KPOL
 DIAL-1540

▲ MARTIN SCOTT, producer of Merchants Quiz. Clever questions interspersed with beautiful, beautiful music.

▲ JIM Narz, cordial host on Musical Comedy A La Carte and Merchants Quiz emcee, spins beautiful, beautiful records.

"Beautiful, beautiful music." How else can you describe the music from South Pacific, Oklahoma, Roberta, Show Boat, Porgy and Bess, Brigadoon, Kiss Me Kate, Rose Marie, the Merry Widow, Naughty Marietta, The Student Prince and other such great shows?

Some call these songs semi-classics. They are also known as evergreens, standards, pop concert selections, light classics, show tunes and perennials. But KPOL listeners agree that, by any name, it's beautiful, beautiful music!

KPOL features this "beautiful, beautiful music" all day long from 8:30 AM until sign-off every day except Sunday. It's mostly music by such composers as Romberg, Rodgers, Kern, Friml, Gershwin, Porter, Herbert, Berlin... played by the orchestras of David Rose, Mantovani, Percy Faith, Leroy Anderson, Melachrino, Kostelanetz, Morton Gould, etc.

Actually, the music featured by KPOL is popular music of other years which somehow never lost its popularity. The emphasis is on melody. Classical music is avoided except where a selection is extremely tuneful and familiar. Current hit records are also avoided.

In other words, you don't have to be a musician to enjoy KPOL—but you don't have to be a moron either.

▲ JOE WHITE plays beautiful, beautiful music called American Masterpieces.

▼ NORMA GILCHRIST, television's gift to radio. Beautiful, beautiful Norma plays beautiful, beautiful music on Time for Norma.

▼ BOB SCOTT, program director who begs, borrows and even buys KPOL'S beautiful, beautiful music, is also The Tenor Who Sings With the Records.

JANET KERN OF THE CHICAGO AMERICAN SAYS THIS ABOUT "WHERE WERE YOU?"

"Although I had heard this unique show was great, discovering HOW great it is was a real thrill for this somewhat jaundiced and blase professional viewer.

"Where Were You?" turned out to be as original as "Person to Person," as dramatic as "Drag-net," as informative as "Omnibus," and as entertaining as George Gobel. It represents a whole new youth—and a magnificent one of Television.

"Where Were You?" — This viewer is convinced this is the greatest program development since "Person to Person" and "Victory At Sea"—and it is bigger than both of us."

MILLION DOLLAR MIRACLE

Some years ago, Gwen Seager was a featured Goldwyn Girl. While working on a picture, she developed make-up poisoning, aggravated by an adolescent skin problem. Helaine Seager, her mother, happily discovered the unique blend of ingredients that cured the skin condition. They named it PINK ICE HOME FACIAL. They decided to tell other women of this wonderful discovery so that they too might be helped. Slowly, the fame of the product spread.

Late in 1952 Gwen Seager appeared as half of a team on Jackson Wheeler's program on KTTV, Channel 11 and since January 18, 1955, Gwen Seager has appeared with her Honeybear PinGo on "Jackson's Theater." This latter commercial for PINK ICE HOME FACIAL was considered the most unique cosmetics commercial ever offered on TV. The demand grew and grew for PINK ICE and women all over Southern California responded to these TV demonstrations. 21 years of hard work promoting PINK ICE was finally rewarded for Helaine Seager and Gwen Seager when an Eastern syndicate headed by Morton Edell (boy wonder of the drug field) purchased PINK ICE HOME FACIAL for one million dollars in order to make PINK ICE available and bring radiant complexions to women all over the nation. Now, PINK ICE is available everywhere.

In celebration of this event and in honor of TV-RADIO LIFE'S 15th ANNIVERSARY, Gwen Seager is offering a generous 10 day supply of PINK ICE free to all TV-RADIO LIFE readers who fill in the coupon below and mail it to her. Foreword

By Evelyn Bigsby

Managing Editor

If we were to be born again: Given its choice of a time to advent and a fifteen-year period in which to grow, TV-Radio Life would probably choose exactly the span whose successful completion is now being celebrated with this Anniversary Issue. To those connected with the magazine, the past fifteen years have been the most exciting in airline annals.

When Volume I, Number I made its modest debut in March 1940, it filled a long-felt need in the radio industry which was by then firmly flourishing. We started with a 10,000 press run in a few dozen markets. There were four persons in the organization. The first issue, with Jack ("Buck") Benny on the cover, had twenty-four pages on newsprint and sold for one cent.

All the curiosity and attraction of radio in full bloom found expression in Radio Life and was passed on to a growing contingent of readers. This stimulation did not abate during the World War II days which followed all too soon. Along with our industry, the magazine experienced modification to conform to wartime exigencies and programming. With paper consumption curtailed, we cut from thirty-six to thirty-two pages rather than disappoint the 45,000 families depending on the publication.

Difficult adjustments of the post-war period gave us the rockiest traveling in our experience. Then television appeared. It required patience, good luck, insight and many bottles of red ink for Radio Life to become TV-Radio Life, to successfully walk the TV-radio tight rope and to achieve a balanced publication meeting its readers' approval.

But today we genuinely hope that the fifteen years just completed are only a forerunner of many more exciting and fruitful seasons, whose radio and television accomplishments will be duly chronicled.

In an effort to keep abreast of these challenging times, TV-Radio Life has undertaken successive improvements in the publication, its circulation and its staff. Size of the weekly issue ranges from forty-four to fifty-two pages, twelve in rotogravure and the cover in color. Compared with the original staff of four, we now have thirty-four. The press run of this issue is over 170,000, on sale in more than 2000 outlets.

We are not content to stop here. As we take a deep breath before plunging into another cycle, we reaffirm our original objectives, to produce the best possible magazine for the money and to give our readers the kind of magazine they want.

May we thank you for your interest and loyalty in the past. And may we hope that you'll echo the sentiments of one reader who recently wrote us, "Life is fun—TV is fun—Radio is fun—I know because I've been reading TV-Radio Life!"

By Mildred Ross

(In making our Twelfth Annual Distinguished Achievement Awards, TV-Radio Life's editorial staff has given careful consideration, discussion and analysis only to new shows or personalities appearing on the TV-radio scene in the year—1954).

TELEVISION'S growing pains were quite evident during 1954. The preponderance of new shows during this broadcasting year were richer in quantity than they were in quality. But it was a healthy sign of an adolescent industry. The viewing horizon widened significantly and fluctuated continually. The weak and inferior programs fell by the wayside, making way for better programs to meet the ever-growing discriminating public. Here are the shows we've selected as the "top ten" for 1954:

Disneyland

"Disneyland" emerged as the best new TV program of the year. Walt

"THE SEARCH"

WALT DISNEY

RICHARD BOONE

Disney, one of the greatest showmen of our generation, brings to the entire family entertainment that has no peer. Whether it is the thrilling Adventureland, exciting Frontierland, amusing Fantasyland or stimulating Tomorrowland seen on our television screens, "Disneyland" entertains superbly.

Documentary-Drama

"Medic," a bold experiment in television, based on actual medical histories, was chosen the outstanding documentary-drama of 1954. TV cameras focus on the grim realities of the medical profession. Operating rooms, where the life or death of a human being are in balance, have become familiar scenes to "Medic" viewers.

Richard Boone, who plays the lead role, and the rest of the "Medic" cast are prone to underplay, emphasis being placed on the medical case histories rather than human emotions. "Medic" is compelling television; it is absorbing, suspenseful and informative.

Educational

"The Search," our educational award winner, took more than two years of preparation and is a weekly series based on vital research projects currently in progress at leading universities.

BILL BURRUD

DONN REED

KEN MURRAY

JACK DOUGLAS

The CBS television camera crews bring to TV audiences the thrilling and never-ending story of man's advance along his intellectual frontiers, from the University of California to the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. "Search's" educational tours cover projects from uranium prospecting and mining to new hope for the mentally ill.

Dramatic

"Climax," the hour-long live drama, was TV-Radio Life's selection as the best dramatic program of the year. Popular stories, books and plays, written by leading authors and playwrights with ability to captivate the emotions of the audience, are dramatized on this series.

Many outstanding stars made their live dramatic video debuts on "Climax," including Dick Powell, Shelley Winters, George Brent and Michael Rennie. "Climax" offers viewers well-rounded theater, well staged and well produced.

New Star

George Gobel walked away with the new-personality award, for nowhere on the TV scene was there another personality who created such a sensation and success in so short a time. Gobel's quiet, wry sense of humor skyrocketed him to national prominence in the space of weeks. His combination of toe-stubbing and subtle satire captures viewers. He invents his own cliches and his Go-belisms become popular instantly. Freshness is the essence of his entire presentation.

New Radio Program

Another winner in TV-Radio Life's Top Ten was "Nightwatch," CBS documentary of an actual police crime beat. Material is gleaned by reporter Donn Reed who rides a prowler car with Detective Sergeant Ron Perkins for on-the-spot recordings of crimes being committed. These edited tapes produced startling broadcasts. No actors or sound effects are used in these factual presentations of police work. This outstanding series is made possible through the cooperation of the Culver City Police Department.

Local Awards

"Faith of Our Children," the most distinguished local religious program, is conducted by lovely Eleanor Powell. In Sunday School fashion Miss Powell delivers a Bible lesson, presents a children's choir and interviews an outstanding guest who relates a personal, inspirational message for the children. "Faith of Our Children" is the finest program of its kind on the videolanes.

