Your TV-RADIO LIFE is on our weekly shopping list, too.

Lawrence Welk

Grace Sharp, Bell

I have written many times to you and asked for you to have items about Lawrence Welk but in recent issues there hasn't been a word. Can't you realize he has a very large following who are interested in the many things that happen at the Aragon. Lawrence recently signed for the fourth year there but never a peep out of you.

We think we can safely and accurately say that TV-RADIO LIFE magazine has given more publicity to Lawrence Welk and his KTLA show than any other on-sale publication in existence.

Mrs. Virginia Card, Burbank

Having recently moved here from Oregon I would like to pass along to your fine magazine and its readers that Oregon folks rate Eve Arden at the top of the list as female radio comedy lead and as the most authentic radio actress in her characterization of "Our (Very Dear) Miss Brooks."

Reception of her TV show, I'm sorry to say, is poor in this vicinity, but shucks, who cares! She does more on radio alone than most can do on both radio and TV combined.

Alicia Sullivan, Los Angeles

I agree with a recent correspondent about disc jockeys who can't take the time to announce a record title both before and after playing the disc, like one of my favorites, Stu Wilson, does.

Best well-loved TV programs in my family are: yep, Lawrence Welk; Bill Stulla and his "Parlor Party," and Ed Sullivan's "Toast of the Town." Oops, I forgot: Eddie Fisher and Dinah Shore.

Eve Arden

Bill Stulla

Mrs. Iddiols, Los Angeles

My vote for the best commercial announcer on TV goes to George Fennerman.

Mrs. L. F., Loma Linda

Mine isn't any gripe about any of the shows on TV, because I sincerely believe they are all tops in their field.

What I would like to see is these low-neck dresses go out of style. After all, we have been seeing them for over a year. It makes a person wonder if that's all the women who appear on TV have to wear.

Are You A Lazy Patriot?

▲ PRODUCER-DIRECTOR, Albert McCleery's diversified experience in the theater has helped him tremendously in television ("Hallmark Hall of Fame") and in radio. (NBC photos.)

▲ ALBERT McCLEERY and musical director Robert Armbruster discuss special music effects for "Inheritance" script. Whenever feasible, Mr. Armbruster re-creates the music of the historical period being dramatized.

ARE YOU among those who are blind to their birthright, to their American heritage?

The American Legion decided about a year ago to do something about the indifference of those Americans who took our country's freedom for granted. In cooperation with NBC, they formatted "Inheritance," a program designed to build deeper understanding of the American heritage and character which underlies our nation's freedom.

"Inheritance" uses the positive approach. It dramatizes incidents in American history which point the way to freedom, such as the episode delineating George Washington's putting an end for all time to the scheming which would have destroyed the country's republican form of government by establishing a monarchy with Washington as king.

The story of Dorothea Dix, who forced reform of the country's poorhouses, insane asylums and public hospitals, focused attention on the many humanitarian causes which are so distinctive a part of the American scene and was an outstanding broadcast. "Inheritance" portrays historical dramas that serve a two-fold purpose. By indirection it attacks communism; by direction it enlightens listeners of the American way.

McCleery

Albert McCleery, who won prominence as director of NBC-TV's "Hallmark Hall of Fame," produces and directs "Inheritance." Mr. McCleery says: "The program is inspiring and material for our dramatizations is inexhaustible. A staff of research-writers clear subject matter for the programs with an American Legion advisory board.

"I deem it a privilege to be associated with 'Inheritance' even if it complicates my life by doing a live TV and radio show on the same day. I intensely believe in the premise of this program and feel as though it's my responsibility to help bring these historical dramas, so steeped in tradition, to the listening public. For truly we are living in a golden house of freedom which most of us unwittingly take for granted."

Legion Views

Arthur J. Connell, national commander of the American Legion, has this to say about "Inheritance": "There are in the world two completely opposed systems of government, the atheistic way of Communists which is based on enslavement of men, and the American way, which is founded on freedom. It is not enough to merely denounce Communism. In our fight against it, we need to show the positive side of our philosophy, and to remind Americans and the world, that our freedoms and our way of life were not easily achieved. . . . We Americans have an obligation and a duty to our children, and to all the free world to broadcast the story of America and Americanism."

Are Writers TV's Forgotten People?

Whenever a show becomes a hit, almost everyone takes credit—but the writer is usually forgotten. "TV Playhouse" is one show that operates on a different theory.

▲ MADGE EVANS, JOHN BARAGREY, PHYLLIS HILL were starred in "Pride and Prejudice." As a rule, the "Playhouse" concentrates more on originals.

ASK ANY writer and he'll tell you that in nine cases out of ten his contribution to adult TV drama is usually forgotten in the mad rush for praise. There are a few exceptions to this, of course, and NBC-TV's "TV Playhouse" is one.

This program, which has been on the air since October 1948 when it presented "Dinner at Eight," recently won the George Foster Peabody Award. The entire organization behind the show operates on one basis—respect for the writer.

The Peabody Award said in part: "We especially commend Fred Coe (the producer) for his firm emphasis on good writing and note his steadfast opposition to the star system."

Coe is certainly the writer's friend. He has two unorthodox attitudes—that the writer should be given dignity and authority and that he should be paid well. In line with this feeling he has organized a stable of writers who have consistently proved their worth. Most of the scripts on Sundays are the works of Paddy Chayefsky, Horton Foote, Robert Alan Aurthur, Ted Mosel, David Shaw, N. Richard Nash, Harry Muheim, Stewart Stern, Joseph Liss, and Summer Locke Elliot.

