LETTERS TO THE EDITORS

Fine Music

Sirs: Would it be possible to publish the program details of the regular CBC concert broadcasts? There are also regular daily programs of fine recorded music which merit advance publicity. Two of these which I have in mind are "From the Classics," heard at 4:45, and "Feature Concert," which follows immediately at 5 p.m. I appreciate your detailed listings of the "Afternoon Recital" period. Another program of fine recorded music is "Musical Masterpieces," broadcast daily at 3 p.m. on the French network. There is a large coverage from CBF of Englishspeaking listeners to this program. A. M. Mathieson.

Pembroke, Ont. Thanks to reader Mathieson for his suggestions. We will do our best to have details for these programs included in future issues .- Ed.

Autographs!!

Sirs: May I, through your columns, make a request on behalf of the West Hill-Highland Creek Lions Club? We would like to acquire a number of autographed photographs (or any personal souvenir) from radio personalities in the United States and Canada. Items received will be sold by auction at our annual fair and proceeds used for our Sight Conservation Fund for underprivileged children. The co-operation of Radio-Vision and the people of radio will be deeply appreciated in this matter.

Bill Jones.

West Hill-Highland Creek Lions Club.

• It is not always possible for us to publish requests of this nature-but we're happy to co-operate in the present instance. Lions Clubs throughout the world are doing a grand job-and we know the particular club mentioned here, recently purchased five acres of land which is being made into a park and safety playground through personal efforts of the members. Therefore we will gladly turn over to Mr. Jones any photos, etc., sent in by the people of radio—free lance, station or network. Just mail to Radio-Vision, New York or Toronto, Attn. Lions Club Fund. Please enclose explanatory or descriptive note where necessary.-Ed.

Likes Greatest Story

I would like to express the sincere thanks of a number of friends and myself, for the article you published July 19, re "The Greatest Story Ever Told." Through the article the program was brought to our attention and we heard it July 20 and again July 27, and certainly do not want to miss it from now on.

Narrator of "Big Story" Talks of Players He Admires

It is not unusual to find an actor who likes to talk about himself, but Berry Kroeger is different—he would rather talk about other actors.

Perhaps Berry is more or less unusual in this respect because he has been privileged to work with more great names of the theatre than many other people in radio. Now a full-time radio actor and currently starring as narrator of NBC's "Big Story" series (Wednesdays, 10.00 p.m.)—dramas based on the authentic experiences of real newspapermen—Berry has continued his activity on the legitimate stage. He has appeared on Broadway in such productions as "The Tempest," "The World's Full of Girls," "Therese"

Girls," "Therese" wth Victor Jory, Eva LeGallienne and Dame May Whitty, and most recently with Ingrid Bergman in "Joan of Lorraine."

It is of the latter lady that he speaks most glowingly. ing the run of the play, he found himself in the not unenvi-able position of being radio's leading Bergman authority. fellow radio actors were so persistent with their questions about her and what it was like to work with her that he was given little choice. Since he has long been one of her staunch a dmirers, Berry liked the assignment.

Other acting celebrities Berry can be counted upon to do a good job of "selling" are Martha Scott, with whom he appeared in a radio dramatization of "All This and Heaven Too," and Rosalind Russell, with whom he played in the radio version of "Ladies in Retirement."

Among the radio players Kroeger esteems most highly are Anne Seymour and Robert Sloane, who frequently appear in leading roles in "The Big Story" series. His admiration for them probably stems from the fact that their talents are as diversified as his own. Anne does a good bit of directing on the side. Sloane frequently "doubles" as a radio script-writer. In fact, more than once a script of "The Big Story" has borne Sloane's by-line on the same week that he was playing a leading role on the program.

Kroeger recently completed the script of a twocharacter, three-act drama based on an actual murder trial, and hopes to produce and direct the play in the fall. Look for it on Broadway under the title "August Reckoning."

Pro and Con

Sirs:

Norman Jaques, it seems, thrives on publicity. Now his ailing mind sees "red" in the CBC, a preposterous accusation. The CBC has always impressed me as a rather conservative body. Perhaps the conservative body. next victim of Mr. Jacques' wrath will be the Union Jack which has a lot of red in it. The CBC is doing a marvellous job in the face of so much opposition. It has produced such outstanding talent as Alan Young. Fletcher Markie, Ray Darby, Morris Surdin, Grace Matthews and Court Benson who are all top American radio stars. Now Wayne and Shuster can be heard on NBC originating from Toronto. This is a great accomplishment.

However, I don't wish it to appear as if I'm strictly pro-CBC. The ban on Eddie Cantor is puerile and foolish and won't make any friends in the United States. Bob Hope, the most suggestive comedian on the air, has been carried by the CBC for some years, while Rudy Vallee, who was a complete flop last year, was carried by the CBC while the Cantor ban was in

Mutual and WOR

Notice on your daily program pages that you list MBS and WOR at the same time period with different details for each. It seems part of the time I am unable to get the program I want, both being on 710. Why list two programs at the same time both being 710 kcs.?

Pitcher, N.Y. W. J. Wildman. • When MBS is listed and WOR isn't (i.e., 12 noon-Kate Smith Speaks), then WOR the flagship is carrying the network show as are other Mutual affiliates. However, should both MBS and WOR be listed as 11.15 a.m., then MBS stations outside of New York carry "Tell Your Neighbor," while in New York, WOR carries Tello-Test Quiz." Hence the reason for carrying both MBS and WOR.

For Radio Artists

Sirs: "Candid Microphone" programs (Sundays, 7:30 p.m.) certainly are interesting and the records should be kept on file for actors for attaining naturalness in their lines. Incidentally, I don't know of any actor or actress who doesn't sound natural. Such actors and actresses anxious to keep their work up to par should listen to this program. As for the guinea-pig who risks a punch in the nose, he probably hasn't had his picture taken. M. A. Ball.

'Hookey to Henry'

By EZRA STONE

Even though I've been out of the army quite a while now, I still have to curb a tendency to say "Yes, sir" to everybody from the janitor up and down. This useful little phrase was drummed into my head with great loss of patience and perspiration on the part of my sergeant when I first entered the army, but since then it has become outmoded. In fact, I received a telegram from my sergeant on my first night back with "The Aldrich Family." Suspecting the worst, I hated to open it but forced myself. It read, "At ease."

Even now I still get reactions. A woman came up to me in the NBC studio after a recent broadcast and told me how much she'd enjoyed my performance for the past four years (two of those years I was in the army and there were other Henrys in my place.) I thanked her and didn't say anything disillusioning. That's something else you learn in the army-not to say the wrong thing.

No matter what happens, I love my job and the people I've worked with so many years-Jack Kelk, Mary Rolfe, House Jameson, Katharine Raht and the others. I enjoy playing Henry even though I forget sometimes and talk like him when I'm away from the mike.

Having gotten this far, I find there is nothing to this writing business. I wonder why I didn't think of this before. Perhaps I will dash off a novel or two before lunch.

In case you have not heard it before, the Henry Aldrich influence first hit me when I was going to school. I was forced to play hookey from all my fourth floor classes because great heights made me dizzy. When I got to the army, I told them that and they tried the sink-orswim method—put me in the Air Corps.

I "discovered" myself as an actor but decided I'd play cagey for a while and let some big producer discover me for himself. Things went on that way for several years, and then one wonderful day while I was associated with producer George Abbott (picking up cigarette butts and changing typewriter ribbons in his office), playwright Clifford Goldsmith came along and pounced on me. I had dropped a paper weight on his foot. He hailed me as a coming star and chased me for days before I caught up with him. That was the start of "Henry Aldrich" and this is the end of Ezra Stone.

After reading this over, I think maybe I won't try those novels, after all. Getting myself mixed up with Steinbeck and Hemingway was only a case of mistaken identity, I guess. I even will throw away my brand new Roget's Thesaurus.

'WE WENT BACK'

Columbia's Global Documentary

To Be Broadcast Aug. 14, on Second Anniversary of V-J Day

For millions of veterans of World War 11, and their families and friends, the CBS Documentary Unit on Thursday, August 14, 10 to 11 p.m., second anniversary of V-J Day, presents a full hour program, "We Went Back," a dramatic synthesis of reports and interviews recorded by three teams of CBS correspondents who have completed a 50,000-mile tour of European and Pacific invasion routes.

"We Went Back," the year's most ambitious venture in radio journalism, is the result of joint operations by CBS Documentary Unit and This Week magazine, who sent combined teams of reporters, technicians and photographers to reflect this vivid picture of well-remembered places and the people inhabiting war-shaken areas.

CBS correspondent Bill Downs, who covered major European bat-tlefronts for CBS, headed, the team that retraced the long, hard march to victory in Europe. His team took off from the British coast, landed on the Normandy beach, worked its way across Northern France, Belgium, Holland and Germany, ending its retrospective journey in Berlin.

