of our whole family. After reading the intriguing article on "Noah Webster Says" we became acquainted with this Thursday night kilocycle treat. It is no exaggeration when I say we can hardly wait until 9:30 when this half hour of entertainment and enlightenment is aired. Why can't there be more such enjoyable broadcasts? In a private poll, I find many others of the same opinion. Kudos to Haven MacQuarrie and Professor Charles Lindsley for proving learning can be great fun.

Movie stars guesting on radio shows are a 100 per cent bore! Haven't enjoyed one yet.

Sirs: . . . Hoping to see Bill Leyden's picture in Radio Life. So many of my friends listen to him on KMPC mornings. Please present a picture of him . . . he has a wonderful voice that puts one in a relaxed, gay mood.

Bill Leyden

We carried a picture and story on Bill back in the April 21st issue, and have had his picture in since then, too. Here he is again.

Mrs. Anna Maria Adams, 571 20th Street, San Diego, Calif.

Sirs: Want to complain about the programs since the summer has gone. Why do they always put two real good programs on at the same time? I have such a hard time picking the one I should listen to. How can a person keep up her part of listening to her best programs when they all come on at the same time?

Also, what happened to "Murder Will Out"? It was a good program, always thought who did it every time.

No sign of "Murder Will Out" returning at present. In our issue of October 27th we carried a squawk in our Review section on the same subject as your letter. At that time we listed many of the shows you mentioned in your letter, but which we didn't include here because of space limitations.

Cliff Hall, 1752 North El Molino, Pasadena, Calif.

Sirs: I've been reading your magazine since the time it sold for three cents and never once have I seen a picture of my favorite actress. Would you please do a story on Doris Singleton, who plays the girl friend on Alan Young's program? I think she's the prettiest radio actress in town.

Request noted. Doris sounds pretty, too, don't you think?

Jay Scott, Rt. 1, Box 302, Lakeside, Calif.

Sirs: In the "Ear Inspires the Pen" section of Radio Life I've read certain letters panning the program "Twenty Questions". Well, I just couldn't stand it any longer. I think the program is swell and it's all the better since I read the article about this show and its origination. So many of the quiz shows spend so much time asking the contestants

THE GOODMAN RAY

By Betsy Hammer

Benny Goodman Is Not Only One of the Greatest Musicians in the World, He's A Genius at Dodging Interviewers, Too

Monday, 6:30 p. m.
NBC—WFI, KFSD

IN THE world of popular music, the name of Benny Goodman is legendary. Jazz fans love him, musicians respect, admire and in many cases, venerate him. Even the longhairs, loath to admit that anything as jolly and popularly loved as jazz could have any merit, have to admit that Benny's classical recording of the Mozart Sonata for Clarinet with the Budapest String Quartet and Ravel's Clarinet Rhapsody are unsurpassable.

Hearing that Benny Goodman was soon to leave for New York, we grabbed the first opportunity to try to arrange an interview date with him. We called NBC and informed a publicity man of our mad desire.

"Sure thing," he replied. "I'll call you back later about the date." We went home and played a ten-year accumulation of Goodman records. A week later we called our publicity man to find out what had happened.

"Well," said our man, "it's a funny thing—don't get me wrong, Benny's a great guy—but I went down to the rehearsal and spoke to him about an interview . . ."

"And?" we prompted.

"He just gave me a startled look and started tooting on his clarinet. Look, why don't you just come to the rehearsal next Monday and we'll grab him?"

So we did. We sat alone in the audience and were treated to a concert of "After You've Gone," "Hora Staccato," "King Porter Stomp" and many other Goodman favorites. Our man had informed Benny that we were waiting to have a little chat with him. The rehearsal went on and on. We were treated to what musicians refer to as the Goodman Ray. Benny has a powerful glance that he focuses on musicians who aren't playing up to his expectations—and, we found out, on people who are waiting to interview him. Benny came to the front of the stage and rehearsed with his wonderful quintet. Every once in a while he focused the full power of the Goodman Ray in our direction. We countered with the Radio Life Ray.

Avert Disaster

Then he rehearsed the full band in the Flying Horse fanfare. If you've listened to the Borge-Goodman Show, you're familiar with that ear-splitting signature. Over and over they played it. Finally we decided that it wasn't fair of us to expect to break in on a rehearsal of the sponsor's fanfare. Goodness! maybe if we interrupted Benny at that time, the musicians would go to pieces on the air that night in the middle of a sketchily rehearsed fanfare. Why, it might spell finis to the band's whole career. We crept out of the rehearsal in order to avert disaster.

The following Monday, we received a phone call from our publicity man. "It's all fixed," he said sunnily. "Be here at the rehearsal break and we can see Benny then. He feels awful about not being able to finish rehearsal in time last week."

We were there on the dot. The band was still at it. Pages, mail room girls, janitors, actors and some of the members of Kay Kyser's band were all peeking around the curtains backstage, getting an earful of the Goodman music. We went back into the audience, letting the full power of the Goodman Ray fall upon us.

The rehearsal ended suddenly and the publicity man signaled us from the wings. We made for the door to block any attempt of Benny's to get out and away before us. He was still lingering, giving the boys a parting word of instruction.

We met our publicity man at the door. "Isn't it wonderful," we said innocently, "finally getting to talk to him?"

"You stay here," whispered the publicity man. "I'll sneak 'round the back way and catch him if he tries to leave that way."

"Oh, he wouldn't do that," we protested.

"Better be on the safe side," he cautioned.

A minute later Benny came quiet-

WEARING HER NEW Don Loper hat, sequined black dress, and a wristful of silver bracelets, Elaine Carrington strikes a businesslike pose during her interview with Radio Life. The accompanying story tells how Mrs. Carrington started to write "soap operas". She now has three on the air.

Suds In Her Eyes

By Evelyn Bigsby

Soap Opera Writer Elaine Carrington Says Day-Time Serials Need No Defense, Do No More Harm Than Books or Theater

ELAINE CARRINGTON, who writes "When a Girl Marries," "Rosemary," and "Pepper Young's Family," thinks soap operas aren't judged fairly. "Most critics," she observed, "listen to a serial a few times and find fault with it. A serial should be judged over a period of months. "No," she continued, "I don't think serials do any more harm than books or the theater. They may heighten the feeling of neurotics or persons who are already mentally upset; they may make some persons discontented. But the seeds of upset and discontent were already there before these persons listened to the serial. A soap opera is essentially entertainment. As entertainment, it comes to listeners in the home—to people who don't have time to sit down and read a book or go to the movies. I really think," she summed up spiritedly, "that serials don't need any defense!"

Top writer Carrington was discussing her life interest over a desk in the Hollywood agency offices of Benton and Bowles. If you had seen her riding up to the fourth floor of the Equitable Building, you would probably have appraised her as a well-to-do matron of leisure. Her array of silver bracelets jangled not unpleasantly against the sleeves of her smart black cocktail dress, and her forceful features, highlighted by gray hair and a strong mouth smiling intermittently, were pretty under a new algrette-trimmed chapeau. "A Don Loper hat," she preened. "I saw it on one of his models and just had to have one made to take back to New York."

Mrs. Carrington really didn't want to be interviewed. She was trying to forget business on her first vacation in years.

Three wonderful weeks in Hollywood—all her scripts written ahead to assure complete leisure.

On Merry-Go-Round

"What haven't I done!" she exclaimed in answer to our query. "Everybody here has a new house. Instead of going out, you go to someone's house. An early dinner, of course, because otherwise the servants will get mad and quit. Last night I was at the Franchot Tones'. Fanny Brice loaned me her beach house at Malibu. Dame Mae Whitty is having a tea for me and tomorrow I'm lunching with Hedda Hopper. Yes, I'll be sure to wear this hat!"

