) All emissions, including modulation products, below 26.97 Mc/s or above 27.27 Mc/s shall be suppressed 20 db or more below the unmodulated carrier.

(c) The power input to the final radio stage (exclusive of filament or heater power) shall not exceed 100 milliwatts.

(d) The antenna shall consist of a single element that does not exceed 5 feet in length.

15.207 Class B Emission Prohibited

Operation of low power communication devices that produce Class B emissions (damped waves) is prohibited.

15.208 Certification Requirements

(a) No low power communication device manufactured after the dates set forth in 15.211 shall be operated without a station license unless it has been certificated to demonstrate compliance with the requirements of this part.

(b) The owner or operator need not certificate his own low power communication device, if it has been certificated by the manufacturer or distributor.

(c) Where certification is based on measurement of a prototype, a sufficient number of units shall be tested to assure that all production units comply with the technical requirements of this subpart.

(d) The certificate may be executed by a technician skilled in making and interpreting the measurements that are required to assure compliance with the requirements of this part.

(e) The certificate shall contain the following information:

(1) The operating conditions under which the device is intended to be used.

(2) The antenna to be used with the device.

(3) A statement certifying that the device can be expected to comply with the requirements of this subpart under the operating conditions specified in the certificate.

(4) The month and the year in which the device was manufactured.

15.209 Location of Certificate

The certificate shall be permanently attached to the device and shall be readily available for inspection.

15.210 Interference From Low Power Communication Devices

Notwithstanding the other requirements of this part, the operator of a low power communication device, regardless of date of manufacture, which causes harmful interference to an authorized radio service, shall promptly stop operating the device until the harmful interference has been eliminated.

15.211 Date When Certification Is Required

... All low frequency communication devices which operate on frequencies below 70 Mc/s, manufactured after December 31, 1957, shall comply with the certification requirements of this subpart.

As you can see, the rules are quite small by comparison to Part 19's regulations for Class D stations. Part 15 does not regulate the content or length of 27 mc/s transmissions, nor does it limit in any way, the type of use to which the station may be put.

S9 Magazine has undertaken to register all Part 15 transmitters to make for easier separation of the different stations while in operation.
