IN RADIO

1. MOTHER-TO-BE SHIRLEY MITCHELL, popular Afra actress featured on CBS's "Amos 'n' Andy" and NBC's "The Great Gildersleeve" and wife of Dr. Julian Frieden, was guest of honor at a baby shower hosted by pretty Gloria Cahn, missus of top songwriter Sammy Cahn. Among those present were radio-ites Gloria Peary, Mrs. Bill Goodwin, Mrs. Cahn (standing), Dinah Shore (she and Shirley were roommates in their bachelor days), Shirley, Margaret Fonda and Janet Waldo. 2. A peek is permissible when it's a happy array of pink and blue baby things that no lassie could ever resist fondling. Janet Waldo spotted a provocative package trimmed with fuzzy toy animals and let out a "Corliss Archer" squeal. (CBS-Braslauff photos.) 3. Shirley cut the cake with yellow frosting (her favorite color) on which was scrawled in icing, "Your Guess Is as Good as Ours!" Waiting in line for their slices are Gloria Peary, wife of CBS's "Honest Harold," and Janet Waldo, CBS's "Corliss Archer." 4. After luncheon was served, Shirley took to the task of opening the gifts while everyone gathered round to "oh" and "aah." Mrs. Bill Goodwin handed the mother-to-be the unopened presents, Dinah Shore passed along the cards enclosed for all to read and hostess Mrs. Cahn made the who-gave-what notations. 5. It's a girl—name of Stephanie Brooke, and you can see Shirley's plenty happy about her new off-mike role. On mike, she's now "Gildy's" new love interest, "Vicky Chase," on NBC. (NBC-Bailey photo.)

BACK IN TOLEDO, IN JULY of 1919, Jess Willard and Jack Dempsey slugged it out before thousands. Dempsey knocked Willard down seven times in the first round (one of these shows at the right), battered him in the second and third rounds, and just before the fourth, Willard's seconds tossed in the towel. TONY GALENTO was Louis's seventh challenger for the heavy-weight title. In June of 1939, Galento failed in his promise to "murder de bum" and in the fourth round was literally hanging on the ropes.

REMEMBER THE FIFTEEN-ROUND decision fight between Tommy Farr, the Welsh miner, and Joe Louis? The Brown Bomber again retained his title in this August, 1937, top fight.

How to Be an Impersonator

Want to Do a Charles Laughton or an Edward G. Robinson for Your Friends? Daws "Beany" Butler Shows You How

Monday through Friday, 6:30 p.m.
KTLA, KFMB-TV

WANT TO learn how to do impersonations in one easy lesson? The man who can show you how is known to TV fans as the voice of "Beany" on KTLA's "Time for Beany."

Daws Butler has a theory that almost anyone with average common sense can do workable impersonations by following a few simple instructions. The main rule is to get your face into some sort of reasonable facsimile of the person you're trying to be. This automatically makes your

(Please Turn to Page 32)

↑ "DON'T JUST STAND THERE, Bergen, say something . . ." For "Charlie McCarthy," Daws Butler advises you to open your eyes wide, adopt a forced wide smirk and say "Well!" When you start to talk, remember not to go too falsetto but keep your voice in the top of your head and tighten your throat. Feel the front of your throat to make sure it's tight. (At right) This is how Daws Butler looks when he's impersonating himself. He's the voice of "Beany" in "Time for Beany" on KTLA and the voice of a variety of animals and elves in motion-picture cartoons.

↓ "MR. CHRISTIAN, COME HERE." If you have a hidden desire to look like Charles Laughton, try this recipe! Protrude lower lip slightly, then purse your lips. Pretend you smell something sharp and acrid like ammonia, and make a sharp intake of breath. Again get the drowsy look in your eyes. Now for Daws Butler's instructions for talking like Laughton once you have the facial setup as shown above. A slight English accent, of course, then start to clear your throat. Talk, keeping the voice in the back of the throat. Above all, talk arrogantly.

↓ "ALL RIGHT, YOU GUYS Yah!" To transform yourself into Edward G. "Little Caesar" Robinson, drop the corners of your mouth, squint your eyes, and smell something very, very unpleasant. Keep your lips tense and don't move them more than a small fraction of an inch while talking. With the above physical set-up, your voice is bound to come out something like Robinson's.

↓ "MILORDS AND GENTLEMEN. . ." Daws Butler says to place the tongue under lower lip and say "e-e-e," add a drowsy feeling to your eyes and pretend you're falling asleep and you're extremely likely to have a working impression of the late great George Arliss. That's what Daws did to get the photo above. Once you have the facial expression, assume a very slight English accent, keep lips opened only slightly and draw them thin, then talk. In pauses, place tongue under lower lip again. Try it, it's easy.

SO YOU WANT to be a radio commentator! Well, not so fast, young man. Let's get down to facts and see if you have some basic requirements. So suggests and cautions Baukhage, prominent ABC commentator. His friendly, gruff "Baukhage Talking" is a welcome invitation to colorful reporting of the news.

Baukhage advises that there are two basic requirements for those contemplating a career as radio commentator. Journalistic training is vital because a newspaper man knows facts (it is his job to ferret them out) and when he doesn't he is fully aware of it and will not issue erroneous or ambiguous information. The gift of gab is also necessary, for it goes a long way toward developing an interesting radio style. The above are basic, but these are mighty handy too—the ability to work under pressure; adjustment of personal life to irregular hours and inconveniences, and patience for research and study.

"Buck," as Baukhage is affectionately known to his colleagues, calls himself an exhibitionist. He expressed this extrovert's complex early in life. Instead of playing basketball at the YMCA, he could be found reading lines with their dramatic group. His basketball game suffered, but his histrionics improved. In due time the Detroit Civic Theater group found a desirable leading man. "Buck" might have continued in this profession, had not his family discouraged him. Yet even today, when broadcasting news events, he effectively dramatizes the news and gestures unseen behind the mike.

An Inheritance

Baukhage inherited his flair for news from his mother, who was a newspaper woman. At the tender age of eight he chronicled the doings of his pets—a mischievous dog and an impish cat. Family and friends were faithful subscribers to this weekly newsletter, out of loyalty if for no other reason. After graduation from the University of Chicago, he grasped the opportunity to travel and study abroad. Concentrating on the people, customs and cultures of Germany and France, he enriched his background immeasurably. His driftings ended with a job as Paris correspondent for the London Pall Mall Gazette. Journalistic training during this era covered all phases of newspaper publishing—reporting, rewrite, layout, editing, and type setting. Today's aspirant should secure a job with a small-town newspaper in order to acquire over-all knowledge before setting out for a metropolitan paper or radio commentating, Baukhage says.

The transition from news scribe to radio commentator was made unintentionally by this ace reporter. One day while writing a five-minute news script for the Department of Agriculture's "Farm and Home Hour," a hurried substitution of Baukhage for the absent radio announcer sent "Buck" on his radio way. Today, his conversational and very descriptive style of reporting accurately reflects his years of experience, and listeners confidently set their dials to the voice saying "Baukhage Talking."

◀ JOURNALIST, traveler, actor, commentator—all these accomplishments may be credited to ABC's H. R. Baukhage.

▲ BIRD LOVER BAUKHAGE DISPLAYS A NEW BIRD FEEDER sent him by a North Carolina listener. Idea of the gadget is to permit small birds to feed from it while holding out on the grub from squirrels and other marauders.

▲ MALE MODERATOR OF "WOMEN'S FORUM" is Stuart Novins, who researches for the topics discussed, changes the tone of his voice when female tempers start to mount. Topic he most enjoyed moderating was "The New Look in Women's Fashions," because it was the only time he didn't keep his opinions to himself.

realtor, who soon regretted her optimistic generalization.

"Another topic, on the lighter side, that turned into a hot debate was 'Should Husbands and Wives Take Separate Vacations?' On each side, we had one newlywed and one veteran of some years of wedded bliss. All of them had plenty to say on the subject—pro and con."

Giving us a run-down on the topics which have been carefully hashed out by competent feminine spokesmen on KNX's "Women's Forum" was the series' male moderator, Stuart Novins.

Men Listen

It is Novins who researches on issues of public concern and selects the topics to be discussed on the forum program. To some extent he must predict what the news will be ahead of time. Many times, too, topics are suggested in the show's listener mail.