Adventure

KCOP's "I Search for Adventure," hosted by Jack Douglas, fulfills the wanderlust urge most of us harbor. Exciting films of far-away places covering thrilling expeditions and harrowing escapes are depicted. The interviews between Jack Douglas and the explorers whose adventures have been telefilmed add a vicarious thrill to "I Search for Adventure," the outstanding local adventure series of the year.

Documentary

"Assignment America," the best local documentary series, diligently holds up a mirror to occupations unlimited. "Assignment" documents these diversified enterprises and attempts to show that our free choice of endeavor is an important contributing factor to democracy.

Ken Murray

Ken Murray's "Where Were You?" was cited as the best local news-quiz program. It combines the elements of news and quiz by introducing, without identifying, a noted figure of the past, surrounds him with film clips representative of his era, and then lets the viewer guess his identity. The flashback pictures are wonderful fill-ins on the news of yesterday and the quiz aspect keeps viewers on their toes throughout the program.

Special Award

In addition to the Top Ten for 1954, TV-Radio Life also conferred a special award to station KNXT for outstanding public service in telecasting such programs as "Shakespeare on TV," "Psychology on TV" and "Introduction to Art."

FLASHBACKS

Remember when? Maybe a glimpse of TV-Radio Life's photo treasures will jog your faint recollections into warm glows of yesteryears.

▲ ART BAKER ENJOYED RADIO LIFE when it was only one cent, even though the baby magazine didn't begin to look like today's publication.

▼ FAVORITE OLD-TIME STUNT of "Truth or Consequences" emcee, Ralph Edwards, was to dress up in this costume before yelling, "Aren't we devils?"

▼ LOOKING ACADEMIC (THOUGH PUZZLED), Bob Hope matched brains with the Quiz Kids of a decade ago. Boys are Harve Fischman (above), Joel Kupperman.

TV-Radio Life's files yield pictures evoking memories.

▲ YEARS AGO ON KHJ, BEFORE "QUEEN FOR A DAY" was airborne, Jack Bailey used to go slightly mad during the early a.m. "Rise and Shine."

▼ GENIAL NEWSMAN, Sam Hayes, heard on KHJ and KABC, was an ardent fan of Radio Life as far back as the 2c days. (Looks like Ben Bernie on the cover.)

▼ THIS FLASHBACK is a very young one—only 1954—but it brings up happy memories for Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Welk, dancing at their daughter's wedding.

Seen On The Video- Radio Scene

▲ KTTV'S "WHERE WERE YOU?" narrator, Ken Murray, unsuccessfully vies with the cameraman for attention of his small daughter, who'll no doubt be a TV actress.

▼ SPECTACULAR IS ONLY word suitable for career of piano artist Lee Liberace. Mom here gets helping hand in kitchen of KTTV star's $100,000 Royal Oaks home.

▲ MOLLY BEE, one of the sweetest little gals on airwaves, affectionately hugs Cliffie Stone of KTLA. "Home-town Jamboree" fame. He has abetted Molly's career.

This Week in TV

In & Out of Focus (General Comment)

A-Bomb Telecast

Although the A-bomb telecast on April 26 will be a pooled effort, NBC plans to take color films of the event which will be shown that night on their "News Caravan" show. For the first time a live camera will be placed right in the trench where soldiers and civilian defense workers huddle—a mile-and-a-half from the blasts. Dave Garroway will crouch there with them.

Around TV Row

Mario Lanza made headlines again last week and as we go to press CBS's Nat Perrin is frantically trying to reach Lanza, who apparently has gone into seclusion, to offer him a spot on the next "Shower of Stars" telecast. CBS may be willing to gamble on Lanza's appearance on "Stars" but publicity wise there's no gamble involved; it's sure to warrant space.

Alan Handley is reading "Jigger," a melodrama series. . . . Van Johnson will sing and dance with Lucy in an upcoming episode. . . . Bill Goodwin plays a street pitchman in a forthcoming "Public Defender" stanza. . . . Spring is really here. James McClintock returns to Channel 9 with his "Fishing Flashes."

Dr. Frank Baxter has been named speaker of the year by Tau Kappa Alpha, national speech society. . . . When junior asks those multitude of questions he's apt to find the answers to many of them on CBS's new "Let's Take a Trip" series. . . . Roy Rogers has been renewed by his sponsor for eighteen months. . . . Marvin Fisher and Stanley Davis have been assigned by NBC to write a situation comedy about a sailor for Paul Gilbert, to start in June. Idea came from Paul's first movie "So This Is Paris."

Dan Dailey may do "Sons of Guns" for "Shower of Stars" in the fall. . . . "The Search," TV-RL Award Winner, concludes its series April 24 with a special telecast of highlights from the series. . . . Perry Como and "Father Knows Best" move over to NBC. Como will be slotted opposite Gleason.

Lloyd Nolan and chanteuse Line Renaud are slated for Bob Hope's April 26 telecast. . . . Parke Levy, creator of "December Bride" is abroad studying European TV techniques.

The press is going to view "Flight 951," starring Paul Douglas, Kathy O'Donnell and Barbara Britton, on "Climax" April 21 from aloft. CBS has chartered a TWA plane for the occasion. . . . The Crosbys are fast becoming the royal family of TV. Kathy and Gary will be Joanie O'Brien's replacements next June when lovely Joanie takes a maternity leave.

"Miss Pepperdine" is one of the most expensive pilots filmed to date. Julie Sze, daughter of the former Chinese Ambassador to Washington, was flown out here from New York to supervise the lavish $40,000 wardrobe to be used in the "Pepperdine" opener. Its star Marie Wilson, who plays a receptionist for a dress manufacturing concern, and eight lovely mannikins model the plush outfits. M.R.

Back Cover Boy

Those brilliant KABC-TV ads you have been seeing on the back cover of our magazine are prepared weekly by a talented ABC artist named Alan Elrod.

Alan has been an ABC staffer for ten years now and today is art director of the network's western division. He is responsible for all advertising art for both ABC radio and television. And if you think that's an easy job, just take a look at his worn-out art pencils and brushes after an easy day. It's enough to make an advertising artist wish he had stayed with clay.

Alan lives in Santa Monica canyon as a highly sought-after bachelor, and

NEXT WEEK

Next week's issue of TV-Radio Life will excite you and delight you — especially our cover featuring Richard Boone of "Medic" as he gives a medical checkup to the cutest little baby in all of Southern California. Watch for "Boone and the Baby" at your market checkstand.

Other exclusive articles on The Hobby Show, Bob Garred, "You Are There," "Rhythm and Blues," and Orle Amadeo of Lawrence Welk's orchestra.

As always, TV-Radio Life will have the most complete and up-to-date TV and radio logs for the entire week. Find out for yourself, next week and every week, why Californians know that TV-Radio Life is "The Best Dime Buy in Town."

when he's not preparing art sketches he strolls the beach barefooted as a devoted sun worshipper. Give Alan a forty-eight-hour pass and he heads even deeper into the sun to his favorite haunts in Laguna.

It is clearly conceded around town that Elrod is one of the fastest layout artists in the business. Give him an assignment today and he delivers it yesterday, and always with those certain "Elrod" touches that make for sparkling back covers. It's evident in Elrod's back-cover work that he works for "... the station with life."

TV Plays Published

This month six of Paddy Chayefsky's teleplays are being published in the first book of its kind. The book, simply titled "Television Plays" is bound to be a success with its pre-built audience. The author of "Marty" and other outstanding teleplays said in a recent Newsweek interview: "Television is a strange medium, limited by a thousand technical problems, hemmed in by taboos and advertising policies, cheapened by the innumerable untalented and officious people you will always find in a billion-dollar industry. Nevertheless, for the writers there is still area for deep and unprobed work."

Out of the Kitchen

Here's a letter which we received at TV-RADIO LIFE which our readers might be interested in:

"In case you haven't heard, I wanted to be sure you knew that on Monday, April 18, this 'man' is going to bite a dog.

"Studio One has bought 'Affairs of State' and for that one evening they have invited me out of the kitchen to star in the show. I am sure I needn't tell you I am delirious with excitement.

"This will be my first appearance on the show itself in almost six years. The last time I 'acted' on Studio One, I had a pretty sad part—seven lines—all of them bad. But the next morning, I had an invitation to try the commercials;

I won't bore you with the rest of the story.

As you know, there has never been a girl happier in a kitchen than I am, but it will be fun to have a night off and either way (it could go two ways), I will be back with those beautiful appliances the next Monday.

New Series

"Conspiracy," a series of foreign adventures filmed in Europe and starring James Daly and Jerome Thor, begins Sunday, April 10, at 10 p.m. on KTLA, Channel 5. The program revolves around the adventures of a foreign correspondent, with most of the scenes actually shot in European locations. The program follows "Bandstand Review" and precedes Larry Finley's "Strictly Informal." The films, originally named "Foreign Intrigue," will be shown every Sunday, replacing "Eye Witness" in this time spot. The program is sponsored by the Frank Taylor Ford Agency.

"Dear Chef Milani:

"... please give me your recipe for tamale pie.

Mrs. Allie Rocha
1059 Alexandria Drive
San Diego 7, Calif."

TAMALE PIE

- 1/2 cups yellow corn meal
- 4 cups water
- 1/4 tsp. salt
- 1 med. onion
- 1 cup Chili pods pulp
- 3 tbsps. olive oil
- 1 No. 2 1/2 Can tomatoes
- 1 lb. ground beef
- 1/2 tsp. oregano
- 1/4 tsp. chili tepins
- 1/4 tsp. cumln seeds

Cook corn meal, water and salt in top of double broiler 50 min. Mince onion and saute with meat in the olive oil. When browned, add oregano, chilli tepins, cumln seeds and chilli pod pulp. Simmer for 10 min., add tomatoes and cook for 35 min. Season with 1 tsp. salt and stir well before cooking. When meat and sauce are done, grease casserole with bacon fat. Linee with 1/4 of the corn meal mush. Pour the mixture into the shell and cover the meat with corn meal by tbsps. Brush the top with melted bacon fat and bake for 30 min. at 350°.

