"SCREEN GUILD": Less Rehearsals, Better Performances {PAGE 36}

The Ear Inspires the Pen

Edith Humphreys, 1037 South Alvarado Street, Los Angeles, Calif.

Sirs: Here is one listener's opinion on the article published in Radio Life, issue of March 20th, in regard to Red Skelton's remark on his radio program. I think NBC should look into some of their other programs such as Phil Harris, Bob Hope, Judy Canova and others who really should be censored. The cracks they make aren't fit for anyone to hear.

Red Skelton's show, and "Fibber McGee and Molly" have always been two of the cleanest programs on the air, so why now pick on Red?

Your letter is one for the "pro" side of the controversy.

James L. Nelson, 624 South Mariposa, Los Angeles 5, Callf.

Sirs: I find nothing objectionable in Red Skelton's censored remark,

"I'm a diaper delinquent", nor have I ever found his programs in bad taste.

Anida Wallace, 2643 Monmouth Avenue, Los Angeles, Calif.

Sirs: Maybe the term "diaper delinquent" doesn't have anything the matter with it, but I, for one, am glad that one of the big networks is watching what goes on the air.

It seems to me there must be something else about which they can make jokes other than diapers and Jane Russell.

Mr. and Mrs. D. T. Nigh, 2226 Floral Drive, Whittier, Callf.

Sirs: We have always found Red Skelton's show clean and laughable. We are grandparents, and there has never been anything heard over his radio time that we would not allow our grandchildren to hear. We have, however, heard some very raw sayings from Bob Hope's program, and several others carried insinuations we didn't approve.

As far as Junior's word "diaper" goes, it seems to me that I hear that word used not less than five times during the week over the air. What harm in mentioning those, when they mention long red flannels, their shorts, etc.?

We heard an emcee recently quizzing a woman regarding her marriage, her age, the birth of her first child. And this week I heard an emcee quizzing a lady in regards to her being such a young grandmother. I think if any censoring is to be done, they ought to censor his program some.

Mrs. R. E. Shepherd, Newport Beach, Calif.

Sirs: At last! We, the mere listener, have found a friend! Praise be to the NBC censor for not permitting Mr. Skelton to force an unsavory diaper down my throat while I am dining.

This is what we wanted ... both sides of the issue!

Dana Bird Cox, 677 South New Hampshire, Los Angeles, Calif.

Sirs: Thank you for your most interesting article regarding Leone Ledoux. I am one of the many who have watched with interest and admiration her rise in radio. Leone is well known to clubdom, and loved by each and every one she contacts.

Ida B. Keimbacher, 1805 Garfield Place, Los Angeles 28, Calif.

Sirs: I was glad to read your very interesting write-up on Leone Ledoux recently. I attended several broadcasts when she played the parts of "Baby Dumpling" and "Cookle" in the "Blondie" show, and am pleased to note she now plays in the Fanny Brice show, as well as in the General Mills' "Today's Children" and the "Masquerade." After she left the "Blondie" show I discontinued listening to it, as I missed her cheery little voice.

Hugh B. Birch, Lower Lebarge, Via Whitehorse, Yukon, Canada

Sirs: In catching up on some back reading of Radio Life I was pleased to read your answer to a letter signed "A Once-Interested Listener, Los Angeles". This appeared in the July 14, 1946 issue. You came right to the point in your answer, using, however, more polite words than I would have chosen.

He or she, whichever suits the writer of the letter, seems to think that radio and its many good offerings should be entirely suited to his personal taste, with no consideration for the odd hundred million other listeners.

For my own part, I shall continue to be one of "the sucker radio audience", only too glad and grateful for enjoying practically free entertainment. This "once-interested listener", too, lives in Los Angeles and can get all the networks and stations with their worth while programs. At with their worth-while programs. At this far distance, up near the Arctic Circle, my choice of stations is sharply limited—KJRO, KFI, CBR, CBK, and KFAR, and these do not reach here all the time. Sorry to be so lengthy, but I became rather worked up over the "once-interested listener's" reaction. I think he is simply cutting off his nose to spite his face.

A bouquet to you, Radio Life. Subscribing to your swell little magazine was one of the best investments I ever made in my life.

A Reader, 7241/2 Edgeware Road, Los Angeles 26, Calif.

Sirs: Could you help get the "Missing Persons" program back on coast-to-coast network? We need them.

I can't understand why a believer in anything as lofty as Christianity can object to an unbeliever airing his views on the air, or anywhere else. A true Christian should have no fear of opposition.

It seems to me that the sponsors

ON OUR COVER

The spotlight's on Mother this week, so Radio Life focuses its cover portrait on one of ether-dom's cleverest mamas — Mrs. George Burns. care very little for what the public wants. No good reason for them to take off the best programs they have. You named a few good ones in your March 2nd issue. There are still better ones leaving the air. Fitch, I believe, used to have Jerry Lester going into people's homes and interviewing them on a variety of interesting subjects. They haven't had as interesting a program since, though they do have good ones. By the way, who plays the two bright children on Phil Harris and Alice Faye's show?

Neither can I understand why there are so many good air shows that conflict. Two or three comedy shows come on at the same time.

Radio has tis ups and downs just like everything else, don't you think?

Speaking of the interview programs, don't you think "Vox Pop" is nice? "Missing Persons" was indeed a wonderfully valuable service. It's amazing how many people locate long-lost relatives and friends through hearing them mentioned on a broadcast or recognizing their voices during just the usual programming. "Missing Heirs" on KECA, 9:30 p. m., Monday, is an interesting program of this type.

Anne Whitfield and Jeanine Anne Roose are the two bright little buttons who play "Phyllis" and "Alice, Jr."

Jimmy Elsas, 2812 Rosanna Street, Los Angeles, Calif.

Sirs: I have wondered for a long time what the lady said on the record of "Open The Door, Richard." If possible, would you tell me?

Frankly, we could never make it out either. Glad that it's finally died down to the point where we don't have to worry about it any more. (P. S. If you find out, will you let US know?)

Miss Stella Day, 7118-A Templeton Street, Huntington Park, Calif.

Sirs: On March 16 your magazine had an article as to the whereabouts of John Meloch, known to us as the "Singing Cabbie". I myself have heard him sing at the Axel Grinders, U.S.O. shows, and on his own program sponsored by the Yellow Cab Company. If he is on the air, please tell us what station he is on.

This is my first letter to Radio Life, and I wanted you to know just how much I enjoy reading it. Wishing you continued success.

The last we heard of John Meloch was the show you mention...the Yellow Cab-sponsored show from San Francisco. Perhaps some of our readers have heard him more recently and can let all of us know.

"Yes, Emily—oh, isn't he handsome?"
Every time Jack Benny's car pulls to a stop for a Vine Street traffic light, listeners to his Sunday show wait for the foregoing dialogue. Yes, it's Jane Morgan and Gloria Gordon as "Martha" and "Emily," Jack's indefatigable fans, waiting for a glimpse of their "star."

Ever since this whimsical twosome first made an appearance on NBC's Benny show, we've promised ourselves that we'd look them up and find out if they really do feel that way about Jack Benny.

Delightfully Devoted

You've Heard Them as "Martha" and "Emily", Jack Benny's Elderly Admirers. Now Meet Jane Morgan and Gloria Gordon, Two Ladies With Illustrious Careers in the Theater

By Joan Buchanan

"Jack Benny Is a dear," exclaimed Jane.

"He's a darling boy," added Gloria.
"So easy to work with," continued

"Absolutely pie," concluded Gloria.

And that's their word on the subject. Both Jané and Gloria have been in radio for many years. Gloria started in 1928, "and worked for a year, my dear, without pay!" Jane entered soon after, or "whenever it was that there was no more theater."