A second team, headed by James Hurlbut, special correspondent of the CBS Documentary Unit, retravelled sealanes and airlanes of the Pacific, starting at Pearl Harbor and revisiting such famous sites as Wake, Kwajalein, Guam. Iwo Jima and Corregidor.

The third team, headed by CBS correspondent Bill Costello, made its objective the centres of interest in Japan, with emphasis on Tokyo and the atom bomb target city of Hiroshima.

Detailed descriptions of scenes familiar to veterans, as well as an overall picture of conditions as they are today, will be given by the three correspondents. Downs, for example, made a thorough exploration of the Normandy beaches.

"The Allied landing on Normandy," he says, "provided that rich farm country with a new industry. Farmers whose only interest for centuries has been the raising of cattle, the making of butter and cheese, today are thinking in terms of tourists. Three towns in the Omaha Beach sector, Colville, Vierville and St. Laurent, all claim it was in their areas that the first assault troops landed. Visitors find the roads fairly good, and the government is rushing improvements."

Downs describes the attitudes and living conditions of people in various European countries. He relates a conversation with a wrinkled old bartender in a Berlin tavern who told him the German people expected a hard peace, and had as their motto during the war: "Enjoy the war because the peace is going to be horrible!"

Hurlbut started his trek over the Pacific Islands from Honolulu. He knew where to look for material that would be of interest back home, for he had spent several years in the Pacific as a Marine Combat Correspondent.

His data on the Pacific includes, as he says, "everybody from a Filipino tattoo artist to a Chinese bellhop." He covered the islands of the Hawaiian group, also Johnson Island, Kwajalein, Guam, the Mariannas, the Phimppines, Saipan, Leyte, Okinawa, Tokyo, Korea and Shanghai.

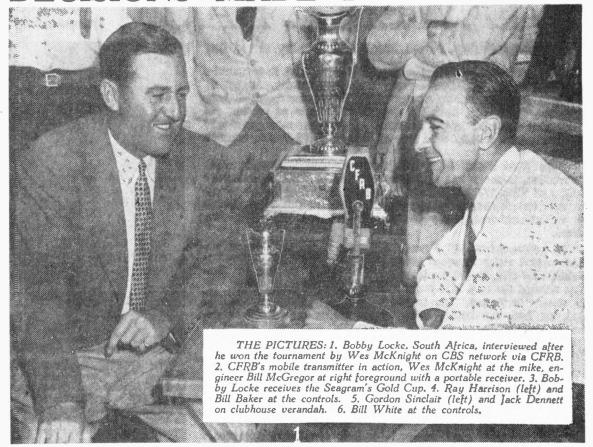

In Tokyo Hurlbut interviewed Japanese Rear Admiral Michio Sumikawa, now held as a witness in the war crimes trials, who was in command of Truk when the Japanese held it. "Do you think it would be worthwhile for the American Navy to re-establish Truk as a naval base?" Hurlbut asked. The imprisoned admiral replied with typical Samurai aloofness: "Because of my present position I have been unable to make a detailed inspection of Truk since the cessation of hostilities."

Costello surveyed the areas destroyed and desolated by the atom bomb, and in Hiroshima interviewed Japanese who still are victims of some of the aliments generated by radio activity from the atomic bomb.

DECISIONS MADE BY RADIO.

For the first time in the history of Canadian golf . . . officials who didn't see the play, or the ball, made decisions that could have affected the outcome of the Canadian open in the July tournament at Scarboro. They made these decisions through radio!

On the third day of play for a $10,000 pot—Friday, July 18—Bob Gray, the home pro, was leading all Canadians and well on top for the big prize itself. On the fifth hole, toughest par four on the Scarboro layout, Gray was over the back with his second shot. That was bad.

What was worse was the fact that the ball, when found, was seen to be in a hole over a newly-installed drainage tile. Gray is probably the biggest and most powerful man in Canadian golf, but it would have taken even him at least two strokes, and possibly three, to blast out of that hole. Playing with him was Ellsworth Vines, the former tennis great, and Bobby Locke of South Africa, who eventually won the golfing joust with a record-breaking score,

Vines helpfully suggested that since this tile was but newly installed it was therefore no ordinary part of the course but ground under repair. Accordingly the ball need not be played but could be lifted and moved without penalty. That's what Vines said; that's what Gray hoped. Locke said nothing. All this time Wes McKnight of CFRB had been on the scene describing the shots through mobile equipment. His voice was thus flipped to the clubhouse, thence by land wire to the CFRB transmitter and over the air. McKnight therefore knew that his engineering staff, together with associate Jack Dennett, were listening in the clubhouse. He appealed to them to dig up a member of the rules committee who could make an official decision.

It took several minutes to find these committeemen on a course swarming with 7,000 customers and during those minutes Mc-Knight repeated his plea. Since this was going over the air it brought countless telephone calls to the clubhouse demanding that those officials get on the job. Meanwhile the gallery, the broadcasters and the players were standing around in a driving rain. Actually fifty or more volunteers were hurrying here and there to find the rules committee. When these were found the five-minute period which is allowed by way of delay was almost over. The committee had no time to go to the scene of the play.
What they did was to consult

What they did was to consult with McKnight by way of his short-wave radio in a way that brought every listener into the jury —and to rule that Gray might lift his ball and move it two club lengths. Locke, Gray and Vines huddled around the portable radio on the course and heard the vital decision.

Later that same afternoon, by way of proving that lightning DOES hit twice in the same spot, Locke also got into trouble. His ball lodged into some tree branches in the rough. The rule says that dead branches can be moved for the shot when they are on the fairway or on the rough—but not when they are in a hazard. The question—Was this ground in a hazard? Was it below the bank of the river or creek?

When McKnight again appealed for a ruling, committeemen were out on the course but within shouting distance of the clubhouse. This time Gordon Sinclair let go with an appeal. As a result Charles Watson, Dr. Matthews, Bill Taylor and Ralph Paget, RCGA officials, went out to have a personal look-see.

These officials ruled in favor of Locke; he could move the dead branches. They were not in a hazard but on a part of the fairway. Had Locke been forced to play from between the branches or take a penalty, it might have cost him first prize. In neither of these twin decisions by radio was there the slightest objection. Radio had another "first."

"Turn on the Switch!"

By JUDY CANOVA

THINGS sure do change fast when you ain't watching close. Why, it seems like only yestiddy when, down in my old hill country, electricity was the sparks that flew when a gal brushed her hair real hard. And now, I see by the papers. Americans use up five billion kilowatt-hours of the stuff in one week, as much as we used in the whole war year of 1917. (That's since they got to making enough electric irons and toasters and washing machines to sell 'em in stores instead of just givin' 'em away on radio programs.)

Today, a fellow could get through more complicated than pushing buttons and connecting switches.

The buzzer on your electric alarm clock wakes you up, and makes sure you stay awake because it won't stop buzzing till you turn it off. You don't have to bring in firewood and build a fire to keep warm; you just plug in an electric stove in the bathroom while you dress. Instead of stropping his razor, and getting some good healthy exercise, a man only needs the muscle it takes to plug in his electric razor. I hear tell someone's even invented a contraption that brushes your teeth electrically.

You don't need to stand over a whole day without doing nothing a hot stove to cook your coffee, toast and eggs. You sit down at a table, and plug 'em in. Instead of hunting up eggs in the henhouse, cutting a slab of bacon in the smoke-house and squeezing oranges for juice, you take them out of the refrigerator in neat

Nobody applies elbow grease to a broom; they hitch up the vacuum cleaner. And where it used to take all week for a woman to catch up with the little household matters like washing and ironing and baking, a mite of them kilowatt-hours do the whole job for her now. She tosses the laundry into a washer and waits for it to come out washed, rinsed and half-dried. Then she plugs in an iron and ironer to do most of the finishing. An electric mixer beats up her cakes for her, and the only thing that gets dishpan hands is the electric dish-washer.

A man sits at his desk and pushes buttons. One button gets him a telephone line, another brings his secretary a-running, another opens a loudspeaker system so he can talk to all his hired hands at once, and he can have a whole extra flock of buttons to call each and every guy that works for him. When he wants to dictate a letter, he pushes another button and tells it to a record. 'Course, it ain't much fun holding a dictaphone machine on your lap, but then you can't have everything.

But the modern man that takes the prize for my money is a Hollywood producer I heard about. Seems he hated to get up in the morning, but figured that if there wasn't no way of getting out of it, it'd be right nice to wake up by a dip in his pool. His bedroom had French doors opening onto the patio and pool, so he had tracks laid right down to the pool from his room. Then he had his bed set on the tracks, and a special alarm rigged up. When the alarm went off in the morning, it set his bed to moving down the tracks and up-ended it at the edge of the pool, with him waking up when he hit the water.

