Louise Erickson Used to Bemoan to Her Folks, A la Her Radio Counterpart "Judy," But Those New Years Have Brought Her New Experiences, New Goals, and New Understanding of Parents

Thursday, 7:30 p.m.
ABC-KECA

IN RADIO-TELEVISION LIFE'S last Thanksgiving issue, we included an article in which many of radio and video's performers told us of the things for which they were most thankful. Louise Erickson, youthful star of ABC's "A Date with Judy," gave her thanks in this direction:

"A few years ago I was quite certain my parents didn't understand me—even remotely. But since that time, I have learned it was possibly the other way: I didn't understand them. In the meantime I have come to realize I have just about the swellest Mom and Dad and family any girl could possibly have. For them, I am most thankful this Thanksgiving Day, 1949."

In this statement from a graduate teen-ager (Louise, who has portrayed teen-ager "Judy" so deftly for a run of almost eight years, is actually now a mature twenty-one) lie the saga and solution of a painful process—the adolescent years. Because of this, we thought it of story value to look up Louise and have her enlarge upon her Thanksgiving message of gratitude. In addition, it affords us the opportunity of devoting, in print, some well-deserved attention to a program of long-time popularity whose return to radio life has been accorded such hearty welcome by listeners whose selective dialing appreciatively singles out its expertly created warmth and humor.

Salutes for the above qualities in the program must be sent in every direction, for the show's lasting success is largely dependent upon the mutual-admiration society that exists among its personnel. Its writer, Aleen Leslie, talks fondly of the performers who bring her creation to life; the cast—Louise as "Judy," John Brown as "Mr. Foster," Myra Marsh as "Mrs. Foster," Johnny McGovern as "Randolph," Dick Crenna as "Oogie"—speak in glowing terms of their director, Helen Mack, who, in turn, talks of her cast like a mother hen clucking over her precious brood.

New Kid Brother

In the period of "Judy's" air absence, and in the time since we've had the opportunity for a good chat with her counterpart Louise, much has happened to both.

For one thing, "Judy" has a new brother. Louise told us that some of the show's long-time fans have expressed disappointment and drawn an unfair comparison between Dix Davis, the former "Randolph," and Johnny McGovern, who now does the role. "This shouldn't be," she explained. "Dix created a character of his own design, a kid brother cynical without being snooty, wise without being old. It was Dix's own creation; Johnny doesn't copy it. He gives 'Randolph' his own interpretation and he is wonderful on his own."

Speaking of Dix Davis, we know "Judy" fans would be much interested to know the reason behind his prolonged absence from radio's mikes, and in telling us about Dix's present activities, Louise unfolded exciting bulletins about her own recent doings.

"I've been to Europe twice," she reported excitedly, "the first time on a tour, during which I picked out the places I wanted to see more of; on the second trip, I chose Rome and went to live there for several weeks. I saw Dix while I was there, and again, later, in Paris. He's got a little MG car and you should have heard us as we drove down the Champs Elysees, talking about how we wished the gang back in Hollywood could see us now!"

Dix, Louise explained proudly, had long been working with the United Nations while doing his Hollywood radio work, in addition to attending a university preparatory course for the diplomatic corps. He has been touring Europe in his MG, and was preparing to enter the Asiatic states as a semi-official U. N. representative when Louise last heard from him. "He'll be back in Hollywood in June," she went on, "but he hasn't yet decided whether or not he'll resume his acting work."

Foreign Films Goal

While in Europe, Louise mulled the same decision herself. "I seriously considered giving up show business. I got a new feeling being around people not in the industry after being in the show-business world so much all my life. One thing I did definitely decide—my ultimate acting goal is to appear in foreign films. They are so great. But the thing I must do, of course, is to build myself a career of enough note here to be wanted over there."

Besides foreign films, Louise's other artistic enthusiasms include poetry (she writes it), foreign languages (she speaks French and Italian), oil painting (she turns out pictures "too fast to be any good," is her self-criticism), and clothes-designing (she dreams up style-wise items for her own wardrobe).

Jack Lane's Caricatures Have Made Some People Angry—on TV, His Drawings Make 'Em Happy

By Joan Buchanan

ACTORS, generally considered to possess the tenderest egos, are pikers compared to Mr. and Mrs. John Q. Public, at least from the viewpoint of caricaturist Jack Lane. Jack, now limning "Name-a-Star" on KNBH, has had several video shows featuring his caricatures and his work has been featured at the Biltmore Bowl and the Blackstone in Chicago as well as on the walls of the Hollywood Brown Derby. "Professionals are the least difficult," he admits, "with others you have to be a lawyer, too . . . explain the drawing to them, tell them why you drew it that way." People's egos are fireworks, according to the artist. He claims that if he drew Rita Hayworth whenever he sketched girls and signed their names under Rita's picture, they'd all think it was a wonderful likeness. His experience leads him to believe that all girls think of themselves as beautiful at all times. Oddly enough, it's the good-looking people who don't object to what a caricaturist does to their faces — funny-looking ones can't take it.

Derby Drawings

Before doing his series of TV shows,

Jack spent a year adding to the caricatures of stars on the walls of the Brown Derby. Easiest celebs to do, he reveals, were Charles Coburn and Jimmy Durante, owners of fine, stylized faces. Smoothest gal star to draw proved to be Linda Darnell. Most women, including the stars, object to being done profile, an angle where the caricaturist is more likely to find the outstanding features. Jack perched in the aisles at dinner to capture the Derbyites for the walls. Milton Berle, he recalls, read a script to the five surrounding tables while Jack tried to capture him. Red Skelton he terms "epilepsy on a pogo stick" as far as sitting for an artist is concerned. Jack is pleased that Jimmy Durante elects to lunch under his caricature. Between 350 and 400 of the drawings on the Derby walls are Jack's work. Some were done in as brief a time as eight or nine minutes.

Outside of a children's class at the Art Institute in Chicago where he drew pages of rabbits, Jack has had no formal art training. An amateur contest at the State Lake Theater started him on a different sort of caricaturing—he became a vaudeville impersonator-comedian. He recalls that Harry Richman, Joe Penner and Rudy Vallee were among his subjects. Backstage, he often quick-sketched the other acts on the bill, but never did anything commercially with the talent. During a five-year stint in the Army, Jack discovered that practically everyone from the G.I. Joes to the generals would buy a caricature at two bucks a throw. He set up in a corner of the officers' clubs and went into business. Even the vestiges of vaudeville had disappeared after the war, so Jack remained a caricaturist.

Thorough Is the Word for Nancy Dixon, As She Cases the Store Counters for Items Worth the Cash From Your Budget

By Sue Dohan

Monday thru Friday, 1:15 p.m. KHJ

THE NEW stock-room clerk in the downtown store thought he had the situation well in hand until a tall, lovely young woman walked into the stock room and started past him with a breezy "hello." He stopped her politely: "Sorry, ma'am, but you can't come in here. This is for employees only." The young woman stopped with a surprised look. "But I always come in here," she explained, "I'm Nancy Dixon." A quick check with the store manager confirmed the fact, and never since has Nancy had any difficulty in gaining access to the stock room of that or any other store.