Paddy Chayefsky

One of its most famous writers is Paddy Chayefsky, who is a thirty year old Purple Heart veteran and who has written an imposing list of hits. One of his shows, "Marty," received the Sylvania Television Award as the best teleplay of 1953. His scripts deal with simple stories, "slices of life" with emphasis on realism and characterization. And most of his stories are based on his own experiences and reactions—such as "Printer's Measure," which was from his experience in his uncle's print shop. The only exception was "The Sixth Year," a story of a near break-up of a marriage of six years.

"I picked that one right out of the air," Chayefsky remarked. He's been happily married for five years. "It was my first experience with writing about something I knew nothing about." He wrote it in three days.

His writing experience began during the Army but his first break came about accidentally. He had spent about six weeks in Hollywood doing a screen play for a picture that wasn't produced so when he returned to New York he rewrote the treatment and sent it to an agency. It was 150 pages long so the secretary, by mistake, sent it to a literary agent who in turn sold it to a national magazine. It was later produced in Hollywood under the title of "Young as You Feel."

After trying some TV scripts for mystery shows, he submitted "Holiday Song" to Fred Coe—and he's been around ever since. His only comment about his work is that everything he writes is, to him, funny. "I'm sitting at the typewriter in the apartment and I call my wife to listen to a line and we both roar. Comes out on television—it's sad."

One of the more notable efforts of "TV Playhouse" was "Othello." To translate this mammoth work into an hour's television time, Coe had a problem, so he simply cut the basic scenes of the play.

"We rearranged them to suit our studio and equipment," Coe stated, "and then we composed enough dialogue and action to unite the scenes we wished to retain." This was one of the few instances in which the "Playhouse" did a classic.

Actors Get Break

Coe not only gives the writers a break but he also turns some choice acting plums over to comparatively unknown actors.

When the Playhouse went on the air the intention was to bring Broadway to the televiewer so for some time Broadway hits were used with big name stars appearing. But after a while it became apparent that there simply wasn't enough material from the Great White Way to provide fifty-two shows a year, so "Playhouse" turned to adapting novels and short stories. Soon all suitable material here was gone. It was then that the originals came into favor—and with them the writers. And also—the new actors.

Kim Stanley, Rod Steiger, Betty Miller, and Gene Lyons are some of the new talent discovered. Kim Stanley was a tremendous hit in Horton Foote's "Young Lady of Property" and Chayefsky's "The Sixth Year." Steiger received great acclaim for his performance in "Marty."

"TV Playhouse," known also as Philco and Goodyear Playhouse, should continue to reap awards—if only because it is introducing new talent almost weekly. It does not believe that only big names can carry a dramatic show. It does not believe TV must rely on tried and true formulas. It only believes in doing the best it can to bring varied entertainment to the public. It apparently has succeeded in that for it is still one of the favorite dramatic programs on TV—and after almost six year on your channel.

For the stars of tomorrow and for the up and coming new writers—"TV Playhouse" is opportunity knocking.

▶ ANOTHER CLASSIC BROUGHT TO TV was J. M. Barrie's "Quality Street," which had in its cast Muriel Kirkland, Marsha Hunt, and Alfred Drake. Paddy Chayefsky is one of the most outstanding writers introduced to TV on the "Playhouse."

No more controversial figure has hit the TV scene than Mr. John J. Anthony. He has been called a fake, one who capitalizes on human misery, and a man who has done a great service to humanity. Which is he?

By Jon Bruce

↑ RICHARD MOORE, vice-president of KTTV, and Bob Breckner, program director of the station, believe that Anthony's show will be one of the most popular in the city before long. (KTTV photos by Rothschild).

A CRITIC recently commented that John J. Anthony, whose KTTV program has been drawing critical blasts but public interest, was one of the rudest men in TV—especially in the way he cut off some people who came to him with their problems. Said Mr. Anthony about this: "Just what is rudeness? At times I have to be sharp with a person. With some if you try being too sympathetic you could go on sympathizing for hours. You have to snap them out of their emotional state to help them."

"The criticism leveled at my show has become vile in many respects. Those who set themselves up as authorities have done little or nothing to help people. I have been counseling people for over twenty-three years and have had no complaints at all. My files are full of thousands of cases of those who have been helped. When I went off Mutual a while back to go on TV the station and I got 60,000 letters saying, 'Please don't leave us.' Does this sound as though I had done harm to anyone? Believe me, if I hadn't done the right job I'd have certainly heard of it after all those years on the air.

Commercializes Suffering?

"One of the charges leveled at me is that I have commercialized human suffering. This is ridiculous. In the first place, I have never exposed peoples' identities on the show. I never give names. On the TV program, it is impossible to recognize anyone. No one is even allowed into the studio.

"Besides, what do we do that is different from that done in magazines and newspapers? They go into cases—and give names. No one has to tell his story on our show unless he wants to. If he can find some help for his problem, our job has been done. And if the viewer, by listening to another's predicament, can avoid the same kind of trouble we have also been of service.

"All I can say is that we have had people from each of the forty-eight states come to us for help. One girl even hitchhiked from Los Angeles to New York to see us.

Problems Really Solved?

"Another criticism my show has had is that it is impossible to get a clear picture of the problem and a solid solution in only a few minutes of counseling. I make no attempt to usurp the province of the psychiatrist. I am interested only in settling the immediate problem at hand. For instance, if a woman says her husband beats her I know he's sick—and it's my job to tell her where he is ill. And whether or not she should submit to further punishment. She wants only an answer to her immediate problem—not deep-rooted therapy. I'm mainly concerned with the result and not with cause and effect. I'm interested in human hunger—and I try to offer a sandwich.

"However, anyone who is invited to come to the show can stay as long after the program as he wishes for further counseling. He can even call me at my office and see me as often as is necessary.

"Apparently we have done some good because we have letters of commendation from some of the greatest people in this country. Dean Emeritus Fred Kirschner of Butler School of Religion said to me, 'I could think of nothing I could desire more than to have my son sit at your feet and learn.'"

