Opera Stars to Sing on Swift Garden Hour

1932 Vigoro Programs to Include Leading International Artists

International stars of the Grand Opera and concert stage will participate in the 1932 "Swift Garden Hour," sponsored by the Vigoro Plant Food Division of Swift and Company, to begin Sunday, January 31, over the blue network of the NBC system from 2:30 to 3 p. m. There will be fifteen programs in the present series.

While the artists who will appear have won the highest honors in their respective fields, the programs to be offered in the present series have been so arranged as to present old songs and melodies of popular appeal. Each program will be supplemented by a brief practical talk on gardening and home beautification by the Master Gardener. These discussions will bring a sound practical knowledge of gardening gained in years of research and experiment, and will be of interest both to the professional and amateur gardener.

Some of the artists who will appear in these Sunday afternoon concerts are: Tito Schipa, John Charles Thomas, Richard Bonelli, Claudio Muzio, "Men About Town", Marian Anderson, George Meador, Mario Chamlee, Attilio Baggio, Ensemble, Everett Marshall, Dennis King.

Polish Music on WLS Each Sunday

Native Polish music features a new foreign program over WLS, Sundays at 1:30 p. m. The program is sponsored by the Polish-American Building and Loan Associations, and temporarily discontinues the Cross Roads Sunday School, which has been heard at this time heretofore.

Radio

Beauty

Above is a new picture of Countess Olga Albani, National Broadcasting Company soprano, who is one of radio's most popular singers as well as being (as anyone can see) one of its most beautiful women. Countess Albani, formerly featured on the Maxwell House and the Eastman Kodak programs, is now heard every Sunday at 8:45 p. m. over a coast to coast NBC network on the Buick Revelers Program. Local outlet WENR.

Cantor Remains on Sunday Hour for Two Weeks

Will Share Chase and Sanborn Hour With Jessel Until Feb. 28

Eddie Cantor, saucer-eyed comedian, has changed his mind about leaving the Chase and Sanborn Hour, as previously announced. At least he will appear this Sunday when he and George Jessel put on a comedy skit as guest artists of the program to be broadcast over NBC networks at 7:00 p. m.

With the two comedians on the program will be Dave Rubinoff, who will feature a special arrangement of tunes appropriate to the title, "Collegiate Overture." Rubinoff has composed a song entitled "Now That I Have You," which his orchestra will play on this broadcast.

Local outlet WLS.

THE DODGE SIXES AND BILLY WHITE ON WBBM WEEKLY

A new series of bi-weekly broadcasts, headlining the "Dodge Sixes," a fast-moving musical aggregation, and Billy White, the "platinum-voiced tenor," is now being heard. This feature will be heard at 8:45 p. m. each Monday and Thursday, until the first week in February when a Wednesday night broadcast will be added, making the series a tri-weekly presentation.

Billy White, the soloist, is a member of Frank Westphal's WBBM staff orchestra. He is widely known to radio audiences for his previous work in Chicago under Ted Fiorito and on the Pacific Coast, where he was featured with Gus Arnheim's band. White's voice has somewhat the same quality and high clear range as that of Morton Downey. Billy's side specialty is the banjo.

Aileen Stanley In New WBBM Series

Featured on the new "Speedway" program series presented each Tuesday and Saturday at 8:00 p. m. over WBBM, is Aileen Stanley who enjoys an internationally famous reputation as a musical comedy star. Other artists include "Gus" Haenschen and his orchestra, the "Scrappy" Lambert Quartet, and the four piano team of Ohman, Arden, Rodemich and Lieberfeld. A song favorite of more than a quarter of a century ago, "In My Merry Oldsmobile," will form the theme song of each program in this new transcription series.

Hockey Discussions on WIBO Each Week

The Hot Stove League, a new hockey feature, will be broadcast over WIBO each Saturday at 1:45 p. m. It will feature a fifteen minute discussion of hockey games, plays and players, under the leadership of Joe Springer, veteran WIBO sports reporter. The new broadcast was created in response to requests from countless hockey fans for this type of program.

AL AND PETE CHANGE BROADCAST TIME ON WLS

Al and Pete, the WLS "Nut-crackers" have changed their broadcast schedule at WLS to 1:00 p. m. each day, in order to broadcast at the time when most listeners have progressed from soup to nuts at their noon-day meal.

Thompkins Corners "Problem Child" is Guest This Sunday

When Mayor Matt Thompkins and his "Real Folks" of Thompkins Corners, U. S. A., go on the air over the Columbia network from 4:00 to 4:30 p. m. this Sunday, the occasion of the moment will be a dinner for the underprivileged boys of the village, with Rufus Loper, the reclaimed "problem child" as its inspiration and its guest of honor. Interruptions of various sorts disturb Mayor Matt's speech-making, trouble devops in the kitchen, Horace's insistence on rendering his trombone solo causes something of a commotion, and other events lead to an unforeseen ending to the banquet. Local outlet WGN.

Whiteman's "Finds" Will Sing Friday on Pontiac Series

Audition Winners Will be Heard on Youth of America Programs

Cleveland, Chicago, Detroit, Buffalo and Boston will be the next cities visited by Paul Whiteman in his nation-wide search for new radio talent.

In Cleveland, the third audition is already under way, and the winner will be introduced over a coast-to-coast NBC network next week, on the "Youth of America" program sponsored by the makers of Pontiac automobiles, and heard every Friday at 9:00 p. m. Hereafter Whiteman, whose orchestra will be heard each week in the "Youth of America" series, will hold an audition in each city he visits.

Local outlet WENR.

A LA WINCHELL

Paul Whiteman, one of the foremost furnishers of the nations dance music, has never learned to two-step, according to Walter Winchell, NBC master of ceremonies.

WBBM Thespians In a Program "Scoop"

A series of sustaining programs entitled "The Scoop," has been launched over WBBM. They are presented in dramatic form and concern the activities of Phil Peters, a newspaperman, and his fiance, Ann Lewis. Each episode of the series is a complete story.

Vincent Haworth, well known radio leading man, takes the role of Phil Peters. Bess K. Johnson, dramatic star, takes the role of Ann. Ray Appelby and Jack Daily play various character parts.

The skits are presented each Friday at 9:00 p. m., and each Sunday at 8:15 p. m.

WESTPHAL POO-POOS THE SONG WRITING BUSINESS

"Song writers earn big pay!" Every time Frank Westphal, WBBM orchestra director, runs across one of those advertisements, he lets out a loud guffaw. Then he will tell you about a framed check of his for $1.30 which represents his song royalties for one year. And Frank is an oldtimer in the business.

"Why kid the poor amateurs," Frank says, "even the hits of the day wear themselves out with the public before the royalties start coming in. Of course there are the few Berlins and Gershwins, but it's just a waste of time for the rest of the mere mortals."

STUDIO MIKE

Likes and Dislikes

Dickson to Star

Versatile Artells Dickson will face the microphone of the Columbia network as guest star of the program "Vitality Personalities," Wednesday at 9:00 p. m. Dickson is not only a baritone of considerable ability, but has also been in demand for his talents for comedy and dialect. Local outlet WBBM.

Cooper Joins WBBM Staff of Writers

Willis O. Cooper, widely known writer and producer for radio, has recently joined the continuity staff at WBBM.

His first work will be "The Witching Hour," a new series of breathtaking dramas, which was inaugurated over WBBM and the Columbia network on January 23 at 4:30 p. m. In this series, he will write thrillers from the field of the supernatural with the setting laid in a strange house on a lonely hill. "The stories are so eerie," Cooper explains, "that the sponsor was afraid to put them on later in the evening."

In addition to free-lance writing and agency work, Cooper was for two years continuity editor of the "Empire Builders."

BOB BECKER DISCUSSES SHEDD AQUARIUM INMATES

A new game of salt water "baseball" in which one of the curators of the Shedd Aquarium in Grant Park, Chicago, uses an eight inch fish to toss to the sharks, will be described by Bob Becker in his program on WGN this Sunday at 7:30 p. m. Bob went to the Shedd Aquarium a few days ago in order to strike up an acquaintance with the sharks, muskalone, jewfish and other queer members of the finny tribe. It was then that Director W. T. Chute showed how they have to literally stick small fish in the shark's mouth in order to get them to eat. In his broadcast Mr. Becker will also reveal many interesting facts about the queer creatures which are housed in the Shedd Aquarium including the little sea horses.

MEET the ARTIST

EAST AND DUMKE

"Dear East and Dumke," wrote a frantic housewife one day last year. "How can I keep my husband from snoring? He is driving me mad." The two Sisters of the Skillet, who broadcast nine times weekly over an NBC network, sat down to consider. It would be a terrible shame to drive the poor woman crazy, they decided, and if they could prevent it they certainly would. That afternoon they broadcast a concise and effective remedy. "Cork plaster will do the trick," was the glad word, "cork plaster applied phum circuit sent for them to offer a six-year Keith-Orpheum contract.

Of course they took it. Six years later, during a Mississippi flood disaster, they made their first radio appearance, for some of their benefit performances given after the regular show were broadcast by Southern radio stations. And even then, inexperienced mike-men that they were, the fans responded and begged for more.

About three years ago, the two vaudevillians turned to radio and gradually built up their Sisters of the gently but firmly over patient's nose and mouth. Failing this, we suggest that a small harmonica be placed over affected part to produce, after some practice, pleasant slumber music." Three weeks later the woman went mad—alho East and Dumke could never understand why.

You see, the two Skillet Sisters answer about 30,000 domestic problems a year via the air, and they always get to the bottom of the question, they will tell you. How to reduce quickly and painlessly, what brunette wife should do about hubby's blonde play-girl, how to extract perfect obedience from spoiled children—anything and everything is answered cheerfully by East and Dumke with joy in their hearts and a smile on their lips.