One of the best-known persons in every store in Los Angeles, Nancy is the daily reporter of "What's New in the Stores," heard on KHJ each week-day afternoon at 1:15. As an expert on every good buy from household items to that extra-special holiday dress, Nancy is definitely the housewife's best friend. For listeners to her daily 15-minute broadcasts can save themselves a lot of time by going right to the source. Most likely, Nancy has talked about the item they are looking for some time during the week.

Tests Seams

As accurate a knowledge of goods and values as Nancy's, of course, is not gathered overnight nor by simply looking at advertised items. In the stores she visits, Nancy knows everyone from buyers to stock-room clerks and has free access to every part of the store. She does more than just look at and price things—she meticulously examines seams, labels and other pertinent clues to a garment's durability and value.

As for learning how to shop, it definitely takes time and patience, according to Nancy, who's been at it for more than three years. The main thing Nancy keeps in mind as she goes through the stores every morning and afternoon is the budget. She shops for the average family and on her broadcast she mentions only the items which she feels that such a family will want and can afford. In spite of her extreme budget-consciousness, Nancy believes that every woman has the right to own one high-fashion dress, just as every man should own "that good blue suit." Needless to say, she knows

EVERY WOMAN IS interested in men's-shirt bargains. Nancy directs her attention to some merchandise in this category at the May Company. In the stores she daily visits, Nancy knows everyone from buyers to stock-room clerks.

NANCY'S MIKE IS TESTED BEFORE BROADCAST by engineer George Cole. Miss Dixon usually broadcasts from Radio Central downtown to save the trip from the downtown stores (where she spends most of her day) to the Don Lee studios in Hollywood.

For Love o' Mike (General Comment)

Rumors Are Flying

CBS to have another Godfrey show, heard on Saturdays and assembled from clips of his best taped shows. . . . Same net is mulling a starrer for Don Ameche, who is also heard regularly on the Jimmy Durante show. . . . We hear that Henry Morgan is back on the air on a local New York station doing the same fifteen-minute program that made him famous—this is in addition to the Sunday series. . . . Twelve original waltzes by Jack Smith's maestro Frank DeVol will be waxed by Capitol. . . . Ben Gage's gift to the world of disc jockeys will open in February when Ben's Rumpus Room is added to his restaurant, The Trails. . . . Gloria Swanson, offered the lead in a remake of "Stella Dallas," may forsake it for her projected air series, "At Home with Gloria Swanson." . . . Song writer Harold Arlen ("One for the Road," "Stormy Weather," "Blues in the Night") again mentioned for his own program. He sings. . . . Rumor hath it that Judy Garland will have her own radio series, and the deal is close. . . . Frank Sinatra may do the lead in the Broadway musical, "Guys and Dolls," based on some of the late Damon Runyon's stories. At least he's been asked. . . . NBC auditioning another whodunit, "One Hour to Kill." Vincent Price and Ann Blyth co-star on the initial disc.

Looks Like

Brian Donlevy's hit of last year, "Dangerous Assignment," returns to NBC in the Martin and Lewis time on February 6. . . . Joan Davis loses a sponsor in March, but there's undoubtedly another one around the corner for this top show. . . . "Family Hour of Stars" is another to be minus a sponsor. Lucille Ball and her "Favorite Husband" will move into the Sunday time, while the "Goldbergs" take Lucy's old spot. . . . Screen actress Ann Gwynne has been signed as leading lady of the "California Caravan" series. . . . KGFJ is back on its all-night schedule of broadcasting, for which we're thankful (last time we were kept awake with a toothache we at least listened to some pretty good music). . . . Robert Arden has brought his news commentary back on the air on stations KFOX, KWIK and KFMV. . . . Eddie Cantor was a boff lecturer at the University of Maine on show business. Drew two full houses during a snowstorm. . . . Mercedes McCambridge's second film will be "Lightning Strikes Twice," and it will for Mercy. . . . "Earn Your Vacation" now thrown open to all comers—up till now was only for pedagogues. Were they not pedagogical enough? . . . "Bride and Groom" now airing from Hotel Knickerbocker in Hollywood. . . . Henry Russell to resign as NBC's Western Division musical director—and he's one of the best. . . . Elliott Lewis now an associate prof of radio dramatics at UCLA. . . . Patty Andrews has cut four records without Maxene and LaVerne again. . . . Speaking of sister teams, the Dinning Sisters, now in the East, have split.

Jimmy Durante: "I'm just de tool of a sooperior mind!"

Henry Morgan as "The Answer Man": Question: "What are egg sham-poops for?" Henry: "Dirty eggs." Question: "Can you explain Einstein's Theory of Relativity?" Henry: "Yes." "This Is Your Life" when guest Captain Edward Ellsberg realized that he was the subject of the whole program: "I haven't been so surprised since the time a bomb exploded near me on the Normandy beachhead and I realized I was still alive."

"The Answer Man" (not Morgan, but the real one on KHJ-Don Lee): Question: "If one Siamese twin pinches the other, does the first one feel it?" Answer: "It depends upon where the second is pinched."

"Amos 'n' Andy" resolving "Andy's" marriage problem: "Amos": "I done found out . . . dey always makes a phonograph record of de weddin' ceremony. In all de excitement, when Andy Brown run out of de church after de weddin', dey never give him de record." Judge: "I think it quite obvious from the record that the defendant . . . did not answer the preacher's question . . . consequently, Andrew Brown was never married." "Andy": "Wonder what dat cute little juror in de back row is doin' fo' supper tonight?"

Garry Moore, as he allowed two audience members to use a live phone he found on the stage to call relatives in Henderson, Nebraska: "Boy, oh boy, will the accounting department have trouble finding out how to bill that call!"

Joan Davis, on the occasion of Al Jolson's guest spot on her show: "Imagine! Joan Davis and Al Jolson singing together!" Jolson: "She's not so overcome that she forgot to give herself top billing."

The Wrong Monica

Recently we had a paragraph in these pages about Monica Whalen, hired as script girl on Art Linkletter's "House Party," who dueted on the program with announcer Jack Slattery. We were very pleased to report the item because we know Monica and have often heard her song program on Mutual at 10:00 p.m. on Saturday. Yes sir, they're back on the air again over ABC-KECA . . . that laughable, lovable pair, Ethel and Albert. For five years a favorite among five-a-week daytime programs, Peg Lynch, as Ethel, and Alan Bunce, as Albert, have re-joined ABC's ever increasing parade of programs designed for family listening. They're on KECA Monday nights at 9 . . . KECA where you hear favorites like "Blondie," "Ozzie and Harriet," "The Original Amateur Hour," "Mr. President," to name but a few.

In the Monday night lineup is ABC's new Jackie Robinson Show. . . . Aired by KECA at 8:45 p.m., the weekly program features interviews with famous people of the sports world, and is slanted to combat juvenile delinquency. . . . You now can see that very important television pictorialization of General Eisenhower's celebrated "Crusade in Europe" on KECA-TV, Sunday nights at 8:30. . . . The series is being repeated in this area by popular demand. It is estimated there are now ten times as many television receivers in operation here, as when the series was first viewed here last summer.

. . . That's Channel Seven, Sunday nights at 8:30 for "Crusade in Europe."

