Status Quo

STATUS QUO have a new

STATUS QUO have a new single and album out in March. The releases coincides with their British tour which opens in February. The single, written by Rick Parfitt, is written by Rick Parfitt, is called 'Rain' and is out March 6. The album is as yet untitled.

Among the tour dates so far confirmed are two concerts at the Hammersmith Odeon (February 27/28), two dates at Newca stle City Hall (March 8/9) and Glasgow Apollo (March 10/11/12). The rest of the dates will be available next week.

ELTON JOHN is to tour Britain in April. The dates have not yet been finalised, but Record Mirror & Disc understands that Elton will be concentrating on the provincial gigs. It is not known if he is considering a London concert. Elton has recently been in Cannes. His cowriter, Bernie Taupin is in Paris business on March 14

That is the last date he will play with the Glitter Band in a series of farewell concerts. Gary, who is retiring for personal reasons" has no plans to appear again in public after that date.

On February 20 a new Gary Glitter single will be re-leased, 'You Belong To Me', and on March 5, an album of Gary's Greatest Hits will be re-leased.

The farewell tour, which will be a spectacular rock show taking in all Gary's hits, opens at Sheffield City Hall on March 4. The other dates March 4. The other dates are: Glasgow Apollo (5), Newcastle City Hall (6), Liverpool Empire (7), Dublin Carlton, two shows (9), Belfast ABC, two shows (10), and the last show is at London's New Victoria on March 14.

Beatles: now it's 'Dollar-Mania'

BEATLE REUNION rumours, running rampant in Los Angeles for the past week, have suddenly taken a new turn with the announcement by promoter Bill Sargent that he has offered the Fab Four 30 million dollars for a one - night stand.

Sargent has contacted Sargent has contacted attorneys for John, Paul, George and Ringo saying the Beatles can choose the site of the concert. All he wants is a guarantee they will play for a minimum of 20 minutes and all media rights forever. Sargent suggests July 5 as the date for the concert, which would be shown on closed - circuit screens all over the world — not in theatres, but on - not in theatres, but on wide screens in sports arenas and stadiums.

The promoter says 50 dollars would be a fair price for one ticket.

Sargent has met with only one of the attorneys so far, David Brown, who represents George Harri-son. Brown has assured Sargent that if John Lennon agrees to the concert, Harrison will agree. "I have not discouraged by anyone". Sargent says. 'The lawyers have asked me not to say I've been enouraged, but to tell the world that I have not been discouraged."

It should be noted that Sargent's credibility has been strained by recent announcements of his that he had signed Elvis Presley and Elton John

Gary Glitter talks exclusively to Sue Byrom

IT TOOK Gary Glitter 14 years and a name change to become a household word. He's remained a household name for four very successful years. On March 14, after the final date of his tour, he's giving it allup. Why?

MIKE LEANDER has been Gary's manager, co-writer, producer and friend for over four years. He's also a very unhappy man.

"What do you think about all this?" Iasked him.

"Obviously, I'm very upset about it all Apart from working together for so long, we're good mates.

"Gary first talked to me about giving it all up about a year ago." Mike recalled. "At first he didn't really want to talk to me about the reasons, but obviously he has since then. When he first told me, I knew it. wasn't going to be immediate - I showed him a list of all the him a list of all the things we were com-mitted to do, and he wouldn't have thought of letting people down. He's worked his way through those com-mitmen s, the farewell tour is the last of those, and then that's it

I knew Gary had been

There were a lot of silences, a lot of occasions when there was little else that could be added to the basic fact that Gary was quitting for personal reasons — and did not want to discuss what they were. they were

"It's nothing to do with the business, or that I'm fed up with it—

"There isn't any I don't want to discuss it. It wasn't an easy situation, I've been in this business for so long.

I love my fans, I've had some great times, but I've made my decision and that'sit."

While this might sound like the most reluctant interview of all time, it was apparent that Gary was very upset about the whole thing, but that it was his problem and he was going to cope with it.

Apart from the new single that would be out to coincide with the farewell tour and an album of Greatest Hits, did Gary's retirement mean the end of records bearing his name?

"No it doesn't,"

"No it doesn't."

Gary's house is important to him. It's his dream house, complete with fishing streams and swimming pool and enough land for him to pursue his interest in market gardening. gardening.

Between the news of him quitting breaking and the beginning of the tour, he was obviously going to be in considerable demand by reporters and the like. Had he thought of what he was going to do with the time?

Feelings

"Well, I did think about leaving the country," he said with a very small grin, "but I'll actually be rehears-ing. I haven't toured in Rettain for outta a long ing. I haven't toured in Britain for quite a long time and I've dis-covered that I've forgot-ten some of the words!"

A farewell tour is, by its nature, an emotional affair. How far had the plans for the actual content of the tour got?

"Well, I've always found that the audience like to hear the records, so the show will include a review of most of my hits. And there'll be a few spectacular bits as well, I'd like to go out with a good show."

The tour's quite a short one, eight venues in all winding up in London. And two will be in Ireland.

"I've always liked playing in Ireland. I've tried to fix the venues so that there's one in each main area — areas where the fans have been very loyal to me."

The thousands of Gary Glitter fans throughout the world are obviously going to be upset by the news. Did it mean the end of things like his fan club?

A pop star quitting tends to release feelings something akin to the stories people tell about drowning men — their life flashes before their eyes. Did Gary have eyes. Did Gar similar feelings?

"There've honestly been so many good times that it's difficult to pick any particular one probably when 'Rock'n' Roll Part 2' went into the charts. There's the other question of course, especially in view of several other stars 'retirements,' which is the come-back. But again Gary isn't prepared to commit himself.

Leader

"I honestly don't know what's going to happen. After Rock 'n' Roll' going into the charts, things haven't really stopped. It's been on the road, recording, on the road, recording, filming non-stop pretty well. And because of the nature of the reason, I don't see me making a come-back.

His pastoral readings of traditional songs from places such as the Hebrides, Wales and of course Brittany, are given a relaxed feel due to his fine evocative harp playing. Add, now and again, a bass, bothran, organ, violin and guitar, and the result is a continuing change that never actually hits the commercial aspect of either lock of folk. He is further removed from the Chieftans (or even, dare we say, the Corries) by singing his Celtic folk songs in Bretonese in order not to lose sight of the cause. Highlights of their act included an incredible stunt by the lead guitarist. He played the instrument resting on his shoulders behind his head. They also rendered a very passable interpretation of 'Misunderstood', an Eric Burdon song from some time back.