Surprising factor about the mail, he revealed, is that a good fifty per cent of it comes from men, none of whom takes a condescending attitude toward the female handling of a vital public issue. The women who appear on the forum, Novins reported, usually prove to be very well

THE TOPICS you might think would be dynamite to discuss are often those that our debaters take an academic approach to, with the result that those shows are lively but others are livelier. For instance, a recent topic was 'Should We Drop the Atom Bomb in Korea?' A hotter issue would be hard to find, but still it was one on which our debaters took a spectator's view and treated objectively. Local issues, in which our discussion participants are more directly involved at present, result in bigger verbal fireworks. Two that turned out to be among the biggest verbal battles ever staged on 'Women's Forum' were local issues, 'Should Mayor Bowron Be Recalled?' and 'Should We Wipe Out Local Rent Controls?' On the latter, things really got lively when a realtor speaking on the affirmative side off-handedly remarked, 'Why, I know where there are lots of low priced apartments. The switchboard was immediately swamped with calls from eager would be tenants and the mail that poured in was turned over to the informed on the subject at hand and able to take their stand most effectively. Topics the women have proven to be best informed about are, again, the rent-control issue and the goings-on of the United Nations. Best qualification a "Women's Forum" participant can offer is personal ex-

This Week in TV

In & Out of Focus (General Comment)

Rumors Are Flying

Baseballer Jackie Robinson and his wife are rumored as being considered for a TV show, probably. . . . A series of half-hour telefilms titled "Famous Fairy Tales" is being considered by Burl Ives. The stanzas are musical dramatizations of famous fables. . . . A rumor is around about the "Tugboat Annie" series being readied for television. . . . "Juvenile Jury" is another being readied or currently filmed (by this time) for television release. . . . Admiral must be happy with the way their Los Angeles Rams football games (KNBH, last winter) came out, for it is rumored they have picked up TV rights to the Chicago Golden Gloves finals in March, International Golden Gloves finals later in March, and the College All-Star Pro champs football game in August. . . . Imogene Coca is turning down Hollywood offers, we hear, and this isn't a bit surprising.

Looks Like

Looks like CBS-TV, too, is going to rotate top comic properties. Unlike NBC-TV, which concentrates on personalities, CBS-TV is planning on airing shows ("My Friend Irma," "Life With Luigi," "My Favorite Husband" and "Our Miss Brooks") under the "Fun for the Family" banner next fall. Shows will be done from here, kinied or filmed for the East, and will each appear once per four weeks. . . . Milton Berle still holds the lead in the national Nielsen rating, but NBC-TV's "Comedy Hour" is next behind him, and only four points off. . . . At last, and through the courtesy of Blatz Brewing Company, the public is to see the secretive, loudly praised, still unseen film video series of "Amos 'n' Andy." These half-hour shows are to be filmed in Hollywood. Godsen and Correll won't do the two leads—but will write and produce while Alvin Childress, Spencer Williams, Jr., and Tim Moore take the leads. From the radio show come Johnny Lee, Ernestine Wade and Jester Hairston. . . . Baseball, on TV, may go the way of basketball. Both the Angels and the Stars want what seem small fortunes, in this day of local TV, for their teams' diamond antics. But who knows? Someone may get up the nut, and sports fans can spend all spring watching baseball again. . . . Looks like Met opera star Robert Merrill has become a regular TV commuter. He has to fly to New York every Saturday night for his NBC-TV "Show of Shows" programs, while playing concerts throughout the Middle West and East. . . . Looks like we can start watching for Dick Haymes on the Ed Sullivan "Toast of the Town" again (he does his second for Sullivan in New York on February 11, to be seen here later); and for Allan Jones on a brand-new "Mr. and Mrs." show he is planning with his actress-wife, Irene Hervey. . . . Maestro Frank DeVol has been signed by United Television Programs, Inc., as music consultant, and will handle all musical TV films for the national distribution organization, helping select song, dramatic themes and background music for the video releases.

Looks like we may soon be seeing a Henry Morgan TV show. Campbell Soup canceled its portion of the Jack Carter show on Saturday nights, NBC-TV, and bought more time on the net for the Morgan TV time. . . . Another daytime serial may bow here this month. "Hawkins Falls" is the repellent name of the strip, and should it live up to the awful potentialities contained therein it will no doubt be the most popular five-a-weeker on the air! Colgate is competing with itself, Colgate, by buying the same time over at CBS for the same show, to be heard on the air instead of being seen on TV. . . . Ed Sullivan has moved into the big time, money-wise. He signed on a fifty-week-per-year basis. . . . "Cavalcade of America," one of our finest radio shows, is being set up in test form for TV, by DuMont. Four films, with budgets of around $20,000 and an added five thousand for commercials, are in the hopper. Stories of early Americana, its highlights and outstanding personalities, typical of radio "Cavalcade," are being made into TV's by Jack Chertok at the Roach Studios.

Red-Feather Dollars

Tuesday, 9:45 p.m.
KFI-TV, Channel 9

Do you ever wonder about the destinations and amounts of the dollars you give to the Community Chest? On what basis they are distributed among the 155 worthy Red Feather services? You have a chance to find out on Tuesday, February 13, at 9:45 at night.

An actual budget session will be presented by KFI-TV, on which the financial needs of children's hospitals will be treated. The whole issue will be examined before the public's eyes, particularly the problems of how to meet hospitals' known minimum financial requirements for medical, surgical and orthopedic treatment of an estimated 21,000 children during the next year.

Bernard Giannini will head the Budget Committee for the Community Chest and will hear various executives of the children's hospitals, aided by committees made up of prominent citizens.

Budget hearings are always open, but few people realize this. That is one reason the Chest is bringing this interesting feature to contributors to their organization.

This is a one-time feature.

Television Ownership Nationwide

Hugh M. Beville, Jr., NBC Director of Plans and Research, announced that as of January 1, 1951, there were 16,549,500 television sets in the United States.

This estimate represents a gain of 704,200 sets installed during December. Set sales during 1950 totaled 6,600,000, which means that better than three out of every five television families bought their sets during 1950.

Every fourth family in the United States now owns a TV receiver, and two out of five families living within the service areas of television have sets. New York leads with an estimated 2,050,000 TV families.

"Curious Camera"

Monday through Friday, 3 p.m.
KNBH, Channel 4

Emcee John Wald, the Richfield Reporter, takes the roving camera to the scene of the crime on his timely video show. Camera plus Wald's pleasing emcee manner add up to an interesting offering for viewers.

Our viewing time last week took us to the Pan-Pacific Auditorium to hear tennis talk and watch some of the giants in the sport bat the ball around. Bobby Riggs, tennis star of great fame, was Wald's main guest and aid on the show. He talked generously about tennis days and the men and women who had reached the top in that field.

Bobby Riggs was one of the most gracious and enthusiastic guest stars we have seen in many a viewing. There was none of the awkwardness so obvious in non-professionals apparent in his performance.

Jack Kramer, whom Riggs describes as the greatest player of all time, was brought before the cameras. Kramer also went through the paces on the tennis court. Nancy Chaffee, one of the most promising women amateurs, was delightful in front of the camera and in a practice session.

Both narration and camera blended beautifully as Wald and Riggs (out of camera view) followed the bouncing tennis ball and vigorous players around the court in practice games. When the court champs came up for close-ups they demonstrated in detail how to do a backhand, forehand and service. Pancho Seguras, the South American top tennis man, gave the viewer a fine picture of his double-handed shot.

From our first viewing of "Curious Camera" we assume that John Wald will travel the high roads and the low roads to get interesting on-the-spot coverage for afternoon video fans. If this is true we will be setting our channel finder to his time, so he can brief us on timely events and because we like his easy, comfortable emcee manner. We suggest you take a daily glance into the "Curious Camera" for better-than-average television material.

"Just Kids"

Saturday, 4:00 p.m.
KLAC-TV, Channel 13

Remember the "Our Gang" comedies? The same spirit, sans raggedy costumes, has been brought to TV by a fellow named Chubby Roland.

Each Saturday afternoon the back-yard activity begins at Roland's. His place is complete with high board fence, is open every week to kids from all parts of the city who want to participate in the TV show, and is definitely not for the three P's—precocious, precious and professional—children whose eager mamas are trying to turn them into investments.

"Just Kids" is exactly what the title implies. Youngsters who have no particular talents but who enjoy playing competitive games and being just themselves no matter what happens, show up here. Chubby takes their collective personalities and blends them into an unusually entertaining TV show for both adults and kids to watch. Children come from more than 100 Los Angeles city playgrounds.