Have you heard the details of Jimmie Fidler's current go is "Christopher London," which, frankly, we prefer as entertainment to either of its predecessors. "Christopher" is one of those amateur detectives who operate in the city of sleuths, San Francisco. The initial plot offered on the series wasn't too unusual, but the talent behind the program should bring it off as a top offering before many more shows have passed. "Christopher" is the creation of Erle Stanley Gardner, who has no peer at detective-melodrama invention. Adaptations are by Les Crutchfield, who has scripted many top radio thrillers, and director Bill Robson was responsible for some of the best of the "Escape" and "Suspense" series. Glen Ford, the young movie player who is heard as "Christopher," is good in a not-too-simple role. As the adventurous "Mr. London," newly returned from China, he is required to offer Chinese proverbs as well as to private-eye the proceedings. Actually, the program is a first-rate entrant into the mystery-detective category, but Jack Benny is Jack Benny.

"This Is L.A."

"This Is Los Angeles," KNX, 1:30 p.m. Sunday, is a worthwhile effort to make localites take stock of the city in which they happen to live. Stuart Novins, who serves as producer-writer-narrator of the series, has formerly been identified with the excellent "Los Angeles Story" as well as some of the fine documentaries done from CBS-KNX.

The program is formatted to include regular features, most interesting of which is the civic informational spot. Novins attempted to revive interest in the long-dormant Disaster Committee of Los Angeles, originally planned after the 1933 quake. It probably came as a surprise to most listeners that the city even has such a plan (most cities do, incidentally) and Novins succeeded in re-alerting interest to the point where city officials visited the program to answer questions raised by the radio man.

Another segment, "People You Didn't Expect to Meet," is given over to interviews. The first broadcast presented the professor from Pomona College who is spearheading a move to send American magazines to foreign countries as the best possible propaganda and one of the Kathy Fiscus rescue heroes who reported his progress in aiding a homeless family to build a place to live. After the broadcast, we hear, the family received offers of free labor and free electrical equipment wiring.

Included in each broadcast is a movie or theater review, and we enjoyed Novins's technique in reporting the Egyptian Theater showing of "Adam's Rib." The reporter did something extraordinary—he bought a ticket like the rest of the folks and went in and saw the film. No projection-booth viewing, no special preview pass—heavens, if this sort of thing catches on with the press, the studios will probably find their "lost audience."

Reporter Novins deserves the interested listeners he will undoubtedly find; he's doing a good job of introducing L. A. to its citizens.

Playbacks (Critical Comment)

We Point With Pride

. . . To Lucille Ball, who stayed up all night taking care of her husband after his recent automobile accident and then did her "My Favorite Husband" show and gave her usual sock performance.

. . . To Frank Goss, who reads that "slip the swatch in the slot" commercial on his news broadcast without dropping a stitch.

. . . To the "Aunt Jenny" soap opera for offering a very sensible documentary on polio in the guise of one of its "true life" dramas. In this instance, the tag is right for the program shows the plight of an average family when the head of the household is stricken by the disease. Attitudes (and we imagine they are typical) of friends and neighbors are presented. The workings of the National Foundation of the March of Dimes are explained. Even the correct psychological attitudes to present to the patient are explored. Shows you what is possible in the narrow confines of the daily serial when good judgment is exercised.

. . . To Frank Nelson, whose supporting role on the Lux airing of "I'll Be Yours" turned out to be (as far as listening was concerned) the major part. Stars Bill Bendix, Ann Blyth and Robert Cummings were delightful, but no match for Nelson.

We View With Alarm

. . . That the new Robert Q. Lewis starrer, "The Show Goes On," is evidently by-passing the West. It was originally announced for 6:30 p.m. Fridays, now, as then, "Lum and Abner's" time.

. . . The weird naming of the New York wolf in the soap opera "Rosemary"—this unsavory character is called "Don Wilson" and referred to as a fat man. Someone should tip the writers off—there's another Don Wilson and he's a very nice man.

. . . The little eight-year-old boy who appeared on Steve Allen's midnight show in his drum act. Isn't that sorta late for a little boy to be up and entertaining grown-ups?

busy schedule for a popular young radio player whose mike pursuits seem enough in themselves, there is still more. Louise lives with her parents and her handsome eighteen-year-old brother Johnny ("Oh, what a dream man he is!" was her quite unsisterlike exclamation at this point), and she does all the cooking for the household.

"You see," she explained, "Daddy has been quite ill, and Mother teaches—at City College." At our prompting, Louise was happy to expound more fully on her Thanksgiving expression of gratitude to her parents.

"Oh, you know how a teen-ager is—every single little thing seems of momentous importance and I felt that my folks just weren't treating my 'problems' with the proper amount of serious regard. 'Oh!' I'd scream, 'you just don't understand me!' You know, just the way 'Judy' does.

"There was the problem of my moving out on my own, for instance. I felt terribly self-sufficient, with my own career and my own income and all. I remember my frequent threat was 'Just wait till I'm twenty-one!' Well, here I am, over twenty-one, and I've no desire now to handle my own money—my father still oversees it—nor to move to a place of my own. I have my own room at home, fixed up to my tastes, with my own books and all, and I'm very happy with everything just as it is for now.

"Like I said, my folks are simply swell, and it wasn't that they didn't understand me. I didn't understand them."

popped in with a format. On the first sponsored show on the NBC-TV station, "Guess Who," he did caricatures of stars while contestants guessed identities. The big number on the program was a three-face and figure group in costume representing a movie scene, dashed off in four minutes. During the silence, Jack harked back to vaude training and sang songs and parodies.

His present program for KNBH, "Name-a-Star," features cartoons that represent the names of movie stars. For instance, a pair of jeans, minus the "s," plus an oar and a tree makes "Gene Autry." The game is merely for viewers and offers no prizes, but

RADIO-TV

Lifelines

BY EVELYN BIGSBY

DON'T MISS "THIS IS YOUR LIFE" this week (February 1) and next. Billie Burke is the subject whose life is reviewed, and hers has been such a full and fascinating career that it couldn't be contained in one half-hour broadcast. That's why the continuation the following week. As you probably know, Ralph Edwards and his staff tape-record the program a week in advance. I was lucky enough to be invited to watch the Billie Burke taping and that's why I happen to know this brace of broadcasts is a pair of gems in a series that already is sparkingly outstanding.

I wish those who harbor suspicions the show is a put-up job could have been there the other night to see for themselves how absolutely on the level the program is. Miss Burke was inveigled into visiting with her good friend, Axel Gruenberg's wife (he's the producer). Just before the program was to start, Ralph brought her onstage, ostensibly to be introduced as a famous visitor come to take in proceedings. She said she always followed the program and fluttered that she thought Ralph was wonderful and the program was wonderful. Then she started to bow off the platform. Ralph asked her if he might, sometime, do her life. Billie gave her pert head a doubtful wag and then graciously said "Maybe sometime." "Let's just try it out for fun and see how it would go," Edwards suggested. "I know how it went!" she rejoined promptly, and then at the formidable prospect that die-hards keep sending in answers, according to Jack. For the above problem, one of them sent "Sidney Greentree."

Jack is also seen on KFI-TV and KTLA with other shows for the same sponsor, Van de Kamp. In addition to his programs, he serves in the company's TV promotion department.

He is married and the father of Candy, nineteen months old. He met his wife, Mitzi, when a friend lent her Jack's book of caricatures and he looked her up to retrieve it. As hobby he claims his child and as ambition he cites "more and more TV shows."