(Send your questions on food to Chef Milani, KCOP, Hollywood 38, Calif.)

Watch CHEF MILANI'S QUIZ ON FOOD, 2:30 p.m., Channel 13.

This Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday (April 11, 12, 13) The Chef's Show will originate from Shopper's Market, 825 W. Arbor Vitse, Inglewood.

KTTV Scoops Nation

As TV-Radio Life goes to press, we have received word that KTTV, Channel 11 in Los Angeles, has accomplished a "TV scoop" on the biggest medical story of the Twentieth Century.

On Tuesday, April 12, statisticians are announcing for the first time the results of the polio vaccine which was given a test last year involving 1,830,000 children.

KTTV is scheduled to go on the air at 6:45 a.m., and then at 7:00 a.m. will telecast direct from Ann Arbor, Michigan, the results of this long-awaited test. The telecast is scheduled to last until 11 a.m. If successful, the dreaded disease of polio will be wiped from the face of the earth. In the past seventeen years the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis has spent over twenty-two million dollars on research.

Now that victory is in sight it has been worth every penny of that sum. If man, during the ages, had spent the same amount of time and money for such purposes as this, instead of war and destruction, think of all the great things that could have been accomplished!

For now, let us all pray that the vaccine will be the knockout punch needed to destroy polio once and for all.

Teamwork

On the television screens "My Little Margie" is known as the girl who solves all problems single-handed. Off-screen however, Gale "Margie" Storm has a crew of fifty-seven persons to help solve the problems of producing the series, and Gale lets each of them bend her ear. While fans may marvel at "Margie," the one-woman task force, Hollywood marvels at Gale, a star who specializes in teamwork.

Director Hal Yates, sound man Charles Althouse, cameraman Walter Strenge, wardrobe mistress Ann Fielder, hair stylist Marsha Mesa and stand-in Marjorie Kane all sing Gale's praises. As far as they are concerned she is thoughtful, co-operative, pleasant and they love "playing on her team."

TV's First Family

The Barrymores were the first family of the theatre. Now it appears as though the Ozzie Nelsons will be the first family of television.

With David in his first year at college, and Ricky at Hollywood High School, Ozzie agrees it's really too early to predict for sure that the boys will continue on the "Adventures of Ozzie and Harriet."

"However, the way it looks now, David definitely does want to continue in show business. He tentatively plans to study law—not because he wants to practice, but because he realizes how invaluable the knowledge has been to me."

Ozzie obtained his law degree from Rutgers; never practiced a day in his life, but never forgot the fine points he learned which have aided him in negotiating contracts throughout his career.

"And we rather imagine that the boys will continue in some form of show business indefinitely," he says. "I can see it all now," Harriet added dreamily. "First we introduce daughters-in-law on the show—our own, of course. And then we're Grandfather Ozzie and Grandmother Harriet... I might actually get around to finishing the knitting I do on the show every week. And if our grandchildren show a tendency towards acting, why—this can go on for generations!" Harriet was joking, but the idea is not impossible.

How do Ozzie and Harriet feel about perpetrating their family before millions of onlookers each week?

"We think it would be a wonderful idea," they agree. And though it's certain the thought never occurred to them—the Nelson grandchildren will have more honorary godparents than any other youngsters in the world.

Color Series

"Hallmark Hall of Fame" becomes a monthly colorcast next fall with the noted actor-producer Maurice Evans at the helm. Producer Evans will star on two performances and host the entire series, a notable new addition to NBC's expanding schedule of colorcasts. The 90-minute-series will emanate from both NBC's color studios in Brooklyn and Color City, Burbank, California.

"BANDSTAND REVUE POLL"

The following list was compiled by KTLA, from a survey of disc jockeys and record sales and were presented as the "top twenty-five" songs on "Bandstand Revue" on Sunday night, April 10, from 9 to 10 p.m., by regulars Leighton Noble and his band, Anita Gordon, the McDonald Sisters, the Mercer Brothers, Rush Adams, and top recording artists.

Lifelines

BY EVELYN BIGSBY

ALONG TV ROW EVERYBODY is assuming that the major motion picture studios are going to take the dive into television, but after considerable checking, Lifeliner found that at this stage things are too "iffy" to pin down all the plans. For sure, "Disneyland" will roll merrily along and there'll be another Disney entry, "Mickey Mouse Club," which sponsors are already snapping up. This Monday a top bracket conference was being held to discuss the "M. M. Club" and also the Warner Bros. tie-up with ABC-TV about which I wrote a couple of weeks ago.

IT IS ALSO DEFINITELY ASSURED that 20th Century-Fox will make a new series for General Electric, which recently parted company with Joan Davis's show.

A ROMANCE SEEMS TO BE PROGRESSING between NBC and Paramount and rumors are that the picture studio will fill the "Comedy Hour" slot on an alternating basis. On the other hand, NBC is dropping hints that there may be a change in program structure next season. Could be that the resounding success of Walt Disney's mid-week "Disneyland" and Warner Brothers' scheduled series, a Tuesday night entry, may be responsible for the shifting of more plushy programs away from the week-end. Certainly no one could blame Colgate for scrambling that difficult spot opposite Ed Sullivan!

THIS PAST WEEK SAW DEVELOPMENTS at MGM and Republic. At Leo's lair the top executives were gathering data and conducting surveys preparatory to coming to a decision. At a stockholders' meeting at Republic, Herbert Yates indicated that the company might do a gigantic switch, dropping motion picture production entirely in favor of TV.

SO, AT LONG LAST, THE FLICKER MOGULS admit that there is such a thing as television! Columbia realized this ahead of the pack and started turning out video films through its subsidiary, Screen Gems. Such a move is a natural. A picture studio has all the facilities, the trained personnel and the properties, not to mention talent, some of which yet hasn't bowed to TV. But what's more, as Lifeliner pointed out previously, "Disneyland" has shown the other studios what a powerful selling weapon TV can be for pictures. A further example of this is "Lux," on which all the major studios except MGM have allowed their stars to appear. Film clips run at the end of each drama are given credit for appreciable boosts to the box office receipts of the pictures plugged.

THIS IS THE TIME OF YEAR WHEN sponsors are brooding and making up their minds about what next. There have been several cancellations—the one causing most distress among viewers seemed to be Robert Young's "Father Knows Best," which has now been reinstated by another bankroller. "My Little Margie" was given its slip, but may stay on sustaining, and Mickey Rooney's antics may go begging. There are some who say that this season marks the decline of situation comedies, most of which were inspired by "I Love Lucy." I feel that good situation comedy (not the phony contrived kind) will always be a pleasant ingredient of our looking fare. If many of these fall by the wayside now, it could be that there were too many of them whipped up in the first place in hopes of duplicating Lucy and Desi's phenomenal success.

SPEAKING OF THE ARNAZES, I recently mentioned that editors were being asked for their favorites of the early "Lucy" releases. A reader from Encinitas, Leon Douglas Jr., wrote to say he thought one of the funniest was when Lucy was hired to demonstrate some tonic on TV. The tonic contained alcohol and by the time rehearsals were over—do you remember?

FOLLOWING ITS SPECTACULAR SPLURGE with its Spectacular, "Peter Pan," NBC-TV negotiated for a three-time re-run of the program. Let's hope when Mary Martin and her delightful cast return there'll be more color sets. If people went into ecstasy over the show done in black and white, I'm wondering what they'd have thought had they viewed it, as I did, in full color. . . . On the color topic, it's rather sad to have Eastman drop its color series, "Norby." I'll admit the scripts weren't too good as a rule, but I enjoyed the programs just for their life and sparkle.

SEVERAL OF MY FRIENDS HAVE complained to me about the poor TV on Saturday night. Outside of Gobel and a couple of other deals, they think the programming is exceedingly dull. If everyone feels this way, I'd suggest that radio build a super duper show for Saturday. Results might be surprising.

THERE'LL BE ANOTHER TELETHON SOON. City of Hope is making plans for June. . . . Received a charming letter from Doll O'Dell, who used

IN LIGHT OF HIS LAS VEGAS FIASCO it's a marvel that Mario Lanza ever appeared, even mouthing his recordings, on CBS-TV's "Shower of Stars."

CONGRATULATIONS TO WONDERFUL "Fibber McGee and Molly," celebrating their twentieth anniversary in radio on April 17. And just to think if there'd been fresh milk in India, there'd probably never have been a kilocycle career for this peerless pair! Before they went into radio they turned down a foreign vaudeville tour, which was very tempting, because Marian Jordan ("Molly") had just had a baby whose little life depended on good milk. Incidentally, the "baby" is now NBC-TV director, Jim Jordan.

Her Luck Has Changed

The fascinating story of singer Mae Williams

Everyone is pulling for Mae Williams these days. And everyone is hoping her luck has finally changed.

Last summer Mae was going along very nicely with a good show on KNXT. And then came the blow. She fell and broke her back. Her show was naturally canceled, and once more she wondered what kind of a fate was plaguing her. About four years ago she was on the way to a big career when she got polio. She managed to recover from this disease and once more began her long climb up the ladder again.

Much more has happened to Mae. These are only a couple of the more dramatic incidents. There was also an attempt at suicide—but that's another story. Now, as Mae looks back on all the events in her life she says honestly, "I'm the luckiest girl in the world."

This girl has pluck—or in plain words, guts!

