* Use the 1990 to 1995 revenue estimates with caution. During that period, my confidence level for Miami was fairly low. After 1995, the data is good.

DUNCAN'S COMMENTS

Miami is a slightly above average major radio market. Viable stations have remained steady. Listening levels are high compared to the other markets. They have declined somewhat in the last decade but that rate of decline has been well below that of the average market. Unlisted station listening is increasing but is still at a much lower level than the average market.

A handful of Hispanic stations are (or have been) great radio stations. None of them have been great throughout most of the three decades covered by this book. I am referring to WQBA, WCMQ-F, WAMR and WRMA. WEDR has consistently led the Black segment. Amongst the Anglo stations, WLYF, WLVE and, to a lesser extent, WPOW and WKIS have been excellent radio stations.
