CBWT's newly-formed television organization met a tremendous test on the night of June 7-8, when the greatest fire in the history of Winnipeg destroyed or damaged five large buildings in the heart of the Portage Avenue business district. Our picture shows CBWT newsmen on location at the fire—left to right, NORMAN LACEY, CBWT news editor; WES HARVISON, cameraman, and HERB NIXON, CBWT news. Their vivid picture story of the fire was carried on the evening TV news at 7:00 p.m., June 8, simultaneously in Winnipeg and Toronto. It was also released by request to NBC-TV and affiliates in the United States. CBWT newsmen and cameras were on the job at the fire a few minutes after it started at 2:00 a.m., June 8.

Saskatoon. Three appointments to the CBC's new Saskatchewan staff, in preparation for the opening of the Saskatchewan studios at Regina later this summer, were announced by J. R. Finlay, CBC Director for the Prairie Provinces, in an address to the annual conference of the National Farm Radio Forums here June 16.

R. H. Roberts, veteran radio man of CBC Winnipeg, will head the Saskatchewan branch as manager of the Regina studios. With him at the opening of the new studios will be R. L. Punshon, at present chief operator at CBW transmitter, Carman, Manitoba, and formerly in charge of CBK transmitter at Watrous, who will be technical supervisor at the Regina studios; and D. H. Innes, former newspaper and farm editor of Regina, newly appointed as CBC assistant farm commentator for Saskatchewan.

Working with the CBC Regina staff will be Jean Hinds, morning commentator for Saskatchewan, who has been broadcasting from Regina since last fall.

Other appointments to the Regina staff have still to be made, Mr. Finlay said. They will include a number of technical, announcing and clerical positions. The Regina studios will be located in the Exner Building at 1840 McIntyre Street.

With the introduction of the Regina studios, CBK transmitter will be fed directly from Regina, which will also originate Saskatchewan programs going to CBC networks.

RECITAL. Marian Grudeff, pianist. From Toronto.

Papillons, Opus 2 (Schumann); Ondine, from Gaspard de la nuit (Ravel); Barcarolle, Opus 60 (Chopin).

This morning Marian Grudeff will be heard in her first CBC recital since she returned from a winter tour of European cities. The tour was arranged by a London concert agency, after she had attracted their attention while studying in Europe with composer, conductor and teacher Nadia Boulanger. Recitals were arranged in Stockholm, Copenhagen, The Hague, Amsterdam, Vienna and London. Miss Grudeff has been re-engaged to return to Europe for radio broadcasts in Holland, and there is also in the offing an engagement to appear with an orchestra in London. Currently, she is studying in New York with Edward Steuermann.

W-9:30 a.m.

CHAMBER MUSIC. The de Rimanczy Quartet. From Vancouver.

Quartet No. 5 in A, Opus 18 (Beethoven).

W-10:30 a.m. K-9:30 a.m. X-8:30 a.m.

WAY OF THE SPIRIT. This program concludes the twelfth season of Way of the Spirit broadcasts. It tells the story of Dr. William Carey, who began life as a cobbler in England but turned missionary toward the end of the 18th century and became recognized as a great religious leader and devoted labourer among the people of India. The authorities of the East India Company were afraid his work would stir up trouble among the natives and gave him some opposition. The inhuman practices of Hindu ritual also troubled him greatly, including the famous suttee, by which widows were compelled to die on the funeral pyres of their dead husbands.

W-12:30 p.m. K-11:30 a.m. X-10:30 a.m.

INVITATION TO MUSIC. Recorded program presented by James Fassett. Intermission guest is George Szell.

Overture to Der Freischuetz (Weber) by the Cleveland Orchestra, George Szell conducting; Concerto No. 1 for Horn and Orchestra in E Flat Major (Strauss) by the Philharmonia Orchestra, Alceo Galliera conducting, with soloist Dennis Brain; Concerto No. 1 in D Minor for Piano and Orchestra (Brahms) by the Cleveland Orchestra, George Szell conducting, with pianist Rudolf Serkin.

W-2:00 p.m. K-1:00 p.m. X-12:00 noon

STRINGALONG. This Sunday marks the return to the air of this program, a half-hour of smooth musical arrangements by the orchestra's conductor Ricky Hyslop, which proved so popular in the early spring. Jack Bingham, producer. From Vancouver.

