Low Power FM Now a Reality, But Number of New Stations Stifled by Political Actions

Despite strong opposition by most of the radio industry, the Federal Communications Commission approved low power FM broadcasting, commonly referred to as LPFM. But the expertise of the Commission was questioned by politicians, notably by former Minnesota Republican Rod Grams, who successfully lobbied his colleagues to make the legislation highly restrictive. Low power FM stations can only be four or more frequencies away from other FM stations in their cities and geographical areas, not the three or even two-channel spacings the FCC would have permitted. Contrast this with FM translators, those little relay stations that often appear two dial positions away from nearby stations, and which seemingly exist without causing interference. The legislation also made former pirates ineligible to hold low power FM station licenses.

It is interesting to note that the broadcasters who opposed low power FM and the crippling amendment by Sen. Grams were in these groups: The National Association of Broadcasters, National Public Radio, the International Association of Audio Information Services (an FM/SCS radio reading organization worried that stations too close on the dial might interfere with their "fragile" sideband/subcarrier transmissions to the blind) and National Religious Broadcasters. To the latter group's credit, would-be president Wayne Pederson, who had been at KTIS-FM *98.5 Minneapolis, wrote that the group should reach out to low power stations, and get out of politics, especially right-wing Republican politics. This caused an uproar, spearheaded by Brannon Howse, a resident of St. Paul MN, who read Pederson's interview in a local newspaper. Howse does a program on WVCY-FM *107.7 Milwaukee, but Vic Eliason of that station said "we weren't the avant-garde who pushed this"—the failure to name Pederson as NRB president. The removal came about because of efforts of Dick Bott, Bott Broadcasting of Kansas City MO, James Dobson of Focus on the Family, Don Wildmon of the American Family Association, as well as TV evangelist Jerry Falwell.

Public radio, which has a mandate to offer alternative programming, often programming that the commercial marketplace cannot sustain, violated its own principles in opposing small-station "competition." Too often the major public stations have gotten smug with their huge budgets, weeks-long fund-raising appeals (lasting up to two weeks at a time three times a year), and programming not that different from commercial classical and jazz stations, as well as some FM talk stations. Only the National Federation of Community Broadcasters supported low power FM, and indeed offered to mentor the new stations as they come on the air. NFCB member stations vary from WPFW *89.3 Washington DC, KDNA *88.1 St. Louis MO, KPFK *90.7 Los Angeles, KPFT *90.1 Houston, KAXE *91.7 Grand Rapids MN to little KOTO *91.7 Telluride CO.

Several of the low power FM stations are on the air, or hold construction permits. I was active in helping WMLA-LP *99.7 Moose Lake MN get a new transmitter site, which enabled it to sign on Jan. 2, 2003. Initially, it is monophonic, carrying Three Angels Broadcasting Service (3ABN Radio) by satellite, but expects to have equipment for local program origination capability. Hourly IDs are done by a computer. Low power stations will vary in programming from religious, to public safety, to community-oriented, and often will play music not normally heard on commercial or public radio. All such stations are to be noncommercial, with underwriting allowed.

Beware of "HD Radio" Both As a Listener And As a Broadcaster

The U.S. Federal Communications Commission has approved "in-band, on-channel" digital audio broadcasting. Stations can convert to this technology without getting a special FCC license, but must later notify the FCC that they have done so. Digital audio broadcasting, hyped by the industry as "HD Radio," allows higher fidelity broadcasting on channels already allocated to FM (and AM).

FM DAB supposedly allows not only higher fidelity, compact disc-like quality, but freedom from multipath interference. When driving in a big city where signals come direct from the station and bounced off nearby buildings, the technology allows the listener to hear only the stronger of the signals. In effect, this means there will be no audible "ghosting" or "picket fencing." You either get a clear signal or nothing. During the hybrid period, where a digital and an analog signal ride along on the same FM station, the receiver will presumably go to analog stereo, should the digital signal get weak. Thus, a station would be able to fade out "gracefully," rather than having its audio silenced when reception is less than ideal.

Proponents of "HD Radio" like the fact that stations can devote any part of their audio stream to serving the public, or for their own private data services. Much like FM subcarriers have been utilized to provide music, talk or data to special audiences and places, so can digital audio broadcasting. DAB's ancillary mode can be configured to allow for a high quality audio stream, possibly at the expense of a higher quality main channel stereo signal. The radio reading services are concerned that DAB provide for their future needs, including the ability to broadcast a clearer signal to blind people. This signal might become free of problems like crosstalk from the main station getting into the subcarrier, restricted signal coverage areas, and what they perceive as piracy—people who are not "authorized" tuning in.