The two domestic comedians, who weigh, between them, about 500 pounds or one quarter of a ton, have worked together for the last ten years. They met in Indiana where they were both playing in the same orchestra, but such talent as they now specialize in was not doomed to be wasted in the vain and empty clatter of a brass band. The two boys made a bee-line for better things.

And that line took them straight to the vaudeville stage where, even as beginners, they managed to pull sixty dollars a week out of their new profession. A few months later, after an unexciting tour of the small town theaters, the head of the Chicago Or-phum circuit sent for them to offer a six-year Keith-Orpheum contract. For the rest, "The Sisters" are lots of fun to listen to and to know. They are tremendously fat and they don't mind, they have a grand sense of humor which they don't object to sharing with their thousands of radio friends. Both were born down Indiana way, where they grow 'em hail and husky. East was born in Bloomington, where he attended the University of Indiana. Dumke lived in South Bend and joined the football boys at Notre Dame for a college career.

"Laugh and grow fat" is one of their mottos. Another is, "See all—tell all—know nothing!" Which may be true but nevertheless, some of their advice, in spite of its humorous dressing, can often be taken with good effect. Parents of the old school approve of their method of handling spoiled children, alho Angelo Patri may object. But sometimes the rougher measures do work. And maybe the "Sisters" think back to their own childhood when many a hairbrush was warmed against their tough and naughty skins—with telling results.

Their programs, made up of harmony and comdey songs interspersed with ludicrous shortcuts to household efficiency, are still delighting a wide audience of appreciative "Skillet" fans.

Bess Johnson on NBC With "Skippy"

"Skippy" is on the air again. Bess Johnson, one of radio's most beautiful dramatic stars goes with it. She's "Skippy's" mother and she's tall. How to arrange the microphone so that little Franklin Adams can get in his words is beginning to puzzle studio technicians. The program is on a coast-to-coast network of the National Broadcasting Company daily except Sunday at 5:15 p. m.

Local outlet WENR.

SONGS OF YESTERDAY

It is now said that "Time On My Hands" is not the sequel to "The Prisoner's Song," but the personal theme song of Al Capone, who is whiling away the hours in a Chicago jail. Al, who is awaiting action on appeal taken from a penitentiary sentence, is said to have heard the number on the jail radio and immediately notified turnkeys that it was his personal theme song.

Kelvin Keech, NBC announcer who earned his living in Europe as a ukulele player and band leader before turning to radio, has a ukulele case made entirely of tin cans. The case was a present from an Australian regiment during the World War.

The Fireside Philosopher started, last Saturday a series of talks on interesting places, on the Farmer Rusk Period of Station WMAQ. Last Saturday the subject was Montreal. This week he will take his listeners over that historic stretch of water—The St. Lawrence River from Montreal to Quebec. These talks form a splendid introduction for those people who are about to visit the old country for the first time. The Farmer Rusk Period begins at 12:15 Saturday afternoons.

Juvenile actors around Columbia's Chicago studios have been bitterly disillusioned by Chief Evergreen Tree, whose bird and animal imitations are a part of "The Lone Wolf Tribe" broadcasts.

On the right cheek of the chieftain there is a sharply defined scar, and the youngsters have whispered the wildest of speculations as to the fight in which he received it. Then, quite casually, the chief gave them the low-down. A motorcycle he was riding crashed into the back end of a fliwer.

Mark Warnow, Columbia conductor claims that one of his early music teachers can qualify for joining the ranks of the most absent-minded professors. Mark recalls the day, when, after coming in out of a driving rain, the teacher put his umbrella carefully to bed and climbed into the kitchen sink to dry off.

Thumbnail Sketch on Ralph Parks . . .
Ralph Parks, chief of studio announcers at WCFL has been with the station almost three years, starting first as a musician with Jimmy Kozaek's orchestra, in which he played the saxophone, but remaining to eventually become an announcer. Ralph was educated in the School of Education at the University of Illinois, but followed his musical bent, migrating to New York, where he played with Paul Whiteman, finally organizing his own band, which played in Bagdad on Hudson for a number of years. Coming to Chicago, he led his 'concert band' to Graylings, where it played over WHT and WLS. He likes announcing better than blowing a sax and is regarded as a very good commercial announcer. He is 5 feet 7 inches tall, dark-haired and gray-eyed.

Charles Tazewell of the Columbia continuity staff, wrote the book for the new musical comedy "Sugar Hill," starring Miller and Lyles, negro comedians. The theater is familiar ground to Tazewell, for he once served as stage manager for Margaret Anglin, and has taken roles in several Broadway productions.

For the second consecutive year, Peter Dixon, whose Raising Junior program is heard six nights a week through NBC networks, has attained recognition in the Frank Wiltach dictionary of similes. This year's Dixon contribution was "as fitting as the beauty of cream in iced coffee."

Lowell Thomas, whose nightly broadcasts on topics of the day are heard over a National Broadcasting Company network, is seen and heard in a new film entitled "The Blonde Captive." It was produced by Dr. Withington, explorer, scientist, and lecturer, who went to Australia to find a living example of the Neanderthal man.

The Mystery Chef is a descendant of the oldest Scottish nobility and frequently wears the kilts of his clan while carrying on culinary experiments preparatory to his Columbia broadcasts. Recently an owl perched on the window sill of his cooking laboratory.

"Owl'll you 'ave your breakfast?" he asked the impromptu visitor. Whereupon the owl took one look at the kilts, shouted "Hoot, mon" and fled for the South.

"Mrs. Pennyfeather," who giggles with The Cuckoos over an NBC network, once prepared music rolls for player-planos.

Nat Brusloff tells one about the most costly bit of work he and his band ever undertook. They were playing at a housewarming in Washington, and the drummer had left his sticks at home. Nat directed one of his men to take a chair down to the basement and withdraw the rungs for use in place of the missing sticks. This was done, and much to Nat's alarm, the chair turned out to be a prized piece and he was obliged to turn in his week's salary to pay for having it repaired.

Alex Gray, baritone heard six times a week in the "Music That Satisfies" over Columbia, says that the two hardest, and incidentally the two hottest, jobs of his career to date were singing love ballads to Hollywood beauties while his vest buttons melted, his eyes burned and his hair smoked under the heat from the relentless Kleig lights; and stoking coal on the high seas at a dollar a day.

Lou Cowen, writer of the "March of the Hours" in Radio Guide, is to become a "Column on the Air," a la Winchell, over WCFL Wednesdays, Thursdays and Fridays at 5:45 p. m., and on Saturday at 5:30 p. m. He was supposed to begin Wednesday January 13th, but declined . . . Note the date . . . not at all superstitious, not at all!

Phil Cook, the Quaker Man, runs up and down stairs in the New York NBC building each day. It is the only exercise he gets. People who want to talk with him often have to run along, too.

When the Eno Crime Club presented "Terror Keep," it brought back stirring memories of the Boer War to actor Clifford Walker. He was in the British South African Army and a fellow soldier with Edgar Wallace, the author of the mystery story. At the time they were comrades in arms Wallace had not started writing prose. Rudyard Kipling, a member of the same detachment, had looked over some of the verse written by Wallace and had advised him never to attempt a literary career.

Ray Perkins, NBC humorist, reports on visiting the current New York automobile show that "the new automobiles may be all right, but they haven't improved the clutch system of the horse and buggy era."

Robert Simmons, NBC tenor, changed his first name when he learned that there was another William Simmons of prominence in the music world. His friends still call him Bill, nevertheless.

Remember When

By Ruth Randall

GEORGE BIGGER

George Bigger, program director of WLS, remembers when broadcasting offered some real thrills. George started in radio as farm director of WLS, when the station opened back in 1924, and he recalls the colorful days of radio rather proudly. George had a particularly novel position in 1925, when he became the "WLS Travelling Broadcaster" and conducted programs pertaining to farm and home on WFAA, Dallas, Texas; WSB, Atlanta, Ga.; and KMBC, Kansas City for four years. In 1929, he returned to WLS as production manager, and for the past year has been program director.

George says he remembers when entertainers really went at their entertaining enthusiastically. "Talk about sleepless nights at a radio station! WLS entertainers and announcers broadcast for three nights and two full days from 7:00 o'clock Wednesday night, March 18th to 6:00 o'clock, Saturday morning, March 21st, 1925, in radio's first relief drive. A terrible tornado had devastated cities, towns and farm homes in Southern Illinois and Indiana, so when George D. Hay, known as the "Solemn Old Judge," gave the news on the air, a listener called up and suggested he would give $5.00 for the relief of the storm sufferers. That started the drive! Ford and Glenn, Ralph Waldo Emerson, George Hay, Edgar L. Bill, the orchestra, the engineers, stenographers, telephone girls . . . everybody pitched in to keep WLS on the air. Dozens of people, from leading theatrical entertainers to aspiring amateurs volunteered their talent and were put on the air to keep the ball rolling, and keep the telephone pledges coming in."

And the result? After these 59 hours of continuous broadcasting, listeners had contributed a total of $216,904.80 for the relief of the storm sufferers . . . a record never since equalled anywhere to our knowledge.

"During the first nine months that WLS was on the air, the main periods of broadcasting were from 12:00 to 1:00 o'clock at noon and from 6:30 p. m. to midnight. We believed that listeners only took time to tune in during these hours and that they were too busy the rest of the time. Sometimes we would run over until 1:15 p. m. at noon and then conclude to sign off because we thought the majority of listeners had gone back to work. Contrast this with the 20-hour continuous schedules of stations these days!