Mattinata; Sicilian Tarantella; Stanley Park; Plink Plank Plunk; Divertimento No. 40 (Mozart); Secret Love; and a current hit parade number.

W-4:00 p.m. K-3:00 p.m. X-2:00 p.m.

WAYS OF MANKIND. No human society has ever existed without some kind of family organization, though these have differed widely. In today's program entitled Home Sweet Home, two types of family organization will be described—the traditional Chinese and the American. In North America the emphasis has been on the married couple—a new family created with every marriage. China has emphasized parent-child relationships, and marriage has meant the acquisition of a daughter-in-law as well as a wife.

W-4:30 p.m. K-3:30 p.m. X-2:30 p.m.

ASK THE WEATHERMAN. Today weatherman Rube Hornstein of Halifax will give a brief survey of hailstones and hailstorms. He will direct his attention to the internal pattern of a hailstone, describe the largest hailstones on record, outline two theories currently in existence concerning hailstone origination and discuss outmoded and also modern methods of destroying hailstones before they reach the ground.

W-5:05 p.m. K-4:05 p.m. X-3:05 p.m.

SUNDAY CHORALE. Choir conducted by W. H. Anderson; Filmer

Hubble, organist; T. M. Taylor, producer. From Winnipeg.

Fill Thou My Life (Jackson); Prate The Lord, My Soul (Wesley); O Holy Spirit of Peace (Walker Robson); Jesu, Lover Of My Soul (Parry); O Harken Thou, O Lord (Arcadelt); Through the Day Thy Love Has Spared Us (Gounod); O Praise God In His Holiness (Armstrong Gibbs).

W-6:00 p.m. K-5:00 p.m. X-4:00 p.m.

ONCE UPON A TIME. Today, "as a result of great effort and persuasion," this program will have as its guest once more "the most unusual celebrity ever to appear on this or any other program"—Henry the Spook, a musically-inclined father of five spirited sprites, who wants to set the spook record straight. Two more popular tales coming up are Lester, the Mosquito (July 4), the biography of an insect born in a rainbarrel who developed a different way of attack on human beings, and had a monument raised in his honour in Saskatchewan; and When the World Was New (July 18) about the Disney-like animals in the early days of the earth. From Toronto.

W-6:30 p.m. K-5:30 p.m. X-4:30 p.m.

STRATFORD 1954. A special program prepared by Tom Benson of the CBC for broadcast on the eve of the opening of the Stratford Festival. "The whole idea of this program," says Benson, "will be to present a picture through sound of Stratford in the days preceding the festival. One of the features will be a conversation with an 83-year-old resident named Tom Orr, who started the Shakespeare Memorial Gardens in Stratford and planned the beautification of the parklands and most of the city. Another feature will be a short bit by Tyrone Guthrie as he directs his players during rehearsal and explains how he sees a particular scene and the way he believes it should be played. An interesting footnote on the festival is the fact that exactly half the players named in the official brochure are well known to listeners, having appeared in many CBC drama productions. They are: Lloyd Bochner, Mavor Moore, Eleanor Stuart, Barbara Chilcott, Toby Robins, Donald Harron, Robert Christie, Eric House, William Needles, Peter Mews, and Neil Vipond.

W-7:00 p.m. K-6:00 p.m. X-5:00 p.m.

SUMMER THEATRE. Down Payment for a House, a suspenseful drama by Len Peterson. From Toronto. Ab Koehler, a street-car conductor, lives with his wife and two children in a dingy, two-room basement apartment in Toronto. Plagued by collection agencies and still paying off a car which lies in wreckage at a junkyard because he could not afford the insurance for it, he desperately seeks a way out of his misery. All his worries would be over, he believes, if only he had a few thousand dollars for a down payment for a house. He resorts to stealing. Then, hounded by fear and guilt, he blunders on in his search for security and a little happiness. The play ends on an intensely bitter and ironical note.

W-8:00 p.m. K-7:00 p.m. X-6:00 p.m.

CANADIAN SCENES. During the week of June 20-27, Saint John, N.B., will be celebrating the 350th anniversary of its founding by Samuel de Champlain and Sieur de Monts. June 24 the actual anniversary will be the biggest day with parades, a special exhibition, a historical pageant and a ceremony at the Champlain Monument in Queen's Square with the planting of a tree and the laying of a wreath by the Champlain Society of Quebec. Ken Homer of CBC Halifax will record highlights of the week's events for this week's Canadian Scenes program.