If anybody ever turns off the electricity, I declare we'll all starve to death for not knowing what to do. That's if we don't simply keep on sleeping forever because our alarms don't wake us up or throw us into the nearest swimming pool!

NOW YOU'LL 'HEAR' KELLY

The old question, "Has any one here seen Kelly?" may soon be altered to: "Have you heard Kelly?"—judging by wired information just received from Detroit.

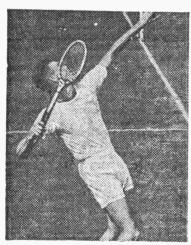

Warren Kelly, staff announcer, disclosed previously hidden mike oomph to win the morning disc jockey spot on WYR, Detroit's 50,000-watt station. He auditioned in competition with 21 experienced spinners and announcers throughout the Middle West for the spot vacated by Russ Mulholland.

Entering the contest as a decided underdog, no one paid much attention to Kelly. He was just another "staffer" shooting for a break. After three days of listening, the judges decided unanimously in favor of Kelly.

To win the nod over the experienced discers Kelly swung hard with every personality gimmick in the radio field. He gave with easy, friendly chatter, homespun poetry with amusing punch lines, musical numbers cleverly tied in with current news topics, and novel approaches to weather forecasting and time telling.

An experienced program director exclaimed: "Where has he been hiding?" Harry Wismer, nationally famous sportscaster, and Dick Richards, number one executive at WJR, plugged: "This boy has really big-time delivery—and what a name to promote—Has any one here seen Kelly?"

A promotional campaign is under way. Ads, announcements, appearances, and a tie-in with all Kellys in Detroit will let the Motor City know that they have been hit with a new flying disc-man.

This 25-year-old Los Angeles tennis star recently set the tennis world agog with a smashing double victory at the Wimbledon matches in England. Not only did he capture the British singles title, but also added to his laurels when he teamed with Bob Falkenburg to defeat Billy Sidwell of Australia 8-6, 6-3, 6-3. Guest quizmaster, Joe Cummiskey of MBS "Inside of Sports" asks what's his name?

He is currently on a triumphal concert Mickey Rooney tour in Australia, but will be in the States in time for his Telephone Hour appearance September 29.

Proof positive of the winning personality of Louise Fitch of Big Sister is the fact that she once persuaded the pilot of a commercial plane to change his course to show her Niagara Falls. . . . Clark Gable may be Crosby's first guest next season.

RADIO QUIZ

1. A husband and wife radio team were married when the husband became a mail carrier and his wife gave piano lessons. Today they could use a private mail carrier to cart the thousands of letters they receive weekly, and she plays occasionally for her own amusement. Who are they?

2. How many members of the Lombardo family are now members of Guy's orchestra?

3. In the first Broadway "Little Show" produced in the late '20's, a young man stopped the show cold by telling stories and playing a saxophone. He is one of the top comedians in radio today. Who is he?

4. What radio actor made his stage fame in romantic leads such as "Seventh Heaven," "Berkeley Square," etc., but made his radio fame in the title role of a popular whodunit?

5. Superstitious friends once warned a young man that he couldn't possibly make a success in show business because he was the seventh son of a seventh son and, moreover, was one of thir-teen children. The young man happily ignored this nonsense and last year his earnings were estimated at one million dollars. Who is he?

6. What radio star is spearheading a national drive to make the second Sunday in October "Grandmother's Day"?

7. What radio program, though off the air for the summer months, has a pair of contestants busy in one of the maddest scavenger hunts in history? (We'll give you a hint; some of the items to be acquired include a cigar partly smoked by Winston Churchill and a ham bone autographed by vegetarian George Bernard Shaw!)

8. If the following personalities were to run a race, who would be the likeliest winner: Mel Torme, Sammy Kaye, Vaughn Monroe, Louis Armstrong?

9. What well-known popular singer's college career was ended at 18, when one of the priests at his college heard him playing jazz on the school organ?

10. One of radio's best known conductors is also a very talented composer. Some of his compositions include "Rhumba Rhapsody," "Memoirs of a Dilemma," "Dance of the Woodwinds," "March of the Goons," and even a little thing called "Concerto Piquante for Licorice Stick." You hear him every Friday night on NBC. Who is he?

11. A well-known radio, recording and motion picture star is coming east for her first hotel engagement at the Waldorf-Astoria. On August 17 she debuts as star of a new musical program. She

12. What two famous radio personalities are mentioned in a very well-known quotation?

Rambling with Bambi

FOR DINNER AND DANCING this week Bambi and I suggest these following niteries—we did 'em all up thoroughly and found one "plush nite" really recommend—in New York. First, the Cascades, on the nineteenth floor of the Biltmore—which offers profuse greenery, songs by wakeful canaries, and Ray Heatherton's orchestra for dancing. We saw Cardine the Magician do his tricks, but heard he was being replaced by Rosario and Antonio, the dancers. We next dropped into the Monte Carlo which only looks like a Coney Island fun house. Inside you will discover that it is a smoothly functioning establishment, with plano music during dinner and Joel Shaw's dance orchestra afterward. . . . For the South American treatment we rhumba-ed to Chiquito's rhumba band at the El Morocco, also featuring Chauncy Gray's orchestra-a pleasant change -the rhumba we mean. . . . For tea dancing in the afternoon, you out-of-towners should try the Savoy-Plaza's Urbane Cafe Lounge to Irving Conn's music. . . . Then, if you still have time, whip in to the Versailles and get a load of Ravazza, singer, and Bob Grant's orchestra.... And last, but by far not the least, our own Guy Lombardo in command of the Starlight Roof with Mischa Borr's band helping out around midnite. In the Flamingo Room, Michael Zarin's orchestra. Canadians try this out-Bambi was there! . . . Had a little "fan note" asking "where do you find Arthur Godfrey?"-dear reader, you find him all over the place—and at all sorts of times-just twist your dial (you might peek into our guide section, too!—Ed.) And speaking of Arthur, we were in his audience the other day and who do you think he had in to chin with—Jimmy Stewart—Love that man! Jimmy seems to be getting along with Harvey and he gleefully remarks that he is already beginning to see that rabbit!

JOHNNY RYAN, tenor, heard on Sarhmy Kaye's ABC "Sunday Serenade," 1.30 p.m., is a former theatre usher from Hoboken, N.J., who was discovered by the late Ben Bernie. Ryan gained a year's professional experience with the "Ole Maestro," then served three years in the army before joining the Kaye troupe.

IN THE MOUNTAIN CITY for real Parisian style, we did the Latin Quarter where gorgeous Germaine Giroux remains for a fifth week. We found Miss Giroux's thick French accent as she introduces the acts, has the fascinating flavor which lures the tourists who come to this town (Montreal, fer sure!) seeking old world atmosphere. Her bilingual version of Music Maestro, Please, brought her back for five curtain calls the nite we were there... Montreal's (Frans) "The Hut" is a chicken 'paradise with pleasant environment Bar-B-Q... Another attraction in Montreal this week has been and conductor--who leads the orchestra and was solo pianist in the gala concert of the Montreal Festivals at the Molson Stadium-if we had only practiced-who knows! ! ! . . . and believe it or not, for the seventeenth hysterical week. Nan Blackstone is appearing nightly for grown-ups in the sophisticated Upper Lounge at Ruby Foos, one of Montreal's most fashionable dinner clubs-quote-"It's not what she says but how she says it!" Naturally, we not only went to see Miss Blackstone, but to partake of our special dish-delicious! ! ! . . . For a touch of Harlem, we dropped in to Cafe St. Michel (Mountain St.) for an all-colored show-featuring Louis Metcalf and his Famous International Band. P.S. the new cocktail lounge is reallly something, folks! . . . As usual, our last stop was Drakes for sizzling steaks-a memory to carry us onto Detroit.

RUSS GEROW, conductor, is arranging and directing the "gay nineties" music on "Clary's Gazette." broadcast Fridays at 8 p.m. over the Eastern Network of the CBC Dominion Network. An orchestra leader who would rather arrange music. Mr. Gerow has been in radio for almost 15 years.

DO YOU KNOW WE SAW the world's largest living horse this week at the free outdoor menagerie (Grant near Amherst) Animal Oddities, Buffalo. We had a wonderful time-there were zebra, llama, water buffaloes, zebus and oodles of others including monkeys which really are more human than humans. We just wish we had had our camera along as they allowed you to take pictures. . . . Then over to Glen Casino for the biggest and best show of the season-as yetwhat a cast-Whitie Roberts, Marc Bolero, Amory Bros. and othersall adding up to A-1 entertainment. . . Say folks, for "Just a cup of Coffee", no apology is needed at the Decca Restaurants, and as we are very heavy coffee drinkers-you will find they offer one of the best cups in this town.