"Nowadays, with 15 minutes the favored unit of time for programs, we look back

Music in the Air

By CARLETON SMITH

Artists vs. Crooners

Word from musical journals tells us that "real singers are unseating radio's crooners." They point to the fact that Lawrence Tibbett, the rollicking and lusty baritone, his colleague John Charles Thomas, Richard Crooks, and John McCormack, all superb vocalists, are presenting programs of popular and semi-popular songs. The thought is that with such commendable singing it is inevitable that new ideals of tone quality will be created, and that when it is known that these singers can present "a simple song" to the satisfaction of the radio audience, the crooners will disappear. With the above statement, I cannot agree. It seems improbable to me that "prince crooner" will suffer from the competition of these artists. Though crooning is an artificial industry manufactured like the movies for mass production, it will have its vogue and its place in popular entertainment. It may have little to do with singing. Thousands of present day youngsters may ape the microphone mooners and vagabonds with their poor examples of vocal art, but the crooner will continue to be better known and perhaps higher paid than any concert artist in America as long as his publicity machine is well oiled and the public doesn't tire of his effort. If you can merely whisper into the microphone so that the voice seems quite rich when it reaches the ear of the listener and it pleases him, there is a place for you in the broadcasting world. The concert artist does a different thing. There is room for both, though one will probably make a descent into the lineup of forgotten spirits much sooner than the other.

Taylor and the "Met"

Deems Taylor wrote me last week that over seven thousand letters had been received by him regarding his opera broadcasts, of which fewer than one hundred were opposed to his running narrative and to the spelling out of the names of the characters and singers. In a democracy, the majority rules, and so the present method of broadcasting will be continued.

A complication in the broadcast of the operas developed when it was found that the conversation of the men at the microphone controls was disturbing opera-goers in nearby boxes. At all musical broadcasts it is customary to have two men at the microphone controls. One is the engineer who regulates the volume of sound as it is picked up by the microphone. A production man is stationed at the controls to assist in maintaining a good musical balance. This man, with a copy of the score being sung before him, aids the engineer by warning him of any impending changes in the music. With some conductors, he couldn't always depend on the score alone, unless he had a quantity of pencilled markings.

Ordinarily, these two men, who carry on their conversation in a normal tone of voice, are situated in a soundproof control room. At the "Met" there was no room for the installation of a control room and so the men were put in the front of a regular box. Not being able to talk aloud without disturbing their neighbors, they have arranged a series of signals to cover most of the changes in opera score. Indications vary from a swift tap on the right shoulder before an aria, to much more precise and graphic warning.

A firm but light hold on the arm, steadily increasing in pressure until it terminates in a sharp grip, indicates an approaching crescendo ending in a crash. Four taps on the same arm warn that a chorus number is but four bars away. Three taps mean three bars away, and so on. Let us hope that both men are friendly during all this tapping.

You know that the quality of the singing we hear depends upon the alertness of these men. As quickly as the music is transformed by the microphone into electricity, a needle wavers back and forth across the face of an electrical meter on the control panel. The operator, who has his eyes fixed on the meter, has no definite training, but qualifies for his position because of his experience in handling the control apparatus at the Chicago Civic Opera. It is he who controls the flow of the music-carrying electricity and he must depend upon his intuition and the prompter at his side. He irons out the dangerous peaks in the current caused by the fluctuations in pitch and intensity of the singing. To him we are indebted for the accurate reproduction of what is being heard in the opera house.

Last of the Civic Opera

Apologies are in order for the error in last week's column. The information came to me that Mme. Supervia was singing Saturday evening and it should have been Saturday afternoon (that being her third performance of this opera within a single week). I am sorry all of you didn't see her. This coloratura-mezzo exhales romance as well as a rare range of satisfying tone, and the stage is aglow whenever she is on it.

The opera concludes its season and its thirteenth broadcast this winter next Saturday evening with "Martha." On this occasion you will hear Tito Schipa in the first of his two national broadcasts within a single twenty-four hours (an unusual occurrence for so high priced an artist). Mr. Schipa's second appearance will be on next Sunday afternoon when he inaugurates the Swift Garden Hour.

The opera's half hour should be long enough to reach the second scene of "Martha," in which Mr. Schipa sings. The most of the broadcast will be taken up with the scene in the boudoir between Lady Harriet and Nancy, her maid (sung by Leola Turner, the opera's youthful scholarship protegee and Coe Glade, outstanding among young American contraltos). At the Civic Opera, the overture with its medley of popular tunes, is played between the scenes of the first act instead of at the beginning. The innovation is not unwelcome. Unfortunately, the two favorite arias, "The Last Rose of Summer" and "M'Appari," will not be heard on the air.

When the radio listener looks back on this season's opera broadcasts from Chicago, he cannot help feeling disappointed. Let us hope we may have a more satisfactory arrangement another winter. Whole acts and whole operas can be given, and, though we should be grateful even for half an hour, we have been spoiled by the "Met" broadcasts. It is unfair to the Chicago Civic Opera to have them cut off when interest is at the highest.

Do you suppose now that Kreisler and Rachmaninoff are under NBC management that they will be brought before the mike? With Paderewski, they remain the stellar musical attractions who have thus far evaded broadcasting . . . We missed Lawrence Tibbett last Monday, while he was singing the role he created in announcer (then composer) Deems Taylor's "Peter Ibbetson." Tibbett will be back Monday evening . . . Piatigorsky, the twenty-eight year old Russian cellist, who has had so many harrowing experiences in his own country, is now on his second American tour and will be heard this Sunday with Bruno Walter in the Schumann. Did you hear Mr. Walter playing the harpsichord while conducting Handel last Sunday? A minor violin-cello concerto . . . The Roxy Symphony features Tschalkowsky's "Nut-cracker" Suite and the overture to Mozart's "Magic Flute" on their program this Sunday evening . . . Earlier in the day Walter Damrosch conducts the third act of Wagner's "Siegfried." This is the act in which the hero awakens the sleeping Bruennhilde and you hear the motifs of the "Distress of the Gods," "The Rhine," "The Fall of the Gods," "Alberich," "Sleep," "Fate," "Wotan's Spear," "Fire," "Siegfried's Horn Call," and the ecstatic theme, "The Decision to Love" . . . Dusolina Giannini, she of the colorful and expressive voice, will have the microphone placed before the Olympian simplicity and dignity of her presence during the General Electric Twilight Hour . . . And next Saturday evening's Civic Concert's program brings Jacques Gordon, the former Chicago Symphony Concertmeister, who now travels with his own string quartet and occasionally

Carl Moore, who is now playing at the Drake Hotel, was formerly a drummer with Fred Hamm's orchestra. Moore played with Hamm when the latter made some of the first radio orchestra broadcasts over the old Erbstein station, WTAS. Carl is known as the "Arkansas Kid" and his Ozark Hill-billy impersonations are features of his program.

Charlie Agnew and his orchestra, who opened recently at the Edgewater beach Hotel replacing Paul Whiteman, created a sensation with their first program. Charlie's music is different, versatile, and he features a singing chorus composed of his entire orchestra. His orchestra may be heard in late dance pickups, on Tuesday, Wednesday and Saturday nights over NBC associated stations.

Emerson Gill, popular MCA orchestra leader, whose full name is Alfred Emerson Gill, was born in Gibsonburg, Ohio, 31 years ago, attended the Ohio State University and is a member of Phi Kappa Psi fraternity. Emerson is a bachelor, and his father is a practicing physician in Toledo, Ohio. Gill's orchestra originated in Cleveland and is one of the pioneer broadcasting orchestras, having been heard over WTAM for a number of years.

Wires and long distance phone calls have been keeping Irene Taylor, Charlie Agnew's star vocalist, quite busy this week. CBS tried to convince Irene to sign a contract with them and a certain movie producer has been dickering with her, but NBC still holds her. She just renewed her contract with that organization. Irene, when questioned, said: "I am very happy to work with a fine musician like Charlie Agnew and I am more than satisfied to remain at the Edgewater Beach Hotel with him." Tough luck for a certain broadcasting company and for that big movie producer.

Carl Moore, playing at the Drake Hotel, has been asked by a certain company to make phonograph records for them. Whether or not Carl will accept their terms remains to be seen.

A new baritone voice has been heard over the air on KYW with Don Pedro's Orchestra. Pedro's fan mail has been swamped with questions as to the identity of the owner of this baritone. It is Jack Wright, not a new star with Pedro's band but never on the air before as a soloist. He is a native of New York and was formerly with Charlie Davis' band in that city. Wright plays the trumpet as well as he sings and it is our guess that you will hear more of this fellow over the air.

George Devron and his orchestra, playing at the Stevens Hotel, will be on the air again in a few weeks.

Paul Specht will continue with his orchestra over KYW and the Balloon Room of the Congress Hotel in Chicago, according to arrangements which have just been completed. Specht enjoys the reputation of being internationally famous, and his music is known wherever social groups gather to dance and make merry. The maestro has conducted in almost every country in Europe and most of the "several states" in the U. S., and has been heard over both networks.

Some of America's best known orchestra leaders made their debut before television at the Chicago Radio Show on Monday, January 18, when a Music Corporation of America program was given. Among the orchestra leaders who took bows and saw their images cast on a large screen were Ted Weems, Herbie Kay, Ben Bernie, Paul Specht and Don Pedro. Miss Doris Robbins, featured vocalist with Kay's orchestra, also made her first television appearance.

Walter Winchell, famous Broadway columnist, and Ben Bernie, "the ole maestro," are firing verbal brick bats at each other these days over the chain hook-ups. Walter kids Ben during the Lucky Strike hour and "the ole maestro" gets his bit in over the Columbia chain.