Though neither Gloria nor Jane can recall working together before, they have been friends for years and their careers have paralleled one another's surprisingly. Both were born in England. Gloria calls herself an old Liverpuddlian, the name for those born in Liverpool. Jane's parents were Welsh and she admits that listening to "How Green Was My Valley" on "Lux" made her cry because it reminded her of her father. Both have been in this country for years, Jane since childhood, and Gloria proudly announced that she has voted in every election since becoming a citizen.

Both Musical

Both studied music—Jane was a violin, piano and voice student, Gloria studied piano and voice. Both appeared in opera and musical comedy before switching to straight dramatics. Gloria's career encompassed tours that took her to every important European capital, and between them she and Jane have appeared with almost every great name in their lifetime. Jane was a Boston Opera Company star—"I've sung everything from 'Jack in the Beanstalk' to 'Carmen'," she added. In addition to opera, the concert stage, legitimate theater, resident stock, pictures and radio have claimed the talents of this pair, though never as a team until now. Both were working with the Henry Duffy players locally at the same time—but in different companies.

Jane and Gloria have both known the adulation that goes with being a great star. "The movie people get it nowadays," Jane said. "And they're welcome to it," added Gloria pleasantly.

"I rem oer being rushed through the crowd waiting for me at the stage door and across the street to my hotel. People shouted, 'Here she comes!' when I came out!" recalled Jane.

"And the Stage Door Johnnies!" continued Gloria. "They don't have anything like that now."

Both agreed that the old days were much more exciting and glamorous because the barrier between players and audience was much greater. "The illusion is gone now, and after all, show business is the business of illusion," Jane sighed. "They've let the audience in on all the secrets," sald Gloria.

Believe in Credits

According to both our stars, radio is full of such talented young people as to be almost amazing. "Many of these young people are stars, great stars," they told us. "And so often they don't even get name credit on a show. It's ridiculous. If you went into a theater and they didn't give you a program, you'd be indignant."

Both are ardent hobbyists. Jane calls her new granddaughter, Mary Jane, and her garden, her two main interests. "I love to get into the earth and dig," she laughed. "And I can't wear gardening gloves—I buy them, put them on, they fall off and the next time I dig in the garden I dig one up."

"You must have Virgo in your horoscope," commented Gloria. "Good at gardens."

Gloria is a specialist in horoscopes and tin ware. She's made horoscopes for all her friends, including Jane. Jane also informed us that Gloria makes beautiful ornaments in tin ware—a very difficult craft to work (Please Turn to Page 32)

Dorothy D. Hunter, 11047 Riverside Drive, North Hollywood, Calif.

Sirs: Whatever happened to the "Adventures of Bill Lance"? It was one of my favorite mysteries. Is there any chance of it coming back on the air? Also, why have they changed the character of Pat Novak? The new Pat isn't as good, and the program has lost its zip.

I also like "Bulldog Drummond," but it gets changed around too often. Why can't they let it stay put?

Three other good mystery programs that my family and I enjoy are "Counterspy," "Mystery Is My Hobby" and "Sam Spade."

In other words, you kinda like mysteries. The sponsor dropped "Bill Lance" because of general curtailment of its advertising, not because the show wasn't extremely popular. Maybe for that reason we can hope for its return sometime.

return sometime. Good news for fans of the first "Pat Sood news for fans of the first "Pat Novak" combination is that a similar series with your favorites started on Mutual, Wednesday, April 23. Titled "Johnny Madero, Pier 23", the show stars Jack Webb, the original "Pat Novak", as "Johnny", with Jack Lew's, the original "Jocko Madigan", in the line-up. Incidentally, don't you think the new "Pat Novak" folks are getting pretty good lately?

Mrs. Charles Smith, 5175 Hollywood Boulevard, Los Angeles, Calif.

Sirs: Each morning's long, drawnout soap operas and overwhelming commercials make it no deprivation to turn off the radio. But of course there is always a redeeming feature. We have several favorite singers, and of course Tom Breneman is always a "must" with us. And we all enjoy Kate Smith. Too bad she doesn't have a morning program of her own in place of all that silly twiddle-twaddle with Ted Collins. Kenny Baker and Dennis Day should have programs patterned after Morton Downey's. Downey's program was a joy, as is Fred Waring's.

And Jack Benny...what a master at entertainment he is! On and on I could go.

"Moon Dreams" is a delightful program. All the family enjoys it.

Casiene Watts, 2120 Third Avenue, Los Angeles 16, Calif.

Sirs: Why don't you have a picture or a story about Alan Young, who played in "Margie"? I am sure you would have many more readers who would continue to read your magazine in hopes of more pictures. You have interviewed just about everyone else on his broadcast except Alan himself. We would all appreciate this very much.

Our last feature on Alan Young was in the March 10th, 1946, issue. That's not too long ago, but we will make a note of Mr. Young for future formating. His picture, full page, is in our April 13 issue.

Miss C. M. Travis, West Los Angeles, Calif.

Sirs: This is my first letter to you, and I would like to tell you how much I enjoy your interesting magazine.

I wonder if you could do a story and pictures of "Stuart Hamblen and his Boys", and "Wesley Tuttle" or the "Sunrise Salute". There are so many new western programs, and we would like so much to see some stories and pictures of them. Couldn't you have some of these stories some time soon?

Would you please tell me whether or not Merle Travis appears on any station other than KXLA.

What happened to "Colleen Sommers" of the "Gene Autry" show? She's a wonderful singer.

Colleen Sommers signed with Gene when he was on tour. When he returned to Hollywood she bowed out of the show for unstated reasons. Merle Travis emcees "Hollywood Barn Danee" Saturday nights and appears daily at 7:00 a.m. on KNX with Johnny Bond.

Mae Boyd, 3162 Meade Avenue, San Diego, Calif.

Sirs: I have been a reader of Radio Life for some time, and enjoy it greatly, especially the pictures of my favorite radio stars.

I would like to see and know more about the "Grand Ole Opry" gang, "It Pays to Be Ignorant" cast, and the Stuart Hamblen gang. Can you tell me too what became of "Cousin Cassie," "Bobby" and John Reed King on the "Sheriff" show? Also, what became of Leo Gorcey who was on the Bob Burns show?

If you can't print the pictures of all the above named stars, can you tell me where and how I can get these pictures?

Requests noted. In the search for pictures try addressing the program through the station over which you heard it. May be they have a fan mail department. Leo Gorcey is still with Monogram Pictures, we believe, and you might address your picture request to him there. Re "The Sheriff," the comedy element has been dropped from the show. If and when it is reinstated, they tell us, your favorites will return.

J. H. Faler and Associates, 626 West 17th Street, Los Angeles, Calif.

Sirs: Could you prevail upon ABC to put "Willie Piper" back on Sunday night again so we could all hear him? We are just one dozen strong, and were much disappointed to have the program taken away from us. Thanks in advance if you'll try.

No doubt you have noticed that Willie is back on Sunday again, this time at 4 p.m. We modestly disclaim any credit for this change.

Mrs. Mabel Guyette, 1309 Bates Avenue, Los Angeles 27, Calif.

Sirs: I'm going to miss "That's Finnegan" when it goes off the air. I got more laughs from "Larsen, the Swede". I used to live in Seattle, Washington, and before that in Minneapolis, Minnesota...so you can see why I liked Larsen. I hope he will be back soon.

NEWS and COMMENT

For Love o' Mike (General Comment)

Ten Family Shows

Next time some radio critic claims there are no programs fit for family consumption, reach into your wallet and bring out this ammunition. It's a list of ten radio shows adjudged as best in exemplifying family living.

Making the award is the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America, which conducted a nation-wide poll. Points considered in voting were (1) Is the family true to life? (2) Is the family democratic—recognizing the rights of others? (3) Does the family recognize God in its everyday living? (4) Is there a high moral tone to the program? (5) Is the sponsoring commercial in keeping with the best in family life? (6) Does the program make you want to have a better family life? (7) Is there a high type of humor? (8) Does the family show an interest in the community, the nation, and the world? (9) Is the home the center of security and strength? (10) Does the program portray the family as improving? Seven out of the ten points were considered essential to award.