The major objection I have to "HD Radio" is that it takes up too much channel space. The analog audio of an FM station fits into a 200-kHz wide frequency band. This even allows for SCSubcarriers to fit in, at plus or minus 67 or 92 kHz away from the center of the FM channel. However, the digital signal must occupy an area way to either side of the main FM audio. Thus, in a real-world example, WWMX Baltimore MD is found at 106.5 mhz. It normally is heard beyond Washington DC, up to a distance of about 93 km on a car radio. That despite the fact that WJFK-FM Manassas VA-Washington DC is on 106.7. However, when WJFK-FM was testing a digital signal, it created interference on 106.5 and 106.9. This interference limited WWMX to only a 40 km outreach in the direction of Washington. Digital radio is designed to also benefit AM (530-1710 kHz), but at present can only be used during daylight hours. There was concern when WOR 710 AM New York was testing in digital; nearby stations on 690 through 730 kHz were being disrupted.

Opposing digital audio broadcasting is a Minnesota broadcaster who pointed out that Motorola might have the solution figured out in the receiver. According to a press release, listeners wanting improved sound need not pay for satellite digital radio or wait for the introduction of land-based digital radio broadcasting. Motorola's new integrated circuit "enhances sound quality and improves signal reception for existing AM and FM analog broadcasts." The company's Symphony™ digital radio chipset is said to provide the benefits of less static, fading, pops and hisses, automatic tuning so that adjacent channel stations won't interfere with each other; extended listening range from existing stations, better stereo separation and improved performance in multipath areas, along with better audio clarity.

The new system won't require broadcasters to invest in new digital equipment. A few companies have expressed interest in using the new chips in their receivers, including Hyundai Autonet. Motorola's system is said to be versatile, playing in both automotive and in-home portable units. The Symphony DSP5636X digital integrated circuit is priced in prototype quantities at $29.95, with volume production and lower prices expected. The catch, however, is that manufacturers have to engineer the Motorola chipset into their radios and pay the high initial cost of converting to that system. The broadcaster, who is not embracing "HD Radio," said the Motorola system "looks promising and as a broadcaster I am excited. . . With the demos of IBOC that I heard at the past NAB show, we would have no problem competing with IBOC digital radio with our present analog signal. We have infinite resolution and we don't throw any bits away! "

Canada has an entirely separate digital audio broadcasting system from the United States. It uses the so-called L-Band, 1452-1492 mhz. England uses Band III, around 221 mhz. You can read about my reactions to Canada's system in the 16th edition FM Atlas, p. 5. While several stations are on the air with digital programs in major population areas of Canada, including Windsor (where Detroit residents with the proper radios could tune in); there are few receivers. Finally, portable DAB receivers for use in Canada have shown up. The RadioShack Canada catalogue shows (or showed) models like the 12008101 at $299.99 Canadian, a pocket-size DAB/FM receiver, 4-line LCD display, earbuds, using 2 AA cells; or for $399.99 Canadiana pocket-size receiver with MP3 player, etc. But "you wouldn't notice these items by casually browsing the catalog or even looking them up in the index. There is nothing in the caption to suggest they are DAB radios—you have to read the full description. The pages are not even included in the index for 'Radios', only for 'MP3 Players' and 'MiniDisc Players'. Definitely a soft launch," wrote an Internet review.

Beware, buying a new car if it offers "HD Radio." The stations you receive may come in clearer, but you will probably hear fewer of them. Like the experiment in Baltimore-Washington pointed out, the "HD Radio" stations will squat on channels either side of their frequency shown in this book. Using an "HD" type radio, you would most likely be powerless to force it into analog mode, requiring you to listen to a signal that is spread onto adjacent channels, even though the radios' digital display might say otherwise. Small community, religious or out-of-town signals might become inaudible. Rather than opting for a new car or a radio with "HD" features, it might be better to stick with the old, and enjoy analog FM as far as the signal will take you, or as long as your creaky automobile will last.