Herbie Kay, the youthful collegiate orchestra leader, has a new singer in his orchestra who is heralded as a "second Bert Williams." Herbie wishes to explain, however, that his singer is not colored and uses burnt cork to put him in a Bert Williams mood.

Jan Garber, the diminutive orchestra leader who has enjoyed national popularity as an MCA attraction for several years, has the distinction of having played more college affairs than any other maestro. Among the college functions where Garber's music has been featured are Washington and Lee, Virginia; Cornell; Colgate; Princeton; Dartmouth; Williams; Yale; Alabama; Georgia; and the Virginia Military Institute. Jan is a college man, having attended the University of North Carolina. He is a member of the Delta Sigma Phi fraternity.

Amateur song writers bombard the offices of Music Corporation of America with their compositions at the rate of 100 a week, and out of approximately 5,000 songs submitted last year, only three were accepted for use by orchestra leaders. Seventy per cent of the writers describe their offerings as another "Blue Heaven" or "Goodnight Sweetheart."

Charlie Agnew, playing at the Edgewater Beach Hotel, is organizing a band composed of Northwestern co-eds. Charlie promises us that he will let them broadcast sometime in the near future.

Feminine Foibles

ANN DE HAAN

Would you care to hear about a party given by Eddie and Fannie Cavanaugh? Alright then, Studio Gossip is very good this week. You've no doubt guessed that Eddie and Fannie are Mr. and Mrs. Cavanaugh. They have a beautiful bungalow on the South side of Chicago, and boy, what a party that was. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Hank Miller; (Herr Louis of Louie's Hungry Five); Harry Gillis (the Weasel), Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hosford. Little Harry is very pleasantly plump and he was kidded plenty about his girlish waistline. He and the lovely Mrs. Hosford have the most hearty and infectious laughs you ever heard; must be contagious. Del Owen and his charming gray-haired mother were there. Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Brown. Mr. and Mrs. Pat Flanagan, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Barry, who look like a handsome college chap and co-ed, Myrt and Marge, chorus girls of Hayfield's Pleasures, and last but not at all least, Harlow Wilcox. Don't get nervous, Harlow, I'm not saying a word. Eddie and Fannie were a charming host and hostess. As is the old Spanish custom, everyone was called upon to do something, and believe it or not, they were all shy! Will somebody please explain why the guests usually congregate in the kitchen, and then just try and pry them loose. Somebody once said they were going to build a house that would be just one large room—a kitchen, so this must be a common habit.

Herr Louie was the life of the party (there must be one at every party) and he had everybody in stitches. Anyway, the party was a great success, and I predict there will be many more get-togethers like it.

If I thought I'd be taken to the Night Court, I'd go out and drive while intoxicated; if I did get sentenced, I'd at least get a good laugh. There's a wise-cracking judge, and music for no reason at all. Wonder if that's a sample of a real court. No, I've never been in one, so there. (WCFL 8:15)

Wonder why Mildred Bailey doesn't get some good breaks? The girl has a voice, but when you hear her sing on Paul Whiteman's programs, half the time her name isn't even announced. S'too bad.

Would you like to see a man perform an appendicitis operation on himself? On the March of Time program (WGN 7:30) Dr. Kane performs this operation, and we hear the gruesome details, as he jabs the knife into himself. You can almost hear the spurt of blood. Ugh, it was lovely.

I don't know why I like Singin' Sam, but I just do. Perhaps it's because he makes no pretense of crooning—he just sings. He has a low, musical voice—but shucks—I'm no music critic. I just like him, that's all. (WGN 7:15)

Get a treat and listen to the Benedicts on WAAF. They're father and son. Mr. Benedict Sr. plays the accordion like nobody's business, and the younger Mr. Benedict sings and he really can sing. He has a lovely voice, and they call him the Tune-smith. Wonder why one of the chains don't grab him.

Did You Know That . . .
Allee Joy is married and has two children, even as you and I!

Morton Downey was fired from his job in a furniture house because he sang too much. Wonder if he ever went back to thank his boss!

Connie Boswell is wheeled to and from the studio in a wheel chair. However, her present medico says Connie will be able to dance in a year or so, which is good news.

AROUND THE TOWN

THEATRES

Ziegfeld Follies—To-rat-tat-tat and also ha-cha-cha . . . The Fanfare announces the presence of Ziegfeld's perennial pageant of pulchritude . . . the ha-cha-cha is for Richman, rhythm, refrains, revelry, and everything else that goes to make up this grand revusical! (Illinois, second week).

Samson and Delilah—Not the Biblical drama, but an ironic comedy with a European setting and a tragic ending. Jacob Ben-Ami gives a bizarre and vivid portrayal of an erotic post-war poet . . . both tears and laughter for the price of one admission. (Adelphi, second week).

As Husbands Go—Oh husbands may come and husbands may go but they won't let their wives go on forever . . . have you a little gigolo in your home? Well, just in case, you'd better go see this sophisticated side-splitter, written by the authoress of "Nice People" and "Let Us Be Gay." (Blackstone, second week).

Rhapsody In Black—Just two weeks more of this superb musical show. Better step fast if you want to see it before Lew Leslie gathers all his little back-birds under his wing and departs for sunnier climes . . . Ethel Waters, Valaida, the Berry Brothers, and others, invite you. (Garrick, fifth week).

Maurice Chevalier—America's Parisian boyfriend serves a large slice of personality every day this week and this week only . . . If you go for this Frenchy fare, here's an excellent chance to fill up on it. (Erlanger, one week).

Cornelia Otis Skinner—The daughter of Otis himself, weaves a wreath of laurels for her own brow with a distinctive offering "Wives of Henry VIII" . . . This is the third of a series of yearly presentations by Miss Skinner. (Studebaker, one week only).

The Wonder Bar—Al Jolson doesn't have to steal this show, it's his anyhow . . . but in addition to Mammy Jolson's big boy Al, there are enough ear-fuls and eye-fuls to fill out an evening's enjoyment. (Apollo, sixth week).

Grand Hotel—Not much time left to register your approval of Grand Hotel . . . the most sensational and talked-of drama of the season closes in two weeks. The exotic Leontovich, Sam Jaffee and Siegfried Rumann, continue to give performances that will linger in your mind much longer than these splendid artists will linger in our city! (Grand Opera House, eighth week).

Marching By—This one plans to stand by for a while yet . . . If you're looking for romance in merry, musical mood, Natalie Hall and Guy Robertson are romance personified . . . Ethel Norris and Solly Ward can be depended upon to supply the merriment. (Great Northern, eighth week).

Fata Morgana—The Dramatic League of Chicago presents one of the most celebrated of the modern comedies by Hungarian dramatists . . . the cast headed by Morgan Farley, last seen here in "An American Tragedy" . . . and Ara Gerald, a London comedienne of distinction. (Harris, first week).

MOVIES

Chicago Theatre—Anxious for a continued patronage of the thousands who rediscovered this magic lantern center, Dennis King has been heralded. The show goes forward in grand-eloquent style. Masculinity will be the order with Robert Montgomery also featured, but his bows will be confined to the celluloid. His is the skip-a-heart-beat part in "Lovers Courageous."

Oriental Theatre—Thought that we were going to have a much-deserved marathon a la Ash, with the quippical Walter O'Keefe doing the glad-handing. But this is his last week at the Loop's exotic movie temple. For their public, Balaban and Katz have scared up a riotous show. On the screen, William Powell does the suave in "High Pressure."

MOVIES

Roosevelt Theatre—Those of you who assiduously trace the destinies of the stars of the tarnished screen know plenty about young Doug. Those of you who don't, will have to be told. He's a great performer, a talented young man whose histrionic activities must be enthusiastically applauded. He appears currently with Joan Blondell in "Union Depot." Almost the entire movie takes place on one set. If you haven't seen "Grand Hotel" you'll thrill to this. If you have seen "Grand Hotel," you'll like this anyway.

Our artist's impression of Paul White-man, who is appearing all this week at the RKO Palace Theatre.

McVickers Theatre—If you remember this Grand Old Woman of the Screen and the part she played opposite the Beery lad, you'll remember her as a gruff, but kindly-inclined figure. Well, she's the same big-hearted person in "Emma," and even if she does get all the money . . . well, you go see her. As always, the picture is top-sided with laughs.

United Artists Theatre—Undoubtedly one of the most dazzling figures on the American screen, Greta Garbo continues on her scintillating path amongst the stars. "Mata Hari," despite its sulphuric title and rich background is not, per se, a great picture. The vehicle is fair, and the supporting Barrymore, Novarro and Stone are only fair. But Garbo is marvo. Her performance makes the picture what it is . . . a standout.

State-Lake Theatre—Featured by the RKO-lans at this State Street amusement center is the delicious Dolores Del Rio. She appears opposite Leo Carillo in "Girl of the Rio." Those of you with poetic minds should enjoy Carillo and Del Rio in "Girl of the Rio."

Orpheum Theatre—Marlan Marsh, of whom a great deal will be heard some day, is featured in "Under 18" which is having its Chicago premiere at this Warner Brothers loop house. The other half of the double-feature bill is the Carl Laemmle boogey man, Frankenstein who could easily keep you awake for a week.

MOVIES

Palace Theatre—The King is back in town. Paul White-man of the Pontiac White-mans, chieftain of the tribe, is here with Mildred Bailey, Jack Fulton, Jr. and all the rest of his satellites. His presentation includes some of his great numbers of the past that you've come to like so well, and some of his newer groups that you're going to like. The screen features Eddie Quillan in the vernacular vehicle "Big Shot."