These qualified: "Ozzle and Harriet," "Aldrich Family," "Date with Judy," "Greatest Story Ever Told," "Life Can Be Beautiful," "Ma Perkins," "Mayor of the Town," "One Man's Family," and "Pepper Young's Family."

Meat or Poison

We see where designers of the new "Golden Rocket" streamliner are planning sound equipment designed to give travelers recorded music with their meals and broadcasts with their gin rummy. Several speakers are going to be installed in car ceilings, each speaker controlled with a conical amplifier that "will limit the sound to the area of the car immediately below." "Each speaker," so states the advance publicity release, "may be adjusted individually for tone or turned off entirely and the crystal-controlled receivers will enable passengers to enjoy the best possible selection of programs being broadcast from radio stations along the Chicago-Los Angeles route."

All we wanna know is, who decides what the "area of the car immediately below" our speaker will hear? Or will we have to carry portables in self-defense?

Your Cue (Shows You ) May Like

"The General Mills Hour"

To hear or not to hear a radio serial regularly, that is the question. Personally, we're not long ourselves by the sides of the Helen Trents, the Ma Perkinses and the Evelyn Winters, anguishedly wringing our hands for a happy ending. We know, from too many years of the same, that there'll be one

But, from ten to eleven every ayem on NBC, we're fairly staunch earlenders to the troubles of the folks on "The General Mills Hour," a serles of four programs including "Today's Children," "Woman in White," "Masquerade," and the Biblical "Light of the World." If we must have radio serials (and since there are so many, we apparently must) a collection of such good radio serials is certainly the desired end. We like the sensible scripting, the swallowable situations, and the expert acting which goes into each quarter of this time. There are enough people experiencing enough widely diversified problems to keep the action interesting throughout the weeks, whether you're a fan or not. The stories are not fantastic constructions of what might happen, but careful observations of what does happen to ordinary folks, even as you and I.

Particularly commendable is the fourth of the series, "The Light of the World," which sympathetically and reverently dramatizes the story of Man's Great Comforter from Genesis to Revelations.

That a lot of good money and good streamlining time have been put into every portion of this package is evidenced, not only by the excellently planned and announced commercial messages, but by the consistent casting of the best, and naturally highest-paid, talent in AFRA. The entire four-way production, to say the least, is to us a refreshing change from the "Road of Life" and "Life Can Be Beautiful" hash-ups which flank it fore and aft.

"Ethel and Albert"

We hear so many uncomfortable digs these days about the mishaps of matrimony, the folks who "wish they were single again," that it's downright rejuvenating to drop in each day for a radio look-see at "The Private Lives of Ethel and Albert."

Proceeding from the premise that You've probably noticed during the past few weeks ABC's Friday night programs have been spotlighted.... So, to continue ... have you heard "The Sheriff" lately? Young Mark Chase, as the Sheriff of Canyon County, brings marriage can be fun, with two of the right people, this grand little program continues to prove it! Ethel and Albert are so absolutely actual that we have to chuckle at ourselves in our own married lives, all over again. Their ridiculous little spats, their wonderful beliefs in each other, their harried, but so-familiar "situations," are as natural as a walk-out the door to pick up the milk in the morning. As "Ethel," Peg Lynch acts with true womanly intuition; as "Albert," Allan Bunce is convincingly "just like a man." Small offspring "Susie" is far from a problem child, but as lively as they come; turning her oatmeal bowl upside down, sugar, cream, cereal and all, at the start of each unmonotonous day. Slapstick, however, graciously omits itself from the picture, either in incident or interpretation.

Scripter as well as star, Miss Lynch has created a delightful unbroken trend of dialogue for each day's intimate and happily inspired visit. There are no "listen tomorrow and see what happens" danglings, each episode being a compact little story in itself, on your ABC dial each Monday through Friday, 1:45 p.m.

Thrifty Drug Store's noisily "cutrate" commercials are a slightly startling contrast, but not objectionably so. If you're looking for something simple, sweet and not too frilly in daytime entertainment, we think you'll like the entire ensemble.

"Johnny Modero"

All who deplored the passing of the old Pat Novak from the radio scene will be glad to know Jack Webb is again with us in the person of tough-cracking "Johnny Modero," whose own description of his boathouse habitat we'll borrow. "It's a boathouse on the outside, but it's on the inside I make my money. People come in the back door . . . go out the same way. Sometimes they tell me their names and sometimes they don't, and sometimes they pay me . . . sometimes not. A set of morals down here at Pier 23 causes as much stir as Mother's Day at an orphanage."

All through Johnny's almost laconic narrative of his fast moving adventures with the near-underworld he does jobs for, you feel the old Dick Breen influence. Herb Marolis and Louis Markeim, writers of the new Webb show, have done a beautiful job with the story idea suggested by Breen, and the use of high-powered similes goes merrily on. We won't try quotes. "Smooth as a set of ball bearings in mayonnaise," in writing, without the advantage of that wonderful Webb voice, isn't particularly impressive.

Johnny does have one friend in the new scripts. This one is "Dippo," of whom Johnny says, "'Dippo' used to be a doctor, and a good one, until he started trying to beat the income tax rap by listing liquor as a dependent."
But "Dippo" does the telephoning and police-file-checking that provide Johnny with fast right answers, and save him, each Wednesday night, from the respective hands of police and thugs . . in the very nick of time.

Some Wednesday soon put the children to bed a half hour early (the show is not for them) and turn your dial to KHJ at 8:30 p.m. You'll like "Johnny Modero, Pier 23."

Cleanups to Cutoffs

The facts, fancies and fallacies that comprise "Woman's World" daily at 10:30 a.m. over KXLA are announced as being "an information program for the homemaker." Bob and Marian Lee jointly emcee the half-hour of facts from which many outside the realm of homemaking can certainly glean a worthy idea or two.

Under the guise of musical intervals, a series of organ melodies slips across ideas pertaining to spring, love, the weather, etc., that Marian skilfully adopts for feminine fare. Spring naturally suggests housecleaning, and Marian couples both with a tip that if we wear our low heels and girdles while we scrub and bend, we'll feel much better later. And bend your knees, not your back, when lifting. Tint your starch when freshening a colored article. For the recalcitrants to whom just cleanliness holds no appeal, Marian points out that dirt and grime will rot your house away. It becomes apparent too late for objection that Oakite claims responsibility not only for this portion of the show, but for all the good results of your housecleaning efforts.

Arthur Murray's sponsorship is responsible for the "Teen-Age Page" that suggests Junior's early yen to shave is easily satisfied with a mild shave stick that will also keep his face much, much cleaner than the single daily scrubbing he may be coerced into. The "Page" also suggests, of course, that Junior and his pals will take on added grace after a few Saturday afternoons at Arthur Murray's, learning to dance.

To many of us, the idea of cutting off slacks, grown too short through repeated cleanings into pedal pushers or shorts, might not have occurred. Or of making "dickies" out of blouses whose sleeves have gone.

The half hour "Woman's World" doesn't pretend to be the answer to banishing drudgery forever, but tune in to Bob and Marian some a.m. during your work and see if you don't come away with at least one laborsaving device. The show's chuck full of good ideas.

Putting It Briefly

Have you ever wished desperately you were a luckier person? Our own desire spins the web of our destinies. Or so Anacin would lead us to believe when it presents "Real Stories from Real Life" five nights a week over KHJ at 6:15.

Last Tuesday night the story they borrowed from "real life" concerned a greedy young man, Allen, who thought to expedite his good fortune by murdering his kindly and wealthy uncle and laying the blame on his hapless brother, Jim. Jim was a mys-tery writer, and had evolved a plot wherein the victim dies as a result of a poisoned cigarette. Allen simply adopts this idea (hoping Jim will be blamed) and does poison uncle, only to discover uncle didn't really smoke the cigarette, he just had a heart attack from which he will recover nice-Allen, in his nervousness, picks up, lights and inhales deeply from a cigarette on uncle's desk. Too late he realizes he's been trapped by fate. He's enjoying one of the poisoned cigarettes! He labors out a confession to Jim and dies repenting his wickedness.