Disregards Cues

Her extremely crowded daily schedule accounts for the slight breathlessness which comes over the air each time Nancy takes the microphone. Likely as not, she has just dashed into the studio with some hot news on the latest in children's robes, women's skirts, new shades in hosiery, or dresses for the large-sized woman.

Ralph might challenge this and insist harder, Billie backed into the wings. She wasn't playing coy. For when he finally arrived at the moment to which he had been edging, hauled her back on stage, point-blank told her she was IT for the evening and led her to the chair of honor, she just collapsed. With typical feminine concern, she made some flustered remark about not being dressed up (she had just come off the movie set at 6 p.m.) and then proceeded to fight back the tears. As her still amazingly youthful face (the broadcast admitted her to be 65) became taut as she fought hard not to cry, a lot of us in the studio audience began dabbing at our eyes, and when she finally lost her brave little battle and buried that piquant face of hers in the snowy whiteness of her gloves, I'm telling you even men in the audience broke down. It was that way all through the show. But Billie was never down for long. Brightly she'd come out from behind the gloves and flash one of her magnetic, childlike smiles at Ralph and the audience as if to say "Well, what's next on the program?"

WON'T GO INTO THE PEOPLE who were assembled to pass in review on the show, but when you hear it you'll hear the bravos accorded Gilda Gray, Norma Terris, Polly Moran and many more. And if you ever get lucky and acquire a ticket to see "This Is Your Life," be you man or woman, be sure to carry a big clean hankie. You'll need it. Two weeks ago a strapping big guy from the Midwest went to the program and was really in a spot when he discovered he didn't have even a Kleenex in his pockets.

HOPE YOU DIDN'T MISS THE top-notch broadcast which kicked off the opening of Local 47's (Musicians' Association) beautiful new building on Vine Street. Those lads certainly do "Say It With Music." Bob Hope, that terrific person and terrific personality, enceed the hour-long broadcast, and I want to hand it to him for showing up and knocking himself out to do a job. I don't know what to think about Bing Crosby. He did a thing from Pebble Beach, after being advertised as among "stars to appear" in the broadcast line-up. Maybe I'd do the same if I had a million, but I don't think so. I don't think I'd let 'em put my name down and then not show up, unless I had broken my neck. Next time, why doesn't Mr. C. send his boy Gary to sub for him? It would be all right!

The Ear Inspires the Pen

Dick Jackson, 2005 West Cedar, Alhambra, Calif.

It seems funny what just seeing a person can do. . . I never cared for Mercedes McCambridge until I saw her in "All the King's Men" and now I can't get enough of her. . . everyone I know who saw her picture thought she was just slightly terrific. Since the movie, I have had to be by a radio every night at 10:00 p.m. to hear "I Love a Mystery." Does she appear on other programs regularly? Is she making any new pictures? Since mail is so important, where can I write to her?

Miss McCambridge can be seen in the role of "Beth Holly" on "One Man's Family," KNBH, Channel 4, 7:25 p.m. Sunday; heard on "The Falcon," KHJ, 4:00 p.m. Sunday; and often guests on "Inner Sanctum," KNX, 9:00 p.m. Monday. At present she has no movie commitments. Fan mail may be sent in care of NBC, 30 Rockefeller Plaza, New York City, New York.

Charles F. Schoener, 1001 South Hawthorne Boulevard, Hawthorne, Calif.

On January 18 we Crosby fans had a real treat. . . Garv Crosby, eldest son of Bing, sang "Dear Hearts and Gentle People" with the easy and natural style that has endeared his dad to radio listeners. Gary is a splendid actor too and it surely is nice to feel that there will always be a Crosby.

Will you please, please tell me what has happened to "Lora Lawton"? I started listening to this program three years ago and I have suffered with "Lora" through all her many trials and tribulations. I feel lost now in the mornings without hearing about her. . . also please tell me how the story ended. I left home for a few days at which time she had not escaped from a murderer. When I returned, no "Lora." Tell me, did she marry one of her many suitors? Or did they leave us hanging in mid-air with no solution to "Lora's" life?

The show was canceled and there is no rumor as to its return. . . perhaps some other avid fan of "Lora's" can let us know what was her fate when the program left the air.

Mrs. E. H. S., 5870 Franklin Avenue, Hollywood 28, Calif.

Since our visit to KXLA I feel I must put in a word for "Your Memory Lane." We happened to hear it some months ago and found it very enjoyable. It appeals to us "oldsters" . . . I began corresponding with Lou Stevens and as a result met him, Tom Brennen and Lyle Perkins. We spent a never-to-be-forgotten evening with them. . . any music lover past forty would enjoy their collection of recordings. . . also met Carl Bailey and had a most enjoyable evening with these four young men.

Mrs. Ray Danel, 2112 Earl Avenue, Long Beach, Calif.

Recently I was listening to Art Linkletter's KECA show and he had a guest vocalist by the name of Roy Cordell. This young man has a beautiful voice, and I was wondering if you would publish a picture and an article on him?

Roy Cordell
Glad to oblige with the picture, but the article will have to wait until the young man becomes a more regular member of radio.

Fanny Schulein, Box 3415, Los Angeles, Calif.

Recently one of M.G.M.'s most successful serials came to radio. . . "Dr. Kildare," with the original cast headed by Lionel Barrymore and Lew Ayres. The first story was about a girl who was seriously hurt in an accident and lost her leg. Her desperation and courageous comeback to a useful life were attributed to meeting another amputee. Nothing so special. . . The script was probably written weeks before. . . but the same day local papers carried the story of a thirteen-year-old girl who also had to have her leg amputated and how meaningful it was for her to meet a young woman who, years ago, had gone through the same ordeal and is now leading a perfectly normal life.

Maybe one could give scripts or transcriptions of this appropriate story to little Ruth Miller, who had to agree personally to this operation like the "Mrs. Pat Scott" in the "Dr. Kildare" program?

Name and address withheld, Laguna Beach, Calif.

Bea Benaderet is very good as Dennis Day's landlady, playing a stately, pompous, but loudly vociferous woman. Ditto as "Iris" on Lucille Ball's program in a precisely similar characterization. Occasionally, I think she plays a character on Jack Benny's program. Surely there are dozens of actresses in Hollywood equally capable, who would be thankful for some of the work Bea does. Why give it all to her? Apart from every other consideration, she has such a distinctive voice and style that to hear her destroys any illusion.

Celeste Zizick, address withheld, Los Angeles, Calif.

What is happening to the Eve Arden show? Of late it seems to be centered around the misadventures of "Osgood Conklin," while Miss Arden's superior talents are limited to wise-cracking. Too bad the show can't recapture its original cleverness and save "Our Miss Brooks" from mediocrity.

To our ears, the show seems to be getting better all the time.

Edward Clermont, Box 393, Route 1, Mira Loma, Calif.

At long last "Escape" has a sponsor. . . and well deserved but for one instance. We listeners don't like the stubbornness of CBS to insist on Paul Frees functioning in minor roles. . . My salute to "Counterspy." No voices in this program that remind one of mouths filled with marbles. . . Attention all "soap opera" listeners: "The Road of Life" is exciting these days. Keep tuned in every high noon.

Recently Al Jolson and Joan Davis were positively spectacular! What a pair of troupers! Joan and Al more than complemented each other and in the glow of inimitable wit, the two spun away thirty minutes of rare listening delight. Let's have them together again.

Mrs. S. Laiken, 41 Chestnut Avenue, Long Beach 2, Calif.