Normally, Mrs. Carrington works about two weeks ahead on her scripts. She does all her own writing and thinks she'd give radio serials up altogether if she couldn't script her own airshows (other writers with three programs on the air usually farm out their actual scripting, after plotting the action). Mrs. Carrington, who lives in a 54th street home in New York City, scribbles a paragraph for each day's plot, then uses a dictaphone to elaborate this scribble into a script. Playing each part herself, and after becoming completely carried away by her performances, she starts work about ten o'clock in the morning, usually forgets lunch, but perhaps breaks the stretch by going to market. When she finishes her dictation about five o'clock, she is able to shut off her script thoughts like a spigot. "I turn them on and off," she said, "and it's a blessing, as I don't know what would happen to me if I got in torture about what I was going to do with people in the stories."

Each day's script is so perfectly set in her mind before she starts dictating that seldom are any changes made after the secretary has transcribed Mrs. Carrington's words.

"It's almost as if the characters themselves did the dictating," she admitted. "I don't hold a mental picture of the different characters, but before I plan a show, I draw a map of the town and plot all the houses, streets, and buildings."

Each week by Thursday night, all three shows are prepared for the coming two weeks and their scripter enjoys a long week-end at her lovely Long Island house. Twenty-year-old Pat, who is in college, has a New York apartment in the same building with her mother. Seventeen-year-old Bob is attending Deerfield Academy.

How She Began

It was in 1929, when Pat was four and Bob a baby, that Mrs. Carrington turned to radio writing. "There was a slight depression in 1929," she facetiously reminisced. "My husband was a young, successful lawyer. I was writing short stories. Suddenly, no one paid his lawyer's bill and there was no outlet for my

THE busiest telephone in town belongs to Andy Russell. We know, because not only were we there but we answered it.

Each time it rang, good-natured Andy and his equally amiable spouse, Della, threw up their hands and vowed they were going to change the number immediately. They never did and as far as we know they're still busy answering insistent jangles.

Life at the Russells' four-and-a-half-acre Encino ranch, you might say, revolves around that telephone. When it doesn't demand his services at CBS' busy studio, or on a movie lot or in a recording studio, Andy can be found at home.

"I'm not a hard guy to locate," he laughed. "Just dial the number and you've got me."

Prior to our recent visit, we had heard about the estate, but we weren't prepared for the lovely sight that greeted us. It can't be described as merely a showplace, for it's too much of a real home—and what a romantic spot! The Russells could not have picked a more ideal location in which to spend their first year of marriage.

"Um hum," they grinned, "it's our heaven!"

"Corny, but true," quipped Andy.

house. To the left of the drive is an ex-greenhouse converted into a tropical playroom. The playroom, which is in the throes of completion, was Andy's idea.

"When he mentioned it," proudly explained Della, "I couldn't picture what he had in mind. Now it looks as if it will be darling. You see, we put in tables and stools made of rattan and bamboo and lots of tropical decorations. It will be different from the usual playroom."

The house itself isn't large, but each of the five rooms is. The Russells redécorated it upon moving in last year and insisted upon a lovely shade of warm peach for the walls. They moan over their only means of heating the house, an open fireplace in each room.

The living room itself is formal in appearance—"but we give it rugged treatment," laughed Andy. "Della and I practice in here and usually one of us is at the piano."

The bedroom, also formal, is more simply furnished than the ornate

Spin, Not Chin

There's a regrettable tendency on the part of some of the disc jockeys to talk more than play records. Since we broke our phonograph, we listen to the waxmen in order to hear the music, but what do we get? Well, too often something like this:

"Folks, I was privileged the other night to be invited to a special showing of a new musical over in one of the projection rooms at Fox. Folks, it has some of the greatest songs I've ever heard. I'm sorry you folks won't be seeing it until March, 1950, 'cause it's really terrific. Yes, I certainly enjoyed myself. I said to Frank Sinatra as we were leaving the studio, 'Frankie,' I said..."

We don't care where he goes and what he does or even what he said to Frankie. We don't even care about a movie we're going to see in 1950. We just wanna hear the music. But, do

Your Cue (Shows You May Like)

It Pays

We don't know how you feel about it, but our own opinion is that CBS' "It Pays to Be Ignorant" is always a big treat. We seldom laugh out loud while listening to a radio show, but we do at this one. Sure, the gags are old and corny and even oft-repeated on the series itself, but delivered in the raucous voices of the four ace showmen who comprise the cast and rendered with the experienced rapidity of top vaudeville routine, they're always funny.

The four ace showmen are Tom Howard, Harry McNaughton, Lulu McConnell and George Shelton. They're a terrifically funny combination—loud, but hilarious. The main prerequisite for every dialer to this program, aired on Fridays at 7:00 p.m., is that he sit back and be ready to digest with abandon some utter nonsense.

Our only regret is that the band formerly heard on the series, with its unpredictable renditions of novel musical selections, has now been supplanted by one which performs far too conventionally for this wholly unconventional airshow.

Musical Jewels

If only for the reason that, on our radio, music usually occupies the pre-eminent position, our dial is almost regularly turned to Macy's Musical Jewel Box, femceed by Floretta, Monday through Friday evenings at 7:30 over KFAC, "The Music Station."

This program offers a most palatable...

KECA mike memos

By VIRGINIA WEST

A real oldtimer among radio news analysts begins a new five-a-week series of commentaries over ABC-KECA on Monday, Dec. 9th. Sponsored by Wesson Oil and Snowdrift, Edwin C. Hill and his well remembered "Human Side of the News" will be heard Monday through Friday at 12:30 p.m. Originating in New York, Hill's slant on the happenings of the day is always thought-provoking and authoritative, based on his years of experience in the business of chronicling events on the newsfronts of the world.

There's a new time and a new sponsor (in the Los Angeles area) for those nationally known commentators, Elmer Davis and Raymond Swing. Under sponsorship of the Broadway Department Stores, KECA now presents Elmer Davis on Monday and Tuesday nights at 8:15, and Raymond Swing at that time on Wednesday and Thursday nights.

It may be fashionable these days for entertainers to disparage "corn" but Don McNeill, head of ABC's "Breakfast Club," regards corn as a quality product, and takes pride in his role as master of microphone maize. As defined by McNeill, "corn" deals with the known and familiar, is broadly humorous and sometimes sentimental. It is not meant for cynics and sophisticates. That hundreds of thousands of us enjoy the McNeill variety of maize is proved by the fact that now in its fourteenth year, the Breakfast Club is going stronger than ever! Here's Kenny Baker's heart interest on his morning "Glamour Manor" show (KECA at 9) She's gorgeous Barbara Eiler in real life... a native of Southern California who made her radio debut at 15, Barbara plays the role of Barbara Dilly, Kenny's girl friend and bookkeeper at the mythical hostelry.

Mark Woods, President of ABC, will argue the affirmative of the question, "Is Radio Serving the Public Interest?" on America's Town Meeting, Dec. 12th (KECA at 6:45 p. m.) Speaker for the negative will be Frederick Wakeman, author of "The Hucksters" ... Underway for its second season is "Prevention Preferred," heard on Monday nights at 9:15. Written and directed by Walter Gering, in cooperation with the 10th District PTA, central theme for the series is causes, effects and possible cures for psychological and psychiatric quirks which develop in the mental makeup of all too many children ... And aimed specifically at aiding in prevention of holiday accidents, KECA's traffic education program, "Design for Death" has been resumed on Thursday nights at 6. Now a half-hour dramatic show, with a cast headed by Bob Bruce, in his famous role as "Mike Malloy, ambulance interne," Bill Holmes continues to write and direct, in cooperation with the LAPD.