The Blackbyrds opened the second half (during which everyone was on their feel; with "Flying High" and "City Life". Every number they did, from the early "Walking In Rhythm" to their latest "Rock Creek Park" was met with shouts cheers THINK OF the Miracles and you still think of Smokey Robinson even though he left the group three years ago. But think of them in a couple of months time and the odds are there'll be no mistake.

You see the Motown group has already begun a blitz on Britain that should eradicate the memory of Smokey Robinson forever.

Stage one has been the phenomenal 'Love Machine' single which has hurtled to the top of the charts in only three weeks, making it the fastest - rising single in Britain for months.

lastest - rising single in Britain for months.

Stage two begins in March when the four man outfit begin an extensive tour here — and they promise surprises.

But it's not just luck that has brought the Miracles back into the limelight, it's a series of careful calculations that began a year before Smokey decided he wanted out.

Warren "Pete" Moore, the bass singer who with Bobby Rogers and Ron White has been a Miracle since the group's inception in 1958, was on the 'phone from New York this week, and he was this week, and he was

AYIKOBIA, AYIKOBIA! In native tongue that means 'Well done.'
This could very well be said of Osibisa, whose let ya skin shine dance and have a good time music makes you feel soooooo good you can forget yer troubles and just do it on the dance floor like they did it in the deepest darkest jungles.

The feeling then was Kelele Kelele (let's do it together), so are you ready?

All you gotta do is put on the band's latest album, Welcome Home, and you'll be rollin' your feet around yer bedsit. Whacko!

Welcome Home, produced by Gerry Bron, is a joyful album, with only one or two substandard cuts. It begins with their latest single opus. Sunshine Day followed by the title track with its hauntingly melodic spiritual chants—a stunning way to open any album.

But, before we start wallowing in wonderful statements on Osibisa, let's bring in the man behind the machinery, Ted Osei, who's patiently holding on the other side of the world while the harsh nasal tone of the Australian telephone or Australian telephone op-erator is trying to sort out a crossed line.

Crackle

"Hello, I'm 'ere," shouts Ted, finally.

Ah, connected at last. Before the dastardly crackle takes over altogether, Ted, nifty as a nipper, begins to tell me all I wanna know.

"We're in Australia to do concerts, we flew in yesterday and we ain't had time to even sit down. When we arrived at the airport there was press men walting for us and then we was whisked off then we was whisked off ta do three TV shows and four press receptions. The people really went ments like, "Well yeah man it's OK," etc, etc.

Says Ted: "On this album we tried to put down the whole range we covered on other albums, different sounds, ranging from typical African rhythms to the more commercial disco sounds and even some jazz. and even some jazz.

and even some jazz.
"We are finding ways to get to people, by combining all sorts of things on the album. I zenth?

"I dunno, To me things happen when it's happenin'. Perhaps before we muddled up the listeners' ears with so many different experiments. But I think now we're all on the same level."

To highlight the content, Osibisa have wrapped it in one of the most curlous covers I've most curious covers I've seen in ages. In the foreground there's draw-ings of the band dressed in colourful tribal wear, playing fictional jungle instruments, and behind them are an assortment of caricatures, namely John Wayne in the guise of the Great White Missionary; Long John Silver and King Kong. Behind them is a never-ending line of people all making their way back into the jungle. It's a kind of Pied Piper fantasy. fantasy

Chanting

'My imagination was going on and on," says the delightfully efferves cent Ted. "If you listen to the last track, Kolo-mashie, you'll hear birds singing, people chanting and a kind of carnival atmosphere. It's supposed to be happening on a moonlight night."

Home for Osibisa is West Africa, although they base themselves in London for obvious reasons.

London for obvious reasons.

The illustrious line-up consists of Mac Tontoh, trumpet, flugel, didgeridoo, percussion; Sol Amarifio drums, bongos, Kofi Ayvior, congas percussion; Wendell Richardson, lead guitar, acquistic guitar, vocals. Richardson, feat guitar, acoustic guitar, vocals, Kiki Gyan, organ, piano clarinet; Mike Odumosu, bass guitar, vocals and a course founder member and chief rapper Teddy drums, vocals.

'The idea of gettin' the band together,' explains Teddy on a pop-crackle and fart line, 'was to get more rhythm into the music by using both Western and African instruments.

''Of course African music has been played in Britain for many years, but only among the blacks. We wanted to get everyone interested.''

Although African music in Osiblisa's act may not be 100 per cent proof it is watered down tastefully with contemporary jazz and Western influences.

"We use a lot of jazz instruments and of course the African instruments that our African tribal ancestors created. Stuff like West African drums which are twin drums both giving two completely different sounds, and we have kyekere which are similar to maracas and also a Malimba which is a West African xylophone."

African xylophone."
All very interestin' especially to us ignorant Limeys who stumble over African titles like Kolomashie Choobol and Densu. Even without a drink these mumbojumbo sounding names are guaranteed to tie the tongue in bows.

Ted. (chuckling. down.

Ted (chuckling down the receiver): "We sing some of our songs in African, it makes a change, but when we play live we just want the people to enjoy our music, we want them out front to have light entertain-ment."

Sexy

And they do of course

"Oh yeah, it's body music (chuckle), it's sexy, you feel active and very sexy because our music makes people wake up

"The main thing is to make 'em all 'appy, and for everybody to under-stand black people because we are represent-in' the black youth and we gotta keep it goin' for them."

When Ted and the boys go back to Ghana, kids there make them feel that they certainly aren't letting anybody down. It's the proverbial heroes' welcome for the black Kings, the mighty Osibirockers.

Ted explains, tickled pink (metaphorically speaking that is): "They keep track on what we do all over the world. Press cuttings and pictures are sent over so they know all about it, and when we get back to Ghana it's so good. We drive in opentop limos along the streets like we was the President like we was the President

CAPTAIN AND Tennille have the kind of wholesomeness that we once thought the Osmonds had sole proprietory rights to. They are both non smokers, both vegetarians and they keep everything in the family. They talk joyfully of their achievements, sing love songs and never say a bad word about anyone. They must be very much in love to sing their songs to each other with all these expectation.