Chubby sees that prizes go to children who win the various contests on the show; good ones, too. And he continually stresses the spirit of fair play, giving every youngster, regardless of race, creed or color, an equal opportunity to participate. Roland actually conducts a miniature democracy-in-action program.

Chubby, who has three children of his own, gets many of his show ideas from them, having discovered that youngsters themselves know what kind of entertainment they enjoy best. He often asks his kids for their opinions before trying out a new game.

When he's not working on his TV show, Chubby Roland makes personal appearances at the city's playgrounds and theaters.

He also stages a weekly morning kids' matinee at the Alto Theater, 89th Street and Western Avenue in Los Angeles, in the first of a series of such Saturday a.m.-ers throughout the metropolitan area.

If you like children, you'll like watching Chubby Roland and his "Just Kids" troupe each Saturday afternoon at play.

"KTTV Newsreel"

Monday-Friday, 12:00, 7:30, 10:05 p.m.
KTTV, Channel 11

From the scene to the screen becomes a reality when the KTTV Newsreel is viewed by the armchair set. Their eighteen-man staff, which comprises this news-gathering unit, is the largest of its kind in the country. Bob Allison, former member of the Los Angeles Times' editorial department, is producer of the show. George Martin, Jr., narrates the day's events in a comprehensive manner. His tempo and voice quality make for pleasant listening.

The staff specializes in local news and takes pride in the rapid manner with which the news is transmitted from the scene to the screen. The photographers gather the latest news leads by using the facilities of the L. A. Times and the Associated Press wire services. Then they speed to the spot to record the happenings on their ever-sharp lenses. In many instances the latest local news reaches television viewers before the newspapers have had a chance to "hit the streets" with these stories.

The KTTV Newsreel covers national and international events as well as local news, and holds exclusive television newsreel rights in Korea. Red Humphrey covers the Korean situation, and his film footage is shown by at least thirty other video stations throughout the country.

Bob Allison stresses timeliness in his reporting. He will often insert stills to accompany current news commentaries rather than wait for footage to arrive from the East.

To supplement their daily telenewscasts, KTTV has a weekly news roundup on Sundays at 10:30 p.m. If you're a news fan, and who isn't these days with world-shaping events occurring every minute of every day, select Channel 11 for the latest news scheduled three times daily.

personable young husband. Their Tuesday guest lists on "New York Close-Up" include scientists, authors, theatrical personalities, politicians and sports figures of national importance, and the stories on all should be interesting tales, if well told.

We can't fathom why the show became so dull. The McCrary delivery was to a great extent pretty slow . . . almost halting. But that wouldn't slow the whole show up. Anyway, McCrary once acted as commentator, writer and director for a series of newsreels made for Pathe Films. He must be good. He was also head of public relations for B-29 operations in the Pacific. That takes some agility of both thought and tongue.

We eagerly await the next chapter in this series. We'd like to join the ranks of Falkenburg and McCrary fans —so are trying desperately not to judge on the dubious merits of this first slow half hour.

"Tiny Stowe's All-Star Minstrels"

Saturday, 7:00 p.m.
KTTV, Channel 11

Some months ago McMahan's Furniture Stores (on KTTV) presented a weekly minstrel who was billed as just about the biggest thing to feature a couple of end men.

Now KTTV presented another minstrel show billed in the same way. To us, this second looks like the first brought to life. We are sure the end men were Elmo and Harrison ("Peenie" Elmo and Bud Harrison, that is) and we are equally sure we have heard their routine again and again.

The singers were Ruth Gordon, Gloria Genee, and bass-baritone Bill Roberts, with Jimmy Alexander guesting.

A cast of over thirty, including the orchestra and chorus, provided specialties, and in this word "specialties" lies the part of the Stowe Minstrels we most enjoyed. When blues were in order, a specialist in "blues" did them. When dancing was the order of the moment, specialists danced. And certainly "Tiny" Stowe is a special sort of interlocutor!

"Tiny Stowe's All-Star Minstrels," while not the most spectacular show of its type ever presented, fulfills the need nicely for a show of its type and provides a jolly, varied musical fare. The bill went smoothly and moved along at an average pace. As long as you're looking at TV at the above time, you can't go wrong by spending the half hour here.

We Point With Pride

. . . To the Dave Garroway Show for many things, but particularly for Dave's take-off on opera (January 28). This was one of the most unique skits we've viewed to date. The camera was focused on the prompter, who was munching upon a sandwich while performing his duties. Only the legs of the operatic stars were visible. Their feet accentuated the sound of their vocal emotings, while the prompter's facial contortions revealed their dramatic frenzy. This mirroring of their efforts by the prompter was "terrific."

. . . Not all commercials hold the eye. For that reason the Ken-L-Ration blurb inserted into "Zoo Parade" deserves a prideful point. Elegantly executed dog drawings, a wealth of imagination, and a hilarious voice track!

. . . We also point with pride to Lee Hogan's second-anniversary show, held on KNBH. It was a cheery sort of show. Lee herself matched her graciousness by looking lovely; her guests were jolly and projected well; and the whole informal occasion came off triumphantly. Here's a gal with real charm.

. . . While we on the staff of TV-Radio Life all just happened to miss the telecast, letters and word-of-mouth and telephone messages regarding KTLA's "City at Night" telecast covering the Kabat-Kaiser Institute have prompted us to point at it with pride. To the TV screen came as much of the work of the Kaiser Institute as the camera could catch, and out of the bedside interviews and peeks at things scientific came a new high in TV coverage. It seems the Kaiser Industries played a big part in clearing and helping with this show. To them, too, we point with pride.

. . . To KNBH's coverage of the Griffith Park Zoo one

tained with bits of legerdemain and lore, and finally the show passed on to focus almost entirely on two of our Army Air Force members and the story of their miraculous escapes during jet tests in long flight.

Jinx is an exquisite-looking girl. Tex is an extremely afternoon last week when "Curious Camera" went up to introduce viewers to dwellers. Close shots make a world of difference in a coverage of this sort, and there were plenty of them. Half the fun of a zoo visit is a good close look.

We View With Alarm

We don't want to sound overly conservative, but good taste seems to dictate that the heavier a girl is, the more clothing is in order. Recently on Bob Shannon's Varieties (KFI-TV) two former vaudevillians pranced around in partial undress—one in halter and shorts, the other in rompers. Each girl must have tipped the scales at 250 or 300. That degree of avoirdupois looks better clothed, no matter how fond Bob's reminiscences of the girls may have been! . . . Ina Ray Hutton is another who from time to time could do with some clothes. She has a lovely figure, for the most part, and attracts a lot of attention with her gowns; and we are glad for the girl who can break ballroom attendance records, but she could probably do all those things without the really frightening necklines, or lack of them, that seem to be adopted by the maestro miss lately. . . . To Milton DeLugg's nowhere antics on "Broadway Open House," a show packed with talent and delights. Milton should, for our dough, stick to his accordion and leave more time for the too infrequent visits of Wally Cox, the hilarious timid one.

On Lens (About Studio Happenings)

Can't Please Them All

KECA-TV, ABC-TV's local outlet on Channel 7, sent us the following amusing incidental bit:

For some time now, kinescope cities have been complaining about receiving holiday shows two weeks or more after the holidays passed. To avoid this, Monte Proser, producer of "Holiday Hotel," slated his Christmas show two weeks early so that it would reach the delayed cities on the right days. Even then it just went to prove you can't please all of the people all of the time.

For, following the December 21 live telecast in New York, Proser received a call at the studio from an irate woman who demanded, "Aren't you a patriot? Don't you know this is Christmas week, and everybody is supposed to present a Christmas show?"

After Proser obligingly tried to explain about recordings, the woman screamed, "Don't tell me your problems! It's Christmas and everybody does a Christmas show!" punctuating the last sentence by slamming the phone in Proser's ear.

"The Great Escape"

On Sunday, February 11, KNBH's presentation of "The Philco Television Playhouse" is a drama titled "The Great Escape." The story deals with the combined efforts of 2000 men in the German prison camp Stalag Luft III and the year and a half spent tunneling their way under the prison compound. Seventy-six of the armen escaped, all but two of whom were captured and put to death.