Mae was making her first public appearance, since her accident, with an engagement at the Biltmore Bowl. She was socking over numbers with all of her know-how. And there was a new happiness in her face. This tide was turning—she was sure of it.

The big break was Mae's being honored recently on Ralph Edwards' "This Is Your Life." Suddenly, her dramatic story was presented coast-to-coast—and the darndest things have been happening to her since.

"I've had more letters and phone calls from all over the country," Mae said happily. "I had one call from New Orleans from Billy Williams, a band-leader with whom I once worked in St. Louis. He used to introduce me as his kissin' cousin when we were working together. And I've had so many calls from people who say they're relatives of mine. In fact, I've had relatives coming out of the walls. I got a card from a woman who was the maid at the Chez Paree when I played there in 1940. I've also had three proposals.

"I've had some very inspirational mail from people who are trying to get somewhere in one business or another and who have asked me for advice and guidance. Whenever I am asked how to gain courage in difficult times I can only say that out of each bitter experience there is a lesson to be learned. I have discovered you have to look within yourself for hope and confidence—and for strength. There must be too the will to overcome any obstacle and the determination not to indulge in self pity. The weak succumb to self-pity. The strong stay above it."

It was her manager, Eli Schiff, who gave Mae the help she needed. He was always there when things were at their lowest ebb. It was for him that Mae determined to reduce. She has gone from 210 to 130 pounds. Her deep affection for him has been her mainstay.

Since Mae's appearance on "This Is

Your Life," she has had offers from Las Vegas, the Chez Paree in Chicago, and La Vie in New York. Interest is especially high on Mae in Chicago since the Edwards show.

Eli's brother wrote him about an incident that happened the night Mae was on the show. It seems that the fights in Chicago are Ralph Edwards' biggest competition. Well, on this night there was a knockout in the first few minutes of the first round so all sets were switched immediately to "This Is Your Life."

Mae is also very busy now making films for her own TV show. Arthur Weber is producing the show—and here is another interesting story. Weber has never been in show business at all, but he had so missed seeing Mae on TV that he decided the best way to get her back on was to present her with her own production.

"I have never forgotten how wonderful my fans from the KNXT days were—and still are—to me," Mae went on. "When I was in the hospital after my accident I received sixty-eight bouquets from people who had liked my shows. And many wrote that they were saying special prayers for me. As for the letters I received, well, they were fabulous.

"It's wonderful to find that people really care about you and mean what they have been saying in their letters. I had to get hurt to find that people were listening to me and believing in me. Believe me, I owe them all a great debt."

Almost anyone admires a young woman who can smile and have hope when life seems to have been tossing the book at her. Nothing will ever knock Mae Williams down again.

WHO IS NEVILLE?

The untold story of KTTV's new and controversial personality

By Jack Holland

There is a man over KTTV way who is creating a good deal of talk. He is definitely offering something new and provocative—and something loaded with dynamite. His name is Neville.

This very interesting man appears on Channel 11 at one o'clock on Sundays. Those who have listened to him have been more than intrigued. Many remember him when he was here last year and did one telecast—from which the station got 5000 letters. KTTV was so impressed with him that they brought him back for a series of talks this year.

It's hard to classify the kind of work Neville does. For want of a better definition you could call him a metaphysician. He also deals in thoughts that go along with the power of positive thinking, although his approach is somewhat different from that used by the popular Norman Vincent Peale. Peale himself explained the difference when he was asked for an opinion about Neville. The renowned minister remarked that Neville was undoubtedly a fine man, but said, "However, bear in mind that he is a one hundred percent metaphysician, whereas I am a minister."

Neville has one main philosophy. It is the power of affecting life rather than reflecting it.

"There is a wide difference in thinking of what you want and thinking from what you want," Neville explained recently. "Supposing there is something you want to accomplish, some situation you want to be in. I believe that instead of thinking how much you'd like that certain something, think of yourself as actually having it, of being in the middle of that desired situation. In other words, actively put yourself into the reality of a fulfilled desire.

"In all the lectures and classes I have given I have stressed this philosophy—and I know it works. I have had countless people tell me how it has worked for them, and I know what it has done for my life. I always tell those who come to me with a problem to picture themselves in the situation they desire, to lie in bed before going to sleep and actively bring into focus what they most want. For instance, a girl in New York wanted to go to Europe—Paris specifically. She had no money. I told her to get a real picture in her mind of her walking along the Left Bank in Paris, to think of the people there, to hear the sounds of the city, and to concentrate on that picture. Well, just a little time ago I got a letter from her—in Paris. She had been there six months.

"Another woman I know had been told by her daughter-in-law to leave her house and never to return. For two years this woman hadn't seen her son or her grandson and had been carrying bitterness in her heart. She had sent the grandson repeated presents on every occasion but had received no acknowledgment. I told her that instead of concentrating on bitterness she should actively put herself in the middle of the situation she desired. I advised her to write little letters each night to herself as though they had come from her grandson and daughter-in-law and to write the very things she most wanted to hear. Each night for a week she did this. She wrote notes which said how much she had been missed at her daughter-in-law's home and asking her to come to see the family. Before she went to sleep each night she kept this picture in her mind—of her walking into her son's home again. On the morning of the eighth day she got an envelope in the mail in which were two notes—from her grandson and her daughter-in-law asking why she hadn't been to see them, how much she had been missed, and would she please come for a visit.

"These are only minor examples. But this same thing can happen to you and your problem if you'll try my way."

Neville is unlike most people who deal in new theories. He asks no funds, he depends on no one for support. He earns his living by his lectures, which are always attended by packed houses, and by the eight books he has written. A friend of his wrote to the Library of Congress asking to have Neville's books placed there under the "New Thought" department, but after checking the volumes the Library replied that because of Neville's bold use of the imagination the books would have to be placed along with those of Emerson and other philosophers.

Neville became interested in this theory of his—which he calls an aroused interest in the use of the mind—in 1925. At the time he was a successful dancer. After eleven years on the stage he quit. His whole life had been taken over by this powerful new thought.

"I really learned the most about it from Abdullah, one of the greatest mystics of all time," Neville said. "He changed my life. I have had no obstacles in my life since then.

"Of course, I have met opposition. There are those who have called me a heretic. Ministers have stormed out of my lectures on occasion. But most of those who oppose me are those who don't want to outgrow what they have already learned and who are afraid to learn anything challenging and new.

"I have only one thing to say to the doubters—try what I believe in. It won't fail any of you. You can't fight something you haven't tried for yourself."

Neville is apt to blow up a storm here, but he's not one to dodge any fight.

RECORD

Notes to You

By ANDY MANSFIELD

(KFI, Monday thru Friday, 8:45 a.m.)
(Saturday, 9:30 p.m.)

With variety the keynote of this week's long-play records, special emphasis is on "Hit The Deck" (MGM), starring Tony Martin, Jane Powell, Vic Damone, Russ Tamblyn, Debbie Reynolds, Ann Miller and Kay Armen in sound-track versions of songs from the film based on Vincent Youmans' great musical. Here are its many hits—"Sometimes I'm Happy," "Keepin' Myself For You," "I Know That You Know," "More Than You Know," "Hallelujah" and the others—given new life on the sound-track of another great MGM musical. . . . Another fine in-person recording is that Columbia LP by Marlene Dietrich. Actually recorded on her opening night at London's fabulous Cafe de Paris, the listener is one of the fortunate crowd who gathered to welcome her that night, listen to her introduction by Noel Coward, and loudly applaud songs she has made famous in films, on records and behind the lines in World War II. The excitement and charm of Dietrich are faithfully captured on this recording, and while her voice would win no awards, there is the reserve, the personality and the femininity that is only La Dietrich's on this first night-performance.

"Music For Tonight" (Coral) features piano solos by Steve Allen, to lush backing of his orchestra. This is another Steve Allen, comedian, composer and clock-stopper. Here is the musician, and, of the many personalities which combine to make Steve Allen, here is one of the most appealing and memorable. Steve's fingers are adequately showcased on great ballad standards of yesterday.

Trumpeter Charlie Shavers is featured on a great pair of LP's on the Bethlehem label. The first, "Horn of Plenty," features Shaver's impressions of famous names in "Story of the Jazz Trumpet," with narration by Al "Jazzbo" Collins; also included are three top jazz renditions by the Shavers Quintet. The second album, "The Most Intimate," finds Shavers in entirely different mood and setting. This time the lush muted strings of Sy Oliver serve as a background for a serious and imaginative Charlie Shavers playing the misty music of Harold Arlen and Johnny Green in beautiful interpretations. A.M.

TV LOCALE

Those scenes you see on "So This Is Hollywood" are not all stage sets but authentic sites. Much of the authenticity stems from the fact that the series is filmed not only at one of the historic Hollywood lots, Hal Roach Studios, where the "Our Gang" and Laurel and Hardy comedies and many other famous movies were made, but because the TV cameras roam all over Hollywood to pick up "color." This includes the famous streets, stores, and Hollywood tourist meccas.

On the Hal Roach lot itself, the cameras record for televiewers, actually for the first time in such detail, the commissary where movie folks, big and small, eat lunch; the company streets—some modern, others Western ghost towns; the backs of sets from numberless old pictures piled end on end like books on a shelf, and a hundred and one intimate facets of movie making that the public seldom sees.

TV's "ALICE GOBEL"

Jeff Donnell, who portrays Alice Gobel during her frequent appearances on the George Gobel Show, is the wife of screen actor Aldo Ray in private life.

In addition to her role of George Gobel's wife, Alice, Miss Donnell's television experience includes appearances on most of the major dramatic and comedy shows, including "Hallmark Hall of Fame," "Omnibus," "Schlitz Playhouse," Ethel Barrymore Theatre, Gloria Swanson Theatre, and "Ford Theater."