W-8:30 p.m. K-7:30 p.m. X-6:30 p.m.

WEEKEND REVIEW. An analysis of the week's news by F. H. Underhill.

CBC THEATRE.

A World of His Own, by Joseph Schull; Henry Kaplan, producer; sets by Robert Hall; From Toronto. Cast: Philip — Ronald Brumlik; Gerda — Anna Cameron; Gerda's husband — Larry McCance; Ryerson — Lloyd Bochner; the professors — David Gardner, Robert McLeod; Gordon — Austin Willis.

The story is of a child prodigy driven to mental breakdown by his grasping parents, who try to exploit his talents by virtually selling him to a theatrical agent as a diminutive travelling show. His forced learning of Shakespearian tragedies by heart gives him a plan for a terrible revenge on his taskmasters. Gerda, his mother, is torn between an

Blind Children "See"
CBC Winnipeg Studios

A GROUP of about twenty children from the North Dakota State School For The Blind paid a call to the CBC studios in Winnipeg recently. It was their annual outing and all had expressed a desire to "see" the CBC studios—both radio and TV.

While the group gathered in the concert studio—No. 11—several staff members, including technicians, announcers and representatives of non-program sections came in to talk with them. Different microphones were passed among the youngsters to feel and thus get an idea of what a microphone looked like. Its workings were explained as were the general functions of the different CBC departments.

The visitors were also given the chance to handle a reel of tape and several kept small strips of it as souvenirs. Then—the highlight of the visit—they each spoke into a portable mike and the entire tape was played back over a loudspeaker so they could hear their own voices.

Before they left they gathered around a model of a TV camera and as they touched each part of it the workings of this ultra-complicated piece of equipment were explained in detail.

As they left to return to Bathgate, N.D., they promised to come back again next year for another "look" at radio and TV in Winnipeg.

Ryerson tries to defend and protect the boy, but fails, and is drawn into the final tragedy.

DOMINION DAY. A talk by Irene Craig on the composer of O Canada, Calixa Lavallee. Lavallee was the son of a Quebec blacksmith. By the 1880's he was being called "Our national composer." O Canada was given its first performance on June 24, 1880—as a Cantata in honour of the Governor-General, the Marquis of Lorne, but a couple of years later, Lavallee left Canada for the United States, never to return. Mrs. Craig tells how it came to be adopted as the National Anthem. Michael Hind-Smith, producer. From Winnipeg.

CANADIAN SHORT STORIES. The Bell Ringers, by Samuel Roddan of Vancouver. The story deals with a young boy who is jolted into early maturity by the death of a friend, and who pays a strange tribute to his chum.
W-7:30 p.m. K-8:30 p.m. X-7:30 p.m.

DEATH IN THE BARRENS. A repeat broadcast of George Whalley's documentary drama drawn from the diary of Edgar Christian, published under the title Unflinching. Ted Pope, producer. From Toronto.

Edgar Christian, a young Englishman, starved to death early in the summer of 1927 on the barrens north-east of Great Slave Lake. A year later his body was found by a party of geologists in the lonely cabin on the Thelon River where he had died. With the body were the remains of his two companions, John Hornby and Harold Adlard. In the cabin, too, was a diary kept by Christian until he was able to write no longer—a record of the party's struggle against starvation. The central figure in the story is John Hornsby, the leader of the party.

Cast: John Hornby — Alan King; Edgar Christian — Douglas Rain; Inspector Trundle of the R.C.M.P.—James McRae; narrator — Frank Peddie.

It is an interesting coincidence that Alan King, who plays John Hornby, was at Dover College in England with Edgar Christian in the years just before the fatal expedition.

W-8:00 p.m. K-9:00 p.m. X-8:00 p.m.

CBC SYMPHONY. CBC Symphony Orchestra conducted by Ettore Mazzoleni. From Toronto.

Overture, Street Corner (Alan Rawsthorne); Symphony (William Walton).

W-9:30 p.m. K-10:00 p.m. X-9:00 p.m.