While the dramatization will assume proportions seldom seen in television, this harrowing tale will be of greater interest to the West Coasters (Southern California) who have already caught one or more of the numerous appearances made by Captain Kimball of The Acceptance Department of the Army Air Corps operating at a base near Los Angeles. Captain Kimball was one of the prisoners of Stalag Luft III.

When the story line of the Philco presentation reached KNBH from New York, the station thought it might be interesting to see if they could locate any survivors of this camp. In locating Captain Kimball, they found a perfect guest for the cameras on other channel 4 shows. who think they can list all of the prizes seen on the screen will be asked to send a postal card to Ralph Edwards with their name, address and telephone. On February 15, and every week thereafter until the contest closes, three persons will be called during the program by Edwards and asked to list the prizes. They must be able to list every item. The person giving the complete list wins all the items.

With emphasis so strongly on the news these days, another important West Coast advertiser . . . Ben Hur Products, Inc. . . has taken over sponsorship of one of KECA's topnotch news shows . . . Bob Garred at 7:30 a.m., heard Monday through Friday. Ben Hur will bankroll the Garred news three mornings a week over thirty ABC Pacific stations for 52 weeks. News by Bob Garred is also a feature of KECA's Monday thru Friday night schedule at 10 o'clock. In fact, at ABC's Los Angeles station, news is very much in the spotlight these days with the output of three major news gathering agencies, plus the facilities of the Los Angeles Herald-Express, released at strategic listening spots throughout the day and evening. . . . By the way, Walter Winchell's Sunday evening commentary has been renewed for another year by Warner-Hudnut, Inc. . . . and Louella Parsons, one of Hollywood's foremost chroniclers, this week celebrates her twentieth anniversary on the air.

Bob Garred

That programs in the more serious vein are in demand is proved by the fact that following the first program under the new three-quarter hour format for America's Town Meeting (KECA at 9 on Tuesday nights) their mail count reached 15,850 pieces . . . America's Town Meeting, incidentally, was one of three ABC shows to get the nod from the Wisconsin State Journal poll. The other two shows to be honored were the Metropolitan Opera broadcasts and the Saturday morning children's series, "No School Today." Opera note: the final two Wagner "Ring" operas will be heard on Feb. 10 and 17 . . . "Siegfried" on the 10th, and "Gotterdammerung" on the 17th.

Important visitors to the Southland at mid-February will be Don McNeill and his Breakfast Club crew from Chicago. . . . This will mark the first visit of the Breakfast Club to California in the program's 18-year history. . . . KECA-TV has secured an outstanding group of 18 Eagle-Lion films for exclusive use on Channel Seven's Monday night "Chevrolet Triple Feature Theatre." . . . The U. S. Army and Air Force are presenting a fast-moving music show, Ralph Flanagan's orchestra, on KECA Monday nights at 8 . . . and the Roller Derby over video on a 13-station ABC-TV network . . . KECA-TV on Thursday nights at 10.

SFC Ernest G. Bently, APO 973, c/o Postmaster, San Francisco, Calif.

This is just a note to let you know that I've been getting TV-Radio Life over here and enjoying the material very much. The folks back home are sending it to me, and the men here are getting a big kick out of reading it.

There is a program that we catch over here, "Juke Box USA," that we all try to stick with. Say, could you grant the request of two hundred men from headquarters company and give us a big picture and some information about where we can write Rebel Randall?

There'll be a big picture of Rebel Randall in our March 16 edition. Rebel does five half-hour shows a week as disc jockey on Armed Forces Radio's "Juke Box USA." You can write her care of AFRS, 1016 North McCadden Place, Los Angeles 28, California.

Mrs. Edith Austrand, 1067 Fries Avenue, Wilmington, Calif.

I am anxious to know when "Songs for Sale" will be on the air again—it was such a good program, I join with many others I know in plugging for its return.

"Songs for Sale" originates in the East and is not heard locally; however, it is brought back from time to time, and the station informs us that when a suitable spot is found, it will be heard at a regular weekly time here.

Mrs. J. Etenburn, Los Angeles, Calif.

If radio producers would take a look around at what is being offered on some of the smaller stations, it might be to their advantage.

As an example, I would like to point out the program "Love's Notebook," which is heard on KWKW, a Pasadena station. Sandie Stevens and Patrick Wells present a program of poetry three nights a week which I think is wonderful.

Unfortunately, however, in order to hear this program, I have to practically crawl into my radio. The station is located high up on the dial where so many are crowded together. Some of the network stations could well stand such a program in contrast to many of the homicidal programs now being offered.

Carl F. Menke, 4124 Muirfield Road, Los Angeles, Calif.

We certainly miss Les (Carrot Top) Anderson's program. I wish some channel would set up a program for him.

Eli Waldman, 2546 Vineyard Avenue, Los Angeles, Calif.

I wonder why NBC or those many sponsors picked a time on which "Screen Guild Players" is heard on ABC, to put on "Screen Directors' Playhouse"? In my opinion they are both too good hour shows and do not deserve such a fate. And pity the poor

By ANDY MANSFIELD

ARTHUR MURRAY FAVORITES

(Capitol 78, 45 and 33 1/3 rpm): No matter what your choice of dance steps may be, here is the answer in music—a series of six albums with tunes selected by Murray and the recording tempos supervised by one of his instructors. There are sambas by Enric Madriguera, Les Baxter directs the tangos, Chuy Reyes conducts the rumbas, waltzes by Francis Scott, mambos by Billy May and fox trots by Ray Anthony's Orchestra. Incidentally, this collection of eight Anthony sides are just about the best he's ever done. These are the recordings which will be used in all Arthur Murray dance studios throughout the country and are ideally suited for dancing with the great variety of tempos. . . . TONI ARDEN (Columbia) turns out another great waxing in her rendition of "My Man." To marvelous backing by Paul Weston, Toni puts her heart and voice in the mood of the song and all the warmth and sincerity comes through. . . . DORIS DAY (Columbia) has a good brace of sides with Harry James Orchestra—"Lullaby of Broadway" and "Would I Love You" featuring plenty of The Horn's horn—and another pair, "You Are My Sunshine" and "Comb and Paper Polka," in lighter vein with Frankie Yankovic's Yanks; in fact, this Day gal could sing with anybody and sound good. . . . TOMMY DORSEY leads the Decca dance parade with a great arrangement of "Lullaby of Broadway" and the calmer instrumental, "As Time Goes By," closely followed by Music in the Morgan Manner (Russ, that is) and "Poor Butterfly," done up without words, but featuring the maestro's famous muted trombone styling. . . . FRANKIE LAINE (Mercury) in serious vein often leaves much to be desired, but such is decidedly not the case with "May the Good Lord Bless and Keep You." To fine choral and instrumental backing, Frankie makes this side a classic—and if you like the swinging Laine, flip it over for "Dear, Dear, Dear." . . . PATTI PAGE (Mercury) does a good job of chirping on the cute "Would I Love You" and the ballad "Sentimental Music," with the emphasis on "Love"—but only by a nose. . . . ager there) feted Jerry royally.

Ten-year-old Linda Martin recently made her TV debut in KTLA's "Hollywood Career."

Shiela James, the irresistible Jackie on the Stu Erwin TV show, is not the only actress in her family. Her tiny sister Jerilyn just finished a six-week run at MGM in "Love Is Better Than Ever."

Gilbert Barnett, Sonny to you, one of the Little Beavers on the Jack Benny show, is playing the very important part of Absalom in "David and Bathsheba" for Twentieth Century-Fox.

Merry McGovern is very proud of her new Buster Brown shoes, because Ed McConnell gave them to her the other day when she did a Buster Brown commercial on his Smilin' Ed's Gang TV show over KNBH.

Jimmy Ogg played opposite his little brother Sammy recently on "Red Ryder," and was Sammy ever the proud one! For once, little brother had the spotlight, because he plays "Little Beaver" regularly.

If you heard "Old Soldiers Never Die" on Hallmark last week, I want to tell you that the eight- and fifteen-year-old Cockney lads were played by Michael Miller, and he really did a wonderful job. The very next night he was on the Ozzie and Harriet show.

Eight-year-old Isa Ashdown, who can sing in five languages, made her TV debut in a very important part on the Bigelow Theatre's presentation of "Charming Billy."

Dawn Bender, who is Margaret on "One Man's Family," added another precious trophy to the many she has already collected. Dawn took first jumping prize at the Beverly Hills Polo Club Horse Show and was the only rider to have an absolutely clean performance.