That idea is certainly as good a twist as we've heard on some of the big mystery thrillers that win such acclaim from 'their avid followers. Our only complaint about the show is that fifteen minutes just simply doesn't hold enough dialogue to establish its characterizations with any force, nor to make it at all suspenseful

You who don't have a favorite tough-guy delivery you dial for, or an interest in the similes some of our mystery shows provide, will like this capsule. But we kind of hate to scratch around our radio dial right at the dinner hour to be rewarded with a fast fifteen minutes. Wish they'd spin it out to a half hour once a week, or twice a week, rather than half a show twice as often.

"Those Websters"

It kinda makes us jittery when an emphatic announcer states "We now present the adventures of a typical American family." Even sugar-coated, it's a bitter pill to gulp when we're next dosed with enough fantastic, frantic adventures to make "typical" seem a term for folks with perpetual twitches and twelve extra legs.

But we breathe easily when it's time for Mutual's brand of "typicals," a breezy bunch of, characters who reside in Spring City and call themselves "Those Websters." Lots happens to them, but it's all normal. And it's likewise good scrubbed fun.

"Dad" (Willard Waterman) is a reassuring sort of chap who has his difficulties, but who studiously avoids stumbling through them with a series of rattling moans and mad slappings of the brow. "Mom" (Connie Crowder) keeps her hands quietly folded in her lap, speaks in gentle "excellent thing in woman" tones, and straightens bent situations with patient, firm humor. Young folks "Blll," "Belinda" and "Jeep" are delightfully played by Gil Stratton, Jr., Jane Webb and Jerry Spellman.

Frank and Doris Hursley serve a delicious type of script, basically sensible and wholesome, but garnished with enough paprika and parsley to maintain the appetite. The unusual selection of producer Joe Ainsley in both support-casting and background effects is in fine evidence.

We even like the commercials, which are concise and, to a degree, compelling, attesting to the selling skill of a better-than-average_copy-writes.

Matter of fact, we wouldn't be leery of having "Those Websters" as next-door neighbors at all, and don't think you would either, soon as you get acquainted, around about 2:00 p.m. on KHJ every Sunday!

Playbacks ( Critical Comment

More Grime

Merely to evaluate its listener appeal, we exposed ourselves again the other evening to thirty more minutes of microphone crime, this time under two diverse format guises. One ("Warden's Crime Cases," KHJ-Don Lee, Tuesday, 7:00 p.m.) carries the customary "Crime Does Not Pay" message through the dramatized plights of criminals who have been caught, while the other ("Special Investigator," KHJ-Don Lee, Tuesday, 7:15 p.m.) warns the public of frauds.

Both of these are messages worthy of listener attention—but both are delivered in a manner we think is lacking in entertainment and effect.

The first, for instance, recently related the tale of two illiterate-tongued thugs who aspired to the headlined fame of a Dillinger, so when they held up a subway station attendant to obtain a loot of nickels, they killed him for good measure. Then they whiled away their time buying (with nickels) all the newspapers that carried glaring accounts of the "subway slaying," and playing (with nickels) the slot machine at a nearby corner pub. All this activity, of course, was (Continued on Next Page) like leaving a trail of breadcrumbs for the police, who followed it sternly, straight to the thugs' apartment, which they found littered with scrapbooks of the nickel killers' press clip-

So these two were shown that crime does not pay—supposedly. (Personally, we were left with the impression that they would never learn anything. And certainly this program did nothing toward proving to its listeners that crime doesn't pay. Anyone with tendencies toward defying law and order who heard this would only smirk at its absurdity.

Nevertheless the program's foreword states that the cases heard on the show come from the actual files of the late Lewis E. Lawes, former warden of Sing-Sing Prison. It is too bad, if they are to be brought before the public at all, that they are not presented in a far more intelligently contrived documentary manner that would not make a mockery of their message — that crime, indeed, does not pay.

The same criticism can be applied to the second program, "Special Investigator." Instead of treating its worthwhile subject matter, public frauds, in a manner to command dialers' respectful attention, its presentation is no more than another unin-spired "dumb crook" skit that relegates the fraud manipulation into the background while the dialogue centers chiefly around two competitive crooks out to get into the same racket and ply goodies on the same girl.

What sounds more promising is the show's offer of a free booklet called "Is It a Fraud?" We assume its contents must be more informative than the show.

On Mike (About Studio Happenings

Technical Knockout

In case you missed "Double or Nothing" the other night, you may like to hear about a contestant bettering emcee Ted Russell when the $50 question hove into view. Russell asked the contestant how many minutes would elapse from the beginning to the end of a prize fight that lasted seven rounds.

"Twenty-eight," the contestant replied.

"I'm sorry, you're wrong," answered the quizmaster. "It would be twentyseven minutes-three for each round (21) and six for one-minute intermission between each round."

The contestant wanted that $50 and how! He was fast with his protest.
"According to the rules," he glibly but firmly ventured, "if a technical knockout is scored, the loser's seconds are granted one minute in which to decide whether or not they'll throw in the towel. That would make it twenty-eight minutes."

The howl of admiration rising from the audience was probably echoed by every single dialer at home. How listeners do love to have a poor under-dog participant triumph! But Ted Russell should get a small shout, himself, for being gracious and immediately awarding the prize money in double quick time. Nothing small about him.

Finnegan's Advice

Guess Charlie Cantor does such a convincing job of acting as dumb "Clifton Finnegan" on "Duffy's Tavern" that we've never thought of him as being a platform speaker. That's why we raised an interested eyebrow the other day when Charlie consented to speak for the combined radio and drama classes of Beverly Hills High School.

Promptly, we dispatched our spy to see how Charlie would make out.

"Those of you who have listened to 'Finnegan' may be surprised that I can talk," he explained. "I didn't make any notes because you know I can't write."

Charlie then turned serious-mostly about the serious side of comedy. "It's important to get an approximationearly-of your acting ability. must have a natural tendency. Either you have the makings of an actor, or you haven't," he declared.

"If you do have ability," he continued, "try to get as much experience as you can. Get up in front of an audience and see how they react. That way you learn timing, a most important factor, especially in comedy. Drive yourself and work, work, work!"

Charlie admitted that present-day opportunities for experience were limited compared to old vaudeville days and suggested that summer hotels might be likely proving grounds.

"Radio auditions are murder," the comedian confessed. "You may be three times as good as the fellow who gets the part. Don't be dis-couraged if you don't hit the jackcouraged if you don't hit the jackpot the first time. It may simply mean that your voice didn't fit the particular part they had in mind." To Charlie's way of thinking, the best way to begin in radio is to get a job at a small station, glean all the experience you can before even setting foot inside a big station.

Perhaps one of the speaker's best tips was this: "After you've taken your audition, contact your people once a month—drop a little note or drop around. But be tactful and avoid making a nuisance of yourself."

Duh-you said it, Charlie!

Les in Legit

It's always been a nice warm feeling to know that ever since Les Tremayne left Hollywood, Radio Life had one more ardent booster in New York. That's why we were so pleased last week when we ripped open a letter to find it from Alice Reinheart Tremayne. "Les," she wrote, "asked me to drop you a line to let you know that he is opening on Broadway at the Cort Theater, May 2nd, in the leading role of a play called 'Heads or Tails.' It is his first Broadway play and he thought you would probably be interested in knowing. We're real happy and excited about it—so wish us luck."

Postscript from Les said he missed Hollywood and THE GANG and asked that we hold a good thought for him.

Dear Les and Alice: Radio Life's staff and your fans in the Radio Life family herewith dispatch our super special good wishes, wrapped in cello-phane and blue ribbons. Come back and see us some day soon after you've made a hit on gay Broadway.

