TIMES SCHEDULE (Operating on 400 Meters)—Daily, 12:30 to 1:15 p. m., 7:00 to 7:30 p. m., 8:00 to 9:30 p. m. Sunday, 10:00 to 11:00 a. m.

K. F. I.

The New Earle C. Anthony Station

Actual construction work is beginning on the new studio building which is to house the new and greater radio station, K. F. I., on the roof of the building of Earle C. Anthony, Inc., at Tenth and Hope streets. Frank Meline has the contract for the erection of the bungalow of hollow tile that will house the entire equipment of K. F. I., and within a very few days the Llewellyn Iron Works will commence the erection of the gigantic towers on the roof of the Packard building, which will carry the aerials of K. F. I. higher than the tallest building in Los Angeles.

The studio room will be the best equipped station of its kind yet constructed in the west. The walls of hollow tile will be built sound-proof by Johns-Manville, so that not the slightest noise from the outside will ever penetrate, and so that the sound waves of speech and music inside will not be reflected from the walls. The room itself will be 18 by 24 feet and will accommodate an entire twenty-piece orchestra. An elaborate system of signal lights will preclude the necessity for any conversation within the studio.

The broadcasting mechanism itself is the 500 watt equipment of the Western Electric Company, the finest of its kind so far known to the radio world. It is to be installed by P. H. Evans of the New York office of the Western Electric Company, a radio engineer of long experience. The total cost of the new equipment of K. F. I. will be in excess of $30,000, and due to the excellence of its aerial equipment and its favorable location away from the interference of tall buildings or hills, radio engineers predict that it will be unsurpassed in the West for both quality and range.

Earle C. Anthony, Inc., appreciate that Radio broadcasting has passed from the hit or miss plaything stage to the serious business of providing for you programs of merit, both entertaining and educational. This Company realizes its responsibility to the people of California, therefore we are not only going to protect our own investment, which is natural, but we are going to safeguard your interests, which is the right thing to do, for we owe it to you, by providing you with well-balanced programs, programs filled with wholesome entertainment and of educational value, mentally, physically and financially. We want you, the people of California, to be able to vote for us 100%, and we want our good neighbors in the adjoining states and in the far East, who will hear us, to look with favor upon the State of California.

Program for the Week of December 17th to December 24th

SUNDAY—

6:45 to 7:30 p. m. Sacred Concert under the auspices of EDWARD M. CRABTREE.

MONDAY—

3:30 to 5:00 p. m. DORIS CARVER CHILCOT, gifted young pianist and composer, playing a repertoire of her own selections and of difficult classical selections.

6:45 to 7:30 p. m. MR. C. ANDERSON and his instrumental trio, consisting of first violin, second violin and piano, offering semi-classical numbers in a way all their own. Secured through the courtesy of OSBORN and MOORE, song writers.

TUESDAY—

3:00 to 4:00 p. m. MRS. RUTH CORY HUNT, Soprano, Reader and Pianiste, in her own original entertainment.

4:30 to 5:00 p. m. Reading of special exclusive radio articles by the associate editors of "Vogue," "Vanity Fair" and "House and Garden."

6:45 to 7:30 p. m. MR. G. A. BEER, of the bond house of Stevens, Page & Sterling, speaking on "Bonds." JAZZ BERT CAMMACK, Saxophonist, and SYNCOPATING BILL SEWELL, Whirlwind Pianist, offering "Jazz From the Great White Way."

WEDNESDAY—

3:00 to 4:00 p. m. HARRY HAHN, Los Angeles Baritone from the Ambassador Theatre, singing "November Rose," "Meet Me Next Sunday" and "In Maytime." Mr. Hahn will appear through the courtesy of JACK SNYDER, Composer.

6:45 to 7:30 p. m. BILL WADE'S JAZZ ZORCHESTRA, playing, through the courtesy of EMMETT OSBORN and NORMAN MOORE, song writers extraordinary. This aggregation of jazz artists will interpret many of the present-day hits which have become classics in Melody-Land.