Background

And so what is Mr. Anthony's background? He had intended to be a writer but in his research for the novel he had planned he discovered a field that had been almost neglected—marital relations. His own state of New York was living under a set of antiquated marriage laws. At this time there were only a few psychiatrists and most people knew little about them or understood them. Anthony eventually organized the Marital Relations Institute, devoted to counseling on marriage problems. As the result of his work he was able to change many of the existing laws governing marriage in New York, the most notable being the blood test law before any ceremony could be performed. He also wrote the gin marriage bill which made mandatory the three days' waiting period before a couple could get married.

Mr. Anthony never tried to get into radio. He was asked to do the same thing on radio that he did in his office. This was in April, 1930. And he's been at it ever since.

"As for the criticism, when I meet with complete acceptance then is when I'll begin to worry."

And so spoke Mr. Anthony. What is your opinion of him?

This Week in TV

In & Out of Focus (General Comment)

Contest Extended

Because of the great demand by Hawthorne's fans, the "Decorate Hawthorne" contest, featured in last week's issue has been extended from midnight, Thursday May 27 to midnight, Friday, June 4. Copies may still be obtained by sending ten cents to TV-RADIO LIFE or to Hawthorne at KTLA, Hollywood 28, Calif.

Around TV Row

Reissue of the movie "Life With Father" is being planned to coincide with the return of the TV show this fall. . . . Charles Winniger, for many years "Captain Andy" in "Showboat" on radio, made his TV debut on Schlitz's "The Whale on the Beach." . . . Connie Haines has been set for the Frankie Laine teleseries. . . . Tennessee Ernie will have fem guest vocalists on his "Kollege of Musical Knowledge" stint which starts next month.

The Canonization of Pope Pius X will be shown on film to viewers on NBC, June 6. . . . "U. S. Steel" has renewed for the 1954-55 season and will continue telecasting throughout the summer. . . . Bouncy singing-comedienne Kaye Ballard, currently appearing on Broadway in "The Golden Apple," has been contracted by NBC. Her first stint will be on the opening airer of "The Colgate Summer Comedy Hour," June 6. Angelenos will remember seeing Miss Ballard at the Las Palmas about six months ago in a production called "Out Of This World."

Jim Backus plays the role of a song writer in the Romberg biopic, "Deep In My Heart." Incidentally Jose Ferrer and Rosemary Clooney sing a duet in the same pic. . . . John Payne plays the role of a hard hitting sports reporter in "Deadline," newest of McCadden Productions' pilots. . . . Homer Garrett and his Y-Knot Twirlers appeared on three channels in the space of sixteen hours last weekend. In addition to their KTLA show they guested on the Cerebral Palsey telethon and the Burbank on Parade telecast.

Celeste Holm has completed a short film for TV use throughout the country for the National Institute of Mental Health of the U.S. Public Health Service. . . . Frances Langford is touring the night-club circuit with her act, "Frances Langford and the Fellas."

John J. Anthony hits the road for a personal appearance tour throughout the Southland. Anthony is currently appearing on KTTV. His option is up next month and the station, so far, is making no comment on its renewal. Despite the severe panning Anthony has received from the critics, he's maintained a 4.0 rating.—M.R.

Telethons

Last week the armchair critics sharpened their pencils and tongues to light into results of a telethon for cerebral palsy which (as we go to press) after eighteen hours netted pledges of $128,437 and cash amounting to $17,734. Last year a telethon commenced by Jack Webb and Ben Alexander for the same cause fell only slightly below the goal of $600,000. It, however, ran twenty-eight and a half hours, a very vital point. It's the writer's impression that of all the telethons held in 1953, this one for cerebral palsy was best-managed to produce the greatest net amount for the cause involved.

In view of this fact, it is too bad that the cerebral palsy effort this year should be the one to take the brunt of all the past mistakes which apparently have, at long last, caught up with this unique and speedy method of raising money.

We hark back to last October 30 when TV-Radio Life, alarmed at the increasing number of telethons and some of their abuses, did extensive research on these money-raising video-marathons and raised questions as to their efficacy and durability. "Perhaps," we noted at the time, "unless telethons are controlled, they will become 'old hat' and lose their power." Could be that this is now the case. It is also possible, if not probable, that the recent widespread publicity on how telethon money was spent, may have turned many donors away from the appeals. Well-managed efforts, if this be so, have to take the punishment for those not-so-well-handled. In its article last Fall, TV-Radio Life disclosed that there were many expenses involved in staging a telethon — phones, lights, theater, accountants, seventeen percent fee to Theater Authority for allowing the stars to appear, transportation, etc. In some instances it was an eye-opener to people who had thought they were giving directly to "the cause" to discover they had, perhaps, been giving to the means achieving the end. (Surely no thoughtful person would believe every penny subscribed could be channeled intact into the effort.

Where telethons go from here, if ever, is the question. A wise course may be to forget them for a year or two, then stage one to last at least thirty-five or forty hours (It takes that long to gain momentum) put one or two top TV stars in the emcee chairs, and let them stick with it until the money comes rolling in. (There is something psychological about wanting to give when top people are giving of themselves so wholeheartedly.—E.B.

Chef Still Searching

Chef Milani's next stop in his search for young talent will be at THRIFTY FOOD MARKET, 398 West Sixth Street in San Pedro on Saturday, June 4. Those selected will appear on his regular KCOP Thursday night program.

Second Glances (Critical Comment)

Point with Pride

. . . to the very sweet "stunt" on "Truth or Consequences" last week when three grandpas sat down to sing lullabies to babies placed in their arms. The cute children turned out to be hitherto-unseen grandchildren flown in from as far away as Honolulu. Each granddaddy was holding his own grandchild, then was greeted by his own daughter and mother of the baby. A real lump-in-your-throat consequence.