AS USUAL OUR FIRST stop .1n Detroit was The Bowery where Elsa and Waldo dancing team, can't speak a word of English-yet their burlesques speak a universal language of comedy-they're from Then on to Club El Sino with the most recorded sax player in show business-Illinois Jacquet-tenor sax king, really keeping the show cracking. It's Detroit's finest Black and Tan. . . . We heard Lorre Lynne swinging songs with great success at Club 509. . . . Did you know Patti O'Day, the song bird at Mickey's Show Club was the first child to appear in television-1933-they were both in their infancy. . . . Didn't miss the difficult one-arm lifts and fast spins in the lively adagio routines of Faye and Andre at the Palm Beach. . . . We want to be in on the surprise novelty that Nev Simons plans to introduce at Sid's Cafe Lounge shortly ? ? ? Nino Nanni is at the Town Pump-by the way Hollywood has an eye on the handsome piano satirist. . . . For our rhumba session-which by the way isn't on its way out-we trouped to the Famous Door. . . . Found Johnny Gardner at Club Three 666, where the Basin Street Boys still head the line. . . . If you drop in to Club Grez you just might find Jack Treser, Zev Clay's drummer wearing the tie he painted himself—Whew!!!

WE RAN INTO RUSS GEROW the other day in Toronto. Talked him our way over to a picture which appears on these pages. Russ has been a good many seasons in top music work. We hear he's doing a fine job over with CBC, Must get our scrap book together pretty soon-first thing we know, Christmas will be here-how many shopping days? . . . Had a call thanking us from Donald Novis. We had a discussion with our little editor man about the advertisement for the Barclay Hotel which appears on the back page. Apparently printers have to go on holidays too, so that RV did a couple of covers at one time-with the surprising news that the QUINTONES would be the attraction currently. Bambi had scooped the whole affair however, with the news that Donald Novis was the current attraction, Oh me! such mistakes!! And Don is really packing them in every night. Drop in folks, he's a swell guy-with a wonderful voice. Remember when he used to sing on the Fibber McGee program? And with Jimmy "Snozzle" Durante",? We can remember seeing him with Bing Crosby in "Big Broadcast".

Imagine, Movie Stars in our midst! Were treated to one of those sizzling steaks up at the Chicken Palace the other night. They say "Chicken is Queen"-wonder what the steaks are? They were lovely steaks. . . . Went dancing under the stars out at the Top Hat Terrace-Cy McLean is still doing a lovely job. . . . Norm Harris busy with his radio broadcasts. Caught the show the other night just before they went over the air. . . . Now .let's have some mail from you people in Toronto. Just where do you go to have your fun? We have something we'll send to each and everyone who writes us a letter with their ideas of evening fun. Let's see who has the most original idea! Bambi will see that you have a pleasant surprise- and the one with the most original idea-well-let's just have a surprise. . . . Address Bambi, c-o Radio Vision, Toronto 1, ... and for another week-have.a good holiday week-end-every weekend-from Bambi and I.

Radio is full of hobbyists. Some collect stamps, some make jewelry, others collect pictures, and so on down the line. Among the hobbylsts is Win Elliot, emcee of the "Betty Crocker Magazine of the Air" on ABC Mondays through Fridays. He collects humorous stories about famous men. The following are a few from his collection:

A Washington matron once boasted that she could make President Coolidge, famed as "Silent Cal." talk. Cornering him at a dinner, she sought to make good her boast. "Oh, Mr. President." she said, trying to disarm him with frankness. "I have made a bet that I can make you say at least three words." "You lose," replied Coolidge,

Will Rogers, acting as toastmaster at a dinner one evening, was annoyed by the lengthy talk of the man he had just introduced. The long-winded bore finally ended his oratory and Rogers arose and said, "You have just listened to that famous Chinese statesman, On Too Long."

An editor met the late Sir James Barrie, the famous author of "Peter Pan," at a dinner. "Sir James," he said, "I suppose some of your plays do better than others. They are not all successes, I imagine." Barrie leaned toward him confidentially. "No," he said, his eyes twinkling, "some Peter out and some Pan out."

Rachmaninoff told this story about his boyhood. "When I was a very little fellow I played at a reception at a Russian count's, and, for an urchin of seven. I flatter myself that I swung through Beethoven's 'Kreutzer' Sonata' pretty successfully. The 'Kreutzer' has in it several long and impressive rests. Well, in one of these rests the count's wife, a motherly old lady, leaned forward, patted me on the shoulder, and said, 'Play us something you know, dear.'"

A friend once wrote Mark Twain a letter stating that he was in very bad health and concluding. "Is there anything worse than having toothache and earache at the same time?" The humorist wrote back, "Yes, rheumatism and Saint Vitus' dence."

One day a burglar was arrested in the home of a Washington matron, and the next evening at dinner she told Supreme Court Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes all about it. "I went right down to the jail and talked to that burglar," she said earnestly. "I told him how evil his way of life was, and how much happier he would be if he reformed. I talked to him for two hours." "Poor man." murmured Holmes, "Poor man!"

has taken Frank Faye's Harvey into camp this season. From all reports he has added the Stewart drawl to a very successful show. Guest-appearing recently with Arthur Godfrey at 11.00 a.m. over CBS.

HI READERS! Our cover contest is now at an end. I want to thank the TNT members for their votes. Yes, sir, when old CC gets a response like that it is appteciated, and the votes that poured into this office were most welcome. To compensate the fans who voted, and whose personality didn't reach the top five in the contest, let me say there will be plenty of atticles and pies coming along to satisfy everyone. Frank Sinatra's pie is on the cover this week and he received much support from his admitted. Plenty of letters, magazines and news in this week, so let's see what cooks:

NEWARK AND THE SWOONER-ETTES — Frankie Ciampi writes: Dear Charley: I am the president of the 'Swoonerettes' Fan Club, which honors Frank Sinatra.

Although my club will be one year old this month, July 24. I'm sorry to say that it hasn't gotten as much popularity as I would have liked it to.

I put my club in a Frank Sinatra Fan Club Guild. The guild has Frank's approval, and is directed by Elsie Lynn Ellovich. Elsie Lynn advised me to write to you.

I understand that Radio-Vision magazine is holding a "screen poll guild." As we are very fond of Frank, we don't want to give up the club. Therefore, we are depending partly on you for some publicity to give it popularity. Please help us and your co-operation will not only be appreciated by my members and myself but by Frank and other Sinatra fans who are trying to keep Frank on top. Thank you. (Miss) Frankie Ciampi, 69 Hunterdon St., Newark, N.J.

Dear Frankie: We trust that your letter will be of interest to Sinatra fans in your vicinity, and if I get any enquiries shall be happy to send them to you. Frank's pic on the front will be good news to you. Yours, C. C.

TORONTO AND DESMOND— June Gibson writes: The other day when Johnny Desmond was on "Jackie Rae's Hot House," I went down to the studio and watched his broadcast. He's a swell guy, besides being a great singer. We talked for a while after, and he said he was glad that so many Canadian fans enjoyed his singing. Yes, I'm all for Johnny Desmond. Could you please tell me if there is a fan club for him, also one for Dick Haymes, Frank Sinatra and Perry Como". Thank you, June Gibson.

Dear June: I have had many letters from Desmond fans, but I haven't any club mentioned on my index as yet. The others mentioned are in the mail for you. Thanks, C. C.

News reaches us that the Perry Como Fan Club in Liverpool, England, is raising funds to support a home for children blinded during the war's air raids and fires.

ROGERS CITY AND GENE AU-TRY—Nora Louise Dawson is interested in a fan club for Gene Autry or Roy Rogers. Nora lives in Rogers City, Michigan, write Box 22.

PHOENIXVILLE, PA., AND BILLY WILLIAMS — Mary Seitler writes; My sister Viola and I would like to vote for Billy Williams in your cover contest. We're both very fond of Billy's voice and consider him our favorite male vocalist. I used to listen to him regularly on "Bouquet for You," but it's gone off the air. Could you tell me whether it will come back on in the fall?

Dear Mary and Viola: Billy Williams' program is not listed yet, but it will be announced on the TNT page later, C. C.

UTICA AND BING—Louise Stappenbeck writes; A few short weeks ago I sent in my application for membership in the TNT Club. It never occurred to me until I read a letter from another Utican in your column, to write a few words in favor of our mutual favorite, Bing Crosby.

I, like many other of his fans, never before realized the necessity of writing to keep our star on top. Bing has always been my ideal. I never miss a movie of his and have literally hundreds of his records, i am now eagetly awaiting the arrival of "Welcome Stranger" at our local theatres.

I do hope there are others like myself awakening to the fact that the success of many stars depends on the number of letters received in his favor. Sincerely, Louise Stappenbeck.