To help celebrate the 100th birthday of the State of Iowa, ABC's "Bride and Groom" program is cooperating with the Iowa Centennial Committee to locate "Iowa's Happiest Married Couple" ... You'll hear more details on the show, Monday thru Friday, at 2:30 p.m. ... Leo "The Lip" Durocher, manager of the Brooklyn Dodgers, whose Sunday morning (10:15) "sports quiz" has been going great on ABC-KECA, enjoyed his recent brief stay in Hollywood so well that he'll return to Southern California at the Christmas Holidays instead of spending the winter in Florida as usual ... leaving only in time to report to Havana for Spring training ... Here's Frank Parker, romantic tenor, who is star of his own quarter-hour show, over KECA at 11:45 a.m., on weekdays. Parker is one of the top young-men-about-music these days, having been heard as soloist on such shows as the Family Hour, Burns and Allen, and many other transcontinentals, as well as his own Monday through Friday show.

In the intervals between the melodies, the charming and very versatile voice of Floretta spins tales about jewels and jewelry traditions, which lead in a painless manner to the program's commercials about Macy's.

"Tapestries of Life"

It's nice to be able to tell you that "Tapestries of Life" will be going on the air for a full half-hour starting December 31st. Writer David Hanna, who is one of the drama critics and columnists on the Los Angeles Daily News, is the guiding hand behind this fine little show. (We say "little" because it's a fifteen-minute show at present.) Hanna comes from a theatrical background and some of his best stories are centered around the theater. His newspaper stories, too, have a nostalgic tone. Theodore Vori Eitz is an excellent narrator and the actors used in the dramatic spots give the good performances we've come to expect from radio actors and supporting players as a whole. Dave Valle is the producer and organist Milton Charles does the original music. If you believe, with us, that it's tantamount to an honest approach, not big names, that make radio entertainment, you owe it to yourself to give "Tapestries of Life" a hearing. We hope you'll be listening with us on December 31st at 9:30 p.m. for their new half-hour show.

Amos 'n' Andy

We'll have to admit that we, ourselves, don't listen to NBC's "Amos 'n' Andy" as regularly as we once did, but we hasten to add that it isn't the fault of the show—but possibly more the fault of its current time slot (Tuesday, 6:00 p.m.). In fact, on the occasions that we do manage to get beside our radio at the right time to catch the brand of humor delivered so engrossingly by Freeman Gosden, Charles Correll, and company, we immediately regret that we don't somehow make it a point to hear them more often.

It is a homey humor that is to almost everybody's liking, if only for the fact that it is always in good taste. The time-tested talents of Amos 'n' Andy's clever creators are superbly supplemented by the equal abilities of performers like Hattie McDaniel (who is the show's "Sadie Simpson") and entertainers like the Delta Rhythm Boys. Incidentally, we want to cite as highly pleasing to our particular listening tastes, the show's use of its cast members' voices in its introduction, and the smooth manner in which the musical number is inserted into the dramatic portion of the program. Nice!

Glenn "Doc" Middleton is the show's producer; Bob Ross, John Medbury, and Bob Fisher, the writers; Lud Gluskin, musical director; Ed Ludes, sound man; Ray Ferguson, engineer; and Carlton KaDell, announcer.

Lum and Abner

Hope you've been visiting the folks down at Pine Ridge regularly this season. If you haven't, you've been missing out on some of the most delightful comedy on the air. Chet Lauck and Norris Goff in their characterizations as "Lum and Abner" are as amusing as ever. In addition to being funny, "Lum and Abner" sound like such real people that their humor has more dimension than that of the out-and-out comic.

"Doc Withers," in the person of Clarence Hartzell, is an ideal addition to the cast. "Doc" sounds as if he was born for Pine Ridge and the "Jot 'Em Down Store." He's one of those whimsical old men who are so preoccupied with their past experiences that they don't understand why other people aren't equally fascinated. We, the audience, happily are. But let "Lum" or "Abner" attempt a task and "Doc" is there merrily disrupting the whole thing. We love "Lum's" patient attitude toward him, too. "Doc's" moved in as "Lum's" boarder, so he'll be trying "Lum's" patience for a long time to come, we hope.

We visited the show one day last week and were treated to the most amazing display of ad libbing we've ever heard or seen. Discovering just before air time that the show would run a little short, Chet Lauck and Clarence Hartzell decided to ad lib in the middle of the broadcast until they'd gotten the show "on the nose." They had agreed to jump off from a certain line in the script and when we heard that line, we got such a case of mike fright that we couldn't watch. We shut our eyes and said a silent prayer for them. But ad libbing is something that doesn't bother real troupers at all, we found out. They tossed lines back and forth as calmly as if they'd never heard of a script, radio or stopwatch. They just became "Lum" and "Doc" wondering where to set the cookstove in the store. Actors are human beings, too, though, and they joined the producer, the other onlookers, and us in a sigh of relief when they got the on-the-nose sign from the control booth.

Rozwell Rogers and Betty Boyle are the clever scripters credited with writing the show. Their words fit the characters so completely that the Pine Ridge folks have become real people to us.

Organist Ralph Waldo Emerson (yes, that's his real name. He's a descendant of the original) supplies witty and pertinent music. Agency producer Forrest Owens and popular Gene Baker, announcer, do their part in bringing the Pine Ridgers into our homes and hearts.

FOR CHRISTMAS

If you're pondering on the perfect gift for special friends, don't overlook our Christmas Gift subscriptions to Radio Life. If your friends are the least bit radio-minded, the regular arrival of etherdom's only news-weekly magazine, containing intimate glimpses of stars and complete program information, is certain to be a welcome delight—and a gift from you which will last all year round!

Send $4.25 for one year ($2.25 for six months) to Circulation Department, Radio Life Business Office, 1541 Rodney Drive, Los Angeles 27, Calif., and see the cheer you'll spread on Christmas and every day throughout 1947.

Tribute to Walker

Many years ago when Jimmy Walker was still Mayor of New York, he and Georgie Jessel made an unusual pact: whichever one of them died first would have the other speak over his bier. Jimmy died last week, and George was unable to attend his funeral, so on the night of Nov. 26 in a fifteen-minute broadcast over KFWB, Jessel fulfilled his part of the pact with Jimmy—he gave a eulogy to the ex-Mayor Walker. Eddie Cantor sang "Sidewalks of New York," a tune long identified with the colorful Jimmy, and Dick Haymes sang "Will You Love Me in December as You Did in May?" the lyrics of which had been written by Walker. Rabbi Magnin spoke.

The program was transcribed and flown to New York on the Constellation to be played on station WMCA in the town that made Walker famous (or is it vice versa?) Anyway, Jimmy's friends, by their sincere tribute and their plans to erect a monument to him in his beloved city, have proven that they did "love him in December."

To KGFJ

The "Hollywood House" of Station KGFJ reports the following notable acquisitions to its announcing personnel—Bob Gillen, formerly of KFOX and KMPC; Bill Harpel, heard the past year and a half over KHJ; and Paul Slone, former announcer and promotion man of KLAC, who handles KGFJ's nightly midnight to six a.m. offering, "Midnight Special."

Judy On "Suspense"

We weren't the only ones who hopped over to CBS' Studio B on a recent Thursday afternoon when Judy Garland guested on Bill Spier's "Suspense." The star and cast played before an empty studio, as is traditional for the radio thrill show, but as someone in the crowded clients' booth was heard to remark, "On days like this, they may as well make this an audience program!"