. . . to Wally Cox's amusing guest shot on "I've Got A Secret." Although "Secret" is a CBS show they helped publicize the pending marriage of "Robinson Peepers" and "Nancy Remington." "Nancy" was seated in the audience with other members of the "Peepers" show and Garry Moore graciously invited her to join Cox on stage.

Incidentally, "Peepers" out-rated the Benny show on May 23. Trendex scored "Peepers" 19.9 and Benny 13.9.

Premature Statistics

Correction on last week's Educational TV story: There are 1,835,863 VHF sets not UHF sets in the Los Angeles area.

LUCKY CHANNEL

LET'S FACE IT!

Your TV set costs you money! It is an expensive instrument. In the past, TV set maintenance was also expensive, until a local business man saw the need for a good, honest and reasonable TV service agreement for set owners. To fill that need, TELEVISION INDUSTRIES, Inc., was organized in 1949. Operating on the same principle as an auto club membership in cost and function, with a technical staff to service the warranty holders' sets, the organization has grown steadily since 1949.

Today, more than 12,000 satisfied contract holders, many of them having renewed their previous two year contracts, attest to the reliability and honesty of this firm.

The plan under which the company operates is simple: TELEVISION INDUSTRIES will issue a parts warranty which guarantees any and all parts in your TV set for $15 per year, on a two year basis. This guarantee covers all small parts, all small tubes, transformers, channel selector unit and picture tubes up to and including 21" screens.

Or, they will issue a warranty covering your picture tube only for $10 per year. Defective and worn out parts are replaced with original factory materials.

House calls are charged for at a flat rate of $3.50 per call. TELEVISION INDUSTRIES prefers not to bring the customer's set to the shop, as their fully equipped field men can and do correct over 85% of the set owner's trouble in the home. In those cases where major repair work is necessary, sets are checked, repaired and tested at the shop, using the finest and latest available electronic equipment.

TELEVISION INDUSTRIES covers all districts of Los Angeles and Los Angeles County Monday through Saturday, six days a week.

For further information, simply call HO. 2-3341 or mail the coupon below to Television Industries, Inc., 4031 Wilshire Blvd., Los Angeles 5, Calif.

TV-RADIO Lifelines

BY EVELYN BIGSBY

HERE'S THE LATEST WORD ON WHAT to expect in your new looking and listening, so for a preview come along, but hang onto your hats!

AT LUNCHEON THURSDAY WITH NBC-TV's program head, Frank Cleaver, I learned that hulking Fred Clark (who used to play "Mr. Morton" on Burns and Allen) has been chosen as "Daddy" for the proposed "Baby Snooks" teleseries. Rights for the name and format have been secured by the net from Fanny Brice's daughter. "Snooks" has not yet been selected.

WILLARD WALTERMAN, WHO DOES "Gildersleeve" on the radio show, is getting ready to head up the TV cast of "Gildy" and chances for this program to go on in the fall look good.

Frank Cleaver

TESTS ARE BEING MADE FOR A COUPLE to take over the roles of "Fibber" and "Molly." (Jim and Marian Jordan do not want to do the teleseries.) So far no one has been just right for either part. They're looking for a middle-aged couple and it would add to the show's believability, in my opinion, if the pair were married in real life.

MICKEY ROONEY'S NEW TV SHOW, "Hey, Mulligan," may not be seen until early September. He is supposed to play the part of an NBC page who has day-dreams of splendor. Already has sponsor.

IT SEEMS DEFINITE THAT THE much-discussed "Medic" will be plunked into the Monday night time-slot opposite "Lucy." As you may have heard, the pilot film is a real shocker—the story of a pregnant girl who discovers she has leukemia. Subsequent stories are somewhat less jolting, I am told.

CLEAVER, AN AFFABLE CHAP with thorough background in pictures (seven years at Paramount where he headed the story department and was assistant to the executive vice-president), spends many of his evenings night-clubbing. That's how he discovers talent like Paul Gilbert, whom he first saw performing at Las Vegas. According to Cleaver, Gilbert is one of the most versatile performers he has ever known—he can sing, act, dance, juggle, and plays various instruments. "The Duke," a story of a retired fight champion who yearns to become cultured, is being tailored for Gilbert.

RUDY VALLEE AND THE BELL SISTERS have been cast in a situation comedy, but nothing definite on this. We may see a sample on one of the "Saturday Night Revues," designed to showcase promising fare. Alan Young is being groomed for "That's Life," and I do hope this is it for this very clever chap who has had more TV ups and downs than he deserves. Wish they'd find another name for what they're calling "It's a Great Life," a comedy being prepared for Mike O'Shea and Bill Bishop. Between "It's a Great Life," "This Is Your Life," "That's Life," "You Bet Your Life," and "This Is the Life," a fan's life isn't worth living.

CLEAVER IS CURRENTLY READING between fifteen and twenty-five story ideas a week. Wading through the material is a cinch for him. He can read a novel in about two hours.

TENNESSEE ERNIE'S STOCK IS GOING higher and higher. His "College of Musical Knowledge" will open classes July 4.

JACK PAAR, ANOTHER LIKELY YOUNG FELLA who has never quite gotten set, gives TV another whirl when he subs July 17 for "My Favorite Husband." It's too bad Jack got off on the wrong foot when he inherited such a plum subbing for Jack Benny on radio a few years ago. Having talked with him since, I'm convinced he learned his lesson and now I hope he'll latch on, for good.

ONE OF THE MOST SURPRISING "summer" shows is swapping one red-head for another. The "Red Skelton Revue," an across-the-board daytimer, has finally been set for July 28 to take over the Arthur Godfrey spot. I suggest we all keep open minds to see what Skelton can do with this completely different set-up. It may be a bigger surprise than his taking over the spot.