Dear Louise: You are absolutely correct when you say the success of many stars depends on letters. Thanks for your interesting observations. Charley.

script writing, talent and a technical course in engineering. The club already has produced accomplished performers, one of whom, a feminine vocalist, has a summer contract with a popular local orchestra, and various members are being prepared for similar engagements.

THANKS A MILLION to Buddy Basch of New York City for the autographed set of pictures from Johnny Long and Francey Lane. In addition, the courtesy card which, I have no doubt, could be useful.

HARTFORD AND SINATRA—
Elsie Lynn Ellovich writes: Say, I love the new way Radio-Vision is set up. Pretty snazzy. I've noticed that you are printing stories about the stars, so I'm enclosing two, one on Frank Sinatra and the other on Louise Erickson. I hope you will be able to use them in the near future.

Louise and I are meeting again in New York the end of August, She is going to Canada first for a visit and then on to New York visit and then on to New York, The "Hit Parade" will have a complete overhauling in September, when a whole new cast comes in. It will have The Pied Pipers,

Axel Stordhal and his orchestra,
Doris Day and starring FRANK
SINATRA. That's all for now.

Dear Elsie: You will be tickled, I bet, to see Frank on the cover. I can use the stories you sent later; and thanks. Charley. Mrs. James McDonnell Jr., of Mrs. James McDonnell Jr., of Kitchener, Ontario, is interested in Canadian Radio Stations.

BANGOR, MAINE, AND TOMMY DORSEY RECORDS—Natalie Elsemore writes: Frank Sinatra has been my favorite vocalist since back when he made records with Tommy Dorsey. His voice was wonderful then, and it kept improving and improving until now he can sing anything from boogiewoogie like "That's How Much I Love You Baby" to the long and difficult Barker's Soliloquy from "Carosul"—and that Voice keeps getting better all the time.

Will you please explain the TNT Club? You see, I have about 25 of the records Frank made with Tommy Dorsey, but there are so many more than I don't have. Is it possible that I might get in contact with a TNT Club member with whom I might be able to trade for, or buy some of them?

Dear Natalie: I have given your name to Elsie Ellovich, who has about 1,600 Sinatra fan club members on her index and I have asked her to have someone she knows to exchange records with you. Charley.

ED PECK-POPULAR M.C. of "The WSPR Rhythm Society" (5 afternoons a week following "The Paul Whiteman Club"), has come up with some nifty ideas for shows of that kind.

His latest—believed to be another "first"—is a disc jockey show, from the heart of the midway at Riverside Park, "Playground of the Connecticut Valley," in Agawam, Massachusetts, And

"God bless Mama and Papa and help make me a good boy; I didn't do so good today."

that means just what it says. Quick to seize on a worthwhile idea, Harry Storin, public relations chief at Riverside (and president of the New England Association of Amusement Parks and Beaches), accepted the chance to air the first known show of its kind,

Each Monday, Wednesday and Friday Ed Peck broadcasts over WSPR direct from Riverside—and before a live audience.

From a specially - constructed booth outdoors. Ed addresses himself to park patrons between discs. And the latter are notably on the sweet and pleasant side.

The "showcase record show" is on the air from 11.15 to 11.45 each night. It premieres on Friday the 11th of July.

Peck—and Storin—hold high hopes for "Ramblin' 'Round Riverside"—for that's what the newest "first" in radio is called.

YOUTH GROUP NEWS offered by the I.O.F. submits Volume 1, Number 7.

News about sports, stamps, and Don'ts and Do's for Baby Sitters. They suggest a new name for a baby sitter and that is "Pin-up Girl." Hmm.

UNITED MUSIC CLUB News from Pittsburgh, Pa., offers to song writers, lyric writers and other melody writers to secure publicity, to help plug records and songs for the newcomer. Sounds like a good idea as there have been several Club Songs played on the air. Any honest project of this type, where the unknown composer can get a chance to display his talents; has our recommendation.

OUT OF THIS WORLD—Jack's Journal is a second anniversary issue for Jack Owens the Cruising Crooner of the Breakfast Club. This fine eleven-page journal offers a number of photos of Jack, Clubbers' gossip, letters and Jack's own column.

Well, that is all for this week, readers, and I'll be seeing you soon. Charley.

Radio Will Find You at the 'Ex'

TT WILL be easy to find your friends or lost children at the "Big Fair" this year. At Canada's show of shows, the Canadian National Exhibition in Toronto, there will be in operation one of the most extensive public address (loudspeaker) installations ever erected anywhere. Boasting most modern equipment available, many features of which were the result of wartime research, the system will cover practically every nook and corner of the exhibition grounds. The installation is designed to faithfully reproduce voice and music from many points in the area, as well as relaying and picking up radio programs to and from the CBC and other Toronto stations.

The main control panel is situated in the British Government building, with secondary stations and pick-up facilities located at strategic points throughout the exhibition area. Dozens of speakers, many of them of the "multi-cellular" type to ensure high fidelity in sound reproductions, will be in use. For instance, along the water-front nine huge speakers will be installed on the breakwater, with lines leading under the water to the mainland. At the band shell, where faithful reproduction of good music is so desirable, the new "stereophonic" principal for sound systems will be utilized. This involves the use of two or more—in this case three—microphones located in proper places so that natural "depth" is given to the produced sounds, particularly in the case of music.

The system, engineered and supplied by the Northern Electric Company, was designed by J. R. Bain, Northern Electric electronics sales engineer in Toronto, and Fred Mayberry, chief electrical engineer at CNE. Normally an installation of this size would take from six to eight months to complete but, because officials were anxious to have it working for this year's exhibition (the first in six year's exhibition (the first in six years due to the war), top priority was given the job and it will be finished in a little over two months from the time the contract was awarded.

Electricians from D. R. Fee & Company, under the supervision of engineers Bain and Mayberry, are installing the equipment. Most of them are war veterans and graduates of the Rehabilitation School of Electronics, Toronto. Many were experts in radar or other electronics work during the war. Several qualified operators, working in shifts will be required to keep the system working efficiently.

"MAYOR REPORTS to the PEOPLE"

Mayor Robert Saunders reports on civic progress: Toronto's most timely radio program.

1 p.m. Sundays

The Druendly Station

1050 On the Dial

What Is This Thing - Called Radio?

by Cliff Bowers . . . Station CKNX Wingham, Ont.

RADIO! What images that word brings to the mind of the average listener! . . . Handsome announcers, glamorous singers, comedians, bananas in the refrigerator . . . ! Yes to different people radio means different things . . . thank goodness! But what is this thing called radio, and why? Well about the simplest and least satisfactory way to answer would be to present, as we have seen it and heard it; the story of broadcasting.

What does it mean to people compelled through distressing circumstances to rely on it for their meagre livelihood. You may jeer at that but Jack Benny is forced to struggle along on a paltry $20,000.00 per week? That's no joke son.

Radio has come a long way from the days of crystal sets and of sitting up all night to get KDKA. Yes indeed! In 25 years of steady progress radio has forged ahead. A quarter century ago broadcasting consisted largely of playing scratchy phonograph records. Today, after 25 years of research, radio has at last reached the stage where broadcasting consists largely of playing scratchy phonograph records!

To give listeners a picture of radio we must first outline an average day in an average radio station. Let's study it from the viewpoint of the typical station staff member. Suppose, as they say in books, you are one of those happy characters whose job it is to get people up in the morning . . . and I do not mean an elevator boy.

If you are an announcer who specializes in what are laughingly called "breakfast club" shows, your day, begins when sensible folks are going to bed . . . 5.45 a.m. You are startled out of a sound some fifteen minutes after hitting the hay, by a screaming alarm clock. Those who have heard an alarm clock scream will know what I mean. You are rudely awakened from a beautiful dream just as you were about to sign a contract with CBS for thirty-nine weeks . . . with op-

You spring out of bed raring to go. You take Dr. Martyr's Pink Pills . . . you're nobody's fool. You fall flat on your face; having inadvertently forgotten to put your feet out first. You struggle down-stairs talking to yourself, heat up some left over coffee, swallow a slice of cold toast and do a Dagwood Burnstead out the door, You do not knock down a postman. What postman would be about at even wangled a seat . . . you raced the old lady for it and won fair and square . . . you peer at your fellow commuters through halfself, "what a dopey looking bunch."

You reach the studio about 6.30. It's as dark as the inside of your hat. You rush to the newsroomreach for the teletype machine . . and . . . it's gone! But that's impossible. The finance company never took back a teletype machine before. Perhaps if you turned on the light . . . ah, hah, there it is! Now let's see what is startling today. Nothing! Absolutely nothing! No news. Shall we say no news is good news? No, better not.

Do you despair? Yes, but you look around for something anyway. Glancing at the clock you see the time is now 6.50, ten minutes to sign the station on the air. There you are . . . no news, no music, no operator . blades . . . oh why didn't I stay selling magazines? But enough of this! No time to reminisce . . who do you think you are, Singin' Sam? Suddenly you're jarred from your reverie by the telephone.