Sirius and XM Radio offer about 100 audio services direct to automobiles, charging a monthly fee, plus costs of equipment and installation. Those are all right if you are a fan of a particular type of music, sports or talk, but they are not radio. The FM Atlas is a good guide to showing FM radio stations with your favorite type of programming, or music that only certain, esoteric stations send out. Too, there is variety on FM that even the satellite services do not yet provide. I speak of marching band music, polka music, goth music, various ethnic formats and other genres not yet known to the satellite, but heard on free over-the-air FM. While satellite systems provide wide coverage areas, they are restricted in major cities having tall buildings and tunnels. The National Association of Broadcasters is quite properly concerned about the satellite services' plans to have powerful "gap fillers" in major cities. They're afraid such relayers will play their own commercials, to the detriment of local radio, rather than existing solely for better reception of the satellite signal. And I have heard criticism that the announcers on the satellite services are as annoying to listen to as they are on FM!

New York's WFUV's Tower Problems Continue; It's Building Controversial Booster in Manhattan

Recall from the last two editions of the FM Atlas that the New York Botanical Garden had protested as unsightly the 45 story tower WFUV *90.7 wanted to build on the Fordham University campus in Bronx. The tower, across the street from the Garden, is partially constructed, at a cost of $1.5 million. Indeed, WFUV now transmits from that site, at about half power, with FCC permission. While both sides continue to search for a compromise, the Federal Communications did allow for the construction of WFUV-2 *90.7 in New York city. WFUV-2 *90.7 would have its facility atop the Riverside Church in Upper Manhattan. That's the location WKCR *89.9 wants to move to, following the loss of its transmitting site atop the World Trade Center, Sept. 11, 2001. WKCR is temporarily on the Columbia University campus, with a restricted main channel signal, and a very restricted In-Touch signal at 67 kHz for the blind. WFUV-2 It would "amplify the signal from the Rose Hill campus of Fordham University in the Bronx and improve reception for tens of thousands of WFUV's listeners in mid-Manhattan and sections of Queens and Brooklyn. . . For years we've had complaints from listeners that they couldn't hear us in lower Manhattan. That's because our tower is in the Bronx. Even when it's finished it won't be tall enough to transmit a clear signal to that densely-populated portion of our licensed coverage area. The booster antenna will broadcast on a narrow, highly directional path, like a flashlight aimed down Manhattan," said station director Ralph M. Jennings. However, both eight-watt WHCR *90.3, "Harlem Community Radio," New York and WFMU *91.1 East Orange NJ have protested the booster. They allege interference from WFUV-2 will severely cripple their signals in Manhattan. Jennings, however, says the booster would not cause second-adjacent channel interference, and if there should be any interference, "we'll correct the problem."

FM Radio's Share of the Audience Grows

Statistical Research of Westfield NJ continues to track radio listening for the major networks and advertisers. Their latest report shows FM's share of the total radio audience rising from 77 to 82 percent, while AM's has dropped from 23 to 18 percent. This is in the period since the Spring, 1990 RADAR report.

FM Atlas Uses Include Tracking Meteors

Philip Gebhardt of Toronto reminds me of a form of long-distance FM reception (FM DX) related to meteors, as they burn across the sky, daytime as well as at night. He wrote an article in the December 1997 Sky and Telescope magazine, "Observing Meteors on Your FM Dial." That publication previously had mentioned the FM Atlas as a source of information about stations that might be heard via meteor-scatter propagation.

Gebhardt writes: "Listening to meteor-reflected signals in the FM band is so easy, your readers can do it in their cars using an FM radio. Even fixed installations do not require the large antennas and high towers associated with tropospheric detection. FM Atlas is an excellent reference for meteor scatter in the FM broadcast band since it enables enthusiasts to plan which frequencies would be most productive during daily sporadic meteor activity as well as during the many annual meteor showers." Such signals require patience to tune in, since most meteor bursts are of short duration. It is rare to hear a full station "ID," but can be rewarding, when tuned to an otherwise vacant channel to hear it come to life with brief snippets of music or talk. Most such receptions are from 800 to 1600 km, and occur most frequently from midnight to noon.

Other Forms of FM DX Helped by the FM Atlas; Its Use as a Travel Aid Identified

Besides meteor scatter DX, there is a phenomenon known as FM

skip reception, reaching out to distances a little greater than for meteor scatter, and occurring most often during late spring to early summer in the daytime. Such signals may last up to an hour, an entire afternoon or evening, and are generally quite strong. It helps to have a selective receiver or tuner, and to use the FM Atlas to explore parts of the dial where the signals might be coming from. Near the back of this book is space to note stations you may have received this way, or you might want to create your own typed or computerized log. Occurring closer to your home is "tropospheric ducting," an enhancement of stations up to 500 km, and interesting in themselves to DX. Occasionally, DX is possible as you drive, using an ordinary FM car radio.