THESE ARE YOUR NEIGHBORS

A new type program, "These Are Your Neighbors," heard Mondays, KRKD, 2:00 p.m., features discussions between members of minority groups. This program, sponsored by the Los Angeles County Committee on Human Relations, is based on the policy that each individual should find his place in the industrial and cultural life of the community based upon his merit, and not upon his race, culture or religion. Guests for future broadcasts include James Wong Howe, Andy Russell, Mary Chun Lee, Spade Cooley and Frank Eng. "These Are Your Neighbors" is written and directed by Dempster Dirks and Mark Keats at the Federation of County Coordinating Councils.

RECORD NOTES TO YOU

BY ANDY MANSFIELD

1 note-no

2 notes-maybe

3 notes-yes

Chord in G-tops

DINAH SHORE

This new eight-sided "Date with Dinah" album by one of our favorite vocalists is a little on the disappointing side . . . Choice of numbers could be better and orchestra arrangements and backing lack what Dinah needs to showcase her individual song-style. ... Two best sides are "The Thrill Is Gone" and "There'll Be Some Changes Made" ... but as an album, the rating is still 2 notes. (Columbia C-125).

CHARLIE SPIVAK ORCH.

Featuring some mighty fine trumpet work, Spivak turns out a very smooth waxing of "No Greater Love" . . . Reverse side, "Born to Be Blue", is rather unusual-but songwriter Torme's tune listens better the more you hear it and eased this disc into the 3-note niche. (RCA-Victor 20-2202).

HOAGY CARMICHAEL

When Hoagy does something, it's seldom rare or medium, but usually well-done—and the novelties "Doctor, Lawyer, Indian Chief" and "Sh.h, the Old Man's Sleeping" (with the Chickadees and Lou Bring Orch.) are done to a turn and easily hit 3 choice notes. (Decca 23862).

DICK JURGENS ORCH.

Perhaps you remember the Jurgens Okeh recording made some years ago of "Cecelia", with Ronnie Kemper doing a humorous vocal that made it a top seller . . . Well, here's a new pressing from that same master-and coupled with another novelty, "I Won't Be Home Anymore When You Call", it's a sure 3-noter. (Columbia 37342).

MARTHA TILTON

Working perfectly with a vocal group (and why not? That's how she started) Martha has two very listenable sides in "That's My Desire" and "I Wonder, I Wonder, I Wonder", backed by Dean Elliott's Orch. . . . none better this week in the 3-noters. (Capitol. 395).

GORDON JENKINS ORCH.

Flawless arrangement and smooth presentation are Jenkins' trademarks, easily discernible on "Linda" and "Maybe You'll Be There", both with vocals by Charles La Vere and chorus . . . very danceable, listenable, and 3-notable. (Decca 23864).

MR. AND MRS. WILLIAM WINTER eased their breakfast chairs up to the snowy-clothed table in the Beverly Hills Hotel. They didn't act as if they'd completed a 33,000-mile tour of the Far East—they didn't until they gloated over the menu and with gleams in their eyes ordered eggs and grapefruit, coffee and cinnamon toast. You see, all the novelty of sitting down, ordering, and being able to eat what they ordered hadn't worn off, for while the Winters were following their important itine-rary (November, 1946 to March, 1947) they became inured to bread with bugs in it, rotten eggs, and other distressing culinary items which make us sick to think about and would have made the Winters quite ill had they partaken thereof.

Your Radio Life reporter decided to feast on what the Winters had to say (yielding only to the extent of a waf-fle and black coffee) for we felt seriously commissioned to make the most of this breakfast conference. Reason No. 1: You readers had been so insistent of late on discovering the whereabouts of former CBS commentator William Winter, and No. 2: both Mr. and Mrs. Winter had so much to tell (two hours went like wildfire).

TO BRING YOU UP TO DATE: After broadcasting via shortwave in 1941 to Japan, China, and other countries where Jap anti-American propaganda needed answering, Winter became a target for enemy programs. Radio Tokyo cooked up one called "Winter Goes to Bat" and Radio Hsinking whipped up another called "William Winter Talks Nonsense." Just before the war ended, one Jap radio station presented a playlet in which three characters died and went to heaven, but were refused admittance because of their sins. The three culprits were: Churchill, Roosevelt, and William

In the summer of 1944, Winter, who had by now been broadcasting to Australia in response to MacArthur's request, made a tour to the Pacific as a war correspondent and it was during this time that the idea germinated for the comprehensive trip just com-pleted by Winter and wife Celia. The idea, briefly, was to visit the Far East in an effort to learn more about the people and their customs, to record as much of the life as possible, and by playing of such records, to promote a fuller understanding between our country and those of the Far East. To enable themselves to equip such an expedition, the Winters sold their home, car, and practically every other personal possession. Their equipment weighed 1100 pounds.

As Mr. and Mrs. Winter tackled their fine American breakfast, their conversation assumed the aspects of a thunderstorm—a brilliant flash of lightning comment here, an ominous rumble of studied criticism there-a bolt on another topic miles away, but all closely identified with the stormy problem of one world. Not one world in a political sense, for their safari was not initiated with this objective, but one world in the sense that we're all people and we're all very much alike, and that if we can be brought to realize this fact, we'll be able to unlock the door to peace.

"We went into many strange homes," smiled Celia Winter. "Their chairs were different from ours, their method of cooking was different. But they do and like the same things we do. The man goes to work in the morning, the woman cares for the home and children. In the evening, the family visits friends."

"They all want to come to Amera," Winter volunteered. "Far Eastern people think every American is a millionaire. The basis for this is largely the movies. Hollywood has done a poor job of interpreting Americans. And the distortion of American life by the movies makes it more difficult for other peoples to understand us.'

AMERICAN PRESTIGE, according to the Winters, is at a very low ebb and the Japanese propaganda, "Asia for the Asiatics", has made a very deep impression. "The Japs", continued Winter, "may actually have won the war on this ideology. Signs of a Pan-Asiatic movement are evident and there is great resentment of the white man. What we need in the Orient," he went on, "is a common policy of all Western Nations."

Winter pointed out the Far East's common problem, caused by most of the farmers being share-croppers, unable to buy land and becoming entangled in a vicious cycle of borrowing at usurious rates because sixty to eighty per cent of what they produce is taken as rental. This, supplemented by war devastation of manufacturing plants, brings about eco-nomic unrest, a sure-fire foundation for political unrest. "We need the UNO to say it'll help," explained Winter, "by sending officials to supervise administration of funds earmarked for expenditure in these countries. This

SAY IT FAST

The double-talk delivery by Garry Moore on the KNX Durante-Moore show in his itemizing of the contents of Little Red Riding Hood's basket boils down to this: "An apple, an orange, a lemon, a lime, a pickle, a pound of steak, a begel, a bun, and a box of beans, a carrot, a cake, and a can of corn, a herring, a hog, a hatful of hash and fourteen doses of bicarbonate of soda.

* MET FIVE PRESIDENTS

Kate Smith is one of the few Americans who has met five Presidents. Woodrow Wilson once decorated her when she was a nine-year-old for singing to soldiers of World War I. She never met Harding, but went on to know Coolidge, Hoover, Roosevelt and Truman. Yet Kate is only thirty-seven years old.

HOPEFULS

Gordon T. Hughes, producer of CBS'
"Your Hope Chest", has interviewed

"TUKE BOX II"

Radio's tallest announcer, Carl Bailey, tells us he has just bought a seven-and-a-half-foot "yacht" which he christened "Juke Box II" after his Juke Box Matinee heard daily over KXLA from 3:15 to 5:30 p.m.

"PROF." ROSEMARY

Rosemary DeCamp, who portrays "Judy Price" on the "Dr. Christian" show, lectured to the class of Art Gilmore, the announcer of the show, who teaches Radio Announcing at the University of Southern California. #### THE CHIPS FALL Off mike or on, Charlie seems to have it in for Bergen. During a recent flight in his private plane, Edgar packed Charlie into a suitcase and stowed it on the seat beside him. Before the landing, Charlie and the box slipped, jamming the controls, and only the fast last minute manipulation of Edgar saved the plane from a crackup.