Please tell me what has happened to Elliott Lewis as "Gregory Hood"? It doesn't seem the same program since he's not on it.

The program emanates from the East and has a New York cast.

Edward Clermont, Box 393, Route 1, Mira Loma, Calif.

Although the play itself was a rank abortion, the Anacin show starring Paul Frees redeemed its insult to the listener in the person of that very capable and sincere actor.

To have Mr. Frees back in a top role was a pleasure and let's hear him more often. We can overlook, to a certain extent, the poor vehicles. . . just give us Frees.

Some time ago, Miss Gloria Swanson made her appearance in an interview which found notable comment in your magazine. The poise and charm and glamour of that wonderful person seemed to enhance the radio with a dignity not often heard over the air. Miss Swanson first shone in an era which I don't recall, but her brief resume of those exciting days blazed with interest and I, like countless others, would enjoy hearing her relate further. . .

Too often unkind fun is poked at the "soap operas." Without a doubt, many of them are abominable and should be cut off the air, but others are more than just worthwhile. "The Road Of Life," while on the melodramatic side, sustains its characters. Many of the performers in the fine and sensitive "Pepper Young" are notable. . . among them the actresses who portray "Mrs. Trent" and "Sadie Mercer." The better "soap operas" should not be treated with indifference.

Richard Harrison, 821 South Gramercy Place, Los Angeles 5, Calif.

In a recent issue there was a double-page article about the police department and it listed the police calls and codes. Would it be possible to obtain another copy?

If available, copies of the November 13, 1949 Radio-Television Life may be obtained through our business offices.

In & Out of Focus (General Comment)

Rumors Are Flying

Rumors are flying about the snags in the way of NBC-TV and "Hoppy" getting together on those TV films made especially for video—NBC video that is. . . Procter and Gamble wants one more TV show emanating from Hollywood, and "Beulah" or "Truth or Consequences" are the likely ones. . . Milton Berle's Texaco Star Theatre is running out of talent, and Berle has a scout peeping at TV talent in Hollywood.

Looks Like

Because of the heavy week-end demand for seats at the Hawthorne television show, KLAC-TV will issue tickets for Friday and Saturday nights hereafter. They may be obtained from the TV station. Other nights it's first come, first served. . . Looks like it's Ben Kline for photographer and Holbrook Todd for film editor on the new series of TV films. Frank Wisbar (who distinguished himself particularly with some of the films for "Fireside Theater," currently seen here on KNBH as "Hancock Adventures") is producing for Procter and Gamble under Crosby Enterprises banner. . . KECA-TV wants to be on Channel 7 seven nights a week, is so petitioning ABC headquarters in New York. . . Peggy Ryan and Ray McDonald attracted New York agency attention as a result of their song-and-dance stint on the Berle video show, and are being set for other TV spots in both East and West. . . Alan Reed withdrew from the Buster Keaton show because of contractual differences. . . Fred Allen WILL make his TV debut next fall, for NBC-TV. They have an exclusive on his services for both AM and TV, and the net is said already to have a choice of several sponsors with one ready to get up $25,000 per week. Allen's radio show is definitely out. . . KTSL has secured for televised showing thirteen symphonic films recently shot in Italy starring the Rome Philharmonic. Films include "Nutcracker Suite," "Swan Lake Ballet," "Romeo and Juliet Overture," "1812 Overture," "Peer Gynt Suite," "Piano Concerto," "Norwegian Dances 1 and 2," "A Midsummer Night's Dream," and more. Negotiations are being started with an L.A. music critic to serve as emcee for the series. . . The Bonafide Mills renewed with NBC-TV and we'll be seeing "Versatile Varieties" for another year. Present format and Harold Barry, as well as day and time, stay. . . Dick Haymes's good show, a swell game, and a TV channel spot not to be missed.

Ashmead Scott, portrayer of "Lieutenant Burke," also writes and produces this exceptional half-hour mystery, and he's smart enough at all three rackets to keep all the long-standing mystery fans we know fooled right up to the last minute of the show.

On Lens (About Studio Happenings)

Author Forgets Best Sellers

One of the country's quickest-thinking authors can't reel off the titles of his own books! On a recent "Who Said That?" telecast on NBC-TV, noted humorist S. J. Perelman was given ten seconds to name eight of his many works. He got seven, but was stumped on the eighth. He completely forgot "Listen to the Mocking Bird," his current best seller.

Surprise Simulcast

AM listeners to KLAC were surprised to hear part of a television show last week.

Tuesday night the wrestling matches on KLAC-TV unexpectedly went beyond their scheduled time, forcing cancellation of the Hawthorne comedy show. A capacity studio audience had already waited an hour for the comic's appearance.

When Hawthorne was notified he wouldn't be on, he did a show for the studio audience instead. During it, Don Otis offered a portion of his AM show, then on the air, so that Hawthorne's guest of the evening, Mickey Katz, and Hawthorne could be heard. Engineers quickly ran a line to the stage of the TV studio, while Otis explained to his listeners what was to happen. Then Hawthorne and Katz took over and did their TV routine. . . "So it wouldn't be a total loss."

The KLAC phone board was flooded with calls, and in the absence of operators at that hour, Hawthorne handled more than a hundred himself. At 11:40 p.m., he appeared on television briefly to further explain the cancellation.

Off Lens (Personalities)

TV Academy Award Winners

On Friday, January 27, the Academy of Television Arts and Sciences Award dinner was held in the Embassy Room of the famous Ambassador Hotel in Los Angeles. A near thousand attended the semi-formal affair to see the Annual "Emmy" Awards bestowed on 1949's winners and to enjoy entertainment by some of television's most popular personalities. The event was televised by KFI-TV, with all the L. A. channels contributing to make the telecast possible.

Dick Lane served as banquet chair-performance on the Ed Wynn television program has drawn such top-drawer comment that his agents are prepping a special TV format for the star. . . The KLAC-TV telecast of Jai-Alai matches from Tijuana, Mexico, marks the FIRST TIME AN EVENT has been TELECAST from ANOTHER COUNTRY. . . Not content with running a chain of dance studios and a weekly TV show, Veloz and Yolanda have formed a production company to assemble shows in Hollywood, with complete stage production numbers and cast, and send them out on tour. Aim is to give the so-called "hinterlands" a look at the big time.

Stop, Listen, Look (Shows You May Like)

Your Witness

Each Saturday night at 8:30 KECA-TV presents a show simple in format, but exceptional in presentation and interest. "Your Witness" turns the studio audience (and at-home viewers) into amateur sleuths by allowing them to interrogate suspects in a murder drama.

The drama is first presented. During this a murder is perpetrated. Viewers don't see the murderer's face nor figure clearly. Then the infallible Lieutenant Burke (Ashmead Scott) steps in, and by unemotional, undisputed logic helps unravel the crime. At this point the camera switches away from the actors and actresses onto the studio audience. A traveling mike is taken among them, and any member is free to help solve the case through his clever questioning of the cast suspects.