THURSDAY—

3:00 to 4:00 p. m. ANNE VIRGINIA SNOWDEN, popular Los Angeles dramatist reading extracts from the great drama by Eugene O'Neill, "The Hairy Ape."

6:45 to 7:30 p. m. OSBORN and MOORE, themselves. The ever popular song duo in a selected offering of their own compositions, together with a program by associated artists, embracing the latest in vaudeville.

FRIDAY—

3:00 to 4:00 p. m. JAZZ BERT CAMMACK and his cohort, SYNCOPATING BILL SEWELL, the saxophone and jazz-piano monarchs, in their weekly melange of mirth and melody. Request numbers for this concert should be telephoned in to Mr. Pollard's office, Broadway 1168, not later than Thursday afternoon.

6:45 to 7:30 p. m. G. A. BEER, of the bond house of Stevens, Page & Sterling, speaking on "Bonds, How to Buy Them." C. LEON O'BRIEN, Boston's favorite tenor, singing his masterpiece, "Over the Hill," the number which made the motion picture of the same name famous. Other sympathetic ballads will tighten Mr. O'Brien's hold on the friendship of the radio audience. PAUL M. FERESH, Baritone, will sing "On the Road to Mandalay," "Old Pal" and similar features. Associated artists will also contribute to the gaiety of the evening.

SATURDAY—

4:00 to 5:00 p. m. MR. G. W. BARNES, of the Associated Raisin Growers of California, speaking on "The Grape and Raisin Industry of California." Mr. Barnes will show Californians how, in harboring one of the greatest of the nation's agricultural industries in their midst, they should take pride in the achievements of our fellow-citizens. Suggestions as to novel and effective uses for raisins will also be featured.

6:45 to 7:30 p. m. THE VENETIAN PLAYERS, a jazz band that is "different." Offering popular melodies in a way all their own. This organization was secured through the courtesy of EMMETT OSBORN and NORMAN MOORE, composers of "Now That You Know" and other equally popular hits.

"The Part Radio Played in the World Peace Conference"

The First Story of Former President Woodrow Wilson's Trip to France to the Historic Gathering at Versailles, France, in 1919, by one of the "boys" on the U. S. S. George Washington, "The Floating Whitehouse" During the Conference

By ELLIS O. DAVIS

Chief Radio Operator on the U. S. S. George Washington, During the Peace Conference.
Now in Charge of Venice Ballroom Radio Broadcasting Station, Venice Pier.
In Collaboration with George L. Geiger

(Copyright by H. A. Horwood and Abbot Kinney Co., 1922)

Editor's Note—This is the third installment of Mr. Davis' story. The first appeared in the issue of November 25th, and the second in that of December 2nd.

I have mentioned the vast amount of business we were called upon to handle. Here, in the fewest possible words, is how we did it; New Brunswick would send to us on one schedule No. 1 to 150 inclusive and we would O. K. for them on our following schedule and then send our 1 to 200 inclusive, waiting for their O. K. It wasn't as easy for New Brunswick to copy our 60 k. w. arc as it was for us to copy their big alternator so sometimes we would have to repeat some of our traffic.

On the trip over (abroad) the press was unrestricted as to number of words each man could send daily so if you know newspaper men at all, I do not need to tell you they simply flooded us every day. It was part of my duties to check press and I counted words until I was talking "press," eating "press" and when I would finally get to sleep, whole armies of words—little words and big words marched in endless rows, companies, columns and battalions through my dreams. I was strongly tempted to throw the ship's dictionary overboard just to relieve my feelings.

But the daily torrent of press wouldn't have been so bad had it been our traffic only. Almost invariably, however, just when we'd be in the middle of a schedule with all conditions right to unload a lot of press, along would come a message from the Communication Office with "DOUBLE PRIORITY—TO U. S. SENATE, WASHINGTON, D. C., across the top of it.

This would, of course, call for an instantaneous halt in press sending until we had sent the message and waited for a response.