ANNOUNCER-ENGINEER

Frank Bingman, announcer of CBS' "Joan Davis Show", has adopted 1adio engineering as a serious hobby. Having recently completed construction of a receiver small enough to fit into the palm of the hand, he plans to mount it on his bicycle.

SALUTE TO CRAIG

In recognition of the more than 21,000 parcels of food and clothing she has sent in the past year to needy chil-dren of Greece, France, Belgium and Austria, ABC's Nancy Craig has recently been selected "Foster Mother of 1947" by the international Foster Parents' Plan for War Children.

OUCH!

After careful observation from countless bandstands CBS maestro Vaughn Monroe has come to a conclusion:
"A lot of people who have learned to stand on their own feet," he muses, "still dance on other people's."

Radio Lifelines

The war, Winter pointed out further, has made many peoples dis-satisfied because they've seen trucks, jeeps, and other modern equipment and they want these aids for themselves. Szechwan Province in China, the commentator said, had never seen a wheel until 1924, but now wants to live in the airplane era.

WE'RE NOT UTILIZING RADIO to promote understanding, the Winters believe. They'd like to see public address systems installed in Far Eastern towns and villages, with a constant stream of information flowing into the minds of the natives.

The Winter recordings, which are "man-on-the-street" interviews with peoples in the Pacific, constitute a five-a-week, half-year series under the title, "This Is Your World," to be made available for sponsorship by Teleways Radio Productions of Hollywood.

Explained Winter: "The U. S. is probably the only country where public opinion is the strongest factor in determining policies. We hope by giving our information in sugar-coated doses, the average American will learn about his neighbors. Although American prestige is at low ebb, it's still higher than that of any other na-tion. It will remain so, because other peoples want the things we have.

THE WINTERS NOW HOPE to interpret European life and customs via recordings. We hope they have good luck selling their series. They didn't mention it, but someone close to the couple said they'd spent $12,000 on their Pacific tour.

Quite a recording session.

in. They both retain their interest in classical music and are avid listeners to the fine music programs. "And heaven help me, I keep a diary," laughed Gloria.

Gloria is mother of that fine radio actor, Gale Gordon, whom she terms a wonderful son and a wonderful actor. "I claim him as mine, too," smiled Jane. "He's so wonderful, I can't let Gloria have him all to her-self." Gloria's daughter, a playwright, has just completed a play for coming presentation, "Half Past Twilight". The title is Gloria's contribution.

Real Character Women

Getting back to radio, both actresses have appeared on practically every network show originating from Hollywood. Neither has any idea how she landed on the Benny show. In spite of the fact that both characterizations complement each other beautifully and fit into the show like little jewels, Jane and Gloria think that they were called for the parts "because there aren't really very many character women in radio".

"They are cute parts, aren't they?" smiled Jane. "We would love to dress for them.'

"Long black dresses, little bonnets " visualized Gloria.

"Some people call us bobby-sox-rs," explained Jane, "but I don't see the characters that way at all. I think if I got that picture in my head, I'd give a wrong reading.

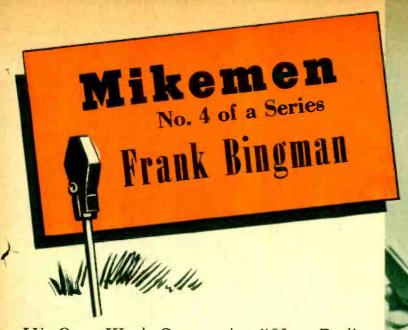

"We're bobby longstockings," laughed Gloria.

"I see the characters as two nice old ladies who happen to be crazy about Tack Benny instead of-oh-

"Francis X. Bushman?" suggested Gloria.

"And isn't Jack Benny a sweet-heart?" Jane smiled.

"Such a handsome boy, too," winked Gloria.

His Own Words Concerning "Ham Radio on Each End of the Set" Leave Out a Story of Winning Against the Odds ....

By Jane Pelgram

N THE EARLY 1920's, in Athens, Ohio, an eight-year-old boy named Frank Bingman could be found any day after school, poking amid the local telephone company's trash heap in search of old condensers, coils, resistors—any old parts. This conjures to mind the picture of an evil aved little projection. ture of an owl-eyed little genius peering from behind thick-lensed glasses, and dealing in electronics and physics terms frightening to the

Not a bit of it. The good-looking six-footer who today can be heard announcing the Joan Davis show was as cheerful, regular a guy then as he is now, and retains these interests and ambitions that led him through some tough times to a pleasant and remunerative position. And, if we can predicate Mr. Bingman's future on his present successes in the face of odds, a still better spot awaits him in the radio sun.

The "odds" Frank experienced in his climb were the result of that period in the 30's when a frightening thing called a "bank moraforium" existed, but Frank blandly experienced its average as though it were plained it away as though it were the most natural beginning in the world.

"As long as I couldn't go away to school, I applied for a scholarship at a dramatic school in New York. I had to be on the spot to audition for it, so I hitchhiked to New York to look around." The statement doesn't explain that, armed with only twenty-five dollars and lots of ambition, he made the trek in four days, and through a completely unprepared-for audition won the coveted scholarship to Feagin School of Dramatics. The training and experience he garnered here as a result of the cooperative system in which all school members designed and built their own sets, made their own costumes and staged their own productions, put him in line for still another scholarship. This one was from the Schuster-Martin School in his home city, Cincinnati. Things happened fast back in Ohio. Frank met a pretty ballet student at the school. He also landed one part after another doing soap operas and announcing spots. So within two years he and the ballet student were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bingman, both working in radio, she as the very first girl "disc jockey". That was a relatively unknown term then. So started their pennysaving for the move to the legendary land of exportunity. California land of opportunity, California.

The film city treated Frank kindly, and consistent radio listeners could hear him on such network topnotchers as "Abbott and Costello", the Ginny Simms show, "Great Gildersleeve", "Maxwell House", and the Jack Benny show.

Long Service

In 1942 Frank volunteered for service in the Army, and a happy combination of ability, previous training and luck landed him in the radar division of the civillan employees for nine months of study. The following years saw him in combat duty in Pacific invasions, and it wasn't until December in 1945 that he was honorably discharged with several decorations and the rank of technical sergeant. It was on his return to his home in Hollywood that he first saw his son, Bruce Michael, a chubby youngster of thirteen months, who had inherited his father's blue eyes and black hair.

Back on radio row, Frank tackled free lance work again until he was selected by a panel of listeners, who were looking for a new voice, to announce the Joan Davis show. To this he's added the announcing job on "Hollywood Players". And until about a year ago, his was the voice that said, "CRESTA...BLAN-CA", that wine company's tuneful trademark.

But on the side, the boy who once poked about in a trash heap for materials now has the unlimited possibilities of war surplus outlets to enjoy, and is happily back at building his own radio sets. As Frank puts it . . "ham at both ends of radio now". He has even persuaded Mrs. Bingman to study with him for their amateur licenses. Probably her acquiescence was a fair trade for his having built the turntable Mrs. Bingman uses in playing the records for man uses in playing the records for her junior ballet or dramatics classes in the kindergarten school that occupies a good share of her time.

IRE HORSE" is no flattering way to refer to anyone as pert and pretty as Helen Eley Hearn, but when you get right down to it their characters are very much the same.

In other words, when domesticated Mrs. Hearn heard the bell to return to acting, she was off in a cloud of dust—ending us as "Tandelayo Clausmeyer" on "The Kenny Baker Show" on ABC.

While not type casting in the strictest sense of the word, the part belongs to her like Mary Martin's heart to daddy.

"Tandelayo," as her name must imply, is a little giddy, a little giggly. Inclined to see the world through rose-colored glasses anyway, Helen turns on the giggles as quickly as a thirsty man does a pump.