This last part is strictly ad-lib, and the cast is at the complete mercy of the questioners. It would be terribly easy for the cast to relax under this fire and, amid much giggling and nudging of one another, fluff off the questions, thereby confusing the issue. But in the most remarkable and frightening fashion, the cast retain the full flavor of the half-hour mystery by clinging to the characterizations they played during the show. A toothless, cackling old hag, should the audience member direct a question at her, gives just the sort of evasive cackling answer an old crone would under the circumstances. A truculent seaman might just be confused and angered by a question. At no time is the cast allowed to give an incorrect or untrue answer. Their wits must work on all eight to hang onto their roles, give evasive answers still in character, and still not tip their mitt. It's the cleverest device we have seen on a television show, and turns "just another mystery" into a man to introduce the guests of honor, including His Honor, Mayor Fletcher Bowron. Bill Welsh emceed the entertainment, which alternated with the award presentations by incumbent President Harry A. Lubcke, and which consisted of Ed Wynn, Annette Warren, Joe Graydon, Jim Backus, Veloz and Jean Davi, the Melodaires, Lois Collier (the Miss Emmy of 1950), musical director Felix DeCola and Benno Rudinyi.

New officers were installed as part of the evening's procedure, with Syd Cassyd taking over the prexy's gavel for '50.

Best Live Show, Ed Wynn; Best Kinescope Show, "Texaco Star Theatre"; Best Children's Show (Live, Film or Kinescope), "Time for Beany"; Most Outstanding Live Personality, Ed Wynn; Most Outstanding Kinescoped Personality, Milton Berle; Best Film Made for and Viewed on Television in 1949, "Life of Riley"; Best Commercial Made for Television (three minutes or under) (Live, Film or Kinescope), Lucky Strike; Best Public-Service, Cultural or Education Program (Live, Film or Kinescope), "Crusade in Europe"; Best Sports Coverage (Live, Film or Kinescoped), KECA for USC-UCLA Football; Technical Award, Harold W. Jury, synchronizing coordinator; Station Achievement, KTLA.

Hollywood Site of Experiment

The first major New York live video show to test film as a means of eliminating the poor quality of "kinescopes" and of obtaining greater production values will be CBS-TV's "Silver Theater."

And the testing will take place here on the West Coast. Filming will be done at the Fairbanks studios here, and the casts will be made up of top free-lance Hollywood names. The recently developed Fairbanks Multicam Process will be used in filming the test program in February.

Frank Telford, who directs the International Silver show which stars Conrad Nagel, will fly here from Gotham to supervise the filming.

Eye Inspires

Mrs. George Campbell, Jr., 5231 South St. Andrews Place, Los Angeles, Calif.

I never thought the day would come when I'd enjoy a commercial enough to go right out and buy the sponsor's product, but the impossible has happened. This occurred on KFI-TV's "Ladies Day." Emcee Bill Stulla was on stage when Buddy Jobe and Paul Owen came out with overcoat collars up and felt hat brims down, demanding, "Give it to us!" A regular stick-up routine followed (which didn't scare the small fry for a change), and Bill finally agreed to produce "it." At this point, I was certain he'd hand over his money and go into a savings-account commercial . . . the boys brought out a huge ladder which Bill climbed, right up out of sight. After descending he turned and exclaimed, "You win, boys. Here 'it' is!" "It" turned out to be a boxful of their latest cracker commercial.

It really had us in stitches . . . here's to "Ladies Day" for making the usually drab and lifeless commercial the high spot of the program. MUST add that the fourth "B," Bob Mitchell, played perfect haunting mood music throughout it all.

Mrs. W. R. Kelly, 525 North Helberta Avenue, Redondo Beach, Calif.

Am sending out an S.O.S. to you to help many of Garry Moore's fans get him on television. After watching him on Ed Wynn's KTTV show I finally decided to do something about getting our favorite entertainer into video. Watched him emcee the opening of one of the channels, watched him emcee a benefit for a colored hospital, and have listened to all his broadcasts. But finally have been inspired to shout his praises where they could be heard. Television has improved by leaps and bounds, but they are overlooking some very good material when they have not given such an alert entertainer a chance on video.

We want to compliment you on both your radio and television logs, the reviews and "Lifelines."

"Your Show Time" Again

Jerry Fairbanks Productions yesterday announced purchase of "Your Show Time," video film series, and disclosed plans for distribution of the twenty-six half-hour programs to national sponsors for network use.

The series, originally filmed by Grant-Realm Productions for Lucky Strikes, now is being re-edited to eliminate the cigarette commercials. Title has been changed to "Masterworks of Famous Authors." The programs include such well-known stories as "The Million-Dollar Bank Note" by Samuel Clemens, "The Lady or the Tiger" by Frank R. Stockton, "Made-moiselle Fifi" by Guy de Maupassant, and "The Bishop's Experiment" by Victor Hugo.

Armchair Cruise

for a while at least, by joining Bobby Ramos aboard the good ship "S.S. Amigo" for some of the South and Central American music and south-of-the-border specialties in which Ramos and crew engage.

Skipper From Calexico

Personable Bobby Ramos, a head-line personality from Los Angeles' own Ciro's and Mocambo, Chicago's famed Chez Paree and New York's fashionable La Conga and Colony clubs, is always Monday musical skipper.

The handsome thirty-three-year-old bachelor was born in Calexico, California, of Mexican parentage, and, as Bobby happily discloses, he was "born a citizen of the United States by just three blocks." Calexico is set smack on the United States-Mexican border. Parts of the town lie in each country.

His first emcee work came when a club the young Ramos was helping manage lost their own emcee to laryngitis one raw night. The boss pinch-hit, and after expending all his natural terror at such a procedure on this first unexpected plunge, took up emcee and show work in addition to vocalizing and drum specialties.

The Big Boss

Bobby's pre-orchestra-leader training found him vocalizing behind some pretty illustrious baton-wavers, among them Chuy Perez and Henry King. His own first band followed Carl Ravazza into Chicago's Colony on a two-week trial and moved out two years later, a huge success. Bobby loves Chicago, considers it his second home, and will never forget how much he learned playing with Milton Berle, Joe E. Lewis, dialect comedian Lou Holtz, and the team of Cross and Dunn.

"Uncle Sam was my next, and by far my biggest boss," smiles Bobby. "I worked for him four years at entertainment centers, then got out to organize the first big West Coast band for Latin tempos. Cugat had organized his huge aggregation, I believe, by that time," muses Bobby seriously, inverting his phrases casually, "but he wasn't actually here."

The years of playing in top clubs and a huge repertoire have come in mighty handy on one of the most interesting stunts seen on a musical show.

Latin or Not?

"I began thinking how many songs are considered American, when in reality they are not. I could probably think of fifty. Bing and other popular vocalists kept 'You Belong to My Heart' on top of the heap for weeks, but no one realized it was an old song written back in 1933 by the Irving Berlin of Mexico, Augustine Lara. 'Green Eyes,' a tune popularized and considered a brand-new novelty at

*For Everything Popular, Personable
Bill Welsh Has Gained, He Has Also Given Up Something. Success Came*

All Paid For!

By Jane Pelgram

Monday-Friday, 9:00 a.m.-12:00 n.
KFI-TV, Channel 9

AT SOME TIME or other almost everyone has heard the old adage "You don't get something without giving up something" paraphrased to suit the philosophy, anger or sorrow of the speaker. Bill Welsh is the last on earth to deny the truth of these words. Since he got out of school fifteen years ago, Bill has suffered some sort of sacrifice for every step of the way that has carried him to popularity and success.

His first, most tragic loss launched Bill into radio. Welsh, fresh out of Colorado State College, wanted desperately to get out of his Greeley, Colorado, radio station berth and into news work in Denver radio.