Avalon Theatre—"Under 18" is having its out-of-the-loop premiere, (again with stunning Marian Marsh) at this garden spot of the south side. Featured in the second half of the double-feature bill are capable Norma Shearer and Bob Montgomery in "Private Lives." There has been a careful adherence to the Coward show in this movie, and almost every line, and song, has been carried over.

Capitol Theatre—Here's a "Peach-O-Reno" of a show for the neighborhooders who want a couple of laughs. One, is Wheeler. The other, is Woolsey. Gloria Swanson, the opera singer, in case you didn't know, carries off the honors in "Tonight or Never." A well-balanced billing, if you like double-features.

Tivoli Theatre—Ooooooh, it's "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde." Frederick March does excellently in this modern version of the old Stevenson tale. The transformations are a bit too realistic and make you want to hide from Hyde; and the tender love scenes of Jekyll are a bit too rapturous. Otherwise, it's oke. Eddie Lambert is featured on the stage in "Tim Types," and good too.

Uptown Theatre—And now the north siders have their opportunity to see the tabloid form of "Girl Crazy." It's a great forward step that's been taken by the B. & K. people, and the show is staged very well. If you haven't already seen it . . . do. "Ladies of the Big House" is the screen feature, and you'll like Sylvia Sydney.

Paradise Theatre—Moviedom's perennial poor little girl and rich little boy stumble across each other for the umpteenth time. Miss Gaynor is very good and Farrell reciprocates in proper fashion. It's one of those applications of saccharine that you accept pleasantly. On the stage, we find "Stage Doors," a sly peek-a-boo into the back of a theatre. Webster and Marinc, Constance Evans and Zina Zolle are the stars.

Southtown Theatre—Gather all the kiddies by the hand and hurry along. You can give them a treat, because both the pictures will be exactly suited for their still unjaded (we hope) tastes. "Sooky" is kid stuff, and "Delicious" is for adults and kids, or for kidding the adults. (I'm not sure which).

Marbro Theatre—You no sooner turn around, and there are Wheeler and Woolsey again. They're the laugh-provokers, if you recall, and they're the apricots clustered with the "Peach-O-Reno." The other picture has a naughty title, but you'll like that. It's "Safe in Hell" with Dorothy Mackall. (That should be some consolation).

Granada Theatre—For the last time, (at least until their next picture) here are W. W. (not W. Winchell) in the hah hah "Peach -O-Reno." The other half reminds me about the stale gag of Hoover the hill, etc. The picture, in case you're interested, is "Over the Hill."

BRIGHT SPOTS

Blackhawk—Collegiate, but in sophomore tones, Herbie Kay, dyed-in-the-purple, plunks a banjo during baton interludes. Vocal attractiveness in super-abundance, particularly by a red-tressed music-maker, Doris Robbins by name.

Winter Garden Cafe—Gaspingly true is the realization that it is Gus Arnheim doing the entertaining. Frank Burek's extravagant descriptives stand corrected by meager expletives.

BRIGHT SPOTS

Terrace Garden, Marrison Hotel—Don Pedro's vocal-li oops too worth while to be ignored. Deserving of an evening of anyone's time.

College Inn, Hotel Sherman—Glamorous Thursday night theatricals have become traditional applying lustre to worthy Ben Bernie Maestroling. And the ever-changing color spray blends harmoniously.

Canton Tea Garden—The exotic becomes melodic with the deft, certain baton-guidance of Danny Russo. A chow mein highway for those who want smooth traveling.

Rubalyat—St. Clair Street's colorful offering to Chicago night-living. An intimate nook-a-way rhapsodized by the transcendent harmonics of Eddie South, "The Dark Angel of the Violin."

Edgewater Beach Hotel—Northwesterners rub elbows here. In addition to the musicals of Charlie Agnew, Jane Vance and Irene Taylor warble-warble.

Frolics Cafe—No poem of tone can noise the joys cooking in the cauldron and stirred by Jack Waldron. The chorus won't bore us. They'll enchant, we'll rant. They're Okay, Chicago.

Cafe De Alex—There is no deviation, but strict adherence to the carefully planned Spanish motif. If it's something different you're looking for, try this Castilian center for an evening.

Balloon Room, Congress Hotel—"The glass of fashion, and the mould of form," as Shakespeare wouldst have it. You'll enjoy Paul Specht's music and the atmosphere is worth absorbing.

Grand Terrace Cafe—Sample 57 ivory varieties by dropping in on your way home. There's no better place to greet the yawn's early light.

Lantern Room, Drake Hotel—Even if you're chilly and silly, hill-billy chunes, this place has its big moments. Music by Carl Moore. Peopled by best. Head waiting by Ferris.

Walnut Room, Bismarck Hotel—The Eitel's have lost none of their old-time hospitality. And you'll like Art Kassel's music. He'll personally see to it.

Beach View Gardens—The meeting is brought to disorder by Buddy Fisher. His rhythms are dance-compelling; his antics laugh-impelling. Insouciance is the word.

Vanity Fair—Leo Wolf's muscavorting lends a splendid background for the activities. It's worth the trip to see Freddie Stritt his stuff. Boy-o-boy-o-boy, he's good.

Practically no identification is offered by the announcer when commenting on the musical purveyors of Yeastfoam. It seems to be the determined policy of the sponsors (blah to them!) to cloak the orchestra with anonymity, and to let the listeners guess the identity of the performers. This may be smart merchandising, but I don't know. Personally I think it's poor showmanship. One of the fundamental principles of show business is to cast an aureate glamour about the leading performers. Theatre goes, movie goes, radio listeners have always worshipped at the shrine of self-erected hero altars, and servience to the demi-gods is a religion. Why that inspiring spark should be eliminated is a mystery to me. It might be good, but I'm from Missouri. But regardless of the general effect of the principle of "Never Reveal," I knew that the Yeastfoam orchestra belonged to Kay.

It is with a sort of pioneering fondness that I have followed his rise, and it is with real enthusiasm that I can comment on his progress. Herbie Kay has achieved a maturity that emphasizes his deft interpretations. His orchestra functions with a delightful smoothness, and his programming bears all the earmarks of intelligent consideration. Despite the "vigorous reproductive" quality of the advertising continuity, I'd suggest that you listen to the program some Sunday afternoon.

Herbie Kay and his orchestra. Presented on the Yeastfoam Program, NBC through KYW Sundays at 1:30 p. m.

The Ear to the Ground

Wonder if it's true that Western Television and WLW have signed some important papers, all subject to the Radio Comish... A certain radio executive has more than just a personal interest in that attractive contest luminary... What well-known radio entertainer selected his name from the street on which he was living... Toni, Dick and Harry, recently returned from New York, may sing on a future program with Abe Lyman. The orchestra will play from the eastern metropolis, and the trio will warble from Chicago... Pierre Andre must have been plenty embarrassed about that "man-made-milk" remark that he had to spiel into a recent disc for children's food... They seem to insist on secrecy when discussing future Pepsodent programs... The familiar Evans E. (Eep) Plumer, former radioer of ye Herald-Ex, is now a radio consultant (And a good one)... Ulmer G. Turner, the old rascal, is The Rambler on that breakfast sheet... The meanies would have us believe that Bing Crosby is slipping. First-hand reports, however, indicate that his is the biggest Croon Name on Brrrroadway... Station managers looking for one of the most saleable programs in y'ars might call Len Dubkin. (Ought to get a raise after that one, Len)... So, La Bow is one of the reasons why Jolson isn't radioing... Think that the Ole Maestro picked a winner in Frank Prince... Don't act surprised if Eddie South appears on the radio selling cosmetics... Interesting to know that radio reception would be much better today if there hadn't been such a scramble back in the early 20's. All the sets and transmitters were built for present high wave bands. But, it's now known that if the low waves were used, the static and squeals could be eliminated. Prohibitive replacement costs prevent any change now... A cinder in U. Sanabria's eye led to seventeen television patents within three months... Dick Mac Caulay, ye old side kicke, is now radio departmenting for with wonder at the early days when one hour was the accepted length for any given program. We didn't think in those days that 15 minutes were worth bothering with. I remember some of the first dramas we put on WLS. They were one hour long, but to relieve the monotony of continuous talk, the play producer would run in a song or an orchestral number every seven or eight minutes. These numbers, for the most part, were not "cued" in because they had any relation to the atmosphere of the drama, but simply to break up the dialogue.

"Back in 1925 and 1926, thousands of listeners used to write in to inquire how Ford and Glenn broadcast their "Twin Wheeze." They couldn't understand how two men playing and singing in the studio could be taking a ride in a flivver. Imagine their amazement when they found out that the flivver was standing down in the alley near the Hotel Sherman studio, and through a head-phone and microphone arrangement, the "chauffeur" was enabled to hear Ford and Glenn's songs and chatter and get their signal to "step on her." Likewise, the Lullaby Boys heard all the motor sounds.

"An epoch in broadcasting history was started in 1925 when the United States Army engineers, co-operating with WLS technicians, arranged two-way radio communication from the Chicago studio to airplanes flying over Rantoul, Ill. Such a stunt seemed uncanny in those days.

"Pity the poor radio engineer of the early days of radio! He was usually crowded into a little 6 x 4 amplifier room with equipment that would be laughable today. When he switched "mikes," the click went out on the air, but listeners didn't care. Radio was new and wonderful. And lucky indeed was the studio that boasted of two carbon microphones, one for the announcer and the other to pick up everything from solos to a 30 piece symphony orchestra. Today there's a "mike" for every purpose in the average studio.

"But in spite of the shortcomings of early day broadcasting, most of us will agree that there was a greater thrill in picking up KFI on a head-set than there is now in hearing the King of England or Mahatma Gandhi from across the seas!"