Gloria McMillan will take her first vacation in three years from "Our Miss Brooks" while Eve Arden is in New York and will celebrate it with her sister Janet in Palm Springs.

BY EVELYN BIGSBY

THROUGH HIS NETWORK PUBLICIST, Charlotte Rogers, Larry Finley, president of the ten-week-old-operating Progressive Broadcasting System, issued a statement to TV-Radio Life last week end following summary suspension of operations. (KGFJ, PBS's local outlet, signed the network off Wednesday night after receiving notification from Finley that same afternoon. About sixty stations across the country were affected.)

IN HIS RELEASE, FINLEY labeled it as a temporary suspension of operations, not a permanent shutdown. At the time, he said he was in a forty-eight-hour conference with bankers and other financial interests in an effort to rejuvenate the organization. He further stated that each of the affiliates had expressed the desire to continue to cooperate and that under no condition would PBS go into bankruptcy. It was indicated that all members of the staff would be paid. According to reports, between $15,000 and $20,000 was owing AFRA members who had made transcriptions for PBS.

ALL THE PEOPLE WITH whom I talked expressed sadness over PBS's difficulties. In addition to the heart-break for Finley and all his people who had put so much into the System, general feeling was that it was an unhappy circumstance for a good idea. As you probably know, PBS was formed to service smaller stations throughout the country with transcribed programs using bigger names and a type of Hollywood-originated show they might otherwise be unable to have. It appeared to be a heartening help to radio on such stations, and also a reaffirmation of the belief that there always will be radio and that there is a definite niche for it, especially during the daytime when TV cannot pull an overwhelming housewife audience. Too, many of the outlying stations as yet have no television.

KGFJ, WHICH DID A STUPENDOUS job switching from its own to PBS programs last November, last week showed itself able to meet the challenge. Great credit is due Manager

Merry and Johnny McGovern were a cute couple on "Dr. Kildare" last Sunday.

Jerry Farber, who played the Indian boy in "Broken Arrow" on Lux recently, is a pupil at the Hollywood Professional School, and is the very first high-school boy to receive a Red Cross Certificate in First Aid in the present Red Cross drive.

Bumped into: Alan Reed on "Ozzie and Harriet," Stuffy Singer on "Memo From Molly."

Well, so long kids, see you next week, and remember, when there's news in your bean, call Norma Jean. Thelma Kirchner, who ordered records into the breach and set about reestablishing the programming existent on the station before affiliation with the network.

LATER: It is press time, and a fast release from Liberty Broadcasting announces that it is absorbing the PBS. "Approximately thirty of the sixty-three stations formerly affiliated with Progressive have been added to the 247 present Liberty Broadcasting System affiliates throughout the country." This is an interesting development which merits comment next week.

SPEAKING OF AFRA, ITS members did a wonderful job of supporting the first effort to coordinate all charity appeals in our industries under the Radio-Television-Recording Charities drive. The new set-up raised about $25,000 more than was done, without organization, last year, and of this amount, roughly $75,000, AFRAites gave practically half. Wonderful people!

DICK JOY HAS ANNOUNCED sale of the station he and former CBS engineer Don McBain built at Palm Springs (KCMJ). Dick's plenty busy with all his Hollywood chores which include "10 O'clock Wire" on KNX. Sorry to hear Elvia Allman has been ill. Mel Blanc told me his "I Taut I Taw a Puddy Tat" was now the No. 1 hit of England and Capitol's top record for two weeks. He recently whizzed up to Oakland to autograph records in one of the stores. Saw Fred and Neill Beck at Farmers Market (where else but?). They told me that Tip Corning, who served as such a delightful announcer-foil for The Beck, had moved his family to New York and that Tip was now a broker. I had not realized he was from the Corning Glass Company Cornings.

RADIO ACTRESS HELEN GERALD messaged me from New York, where her husband, James, is Toscanini's librarian, that she and Jim expect their first baby in July. If the child inherits half the looks and talent of the parents, it ought to be a super-duper offspring.

"FIRST HUNDRED YEARS" TV WRITER, Jean Holloway, wrote me that all the N.Y. TV folks around the blinding studios wearing dark glasses to protect their eyes. Just like Hollywood and Vine, huh?

For Love o' Mike (General Comment)

ABC is really taking cognizance of the great listener anticipation presaging the forthcoming Hollywood visit of Don McNeill's "Breakfast Club" gang. With written requests for tickets already over the 1200 count, the studio has "hired a hall" for the nine shows scheduled to originate here during the February 16 through March 2 Western sojourn of the popular Chicago radio personalities.

The hired hall is Earl Carroll's Theater Restaurant, where all but one of the slated broadcasts will originate. The final (March 2) show will be beamed from mammoth Los Angeles Shrine Auditorium.

"Don McNeill's TV Club" will also have one West Coast emanation, on Wednesday, February 28. The show will be Vitapix-recorded on that date for KECA-TV presentation March 14, and will feature the video debut of Louella Parsons.

Radio programs done by the McNeill clubbers while they're in the Hollywoods will be transcribed for later coast-to-coast ABC airings.

And we'll be right there, covering the visit for you!

Ronald Colman's characterization of "Professor William Toddhunter Hall" of "Halls of Ivy" fame is a most distinctive one. Colman is currently being honored by "Fame" magazine as "the film personality most effective in radio" and was officially acclaimed as such on a recent "Ivy" broadcast.

Vocallovely Patti Page is carolling a pretty tune these days. Voted "outstanding singer of 1951" by Chicago disc jockeys, Patti started the New Year off in style. Her contribution to the "Tennessee Waltz" debacle, incidentally, has topped the two-million mark in record sales.

There'll be a new rush on at Marine Recruiting headquarters when Gloria DeHaven completes her present announcer-singer recording assignment designed for and aimed at enlisting prospective Leathernecks. Discs will be in circulation next month.

Radio personalities are currently celebrating National Peanut Week, February 4 through 10, in a royal manner. Patty Andrews and Bob Crosby, of CBS's "Club 15," are enthroned as queen and king of the event, while Walter "Double or Nothing" O'Keefe is "Court Jester."

According to the Gallup American Institute of Public Opinion Poll, the most popular singers in 1950 are Bing Crosby, Dinah Shore, and Gene Autry. Completing the list for women vocalists were Jo Stafford and Margaret Whiting. Other top male singers were Tony Martin, Perry Como, Frank Sinatra, Vaughn Monroe and Dennis Day.

Former TV-Radio Life writer Shirley Gordon is headed up the script-writer's ladder of fame. Latest feather in Shirley's cap is "The Death Parade," a "Suspense" script which will star actress Agnes Moorehead on the forthcoming February 15 show. A curious mikeside fact, not in the script, is that Shirley wrote the story with Miss Moorehead in mind as a result of having done several feature-interviews on the star in the past.

We're not alone in our appreciation of Paul Masterson's "International Disc Jockey" programs, for Paul's trips around the world of music will soon be heard over the entire Columbia Pacific Network.

Guest Conductor

Guest conductors of the New York Philharmonic Symphony who will conduct CBS broadcasts during 1951-52 will be Bruno Walter, George Szell and Guido Cantelli. During the major part of the season, Dimitri Mitropoulos, reappointed as musical director for the next two years, will lead the orchestra.

Dr. Walter and Mr. Szell are familiar to Philharmonic audiences, but Guido Cantelli, who will conduct four concerts, will appear with the orchestra for the first time. The distinguished thirty-year-old Italian conductor came to this country three years ago.

Dr. Walter, now conducting a Brahms cycle on the Philharmonic broadcasts, made his American debut as conductor of the New York Symphony twenty-seven years ago. For some years he acted as the Philharmonic's musical adviser.

Mr. Szell, who has been the musical director of the Cleveland Orchestra for the past five years, conducted the Philharmonic broadcasts for six weeks during the current season.

Soloists and special works will be released shortly. It is announced, however, that Mr. Mitropoulos will conduct the Mendelssohn oratorio "Elijah" during Easter Week 1952.

Mobilization Documentary

The American Legion will show the signs of the times when they present over NBC in February four documentary programs on mobilization.

An announcement from the network's Public Affairs and Education Department said, "This will be a highly significant series planned to show the American people the need for unity in action in all-out plans for common defense." Spiritual, industrial, military and civilian mobilization will be taken up in successive broadcasts. A noted film or stage actor will be narrator of the series, entitled "If Fight We Must," which will start Saturday, February 3 at 12:00 noon over NBC.