KOREAN EXPERIENCE. Journalist Phillip Deane who served in the British Navy during the Second Great War and went to Korea in 1950 as war correspondent for the London Observer, was captured and remained a prisoner in North Korea for nearly three years. In two BBC talks to be heard tonight and July 7, he will tell listeners about his experiences. Nightmare in Korea, Deane's first talk, begins with a description of the "Death March of Korea," an eight-day forced march during the winter of 1950-51. Then comes the story of hopeless waiting under almost unbearable conditions until the treatment improved. It is not a pleasant tale, and the narrator's report on prison camp conditions is sometimes needfully gruesome. In his second talk, Brainwashing and Prisoners of War, Deane analyzes Communist methods of interrogating prisoners.

W-10:30 p.m. K-11:15 p.m. X-10:15 p.m.

REDWOOD PIPES. The story of the first pipe organ in British Columbia, the ancient Seeley organ, the original parts of which were brought around the Horn in 1861 to the early colony of Vancouver Island, will be told in words and music. Radio listeners will follow its varied career in the first Christ Church, in a saloon, in St. Andrew's Roman Catholic Cathedral, and, finally, since 1912, in St. Mark's Anglican Church, Saanich, B.C. The young organist who first installed the organ and rebuilt it after it had been partly demolished by fire was William Seeley, the great-grandfather of the well-known Vancouver organist, Win Renworth. In February, 1953, word came that the instrument was to be removed from St. Mark's to make way for a more modern instrument, so Miss Renworth was asked to record musical selections appropriate to the incidents in its history dramatized by Hilda Browne. Tonight's program is a repeat of the original broadcast which was heard in B.C. last September. Jack Bingham, producer. From Vancouver.

W-10:45 p.m. K-11:30 p.m. X-10:30 p.m.

Truncation of Bruckner.

I am fairly screaming with rage and I hope a lot of other people are too and that they let you know about it—having just been left dangling in mid-air at the very climax of Mr. Kaufmann's exciting performance of Bruckner's 4th Symphony. My first hearing of this work, and having a lovely time with it, when — CRASH! — the announcer regrets that "owing to previous commitments of time" etc., etc. It's too shattering! I realize (sadly) that this program regularly has an allotment of only 45 minutes, but it is our own symphony and when an enterprising conductor puts all that work into producing for us a new and splendid experience, it is high time he should be given full co-operation, and not cut off rudely in the middle of a note for a dish of imported soap that goes on year after year. It's an insult.

... Having thrown the above loud brickbat, I hope I won't spoil it all by repeating that if it weren't for CBC radio my machine would seldom be Fine conductors and guest artists are engaged and varied programs planned to please both the more serious music-lovers and those who prefer lighter entertainment. At present, 70 per cent of the musicians are members of the Toronto and CBC symphony orchestras. Among the artists and conductors appearing at the Proms this summer will be many Canadians, including tenor Jon Vickers on tonight's program; conductor-violinist Albert Pratz and pianist Vivian Thomas on July 8; pianist Mary Syme on July 29; and the Toronto Summer School Choir on August 5.

The play is a short historical fantasy. A sailor searches across the Spanish Main for a mythical lost country. He breaks a mysterious barrier which keeps other men away, and finds his dream country, and with it a woman and a philosophy, both strange and beautiful. Returning to civilization, he finds he has made a journey in time as well as space. This is a repeat performance.

VANCOUVER CONCERT. CBC Vancouver String Orchestra conducted by Jean de Rimanooczy. From Vancouver.

Interlude in an Artist's Life (John Weinzweig); Orchestra Quartet in F (Karl Stamitz).

With conductor John Avison going to Aspen, Colorado, to spend the summer as assistant to Aspen Institute's director William Steinberg, the CBC Vancouver Concert Orchestra broadcasts go off the air to make way for this string orchestra series. This will be the second year Mr. Avison has gone to Aspen. He was there in 1952 to assist the then director Joseph Rosenstock in preparatory work with orchestras. Mr. Steinberg, conductor of the Pittsburgh Symphony Orchestra, was named to the post of director this year.

SHIRLEY ABICAIR. When Shirley Abicair arrived in London from Australia in 1952 at the age of 22, she was unknown to the British public. Now she is a top show-business personality there and the BBC has released a set of six transcriptions demonstrating her skill in popular and folk singing. The first item in the opening program tonight is Botany Bay. For many of the songs Miss Abicair provides her own accompaniment on the zither. She is also supported by an instrumental trio. Before deciding to go to England Miss Abicair often had as many as five or six programs a week on Australian stations. A graduate of Sydney University, she speaks French, German and Italian and sings in these languages as well as in English.