OUT OF THE EVERYWHERE

to Margot Dee

A column dedicated to RADIO GUIDE readers. You and your friends are invited to write in for information concerning radio, radio stars, and your own favorite broadcasts. If the information is forthcoming and interesting to all of our readers, we will get it for you and print it in this column. No personal replies will be made.

Mrs. Mundt of Chicago writes, "About how old are 'Amos and Andy.' Did they ever practice law? Which one of them is Jewish?"

As a shrewd guess we should say that the two comedians were about 35 years old. They have never practiced law, in spite of the pretentious flow of legal terms heard during their recent broadcasts. A lawyer probably coached them for that phase of their work. We are unable to answer the last question.

Betty Brian of WLS comes in for a nice fat inquiry concerning her personal appearance. Margie Hansen of Hammond has a bet with her fiance that the singer is not fat and old but rather young and attractive.

You win, Margie. Betty is tall and slender with a charming head of dark auburn hair. Further, she is young, pretty and unmarried. Our suggestion is that we should come in for a percentage on all bets settled in this department. So if the fiance crashes thru with a pair of hose, we'll be expecting one of them. Is it a go?

Would you please tell me the real name of "Mr. Kelter" of the "Little Orphan Annie" sketches? I think he has the most beautiful voice on the air," writes the admiring Ruth Mary Heinz of Chicago.

Real name, Ruth Mary, is Douglas Hope. His attractive personality is a recent addition to the broadcast.

Edith Cleveland of Kenosha, Wis., asks for all we know about the singer in Dan Russo's Orchestra.

Which isn't much, but here it is. His name is Aubrey MacConnell, he is twenty years old, brunette, good-looking, started singing when he was only sixteen years old with Fred Hamm, is modest and likes to sing hill-billy songs better than anything else in the world. Oh, we almost forgot—he is unmarried. Fun? Watch Radio Guide for the answer to your second question.

"Mike and Herman" fan no 10,000,001 writes us as to their whereabouts.

Again we say, friends, and again, AND again, the two comedians when last heard of were broadcasting in Cleveland, Ohio from the studios of WHK. Since then, rumor has it that they are in Chicago and not, as yet, broadcasting.

Our old and faithful correspondent, Leonard Jaroszewski asks if the identity of "The Shadow" has been revealed yet. Also wants to know how to procure previous issues of Radio Guide, and if there are many jazz bands in Europe.

The identity of "The Shadow" is not known to anyone outside of the CBS studios. They know, but all the coaxing in the World brings forth nothing but smiles and provocative silence. Nasty of them, but what can a poor columnist do? To secure previous issues of Radio Guide, address the Circulation Department of the Radio Guide, Chicago. Attach five cents for each copy and your request will be taken care of. There are many jazz bands in Europe, Leonard. Most of them are imported from America by the season, as novelties, and return ere long to the U. S. There are no definite statistics on the subject, however.

The Austin Girls' Club, Clara Schroeder and Marlon Brown of Chicago write frankly, "What has become of the beautiful voice on the air, Mark Fisher?"

WIBO informs us that altho Mr. Fisher has left their station, he has not yet made arrangements for further broadcasts.

An If there were any more room—we would have something exciting to tell you—but—BUT—wait till next week!

Former Champ

Norman Ross, former world's champion swimmer is now taking charge of the regular broadcasts termed "News of the Day"—daily at 10:30 a. m., 1:00 p. m. and 6:30 p. m. over WIBO. In these fifteen minute periods of chats about this and that of interest all over the world, Mr. Ross injects his clever thoughts and reactions. It's a wholly enjoyable period for entertainment and actual knowledge. Norman also conducts the Sport Summary at 5:45 nightly and with word pictures brings results and accounts of all of the sporting events in the country. Prize fights, horse racing, boxing, wrestling, skiing, skating, basketball and hockey all have their share of time.

PEDRO'S MINNIE

Minnie (Not the Moocher) Sherman, a miniature edition Fannie Brice is heard each night over KYW when Don Pedro and his Mexican orchestra broadcast from the Terrace Gardens.

MEN ONLY

There are two important things we all need in the morning; a nice bath and a real shave. Baths, I do not specialize in, but can guarantee the smoothest shave you've ever experienced. Send, or bring me, this ad and 35 cents for a Crystal safety razor blade stropper, on a money back guarantee. Makes old blades better than new. Why throw blades away when the depression is on?

Tin-Pan ALBUM

by Dorothy Deere

What do we do when we want a song-writer? Page one in the Album, of course, only this time it's page six . . . and "Yours truly, Freddie Rose." You may be more familiar with his talents as a broadcasting and recording artist, but Freddie was a song-writer long before the loud-speaker came to park in our parlors. "Red Hot Mama," "Don't Bring Me Posies," "No One's Fool," "Honest and Truly," and "That's Why I'm Jealous of You," all bore his name on their covers. He's a self-made man . . . the Rose's, Papa and Mama, wanted their son to be something other than a tune-smith but then, as Freddie says, he wanted his parents to be millionaires . . . so the disappointment was mutual. However, everybody's happy now, thank you! His first published song, "Sweet Mama, Papa's Gettin' Mad," was written in Chicago . . . but it took a trip to New York to sell it. His next, "Underneath Hawaiian Skies," was featured by Willie and Eugene Howard in "The Passing Show" and definitely established him as a hit writer.

Has medium light hair, blue eyes, a crack-wisn' disposition and a weakness for fast automobiles . . . eats everything and plenty of it . . . never starts anything he can't finish, writes the words and music of a song, plays it, sings it, records it, spends the royalty check and answers the fan mail on it.

Art Kassell, who's been getting the ink in the dailies on account of donating his new tune, "In 1933" to the Century of Progress Exposition Committee, is more than a Fair song-writer . . . he's even good at it. Art admits he's had a couple of numbers that didn't do so royally, but I can think of several that were more than hits . . . they were knock-outs. Remember a few months back, when you could hardly cross the street without hearing someone whistling, "Around the Corner?"

No, No, Kiddies, all band leaders aren't song-writers, any more than all of them are musicians . . . you mustn't be superstitious. Sometimes, they're just good business men. Now about the song-writing . . . there's a little game called, "Cutting In" that's played with chisel and racket and it goes like this: First, a song-writer, or a team of them, writes a song. So far, so good . . . that's what you'd expect them to do. The next step, naturally, is to try to get it published . . . yeah, just try to get it published, (unless you already have several hits to your name, this is the most trying part of the game). Step number three, is to find a good-natured and popular band leader . . . this isn't always easy, either, (often, good nature hasn't a thing to do with their popularity and verse vice-a). If you can convince him that you've got a good number, he may consent to "cut in" on it . . . which means that he'll put his name on the cover, give it a plug on all his programs, and help you knock the publishers for a goal. Publishing companies are usually glad to accept a tune from a "name" leader because they can depend upon him for a certain amount of help in popularizing it. Thus it is, that many a leader and sometimes a singer, is identified as the writer of a song when they actually did no more than cross a few t's or decorate some dotted lines on the contract. Oh yes, I forgot to tell you how the game gets its name . . . but those who haven't guessed, will find out when the royalty checks arrive . . . that's where the leader really "cuts in!"

Wayne King, who prefers to compose his own melodies, is about to break out in a rash . . . due to constant irritation from people who want to use his name and fame to cash in on the music business. Ambitious amateurs from all over the country, clutter his mail with their brain-children. Recently, a friended fan-atic accused him of adopting one of the said brain-children without the necessary legal transactions . . . which is enough to convince any good-natured melody-manufacturer that life is just a bowl of cherries and most of them are spoiled. Wayne has decided to dodge future unpleasantness over lost, strayed or Thompson and Hannegan . . . They could have used plenty more showmanship at the Radio Show . . . and also a few more radios for exhibition. I got lost among the refrigerators, sewing machines and dish-washers.

The Horlick people are going to start doc-casting over the CBS starting February 5th when they inaugurate the "Adventures in Health" program featuring Doctor Herman N. Bundeson, whom Chicagoans may or may not remember as the former Commissioner of Health.

stolen tunes by returning all manuscripts Un-Open-ed . . . a sure way of avoiding suits and pur-suits!

She's the Sunshine of Tin Pan Alley, this little Irene Taylor gal. In every office that you enter, someone announces beamingly, "Irene Taylor's just been in," or not so beamingly, "Irene Taylor's just gone out" . . . they're either hanging up her picture or taking down her phone number. In a place where personality plasters the walls and good-humor lines the halls, such popularity has got to be deserved . . . hence this little paragraph. Tune her in some nite at the Edgewater Beach, or over WENR . . . you'll like her too!

Done In Wax

"I'm for You a Hundred Percent" and "Call Me Darling" . . . Lee Morse

The little lady rates a hundred percent on this disk, all rite, all rite . . . She can pick her tones up off the ground or hand you down a couple of high ones that are so sweet they hurt . . . Recommended for slick arrangement! and ditto accompany. (Columbia).