"In God We Trust," which will be narrated by Ralph Bellamy, will be the first of the series. Earl Cocks, Jr., National Commander of the American Legion, and the Rev. Daniel Poling, editor of the Christian Herald, will speak briefly during the initial broadcast.

Welbourn Kelley will write the scripts, and Harry Junkin will direct.

NEXT WEEK

"A miss who's a hit" is our cover star next week. She's lovely Lucille Norman, radio, TV and film songstress whose interesting story is told in "A Calculated Earful."

TV stars of the non-human variety are quite as talented and entertaining as their human counterparts, as you'll discover when you read "Zoo Parade."

Speaking of TV, too, is KTTV's Harrison Dunham, who says "Films Will Bring TV Back to Hollywood," and tells the whys behind his station's elaborate plans for future video filmings.

Norvell Gillespie of Mutual's "Gillespie Garden Guide" takes you on a highly descriptive tour of "Famous Gardens of Europe," and when you've completed your travels you can settle down to read a profile on TV's entertaining auctioneer-announcer, Sam Mannis.

We're topping our Next Week's tour of TV and Radio with a story on that amazing Western extravaganza "The Foreman Phillips Roundup."

There'll be the usual features, too, including up-to-the-minute news about all the radio and video shows, precasts, and logs.

"Sam Hayes Breakfast News"

Monday-Friday, 7:45 a.m.
NBC-KFI, KFSD

It takes a very special talent to combine a commercial, a newscast and a promotion stunt into a daily fifteen-minute capsule and still have it come off well. Sam Hayes has this very special talent—plus.

He compresses mention of the news highlights into a few fast seconds, e.g.: A famous Hollywood personality dies; new weather threatens the Coast; an A-bomb is exploded! etc. Then comes a fast description of Sperry butter-milk hotcakes. Whoever writes the copy on these is wasting his or her time writing just copy. That wealth of description capsuled into just a few words could well be employed in a more lasting form of writing, couldn't it?

Then comes the news, not pondered over and dragged across the jagged edges of a personal analysis. Just straight news. We can make up our own minds about its effect.

The promotion scheme lies in the rooster hunt Hayes is currently conducting. At first mention of his "dear departed" being replaced by a new rooster to be chosen from the ranks of crows Sam would survey on a coastal junket, we were repelled! But three or four days later we listened as eagerly for the day's masculine diva at work as we do for Sam's actual newscast. You know, roosters sound not at all alike! It's a good bit of promotion and, in addition to providing innocent amusement for his listeners, must have endeared Sam to the hinterland dwellers.

Perhaps promotion and good copy leave you cold . . . or going further, even if you despise roosters and the mere mention of any kind of hotcakes turns you ill—you'll still enjoy the daily news as rattled off by veteran Sam Hayes. He knows how to pick the kernel and leave the chaff.

Playbacks (Critical Comment)

We Point With Pride

. . . To Mel Blanc's clever and hilarious portrayal of a French waiter, Brooklyn variety, on a recent "Jack Benny" program.

. . . To Dorothy Kirsten's guesting with Gordon MacRae on the "Railroad Hour's" presentation of Romberg's "New Moon." She combined her beautiful singing of the musical numbers and her radio acting to bring to the mike a pleasurable performance of this often-produced operetta. Both she and MacRae blended their talents in presenting "New Moon" in a way which made it seem like first-time listening for us.

. . . To Ezio Pinza's introduction of two of the musical scores from his recently completed motion picture, "Mr. Imperium," when he guested on "The Telephone Hour." Pinza is acclaimed for his operatic singing and for his role in "South Pacific," and we were pleased with his selection of numbers for his guest radio appearance. He gave us both the modern and the classical, and thus satisfied listeners from both schools.

. . . To the homespun good humor of "Aunt Fanny" (Fran Allison) on "Don McNeill's Breakfast Club," aired over ABC. "Aunt Fanny" is having trouble trying to locate her suitcase (for her long-awaited trip to California) which she lent to a neighbor twenty years ago. This suitcase has traveled in more ways than one, for it's been making the rounds of the town folks. Regardless of whether or not the suitcase turns up we hope "Aunt Fanny" does.

. . . To a small station, KAVL, Lancaster, California, and to two of their disc jockeys, Carson Pinkley and Johnny Amos, for their unselfish contribution to "The March of Dimes." They have been conducting a twenty-four-hour record marathon—"Polio Patrol." Because Pinkley fell and broke his arm they were forced to cancel their stint upon reaching the 507-hour mark. Contributions from their listeners are three times greater so far this year as compared to the previous year, and the dimes are still pouring in.

. . . To the Jack Smith-Dinah Shore-Margaret Whiting Show, which gives us music and more music. There are no doubt vocalists who can be praised to the sky for talents which equal or are greater than these three, but we point to them because they do more singing than talking on their broadcasts. And we are strong in the opinion that stars do best when they stick to their particular genius and don't branch off into other ad-libbing specialties. These three offer words and music to radio dialers, but go light on the words and heavy on the music.

We did get a trillion laughs from Hope's joking. Did you hear the one—"A friend of mine has been making money out here at March Field. He's smuggling in privates."

We View With Alarm

. . . Judy Garland has been a long-time favorite with us, but we were sadly disappointed with her guesting on Bob Hope's show the other night. She can truly do justice to some songs, but not to "I'm in Love With a Wonderful Guy," for it was apparent that she was very nearly out of breath and was much too loud as she raced through it on Hope's broadcast from March Field.

. . . Disc jockeys who giggle like school girls for no reason which is apparent to the listener. We noticed this the other night when one of the record spinners on the Ten Top Tunes, after fumbling and stumbling over his ad-libbing attempts, giggled without cause and then introduced "The Tennessee Waltz" recording. Then to add to our general confusion concerning his activities, he came in after the tune was finished with the remark, "Well, there wasn't anything funny about that tune." He quickly dropped the subject and went on to his next musical offering. We still think disc jockeys should have rhyme and reason to their programming.

"True Detective Mysteries"

Sunday, 2:30 p.m.
MBS-KHJ, KFXM, KGB, KVOE

John Shuttlesworth, editor-in-chief of True Detective Magazine, tries very hard to bring his adventure yarns to radio. He calls the program "True Detective Mysteries." After listening to them we don't see that they are very mysterious or very detective-ish.

When we stopped our dial for "True Detective Mysteries" the other Sunday, we heard the tale of Lois the struggling night-club singer, her singing-teacher boy-friend, Fred, her male acquaintance, Michael, and the villainous night-club operator, Pasco. The plot thickened when Lois inherited money from her dear aunt. After the inheritance Lois is murdered and all her former boy-friends become immediate suspects.

Because of the quick switch in scenes without apparent motivation, we had trouble following this involved but nevertheless feeble plot. The organ music which was supposed to indicate the changes in scene and setting was ineffectual and inadequate for the listener to grasp the meaning.

Halfway through the unraveling of the story we were still looking for the detective or detectives to appear. Suddenly, after a scene in which Lois was taken for a ride because she refused to have dinner with Pasco, the detectives entered the script. With their entrance we were further confused by their hopscotching about the big city visiting the scene of the crime and the various suspects. The solution came as a surprise to us, as there were few indications given to the listener as to what was going on behind the scenes. It was Michael, the poor bookstore clerk, who committed the awful crime, because he wanted the heroine's inheritance to start his own business.

We believe the author of the story had some good material, but because of the lack of unity it was not convincing or understandable. The characterizations were weak and stereo-

Frank Sinatra

Sunday, 2 p.m.
CBS-KNX

The bow-tie crooner has a splendid opportunity with his mid-afternoon Sunday spot, "Visit Frank Sinatra," to satisfy his radio audience's appetite. But instead it seems to us that he wastes his opportunity as well as the listener's time.

Many, many people have applauded Sinatra for his style of rendering popular tunes. They have purchased his recordings by the armful to play at home on their own phonographs. We do not believe they are happy to tune him in over the radio and have him play the records of other performers and chatter meaninglessly.

When we heard him last Sunday he started his program off by singing "It's a Beautiful Day." That sounded good to us, but then he pulled some off-color jokes which met with our quick disapproval. We don't consider them any more fit for print than for airing, so are refraining from laying the evidence before you in this article. We did appreciate Kay Starr's singing "Lovesick Blues," but thought his introduction of her reeked of old-fashioned corn. Not the sort of lines that are befitting to such a lady of the radio.