Miss Garland, a veteran MGM screen star and long-time trouper, still looks like a little girl, especially in the simple brown dress and brown low-heeled wedgies which she wore for the broadcast. Competent at the microphone, between acts while Ken Niles was delivering the Roma commercial, Judy squatted meekly in a chair beside the mike, with her head bowed, hands clasped and toes turned in, looking somewhat like a repentant schoolgirl.

AFRA-ites, Beware!

Although we were as enchanted as everybody else when she first appeared on the screen as the unforgettable "Mrs. Chips", we also have been pretty much Greer Garson-ed to death by MGM, and had more or less reached the point where we'd just as soon pass up a Garson-starring screen vehicle. It naturally followed that we should regard the actress' radio appearances with the same disinterest, but it so happens that we heard her do several recent radio appearances and came away from our radio a Garson fan again!

Surprisingly, Miss Garson seems to abandon willingly the stereotyped screen personality that Metro has zoomed into the number-one film popularity spot, and in the manner of a

A word to Miss Garson—if ever your box-office appeal should wane, radio can use you!

You Radio Lifers will undoubtedly be interested in knowing that Daws Butler, our clever cartoonist, will be heard as "the Spanish padre" on the Saturday, December 7th airing of KHJ's "California Caravan." Give a listen—huh?

Happy On Hudson

News of the singing Sweetlands, Sally and Lee, reached us this week in a happy little communique post-marked Hastings-on-Hudson, New York. Sally, former queen of Hollywood's radio choristers and star of her own with the Ken Darby Chorus, writes that she has "retired" to take care of her family and a newly-acquired fourteen-room house. ("A career's easier," she admonishes), while husband Lee, heard as summer substitute for John Charles Thomas on the Westinghouse program, is guesting on New York airshows ("Harvest of Stars," NBC, December 8th) and preparing for a concert tour next Fall.

Happy in their new East coast headquarters, the Sweetlands still admittedly miss Hollywood radio enough to have ordered a subscription to Radio Life!

We Want Wilson

Marie Wilson, who should have become one of Hollywood's top comedienne with the first-rate comedy work she has done on the screen, and who is well known to patrons of Ken Murray's "Blackouts," auditioned recently with Cathy Lewis for an airshow called "My Friend Irma." We haven't heard the platter so we can't offer any comment on the prospective series, but we have hopes for it, if only for the reason that it will bring clever Marie to radio. What the screen has foolishly let slip by should be our gain!

Eavesdropping

We were quenching our thirst at the drinking fountain across the hall from a CBS telephone booth, so we couldn't help but overhear Jimmy Durante trying to get a call through to the MGM casting office. Whatever Jimmy's doing, we always think he's wonderful—and that goes as much for his getting the wrong connection twice before completing his call, as for his singing a couple of choruses of "Inka Dinka Doo." His dialogue into the phone during that moment or so was delightfully Durante-ish, and would have been worthy the eighty cents folks plunk down at the box-office to enjoy such a sequence in a Durante movie. Lucky us—we got it for nothing!

No—we didn't hear anything we weren't supposed to!

Still Eavesdropping

We encountered Hans Conried in Alexander's Stationers on Vine Street the other afternoon, and while we were looking over a selection of Christmas cards, we heard the clerk ask Conried where he's been for so many months. Hans, who just recently returned from Army service in the Pacific, replied straight-facedly, "Out of town."

No—we weren't satisfied with this. We cornered the inimitable Conried for a lengthy chat the other afternoon, and in a forthcoming Radio Life, you'll find a complete account of Hans' irrepressible activities while "out of town."

Radio Reunites

When Matt McHugh made his debut in the "That's Finnegans" comedy, starring his brother, Frank McHugh, over CBS, it was the first time in twenty-six years they had played together on the same stage.

To celebrate the occasion, Frank and his wife entertained other cast members and the production staff at a buffet supper in their charming North Hollywood home.

Several years ago each had a role in the same movie production, but appeared in different scenes. Their last previous joint appearance was in 1924 in a legitimate musical comedy "Princess April." Since then both have played in literally hundreds of stage and screen productions, but their professional paths, oddly enough, had not crossed until radio brought them together.

Wants To Take It

Does anyone in the vicinity of Philadelphia own an antique Baumeister upright piano about forty years old? If they do, and it can be proved to be the one Phil Baker once practiced on, he'd like to regain its possession. As the famous Sunday CBS "Take It or Leave It" quizmaster taught himself to play on the old Baumeister which his mother bought second-hand for one dollar a month. The old piano has a sentimental value.

Elgin Show

Elgin Watch's two-hour Thanksgiving Day show, as usual, did not disappoint—there must have been something to please everybody in the tremendous line-up of talent.

Outstanding spots were those of Jack Benny, Vera Vague, and Peter Lind Hayes. Mel Blanc was used effectively to give the network identification in his Porky Pig and Bugs Bunny voices.

But the sponsor went overboard on commercials. It seemed as if Ken Carpenter were emceeing the show instead of Don Ameche, and in addition to the regular copy, Elgin gags were constantly bobbing up in the script. We know the big shebang must have cost the sponsor a nice hunk of change, but did we have to be reminded of it every few minutes?

We hope Elgin watches its plugs on the Christmas show (not another plug, son).

Yule Repeat

Along about this time of the year, "Amos 'n' Andy" begin getting hundreds of letters from listeners asking if they are going to do their annual Christmas show, which they have done in past seasons. The answer is affirmative: Freeman (Amos) Gosden and Charles (Andy) Correll will do the same Christmas show they have been doing for several years. As a matter of fact, this show has become so popular that Gosden and Correll are planning on making an album of it.

Popularity Poll

The Al Jarvis "Make Believe Ballroom" popularity poll for the years 1945 and 1946, got underway December 1, and all proceeds from the votes will go to the Los Angeles Children's Hospital. This year the poll, previously independent, will be sponsored and conducted by the Kate Crutcher Junior Workers, a local charity organization, and all votes should be sent to 155 South Western Avenue, Los Angeles, California.

This poll is open to all contestants, name or otherwise, in the following classifications: Orchestra leaders, male and female vocalists and novelty groups (such as Spike Jones, King Cole Trio, etc.). This contest differs from most in that contestants can vote for themselves; and fan clubs, as well as the general public, can solicit votes on behalf of their idols. However, each vote cast costs the sender ten cents, with no limit on the number of votes cast per person, as long as the money accompanies each vote.

Jo Comes Home

Jo Stafford, feminine half of NBC's "Supper Club" combine with Perry Como, arrives in California Monday, December 9, to do her Tuesday-Thursday stint from Hollywood studios.

Miss Stafford, who in the past has been heard from New York, is a Long Beach, California, girl. She plans to re-establish residence on the West Coast where she first gained prominence as a member of the "Stafford Sisters" trio, and will broadcast from the movie colony beginning Tuesday, December 10, for an indefinite period.

Perry Como, who is heard as the singing emcee on Monday, Wednesday and Friday nights, continues to broadcast from New York.

Another California returnee, Martin Block, handles the announcing chores. Looks like, at long last, Californians are returning to California!

GUILD AWARD

Peter Lind Hayes, featured comedian on CBS' "Dinah Shore Show", was voted the outstanding comic find of 1946 by Newspaper Guild of America.

Radio Lifelines

By Evelyn Bigsby

LOUELLA PARSONS DIDN'T (contrary to some listeners' impressions) announce results of Hollywood Women's Press Club's annual awards—"Golden Apple" for most cooperative actress and actor and so-called "Rotten Apple" for least cooperative. Miss Parsons was predicting, for results of the club's vote won't be tabulated for a couple of party. No wonder Frank Sinatra is not in good favor with the ladies of the press. Last year they honored him with a special award for his intolerance campaign and he didn't acknowledge it with even a phone call!