Daryl seems to be the careful type, but fortunately, the girl matched up to the music. Tond's musical was naturally about something wholesome. It was all about ecology and was called Mother Earth. The musical brought them together and they have been that way for five years now.

special person in my life," said Toni.

The meeting coincided with Toni's change to vegetarianism — the Captain had already been a health nut for three years. Did it, in fact, make them seel any better?

"I can really feel the difference," said Toni. "We try to eat as naturally as we can."

It also helped Daryl's

Apart from changing their dietary lives, this meeting of the stars brought two musical houses together, very conveniently. Toni's mother had her own TV show in Alabama, her father sang with a band and she had three sisters who also sang. Daryl's father was (and is) conductor Carmen Dragon and his brother Dennis Dragon engineered their album Love Will Keep Us Together. Apart from changing

"Whenever we're look-ing around for someone to help on recording, we always seem to find him or her in the family," said Toni. "I have three sisters, but as one has children, only two are involved in the tour."

Daddy Dragon will probably help on the arrangements for their next album.

Although the Captain Although the Captain has been to Britain when he worked with the Beach Boys (as did Toni at one time). Toni hasn't been over and is looking forward to coming to tour. It has always been one of her dreams. Another was to have their own TV show and that is happening soon in the States. They have already been planning their lists of guests.

"We both want Randy

"We both want Randy Newman because we love his music. And we would like to get Richard and Karen Carpenter."

Next

Anyway, Captain and Tennille will have to get the recordings of their show all wound up before they can come to Britain. How about their next release — would it be Kay Starr also appeared in movies, notably with Frankie Laine and Billy Daniels and sang on radio with Bing Crosby. She's worked the whole vocal field.

It was that earthy, resonant quality that pounded forth from jukes all over the world, as almost in a male range, and a talent strong enough to pull interest in a chart generally dominated by the men.

Each definition put forward some-how falls short of a true meaning of what is, in essence, an indefinable feeling. Most of us can recognise a soul record when we hear it but none of us can we hear it but none of us can put into words what it is that makes it soul. Even the long favoured answer: "Popular black American music" now falls far short of the mark since a lot of popular black American music today is no way soul. And truly valid soul music is now being turned out in Britain, Europe

Before the war, popular black American music meant, in essence, the blues. And that was dubbed, "race

After the war, the mass black migration from the rural South to the industrial North saw the music change into a brasher, but at the same time more sophis-ticated form, which became known as rhythm and blues. Essentially, rhythm and blues.
Essentially, rhythm and blues was pure blues given a commercial beat.

influenced jazz. A few years later, when singers like Ray Charles and Sam Cooke started bringing a gospel element into R&B, the music's name was changed to soul.

Since those days in the late Fifties and early Sixties, soul music has gone through many changes. Diverse styles, ranging from brash, strident street funk through to ultra-smooth soft harmonies thrived. Where once the music was essentially the product of black America for the consumption of black American listeners, it now has a world-wide appeal.

RECORD MIRROR AND DISC has long recognised the important contribution soul has made to the wider field of pop music, not just through the success of soul artists in the pop singles and albums charts but through their marked influence on white artists, from the Beatles and the Rolling Stones down.

It's true to say that pop music has based its very foundations on the music of black America, right from the turn of the century when ragtime was the rage, through the jazz era, to the emergence of Rock 'n' Roll— and on to today's disco explosion.

Detroit

The Motor Town' that died

TO MOST pop fans, Detroit and the Tamla Motown Sound are synonymous. Motown is an adaptation of "Motor Town", the nickname Detroit has earned as capital of America's car industry. But Detroit's contribution to soul runs even deeper than the enormous impact Motown made as the self - proclaimed "Sound Of Young America". Chess and Mary Johnson for United Artists.
Gordy's sister, Anna, already had her own Anna label in partnership with Harvey Fuqua. It was Anna who loaned her brother 700 dollars — and Tamla Motown was born. Originally the name was to have been Tammy but someone else already had that name registered.
Motown's subsidiary labels VIP, Soul and Gordy gave the company a broad front to fight on and amazingly, considering the handicaps for

Barrett Strong's Money was most people's first introduction to the new sound. Then came the Miracles' million selling Miracles' million - selling Shop Around, followed by a flood of smashes for the Supremes, Mary Wells (with My Guy she gave Motown its first British hit), the Four Tops, Stevele Wonder, Junior Walker, the Temptations, Marvin Gaye (who married one of Gordy's sisters) Martha and the Vandellas, Jimmy Ruffin, the Contours and Smokey the Contours and Smokey Robinson

In the early Seventies the old Motown Sound was changing enormously, and many members of the one - time close - knit family had split for pastures new — Gladys Knight and the Pips, the Detroit Spinners, the Four Tops and others.

Philly - based jazz organists Jimmy Smith and Jimmy McGriff laid down much of the basis on which instrumental soul styles were later based. Meanwhile, the Cameo Parkway label gave an early boost for black music in selling to white consumers via the Chubby Checker spearheaded "twist" craze.

one for the Delfonics with his Philly Groove label and, using Thom Bell as arranger, they set the pace for the evolution of today's smooth, sophistisoul style which is epitomised by the words "The Philly Sound".

After a couple of false starts with short - lived labels, producers Kenny Gamble and Leon Huff got their Philadelphia International label off the ground and the flood gates were opened.

Some of the talent was local, and acts came from afar to adopt the Philly Sound: the O'Jays from Ohlo; New York City from NYC; the Detroit Spinners ex - Motown. LAST WEEK, (January 20-23), there gathered at the Roosewelt Hotel in the heart of Manhatten a forum of disco DJs, club owners, equipment manufacturers and record producers who had journeyed from all corners of the United States and Canada and from as far as Britain, Hong Kong, Trinidad, Puerto Rico, Japan and Nigeria.

They all came together to ex-change ideas and exhibit their wares at Billboard magazine's First Inter-national Disco Forum, DISCO 76.

More than that - the lew York style of DJing has become possibly the most demanding and skilful of all, because the DJs have to keep the rhythm going even when changing from record to record if they don't want to lose their dancers in mid-step.