THE WORLDWIDE TV-FM DX ASSOCIATION

Serving the UHF-VHF Enthusiast

Those interested in listening for long-distance FM reception, or FM-DX, are invited to join the nonprofit Worldwide TV-FM DX Association. Dues are $26/year U.S., $28/year Canadian, or $35/year elsewhere. Sample copies of the monthly VHF-UHF Digest" are $4 from PO Box 501, Somersville CT 06072-0501, e-mail <ikon@netcom.com>.

Much of Canada Remapped

After four years, it's time for a new FM Atlas, right? The main delay in doing a new edition is the maps. Now, thanks to Don Johnson of Cloquet MN, the maps have been converted to a "TIF" file and updated on the computer. This technology should allow future editions to come out more frequently. This edition has Manitoba liberated from the Alberta and Saskatchewan, and grouped with north Ontario. The rest of Ontario has its own larger-scale map.

FMedia! Helps Update this FM Atlas!

It's a newsletter of fact and opinion on FM radio, and a great resource for updating this FM Atlas. A monthly, it lists new stations, format and call letters' changes, plus news of technology and industry developments. There is an order form at the end of this book, which can be clipped out or copied.

Updated Information Always Wanted

My thanks to all who have contributed information on the FM stations of their areas, as well as to several who have proofread various parts of this book by e-mail. Responsibility for any errors, however, is strictly mine. Without the help of these volunteers the book would not be as complete or error-free as it is. Because some don't want their names used, and the danger I might omit some names, I won't attempt to mention all of the people who have helped. As you become aware of station changes in your area (such as new formats, stations embracing stereo or an FM subcarrier) be sure to write or e-mail. This edition FM Atlas printed by Patterson Printing, Benton Harbor MI.

KEY TO SYMBOLS

- d A station with a directional antenna, listed after height, by-frequency section.
- h A station with a horizontal-only signal
- t An FM translator or on-channel FM booster
- v A station with a vertical-only signal. Stations without a "v" or "h" in the by-frequency part of the book have both polarizations or circular polarization.
- * A noncommercial, educational, "public" or religious station
- $ A station with all or part of its weekly schedule in FM stereo
- † A station with a subsidiary communications service (SCS or in Canada SCMO). If †() it's 57 kHz data, if by itself [†] 67 kHz; if following a comma [† ,] 92 kHz.
- § A station sharing time with a nearby station on the same channel; shown on maps.
- A station with its antenna below the average surrounding terrain

Program (music) codes (in part I of the Station Directory after city): b beautiful/easy listening, c classical/fine arts, e ethnic, f folk, g gospel and religious, j jazz, k country (all types, including stations playing polkas), l Latin/Spanish, m middle of the road (big bands, nostalgia, standards), n news, o rock oldies, p progressive rock, r rock (CHR, rock hits, top 40 or hybrid formats), s soul/urban, t talk. Up to two letters are used for stations having two or more types of music (including "op" for classic rock, "rm" for adult contemporary). Language codes (just to the left of the program codes in Part I of the Station Directory): E English (for stations in Quebec and Latin America), F French, P Portuguese, S Spanish.

SCSsymbols (following † in Part I of the Station Directory): A ABC networks, B relays of other networks, C relays of AM, FM stations, cable audio or campus carrier current stations, E ethnic (general), F farm (voice), G gospel, H Haitian French, I Iranian, India languages, Islamic/Arabic, J Japanese, K Korean, L Latino or Portuguese, M music (easy listening), O other Oriental languages, such as Chinese and Tagalog, P paging (voice; occasional audio), Q European languages (such as Greek, Russian, Italian), R music (foreground/light rock), S sports and special events (occasional audio), T talk (usually talking book for the blind), U tones, telemetry chirps or warbles—listed if on all the time, V Vietnamese, W weather, like NOAA relaying, X medium speed data, Z high speed data; () Radio Data System (RDS), tones-type paging or other low-speed datas at 57 kHz. [Texas and later listings omit the † symbol to save space in the Microsoft Works format.]

Part I: Geographic Directory Example

Raleigh (NC) r 101.5 WRAL $ 89 †M,R. Explanation: WRAL at 101.5 mhz in Raleigh has a rock format in stereo. It gets out 89 km with a primary signal, and it has a music subcarrier at 67 kHz and a light rock SCS at 92 kHz.