FOR RADIO, EDWARD ARNOLD has auditioned a one-hour "Godfrey-type" program (is this a trend,) for CBS. That brusquely humorous lady, Hope Emerson, and Bill Demarest have taped a show called "The Cobbs." This could be very amusing.

GARY CROSBY DOESN'T PLAN to

PICK of the PIX

by Aubrey Dahl

Hollywood Park has thrown up an armed guard and installed electronic warning devices in a frantic effort to keep me away from the track and I can't say I'm surprised. . . I'm in to them for $7.80 and that's hardly chicken feed. It will do them no good, however . . . my system never fails. I bet all grey horses numbered 8, carrying 114 lbs., whose jockey's last name begins with "T." And, of course, the nag has to nod at me on the way to the post.

"Navajo." (5) June 5, 10:30. This picture first appeared as the lower half of a double bill with "High Noon" in a local cinema a couple of years ago, and as far as I'm concerned, it was the better half. Shot on a low budget, it relates the difficulties of an Indian lad in adjusting to the white man's school, his flight into the mountains, and the pursuit by two sympathetic teachers. The film is moving and intelligent, and the performance by the unknown Indian boy (unknown to me, that is) is excellent, thanks to director Norman Foster, the former screen star.

"Four Feathers." (13) June 6, 8:30. John Clements, strange fellow, just doesn't want to go to India and fight, so he is labeled a coward by his confreres and receives four white feathers as tokens of their contempt. He is cashiered from the army, goes to India on his own and proceeds to perform enough feats of derring-do to enable him to give back the feathers. A rousing adventure epic of the old school, acted with gusto by Clements, Ralph Richardson, June Duprez and C. AUBREY Smith.

"Another Man's Poison." (5) June 6, 7:00. Bette Davis and Gary Merrill (Mr. and Mrs. In real life, for those who skip Louella) are the stars of this melodrama, which concerns the antics of a hyperemotional female, played by who else, who becomes so incensed at the demise of her favorite horse (I can think of several favorites whose demise wouldn't bother me at all) that she sets out to wreak revenge on anyone who happens to be around, played by Mr. Merrill. She fixes his car so it'll go over a cliff and when that doesn't work, she tries to poison him. Let the kiddies stay up for this one.

"Sidewalks of London." (9) June 6, 7:00. Like old home week reviewing this one, but it hasn't been around for a while. It has Charles Laughton, Vivien Leigh and Rex Harrison in a tale of show business, from the sidewalks to the stage, and all of these people have done quite well since this picture was made, thank you.

"The Girl Who Forgot." (2) June 9, 3:30. I waited only three hours, anyway.

HOLLAND'S TUNNEL

DUG BY JACK HOLLAND

This column has often become dyspeptic enough to go critical so perhaps it will seem a little out of line to do some ranting about other critics, but a couple of things have come up recently that make one wonder about the physical well-being of the critical fraternity. John Crosby, who happens to be one of the better columnists, took time out to toss some snide cracks at Betty White—and for, of all things, her wholesomeness. Now, we're not so tired that we don't go for a little spice in life. We've even gone along—and somewhat in a contented state—with the low-cut dresses on TV. But when it comes to giving Miss White a working over because her shows happen to be wholesome—and also very popular, we might add—then we give up. Is wholesomeness out of style? Is a blatant outpouring of sex the only course left? All right, maybe Betty White's show isn't for the sophisticates, pseudo or otherwise, but a good many people who consider themselves sophisticated have enjoyed her "Life with Elizabeth." Seems to be a vogue these days to rip someone who happens to have hit the fancies of millions of people. Betty White may be wholesome—and more credit to her. She's like a breath of fresh air and if she reminds you of someone's sister, what's wrong with that? That's certainly better than someone who reminds you of the neighborhood tramp. Or is this tunnel losing sight of what really matters in this business of living?

The other item has to do with the raps given the stars who worked their heads off on the cerebral palsy telethon. Okay, so the telethon flopped. This is no surprise. But when personalities work so long and so hard for free to get money for a charitable cause, why should they be given the brass-knuckles treatment? So they slap certain people in certain parts of the city for not coming through? Maybe this isn't in good taste but it's understandable, especially when they've been on that stage for hours on end, their nerves are frayed, and they are so anxious to make the drive a success. Frankly, to begin with, the telethons demand too much of stars—for free. Hollywood and TV stars have always given of their time for worthy causes and they get little or no credit. Maybe they don't expect credit, but they don't deserve raps. These personalities should have had enough by now. If they turn a deaf ear to pleas from here on in to work on a charity telethon, you certainly can't blame them.

Bill Bendix, whose "Life with Riley" is really hitting its stride, had a real life drama of his own recently when his daughter, Lorraine, a TV script writer, underwent a serious operation. In fact, for three hours no one expected her to live. We're happy to report now she is well on the way to recovery, but Bill and his wife, Tess, wouldn't care to go through a scare like this again. Good luck, Lorraine.

Night Life: The Terrace Room at the Statler is offering the "incomparable" Hildegarde and Johnny Johnston. Hildegarde has become a fixture in the entertainment world with her lack of any sizable voice and her stylized personality. Her charm seems to be quite studied now, but when she let's go and relaxes she really warms up an audience.

At the Coconut Grove it's practically NBC-TV in person with Connie Russell and Paul Gilbert holding sway. Connie proves she doesn't need Eddie Cantor to make the grade. She has a wonderful style although she could use more variety in her selection and could do with less "socking" over numbers. As for Gilbert, he's a very funny man—much funnier than his material. He had Jack Bailey and Ben Alexander practically rolling on the floor with laughter.