Born on July 10 in South Windham, Maine, Miss Donnell was educated in Towson High School in Maryland and at Yale University.

She gained her initial stage experience in summer stock in New Hampshire where she was discovered by producer Max Gordon. He brought her to Hollywood for the stage role of Helen in the comedy "My Sister Eileen."

Shortly thereafter she was signed to a contract at Columbia Pictures where she remained for six years and appeared in a total of forty-eight pictures. She also has appeared in RKO and M-G-M releases.

Ear, Eye Inspire the Pen

Mrs. Lulu M. Jones, Hollydale

Please advise the name of program, date and time of Ina Ray Hutton's performance. She is one of my favorites and I can't find her name on the Program Finder.

Ina Ray is not currently on TV. However, she is now in the process of making TV films, which should be distributed for release at a later date. When and if it happens, you'll read about it in TV-RADIO LIFE.

Mrs. L. J. Skinner, Santa Barbara

Among all the interesting letters I have read in your magazine the past year or so, I don't believe there has been any about my favorite show. I always look forward each week to "Life With Father." Everyone concerned with this show is to be commended for putting on a half-hour of good entertainment every week. I'm sorry I can't say anything nice about the commercials, however. A change of wording and action in that department would help tremendously.

Mrs. Antoinette Kangas, San Gabriel

I wonder how many TV-RADIO LIFE readers have seen and heard "Suzabelle" on the Pinky Lee show? This gal has looks, personality and a wonderful voice.

Mrs. Tucker, LaVerne

I along with several of my friends are sure sorry to read that "Father Knows Best" is going off television. It's a program the whole family can enjoy, yet it's on at a time when the family isn't all awake to see it. This is the first time I've written a letter to any magazine, so you can see how strongly we feel about "Father Knows Best" removal.

M. S., Los Angeles

I am writing for not only myself but for seven hundred and fifty women from the Maywood Bell and Bell Gardens for the Women's Club. It is regards to the Bob Crosby show. Why do they have to keep Carol Richards and not keep Joanie O'Brien instead? If Carol Richards ever thinks she can take Joanie's place, she is very, very badly mistaken, as Joanie has her beat all the way around in singing, looks, personality and everything else. If Bob Crosby wants anyone to watch his show he had better put Joanie back.

Ear, Eye Inspire the Pen

Mrs. Amber Brader, Monterey Park

Please—due to your "deleting"—or omitting my criticism of certain "phases" of the Oscar nominations—and my opinions haven't changed of that spectacle—one of Jack Webb's Fan Clubs has paid me the "honor" of phoning me, and attempting to evaluate my reasons for criticizing Jack Webb. Not that it is important to anyone, but don't you think that you might have included in your edited letter of mine that I felt sorry for Jack Webb trying to M.C. such a "production" and that my main objection was not Jack Webb, but Louella Parsons and Judy Garland—and it still holds.

I also think that the "Emmy Awards" was really something—good direction, production and the manner of showing New York on the monitor deserves an Oscar or Emmy. So, in the future, if you choose to "edit" a suggestion or criticism in fairness to all concerned, at least stick to the continuity of the criticisms. And I liked Gobel's acceptance—short and sweet.

Periodically, we have requested our readers to limit their letters to approximately fifty words in order that we might include more of them. For longer letters, especially those over 200 words, we try our best to edit them. Naturally, under these circumstances, we can never be sure we have included the parts that the writer wants. The best bet is to limit each letter to fifty words. Some lengthy letters cannot be cut or else the entire meaning would be lost. Believe us when we say we try to be fair to all concerned.

Mrs. W. S. Stevens, Long Beach.

There seems to be constant complaint from radio and TV listeners about "too many commercials" on programs. We listen every Saturday night 9:15-9:30, to Cort Johnson on radio KXLA, a delightful program of good singing and comments, with no commercials except briefly at start and end. It is put on by Aircraft Insurance Group. We heartily commend it.

Pick of the Pix

By Aubrey Dahl

On this festive fifteenth occasion (it's our crystal anniversary, is that clear?) I should like to congratulate my editor and employer, Evelyn Bigsby, without whose cooperation I could not possibly get paid, nor could I get away with whatever it is I get away with in this shaft. As an example, I should also like to congratulate Germany on the 4,836th anniversary of the invention of beer, and Frankie Darro, for his 734th appearance on television, without pay. I wish I had his agent.

"The Big Night." (5) April 17, 7:30. John Barrymore, Jr. is the son of a fine actor, but I'm not going to burden him with comparisons . . . as it is, he's going to have trouble enough becoming competent in his craft. In this movie, released in 1951, John, Jr. is type cast as a seventeen year old (he was seventeen himself, at the time, you see) who becomes incensed at a newspaper columnist for a beating administered his father, Preston Foster, and sets out to wreak revenge. He has many adventures designed to suggest that his approaching manhood is going to make him a Beau Brummel (one of his father's best films) with the ladies, and finally gets involved in a gun fight with the columnist, who is wounded. Preston takes the blame, because the cops don't believe the boy's confession, and everything ends with more understanding between father and son. A grim, murky little turkey, with such low key lighting that you'd better turn the brightness control on your set up to full . . . or better still, turn it off. Boy, I'm nasty this week.

"The Blue Angel." (13) April 21, 11:00. Here is a film of considerable historical significance. It catapulted, catapulted, I said, Marlene Dietrich to international fame, and she arrived in Hollywood soon after to catapult around some more. Surely, you've heard of her. "The Blue Angel" is the name of a nightspot in Germany where la Dietrich works, and where professor Emil Jannings becomes enamoured of her and throws up everything to marry her and join the act. She ruins him, of course, and at the end even has him imitating a chicken, a pathetic humiliation actor Jannings (sounds like Time mag., eh?) invests with all the weilschmerz at his command. Marlene sings "Falling in Love Again" in a somewhat higher register than she now employs, but I think you'll find her just as provocative as ever and her legs are pretty good.

"The Lie." (13) April 19, 8:30. All right, Hilgenstuhler, I ain't sayin' nothin', so you can't censor nothin'.

LESSON FROM LISTENER

Tennessee Ernie Ford read a letter from a listener of his radio program on the Tennessee Ernie Ford Show on NBC-TV recently. It read:

"Dear Ernie:

Yesterday I heard you singing a hymn on the air, and it touched my heart. Somehow it reminded me of the wonderful family I was headed home to. It's such a peaceful, comforting feeling to know your family is there, waiting with expectation to your homecoming.

So, I pulled off the highway, turned my car radio down low, and prayed—thanking God for the things I have. Maybe more people should do this because most of us have so much of God's material and spiritual blessings to enjoy.

*Sincerely,
Max J. Reed
Louisville, Ky."*

A simple but meaningful story.

HOLLAND'S TUNNEL

DUG BY Jack Holland

Not long ago Philco Playhouse did a show called "Play Me Hearts and Flowers." It created quite a stir. And yet it was a gamble.

It was a gamble because it gave a well-known singing star, Johnny Desmond, his first solid crack at a dramatic role. It was a risky venture, too, because the sponsor agreed to go about $15,000 over budget, to do it at the Century Theatre in New York before an audience instead of in the usual studio, and to hire a fourteen-piece orchestra instead of using records as is the custom in most cases. The gamble paid off. The show received terrific response, the next morning over 100,000 copies of the record, "Play Me Hearts and Flowers" done by Johnny, sold across the counters (and it's still selling like crazy) and it gave Johnny Desmond a whole new career.

The whole thing began because of the song "Play Me Hearts and Flowers." Johnny had lined it up and when Philco wanted to know if he had a song to fill in for a show he was set to do called "Straight Man" he suggested this one. Philco liked it so much the title of the play was changed to that of the song. Everything has happened to Johnny since then.

"I've had several night club engagements lined up as the result of the show," Johnny explained, "the first at the Latin Casino in Philadelphia. There has been considerable movie interest expressed—and it looks as though something will start moving on the projected life of Russ Columbo which I hope to make into a picture. I'm going into a Broadway show called "Tinsel Town" next fall, and I'll also have my own TV program next fall for Philco—plus a possibility of a show on NBC this summer.

"I'm actually more interested in acting now than I am in singing. But I don't want to do a picture, for instance, unless there is a good script. I'm not interested in just being in pictures. The Russ Columbo story is, of course, my big ambition—and I already own all the rights to the songs Russ sang.

"I've had plenty of lessons that should stand me in good stead from here on in. One of the biggest, Glenn Miller taught me. I was with his band overseas during the war and one day he told me he hadn't used me because I sounded like Crosby or Sinatra or some other singer. He had hired me to sound like Johnny Desmond—and he said that if I didn't stop using the tricks and sound like Desmond he'd have to send me back. I hadn't realized I was doing any imitating but I guess I was. This brought me up short and made me be myself.

Whenever any young person asks me now for advice on how to be a singer I can only say, 'Be yourself.'

"I also learned much from being with Don McNeill's Breakfast Club for five and a half years. I learned poise and confidence there. Being with Don enabled me not to have to accept jobs I didn't want to do because with him I had a certain financial security. I also learned how to judge an audience by working with Don. You get some tough customers when you're singing in a show and when I was with Don I used to go around to the table and sing, 'It's Nice to Be Nice to Your Neighbor' and I'd shake hands with the people. If anyone was not being too polite, this disarmed him right away. I've used this gimmick on night club appearances, too.

"I'm a grateful guy for all that has happened. When I came out of the Army I got all kinds of breaks. I went from $72 a month to $3600 a week in three months—and I laid a pretty good sized egg because I wasn't ready for such opportunities. Now I am."