This has led to the use of turntables with variable speeds (more next week about other equipment). As DJ Alex Kabbaz uses them, he will start by playing a record at its normal speed. (Epic) and his production of JIMMY JAMES & THE VAGABONDS' I Am
Somebody (Pye TN 45472)
both incidentally British B-sides — are both incidentally British B-sides — are huge over there. Also RALPH CARTER'S EXTRE EXTRA EXTRA (Mercury) is another of the few UK-issued NY hits. The following are the only other current Hustlers that are available here. BOBBY WOMACK: I Feel A Groove Comin' On / Daylight (Safety Zone LP, UA UAG 29907)

With a fast bass groove goin' on and a gailoping tempo, this long track is well established as the prime disco cut from Bobby's new album, while the truly lovely Daylight is a lazy throbber that's got radio play all sewn up.

HAROLD MELVIN & THE BLUE NOTES: Tell The World How I Feel The World

This fast sizzling album track is getting played by the Soul radio stations like a smash single, and rightly too. Long with a flowing melody and a melody and a melody vocal by great throaty vocal Teddy Pendergrass, features continually hisswomack hit hustlers. Teddy by the way has split from Harold, whose Blue Notes feature Sharon Palge while Teddy's version of the group has him backed up by three guys and three gals, also called the Blue Notes (for the time being)

being).
PAPA JOHN CREACH:
Joyce (I'm The Fiddle
Man LP, Buddah BDLP

Although the NY discos are using a single of this ultra-fast instrumental, it is available here in album rack form Fiddling Papa John doesn't get much of a look-in amongst the busily wukka-wukking music of his Midnight Sun Group, who are excitingly energetic.

THE DISCO SOUND OF
ANDRE GAGNON: WOW
(Decca FR 13619)
Full marks to Decca for rushing this Canadian import that's currently getting hotter by the minute in NY. A fast instrumental with important the control of the contr pressively dramatic pi-ano noises, it's truly typical JUGGY JONES: Inside America (Contempo CS 2080)

2080)
Most eagerly awaited release of the week, this much-imported bubbling bouncer is long past its peak in NY. A two-part instrumental featuring incredible rhythm that both funks and hustles. It could be a British smash and is certainly the most and is certainly the most UK-orientated of the lot.

star tip

"J.W." OF the J.W.
Roadshow (Haverhill, Suffolk) wants to know the cure for a problem that's especially common with imported American singles. He finds that continuat cueing of the most popular singles often makes the start of the record very crackly, as the stylus cuts a hiss into the grooves.

Well, J.W., my own
answer to this problem — which is likely to upset hi fi freaks! — is to cue — up any new single that might be pressed in low - grade vinyl, and then to wind the turntable backthe turntable backwards about a quarter revolution, at which point I press down on the pick - up head while moving, the turntable slightly from side to side This leaves an audible snick in the lead - in groove. so that when cueing - up in future I just need to catch the record on the slip - mat immediately after hearing the snick and I know then that the stylus is poised at the start of the music.

import picks

The New York sound starts here

THE SALSOUL OR-CHESTRA: Salsoul Rain-bow / Salsoul Hustle / Tangerine / Chicago Bus Stop (Salsoul LP, Salsoul SZS 5501) If at times Disco '76 seemed a bit like the Salsoul Convention it was described by so as no other

Salsoul Convention it was deservedly so, as no other music or label so aptly sums up the New York disco sound The Hustle is a Latin (Spanish) influenced dance, as is this music, which was produced in Philadelphia by Vincent Montana with most of MFSB playing. Due out here soon on Epic.

Due out here soon on Epic.

THE FATBACK BAND:
Spanish Hustle / Do The Bus Stop (Raising Hell LP. Event EV 6905)
You all know the hit, but the Spanish Hustle is a different and pure NY sound with hi hat ever present Basically fast instrumental with just a few chants and gruff
'ole''s amongst the pronouncedly Latin percussion.

cussion.
EDDIE DRENNON &
BBS UNLIMITED: Let's
Do The Latin Hustle
(Collage LP, Friends & Co FS 108)

Already a popular mport here. The Latin Hustle is joined by other similar rhythmic items on similar rhythmic items on this hot new album, which was one of the big attractions at Disco '76. THE MIGHTY CLOUDS OF JOY: Mighty High (Kickin' LP, ABC ABCD

Being played like a number one single on the Soul stations, this is the Soul stations, this is the Mighty Clouds' best yet since going secular. Smashing cymbals and a beautifully bouncy beat push the smooth though frantically hollered jogger along

BRASS CONSTRUCTION: Movin' / Changin' / Dance (brass Construction LP, UA UA-LA 545

tion LP, UA UA-LA 545
G) Decidedly the hottest new album — and indeed
act — of the last week, these hunks of funk are from the same stable as B. T. Express. Polyrhythmic as heil, with just a few chants amongst the brass, they get a groove going that literally don't quit.
DENNIS COFFEY: If
You Can't Dance To This
You Got No Business
Havin' Feet / Honky Tonk

Good (Finger Lickin'
Good (Finger Lickin'
Good LP, Westbound W212)

Coffey (who scored with Scorpio four years back) comes up with some nice guitar tones on a bouncing funky album that is full of good instrumentals to please both Hustlers and Funksters. Check his version of Bowie's Fame.

ters. Check his version of Bowie's Fame. THE ATLANTIC DISCO BAND: Bad Luck / Do What You Feel / It's Love / Buckhead (Bad Luck LP, Ariola America ST-

Britain's DJ's have been onto Bad Luck as an imported single (Ariola America P-7611) for months, but in the States it's only recently broken through Propelled at socking pace by ace drummer Earl Young and sweetened by strings, it's an archetypal fast hus tler; joined now on LP by other choice instrumental

THE SOFTONES: That Old Black Magic (Aveo AV 4663)

National Available (Avec Available)

Some measure of the current standing of this Silver Convention - styled remade standard is that when things got serious for the few remaining competitors in Diaco 76's Hustle heats, this is what they wanted to dance to. CAMEO: Find My Way (Chololate City CC 0001)

Schlurping cymbals (but of course!) and a bouncy beat make this soulful falsetto group thumper a real goodie, which should be big in Britian Available.