Too, "Tandelayo" is the sweetheart of "Schlepperman," featured comedian on the show. And that Helen, as Mrs. Sam Hearn, has been for more than twenty years.

She met Sam when both were playing in the 1916 Schubert revue,

"The Blue Paradise." That was quite some time before Jack Benny discovered the "Schlepperman" in Sam, even before his famed rube character that made him a stage star. He was billed as a Dutch comedian in "Paradise" and Helen as a prima donna.

Helen Eley had had what was then called the theater bug ever since she could remember. Her mother was Belle Nicholson, a singing star of her day. At fifteen Helen started running away from home to go on the stage and by the time she was seventeen had made the grade, via a manicuring route. One of her patrons was a friend of Marle Dressler and arranged an audition with the famous comedienne.

That resulted in a small part in "Tillie's Nightmare." From then on it was a steady climb into featured roles, stardom in Broadway revues and a vaudeville company all her own. She and Sam were on many bills together, including "Marry Me," which he authored.

Platter Perfectionist By Marcia Legere

Into Practice on His Musical Disc Program Goes Don Otis' Philosophy of "Trying to Do Whatever You're Doing Better Than Anyone Else"

Monday-Friday, 10:30 a. m. KHJ

S HE a successful young business executive?" you'll say when he walks into the room. "Or is he a veteran entertainer?", you'll ask when he begins to talk to you about show business with such complete understanding and enthusiasm. He's neither, in a way, and yet he's both, for he's Don Otis, KHJ music man who is now writer, producer, and announcer of his own daily musical half hour, "Music with a Smile."

Don has been both executive and entertainer in his day—and good at both—but the second part of one's first impression comes a lot closer to the real Don Otis, for ever since his very first job—as an usher in the Million Dollar Theater in Los Angeles—he has never earned his living in a way that was not connected with the entertainment world.

It was while young Otis was still attending Hollywood High School in the mornings and working in the afternoons, that he grew to know some of the actors and musicians who were "greats", and it was then that he began to nurse a love of honest-to-goodness well-executed entertainment.

Strive for Perfection

One of those people he met was Rube Wolf, a brother of Fanchon and Marco and "a real showman", says Don. It was Wolf who first impressed upon him the importance of aiming for perfection in show business, "trying to do whatever you're doing better than anyone else"

Since then, when Don held hopes of becoming a singer, he's done everything from singing in theater lobbies to radio program directing, but he's always applied Rube Wolf's advice to whatever his job. On his "Music with a Smile" show, he tries to make more than just an ordinary platter stint out of a recorded music program. Featuring light classical and musical comedy favorites, "Music with a Smile" is one of the few record shows that is entirely scripted and carefully cued in advance. Don chooses the music himself, often from his own extensive record collection, and preserves a continuity of artistry and musical quality that makes it much more like a "live" broadcast than a recorded one.

With the original intention of becoming a singer, Don hopped a freight train for Chicago one day after his graduation from high school. He'd come a long way from that first trip "riding the rails" when a couple of years ago he went back to Chicago as the transcription manager of a popular record company, this time via Constellation with accommodations at one of the Windy City's finest hotels. But it was on that first trip that he met Belle Baker, one of the greatest female interpreters of song at that time.

"Miss Baker was probably as great an influence on me as any of the show people I met," explains Don, "for she taught me the value of interpretation in song, and since I realized that I'd never have a really great voice, I put my energies into interpretation."

It was through singing that Don found his way into radio. One day in Chicago his voice first went out over the airwaves—his singing voice. Finding himself with seventeen cents to his name, Don went down to WBBM to ask for an audition and was put on the air that same day to fill in a short show with a few songs. The ten dollars he earned went for a bus ticket to Detroit and it was there that he landed his first steady singing job.

"Those were the days," says Don, trying unconvincingly to sound like an old man, "when in theater lobbies they used to sell sheet music of the feature songs from the film inside. I used to sing the songs while a girl sold sheet music copies."

Turns Emcee

When Don finally came back to California in 1930, he worked as a singer in a small night club where there was a remote pick-up for one of the local stations. One night when the announcer failed to show up, Don took over his job, and that was the end of his singing and the beginning of his emcee career.

Since then Don's been in and out of the performing end of radio several times. After thirteen years as an announcer, during which he emceed remote pick-ups from the old Cotton Club "where those great colored bands used to play", he became program director of KMPC. He was soon putting in requests, though, for a radio show in addition to his directorial duties, "just to keep my hand in". He finally gave up program directing completely to devote full time to his platter shows.

A couple of years later he gave "Mahogany Row" another whirl when he became program director and manager of the transcription division for Capitol Records. But even in this ideal set-up, the call of the mike was still too strong for Otis, and when he went back on the air the next time, it was with four shows a day!

Don realizes that he's been happiest of all when actually taking part in the entertainment itself. Today, with a chance to put his "entertainment above all" theory into effect on "Music with a Smile", Don can wish for little else except a few more shows that will please the listeners as much as this one does. That plus the night-club he hopes some day to own and operate. It will feature a "different" style of entertainment, he promises, but as for what the style is to be, he'll only tell you, "That's my secret!"

"Another thing," producer Lawrence went on to explain, "we try to keep 'Screen Guild' simple, because I don't believe the listener is concerned with complicated production technique. He simply wants a story entertainingly told to him. We have a preference for light comedy and love stories; we avoid doing action dramas which definitely require a visual interpretation. I read about fifteen movie scripts a week, and have to hear them as I read them.

"We also like to allow a performer freedom at the microphone, permitting him to be in motion while speaking his lines. It lends variance and naturalness to his portrayal.

"Our only problem," concluded the producer, "is securing the right stories at the right time, and catching the stars when they're not steeped in crowded picture production schedules."

As to the ticklish task of adapting full-length motion picture scripts into twenty-odd moments of airtime, this is the weekly undertaking of "Screen Guild" scripter Harry Kronman, who has been performing it successfully since 1943.

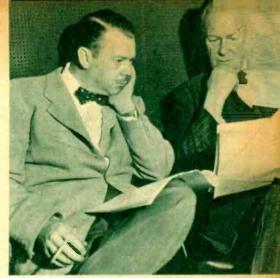

We talked with the writer about this phase of the "Screen Guild Players" series.

Best Ones Hardest

"Every picture," he pointed out, "presents a different problem. It isn't just a question of cutting the script down, but of blending it into a different whole, of writing entirely new scenes, sometimes altering the ending completely to make it more suitable to radio. The better the script is, the more difficult it is to adapt. With a bad script, we can dispense with its inferior parts and draw from it the best that is in it. But a good script has a story line so expertly interwoven that slicing it up becomes an extremely delicate operation.

"We also have to remember," he reminded us, "the stars who are to do the play. In some instances, they are not the ones who originally performed in the picture, so that their particular style and manner of delivery must be kept in mind. This scripting assignment," he smiled, "is certainly not monotonous. One week, we are working with comedy; another week with drama, one week with Charles Boyer, another with Jack Benny.

Radio Cowpuncher

Vance Lane, Western Man-about-Town, Gets Kick out of Crowding Corral With Melody and Musical Cowboys

VANCE LANE, product of South Dakota, has traveled around the world, yet centers his affections on the West and its music. He conducts his "Musical Roundup" like a ranch party.

Monday-Friday, 10:05 p. m. KGER

T KGER every night Monday through Friday between 10:05 and midnight, a bright moon shines on a corral crowded with happy Western music lovers and recording artists. They hear the songs of the world's greatest Western entertainers. They laugh, dance, drink lots of coffee, and eat dozens of doughnuts. That's the picture!

Of course, if you want to be technical, actually the only real parts are the recorded music, the weekly "in person" guest artists, and the holes in the doughnuts! The rest is the product of the rampant imagination of one of Southern California's favorite Western emcees—Vance Lane.