"Hello. Yes, this is the radio station, I think. What's that? . . . You've lost your dog? What does it look like . . . just like your husband? . . . thank you, ... good ... yes ... good ... no, madame we don't have pictures of Frankie boy. . . . Thank you . . . goodbye . . . what was that . . . no madame, I am NOT Danny Kaye . . . goodbyeeee!" What a talker, my gosh, it's 6.58 and still no program. You dash into the record library, grab a handful of discs, then to the control room, slap "O Canada" on the turntable. take a deep breath, open the mike and smile. . .

"Good morning!"

Having taken care of announcers, who incidentally take pretty good care of themselves . . . we turn to the producer.

Have you ever heard of a producer? You have? Good, then you may leave. For those who do not know what a producer does we shall explain. This should only take a minute. Suppose, again . . . You are wandering through a radio station. You see a man wearing earmuffs . . . no they're earphones. This person is waving his arms about and tearing his hair. He is a producer. It's his job to direct the show so that it times perfectly . . . to interpret the script so, that everyone understands it . . . even the musicians. You may see the producer draw his finger across his throat. Is he threatening to murder the tenor or is he crazy? Answer to the first question is, "no" . . . to the second, "well, he's in radio."

Fancy that! He just hit himself on the nose. Is he angry with himself or trying to prove that he is not anaemic by making his nose bleed? Neither. He was telling the actors that the program finished right on time. (What station is this I'm talking, about?)

Yes, Time is of prime importance in radio, and producers (or stop watches with ulcers as they are affectionately (?) called), just worship that little red second hand.

There are countless other characters around radio stations who are as uninteresting as producers. For instance, the control operator. Here is a classic example of how unimportant one can become in these places. The operator's work, what there is of it, is even less important than the announcer's. He has nothing to do but play records, regulate the volume on a program, and turn microphones on and off. For this he actually gets paid.

Another fellow you hear plenty of, but not much about, is the studio musician. Now. I have found there are musicians and mu. sicians. . . Then, there are those who eat regularly and get their hair cut. This latter type is in a small minority. Most musicians are artists, pronounced artistes, and therefore temperamental.

Columbia Symphony Premieres "The Medium"

Menotti's new opera, with Broadway cast, to be aired Aug. 10 — Satirical two-character drama, "The Telephone," will be curtain-raiser for broadcast

'The Medium," Gian-Carlo Menottl's new American opera, acclaimed this season by New York audiences and critics, will be given its first radio performance over Columbia network by the original Broadway cast, with the CBS Symphony directed by Alfredo Antonini, Sunday, Aug. 10, 3.00-4.30 p.m.

Curtain-raiser for the one and a half hour broadcast will be "The Telephone," 20-minute opera buffa by the same composer, which had its first radio performance this May on CES' "Invitation to Music," also under the baton of Mr. Antonini.

The original CBS cast of the twocharacter drama, Winifred Smith, soprano, and William Gephart, baritone, will repeat their roles in "The Telephone."

Both operas have been playing to packed houses at the Ethel Barrymore Theatre since April. The radio production of "The Medium" will be of special interest because of the difficult task of realizing on the air the character of the mute boy, Toby, whose inability to utter a sound is an essential factor in the unfolding of the melodrama.

The plot of this opera, which has been termed a "philosophical horror story," concerns a fake spiritualist, Madame Flora who, becoming a victim of her own charlatanism visits terror on her daughter Monica, and the mute boy, Toby. Madame Flora is played and sung with consummate skill by Marie Powers. The daughter is played by Evelyn Keller, and the boy by Leo Coleman.

"The Telephone" is a light satirical piece describing the trials of a young suitor, Ben, who is trying to propose to his girl friend, Lucy. The WINIFRED SMITH. soprano. who, with William Gephart, baritone, will repeat their roles in "The Telephone," a twenty-minute opera buffa. to be aired by CBS, 3 p.m., Sunday.

"MEDIUM" GETS AIR PREMIERE

Conductor Alfredo Antonini discusses with Marie Powers and Evelyn Keller the score of "The Medium," new American opera by Gian-Carlo Menotti, which will be given its initial radio performance on the CBS Symphony program of Sunday, August 10. Miss Powers sings the title role; Miss Keller plays her daughter.

incessant ringing of the telephone, and Lucy's endless gossipings on the instrument prevent him from making much headway until he conceives the bright idea of taking his departure to put in a call at a nearby coin box telephone to make his proposal.

The two operas were first produced under the auspices of Ballet Society, with Leon Barzin as musical director, in February. Their unprecedented success led to plans for a Broadway production under the financial aegis of Chandler Cowles, Efrem Zimbalist, and Edith Lutyens. Mr. Menotti, who is responsible for the librettos as well as the scores, was immediately hailed as the hope of American opera.

One critic commented that "The Medium" shows that "American opera need not be restricted to the pompous manner . . . of grand opera . . . that it can be as swift moving and suspenseful as any Broadway melodrama."

CBS—Invitation to Learning. Chi. Helen Muchnic, professor of Russian Literature at Smith College and author of "An Introduction to Russian Literature," takes part in a discussion of Feedor Dostoevsky's classic, "The Idiot," in which the author is considered to have drawn his own ideal of a Christ-like character. The other participants in the program are Eugene O'Neill Jr., assistant professor of Greek at Yale University, and Houston Peterson, professor of philosophy at Rutgers University and editor of "Great Teachers." The central figure in "The Idiot," which was published in 1868, is Prince Myshkin, an epileptic whose secluded invalid life has spared him from the human fallings of egotism, ambition, pride and deceit and left him a wise if simple childlike character who wins all hearts. The August 10 broadcast concludes the seventh four-week panel in a special series of 33 programs devoted to the subject "The Pursuit of Happiness," as approached in classic literature.

(parlon me, sales messages), which you hear all day and half the night. This happy breed is known as the continuity writer . . . any continuity in their writing is usually coincidental. It is their job, and well they do it, to confuse and befuddle the harassed announcer. Most continuity writers are past masters of the art.

Having discussed personalities involved in the daily routine of radio, possibly we should explain some of the terms that are bandied about which may not be understood by the listener, to say nothing of the guy who bandies them about.

One of the most common expressions is "by transcription." This phrase, which may refer to anything from Bing Crosby to singing commercials, means recorded. The term is said to have originated in a famous play when one of the characters was heard to remark, ". . . to be or not to be, that's the transcription."

Another mystifying term is, "delayed broadcast." This is also recorded, but for special airing later . . also like Bing Crosby. It can also refer to a show which the management delays for as long as possible. While discussing sta-tion personnel we neglected the commercial manager. Now there is a JOB! . . . Sitting around in a nice office with nothing to do but think of ways to get new sponsors-and other ways to keep the old ones. Don't think this job isn't a cinch, because it isn't.

How would you like to be commercial manager of a radio sta-Why. tion? What do you do? you mad impulsive child, you don't DO anything! Well, maybe you do a little; like slipping out for a coffee.

Let us imagine that you are putting your coat on to go out for coffee. The telephone rings.

"Darn that Don Ameche," you mutter. "Hello, yes this is . . . no I . . . well yes, yes Mr. Snap-girdle. No, Mr. Snapgirdle." (It's Mr. Snapgirdle, biggest advertiser in ladies' wear on the station).

"Yes, Mr. Snapgirdle . . . yes ... yes . . . yes sir, right away." You hang up the receiver and wipe the Phew! sweat from your brow. The man must be mad. He wants newscasts every hour on the hour, with singing commercials. It's revolutionary! It's ridiculous, not only that, it's silly.

You are interrupted now by a guy who grins nervously says, "Sir, how many times do we play the thirteenth instalment of Life Can Be Gruesome?""

"How many times? How many times have you played it?" You shoot back showing just a trace of annovance.

"Well sir, as this is only Wednesday, we have only played it four times," is the reply.

"Why four times?" you inquire blandly, knocking the ashes from your pipe. (You do not smoke a pipe, which fact annoys you immensely).

"Well sir, we played Tuesday's instalment on Monday, so we had

MODEL TOO-Powers and conover liked her, for she was a model before she entered radio. That's blonde Doris Grundy, a regular actress on WLW-NBC dramatic to play Wednesday's instalment on Tuesday because we played Monday's instalment on Friday. We needed a fill after the church service on Sunday so we put Friday's instalment in there."

You can see how easy it would be for one to go crazy by instalments.

"Oh fine," you chuckle.

"Thank you, sir. But it was nothing that any red-blooded boy wouldn't have done," smiles the other.

You can see from this glance at radio that it's small wonder one meets people wandering the streets talking to themselves. It is no mystery when we hear "... he used to be in radio; fine chap he was before that."