Britain
ANDREA TRUE CONNECTION: More, More,
More (Buddah BDA 515)
A huge NY hit, this Tom Moulton mixed girlie group hustler locks perfectly over the beat on Donna Summer's similar cooing — hence its popularity with disco
DJs'.
ARCHIE BELL & THE

DJs', ARCHIE BELL & THE DRELLS: Let's Groove (Dance Your Troubles Away LP, TSOP PZ 33844)

Another that's being played by radio like a hit single (their current hit, The Soul City Walk — TSOP ZSS 4774 — is even more of a hustler and is included on the LP). Starting with "Hi everybody," Archie does a modern day Tighten Up to burbling bass rhythms that push along at a terrific rate. HOUSTON PERSON:

Disco Sax (Get Out'a My Way! LP, Westbound W-213)

Although none of the other good tracks have the disco power of this bouncing thudder that's so big here, they do confirm that Houston so big here, they do confirm that Houston could be a sax player in the Jr. Walker mould Good listening, while the hit track is a must.

MICHAEL ZAGER'S MOON BAND: Do It With Feeling (Bang B-720)

Ex - 10 Wheel Drive, Cager (who doesn't know Evans from Adam!) gets a fast thump beat bounding along in front of some chanting, and should win many friends in Britain for doing so.

BOBBY MOORE: Try To Hold On (Scepter SCE 12417)

The Anything Man is back, talking to an excitable young lady on the phone, begging her to try to hold on until he can get to her in person! All to get to her in person! All to a Tom Moulton mixed bouncy beat that's bound to get Britain all excited too.

FRANKIE AVALON:
Venus (De Lite DEP 1578).
Likely to be the biggest hit of them all, as radio Likely to be the biggest hit of them all, as radio will love it, here's Frankle back doing a 1976 disco remake of his 1959 oldie. And it works beautifully!

CY COLEMAN: Chiae (RCA PB 10440)

And still they come this time the lovely oldie (still linked in my mind to Spike Jones's send-up) gets a sparse but fast instrumental with

Voices treatment. RHYTHM HERITAGE: Theme From S. W. A. T. (ABC 12135)

(ABC12133)
Sounding much like Shaft, the telly theme is currently a big hit
THE CHARLES RANDOLPH GREAN
SOUNDE: Star Trek
(Ranwood R 1044)
The best disco treatment yet of the telly theme, this gives the haunting melody a typically hustling setting which should make it big here.

Beacon ready march

READERS have been writing in about Beacon Radio, mentioned recently in the Tune In columns. To answer some questions, Beacon Radio is the Wolverhampton station in the IBA network, which is due to open in March this year on 303 metres.

The managing director, Jay Oliver, is appointing staff, and you may remember Chris Carey (Spangles) had his name linked with the operation some time ago.

Allan McKenzle is the programme director Mark Williams and Mike Baker are two disc jockeys aiready signed.

Roger de Freitas, the ade paper Broadcast is so joining the station in enews department.

the station will be erving the West Mid-ands, the Black Country, and is based in Wolver-ampton on the Tetten-all Road.

Film

Bottoms up and carry on

CARRY ON BEHIND: Cert A. General Release Now.

THIS film is unbelievably, the 27th in the long - running Carry On Series. The story (!) is set on a caravan holiday site somewhere in the country which is run by Major Leep, played by Kenneth Connor.

Staying on the site are an archaeologist, Kenneth Williams, his assistant, Elke Sommer, and a variety of other characters played by the Carry - On regulars.

As can be expected, all sorts of crazy situations arise which enable the cast to either shed their clothes (discreetly, as this is family entertain-ment!) or utter typically British double entendres (again, not too naughty) mainly constructed around the word "it".

If all this gives you a sense of deja vu then don't sense of deja vu then don't worry. If you've seen one Carry On film, you've seen them all. It still amazes me that the series is so popular, but judging by the audience reaction to Carry On Behind it will he a manster hit be a monster hit

For regular fans the film also stars Bernard Bresslaw, Joan Sims. Jack Douglas, Windsor Davies and Peter Butterworth.

MIKE CHILDS

All quiet on the Mebo front

RNI BOSSES Erwin Meister and Edwin Bollier are keeping quiet about the future activities of the Mebo 1 and

Despite the story in last week's Record Mirror & Disc, there is still no firm news about the future of the station, though the disc jockeys on their way to the ship are still banking on the ship returning to the North Sea.

The Caroline organisation has strongly denied that the Mi Amigo operation will pull out of Caroline, and it was learnt this week that there is a two year contract at present in operation between both Ronan and Radio Mi Amigo.

However, it is not expected that the Mebo will be run by Meister or Bollier, but instead another financier would organise the programmes from the ship A possible candidate for station manager is Adrian Van Landschoot, the former Radio Atlantis boss.

Bollier told Record Mirror & Disc this week that he would have "news in seven days."

SLADE'S RUDE

Let's Call It (Polydor 2058 Quits

One of Slade's best. A slow, heavy rocker best with rude words that are just about oblique enough to get by on any radio play and some deliciously lascivious guitar, the whole beautifully produced by Chas Chandler

RONNIE WOOD: miss RONNIE WOOD: Big Bayou (Warner Bros K

Ronnie Wood's one of those musicians that nobody seems bad word about days, so this'll these probably blasphemous. I don't like this record; the vocal's a pain and the guitar sound muddly and I don't care he is the best thing ince sliced Clapton. Songwords

& HIS LOST PLANET AIRMEN: Lightnin' Bar (Warner Bros H 16700)

Hillbilly sound with plunkety plunk guitar, fris-ky fiddle and yowling vocals. It doesn't add up to a hit.

THE FOUR SEASONS: December 1963 (Oh What A Night) (Warner Bros K 16686)

Superior disco record 13 with highly infectious vocals and nice of brass. Already justifying the thumb up.

SMOKEY ROBINSON: Quiet Storm (Tamla Motown TMG 1019)

The title track of Smokey's latest album. Soft and smoochy and a worthy LP LP trailer, but to make any impression on the charts a single

HELLO: Star Studded Sham (Bell 1470) New York

New York Groove showed that Hello had at 的 last got a style of their own and this confirms it. It's got a good beat with handclap effects helping out, Bob Bradbury's lead vocal is really excellent and the back - up voices are most skilfully deployed. The chorus isn't as good as New York Groove's, but no matter - this will be a

SLADE: delicious guitar

JETHRO TULL: Living In The Past (Chrysalis 2081)

This was the song that broke Jethro Tull in D 1969 and it still sounds just as good as it did then. Should refocus a lot of attention on the group again. I still group again. I still haven't forgiven them for Passion Play, but hearing this again helps one forget.