Johnny is in the chips now. His wife, Ruth, to whom he has been married for twelve years, and his daughters, Patti and Diane, are rightfully proud of him. It takes a lot to climb back up after having been knocked down—and this, Johnny did. He won't get tossed for a loss again.

The engineers over KTTV way had a few things to point out to the tunnel in answer to an item here about another channel's having done two remotes in a day. These boys claim that they have done as many as seven remotes in the same broadcast day within fourteen hours. They further state that they have done the following things: their special events equipment has traveled the equivalent of some five times around the world—more than 125,000 miles; technicians have set up more than 5,000,000 feet of cable, more than 700 million-watt hours of electricity have been used; they have covered floods, forest fires, earthquakes, arrivals of President Eisenhower, oil well fires, and everything from the delicate making of ladies' hosiery to the pouring of molten metal in steel mills. They have gone from the intense heat of open-hearth furnaces to thirty degrees below zero in aircraft cells. They have been trapped by forest fires and have nearly been washed out to sea by mountainous waves. And this is only part of their accomplishments. Credit is hereby given to these KTTV men—and to all engineers and photographers who take incredible risks just to bring the hottest news and events right into your home. They are TV's unsung heroes.

What Was Radio Like Fifteen Years Ago?

*Here's what was going on at the major radio networks
When TV-Radio Life first went to press.*

The broadcasting industry reached a rapid stride fifteen years ago, just about the time Radio Life made its debut. Saluting our fifteenth anniversary, the networks have culled from their files incidents in radio a decade and a half ago.

NBC

Many new series were started on NBC in 1940—Rudy Valle, "Mr. District Attorney," "Quiz Kids," "Information Please," and Eddie Cantor. Jack Benny was an NBC headliner. Bob Hope, "Fibber McGee and Molly" and "One Man's Family" were as popular on NBC then as they are now.

Eddie Cantor

Outstanding among NBC's dramatic events of 1940 were the radio debut of Katherine Cornell in scenes from "The Barretts of Wimpole Street" and two readings of Alice Duer Miller's long narrative poem "The White Cliffs" by Lynn Fontanne and Alfred Lunt.

During the summer Maestro Toscanini and the Symphony Orchestra made musical history with a month-long tour of South American music centers, including Argentina, Brazil and Uruguay. Dr. Walter Damrosch, NBC Music Counsel, continued unique broadcasts of NBC Music Appreciation Hour.

NBC's 1940 news schedule was dominated by European War. American radio's two most experienced overseas reporters, Fred Bates in London and Max Jordan in charge of the continental headquarters, directed NBC's European activities.

ABC-KABC

Under different call letters and different ownership, KABC was a strapping eleven-year-old when Radio Life came out with its maiden edition fifteen years ago. Owned and operated by the American Broadcasting Company since August 1, 1944, in 1940 the station bore the call letters KECA, and was the Los Angeles affiliate of the Blue Network, then towned by the National Broadcasting Company.)

Even before the ABC Network was as much as a gleam in the eye of the FCC, the station that was to become its owned and operated outlet for the greater Los Angeles area was an established and respected communications medium in the community, bringing to its listeners many of the outstanding stars and programs of the day. Who can ever forget the laughter that greeted Tom Breneman's donning women's hats on his "Breakfast at Sardi's" show? Or the sustained interest in the Irene Rich dramatic series, in which Joan Loring as a little girl got her start in American radio? Or the hilarious "Captain Flagg and Sergeant Quirt" series starring Edmund Lowe and Victor McLaglen? All of these, and many more headliners of the day were on this station way back when Radio Life made its auspicious debut. "Red Rider," starring Reed Hadley, and featuring Tommy Cook, was riding this station's airplanes at the time, too.

To this day, a number of programs that were stand-outs fifteen years ago are still heard on KABC. They are the Metropolitan Opera broadcasts, "America's Town Meeting Of The Air," Don McNeill's "Breakfast Club" and "The Lone Ranger."

CBS-KNX

Gleaned from the CBS files of fifteen years past, Gracie Allen was waging a "bitter" campaign for President on her "Surprise Party" ticket, with help from her efficient straightman, George Burns. Frank Parker and the Ray Noble orchestra were featured on the show at that time.

Tom Hanlon played a particularly beautiful recording of "Autumn in New York" and received a call of thanks for the melody from Jerome Kern, who had been listening at his home.

"Lux Radio Theater" was originating its broadcasts on KNX-CBS Radio. Errol Flynn, Joan Bennett, Ralph Bellamy and Mary Astor starred in "Trade Winds" on a March, 1940 broadcast.

"Amos 'n' Andy" celebrated their 12th year of broadcasting the famous show with their program of March 19, 1940. "Professor Quiz," first of the big-time quiz-and-cash-prize shows, originated from Hollywood for three weeks during March, 1940. Bob Trout announced the broadcasts, flying back and forth between Hollywood and New York, to meet his other announcing assignments.

Les Tremayne and Barbara Luddy were co-starring in the popular "First Nighter" dramatic series, and "Lum and Abner" came on the air each night in the quarter hour period right after "Amos 'n' Andy."

MUTUAL-DON LEE, KHJ

Let's take a look at 1940 and see what was going on at KHJ. The studios and transmitter were located in the big Don Lee Cadillac building at the corner of 7th and Bixel Street in downtown Los Angeles. The two radio towers on the roof of the building were landmarks in Los Angeles and the studios, located on the third floor had the reputation of being the finest in the country.

Don Lee Television studios were located on the top or 8th floor of the building and the many thousands of square feet in the rest of the structure were devoted to the sale and maintenance of Cadillac automobiles.

To give you an idea of just a few of the radio pioneers who were entertaining Los Angeles fifteen years ago, let's go back and imagine we are listening to KHJ's "Mid Morning Matinee." It's 10:00 a.m. any Monday through Saturday, and Norma Young has just finished her 9:30 program telling home makers about her daily trip to the produce market to get a line on the best food buys for the day.

Knox Manning and Norman Nesbitt are preparing their news broadcasts for later in the day and Stu Wilson is sound asleep in the employee's lounge. He went on the air at 5:30 a.m. with KHJ's "Rise and Shine" and now that all of Los Angeles is working Stu finds time to catch up on his sleep before he does his next program.

Knox Manning

The second hand on the big studio clock points to twelve and the singing strings start to play "Mid Morning Matinee's" theme song. J. C. Lewis, the producer and handy man on the program points his finger at Andy and Virginia Mansfield as they introduce the program. After the opening commercial Hal Hodge sings one of the 1940 hit parade songs. Chicco plays a number on his harp, Virginia and Andy do a comedy shot, ably assisted by J. C. Lewis, and so it goes until 11:00 a.m. There were no such things as Hooper Ratings back in 1940 but KHJ's "Mid Morning Matinee" was faithfully listened to by thousands of Los Angeles area residents every day.

Although Radio Life was young in 1940, you can see that the networks had had plenty of experience in the broadcasting field. But as we have grown so have they and we believe that listeners and readers both have been served by conscientious networks and an equally concerned magazine.

Radio Ramblings

A summer radio show for Tony Travis and Jaye P. Morgan is in the offering. . . . KHJ celebrated its thirty-third anniversary April 13. . . . KABC airs the official report on the Salk Polio Vaccine, April 12 at 11:00 a.m.

Roy Rogers and Ray Sharpe have formed the Dalejean Company, a Big Bear fishing resort. . . . "Capitol Cloakroom" starts its eighth year of broadcasting. . . . Peter Donald subs for the vacationing Don McNeill. . . . CBS has banned Lena Horne's latest disc, "I Love to Love," as being too offensive.

Actor Olan Soule was re-elected president of AFTRA. . . . Janet Whrang, Korean representative for Meals for Millions, turns over her share of the "You Bet Your Life" jackpot to the M.M. Foundation.

Winners of "Metropolitan Opera Auditions of the Air" were Louis Quilico, baritone; Madelaine Chambers, soprano, and William Lewis, tenor. . . . Gale Storm is set for a three-week stint in Las Vegas. . . . Chet Huntley covers the African-Asian Thirty-Nation Conference. He will send back on the-spot tape recordings for his news show.

"Nick Carter" celebrates thirteen years on Mutual. . . . Margee Phillips, KBIG's news writer, plans a working vacation in Europe, where she can get on-the-spot Continental homemaker news items.

"21st Precinct" was cited by the New York Police's Benevolent Association. . . . Prices are apt to go up in the "5 and 10" when F. W. Woolworth sponsors an hour-long musical series on CBS starting June 5. MacDonald Carey hosts and Percy Faith's orchestra will provide the music.

Dave Parker, director of KNBQ, Chicago, has checked out to complete work on his dissertation for his Ph.D degree. Subject of the doctoral tome: "A Cultural Analysis of the 'Lone Ranger' as a Form of Popular Art." So there you are, parents, the "Lone Ranger" has reached cultural stature. M.R.

Korean Radio

A half-hour American disc-jockey program has been added to the weekly program schedule of the Korean Broadcasting System through the cooperation of the U. S Information Agency.

The new program, featuring both classical and popular music, is being recorded in Washington by the Information Agency's Voice of America to meet requests from Korean music lovers. The recordings are then air-shipped to Seoul for broadcast on the Korean Broadcasting System. The weekly musical program supplements the Voice of America's regular daily short-wave broadcasts in the Korean language of news and features.

Off Mike (Personalities)

Ira Cook

By parental decision, Ira Cook, KMPC disc jockey, was slated to be a doctor—the Cooks—that is prior to his own father—had been doctors. But Ira's own father owned a theater chain in and around Duluth, where Ira was born, and his mother was a piano teacher—so music and entertainment, rather than medicine, were in Ira's blood.