The tuneful dogies are roped and branded; and there's a "bang-up, rip-snortin' "Musical Roundup!" The week starts off with a rosy Monday jamboree when the "extra frisky" musical dogies get the MR brand, and ends with Friday night's all-request program.

Guests Listed

Every Wednesday night some famous guest star (or stars) shows up in person to spend an informal hour with Vance Lane and his listening gang. Through those corral gates have passed the most famous musical cowboys in the world. Smiley Burnette. Spade Cooley, Merle Travis, the Hoosier Hot Shots, Al Dexter, Cottonseed Clark, Foy Willing and the Riders of the Purple Sage, Eddie Dean, Hank Penny, Ernie Tubb, Carolina Cotton, Tex Ritter, Tex Williams, Texas Jim Lewis, T. Texas Tyler, Cliffie Stone, Art Wenzel, Slim Duncan, Curt Massey, the Plainsmen, Ted Daffan, Wesley Tuttle, Jack Guthrie, Johnny Bond, Wally Fowler, Red Rowe, Walt Shrum, the Georgia Crackers, Curt Barrett, Scotty Harrell, Monte Hale, Sons of the Pioneers, and many others have appeared in person.

"Musical Roundup" isn't just a pile of Western records. It's a party carried along with the exuberant personality of a guy who really loves his job and his audience.

Vance Lane is quite the Western man-about-town. He has had Western programs on KFWB and KMPC; and he was the emcee for the "live" Spade Cooley show on KECA. He has appeared as guest on other well-known programs.

He was born in South Dakota, attended St. James Military School, Todd School for Boys, and U.S.C. Since then, his travels have taken him around the world. He is married, and lives in Los Angeles.

His hobby is the study of medicine and psychiatry. He has a sizable medical library of his own.

"Yep!" says Vance, "I've done a lot of things—but none of them was so doggone much fun as this radio cowpunchin'!"

ACROSS THE BOARD: Tex Williams, Dick Reinhart, Cottonseed Clark, Jimmy Wakeley, Carolina Cotton, Merle Travis,

The Simplest Show On the Air

ing in Hollywood," he went on, "we also are aware of each star's preferences and idiosyncrasies. For instance, some are embarrassed to do romantic dialogues at a microphone, others love to do it. We try to prepare our scripts in regard to these things, too."

His working schedule, scripter Kronman informed us, runs somewhat as follows: "Read the original picture script, analyze it, mull over it, make a working outline, decide on the first act climax and the ending, then make it a whole, and work in collaboration with Bill (producer Lawrence) on last-minute changes right up until airtime."

"Screen Gulld Players'" musical conductor, Bill Hatch, meanwhile works out the program's score. For a single show, he may turn out as many as sixteen to twenty musical pieces of varying length that will occupy finally a mere five to ten minutes of airtime. But their function is vital and indispensable for it is the music that establishes and enhances the mood and the theme of every presentation. The twellen of fifteen seconds of music that precedes the drama at the start of the show, for instance, must convey in less than a minute's time the atmosphere of the forthcoming offering.

Having created musical backgrounds for Hollywood radio productions for the past two decades, Bill
Hatch is well qualified to perform so skilfully the scoring tasks on this top weekly air offering, and estimates his working time on the assignment as four to five hours to score what he terms an "easy" program, fourteen to sixteen hours to score a "hard" one, and four to five hours to work out the orchestrations.

In charge of securing the stories and talent for the "Screen Guild" airings are Mr. Huntly Gordon and Mrs. Jane Thompson, of Motion Picture Relief. The stars appearing on the program and the stories used are donated to the Motion Picture Relief Fund.

Conduct Search

"Sometimes," Mrs. Thompson explained to us, "although the studios have given us the stories, we find the radio rights are owned elsewhere, and our job then is to track down the author, or the author's heirs, or whoever is able to give us permission to broadcast the story."

To obtain still a few more sidelights on the production of this top Hollywood airshow, we turned finally to script secretary Claire Warnes, who is on hand for its every broadcast

"Stars who appear on the program are often nervous," she told us, "but Bill has a way of drawing exactly what he wants out of them in a minimum of time. And their nervousness seldom is evidenced on the air. Alice Faye once fainted, for instance, and Susan Hayward's throat became so dry that it prevented her from speaking—but neither of these calamities occurred until after the play. It's that old 'show must go on spirit. Until the show is over, the performers know that nothing can go wrong, because it simply mustn't."

Asked to divulge a few anecdotes gathered in the many weeks she has observed the "Screen Guild Players" from her advantageous position at producer Lawrence's elbow in the control booth, Miss Warnes called to mind a few items.

"When Betty Hutton appeared on the show, her extreme vitality actually had the audience on the edge of their seats. We've never seen the theater become so electrically charged. It was amazing.

"'Fibber and Molly' are so genuine and 'folksy' that someone aptly commented that they looked exactly like two people standing in line for tickets.

"Robert Young is wonderful to us. So many times, he has stepped in at the last minute, to replace an actor unable to come."

Incongruous

"When Jane Wyman, doing 'The Yearling', was reading lines in the script, expressing great excitement over some black alpaca that her husband had brought home to her, we couldn't help but laugh in the control booth. On the air it was convincing, but to us it appeared pretty incongruous hearing her rave over some old black alpaca when she was standing on the stage elegantly draped in black sequins!

"Katharine Hepburn was pretty nervous about her microphone appearance in 'Philadelphia Story,' but just before the broadcast she gave a pep talk to her co-stars, Jimmy Stewart and Cary Grant, with the exclamation, 'Here we are—three middle-aged single people. We just becter be good!'" here's one actor who'll know his video inside and out. He can build his own sets, roll his own cameras (he's an ardent hobbyist in this line), spin his own discs, then march onto the set and play a leading role.

And that's a far cry for the Ohio boy who made his first salary deal for an acting part on a dollar-a-word basis. During that first show, Frank sat and waited, while other actors emoted, and with the walting his dreams of a fancy sum for such a part vanished. Finally, with thirty seconds of show time left, Frank performed. In clear tones, he read: "I pronounce this woman dead!"

A fast five dollars' worth of dialogue.

with him three years and was the first girl to sing the ballad, "You Made Me Love You."

"There was a performer!" she says admiringly. "What audience today would wait four or five hours in a theater for a star who had missed a train? They did for Jolson one time. Finally, up the aisle from the front he ran, threw his hat on the stage and began to sing."

How Helen got the role of "Tandelayo" is pretty much a repeat performance of that seventeen-year-old manicurist. This break came via her efforts as a housewife.

For the first six months of "The Kenny Baker Show," Helen had been a most faithful critic's panel of one, listening to the program with two ears and a big heart. Often she was consulted on affairs of state because of her showman's instinct. On this one thing, however, she was never consulted. She was told.

Kenny Baker and the show's producer, Ken Burton, were up at the Hearns' one evening discussing the new character, "Tandelayo," which, with its two previous characterizations, just hadn't jelled. As "Schlepperman's" sweetheart, "Tandelayo" was to be no Hedy Lamarr. On the other hand, she was to be no caricature. but a real natural comedy character.

Silence had resulted for a moment and it was then that Mrs. Hearn, housewife, entered the living room with coffee and cake, Immediately the silence was broken with laughter.

For Helen Eley Hearn never just enters a room—she makes an entrance. In the first place she is a colorful person physically, with her short red curly hair, brown eyes that sparkle and the freckles of a little girl. Another plus is her gracefulness from a whole lifetime of stage training. Then there's an infectious laugh that punctuates every statement. Nearly everything she says, too, comes out funny.

The three men looked at each other.

"You're 'Tandelayo,' " said producer Burton.

There was no pseudo embarrassment. No hemming and hawing on Helen's part. Her eyes widened and she fell to a chair. "Gee," she said.

She was still saying "gee" a few days later as she made her radio debut. Although she occasionally read her speeches a little hurriedly, she got through without a fluff and never missed a cue. From then on her radio appearances have been relatively easy for her.

Just like a swimmer, who never forgets how to swim!