THE ALLMAN BROTH-ERS BAND: Jessica (Capricorn 2089 020)

The Allman B Brothers had an enormous hit with this as a single in America about two and a half years ago, but this is the first time its been out as a single in Britain. It's one of those instrumentals that everyone knows even if they don't know its name. A

GEORGE MCRAE: Hon ey 1 Uay Boy BOY 107)

A strong romantic melody un-3 derpinned typical McCrae backing sound adds up to one of his best.

ALLAN SHERMAN: Hello Muddah, Hello Faddah (Warner Bros K 16691)

release of a 1965 comedy hit, which could happen all over again if it gets the airplay.

CHUBBY CHECKER: Reggae My Way (20th Century BTC 2040)

The fact that his very old work has been gaining attention recently might well help Chubby have a hit with this 1973 one. It's unashamedly commercial reggae just for fun.

JONATHAN KING: The Happy People Song (UK 122)

Jonathan at his most whimsical and silly. Abso-lutely frightful, the chorus especially unspeakable and thankfully it won't be a hit

DES O'CONNOR: The Songs Pye write The 7N 45574)

Barry Manilow

and David Cassidy have both done good versions of this recently so now by way of a change here's a really rotten one from the O'Connor from the O'Connor person. He delivers in a phoney American accent with no feeling for either the words or the melody. He certainly doesn't deserve the arrangement, which is very good

BRIAN PROTHEROE: The Good Brand Band Song (Chrysalis 2083)

This, (I think), is the second single to come off Brian's splen did Pick Up album and it has a much better chance of making it than his last. Very much the same kind of sound that gave him a hit with Pinballsome time ago with extra fortifica-

They used to be called just Amen Corner, but Im-13 mediate are ob determined cash in all they can on Andy's present success. This was an enormous hit in its time and I suspect it will be an enormous one again.

ALAN PRICE: Goodnight Irene (Pol-ydor 2058 682)

The song is much beloved of B sentimental drunks out of pubs and enough of them should buy it to make a big hit. Not quite what one usually expects from Mr Price, but he sings it delightfully. but he

COMMODORES (Tamla Sweet Love (Tai Motown TMG 1018)

Superlative piece of soft sophisto soul of the kind that's admired by many but bought by too few to land a chart placing.

Ain't So Joe Island WIP 6252)

Murray Head is one of my very favourite singers and here he puts and here he puts his high, haunted, desperately sad voice to stunning effect on a beautiful epic song of his own making. It isn't remotely commercial and it won't be a hit, but I do hope some brave and enterprising DJ will at least give people a least give pe Shame. Andy does exactly what you'd expect with Neil Sedaka's song and I prefer Neil's version. Hang on a mo, Neil comes from the Big Apple doesn't he?

Harley's flight of fancy?

STEVE HARLEY AND COCKNEY REBEL: Timele Flight (EMI EM A 775)

This is not as consistently good or disciplined as The Best Years Of Our Lives, but then I never expected it to be. Steve Harley's a man of erratic talents and selfcontrol and it was virtually inevitable that, once he'd become accustomed to his new musicians, his work would return to a mixture of brilliance and boredom peppered equally with successes and excesses. Well, that's what has happened, but there's enough of Harley at this best to make this album a must (for me at rate) and his musicians serve him so well that it's easy to overlook some of the mistakes.

To start with the album's finest points, the closing track on side one, All Men Are Hungry, is without a shadow of a doubt the best thing Steve has ever written with an exquisitely constructed lyric and haunted feel. Side two's highlights are Nothing is Sacred (It's Everything Fise), iam nacked with Else), jam-packed with lyrics but all of them fascinating, and Black or White, which I still rate as a great track despite the derisory snorts that have assailed it from all quarters of the business ever since it was released as a single

The album's first and last tracks both ought to have been great, but both are seriously flawed — the former, Red Is A Mean Mean Colour, by a heavy-handed and longwinded lyric, which Steve could easily have pruned properly had he had the do so and the Don't Go, Don't latter. Cry, a splendid spikey thing, simply by the fact that Steve didn't know when to stop it

The rest of the album (three tracks) is so-so background music. Despite all the imperfections be surprised if end up among my favourite five albums of

Witness the agony of 'I Needed Somebody' or how she throws away Mitchell's funk on 'Love Played A Game' A great stylist who will always have to live in the shadow Al Green and Willie something about it quick In the meantime we have an excellent album that might not sell as many as should unless you all wise up, quick -David Hancock

LIMEY: Limey (RCA SF 8463)

This is without doubt one of the best "first" albums heard from any band. Usually bands rush into their first album full of enthusiasm and short on Limey produced a polished, exciting set of songs you would expect from a band who already had a albums under their belt They are currently being supported by a fair amount of pre-release publicity, which sometimes is a bit suspicious. However, in this case, it's not to prop up a weak product, but to ensure everyone knows how talented Limey actually are. There isn't one weak song here. If com-parisons are to be drawn, they sound a little like Lindisfarne, but meatier. They have a it was a good idea for G&L to use the same track as the title though. They have retained their sound, acoustic guitar working in harmony with the accordion, and added a strong backing of other musicians. It's just a pity they didn't get Break-away out as a single before it got such a lot of as part of Art's

THE THREE DEGREES ternational PIR G9197)

Recorded live at Baileys in Leicester, the Three Degrees are introduced as "The angels of song" (Oh really!); but alas this isn't a very heavenly offering, in fact it's down-right hellish in parts. Like most live albums, the sound quality isn't exactly the best, and it doesn't do the three ladies much justice as 90 per cent of the Degrees magic is seeing the sexy ladies in the the sexy ladies in the flesh. The album con-tains most of their hits such as When Will I See You Again; Dirty Ol' Man; Year Of Decision plus one of their faces, Elt's Don't Let The Sun Go Down On Sorry, I think it already

THE ISLEY BROTHERS Twist & Shout (DJSLM

GALLAGHER AND DAVID BYRON: Take No Prisoners (Bronze ILPS 9342)

high-energy album from Uriah Heep's lead singer should please the head-nodders and the band's not so 'umble, or for that matter, subtle fans. More cacophonic than symphonic Byron allows a melody line then rocks it right on to overkill. Mick Box and Lee Kerslake are present with Ken Hensley soundalike. Lou Stonebridge, on keyboards. It'll please the Heep fans because it's easy - to - follow rock a few steps sideways of the Rollers but without the same success. If you can spot the almost note for note rip-off of Bring It On Home you'll notice it takes hostages rather than prisoners, bargaining them for delusions of adequacy