Sinatra played two records which were selected as favorites by famous stars and by a Sinatra admirer. One was a Stan Kenton arrangement and the other was a specialty of "My Two Front Teeth." These recordings are good stuff when considered for their own merits, but why must Sinatra give us canned music? We believe he should leave the spinning of the waxes to well-meaning disc jockeys, because that's their talent and their paycheck.

It's up to a performer of Sinatra's fame to bring personality plus to the mike. That's part of the integrity of his trade. And if he is trying to out-Crosby Crosby in his emcee technique as well as in his vocal renderings, then he had better put life and enthusiasm into his radio offering.

We'll set our dial to Frankie any time, but we like Sinatra to be Sinatra because we know he is best at that.

Off Mike (Personalities)

Colman's Daughter

Juliet Colman, six-year-old daughter of the Ronald Colmans, stars of NBC's "The Halls of Ivy," recently made her first visit to the ballet. She went with her mother to a matinee performance, sat in the first row of the balcony, and almost stole the spotlight.

It all happened after Mrs. Colman went into great detail explaining to Juliet about the overture and how the conductor would perform. "You'll see him come out dressed formally in tails. He'll walk to the orchestra pit and you'll see him mount the podium and raise his arms," Mrs. Colman explained. "Everyone will be perfectly still, and when he's sure the orchestra is ready, he'll move his arms and the orchestra will begin to play."

Juliet's eyes grew brighter and brighter and she beamed with excitement at her first experience at the ballet. She watched the orchestra leader walk to the orchestra pit, mount the podium, raise his arms. Then there was a pause. Juliet blinked her eyes with excitement and then, leaning over the balcony rail, shouted at the top of her lungs, "Ready, set, go!"

On Mike (About Studio Happenings)

Ezio Pinza

A recent "Telephone Hour" rehearsal which we attended proved to us that Ezio Pinza is more than ever the glamour boy of the twenty-plus feminine set.

During the show, Pinza premiered songs from the forthcoming picture "Mr. Imperium," in which he co-stars with Lana Turner. These songs brought an almost audible sigh from his rehearsal audience, composed of about twenty women and two men, who had taken time out from studio duties to glimpse the handsome singer.

Donald Voorhees and his symphony orchestra played beautiful instrumental selections, but listeners were evidently distracted by Mr. Pinza's walking on and off stage, as any artist is wont to do during a rehearsal. For the audience's heads bobbed back and forth like spectators at a tennis match as their eyes followed the star.

And all this at a studio rehearsal from people to whom the glamour world of celebrities is an everyday thing.

We haven't heard what happened at the show that evening!

Whydunit Not Whodunit

"Suspense," the CBS thriller, is not a whodunit but a whydunit, according to Elliott Lewis, producer-director of the outstanding mystery series. Lewis says, "The difference is that 'Suspense' is a whydunit rather than a whodunit, and explaining the whys of a murder is a good deal more difficult than detecting the whos."

He goes on to say, "The element of mystery found in 'Suspense' is very seldom in the identity of the criminal. It lies rather in the mental turmoil and complexities of circumstance which might lead a person no different than you or me to stray outside the boundaries of the law. And it is because the person involved is little different from you and me that the solution of a whydunit is so tough. It is difficult to explain, in the few words our time allows, the motive behind a crime committed by one who is neither a hardened criminal nor a pathological case.

"An example," Lewis continued, "was the person portrayed by Eve Arden in a recent 'Suspense' story. She was a woman who had worked her way to the highest pinnacle of achievement in her world. As she screamed out in despair at the script's climactic finish, she was 'somebody.' Yet she became a killer. The mystery for the listener to examine was not her identity as the murderer, which was clearly disclosed, but her reason for killing. Or, more accurately, her lack of reason.

"It is the ticklish job of the writers on the CBS 'Suspense' series, and my job as its producer-director, to project effectively the word and sound pictures of these ordinary people who become involved in extraordinary situations, and to offer for the listener a fascinating new challenge—one surpassing the mechanical detection of a clue-dropping criminal in a whodunit. 'Suspense' listeners are challenged to the exciting study of normal human emotions reacting to the abnormal experiences powerfully projected in the form of a whydunit."

Go West!

Don McNeill and cast members from the "Breakfast Club" and "Don McNeill's TV Club" will visit California during February.

How to Be an Impersonator

voice come out of the same mechanical bone and muscle set-up and you're bound to get a pretty good carbon copy.

In posing for the pictures on this page, Daws used only two simple props for his impersonations of George Arliss, Charles Laughton, Edward G. Robinson and Charlie McCarthy . . . a monocle and a felt hat.

Daws himself was a radio character actor before turning to television perience with the issue. That is why, the show's moderator explained, attorneys prove to be among the most satisfactory program participants.

As moderator, Novins's weekly job is to produce the show and, most importantly, to make sure that both sides of the subject being discussed are equally represented. Several times following a broadcast, Novins has received complaints from listeners, half of whom berate him for favoring the pro side, the other half claiming he had been prejudiced in the opposite direction. This, he figures, is proof that he has performed his moderating duties fairly.

When tempers become aroused during a heated discussion, Novins diplomatically calms them with a subtle change of voice. No rehearsals precede the verbal tussles at the mike, although the pro-and-conners are allowed to retire to separate rooms to make a brief preparation of the points on which their stands will be based. The one-hundred-word statement from each participant at the show's start is the only written preparation employed. The last moments of the program are devoted to discussion on direct questions phoned in by the listeners.

Another topic the "Women's Forum" found hot to handle was progressive education. Subject that proved the most fun for moderator Novins was women's "new look" fashions. "It was the only time," he grinned, "that I didn't keep my opinions to myself."

Keeping his opinions to himself is the toughest thing about being a moderator, Novins pointed out. In conclusion he declared, "Prime purpose of our program is to get people to think more. The series clearly shows, I believe, that most people are very definite in their opinions. They look at things as being either black or white. That isn't true. Between the black and the white there is a wide margin of gray. Perhaps if we wouldn't shut our eyes so stubbornly to this fact the world would become a better place."

transmission. Local favorites abound. The manufacturer neatly beat this plethora of ring attractions by lining up the very best fights of an entire century for viewers' enjoyment.

Flashbacks

Filed highlights of such famous bouts as the Louis-Braddock, the 1909 Johnson-Ketchell, the Louis-Schmelting, Cerdan-Zale, Dempsey-Tunney, Ross-McLarnin and many more were first obtained, then carefully processed so that no old, jerky movements of the early film clips would destroy enjoyment.

There is scarcely a man alive who won't happily endure the inserted blandishments of a manufacturer in order to relive the day in 1926 when 130,000 fight fans gathered to see the famous Dempsey-Tunney bout, which took place in the Sesqui-Centennial Stadium in Philadelphia. Everyone expected to see the heavyweight champion, Jack Dempsey, annihilate a modest young ex-marine. The challenger's boxing was excellent. Careful, cool and skillful. He ducked and stopped to perfection. Dempsey could do nothing with him, and Tunney steadily piled up points until the end of the ten-round bout, when he was given the decision and the heavyweight championship title.

Or the Garden Bowl fight, at Long Island, New York, back in 1938. Barney Ross, the welter king, met challenger Henry Armstrong, holder of the featherweight title. As the fight progressed it was evident that Armstrong was Ross's boxing master. Armstrong released a devastating barrage of rights and lefts in a way that bewildered Ross. The welter champ was cut to ribbons, but stuck it out to the end of the fifteen-round bout, when Armstrong became titleholder in both lightweight and welterweight divisions.

Still the Greatest

Nor can many local favorites of even the greatest skill come out better than second to the spectacle of Joe Louis in his second defense of the heavyweight crown, against Nathan Mann, "The Connecticut Farmboy," on February 23, 1938, at Madison Square Garden. After one minute and fifty-six seconds of the third round, Louis was again victor.

Old fans and new set owners will be able to see, during the forthcoming weeks, such great bouts as the following:

February 8	Conn-Bettina
February 15	Louis-Sharkey
February 22	Ross-Canzoneri
March 1	Baer-Galento
March 8	Armstrong-Ambers
March 15	Louis-Farr

Handy Hints

By Dorothy Gardiner and Dick Garton, stars of KTLA's "Handy Hints," Monday through Friday, 6:45 p.m.