Heard a funny story from press agent Jack Tierney. Seems a friend of his who is an illustrator for magazines received a story purchased by a magazine to be illustrated. He did the job and returned the art. A few days later he discovered he hadn't sent back the writer's manuscript so he mailed it off. Five days later he got the story back from the magazine with a note saying, "This isn't the type of material we use." This may explain why some writers get confused over rejection slips.

Martha Wright

KABC-TV Sunday, 9:15 p.m.

Pert, blond Martha Wright, the latest vocal entry on the videolanes, delivers a melodious fifteen-minute airer loaded with appeal.

Martha sings with just the right amount of animation and sparkle without overdoing it. She renders a ballad beautifully and hits a rhythm tune bouncily. On a recent airer, Martha sang "You Are My Lucky Star," "Young at Heart," and with an able assist from the male chorus of "Wonderful Town," "Eileen," and "Lullaby of Broadway."

The "live" production is well knit and Bobby Hackett's orchestrations enrich the entire production. Leads into the Packard commercials are handled smoothly and pleasantly. M.R.

Radio in Review

For Love o' Mike (General Comment)

Radio Ramblings

Here's a switch—Bing Crosby will pinch hit for son Gary on what was to have been the prodigal son's initial summer broadcast. However, Gary will have recovered sufficiently from his recent auto accident to take over his show on June 13. Furthermore, and just to keep everything in the family the Clooney girls will guest with the Crosbys on their respective shows. Rosemary with Bing and Betty with Gary.

Gene Norman returns to his KLAC mike after an extended European tour. . . Dave Maxwell leaves his Catalina haven to broadcast from KBIG's Hollywood studios. Lowell Thomas was cited for his 25th newscasting year by the Radio Pioneers Club.

Ruth Ashton, KNX's fem newscaster originates her programs from New York and Washington for the next three weeks. . . KFI's Pat Bishop became a poppa last week. Wife, Mary and son Stephen Jeffrey doing fine; pop's still a bit breathless.

Curt Massey and family head for a Hawaiian vacation. . . The "Space Patrol" cast are participating in Cerebral Palsy telethons in Louisiana, Wisconsin, Texas and New Mexico. Benny and Company are all set to open their p. a. tour in Dallas on June 14.

With his new daytime KFWB program from 12:45 to 3:30 p.m. Monday through Saturday starting on Tuesday, Larry Finley now chalks up nine hours per day, six days per week. That's a lot of hours and a lot of talking, but Larry doesn't seem to mind the pace.

CBS is certainly a believer in thoroughness. They've auditioned Jack Carson with three different formats—situation comedy, hour-long variety and an across-the-board musical stanza. Guess we'll be hearing Jack on the etherlanes just as soon as the net makes up its mind.

Glamorous Dietrich

Watching Bob Hope tape his June 11 show with glamorous Marlene Dietrich as his guest was a real treat. This fascinating woman exudes charm with the ease and grace of a prima ballerina. Her soft-well modulated voice has a magnetic attraction that makes you want to keep on listening to what she's saying regardless of the topic being discussed.

Miss Dietrich looked radiant in her beautiful cerise gown and lovely blonde hair, Italian-style cut. Her slim figure and unlined face was the envy of every woman in the audience.

LaDietrich matched Hope's off-mike banter with the trigger-action quickness of a trained comedienne. During a skit with Hope, using German dialects, Dietrich called him a "Verstunken Schwein Hund" with such force that the rest of the cast and crew broke up laughing.

But rather than spoil one of Hope's best shows of the season by telling you all about it now, we suggest that you tune in to your NBC station on June 11.

Point with Pride

. . . to the splendid interviews Dan Cully conducted with KNX newsmen the other evening. He proved himself an alert reporter, able to extract the maximum of interesting talk. This session was one of several held this month in recognition of CBS-KNX's staff.

Tom's Corner

By Tom "Hollywood" Harmon

BROADCASTER'S "BIBLE"

I seriously doubt if there is a sports broadcaster working today who does not try to operate under a set of rules that he, himself, has set down for his broadcasts. Like all the rest of the boys I, too, try to follow certain lines that I believe to be right. No, I do not say these rules are never to be changed; but generally, they make up this broadcasters "Bible" of operation.

So for the information of the listener, let me try and enumerate my list:

1. Be fair. Most sports controversies have two sides. Explain both sides and allow the public to judge.

2. Be impartial. Great plays in baseball are great plays whether they are performed by foe or friend alike. The fact that a player is wearing an opposing team's uniform does not detract from his great play. In short, call them factually . . . on both sides.

3. Never "second guess" an umpire.

4. Never "second guess" a manager.

5. Do not talk too much. Allow the camera to work, too.

6. If a technical play happens, explain it in simple terms so that the new fan can understand it. This may sound silly to the baseball fan, but try to bring the new fan into the game by building his interest; yet, do not insult the old fan's intelligence. But DO NOT become so technical that no one understands you.

7. Try to give the score at least once every two minutes. The late listener may have just tuned in. The same with crucial situations.

The above list are the major points this broadcaster tries to cover in each baseball game. There are times when I am sure I fail but when this happens, it is not an intentional oversight. Needless to say, there are times in a baseball game when things happen rather fast. To keep your eye on the play, the monitor and keep score as well as statistics, is often a job that could be better handled by someone with six eyes.

Baseball as a game, is probably the most controversial game of sport known. This I believe comes about for one simple reason. More folks have been exposed to baseball than to any other American sport . . . consequently, more people feel that they know this game than football, basketball, hockey, track, etc. And when you have a good sports fan as an interested party, you are going to have opinion.