ERIC WHITEHEAD, one of Canada's best-known sports commentators, will keep Trans-Canada listeners completely up to date on developments in the British Empire Games with his series of programs on Thursdays (CBW 6:15 p.m. CDT, CBK 9:45 p.m. MDT, CBX 8:45 p.m. MST). In his reports, scheduled under the title, British Empire Games Reporter, Mr. Whitehead will recall earlier Games, review world and Olympic records. He will indicate what events at the Games might provide new marks, interview visiting athletes and coaches, and bring listeners some of the behind-the-scenes stories of the administrative side of the Games, plus an account of the building progress as Vancouver prepares for the historic sporting event. Beginning next week Mr. Whitehead will be heard on Mondays, too.

being comment—"If this show had been permitted to run over it would have cut into the scheduled time for all the remaining programs that evening. In all radio programs, scheduled time is of necessity pretty inflexible. It has to be if we are to plan and schedule programs."

Comments.

In this week's Times there is a point I intended to mention, and I heartily endorse Sister Patricia's statement. Surely we can be spared this type of thing on Sunday . . . When you are planning the winter programs, please think of old people who are not hockey, or noisy band, fans, and give us some worth while programs between 7:00 and 9:00 p.m. on at least

CBC Farm Supervisor Visiting Prairies

A visitor to CBC Prairie Region headquarters last week was Keith Morrow of Toronto, CBC Supervisor of Farm Broadcasts.

Mr. Morrow will spend the next week in the Prairie Region, visiting the Manitoba Hereford Association Field Day at Brandon; stopping off briefly at Regina in connection with Farm Department developments there, and then going on to Saskatoon to attend the annual conference of the National Farm Radio Forum on June 16.

one CBC station. Please cut out soap operas and give us more music in the mornings. What busy housewife has time to listen to talks in the morning? Certainly not yours truly.—Miss Grace A. Bury, Vermilion, Alta.

Suggestions.

I think your programs are much superior to those of local stations. I have, however, a few suggestions. Why can't we have more well-known classical music? We seem to have plenty of Bach, who needs to be studied to be appreciated, and we also have many little-known composers. This isn't much to the average person who hasn't had the opportunity to study music seriously. Why not more of the better known works of Chopin, Mozart, Brahms, etc.? A little more of this type of music, and much less of this so-called popular music and folk songs, please.

Your program Just for Juniors is excellent, but many children aren't home from school at that time.

The Lennicks is a most monotonous program. Mrs. Lennick's voice is unpleasant and the script extremely dull.—Mrs. Geoff Hopkins, Surbiton, Sask.

Our Battered Children

Gentleness And Wonder Destroyed, Says Maritime Commentator

SO far in Canada we have avoided very largely the sponsored children's program which is so important on American radio and television networks. Once, it seemed wise to our radio executives to spare the children the heavy barrage of high pressure advertising which will follow them for the rest of their lives. But apparently they are not to escape it after all, even for the brief interlude of childhood.

This particular program batters the children over the head with noise and hearty friendliness and screams and shouts and songs, and forces them to listen. Then it proceeds to destroy every hint of gentleness, or wonder, or imagination that a child might possess. The old and familiar stories are broken crudely to pieces and treated as vulgar jokes. The so-called characters who appear talk so rudely and so violently to each other that no child could visualize any of them with warmth or affection. The language is barbarous and the accents are worse. Even the music is not the innocent music of childhood, but popular love songs. And what I called the hearty friendliness of the program is not the real thing, but an artificial enthusiasm stimulated by much noise and excitement . . . Even the emotions of the program are false. It is a jazzed-up program that will produce an audience of jazzed-up children . . .—John Margeson, on CBC.

It Figures The Angles

A television camera with cable and monitor costs in the neighbourhood of $25,000, but in preliminary program production you can get the same effect in lining up your "shots" and grouping your actors by using a little cardboard box that only costs about a dime to make.

It's called the Bretz Box.

This time-saver and money-saver was invented by a TV consultant in New York, Rudy Bretz. It has openings cut in four sides representing the view taken by a TV camera's two-, three-, five-, or eight-inch lens in any given position.

It also serves during preliminary rehearsals to give actors an idea where the camera is likely to be during the actual production of the show . . . and saves using a real camera that might well be employed elsewhere.