ALONG WITH MOST of Winchell's listeners, we take exception to being called "you dopes" . . . Michael Douglas is leaving Kay Kyser and Harry Babbitt is taking over the spot on "College" the first of 1947 . . . If you're a reader of Craig Rice mysteries, you'll be pleased to know she'll script a thriller-diller called "Time for Crime" which will air on ABC early in January . . . Garry Moore is as nice a guy as you'll meet along Radio Row. Stopped on Vine street and enthusiastically thanked us for that little squib naming Durante-Moore as nomination for one of three best written shows. . . Bob Shanley, summer "Electric Hour" tenor, and his bride, express agent Jean McFarland, have gone to New York and have found, believe it or not, an apartment!

WE THINK OUR MAIL here in Radio Life's editorial office must be just about the most interesting in Hollywood. You readers and writers are invariably so frank, yet nice. One lady from Downey recently wrote in reply to a column we did on soap operas. "Unless a person wants to suffer through each morning via the soap operas", she wrote, "there is little left for listening except plugs for the downtown stores, news broadcasts, and those dreadful audience participation shows, which to my mind are worse than the soap operas—a bunch of housewives answering silly and impertinent questions in order to get some free merchandise. It seems to me that out of all the broadcasting studios, somewhere they could sneak in a couple of hours of really good music—not swing bands, but honest-to-goodness symphonies and concertos and countless other varieties of classical musical compositions.

"And for soap operas, why can't we have more like 'Vic and Sade'—whatever became of them? And a few informative programs that tell us something of how the other half lives—I can't see that there is a dearth of material at all—simply a matter of radio getting out of the comfortable rut it's in now."

ANY CRITICISM RADIO LIFE may make of radio aims at being constructive. We certainly don't want to tear down radio and its hundreds of fine, hard-working personalities. Yet, too, we want to be honest with our family of Radio Lifers, who, we think, are an exceptionally intelligent and discriminating body, knowing what's good on the air, what isn't, and what they want to see done about it.

That radio isn't all it should be is an acknowledged fact. Instead of ignoring that fact, some air executives are smart enough to recognize it, as did CBS' Board Chairman, William S. Paley, during the recent convention of broadcasters when he admitted that networks should do something about commercials.

Now, Mr. Paley has gone a step further and is launching a series of programs dealing with radio and the public. Due to hit the kilocycles on Sundays at 10:45 p.m. (too bad it's so late) and heard over KNX, this program will be conducted by CBS' Counsellor on Public Affairs, Lyman Bryson. Such topics as the following will be discussed by Bryson: problems in taste in humor, drama and music; control over taste and content of advertising; psychology of radio; conception of an idea and its emergence as a program; radio's personal problems—labor relations and policy. We hope Mr. Bryson doesn't pull punches. Even if he does, any discussion of the industry's relationship and responsibility to its public should wedge the way for cooperative and constructive thinking.

ALTHOUGH THE STAR PARADE opening Hollywood's Santa Claus Lane was exclusively NBC, some folks at ABC pointed out that the transcribed music from the St. Nick float was by their boy, Bing Crosby—by transcription, of course!

PALLADIUM BOUND

Vaughn Monroe, starred on CBS, is being sought for a February opening at the Hollywood Palladium.

TIED MUSICALLY

Mark Warnow, Mutual's "Sound Off" director, also has a musically-minded brother. The man, in fact, who is famous for such jazz oddities as "Egyptian Barn Dance," "Twilight in Turkey," "Dinner Music for a Pack of Hungry Cannibals" and "Siberian Sleigh Ride." The name, of course, is Raymond Scott.

BACK IN U. S.

Joe Worthy, actor-announcer-narrator remembered for his work on Corwin's "Note of Triumph," is back in Hollywood after six months traveling in South America.

RADIO CONTESTS

Here are some additional contests and offers you may or may not have heard about via the airlines. Needless to say, it's a good idea to listen to the programs conducting the contests in which you are interested in order to double check the rules:

METROPOLITAN OPERA BROADCASTS. KECA, 11:00 a.m. Saturday. The Texas Company invites listeners to send in questions to the Opera Forum Quiz. If your question is selected for use on a Saturday broadcast, you will receive, with the compliments of the Texas Company, an album of Victor Red Seal Records (operatic), especially selected for this program. Send your questions to The Texas Company, 135 East 42nd Street, New York 17, New York. Closing date indefinite.

"AMERICA'S TOWN MEETING OF THE AIR." KECA, 6:45 p.m. Thursday. Send ten cents for a handy pocket size copy of United Nations Charter to American Association for United Nations, 45 East 65th Street, New York, N.Y.

"WORLD SECURITY WORKSHOP." KECA, 9:00 p.m. Thursday. Accepts scripts from amateur or professional writers written around a world peace and security theme of general interest. Judges are Cass Canfield, chairman of the board of Harper Brothers, Clifton Fadiman, literary critic and author, Robert Saudek, ABC's director of public service and John Coburn Turner, manager of the ABC script division. Scripts are paid for at usual professional rates. Address World Security Workshop, American Broadcasting Company, Radio City, New York 20, N.Y.

"BRIDE AND GROOM." KECA, 2:30 p.m. Monday through Friday. A search for Iowa's happiest married couple, to be named and feted on the program on Friday, December 27. Prize is a week's second honeymoon in Honolulu via Pan-American Clipper. Any listener from coast to coast is eligible to write a letter about his or her choice as the happiest pair in the state of Iowa. Address letters to Iowa Centennial Committee, State House, Des Moines, Iowa.

"TELL YOUR NEIGHBOR." KHJ, 2:00 p.m. Monday through Friday. Walter Mason sends you one dollar for any suggestion, story, saying, etc. that you send him and he uses on his program. Send letters to "Tell Your Neighbor," KHJ, 5515 Melrose Avenue, Hollywood, Calif.

"COUNTERSPY." KECA, 2:30 p.m. Sunday. Possessors of unregistered souvenir guns are asked to write to the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, Washington, D. C., and someone will be sent to help you with the registration, free of charge. Advice will be given as to how the gun can be made safe. Mail letters to Commissioner of Internal Revenue, Washington, D. C.

"ADVENTURES OF ELLERY QUEEN." KNX, 9:30 p.m. Wednesday. Under new arrangement, each week a city or town somewhere in the United States will be selected for a telephone call to a mystery fan. While the show is on the air, at the point where Ellery stops the play and states that he knows who committed the crime, he will chat with the arm-chair detective asking for his or her solution. Each amateur sleuth will receive as a reward for his efforts a valuable gift, plus an autographed copy of Ellery Queen's latest book and year's subscription to the Ellery Queen Mystery Magazine. Applications are now available in the lobby of CBS' Columbia Square. The choice of the person to be called will be made after a thorough study of applications received from members of the listening audience.

"INFORMATION, PLEASE." KNX, 7:30 p.m. Wednesday. Parker Pen Company awards ten dollars for three-part questions with answers, Parker Pen 51 desk set and a set of the Britannica if the question is missed, or $500 if all three parts are missed. Address: "Information, Please," CBS, 485 Madison Avenue, New York, N.Y.

"JUVENILE JURY." KHJ, 8:30 p.m. Saturday. Merchandise prizes are awarded for letters giving problems for the board of youngsters to solve. Send either adults' or children's problems. Address: Juvenile Jury, Mutual Broadcasting System, New York, 18, N. Y.

"OPPORTUNITY, U. S. A." KHJ, 10:45 a.m. Sunday. One hundred dollars are given each month for a letter telling about a war veteran in business for himself. Give name, rank and outfit of veteran and include the details of his business. No limit on wordage. Address: Opportunity U. S. A., c/o Pageant Magazine, 535 Fifth Avenue, New York 17, N. Y.