Part II: By-Frequency Directory Example (94.5 mhz, Channel 233)

AZ Phoenix Kool 94.5 KOOL $ 503 100000
 AR Barling-Fort Smith The Outlaw KOLX $ 153 31000. Explanation: KOOL Phoenix AZ uses "Kool 94.5" as a nonID, is $[tereo], 503 m above average terrain, and 100 kw horizontal and vertical. KOLX Barling AR IDs with Fort Smith, uses the nonID "The Outlaw," is 153 m, 31000 watts h & v (or circular) polarization.

FM Translators, Boosters, Low Power FM Stations—follow each state

Translators operate on a different frequency from the primary station, helping give FM service where distance or terrain make direct reception difficult. Translators are limited to 250 watts, with some having only one or 10 watts. FM boosters operate on the same frequency as the primary station, with up to 20 percent of the power of the primary station. LPFM stations can have up to 100 watts (h, v, or horizontal and vertical) effective radiated power at up to 30 meters above average terrain. In the lists which follow, city, frequency and call number of the translator are followed by call letters and frequency of the primary. Boosters are identified by call letters of the primary followed by a numeral (such as CA's KKBE-1 105.5), and their radiated power.

CANADA

Canada coverage note: Coverages are indicated only for stations where the effective antenna height above average terrain in meters is known. The powers of virtually all Canada stations can be checked in Part II of the Station Directory. Rebroadcasters are listed with their correct call numbers (such as VF2171) in the Directories, but the maps show the station relayed, if that station is known.

MEXICO

STATION DIRECTORY

Part II. FM stations listed by frequency, United States and Canada (excluding U.S. territories). Stations identifying with more than one city are listed, as are those using a short phrase ("nonID") in lieu of call letters during much of their programming. Selected station logos ("FMiscellany") are included on a space available basis. See Key to Symbols Page 8.

FMemoranda

Here's space to help you make better use of your FM Atlas, as either a trip-planning aid, or for noting stations you receive at home. If you travel, you can pre-plan your FM listening, sticking to stations playing the kind of music you enjoy, or those having wider coverages. Some people like to tune in small stations at colleges, the new low power FM (LPFM) stations, or translators as they go. By pre-planning, you will discover many stations that you might otherwise ignore.

There's more room on the following pages for you to write in notations for another trip, or for extended notes on one long trip. You might want to use part of this space to make updatings to this FM Atlas, based on what you hear, or on what you find out in FMedia! newsletter, as well as from other sources. If you discover new station information, please send it in to help make the next FM Atlas all the more complete.

Suggested information to list for each station:

Frequency	Call/NonID	Format	Stereo?	Location

Other Selected Radio Station References

FM Atlas readers occasionally ask who publishes an AM Atlas, a TV list, or other specialized information. Here's a selected bibliography.

Broadcasting and Cable Yearbook, the "bible" of the industry, with its programming, technical and personnel data for AM-FM-TV stations. Lists consultants, engineers, attorneys, FCC rules, over 1000 pages. Advance standing order price for the 2003-2004 edition $189.99, list price $199.95 from R. R. Bowker, 1-800-526-9537, then "4." Can be seen at many college libraries.

M Street Radio Directory, 2002-2003 11th edition, 862 pp. of FM-AM information, including a listing by call letters, selected station personnel, phone and FAX numbers, addresses, $79 plus $5 shipping from M Street Publications, 81 Main St., Ste. 2, Littleton NH 03561-4018; (800) 248-4242, FAX 603-444-2872. Check with them about a 2003-2004 edition. They also publish the weekly M Street Journal, M Street Daily, and are associated with Inside Radio and Clear Channel Communications, the largest owner of FM and AM stations in the U.S.

National Radio Club AM Radio Log; 23rd ed. 2002-03, $25.95; also the 2002 AM station map book listing stations by frequency on maps, 7th ed. $17.95. Those and other NRC publications are shown in the club's catalog available from P.O. Box 164, Mannsville NY 13661-0164.

BIAfn 2002 Radio Yearbook is designed for commercial broadcasters, profiling the 261 Arbitron radio markets, and city of license listings for non-metro stations. $90 postpaid to U.S. addresses from NAB Services, Dept. 77, 1771 N Street N.W., Washington DC 20036; 1-800-368-5644. Ask about any 2003 issue.