By the way a sponsor just called up and cancelled his program, Somebody carelessly allowed music to be played between commer-

TRAVEL DEPARTMENT

This department is affiliated with the International Travel League (Registered), Head Office, Toronto—Members throughout the world.

Inquiries, relative to travel, accommodation, passports, etc., will be answered fully as possible, as space permits.

Letters should be addressed to Travel Dept., Radio-Vision, 73 Adelaide Street West, Toronto.

New York State

New York State offers vacation lands in infinite variety and attractiveness. Fine as these facilities are—bigger plans are in the making. Under Governor Dewey's billion-dollar postwar public works program, $800,000,000 goes into highway improvements, including a $202,000,000 480-mile thruway from New York City to Buffalo and beyond.

The New York State Conservation Dept. is making improvements to public campsites and hiking facilities in the 2,500,000-acre Adirondac and Catskill Forest Reserves, the States 24 Fish Hatcheries, numerous game farms and 77 State Parks. In addition private resort operators are going forward with new construction of the latest in accommodation and recreation facilities.

To those who seek rest, relaxation, thrills, sport, entertainment, historical and cultural interests — along the seashore, in the mountains—among alluring lakes or in urban surroundings — New York State offers them all.

'Lady Rodney' Back

With nearly five years of war service behind her, the Canadian National steamship Lady Rodney returned to peace-time passenger service recently when she sailed on her first postwar voyage to Boston. Bermuda and the British West Indies. Honorably discharged as a troop and bride ship late in 1946, the Lady Rodney went into drydock at Saint John, where she was rebuilt and refurnished to conform with the latest trends in passenger comfort. Her home port will be Halifax.

SOAKING IN SUNSHINE is a healthful pastime at glorious Malibu Beach, California. It takes only a matter of hours to get there, from anywhere on the continent, aboard one of the American Airlines Flagships.

Beautiful Banff

Foundation stone of Canada's flourishing tourist industry, the Dominion's national park system had its beginning in the Canadian Rockies when Banff National Park was established in 1885. Rail lines of a travel system later to encircle the globe were then being pushed through this mountain fastness by the Canadian Pacific Railway which still serves thousands of visitors each year as rail carrier and host.

The desire to preserve the beauty spots and wild life which 60 years ago moved authorities to set this area apart as a park is understood in the first sight of this land of shining mountains, snowy peaks, evergreen valleys and icy, blue-green streams and lakes. Other parks now surround Banff—Yoho and Kootenay on the west, and Jasper on the north.

Subsequent establishment of Banff Springs Hotel and Chateau Lake Louise, the Chalet at Emerald Lake, and snug lodges at Moraine Lake, Lake O'Hara, Lake Wapta and Yoho Valley, serve to increase the enjoyment that comes with perfect accommodations, sports and recreational facilities in superlative surroundings literally on top of the world.

All these modern hostelries, with their excellent meals and service, are within 70 miles of the town of Banff, Alta., which is 64 hours from Montreal and 62 hours from Toronto, via Canadian Pacific; 48 hours from Chicago, via Minneapolis, St. Paul and Sault Ste. Marie Railroad; and less than 27 hours from Seattle, via Great Northern and Canadian Pacific through Vancouver.

Airways of Canada and the U.S. furnish another gateway to Banff through Calgary, a scheduled point for two routes, Trans-Canada Air Lines, connecting with the Canadian cross-continent route at Lethbridge, and Western Air Lines from Burbank, Cal., through the midwestern states.

Banff is linked by Trans-Canada Highway to Calgary and Vancouver, and by a good motor road to Spokane, Wash. At park gateways motorists must register and obtain a $2 permit which entitles them to drive in any national park throughout the year.

Tourist cabins, fully equipped with bedding and all necessities for light housekeeping are available at rates ranging up from $2.50 per day for two persons. All cabins are inspected and licensed by park officials and a rate alloted to every cabin.

BUFFALO TO NORTH BAY IS SCENIC COACH TRIP

From Buffalo—330 miles to North Bay—the highway traveller sees a continuous panorama of scenic beauty, from orchards of the Niagara Peninsula, through rich agricultural and industrial territories, the Muskoka lakelands and on to the rugged North Country that is the delight of hunters and anglers. This area is also known for its rich gold, copper, nickel and silver, and in more recent years, the Dionne quintuplets.

Just across the Peace Bridge from Buffalo, a relic of less peaceful times, Old Fort Erie, stands in eloquent contrast to the mighty bridge built to commemorate more than one hundred years of peace between Canada and the U.S.A. The beautiful stretch of parkway along 20 miles on the Canadian side of the Niagara River to Niagara Falls, Ontario, has been developed by the Niagara Parks Commission. great development of the Hydro Electric Power Commission is seen as the road approaches Niagara Falls. Ontario.

Not far off the main highway of the Niagara Peninsula, at Queenston, the home of Canada's heroine of the war of 1812, Laura Secord, survives the ravages of time. Nearby, at Queenston Heights, Brock's Monument marks the spot where Canada's leader, General Sir Isaac Brock, gave his life in 1812. In near-by Lundy's Lane one may see well tended graves of U.S.A. soldiers.

The first Welland Canal connecting Lakes Erie and Ontario, bye-passing Niagara Falls, was built in 1829. The present canal, with its electrically controlled locks, is one of the world's most notable artificial waterways. St. Catharines is the chief urban centre of the "Garden of Canada." The Manor House in Grimsby is the oldest house in this part of Canada. It was built in 1798, when hardwood dowels were used instead of metal nails. The interior trim is of native walnut.

As the highway cuts across Burlington Beach, the traveller has a lovely glimpse of the City of Hamilton, one of Ontario's important industrial cities.

Toronto, capital of the province, has to interest the visitor its publicly owned transit system and electric power distribution, beautiful homes, parks and beaches, university and colleges, cathedrals and art galleries, great stores and sports centres, greatest of all annual exhibitions (the Canadian National), and the Parliament Buildings.

Highway travel has been an important influence in the development of this area. Where huge, streamlined cruisers now purralong paved highways, the old stage coach first opened up new horizons. The coach, now in the museum of the Toronto Transportation Commission's Gray Coach Lines, was in service until 1895, between Toronto and Richmond

Six miles north of Newmarket, in the Village of Sharon, the York County Pioneer and Historical Society has acquired and preserved as a museum and community centre the Sharon Temple. "Children of Peace" was the name of the sect which built the temple. They were "disowned" by the main body of Quakers, and the temple was used from 1825 to 1886. The society be-came extinct soon after the death of its founder, David Willson. In construction of their temple the sect imitated as far as possible the methods and materials used in the building of Solomon's Temple. Beautiful work in inlaid walnut is a feature.

One of the finest pieces of bronze statuary in the world is the monument erected in Orillia to honor memory of the great French explorer, Champlain, the first white man to penetrate the wilds of old Huronia, former' territory of the Algonquin Indians. A popular "side trip" is the run over to Midland, on Georgian Bay, and to the Martyrs' Shrine of Fort Ste. Marle.

Muskoka Lakes, Algonquin Park, Lake of Bays—these are a few of the famous summer resort districts that have won favor with vacationists. The North Bay Highway cuts straight through these areas.

Then, through rugged beauty of rocky, lake-dotted country, broken by stretches of timberland, the highway rolls on through towns and villages to the "Welcome" greeting of the City of North Bay, gateway to Canada's fabulous northlands.

NBC—Plays By Ear.

Drama by Hector Chevigny.

A war veteran gets a chance to straighten out the post-war world in "The Short' Career of Dictator Jones," in the last of eight broadcasts of "Plays by Ear." The series has been heard in the time spot of "Cavalcade of America," which will return to the air Monday, Aug. 18. When he returns from the war fronts, Jones is disgusted with his family's complaints about shortages; but two years later, when inflation has put the bite into everything he would like to buy, he decides it's time someone began trying to win the peace. In a fantasy sequence he is given a chance to become a benevolent dictator. He establishes a totalitariam state in which uniformity is, of necessity, the keynote. But in one small corner of America democracy survives and when the Dictator visits it, he is startled to find that democracy somehow has managed to muddle through.

The charming soloist will feature a song which she recently introduced in her concerts and which she will present for the first time on the air. It's an old French hunting song, "Vielle Chanson de Chasse," and depicts the hunter bidding farewell to his sweetheart before joining the hunt. Her second number in this group, "If My Songs Had Wings," was written by her friend, Reynaldo Hahn, who was born in Venezuela but moved to Paris when very young. Miss Teyte will open with the lovely "L'Absence', will conclude with "Tu P'est pas Beau" from Offenbach's comic opera "La Perichole."

Thanks to the Army!

The Page Cavanaugh Trio, featured on NBC's "Jack Paar Show," can thank the United States Army for its first "break."