As a teenager, he haunted radio stations in Duluth, but came time to go on to college he succumbed to his parents' wishes and went to Stanford where he earned a degree in Basic Medical Science. He was graduated in 1938 and his transition from the medical profession into radio took place during the summer of that year.

Ira Cook

Ira served in the infantry during the World War II. After the war he returned to Hollywood and entered radio for keeps. His keen personality and sincere delivery made him a "natural" as a record spinner and he has since become one of Hollywood's most popular and beloved disc jockeys.

Early in his radio career, Ira was assigned to broadcast from Music City, Hollywood's big music store at Sunset and Vine, and from this developed a relationship that has established Ira, virtually, as the official broadcaster for this store which now has the largest single store volume of record sales in Southern California. Clyde Wallich, head of Music City, credits Ira with contributing materially to the amazing success of the store through his Music City Shows over a number of years.

In nine years of broadcasting since the war, Ira has missed just two shows—one while on vacation—the other when baby Susan, less cooperative than her older brother Terry, arrived when Ira was due to be on the air.

In addition to his daily shows on KMPC, Ira is also heard on KABC on Saturdays. Hour for hour, and listener for listener, he is one of the most popular deejays in Southern California.

Scott Out

Mark Scott and station KFWB owner Harry Matzlish differed on program originations and hence Scott is out. Because of his night-time ball game broadcasts, Scott had been doing his early-morning show from his home for the past two years. When the boss decided to have Scott come to the studio to do the morning show there was a difference of opinion and a parting of the ways. Separation, however, does not affect Scott's broadcasts of the Hollywood Stars Game, as he is under contract to the ball team.

Remember Denny?

George V. Denny Jr., originator of radio's "Town Meeting of the Air" and its moderator for seventeen years, runs a shopping center and an inn in West Cornwall, Connecticut. In 1935, then a little-known actor, Denny started "Town Meeting" teeing off with a hot debate. These hot debates kept Denny at the helm of "Town Meeting's" mike until 1951 when they parted company.

Outstanding Turf Events

"Feature Horse Race," the outstanding turf event in the New York Metropolitan Area, will be broadcast over the ABC Radio Network each Saturday from 1:15 to 1:30 p.m., PST, 2:15 to 2:30 p.m., MST, beginning April 16. The series is an ABC co-op feature.

Jack McCarthy, noted turf broadcaster, who has handled these races for ABC in past years, will again be at the mike for the color and race call.

The first event to be broadcast in the series is the $25,000 Excelsior Handicap from Jamaica race track on April 16. The 3-year-old and up event will be contested over a mile and one-sixteenth distance. Social Outcast, top handicap horse of last season, heads the list of eligibles.

Some of the other Feature Races to be broadcast on the series are—April 23, Jamaica's $100,000 Wood Memorial for 3-year-olds at a mile and one-eighth.

April 30—the $20,000 Swift for 3-year-olds at seven furlongs from Belmont Park.

Bill Ballance Says:

There's a television press agent in Hollywood who has a great sense of rumor. He's quite a big man, too. Right now, he's having his office redecorated — he's having his hat blocked.

I know one television actor who is such a ham he uses cloves for shirt studs; he's the star of a new veterinary program, VEDIC.

Did you ever stop to think that if the string on Benjamin Franklin's kite had broken and he'd never invented electricity, we'd be watching television by candlelight?

I imagine they'll sell a lot more color television sets when they figure out some way of making those antennae look different from the regular kind so that people can tell you have a color set.

(Hear Bill Ballance on CBS-KNX M-F, 9:15 p.m.; Mon. Midnight; M-F 3:45 p.m. & Sat. 6:30 p.m.)

McNOTES

The following chuckle items have been culled from the humor scrapbook of toastmaster Don McNeill of the KABC-ABC-Radio "Breakfast Club":

This was picked out of a mystery story in a magazine: "The first person I saw was a dark man carrying a small dog, who was smoking a big black cigar."

I'm told that most beauty shops now feature a permanent wave with a TWO-WAY GUARANTEE! If the stuff they put on doesn't CURL YOUR HAIR, the gossip you hear WILL FINISH THE JOB!

A New Yorker was in Texas on business and when he returned, he bought his wife a mink coat and a Cadillac. She said, "How on earth did you get these?" He said, "Easy down in Texas. On Halloween night, I went out TRICKING AND TREATING!"

It's As We've Always Said...

"RADIO IS HERE TO STAY!"

- TV-RADIO LIFE has, since 1940, carried more RADIO news, logs, pictures and features than any newspaper or magazine in Southern California.
- That Radio AND TV both have a place in the broadcasting scheme is now fully admitted. We have found that 83 per cent of TV-RADIO LIFE'S readers want BOTH TV AND RADIO coverage.
- We plan to keep you happy by maintaining service in both mediums.

We repeat...

"RADIO IS HERE TO STAY!"

and TV-RADIO LIFE is staying with radio!

"How To Fix It"

For the nation's growing millions of do-it-yourself fans, the ABC Radio Network presents a new Monday through Friday evening series entitled "How to Fix It" and featuring Hubbard Cobb, foremost authority in the popular field.

It is heard each weekday evening from 7:15 to 7:25 o'clock, and is a feature of the ABC Co-op Program Department. Cobb, known as "the complete home handyman," is a national author, editor and syndicated columnist on the subject. His new ABC program will give timely tips to folks who now spend upwards of $6 billion a year for do-it-yourself materials.

Cobb is the author of three books in this field, "Amateur Builders Handbook," "How to Build Your Dream House" and "The Home Owners Complete Guide to Remodeling." He also is Building Editor of American Home Magazine and has a syndicated daily column in sixty leading newspapers.

Ear, Eye Inspire the Pen

Since moving to California from Nebraska six years ago, your wonderful magazine has been a weekly companion of mine. My radio and TV set are the highlights of my life and I have a raft of TV favorites including Liberace, Jack Bailey, Art Linkletter and Bob Shannon. Everyone can understand that Liberace, J. Bailey and Art Linkletter don't need a boost, they've already arrived.

However, I'm very happy that at last someone has seen the possibilities in Bob Shannon and that he's now emcee of "Lucky 7-11" on Friday nights. I used to listen to him on the radio and watch him on his TV variety program and I always thought he had a great deal "on the ball" as far as ad libbing is concerned.

This boy is very smooth and when some producer gets smart and puts him on a network program, I'm sure he'll have another Art Linkletter or Jack Bailey on his hands.

Also, I don't agree with these people who write about commercials. Thank goodness for them because without commercials I'm sure we'd be without TV.

Mrs. W. Ludlow, Whittier.

I was surprised to read what Mr. and Mrs. Rankin wrote about Margaret Truman. As everyone has the privilege of disagreeing with others upon whom they like and don't like, I wish to say that Miss Truman is, in my opinion, a very good actress and her voice is good. One can understand her words well, and her "matronly" appearance is quite a relief from the kiddish, wrigley screams and false emotions most of the Hollywood "song and dance girls" give out to suffering humanity on TV. The question is whether you like sense or nonsense on TV. I am so tired of false attitudes and foolish actions that everyone on TV seems to feel they must display in order to be "different" and be able to please the crazy-loving audience.

E. Henry, Los Angeles.

Only recently have I tuned in on Channel 13 on Mondays, but want to say a few words about Florian ZaBach. Now, there is a real artist, not only with his fingers, but in his soul. His quiet, modest manner is such a contrast to so many of these people who think that they have to give you so much noise, posturings and pyrotechnics all the time in order to impress you.

Mr. ZaBach knows fine music and plays it beautifully, and to those people, such as myself, who are able to get away from home only seldom and whose only contact with good music and fine shows is through the medium of television and radio, it is a boon.

Here is hoping that you will keep Mr. ZaBach on this program for a long, long time.

F. E. Riggle, Sun Valley, Calif.

Ordinarily when I read "Ear and Eye Inspire" whether I agree or not, I do nothing. This time I have something to say. The criticism of "Medic" reminded me of others I've heard, whose delicate constitution couldn't withstand others' suffering.

It seems comparable to war times, when people thought some of the news reels of the fighting and death, without the romantic aspect of pretty girls and flags floating in the clear blue sky, was "horrible and should not be forced on the public."

At that time, I felt that if our boys could face the actual fighting—we could at least have the intestinal fortitude to watch some of the things they faced daily.

That goes now, for "Medic." Granted the program on epilepsy was not pretty. It was still to a certain degree, sugar-coated. I know! My son became an epileptic at the age of ten years (he is now twenty).

It was difficult to watch the seizure and I must confess to turning my head on the facial closeup. It was my son's face, to me.

However, if people would watch these programs with a little horse sense and a willingness to learn something, I feel we'd all be better fitted to face life, which has all these things in it. We could understand others or ourselves if we should come to face with tragedy—physical or mental. If we can't stand a picture—would we ever be able to face the reality of bombing—or anything that wasn't "pretty"

Mrs. R. Taylor, Alhambra.

You'd think that a child's program would cater to children and their immature minds—but have you seen "Beany"—and some of the others lately? On programs like Uncle Archie or Major Domo, I feel I can leave the room and not worry about "monsters" or other frightening things fascinating my children so that they will have nightmares. We have stopped watching these so-called children's programs, as we don't believe small children should be subjected to such stupid "entertainment." We have quite a few friends who agree with us—and wonder if any of your readers do. We have written to "Beany" and "Howdy-Doody" about this, but doubt if they care what five or six families think! Enjoy your magazine!