Each week we pick the best Handy Hint sent directly to TV-Radio Life, 6361 Selma Avenue, Hollywood 28, and use it, with your name and address, in this column as well as on the air over KTLA, Friday evening at 6:45. A lovely gift will be sent to everyone whose hint is used here as KTLA-TV-Radio Life Hint of the week.

Here is this week's winner: Mr. Frank A. Jackson, 215 Norwood St., Redlands, Calif.

The hint is: Here is a way to support a loaded fruit-tree limb. This will do the job without injuring the bark. Make a prop of a 2x4-inch stock, with a section of an old auto tire nailed to the end so that it straddles the limb. Then countersink the nail heads so they will not chafe the bark. This can also be used where the limb is cracked, as it makes a good support.

THIS IS A HINT FOR MAILING PACKAGES. After writing address and when it's thoroughly dry, cover with a coat of clear nail polish. No matter what kind of weather it encounters en route, the address will remain always legible.

HERE IS HOW TO KEEP TRACK OF YOUR WORK GLOVES. Just sew a snap (large one) to the cuffs of your work gloves, so they can be fastened together when you lay them away.

HERE IS AN IDEA FOR A TABLE DECORATION: Take a large fish bowl, place a colorful plastic, metal or wax figure in the bottom of bowl. (Use weight if object floats.) Fill bowl nearly full with water and for each quart of water add 1 teaspoonful of soda, 1 teaspoonful of citric acid—now add six or more moth balls. You'll find the moth balls rise and fall as if snowing. Quite a nice effect.

THIS IS ANOTHER USE FOR YOUR SNAP CLOTHES PINS: Take one and fasten it to your mail box, then you put your outgoing letters in it and the wind can't blow them away.

IF YOU'RE PLANNING ON MOVING, remember this hint. When you take your pictures or spice cabinets down, fasten the screws that belong to said items with scotch tape. Then when you are ready to hang them up again, the screws are right there.

1. "MOTHER AND FATHER BARBOUR" represent the ultimate in the romantic to the millions who have followed the radio family for eighteen years and to the television fans who are now almost equal in number. 2. "HAZEL" and "BILL HERBERT," a Valentine couple whose television marriage represents peace to "HAZEL" and happiness to the lonely "BILL." 3. Young "CLIFFORD BARBOUR," to whom romance in any form is as necessary and as fleeting as every breath he draws. "CLIFF" likes all girls. 4. "BETH HOLLY" and "PAUL BARBOUR" represent another kind of romance. It is neither the solid, enduring romance of the parent "BARBOURS," nor is it the light-hearted love interest exhibited by "PAUL'S" younger brother and sisters. But for at least one member of "ONE MAN'S FAMILY," it is Valentine's Day EVERY day in the year.

"One Man's Family"

Saturday, 7:30 p.m.
KNBH, Channel 4

FOR EIGHTEEN years multitudes have been eagerly following by radio the indestructible "Barbour Family," accompanying them through gladness and sadness, sickness and death, on journeys and in their home activities.

Now television is paralleling the family's activities in a television serial, seen locally on KNBH's channel 4, sure to be as enduring and popular.

One of the attractions of this family-life portrayal is the presence of romance. Always a good ingredient, romance and the results thereof, as indulged in by the varied, colorful members of "Henry Barbour's" family, take on even greater fascination.

Extremes

While not as interesting as the heart affairs of some of the younger "Barbours," the mature, understanding love of "Henry" and "Fanny," parents of the brood, has grown with the years, troubles, joys and family, and serves as a perpetual Valentine to all fans of this series.

"Claudia," the lovely miss on our cover who portrays one of the "Barbour" twins for television audiences over the entire NBC-TV network, doubles as a heartbreaker and the heartbroken. Her first big romance was with "Johnny Roberts," attractive, lovable, and completely spoiled son of the wealthy "Roberts" family. At the present time the television serial finds a saddened "Claudia" visiting the wounded "Johnny" in Japan. If the television serial continues faithfully to follow its radio counterpart, "Claudia" will eventually meet and wed "Nicholas Lacey."

But in any event it is the blonde beauty's fleeting or lasting heart interests which provide the liveliest romantic ingredient.

THE CHIMING, melodious "Bell Telephone Waltz" introduces one of radio's most outstanding musical programs. On Monday evenings at 9:00 o'clock you can tune in your NBC station and know that a half hour of enjoyable listening is in store for you.

About three times a year the program emanates from Hollywood. The trek west this year captured the incomparable Ezio Pinza for one of his rare radio appearances. The pictures on this page are exclusive candid shots of Pinza and the Bell Telephone Orchestra in rehearsal. Donald Voorhees, conductor of the orchestra, has heretofore insisted upon closed sets during rehearsals, but made this one exception for us.

Greatest Request for Tickets

The popularity of this program reached new heights when Pinza was guesting. NBC received requests for the largest number of tickets in its sleeve—all the time! "Clifford" likes all girls—and unless "Claudia" puts the actual nixing finger on "Clifford's" current choice to squire about, he continues to be faithful in his fashion. Typifying young college youths everywhere, "Cliff's" fashion is to like best the girl he is with. With him, every day is Valentine's.

"Hazel Barbour," eldest of the girls in the family, had to have her heart broken by a romantic artist on a far-away island before she could appreciate the love of "Bill Herbert," wartime buddy and first husband (at this stage in TV, "husband-to-be) of the girl. Again it is up to the show's creator, Carlton E. Morse, and his adherence to the radio series that may or may not provide "Hazel" with husband "Dan Murray" after "Bill Herbert's" death. But of her broken heart, time and love finally recreated for "Hazel Barbour" her perfect Valentine.

Romance May Visit

For "Paul," lonely, wise elder brother of all the "Barbour" progeny, there seems to be no enduring love. On radio "Paul" is currently interested in "Nicolette Moore"; while on television the love of his life is "Beth Holly," shown above. But even on radio "Beth," whom, sadly, "Paul" didn't marry, is referred to as the big love of his life.

But who knows? Either television may bring "Paul" the happiness his brothers and sisters seem destined for, or another eighteen years may find "Paul" himself discovering his Valentine.

history for this broadcast. Somehow there were more ticket holders than seats available, and the overflow of eager fans was accommodated on the stage. The Bell Telephone Company gives its employees preference for tickets whenever possible, and when the long-distance operators on the night shift realized they would be unable to attend this broadcast they raised a howl. And another precedent was set when thirty of them were admitted to the dress rehearsal.

Rigid Schedule

This program has been aired for almost eleven years, and consistent with its fine quality is the lack of turnover in its staff. There have been very few changes since the program's inception. Most of the members of the orchestra are affiliated with the New York Philharmonic or the Los Angeles Symphony Orchestra, or are top-flight radio or motion-picture musicians. Rehearsals are conducted under rigid discipline. The musicians put in a long morning of rehearsal, then break for lunch, during which time the soloist runs over his numbers with conductor Voorhees. Selections are timed and rough spots worked over. After lunch, the orchestra and soloist work together through dress rehearsal, which is a carbon copy of the actual air show—timed to the split second.

Careful Program Planning

Formality is the order of the day—that is, in New York, where white ties and tails prevail. But here on the Coast, where most people take life easy, the musicians brush up their blue serges for the "Telephone Hour" broadcast.

The musical selections are painstakingly sifted by Voorhees to give variety and balance to the program. After careful study and testing, a system of microphone placement has been devised to produce the highest fidelity of tone. Producer Wallace McGill books the guest artists six or more months in advance. Two programs each season, however, are set aside for the winners of New York's Naumberg Musical Foundation Award.

The "Telephone Hour" has received every conceivable honor awarded to a program of its type, and will, no doubt, continue this habit.

and made good use of his "acting is impersonating" theory.

He started with a night-club act in the Middle West about fifteen years ago and never did much with radio until after the war. Prior to the war he had been a toy and novelty manufacturer in Chicago, selling to Woolworth's and other big chains.

Now he's much in demand at Disney studios, and at Warner Brothers for "Merrie Melodies" and other cartoon productions. In between all his other activities he makes phonograph records for children, with a partner, Marian Richman. Some of the record scripts Daws writes as well as performs.

He's an accomplished cartoonist and some years ago did a series for Radio-Television Life.

During the war, Daws served in Naval Intelligence and after getting out of the service moved to California. He lives in Beverly Hills with his wife, Myrtis, and three children, David, seven; Donnie, four; and Paul, seven months.