Pianist Cavanaugh, bassist Lloyd Pratt and guitarist Al Viola, who make up the Trio, met at Camp Kohler during the war. Together in the Army for three years, they were discharged within a week of each other. Since they had already proven their success as an Army entertainment unit, they decided to continue together as civilians. Their RCA-Victor recordings and work with Frank Sinatra at the Waldorf brought them prominence.

PAUL SCHERMAN, 37-year-old Toronto-born violinist and conductor, has been appointed assistant conductor of the Toronto Symphony Orchestra. Ettore Mazzoleni remains as associate conductor. Sir Ernest MacMillan is director.

Siegel, currently attached to the Headquarters, Vienna Area Command, will be heard during the broadcast in a special pick-up from Austria. The Slegel opus that will be world premiered on the Mutual network broadcast, is, in his own words, "the diary of a Gl who wanted to put down his musical impressions." The musical jottings, incorporated in three movements, are the impressions of the brookle city-bred soldier training in rural Alabama, Califorma, and lastly at Lowry Field. Colorado, The towering Booky Mountain peaks are pictured in the first movement, backgrounding the tenuous, is borious training sessions that finally graduated an armorer for the 12th Auforce. The second and third musical impressions are phases captured by Slegel as he fought side-by-side with other Fifth Army GP's in Haly and then worked with them in Austrian occupation.

The Beethoven Sonata is one of three of Opus 2 dedicated to Haydn., It is included in the works written by Beethoven by the year 1795, or by the time Beethoven was 25 years of age. The young composer had met Haydn in 1792 in Bonn. The meeting proved to be a memorable one, as from that time on the world opened wide before him. On Haydn's invitation, he went to Vienna and there studied with the older master.

GOLD ON THAT THAR FLUTE!-Edward V. Powell (left), first flutist in Peter Van Steeden's orchestra for the NBC "Mr. District Attorney" program (Wednesday, 9.30 p.m.) plays a rare 24-carat gold flute, valued at $1,400. It was made by Powell's father, a flute manufacturer. Vicki Vola, who portrays the D.A.'s Miss Miller, tries an ordinary flute, while Van Steeden auditions their duet.

Scholarships Attract Beauties

Hamilton, Ont. - Mountains of mail are arriving in the "Mountain City" from beautiful girls across Canada, as inquiries pour in concerning the Miss Canada Pageant, set for Aug, 21 and 22, when the lucky "All Canadian" girl chosen by a group of distinguished Canadian and American judges will be crowned Miss Canada. In addition, she'll receive a $1.000 scholarship and be eligible to enter the great Miss America Pageant in Atlantic City in September.

"Letters are arriving from every part of the Dominion," stated S. Radcliffe Weaver, executive director of the pageant which is spon-sored by the Hamilton Police Athletic Association.

The idea of a scholarship has "caught on" with lovely Canadian girls who have aspirations for future careers in art; music, literature, journalism, medicine and other fields. The winner also will have a chance for $25,000 in scholarships at the Miss America show.

Listeners will go back through the years with the kindly little minister John Robins when John Christie's play Country Song is presented. The story is unfolded through a series of "flashbacks" after Johns Robbins dies. After his death the people in his little prairie community think back to the effect that his ministry has had on them and the life of the town—his vigerous campaign against liquor at the time of the voting on the local option, and his work against juvenile delinquency. Amusing scenes of the pastor's astuteness as a horse trader, and a scene in which his wife expresses the regard he has had for the town and its people will contribute to the picture of John Robbins. The play is in charge of Doug Nixon. Starring roles will be taken by west coast actors Bill Buckingham and Cathy Graham.

A documentary series dealing with the world food problem will be presented for five consecutive weeks starting Friday, Aug. 15. Secretary of State George C. Marshall will be guest speaker on the opening program in the series, which is to be titled "The Third Horseman." Written by Welbourn Kelley and produced by Dan Sutter, the programs will employ novel dramatic and production devices to present the problem with vitality and impact. Authenticity will be the program keynote. On the first broadcast, for example, there will be the plaintive cry of a baby suffering from malnutrition. NBC correspondent Ed Haaker in the American-occupied zone of Germany went to a hospital to obtain a recording of an actual cry of an Infant suffering from faulty nutrition. This recording, rather than a synthetic sound effect. will be heard on the broadcast. The British Broadcasting Corporation will supply an authentic short-waved insert on the premiere program to show the food shopping problems of a typical London housewife. "Musically Yours" Listens to Listeners

After a two-weeks vacation, the popular all-request, recorded program "Musically Yours," will return to its regular Monday thru Friday spot on the eastern network of the CBC, at 2.30 to 3 p.m., Monday, August 11. Designed and produced to attain the widest possible individual appeal among its network listeners, "Musically Yours" has mapped out an entirely new format with no attempt to simulate other "disc" shows.

As proof of its great appeal, however, it draws 150 letters a week from points as far apart as Kenora, Ont.; Newfoundland, and scores of places in the United States. Elwood Glover can't quite understand why such a simple idea has created so much stir among listeners. "I guess the answer is that when people feel they are part of a broadcast, they express their interest," says Glover. When the idea came up, I decided it would be preferable to have the listeners take over the program planning themselves. After all, it's for their entertainment and they should have something to say about it."

They seem to have plenty say, judging by contents of the weekly letters. About 75 per cent of the writers ask Glover to play either classical or semi-classical records. Some of the 75 per cent object to swing music on the program-while other writers, who favor music with a beat, occasionally try to discourage playing of classical and semi-classical music. Glover just puts the whole matter before his audience, and gets a kick out of trying to convince a torrid-jazz fan on the merits of a Chopin Concerto, or explaining to a classical music lover that Duke Ellington is not just a flash-in-thepan piano player.

Elwood Glover and his assistant, Len McColl, plan the program from the wealth of suggestions they receive. Elwood says: "We take the listener into our confidence and give him credit for be-

Night." with the show's producers continuing to present the popular tunes of the day, admixed with nostalgic oldies. Marty Drake, singing comedian, will still be featured on the program and will have a feminine guest vocalist each week. Emerson Buckley's Orchestra provides the music. NBC—Bill Stern, Sports.

NBC-Talk Series. Subject of current interest discussed by prominent speakers.

Elwood Glover . . listeners' man

ing a sensitive human being with a right to express his opinions.' After the first program they had to stop asking people to send in requests and, after the first week, to stop writing in for a while. They were practically buried in mail. But the letters still come

One of the letters that Glover treasures came from a Saint John, N.B., war veteran who has lost both his eyes. Apologizing for typing his signature, he wrote: "Owing to my condition I am a constant listener to that portion of your program that we are privileged to hear over our local station, which is most enjoyable. Would you play 'Minuet in G Major' as played by Paderewski? I am a war victim and in former days enjoyed playing the better class of music and now have to content myself with listening to the various radio programs . .

Another letter which Glover got a kick out of was received from a young lady, who, after hearing Dinicu's "Hora Staccato," wrote in asking to hear it again. "That terrific fiddle player, Horace Degotto, he's sensational!" she wrote.

Ask Elwood Glover who is the most important person in radio and he'll promptly tell you—"the listener, of course!" "Musically Yours" is proving that.

KING OF QUACKS

The title of King of Quacks was claimed in a recent BBC broadcast on behalf of a certain long-dead Italian, who made a huge sum by reviving the dead.

His name was Mantacinnie, and he claimed to have discovered the elixir of life, and said that to prove it he would raise all the people of Lyons who had recently died. His elixir sold like ice cream in a heat wave; and in due course he announced the great day when he would revive the dead. "We shall be up all night," he said to his partner. "We shall have a lot of callers at dusk. Show them into separate rooms, and see that they don't meet each other."

It happened just as he said: there was a stream of muffled figures seeking private interviews, and a clinking underneath their cloaks suggested bags of money, "My father died a year ago," said the first. "He was a rich miser, and it will go hard with me tomorrow when he sees how much I've spent. Here's 1,000 guineas to leave him out." The next one was a beautiful young woman in great distress, "I'll give you anything not to bring back the tyrant who was my husband," she sobbed. "Last week I married my beloved Jacques, and we cannot be parted again so soon." And so on. Some of his callers feared that the dear departed might be curious as to the exact nature of the sudden "illnesses" that had so suddenly and tragically carried him away.

But better was to come. The mayor and town council appeared, in full regalia, and begged an audience. "Learned sir," said the mayor, "I must beg of you to have pity on us. The resurrection of our predecessors in office, of the chiefs of police, post office, and so on, would throw the present holders into poverty and the whole city into confusion; accept this small tribute to your supernatural powers, and go and leave us in peace. But Mantacinnie was not yet contented. "That's all very well," he said, "but people will, doubt the truth of my power to raise your dead. "That can be easily arranged," replied the mayor, "I will give you a colemn document testifying that we, ourselves, have witnessed your wonderful powers." Mantacinnie was certainly the king of quacks.
