Two nighttime country shows is too many for Jones, so it's dropping 'Dallas Live From Nashville.'
Jones wound up syndicensing two competing Nashville-based country music and-interview shows after falling in Broadcast Programming. It had both Dallas Terrier's show and Lia Knight's show. Edie Hilliard says it's time to concentrate on just one effort — and Lia is it. Jones says Lia currently airs on 138 stations and reaches 1.7 million listeners a week. Dallas won't be sitting on a bus-bench on Music Row. She continues as host of GAC's "Country Request Live" cable show after her radio show winds down in August.

Jones' other piece of country news — It's launching the Saturday night 'Classic Country Weekend.'
To be anchored by WSM, Nashville morning man Bill Cody, who's got great credentials in classic country. We can't help but note that the 7pm to midnight Jonas Radio Networks show essentially covers the timeslot of WSM's Grand Ole Opry — which several owners of WSM have refused to syndicate, including current owner Gaylord. Format of the Nashville-based "Classic Country Weekend" is music and artist interviews. Jones is squeezing some extra synergy out of this by launching a new daily classic country video show on its co-owned GAC (Great American Country) cable network, also to be hosted by WSM-AM's Bill Cody.

Wall Street may have gone overboard on Spanish radio, says Robertson Stephens. Analyst James Marsh says stocks of Spanish-radio groups like Hispanic Broadcasting and SBS "may be overvalued," based on an extensive performance review of 13 public radio stocks. Did Wall Street get carried away with the Spanish media story, about the 13% growth in Hispanics since 1990 and radio's ability to reach them? Marsh says the outlook is still bright — but HBC, SBS and others now face expensive marketing battles. And they're paying higher prices for recent negotiations, like SBS' $250M purchase of L.A.'s KFSG.

Rush Limbaugh's a DJ again — online. Rush — the former "Jeff Chasey" at KQV, Pittsburgh in the 1970s — started fiddling around with the 30-minute "Grooveyard of Forgotten Favorites" a couple of months ago, reports the New York Post. "Grooveyard" is available online live a half-hour before his Premiere-syndicated show at "Rushlimbaugh.com." The paper says Rush's "Internet platter party" pulls as many as 60,000 listeners a day to the website. On July 4, WABC listeners can get a taste of Rush's favorite cities with a special over-the-air broadcast of "Grooveyard", following his 11:30 a.m. show and just before the Yankees game against the Orioles.

New Orleans has a new classic hit. That's because Clear Channel has flipped its format to classic hits. Entercom's heritage probably served up a few New Orleans hits for the staff on Friday night. The station's history, succeeded by a different format dubbed "The Fox." New calls are 90.1-FM. It's worth noting that the 104.1 facility is a big hit in Class C, and consistently pulls numbers north of New Orleans in Baton Rouge, Auburn market #54.

Clear Channel bangs into ownership limits in Bangor. You don't see this too often. The FCC literally dismissed a sale application because of "non-compliance with the multiple ownership rules." It happened to Clear Channel after it filed to buy "89.7 WWBX (97.1) from Gopher Hill Communications. Remember last Monday we suggested that CC is deeding sales WGLY to Mark Jergenson's CascoMedia because it wants to acquire CHR WWBX? Sure looks like that's the case. Friday the FCC revealed its dismissal of the transfer app for WWBX. And — Clear Channel filed a Petition for Reconsideration on the sale. Our guess is that it will argue that it's now going to have room for WWBX because it's disposing of WGLY, Dexter, ME (102.1). As we said — a rare thing at the FCC.