A police-sergeant buddy of Bill's, eager to see his pal get a break, always notified the young broadcaster of anything untoward. A possible scoop and good coverage on these incidents, should they turn into big cases, could easily turn the trick for Welsh. One night the sergeant called Bill down to the station to interview a bum just brought in. Nothing developed there, but while Welsh was still at the precinct house, a call came in from a nervous old woman, complaining of prowlers. Bill joyously piled into the police cars with the two other officers and careened away on the trail of prowlers, who proved purely imaginary. But upon the trio's return to headquarters, Bill found his policeman friend lying dead, shot by the bum he was holding. Bill's excellent news coverage and aid in apprehending the killer led him directly into the Denver news and special-events work he wanted. That was in 1935. By 1938 he had become head of that department.

Chose Our Coast

In 1942 Bill had an opportunity to leave that hard-won job to become regional director of the Office of War Information. His choice this time lay between going to New York or to the West Coast. He gave up a Gotham war-time whirl for life on this Coast, which resulted in his entry into radio here. Sports coverage was Bill's first, and a natural enough choice. During his four years of college he had been in charge of all intramural athletics, a job he took on to compensate for being kept out of active sports by two trick knees. Today he grins, "I was always a lousy athlete anyway."

Bill's video debut came as the result of another choice. A sponsor conflict resulted in his picking one with which to stick. His radio income loss was forgotten when the sponsor chosen moved into television.

BILL'S GAL FRIDAY is Nancy Wibel, performer picked from KFI-TV talent contests earlier in the year. Nancy helps Bill with whatever goes on during the daily three hours and fills in between guests and stunts with songs and piano or organ playing. (Rothschild photos.)

IT COULDN'T HAPPEN to a nicer guy! That's the consensus concerning his success among people who know Bill Welsh. Bill is medium blond, and of medium height and weight, but there it ends. There is nothing just medium about the emcee-news-caster's popularity. (Bernard photo.)

Again his sports background served Welsh well. By this time he has covered every type of televised sports affair on the West Coast, as well as special events such as the Kathy Fiscus tragedy, the Fourth of July televised boarding of the U. S. S. Valley Forge, and last year's Santa Fe train wreck.

By the time KFI-TV decided to air entertainment for morning viewers, Welsh's varied coverages in television had showcased his abilities to fine advantage. His sports work obviously required not only knowledge, but a quick eye and a quicker mind. His news coverage and on-the-spot interviewing which had necessitated Bill's dealing with the public week in and week out on one of Southern California's busiest corners proved his worth at this work. While this latter had been for KTLA, KFI-TV executives realized Welsh's popularity and included him in their list of candidates for morning host. Apparently their faith in his ability was tremendous, for Bill was notified on a Saturday a.m. that on the following Monday he would open the station's 9:00 to 12:00 daily beaming.

Behind Camera Know-How

About the time this new "vista" was opening for Bill, another matter of giving up and gaining was resolving itself. Bill was working for

YOU KNOW," confides dark-eyed Marlene Aames, talented young thespian, "Howard Duff and I started out together and just look where he is now!" Of course Marlene, B8 student at Le Conte Junior High School, may not realize that it takes long and often hungry years of past experience to gain a steady foothold, in radio particularly. But then she should know, for Marlene's been on the inside of show business ever since she toddled onto a stage during a talent revue at one of New York's Settlement Houses, and walked imperturbably off with a musical-appreciation scholarship when she was four years old.

Unusual? Yes, but consider Marlene herself. She looks quite French, with long tangly brown curls and thick-lashed black eyes, but claims not . . . instead, traces her family back to some gypsy ancestry. She is second cousin to Metropolitan Opera star Regina Resnick, and believes that such relation might be credited for her own vocal talents. Marlene is a coloratura, takes lessons weekly, and on Christmas, 1948, had her vocal debut on "Hallmark Playhouse" when she took over the singing role of another popular child actress whose voice wasn't good enough.

Before singing, Marlene had made herself known to radio dialers as "Bunny" on the former "Phone Again Finnegan" show, then she was

"Cookie," sweet darling of the "Blondie" cast, and after that came guestings on many top West Coast dramas, among them "Lux Theater" and "NBC Theater."

Success on Stage

Lately there haven't been too many radio commitments for Marlene, but she's been kept busy with theater roles. Last season the juvenile thespian was said to have saved the Actor's Lab production of "The Great Man's Whiskers" with her unbelievable display of stage presence. In fact, the stars were noted in a trade paper merely as being "fine as her (Marlene's) parents." Sweet glory for one so young, followed again with a part in Garrison Sherwood's comedy-drama, "Especially Mother," with veterans Selena Royle and George Renavent. Particularly noticed by critics was Marlene's ability to avoid the "stagey" presence so many dramatic moppets seem to perfect as part of their professional personality.

Actually, Marlene is completely unprecocious and even a bit shy. She likes movies, mostly being in them, and has been seen as the lit-at eleven sang on Dude Martin's San Francisco show. Paul "Pops" Whiteman discovered her and since then little Helen Hagstrom, whose daddy was a Swedish chef, has become one of the top Western performers around.

With big and round blue eyes and lots of blonde curls, Carolina yodels from her heart and means it when she says "I love to yodel." She also loves to sing ballads like "I Wanna Be a Cowgirl," and among her favorites are Spanish melodies like "You Belong to My Heart," which Carolina does with soft, throaty tones, quite unlike her trilly yodels that have brought so much success. She doesn't care about pop stuff, would rather don a buckskin outfit and boots and be musically at home Western-like. "It's lots more comfortable," Carolina claims.

Popular Gal

Tagged the "personality most in demand to lead parades and rodeos as grand marshalette," Carolina has a field day when she can get to ride a horse. It makes her sorta perturbed that movie producers always call in a double to do Carolina's rid-

Little Helen Hagstrom of Cash, Arkansas, Changed Last Name to Cotton After Grandmama's Cotton Plantation, Is Now Top Western Performer Who Owns $5000 Wardrobe.

By Joy Hall

ALTHOUGH Carolina Cotton has never had a singing lesson in her life, she's the champion gal yodeler of the world. Quite an accolade for this bouncy twenty-two-year-old cowgal who was raised on her grandmammy's cotton plantation in Cash, Arkansas, and never once thought of singing anything except hymns, 'cause grandma believed all other types of music were just downright sinful.

But Carolina proved her wrong when she moved to California and

ing. Particularly since the Horsemen's Association of California named her the "Outstanding Horsewoman of 1949," and her own horse, "Golden Sun," won the title of "Best Parade Horse in the Rose Parade" for three years.

After Carolina got her start, at seventeen, vocalizing with Spade Cooley's band, she was offered movie parts, with Westernites Cooley, Roy Acuff, the Hoosier Hot Shots, and Big Boy Williams. She's just finished two Columbia Westerns, "Feudin' Rhythm" and "Hoe Down," both with Eddy Arnold, and is being approached about an upcoming flicker with two of film-land's notables.

In radio, Carolina formerly had her own disc-jockey show on KGER, and was an illustrious guest on the old "Pappy Chesire" show, "Hollywood Barn Dance," and "Cavalcade of Western Music." Last year, Armed Forces Radio Services called peppery

Miss Cotton back four times to entertain the troops overseas who, in turn, wrote her more fan mail than any other performer. And of course, Carolina was thrilled as can be, the way she always exudes about her fans.