DOLLY PARTON : Dolly (RCALSA 3260)

Oh what a gall Dolly Parton would definitely keep you warm on a cold night if you put her on the turntable. Here she has selected personal favourite love songs, all of them penned by her own fair hand. It begins with the wonderful weepola We Used To, with a guitar intro not unlike the one used on Zep's Stairway To Heaven, and her rich sob-soaked voice and sincere, phrasing makes any romantico hungry for Other Dolly faves bellyaching My Heart Started Breaking, complete with effective rain type string sounds; Because I love You and The Seeker. Dolly my love; you are socooh super-sentimental, sigh)

GLENN MILLER: Legendary Performer (RCA DMP 20653)

With the Swing being the thing in discos up down the country, Glenn Miller's double album should be a fave amongst young jitterbug freaks. This collection of live and previously unreleased and his orchestra are unique, first because it's adding collection and second because it gets you in the swing; puts you in the mood and gives you the feeling that you're feeling that you're actually there at one of his pre-war shows. The sound isn't too hot (do not adjust your stereo sets cos it's in mono) but that doesn't matter one because the atmosphere is so e-lec-tric. There's a good selection of material starting with Moonlight Serenade recorded at the Island Casino in 1939; Pennsyl-vania 6-5000, recorded at the Cafe Rouge of the Hotel Pennsylvania in 1940, and Glenn's sad farewell on his final Chesterfield radio show Also included are a ton of his well-known swingers

- Tuxedo Junction, Little Brown Jug, Chattanooga Choo Choo and At Last. must for nostalgia

BOOKER : bunch of

BOOKER T AND THE MG's: Union Extended (Stax 1045)

Booker T And the MG's have become a household name thanks to their illustrious Green Onions hit way back in 1962 Now they have released album of hitherto unreleased material. A must for Booker T fans because this bunch of beauts, with some fine orgasmic organ music, is as impressive as anything they've ever recorded. 1975 saw the tragic death of souldaddy Al Jackson, but forget the tears because Booker T's music still joyfully lives on and will do for years to Jan Iles

THREE DEGREES not much justice.

KINKS Schoolboys In Disgrace (RCA RS1028)

This can be loosely discribed as a concept album, although in a couple of places, the places, songs have been squeezed a bit to fit in with the concept. The theme, as you'd imagine from the title, deals with problems of being a schoolboy, bringing with adolescence But 'I'm In Disgrace' is a mature love song and doesn't fit in so Lyrics apart, album is superb - and a vast improvement on the style they adopted for the Preservation' albums. There's more guts, more rock 'n' Roll and a little less pretension. I think that's more than sufficient to carry the initial idea which hasn't worked out so convincingly

ANN PEEBLES: Tellin It (London SHU 8490)

Bed luck and mishandling have prevented Ann from fully achieving the world-recognition she so well deserves. Another factor could be her too close association with the ultra-distinctive Memphis sound of Willie Mitchell Though it's here again, she manages to win out some sensitive vocals, especially on the

Dana's high

WE GET a wholelottaletters asking "whatever happened to Dana Gillespie?", so here's telling those that haven't already discovered she's back!

She spent most of last year touring in The States with her band, then returned in the Autumn for an operation on her knee to deal with an old war - wound acquired in the days when she was a water - ski champion. "In America the knee got so painful that I had to be helped on to the stage and plonked on a high stool to do my set. I couldn't move around at

Now, happy to report, she is fully mobile again and playing a series of dates at various colleges dates at various colleges and imbibling places up and down the country. On her last series of British dates, she appeared in high heels, black seamed stockings, suspenders et al, pushing the image launched on her first RCA album 'Weren't Born A Man'. For this new tour album 'Weren't Born A Man'. For this new tour she's generally going out in jeans and sloppy joes with the intention of shifting the focus away from her bustline, and on to the music.

to the music.
In America I'd never had the sex thing to contend with and people came just because they wanted to hear my music. I'm hoping that I can now or moping that I can now work on the same basis in Britain."

She's doing the tour just because she wants to. There are no new records to promote and in fact at to promote and, in fact, at the moment she's without a record deal. She left RCA after giving them two LPs, the aforemen-tioned 'Weren't Born A Man' and 'Ain't Gonna Play No Second Fiddle', hecause her manager because her manager Tony De Fries decided it would be best to go elsewhere when he and

"I'm in no hurry to get another record deal," says Dana, "because when I do get one, I want to be sure it's right. In the meantime, soon after the tour is over, I shall be opening in a new musical called Mardi Gras in the west End. EMI have got the rights to the cast album for that and I expect they'll be putting out a single from it."

In Mardi Gras, she'll be In Mardi Gras, she'll be playing "a tart with a heart" like she did in Jesus Christ Superstar as Mary Magdalene. "I don't mind doing those kind of parts, because they are good parts and I think this one is going to be a lot of fun."

Of her career in general Dana says: 'T'm in no rush to make it in a big way, because I don't want any success I have to be short-lived I want to die onstage when I'm 90 if I can. That's the way I want to general to gener want to go.

"At the moment I'm really enjoying myself. This tour is what I want to do and when I go into the musical I'll be wanting to do that too It'll be a funny transition from one to the other though They're two totally different worlds "

FISHING FOR MONEY

IF YOU thought that Country Joe's desire to re-form The Fish (or at least Barry Melton and any three from eight) was prompted by the upsurge in San Franciscan rock, you're right.
With Jefferson Starship hitting America's No I spot with an album and single, the wake has been strewn with re-formed Quicksilvers, re-formed Iron Butterflies, those Flying Burrito Brothers and Country Joe and The Fish

"The decision to re-form The Fish is prompted by a desire for a little money", says honest Joe.

And that's not surprising when you consider that a man who's released 17 albums in nine years has been permanently in debt.

He blames it on a bad deal he had with his former record company, but now he's changed to Fantasy (17th album entitled Paradise With An Ocean View - free plug, he needs the money) things will hopefully be different

And the kind of music the Fish will be playing "Oh it'll be back to the stuff on the first album Electric Music For The Mind And Body", adds Joe confidently

After all that protesting it seems Joe has not only found his sense of mystic, but also his awareness of what sells.