"Ain't Got No Girl In This Town" and "Trickeration" . . . Cab Calloway

Have you heard that Brunswick is going to make Cab Calloway do his recording on asbestos platters? Well, I haven't either and if these two don't melt the wax, they probably won't have to . . . smoky syncopation and scads of the so-called "scat-singing." (Brunswick)

"Stardust" and "Dancing In The Dark" . . . The Victor Salon Orchestra

For pensive moods and twilight moments . . . Shilkret makes "Star-dust" just what you'd expect it to be, something woven from the mystic beauty of a star-silvered night . . . the other side has a glamorous enchantment all its own. (Victor)

"Tempo Di Modernage" and "Little Girl" . . . Joe Venuti

What-a-man Venuti and what a fiddler! . . . he can pull more tricks out of the musical grab-bag than a couple other fellows. The first side is a handful of tricky harmonies . . . the other, one of those compelling dance rhythms that reaches to your very soul! (Columbia)

"When the Rest of the Crowd Goes Home" and "Tell Me with a Love Song" Ben Selvin

Perhaps I was tired when I got this one . . . or maybe, because it was such a nice hit in a record, I expected the music to have the same kind of luster . . . anyhow, don't mind me Mr. Selvin, they're two pretty tunes and some folks might not think your recording's too draggy. (Columbia)

"Martha" and "Call Me Darling" . . . The Street Singer

Those of you who have almost exhausted your vocabulary denouncing "crooners," will have a chance to use up some of the complimentary phrases on this romancing balladeer who calls himself "The Street Singer" but doesn't let us know what street . . . his voice has lots of appeal and he accompanies it occordion-ly.

COUNT RETURNS COLORS

One of Count von Luckner's first acts after his return to the United States after the war was to return the flag of an American ship, which had been seized by the Germans' to the craft's owner. The banner belonged to the S. S. "Pass of the Balmaha," which the "Sea Devil" converted into his famous "Sea Adler," whose activities he is recounting over Columbia weekly.

"Arky"

The Arkansas Woodchopper, smiling interpreter of the Southwestern cowboy ballads, over WLS. This young man receives great batches of fan mail daily, and is one of the Prairie Farmer's most popular singers.

Mr. Smith describes the opera and gives his own evaluation of the music. This is the regular weekly program, "Artists and Artistry," and the guest of honor will be Rene Maison of the Chicago Civic Opera Company, who sang the title role of "Parsifal" at the opera with such great success this season.

From the DX-ers

Needs Help

Lindenwold N. J.

Dear Sir:

When I received the first issue of Radio Guide I thought it was as perfect as a radio publication could be. But I was wrong for each new issue brings some added improvement. Now, with the promise of a DX page, who could ask for more?

I suggest that you publish advance DX tips for your readers who live in communities where the newspapers do not supply this service.

Does anyone know what station on 1200 kc. broadcast Gene and Glenn's recording of "Toy Town Admiral" at 2:18 a. m. (EST) on Sunday, January 10? Although the music was fairly clear, the announcements were so mushy I couldn't understand a word. At 2:25 I heard "Dancing in the Dark" followed by "Springtime in the Rockies" from this same station. I was fishing for IOBP, but as there are so many stations on 1200, I am uncertain about this one. Hope someone can help me. I am going to keep a log of all the programs I hear late at night so that I may help others in return.

344 in 2 Years

Harvey, Illinois

DX Editor:

Long live the DX page! For some time I have been contemplating writing to Radio Guide and suggesting for DX-ers. It will enable us to exchange information on special tests and programs.

I have been a radio fan for some time, and in the last two years have logged some 344 stations. I have heard stations in all states except Wyoming, Rhode Island, and Vermont. Thirty-three of my catches are 100 watters. My latest stations are: WMCA, New York City, 570; CMCD, Havana, 925; WBBZ, Ponea City, Okla., 1200; WNBO, Washington, Pa., 1200; KVOR, Colorado Springs, 1270; WBOW, Terre Haute, 1310; KWCR, Cedar Rapids, 1310; WAWZ, Zarepath, N. J., 1350; WJBK, Detroit, 1370; WRAM, Wilmington, N. C., 1370; WJTL, Tilton, Ga., 1370; WJBO, New Orleans, 1420; WJMS, Ironwood, Mich., 1420; and WFEA, Manchester, N. H. on 1430. Most of these are 100 watters.

I heard KDA, the Chicago airport station for the first time the other night. It operates on a frequency of 350 kilocycles but can be heard on 1050, its second harmonic. WMAQ can be heard on its first harmonic, 1340 kc., and WGN can be heard on 1440.

I would like very much to correspond with other DX-ers. I would especially like to hear from someone who has had experience in short wave reception.

Here's wishing you and your DX column all the success in the world.

Ralph A. Young

Corrections

Chicago, Ill.

Dear Sir:

I note with much satisfaction that you have decided to dedicate a page of Radio Guide to DX fans. This will be a great thing to all concerned bringing Radio Guide more subscriptions and popularity, and giving DX-ers a chance to swap notes and experiences. More power to the Radio Guide DX Club.

In his letter to you in the last issue Mr. John Daydos says CNCD comes in at 900 kc. The station is CMCD at 925 kc. CM is the Cuban call. CN belongs to Canada. Also it is KTM, Los Angeles at 780 kc. not WTM. The reason he gets KDA is due to the 3rd harmonic of that station. The true wavelength is 350 kc. Third harmonic is 1050 kc.

The Mexicans and Cubans have been coming in fine. CMV, CMC, CMCD, and CMBC are the Cubans I have had and XEN, XER, XEW, XED, XEH, XFC, XEO, and XETA are the Mexicans. KLFPM, Mirot, N. D. writes me they have a special DX program, Jan. 31 between 1:30-3:30 a. m. CST. If you haven't this State here is your chance, fans. I hope you will pardon this long letter but I had to blow off steam. You will hear from me again, though.

A Little Info

Chicago, Ill.

Gentlemen:

Congratulations on your starting a DX-ers page. It's a great idea, it will give us poor hounds a chance to "dish the ether" who are up until the wee hours of the morning. A few nights ago, I picked up station XED, Reynosa, Mexico on 960 kycs. 10,000 watts, coming in with excellent volume, but being a dutiful member of the "Night and Morning" club, I sent for a verification, and much to my disappointment, the letter was returned marked "Fraudulent Mail for this address returned by order Postmaster General."

So, I am passing this information on to the other DX-ers who may send for verification to this station.

May success follow your magazine, for it is now fast becoming one of the finest publications at any price.

Foreign Broadcasts

Bloomington, Illinois

Dear DX Editor:

Being an ardent DX fan I have been waiting for a long time, for some Radio publication to put in a DX department. Radio Guide only needed this to make it the most complete and interesting magazine of this type published. This DX dept. will no doubt increase your circulation enormously, as there are thousands of distance fans residing in this district.

Just a word about the distance fallacy in connection with tuning in foreign stations. It is not necessary to have either a complicated set or special equipment to do this. You will find with a little experience and a lot of patience, stations such as I am sending in a list of can be tuned in on the average set by the average listener. The best hours for this type of tuning are 3:30 to 5 a. m. I have tuned in, all of these stations in the last four months on a Philco Midget Receiver. My Log now includes over 350 stations, some of the best are: 2BL Sydney, Australia; 4GQ, Brisbane, Australia; 2YA, Wellington, New Zealand; VAS, Glace Bay, Nova Scotia; VCX, Halifax Light Ship, Halifax, N. S.; RUS, San Salvador el Salvador; CMGF, Matanzas, Cuba; CKMO, Vancouver, B. C.; CKPR, Podth Arthur, Ontario, in the U. S. A.; KPCB, KGFJ, WCAX, KFXM, WKAV, KGAR, KOH, KFXD, and KGGM.

Would like to suggest that fans in writing in give, size, and make of set, name and address, as inter-correspondence between fans is one of the most important functions of a DX Department. CBG's suggestion of giving time on the air for DX specials is a very good one, and as this information came into my hands I will be glad to pass it on to you.

List of Stations

Lafayette, Indiana

Dear Friend DX-ers:

Don't you think that it was some idea to start this column. It is the best thing that has happened since they started to publish Radio Guide. Come on you fellows of the Late Night Oil Burning Crowd lets make this the biggest and best column in Radio Guide as yet. I have an eight tube super and biggest catch was Jan. 15, when I got KZRM at Manila, P. I. They changed their power the first of the year from 500 watts to 50,000. I have sent for verification.

There is just any number of stations trying out their frequency cycles this month for the Gov. inspection and there is plenty of material for us DX-ers to work on. Jan. 16 I had Thomasville, Ga. and WHA, Madison, Wis. and numerous others. What I would like to see in Radio Guide is a list of stations that regularly broadcast DX programs. I should think that they should be able to compile a list some way, such as was suggested in the Jan. 17 to 24 issue. I know that we would all be willing to help make this a success. Anxiously awaiting the growth of the DX page I remain.

VOICE OF THE LISTENER

Queen of WCFL

Chicago, Illinois

Dear Sir:

Being a shut-in and a Grace Wilson fan, it gives me great pleasure to read so many nice things in your Radio Guide in regards to her. She is one of the most loyal of all radio stars—never turns us down on our request. She's my pal of the air and my daughter's, and I am for her one hundred percent. May she long reign as "Queen over WCFL."

Mrs. A. Parentl

More Recent?

Blue Island, Illinois

Dear Sir:

I am a constant reader of your paper, and I think it is the best ever.

May I ask if a more recent and better picture of Grace Wilson be printed, because we don't want people to get the wrong impression of her. I would also like one of Eddy Hansen. If I'm not asking too much, one of the characters in "Painted Dreams," would be much appreciated.

Here's to a bigger and better Radio Guide.

Robert H. Jenner

Three Doctors—Note

Dixon, Illinois

Dear Editor:

It's fine—congratulations and future success. Thanks for the pictures of the "Three Doctors," my favorites.

Doctors, you are good—clever, original, and merit your degree fully; through this column I thank you for about 5000 good laughs during the last two years.

P. Guthrie

Music Lover

Chicago, Illinois

Gentlemen:

You are to be commended for the gradual improvement of each issue of the Guide, which I have been regularly reading each week since the first issue came out.