These opinions are as divided as the Grand Canyon, and they are good for the game because they stimulate interest. So when you watch the work of the KHJ-TV crew from Gilmore Field, remember that we are doing our level best to please every baseball fan who is watching. I fully realize that this is an almost impossible task, but you can be sure that we are trying.

So rather than take it out on poor old Dad Harmon, Uncle Bill Brundige, and "In the Middle" Bond, come out to the ballpark and take it out on the umpires. They're used to it.

ALTER EGO

Before Jimmy Weldon, Webster Webfoot's alter ego, ever appeared before the cameras he was a stage hand, sweeper, cameraman, audioman and boom operator.

Warmer-Upper

Chuck Connors, former L.A. Angel first baseman now seen on KHJ-TV, will be on hand Friday afternoon, June 4 when Ralph's Markets stage the grand opening of their new store at Lakewood and Firestone Blvds.

Currently appearing with KHJ-TV's line-up of top West Coast sportscasters, Connors airs his own TV show, "Baseball Warmup," immediately preceding Channel 9's Tuesday thru Sunday telecasts of Pacific Coast Baseball.

Around the Sports Circle

with Garry Goodwin

ONE OF our town's most respected authorities in the sports world, and definitely one of the most popular announcers, is KCOP's own Garry Goodwin.

AS A RESULT of announcing the wrestling bouts from Ocean Park Arena for several years, Garry became a close friend of the outstanding wrestlers in this area. Above, he's pictured with the popular Rito Romero.

BEFORE GOING on the airplanes, sportscasters must do a lot of work. Here Garry gets some last-minute information from the directors and remote crew of KCOP. (Channel 13 photos.)

AS A PART of his own daily show on Channel 13 now, Garry frequently invites prominent guests in the sporting world. Below, speed boat enthusiasts Lee and Marie Dobbs explain to Garry and his viewers some of the finer points of their hydra-plane boat.

MARIE DOBBS, one of the outstanding women in the speedboat world, explains to Garry how she became interested in this unusual sport for women. Garry's favorite sport, incidentally, is football, in which he is a recognized authority.

▲ SURPRISE FOR MOM! Philip Lee hides a present for Gale while Peter Wade and Paul William join the fun. Gale has it all over "Margie" in that she is a proud mother and a good wife while her TV counterpart is still hoping for the married life. (NBC photo by Herb Ball).

▲ AND THIS IS "MARGIE" of "My Little Margie." Charles Farrell co-stars with Gale. Their friend is, to say the least, affectionate.

THERE'S BEEN an impression that it's hard to tell where Gale Storm stops being "Margie" of NBC-TV's "My Little Margie" and where she is herself, otherwise known as Mrs. Lee Bonnell.

In the first place, the line of distinction is obviously drawn in the fact that Gale as "Margie," which is also heard over CBS radio, has a husband and three children. So she's considerably more advanced than "Margie," who is in the single state.

Then there's the contrast in the way Gale and "Margie" live.

Homes

The delightful madcap on the show lives in a Central Park West penthouse with her father. At the present, Gale is living in a small modest home with her husband, Lee, and her three young sons. But this not-so-auspicious set-up will be changed when Gale and her family move into the $150,000 house they're now building.

And what a place it will be! It will be in Royal Oaks, and it will feature many unusual and modern designs. For one thing, the wall is of Mexican river pebbles. The floors are slate, and there will be an aviary and a swimming pool. The house, located on an acre on top of a rolling hill, will be of Oriental modern with plenty of glass outdoor walls. You can be sure this won't be any little cottage. In fact, "Margie's" apartment will look like a shack next to the new house.

IS GALE STORM

By Jack Holland

Then there's a difference between Gale and "Margie" in the relationship of the father. "Margie" lives with her father. Gale has never really known her Dad since he died when she was seventeen months old. In addition, "Margie" is the only child while Gale is the fifth child of a family of five.

"Margie" and Gale are probably the most alike when it comes to temperament.

Character Types

There is a point of parallel in their flippancy, their sauciness. Gale bubbles like "Margie," she is as enthusiastic although not as impulsive. Gale loves surprises—she's full of the love of life. And yet she's more profound in character than her TV counterpart.

She and her husband are living on what they call their five-point plan. It's a long-range plan for the future based on growth in five departments: (1) spiritual; (2) physical; (3) mental; (4) financial; (5) social. "Margie" obviously doesn't take time for such designs for the future. But Gale could retire right now and live on Lee's salary alone and without any changes in their manner of living. They have been careful with their money—consequently, their way of life would go on.

As a personality then, "Margie" is one or two dimensional. She's only Really "Margie?"

Gale Storm has played "Margie" so long people think she is just like the character. But the two girls fool you.

shown in a particular mold. Gale is a much more rounded type of person—and one who is always anxious to learn more. A while back she was taking ballet lessons in addition to her singing lessons and you wouldn't be at all surprised to find her going to USC for a course in Chinese. She loves to read and has been confining herself recently to books like Norman Vincent Peale's "Power of Positive Thinking."

Their Days

The big difference between "Margie" and Gale is a comparison of their days. "Margie" gets up about seven-thirty, fixes her father's breakfast, meets with the Ladies Aid Society for lunch at the Colony at times, meets Freddie for an ice cream soda, and gets home in time to prepare dinner for her father. Anything can happen to her—and usually does—after that.

In contrast, when Gale is working she's up at five-thirty. She's busy at the studio all day and then comes home at night to take care of her children and have dinner with her family. She usually retires early. When she's not working, she and Lee get up early, she makes a hearty breakfast (breakfast is her biggest meal), and if it's Sunday the whole family goes to church, then out to lunch. Afterwards they go to the lot where the house is being built, then to a museum or some such place. On an ordinary day, Gale is busy with wardrobe fittings, interviews, attending charity luncheons, and taking care of her home. She is always busy. She is well aware of her responsibilities to home, church, her community, and herself.