ELTON: hair, hair!

Which leads in rather Which leads in rather nicely to the news that our very very own Joe Loss has his 35 year old theme tune In The Mood released this week ... what did you do in the Disco War, daddy? . A chink in the Curtain at last? News that Czech oslovakia wants Mac and oslovakia wants Mac and HMMM . . DESPITE considerable air - play, Monsieur Dylan has got to himself with Monsieur Dylan has got to content himself utth perching at the top of the breakers instead of actually getting into the charts. Hot on Bob's heels comes our friend from Jamaica, who might, with a bit of push, make it next week. Maybe the weather's putting people off, but don't despair reggae fans.

Supertramp are still there, although they have moved up a few slots from last week. Shame really,

'cos it's a great sound.
Next in the line - up comes Kiki with her song, Once A Fool. Considering it's been out for ages, it's interesting to see that she's currently higher than her friend and mentor. Elton John, who drops down the list of the breakers. Taken from his Rock Of The Westles album, it seems that old Elton should have grown a bit more funk.

Jolly old Guys and Dolls make their first appearance in the Break-ers with their re-make of Dusty's old hit, You Don't Have To Say You Love Me, which is another record that's taking a long time to get anywhere. In too, comes Cliff with Miss You Nights, the hastily released follow up to Honky Tonk Angel which produced a few too many honks from certain people!

15 year old Ralph Carter bounds in with his American disco hit, Extra Extra (Read All About It). Doing great business in the clubs already, it before it gets into the main charts. Art Garfun-kel also debuts with Breakaway, but it looks as though this one is going to suffer the same fate as My Little Town, and Art will have to watch Paul Simon taking the honours in the race. Finally we have Manhattan Transfer who might est the suffer who make the suffer who might est the suffer who mis fer, who might, at last, get some chart action with Tuxedo Junction. Espe-cially bearing in mind the enormous upsurge in Forties' sounds currently abounding.

personal reasons talking about personal reasons what's behind all these bountiful little gifts our El's been dishing out these bounding little gits our El's been dishing out to all and sundry? Record Mirror would like it to be known that anything not looking like a rep's car would be terribly welcome . Also terribly welcome would be just a teeny hint as to the real reason behind Rod's pulling out of Wembley, there just has to be one, doesn't there, dear? . Real action packed can we bear the suspense news from the States this week, including the imminent riveting announcement of the Carpenters' new manage.

nouncement of the Carlon penters' new manager ... the saga of Elton's hair line continues with the news that he was seen staring closely at Tony (I've had a hair weave and I don't mind who knows) Bennett's flowing locks in Cannes recently ... back in snow bound London, the news of Kenny's recent activities had everyone gasping -a riot by 50 fans! 50 fans! What will they think of next . . . little birdies currently twittering about meetings between the very fabulous Bowie and not -so -main man Tony De Fries. Next single to be titled We'll Meet Again . . .?

Announcement from a certain Mr Scott Walker that he doesn't wear dark glasses as a pose, if's because it helps his hangovers . . . and we thought it was because he suffered from bright lights . . . lovely to hear that Andrew Oldham returns to the fold with a job title described as 'Executive Catalyst' . . . sounds a little painful to us . . staff member Jan Iles contemplating an imminent retirement after being described as 'past it' by some youthful Moonlight Serenaders last week last week last? News that Czechoslovakia wants Mac and Katie Kissoon for concerts was received with a rather large British chorus of Hear Hear. Nice to see East West relations are so keenly followed . are Grand Funk writing their own epitaph with the title of their new album Born To Die? Will it be followed by Bury St Edmunds? Will we ever finish this column

A Sweet disguise

What a rip - off. Sweet's Lies In Your Eyes takes its guitar riff straight off the Stones' Satisfaction cleverly attempting to disgulse it of course. Even so, I think it's great.

music is so boring

One Degree under

DEAR MAILMAN.
Firstly, the Three Degrees' live album is the biggest hype I've ever come across, It contains mostly old material and it's time those girls realised that talented and glamorous they may be, but with repetition wonder dies. Not only do their albums constantly repeat tracks but over two years their stage act has varied very little — even the patter remains the same.

Secondly, I read with interest that "poor" Tam. Paton had to have 12 stitches in his gums. It's a pity the dentists didn't make a good job of it and stitch them together permanently for the good of all mankind.

Thirdly, will you please stop printing pictures of that revolting Freddie Mercury. He gives me nightmares. Fourthly, why don't the staff of your comic make a resolution to stop being so disagreeable towards the Rubettes this year? Christine Sutherland, Goodley, Cheshire.

Chesnire.

Come what may, we'd find it hard to be as "disagreeable" as you've just been.

Flowerpot

men

DEAR MAILMAN, will you please let me know when a good single comes out, because I haven't heard one since 1972. I quite like Show Me You're A Person though, at least it melted well. Key Clark Key Clark.

A hyes, it may have melted well, but did it make a good flowerpot? Recycling is a serious business these days. I only wish they'd bring out 18 inch records so I could make a pot large enough for my splendid aspidistra.

Cold mustard

DEAR MAILMAN,
Are Jet Records trying to finish Roy Wood's long career? This can be the only explanation for releasing the pathetic
Look Through The Eyes
Of A Fool as the single from Roy's otherwise excellent album Mustard. tard

I have virtually all Roy's records and I think

ROY WOOD: weak
this is the weakest single he's made and I'm delighted to see it's failed to make the top 50.
The album does, however, contain two obvious hit singles: the Beach Boys' impersonation Way
Does A Fretty Girl sing
Such Sad Songs? and the Move styled Any Old Time Will Do. So Jet, how about about releasing either of those and restoring Roy's rapidly declining popularity and respect?

Dave Fowler.

Ourrey.

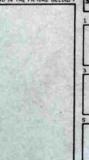

I don't agree with your opinion of the single, but you can't put all the blame on Jet anyway, Last time I spoke to Roy, he made it quite clear that Look Through The Eyes Of A Fool was his own first choice for a single from Mustard.

Bowie tickets

DEAR MAILMAN,
Please could you tell me how I get tickets for the David Bowie concerts At Wembley?

With extreme difficulty, one gathers, but they are on sale (if not already sold out).