TED MALONE, KECA, 10:15 a.m. Monday, Wednesday, Friday. Ted will pay fifty dollars for the best unpublished original poem sent to him each month. Address: Ted Malone, American Broadcasting Company, Radio City, New York, N. Y.

"HEART'S DESIRE." KHJ, 2:30 p.m. Monday through Friday. Write a letter to the program telling about something you want and why you want it. If your letter is read on the program, you get your "heart's desire." Send letters to "Heart's Desire," KHJ, 5515 Melrose Avenue, Hollywood, Calif.

BILL ANSON, KFVB, 1:45 p.m. (15 min.) Saturday. Bill plays three recordings and you are asked to identify the orchestras on each one. Earliest postmarked and neatest entry (and most correct, of course) wins a Packard Bell electronic portable phonograph. Contest runs for four consecutive Saturdays. Address entries to Bill Anson, KFVB, 5833 Fernwood Avenue, Hollywood, Calif.

SAMMY KAYE'S "SUNDAY SERENADE." KECA, 10:30 a.m. Sunday. Poems of a romantic nature are the requirement in Sammy's poetry contest, which is still in progress. Cash prizes totalling $1300 will be awarded the winners. Winning verses will be read over the air by Sammy on the "Sunday Serenade" and will be included in the new edition of the Sunday Serenade Book of Poetry. The contest closes at midnight on February 17, 1947, so you still have a lot of time to enter. All amateurs are welcome to submit entries; the only requirement is that all poems submitted be accompanied by an entry blank which may be secured by writing Sammy Kaye, 607 Fifth Avenue, New York, N.Y. Judges are Kate Smith, Ted Malone and Vernon Pope.

GAGS OF THE WEEK

With resumption of a full news section, Radio Life is reinstating its "Gags of the Week" column. As in the past, tickets for radio programs will be offered those first sending in the best gags. On hand, waiting to reward each of four persons sending in a gag, are four pairs of tickets. You'll get either two tickets to "Lux" or two to the Burns and Allen show—which ever you manage to slip into your envelope. Address your entries to Radio Life, 1558 North Vine Street, Hollywood 28, Calif.

Mrs. R. M. Richardson, Rancho Sombroso, San Fernando, Calif.

Heard on Breneman's "Breakfast in Hollywood":

Tom: Do you listen to our program at home?

Contestant: Only if there isn't a Christian program on.

Mrs. Walter R. Moon, 2546 Wellsley Avenue, Los Angeles 34, Calif.

Heard on the "Burns and Allen Show": Clark Gable (discussing George's prowess as a hunter): What's his favorite dog?

Gracie: Hot! And heavy on the mustard.

Mrs. William Crabb, 745 Broadway, Venice, Calif.

Heard on the "Hank McCune Show": Hank: I wonder if she'll go out with me after the game—maybe we can get in a little n-e-k-k-i-n-g.

Hal: N-e-k-k-i-n-g, Hank, that's wrong.

Hank: Sure it is, but it's fun!

Charles H. Mazur, 1343 East 64th Street, Los Angeles 1, Calif.

Heard on "Eddie Cantor Show":

Sir Basil: And how are your five daughterships?

Eddie: My daughterships? I've launched two of them, but the other three are still in dry-dock.

Mrs. Charlotte T. Mazur, 1343 East 64th St., Los Angeles, Calif.

Heard on the "Abbott and Costello":

Abbott: Do you know what a husband is?

Costello: A husband is what's left of a sweetheart after the nerve has been killed.

Kenneth B. Bondy, 11459 Saticoy, North Hollywood, Calif.

Heard on Tom Breneman's "Breakfast in Hollywood":

Corny: Why wouldn't you be able to manage this restaurant properly if they rationed false teeth?

Tom: Why wouldn't I?

Corny: Because you are always gumming things up.

Miss Emily Harthman, 1822½ West 25th St., Los Angeles 7, Calif.

Heard on "Life of Riley":

Digger O'Dell: Some hoodlums took a sign out of a travel bureau and put it in my establishment. I was furious.

Riley: What did the sign say?

Digger: "Going South? Let us plan your trip!"

EX-VILLAIN

If the present cycle of radio whodunits had started 10 years ago, Hanley Stafford probably would not be playing his laugh-provoking roles of Daddy Higgins on the "Baby Snooks Show" or Mr. Dithers in "Blondie." Hanley was a noted radio villain back when the kilocycles were young and always loved the part. In one series he portrayed Capone, Dillinger, Two-Gun Crowley, Legs Diamond, Baby Face Nelson—in fact, almost every crook in gangsterdom. But before he was typed on the air he launched into comedy and has stuck to it ever since.

SONGPLUGGER'S CHANCE

Ira Cook has launched a new feature on his KFAC "Dance Time" program heard at 10:30 p.m. on Fridays. Called "Meet Your Songplugger," it will present a leading music publishing representative each week. Ira will interview the songplugger and play a medley of his three most popular "plugs."

REQUIRED LISTENING

Mutual Don Lee's "Superman," "Twenty Questions" and "It's Up to Youth" are three of the shows singled out as "required listening" for elementary schools by the American Schools and Colleges Association.

NEW CONDUCTOR

Frank Black, general music director of NBC, replaced Howard Barlow as orchestra conductor of "Harvest of Stars" on December 1.

ADDITIONAL NEWSCAST

Fleetwood Lawton, news commentator heard on KECA and KFI, is now also heard on KMPC, Monday through Friday at 6:45 a.m.

REAL VETERAN

Judy Canova originated her hillbilly act and went on the air with it in Jacksonville, Florida, when she was only thirteen years old.

COINCIDENCE

Purely by coincidence, a Mrs. Schmell was sitting next to a Mrs. Sniff at a recent CBS "House Party" broadcast, as emcee Art Linkletter found out when he chatted with members of the audience. Quick as always, Art asked if they had any little "stinkers."

DESERT RESORT PLAN

The Sons of the Pioneers, heard on NBC's "Saturday Night Round-up," have started work on a Pioneer Village in the desert near Palm Springs, Calif. It will be completely authentic in every detail and will be used by Hollywood studios as a location spot.

YOUR EARLY MORNING LISTENING SCHEDULE

A short time ago Radio Life, in response to readers' requests, printed the midnight to 3 a.m. logs. As space on the daily log pages will not permit handling of these schedules each week, we plan to publish them periodically. Please clip this page and save it for reference until the next printing.

MODERN MINSTREL

Burl Ives, Who Learned His First Songs From His Grandmother and Neighboring Farmers, Has Sung His Way From Maine To California and Right Into Our Heart

Friday, 8:30 p. m.
MBS—KHJ-KGB-KFXM-KVOE

IT'S JUST the kind of house you'd expect Burl Ives to live in. Snuggled in the Hollywood hills behind a high hedge, the Ives abode is built and furnished for complete comfort and relaxation.

Ives, who recently started a new series of broadcasts for Philco Radio Corporation of America, is a phenomenon that only show business could foster.

Because he had the wanderlust and because he "just plain likes to sing," Burl Ives has become a household name to millions who have seen and heard his delightful ballads in night-clubs, on the stage and most recently as a featured part of the Fred MacMurray picture, "Smoky", and starring in the soon-to-be-released Walt Disney film, "How Dear to My Heart." He is under exclusive contract to Decca for his recordings and has made several albums, including "The Burl Ives Album" and the "Sing Out Sweet Land Album", a collection of recordings from his Broadway success of the same name.