There is one other great contrast—"Margie" keeps getting proposals on the show and from fans who write. Gale Storm is already nicely set up with a family of her own and is not interested in proposals!

However, both girls would be nice to come home to.

The Lady Tames LIONS

Barbara Logan may be the lovely singer on Jack McElroy's KNBH show, "McElroy At Sunset," but she is also a wild animal trainer of note — and that's no gag.

RADIO CRIME shows are a dime a dozen. "Night Watch" is a crime show. But it is different. Different from anything you hear or have heard.

Because the new CBS thriller is for real.

Over at the rival NBC studios, a crime program by the name of "Dragnet" starring Jack Webb has been more than just a success. It has been colossal. One of the key factors to "Dragnet's" popularity is the emphasis on "realism." It takes actual cases on file and makes stories out of them.

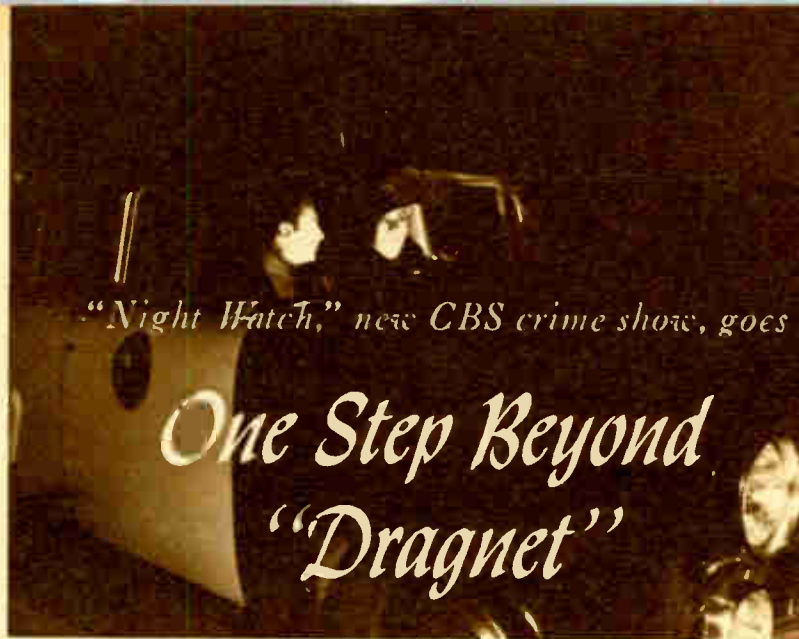

This CBS version goes one step further. The dramas on "Night Watch" are more than cases taken from files; they are the real McCoy.

There are no actors. No sound effects. No music. Every single sound—with absolutely no exceptions—is precisely as recorded by prowler car police. Thus "Night Watch" goes one step beyond "Dragnet"—to the ultimate in reality.

The chap with the recorder is affable Donn Reed, who has taped as long as ninety minutes to skim off twelve minutes of high-powered radio fare.

The hours and labor behind one half-hour program—and even more for an entire series—are tremendous, painstaking, and even dangerous. When asked how come no one had ever done a natural program such as this, Reed answered: "That's easy. No one would be crazy enough to do it except me."

His beat is in Culver City, where he covers, as the program's name indicates, the watch between 6 p.m. to

"Night Watch," new CBS crime show, goes

One Step Beyond "Dragnet"

2 a.m. Co-producer Sterling Tracy explained choice of Culver City by recalling the days when "Calling All Cars" was on KNX. W. N. Hildebrand, then and for fifteen years a fingerprint expert with the Los Angeles Police Department, worked cooperatively with CBS-KNX on the "Calling All Cars" presentation, so it was natural that Hildebrand, now chief of police in Culver City, should be receptive to the "Night Watch" idea.

Locale

Culver City, according to Donn and Sterling, is fertile ground for a police-type program. Due to its strategic position, it is a traffic lane for much transient crime. "Three out of four suspects are transients," Tracy pointed out, lest others think the locality undesirable. Actually, all names are deleted in the radio presentation and the addresses are changed. But, again the recordings are bona fide. Very little trouble is encountered in getting suspects or criminals to consent to airing of their cases. Many of them in repentant mood, feel that their experiences may deter another potential thief or murderer.

Troubles

Before "Night Watch" went on the air April 5, over 100 reels of tape were recorded in experimentation. Some of the footage had to be discarded because the tape machine had "gone bad" at a crucial moment, changing the quality of the sound. On one very exciting murder case Donn lost out entirely when the police car, in hot pursuit, hit a dip so hard that the mike cord was torn.

Reed, who carries his small microphone concealed, had to learn how to pick up important evidence without running risk of being slugged or shot and without interfering with police activities. First time out he learned the hard way—with a hard blow below the belt. Working as he does with regular detectives, Donn is always subject to their hazards.

Reed's sidekick on the prowler and on the air is Detective Sergeant Ron Perkins of the Culver City Police. Both Donn and Sterling agree that Perkins is a natural. He's thirty years old, six-foot-four, weighs 215 pounds, has a crew cut, adores children, is an honorary member of the hotrods, is an ardent skin diver. An all-around chap and excellent radio personality to boot.

Other Uses

When taping, Ron and Donn realize that some of the recordings may be used later in important ways. Suspects hearing them are inclined to break down in confession. What's on the tape might turn circumstantial evidence into positive proof. Naturally, what is heard on the radio program has been edited both for reasons of time and effect. It is intended to present three cases weekly during the half hour.

More than usual cooperation is given by Vernon McKenny, the show's engineer. Reason: he is an ex-cop. Donn Reed himself has to carry regular police identification and act as a regular police recorder.

"He can arrest any member of the crew," quipped co-producer Sterling Tracy.