A. H. Constantian, Pasadena.

With TV wracking its brains to bring us programs that we will enjoy and watch, why are there no, I repeat, NO weekly band concerts that feature good old traditional Dixieland jazz and blues music? Of all the channels that are available to us living in the Los Angeles area and among all the various and sundry programs offered, it is strictly by pure chance that we once in a while get a little of this type of entertainment. All I'm asking for is that some sponsor present a fifteen or thirty minute period, just once a week featuring some group such as Pee Wee Hunt or Eddie Condon with that 'out-of-this-world' pianist, Ralph Sutton. Now there may be a thousand reasons why this can't be done. However, there are many programs that ARE being done that cost as much and to many of us are just short of boredom.

Mrs. Edward E. Kunce, Lakewood.

We have purchased your magazine for several years, and my entire family and I have enjoyed every issue.

I have never written about a show before, but at this time I feel that I must. My reason for this is that recently Spade Cooley had two very comical and entertaining young men on his show. They were the team of "Hong and Parker."

These fellows seem to be so relaxed and at home on the stage. With their great ability and wonderful personalities, I am sure that they will be great if they are given a chance.

By writing this letter I hope to find that many people feel the same as I; and that they too would enjoy seeing this wonderful team of "Hong and Parker."

Edna G. Gleed, Long Beach

We know you have nothing to do with the "Emmy" Awards or nominations, but we would like to register a great big pet peeve that the Arthur Godfrey Daytime Program was not even listed in those who were nominated for "Best Daytime Programs," and here silly Robert Q. Lewis was. Such politics? We never miss Godfrey's program and consider his daytime program and his talent or cast far, far superior to Robert Q. Lewis, Garry Moore Show, Bob Crosby Show and even Art Linkletter's show—although Art Linkletter is our second choice and Garry Moore our third choice and we like Bob Crosby.

Come one, come all!

Enjoy this great new series with your old friends, plus surprise guests and hit songs.

There has been some criticism leveled at the Last Word in Sports (KRCA, (4), 11:15 p.m., Monday through Friday) for its failure to rise to the defense of the Hollywood Stars' controversial Carlos Bernier in his effort to live down his disgrace of last year.

It is the impression of the rock-ribbed Twink fans (than whom there are none more rockier-ribbed) that this sportcast offers their only outlet for favorable treatment.

"Yet," one of the rockiest of the ribbed told me the other day, "Bob Kelley, of all people, has been the kindest to Carlos since his return."

Well, first of all, the Last Word in Sports is not necessarily a crusader for the cause of Gilmore Field. It has taken, on several occasions, a definite stand against the abuse that has from time to time been handed the Hollywood manager, Bobby Bragan.

That was done because it was felt that injustices were being done to at least one of the most colorful personalities ever to appear in the Pacific Coast League uniform.

The Last Word in Sports' fascination with Bragan's fire and imaginativeness has been matched by similar fascination for Sacramento's hilarious left hander, Chet Johnson; for San Diego's incredibly good-hitting Earl Rapp; for San Francisco's mountainous miracle man, Tommy Heath; and for the Angels' lovable Uncle Bill Sweeney and their spark plug second sacker, Gene Mauch.

All guys who play the greatest of all games with a will to win are deserving of that kind of fascination.

Bernier is a fascinating figure, too. But he made more than one mistake.

In fact, it's easier to forgive him for what is generally considered to be his greatest error than it is for another that preceded it.

After all, he was suspended for hitting a bad umpire who may have made a bad call... an act committed in the heat of action against a man who had been the joke of many of the league's best players and who later kicked a player out of a game for no other reason than that the player chided him with a nickname that he'd been tagged with by countless other players.

Don't misunderstand that this excuses the action.

Nothing can excuse a violation of baseball's most basic tenet.

But prior to that incident Bernier had allowed his name to be involved in an unwarranted attack on one of the game's nicest guys... an attack that could have been tragic had it been voiced before an audience of any appreciable size.

In other words, Carlos was a bad boy last year.

He's entitled to a second chance.

But there's more than one count against him.

He'll have made up for the Black Night of August 12th when he slapped Chris Valenti when he proves he can keep his temper within bounds on the playing field.

But he won't make up for his other transgression until he shakes the hand of the man he so grievously wronged, says he's sorry, and means it.

The Last Word in Sports hopes he does.

There's room on the fascination list for a guy like Bernier.

JAY ELLIOTT

The latest addition to KTLA's popular announcing staff is a personable young man by the name of Jay Elliott.

Born in Lansing, Michigan, in 1924, Jay went on to receive his complete schooling—high school and college—in the state of Michigan. In fact, as far as schooling goes he never even left the city. He graduated from Eastern High School, in Lansing, where in his senior year he worked part-time as an announcer at WJIM, a local station. Upon graduation Jay traveled to the other side of town where he enrolled in Michigan State. But his first attempt at college life was short-lived, as he donned the khaki colors of Uncle Sam's Army.

After receiving his Government diploma—an honorable discharge from the Army—Jay re-entered Michigan State. While still in college, in 1946, he and the pretty girl he dated ever since high school decided to be married. His wife, Dorothy, encouraged him to finish his college education, which he did in 1947 with a degree of journalism.

After graduation, Jay worked for one year as a staff announcer at WBBC in Flint, Michigan. From there he joined WSPD in Toledo, Ohio, where he was able to work at "free lancing" as well as being one of the station's favorite "staff" announcers. He remained at WSPD until the latter part of 1954, when he "got tired of the cold weather and wanted to see what was West of the Mississippi River."

Jay attended an audition for announcers at KTLA and was recommended to Klaus Landsberg, Vice-President of Paramount Television Productions, Inc. and General Manager of KTLA—as having the finest qualifications. Soon after, he joined Channel 5.

Jay and Dorothy are the proud parents of two children: Timmy, eight years old, and Becky, who is three. His favorite hobby is golf.

Seen On The Video-Radio Scene

▲ MARTIN DEAN, capable teenager, plays the role of "Jack Barbour" on NBC's perennial favorite, "One Man's Family."

▶ IN HUDDLE for CBS-KNX's award-winning "Nightwatch" are Donn Reed, Chief W. N. Hildebrand of Culver City, producer-director Sterling Tracy and Det.-Sgt. Ron Perkins.

▲ CLIFFIE STONE LOOKS dubious. Tennessee Ernie looks hopeful, as latter gingerly places new hat on his mentor's head.

▼ THEIR ASSIGNMENT, AMERICA! Here Bill Burrud, right, producer-narrator, and Rick Spalla, prepare to shoot a scene for KTTV's "Assignment America."

▼ "CAPT. JET" (DAL McKENNON) wears helmet he designed. Top light revolves, flashes different colors. (Below): Clever actress Jane Morgan enacts role of "Our Miss Brooks'" landlady.

Here are pictures of the decade and a half just past.

▲ JACK BENNY (remember "Buck Benny rides again?") posed for this picture fifteen years ago (looks 24, doesn't he?). Jack's picture as Buck Benny was on the first cover of Radio Life.

▲ IN THE MID-FORTIES, MR. AND MRS. JIM JORDAN ("Fibber McGee and Molly") were honored with a party on occasion of their tenth air-year for NBC and their wax sponsor. Celebrating are Alice Faye, Phil Harris, Marian Jordan, Dennis Day, Jim Jordan, Dinah Shore, Art Linkletter, George Montgomery.

▼ FLASHBACK NAME CERTAIN TO BRING CHUCKLES is that of Frankie Remley, played on the Harris-Faye show by Elliott Lewis, left. The real Remley smiles, right.

▼ EARLY DAYS OF TELEVISION are called to mind with this shot of Marvin Miller, who had role of Dr. Yat Fu, amateur sleuth, on "Mysteries of Chinatown."

▲ CAPABLE THESPIAN EARLE ROSS here makes like "Judge Hooker," the important role which he initiated on situation comedy, "Great Gildersleeve."

▲ SIX YEARS AGO Anne Whitfield was a demure ten-year-old who already had three years in radio and 500 roles to her credit.

▲ JOHNNY MERCER STARRED on his own Monday through Friday NBC songshow a decade ago. His "Dream" and "Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe" were in top popularity.

▼ OF THE COUNTLESS PARTS MEL BLANC has successfully done, one of the best was his Unhappy Postman, a highlight of Gracie Allen's (left) and George's show.

▼ JOHN GUEDEL AND ART LINKLETTER have cooked up many a stunt on "People Are Funny." This is typical. Woman thought she was on husband's lap. 'Twas Romero's.

▼ LONG BEFORE HE GAINED fame in Hollywood, Jack Webb appeared on radio in San Francisco as star of "Pat Novak for Hire."

▼ DALE EVANS SCINTILLATED and smiled even in her early days in Hollywood, where she came to appear as Edgar Bergen's vocalist.

FLASHBACKS

Lovely ladies of show business as they appeared in former roles.

▲ WHO COULD EVER FORGET Eleanor Powell in the days when she was MGM's brightest dancing star? Now she has hung up her shoes and has turned her attention to her inspiring "Faith of Our Children" show on KRCA.

▼ MARILYN HARE was decorating the scenery on "You're Never Too Old" back in 1951. The cane was merely a prop she used when she revived old songs.

▲ ABOVE: TALLULAH BANKHEAD (who else!) scored a riotous hit when she appeared at the TV-Radio Life awards party a few years ago. She was one of the award winners for her "Big Show" on radio. Below: Linda Leighton may be having her troubles on "One Man's Family," but they're nothing compared with what she went through in western movies.

↑ RECOGNIZE "Waterfront's" captain in this suave Preston Foster? Man-about-town pose was taken in 1937.