The Ives legend began in June, 1909, when Burl was born to Frank and Cordella Ives, tenant farmers. Life wasn't easy in Hunt Township, Illinois, where the winters were bitter and there was barely enough food to stay alive. But Burl's father was no lazy farmer. Between his chores he studied engineering and in a few years he was building bridges and rapidly becoming one of Illinois' foremost civil engineers.

Early Appearance

As a tiny tot Burl picked up bits of songs from the farmers, and many of the songs he features today were learned from his grandmother, Kate White, who, says Burl, "looked like something in an Elizabethan print." Burl made his first public appearance at the age of four at an old soldiers' picnic. His recompense was the munificent sum of twenty-five cents for singing the ballad, "Barbara Allen", which is still one of his favorites.

Not many people around Hollywood know it, but Burl's one and only nickname is "Misery." During grade school he played the part of "Misery Moon" in a play called "The Hooded Coon" and to this day the folks in Newton, Illinois, still ask his parents about "Misery".

His high school aspiration was to become a football coach, and as a 190-pound fullback he became star of his high school team. "But after almost two years in college", Burl laughs, "I got sorta tired of studies. Guess I was just born lazy and my folks began to think I just never would amount to much and I didn't think so either, so I just took to the road. I only had fifteen cents to my name, but I had my banjo and away I went."

He hitch-hiked across country that summer, singing as he went. Then after another try at college that fall Burl again couldn't stand the confinement and again he walked out with his banjo slung across his shoulder. He left most of his worldly possessions behind at his fraternity house.

During the next few years he covered almost every inch of this country. He sang for his supper from Maine to California and from Wisconsin to the Mexican border. He froze in logging camps in the Northwest where he became friends with the loggers and trappers. He sweltered in the desert and learned the favorite ballads of the ranch hands under the Texas moon. He listened, then joined in, when the Negroes sang their haunting spirituals in the South. He joined in the sea chanteys of the New England fishermen, and when no one wanted music, he pitched in and washed the dishes or juggled trays for his dinner.

Hits Broadway

Singing along, joining an evangelistic company as vocalist, riding the rods and tramping followed. Eventually he landed in New York. Between occasional flights to far-off places, he sang at local churches. Then in 1938 he trekked to Carmel, N.Y., to play character roles at the Rockridge Theater. After some experience in learning sides he hit the Broadway boards in a bit part in "The Boys From Syracuse" and later that year played in the road company production of "I Married An Angel." Then in 1940 he played a straight role in "Heavenly Express" and John Garfield sang the ballads. Frequent radio appearances followed.

Drafted in 1942, he was immediately put into the chorus of Irving Berlin's "This Is The Army". After his medical discharge in October, 1943 . . . Burl says, "They figured I ate too much for what I was worth." Actually flat feet was the reason.

Then for sixteen straight weeks he sang at New York's Cafe Society Uptown, where he charmed the sophisticated Gothamites right out of their lethargies. After honors at the White tants risk their lives and limbs.

LIFE HAS ITS COMPENSATIONS. While he's being manhandled by lioness "Queenie", it helps keep Jay's mind off imminent peril to have blonde Earl Carroll girl Gay Fitzpatrick to distract him.

SOME LUCKY PARTICIPANT in "What's Doin', Ladies?" monkey-shines will find there'll be a switch on the monkey-organ grinder routine, here demonstrated by Jay and a movie-trained animal, aged fifty-five.

Monday through Friday, 2 p. m.
ABC—KECA-KPRO-KFMB

FOR likable emcee Jay Stewart, the saying, "Don't do anything I wouldn't do," rings a bell. Since July 1 he's been doing everything you participants do on ABC's "What's Doin' Ladies?", only he does it first.

Part of Stewart's chores as master of ceremonies involves being able "to take his own medicine"—and how he can dose it out! Before any participant of the daily show finds himself engaged in a stunt, Jay has previously tackled it.

"I've been drenched by falling water, I've had my face dipped in ice cream, I've scooted off teeter-totters, and have been guinea pig for nearly 400 similar stunts dreamed up by our staff. I'm the original 'don't do anything I wouldn't do' boy."

Because of Stewart's impressive background of audience participation shows ("Meet the Missus", "Truth or Consequences") and now as emcee of "What's Doin' Ladies?", we asked him what he had to say in defense of participation shows and their array of stunts.

"Since we're all striving to provide the participants with a good time, we're happy if we accomplish it. But I have an advantage in trying out a stunt before a participant, because I know what's coming. If I can receive a chuckle, we hope he will, too."

When asked if he had a favorite stunt, Jay shook his head and guessed he liked 'em all. But there is one which is taboo for Stewart. "My wife, Beverly, won't let me try out the kisses given by the Earl Carroll girls," he sighed, "and the participants look so happy when that's their 'medicine'."

CONTESTANT CAN see himself as others do, thanks to Stewart, here rigged out in the "Mr. Poo" costume of fake ears, putty nose, mustache, glasses, and oh! that form-fitting suit!

NBC's Bob Burns, Recently Appointed National Radio Chairman of Nurses National Memorial Foundation, Shows How Not to Act When You Are Sick

▼ JUST TO PROVE HE REALLY LIKES NURSES, Bob Burns recently entertained a body of them at his NBC show. Is he trying to demonstrate a fancy way to shake down a thermometer?

Sunday, 8 p. m.
NBC—KFI-KFSD

THOUGH his antics in this page are strictly facetious, the job Bob Burns has undertaken to help sponsor a memorial for nurses of World War II is obviously serious. Heading the radio division, Burns and his co-workers will aid in raising funds for a three-story building in Washington, D. C., which will provide facilities for ex-war nurses. These facilities will include resident halls and spacious grounds which are now completely lacking for those women who so gallantly served their country.

magazine stories. I tucked a play under my arm and marched to a radio station. We went on the air with 'Red Davis' once a week at night. It was the first serial in which the family members were pleasant to one another."

The story of Red Davis was actually the story of Mrs. Carrington's own family. The title was changed to "Pepper Young" in 1936. Burgess Meredith played the original "Red Davis," Martha Scott received her start on the show, and K. T. Stevens made her radio debut playing a small part on the serial.

Today, "When a Girl Marries" and "Pepper Young" run one another stiff competition for top rated daytime listening. Ratings usually hover in the neighborhood of 6 or 7.

Persons whom she meets have probably furnished her with script material, Mrs. Carrington confessed, but if so, she received her inspiration unconsciously. Having youngsters of her own, the writer has always had many young people milling around the house and these, she is certain, have contributed much to her writing. In fact, while her attractive daughter was beginning to blossom and entertain beaux at home, Mrs. Carrington found the young folks' conversations delightful. At the time she didn't dare use the material, but now that several years have elapsed, she incorporates some of it in her scripts. The young girl in "Rosemary" is Mrs. Carrington's Patty at fifteen.

Pat, according to her mother, writes very well. The young lady left college last year to manage the "Carrington Playhouse," which involved reading seventy-five to 100 scripts each week, help with the casting, and assistance on rehearsals. "She managed all the money, too," Mrs. Carrington said proudly. "She paid me scale—I think it was about $26 a week."

Bob, too, is interested in radio and although listening is not permitted at the Academy, he obtained special permission to tune "Carrington Playhouse." After each broadcast, his critical estimate of the program was accurate as well as amusing.

Prolific scripter that she is, Mrs. Carrington doesn't keep track of the time she puts in writing. "I'm no good at statistics," she shrugged. "I don't even know how much mail I get. Every month there's a big bag from the studio and the agency. I like to read the letters to see what my listeners think, but their opinions never change the plots."

Once a week she attends each of her shows, but she has never failed to listen to them every day, not even while she was on a Hollywood vacation!