Then, if nothing else had interjected, we would resume sending press, for each day's dispatches had to be cleared the same day, otherwise it would be "dead" news—and the newspaper men informed us sweetly that we would be too, if this happened. Not that we had the slightest fear of such a happening—the newspaper boys were there to keep a world informed and we were proud to have a hand in that work. History was being made and written—and broadcasted, all within one floating office.

“The Part Radio Played in the World Peace Conference”

Each of the ten correspondents would average 150 to 200 words and the President's code messages would run 200, 300, 400 or 500 words. Going to Europe we had very few “commercials.” I would go into the radio room about 7 a. m., muster all the boys, O. K. all messages that had been sent and received during the night and forward them to the communication office. Next would come a careful inspection of the sets and equipment and to eliminate the necessity of a monthly inventory, I took daily check-ups of supplies, etc. I stayed in the radio room until ten p. m., very often no sooner asleep than to be awakened about 1 or 2 a. m., with the report, “Chief, the key on the arc set is out again.”

We had a big federal 13-contact key and we had such good results with the arc set that instead of the radiator ammeter reading 28 amps., it would be reading 50, 58 or 60 amps., and in this way we'd be burning up the key. Repairs would take until 3 or 4 and I'd turn in again, sometimes to be called out a second time by the report, “Chief, I've a bunch of stuff to get off and there's some ship working right next to us and they will not Q.R.T. (Q.R.T. being international code for “Stop sending.”) So we would battle that to a peaceful ending—about time to go on regular duty again.

In the next and fifth installment Mr. Davis will continue telling many interesting happenings. Don't miss a single installment of his story.

Out of the Air

By LISTENER-IN

We are reminded each year for a month before Christmas to SHOP EARLY. We all have the best intentions and make up our minds that we will do our Christmas shopping early, this year at any rate. How many of us do so? All those that go early, like the little bird, get the best worms. We also get better service and certainly more satisfaction. How few of us would like to change places with the over-worked, nerve-wracked clerks in the stores around the holiday season, yet all too many of us forget all these things and make a grand rush as the last minute and expect to get just what we want, and be waited on with the same care and patience that we would have received if we had attended to this at an early date. It is getting late now, but you will get better results than leaving it to a later date. MAKE IT A RADIO CHRISTMAS.

We shall be pleased to let any of our readers know the location and name of the "call signals" they may pick up. Just drop us a line or call us on the phone and we will give the desired information. We are also pleased to get suggestions from our readers for the betterment of RADIO DOINGS. Call on us and get acquainted.

Mr. George I. Geiger, the genial publicity man for The Abbot-Kinney Company of Venice, is the recipient of a Christmas "package" in the form of a little daughter. He had ordered this for Christmas Day, but the Stork was either too rushed with business or else got his dates mixed and made the delivery on December 7. We have no doubt but that this present was as welcome at this date as if it had arrived on the day ordered and we and Mr. Geiger's numerous friends wish to extend to him and Mrs. Geiger our very hearty congratulations.

K. F. I., the Earl C. Anthony new station, expects to have their installation completed at a very early date, and to be able to broadcast their premier program on New Year's Eve. Watch Radio Doings for the announcement and be ready to "listen in." They promise to have a program that will be a "world-beater."

A country doctor was attending a Scottish laird who was seriously ill, and as they had been unable to procure a nurse the doctor had instructed the butler in the art of taking and recording his master's temperature with a thermometer. When the doctor arrived at the house one day he was met by the butler. "Well, McIntyre," he said, "I hope the laird's temperature is not any higher today." The butler looked thoughtful for a moment. "Weel, sir," he said at last, "I was just wonderin' that myself. Ye see, he deed at twal' o'clock."

MAKE IT A RADIO CHRISTMAS.

RADIO BROADCAST is the standard monthly devoted to the service of all people interested in radio, whether owners of sets or not. Clear photographs abound: portraits and illustrations. There are articles for those who know nothing about radio, stories of adventure, humor and the regular departments: "Progress of Radio in Foreign Lands," "Additional Broadcasting Stations in the U. S.," "New Equipment," and "The Grid—Questions and Answers" of great technical help.