One "big" feature now used, is the information in italics at the end of various bits of news, but think this can be improved by adding also in italics, the day and hour of the broadcast, altho this appears in the body of the article, at present.

The article that interests me most is Carleton Smith's "Music in the Air," especially now that he has added detailed program information at the end of his article as it appears on page 20, issue No. 12, and if he could add to this program list, the concerts of Mrs. Sprague's from Washington, and those of the Symphony Orchestras of Minneapolis, Detroit, Omaha, St. Louis, the lovers of good music would be grateful to him. It is up to you of course to be grateful to him. It is up to you of course to accept or reject these suggestions as you see fit.

Wishing the 'Guide' the success it certainly deserves, I am

National or Local

Jacksonville, Illinois

Dear Sir:

I have just received my first copy of the Radio Guide, and am much disappointed in it. When subscribing, I thought I was getting a program of all the chains, but find it is valueless to anyone outside of Chicago.

My reason for changing to the Guide was to get the programs printed in CST instead of EST.

Personally I don't care for studio gossip. But I do want to know what WEA, WABC and WJZ are sending out each day and where I can get the programs. I imagine there are a lot of others like me. It seems to me that if you want the Guide to be a national magazine rather than a mere Chicago publication, it would be more acceptable to subscribers if all the stations carrying all the chains be published.

J. Roy Harnes

12 Year Old Reader

Terre Haute, Indiana

Gentlemen:

I can't make this old pen express how I enjoy reading the Radio Guide. I'm 12 years old; there are lots of stations I like and many artists I enjoy, but Uncle Bob of KYW is my favorite. I've belonged to Uncle Bob's Club since the Limit Club since I was five years old. I would like to see his picture in the Radio Guide sometime.

We were glad to see Miss Lucile Snoor's picture in the Guide. She is announcer for the children's program on WJJD, Mooseheart, Illinois. Her parents and my parents were good friends twelve years ago when Mother and Daddy lived in South Bend, Indiana. She is just as pretty as her picture and just as good as she is pretty.

Three big cheers for the Radio Guide.

George Glass, Jr.

Four Pains

Ashton, Illinois

Gentlemen:

Must express my own views in regards to some of our radio entertainers, but before starting off on my main topic, permit me to say that I think the "Radio Guide" is the biggest nickel's worth in the United States!

"Can't Something be Done About?"—

1. Kate Smith's infernal "dragging?"
2. Guy Lombardo's idea of tempo?
3. Art Linick's blabbing?
4. All the dumb noon-day programs?

If these four mentioned "pains-in-the-neck" were properly taken care of, I could enjoy the modern programs 100 per cent.

Yours, for a prosperous year,

B. L. Johnson

A WLS Booster

Chicago, Illinois

Dear Ed:

I wonder how many of the folks who read this column enjoy the WLS Merry-Go-Round program on Saturday afternoon; if you have the blues I assure you they'll be cured.

John Brown's piano melodies are snappy and how—and then there's Arky, Maple City Four, the Fidels, and some more of the barn dance crowd.

And "Grace Wilson" fans, you'll find your favorite included in on this program.

Bob Forsans, formerly of WCFL, sent me a card saying he is over on WGN now. Good luck, Bob, and Radio Guide; give us a picture of our "Pal of the Air."

Orchestral Soloists

Chicago, Illinois

Gentlemen:

The various Radio stations are constantly asking for suggestions as to how they can improve their programs. I do not like to complain about the programs, but as I always wire in when I like certain numbers, I feel that I also have a right to complain when I find it necessary. I wonder why so many of our orchestras insist upon a having singers of so low a caliber make one so disgusted that it spoils the really good music we would like to listen to. I have seen many occasions where my friends would tune out a station as soon as one of these so-called singers would start trying to sing with the orchestra. We have a Chinese Restaurant orchestra that is a real orchestra, but as soon as they start to play, the whole program will be spoiled by their so-called singer, who can't even reach a high note. They would surely make a much bigger hit if they had to do without one less player and then paid what they saved to a singer that would not grind on your nerves. This does not apply to all orchestras, as we have Whiteman, Crosby, Fisher and Vallee who have good singers and good music. What do you say, Radio Guide, are you with us or must we keep tuning out the orchestras?

Carl Buck

Grace Wilson Club

Chicago, Illinois

Dear Sir:

I enjoy reading the Radio Guide very much, and have never failed getting my copy. The first thing I read is the "Voice of the Listener."

Am glad to find Grace Wilson among the favorite artists, her friends are many. The little paragraph on "Grace forever," speaks for all of us, her loyal friends. Come on. "Grace Wilson" fans, let's form a club to support the red headed bluebird on WCFL.

Mrs. Mickelsen

Irish Hour

Chicago, Ill.

Dear Sir:

We hear the Irish hour every Sunday night on Station WCFL. Will you please put pictures of Morris Lynch and all that are on the Irish program in the Radio Guide. Your Radio Guide is sure fine. It helps get programs on stations that can't be found in the newspapers. WCFL is my favorite station. Also put a picture of Grace Wilson in the Guide.

Wayne's Theme

Rockford, Ill.

Gentlemen:

Under your heading of "Orchestral Dings" I was very much interested in your discourse of the Theme Songs of various orchestras on the "air."

One paragraph dealt with the theme song or number of Wayne King, as follows: "An original number. 'The Waltz You Saved for Me.' It was written by Wayne and selected as the theme, etc."

Old music lovers and dance lovers of the Upper Mississippi Valley around Davenport, Clinton, Cedar Rapids, Iowa; Freeport, Sterling, Dixon and Rockford, Illinois, and many other cities of the Middle West will recognize this song as the "Waltz of the Poppies," a dream waltz, as written by Emil H. Flindt, Clinton, Iowa, in 1919 and featured for several years by Flindt's Rag-O-Maniacs. Of course I recognize that some of the phrases have been slightly altered, but the theme of Emil Flindt's "Waltz of the Poppies" is still there as copyrighted by him.

For months I have enjoyed hearing the old, old waltz, together with many other fine waltzes as played by Wayne King and his orchestra. He is wonderful and I do not want to detract from his ability, but I do feel that my old friend Emil Flindt is entitled to the credit of being the originator of these beautiful strains in music.

Comps from Bachelors

Chicago, Ill.

Gentlemen (including Margaret Dee and Dorothy Deere, whose stuff we don't pass up):

Just finished Vol. 1 No. 12 and feel you deserve our saying that this is the sort of radio magazine we've been looking for. Thanks for Lowell Thomas and others, including picture of WCFL's "Night Court" Judge, Price Patton. When could we see their whole wise-cracking gang?

Compliments to Columnist Cowan, also. "The Bachelor's Rest" by Merle Derry

Tough Luck!

Chicago, Ill.

Dear Editor:

I want to write and tell you that we enjoy Radio Guide. Would like to see pictures of the Goldbergs some time in the future; also Easy Aces. You had Dan and Sylvia listed on WMAQ at 1:30 p. m. Have not been able to find them this week at that time. We listen to the Goldbergs at 7:45 and Dan and Sylvia are on at the same time.

Mrs. O. A. Hull

A New Reader

Chicago, Ill.

Editor:

I bought my first copy of Radio Guide today and I certainly shall continue to get it. To tell the truth I can't quite figure out just how I got along without it. Don't 'spose that I should start out by giving any suggestions but I do believe two things. The first that you should include in your next issue a picture of The Quaker Man, Phil Cook, the NBC feature and the second that you heed the idea submitted by A. Taylor of Waukegan. It would really improve your fine magazine to include, after each stations program, the length of the program. Hoping you print this.

J. L. Simmons

That's Right

Chicago, Illinois

We are also contest fans and would be interested in contest news. However, I believe, the listener, O. F. Weissenburger, gave a large order when he asked for "details and requirements."

If you printed all this information it would tend to defeat the purpose of the advertisers who pay large sums for radio time and performance. May I suggest occasional notes of this nature. "Listen to Cremo Cigars, Tuesday, NBC, Contest."

Most contestants are liberally repaid for their efforts and part of the game lies in locating the contests.

With wishes for your continued success, I am

Clara La Pierre

Too Much Chain

Abingdon, Illinois

Dear Folks:

I just purchased my first copy of your Radio Guide and I found it to be the biggest nickel's worth of reading I ever bought. It is just as interesting, if not more so, than the more expensive Radio magazines. My only fault with it is that you give the orchestra leaders and chain entertainers too much space—they already have too much space on our dials. The average radio fan is starved for something else besides hearing and reading about those love-sick crooners and their "Boiler Shop" melodies. If you doubt my statement just take, for instance, the following of Amos 'n' Andy, The Stebbins Boys, and a few, very few, other entertainers of their kind. It is disgusting to set down at the radio and not be able to get anything but the beating and blabbing of those tin pan serenaders; and as to those female song-birds—they should hire a hall. Kate Smith is an exception, she's got my O.K.

Very truly yours,

Mr. Charles Lee

Motion Seconded

Freeport, Ill.

Radio Guide:

You are such a help when I try to find my favorite programs and I enjoy the radio gossip and personalities.

I have noticed that three or four people have written in asking for a picture of the characters in "Painted Dreams." I wish to add my voice to the other "Painted Dreams" fans so here's hoping for an answer to my request.

Happy New Year, Radio Guide and good luck.

Yes, At Mooseheart

Chicago, Illinois

Dear Sir:

Please mention in your Radio Guide whether WJJD has another studio besides the one in the Palmer House, as I would like to know. Please put a picture of Art Linick in the Guide as I always hear his "Happy Go Lucky Time" programs and I like all programs of Station WJJD. They have a children's program and other features from another studio outside Chicago.