MEN of MUSIC

No. 15 of a Series

James Sample

Monday, 9:30 p.m.
KFI

FOR many years one of the youngest conductors in this country and still but thirty-eight years of age, James Sample has already enjoyed a brilliant and successful career. As a boy, he began his studies with his father, who was an excellent viola player. The Sample family resided in Minneapolis and James' mother and father were both well known for their work with string instruments and the piano. At the age of seventeen, Sample was chosen by Verbrugghen—the conductor of the Minneapolis Symphony—to study conducting. At this time, Mr. Sample attended the MacPhail School of Music, from which he was graduated with degrees in both Piano and Public School Music.

In the summer of 1931, Sample received a scholarship from the Austrian Government to conduct at the School of the Mozarteum in Salzburg. While in Europe he studied with Pierre Monteux, present conductor of the San Francisco Symphony, and made many successful appearances with major orchestras in both France and Austria. Upon his return to America, Sample joined the staff of the Metropolitan Opera as assistant to Wilfred Pelletier. When the New York City Center of Music and Drama was founded, he assisted in organizing and conducting the first two seasons. The third season took the company on a five-month trans-continental tour for S. Hurok, with Sample acting as co-conductor.

For the past two years, Sample has been the conductor of the Utah State Symphony and, at present, is the associate conductor with Pierre Monteux. This assignment he carries along with that of music director for the "KFI-Hollywood Bowl Auditions" heard on KFI each Monday at 9:30 p.m.

Sample was married on January 10, 1930, in Minneapolis, Minnesota. His wife, Ernestine Sample, is a painter, and they have two children, Siegrid, six, and Billy, fifteen. The latter is, strangely enough, an authority on boogie woogie. Sample's hobby is flying and he is now working for his private pilot's license.

Radio Life Versus The Goodman Ray

ly out the front of the studio. We advanced on him with a falsely gay "Hello, Mr. Goodman." We shook hands and smiled politely at each other. The publicity man shot down the hall to our side. We started advancing toward the entrance. "Well, Mr. Goodman," we began.

"Just a minute," said Benny. He darted from our side and over to a group of his musicians. "Listen, boys," we heard him say, "stick around. Don't be way up on Hollywood and Vine when rehearsal starts." Goodman resumed his way and we eagerly fell into step with him out the entrance, toward the street. We could hardly believe our luck.

"Now, Mr. Goodman," we started again. Benny looked at us blankly.

"Scuse me a minute," he interrupted. A cluster of musicians at the gate were chatting together. "Boys," Benny said as he joined them, "rehearsal will be starting again, better get back to the studio." The musicians started to disband and drift back into NBC. We galloped to Benny's side as he started up Vine Street toward the Brown Derby.

Yes, What?

Goodman saw that he was trapped, at least until he reached the restaurant. He turned to us suddenly with a sunny smile. "Well, what can I tell you?" he asked. (See here, Goodman, we thought to ourself, there are a million things you could tell us: why are you the best musician in the world and how did you get to be that way? . . . what does your wife say when she gets tired of your tooting around the house on that clarinet? . . . why do musicians who spend their lives in smoky nightclubs and ballrooms invariably look ten years younger than they really are? . . . and finally, what in the world gave you such a fear of magazine interviewers?) But you can't ask questions like that thirty seconds after you've been introduced. What we did ask (and in a small, sickly voice, at that) was about the Goodman band on the air.

"Of course, the numbers we play on the air are a lot shorter. In a ballroom, you've got more time to get warmed up, your time isn't limited the way it has to be on the air," he replied.

We asked Benny if he realized that two local Goodman landmarks were gone—the ballroom on the recently demolished Venice Pier where a teen-aged Goodman made his Southern California bow, and the old Palomar ballroom which burned down several years ago where the tottering Goodman band, ready to admit failure, played the engagement that started them on the road to popular success.

Benny gave us a sad look. "No kidding?" he said. "Hm-mm-mn."

We asked him if the ugly rumor that he used to sing vocals on some of his records was true. He laughed. "Not recently," he said, "but I did do a vocal on 'Gotta Be This or That.' I never made a practice of it."

What about his daughters, we wanted to know, were they musical?

"Can't tell yet," he smiled. "One's only four years old and the other's just six months!"

We asked about the Goodman views on musicians. "There aren't as many good ones nowadays," he replied. "My musicians have got to be both legitimate and swing." We had reached the Derby. Goodman turned and shook our surprised hand. "I know you're busy," he smiled, "I'll see you back at the rehearsal." Quickly he attached himself to a passing musician and hurried off to lunch.

"Listen," said our publicity man, "we'll grab a quick bite and dash back to the studio and catch him again as he comes in the door. OK?"

We ate the quickest lunch of the week and rushed over to NBC. As we approached the door of Studio A we were greeted by the strains of the Goodman clarinet sailing down the hall. It sounded triumphant.

Did he sneak out the side door of the Brown Derby and beat us back to NBC? Was he an apparition and not the real Goodman? These are questions that will forever remain unanswered. The publicity man excused himself and bustled away on more substantial business.

We entered the studio, scooped past the Goodman Ray and took our seat in the audience. How can a man play a clarinet and smile at the same time? Benny can and did.

Suddenly the strains of the Flying Horse fanfare began. We left. That's where we'd come in.

Life Is A Song

mirror-lined living room. Della's ingenuity shows itself in the different-looking blue velvet, pink-satin-covered twin beds.

Touches of bric-a-brac, figurines, a small doll collection, pictures, books and unusual pottery lend interest throughout the house. "It's the right size for the two of us," commented Mrs. R. "You see, I do my own housework and cooking." At present Della's mother and father are occupying one of the guest houses . . . "and help us out."

The Russells are particularly proud of the hand-hewn oak doors and shutters which line the building, in addition to the old well in their front yard which was brought from Sicily by the former owners, the Leslie Fentons.

As star of the CBS "Hit Parade", Andy says, "We hope we're situated right here for a long time because we're so crazy about the house. Seems like we're never home."

Our first meeting with the popular crooner proved a pleasant one. Unpretentious, friendly and equipped with a delightful sense of humor, he proved himself richly deserving of the adoration heaped upon him. There is no big head in the Russell household.

"Andy is too shy to ever change," confided Della. "We don't have servants because they subdue us. You see, Andy loves to sing and bursts into song the minute he wakes up. If a stranger is about, it ruins his whole day."

"Besides," she grinned, "what other housewife could boast of having Andy Russell croon to her while she wiped the breakfast dishes?"

Modern Minstrel

House and Madison Square Garden, Burl recorded his ballads for the archives of the Library of Congress. His greatest triumph came when he starred in the Broadway cavalcade of folk music "Swing Out, Sweet Land". From there it was an easy jump to Hollywood and his current successes. With a long term contract under his trusty guitar, Burl sat back and started to relax. Then James Carmine, vice-president of Philco, persuaded him to do a weekly radio program, singing his ballads and telling his own anecdotes from his wanderings.

With all of his work, Burl finds plenty of time to relax. He's even working on a book of his adventures.

But Burl hasn't lost his wanderlust. He still likes to "go off places". But instead of hitching rides from motorists or on freight cars, he now drives in a shiny roadster or rides the "Chief." With all his financial success and fame, he's still just a friendly guy who enjoys his singing, loves to eat, hunt, fish and tie flies.

TWO EXTREMES

Joe DuVal, radio actor noted for his gravel-voiced portrayals, recalls that his busiest day in radio was one in which his interpretations ranged from one extreme to the other. "I played the Voice of God on one program and Hitler on another!" Joe laughed.

UNUSUAL MUSICIAN

Adolph Deutsch's orchestra on CBS' "This Is Hollywood" series boasts one of the few girl bassoonists. She is Gloria Solloway, who gave up the piano six years ago to become a star on the bassoon.