Big Ambition

Although Carolina admits to wanting some day to get married and "raise a dozen kids," she isn't ready yet. Her career still has a long way to go and she's willing to go along with it. There have been offers to star Carolina in her own television show, but she turned them down due to Eastern engagements. This winter she's off to Tampa, Florida, and the gigantic March of Dimes affair, then on to New York and theater runs. It's a pretty fast pace for her, but Carolina likes it except for one thing... she never gets to cook. Practically every city she has been to is represented by a cookbook which rarely gets pulled down from the kitchen cupboard. When it does, it's usually about three in the morning after an evening's engagement. She loves any kind of ice cream and her favorite foods carry back to those huge meals during Cash, Arkansas, days when the table groaned under dishes of cornbread, turnip greens and black-eyed peas.

Now residing on a little ranch in Sun Valley, California, with her mother, Carolina owns the cotton plantation, willed to her by grandma. There are only two daughters in the Hagstrom family, Carolina and sister Winifred, who is taking her Master's Degree in Spanish at the University of Mexico.

Possessor of one of the most fabulous wardrobes in Western showbiz, Carolina's professional garb is insured by Lloyd's of London for five thousand dollars. One of her accessories, a silver-and-gold belt presented by the Cattlemen's Association, is worth merely $595. Her tastes trend toward anything blue and made in buckskin, and she designs many of the outfits. For night-club engagements, Carolina wears one of her three buckskin strapless formals... white, pink and blue... each costing a cool $750.

Next to her honor of being the only "daughter" ever to tour with "The Sons of the Pioneers," Carolina will never forget the momentous occasion when she was chosen to ride with "The Lone Ranger" in a holiday parade. Maybe this is why all the little children out around Indio not long ago proclaimed "Carolina Cotton Day." After all, the "Lone Ranger" has never been seen with a girl before!

"Cookie's" Growing Up

the sister in Academy Award-winning "Best Years of Our Lives." She was chosen for a plum role in "The Southerner," but the day before the cameras were to roll, Marlene was bitten in the eye by a black-widow spider, and it was touch and go before the doctors announced she would come through all right. There is no trace of a wound now, but Marlene remembers it as being "a pretty horrible experience."

One for the book is Marlene's hobby of collecting doodles, and she has them from stars like Ingrid Bergman (who scribbled picture of herself and the microphone during Lux's adaptation of "Jane Eyre," which Marlene was on); Gale Gordon (who drew, says Marlene, "a beautiful picture of someone who looked almost like Abraham Lincoln"); and from, of course, Howard Duff, who doodles "just all sorts of good things."

But even "Sam Spade" himself loses the caper in Marlene's romantic dreams. She likes the "swordsmen type" like Cornel Wilde and Doug Fairbanks, Jr. One boy she'll just absolutely never forget is young Gerald Mayer, nephew of Louis B., who directed "Especially Mother" and who was the first "man" to send Marlene flowers... red and white carnations. What did she do with them? "Smelled them for hours" and then pressed them away in her favorite storybook... just for sentimental souvenirs.

YOU HEAR HER in dramatic supporting roles on Mutual's "Martin Kane—Private Eye." Her name is Julie Bennett.

All Paid For!

an agency, concurrent with his television appearances. He had started here as copy boy, found himself one day in charge of sales and promotion. With the new video work, agency duties became too pressing, and he was forced to resign. A friend opening a new agency snatched Bill into his employ, where the happy Welsh's duties were lighter and his responsibilities greater as head of the radio and television department. Here he augments his television-appearance experiences by writing, casting and directing client film and commercials.

Somehow the calm, blond Welsh found time to wedge in good, solid little roles in three forthcoming movies.

"In 'Storm Center' and 'The Rock Bottom' I play newscasters, but in 'After Nightfall,' the movie based on a series of local robberies, I play the jeweler who gets slugged, drags himself around to phones and doors, and is finally instrumental in the capture chase." He waxes ecstatic about this rough-and-tumble bit of histrionics.

The versatile Welsh, when pressed for a suggested something outside the good breaks that might help aspirants into video, admonishes, "Be yourself. Forget about being the big dramatic actress or actor, and do on camera what you would do under ordinary circumstances. The value of being at ease is untold."

Bill is a master at being at ease, with the consequence that his fans range in age from the proverbial eight to eighty. Bill says, "Oh, the kids are great about coming up and talking. Almost any place I go I'll find some little girl peering around the corner, booth or counter, grinning at me. But when they grow up—it's Cary Grant they smile at!"

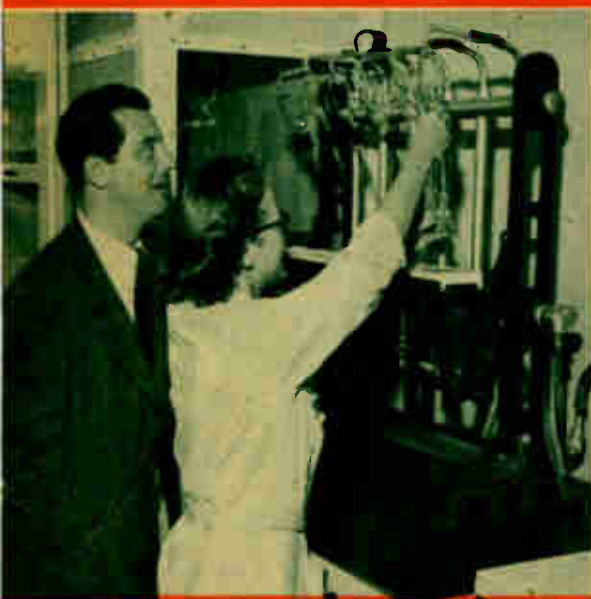

HANDSOME JOHNNY DESMOND handles singing chores on ABC's popular "Breakfast Club" broadcasts, and feminine hearts flutter.

▲ ARCH PRESBY CHATS with chemist's assistant, Alice Nielson, and learns that the plant's laboratory staff is continually conducting research, bettering product, testing, taking bacteria count, making own cultures. Samples of products are taken daily.

◆ LEE HOGAN INSPECTS the butter scale; it guarantees the uniformity of weight of each cube of butter. All butter is churned from pure cream.

▼ LEE AND ARCH ARE obviously amazed at the speed and dexterity of this rotating milk-carton-filling machine, which works with such rapidity, removing full cartons, replacing empty ones, that no fraction of time is wasted.

G O GET A really first-hand look at that which they talk about so enthusiastically on their KNBH "Hello Again" telecast (Channel 4, Tuesday, 7:40 p.m.). Lee Hogan and Arch Presby recently toured their sponsor's spacious plant. At Knudsen's Creamery, they inspected homogenizers and pasteurizers, sampled cottage cheese, weighed butter cubes. They found the plant the epitome of purity and cleanliness; its vast networks of tubes and pipes are dismantled, scrubbed, sanitary-clean and reassembled daily.

After their afternoon at Knudsen, Lee and Arch were thoroughly sold on their own sponsor!

▼ ARCH CHECKS THE CONTENTS of a mammoth milk-storage tank, while Lee awaits a helping hand. Fifty thousand pounds of cottage cheese a day are turned out at this plant, and each pound contains a gallon of milk.
